

Roy Campanella Critically Injured In Auto Wreck

Great Dodger Catcher May Recover Completely

ROY CAMPANELLA

GLENN COVE, N. Y.—(INS)—Roy Campanella, one of baseball's greatest catchers, may recover completely from the fractured neck he suffered Tuesday morning in an automobile accident.

The burly 36-year-old Dodger stalwart escaped death by an inch when his car skidded and struck a utility pole while he was driving to his home here.

Campy is paralyzed from the neck down. But his physicians said that a four hour and 20 minute operation performed on him was successful. Doctor Robert W. Sengstaken said: "We do not know when, but we expect recovery to a normal state."

The doctor declared that if Campanella's injury had been an inch higher he would have died instantly. The physicians said the recovery from paralysis could take anywhere from two months to years. The doctor said he was not ruling out the possibility that Campanella will play baseball again. Campy is three-time winner of the National League's Most Valuable Player award.

Campanella was pinned in the wreckage of his automobile "like a pretzel" for 45 minutes. Dr. Sengstaken, attending physician for neurological surgery at Community Hospital in Glen Cove, said the dislocation of the fifth and sixth cervical vertebrae "compressed the spinal cord but did not fracture it."

"He said the injury in laymen's language was 'a broken neck.'"

The doctor said that because of the paralysis, which includes both of Campy's legs, "he can't push his arms out and he can't grasp."

But Dr. Sengstaken declared: "I am not ruling out the possibility that he'll ever play again."

Campanella's boss, Walter O'Malley, president of the Los Angeles Dodgers, said he had spoken to the general catcher and that he expects Roy will have to remain in the hospital for six weeks.

Reporting that the operation was a "success," O'Malley declared: "The prayers of a great many people have been answered."

O'Malley and Dodger team physician Dr. Herbert Felt consulted with Dr. Sengstaken and with orthopedic surgeons Gilbert Taylor and Stanley J. Makowski, who assisted in the operation.

"Roy stood it very well," O'Malley said. "He is on the critical list but his prognosis is hopeful. Of great significance was the fact that the spinal cord was not severed."

Dr. Sengstaken said Campanella's "short, thick muscular neck made the surgery difficult." He added, "we can't tell now whether another operation will be necessary, but it won't be in the near future anyway."

The doctor said the paralysis was caused by the compression of the spinal cord, adding that "we relieved the compression and we found the spinal cord perfectly normal" during the operation.

Crude Bomb Rocks Tulsa Residence

TULSA (ANP)—The equilibrium of a Negro family of five, occupants of a house in a predominantly white neighborhood in North Tulsa for two months, was upset here last week when a crude bomb exploded in their front yard.

Victims of the bombing were Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Gamble and their three children, Peggy, 14; Larry, 12; and Patsy Louise, 10. There were no injuries. Patsy, however, was treated at the hospital for hysteria and later released.

That it was the work of terrorists was evident when several local radio stations reported that an unidentified person telephoned asking if there had been any explosions. The county sheriff's office also received a call from the unknown person, who said "there will be more blasts." However, no others were reported.

The blast cracked the wall and broke out most of the windows in the Gamble residence.

Klan Meeting Postponed

BURLINGTON, N. C.—(INS)—A Ku Klux Klan demonstration planned as the "largest ever held in the South"—was called off Saturday because of poor weather, conditions at the meeting site near Burlington.

Hundreds of curiously drawn spectators milled with newspaper, radio and television men at an otherwise deserted land patch off Highway 70 four miles outside of Burlington where the rally was scheduled to be held.

The Highway Patrol said traffic was knotted in the area from shortly after sunset until an hour after the demonstration failed to meet. (Continued on Page Six)

Boy Scout Week Feb. 7 To 13th

The 4,700,000 boys and leaders of the Boy Scouts of America will launch a yearlong National Safety Good Turn during Boy Scout Week February 7 to 13.

The Scouts' national service project was suggested by President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Honorary President of the Boy Scouts.

In a White House message, President Eisenhower told the Scouts: "Our land each individual is of inestimable worth, yet in no other land do accidents cause a more terrible loss of human life and limb. This fact cannot be passively accepted. We must seek new ways to save the basic resources of our Nation's youth."

"Encouraged by the splendid result of your Conservation Good Turn for years ago, I now urge you to adopt Safety as your project for (Continued on Page Eight)

Group Drops Oath For Ala. Primary

MONTGOMERY, Ala.—Fear of the U. S. Supreme Court caused members of the pro-segregation state Democratic Executive Committee to drop an oath which would bar Negroes as candidates in Alabama Democratic primaries.

The oath would have required candidates seeking office in the May 6 primary and June 3 runoff election laws.

It was advocated by National Committeeman Charles W. McKay, Jr., of Sylacauga, but was never introduced as a result of opposition from party leaders who feared a court test.

Party Chairman Roy Mayhall said he feared the segregation oath would invite a court suit which could "nullify our entire primary."

He recalled that the U. S. Supreme Court eliminated the Democratic white primary in Texas and said similar reasoning might be applied if an oath in Alabama kept Negroes from seeking office.

ASIAN-AFRICAN BLOC LEADERS WANT IKE-KRUSHCHEV MEET

Court Dismisses N. Y. Realty Appeal

WASHINGTON—(NNPA)—The Supreme Court Monday dismissed the appeal of the Emray Realty Corporation, of New York City, for want of a substantial Federal question.

It granted the motions to dismiss filed by Robert C. Weaver, New York State Rent Commissioner, who contended that the notice of appeal was not filed within time and any attempt to obtain a review of his ruling of the New York State Court of Appeals was contrary to the rules of the United States Supreme Court.

The Emray Realty Corp., which owns a Harlem tenement containing 18 apartments of seven and eight rooms each, applied to the Rent Commission for permission to withdraw from the rental market.

The commission denied the request on the ground that the corporation had not shown that it was seeking to withdraw its properties without any intent to rent or sell.

The New York Court of Appeals dismissed the case. It ruled that no substantial question was involved.

The case was taken to the courts after the State Rent Commissioner determined that it was the obligation of the landlord to provide interior and exterior repairs to the Harlem tenement. The Rent Administrator reduced the rents throughout the building because of the failure of the landlord to make the repairs.

The landlord contended that the property lost more than $10,000 a year and that the cost of the repairs amounted to $40,490. It charged that the hearing before the State Rent Commission was conducted like a kangaroo court.

Non-Partisan Voters League To Plan Vote-Registration

America has seen more social disorder and hatred in this century than any other in the history of the world; Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy of Montgomery, Ala., told an estimated 1,000 at Metropolitan Baptist church, last Sunday afternoon.

"Our nation has known too much strife, bitterness and wars abroad and at home and depressions said Rev. Abernathy who was the guest speaker at Metropolitan 34th annual Men's Day celebration. The annual celebration starts the first of January and climax the last Sunday of the month.

Rev. Abernathy, speaking on "Man's Responsibility in the Social Order," immediately after the horrible 1930 depression, came the New Deal. But before we hardly had time to enjoy the most World War II, one of the most destructive wars in modern history, which was followed by the Korean Conflict."

"Each soldier in several generations died in battles believing he was dying for peace. Now Russia has launched Sputnik and Muttik which has thrown the United States into international hysteria."

The speaker went on to say "despite all of this there are those who are determined to keep Negroes second class citizen. And there are those of us who are equally determined that we shall be free. The solution to the racial and social problems in America cannot be found in the development of an intercontinental ballistic missile.

"The answer can be found in building a strong nation on principles laid down by Jesus Christ. No nation can win a war -- to win is to lose.

"First we must learn how to love. Have the 'Emmett' Till's, Juanita Lucys -- the, Montgomery, Ala., story, the Furibus' and Little Rock. We need more Christian religion -- the salt of the earth -- to bring peace out of chaos.

He went on to explain that "we must save the world, and in order to do that we must teach the brotherhood of man and the fatherhood of God. It is the responsibility of the church to take leadership in these matters. We cannot have world peace until we have obtained internal peace. We cannot save the world until we have saved ourselves. And each one of us have the responsibility of achieving peace by starting with ourselves.

The minister said "it is just as bad for a white man to hate a Negro as it is for the Negro to hate a white man," despite the fact that the Negro has suffered 100 years of injustice, brutal treatment under the mockery of "separate, but Equal Law."

On concluding Rev. Abernathy, who is the pastor of the Baptist church in Montgomery, Ala., which was bombed to the extent of $40,000 damage last January, said, "we cry out with Patrick Henry, 'give us freedom or give us death.'"

Special music for the occasion was provided by a choir of the church's brotherhood and soloists William Cross, and Kenneth and Edgar Cole.

The speaker was introduced by Levi Watkins, president of Owen College, who had taught Rev. Abernathy while he was a student at Alabama State College.

Other appearing on the program were Lewis H. Twigg, chairman of the celebration, W. A. T. Hodge, Ernest Albro, W. W. Ross and Rev. S. A. Owen, pastor of the church.

Frontiers Club To Hold Confab, Install Officers

Members of the Memphis Chapter of the Frontiers of America club will present a "special program" during installation of the 1958 officers at 4 p. m. Sunday, February 2.

The program is scheduled to be held at First Baptist church, 682 Lauderdale St.

The special program will be the second annual "Frontiers Club's Business and Economic conference." Such a conference has been conducted by the national club annually more than 10 years.

Main speaker at the conference will be Dr. William Simmons, a professor at Tennessee State University.

A public forum will be conducted following the speaker. Panelists at the forum will include Howard E. Sims, a history and economics instructor at LeMoine College, Rev. James A. McDaniel executive secretary of the Memphis Urban League, pastor of Bethel Presbyterian church and a member of the Frontiers club; and Thaddeus T. Stokes, editor of the Memphis World.

Topics for discussion will be "The Effects of Present Crisis on the Economic Welfare of Negroes." The audience will participate in the discussion.

The 1958 officers to be installed are: Rev. H. Clarke Nabrit, pastor of the First Baptist church where the meeting is being held, president; Taylor C. D. Hayes, vice president; J. T. Chandler, secretary, Dr. E. Frank White, treasurer.

Installation officers will be Dr. Simmons, the guest speaker.

The Man Who Was Never Late For An Appointment

By THADDEUS T. STOKES

Are you frequently late for appointments? If so, perhaps you should talk to Bishop A. B. McEwen, national senior bishop of the Church of God in Christ, about a cure for the malady. He has not "been late for any appointment in 50 years."

Or would you be more interested in knowing how to obtain and pay cash for a Mark III. Again you can seek the advice of Bishop McEwen. He recently handed a salesman a personal check for $10,000 for a special designed Mark III.

When a bookkeeper at the Memphis World asked the bishop, jokingly, "How can I get an automobile like yours?" The bishop replied sincerely, "There's no secret what the Lord can do. The Bible said after you have done the will of God then ask whatsoever you will. God will not withhold any good thing from those who walk upright."

Bishop McEwen then layed bear to the bookkeeper some of the hard struggles of his early life.

EHOE SHINE BOY

He revealed "I was born in Oxford, Miss. and I left home at the age of nine. My father and mother did not see me again until I was grown, married and was preaching the gospel. I earned $60 shining shoes to leave home."

"I landed in Washington, D. C. and sat in the railroad station two days. Incidentally I passed through Memphis enroute. At that time I had no idea or desire to stay in Memphis and I did not know that one day I would establish my home here.

The bishop explained that after sleeping in the station two days, he walked down a street and "saw a Jewish woman cutting flowers. I asked her for a job. He reply was 'you are so young -- what can you do?' recalled the bishop.

EARNED $125 A WEEK

He boasted "I can wash dishes out grass and do any things." He landed the job at $125 a week. However, all of his problems were not solved.

Bishop Fuller Given Final Atlanta Rites

By THOMAS JEFFERSON FLANAGAN
ATLANTA, GA.—(INS)—

Bishop W. E. Fuller, Sr., founder and senior bishop of the Fire Baptist Holiness Church of God of the Americas, was funeralized Tuesday in a five-hour service at Big Bethel A.M.E. Church where dignitaries had gathered from over the nation.

Hundreds viewed the body of the prelate as it lay in state in a copper casket at the church, having been moved to its funeralization point from laying in state at Fuller's Tabernacle F. B. Holiness Church on West End Avenue. He had died a week and a day previously. Bethel was packed to capacity for the high churchman's last rites.

Testifying to the esteem of the deceased, over a Score of bishops, presiding elders, ministers, laymen and friends made remarks about the contribution of Bishop Fuller to his church, community and the nation.

Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, president Morehouse College summed up the valuable life in that ancient maxim,

"More in the man than in the land." He observed, "You can take poor land, poor conditions and have the man and you will make a harvest."

Bishop William Reid Wilkes, of the 6th District A.M.E. church, probably furnished the theme for the occasion when he hurled the contribution to this day and age of Bishop Fuller to the titles of statesmanship and Christian piety when he paired the deceased with men like Bishop J. S. Flipper, W. A. Fountain, Edward R. Carter, P. James Bryant and A. D. Williams. Dr. M. L. King, representing the Missionary Baptist Church, in his expressions of sympathy, offered (Continued on Page Six)

YMCA Holds Second Report Meeting Tonight

Volunteer workers reported 65 memberships during the first report-meeting of the annual Membership Drive of the Abe Scharf Branch YMCA, last Tuesday evening.

The second report-meeting has been scheduled for 7:30 today (Friday).

Rev. J. W. Golden, general chairman, urged workers to "bring in as many memberships as possible for the report meeting." This year's goal has been set at 1,000 members.

Volunteer solicitors are still needed.

Dr. Daniel W. Wynn, Vesper Speaker, KC

KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—Dr. Daniel W. Wynn, Chaplain, Tuskegee Institute, told a Knoxville College Vesper audience that self-discipline is the only way to resist the temptations of the world, in MacMillan Chapel last week.

The speaker also shouted that selfishness often cause one to do what he knows isn't right, and that is because he cannot discipline himself.

Dr. D. Wynn documented this with the story of Jesus on the Mount; Jesus disciplined himself so that He did not yield to the wishes of the Devil for his own selfish gain. Although Jesus would have turned the stones into leaves, and could have jumped off the mountain top safely, He realized that this was not in keeping with His purpose, the speaker said.

Dr. Wynn also pointed out that Jesus was not looking for a short cut to success.

The author of books and several professional magazine articles headed a reception-discussion session in the Recreation Center following the vesper service. Dr. Ralph Gwinn is director of Religious Life Activities on the campus.

"America In Social Disorder," Abernathy Tells Memphians

When the Non-Partisan Voters League of Memphis holds a meeting at 7:30 p. m. today (Fri) at the University Life Insurance Company's recreation room, 480 Linden Ave., representatives from all civic, religious fraternal and social organizations are expected to be present as well as many individuals, said Dr. J. E. Walker, chairman of the insurance company.

Plans will be made to start a voters' registration campaign. Dr. Walker said "this project will be aimed at registering all eligible persons, regardless to party affiliations."

Three-minute speeches will be made by some of the towns most outstanding civic, religious and business leaders.

The goal for registered voters has been set at 100,000. It is explained that the goal has not been set independently of several other "voters-registration" drive but in cooperation with them.

All social, civic and religious clubs are requested to attend as well as all fraternities, sororities and churches.

Refreshments will be served. The public is invited.

School Board Refuses To Rent Auditorium For Robinson Speech

By O. C. W. TAYLOR for ANP

NEW ORLEANS — The Orleans Parish School Board this week told the local NAACP that they could not use the auditorium of the Booker T. Washington public high school for an assembly which was to be addressed by Jackie Robinson, former Brooklyn Dodger star.

Robinson has been touring the country speaking for the NAACP and the New Orleans school authorities turned thumbs down on his appearance.

Some years ago under Supt. F. Gordon Eberle the Orleans Parish board made known a policy that no contracts could be given in the auditorium, unless segregated seating prevailed.

They also ruled that whites must be permitted to come to any public meeting held in the auditorium. Negroes stopped using the audi-

Funeral Services For Henry Jones

Funeral services for Henry Jones, 72, of 1735 Orr St., who had been missing from his home 38 days before he was found dead, were conducted at Watkins Chapel Methodist church on Utah St. last Sunday with Rev. Johnson officiating. Interment followed in Victory, Miss., his native home.

His body was found in a field about five miles south of his home Jan. 18 on the Floyd farm which is south of Austin T. Highway. Officials at John Gaston hospital which performed an autopsy on the body stated he died of natural causes. He was last seen alive by a son, Edmund Jones, who lived with his father, early morning of Dec. 11.

Mystery still surrounds how or why he would leave his home that time in the morning and wonder to that spot. Members of his family said he was not in the habit of leaving home while it was dark.

Mr. Jones' wife died about three years ago.

Among survivors are four sons, John Henry Jones, Samuel Jones, James Jones of Detroit, and Edmund Jones and two daughters, Mrs. Mannie Nickelberry and Mrs. Lula Mae Jones.

MRS. ESTELLE BUNTUN

Holds Services For Mrs. Estelle Buntun

Funeral service for Mrs. Estelle Buntun, wife of Rev. Henry C. Buntun who is pastor of Metropolitan CME, Cathedral, were held in Northport, Ala.

Mrs. Buntun died about one o'clock Monday at her parents home in Northport, Ala., where she had been since Jan. 7. Her husband had motored her there after she had requested him. A sister said she had been complaining several months but thought that she would recover. Death came suddenly.

A native of Coker, Ala., she and Rev. Buntun were childhood sweethearts. They married there in 1924.

After completing her earlier schooling she attended Florida A. and M. college in Tallahassee, Fla. and LeMoine College in Memphis. She was a member of a Baptist church until after her marriage to Rev. Buntun. Active in church work her last big project was heading the annual Missionary Society's celebrated "Harvest Rally" at Mt. Olive last September. She was a member of the Minister's Wives Alliance, and she also maintained her membership in the Simplicity Art club in Northport.

Before coming to Memphis about five years ago the Buntuns lived in Denver, Col. Survivors include, aside from her husband, a son, Henry C. Buntun, Jr., stationed in Texas with the U. S. Bailey-Johnson School Notations

TRIM-ITY CHURCH LOYALTY CAMPAIGN
GAINESVILLE, Ga. - On Sunday, January 19, the Junior and Senior Tri-Hi-Y Clubs of Bailey-Johnson School presented a program celebrating YMCA Sunday and also launching the Church Loyalty Campaign. The program was presented at the Zion Baptist Church in Roswell, Georgia. The theme, "Here I Stand" was discussed from the viewpoint of the school, home, church, government, and vocation. The highlight of the program was a sermonette, "All Around Development" delivered by Henry Bohannon, Jr. of the Bailey-Johnson School. Music served as a pleasing interspersing note. The campaign will last until Easter.

For two weeks the Junior and Senior Tri-Hi-Y Clubs conducted a clean scholarship campaign. Posters were made, talks heard, and boosting in general. On Jan. 23, a teen talk entitled "The Other Side of the Ad", which is on alcohol, was presented in chapel by the clubs. These girls are hard at work and busy.

Frozen Food A Plenty

Canned and frozen green peas lead the U. S. Department of Agriculture's February list of plentiful foods for the Southeast.
Other foods, which USDA reports will be plentiful during February, include canned and frozen corn, pork, milk, potatoes, dried prunes, peanuts and peanut products, fillets, and dry pinto beans and blackeye peas, according to Leo W. Smith of the Department's Food Distribution Division.

Stocks of canned green peas on Nov. 1 were up to 29.2 million cases, compared with 22.2 million cases a year earlier. Stocks of frozen peas on Dec. 1, amounting to 258.5 million pounds, were 7 percent larger than the 242 million pounds on hand a year earlier.
Canned corn stocks on November 1 amounted to 33.7 million cases, only a million cases less than the heavy supply of a year earlier. Stocks of frozen corn on Dec. 1, totaling 154 million pounds, were record large for that date. A year earlier stocks of frozen corn totaled 92.2 million pounds.
Homemakers will find a variety of pork cuts and pork products at their food stores because of the heavy seasonal hog marketing and slaughter. Milk production is continuing at a high level, and may set another record in 1938.
Among vegetables, homemakers will find potatoes a good buy. Total stocks of fall potatoes held by growers and local dealers on Dec. 1 exceeded 108 million hundredweight. Cold storage holdings of apples at the end of November amounted to 45 million bushels, compared to 34 million a year earlier.
Supplies of dried prunes are heavy. The California crop last year was estimated at 168,000 tons, with a carry-over at that time of 44,000 tons, has provided an abundance of this dried fruit.

How To Live With Success

With salaries soaring and executive jobs increasing, millions of Americans are discovering the problems of being happy in spite of financial success. Never has it been more vital for every husband and wife to know how to meet tensions, solve conflicts.
According to the February issue of Cosmopolitan magazine, designed to help you decide what success is and establish the fundamentals for achieving it, success is a basic part of the American dream. It cannot mean the same thing to every person. Neglecting to think clearly about its meaning is an invitation to unhappiness and even failure.
Never has this insight been more important because never before have so many Americans had the chance to succeed -- or had to face the problems of living with success. Forty-one per cent of America's forty-three million families now have incomes over $5,000. Surveys report that there are now four times as many management positions as before World War II. The future is even more impressive.

NATHANIEL D. WILLIAMS

will address the Men's Bible Class at Mt. Moriah Baptist church, 2631 Carnes St., Sunday, Feb. 2 at 9:30 p. m. Men's Day will also be observed at the church Sunday.
Williams is a teacher at Booker T. Washington High School and an announcer at WDLA.

In this "How to Live with Success" issue of Cosmopolitan, there are articles dealing with which job is the right one for you and how parents and vocational experts can help you make the correct choice; how much education you need and which is better, liberal arts or business; how to plan a salary raise or a promotion. There are also articles on how wives have helped their husbands get ahead; what skills are paying off the best today; how to make profitable investments; how the second income of wives are helping many families today; how tension can be your biggest asset; and the practice of spying on businesses and industries.

Demos Plan All-Out Drive For Minority

Butler, Dawson Make Joint Announcement

By LOUIS LAUTIER
 WASHINGTON, D. C. — (NNPA) — The Democratic party is planning an all-out drive to get the colored vote for Democratic candidates back to its peak of 1952 when eight out of 10 voted Democratic, Chairman Paul Butler of the Democratic National Committee and Representative William L. Dawson, of Illinois, told a joint news conference Saturday.

The first step in this drive will be the hiring of a colored assistant to Mr. Butler, who may get the title of deputy chairman. His job, Mr. Butler said, will be to be the "eyes and ears" of the national chairman with respect to party relationships among Demo-

Former Presidents Of Haiti Leading Contrasting Lives

CHICAGO — (ANP) — Two former Haitian presidents, General Paul Magloire and Daniel Fignole, lead contrasting lives in exile in New York. One lives in luxury with his five children and the other in a tiny apartment with seven.

Life for the two men and their families has become a strange mixture of hope and hardship. Magloire, whose departure from Haiti caused crowds to dance the meringue in the streets, and Fignole's exile four months later saw Haitians battling the Army in Port-au-Prince, share a common desire to return to Haiti.

According to the February issue of Ebony Magazine, Magloire, whose fortune has been rumored at $5 million, and Fignole who is estimated to have less than $10,000, would like to return to Haiti, even in a non-political capacity. A past president, Elie Lescot, was allowed to return to Haiti in 1957 after 11 years of exile in New York, and is living on a plantation with a government pension.

Dental Patients Told Not To Fear Radiation Exposure

CHICAGO—(INS)— The American Dental Association Journal reported Wednesday that patients should have no reason for concern about radiation exposure during routine dental X-ray examinations.

The Journal, in an editorial, called "unrealistic" any concern about genetic hazards in the practice because of the "very small degree" of radiation exposure.

The editorial said exposure resulting from dental X-rays was less than that received annually by individuals from natural sources. Three recent statements by radiation experts and research scientists regarding the safety of X-rays for dental diagnostic purposes were quoted by the Journal to support its editorial.

One, issued by the Council of Dental Research of the ADA, declared, "Millions of X-ray examinations have been made by dentists without a report of injury to a patient."

SMALL DAIRY HERD PAYS OFF — Arthur Swain, center, of Uniontown, Ala., who used to count mainly on cotton, now sells 30 gallons of milk a day from his small dairy herd. This brings him more than $100 every two weeks. The keys to his success in dairying are high producing cows, and good pastures which keep his feed cost down. He is discussing the value of Dallis grass with his county agent, Lawrence C. Johnson, left; and Acting State Extension Leader C. A. Williams. (USDA Photo).

PRIVILEGES OF CHURCH MEMBERSHIP

International Sunday School Lesson For February 2nd, 1958.

MEMORY SELECTION: "You are a chosen race, a loyal priesthood, a holy nation, God's own people, that you may declare the wonderful deeds of him who called you out of darkness into his marvelous light." --(1 Peter 2:9)

LESSON TEXT: 1 Peter 2:9-10 2 Corinthians 9:6-8 Galatians 6:1-5 Hebrews 4:14-16 Hebrews 10:23-25

There are, and always will be, some tasks which church members must share together. The church member who never wants to share his load of the burdens-burdens of the church, the member who never has time to take part in solving the problems of the church or in playing his role in deciding important issues which arise and affect the church and its members, is not meeting one of the responsibilities of his church membership.

On the other hand, there are those who dodge their share of the church's problems but who can be found in attendance, in regular attendance, and while regular attendance is usually a sign of participation in Christ's work and the work of the church, it is not always so.

There are those who make attendance a sort of "thing to do" ritual, such as the politicians who wish to be seen at church and play active roles for the votes that can be won in this way. It is good business, according to certain commercially-minded members, to be seen regularly at church.

Eastland Citation By New Englanders "Shock" Wilkins

NEW YORK — Citation of Senator James O. Eastland of Mississippi by the National Society of New England Women for his "many years of unselfish devotion to his country and distinguished service in the United States Senate" was today called "incredible" and "shocking" by Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

In a telegram to Mrs. Allen N. Dryhurst, of West Hartford, Conn., president of the society, which honored the senator at a luncheon here today at the Waldorf Astoria hotel, Mr. Wilkins cited the Mississippi's "malicious and destructive record" including his urging of his constituents "to defy the Government of the United States and disobey rulings of the United States Supreme Court." The senator was not present to receive the award.

Senator Eastland, the NAACP leader told Mrs. Dryhurst, "holds in contempt nearly half the people of his state who he brands as members of 'an inferior race.'" Further, Mr. Wilkins asserted, the senator "has used his office not to support the Constitution of the United States which he is sworn to uphold nor to advance democratic principles but to obstruct constitutional government."

He has used the Senate and the Judiciary Committee which he heads as a forum to disseminate racial hatred. In a speech at Forest, Miss., on June 26, 1954, he openly boasted of breaking the law as chairman of the Judiciary Committee by not calling a meeting of the committee in order to avert consideration of a civil rights bill.

Small Cotton Farmer's Dairy Sets Fine Example

WASHINGTON — Many low-income one-crop farmers, who are afraid to expand into livestock enterprises because they think their farms are too small, may find the answer to their problem in the achievement of Arthur Swain, a highly successful cotton farmer of Uniontown, Alabama.

C. A. Williams, acting state leader of Negro extension work in Alabama reports that Mr. and Mrs. Swain have proved it doesn't take a large herd and a lot of acres to make a go of dairying. With less than 30 acres in improved pastures and only eight of their 14 grade and pure-bred Jerseys and Guernseys fresh at a time, they produce 30 to 35 gallons of milk a day which bring them more than $100 every two weeks year-round.

And only a small part of the returns goes for feed. The Swains grow their own grain for making protein concentrates, and their own hay to supplement year-round grazing in their improved pastures.

The Swains eat at home, too. Their meals come right out of their garden, or their home freezer and home-stocked pantry. home agent, Miss Ollie Mae Raybon, keeps them abreast of the latest methods of canning and of preparing foods for freezing. "Very seldom do we have to go to the grocery store," says Mrs. Swain, "and then it's only to buy some flour and sugar and a little coffee."

The family likes dairying because it means money coming in twice a month which enables them to plan and budget better. "We don't have time to wait on just one crop that pays off only once a year," says Mr. Swain.

Migrant Labor Report Called Unsatisfactory

NEW YORK — The report of a state investigation of migrant farm labor camps, recently made public, will make the task of securing remedial legislation affecting migrant labor more difficult, it was charged here today by Herbert Hill, NAACP labor secretary, who last year visited many of the camps and urged corrective action to bring them up to minimum standards.

The state investigation of migrant labor camps was ordered by the Interdepartmental Committee on Farm and Food Processing Labor, and was conducted by Dr. Howard Thomas at the committee's request.

Mr. Hill noted that "because we hope that the present session of the New York state legislature will enact necessary legislation to eliminate many of the abuses found in the rural areas of New York State, it is essential that this

Proper Law Enforcement Can Prevent Race Violence—Miller

NEW YORK—Almost all recent instances of racial violence have been avoided by proper action by law enforcement authorities, according to Alexander F. Miller, national community service director of the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith.

Mob action in any tension-ridden community can be prevented by "a fearless police chief, backed by a courageous mayor, backed by a resolute judge," Mr. Miller declares in an article in the current issue of the ADL Bulletin.

Citing leading police authorities, he stressed the following basic procedure for avoiding shows of mob violence:

1. Allow no more than three persons to congregate within a mile of the school or house which is the focus of activity or crisis.

Miss Dobbs Sings at Morehouse College Feb. 2

ANTA, Ga. — (SNS) — Matilda Dobbs, 5, Huron's spectacular coloratura soprano discovery who will sing at Morehouse College at 4:30 p. m. Sunday, Feb. 2, made history in her debut at the Metropolitan Opera last fall as the first Negro soprano to sing there.

She bowed at the famed opera house as Gilda in "Rigoletto," and has appeared this season in "Lucia di Lammermoor."

Miss Dobbs came to the Met with a wealth of acclaim as an operatic singer. She is a star of the Royal Opera, Covent Garden, London, and of La Scala, Milan, and for three successive seasons has been a stellar attraction to sing at the Glyndebourne Festival.

In the summer of 1956 she sang both "The Queen of the Night" in "The Magic Flute" and Constanza in "The Abduction from the Seraglio" at Glyndebourne.

A native of Atlanta, Miss Dobbs was captivated to international recognition by winning First Prize in the Gervaya Competition in the short space of three years she established a brilliant concert and operatic career in Europe before returning to the U. S. in 1954 to win the acclaim of New York critics and the public.

Dulles Still Popular, Recent Report Shows

NEW YORK — (INS) — Newsweek Magazine reported Tuesday that a poll showed Secretary of State John Foster Dulles still enjoys "solid support among the American people, but the opposition to him and to his policies is growing."

On the basis of a poll conducted throughout the U. S. and in Free World Countries abroad, Newsweek said.

"Those Americans who like Dulles... think of him as a sincere, dedicated man who has handled his job with courage and skill."

"Those who dislike him are perfectly willing to admit his qualities of sincerity, honesty and high purpose. But they believe just as firmly that he has bungled Foreign Policy to the point where he no longer can function effectively..."

Abroad, the poll found that Dulles is disliked in Britain, France and Germany and that he is "extremely unpopular" in the Arab world, India and Asia.

However, Newsweek added that "among British officials who know Dulles better, misgivings are tempered by admiration for the Secretary's intelligence and adroitness."

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

By the NNPA News Service PRIVATE AGENCIES perform a service for business, industry and labor in helping them view youth employment as a social as well as an economic problem.

There are many examples of firms which have extended themselves to play for a needy youth, frequently at considerable expense, and cooperate with one or more agencies that work with real distress cases.

These agencies, in most communities, are limited in their financial ability to meet the needs that exist. Much time is required for counseling in each case, and repeated attempts must be made with some youngsters who fall on several jobs before a successful adjustment is made.

Their work with delinquent youth is sometimes hampered by certain laws, which were passed to protect the public and the well-adjusted worker, but they limit the employment of delinquents.

The work of these agencies is greatly limited by attitudes on the part of the public and the employers on the risk of employing those who, in the past, have not fully measured up to the requirements of the law.

When it is realized that statistics show that about 30 per cent of the teen-agers not in school are out of work, it should be understood that the agencies being considered serve only a small percentage — perhaps 2 or possibly 3 per cent of the most difficult of this number.

Those teen-agers who have already been in difficulty are referred as special problem cases. This leaves a large number of young people who are out of school as drop outs and those who have graduated from high school but have not readily obtained employment.

Many are seeking jobs in the labor market but are so poorly prepared that they do not meet

Odom Named To Advisory Group Of Southern Unit

NEW YORK — Rev. Edward J. Odom, Jr., NAACP church secretary, has been designated to represent the Association on the national advisory committee of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference Crusade for Citizenship.

The designation of Mr. Odom was in response to an invitation for such representation from Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., president of the Leadership Conference.

Increase In Applications For Live Contrasting Exile Lives

WASHINGTON—An encouraging upsurge in applications for mortgage insurance under Federal Housing Administration programs were reported Monday by FHA Commissioner Norman P. Mason.

Marked increases in the volume of existing home mortgages and rental "cooperative" project mortgages were major developments in the 1957 operations of the agency, Mr. Mason said.

Applications for existing 1- to 4- family homes covered 274,000 units, a 12 percent increase over 1956. This was the second highest annual volume for existing home in FHA history.

The 199,000-unit volume in new-home applications for the year was slightly higher than the 1956 figure. The real significance of the report, the Commissioner noted, lay in the upswing during the latter months of 1957. Applications covering, 110,000 units during the July to December period were up 40 percent

Ruleville Man Shot Down By 25 Men And Boys

MERIDIAN, Miss. — The slaying of 38-year-old George Love by a posse of some 25 men and boys in Ruleville, Miss., on January 8 has been characterized by the president of the Mississippi State NAACP as "a legal lynching."

C. R. Darden of Meridian, the NAACP state president, noted that a report from Medgar Evers of Jackson, NAACP field secretary for Mississippi, stated that the fatal bullets entered Mr. Love's body from the rear.

For this reason, Mr. Darden continued, a strong possibility exists that Mr. Love did not fire on the posse, as was stated in at least one press report.

"He might have been running from the mob or else he was forced to turn his back while shot down," Mr. Darden pointed out.

The NAACP state president also called attention to the fact that the posse included boys 16 and 18 years old armed with guns, according to Mr. Evers' report.

"We hold that this was a legalized lynching and that Love should have had his day in court," Mr. Darden concluded.

Exile Jennings, night marshal of Ruleville, had said that Love shot at him four times when he tried to arrest him about fire-scorched money he was spending. Mr. Jennings expressed the opinion that the scorched money came from the home of an aged aunt and uncle of Mr. Love who burned to death at their home a few days before Mr. Love was slain.

Ruleville Police Chief G. W. Wachter said Mr. Love opened fire when the posse closed in on him the morning after the reported shooting at Night Marshal Jennings.

Tuskegee Civic Group Refused Motion In Court

TUSKEGEE, Ala. — (INS) — A Tuskegee Civic Association accused of leading the city's economic racial boycott, was refused a motion in federal court Wednesday asking a temporary injunction be dropped.

Circuit Judge Will Walton told the group's attorneys, "where there is the slightest bit of evidence the case should go to the jury."

The TCA has been enjoined from "coercing" any member of the Negro race into boycotting white merchants, or participating in the boycott itself.

Atty. Fred Gray argued that the state failed to produce sufficient legal evidence or sustain its charges that the organization used threats, coercion or violence.

Alabama Atty. Gen. John Patterson said the TCA was responsible for "people being accosted in the streets, and white merchants losing business."

He said, "the business of white merchants dropped from 43 to 70 per cent" three days after the boycott was launched on June 25, 1957 in protest to limiting Tuskegee Negro voting rights.

BRUSH WITH DEATH
Millions of sports fans and baseball players are pulling for Rob Campanella to come through in his recent brush with death, as a result of an automobile accident early Tuesday morning, as the popular hard hitting catcher of the Los Angeles Dodgers (formerly Brooklyn Dodgers) was returning home after a TV appearance in New York City.

As fate would have it, he was within a mile of home when his car skidded on the wet pavement on a curve, turning over and pinning the roly poly catcher within. Campy, who lives in Glen Cove, N. Y., some 30 miles from the big city, suffered a broken neck and internal injuries. As this is written, reports state that he's somewhat improved, although still paralyzed from the chest down.

It is perhaps too early to say whether the outstanding catcher of all Dodgers history will be able to play again. The thing that is up most in the fans' minds is his teammates and owners minds is a complete recovery for the stadium receiver. The deluge of telephone calls and telegrams received by the hospital and the New York newspaper offices indicate the esteem in which he is held by the fans.

FAVORITE DODGER
Campanella was among the most favorite of the Dodger players with the Brooklyn fans. For 10 years he has been one of the mainstays of the Dodgers teams. Three times he has won the "Most Valuable Player Award" of the National League, and has contributed more to the offense of the Dodgers teams than any other catcher in Brooklyn history. He has hit 342 homers and driven in 663 runs in his major league career. He has been a member of the National League All-Star team seven times, in the annual All-Star games against the American League All-Stars. He has made records which may remain on the record books for a long time. In 1953 he hit 41 home runs, the highest number ever made by a catcher, and drove in 142 runs another record for catchers.

According to the record, Campanella is the highest paid player in Dodger history. His 1956 contract after a good year in '55, and the last time he won the MVP Award, called for $42,500. After perhaps his proudest year in 1957, he had just signed a contract for '58 calling for some $39,500. That's a long way from the meager earnings of the hard working catcher when he was a member of the Baltimore Elite Giants.

BEST PROSPECT
We recall first meeting the peppery catcher after he broke in with the Baltimore Elite Giants of the new disbanded Negro National League. Tom Wilson, owner of the Elite Giants and president of the league at the time, was singing the praises of the promising young catcher, and adding, "the best prospect I've ever seen. He can't miss." We have watched the baseball prowess of this star through the years, and have seen the Wilson prediction come true.

With him join with the millions of others and hope for the injured star a speedy recovery. Whether he is able to ever play again or not, he has made a great contribution to the game, and all his well wishers are proud of stellar performance and gentlemanly conduct.

Basketball League Blooms In Full Play

The Recreation Basketball League blossomed into full bloom with 44 teams now participating in competitive basketball, revealed Eules T. Hunt, director of municipal sports for the city's recreation department.

Girls' league play is set for Friday nights at Porter School gym.

Men are divided into two leagues — the All-Star league plays highly competitive brand of ball. Scores usually range in the 70's and 80's. There is also another men's league. Both of them play Monday and Wednesday nights.

The boys' junior league play Friday nights and Saturday afternoons. And the two divisions of the senior boys play Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights. The intermediate boys also play Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights.

All games are played at Church Park on Brele St., Porter, Lester, Melrose and Douglass schools. Hunt said he has two teams for another division. Four teams are required in the intermediate boys' division. He also is seeking to establish women's volleyball teams. Girls' volleyball is scheduled to start Monday, Feb. 10.

Hunt said he has 500 persons participating in the league. "However, we welcome more," he said.

survival of our freedom may well be at stake in the nation's classrooms.

William G. Carr, executive secretary of the National Education Association, praised the program's objectives but said he thought the President had "greatly underestimated what needs to be done and what the American people are willing and eager to have done."

Carr complained that Mr. Eisenhower asked "a small amount of money for specific purposes over a short period of time" while the NA seeks "larger amounts for broad purposes over longer periods."

Rep. Carroll D. Kerns (R., Pa.), introduced in the House a bill which would give the President's recommendations into law. Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R., N. J.) will introduce a similar bill in the Senate Tuesday.

Meanwhile, Sen. John F. Kennedy (D., Mass.) called for more expansive legislation to attack the school problem "at its roots." He said he would introduce a bill to provide one and one-half billion dollars for school construction to be spent in the next five years.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D., Tex.) said he was not sure "how deep Congress will put its teeth into the President's program. House GOP Leader Joseph W. Martin, Jr. (Mass.) called Mr. Eisenhower's plan "a good approach." He praised its "scrupulous avoidance of federal controls."

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.), commented that the Chief Executive had furnished "the basis for Congress to legislate on the subject." He added that he expects the appropriate committees to make their recommendations "fairly early in the year."

Floyd Patterson Agrees To Defend Title In London

NEW YORK — (INS) — Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson agreed Tuesday to defend his title in London late in June, but he may warm up for the bout with an April defense in the U. S.

His D'Amato, Patterson's manager, and British promoter Harry Levene reached an agreement on the London fight, presumably against British Empire champion Joe Erskine.

Erskine will get the fight if he defeats Ingemar Johansson of Sweden at Stockholm on Feb. 21. Another possible opponent for the London bout is Pete Rademacher, the Olympic champion Patterson knocked in six rounds last August.

Financial terms were not disclosed, but the fight probably will be held at Wembley Stadium in London, which has an 85,000 capacity.

After his agreement with Levene, D'Amato admitted that he was negotiating for an April title fight in the U. S. D'Amato wouldn't name the opponent, but he said "it might not be a top-ranked contender."

D'Amato's plans were frowned upon by Julius Helfand, New York State Athletic chairman and president of the World Boxing Committee.

Helfand said the World Committee requires title defenses against one of the three top contenders. The three top heavy contenders are Eddie Machen, Zora Folley and Willie Frastrano.

Machen meets Folley in San Francisco on March 17 and the session.

Mr. Eisenhower said in his message asking "prompt enactment" that his proposals stem from "national need." He did not mention money but the administration previously announced plans to spend a billion dollars over the next four years.

Klan Meet Postponed

Its 3 p.m. (EST) starting time. No hooded, or identifiable Klansmen, were reported at the rally site.

The Rev. James Cole, of Marion, S. C., who proposed the mass rally, said the demonstration was postponed because of wet grounds and will be held Saturday, Feb. 6, at the same location.

Last Saturday, a Klan rally was busted up at Maxton, N. C., when 1,000 armed Lumbee Indians charged the Klansmen in an uprising tempered by cross-burnings set off outside the homes of two Lumbee women.

Chances Of Stopping Warriors Appear Dimmer

By MELVIN GREER

UNLESS Frank "Babyface" Lewis Melrose Golden Wildcat's halted Booker T. Washington's Prep League victory streak at 58 yesterday evening (Thursday) as Melrose, things will have taken a turn for the worst as far as bringing that stubborn skein to an end is concerned. For now the loop comes to the second portion of play, and the Warriors, having played most of their games away from home the first half, will be in their own back yard — a hardly an advantageous place for an upset.

Things looked a bit pessimistic at press time when the Golden Wildcats went against the Warriors whom they sought to defeat for the first time in five, long years. In the first place, the Melrose club hardly looked like a team capable of knocking off Booker Washington in being completely knocked around by Douglass, 58-55, by the all-conquering Warriors. But, Melrose rosters were apparently "confident of victory."

To make the Warriors' victory streak seem even more impressive, it seems that they have quit stumbling Tuesday night, they made Jake Propp's Lester Lions No. 58 on that long list of loop victims. It was brutal, too. The Lions were melted into shreds by a score of 70 to 35.

PLAYERS IMPROVING
And to make matters even worse, the Warriors have seemingly thrown off their one-man-team torter, they would have been pathetic. Tuesday, for once some other Warrior led in the scoring. That Warrior was Rick Mason with 23 points, a Warrior who has been slipping for several weeks. In fact, "Pete" had to settle for third place in the scoring with 15 points. Larry Williams took second place with 18 points.

So unless Melrose dealt firmly with the Warriors yesterday at Melrose, the other loop members might well start making plans to end Washington's winning streak in 1957. What with the Warriors playing in their own gym, the odds against Hamilton, Manassas, Fri-Bernard, Douglass and Lester have tremendously increased. Add the Warriors will stretch the winning streak to 65 in a row. That is, unless Melrose dealt firmly with the Warriors yesterday at Melrose.

THE SPORTS GRILL

BY PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK (INS) — Let's see if we can shed a little light on the muddled heavyweight title situation.

Cus D'Amato, pompous and stubborn manager of champion Floyd Patterson, says he and Harry Levene, British promoter, have "agreed in principle" to a London fight for Patterson.

If Patterson ever lays his title on the line it will have to be against winner is expected to issue a "challenge" to the champion.

Joe Erskine, the British Empire champion, is slated to fight Ingemar Johansson in Sweden Feb. 21, and if Erskine wins he may get the title shot at Patterson but should Johansson win, he would not be allowed to fight the champion in England.

If Erskine does beat Johansson, Patterson does indeed have a good money shot in London which has not had a heavyweight title fight since Tommy Burns stiffened Gunnar Moir in 1907.

Such a fight would be held in Wembley Stadium which can hold 85,000 for a fight and has held 102,000 for a Soccer Match. At a $30 top the bout could easily draw $600,000.

There is, of course, no danger of Erskine beating Patterson even Nino Valdes, no tiger he, flattened Erskine in one round. Erskine is a jabber who packs no punch at all and can't take a punch very well.

But there is a grave danger from the referee. Here's why there are no judges, merely the referee, whose word is law and whose acts, no matter how wrong, are always backed up by the boxing board.

Fighters rarely lose a bout on a foul in England but they often are disqualified for holding. A British referee never gives more than one warning, and he never touches the fighters to get them to break.

He merely says "break" and if one of the fighters continues to hold the referee will (1) disqualify him immediately or (2) warn him at the end of the round and at a second offense, throw him out of the ring.

Ezzard Charles was disqualified in the second round of his last fight with a Britisher named Dick Richardson in London.

You can readily understand what could happen to Patterson. And since no foreigner is ever allowed to referee in England, D'Amato would not be permitted to import an American referee to protect Patterson.

M'Brown Rips Fort Valley State, 75-68

By ISAAC MEYER
Morris Brown stopped Fort Valley State's winning streak at two games by a 75-68 score before a crowd at the Joe Louis Gymnasium last night in winning the Wolverines' revenge for the 68-66 loss they suffered at the hands of the Fort Valley Wildcats earlier in the season.

The tightening SIAC race thereby was projected into a head-on collision to the wire on Saturday night at the Joe Louis Gymnasium in Tuskegee, Ala. The SIAC basketball tournament is scheduled for Feb. 20, 21, 22 at Tuskegee Institute, Ala.

Until tonight the Wildcats had been thought of as the team to beat after they finally found themselves after losing six SIAC games while winning only three.

Stillman College Wins From Delta Devils

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (SNS)—The Stillman College Tigers romped to a 93-90 decision over the highly favored Delta Devils of Mississippi Vocational College in a grueling conference duel at Stillman, January 20. The Mississippi team has been a perennial threat in the Negro college circuits. Last season they captured both the visitation and tournament crowns. Stillman led at half time 40-35.

Jim Brown, the Cleveland Indians' pro player of the year visited his birthplace in Sea Island, Ga., prior to beginning a six-month training period at Fort Benning, Tex. Brown with a 10-2 seasonal record will fly to Detroit, Mich., for a game with Wayne State, Jan. 31 and Lawrence Tech, Feb. 1.

Atlanta will be the mecca for U. S. sports personalities January 30 through February 7 when the 100 Per Cent Wrong Club Jamboree takes the spotlight. The SIAC basketball campaign comes to a close February 15.

One-time Tuskegee Institute basketball coach Edward Adams, now at Texas Southern University in Houston, has re-written Southwest Conference winning and scoring records. Adams captained TSU into fame's spotlight when he joined Alex Durleys' staff in 1950 and has kept in the top 10 U. S. small college powers since quitting the Alabama institute.

Monday after playing St. Edwards College in Austin, Tex. the Texas Southern quint flew to Detroit, Mich., for two vital intercollegiate games.

TSU has won 10, lost 2. The defeats came at the hands of Grambling and Jackson State, teams the Tigers had previously turned back. After the "Tigers" play in the Midwest, the squad will play on the road at Prairie View, Texas College and Arkansas AM and N.

NEWS BEAT: Jim Brown, the former Massachusetts, N. J., and Syracuse football star, arrived at Fort Benning, last weekend to begin a six-month training period. Enroute to the Georgia base, Brown stopped off at Sea Island, his birthplace which is just outside Brunswick.

This columnist talked with Brown via telephone Monday and gave him a breakdown on planning for the 100 Per Cent Wrong Jamboree. The pro star of the year apparently liked what he heard. He's making plans to head this way.

Brown, although he fell short of the coveted target of gaining 1,000 yards in his freshman season, finished 742 yards ahead of his nearest competitor for the National Football League rushing championship.

The brilliant 250-pound runner gained 342 yards in 202 attempts, averaging 1.7 yards per carry. Thus, he bested Rick Casares, Chicago Bears' fullback whose 290 yards in 201 attempts (1.4 average) was good enough for the runnerup.

Brown won the rookie, player and rushing title. He scored ten touchdowns and 60 points, finishing in a tie for eighth place.

Brown left Georgia at the age of six. He was born in Sandy Sea Island, where balmy Atlantic breezes and primeval housing brings to mind some of the nostalgia of the Porgy and Bess era.

The Sea Island area has produced such notables as the Williams, Red Dawson, C. V. Troup (Fort Valley State president) and a host of other fame names.

MORRIS BROWN STUNS ALABAMA STATE IN 79-70 THRILLER

By JOEL W. SMITH

Morris Brown's vastly improved Purple Wolverines made it two-in-a-row by romping to a 79-73 victory over the Alabama State College Black and Gold Hornets, in a thrill-a-minute contest, played at the Joe Louis Gymnasium.

It was strictly a running and shooting battle that kept the fans on edge all along the way. It was also anybody's game until the way with the lead changing four times rapidly in the last five minutes of play.

CURTIS BELL COMES ON WITH "CLINCHER"

Curtis Bell, of Augusta, Ga., took a gratis toss to deadlock the score 73-73 with a minute and 15 seconds left on the clock, then came on with a double-dribble for the elchizer Captain Robert Myles, of Hatcher, Ga., and Charles Robinson, of Clearwater, Fla., went on to wrap it up with a pair of tosses from the free throw lanes.

Bell and Harold Menefee put Morris Brown ahead early in the contest and after leading, 10-4 in the first five minutes of play, the Purple Wolverines increased the margin to a 10-point spread (18-8) midway the first half. Edwin Jordan, of Montgomery, Ala., and Henry Moton, of Brent, Ala., started firing as the Black and Gold Hornets erased the Morris Brown lead and moved out front, 34-31

Jordan Leads Scorer's With 27 Points; Bell Hits Strings For 23

The second half was a nip-and-tuck battle with the rival hoopsters drilling in a volley of cross-banded tosses from the outside and driving-in for lay-ups at intervals. Myles and Bell, sunk two field goals to put Morris Brown ahead, 45-34, and Jimmy Dew, 6-11 center from Piedmont, Ala., put Alabama State on top, 36-35, and implicated moments later to make the score 38-37 in favor of the Hornets.

Moton, Jordan, Dew, and Charles Cole of Etta, Ala., along with Bell, Myles, Menefee, and Russell Ellington, of Savannah, Ga., sprayed the strings with baskets as the score was knotted, 39-39, 47-47, 49-49, 50-50, 53-53, 55-55, 56-56, 58-58, and finally 73-73, before the Purple Wolverines climbed on top to stay. Jordan pumped home 27 points for high scoring honors and Bell emerged the No. 2 man with 23. Other scoring honors were well distributed with Dew and Myles deadlocked in third place with 15 points apiece. Morris Brown's Robinson played a remarkable game around the boards, along with Alabama States roney Dew. Then there was the little man of the court, Alabama State's Walter Black, of Winston-Salem, N. C., who gave the Wolverines trouble "galore" in the last half.

Beating The Gun

By BILL BROWER (For AP)
When Willie Mays signed his 1958 baseball contract with the San Francisco Giant, the event had far more significance than merely a star performer and a club getting together on a contract basis as almost everyone must know by now. Mays signed for a record Giants salary, something in the breath of $700,000.

This will, indeed, be more money than Jackie Robinson, who certainly deserved that sort of compensation, ever got. No fan ball player hitherto had broken the $500,000 barrier.

No one will deny that a good many of the best fan players deserved something more than they received. Some of them were doubtfully tough to demand more when they regarded themselves a bit on the short side.

Recently, Minnie Amos, traded by the Chicago White Sox to the Cleveland Indians, was offered a contract for $100,000, about $5,000 more than he received in 1957. This was a psychological gesture by Cleveland's General Manager Frank Lane. Minnie is stubborn about such things and said he'll have to think the matter over. So far he has signed.

Undoubtedly, Robinson was the most grossly underpaid performer in the history of baseball. Sure, he did get up to about $45,000. But actually for several seasons, Robinson was the outstanding ball attraction in the National League, if not in all baseball. Furthermore, he was just as outstanding artistically, one of the greatest competitors in this baseball generation.

It is the firm belief here—making allowances for the fact that the old Brooklyn Dodger management was something of a tightwad—that had Robinson's hue been of the paleface variety he would have been drawing dough at the level of the compensation received by Stan Musial, Joe DiMaggio, and Ted Williams.

baseball? With all due deference to Branch Rickey's daring and paternalism, Negro baseball players had to solidify their place in organized baseball primarily on ability. White players have always been paid on this criterion — plus an attribute they might have that would bring a few hundred more fans' gaze to Tan athletes—among them Minnie, Larry Doby, Billy Bruton and Hank Aaron—have talked up for more money when they thought they had valid demands. Aaron frankly said that he has his eyes set on making $100,000 a year. With his potential, that's not an impossible target.

When a pitcher like Don Newcombe won 27 games and loses only 7, it would seem that his worth would be equal to that of a pitcher who won 14 and lost 5. But there was quite a disparity between his salary last season and that of former teammate Sal Maglie. The difference in Sal's favor, of course.

There has been instances in which club owners have demonstrated extraordinary consideration toward fan players. One of them was the case of Monte Irvin, the former outfielder of the Giants. After his brilliant season in 1951, Irvin was rewarded with a $25,000 a year contract.

The following spring Monte broke his ankle in spring training. He did not see any action until late season. But the Giants had no hesitancy in offering Monte the same contract for the 1953 season.

No player will begrudge Mays' right to his lucrative contract. This season the Giants' center-fielder naturally is one of the top-drawers. He deserves it not because he can hit, run and field like nobody's business. He deserves it, partly, because he is such a marvelous team leader for the Giant. Few players in the game today matches, or even approaches his remarkable all-around skill.

When Negroes first entered organized baseball, it was a fashion to think they should be grateful. Who was it that said playing baseball—at $15,000 or $20,000 a year—in the majors beat barnstorming in rickety old buses? In Negro clubs at S. Johns University, Brooklyn, to win the 1,000-yard run. Bright took the lead on the last lap from Bruce Loeberle, of the New York Athletic Club, who faded by third.

George Dennis, of the Shanahan Catholic Club, bested his rival Floyd Smith, of the Chicago Track Club, by one inch in the high jump with a winning leap of 6 feet 7 1/2 inches.

Tried for third were Tom Toll, of Maryland U., Bob Barksdale, of the Philadelphia Pioneers, and Poland's Zbigniew Lewandowski.

Some Food For Thought

A few days ago when Thurgood Marshall, chief legal counsel of NAACP...

The other day, in the letter to the editor column of one of the local white papers...

The first sentence in the above is almost completely incorrect when one thinks in terms of our race as a whole.

As has been stated many times in these columns we think there should be increased communication between the leadership of both races.

The big question and opportunity now is for the responsible leadership of Atlanta to find a way to meet around conference tables...

A Most Encouraging Note

Over three-fourths of the students at the Emory University School of Theology would be willing to admit Negroes to school, a recent student poll reveals.

We hail this action by the students as most encouraging. Although in other areas, of the Methodist Church the trend may have followed a more conservative line...

The Emory University poll also points to a trend, and it may be a strong one, that leads away from those factions that strive for discord among the races...

We congratulate these students whose perception extends beyond that of the artificial bounds of race and color. We live in an age and time when America's resources, human and physical, must be utilized to full capacity.

It is most fortunate and encouraging that we get a group like the students at Emory to take the initiative to speak out. As a nation of people believing in the Christian doctrine of true brotherhood...

Returning to punctuality, the church officials said "the night my first wife died, I returned home from an appointment 15 minutes before her last breath. The night my mother died, I walked out of her bedroom at 6:30 in the evening to keep an appointment at a church. I asked that I be church.

Washington to Memphis The bishop who has become known as the "map with the tapes" cars in Tennessee, came to Memphis from Washington in 1904 to deliver an automobile. He explained at that time I was a mechanic and I came here to derive a car and teach the owner how to drive it. It was a one-cylinder thing with high solid-rubber tires -- just like a buggy.

In his life time the minister had owned enough automobiles to make several fleets. He cannot count the number, models or makes. However, his first car, brought in 1907 was, what he believe to be a Buick He has owned Reos Flying Clouds, Dodge, Chandlers, Chryslers, and Cadillacs.

As the Bishop was leaving the Memphis World office he uttered over his shoulder "nobody ever doubt whether or not I'll keep an appointment and nobody ever question my credit rating."

About Your Home

(Note: Your columnist tenders her apologies. The following article on pyrex glassware, enamelware and stainless steel, promised for the issue of January 20, did not materialize on the scheduled date, owing to the fact that the writer was unexpectedly called out of town)

There is a great deal of harm done to food that is cooked in aluminum utensil, or so a number of doctors would have us believe. Their argument states that aluminum is a soft metal and very readily combines with chlorine and hydroxygens. Rub your fingers across a piece of aluminum and you will see that it rubs off the same as lead, another soft metal.

However, in the case of lead, no one will dispute the toxicity of it, as "painter's colic," "wrist-drop," and the stinging of the red blood cells are all clinical manifestations of lead poisoning.

Some of the complaints that accompany aluminum poisoning are: Dizziness of the mucous membranes and skin; Tendency toward paralytic muscular conditions; Prurient debility, heaviness and numbness; Disposition to head colds and urtications; Stinging or burning pain in head, with vertigo, relieved by food; Throbbing headache with constipation; Heartburn, aversion to meat, potatoes.

Colic, similar to painter's colic; Itching of the skin when getting into a warm bed; Brittle nails; Another cause of apparent food poisoning is silver polish which contains the strong poison-cyanide. At a recent public banquet in New York a number of persons became ill. The cause was traced to the cyanide in the silver polish that had been used on the knives, forks and spoons.

Stainless steel seems to be about the best bet in metal cooking utensils. Tests have shown that acid fruit juices have slight corrosive action on it, but nothing

He was also a perfect watch-dog, not ferocious, but he did not permit anyone to pet him outside of the immediate family.

Sees Governor Trying To Extend Jurisdiction

Dear Editor: It is now apparent that Governor Timmerman of South Carolina is going to try to extend his jurisdiction into the private institutions of higher learning in South Carolina. In his state of the state message he made a proposal to set up a legislative committee to investigate communistic activities in the state.

Timmerman wants dismissed

Timmerman along with the Board of Regents of South Carolina have withdrawn the right for Allen University to certify teachers.

The American Association of University Professors tried to get reasons for Timmerman's actions, but he told the association that it had no authority to question his actions.

The university Board of control has given the prerogative to Allen's president to retain or dismiss the professors. Should the president of Allen refuse to dismiss the professors, students with teaching majors, which make up a large percentage of the school's enrollment, will not be certified to do the type of work for which they are being trained.

It is possible that Allen's president may feel indebted to his students. On the other hand, he should feel just as indebted to those professors. Whatever he decides to do should be done after

U. S. report on grain stocks depressed all futures. he has investigated the claims made by the governor. Should those professors be dismissed because the governor wants them fired, we could very easily have another professional puppet added to the now long list.

Since Allen is supported by the Methodists, Allen's president should not let the dictates of the governor affect his decision.

Should the Official of South Carolina refuse to re-certify Allen as a teacher training institution after those accused are cleared of Timmerman's contentions, a South Carolina teaching certificate would not be worth the paper that it is written on. If Allen is not re-certified, teachers will have to be imported to take the place of those that could have been certified at Allen.

I am hoping that Allen's president does not stoop to the commands of Timmerman and Company before an investigation is made. Timmerman is a staunch segregationist and everything that is not in accord with the southern way of life will be given the Un-American brand.

The fundamentals American government were founded by private schools and it was a bad gesture on the part of officials of South Carolina to de-certify Allen University as a teacher training institution. Yale and Harvard began as private institutions and they remain shining examples as parents of American education without the dictates of state officials.
