Are you uncertain about staying in Memphis for college? Do you envision Rhodes as the ideal college if only it were located in another city? Fourteen percent of Rhodes students come from the Shelby County area, and these students have found that attending a college close to home has many advantages. But don't take our word for it. Come see for yourself!

We invite you to experience the idea of "Living Close, Feeling Far." Learn first-hand about financial aid and hear from current Rhodes students from the Shelby County area about attending college in Memphis.
