SOUTHWESTERN AT MEMPHIS

SOUTHWESTERN'S ALMA MATER

Dear Alma Mater, kind the fate
That links our lives with Thee.
For God's own power that made Thee great
Is the truth that makes us free;
Thy torch has touched our hearts with flame.
Our yearning souls refined;
Through Thee we learn the higher aim,
And train the truer mind.

Thy stalwart towers of solid stone,
Thy vaulted arches strong.
Inspire our loyal hearts each one
To fight against the wrong;
Our lives reflect the beauty of
Thy stately cloister'd halls,
And characters grow genuine
That dwell within Thy walls.

O Leader to the larger light,
Southwestern, 'neath Thy wings
Thy sons in reverant love unite,
And each his tribute brings;
And dreams such dreams as old men dream,
And visions young men see,
Keep lighted in our hearts the flame
Once kindled there of Thee.

SOUTHWESTERN'S FIGHT SONG — ON THE PROWL —

Southwestern will win the vict'ry again;
The Lynx cats are on the prowl.
We follow the law of the fang and the claw,
And the Red and Black will leave their track
All over the foe, wherever we go.
Tonight's our night to howl!
We're leavin' our lair, you'd better beware
For the Lynx cats are on the prowl!

SOUTHWESTERN AT MEMPHIS

A College of Liberal Arts and Sciences

THE PRESIDENT

Dear Southwestern Student:

A provocative and stimulating advertisement of the Container Corporation of America included a quotation from a letter written by e.e. cummings, the lower-cased poet. He wrote "to be nobody-but-yourself - in a world which is doing its best, night and day, to make you everybody else - means to fight the hardest battle which any human being can fight; and never stop fighting." To me this statement is a clear picture of what education is all about - the development of true individualism.

True individualism, as I see it, is a realization of self in community. The individual can only appreciate himself and know himself if he participates in many communities: the community of the past, the present and the future; the community of learning; the community of the spiritual side of man, and the community of citizenship.

Education at Southwestern strives to awaken among its students the spirit of both true individualism and true community.

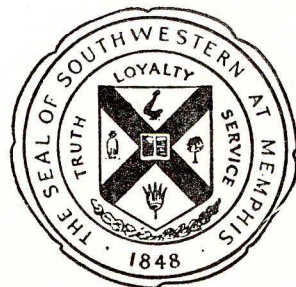

Welcome to the college. I urge you to take advantage of all the opportunities for both intellectual and spiritual growth which this year will provide you.

Yours sincerely,

David Alexander

SEAL OF SOUTHWESTERN AT MEMPHIS

Circular in form, the red and black seal of Southwestern is centered by a black shield representing faith. Quartering the shield is a St. Andrew's Cross denoting Christianity, and in the middle of the cross lies an open Bible, the heart of Southwestern's being. Each of the shield's four divisions bears a symbol representing a period in the college's history—as a Masonic College at Clarksville, founded in 1848, as "Stewart College" (1855-75); as "Southwestern Presbyterian University" (1875-1925); and finally as "Southwestern At Memphis" when it was moved to Memphis.

The intertwined sprigs of oak and laurel under the shield signify strength and victory. Surrounding the shield on the other three sides are the words "Truth, Loyalty, Service"—the fundamental precepts of Southwestern.

THIS IS THE CITY

Tennessee had been a state only twenty-three years when Memphis was laid out by Andrew Jackson and John Overton of Nashville in 1819. The city was incorporated in 1826 with a population of only 500. Today Metropolitan Memphis boasts a population of over 800,000 and is proud of its rapid growth.

Located in the middle of one of America's richest agricultural regions, Memphis, "The Cotton Capital of the World," is the hub of the agricultural activity in the Mid-South. In the Cotton Exchange on Front Street, one third of the nation's cotton crop is bought and sold. The heyday of "King Cotton" is past, however, for the key to the Memphis economy is diversification. Location, agriculture, transportation, and industry all serve to make Memphis great.

Memphis has taken her place, too, as the cultural center of the seven-state Mid-South. In addition to excellent library and educational facilities, the Memphis Symphony Orchestra, Civic Ballet, the Memphis Academy of Arts, Brooks Memorial Art Gallery, Front Street Theater, and Memphis Little Theater all contribute to the cultural life of the city.

Recreational facilities are many and varied. Persons liking to fish and hunt will find in a close radius of Memphis some of the finest grounds for these sports in the nation. McKellar Lake is a haven for those preferring boating, sailing and water skiing. At convenient points throughout the city are facilities for golf, tennis, archery, bowling, softball, ice and roller skating, swimming and horseback riding.

Southwestern came to Memphis from Clarksville in 1925. Both city and school have grown together. Memphis affords many opportunities for students to augment their academic learning experience with cultural growth.

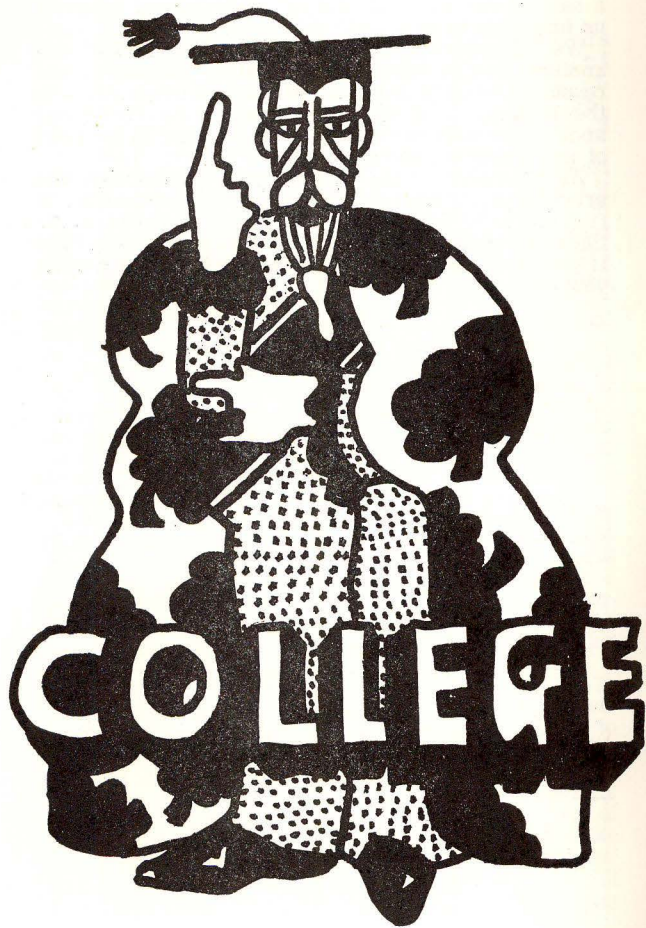

Another kind of growth is becoming increasingly important to the Southwestern student—the growth of a social conscience. The city was compelled to realize this need last spring, for events illustrated the necessity of facing the immediate problems of cities all over the nation. The city responded with this statement:

"We live in Memphis. It has been a good city, but far from perfect—much less perfect than many of us realized. Something happened here which laid bare a side of our common life to which all too many of us had been blind.

We solemnly, in the presence of God and of one another, pledge ourselves—our time, our effort, our resources—and if need be, our lives themselves—to the building of a city where people can trust one another, respect one another, and respond to the need of one another. Memphis cares."

As a member of the Southwestern Community, you are also a member of the Memphis community. It remains to be seen whether Memphis really cares for the proof of this is up to each individual citizen. This is your city and you have the ability to make it what you want it to be.

THIS IS THE COLLEGE

Southwestern is a fully accredited, privately supported, co-educational college of liberal arts and sciences. Southwestern as an entity is composed of a managing administration headed by the President and a faculty of 75, of which 76% have their Ph.D. degrees. The student-faculty ratio is twelve to one. Twenty directors, elected by the Synods of Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, and Louisiana of the Presbyterian Church, determine the policies of the college.

The college was founded when the Clarksville Academy at Clarksville conveyed its property to the Masonic Lodge of Tennessee, and was merged into the new Masonic University of Tennessee. The program was expanded from that of the Academy, Latin and Greek, with reading, writing and arithmetic added in the interest of a well-balanced curriculum. A prominent Mason and Presbyterian, W. M. Stewart, was chosen as the first President. Later, when the Synod of Nashville began supporting the school, it was re-named in his honor.

In 1861 the school became a college of the Presbyterian Church in the United States. Prior to the Civil War there was a Presbyterian College in each synod. However, the effects of the war were pitifully destructive, and the hardships of the reconstruction era intensified the burdens. The colleges were closed; in some cases the buildings were literally torn down and the equipment destroyed. But the Presbyterians were determined to rebuild their schools.

In view of this poverty and the consequent impossibility of reestablishing all of the educational institutions owned by the Presbyterian Church before the war, Dr. B. M. Palmer, of New Orleans, and other church leaders suggested that all the synods unite and build one university for the whole territory. This plan was finally approved, and after years of agitation and endeavor, Southwestern Presbyterian University came into being in 1875, having taken over as a nucleus the properties of Stewart College.

About 1900 the church came to realize that the institution was badly located for the territory it was presumed to serve, and an attempt was made to move it. That proposed removal was defeated by the action of the court, and as a result the Church lost much of its enthusiasm for the college and neglected it. The tide was at low ebb, but then it was found that Memphis wanted the college and the Synods wanted Memphis to have it. Thus it was, in 1925, under the leadership of President Charles I. Diehl, that Southwestern came to Memphis. Also under the Diehl administration the College became co-educational. A crossflow of stimulus between the College and the city has characterized its Memphis history and both have gained vitality and prestige from the association.

Dr. Peyton N. Rhodes became President in 1949 and served until 1965. He carried forward the original ideas of quality into the College's many new phases of development and expansion. Campus facilities nearly doubled under the Rhodes administration and adult education was expanded, with Southwestern being singled out as the leading college in the nation in the field of continuing education. Dr. Rhodes exemplified through his campus administration, as well as through his other local and national interests, the Southwestern tradition of service to church and community.

Dr. John David Alexander, a Southwestern graduate, was chosen as the new president. Under his most capable leadership the excellence of the College is being carried forth.

Educational innovation is becoming a Southwestern trademark. This year the school goes on a new schedule designed to give each student as much room for educational self-development as possible. Last winter Harvard rated the school second in the south academically. New buildings are going up while the learning process is being modernized. You are entering a college which is on the move. Do not be run over in the transition, but rather be ready to push ahead with it.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Academic

The Bachelor of Arts, Sciences, or Music degree is granted on the basis of 120 semester hours of college work with a theoretical C average, or 120 quality points. Quality points are given by grades as well as hours. An "A" counts three quality points per hour, a "B" two, a "C" one and a "D" or "F" count none. The grade point system of averages counts "A" as four points, "B" as three, "C" as two, "D" as one, and "F" as none.

No student may carry more than 16 credit hours in Terms I and II or more than 8 credit hours in Term III. Not more than three courses in the same department, or two under the same instructor may be taken for credit without special permission from the Dean of the College.

In order to change a course, a student must have the permission of the instructor and the dean. If any irregularity is involved in the course change, a student must present a petition, with his faculty adviser's signature on it, to the Classification Committee. More information may be obtained in the catalogue.

Class Attendance

Regular attendance is essential for success in academic work. Southwestern has confidence in the student body's judgement in this matter. No compulsory class attendance is required of any student.

Convocations

College convocations are held on stated mornings throughout the week. Convocations on Thursdays are held in Evergreen Church. Those on Wednesdays pertain to student body activities and are held in Malory Gymnasium. Lectures on issues of our world today, musical performances, and other programs of an entertaining and educational nature are held in Hardie Auditorium.

The Briggs Student Center was completed in May of 1966. This addition to the College's physical plant provides many services for the students and other members of Southwestern community. Located in the building are the Lynx Lair Grill, school publication offices, campus bookstore, two lounges, and various other offices and meeting rooms.

COLLEGE REGULATIONS

Rules are kept to a minimum at Southwestern. The following are traditional properties and customs:

Conduct befitting a lady or gentleman is expected of all Southwestern students. Rowdiness, drunkenness, and other improper conduct will result in disciplinary action of all persons involved. No intoxicants are to be served at any dance, party, or other function given by any college organization, nor are they to be brought into any building or kept anywhere on the campus.

Students are not allowed to have guns on the campus or to keep animals in their rooms or on the campus.

1. No smoking is permitted in the halls, cloister, classrooms, laboratories, or dining halls.

2. Boarding students may keep cars on the campus only by strict adherence to the rules set forth in the catalogue.

3. Shorts and slacks are not to be worn in classrooms or refectory.

4. Non-resident women may spend the night in the women's residence halls three (3) nights a month. This means that a town woman may spend three (3) nights in East a month, or two (2) nights in one residence hall and one (1) in another during a stated month. The resident students must sign the guest in and out properly and, if the guest breaks any residence hall rules, will have to take the penalty. Any guest who spends more than the allotted three nights in the women's residence hall will not be allowed to spend the night there for a stated period of time.

5. Cars shall be parked on the college grounds only in those parking areas provided by the college.

Students should check specific sections of the Handbook for regulations pertaining to chapel attendance, class attendance and certain aspects of academic life.

BURROW LIBRARY

Hours: Monday through Friday, 8:00 A.M.-12:00 A.M.

Saturday, 8:00 A.M.-5:00 P.M.

Sunday, 2:00 P.M.-12:00 A.M.

The library staff extends a warm welcome to you to use the materials and services of the Burrow Library in the happiest possible manner. To help you get the most from these, your librarians are always ready to be of assistance.

Location of Books

It is your privilege to locate any book in the library's holdings by looking it up under author, subject, or title, in the alphabetically arranged card catalogue. A modern catalogue for phono-records enables you to locate listening materials. In the reference room many volumes will lead you to articles and facts on every conceivable subject. The latest issues of periodicals are in the periodical room, while back issues are available at the center desk, if unbound, and in the main stack area if bound.

"Open shelf" is the rule on the books in the stacks which are distributed on the various floors as shown on cards at the doorways to the stacks and elsewhere. If the book you wish is out, you may leave a request for it at the desk. When it is returned you will be notified how long it can be held for you.

In addition to regular circulating books which can be checked out for two weeks, there are many "reserved books." These, placed "on reserve" by the various professors, may be obtained at the desk for two hour periods.

Monday through Friday, after 4:30 P.M., they may be checked out over night, and are due the next morning at 10:00. Reserve books may be checked out Saturday after 10:15 A.M. and are not due until Monday at 10:00 A.M.

A fine of $.25 for the first hour and $.05 for each additional hour is levied on late reserve books.

The fine on regular books is $.05 per day. However, the total amount due will be cut in half if the fine is paid when the book is returned. This policy does not apply to reserve books.

On the lower level of the building are the record rooms and the adult education center (AEC) with facilities for discussions, movies, and exhibits, as well as a large assortment of paperback books for sale.

Southwestern was founded and planned primarily for its students. In the words of President Diehl, "The college we were planning for was to attempt to teach to students something of human life, man and the world, and to lead them to master human life; to know it as a whole."

The Southwestern student, in pursuit of excellence is interested not only in books but also in people. Thus the Kinney Program, through its various service projects, provides the Southwestern student a chance to serve people. And for those students whose only contact with the outside world is "news at fifty-five," as well as others, the International Studies and Political Science Departments presents the Free World Issues speakers. And held annually is the student sponsored symposium, Dilemma, bringing to the campus leaders in the various fields of arts and sciences.

Southwestern has through the years given to its students almost complete freedom and its accompanying responsibility. Students conduct a course evaluation in which students judge their teachers according to their strengths and weakness. That such an evaluation was a success testifies to the close relationship between students and faculty, a characteristic of Southwestern.

The opponents have changed from the days when Southwestern defeated such football powers as Ole Miss. However, the cardinal principle, characteristic of the College's athletic program, that sports are played for the development of the individual and the enjoyment of the game, remain the same.

The pursuit of excellence does not impede recreation and fun at Southwestern. Campus social affairs are designed to include everyone. Fraternity and sorority formals are open to all Southwestern students, as are the Inter-fraternity Council and Panhellenic Weekends. Open Houses, held throughout the year, are informal, two-hour dances given on Friday evenings. Two big weekends are Homecoming and April Fools, celebrated on the weekend nearest April 1st. Homecoming includes the traditional Friday night open house, the Homecoming game Saturday afternoon, and the dance that night. April Fool Weekend begins Friday night with the April Fool play, written and directed by a Southwestern student. Saturday afternoon finds everyone attending a concert given by a popular group. A dance that night climaxes the exciting weekend with the presentation of the April Fool Court.

Derby Day gives a welcome break in more studious activities as students abandon their dignity to crawl, hop, and run around in the annual fall activity.

The Student Center hums with activity throughout the week. Many people like to stop by the Lynx Lair Grill for a snack and to chat with friends. Exhibits, often created by the students themselves, are on display in the lobby. The Student Center is the site for many seminars and meetings. Also, students find recreational facilities such as pool and ping-pong available. Each Friday a recent, well-known film is shown; this year the admission will be free.

In the spring Mortar Board, an organization for the recognition of outstanding senior women, holds its tapping ceremony. Also at this time the outstanding sophomore woman is honored.

Twice a year, tappings are also held for Omicron Delta Kappa, honorary fraternity for male campus leaders. Newly tapped members are presented ODK keys.

The oldest and most important tradition at Southwestern, the Honor System, has been in operation since the earliest days of the College. The student is expected to be honest not only in tests and examinations, but in all of his undertakings. This honor is not something enforced from the outside but relies upon an inner code, the desire of the student to be honest. Professors frequently leave the room during tests; students pledge when finished that they have neither given nor received help. The students take pride in this system, and the Honor Council, though quite thorough, has a very low record of accusations.

The responsibility for administering the system is entirely in the hands of the students.

Southwestern is not a school that lives in the past, and each incoming class to some degree molds or shapes new customs and traditions. Each student brings to Southwestern his own identity and talent and in the use of them helps the College to reveal a part of its identity. Thus the student life at Southwestern is one of discovery; for both the individual and the College it is a "joint adventure in learning." The only time resisting traditions at Southwestern are those of honor and excellence.

SPIRIT OF HONOR

Southwestern is noted for the spirit of honor on its campus. Though the Honor System was enacted by the students many years ago, it has not become a meaningless institution, but has grown greatly in stature. The Honor System presently is just as much a part of Southwestern as the academic curriculum itself. Under the System students assume responsibility for honorable conduct not only in tests and examinations, but also in other phases of college life. The student is put entirely on his honor to be honest in all of his undertakings.

The spirit of honor should manifest itself in every phase of life at Southwestern.

The Honor System is administered by an Honor Council which is composed entirely of students elected by their fellow students. This Honor Council operates without interference from the college administration. The Council acts as a court to try any violations of the Honor System, and disciplines any students found guilty of such violations.

Only an intelligent group of people can understand and maintain the real meaning of such a delicate system. Neither the student nor the Honor Council is pledged to police other students. Everyone is to be concerned with his own work and proper behavior. If a student observes the breaking of the spirit of honor and pledge in a noticeable way on the part of another student, then he is obligated to bring the facts to the council for investigation. No one is expected to be overly suspicious; but overprotection of a dishonest student cannot be tolerated.

LETTER FROM HONOR COUNCIL PRESIDENT

Welcome to Southwestern, to what can be a most meaningful and significant phase of your life. This college offers an outstanding academic environment and expands its purposes to the spiritual and social realms. Here, you are invited to undertake not only intellectual discovery but also the broadening of the total person. Individual planning and action will result in the individual's success. Individual participation and responsibility create the community effort and its successes.

There are many opportunities for you on this, your campus. Many of these will be presented during Orientation and the first months of school. While these opportunities vary in nature and in demands, certain ideals pervade all aspects of the college's activity. It is these ideals that provide the continuity in a century-old institution, that provide the means for individual and community excellence. "Truth, loyalty, and service" are expressions that become reality only by performance. It is in performance that such fundamentals gain their value.

It is exciting to be a part of a community in which the adventure of discovery and the strength of the ideal are a dual focus for growth. Southwestern has much to offer. I am glad that you will be joining us in the opportunities that await.

Sincerely,

CAROL CALDWELL

A MESSAGE FROM YOUR STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

I am pleased to welcome the class of 1972 to Southwestern at Memphis. The period at which you begin your college education is one marked by anxiety and challenge. Anxiety is inevitable in a society such as ours which is striving to make the American Dream a reality for every American. And this presents a challenge to the present college generation which will inherit both the successes and the failures of their progenitors in this struggle.

This is an exciting time, both in our society as a whole and on college campuses in particular. As one recent graduate expressed it in an interview in Newsweek magazine, ours is in a sense a very patriotic generation: we believe that if we don't do something about America now, the whole thing is going to blow. She had unknowingly expressed the essence of the commonly heard idea of "participatory democracy."

This is why it is a particularly relevant time that you are beginning your liberal education, because now as never before, society is in need of the liberally educated man. Some colleges still do not recognize this exigency, but good colleges (and I believe Southwestern can be numbered among these) are making the necessary moves in order to become relevant to their students and ultimately to the needs of a society. But I am sure you realize that this cannot be accomplished unless each student accepts his full responsibility as a member of the community of scholars. Therefore I cordially extend to you the invitation to help us create at Southwestern at Memphis "a free university in a free society."

Yours Sincerely,
JIM JOHNSON

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

During Southwestern's early years in Memphis, student body affairs were handled by the Boosters Club, a democratic organization whose membership consisted of the entire student body.

In 1927, the name of the organization was changed to Student Assembly, which formed the Student Council of Southwestern to simplify the handling of student affairs. The formation of this council marked the beginning of representative government at Southwestern, with the Student Council serving as the executive committee of the Student Assembly.

In the 1947-48 college year, the council was reorganized into a form similar to its present structure. Commissioners in charge of planning and executing the major aspects of campus life were elected by the student body. Each class elected a President and representatives apportioned according to the Constitution. Each of these positions represented one vote on the Council.

During succeeding years, student leaders at Southwestern began to plan for a new type of governmental structure which would meet the increasing demands for more effective student government. Finally in 1965 a new constitution was ratified by the students of Southwestern. The organization thus established was named the Student Government Association, which is synonymous with the student body.

The primary innovation in this new system was the complete separation of the legislative and executive functions of student government through the creation of the Student Senate and the Executive Council. After two full years of operation under the new Constitution, Southwestern Student Government has expanded substantially its scope and effectiveness on campus.

EDUCATIONAL ACTIVITIES

Here at Southwestern, we believe that the truly educated person is not only one who has learned all that his books can teach him, but is also one who continually tests and strengthens his knowledge by living and working with others. Listed in this section are various activities, some of which are under the jurisdiction of the Commissioner of Education, all of which provide opportunities for students to apply and use their knowledge in areas outside the strictly academic sphere.

High School Visitation Program

The High School Visitation Program has two objectives: to encourage capable students to attend college and to interest students in Southwestern as their college home. As there are two different objectives, there are also two sets of panels, with one presenting the benefits students derive from a college education and the other, whose members represent various phases of Southwestern's campus life, encouraging students to attend Southwestern.

The Southwestern Panel

The Southwestern Panel, composed of students from all four classes, speaks to church groups, both youth and adult, on various aspects of college life. It has the dual purpose of encouraging students to attend a small college like Southwestern, and of informing the groups of the college's plans and accomplishments.

Kinney Program

In September, 1956, the Danforth Christian Service Project was established on Southwestern's Campus. The program focuses on commitment and craftsmanship in order to help the student realize his role in the community as well as in the campus.

In 1966, the project was renamed in memory of Dr. Lawrence Kinney.

Through lectures and seminars outstanding speakers present the diverse points of view of the disciplines related to the theme. Included also in the weekend symposium are discussions, a play, an art show, and a film series.

All those students interested in working on the Dilemma Committee should contact Jim Newport, chairman.

Debate Club

The Debate Club is interested in promoting better speaking and logical thought, stressing persuasive speaking and speaker poise. It is also interested, however, in increasing the reputation of Southwestern in this area, where the emphasis is more academic than any other.

Plans for next year call for the formation of a debate council and for more emphasis on the service aspect of the organization by the sponsoring of speakers and the holding of debates on topics important to both the school and the students. Those interested in joining the club should contact Professor Ray Hill, the faculty advisor, or Brad Foster.

Student Services

Guidance and Placement

The Guidance Center is located in Stewart Hall at 669 University Street, just west of the campus proper. This office works closely with the student's faculty advisor in offering assistance to students in their educational and career planning and their adjustments to the demands of campus life. Counseling is available to students who desire to improve their study habits and attitudes. Professional testing is offered to students who seek to understand more fully their interests, aptitudes, and abilities as these relate to their educational and career aspirations.

In a liberal arts college where few studies are of direct occupational significance, many students find career planning difficult. To help solve this problem, the college offers a career guidance and placement service. The placement office serves as a clearing house for information on openings in business, industry, government services, and social agencies as well as for those desiring to enter educational work. Arrangements involving part-time, off-campus, and summer jobs are also handled through this office.

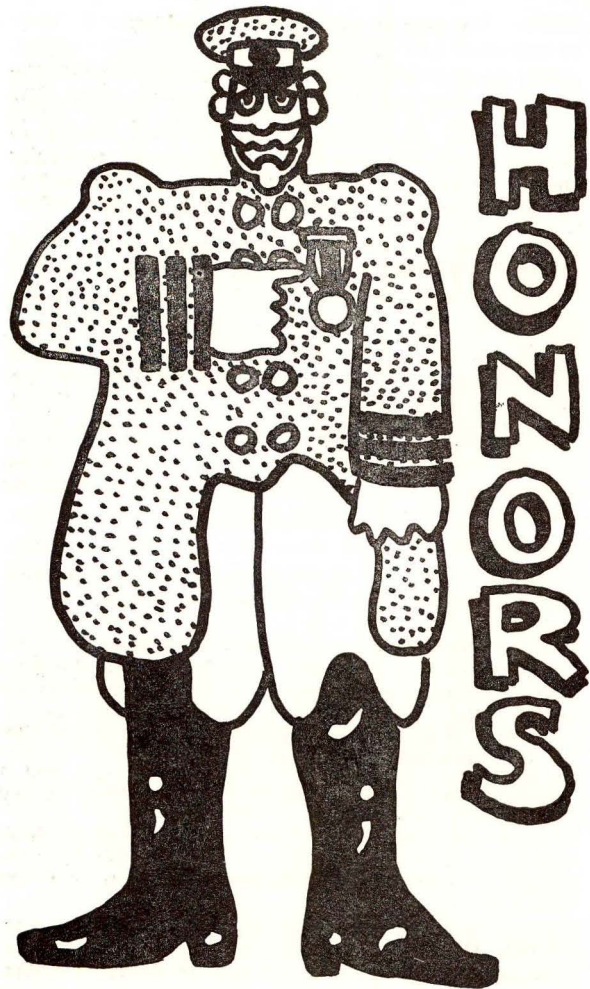

An extensive file of college catalogues and scholarship information and other financial aid is maintained for use by students. Current occupational and industrial information is also available.

United States National Student Association

Southwestern is a charter member of the USNSA. The Association was founded in 1947 by a group of WWII. veterans to fill the void for a student voice. Since that time NSA has moved more and more into the field of student services.

NSA offers many benefits to the Southwestern community: students get discounts for travel within the US and the world, it gives information to any student or organization that requests it, and it gives schools discounts on entertainment groups, to mention a few.

Each year delegates from Southwestern attend the USNSA Congress held during the summer. This past summer seven Southwestern students attended the Congress at Kansas State University.

ATHLETICS

Southwestern recognizes that sports and training in physical education are of value to the individual and that intercollegiate athletic competition can be both entertaining and broadly constructive. The College, therefore, maintains both an extensive intramural and varsity program. However, Southwestern still holds to the premise that these must complement, not over-shadow, the academic. Thus the College gives no athletic scholarships, giving every student a chance to earn a place on a team, and its admissions and academic standards require an athlete to maintain the same level of scholarship as other Southwestern students.

Southwestern is a member of the five school College Athletic Conference and its intercollegiate teams are known as the Lynx. The College enters competition in seven sports: football, basketball, tennis, golf, track and cross-country.

The intramural program is extensive and all students are encouraged to participate. Fraternity and independent teams participate in flagball, basketball, golf, track, tennis, handball, badminton, bowling, and pool, among others.

There are also various athletic organizations, whose purpose it is to create interest in athletics and to promote school spirit.

Pep Band

The Pep Band is a volunteer student organization composed of students with some musical ability, who are interested in promoting school spirit. The band plays at all home football and basketball games. Rehearsals are held at a time decided upon by the members.

Student Director: Claudia Hughey

"S" Club

The "S" Club is composed of all men who have earned letters in one of the varsity sports (football, tennis, golf, cross-country, basketball, baseball, and track).

Men's Intramural Board

The Men's Intramural Board, composed of representatives from the six fraternities and the independent men, has charge of all men's intramural athletics. It sponsors tournaments among the fraternities and independent groups in flagball, basketball, ping-pong, softball, golf, volleyball, tennis, badminton, and track.

Women's Athletic Association

The WAA controls all women's intramural athletics. It sponsors tournaments between the sororities and independent groups in volleyball, basketball, softball, archery, golf, badminton, tennis, and ping-pong.

Pan-Olympic

Pan-Olympic, founded in 1948, is an honorary women's athletic association. It is designed to create more individual interest in intramural activities. Its members, who come by invitation only, are selected from senior women on the basis of points they have earned on a point system built around the time spent in practice for and the position gained in tournaments. The organization was founded at Southwestern in 1948.

Southwestern Athletic Union

The Commissioner of Athletics serves as president of the Southwestern Athletic Union. The commission is composed of class representatives as well as a vice president and secretary-treasurer.

The purpose of the Southwestern Athletic Union is to provide for, increase, and maintain school spirit; to provide a campus-wide organization to which all students may belong and in which each may work towards a unified goal; to actively support, through a well organized program, the total athletic effort of Southwestern At Memphis, including varsity sports, intramural activities, and other events in which a large part of the student body participates; to encourage attendance at every athletic event; to plan and defray costs of out-of-town trips to athletic events; to plan and provide for any and all other such activities as shall be fitting to such an organization.

Fellowship of Christian Athletes

The aim of the Fellowship of Christian athletes is to foster Christian ideals in the area of athletic endeavors. The group meets for breakfast each week.

College Athletic Conference

Southwestern is in its fifth year as a member of the College Athletic Conference, which also includes the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn.; Washington and Lee of Lexington, Va.; Washington University of St. Louis, Mo.; and Centre College of Danville, Ky.

The purpose and principles of the conference reflect the general athletic atmosphere of all the members: "The purpose of the College Athletic Conference shall be to provide an association through which the member institutions may encourage organized competition in intercollegiate sports among teams representative of their respective student bodies.

"It shall be a cardinal principle of this conference that all participation in sports by the members of its teams will be solely because of interest in and the enjoyment of the game. No financial aid shall be given to any student which is conditional upon, or for the purpose of encouraging, his participation in intercollegiate sports."

Sports covered by the conference include football, basketball, tennis, track and field, golf, cross-country, and baseball. Wrestling and swimming will be added as soon as feasible.

A bell symbolizes the CAC championship in each sports division. Last year Southwestern won the coveted President's Bell which is awarded to the school that accumulates the most points in all sports.

CAMPUS EVENTS

The Southwestern student soon realizes that "booking it" goes hand in hand with a little relaxation. There is a time for all things in the life of a student. One must not wait for the realization that "Time, Time, / Time, see what's become of me / While I looked around for my possibilities. / I was so hard to please. / Look around, / Leaves are brown, / And the sky is a hazy shade of winter." He learns to sample life and learning as it comes to him. Some of these experiences have become traditional.

All-Sing

Kappa Delta sponsors an All-Sing each year to raise funds for its philanthropic work. Each Greek letter organization presents two songs, and the fraternity and sorority winners are awarded trophies.

April Fool Carnival

On the weekend nearest April 1, Southwestern celebrates April Fool Weekend with its annual carnival. On Friday evening is the performance of a play written, directed, and presented by Southwestern students. Saturday afternoon a concert is often given featuring a top flight entertainment act.

On Saturday evening, the carnival royalty, chosen by the student body, are presented. The king, queen, prince, princess, lords, ladies, and court jesters of the royal court reign over the climax of the weekend.

Beauty Revue

Each year the Lynx holds a beauty revue. The sororities and the Independent Women each enter six participants in the contest while each fraternity selects one girl to represent them. Eleven women are chosen as finalists, and of these five are selected as beauties and six as favorites. The first announcement of the final choices appears in the Lynx.

Derby Day

Derby Day, sponsored by the Sophomore Class, is held each year in the fall. Each class competes in the day's track and field events and a Derby Day Dance is held that night.

Homecoming

Homecoming festivities usually fall during the month of October. The student body elects a queen and the "S" Club and football team each selects a princess.

Fraternity and sorority lawns are decorated and judged on the basis of originality and appearance.

Annual events include a pep rally, bonfire, football game, fraternity open houses, and the Homecoming dance.

Student-Faculty Softball Classic

At the end of the school year, prior to examinations, representatives of each male social group challenge the faculty to a softball game. Following the game a picnic is held for all members of the faculty and student body.

Stunt Night

To further its philanthropic work, Alpha Omicron Pi sponsors Stunt Night. Following presentation of original skits by each sorority and fraternity, trophies are awarded to the winning groups.

Talent Night

Zeta Tau Alpha sponsors Talent Night each year to provide funds for its philanthropic work. Each sorority, fraternity, and independent group is allowed to enter a group act and an individual act. The Mr. Talent and Miss Talent trophies are awarded to the most talented individuals. Trophies are awarded to the sorority and fraternity displaying the best talent.

SOCIAL REGULATIONS

1. Each fraternity, sorority, and independent group may not have more than one mid-week social function per semester for such events as outings, banquets, etc., which must be placed on the social calendar at least one week in advance of the event with the approval of the Commissioner of Social Activities. This includes any type of function lasting after 8:00 P.M. Any additional event during the same semester on any night except Saturday is subject to the approval of the Student Development Committee. All other functions with the exception of exclusive events (see rule 2) must be held on the particular Saturday nights on the social calendar which are designated for informal parties.

2. Petitions for the reservations of any calendar dates must be submitted to the Chairman of the Community Life Committee at least one month in advance of the event. Upon the approval of these dates by the Community Life Committee, copies of the Social Calendar will be filed with the Dean of Women in advance of the event. The Homecoming Dance, April Fools Dance, Inter-Fraternity Council Dance, and the Panhellenic Dance are exclusive social events and no fraternity, sorority, or independent group may hold a social function that conflicts with them.

3. No fraternity, sorority, or independent group may schedule any function on a night when a varsity athletic team is playing a regularly scheduled game on the campus unless the hours do not conflict.

4. All entertainment after 8:00 P.M. which men and women students attend must be properly chaperoned. Married alumni (ae) or parents may serve as chaperons, but it is necessary to have at least one faculty couple present. The student organization responsible for each evening party must present to the Dean of Women, three days in advance of the social function, the names of those who have accepted the student's invitation to act as chaperon until the close of the party. If the chaperons are not turned in by 5:00 P.M. on the day before the event, the event will automatically be taken of the social calendar.

5. Alumnae who have been out of college five years may serve as chaperons for slumber parties held in the sorority houses. A report on each slumber party must be handed to the Dean of Women's office by the chaperon. Each sorority may have one slumber party in the lodge each semester. No slumber parties may be held in the dormitories.

6. Saturday parties and dances must close by 1:00 A.M.

7. Within one week after evening parties, the fraternity, sorority, or campus organization sponsoring such parties must present a written report thereof to the Dean of Women's office containing the following information:

- a) the names of chaperons invited and attending.
- b) a report on the conduct of those students attending the party.
- c) the hour at which the event terminated.

Also one of the chaperons present at each event will be requested by the Dean of Women's office to make a report containing this same information. These reports will be made on blanks supplied by the Dean of Women's office.

8. Afternoon teas, dances, "date suppers," showers or any afternoon parties may be given by campus organizations or classes on any days other than Sundays, but must close not later than 8:00 P.M. The recreation room of Voorhies Hall is available for such functions. (Arrangements are to be made in advance through the Dean of Women's office.)

9. A sorority or fraternity may have only one open house during the semester, and there will be only one open house during a single week. This restriction does not apply to Homecoming or other occasions that merit open houses given by all the sororites and/or fraternities for the college as a whole.

Rules Governing Use of Fraternity and Sorority Houses

1. Whenever a sorority house is to be used after 8:00 P.M. by its members, its alumnae, or for any activity only for women, the Dean of Women must be notified in advance except for Saturday evenings.

2. On weekdays men and women students are permitted to visit fraternity and sorority houses between the hours of 12:30 P.M. and 12:00 A.M. Monday through Thursday and between the hours of 10:00 A.M. and 2:00 A.M. on Friday. Whenever any of the above are being visited there should be present two women students.

3. On Saturday evening when no exclusive dates are designated on the social calendar, fraternity and sorority houses may be open from 8:00 P.M. until 2:00 A.M. for informal, properly constituted, mixed groups without the necessity of chaperonage. If an exclusive date is designated, the houses may be used by the same at the conclusion of the event until 2:00 A.M.

4. On Sundays informal mixed groups of students may use the fraternity and sorority houses between the hours of 12:30 P.M. and 12:00 A.M.

5. Girls may study in the sorority houses each night until 12:00 as long as there are two girls there.

6. Any unseemly conduct in sorority, fraternity houses or apartments or failure to conform to the above regulations will result in disciplinary measures on the part of the Administrative Committee.

Use of the Gymnasium

1. The date wanted must be registered on the social calendar in the Dean of Women's office well in advance.

2. The Commissioner of Social Activities and the Athletic Department must be contacted for approval.

3. The president of the organization must call at the Dean of Women's office three days ahead of the scheduled event to fill out a permission blank and to advise the chaperons.

4. A $15 fee must be paid in the cashier's office. Also, a $10 fee must be paid to the custodian.

5. Decorating is to be done after 1:00 P.M. Saturday unless permission to begin sooner can be obtained from the physical education instructors. Decorations must be down and the gym cleaned by 9:00 A.M. the following Monday.

6. The Maintenance engineer is to be informed well in advance of the event. No decorations are to be used without his approval.

7. There will be no smoking in the gym. This rule will be rigidly enforced. No Coke bottles may be taken into the gym at any time.
