

From: Ewing_Julia
Sent: Friday, April 04, 2008 12:57 PM
To: FACSTAFF
Cc: Ewing_Julia
Subject: Exciting and Unusual events at McCoy Theatre

McCoy Theatre started the year with a bang presenting The August Wilson Celebration with performances by Charles "Roc" Dutton.

We are closing the year with a bang by presenting plays written and directed by an alumnus, a graduating Senior, and the Bard Himself!

Lysistrata and Death of Cupid written and directed by alumnus Kyle Hatley opens tonight and runs April 6,10,11,12 at 7:30 and April 13 at 2 in the McCoy Theatre. It is an incredibly exciting and risky play.

Morning of Hope, written and directed by senior Jazzy Miller will have performances Tuesday April 8 at 6pm and Wednesday April 9 at 4:30 in the McCoy Studio. IF you are curious about racial issues on campus, see this play! Wonderful arguments!

Both of these playwrights have interesting things to say...both of these playwrights are products of a Rhodes College education. Be proud!!!

On April 16 and 17 we will present a staged reading of William Shakespeare's King Lear. Bo List, Artistic Director of Germantown Community Theatre and former director of The Lexington Shakespeare Festival, is directing. Our own John Rone is playing the Fool; the cast is outstanding, another don't miss! The reading will be at 6 pm on both nights with a discussion following in the McCoy Studio. The reading is expected to last two hours.

AND on April 18 in The McCoy Theatre the Spanish American Drama Class will present three scenes ... but more on that later!

So...I know everyone is overwhelmed with completing the year but try to catch at least one of these unusual events!!! You will not be disappointed!
See you soon!
cookie