2 Clerks Fill Vacancies In Down-Town Area WASHINGTON - (ANP) - The lily-white hiring policy, which has for years been practiced by the Washington telephone company, is at last beginning to break under the weight of the President's Contract Compliance Committee.

Seventy-Five Turn Out To Play On Nashville Links

NASHVILLE, Tenn. - For the first time in the history of the city, Negro golfers are now playing on a city-owned links here. Seventy-five Negro linksmen toured the 18-hole Shelby Park lay-out in East Nashville Wednesday.

The course was opened to Negroes two days a week by Federal Judge Elmer Davies, of the United States District Court on February 2, pending completion of a nine-hole municipal course for Negroes in June. Judge Davies ordered that the golf links be made available to colored players on Wednesdays and Sundays one week and Wednesdays and Saturdays the next week. NO "INCIDENTS" There were no "incidents," when Jerry Tolson, John Duffy Hodges, Robert Davis and William Brewer, who comprised the first foursome, teed-off and started down the fairway. Sunny skies and warm temperatures greeted the golfers and the day passed quietly, although officials at the course said they found a cross Saturday planted in the cup of the No. 9 green. It stood about six feet high and had been burned during the night.

By JIMMY COOPER The chain of events leading to their arrest started Wednesday when Mr. Whitley notified Memphis Police that the three were in Memphis with plans to burglarize business places. He said that the three were in a black Buick sedan bearing Florida license plates. Following the Georgia Chief of Detectives warning an all-car alarm was sounded leading to the direct capture of the suspected safecrackers.

U STREET OFFICE The first step toward racial integration in its employment practices was taken last week when the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. transferred two clerks from its segregated U Street office to fill vacancies occurring in its main, downtown, accounting office.

This move is the result of several conferences between C&P officials and members of the committee on government contracts—a group appointed by the President to see that firms holding government contracts do not practice racial discrimination in hiring. After a White House hearing, H. Holmes Vogel, C&P vice president said:

CLERICAL EMPLOYEES "The company has for many years provided employment for Negroes in keeping with the prevailing practice of the community. Recently a number of changes have taken place here in Washington which reflected a growing trend toward full integration. In recognition of this trend, we have moved in this direction by integrating certain of our present clerical employees."

Actually several months of negotiations were necessary to bring about this change in the telephone company's hiring policy in spite of the fact that it holds government contracts for phone service. The company contended that it was complying with the law by hiring Negro clerks in its up-town Jim-crow office. But John A. Roosevelt, chairman of the subcommittee on government contracts, who conducted the talks, claimed that this is not enough.

GIRLS AS OPERATORS It is hoped that the subcommittee headed by the son of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, will not let up on the telephone company until it employs some Negro girls as operators.

Heirs Summon To Miss. Court On Property Deal

SPECIAL TO MEMPHIS WORLD The heirs of 518 acres of fertile Mississippi land located in Marshall County, 12 miles north of Holly Springs, on the edge of the "black diamond section" (so called because oil has been discovered in the section have been summoned to appear before the Chancery Court of Marshall County at Holly Springs, on Monday, March 8 to defend the bill of sale of their land for the division of proceeds. The bill was filed in the court by Albert Hammond, a White resident of Holly Springs, who claims he is the rightful owner of the property by a "Pro Confesso Decree" rendered on March 27, 1953 in Senatobia, Miss. Mrs. Collier, a widow, said she supported her two teenage daughters, said "A Chancery summons issued by J. K. Hurdle, on February 17, 1953, stated for me, not any of the other heirs to the undivided property to appear before Herbert Holmes, Chancellor, on March 27, 1953 in his chambers at the courthouse in Senatobia, Miss. at 10 a. m as a defendant in the case. There were other heirs to the undivided property Albert Hammond was trying to claim, so I did not appear." In commenting about the summons, Mrs. Collier said, "I ignored the summons as I was the only heir mentioned in the summons. The property was deeded back to the estate on November 12, 1943 by a quit-claim, deed executed by Atholph and Ophelia Isom, child, she married a Ned Jones. This property was by my parents has been the center of a controversy for a long time. White people have claimed they were the owners or administrator of the property ever since the passing of my mother in 1927." The fight led by White people to gain control of this property dates to 1934 when I refused to re-rent the property to two white farmers and instead rented 120 acres of the property to a Negro farmer," Mrs. Collier added.

Lincoln-Douglas Event Hailed As Fine Banquet

By ROSA BROWN BRACY The Precinct and Ward Workers of the Lincoln League celebrated the Birthday of Abraham Lincoln and Frederic Douglass in a Program Banquet where 400 attended at the Elks Rest on Beale Street, Thursday, Feb. 12, 1954. Raymond Lyndon, president of the Lincoln League was master of ceremonies. Representatives of 61 Precinct present. The banquet was truly representative of the appreciation which is held to day of the Great Emancipator Abraham Lincoln and of Frederic Douglass the abolitionist who brought Freedom to so many then covered with darkness and whose efforts gave Freedom to four million slaves, and made possible a life of hope for the fifteen million Negroes today who desire first class citizenship in America. Mrs. Evelyn (M. S.) Stuart, President of the Woman's Lincoln League a member of the National Republican Party, when presented to the Banquet Group appealed to the Womanhood of the Negroes of Memphis to support the Republican Party. She recognized the organization as the medium which lifted the Negro from Slavery to Freedom. She is conscious, however that as long as segregation remains the Negroes are not free. She believes that the Republican party with the present administration if supported will do away with segregation, in those areas which will make for equality. To see Mrs. Stuart in action and to listen to her fervent plea is to know she is sincere. Attorney B. L. Hooks, brought a message on the Life of Abraham Lincoln. He spoke of the great Liberator as a man of Destiny. He referred to him as lover of Humanity. Like Jesus the Christ, Lincoln knew what it was to be poor, to suffer. He could appreciate the suffering of others. He knew humbly he shared himself with the humble. It is said that at the time he was notified that he had been elected President of the United States of America he was down on his knees playing marbles with a group of boys. Rev. W. H. Brewster, pastor of East Trigg, and Pilgrim Baptist Church and famous as a Radio Commentator said: Frederick Douglass was born a slave, but through his leadership the constitution of the United States of America was vindicated and the declaration of Independence became a reality to 4 million slaves. If Douglass could speak to the Negroes today he would say as he said almost a century ago "The Republican Party is the ship all else is the sea." Reverend Brewster dedicated an original poem of his own making entitled: "Lieut. George Washington Lee." Rev. Nabors, pastor of First Baptist Church, said: (Continued On Page Five)

FOR SAFE DRIVING IN WINTER WEATHER
These five basic rules developed by the National Safety Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards, are recommended "musts" for safe winter driving:
They are:

- 1. ACCEPT YOUR RESPONSIBILITY
—to do all in your power to drive without accident. Don't blame the weatherman for an accident. Be prepared and meet the situation.
- 2. GET THE "FEEL" OF THE ROAD
Try brakes occasionally while driving slowly and away from traffic. Find out just how slippery the road is, and adjust your speed to road and weather conditions. Remember, you can't stop on an icy dime.
- 3. KEEP THE WINDSHIELD CLEAR
—of ice and snow, fog and frost. Be sure headlights, windshield wiper blades, and defrosters are in top condition. You have to see danger to avoid it.
- 4. PUMP YOUR BRAKES
—to slow down or stop. Jamming them on can lock the wheels and throw you into a dangerous skid. A little kidding can carry you along way.
- 5. FOLLOW AT A SAFE DISTANCE
Keep well back of the vehicle ahead—give yourself room to stop. Remember, without tire chains, it takes three to twelve times as far to stop on snow and ice as on dry concrete.

TENNESSEE SAFETY COUNCIL
Advice To A Speed Demon
While racing on your reckless way, It's well to keep this thought in view: The traffic laws are here to stay—Are you?
—Stephen Schlitzer in Saturday Evening Post.
Young Driver
Let his hands upon the wheel Know their power; help him feel Proud, as one who understands Life and death are in his hands; Gallant, knowing all who share Car and road are in his care; Conqueror of this wild steed, Master of himself and speed—
—Caroline Cain Durkee in The Saturday Evening Post
Safety is not a signal light, a jail sentence, a divided highway, or an enforcement index. Safety is primarily a state of mind, under which all people, realizing the imminence and the consequences of accidents, are willing to accept those restraints necessary to prevent them. —Unknown.

Spirit Of Memphis Set At Mason Temple On April 11

BY ERNESTINE WRIGHT
The Kings of Voices and Masters of Singing all together will provide majestic singing, Sunday April 11, at Mason Temple. It is the Presentation of the Spirit of Memphis Quartet.

Their guests will be the nations foremost console singers. The Pilgrim Travelers, of Los Angeles, California; Big Brother Joe May, (Thunderbolt of the Middle-West); The Five Blind Boys, Illinois Jubilee, Spirit of Memphis, Jr., The Golden Sunlight Girls and the Spirit of Memphis.

The Pilgrim Travelers, appeared on the initial telecast of "Heavenly Choir," January 9th, on television, and due to popular demand, they were again featured on the program January 30th.

On one of their latest records, Bro. Joe May and Pilgrim Travelers are paired together. They have combined their vocal efforts on the Gospel "Lead Me, Guide Me." The vocal artistry of the artists was so captivating that the President of Memphis, recorded the groups on Thursday, and by the following Monday, the record was released.

The action on the part of Specialty broke all records in recording and releasing a platter.

Bro. May does the solo part on

"Lead Me, Guide Me," with unusual background support from the Travelers. Flipover is "Just Call His Name," by Brother Joe May.

The Five Blind Boys with their lead singer, Little Archie, will again make their appearance with the others. I think you will remember them when he sings "Our Father."

A song that is touching and inspiring to all.

The Spirit of Memphis Jr., like the original Spirit of Memphis themselves, will make progress with the audience. As the old saying goes, "Like Father, like Son." Well these young men are not the sons of the senior group, nevertheless, they are well trained.

The Spirit of Memphis, have made a recently recording "Since Jesus Came into My Heart," one of the fastest selling records in the states. In this song, Mr. Fred Howard, is featured, with his magnificent baritone voice, along to carry the melody, is the Bass singer, Mr. Earl Malone, Mr. Jethroe Bledsoe, Mr. Robert Reed, Mr. William Broadnax, and Mr. Silas Steele.

The manager of this group is Mr. Theo Wade, the most looked upon person in the city.

Along with these are the Sunlight Girls, and the Illinois Jubilee.

By SAM BROWN

According to reports, Leroy (Satchel) Paige, the ageless relief pitcher of the Baltimore Orioles, (formerly the St. Louis Browns) has been given his outright release and is at liberty to make a deal for himself with any other club.

We learn that the one-time great pitcher has already received an offer from the San Diego, Calif. club of the Pacific Coast League, calling for a reputed salary of $10,000. In a statement from his home in Kansas City, Paige is quoted as saying that he has not accepted the offer and is not interested in any minor league job.

It may be stated that perhaps, the one and only Satchel, might have a few more good relief jobs in his strong right arm, and might be of some valuable help to another major league club. However, it is generally known that Paige is not the easiest player to handle. Managers have many times overlooked his escapades and his temperamental attitude, especially as it concerns the observance of training rules.

As we get it, some managers indulged or tolerated his eccentricities as they realized Paige was all right with the front office, that is when Bill Veeck was the big man in the front office. It seemed that Veeck for some reason liked the tall lean pitcher and his managers had to take him whether they liked him or not.

Paige first went to the big league with the Cleveland Indians when Veeck was boss of the team. Paige had passed the peak of his career when he was first signed but was still able to help Cleveland win the pennant and world series. He was not the fair-haired child in the life of Boudreau who was then manager of the Indians. As soon as Veeck left the Indians, Paige was released.

When Veeck took over the St. Louis Browns, Paige was again given a contract with the American league entry. It wasn't long before he was in the clubhouse of then manager Rogers Hornsby, but because of the man in the front office he was able to stick with the team. It was expected that when Veeck sold out to the Baltimore interests, that Paige was on his way out as a pitcher for the Browns.

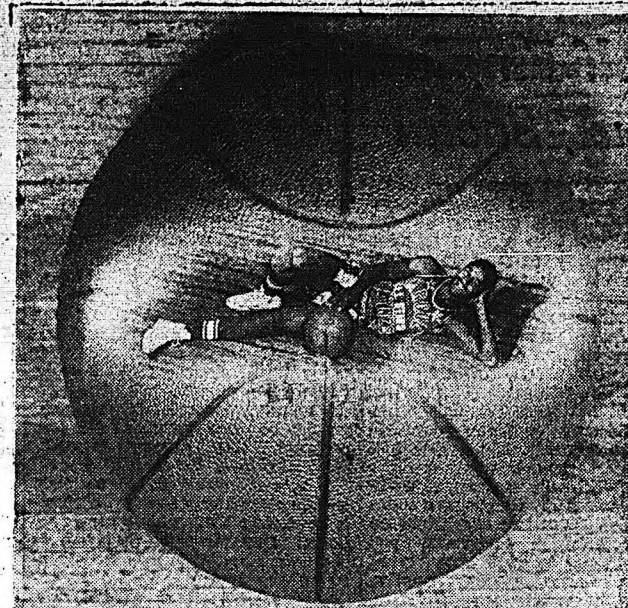

It can be said that the great hurler has had a brilliant and successful career, and as in the case with all athletes, he too, had to come to the end of the trail. The many years he toiled in the Negro Leagues and in Porto Rico and other countries, his greatness was known and his ability as one of the all-time great pitchers was broadcast far and wide.

If the color line in baseball had been broken some twenty-five or thirty years ago, Paige's name and exploits would have gone down in the history of the game of baseball alongside of Walter Johnson, Christy Matheson, Cy Young, Grover Cleveland Alexander, Moses Grove, George Earnshaw, Dizzy Dean, and numerous others. Although, he reached the majors late in his career, his name may yet be enshrined in the hall of fame.

We recalled in the early days of his pitching when we first saw him pitch in the old Negro Southern League at Lewis Park, now Martin Stadium, we were impressed with his tremendous speed and easy-going motions and voiced the opinion that he could hold his own in any company. In those days we were somewhat of a pitcher ourselves and admired the tall lanky fellow immensely.

Now that he has just about reached the end of his great and fabulous career, we dare to say that the brilliance of his performance will shine as bright as that of any other pitcher the game has ever known. He was at his prime with the Pittsburg Crawfords, Homestead Greys and Kansas City Monarchs. If the end of a great career is at hand, here's hoping for the great one all the good things that the future can offer. He has shown that baseball ability is not confined to any one group.

Marquis Haynes, Cager Stars To Play In Memphis Friday Nite

Marquis Haynes, ranked as the world's greatest basketball dribbler, will bring his caravan of stars to Memphis on Friday night, February 19th to battle the Memphis Y Big "5" in a basketball attraction booked for the Abe Scharff Y gym on Lauderdale and Linden. The main event is listed for 8:30 p. m. with the preliminary game featuring the Y Mid-gets and an all-star Negro high school outfit beginning at 7:30 p. m.

Haynes, former captain and one of the main cogs of the Harlem Globetrotters for the past seven years, is making his first appearance in the South with his new combination. The great Negro basketball ace who has been named on many all-star pro-quintets, left the Globetrotters last year and since leading his own club has racked up 85 triumphs in 90 starts.

Haynes was named the most valuable player of the 18-day tournament staged between the Globetrotters and the College All-Stars last year which drew record crowds in key coast-to-coast cities. In addition to his sensational playing talents, the former Globetrotter No. 1 star, will also entertain the crowd in between halves with a special exhibition of floor work and dribbling.

Several former Globetrotter aces will also share the spotlight with Haynes which include Clarence "Boma" Henderson, former Langston University star and voted the most valuable player in an All-Arm y tournament. The fancy member of the Haynes quintet will also perform in between halves with his well-known comedy routine and ball handling tricks which made him one of the shining lights of the Globetrotters for many years.

Frank Hannibal, another funster, will also appear with Haynes and Henderson during intermission. Other former Globetrotter stalwarts expected to display their wares here include Phil Jefferson, 6' 2" North Carolina College ace and Cleveland Harp, all-star member of Crispus Attucks High School. The Haynes all-stars will come here with an imposing record of 85 triumphs in 90 starts.

Memphis Y Big "5" will be led by Jimmy Graham, formerly of LeMoyne College star; Frank Lewis, Tennessee State University; Jimmy Scott, West Virginia sensation and Richard Halle-burston formerly of Tennessee A and I. Chris Roulhac, manager of the Y will handle tickets which are priced at $1.25. They will be served on a first come first served basis and are now on sale at the Y. The Y Midgets will battle the Booker T Washington High School will battle in the preliminary game beginning at 7:30 p. m.

Tennessee-Central State Cage Tilt

By CLANTON III

NASHVILLE—Tennessee's hard-wood five dropped the curtain on the regular season's play by handing Central State College a 72-68 licking in the "Little Garden" last Monday night.

With a 12-4 season's record and only two conference losses neatly tucked under their belts, Coach Clarence Cash began getting his three time national cage champs ready for their fourth straight bid for national honors. With every major basketball club gunning for Cash's scalp, Tennessee State University's ice-water coach must win six-in-a-row to annex the national crown.

Tennessee's Host Tigers will open its quest Thursday, February 18 through 20 in the Mid-western conference tournament play-off in Nashville. The mid-western tourney will represent the conference in the NAIA's 29th District Tournament March 1 through 3 for a crack at the NAIA national play-off in Kansas City. Last year Coach Cash's five were the first Negro college quint to play in a National Basketball Tournament.

In Monday night's game 4,000 Tiger fans got sweet revenge for the 93-90 overtime defeat Central handed Tennessee at Central and little (5' 5") Remus Nesbit, veteran guard, gave the Maurader's a lesson in ball handling during the closing minutes of play. Nesbit dumped in 76 points for Tiger high point man while Luther Towers, Maurader captain and forward, collected 23 for game honors. Captain Towers, consistent shooting from the outside kept Central in the game.

In preparation for the coming tournaments, Coach Cash started "Big Ben" Jackson at center and George Altman at forward. Jackson, 6'6" center from New Orleans has been Cash's hope for a tall man in the pivot slot. So far this season the sophomore center has not developed a fact as was thought at the season's opening. Altman has gained more confidence from his three starts and played the entire game for the first time this year.

SYNOPSIS On her way from the publishing house a New York ... she had just signed ... rights of her late husband's novel ...

CHAPTER TEN

DALE'S bright dress as a gesture of defiance was entirely ... for Agatha outside her ...

"How long are you staying in New York, Mrs. Fraser?" Agatha asked her.

"Not long. A few weeks, perhaps ... 'Friends here, have you?'"

"Dale's ... 'Where is your husband?'"

"I am ... 'How does she get away with it?'"

"Of course. And it's not a farm, now. It's a thriving tourist development. Yes," she said, "I shall go back."

"To what?" She looked at him in astonishment. "My family and my job, of course."

"You made it all sound very bright and amusing to Aggie back there at dinner—but what sort of a job is a rural mail route and bookkeeping in a country store, for a girl like you?"

"I do know that if you go back, you can't have everything the same again," he said gravely, "stopped at the gate of a school-

Economy, 2-Party System Keys To Carolina Success

Why is North Carolina the "most progressive" Southern state in race relations? Traditional liberalism, economic wealth, educational progress and a two party political system were among reasons cited yesterday by Dr. Helen Edmonds, professor of history at North Carolina College.

"Of all the Southern states, I would venture to say that North Carolina is the most progressive, and that liberalism has accompanied this progress," Dr. Edmonds told the Hungry Club Forum at the Butler Street YMCA.

"This liberalism has manifested itself in vast expenditures in public education, public health, mental institutions, prisons, colleges, universities and libraries."

TOOK LIBERTIES SERIOUSLY She said the early settlers of the state "took their civil liberties, seriously." They were "adventurous frontiersmen."

"The foundation of many private fortunes was laid in 1890," Dr. Edmonds explained. "The Dukes, the Reynolds, the Carrs and the Andrews are all of this era."

NEWSPAPER LEADERSHIP North Carolina newspapers "have championed unpopular causes with success," she said.

"There are 28 counties out of 100 in the western part of the state which voted the Republican ticket consistently from 1876 to 1928."

SHE said Negroes were in the minority in many of these counties. The area has been a "challenge to the Democratic Party."

Colored teachers enjoy equal pay in the public schools and Negro citizens have been free to vote in many parts of the state for a long time, she stated.

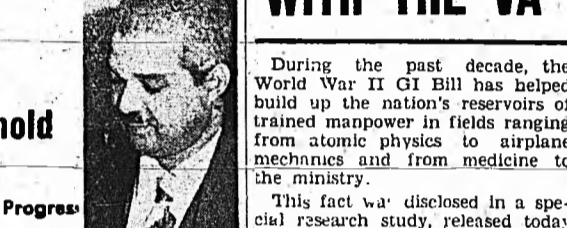

Rural areas are yet difficult to crack because election laws leave much authority to registrars who can make it difficult or easy for rural Negroes," Dr. Edmonds explained.

Bias Fades (Continued From Page One) supported by public taxation. He is a member of the executive board of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

EXCLUSION TREATMENT To lay the ground work for a test case, it was necessary for colored golfers to go to one of the courses and get the "exclusion treatment."
