

REACH

Research, Engagement and Community History

Paid summer opportunities in Memphis

Deadline: February 15, 2013

Community Development Fellows

June 3 - August 2, 2013

Crossroads to Freedom

June 3 - August 2, 2013

Rhodes Institute for Regional Studies

June 10 - August 2, 2013
(fulfills F11 requirement)

Summer Service Fellows

June 3 - August 2, 2013
(fulfills F11 requirement)

Work, Serve & Grow in Memphis

Apply now for Rhodes Summer Fellowships

Deadline: February 15, 2013

To learn more about these & other fellowship options, visit rhodes.edu/fellowships

Community Development Fellows

June 3 - August 2, 2013

Community Development Fellows work with the Midtown North and VECA communities near campus on projects that engage residents, businesses and other stakeholders and empower the community. Previous projects have included inventorying street assets, publishing neighborhood newsletters, facilitating public forums, managing environmental projects such as community gardens and cleanups, and summer programs for neighborhood children. CD Fellows may also be selected to work with city and county government partners.

For further information, please contact Elizabeth Thomas:
thomase@rhodes.edu or Dorothy Cox: coxd@rhodes.edu.

Crossroads to Freedom

June 3 - August 2, 2013

Crossroads is a full-time 9-week fellowship program in which students are engaged in preserving and documenting the history of Memphis neighborhoods during the civil rights era. It includes archival research, processing documents for online preservation and working directly in the community to collect and preserve oral histories.

For further information, please contact Suzanne Bonefas:
bonefas@rhodes.edu.

Rhodes Institute for Regional Studies

June 10 - August 2, 2013

The Rhodes Institute is an 8-week program dedicated to furthering academic research on Memphis and the Mid-South region. The program contains components of both interdisciplinary study and independent research. In addition, it serves as a cultural immersion experience and fosters civic awareness and involvement in Memphis and the Mid-South.

For further information, please contact Milton Moreland:
morelandm@rhodes.edu.

Summer Service Fellows

June 3 - August 2, 2013

The Summer Service Fellowship, a 9-week program, provides students the opportunity to work for a nonprofit organization in Memphis. Fellows work 35 hours per week at the organization of their choosing and participate in weekly community leadership training and reflection meetings with staff and other fellows. The Summer Service Fellowship Program provides challenging, engaging and meaningful work in the Memphis community!

For further information, please contact Sandi George Tracy:
tracy@rhodes.edu or Scott Garner: garners@rhodes.edu.

Rhodes College
—1848—