Former Ministerial Student Held In Ex-Date's Murder

Girl Killed Immediately, Walking Friend Wounded

WASHINGTON, D. C. — (NNPA) — A former theology student is being held in connection with the slaying of a Howard University coed and the critical shooting of a male student in Howard's Douglass Hall.

13 Seek Offices In Cleveland, O.

CLEVELAND — (NNPA) — Thirteen colored persons have filed petitions with the Cuyahoga County Board of Elections seeking to become candidates for public office in the coming primary elections. Democratic office seekers include: Arnold Walker, county commissioner; William T. McKnight and Carl Stokes, state senate (2 year term); Charles Mosely and Mary Hutchings, state representative. Republican office seekers are: Ermer Watson, 21st Congressional District; Mrs. Martha Dixon and Carl Williamson, state representatives; Clarence Sharpe, county commissioner; Chester E. Gillespie, Juvenile Court Bench; William O. Walker and John Fossett, state central committee.

Hold without bond on a first-degree murder charge after arraignment Wednesday night was Henry V. Mobley, 21, of 3525 Holmead Place, Northeast.

Glora Adelaide Jordan, 18, whose "one ambition" had been to attend Howard, was dead. She was shot by Mobley, a jealous suitor, just two weeks after she had enrolled as a freshman.

Also shot and critically wounded was Henry L. Folk, Jr., 20, of 1648 Hampton Street, Northeast, whom she had been dating. He is in Freedmen's Hospital.

Capt. Lawrence A. Hartnett of the Homicide Squad said Mobley told police:

"I shot her because I loved her. If I can't have her, nobody can."

Police found seven empty cartridges in a locker room in the basement of Douglass Hall where the shooting occurred at 3:40 p. m.

KNEW OF OTHERS
Capt. Hartnett said Mobley told police he had been seeing Miss Jordan for about a month but that he knew she had been dating other boys.

Auto Victims Critical; Rites Held For Mary Dandridge Here

Three Booker T. Washington students who were victims of an auto accident were still termed "brilliant" at John Gaston hospital while funeral services were held Sunday for another victim. The driver of the fatal car was expected to go on trial Wednesday.

Listed as critical were: Henry Alexander, 17, of 1409 Horace St., a junior in school; Andrew Devine Hurns, 18, of 1840 Blair Hunt Dr., a junior and Jack London, 18, of 666 Clifford St., also a junior.

The driver, 19-year-old Richard Dandridge of 160 Silver Age Street was still complaining about head and body injuries when he appeared in court for a trial Friday, which was postponed until Wednesday. He was out on a $500 bond.

It was his 15-year-old-sister, Mary Dandridge of the same address who was killed instantly. She was a student at Carver Junior high school.

Alexander, son of Robert Alexander of Chicago, and Mrs. Jessie Mae Alexander of New York, lived alternately with two grandmothers. He was living with his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Dorothy Bridgeman, at the time of the accident. He also lives with his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Rosetter, 258 Richmond St.

He suffered a compound fracture of his right leg, head and body injuries.

Hurns, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon S. Carter, of the same address, suffered compound fractures of both legs and other injuries, about the head and body.

London, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack London, Sr., sustained internals and other injuries.

Dandridge, who was treated and released from John Gaston hospital was arrested and jailed a few hours after the February 18 accident. He was employed with his (Continued On Page Six)

Owen College Obtains $5,750 From "Living Endowment Fund"

Alumni of Owen College at a special meeting called by alumni president, William A. Adkins, district manager of Golden Circle insurance company, disclosed that $5,750 had been obtained through the newly organized "Living Endowment Fund" for their alma mater.

Adkins says the "special effort toward development of the endowment fund is being made at this time because Owen College stands on the threshold of full accreditation and needs now the benefits of maximum enrollment.

The Alumni activity is only one part of the total effort to achieve accreditation promptly. We believe Memphisians need the curricula offering and the economical training available in Memphis only at Owen College. The alumni want to do as much as they can for the good of both the College and the community," he said.

"We will be glad to have friends who believe in a church-elected college and in religious value in higher education enroll in the Living Endowment Fund information may be secured from the Office of the President of the College, any alumnus or college trustee or faculty member," he said.

Adkins reports that all alumni in attendance enrolled in the fund. Enrollment by certificate amount was as follows: $1,000 -- William A. Adkins, Rev. Charles J. Patterson, Rev. O. C. Crivens; $500 -- Mrs. Lucile B. Thompson, Rev. N. W. Beasley, Mrs. Isabel Flagg; $250, Louis V. Tate, Clarence Beeton, Rev. Charles B. Burns, Miss Ruth Twine, and Miss Cherry Streeter.

The collection hangs in Fisk's Carl Van Vechten Gallery of Fine Arts, one of the few galleries to be found on a college campus.

No Prejudice At Ohio Cat Hospital

LIMA, Ohio — (NNPA) — In this city there is a unique hotel operated by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cottman at 932 W. High St. It is a hotel for cats. Since its opening in Sept., over 250 cats from places as far as Florida, New York and Montana, have been entertained in the hotel. There is no prejudice in this hotel, the Cottmans say. Black cats, white cats and brown cats are housed in the same room. To be admitted the cats must be of good behavior.

Processed Hair Banned

CLEVELAND (NNPA)—Processed hair styles, a growing fad among teenager youngsters in this city, have been banned at East Technical High School by Michael Efron. The principal explains that physical education instructors complained that boys with the "processed styles" refused to take showers after gym classes for fear that they would get their hair wet, hence became a sanitary problem.

Bill To Strip High Tribunal Of Powers Attacked

By LOUIS LAUTIER
WASHINGTON, D. C. (NNPA) — The bill to strip the United States Supreme Court of jurisdiction in five specified areas would leave the NAACP at the mercy of southern state courts, the Senate Internal Security subcommittee was told last week.

Joseph L. Rauh, Jr., vice chairman of Americans for Democratic Action, testified that the United States Supreme Court, for example, would have no jurisdiction to review the action of the Florida Supreme Court, if the Jenner bill is passed and held constitutional.

All Supreme Courts of segregationist southern states would have to do to avoid review of their action on the NAACP, Mr. Rauh told the subcommittee, is to put it on the ground of subversive activity.

The ADA vice chairman directed attention to the case now pending in the United States Supreme Court from Alabama, in which a judge fined the NAACP $100,000 for refusing to disclose its membership and financial records.

NO REVIEW POSSIBLE

If the Jenner bill is passed, Mr. Rauh said, "all Alabama would have to do is say we need those lists for security purposes, and there would be no review."

Mr. Rauh added that he was sure "it would not be any Senator's desire particularly those who supported civil rights at the last session of Congress, to provide that the Supreme Court should not have power, on appeal from state courts, to reverse harassing action by the southern segregationist states of the organization that has done the one thing in the bill that involves civil rights."

The third action of the bill, Mr. Rauh said, could end operations of the NAACP in southern states.

"I am not here arguing or suggesting that it was so intended," he said. "It would have that effect."

Mr. Rauh pointed out that the third section provides that there shall be no Supreme Court jurisdiction of any statute or executive regulation of any state, the general purpose of which is to control subversive activities.

As a case in point, he said, Florida a state legislative agency is seeking to harass and drive the NAACP out of the state through an investigative agency, claiming that it is a Communist-controlled body.

"I believe that under this section the Supreme Court would have no authority to review the decision of the Supreme Court of Florida, which will undoubtedly uphold the action of its legislative power," Mr. Rauh said.

Ike Turner, Rock-Roller, Cries Assault

ST. LOUIS — Ike Turner, the rock and roll musician who skyrocketed to fame with his record "Tutti Frutti," has now charged that an East St. Louis policeman "tore" his head up.

In a lengthy petition to the East St. Louis Board of Police Commissioners, Turner charged that Patrolman Quentin Smith hit him over the head with such terrific force as to "burst my left ear drum."

According to Turner, Patrolman Smith was peevish because of the rock and roll musician's relationship with an attractive East St. Louis woman named Anna Mae (Continued On Page Six)

Little Rock Board Asks Stay Of Integration Order

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — (INS) — Little Rock School Board Thursday petitioned the U. S. District Court for an indefinite stay of the court order directing integration at strife-torn Central High School.

The petition, which was signed by all members of the Board and by School Superintendent Virgil Blossom, asked that "the plan of integration heretofore ordered by the court be realistically reconsidered in the light of existing conditions."

The petition urged "that in the interest of all pupils" at the school that the "beginning date of integration be postponed until such time as the concept of 'all deliberate speed' be clearly defined."

The petition pointed out that further time would enable the District to integrate "without impairment of the quality of education it is capable of providing under normal conditions."

The petition was presented by the School Board on the recommendation of 24 top Arkansas business and civic leaders.

Grady Miller, federal court clerk, said he had telephoned Federal Judge Ronald Davies, who retains jurisdiction in the integration case, at Davies' home in Fargo, N. D.

Davies told Tiller he would confer with Federal Judge Arch Gardner of Hurdon, S. D., chief judge of the U. S. Eighth District Court at St. Louis, before making a statement on the petition.

Previously, all-white Central High School in Little Rock became a racial storm center last September when nine Negro students were entered on a court order of integration.

U. S. paratroopers and national guardsmen were ordered to mob scene to help keep order as mobs converged on the school.

Early this week, Minnie Jean Brown, a Negro student, was suspended for the rest of the school year after she became involved in incidents with white students.

Faulkner Wants Southerners To Teach Equality

Faulkner Wants Southerners To Teach Equality

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. — Nobel prize winning author William Faulkner told a University of Virginia audience Thursday night that Southerners must teach the Negro responsibilities of equality with whites either by taking him into white schools or putting white teachers in Negro schools.

Faulkner said Virginia, a leader of Southern resistance to school integration, is "the place for this to begin."

He said what the Negro must learn "are the hard things, self-restraint, honesty, dependability, purity to act not even as well as just any white man, but to act as well as the best white man."

RALLY AT GRAHAM

Meanwhile at Graham, N. C., the Rev. James Cole's three postponed Ku Klux Klan rally at Graham, was held Friday night with the Klan vastly outnumbered by policemen and reporters.

Cole, who claims that a million Southerners either belong to or support his Klan movement, had only five Klansmen in the audience of approximately one-hundred.

This is the first time the Grand Dragon -- from South Carolina -- has held a meeting in the Tar Heel state since he and about 30 of his followers were driven out of Maxton by angry, gun-toting Indians. He was charged with inciting to riot for the affair and warned by the Governor not to cause any more trouble in North Carolina.

The "Rally" lasted about half an hour, during which time Cole blasted Governor Luther Hodges and the press. The Governor for his unkind remarks, and the newspapers for digging up his criminal papers for digging up his criminal (Continued On Page Six)

College Gets $52,000 To Build Edu. Unit.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — The First United Presbyterian Church (MacMillan Chapel), on the campus has received a $52,000 grant, and a $100,000 loan from the Board of American Missions of the United Presbyterian Church, North America to build an educational unit to the present edifice, which will also get an exterior and interior face-lifting, including a balcony. Construction is to begin late in March.

The addition will include Church school rooms, nursery rooms, choir room, social halls, kitchen, and office for the minister, who is Dr. Merrill Proudfoot.

Each member of the congregation has already subscribed to a share of the $100,000 loan through a campaign being headed by J. Herman Daves.

Local NAACP Set To Open Membership Drive Feb. 27

The Memphis Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will shove-off on its 1958 membership campaign during a meeting scheduled for 8 p. m. at a Universal Life Insurance Building, 480 Linden Ave., Thursday, Feb. 27.

The main item on the agenda is the explanation of the plans to the volunteer workers and distributing campaign kits and other working material.

Dr. I. A. Watson, Jr., general campaign chairman, and Rev. D. S. Cunningham, pastor of Collins CME Church, co-chairman, are urging civic-minded members to volunteer as campaign workers.

College Group Will Hear Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

AUSTIN, Texas - Huston-Tillotson College, Austin, Texas, one of the colleges highly accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, has just completed arrangements to present Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt in a public lecture under the auspices of the college's Lyceum and Programs Committee.

The college has recently adopted a policy to feature at least two national figures each year. Mrs. Roosevelt will appear in the college's Mary E. Branch Auditorium on Monday evening, March 3, at 8 o'clock.

Internationally known as a lecturer and author and for her liberal views concerning world and domestic problems, Mrs. Roosevelt is rated as one of the foremost thinkers of our times. Huston-Tillotson College and its president, Dr. J. J. Seabrook, deserve much credit for making it possible for Central Texans to see and hear her.

In commenting on Mrs. Roosevelt's appearance here, Dr. J. J. Seabrook, President of Huston-Tillotson College said: "This is only and the Austin community, some of what we hope will be many to bring to our students and faculty, and the Austin community, some of the nation's most outstanding personalities."

Two Dormitories Will Be Built At Knoxville

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. - A loan of $825,000 to assist in the construction of two new dormitories has been granted Knoxville College by the Housing and Home Finance Agency of the Federal Government.

These ultra-modern structures are first to be erected on a new long-range development plan accepted by the Board of Trustees last year.

With two persons to a room the five-story structure for women will accommodate 118 and the four-story building for men 88. Movable furnishings throughout the building will be a gift of the women's General Missionary Society of the United Presbyterian Church.

"The two new dormitories will provide improved living facilities, help eliminate overcrowded conditions, and also enable the College to increase its enrollment up to approximately 700 students," President James A. Colston said.

arriving here early for the holiday along with their mother, son and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. Herman Jones of Kansas.

MRS. LEONA JAMISON AND MRS. WILLIAMS ENTERTAIN COTERIE MEMBERS

February is a month of party-giving after all of the holidays dances. One of the prettiest dinner parties of this season was the dinner party given on Saturday evening by Mrs. Joan Williams and Mrs. Leona Jamison at the lovely Jamison home on Alston.

that MR. J. L. PITTS who lived for so many years on East Mc-Lemore near Mississippi arrived here from his new home in Detroit and is the house guest of a relative.

MRS. ADELE ANDERSON at 283 West Fay Avenue. Mr. Pitts has for years been a devout member of St. Augustine Catholic Church. After the death last year of his devoted wife, he moved to Detroit with a sister and a nephew, Mrs. Deliska Forbush and Dr. "Ted" Hughes whom he and Mrs. Pitts raised. Dr. Hughes is a very prominent physician in the "Motor City." Mr. Pitts says that he likes Detroit, but he would rather be in Memphis than any place that he knows.

the Reverend Herman H. Jones Memphis and father of the groom formed the double ring ceremony in the presence of members of his family, neighbors and close friends.

A full course dinner was served immediately after a short business presided over by the president, Mrs. Jamison. Decoration centered around George Washington's birthday.

"Your Columnist" was the only guest. Members arriving early for dinner were Mrs. Flora Coatsworth, Mrs. Deane Davis, Mrs. Orena Langford, Mrs. E. O. Rodgers, Mrs. Ruth Weed, Mrs. Maggie Jordan, Mrs. Rubye Spight, Miss Ada Ateman and Mrs. Estelle Eggleston.

MRS. H. W. CLARK of Nashville arrived last month and is the house guest of her son-in-law and daughter, REVEREND AND MRS. H. H. JONES on Arkansas Street.

"FOR A HAPPY, HEALTHY FAMILY, DEPEND ON PET MILK!"

Registered Nurse Ella Bolden Brown taught child care to nurses at Homer G. Phillips Hospital before her marriage. It's not surprising, then, that her own four children—Stephanie, 4, Marilyn, 2, and the twins, Kenneth and Keith, 3 months—have all been PET Milk babies.

Mrs. Brown knows that PET Milk has all the vital milk nourishment babies need to grow strong and sturdy, plus extra Vitamin D for sound bones and teeth. That's why more babies are sent home from hospitals on PET Milk formulas than on any other form of milk.

FREE—story-coloring book about the famous Fultz Quadruplets. Send PET Milk label with name and address to Pet Milk Company, 1460-B Arcade Bldg., St. Louis 1, Missouri.

Take a tip from Mrs. Brown... always buy PET, the handiest milk you can get.

PET EVAPORATED MILK

for cooking...for coffee...for babies

Mr. Brown, a railroad chef, takes off his hat to Mrs. Brown's cooking. They both use PET Milk and agree that double-rich, double-nourishing PET Milk makes all good cooking even better.

"Feeding the baby" is a double duty in the Brown household. Like most twins, Kenneth and Keith were tiny and delicate at birth, but they've gained steadily on their PET Milk formula, and are now identical pictures of good health.

Bedtime is story time for Stephanie and Marilyn. Growing up in an atmosphere of love and good care, the two little girls are bright, happy youngsters who want to grow up to be just like their talented mother.

Spelman Students Leave Georgia Assembly Over Bias

ATLANTA, Ga.—(SNS)—About 40 members of the Spelman College Social Science Club walked out of the Georgia Assembly Thursday rather than sit in a segregated section in the gallery. The students had gone to the capitol to observe the legislature in action. They entered the gallery and stood in the rear of a section designated for whites, according to History Professors Henry R. West and Howard Zinn who accompanied the group. Prof. Zinn said House Speaker Marvin E. Moate interrupted proceedings to advise that Georgia maintains segregation and that if the visitors did not sit in the section reserved for Negroes they would have to leave. When the group moved to another area and remained standing, the professors said an unidentified official told them they would have to be seated in the segregated section. The young women then decided to leave. A similar situation occurred last year when students sat in the white section by mistake, Zinn said. This year the group visited the capitol to observe the Senate acting on the House-passed voter registration bill. The Senate had adjourned, so they decided to observe the House. "The students were interested in knowing what the legislature is doing," Zinn said, "but they are not willing to be segregated." Others on the field trip were Prof. Earl Sanders of the Spelman Music Department and the wives of Prof. Zinn and Prof. West. Cause sought for rise in influenza deaths. Tunisian bombing tied to race relation problem.

Pastor Is Held Following Still Blast In Savannah

SAVANNAH, Ga.—A minister was arrested in connection with illegal whiskey Thursday after a moonshine still exploded and set fire to three buildings. Police said they are holding the Rev. Joe Wright, pastor of the Sanctuary of the Lord Church and owner of the three houses that burned on three charges involving the manufacture of illegal liquor. He denied the charges. The fire destroyed the house in which the 18-barrel still was located and damaged two others, including the preacher's residence.

Detroit Held For Alleged A. D. C. Cheating

DETROIT.—(ANP)—A 39-year-old north end wife Mrs. Leslie Anderson, who drew a total of $843 in ADC funds, after her husband received a $4,500 Workman compensation check for injuries sustained in an automobile plant, was charged with failure to report change of status to the Aid to Dependent Children last week in a warrant issued by the prosecutor's office.

According to Mrs. Corda Sampich, 41 of the Aid to Dependent Children office. Mrs. Anderson, her daughter, Effie, 16, and her disabled husband Tom Anderson, were placed on ADC rolls during the months of April, May and June, 1957, and received a total of $843. Further investigation by the ADC disclosed that Anderson received a $4,500 check March 18, 1957 for spine injuries suffered at Chevrolet Gear and Axle plant. Anderson alleged to have purchased a 1954 car for $1,495, and at this point had personal property over $750. Mr. Sampich said Mrs. Anderson failed to report the money received by her husband and continued to accept ADC aid for the family.

The Snow Man

By Thomas Jefferson Flanagan. O he stood till he turned yellow in the February sun, En he tol' the little feller Who made him he'd like to run. He didn't shiver in the chillin', Nor tremble in the leg, His soul was strong en willin' But he couldn't move a peg. The pretty damsel dancers Reached for his han' my sweet; But he tol' the little prancers He couldn't move his feet. One mornin' they all missed him, He'd passed on with his fol' En they who could have kissed him Said he was too cold! He had stayed till he turned yellow in the chill en sun, Beggin' that little feller Who made him to let him run!

Judge Won't Laugh Off "Kingfish" Act

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—(ANP)—During the several court appearances Harry (Tim) Moore has made since he was arrested on New Years Eve, for shooting at his wife, there has always been a good crowd of spectators drawn by Moore's fame as the Kingfish on the long famous Amos and Andy program. They were there again last week, but in spite of the broad grins on the face of the popular comedian, and his wife's willingness to "forgive and forget," the judge refused to laugh the charges off. So he ordered the comedian to return on March 24, for final disposition of the case. Moore had maintained all along that he had not meant to hit anyone, but that when he returned after midnight from entertaining at a benefit, it made him angry to see his wife's in-laws eating up the fine prime rib beef roast he had wanted to enjoy. He just grabbed his revolver he said and fired in no particular direction "just to scare them" he told the court.

Students, Teachers See Film On "Freedom" In Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—Students and teachers attended two crowded showings of the all-African Moral Re-Armament color film "Freedom" Saturday, in the Gym Theater of Horace Mann High School in Little Rock. In the audience of 1100 were students and teachers from the Central High School. The principal of Horace Mann issued the invitation on the occasion of the National Negro History Week. Manasseh Moore, life-time vice president of 10,000 African teachers in South Africa, one of the authors and stars of the film, introduced "Freedom" along with John Amata, a leading Nigerian student, and Bremer Hofmeyr, a member of a well-known South African political family. The film, which had its world premiere a year ago on Lincoln's birthday in Hollywood, is the first film written and acted by Africans and produced on magnificent locations in the heart of Nigeria. It has been acclaimed by 15 parliaments on every continent. Students of the high schools are writing essays on the film. After the performance students and teachers flicked around the Africans pressing them with questions of how they had found this uniting idea. The principal said: "The problem in the world today is division. MRA is the idea to unite East and West. It is the idea to unite the world." Earlier speakers from Moral Re-Armament addressed an assembly program in Horace Mann High School.

Toledo Lawyer-Engineer To Head Street Division

TOLEDO, O.—(ANP)—Armand Hooker, a 34-year-old lawyer-engineer last week was named head of the city street division, which gives him supervision over 470 employees. In taking over the $3,545-a-year job, Mr. Hooker, a veteran of nine years in municipal employment, became the first Negro to hold a high ranking supervisory post in the Toledo city government. About nine years ago, J. Slater Gibson, then first assistant law director, resigned after he was bypassed for another member in the department to fill the law directorship. At present, the only other white collar Negro employee above the stenographic or clerical level is Robert J. Franklin, Jr., a police court prosecutor. Before assuming his new job, Hooker was an assistant division engineer in the engineering and construction division. He obtained his engineering degree in 1949 from the University of Toledo and his law degree in 1956. A lifelong Toledonian, he is married and has a son. His appointment, according to City Manager Russell W. Rink, was made on his capabilities. Mr. Rink said he did an excellent job in all capacities; he has worked as a city employee and there was no reason to believe that he would not acquit himself well in the new position.

Basilio Sharpens Punch For Championship Fight

MIAMI BEACH.—"There is no such thing as an easy workout with Carmen Basilio - - title fight or no title fight." That opinion belongs to a man who is in a position to know. It wasn't rendered by one of the Middleweight Champions' Co-Managers, or by his trainer or a friend. Authority for the statement is Leo Owens, 25-year-old sparring partner for Basilio who defends his Middleweight Championship against Sugar Ray Robinson March 25 in Chicago Stadium for the International Boxing Club. Owens should know of what he speaks. He had just completed three fast rounds with Battling Basilio in the Miami Beach Gym when he wiped his forehead in relief, and said: "There is no such thing as an easy workout with Carmen Basilio - - title fight or no title fight." "Carmen always is rough and he is forever pressing. He doesn't rest for a second." Owens, a pretty fair Middleweight in his own right, has been a professional fighter since April of 1953. And he's been Carmen Basilio's No. 1 sparring partner since that date. "How do I feel about Carmen's upcoming fight?" Owens repeated. "Well, I'll tell you," said the man who has played the part of Tony DeMarco, Johnny Saxton and currently is in a repeat role as Ray Robinson. "I knew Carmen would beat Robinson last year. His last win gave him confidence and now there will be no stopping him in Chicago." Owens - like everyone else - praises Basilio's fighting heart and superb condition. But, Owens also looks on Basilio as a great fighter with a "kind heart." "Many times Carmen has shook me up, but he never tried to hurt me like some fighters would." Owens learns his role as either a DeMarco, Saxton or Robinson through movies and instructions from Co-Managers Netro and DeJohn. "The Managers tell me how I should work to imitate Robinson and then I do it," - and Basilio punches holes in me. "And like I said, there is no such thing as an easy workout with Car-

Sees New White Man, New Negro

SPRINGFIELD, ILL.—(ANP)—A "great wave of freedom sweeping across America," and a "new white man" and a "new Negro," were visualized in a thrilling address by Rev. Leon H. Sullivan, pastor of the Zion Baptist Church, Philadelphia at the 37th annual Lincoln-Douglass dinner sponsored by the Springfield NAACP Branch, and held at the Leland Hotel. The speaker told how the new white man and the new Negro must sweep away their prejudices and follow standards set by the Bible. He declared that Americans "must not only talk equality and democracy, but practice it."

Funeral Services Held For Editor

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(ANP)—Funeral services for Henry P. Slaughter, 87, editor of the Odd Fellows Journal from 1910 until it ceased publication in 1937, were held Tuesday from the McGuire Funeral Home. Mr. Slaughter died Feb. 14 at his home here. Mr. Slaughter had a lifelong hobby of collecting books and acquired one of the most complete collections on the progress of colored people. The collection is now housed in the library of Atlanta University. In recognition of his work in eliminating second-class citizenship, the family requested friends to send donations to the District of Columbia Branch of the NAACP instead of flowers. Born in - Louisville, Ky., Mr. Slaughter came to Washington in 1896 to accept appointment in the Government Printing Office. He retired from the job in 1937. Last year he was honored as a 60-year member of the Typographical Union. In 1899 he received a bachelor's degree in law from Howard University and a year later earned his master's degree.

Woman Gets License To Book Actors

HOLLYWOOD.—Mrs. Lillian Cumber became the first Negro woman licensed to book actors in movies on last week when the Lil Cumber Attractions Agency, 4519 South Western, was granted a Screen Actors' Guild Franchise. With such forthcoming productions as "Porgy and Bess," "The Tarzan series" (to be filmed in Africa), "Anna Lucasta," "The Henry Armstrong Story," etc., utilizing Negroes holding guild membership, these members and more are assured of a busy season this year. Mrs. Cumber, a former newspaper columnist who has headed her own agency for the past two years, is also licensed by the American Guild of Variety Artists and the American Federation of Musicians.

MY WEEKLY SERMON

By REV. BLAIR T. HUNT

PASTOR MISSISSIPPI BLVD. CHRISTIAN CHURCH

JESUS COMFORTS By REV. BLAIR T. HUNT, Pastor, Mississippi Blvd. Christian Church

Text: "Peace I leave with you; my peace I give unto you; Not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be fearful." John 14:27.

The establishment of the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was followed by the Savior's last discourse with His disciples and His intercessory prayer. The preservation of these priceless words is the chief glory of the fourth Gospel. Here was the dying message of Jesus to His chosen disciples. The last long message they would receive from His human lips. The shadow of the cross was fallen upon them. The great tragedy was soon to be enacted. Darkness, dangers and tumults were gathering like storm clouds around them. They needed comfort, then, and strength and hope for all the labors that were before them.

Jesus' words were a rainbow on the storm, the shining of heaven's rays through the clouds, new life poured into souls, the gate of heaven stood ajar. Said Jesus, "I am the way." If any one has Christ, loves Him, obeys Him and follows Him, he is in the Jesus way, the way to life eternal. Indeed Jesus is the way to our Father's house. And it is a real place, beautiful beyond compare. The saint's home, the home of the soul is a "prepared" place for a prepared people. "If it were not so," Jesus would have told us, Jesus raised no false hopes. For Jesus knows, He is the truth. Jesus is the way to comfort. He was to them, He is to us. Jesus was about to leave His disciples. They had nothing but Him, and He was going away. They would have no teacher, no institution, no power, no influence, no strength even to stand alone, no army, no rank, nothing by which to bring in the promised kingdom. They could see only danger and disaster ahead. It is then that Jesus proceeds to comfort them. "Let not your heart be troubled. Ye believe also in Me." Then follows His great message and His great prayer.

Within the frame work of the 14th and 17th chapters of John's Gospel are the most beautiful, tender, comforting words that Jesus spoke to His little group on the last night He spent with them in the upper room of Jerusalem. After He had left them His disciples would be in those farewell words strength and solace. And happily for all the world, John wrote them down in his gospel, where they have given strength and solace to countless followers of his from that day to this. In this Lenten season let us read and re-read them. In this season let us gaze at the cross and whisper "Jesus died for me." Let us dwell much on a lonely hill outside Jerusalem, where a man whose great loyalty and love nothing could break. A man who was all that God could pour of Himself into a human personality hung on a cross of shame for you and for me.

Yes, let us gaze upon the old rugged cross this season. Through the ages millions have looked and found comfort. They have known without understanding; they have been saved without being able to explain. They whispered, "He died for me."

Assignment Of Bishop Nichols Said Upheld By Judicial Council

CLEVELAND, OHIO.—The Judicial Council of the AME Church has authorized its president, Judge Perry B. Jackson, to issue the following statement:

"The Judicial Council regrets that there have appeared in publications of the A. M. E. Church and the general press statements attributed to Rev. George A. Singleton and others misrepresenting actions and functions of the Judicial Council. Said Rev. George A. Singleton was not present at the December 27, session of the Judicial Council and his statements are erroneous and misleading.

"The Judicial Council in session here proceeded to conduct a hearing in the matter of Declaratory Decision filed by Bishop D. Ward Nichols against Bishop R. R. Wright, Jr., not being present, although duly notified to be present following his request for a postponement which was granted at his December 27 meeting. The Judicial Council has leaned over backwards to provide Bishop R. R. Wright, Jr., an opportunity to be present in person or by counsel. The Judicial Council after a full and complete deliberation, including consideration of the Answer filed by Bishop R. R. Wright, Jr., rendered its decision, a copy of which is being released today. Both Bishop D. Ward Nichols and his attorney, Ernest D. Jackson, Sr., were present.

"The effect of the decision is to sustain the assignment of Bishop D. Ward Nichols to the 16th District by the Council of Bishops as an active bishop entitled to compensations and expenses as provided by the General Conference and to declare the ruling by Bishop R. R. Wright, Jr., null and void and of no effect. "The matter specifically referred to commences on Page 1 and particularly on Page 7, of the Southwestern Christian Recorder, Saturday, February 11, 1958 issue which states as follows: "Bishop D. Ward Nichols remains suspended without salary, and from all official duties until the General Conference acts in extra or regular session, May, 1960." "And again, commencing on Page 1 and continuing on Page 7 of the Christian Recorder, Thursday, January 23, 1958 issue which reads as follows: Bishop D. Ward Nichols remains suspended with out salary, and from all official duties until the General Conference acts in extra or regular session, May, 1960."

Lewis' Club Faced Warriors Monday; 'Cats' Progress Noted

BY MELVIN GREER
"HAVE GUNS WILL TRAVEL"
 The guns in this case are the vital ones in Melrose Head Coach Frank "Butface" Lewis' Golden Wildcats case. (Team—George, John Davis, Lonnie (Chrez-White) Butler, Willie Gunn, Richard Teller, Charles Hussey, David Taylor, Harold Julian and David Brooks. They were slated to travel out to BTW's Blair Hunt Gymnasium yesterday (Monday) to shoot the host Warriors off their 63 game circuit victory streak which has piled that high since BTW's last league defeat in 1952.

"If Coach Lewis conquered the Warriors and last time his underdogs dropped a narrow five point 69-64 decision to them, the victory fulfilled his three-year-old alleged vow of finally winning a basketball game from BTW Head Coach William (Bill) Fowlkes' high-flying aggregation. He has been successful in knocking off every other league opponent but the hated Warrior basketeers."

When the former Harlem Globetrotter star came to Melrose from Peabody College in September of 1955, he mapped plans for turning Melrose into a formidable outfit in basketball. Unlike its powerful grid counterpart which was dominating the league at the time and which the Melrose case team was noted for its perennial last-place finishes, Lewis virtually changed that overnight. In the 1956 season Lewis' pit-sized squad managed a fourth place 4-6 finish. His quintet also annexed the E. A. Harrell Invitational Basketball Tournament during the seasons half-way mark at Millington, Tenn.

USED AS SCAPEGOATS
 The next year (1957) Melrose's record rocketed to 8-4 and a second-place impasse with the Manassas Tigers. In pre-season December, Lewis' Cats were successful in snaring their second tournament title in a year, winning the Forrest City (Ark.) Invitational (bounty crown).
 But Coach Lewis, like all the rest of the anti-BTW loop mentors, never got around to silencing the warwhoops of the rampaging Warriors. And his job is made more difficult than that of the other coaches in that Booker Washington naturally uses his charges as scapegoats to repay Melrose for humiliating defeats the Warriors annually suffer on the football field at the hands of Joe Westbrook's grid powerhouses.

If Coach Lewis was forced to delay detaching Booker T. Washington until 1959, only Jake Peacock's Lester Lions have another chance to prevent the Warriors from putting a 65-game victory skein into mothballs. The Lions go against the BTW constituency this evening (Tuesday) at Binghampton to close out the 1958 season.

Along The Sports Trail

BY SAM BROWN

With the close of the prep league basketball season at hand, and the Booker T. Washington Warriors again the league champions for the "umpteenth" time, the District tournament will start today at Somerville with the Warriors, the Douglass Red Devils, the one-two teams of the city division of the region.

We congratulate the Warriors for their fine success in the prep league race and the winning of the league title for 1958. We doft our hat to coach Fowlkes and his assistants for a job well done, and to the hard working, alert team that turned back all opposition in their quest for the league honors.

We have asked from time to time and have had the same question asked us, "How is it the Booker T. Washington Warriors continue to win in basketball year after year?" The question was mentioned last week at the game between the Warriors and Higgins of Clarksdale, Miss., when we were handed a release on the Warriors team and re-leased by Leonard Draper, the wide-awake trainer of the team.

He had quite a write-up on the Warriors and just what we had been asking, a statement giving in his own words "Why the Washington Warriors have been winning!" So, we reproduce the statement, just as he handed it to us. Perhaps, it will throw light on that all important question.

WHY THE WASHINGTON WARRIORS HAVE BEEN WINNING!

The sports followers of Memphis and nearby places seem to think that the Warriors have been winning because of John "Pete" Gray, Alisa, "Willie the Sultan" to Booker T. Washington students.

The years before Pete Gray came to Booker T. Washington, the Warriors were tops in basketball in this section of Tennessee. I personally believe that there are five things that have kept the Warriors on the winning trail. They are: 1. Confidence. 2. Victory Spirit. 3. Loyalty. 4. Respect. 5. Conditioning.

Confidence is a mental state which of course, is necessary for success in any phase of life. It can only be gained by experience. Some boys have difficulty understanding criticism and lose confidence when criticized.

Victory Spirit. To be a successful basketball player, the boy must have a tremendous desire to win. He must be willing to work, wait and sacrifice for victory. He must hustle all the time and should be filled with pep.

Loyalty. No basketball player will ever be great unless he has a certain amount of loyalty in his heart. The spirit of loyalty is more than giving all as far as physical fitness goes; it involves a devotion to a cause. It can be developed in a boy.

Respect.—The respect of a player for his coach, faculty and teammates is invaluable. A player's respect cannot be demanded by the coach, it must be earned.

Conditioning.—No one can be a star unless he keeps in top shape at all times. Conditioning is a noted tradition of all Booker T. Washington coaches.

The public plays an important part in the mighty Warriors victory string. The sports fans are behind the Warriors one hundred per cent, because they have always wanted Memphis to have a State Championship Basketball Team, as well as a championship football and track team. Melrose and Booker T. Washington have held these positions respectively. That is why the Warriors cannot and must not overlook the fans, students and drug store coaches effort on the mental attitude of our players.

Florida A & M Cops Consolation From Benedict College 91-67

By MARION E. JACKSON

TUSKEGEE INSTITUTE, Ala. —Knoxville College, sparked by a 38-point scoring performance by brilliant pivot star Jackie Fitzpatrick, eked out a rip-roaring, hairline, last-second clutch victory in nipping Clark College, 68-64 in the finals of the 25th annual SIAC basketball Tournament played here in Logan Hall.

Fitzpatrick, who averaged 35.66 points in the Bulldogs' three-game uphill battle to their second SIAC tournament title in history, bulletted through 107 points in games played against Morris-Brown, Benedict and their final round opponents from Clark College.

Knoxville College became the first SIAC affiliate from the State of Tennessee to win the coveted tournament plum back in 1956 when the Bulldogs turned back Morehouse College in the finals.

For Clark College, the defeat was frustrating. They got perhaps the second most outstanding play in the tournament from little Edward Jones, whose unbelievable shots, repeatedly brought salves of cheers from the galleries.

Regardless of the super-duper play from Gerald Tate, Eugene Walker, Robert Bell, Milton Fields and Oscar Holder, the Cardinal and Black held their bid to win their third SIAC championship, having previously won 1940 and 1954.

Knoxville led 21 to 12 after the first ten minutes of play and led 37 to 30 at the half. With seven minutes left in the contest, the Cinderella Clark Panthers tied the score at 55 to 55. A nip-and-tuck battle raged in the waning minutes in which Clark lost Oscar Holder, Eugene Walker and Edward Jones via fouls.

With approximately a minute left in the final game, the score was again knotted. However, Knoxville soon went ahead on a field goal by Jackie Fitzpatrick who was fouled while shooting. Fitzpatrick picked up two extra points, and put his team ahead 58 to 64, the final score.

Clark moved into the diamond-studded, deluxe finals by beating Fisk University 64-52, then returned to the floor in the quarter-finals to edge South Carolina State 61-60, and outpointed Florida A & M's visitation champions 80-74 in the semi-finals.

The Panthers' battle to the finals was a rags-to-riches story. During the regular season the Cardinal

Roy Campanella Will Never Walk Again, Medic Declares

GLEN COVE, N. Y. — (INS) — The doctor who operated on Roy Campanella admitted last week that the Los Angeles catcher has "little chance of ever walking again."

However, neurosurgeon, Dr. Robert W. Sengstacken emphasized that "nobody is in any position to give up the ship."

Campanella broke his neck and suffered paralysis when his car skidded and struck a pole Jan. 28. He has been in Glen Cove Community Hospital ever since.

"Campanella may still walk," said Dr. Sengstacken, "but the chances are rated much less than when he was first admitted to the hospital."

The doctor said Campy's progress toward recovery has been heartbreakingly slow. But, the doctor added, so long as it does not stop completely, there is still "basis for hope."

The surgeon said he now discourages Campanella from talking or thinking about playing ball again.

The 36-year-old catcher still is in traction, and only members of his immediate family are permitted to visit. Campanella still is "cheerful," Dr. Sengstacken said.

The doctor's statement virtually ended hope that Campanella ever would be able to resume what has been one of the most brilliant careers in modern baseball history.

Campanella has on three occasions—1951, 1953 and 1955—been named the National League's most valuable player. In 1953, he led the league in runs-batted-in with 142.

 Mr. and Mrs. James Gant were voted the most popular members of the Buenas Amigas club during its annual Popularity Contest which culminated at Currie's Club Tropicana last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Gant were feted at Currie's. The climax of the affair marked the beginning of the 1958 club activities.

Plans for a campaign in March will be discussed at regular meeting which has been set for Friday, Feb. 21.

Big Beat Writers Get Tune Awards

NEW YORK (ANP)—The nation's top rock and roll songwriters were honored here at the Pierre Hotel when Broadcast Music, Inc., gave them Citations of Achievement for turning out the music that became jukebox, records, radio and television hit material.

In attendance to get their scrolls from BMI president, Carl Haverlin were such well-known writers and music publishers, also honored, as Don Robey, Leonard Lee, Zell Sanders, Lincoln Chase, Bob Crew and Ollie Jones. Quite a few of the writers were better known as performers who double in this lucrative sideline. This group included Chuck Willis, Ivory Joe Hunter, Paul Anka, the Five Bobbettes of "Mr. Lee" fame, Mickey Baker of the festivals, February 28 and March 1, he will be presented as guest conductor at the Rockland County Annual Music Festival, at Pearl River, New York.

Hunters, Fishermen, Boatmen, Skin-Divers—Join The Search

PIRATES, HIGHWAYMEN, early settlers and explorers often were forced to bury their valuables for safe-keeping, or when pursued. It is estimated that lost treasure valued at hundred of millions of dollars lies buried along our coasts, rivers and pioneer trails. Treasure hunters expect to recover millions of dollars' worth of gold, silver, coin, ivory, church ornament, and jewelry this year. We have available valuable information that every outdoorsman should possess. You can share in an exciting adventure and possibly be one of those who recover treasure. We will supply you with concise up-to-date material on over 100 lost treasures, perhaps some of them near you or the landmarks you pass each day. 8 Memphis Amateur Boxers In Chicago Golden Glove Tourney

Eight amateur boxers of Memphis are taking part in the Golden Gloves tournament in Chicago this week. The fighters reached the Chicago tournament by way of the eliminations at Jackson, Tenn. and advanced to the Paducah, Ky. qualifying tourney. They won seven of eight championships at Paducah.

The fighters, coached by Roscoe Williams and his assistant Herbert Hill left Friday for Paducah, where they were joined by other members of the team and left for Chicago Saturday. The fighters are entered in the Golden Gloves tourney as the Jackson, Tenn. Team.

The Memphis boys are Sidney Hastings, flyweight; Thomas Davis, bantamweight; Clayton "Pal" Moore, featherweight; Aaron Hackett, lightweight; Willie Herrington, welterweight; James Webb, middleweight; Everett Garrett, light heavyweight; and Elijah Wallace, heavyweight.

Three of the boxers were unopposed in the qualifying tournament in Paducah. They are Wallace, Hastings and Davis, while the others won decisive victories, although Herrington lost a close decision in the final bout, but was so impressive, he was named to the Chicago tourney.

It is recalled that last year, two Memphis boys, featherweight Brown McGhee, former Booker T. Washington student, and Joe Hempflil former Hamilton student, fighting for the Montgomery, Ala. team won national Golden Gloves championships.

Jackie Robinson On Tour Of Southern States

NEW YORK. — Jackie Robinson, the former major league baseball star and member of the national Board of Directors of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, will address a series of NAACP meetings in Louisiana, Mississippi and Florida, Glover B. Current, director of branches, announced today.

Mr. Robinson begins his tour with a luncheon meeting in New Orleans on Feb. 16, at which time he will appeal for life memberships in the Association. That night he will address a mass meeting kicking off the annual membership memo-ss campaign of the New Orleans branch of which Arthur J. Light is president.

On Sunday, Feb. 16, he addressed a state-wide rally in Jackson, Miss., under auspices of the Mississippi State Conference of N. A. A. C. P. by a noon. The following Sunday, Feb. 23, he will be the principal speaker at a similar N. A. A. C. P. meeting in Tampa, Fla.

While in New Orleans, Mr. Robinson will be the guest speaker at a dinner meeting of the Fullbackers Club of Dillard University.

Are You Fit To Drive?

You may have a good driving safety record and feel you are in excellent health. Even so, there are circumstances under which you're not fit to drive.

That finding comes from the American Medical Association, and is elaborated in a new pamphlet. Here are some of the things that make a driver dangerous.

Emotional upsets.—If you can't keep your mind on the wheel and off your worries, you shouldn't be behind the wheel. Driver's attitude. Some drivers feel the other fellow is always wrong; some are aggressive and intolerant. They need to grow up—to become mature.

Sleepiness.—Dozing is not restricted to night driving. On long trips the driver should rest every two hours and drinks coffee or cola to stay alert.

Medicines. Some medicines, including sedatives, tranquilizers, cold tablets, etc., may dull reflexes or impair coordination. Stimulants may make a person nervous. Consult your doctor about the side effect of drugs.

Other hazards listed in the AMA pamphlet include faulty vision. Certain nerve and heart disorders, diabetes, old age—and, of course, drinking. All of these conditions can result in special hazards—all require preventive measures. It's a case where knowing ourselves and acting accordingly could produce a heartening drop in highway carnage.

Negro History Week Carried Out In Big Way

It is gratifying in the manner that Negro History Week was duly observed. Negro History is a great cause and the interest stimulated in the surveys and research reached high expectations.

Surely Dr. Carter G. Woodson, the late pioneer and leading light in this cause, would have been happy to see the far-flung celebrations in the various schools and colleges commemorating the occasion.

The report comes that even elementary schools in the far rural were refreshed in the contributions of our people to the cause of a great country we all love.

Negro History is rightfully, world history, it has made its indelible wherever civilization abounds.

Thusly, the idea which sprang as a small acorn in the hearts of men like Carter G. Woodson, has grown into a great oak. It will stand tall in the forest of world achievements and those contributions that have come forth to make a people and a nation proud.

THE CHRISTIAN LIFE

Psalm 16:8 — "I have set the Lord before me: because He is at my right hand I shall not be moved."
The Christian life is very simple if properly understood. It may be reduced to one simple truth. It must be nothing less and can be nothing more than the realization of the presence of God in daily life.
Psalm 16:8 is an illustration of this.
It is golden with realization of God as a present reality leading to Eternal Glory. God is real now and never.

We must take in consideration the Christian Church from the beginning has grown in extent and power as result of preaching Jesus himself was the greatest of all preachers we must realize the fact that our religion came through a Man who 2000 years ago impresses upon the minds of his contemporaries through sermons. The required effort of Christianity is personal Surrender put the Lord before you always.

Paul emphasizes the importance of preaching. How can people believe, he asks, if they have not heard the truth, and how shall they hear the truth without preaching?

And from the preacher's standpoint, how shall he preach unless he be sent?
The thought immediately occurs to us that because God is all powerful,
He could sweep sin aside and tell us not to worry about it no more, but in doing this God would violate all the requirements of justice and righteousness. It cost God something to forgive our sins.
It costs him suffering and death of His only begotten Son, Whom He permitted to become incarnate in the flesh in order that men might be saved. And this plan which God had for saving our souls is what Paul designates as the "mystery" and the preaching of that mystery is the preaching of the gospel.
Some of us ask how is Christianity to be obtained?

- (a) By faith introducing us to God's Presence.
- (b) His salvation first.
- (c) Faith-Fellowship-Patience.
- (d) Begin each day with God.

A Word To The Wives, New Program For Homemakers

"A Word To The Wives" is the title of the new program for homemakers slated January 17 on WKNO-TV, Channel 10.

The 30-minute series appearing at 8:30 on Friday evenings deals with many of the problems of the modern homemaker and their solutions.
Special emphasis will be given to nutrition, education, and marketing. Featured personality of the show is Mrs. Cora Lamond, who is hostess of the series, interviewing guests and introducing Mrs. Viola McCain, agent in consumer information and marketing with the Agricultural Extension Service of the University of Tennessee, who appears regularly on "A Word To The Wives". Guests on the show are authorities on a variety of subjects ranging from flower arranging to dental care.

Mrs. Lamond received her home economic training at Delta State Teacher's College where she graduated with a B. S. degree in 1948.
After holding the Gooch Scholarship for three years, she is presently completing work on her Master's degree in education at Memphis State University. She is married to John F. Lamond, Jr., management analyst at Mallory Air Force Depot, and is the mother of three children.

Mrs. McCain holds a B. S. degree from Peabody College, Nashville, taught school in Fayette County

Can't Stop Integration, Department Of Justice Says

WASHINGTON — The Justice Department Friday declared it could not suspend integration at Central High School in Little Rock, Ark., where a school board earlier Thursday held a hearing on a suspended white youth.

The Justice Department said it had no authority to intervene in a federal court move. The Little Rock school board petitioned to have integration halted pending a clear definition of the "deliberate speed" phrase in the U. S. Supreme Court's public school desegregation order.

The Little Rock school board held a meeting Friday morning on the suspension of 16-year-old Sammie Dean Parker who was put out Monday for distributing cards which proclaimed: "One down, eight to go."

The crack was aimed at Minnie Jean Brown, one of nine Negroes enrolled at the school in September, who was expelled Monday for reasons not yet disclosed by the board. It was reported, however, that she had been involved in several racial incidents.

The board barred the girl's lawyer, Amis Guthridge, and newsman from the closed meeting. Guthridge threatened to file malpractice charges against the board if Sammie Dean is not reinstated.

The board was also scheduled to hear the case of Howard Cooper who was also suspended Monday for parading the card.

Minnie Brown is expected to enroll in the New Lincoln School in New York City. She accepted a $1,650 scholarship to the private institution.

Eight Negroes are still attending Central High which has been under federal troop protection since September 25.

The petition which asked an indefinite stay of integration at the school, was signed by all members of the school board and by School Superintendent Virgil Blossom. The petition asked that "the plan of integration heretofore ordered by the court be realistically reconsidered in the light of existing conditions."

It was reportedly presented on the recommendation of 24 top business and civic leaders.

USES OF GRAPHOLOGY
Graphology is the scientific study of character expression in handwriting. It starts with the personality of personality. The person's mind reflects itself in every kind of human expression, especially in the infinitely fine movements of the hand which guide the pen. Movements point to certain urges, and it is this combination of urges which may be found in handwriting, as distinct from the purely motive power.

To give an example, if one finds a stiff, angular handwriting, one immediately gains the impression of stiffness. But it is possible that this, as a personality, which, with the utmost energy, was able to bridge a rich emotionalism?
Whoever a man does, feels, senses or thinks will leave an imprint on his individuality. Since handwriting is one of the most important expressions thereof, the individuality must be reflected in the formation of each letter and word relating to its cause and motivation.

Grand and eloquent gestures, when found together with a rightward slant, reveal a generous approach toward others. Soft and graceful movements with large and rounded letters reveal the affectionate person who tends to avoid struggle and conflict, but likes to fit in smoothly by contrast, the writer with angular connections is prone to fight for his goal and to overcome obstacles. The sharp movements resulting in angularly disposes ago the writer's consistent working habits and endurance, as well as stubbornness and rigidity of feeling. The letter with a rounded top, which is almost a concealing stroke, belong to the person who will not come out into the open but will try to cover his actions behind a front of artificiality. The threadlike connections give the impression of running away.

This also shows that the writer is evading something, at one time he cannot face himself, at another he cannot avoid breaking any promise because of his weak or evasive character. How do you write? Leadership Supports Court Ruling, NAACP
ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS)— "Negro leadership in Atlanta stands ready at all times to discuss with anybody constructive and intelligent ways to make Georgia a law abiding rather than a law defying state," a statement released here Saturday declared.

The statement, released by a group of Atlanta ministers, and bearing signatures of persons representing Atlanta's leadership was part of a declaration of unity and support of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The statement announced reaffirmation of the 1954 decision of the U. S. Supreme Court in outlawing racial segregation in public schools.

The ministers said they were proud to stand with the NAACP, an organization which only recently received the endorsement of J. Edgar Hoover, Chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The statement said Hoover endorsed the NAACP "as a loyal American institution and whose national convention each year has been addressed by either the President or one of his official representatives."

The signers affirmed the following: "We, the undersigned have noticed in the public press reports which tend to create the impression that Negro leadership is divided on the question of securing the basic rights of Negro citizens.

"We wish to make it clear that there is absolute, full and complete agreement among all responsible Negroes on the question of the Negro's right to full citizenship everywhere in our country.

"As Negro citizens, both loyal and responsible, we believe the Supreme Court's decision of May 17, 1954 is right and just and that this decision should be implemented now as it relates to any and all public facilities. The time is always right to do right. It is only the doing of wrong which has no right time.

"We further believe in the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People which for nearly a half century has been a symbol of the United States, able to live up to its ideal of freedom and full democracy for all.

"In bearing the brunt of the struggle of Negroes and other minorities for full and equal citizenship, it is helping this country to the rest of the world the idea that democracy is better than any other political order.

"Our prayer is that all who believe in justice and righteousness will join us in this fight to save our country."

SYNOPSIS
Dave Munro lives at the Big Ten Ranch in Dillon, Pa. With his father, Gil, his mother and his brother, Joe, Joe Munro had bought the Big Ten three years ago from Herb Jackson's widow. Herb had been killed in a mining accident. Joe and Gil loved his older sister, Bess.

church. I can't go to the turkey snoot. No parties. No dances. I'm almost eighteen. She's bessed me around all my life, and I'm not going to stand it any longer."
"What was your fight over?"
"I told her I saw her kissing Vic Toll and I said she was selling us out. I told her I knew she was going to marry Toll and then Rafter 3 would have the toe hold in the park they've wanted all this time. I said she'd sold her saddle, and then she got mad and hit me."
"She didn't deny that she was going to marry Toll?"
"She didn't say anything. Just slapped me and I slapped her back. She said she was going to make me go to school in Denver. She wasn't going to have me marrying a — a pauper like you."
That made me mad. Kitsy knew it would. I stared at her, feeling absolutely helpless. I wasn't aware of anything else. I guess, or I would have heard the door open. Barney Lux said, "You dog! I told you to stay away from her."
I whirled. Kitsy screamed. Lux was standing the doorway. Bess behind him. I drove at Lux, but I didn't reach him. He had a gun in his hand. He raised it and brought the barrel down in a hard blow that ripped past my left ear and struck me on the shoulder. I went down on my knees into the barn litter. The pain was so excruciating I couldn't hold back the groan that came through my tight lips. I thought my collarbone was broken.

Kitsy screamed again and lunged at Lux. He stepped aside and she stumbled past him. Bess caught her and held her. "You've got to come home, Kitsy. I can't let you do this."
I got on my feet and swung from my knees. The blow never landed. Lux hit me with his fist and knocked me down. "That's enough, Barney," Bess said. "Come on. We've got what we came for."
But Lux didn't move. He stood grinning down at me. Again I got up. I tried, but my blow with his fist again, and after that it seemed to me I was paralyzed. I wasn't unconscious. I could see and hear, but I couldn't move. Bess said, "Barney, I told you not to hit him again."
Kitsy wasn't struggling any more. She was crying. Bess pulled her out of the doorway. That was the last I saw of her. The next morning Shorty Quinn came over. He said Bess and Kitsy had left for Denver. (To be continued)
