Dr. King Urges Memphians To Elect Negro Candidates

Dr. Martin Luther King, one of the most famous Civil Rights leaders in America today, told an estimated 5,000 people at Mason Temple last Friday night, "since 1954 American Negroes have been standing on the threshold of the most creative period in our history."

He was the featured speaker at a "Freedom Rally," which was sponsored on behalf of the candidacy of Atty. Russell B. Sugarman, Atty. Ben L. Hooks, Rev. Henry C. Bunton and Rev. Roy E. Love, all seeking offices in the Aug. 30 election.

Dr. King urged his audience to "vote for these candidates because their election will give impetus to our whole Civil Rights struggle to every Negro in the United States."

He went on to praise the minister for "working together so beautifully" and for "raising above denominational lines. This unity is magnificent."

THREE PERIODS

Dr. King said that the American Negro has experienced three great periods and three U. S. Supreme Court decisions in "his struggle for full citizenship."

He named those periods as:

(1) The period of slavery (1619-1863) when Negroes were things to be used. The Dred Scott decision stated that there's no law which will make the white man respect Negroes.

(2) The period of Restrictive Emancipation (1863) when Negroes were freed from bonded slavery. The Plessy vs. Ferguson decision brought forth the "equal but separate" doctrine, which always placed stress upon the separate "but did nothing about the equal."

(3) The period of Constructive Integration (1954-) when the Supreme Court said there cannot be "equal" before the law if it is "separate." The Brown vs. the School Board is the case which espoused this doctrine.

Dr. King went on to explain there are "giants of economical exploitation which are perpetrating destructiveness."

LAW HELPS

He warned his audience that "we have a date with destiny. There is a deadline facing America and the Western civilization. Some people are saying that we are pushing too fast, but we cannot slow-up because the people of Asia and Africa are looking to us for leadership. They are saying that racism and colonialism must go. This deadline is brought on by the very structure of civilization."

Dr. King added "the ballot can help us to meet that deadline. Help elect people from all segments who will help make this democracy a reality."

He continued "we have a legitimate right of representation in city government. Use the ballot to give voice and courage to the moderate whites of the South... don't believe that all white southerners want to keep the Negro down." He also said "I believe in state's rights. I believe in a decentralize government but we also have a right to see that the state does right. I believe that we can change attitudes by legislation. Of course legislation will not make a man love me in his heart, but it will stop him from hating me to the point he will lynch me. We are not asking that the internal habits be legislated; we are asking to legislate the external habits. Don't tell me that law doesn't help."

GEORGE LEE

King slapped at President Eisenhower's "like warm attitude toward integration by saying "if he was a towering personality and took two Negro children and led them up the steps of the white house, segregation would not only be dead but it would be buried."

He urged the audience to vote to demonstrate to "our white brother that we want to be free. I would rather be a poor free man than a rich slave. The absence of freedom is the presence of death."

King was given a rousing ovation.

George W. Lee, chairman of the steering committee of the Volunteer Ticket, a noted Republican, was the first to speak. He said "Negroes have in mind of voting 55,000 strong in the Aug. 20 election. What Negroes have in mind is to fight until hell freezes over and if necessary skate across on ice to freedom." He continued "I don't want to be white. I just want to be free... to live, to work, and to build the Negroes future in the American pattern of life. I want that same kind of freedom that flows in Chickasaw Garden."

"I want that freedom that makes a Negro man, a man and a Negro woman, a lady, who can walk the streets with dignity."

Lee went on to point out that Negroes between 1865 and 1903 Ne-

WASHBURN EXPLAINS HIMSELF ON RALLY

E. L. Washburn yesterday called reports that he refused to let Negro candidates speak at a political rally held last week at his 1388 South Parkway residence while allowing two white candidates to appear, "damnable and disgraceful."

Washburn, principal of Lincoln Elementary School and president of the 25th Ward Civic Club, denied that he had members of his organization to phone Negro candidates and tell them that the rally had been cancelled.

The two white candidates who appeared at the Washburn rally were Commissioner Henry Loeb, who seeks election as mayor, and Mrs. Lawrence Coe, who seeks reelection as a member of the Board of Education. Three of the Negro candidates—Atty. Russell B. Sugarman, Jr., candidate for commissioner of public works; Atty. Ben L. Hooks, candidate for juvenile court judge, and Rev. Roy Love, candidate for the Board of Education—have charged they were invited to the rally and then told it had been cancelled. The two other Negro candidates, Eliehue Stanback, candidate for city tax assessor, and Rev. Henry Bunton, candidate for Board of Education, said they were not aware of the development and attended anyway.

I was backing the white candidates and that I condoned or supported all the planks in their platforms. This is not so, and I regret that they got this impression."

Prof. Washburn said some of the Negroes who attended "were misled by the fact that Commissioner Loeb was the first to appear on the program." He said that Rev. Love "was scheduled to appear first, but didn't show up, and Commissioner Loeb was the second speaker and was told to go ahead with his speech. Next in line was Mrs. Lawrence Coe, and Sugarman was scheduled to speak after her, but he didn't show up, so Atty. Ray Churchill, who was next in line,

14-Hour Banquet Set For Friday

A 14-hour banquet has been set for Castalla Inn, 2030 Boyle Avenue, Friday between the hours of 10 a.m. and 12 midnight.

Turkey dinners will be served at five dollars per plate. Proceeds will be used to help underwrite the expenses of Eliehue Stanback, candidate for city tax assessor.

Candidates will begin speaking at 11 a.m., alternating every two hours until 12 midnight. Mrs. Martha Jean Steinberg has been invited to act as toastmistress.

Candidates slated to appear are Atty. Russell B. Sugarman, Jr., candidate for commissioner of public works; Atty. Ben Hooks, for juvenile court judge; Atty. Lewis Taliaferro, for public service commissioner; Atty. Ray Churchill, for city court judge; Judge William B. Ingram, for re-election as city court judge Division 3; Rev. Henry Bunton and Rev. Roy Love, for Board of Education; and Stanback.

'STRICTLY NON-PARTISAN'

"I don't know anything about anybody in any organization notifying any of the candidates that the rally had been cancelled, and I certainly did not do so," Washburn said. "It has always been my policy as president of the 25th Ward Civic Club to hold a political rally that is strictly non-partisan and to invite our leading white and colored candidates to speak."

Prof. Washburn said some of the Negroes who attended "seemed to have been misled, and seemed to have gotten the impression that

Taliaferro Promises Action On Beale Street

Matthew Thornton, mayor of Beale Street, has received a letter from public service commissioner candidate Lewis Taliaferro vowing a paint-up for dismal-looking Beale if he is elected to that position.

Taliaferro wrote:

"I would like to see Beale Street made attractive for the benefit of Memphis and this community. It would be a credit to Memphis to have Beale Street in a presentable appearance.

"I shall be happy to work for the improvement of Beale Street."

Taliaferro is opposed by incumbent Commissioner John T. (Buddy) Dwyer.

Thornton said if he got a "white-way" on Beale, "we have a very fine chance of getting a 100-room hotel modernly equipped on the street, and whites will also have a big spot there too."

AFRICAN STUDENTS CHOOSE CAUX NOT VIENNA

"We are on the warpath," said Emmanuel Obe (right), president of the National Union of Nigerian Students, before representatives of 32 nations at the Summit Strategy Conference of Moral Re-Armament at Caux, Switzerland. "We are determined not only to give our country liberty but to work extensively for the Moral Re-Armament of the nations."

Summing up his reasons for choosing Caux instead of the Vienna Youth Festival Obe said, "Moral Re-Armament is a global idea to win

Negroes Denied Right To Vote In Summerville's Election

Fayette County election officers denied a group of Negroes the right of voting in the Democratic Primary last Saturday. The registered Negro democrats, who requested that their names be withheld pending further action, accused Fayette County Sheriff Dave Myers of warning them "you can't vote in this election because it is for white Democrats only. Go on back home and wait for the general election."

The denial occurred at the county courthouse in Summerville. It was also revealed that a letter was sent to every other voting place in the county instructing election officials to prevent Negroes from voting in the election. More than two-thirds of the county population is Negro.

The group of Negroes who appeared at the courthouse in Summerville all presented their voter's registration cards, but they were "ignored." A Memphis attorney, James E. Estes, was summoned to Summerville by the Negroes immediately after the denial.

Estes telephoned Jimmy Peeler of Covington, Tenn. state Democratic Chairman, concerning the denial. Peeler told the attorney by telephone "there isn't anything I can do because we do not have any control over primary elections. The sheriff in that county has authority in this case."

Atty. Estes inquired "does Summerville have a separate set of laws which governs its election?" Peeler replied "yes they can have a private act, which could have been granted by the state legislators." Estes retorted "if so it would be purely unconstitutional."

Peeler said "the committee I head has control over the laws of the general election only."

Atty. Estes also pointed out to Peeler that some of the Negroes were denied the right of registering before the election. He said that some of the residents of Fayette county were told that they could not register because all of the members of the registration office had resigned.

However, Peeler told the attorney "the records in Nashville show that nobody has resigned from the election commission." Estes then asked, "if they had resigned, wouldn't you have been notified?" Peeler, replied "Yes."

Atty. Estes asked Peeler to "arrange a meeting between a group of white and Negro voters so we can iron this denial of rights out."

Peeler refused to agree by saying "if we all work together, both white and Negro, and both have a little patience on both sides, it will work out."

Atty. Estes was told at the court-

Mass Meeting To Follow 14th Ward Civic Club Confab

A mass meeting will be held in the LeMoyné Gardens office at Williams and LeMoyné Drive shortly following the regular meeting of the 14th Ward Civic Club there, Monday, August 10, at 8:30 p.m.

The mass meeting will be sponsored by the LeMoyné Tenants Association, and all of the Negro candidates have been invited. The 14th Ward meeting had originally been slated for the regular meeting place at LeMoyné College, but was changed so members of the group could hear the speakers.

Recently the 14th Ward unit gained the distinction of being the only civic club in Memphis to obtain a life membership in the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Jesse H. Turner, chairman of the local Association's executive committee, presented the membership plaque to the group last month.

11 Face Charges In Cabbie Slaying

CHICAGO — (UPI) — Eleven white teen-agers Saturday faced grand jury indictment in the fatal shooting of a Negro bus driver in full sight of his wife and another bus driver.

The victim was John de Priest, Jr., 33, a college graduate and wounded World War II veteran. He was scheduled to become a school-teacher next February.

One youth, William Weber, 16, admitted holding the pistol which killed dePriest. State's Atty. Benjamin Adamowski said an attempt would be made to have all 11 youths indicted who were involved in an argument the previous night.

Dr. Banda Safe In Prison; Said Frameup-Jailed

(Exclusive to the Associated Negro Press)

The Associated Negro Press learned authoritatively last week that Dr. Hastings Kamuzu Banda, leader of the Nyasaland African National Congress, is safe in a British prison in Gwelo, Southern Rhodesia, but may soon be absolved of charges and released.

The 53-year-old American-British educated physician was seized in an early morning raid last March 3 and charged with complicity in a so-called "massacre plot" by natives to kill whites in Nyasaland, a British Protectorate.

Actually Dr. Banda, one of the leaders of the African Nationalist forces in East Africa and the center of the movement toward independence in the colony and from the Central African Federation — of which Nyasaland is a part, was framed, it is believed. He was seized in an effort to squelch opposition to the federation.

PAID INFORMERS

At first, his whereabouts was kept secret, and even after it was disclosed, strict censorship was apparently instituted at the prison. This was indicated in a personal communication from Dr. Banda to the Director of the Associated Negro Press.

In his letter, he inquired about friends in Chicago and Indiana, where he received part of his education. He pointed out, however, that "it is not possible for me to say anything much..."

Dr. Banda returned to Nyasaland, his home, last year after some 40 years abroad. He was one of 150 leaders of the congress rounded up by government authorities when riots broke out in March. Native Africans, numbering some three million — as compared to 6,000 whites — were incensed and tired of being ruled by a comparatively handful of whites. They wanted to be let out of the federation and given a greater voice in the government.

The British settlers meanwhile were intent upon forcing federation rule upon the natives. Dr. Banda was one of those who defied the governor, Sir Robert Armstrong, and the white settlers. In retaliation, the government ordered his arrest.

School Principal Censured By Ministers-Citizens Group

E. L. WASHBURN CRITICIZED FOR HIS POLITICAL ROLE

The boiling political pot burst into scorching hot flames last week and E. L. Washburn, principal of Lincoln Elementary School and president of the 25th Ward Civic Club, was singled out for "severe criticism" during a meeting at Mt. Olive C.M.E. Church last Thursday afternoon between some of Memphis' leading Negro ministers and some of the persons associated with the "Volunteer Ticket" headquarters.

Washburn was censured for denying some of the Negro political candidate an equal opportunity as three white candidates, to speak at a meeting of the 25th Ward Civic Club, which met on the lawn of his home at 1388 South Parkway East, last Wednesday evening.

He was also criticized for attempting to prevent W. W. Walker, coordinator of the "Volunteer Ticket," from questioning Commissioner Henry Loeb, candidate for mayor on his "segregationist plank" in the political platform, during a question and answer period after Loeb had addressed the civic club members.

At the Thursday afternoon meeting Washburn was termed by Walker as "one of those Negroes who got out of step with time, because

Nixon Pleads For Peace In Broadcast To Russian People

MOSCOW — (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon made a plea for world "peace based on mutual respect" in a broadcast to the Russian people, outlining a wide program of Soviet-American cooperation and communication.

Russians were told that only "an aggressor nation" has anything to fear from America, the country with the highest living standard in the history of the world. Nixon emphasized that both Russia and the United States are so strong a war would bring disaster.

"This means that if we are to have peace, it must be based on mutual respect rather than a peace of surrender or tit-for-tat either side," Nixon declared.

LET US HEAR MORE ABOUT NEGRO OFFICIALS

When you attend a political rally as large and as lively as the one held for the Martin Luther King at the Mason Temple last Friday night, more is heard than just the great speeches of the candidates. There is seen there, in the candidacies and other dignitaries.

Among the estimated 3,000 people the parading summer, the people the parade, the informed police officers I saw on duty of the parade, the candidacies, this started me to thinking about a number I had heard. Perhaps me to discuss here and say something about them.

My experience with rumors has been that there is an element of truth in most rumors.

NOT IN UNIFORM

Now back to the Freedom Rally at Mason Temple and the two Negro officers, not in uniform.

The first rumor was that Chief of Police MacDonald dispatched the officers to the meeting to bring back a confidential report on what was said and done there. And if the chief was working on the orders of some high official.

Claude Amour name was mentioned during the meeting. As a matter of fact, Commissioner Amour's name has not been mentioned at most of the Negro political meetings, despite the fact that he would use the police department of Memphis to maintain racial segregation.

As Chief MacDonald as well as Amour surely know they could have attended the political rally to obtain first hand information about

Nigerian Insulted At Kansas City Cafeteria

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — A top Nigerian labor official touring the United States with a group of international labor leaders was told not to return to a downtown Kansas City cafeteria because of his race, it was learned July 29.

Alaka Kalejaiye, 42, secretary-general of the Nigerian Civil Service Union, said he was allowed to eat but because he had already gone through the line and purchased it but the manager told him not to return to the Forum Cafeteria.

"We feel quite bitter about this," said Kalejaiye, member, vice president of the West Bengal committee of the Indian National Trade Union Congress. "We all deeply resent the treatment of Mr. Kalejaiye and feel that the incident has spoiled our visit here."

Kalejaiye said he considers the incident "an affront to my country."

The 10 union leaders are in Kansas City this week on part of a nationwide tour of factories and industries. Five of the party are from India, and one each are from Cyprus, Korea, Finland and Argentina.

The forum manager, DeWayne E. Wilson, said the forum was allowed to enter the forum after they were questioned by an assistant manager.

"After they passed through the line we were overwhelmed with complaints from patrons - not just one or two but many, because the man resembled a colored man so strongly."

"He wasn't insulted, but we told him about the conditions here and told him he should find some place else to eat," Wilson said.

DEATH RATE NOT HIGH YET, OFFICIALS SAY

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The public health service said Friday last week was the year's worst for paralytic polio, with 177 new cases.

The report for the week ending July 25 was 177, higher than the week before. It brought to 1,123 the total number of paralytic polio cases reported in 1959. There were only 319 cases of paralytic polio during the same period of 1958.

There also have been 413 cases of non-paralytic polio and 104 unspecified cases bringing the overall total for the disease this year to 1,740.

Health officials said 56 polio deaths have been reported in 1959. They said this represents a death rate of about 3 per cent which is not considered high.

Seven states reported more than half of the new paralytic cases. These included Alabama, 29; Texas, 15; Missouri, 14; Tennessee and California, 11 each; and Arkansas and Louisiana, 10 each.

Alabama and California reports for the week were higher by five cases than the previous week. Louisiana had a three - case increase. Seven of the total new cases in California were in Los Angeles County.

Other multiple reports last week came from Virginia and North Carolina.

American Girl Says Huge Red Slapped Her

VIENNA (UPI) — An American college girl charged Saturday that a 200-pound Communist guard at the Red-cum World Youth Festival slapped her across the face for distributing leaflets on U. S. agriculture.

Anita Tanner, 20, of Van Wert, Ohio, said five other guards stood by and did nothing when "200 pounds of American man let me have it right across my face. It's been a little swollen ever since."

The girl, a festival delegate, said she would report the incident to police.

Miss Tanner, a student at Rollins College, Winter Park, Fla., formally complained to festival officials, but they refused to apologize or discipline the guard. They refused to comment to newsmen.

Nevertheless, Miss Tanner said, she would continue to pass out the leaflets entitled "a guide to agriculture in the United States."

Miss Tanner who is five feet, five inches tall and weighs 120 lbs., said she had been passing out leaflets for 15 minutes outside the festival building when the guards approached her.

She said they demanded her delegate's card and then tried to smash away the leaflets. They fell to the ground and when she bent down to pick them up, a burly guard swung and hit her. The leaflets were scattered and lost.

Miss Tanner said she had no intention of quitting the festival which has developed into a running feud between Communist and anti-Communist factions.

The slapping of Miss Tanner was one of six incidents involving American delegates and festival guards. Five other American delegates, all men, have been "roughed up" by guards. Miss Tanner's complaint is the first to be taken to the festival's public and the various delegations.

Immediate Dallas School Integration Barred By Judge

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — A federal district judge July 30 rejected a demand by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People for immediate integration of Dallas' public schools.

At the same time, the judge, 82-year-old T. Whitfield Davidson, warned the Dallas school board to "put your house in order for integration."

"It may be further and further in the future but it is ahead," he said during a 37-minute decision preceding his oral order.

The NAACP, which has been in court 11 times trying to get the public schools of Dallas integrated had demanded immediate integration and brought Thurgood Marshall, chief counsel for the NAACP, to Dallas to help with the case.

The demand for immediate integration was in a motion filed May 20. During arguments before Judge Davidson Thursday, Marshall offered to forget about immediate integration if the school board would produce an integration plan by September, 1960.

One of the school board's objections to immediate integration was a state law that cuts off the state funds of school districts that integrate without a referendum.

Dallas school officials estimated immediate integration would cost them more than two million dollars. Judge Davidson told them to start arranging for a referendum on integration next spring, probably around April.

Two Held In Fort Gordon Violence

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — Military authorities questioned two soldiers July 30 about the slaying of a janitor and wounding of a guard in a shooting at Fort Gordon Wednesday night.

The suspects, both 18, were identified by the provost marshal's office as Pvt. Richard Williams, of Chicago, and Archie Cook, of Detroit.

The shooting victims were listed as Eugene Sims, about 50 of Augusta, a retired Army sergeant who worked as a civilian janitor and Pvt. George E. Jensen, 18, a sergeant of the 1st Cavalry.

Fort Gordon spokesman said Kenney and Sims in turn investigated disturbances caused by three soldiers near a service club on the base, each was shot at close range and each managed to walk from the scene to get help.

Sims was believed to have accosted the soldiers, not knowing Kenney had already been shot; and had walked to a telephone a block away. Sims also walked for help. He died after being taken to a base hospital. Investigators found a small caliber pistol believed used in the shooting hidden under a building near the soldiers' quarters. It was identified as one Cook had bought four days before, a base spokesman said.

HOUSTON, Tex. (ANP) — Carole Reynaud, a Negro girl, has tried unsuccessfully to enroll for a summer session at a white junior high school here.

Shriners Find Giving Money Away Not Easy

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Giving away money is not always an easy task. Ask the Prince Hall Shriners, who annually give away between $25,000 to $40,000 to aid medical research in the U. S., but not without their share of problems.

Each year the 15,000-member organization has to decide upon that school, hospital, or institution to bestow their charitable sums—and each year they are faced with the same knotty decisions: how to weed out likely prospects from among hundreds of applicants.

This year, come August 14 and the 58th annual convention of the group's Imperial Council in Los Angeles, the unenviable task will be tackled by Dr. Henry Milton Ladrey, of Alexandria, Va., who is chairman of a 100-man board which will make the final decisions.

The group, officially known as the Tuberculosis and Cancer Board, has been responsible for granting upwards of $150,000 to medical research since its first grant in 1901. Last year, in Chicago, some $75,000 was voted out to be distributed among six qualifying medical groups, three of them Negro.

Qualifications to meet the T. B. & C. Board's requirements are relatively simple: an applicant need only certify that he is actively engaged in medical research and stipulate to what ends the money will be used if granted. The problem, however, usually stems from scores of applicants who disregard the all-important research requirement and appeal to the board for funds for almost everything imaginable. For example: "Dear Sir, I am a young doctor anxious to open my own office. Do you think I could qualify for a grant to help toward my office equipment?"

Dr. "Dear Sir, I have heard about your medical grants and wonder if you would consider my application for a grant to help toward my office equipment?"

Jamaica's Violence-Ridden Election Campaign Is Over

KINGSTON, Jamaica (ANP) — The violence-ridden mass election campaign, with its 93 candidates for office ended at the polls at midnight, Tuesday, July 28. It's too early yet to know the results, but the events of the past weeks will certainly tell of this as one of the most bitter and violent campaigns in Jamaica's history.

The stout contestants were warriors of the island's two major political parties — the governing Peoples National party led by Bishop Spence and the opposition party led by Norman Washington Manley, and the opposition Jamaica Labour party, headed by the 59-year-old Sir Alexander Bustamante.

Ailing Maurice Stokes Given Check For $6,246

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Cincinnati Royal basketball star Maurice Stokes, who has lain in a hospital bed almost helpless for nearly a year and a half, was presented a check for $6,246 July 28 by teammate Jack Twyman.

The money was raised by the Pittsburgh Basketball Writers Assn. by an exhibition basketball game between a group of little men against some of the giants of the court world.

Twyman made the presentation at Christ Hospital, where Stokes has been since being transferred from St. Elizabeth Hospital more than a year ago.

Houston Delays School Integration

HOUSTON, Tex. (ANP) — Carole Reynaud, a Negro girl, has tried unsuccessfully to enroll for a summer session at a white junior high school here.

A school official told reporters that the girl was not "eligible" for the courses she wanted.

Slum Clearance, Housing Code Are Challenged

ATLANTA, Ga. (SNS) — Atlanta's new housing code and slum clearance ordinance have been challenged in Superior Court by five Atlanta property owners who filed their properties as being in predominantly Negro neighborhoods.

The five property owners asked the court to declare the new housing code and slum clearance ordinance unconstitutional and they also obtained a court order temporarily restraining the city. Building Inspector William R. Workford and Slum Clearance Director Malcolm D. Jones from enforcing the ordinance's provisions against their properties.

Those who filed the petition attacking the new codes were identified as National Realty Corp., Betty Liberson, the B-X Corp., L. A. Standenbury and Ben G. Swainham. The defendants named were the city and the two officials.

"Petitioners will suffer irreparable injury and damage if defendants are permitted to illegally condemn, seize and take preliminary possession of their property without search warrants obtained as provided by law," the suit complained.

It argued that unless restrained, the city would take these properties and impose excessive fines on the owners.

The petitioners said they own properties located in Atlanta which come under the complained-of ordinances. Addresses of the properties were listed as 608 Primrose St., S. E.; 873 Third St., N. W.; 594 Ami St., S. E. and 363 Parkway Dr., N. E.

Rep. Powell Rests Comfortably In Naval Hospital

WASHINGTON, D. C. (ANP) — Mrs. Maxine Dargans, secretary to Representative Adam Clayton Powell, New York Democrat, said Friday that the Congressman was "resting comfortably" at the Bethesda Naval Hospital.

Mr. Powell was rushed to the hospital Thursday after he collapsed in his office and an emergency appendectomy was performed on him. He had planned to enter the hospital for surgery this week after the House acted on labor reform legislation.

Mr. Powell was recently given a physical examination at the hospital and was urged to enter the hospital for surgery, including the removal of an inflamed appendix, but he decided to rest off the operation until the House voted on labor reform legislation.

Man Executed After Missing Chair 5 Times

OSHING, N. Y. (ANP) — Leroy Keith, 52, who was first condemned to death in 1954, died July 23 in the electric chair at Sing Sing Prison. Keith was originally condemned to die for the fatal shooting of a steelworker Fred Griest, 52, of Warren, Ohio, but was a new trial.

In 1957, Keith was sentenced to death for killing David Suro, 49, a Bronx taxi driver. All of his previous dates with death were nullified by stays or reprieves. After years of litigation and imprisonment, Keith was paroled in 1966. Five months later, he killed Suro.

Stokes' paralysis was first diagnosed as a form of Borelli's sleeping sickness. But doctors now believe it was caused by a "very hard bang on the head" received in a game at Minneapolis on the last day of the season in 1958.

Twyman who was appointed Stokes' legal guardian, said there was every hope for the ailing cage star to regain full control of his muscular body.

"But, it's so damn slow," Twyman said. "He undergoes physical therapy about seven or eight hours a day now."

"Recently, we've tried to put a little more meaning into it for him. We bought him an electric typewriter so he can answer some of the people who have written him."

"Stokes has licked his mental problems completely and now he's got to beat the physical illness," Twyman said.

This was the second conviction received by Stokes since he has been ill. Earlier the NBA staged a benefit game for him at the Cincinnati garden which netted more than 10 thousand dollars. In addition more than two thousand dollars has been received in other group, the Veterans of World War I of U. S. A. also opposed the bill, but they argued that it did not provide a high enough pension.

One Of 4 May Escape 'Scare' Death Charge

DALTON, Ga. (UPI) — Charges may be lifted against one of four white youths accused of accidentally killing an 11-year-old Negro here last month.

Court officials said the trial of Billy Joe Eakin, 17, on an involuntary manslaughter charge has been postponed to the fall term of court sessions Sept. 11, but observers said the charge may be dropped.

Eakin claims he accompanied the other white youths to a Negro high school here June 11, but said he did not know a feud was in progress.

The other three boys said they were threatened by the group when they drove into the yard where the shooting was being held. They said they left and returned with a shotgun to "scare" the people.

One defendant, Herschel Eugene Simms, was found guilty last week but the jury reduced the charge to a misdemeanor. Whitfield County Superior Judge J. L. Davis will sentence Ekins Tuesday.

The charge carries a maximum sentence of a year in work camp, six months in jail and a $1,000 fine.

Kermit Pichett Jr., 18, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to a year in prison. Leroy Gentry also received a year's sentence.

Family Has More Problems Due To Technology, Minister Says

GREENSBORO, N. C. — Technological changes are making things tough for the American family, a Methodist minister from the industrial city of Greensboro, N. C., declared here at Bennett College last week.

Dr. J. Edward Carothers, pastor of Greensboro's First Methodist Church, was speaking to some 150 Methodist women from all over the world who for the past ten days have been attending a quadrennial seminar on Christian social relations. The seminar ended on Friday.

"It would be foolish to say that the long-range fruits of technology has led the family with social and economic violence which is literally terrifying in its threats and promises," he said.

16 ARRESTED IN RAID OF FAIR ST. VET CLUB

ATLANTA, Ga. (SNS) — Sixteen men were arrested and three got away Saturday morning as Atlanta police gained entrance to a Southside Atlanta veterans club and broke up an early morning gambling session, police said.

Franklin R. G. Cantrell and R. E. Martin said they called all 16 of the apprehended men and charged them with disorderly conduct-gambling shortly after the morning raid on the Fair Street club.

Cantrell and Martin said they gained entrance to the club building and caught the sixteen arrested and three others who escaped capture, gambling in an upstairs room.

The identities of the three escaped men were not immediately known to police. Officers said, however, the arrested men were identified by the raiders as:

Frank Thompson, alias "Buddy Gloss," 30, of 174 Burbank S.W.; John Davidson, 23, of 631 Thurmond St., S.W.; Benjamin Fickling, 24, of 482 Gray St., S.W.; Emanuel At-

Bishop Nichols Surrenders, Case Set For September 18

PHILADELPHIA (ANP) — Bishop D. Ward Nichols, indicted on charges of embezzling $170,000 in church funds, has surrendered to authorities. His case will be heard Sept. 18.

Bishop Nichols, former head of the First Episcopal District of the African Methodist Episcopal church had been sought since last July on the embezzling charges.

In company of his attorney, Samuel Dash, Bishop Nichols surrendered to Judge Joseph Sloan of common pleas court 7, who released the minister pending the September 18 hearing.

Nichols' attorney sought to quash the indictments last January on grounds that Bishop Nichols was entitled to a preliminary hearing which was never held. Dash also maintained that Bishop Nichols was not a fugitive because he had made no attempt to hide the fact that he was living in New York City since he allegedly embezzled the church funds. Therefore, said Dash, the indictments were unconstitutional.

AVC Only Veterans Group To Condemn Revised Pension Plan

WASHINGTON — Among a horde of veterans organizations testifying on July 29 before the Senate Finance Committee, the American Veterans Committee was the only one in opposition to the revised veterans' pension bill on the grounds that it was a giveaway. One other group, the Veterans of World War I of U. S. A. also opposed the bill, but they argued that it did not provide a high enough pension.

New Order For Prop-Jet Planes

NEW YORK CITY — As a further step in its program designed to effect a drastic reduction in air cargo rates to Europe, to Africa, the Middle East, to South America, and to the Orient, Pan American World Airways has ordered 12 special long-range Lockheed 307 prop-jet airliners at a cost, including spares, of 60 million dollars. Juan T. Trippe, president has announced.

The new 115-ton Cargo aircraft will be powered by four General Motors-built Allison prop-jet engines each at 6,000 horsepower. With continued development support by the government for the engine, as well as development support for the airplane, deliveries are scheduled for early 1962.

POSSIBLE RISE IN JOBS

Unemployment rose in June because of the influx of job-hunting college and high school students into the labor market, according to government sources.

But a moderate rise in employment is anticipated, also, because of expanding job opportunities in agriculture, building, and other outdoor occupations.

MR. AND MRS. HOWARD CHANDLER'S NEW HOME STRIKES FANCY OF MANY FRIENDS

Despite the heat and the strong sun rays ... Many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Chandler saw their beautiful imposing South Parkway East Home that is set off by a winding drive-way ... During the house warming ...

The home has the undisturbed look with contemporary furnishings and the Oriental touch ... but it was a bit cluttered Sunday between 5 and 7 when scores of their friends dropped in for a peep. The living room, den and dining room all oyster white) were eye catching tile floors in the bar, attraction was the straight line of rooms ... the dining, living, den and bar all in one straight line across the front of the home ... making a high spot for entertaining. The bar room with its tropical and Oriental trend, commands the eye upon entry with its Bamboe draperies that compliment the basket-weave and Rattan furniture ... and bar ... Camp For Crippled Children This Week

Crippled boys and girls "will live amid rustic beauty and a natural setting in brown wooded cabins and receive all the benefits of healthful living plus the wonderful new friendships and experiences that they will never forget" this week at T. O. Fuller State Park.

Campers, volunteer counselors and cabin leaders through cooperative planning are making possible the operation of Camp Easter Seal, Memphis' finest residential camp, for approximately 50 handicapped boys and girls. A staff of volunteer counselors and aides will be on 24-hour duty to insure that every child participates actively in the full routine of camp activity. The thrill of participating in many sports and activities will provide a growth of self-confidence, greater self-esteem and improved morale.

The assignments of these volunteers will be far more demanding in time, resourcefulness and energy than that of the average camp counselor. A lot of hard work will be required in lifting and carrying, and performing the duties of nursemaid, teacher and companion. But they have volunteered to do so with gentleness and genuine affection and will find it a satisfying kind of tiredness when the day is done and feel that they have really accomplished something worthwhile.

Those who were among the first to volunteer are: Mrs. Loretha Crutcher, Mrs. Myrtle Fisher, Mrs. Delores Alexander, art and crafts; Mrs. Lela Larry, Miss Georgia Walker, Mrs. Cosetta Henock, music and folk dancing; Miss Kay Baker, Miss Juliette Briscoe, swimming and water sports; Mrs. Thelma Welch, Miss Mary Ann Julian, games and story telling. Junior counselors are Theodora Harris, Daniel Brown, June Deadman, Mentha Turner and Mrs. Annette Williams, Mrs. Elizabeth Ware, Mrs. Dorothy Thomas, cabin leaders.

The "Great Hall" will provide kitchen, dining area and adequate indoor-recreation facilities for inclement weather, under the supervision of Mrs. Edna Williams and Mrs. Fulliam.

For those who need special medication or nursing care, Camp Easter Seal will be able to meet these requirements with a nurse from the staff of Wellington Clinic.

Other members of the staff will be Rev. J. A. McDaniel, camp director; Mrs. Phillip Booth, camp coordinator; Mr. William Fowkes, chief counselor, and Mr. Leon Griffin, conservationist.

LOS ANGELES --(UPI)--A high school teacher faces the possible loss of his credentials because he conducted a "Little Kinsey" survey among his teenage students.

Cecil M. Cook, 33, a science and math teacher at Van Nuys High School, faced some of the students at a full-house hearing before the state Department of Vocational and Professional Standards.

The department is considering revoking his license.

The board was told of the survey by 17-year-old Patricia Mather, who was among 30 students, aged from 15 to 17, who answered the questions in Cook's physiology class.

Cook has been on leave since the disclosure of the survey.

Students said Cook asked them to make check marks on whether they had "never, once, or more than once, indulged in kissing, light peeing," and other intimacies.

Mrs. Mather said at the hearing the teacher asked the questions orally and then tabulated the pupil's unsigned answers on a blackboard.

"King was 100 per cent," she recalled at the hearing. There were some snickers, some of the kids started laughing.

Violators Would Face $5,000 Fine And Prison Term

WASHINGTON -- (UPI)--The House Judiciary Committee broadened its civil rights bill Thursday to crack down on "hate bombings" stemming from labor disputes as well as racial and religious intolerance.

The change was proposed by a Southern Rep. J. Carlton Loser (D., Tenn.), and accepted overwhelmingly at a closed-door committee meeting. Both Northern and Southern members backed the proposal, which would bring the FBI into such cases.

The administration had recommended making it a federal crime to flee across state lines to escape prosecution for bombing buildings or vehicles used for religious or educational purposes.

The Loser amendment broadened this to include any building or vehicle. That would cover, among other things, labor union offices, businesses and government buildings and private homes.

Violators would be subject to five years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

The President proposed federal action against "hate bombings" after explosives wrecked synagogues in Florida and Georgia and a school in Clinton, Tenn.

The anti-bombing provision also would make it a federal offense to cross state lines to avoid testimony about such incidents.

Thursday's action left only two parts of the pending civil rights bill to be settled. Chairman Emanuel Celler (D., N.Y.) predicted both would be approved next Tuesday.

It would authorize the government to provide schooling for children of military personnel when local public schools are closed to avoid integration. It would permit the government to use schools built in the future with federal aid if they are subsequently closed.

INCLUDES STATE AID

The bill's final provision provides federal aid to states and localities to help them develop desegregation programs.

Already approved were provisions which would:

- Make it a federal crime to forcibly block court school desegregation orders.
- Extend the life of the Civil Rights Commission for two more years.
- Permit federal inspection of election records involving contests for the Senate and House and the presidency.

The committee has rejected these proposals:

- To permit the attorney general to seek injunctions to prevent civil rights violations. Such suits now may be filed only by individuals.
- To set up a permanent commission on eliminating racial discrimination in work under government contract.

Play On Ideological Use Of Press Premiered At Mackinac

MACKINAC ISLAND, Michigan, July 30, 1959 -- A play by an Atlanta newspaperman showing news as an ideological weapon was given a standing ovation by 800 delegates from 39 nations today at the Summit Strategy Conference for Moral Re-Armament.

Al Kuestner, United Press International Bureau Chief of Atlanta, said that the play is meant to carry out on the stage Dr. Frank Buchman's vision that the press become the heralds of a new world order. Dr. Buchman is the initiator of MRA.

In three acts in one hour and ten minutes the drama shows how the press of the world has been infiltrated and how news is used by Communism as an ideological weapon.

It is the story of a news man duped by agents who feed him news which raises false issues and creates division all in the name of freedom of the press.

It exposes a clear strategy to use rumor and false information to inflame racial feeling and foment race war. It exposes the use of communist misdeeds and character assassination which leads to the suicide of a U. S. Senator involved in the secret White House investigation of subversive activities which lie behind Caribbean unrest.

"We need to give the whole truth and that includes the news of an answer. We must raise up incorruptible men in the press of America. America must become the highhouse of hope in the world. We must have an alertness to evil wherever it is and action to do something about it."

Kuestner told the assembly that until he and his wife met this "fighting ideology of Moral Re-Armament," they were hopeless about the kind of world their child was growing up in.

To Seek Unity Between Judaism And Christianity

JERUSALEM, Israel Sector -- (UPI)--Rabbi Earl Appibbaum, of New York, said Friday he planned to urge Pope John XXIII to strive for unity between Christianity and the mother religion of Judaism.

Rabbi Appibbaum, making an eight-week tour of Israel and Europe, said he was scheduled to be received in private audience by the Pontiff after his arrival in Rome early in August.

The rabbi and his wife, Helen, Flushing, said he was interested in promoting wider cooperation between the Christian and Jewish faiths.

"I received in private audience by the Pope early in August, I will use the opportunity to urge him to use his best endeavors to seek unity between the world's greatest church and its mother religion," he said.

REAL ESTATE DIGEST

By JESSE L. WILLIAMS

Brokers and salesmen, in writing your advertising you cannot see the reader but you can sense him. You know the kind of person that is your prospect. You don't know where he is, but you do know your best chance to meet him is on the Classified Pages of your local paper.

Keep it simple. Everybody will understand it. A buyer can have "the price" without being a master of English. He is more at home with words in everyday use.

You do not use a canned sales talk. It varies not only with the property but with the prospect to whom you are talking.

Classified advertising is no financial burden, for you can deduct a small percentage of each commission you make and set this aside for future advertising. Throughout this country buyers are accustomed to turning to what they call "want ads" in search of places for rent and for sale. In spite of many "for sale" signs, buyers scan the classified ads.

In classified ads you reach the prospective buyers, and most of all of them. Classified ads are the easiest to change. If the present ad isn't drawing, if the owner suddenly de-

SOUTHERN COFFEE PUNCH FOR GAY SUMMER PARTIES—In true southern tradition, the brimming punch bowl has long been a symbol of hospitality and gracious entertaining. It reigns in the center of the buffet on all occasions . . . on graduation day, at the family wedding or the church benefit . . . and, as in early times, the festive bowl draws guests together in one large congenial circle.

The most popular punch to be served in cities like Savannah or Blox or Tallahassee is Southern Coffee Punch, a cool and creamy beverage that's perfectly suited to elegant summer entertaining. The secret of its rich flavor lies in its coffee-and-cream simplicity. Along with the deep-flavored coffee, there are ingredients like milk, whipped cream and vanilla ice cream, each lending a special creamy quality of its own.

Everyone, including the youngsters, will come back for seconds, thirds and even fourths! When it comes to partying most of us seem to be southerners at heart. After all, who can resist a spirited gathering, to say nothing of superlative refreshments? If you'd like to achieve both this summer, just give a punch-bowl party for a family reunion, a mid-summer meeting or even a lawn party for the neighbors. With a few Japanese lanterns, some delicious cookies to nibble and your Southern Coffee Punch, your party will be the most elegant, the most talked-about affair of the season.

SOUTHERN COFFEE PUNCH
2 quarts strong cold coffee
1 pint cold milk
2 teaspoons vanilla
1-2 cup sugar
1 quart vanilla ice cream
1-2 pint heavy cream, whipped
Nutmeg

Combine cold coffee, milk, vanilla and sugar in large bowl. Stir until sugar is dissolved. Chill thoroughly. At serving time, pour over ice cream in punch bowl and top with whipped cream. Sprinkle lightly with nutmeg. Makes 15 to 18 punch cup servings.

Build Modern Bathroom Vanity

Large bathrooms give the home handyman an opportunity to build a smart vanity for the female members of his family. Situated along one side of a vanity removes some of the traffic from the lavatory area. A mirror and roomy storage units make the vanity a convenient and restful place for the "girls" in the family.

The vanity can be given a distinctive appearance if the lumber framework is covered with plastic-surfaced Marlite paneling in a marble pattern. The rich-looking paneling, which is available in six marble patterns at lumber yards, accents the vanity and gives the bathroom a "new look." Practical as well as beautiful, Marlite has a permanent plastic surface that can be damp-wiped clean. A sudsy cloth is all that's needed to remove lipstick, cosmetics or lotions from plastic-surfaced hardboard.

DESIGN COLORFUL PRACTICAL PLAYROOM
One of the easiest ways for homemakers to keep order is to designate one room as the children's play area, and keep their toys in this room at all times. The play room may be an unused bedroom, an old nursery or a section of the recreation room. Children enjoy colorful rooms, and by using large 4'x8' panels of Marlite in alternating colors to cover the walls, a bright and interesting decor can be established.

The paneling has a baked melamine plastic surface, which is highly resistant to hard wear. Crayon and scuff marks will not mar the permanent surface, which can be cleaned with a sudsy cloth. Expensive redecorating is eliminated with Marlite because it never needs refinishing.

DISPLAY OBJECTS ON BEDROOM WALL
A home handyman can increase the display and storage potential of a bedroom by installing a panel of Marlite Peg-Board on the wall. This perforated paneling makes a clever accent area because it can be obtained at lumber yards in plain colors, woodgrains or marble patterns.

Special hooks are available to hang decorative objects, while shelves can be positioned in the perforations to display clock, knick-knacks or hobby work. A clock radio is another bedroom accessory that can be put on the display wall. Children's art work and messages can be clipped on the board. The permanent plastic surface on the Marlite paneling protects the decorative surface against hard wear. Damp-wiping keeps it clean.

USE PLANTER AS 'EYE-CATCHER'
An easy way to increase the visual interest in a living, dining or recreation room is to build a planter along one wall and cover it with plastic-surfaced Marlite in a handsome woodgrain or marble pattern. The washable paneling makes the planter an extremely

Women Saluted At Annual Conclave

By ALICE A. DUNNIGAN
NEW YORK — (AP) — The NAACP this year paid a special tribute to its women members during the 50th annual convention recently held in New York's Coliseum.

The first came in the form of a "Salute to the Women" luncheon held at Park Sheraton hotel, and the other affair was a reception for all women delegates, sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wilkins at Hotel Governor Clinton, in honor of Mrs. Marguerite Belafonte. The two affairs were in addition to the "NAACP Honor Guard" luncheon held in Essex House in honor of life members, of which women played a prominent role.

HONOR LORRAINE HANSBERRY
At the luncheon, an award was made to Miss Lorraine Hansberry, author of "Raisin in the Sun," currently playing on Broadway. In her absence, the citation was received by Miss Ruby Dee, who plays a leading role in the play.

A certificate of merit was also presented to Mrs. Lillie M. Jackson, Baltimore, in "recognition of her long years of dedication to the cause of human liberty," "in admiration of her sacrificial devotion to the Christian principles of universal brotherhood," and "in grateful acknowledgement of her priceless contributions to the work of the NAACP."

Mrs. Jackson, a member of the national board, is widely known as a "courageous leader and tireless fighter for freedom."
DAISY LAMPKINS PRESIDES
The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Daisy E. Lampkins, Pittsburgh, also a member of the national board.

practical addition to any room that needs a "face lifting." Storage compartments can be included in the planter's wooden framework for miscellaneous items. Use leftover scraps of smooth-surfaced Marlite to line the interior. Plastic-surfaced hardboard, which is available at lumber yards, can be cut with a fine-tooth saw held at a low angle. Sand the edges and corners for a professional-looking installation.

Summer Snowfall in the Everglades

The summer ducks near Everglades City, Florida are filled with "snow." It's the snow-white, graceful flocks of White Ibises spiraling downward to their evening roosts on the National Audubon Society's Duck Back Refuge at sunset.
A true wonder of nature, this spectacular sight has been duplicated for centuries, as thousands of birds follow their mysterious instincts to the tiny island.
But the White Ibises are only part of the dazzling airborne display. Joining them are flocks of Common and Snowy Egrets, Great and Louisiana Herons, Pelicans, Cormorants and Roseate Spoonbills adding a riot of color and motion to the fading light.
Further north, at Corkscrew Swamp Sanctuary another

A nurse can find a job almost anywhere, at any time. There are not enough nurses to meet present needs — and the need grows as the population increases.

Moreover, the nurse has the satisfaction of knowing that her work restores the health of individuals and conserves the health resources of the nation.

Nursing occupations range all the way from nursing aide, for which no special preparation is required, to the "collegiate nurse" who is a college graduate as well as a registered nurse.

Earnings and opportunities for advancement are naturally better for women with the best preparation.

If you are 16 years of age or over and are attracted toward nursing as an occupation you might try a summer job or a part-time job in a hospital as nursing aide or ward maid.

'HOUSEMANSHIP' ON INCREASE
Housemanship—the art of solving or preventing human problems with proper planning and materials in the home—is rapidly gaining happy converts, according to the Title Council of America, which is supporting the idea. One source of human contention, for example, is the rough use that an active family inflicts upon areas like kitchen floors, entranceways, and other rooms, usually resulting in scars, dents and almost constant cleaning and polishing. The expert houseman (or housewoman) avoids the extra work and, at the same time, allows the bustling family to continue its house-torturing activity by installing ceramic tile floors. Result: one more victory for the art of housemanship and one less source of conflict in the home.

EASY ON THE SNEEZES
Allergy sufferers have a special interest in some of the main features of ceramic tile walls and floors, according to the Title Council of America. Ceramic tile's ease of cleaning goes a long way toward holding dust content in the air to a minimum. This is, of course a desirable condition in any home—and particularly so where a member of the family has especially uncomfortable reactions to dust.

Summer Plentiful

During the next 6 weeks many produce items take top billing on the plentiful foods list. There'll be a near-record crop of fresh plums for pie, jelly, canning or just eating out of hand. Fresh peaches in many states will be in both good supply and top quality. Lemons, limes, melons, and summer vegetables are treats which will be good buys also.

How To Buy Cantaloupes

Don't just punch the end of a cantaloupe to see if it is soft because someone may have done that ahead of you. Ripe cantaloupes have a slightly sunken, smooth, well-calloused scar at the stem end. The netting on the rind should be well raised, coarse, dry and greyish in color. The background between the netting should be light in color. So be your own judge, and always serve ripe melons.

Here is one of my favorite recipes for the delicious cucumber-shaped green squash called zucchini.

Chinese Zucchini Squash

1 pound zucchini squash (or other summer squash)
1/2 cup bacon drippings
1 small onion, thinly sliced
1 clove garlic
1/4 cup water
2 tablespoons soy sauce
Wash and thinly slice zucchini. Do not peel. Heat bacon drippings, add remaining ingredients, except soy sauce. (Put a toothpick thru the garlic so it can be easily removed.) Cover, cook until almost tender, about 10 minutes. Discard garlic. Sprinkle soy sauce over squash. Cook, uncovered, 5 minutes longer. DO NOT ADD SALT. Makes 4 servings.

THE COMFORTING JESUS

Text: "Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be fearful." (John 14:27). "I am the way." (John 14:6).

All people are hungry for comfort. The establishment of the Lord's Supper in the Upper Room was followed by the Savior's last mortal discourse with His Disciples. The preservation of these priceless words is the chief glory of the Gospel according to John. Here was the dying message of Jesus to His chosen Disciples, the last message they would receive from His human lips. Speaking in a whisper, He gave His Disciples His final mortal charge: "Let not your heart be troubled." No doubt there was a lump in His throat, a hitch in His voice.

It was only a few hours from Gethsemane, twelve hours from Calvary. At that candlelit table in the Upper Room Jesus sat with them. Sallow-faced Judas had slouched through the door, Judas who had carried the bag; he was the traitor; that is how Jesus trusted him.

Luke tells us that in that candlelit Upper Room the Disciples of Jesus Christ had quarreled as to who should be the greatest. We can see them, like sulky school boys through their Lord and Master was just a dozen hours from Calvary, God's heart break.

Jesus is the way to our Father's house, the home of the soul, a real place, beautiful beyond compare. And today in our troubled hours Jesus is the way to comfort. Jesus is the way to power. Jesus is the way to a prepared heaven. Jesus was all this and more to His Disciples when they could see only danger and disaster ahead. As Jesus was to them in the Upper Room there, He is to us today.

Sometimes we are deep in the mire, we wring our hands and wail. Remember, there is never a situation however complex from which Jesus the Christ cannot find the way out. Sometimes we are puzzled we don't know what to do; we don't know which way to turn. Jesus comes to us and says: "I am the way," and indeed He will make a way out for us if we will only look, listen and obey. Then and only then we know which way to turn.

Morehouse Grad Does Outstanding Job In His Native Nigeria, Africa

ATLANTA, Ga.—(SNS)—Joseph N. Okut, a recent graduate of Morehouse College, is currently engaged in a very important post in teaching in his native Nigeria and is residing at 22 Isaza Road, Surulere, Yba, Nigeria. Okut came to Morehouse under the sponsorship of the Rotary Educational Foundation of Atlanta, in which Kendall Weisler, former chairman of the Morehouse Board of Trustees and a retired vice president of the Southern Bell Telephone Company, was a "directing light."

Desiring ardently to serve his people, Okut took home with him on his return to his country a kerosene incubator and all the seed corn he could carry, according to Mr. Weisler. In a recent letter received from Mr. Okut, he writes:

I am at present employed by the Federal Government of Nigeria to teach mathematics in the Emergency Science School. It is a desperate effort by the Nigerian Government to train students in science and engineering so that these students may take the place of English boys who will be leaving the country when Nigeria attains independence in 1960.

"The other day I put in my resignation from this appointment in order to take a more lucrative position in industry. I received a stern letter from the Prime Minister's Office saying that that Office would view my resignation as an act of sabotage. So important is the scheme that most Nigerians look at the school as a salvation from a sudden loss of trained personnel from the country."

Mr. Okut goes on to point out the importance of the training which his fellow countrymen have received in the U. S. A., and especially at Morehouse College. Of the twelve Nigerians whose education in the U. S. A. has been sponsored by the Rotarians, seven were trained at Morehouse. They are Akin A. Akiwo, now studying for the Ph. D. at Boston University; Michael B. Olatunji, now studying for an advanced degree at New York University; Joseph N. Okut, (M. A., Boston University), teaching in Nigeria; Andrew C. Ezenwa, (M. A., Columbia University), with United Nations; Victor B. Kotun, (M. A., Columbia University), currently working for return passage to Nigeria; Rotibi Katihi, now studying for the M. A. degree at Columbia University. Other recipients of Rotarian scholarships have attended or are attending Teachers College in New York, St. Joseph's College, the University of Kansas, Clark College, and the University of Pittsburgh.

Savannah Youth Is Found Alive In Grand Canyon

GRAND CANYON, Ariz.—(UPI)—A 16-year-old Savannah, Ga., boy, lost since Saturday in the wild and scorching hot Grand Canyon, was found alive Friday after a last-ditch flight by an Army helicopter.

John Manson Owens III, shirtless, shoeless and dead-tired, was taken off a sandbar in a dusty, drama-filled rescue and was flown to Grand Canyon Community Hospital, where attendants said he was all right.

"The boy walked into the hospital unassisted following the short drive from the helicopter's landing spot, the high school football field.

He had sustained himself on Colorado River water and cactus juice.

Two companions had been found dead and hope had waned for the Owens boy.

BOY ON SAND BAR
Park ranger Dan Davis sighted the youth on a sand bar during a low flight by the copter. The boy told them he had been there two days after floating 8 1/2 miles downstream on tree trunks. But he was spilled off in rapids and nearly drowned, so decided to stick it out on the sand bar, Lehnert reported.

Lehnert said pilots Clifford P. Bradley and Louis Gosselin, both chief warrant officers from Fort Huachuca in southern Arizona, could not put the craft down on the sand bar because of the dust and sand it raised.

So they hovered over the boy while Davis jumped six feet to the ground. Davis pushed Owens into the craft with the help of other crewmen, then was pulled in himself.

"He was really glad to see us," Davis reported.

Owens had used rocks to build an "H," for help, on the sand. Davis said they had flown over the same spot a little earlier at a higher altitude, but that he wanted to give the area a low pass before calling it a day.

RIVER 30 FEET DEEP
The Colorado River is 30 feet deep in spots near the sand bar and the canyon's walls begin to climb steeply.

The body of Walter J. Mahany Jr., 16, of Savannah, was found Sunday. The body of Father Eugene Gavigan, 30, also of Savannah, was found Monday, apparently victim of a fall. The boy apparently was an exposure victim, although Lehnert said he was told Mahany had a heart ailment. This is the story Owens told Davis:

The boys and the Priest motored to Desert View and made camp. On July 24, they hiked north into Tanner Canyon in search of a silver mine the priest had visited when he was a boy of 15.

THREE GET LOST
They never found the mine and got lost that night trying to return to camp. They had not taken shirts and shoes with them and had only a little water and food.

On Saturday, they yelled for help. These cries precipitated a search that day. Father Gavigan, in an effort to find a way down the Box Canyon toward the river, slipped off a steep trail.

The boys saw him fall but could not help him and never found him.

They abandoned the trail the priest had slipped from and found their way to the Colorado. But they could not agree on what to do when they got there.

Mahany elected to go up river, Owens downstream toward Grand Canyon village.

The eleventh school in Agency Development was conducted at the district office of the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company, 571 Vance Avenue, last week.

It was a retraining program advocated by the Agency Department for all field personnel in its recognition for the need of keeping abreast of the changing trends in the highly competitive profession of life insurance.

Principal Denies Charge Of Shoplifting From Store

ATLANTA, Ga.—(SNS)—A Fulton County elementary school principal resigned her post following a fine in Municipal Court, but denied she had taken items, not paid for, from a downtown store.

The principal on July 30 submitted her written resignation from the school system to County School Superintendent Paul D. West, two days after she received a fine in Municipal Court on a disorderly conduct charge.

Supt. West Thursday indicated he would accept the written resignation of Mrs. Sariene Christopher, 42, of 249 Linkwood Rd., N. W., who earlier in the week had pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct charges that came as a result of a downtown store official's insistence that she had shoplifted several items from his store.

Mrs. Christopher in a telephone interview Thursday afternoon, denied that she had shoplifted any object from the store. She declared that she was merely a "victim of circumstances."

Breaking down the term "victim of circumstances" Mrs. Christopher said she was accused of taking items in Woolworth's on Broad street that she had actually purchased at another store, but did not have a sales ticket to show for her purchases.

She was specifically accused of taking a quantity of powder, several undershirts and a bottle of pills. Mrs. Christopher, under questioning, denied taking the merchandise and instead insisted that they were purchased at another store earlier in her shopping tour.

Mrs. Christopher said the mix-up may have come because since she incurred a broken arm, recently, she is in the habit of consolidating all of my packages into one bundle and some times the sales slips get misplaced.

She indicated that the items she was accused of taking were bought at another store but consolidated in one package, but that the sales slips for the purchases may have been misplaced.

She also explained that while she was at the store, amid the "excitement" of the charges against her, she was told to and agreed to sign a statement by store personnel. "And at the present time I cannot remember what the apparently incriminating statement said," Mrs. Christopher added.

Mrs. Christopher said the store representative indicated that if she signed the paper charges would be dropped, but "he got nasty after I signed it."

Mrs. Christopher, principal of the Stonevale Elementary School, was commanded by City Court Judge James Webb to pay a $53 fine on blanket charges of disorderly conduct. She pleaded guilty to the disorderly conduct charges, she said, but vehemently denied that she attempted to shoplift store merchandise as store officials had charged. The arrest and conviction took place in a single day.

School Supt. West called Mrs. Christopher to his office for a conference and it was at that meeting that the principal offered to submit her resignation from the Fulton school system, and West agreed to accept her written resignation.

Ford Foundation Makes Grant For Juvenile Delinquent Experiment

NEW YORK.—An experiment in treating serious juvenile delinquents without sending them away from home has received a grant of $182,000 from the Ford Foundation. Selected youthful offenders in Provo, Utah, instead of being sentenced to institutions, continue to live at home and go to school. For two hours daily, five days a week, they meet as a group in rehabilitation sessions. These are designed to change a delinquent's standards and his attitudes in the company of others like him.

The Foundation grant was made to Brigham Young University for research on the effectiveness in this approach and to continue the experiment for six years. The program was originated in 1956 by Juvenile Court Judge Monroe J. Paxman, of Provo. (Further details on Page 3.)

The research provided by the Foundation grant will include a comparison of the subsequent conduct of youths who participate in the program and those who undergo traditional probation or correction procedures. The project will be directed by Lamar T. Empey, associate professor of sociology.

The Foundation announced other new grants in its Youth Development program totaling $439,850. They are:

COUNCIL ON SOCIAL WORK EDUCATION—$149,000 grant for social-work training of correctional personnel. The work of many persons dealing with young offenders includes social-work practices. The Council will use the Foundation grant to guide schools of social work in providing training for those lacking it and to develop reading and other teaching materials for staff consultant and establish an advisory committee representing, correctional institutions, probation and parole-officer groups, and educational institutions. The Council will also seek to stimulate social-work training of probation and parole personnel through exchange of information and through research.

NEW YORK SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WORK—$25,000 grant for the preparation of written guides to new approaches in the institutional treatment of juvenile delinquents. Since 1957, with the aid of an earlier grant from the Foundation, the school has been conducting an intensive study of correctional institutions for youths. Although the final report has not yet been published, the findings to date are said to throw substantial doubt on many current correctional-institutional practices. The series of guides constitute a special effort to make the basic-research findings available quickly and widely as prescriptions for action. A week-long workshop of 20 authorities in the field will also be held.

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA—$11,600 grant, for the 1959 juvenile offenders institute. The Foundation helped support similar summer institutes in 1958 and 1959 for police officers who deal with youth problems.

TUFTS UNIVERSITY—$4,250 grant, for publication and distribution of a short version of the report on a one-year study, financed by an earlier Foundation grant, of experiments in high-school programs in citizenship education.

THE WHITE HOUSE CONFERENCE ON CHILDREN AND YOUTH—$125,000 grant, for partial support of the program of the 1960 Conference. The program will serve as a national forum and clearinghouse for information on children and youth and will include the collection and publication of material on state and community efforts in this field since the 1959 Conference. The Foundation allocated up to another $125,000 to

Natchez Trace Area To Be Open For Deer Hunting This Fall

The Natchez Trace Wildlife Management Area, near Lexington, Tenn., will be open for deer hunting for the first time, when hunters will be held there this fall, according to Bill Sade, area manager for the State Game and Fish Commission.

Four two-day hunts with no limit to the number of hunters will be held, with the first hunt on November 9-10 and then hunts on the 13-14, 16-17 and 20-21. Hunters will be allowed to take only one buck with visible antlers.

Hunters must check in and out of the area through the checking station, which will be located at Park Headquarters. All participants must have an area permit ($3 if a resident of Tennessee and $5 if a non-resident); and a $5 Big Game Stamp, attached to license.

The $3 permit is good for the two days hunt, however, if a deer is killed the first day the permit becomes void, or on the other hand if at the end of two days the hunter has failed to kill his deer, he may participate in the next two-

A 57,000 Vote Powerhouse of Political Strength

Sixteen days remain before the municipal election which will be held on August 20. There are approximately 57,000 Negroes registered to vote in this election — one-third of Memphis' registered voters. This political powerhouse holds the balance of power in virtually all of the races. Negroes can literally put into office who they want and keep out who they don't want.

August

August. Comes the season of the beginning of the harvest feast; the summer wanes far and the world is turning toward the sunset of the year. The lazy tides come in to cool the scorching beach and the withered corn tops shrug their shoulders as if to say — the "strife is over."

"Happy Hawaii Here You Come"

Yes, Hawaii becomes the fiftieth star in the old Star Spangled Banner, which proudly waves over the islands in the seas. Hawaii is a melting pot state; its varied nationalities, the Chinese, the Japanese, and other colored peoples, should make it an interesting state in this union.

Looking From The Civil Rights Horizon

It is being felt by now that the President made a wholesome contribution when he failed to ask for injunctive powers in certain Civil Rights areas. He left unwritten regulations for the time being for the implementing of some of the principles he has advocated in this Civil Rights question.

Manley Wins In Jamaica Voting

KINGSTON, Jamaica — (NNP) — Norman Manley, whose People's National party was returned to power with a comfortable 11-seat majority in the election Tuesday, now has the task of forming the first Government under the new internal self-government constitution of Jamaica.

an attempt to free them. The disturbances so startled the British government in London that it sent out a special commission to investigate. That group, called the Devlin commission, recently issued a report absolving Dr. Banda of complicity in the riots and severely criticized the Nyasaland government for using informers who were to say what officials wanted them to say.

School Principal (Continued from Page One) the fact that he has little respect for his race." It was reported that sometime prior to the civic club meeting, Washburn invited all of the Negro candidates to an equal opportunity as the meeting. Immediately before the meeting he is reported to have notified all of the Negro candidates that the meeting had been cancelled.

However, Rev. Henry C. Bunton, candidate for Board of Education, and Eliehue Stanback, candidate for City Tax Assessor, said they failed to receive information that the meeting had been cancelled, so they appeared.

Walker said Washburn praised Loeb as a "man of decision" while introducing him. However, it was Walker's questions to Loeb which caused tempers to burst into flame.

Walker said he asked Loeb, "What has happened between you and Negroes here since you were elected commissioner nearly four years ago? Negroes voted for you before, but you will not get any Negro votes this time because you have advocated racial hate."

Walker said when he asked Loeb about his statements concerning acquiring land near the Penal Farm from the Enslay Bottoms to build housing for Negroes, Loeb reportedly said he didn't see anything wrong with it.

George W. Lee, chairman of the steering committee for the Volunteer Ticket, said at the Thursday meeting where Washburn was censured, "Let us concentrate on platforms. Let us counterattack any statement made about the Negro candidates. Let us hit the issues hard."

Lee continued, "We've got to clear up this campaign point. Rev. Bunton and Rev. Love did not choose to oppose Mrs. Lawrence Coe and Mrs. Arthur N. Seessell, but they haven't said one word about school integration."

He also revealed that "Negro public school teachers are receiving letters in an attempt to apply pressure on the Premier, who has made no secret of his desire to visit the United States. That is not a question of principle—that is, the type of plane to be used."

U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson replied with another toast: "This is a conversion of a military plane to civilian use. I'd like to propose a toast to the time when we can convert all military planes to civilian use."

When slipping his drink for the toast, the Premier quipped "The Americans spoil a good product; there is more ice than whiskey here."
