

KWAME ANTHONY APPIAH

Renowned Princeton philosopher will discuss how the concept of “honor” has propelled moral revolutions in the past, and could do so again in the future.

THE HONOR CODE

7:30 p.m.

September 21

Hardie Auditorium

Free and open to the public

Sponsored by the Office of Student Conduct, the Dean's Office, Phi Beta Kappa, African American Studies, English, Gender and Sexuality Studies, International Studies, Philosophy, Political Science, the Project for the Study of Liberal Democracy, the Spence L. Wilson Chair in Humanities, and the Writing Center.

Rhodes College

—1848—