Two Major Gifts To Southwestern

MEMBERS OF THE HYDE FAMILY discuss Southwestern's future with the president. (1 to r): Joseph R. Hyde, Jr. '32, Joseph R. Hyde, Sr., Miss Margaret Ruffin Hyde '34, Mrs. Robert A. Scott '30, and Dr. David Alexander '53.

HYDE FAMILY GIVES $130,000

Memorial gifts totaling $130,000 were presented to Southwestern by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Reeves Hyde, Sr. and family in memory of Miss Ruth Sherman Hyde, their daughter. The donation was divided into two parts— $125,000 to be used for building a women's gymnasium and swimming pool adjacent to the present gym, and the remaining $5,000 to be used for financing a mathematics faculty office in the new Science Center.

Mr. Joseph Hyde is chairman of the board of Malone & Hyde, Inc., wholesale food distributors, a firm he helped form in 1907 with the late Taylor Malone.

Donors of the $5,000 gift were Mrs. Jane Hyde Scott '30 and her daughter, Mrs. Daly Thompson, Jr. '58. Their gift is in memory of their late husband and father, Robert A. Scott '30.

Participating in the other share of the gift are Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hyde, Jr., both of the class of 1932, parents of Mrs. Charles Boone (Susan Hyde '62), and Miss Margaret Ruffin Hyde '34, who is closely affiliated with Southwestern as present alumni advisor for the Chi Omega chapter.

An enlarged program of physical education for women will be made possible by the construction of the Ruth Sherman Hyde Memorial. The exact cost is not yet known, but the Hyde family gift constitutes a substantial portion.

MR. E. H. LITTLE GIVES $100,000

The largest pledge Southwestern has received from an individual was announced when Mr. E. H. Little of New York and Memphis, retired president and chairman of the board of the Colgate-Palmolive Co., presented a gift of $100,000 in early January. The benefaction is in honor of Mr. Little's late wife, the former Miss Suzanne Trezevant of Memphis, and in memory of her parents, M. B. Trezevant, Memphis banker, and his wife, Susan Keith Trezevant.

Mrs. Little was the aunt of Stanley H. Trezevant, Jr. '46.

Southwestern president David Alexander '53 said the $100,000 gift will be used as matching funds in the Challenge Campaign to raise 3.8 million dollars, in an attempt to match two for one the 1.9 million-dollar Ford Foundation grant.

Mr. Little said he was impressed by the fact that Southwestern is one of three Southern colleges recently added to the list of colleges and universities aided by the Ford Foundation.

WHO'S WHO NAMED

Twenty Southwestern seniors have been named to Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities. The national honorary organization recognizes the outstanding college seniors across the nation.

The group of ten men and ten women set a new Southwestern record for the largest number in the history of the school to be selected for this honor.

The women selected were Carolyn Ann Crane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell W. Crane of 432 Wisdom, Jackson, Tennessee; Aurelia Lee Crowell, daughter of Dr. (H '57) and Mrs. John M. Crowell of 21 Audubon Pl., Mobile, Alabama; Larrie Del Daniel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Daniel of 510 Second Ave., Fayetteville, Tenn.; Mary Jane Howard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor C. Howard of 5672 Rosemary Pl., New Orleans, La.; Sandra Lynne McDow, daughter of Mrs. Marie Sloan McDow of 683 Spring, Memphis, Tenn.; Martha Overholser, daughter of Mrs. Alfred E. Overholser of 5607 Kendall Dr., Nashville, Tenn.; Carole Suz-anne Pickens, daughter of Mrs. Harold H. Pickens of 1877 Crump, Memphis, Tenn.; Sammy Ann Primm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Primm of 17 Robinwood, Little Rock, Ark.; Julia Marie Ries, daughter of Mrs. Julia Marie Ries ('34) of 1429 Poplar, Memphis, Tenn.; Judith Marion Simono, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Simono of 1816 Edna Dr., Vicksburg, Miss.

Men students chosen were Henry William West Allen III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Allen of 406 Spruce Street, Brinkley, Ark.; Thomas Milton Brooks, son of Mrs. Vern E. Brooks of 1262 Perkins Rd., Memphis, Tenn.; Raymond Erwin Bye, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bye of 927 N. Park Ave., Brownsville, Tenn.; Robert Har-wood Hall, son of Mrs. Ruth R. Challenge Campaign Memphis Leadership

Dr. David Alexander, Southwestern president, has announced that A. Van Pritchartt and John E. Brown have been named co-chairmen of the current Challenge Campaign.

In turn, Mr. Pritchartt, who is chairman of Southwestern's board of directors and executive committee, has announced the following members of the Challenge Campaign steering committee as participants in the Memphis Leadership:

Steering Committee Chairman, Norfleet Turner; Challenge Gifts Co-Chairmen, Al Wunderlich, Jr. '39 and William S. Craddock, Jr. '40; Master Gifts

Southwestern has received an unrestricted $2,500 grant from the Esso Foundation. This grant, Southwestern's fourth from the Esso Foundation, was part of over 2.3 million dollars granted to more than 300 colleges, universities, and related educational institutions and organizations throughout the United States.

Dr. David Alexander, Southwestern's president, has indicated that the grant will probably be used in support of the Challenge Campaign.

The Foundation is supported by Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) and several of its affiliates including Humble Oil & Refining Company; Esso Research and Engineering Company; Humble Pipe Line Company; Esso International Inc.; and Esso Standard Eastern, Inc.

DILEMMA '66

Society in Search of a Purpose

-by Charlotte Palmer '66

A challenging project was undertaken by the Southwestern student body in the spring of 1964, and after two years of diligent and enthusiastic effort this dream will become a reality on February 25-26, 1966.

Dilemma '66, to be a symposium of some magnitude, will be comparable to similar programs on the campuses of Princeton, Wake Forest, Randolph-Macon and Vanderbilt. With guidance from the administration, a student committee is handling all aspects from contacting potential speakers to obtaining financial assistance.

As a student-initiated and studentsponsored symposium, Dilemma '66 is a meaningful representation of the Southwestern student's desire to expand his means of learning and his willingness to take the responsibility for its fulfillment upon himself. The purpose of Dilemma '66, then, is to complement the classroom scene; it will constitute a synthesis of knowledge practically applied to 20th century society. The fruits of individual application are evident in the speakers themselves, all of whom are prominent in their fields.

To Create an Awareness

It is these men whose stimulating talks will prompt an evaluation of today's purpose and create an awareness in tomorrow's society of its need for a conscious direction. A stand such as that demanded can be intelligently taken only after gaining understanding of the actions and attitudes of today's leaders. It will be the purpose of Dilemma '66 to make possible the con-

Matching Gifts Program DOUBLE YOUR GIFT

Dollar for Dollar your gift to Southwestern can be matched if the company for which you work is listed below. An increasing number of firms have joined this roster, maintaining "matching gift" programs as part of their over-all programs of support of education.

When you make a contribution, you fill in a short form provided by your employer, who matches your gift by sending an equal amount to Southwestern.

You are the reason for these matching gift programs. Your employer is offering support to Southwestern in recognition of the contribution you, as an educated person, are making to your company.

Dr. Arthur Larson, professor of law at Duke University and past presidential and State Department consultant, has consented to participate in the symposium.

Dr. Frank Barron, a research psychologist at the University of California and the author of several publications, will take part.

Another representative from the area of science is Dr. Charles Hudson, president-elect of the American Medical Association.

From the field of religion, Dilemma '66 was able to interest Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, Stated Clerk of the United Presbyterian Church. He is past president of the National Council of Churches.

Also from the field of religion is Dr. James Daane, assistant editor of Christianity Today.

Jesse Hill Ford to Speak

Author Jesse Hill Ford from Humboldt, Tennessee will bring the literary arts to the symposium. His latest book, The Liberation of Lord Byron Jones, was a Book of the Month selection for July, 1965.

In the field of politics, Dilemma '66 is proud to have several outstanding men. Senator Thruston Morton, Republican from Kentucky, and presently chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, will speak, as will Morris King Udall, a freshman Representative from Arizona.

Tickets for Dilemma '66 may be ordered directly from the Dilemma '66 Committee. A minimum contribution of $2.00 will entitle the holder to attend all sessions of the symposium. Requests should be mailed to:

1964-65 LOYALTY FUND

The 1964-65 Loyalty Fund reached an all-time high in the total amount of money received and in the participation of our alumni in the Fund. About $81,000 was given by alumni to the college for one purpose or another during the fiscal year of 1964-65. This represents gifts by alumni for the Annual Sponsors Program, Unrestricted, Memorials, Student Center, Library Memorials, etc. The percentage of participation was 25%.

We are extremely grateful to our alumni for this outstanding expression of loyalty to and interest in the college.

with the Alumní

Class of 1922

Mabel Meacham, Woodlawn, Tennessee, is Dean of Women at Austin Peay State Col-lege, Clarksville, and chairman of the college social and recreational activity program. She earned her master's degree at George Peabody College.

Class of 1929

Catherine Underwood Meacham (Mrs. Fontaine) was announced in October as fashion editor of the Press-Scimitar, a post which entails visiting major fashion shows in the U. S. as they are scheduled, to get first hand information on forthcoming fashions. Her first such assignment was in Los Angeles, in No-vember, with visits to New York showings in January and to Dallas in March. Cath-erine's byline has been a favorite with Memphians for years. She and Mr. Meacham reside in a charming apartment at the Kim-brough Towers, are the parents of two mar-ried daughters (one a Southwestern alumna), and have two grandchildren.

Lois and Jeter Eason returned in October from a nine weeks trek that took them along the fringes of turbulent India and Pakistan. Originally included in their itinerary, Pak-istan was scratched when hostilities flared. They saw hundreds of refugees in Afghan-istan and Lebanon, and reported Delhi full of first-aid supplies. They were not permitted to fly over India at night; their daytime flight took them over Bombay, Saudi Arabia and the Indian Ocean. They also visited Tahiti, Hong-Kong, Fiji Islands, Japan, Malaysia, Cairo, Rome and Lisbon.

Cairo, Rome and Lisbon. Wilson and Helen (Crump '33) Foote live in Florence, Alabama, at 403 Riverview Cir-cle. Wilson, president of Foote Auto Com-pany, is active in such community projects as the Red Cross, United Fund, Chamber of Commerce. Golf is his favorite hobby—he's member of the Alabama Golf Association and of the Tri-Cities Quarterback Club.

Eloise Sifford Simpson (Mrs. William P.), 3007 Poplar Blvd., Alhambra, California, is a reading specialist with the Montebello unified school district (Montebello, Calif.), has a B.S. degree from Memphis State Uni-versity and a master's from George Peabody, and has done graduate work in several other universities. Widely traveled, she's had ar-ticles of her trips published in the Sigma Kappa Alumnae and the Peabody Alumni Magazines. Other hobbies are photography, flowers, the theatre. Mr. Simpson is as-sistant deputy purchasing agent for Los Angeles County.

Donald Bodé is as associate professor of research at the University of Utah and a retired Colonel (thirty years service). After graduating from Southwestern he attended the University of Virginia, where he earned M.S. and Ph.D. degrees. Mrs. Bodé holds a law degree, their daughter an M.S., and their son is currently a candidate for a Ph.D. Dr. Bodé's special interests and hobbies are antiques and gardening, he is a director of the Intermountain Junior Science Symposium, has had numerous articles published and has been honored with the Silver Beaver Boy Scout award. He and Mrs. Bodé live at 4507 Fortuna Way, Salt Lake City. Judy Mathews Duncan's husband, Dr. Calvin J. Duncan, is pastor of Tacoma's Univin J. Duncan, is pastor of Tacoma's Uni-versity Place Presbyterian Church and Judy is currently devoting most of her "volunteer" time to the A.A.U.W. and Symphony Women. While they lived in Los Angeles she served as president of the United Church Women, was active in the YWCA, Christian Fellow-ship Department, Christian Youth Commit-tee taught Sunday School and was a subtee, taught Sunday School and was a sub-stitute teacher for the Los Angeles City schools. She and Dr. Duncan live at 3309 Tahoma Place. They are the parents of a son and two daughters.

Class of 1930

Herman Bevis has been reappointed chair-man of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants' committee on relations with the Association of Consulting Management Engineers. His committee operates as a liaison between CPAs and management consultants, participating in discussions of mutual problems. He is a former vice pres-ident of the 54,000-member Institute, has served on its Executive Committee, and is presently a member of the governing Council. Aspects of management consulting hold in-creasing interest from CPAs as more and more of their work is devoted to management more of their work is devoted to management advisory services. Gerald Capers' new book, entitled "Occu-pied City--New Orleans Under the Federals, 1862-65," was published in November by the University of Kentucky Press. Runner-up in a national prize competition, the book ex-plodes several myths, notably the one that Union General Benjamin Franklin Butler, nicknamed "Beast Butler," stole silver spoons while in command of the occupation of New Orleans. Dr. Capers writes that the "Louisiana metropolis was Southern chiefly by virtue of geography, climate, its depenby virtue of geography, climate, its depen-dence upon staple-crop agriculture and the of the persistence of a French tradition and a proletariat born in Germany and Ireland . . . Western as a result of its commercial ties with the upper Mississippi Valley and American because it was a place where the fortunate could make a quick profit . . . Like all seaports and river towns, it had a tough, transient element in its population."

Class of 1932

Dr. James G. Hughes, chairman of the De-partment of Pediatrics at the University of Tennessee College of Medicine, was installed in October as president of the American Academy of Pediatrics at the academy's an-Academy of Pediatrics at the academy's an-nual meeting in Chicago. In November he had an official role at the International Con-gress of Pediatrics held in Tokyo. Accom-panying him were his wife, Jane (Barker), and her cousin, Beth Sivley Jordan (Mrs. Herbert P.). In Japan they also visited Kamakura, Atami, Hakone, Kyote and Nara. Other cities on their itinerary included Hong Kong, Bangkok, Singapore, and, in the Philippines, Manila and Baguio.

Meanwhile, twin brother, Dr. John Davis Hughes, a specialist in internal medicine, and his wife, Nell (Jones), were packing for an-other trip to Europe. They flew KLM Royal Dutch Airlines to the Eternal City, then spent several weeks roaming and reminiscing, re-visiting places Johnny had seen during World War II—Naples, Pompeii, Pisa, and Florence. As the "News" went to press, Dr. Paul Tudor Jones of Idlewild Presbyterian Church and business executive Dr. John L. Wellford (HH.D., '55) had been invited to be consultants in January for a plan of union of the Presbyterian Church U. S. and the Reformed Church in America.

formed Church in America. Small world . . . Sue (Hightower) and Joe Hyde, vacationing in Mexico with Edna and Lester Crain '29, took a trip to Cuernavaca, where their paths crossed those of another Memphis foursome, Anne (Ragsdale '39) and Irby Seay and Margaret and C. D. Askew. 'Tis stated that much can be said for a col-lorge when a cipifacent number of its alumni lege when a significant number of its alumni send their own children there. Reflect, then, that out of three of the couples above there that out of three of the couples above there are four alumni; then consider: Susan Hyde Boone (Mrs. Charles A.), Dale Seay, and Lester Crain, Jr. are also all alumni—and that Southwestern is also happy to claim as a former student the Askews' vivacious daughter Marty (Mrs. Peter Marshall).

Class of 1933

Pud Mahan Ballenger (Mrs. E. G.) was the featured speaker at the annual Southwestern AOPi Founder's Day banquet, held in Decem-ber in the Louis XVI Room of Hotel Peabody. "Press-Scimitar." travel editor Mary Allie

Taylor knows what a small world it is she received a note, with a folder stapled to it, from the Grand Hotel in Taipei, Taiwan.

James Calvin Lewis, Jr. '49, 4940 Amboy, December 21, 1965. The Rev. Dr. Charles Stillman Sholl, class of 1894, on Christmas night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. C. McGhee, McCanless Road, Nolensville, Tennessee.

Jack Cofer Slack '34, 17 Stuart Drive, Columbus, Georgia, on July 30, 1964.

Dr. Henry B. Turner '39, 2796 Lombardy, on December 19, 1965.

Mrs. O. D. White (Alice Hagler) '38, 1198 Shoreham Road, Camp Hill, Pennsylvania, November 15, 1964.

It was from former Memphians, Myrtle (Pow-ell '50) and Bill Bowld. They live in Geneva, Switzerland, where Bill is associated with Procter & Gamble. Myrtle wrote, "Imagine our surprise to pick up a folder in the lobby of the Grand Hotel here in Formosa and see your picture!" Mary Allie's photo was fea-tured in the JAL Global Courier and showed her, during her recent Far Eastern trip, boarding a plane in Osaka for Hong Kong. Myrtle and Bill were on a world pleasure trip, planned to be back in Geneva just be-fore Christmas.

Class of 1934

Clough Eaton is one of seven directors recently elected to serve two-year terms on the board of the Home Builders Association of Memphis. He and Jane (Leavell '38) were among the group of Memphis builders and realtors who in December attended the nearly week-long annual convention of the National Association of Home Builders in Chicago.

Also attending the Chicago convention was Jack Renshaw, who was recently re-elected a national director from the Home Builders Association of Tennessee. He is vice president of the National Association of Home Builders from a meeting of the organization's execu-tive committee in Miami. In September, he was a White House guest for the signing ceremonies when President Johnson signed the act creating the new cabinet post of Urban Affairs.

Class of 1935

Col. William Sivley Moore, commander of the Army Medical Training Center at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, since 1961, was recently honored at a formal retirement parade. On this occasion the second Oak Leaf Cluster to the Army Commendation Medal was pinned on him by the base commander. Sivley held key assignments on four continents during a distinguished 25-year career. He entered the Army in July of 1940 and participated in 10 WWII campaigns. His assignments included serving as a military attache in Cairo and tours of duty in England, France, the Philippine Islands, China, and India. In 1945 he was named chairman of a 10-man Army Medical Corps Committee assigned to study Japanese progress in medicine during the preceeding five years. When the Korean War broke out, he was commanding officer at a large Government hospital at Sendai, Japan. He participated in six cam-paigns during the Korean War and was instrumental in initiating, organizing, and operating the Army helicopter evacuation units in Korea. Sivley has also served in the Office of the Surgeon General in Washington. He and his family are continuing to live in San Antonio, at 335 Geneseo Road.

Class of 1936

Jameson Jones delivered the baccalaureate sermon at the Mid-Winter commencement of the University of Tennessee Medical Units, on December 19.

Jean (Reid) and Fred Walker came through town early in December, en route home to Hinsdale, Ill., from Florida, and spent a weekend with Jean's mother, Mrs. C. P. Reid. Went by for a brief visit with them and ran into other classmates there, Carey Bringle, Bob Metcalf, Gladys Jane (Caughlin) and Bob Campbell '34.

Murray Rasberry, in the wholesale gas and oil business in Helena, Ark., is also president of the Planters National Bank in Hughes, which had its formal opening in December, and has doubled assets from $1.6 million to $3 million since 1962. Murray is a member of Southwestern's executive council of the Alumni Association; he and his wife are the whom, named for her father but called "Munnie," graduated from the college in 1965.

Tom Wood Jr., division manager of Mc-Kesson & Robbins, was elected first vice president of National Wholesalers Drug Association at the recent convention in Miami.

Class of 1938

Milton Smith was recently elected first vice president of the Kiwanis Club of Mem-phis. Tom Wood '36, Charles Foster Smith '30, and Dr. Colin Threlkeld '51 were named to the board of directors.

Class of 1939

Ward Archer, of Archer and Woodbury, has been appointed a member of the Committee of Agency Management of the American Association of Advertising Agencies and attended a meeting of the Committee in New York November 30.

Bill Tyson was recently named to the new post of chief of the City of Memphis Hospitals emergency department, a job of directing the care of 100,000 patients a year. Dr. Glenn M. Clark, in announcing the appointment, said, "This is the first time a doctor with experience-that is, someone other than an intern—has been in charge of directing the emergency department." Bill is president of the Memphis Surgical Society and has taught as assistant professor of the University of Tennessee's surgery department.

Annie Few (Work) and Joe Buehl and their family have moved from Scottsdale to Salt Lake City, where their new address is 534 South 13th Street East.

Hazel Jane (Ward) and Frederick Came are at home at 64 Osborne Avenue, Jasmond, Newcastle on Tyne, England. Fred is associated with the Delarue Company, a sub-sidiary of Formica, Ltd. When they moved abroad recently they decided to keep their rugs, crystal, and silverware, but to sell all their furniture. Now, it just happens that Hazel Jane's favorite hobby is antiques, so to say that she is enjoying searching out and selecting English ones with which to furnish their "new" home is probably the undertheir "new" home is probably the under-statement of the year. The Cames have two sons . . . Rick graduated from U. Va. in June and is with Procter & Gamble, and Harry is a freshman at St. Andrew's Presbyterian College, Laurinburg, N. C. Bill Jemison, of Mid Continent Corpora-

David L. Osborn, 396 N Street S.W., Washington, was recently appointed deputy as-sistant Secretary of State for Educational and Cultural Affairs. After graduation from Southwestern, David studied Chinese at Harvard. By the time WWII broke out, he was proficient in Chinese, plunged into the study of Japanese, was selected by the Navy as a Japanese language officer, and spent the war years in the Pacific. In 1945, he was escorting two Japanese prisoners to the Marshall Islands and the newly formed War Crimes investigating group there. Arizona Senator William Mahoney was at that time the prosecuting attorney for the Navy Trial Commis-sion. They met and became friends; David stayed on to help Senator Mahoney work up some of the most famous war trials in U.S. military history. In Phoenix recently, the two reminisced, recalling the time they "outtwo reminisced, recalling the time they smarted protocol and wangled themselves guests-of-honor privileges at General Mc-Arthur's headquarters," and some of the dare-devil exploits that took David alone into enemy territory and on to high decorations for valor. Since those days, he has received his M.A. from Harvard, joined the Foreign Service, and continued language training at Yale and Harvard. He was as-signed to the diplomatic section of the staff of the Supreme Commander of the Allied Powers in Tokyo, and in 1949 was loaned to USIA for a two year stint in Taiwan. Subsequently, he has served in the U. S. Office of Chinese Affairs, as adviser to Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson in talks with Chinese Communists, and as political counselor in Taipei and chief of internal affairs in Tokyo. An expert on political reporting, negotiating, and foreign service, he has just been handed something brand new. His present assignment is one of administration. He explains, "The Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs, that was started in 1938 with eight people and a bud-get of $28,000, today has a Washington staff of 400, 300 USIA overseas employees, stan of 400, 500 USIA overseas employees, and an annual budget of $55 million. It conducts exchanges with 130 countries from which, last year, 9000 persons were brought over to the U. S." In spite of such impressive figures, David continues to adhere to the basic philosophy of the department: "That the primary role of government in cultural velocities (church) is to encourage the wided relations (abroad) is to encourage the widest possible initiative by non-governmental organizations - colleges, universities, founda-ganizations — colleges, universities, founda-tions, corporations, women's organizations." Recently announced: the association of T. H. "Bill" Smith as a registered repre-sentative with Howard, Weil, Labouisse, Friedrichs and Company, Investment Secur-ities, with offices in the Memphis Bank Building Building.

An article in a recent Memphis newspaper carried the headline "Memphian's Outfit is 'Good Neighbor,'' and told the story of the men of the 10th Tactical Reconnaissance Wing of the U. S. Air Force. Commanded by Col. DeWitt S. Spain, the unit, based at Alconbury, England, won the silver cup of-fered by the commander-in-chief of the Air Force in Weisbaden, Germany, to the USAF installation that had developed the best community relations. This is the first time any unit based in the United Kingdom has won the cup. A few examples of how DeWitt's men swing into action to help out in local emergencies? When five nuns arrived from the U.S. to set up a convent in Daventry, Northampton, 19 airmen—not all of them Roman Catholics — spent their weekends whitewashing ceilings, cleaning out rain gutters, and weeding the garden for the sisters; when the owner of a mink farm near Alconbury let it be known that the noise of the jets causes the minks to have miscarriages, orders went out from the colonel that no jets fly over 'the farm during the breeding season; Christmas, 1964, the airmen repaired over 2,000 toys to distribute to needy fam-ilies and provided food baskets for 60 elderly persons—they had even bigger plans for Christmas, 1965. DeWitt is quoted as saying, "Good community relations are a hard-headed business proposition. The better we get along with the local population, the better we can do our work on the base." In December, Memphis became the first city of its size in America in which three home builders have won the Better Building Citation Award in one year . . . one of the winners was Vernon Kerns. For the past three years, Vernon and his wife, Pat, have been creating an adaptation of Colonial Wil-liamsburg in their Heritage Colony, a subdivision inspired by the 18th century town. Their idea is not to presume to recreate Williamsburg, but rather to build on the best from the past with the best from today. The traditional 18th century architecture remains a handsome style which adapts readily to modern demands . . . the 18th century Williamsburg story-and-one-half allows for minimum land consumption, half the necessary roof construction, and complete lack of wasted space under attic areas . . . garages adapt their exteriors from stables, carriage houses, and removed kitchens of Williamsburg. As the only builders, as well as developers, in Heritage Colony, the Kerns have used only underground wiring. Further control over the finished picture is maintained through the forbiddance of exposed carports, chain-link or other inappropriate fencing. Vernon refuses to duplicate any exterior, and will not build the Williamsburg facade in any other subdivision. Builders and developers from all over the country are interested in doing a Heritage Colony in their towns, and the Kerns are working on a franchise package operation which would free the builders themselves from the vast amount of research, study and "ironing-out the wrinkles" it has taken to develop Heritage Colony.

Bob Cogswell is the author of a new book, "Written on Many Hearts—The History of the First Presbyterian Church, Shelbyville, Tennessee—1815-1965." The editor of the Shelbyville (Tenn.) "Times-Gazette" says, "It is humanly impossible to do justice to the Rev. Mr. Cogswell's eloquent, inspiring and informative book on a printed page. He has woven in the history of Shelbyville in a most effective and important manner. He surely has turned out the finest outline history of this town—ever printed in a book while also writing in detail of Shelbyville Presbyterians. Every school child in Bedford County should read it at least once, many should own it—regardless of their denomination in a religious sense. This is a book for everyone." Minister of the First Presbyterian Church in Shelbyville, Bob is married to the former Kathleen Wagoner; they have two children, Kathy, a Southwestern freshman, and Robert, Jr., still in high school. Bob gave the invocation at the 1965 Parents' Day Luncheon. The years have agreed with him!

Alumni Day—May 7th

Alumni Day, according to Goodbar Morgan

Alumni Day, according to Goodbar Morgan '31, director of alumni affairs, is scheduled for Saturday, May 7. Activities will begin on Friday evening, May 6, with a reception at which members of the Class of 1916, celebrating their 50th reunion, are the guests of honor.

Among the various events scheduled for the day-long reunion will be: election of Alumni Association officers; luncheon for Class of 1941 (25th reunion); a double-header baseball game; an alumni mixer on the lawn of the gym; and the alumni supper in the gym, followed by a dance at the Uni-versity Club.

A complete schedule will be forthcoming.
