Segregationists Fail To Halt Opening Of Schools

By PRESTON MCGRAW
United Press International
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — (UPI) — Firemen with high-pressure hoses and police with swinging nightsticks broke up a threatening anti-integration demonstration at Central High School Wednesday. Negroes integrated both Central and Hall high schools.
Police bloodied the heads of two white men with nightsticks, cracked another across the ribs so sharply that he wept and threw a total of 24 persons, including four women and girls, into jail.
Three—Herb Blount, 16; James Tipton, 16, and Raymond Mantess, 18—had nine tear gas bombs in their automobile. City police turned them over to state police because they were arrested at the state Capitol.
An estimated 1,000 persons were in the crowd at Central High School. Perhaps 500 were in a threatening knot that pressed against police lines. The others milled about in the general area.
HELD ON OPEN CHARGE
The two men hit on their heads were Dossie Ruple of Jacksonville, Ark., and Calvin Parish of Little Rock. They and seven others were held on an open charge. Twelve were booked on charges of loitering and their bond set at $15.00 each.
Three Negro girls — Effie Jones, Elsie Robinson and Estelle Thompson — integrated Hall High without a sign of trouble. They went home without being molested when Hall High closed at noon.
Jefferson Thomas and Elizabeth Eckford, who first attended Central in 1957 under the protection of paratroopers, integrated Central again.
"One of the children told me that there was nothing out of the ordinary," Mrs. L. C. Bates, head of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in Little Rock, said.
BOARD VISITED SCHOOL
Members of the school board, who ordered Central and Hall integrated under a pupil placement law, visited both schools while classes were in progress.
"Everything is going according to plan," Ted Lamb, a member of the board, said.
"The kids in the halls are not even talking about the early opening of the schools. They are saying to each other, 'What do you do this summer?'"
"They seem to be eager to get back after being out of school a year. It is most routine in the school rooms."

Tension High In Klondyke Section After "Beatings"

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Tension was high in the Klondyke section of N. Memphis Wednesday night after two policemen allegedly beat a 56-year-old woman, struck her husband, slapped and kicked several other young women and men, near 888 Annie Place.

A crowd of nearly 200 persons gathered and witnessed the Negro attack. A number of witnesses told the Memphis World.

Arrested was Lee Cash and his wife Sadie, of 875 Annie; and Mrs. Evelyn Jones, of 871 Annie. They were charged with assault and battery and interfering with an officer. Several others were being sought.

The two officers involved were identified as patrolmen W. E. Pierini and F. K. Henry, who claimed that a mob rushed them while they were trying to make an arrest. However, a reporter said that one of the officers triggered the tension when he slapped a young man for having a piece of A. C. Russell Sugarman's campaign literature.

He said: "The young man was standing in the vacant lot, where the melee took place when an officer said to him, what are you doing with this literature, as he snatched it from the youth's pocket and slapped him at the same time."

BROTHER SLAPPED
Mrs. Jones said it was her brother who was slapped and she said, "please don't hit him; he hasn't done anything."

At that point she claimed: "A policeman struck me down on the ground and kicked me in the breast several times." She explained that several persons in the crowd asked the policemen not to beat innocent bystanders.

Mrs. and Mrs. Lee Cash said they had gone to the scene to see "about their children." Mrs. Cash was struck with the butt of a pistol several times. Eight stitches were required to close the hole in her head. She was taken to John Gaston Hospital. Mr. Cash, a teacher in the city system, is the brother of Harry Cash, principal of Hamilton High School.

TENSION BECOMES HIGH

The police reportedly were first called to the scene by Arlanders Colburn, of 888 Annie, "concerning children playing ball next to his house." After the crowd's tension became high because of the "wholesale attack on innocent bystanders," the Colburns fled from their home, according to witnesses.

The two officers called for reinforcements after the crowd started to prevent them from "beating innocent people," it was declared.

Mrs. Cash, after she and her husband were released under bond, had to be put to bed, suffering from shock.

A number of ministers, civic organizations, individuals and other groups, have called the meetings concerning alleged "police brutality," which is becoming widespread in Negro neighborhoods.

Crippled Children Have Big Time At Fuller Park

The physically and mentally handicapped children of Memphis just completed a week of camping activities at Fuller State Park in the Boy Scout area.

Camping was provided by the Easter Seal Campaign Society. Mrs. Alma Booth, camp coordinator, reported an enrollment of about thirty-eight children. Over twenty young adults volunteered their services as staff workers and counselors.

The children departed by bus from the Memphis Urban League Sunday, August 2, at 1:00 p. m. Each day the children engaged in a wide variety of outdoor activities and culminated the day with an evening program of something very special.

SQUARE DANCING
Mrs. Lorene Osborn and Mrs. Mrs. Loretta Crutcher came out and taught the children square dancing on Wednesday. Mrs. Mildred Riley of Pet Milk served as hostess and provided the refreshments. On Thursday evening Mrs. Myrtle Fisher and Miss Eunice Carruthers sponsored a talent show. On that evening Mrs. Lola Mae Rowland of Carnation Milk Company and Sealtest provided the refreshments. The children displayed their talents and best skills and were awarded for their performances. Prize winners were Eddie Allen and Donald Williams, 1st prize for a duet; 2nd prize, Samuel Ware for a solo; 3rd prize, Margaret Jordan for an original song; 4th prize, Diane Thomas and Lottie Marie Gill for their version of the stroll; 5th prize, Charles Sims and Margaret Jordan for their version of the Cha-Cha; and 6th prize to Samuel Ware, Sam Rupert and Stanley Branch for a trio.

NEW GAMES AND DANCES
On Friday, Mrs. Agnes Gibson and Mrs. Cozetta Hence came out and taught the children some new games and dances, and they were served through the courtesy of W.D.A.

Mrs. Therese Williams gave invaluable assistance in helping to plan the camping programs throughout the entire week.

Saturday afternoon the children returned home somewhat reluctantly but definitely radiant and showing evidence of a wholesome and healthful week of plenty of sunshine and fresh air.

Rev. J. A. McDaniels was camp director.

Large Crowd Expected To Hear Daisy Bates

SHE IS HERE FOR VOLUNTEER TICKET

Mrs. Daisy Bates, the celebrated civil rights leader of Little Rock, Ark., is in Memphis to address the Freedom Banquet tonight (Friday) at Club Ebony, 500 Beale. The banquet is scheduled to start at 8:00 o'clock.

Tickets to the banquet are selling at $10 a plate and proceeds will help pay campaign expenses of the Volunteer candidates — Sugarman, Hooks, Bunton and Love.

Mrs. Bates was scheduled to arrive at the Municipal Airport at 4:12 Friday afternoon. A motorcade organized by the Youth Committee was due to meet her and accompany her to Volunteer Headquarters at 390 Beale.

Mrs. Bates, who is busy filling speaking engagements and sparking the school integration crusade in Little Rock, is a dynamic speaker and one that should be heard by all Memphians, according to Lieut. George W. Lee, chairman of the Volunteer Committee.

She will be introduced to the banquet audience by Mrs. A. W.

Willis and the four candidates will be introduced by Atty. A. W. Willis. Lieut. Lee will give the purpose of the campaign. Memphians who have given time and energy to the campaign will be given recognition at the banquet.

More than 4,000 tickets to the banquet have been printed, and C. C. Sawyer, banquet chairman, says he thinks most of them will be sold.

Another Endorsement Of Political Candidates

One of the most difficult tasks to perform is to endorse candidates for public office who will misrepresent the truth. They will tell the "Big Lie" while taking the oath of office . . . that is "to uphold the law of the land and the United States Constitution and recognize the U. S. Supreme Court as the highest court in the land." Yet these same candidates are campaigning on a platform of racial segregation.

We owe this explanation to you — our readers — before we recommend that you vote for certain candidates. The day is not too far distant when we will be able to endorse candidates without reservation — without adding "the lesser of the evils."

Nevertheless, we feel that we are compelled to give guidance to our readers in selecting the candidates whom we hope will be elected on August 20.

Therefore we recommend that you vote for: PARTEE FLEMING for Mayor. JAMES "JIMMY" MOORE for Commissioner of Finance and Institutions.

RAY CHURCHILL for Judge of City Court (Division 2). JUDGE WILLIAM B. INGRAM, JR. (incumbent), Judge of City Court (Division 3).

Last weekend we endorsed — without reservation — the "Volunteer Ticket," which is as follows: ATTY. RUSSELL B. SUGARMON for Public Works Commissioner.

ATTY. BEN L. HOOKS for Judge of Juvenile Court. REV. HENRY C. BUNTON, member of Board of Education. REV. ROY E. LOVE, member of Board of Education.

Church Group Endorses 10 Candidates Monday

CANDIDATES IN 3 POSITIONS WERE NOT ENDORSED BY GROUP

The Interdenominational Church Movement . . . organized since the political campaign got underway . . . went on record Monday as endorsing the same political candidates as did the Leadership Council several weeks ago.

The endorsement was revealed during a meeting at Mt. Olive CME church on Linden Ave. Endorsed were:

For Mayor: Partee Fleming. Commissioner of Public Works: Atty. Russell B. Sugarman, Jr. Commissioner of Finance and Institutions: James (Jimmy) W. Moore. Commissioner of Public Service: John T. (Buddy) Dwyer (incumbent). Juvenile Court Judge: Atty. Ben L. Hooks.

Board of Education: (Position 2) Rev. Roy Love. Board of Education: (Position 3) Rev. Henry Clay Bunton. Judge of City Court (Division 2) Ray Churchill.

Judge of City Court (Division 3) William B. Ingram, Jr. (incumbent). City Tax Assessor: Elihu Stantback.

Several positions in the campaign have not been narrowed down to an endorsement by either of the above organizations. They are: NOT ENDORSED Commissioner of Fire and Police and Vice Mayor for which incumbent Claude A. Armour and John O'Neill Bomer, Jr. are competing.

Board of Education (Position 1) where incumbent John T. Shea is

The program, which will feature civic leaders and music, as well as the candidates, will be on the air Wednesday night, Aug. 19, from 10 to 10:55.

being challenged by George M. Anglin. Board of Education (Position 4) in which incumbent Julian B. Emdurant is being opposed by Lloyd Burgen.

All candidates present were given a brief period in which to address the group. Present were Atty. Sugarman, Atty. Hooks, Rev. Love, Rev. Bunton, Stantback, Joe E. Bomer, who is seeking to be elected Commissioner of Fire and Police; and Dixon Gaines, Jr., seeking a position on the Board of Education.

CANDIDATES SPEAK
Sugarman said "I think we are going to have a city (Memphis) we can be proud of after Aug. 23, the election date. It is a city with great potential. I want to be elected." (Continued On Page Eight)

Taliaferro Endorsed By Binghampton Civic League

The Binghampton Civic League has endorsed Lewis Taliaferro in his bid to unseat John T. (Buddy) Dwyer as commissioner of public service.

O. Z. Evers, president of the League, said he thought it "unthinkable that any self-respecting Negro could endorse a former member of the Citizens for Progress organization and the White Citizens Council like John T. Dwyer."

Evers said that Dwyer ran under the Citizens for Progress banner for election in the 1955 municipal election. "He ran with that crowd which came out with the slogan, 'Keep Memphis and Shelby County Down in Dixie.' I don't see how any Negro could vote for him and now any Negro group could endorse him, and he (Dwyer) is not going to get any votes out here in this neighborhood."

ORGANIZED IN 1956

A check was made at the office of former Mayor Walter Chandler; former chairman of the old Citizens for Progress group, to find out exactly when was the CP group organized. Former Mayor Chandler was out of town, but his son, Atty. Wyeth Chandler, said the CPs were not in operation in 1955.

"The Citizens for Progress group was not formed until 1956," said Atty. Chandler, who was elected to the State Legislature with the group's support in that year. "It is no longer in operation."

Following is the Binghampton League's statement endorsing Taliaferro:

DWYER ENDORSEMENT "UNTHINKABLE"

"After careful thought, consideration and investigation of records of the city of Memphis to endorse a commissioner of public service, the Binghampton Civic League has unanimously decided to endorse Lewis Taliaferro for this position. The League feels that it would be completely unthinkable to endorse Commissioner John T. Dwyer for

The Interdenominational Church Movement, which has been very active in the campaign of the candidates on the "Volunteer Ticket," revealed Monday plans for an early morning prayer-meeting at various churches throughout the city on Election Day, August 20.

Plans call for voters in various wards to meet at the nearest church to their home or the polling place to participate in the prayer-meeting and then have breakfast at the church before proceeding to vote.

The starting time of the city-wide prayer meeting has been set at 7 a. m. Among the churches which have agreed to participate are: Columbus Baptist Church, 324 Decatur Street; First Baptist Church, 3011 Mt. Olive Street; Featherstone C.M.E. Mrs. Walker Criticized For Endorsing Candidate

MRS. WILLA McWILLIAMS WALKER SAYS SHE "WILL NOT VOTE FOR UNQUALIFIED POLITICAL CANDIDATE"

The political campaign, from all apparent evidence, took on added emphasis this week among Negro voters, candidates, campaigners, office-makers and well wishers.

The adage "politics bring about strange bedmates" is no less true than "politics create divisions." A "strange division" was manifested last week when the Leadership Council and the Interdenominational Church Movement mildly criticized Mrs. Willa McWilliams Walker for her endorsement of Mrs. Lawrence Coe for Position 2 on the Board of Education, a position that is also being sought by Rev. Henry C. Bunton.

The criticism leveled at Mrs. Walker was to the effect that she is advocating a split among the Negroes on the "Volunteer Ticket," under which Atty. Russell B. Sugarman, Atty. Ben L. Hooks, Rev. Bunton and Rev. Roy Love are running.

Mrs. Walker denied the charge in a written statement to the Memphis World. In the statement she said: WHO DARES "I feel that my actions need no defense, but in order to get my point across" I will offer an explanation. She added "it seems that some ministers dared to criticize my stand. That is their privilege. Because for years I have criticized their do-nothing attitude, and in the last city election their desertion of their candidate for the Overton money."

However, Mrs. Walker did reveal that she is strongly supporting the candidacy of Atty. Sugarman and Atty. Hooks. Rev. Love was not mentioned.

The Leadership Council and the Interdenominational Church Movement has avowed to "bury" all (Continued On Page Eight)

BE SURE TO VOTE IN THE AUG. 20 ELECTION

YOU ASKED IT

By GRACE WILLIAMS

Dear Grace: My little girl was broken out with a skin rash. I carried her to the doctor and he said that she was not getting enough Vitamin A in her diet. He gave her some vitamins and now she is much better. I would like to know the foods that contain Vitamin A because I would not like for this to happen again.

Mrs. M. H. Vitamin A is often referred to as the "skin smooth" and "soft." When nature was distributing vitamin A it favored liver—calf, beef, cod liver oil, and eggs. Sources of vitamin A. Serve it a least once a week. Green leafy vegetables have a generous amount of this element. Carrots, sweet potatoes and other yellow vegetables such as carrots, winter squash and pumpkin are good sources of the "Skin Vitamin."

Egg yolk, butter, milk and cheese should be included in the diet daily to increase the consumption of vitamin A. Dear Grace: Why do home frozen peaches turn dark? Last year I froze five pints of peaches, but several months later when we started to eat them they had turned dark. How can this be prevented?

Mrs. G. R. To prevent peaches from darkening slice them directly into cold syrup to which powdered ascorbic acid has been added. The recommended amount is one-half teaspoon powdered ascorbic acid to each four cups of syrup. Ascorbic acid may be purchased at drug stores and some freezer locker plants.

Dear Grace: I went out to dinner recently and was served the prettiest red beets. When I cook beets they seem to lose their color and are more pink than red. I'd like some pointers on cooking beets.

Mrs. B. C. In preparing beets remember that the pigments which give the color are soluble in water. To help beets hold their color, cook them in their skins and with two inches of the stem in water to cover. Cook beets covered. Hard water may cause the beets color to fade, but you can save it by putting a little acid in the water. Use vinegar or cream of tartar. Or bring back the red after the beets are cooked by serving them a sauce containing vinegar.

Dear Grace: I am entertaining some friends with a luncheon. I plan to serve cold plates. Should I serve rolls or crackers with this meal? What kind of beverage should I serve hot or cold?

Mrs. G. S. There is one rule for menu planning that states, "a hot food should be served with every meal." If you are serving cold plates this hot food may either be the bread or beverage or both. I personally would prefer a hot bread with butter and a cold beverage.

Ghana Journalist Wants Group Accepted First-Class Citizens

WASHINGTON — (ANP) — After completing a two-month tour of America, M. Therson-Coffie, editor of the Ghana Daily Graphic and Sunday Mirror, discovered that color is a problem. But said he, "I would appeal to the United States Government to do more to make the living conditions of the colored people better."

He felt that if the Government is accepting the colored people as citizens, it should accept them as "first-class citizens." They should not be classified as "second-class citizens on the basis of their color."

While in Washington on the last of his visit before returning to Ghana by way of London, the prominent journalist, who is also the president of the Ghana Press Club, was entertained Wednesday at the home of Robert O. Monahan, Press Attache of the Ghana Embassy, and Mrs. Mensah.

Coffie was invited by the Department of State to visit this country on a Leaders' Grant. During his stay he visited N. Y., Chicago, Detroit, Columbia, Mo., San Francisco and Los Angeles.

He also visited Hawaii and was there during the first election after being admitted into the Union as the 50th State. While in California he visited Hollywood to get an idea of the film industry in this country. He also visited Disneyland to see how Walt Disney operates.

Being a journalist, Coffie said he asked to see some of the American newspapers. As a result he visited The New York Times, The Daily News, The New York Age, The Pittsburgh Courier and Johnson Publications. He also dined with Claude A. Barnett, Director of The Associated Negro Press.

In Washington he attended a Presidential Press Conference, visited the Senate and House of Representatives, and several courts including Municipal, Domestic and Juvenile courts.

He said he was impressed with the country as a whole. There are all kinds of people here of all nationalities, he added. "It is one big experiment of what we would have the United Nations to be."

Puerto Rican Youth Found Chained To Wall

COMPTON, Calif. — (UPI) — A ragged 13-year-old Puerto Rican boy was kept in a juvenile home Sunday after police arrested his father for chaining the youth to a wall in their shack home to keep him from running away.

The father, Antonio Martinez, 37, admitted he kept his son, Ignacio, chained down to keep him at home. Martinez said he locked the boy up when he went out to look for work.

Martinez was booked on suspicion of cruel and inhuman treatment to a child. Police said neighbors reported seeing the boy dragging the chain from his left ankle on previous occasions. Young Ignacio told them he often broke loose and walked around the neighborhood in search of food, returning before he expected his father back in the house.

Saturday night, however, the six-foot chain was firmly attached to the wall with nails. The boy, shoeless and wearing old levis and a cowboy shirt, had been chained for about six hours before officers went to the house on a tip and freed him.

The father told authorities he had not worked for about two years. He and the boy scraped along on what he made on odd jobs and offerings of neighbors. The small stucco house, in a poor neighborhood, had no water or gas, only electricity. The father and son cooked food in an old can, lighting a fire in the back room.

Police said the boy's two sisters, both in ill health, had been placed in foster homes. Martinez' wife remained in Puerto Rico. Two weeks ago, police said, Ignacio ran away and was taken in by a woman who cared for him. But Saturday the father found him and brought him home.

He said he chained him to the wall to make sure he didn't leave again," a police official said.

Treasury Dept. Not To Use Racial Slurs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Treasury officials have been instructed not to make any statements that could be interpreted as "indicating" people because of race, religion or national origin, Sen. Hugh Scott (R., Pa.) said Wednesday.

Scott said he received such assurances from Treasury Undersecretary Fred C. Scribner in reply to a letter from himself and Sen. Kenneth B. Keating R-N.Y. expressing concern over recent events they said had "influenced public opinion against Americans of Italian origin."

Scribner said in a letter, released by Scott's office, that "no public statements by employees and agents of the Treasury Department have come to my attention which could be interpreted as blanket indictments of people because of race, religion or national origin."

But he said the senators' letter, which also went to Attorney General William P. Rogers, had been passed along to Treasury supervisory personnel to make certain that no such statements were made. Scott and Keating had referred to arrests made in connection with the meeting of underworld bigwigs in November, 1957, at Apalachin, N. Y.

They asked the agencies for an opinion on whether a nationwide organization composed of criminals of any one national origin does exist. If not, they said, the fact should be publicized. Scribner said he agreed with the attorney general that there is no nationwide ring consisting solely of criminals of any particular national origin. But he added that "some of our enforcement people do feel that a vicious interstate crime organization does exist."

Swinging Gun At Lizard, Youth Killed. HOLLYWOOD, Fla. — (UPI) — James F. Bludworth, 15, was killed when a shot-gun accidentally went off in his face on a hunting trip near here. A companion said young Bludworth saw a lizard and began to chase it, swinging at it with the butt end of his loaded shotgun. The gun fired, striking the boy in the face and killing him instantly.

Major Breakthrough In Epileptic Hiring Seen. CHICAGO — A major breakthrough for the cause of epilepsy — publication of a policy of hiring epileptics by the Nation's largest employer, the Federal Government — will be announced in the quarterly newspaper of the National Epilepsy League, HORIZON, this week.

In a communication of the National Epilepsy League, Dr. Eugene R. Chapin, medical director of the United States Civil Service Commission, stated that the "Commission feels epileptics are employable, provided their seizures are adequately controlled and their placements are selective."

Pointing out that a history of epilepsy, in itself, will not preclude an individual from working for the government, the pamphlet states each case is investigated by the adequately controlled and if the duties of the position can be performed without hazard to himself or others.

The National Epilepsy League estimates there are 1,500,000 Americans with this neurological disorder, "and the new policy of the United States Civil Service Commission, which may reasonably be expected to win adherents from among major industrial employers, therefore has sweeping and nationwide importance."

WITNESS IN PROBE OF RECENT TITLE FIGHT NOW IN HAVANA. NEW YORK — (UPI) — One witness in the Ingemar Johansson-Floyd Patterson promotion investigation has fled to Havana, Dist. Atty. Frank Hogan disclosed Sunday night.

He said Gilbert Lee Beckley, described as a professional gambler, da to bring Beckley back to New York but they discovered that he had flown to Havana Thursday night.

Beckley was wanted for questioning about an affidavit — report that he had introduced promoter Bill Rosensohn to an "unknown" man who early this year introduced Rosensohn to another "unknown" man who bought interests in Rosensohn Enterprises, Inc.

Hogan explained that he and the grand jury were investigating the alleged Beckley — maneuvered purchase, if proved, it is a violation of the state law applying to professional boxing, which forbids the use of "fronts."

Moreover, the activities between Rosensohn's meeting with Beckley and the two unidentified men interest the grand jury from the angles of possible perjury, coercion, conspiracy and extortion, the district attorney said. Hogan said it will be impossible to extradite Beckley from Cuba as a witness; he could be extradited only if charged and arrested for a crime.

"Beckley has a reputation as a professional gambler in the St. Louis and Cincinnati areas," Hogan said. "He is identified with the international underworld. He has a police record dating since 1933, mostly for gambling-but no convictions." Last week Asst. Dist. Atty. James J. Fitzpatrick and detective John Desmond went to Florida to bring Beckley back to New York but they discovered that he had flown to Havana Thursday night. Other investigations into promotional activities surrounding the June Johansson - Patterson fight are being made by the New York state attorney general's office and by the state Athletic Commission. Rosensohn is reportedly vacationing at Cannes, France.

PROF. HUNT HONORS SUCCESSORS

Faculty Members Are Presented To New Principal And His Assistant

A lavish "Green and Gold" terna party was given in the beautiful back garden at Blain T. Hunt's Hastings Street residence on Wednesday of last week when the recently retired principal presented the Booker Washington faculty to Prof. Jesse Springer, Washington's new principal and Mr. Hunt's successor and to Joseph Westbrook, newly named assistant principal.

The picturesque back was spectacular with its spot lights, hurricane lamps and the satin gold and green (Washington's colors) ribbon tied on the lamps and individual tables. Individual card tables formed a large circle around the back garden where teachers sat (several with their husbands). Mr. Springer, his wife, Mrs. Springer and their daughter sat in the center of the circle... Back of Mr. Springer's table was Mr. and Mrs. Westbrook and three of his children.

Mr. Hunt was truly host of the evening... He moved around in the crowd... greeting and chatting with each guest. The buffet table was decorated with giant lights and pink and green candles... and the pink and green ribbons. Assisting in receiving was Miss Harry Mae Simon, another city school principal.

In his humble but eloquent tones Mr. Hunt presented both Mr. Springer and Mr. Westbrook who spoke to the family group. Comments were also extended to three retired teachers present, Miss Lucy E. Campbell, Miss Anna J. Polk and Mrs. Sylvia Owens. A telegram, sent by Miss Rosa Robinson who is teaching summer school at Florida A. and M. College, expressed her desire to attend party... and a beautifully written letter came from James King (faculty member who is in Washington, D. C.) who said that he was with the faculty in heart and spirit and regretted that he was unable to attend.

Among the faculty members attending the Mexican party were: Mrs. Lula Polk, Mrs. Hattie Stewart, "Nai" Williams, Miss Dora Todd, Mrs. Ruby Jackson, William Hunt, Mrs. O'Neal C. Holley and her husband, the Rev. O. C. Holley; Mrs. Thelma Harris, Mrs. Arveta Gunn, Mrs. Bernyce Harris, Mrs. Martha Galoway, Miss Thelma Green, William Fowlkes, Daniel Durr and James Boone.

DR. AND MRS. R. Q. VENSON (the Chairman of the Board of the National Dental Convention) will be among the first to leave Memphis for Cincinnati where they will attend the National Convention this week. The Vensons have a suite (next to the President's suite) at the Sheraton-Gibson Hotel.

The school, a Girl's School known as a tutoring school is sponsored by Catholic University of America and the Univ. of Iowa. Dropping by the Johnsons, we found Lynda (a girl, grade student) excited over getting away to school... and her pretty little baby brother, Keith, celebrating his 1st birthday. The adorable little fellow was having the best time with his few young neighbors who dropped in with gifts for him. Mrs. Johnson will go to Clinton with Lynda.

DR. HUGH GLOSTER, native Memphian and internationally known educator and his bride of approximately 2 years, were in Memphis this week. Dr. Gloster and his attractive Mrs. Gloster were the house guests of ATTY. A. A. LATTING (with Mrs. Lating still away on their summer home). The Glosters spent much time with Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Gibson, also old and attended Fisk University at Nashville and was graduated from Howard University where she was a member of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority. She received the masters degree from the University of Southern California... and has received an appointment to teach mathematics in a Junior High School in Oakland. Miss Weaver is the granddaughter of Mr. Lee James and the late Mrs. James of 619 McLemore, Memphis and the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Perkins on South Lauderdale.

Dr. Treadwell, who is an easterner, received his early training in the east... and received the Ph. D. degree this summer from Cornell U. He is employed as a Physical Ed instructor in a high school in Oakland.

MRS. MARTHA JEAN STEINBERG (Gather) was hostess on Tuesday evening at a dinner that complimented two BVM Sisters (who were formerly at St. Augustine) SISTER MARY CERUBINA, B. V. M. (a graduate from St. Augustine High and the first Negro to become a member of the BVM Order) and SISTER MARY GABRIELLA, B. V. M. who taught at St. Augustine when Sister Mary Thomas and Father Bertrand served as principals approximately 16 years ago. Sister Mary Cerubina, who was the former Miss Margaret Coleman, made her final (penitential) vows as a nun dedicated to God's service this summer. Both sisters stayed at the convent, but spent much time with Sister Mary Cerubina's grandmother and an uncle and aunt, Mrs. Lola Sumnerville who came up from Shelby, Miss. and Mrs. Luke Wright of 662 Fads. Sister Gabriella teaches in "Our Lady of Peace High School in St. Paul, Minnesota. Among Catholics who had dinner with Mrs. Steinberg and the Sisters were Mrs. Joyce Jean Pinkston, Mrs. Beatrice White, Mrs. Joan Cox, Mrs. Florence Jones (Mrs. Steinberg's mother who arrived here from the West Coast two weeks ago for a visit) and "Your Columnist". Assisting Mrs. Steinberg was Walter Johnson, a 1958 Father Bertrand graduate who is now attending Der Vry School of Electronics in Chicago.

On Wednesday evening "Your Columnist" and Mrs. Steinberg drove the Sisters to the station... always a sad time to see them leave... yet the evening is always a wonderful one with the peace and harmony that exists around them.

Judge McCain Endorsed By Social Workers Organization

'JIMMY' MOORE COMMENDED BY GROUP FOR INTEREST

The Memphis Chapter of the National Association of Social Workers in a news release, endorsed incumbent Judge Elizabeth McCain for Commissioner of Finance and Institutions, for "his forthright concern and his particular interest in social work goals."

Reasons given for endorsing the candidacy of Judge McCain were given as: "Many of the social agencies in Memphis must necessarily work closely with the Juvenile Court. For this reason it is felt that we are in a good position to know the needs of the court, and in position to evaluate objectively this person's qualifications. Therefore, it is with a sense of responsibility to the community that we make known publicly our endorsement of Judge McCain."

The municipal Juvenile Court, John Gaston Hospital, and the Park and Recreation Commission, are three agencies under the Commissioner of Finance and Institutions which are vitally important to the social welfare of our community. The services rendered by these agencies directly concern social work. We feel that these services could be and very definitely should be improved. It is an important part of our professional responsibility in social work to work toward such improvement when it will benefit the citizens of the community whom we are dedicated to serve.

"No candidate for Commissioner of Finance and Institutions has asked specifically for an open endorsement by our organization, the Memphis Chapter of the National Association of Social Workers. However, for perhaps the first time in Memphis history, a candidate for court position has been recommended by social workers. Further, the fact that three Methodist ministers, and 78 new members for the Methodist Youth Fellowship. More than a hundred youth and adults participated in the consecration and commitment service conducted by Dr. Clarence T. R. Nelson, superintendent of the Columbus District, after Dr. Lester's sermon on "This Is Your Life."

Illegal for Employer To Prevent Employees From Voting In Election

RUMORED THAT A SCHEME TO PREVENT NEGRO EMPLOYEES FROM VOTING

Rumors were circulating around town last week to the effect that a number of employers of Negroes have devised a plan to prevent a goodly number of Negroes from voting in the Aug. 20 election by asking them to work overtime.

According to the rumor, which received lengthy discussion at a meeting of the Interdenominational Church Movement, Mon. some white employers will request Negro workers to report for work before the polling places open at 8:30 a. m. on election day and then ask them to work overtime, until after the polling places close at 7:30 p. m.

A local attorney, whom the organization invited to the meeting, said that under the Election Laws for the State of Tennessee, provision is made for employees to leave their jobs for the purpose of voting "if the regular working hours of their job require them to be present three hours before the polls open or three hours after the polls close." He added "however, if any employer finds it necessary to leave his job in order to vote before the polls close, he should file a request with his employer at least 24 hours before election day. It is illegal for employers to deduct wages for the time the employee is absent."

The attorney read the election laws which stated: "Election Laws for the State of Tennessee: Annotation 2-108. Any person entitled to vote in a state, county or municipal election held within the state, or who is entitled to vote in any primary election held to select candidates for office in any state, county or municipal election held within the state, shall on the day of such election or primary be entitled to absent himself or herself from any service or employment in which he or she is then engaged for a reasonable period of time not to exceed three hours necessary to vote, between the time of opening and closing of the polls, and such vote shall not, because of so absenting himself be liable to any penalty, provided, that application shall have been made for such an absence at least 24 hours prior to the day of election or primary and provided, that the employer may specify the hours during which employees may absent himself and provided further, that if the hour of duty of such employee commences three hours or more before the opening of the polls or ends three hours or more after the closing of the polls, some off for voting as provided for in 2-108, 2, 109 shall not apply."

2-109-Misdemeanor for Employer to Refuse Request for Voting Time. Any deduction authorized for Failure to Vote. Any person firm or corporation who shall refuse to an employee the privilege hereby conferred, or who shall subject an employee to a penalty or reduction of wages therefore, or who shall directly or indirectly violate the provisions of 2-103, 2-109 shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Provided further, that any employee who avails himself or herself of the rights herein granted and shall, for any reason, fail to vote in such election, and fails to make report of such fact to his or her employer and fails to accept proper deduction from his or her pay because of absence from work, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Provided further, that any employee who avails himself or herself of the rights herein granted and shall, for any reason, fail to vote in such election, and fails to make report of such fact to his or her employer and fails to accept proper deduction from his or her pay because of absence from work, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Delaware Bombing Hit By Wilkins

NEW YORK — NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins this week urged Delaware Gov. Caleb Boggs to "use the full power of your office," in bringing to justice those responsible for bombing a Negro home in a white community near Wilmington.

Mr. Wilkins' wire referred to the "high velocity" type explosion that completely destroyed the Collins Park home of Mr. and Mrs. George Rayfield the day before.

"We urge the State of Delaware," Mr. Wilkins asserted, "to offer a reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the guilty parties. The state cannot afford through inaction to condone this cowardly crime."

AID TO FAMILY
In the meantime, Rev. Dr. J. L. Morgan, president of the Wilmington NAACP branch, offered the Association's services to the Rayfield family.
Dr. Morgan also told the local community that violence will not change anybody. "The Negro ghetto is crumbling and Negroes who leave it must live somewhere," he said.

The use of violence by bigots seeking to intimidate Negroes exercising or seeking to exercise their rights will not work, Dr. Morgan said. Such tactics have been used in the past and the Negro is still here, he concluded.

This marked the second time the Rayfield home was bombed after they moved into the predominantly white Collins Park community. The first was in February.

The home was repaired previously by a volunteer contractor with money and material solicited by the NAACP.

Sunday School Lesson

GOD'S STEADFAST LOVE
International Sunday School Lesson, for August 16, 1959.
MEMORY SELECTION: "The steadfast love of the Lord never ceases, his mercies never come to an end."
—(Lamentations 3:22)

agony of the Hebrew people. Thus, the Book of Lamentations serves us in at least two ways: (a) in providing moving expressions of the sorrow and agony which is a part of human experience; and (b) in revealing the inadequacy of a philosophy of life which does not give enough attention to the redemptive work of God in the experience of suffering and loss. The Book of Lamentations is a prelude to, rather than a completed expression of, a Christian approach to life's more difficult experiences.

The question with which we are dealing today is: "How can we be sure of God's steadfast love?" In approaching this important question, it is well to recognize that we all experience "trials of the spirit." In other words, no one is always on the mountaintop of certainty and joy. We will all have times of doubt and discouragement. There are the "dark nights of the soul." We all, being human, have passing feelings of insecurity. In weariness and loneliness we may experience emotions which cannot be trusted to tell us the final truth

Today's lesson is the third in this unit, the purpose of which is to help adults seek and find in their daily lives the meaning of values that are eternal.

For the biblical background of today's lesson, we turn to the Book of Lamentations. Five poems constitute the book. All of the poems lament the destruction of Jerusalem and its aftermath. In the third poem we find an acknowledgment of sin, together with a appeal for vengeance upon the persecutors. It is in this section of the book that we find the clearest statement of hope. Even in the midst of suffering comes the assurance of God's love. The book, in short, is a collection of moving expressions of the

Phelps-Stokes Fund Sends Patterson, Lanier Overseas

NEW YORK — (ANP) — The Phelps-Stokes fund, continuing its 41 years of interest in African educational affairs, has dispatched two of its top representatives to Africa on special study projects that will be launched in two independent West African countries this month.

The inquiries, relating to the contribution of education to economic development and types of foreign assistances required are being made in the Republics of Liberia and Guinea.

To Liberia last week went Dr. F. D. Patterson, president, Phelps-Stokes fund, and president emeritus, Tuskegee institute, in the role of educational consultant at the invitation of the Liberian government. He will be in the country for a month and will make recommendations about the future role of Booker T. Washington institute, Kaka'a, as a source of skilled manpower needed in the agricultural and industrial development of the country.

The institute was founded in 1929 with the assistance of the Phelps-Stokes fund and is now operated by the Liberian government as a vocational training center. Its present program has been enlarged through funds and personnel supplied by the International Cooperation Administration.

GUINEA STUDY

Dr. Ralph O'Hara Lanier, Phelps-Stokes project director, former U. S. minister to Liberia and formerly president, Texas Southern university, is in Conakry, Guinea, to inquire into types of foreign personnel the new nation may require in its educational and economic programs.

His six-week visit will include discussions with educators, government officials and representatives of international organizations and private companies.

Another phase of Dr. Lanier's trip will be visits to other African countries and Europe, seeking information about foreign service opportunities for American Negroes.

This portion will be underwritten by the Rockefeller foundation under a $70,000 grant to the Phelps-Stokes fund to continue for three years a special project of identification and placement of Negro talent.

Accompanying Dr. Lanier to Guinea will be George Broadfield, II, economic analyst, New York, and George de Menil, Houston, Texas, sophomore at Harvard university, who will serve as interpreter.

Liberia Unmoved By French Threats Over Algerians

WASHINGTON, D. C.—President William V. S. Tubman of Liberia said Monday that the Liberian Government and people are unmoved by French threats to break diplomatic relations with a country that recognizes the Algerian Provisional Government.

He was delivering the keynote address at the opening of the conference of foreign ministers of independent African states.

One of the problems facing the conference is that of finding means of ending the Algerian conflict.

Most of the nations represented there have already extended de facto recognition to the Algerian Provisional Government.

"Threats," he said, "are very weak substitutes for negotiations among nations for they have never been known to solve any problems permanently. The Liberian Government and people are irrevocably opposed to any form of threat from any source whatsoever and we shall not be moved by threats."

"We firmly believe," he continued, "that neither the breaking of diplomatic relations with any nation nor the recognition or non-recognition of the Provisional Government of Algeria will resolve this question."

"Moreover, we do not believe that en bloc recognition of the Provisional Government of Algeria by African states is a solution. Neither do we believe that bloodshed, murder, battle and massacre are capable of resolving the issue."

In welcoming the delegates, President Tubman said that the offer of Monrovia, Liberia's capital, as the conference site indicates Liberia's profound interest in matters of common concern to all peoples of Africa and the world.

He told the conference he firmly believes that God meant for men to live in brotherhood, adding that such is not the case with feuds erupting everywhere.

Renewal Projects In Many Areas Hit

Fair Housing Legislation Is Needed - Wood

INDIANAPOLIS—More state and municipal fair housing legislation to counteract federal government laxity, was called for this week by an NAACP official.

Speaking before the Indiana State Conference of NAACP branches, Jack E. Wood, NAACP special assistant for housing, said such legislation must be planned and "executed" without racial bias.

Mr. Wood charged the federal government with financing urban renewal housing programs in the South that foster racial segregation.

These affect thousands of Negro families and, "are ingeniously being planned and carried out to create new segregated ghettos."

FAMILIES UPROOTED

"Negro and white families who formerly lived together in these communities, are being uprooted and deposited separately in ghettos of new federally assisted housing," Mr. Wood asserted.

"The federal government also insures the investments of private developers who build these segregated housing projects."

"Turning to the North, Mr. Wood said that "urban renewal programs are being planned to provide more housing and recover tax values."

"The lack of adequate low-cost housing and the apparent disregard for racial and social hardships caused by Northern renewal programs, make them just as harmful as their southern counterparts."

In the State of New York, Mr. Wood concluded, urban renewal programs in Greenburgh, Nyack, Peekskill, Newburgh and Rockville Centre are currently being planned without concern for hardships caused to Negro families.

AT HUMAN RELATIONS INSTITUTE—Durham, N.C.—Dr. Charles E. Bish, left, director of the Project on the Academically Talented for the National Educational Association, poses here with Dr. J. H. Taylor, director of Summer School here at NCC, after his address to the Principals-Supervisors Conference and the Human Relations Institute here at the final week of the summer session.

Bynum Warns Polio Is Striking Anew

NEW YORK — "Widespread polio virus of a virulent type is striking with a high ratio of paralyzed polio patients. This discrimination by polio against unvaccinated people is seemingly inflicting the highest ratio of paralysis on Negro communities," Charles H. Bynum, Chief of Intergroup Relations for The National Foundation, stated before the Women's Auxiliary to the National Medical Association meeting in national convention at the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel, Detroit, Michigan, Tuesday, August 11.

He continued: "The American people financed with March of Dimes funds the development of safe and effective vaccine. Yet more than half the population remains unprotected against paralytic polio." Bynum said: "The heavy financial costs of said to polio patients stricken in recent years, and continuing to require assistance, have exhausted the treasuries of hundreds of National Foundation (formerly "for Infantile Paralysis") chapters across the nation."

"There is increasing evidence that polio may be following a new pattern. Unfortunately polio is crippling Negroes way out of proportion to their ratio to the total population. This is largely the result of the extent of lack of protection provided by polio vaccination. Every community leader must help in the effort to increase the use of polio vaccine by everyone, especially pre-school children, teenagers and young adults," Bynum reported.

"This summer many thousands of March of Dimes volunteers are giving up their vacations to raise funds to provide aid for victims of polio. The New March of Dimes must continue to provide assistance for nearly 50,000 persons paralyzed by polio before 1959 and also begin the support for crippling caused by birth defects and arthritis," Bynum said.

Attending the National Medical Association and Women's Auxiliary to the N. M. A., Bynum is beginning a cross country tour to speak at national conventions of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, The Shriners and Daughters of Isis. He will also confer with state and local National Foundation officials and volunteers, and visit polio epidemics and suspect areas in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Nebraska, Arizona, Iowa, Florida and Alabama.

New Yorker Sworn In As Associate School Superintendent

NEW YORK — (ANP) — John B. King, 50 year-old educator in the New York City public schools system for over a quarter of a century, was officially sworn in last Wednesday as associate superintendent of schools — the first Negro to attain that rank locally.

The post, paying an annual stipend of $19,750 for six years, makes King the No. 2 man in the city's educational system. He succeeded the late William W. Hamm, who was in charge of the child welfare division. Formerly assistant superintendent, for the past eight years, King has been a teacher and administrator for 31 years. He holds a B. S. and M. A. degree from New York University; and has completed most of his work toward the Ph. D. degree.

The ceremonies, including him into the associate superintendentcy, were conducted in the office of Mayor Robert A. Wagner. In addition to board of education officials and friends, King's family of six his wife, Mrs. King; daughters, Mrs. Lynne Kennard and Mrs. Joan Norris; and grand children, John Kennard and Keith Norris — were present.

Randolph Lauds CORE Institute

NEW YORK, N. Y. (ANP) — "Qualities of courage, dedication and good-will are required of all participants in the Congress of Racial Equality's (CORE) Interracial Action Institute," said A. Philip Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, said here Thursday.

Randolph went on to say that "The Miami Action Institute will be a challenge and an opportunity to learn action techniques which can bring about democratic living patterns in every city in our land."

Juvenile Delinquency

By the NNPA News Service

Figures received by the Domestic Relations Court of New York City indicate that 356 boys were discharged from state schools, to which they had been committed, within six months or less.

It is shocking to discharge a boy after six months at a state school. These schools are generally woefully understaffed and unable to give proper guidance and training to the children there, regardless of the length of stay.

Even in a fully staffed training school, the average length of stay should be a year and a half.

The short-term care at the state school, undoubtedly shortened to facilitate and speed up admissions from the juvenile court coupled with the inadequate staff, is reflected in the tragic number of recidivists from these schools who come back to court.

On the basis of an investigation, the 356 children in the New York school system who should have been in custodial care was a gross underestimation.

IMPRESSIONS SUBSTANTIATED
The fact that once expulsion proceedings began upwards of 1,300 pupils were ultimately expelled from the school system tends to substantiate the impressions of investigators sent throughout the city.

The New York schools also contained hundreds of children who were in the first stages of delinquency and defiant behavior.

This was indicated in a statement made by Dr. Jean Thompson, director of the Bureau of Child Guidance in New York City. The Bureau handles problem cases referred by any of the superintendents of the various school districts. Dr. Thompson said:

"Often no treatment facilities, either inpatient or outpatient, can be found for a seriously disturbed child. We frequently search in vain for group activities and special educational arrangements for children whose problems are in the

ABUNDANT LIFE

OUR NEW ABUNDANT LIFE BUILDING

We recently dedicated our new Abundant Life-Building in Tulsa. You have probably already read something about this new structure. You deserve to know more. So I am going to use the words of Howard Smith, a newspaper feature writer from Franklin, Texas, to tell you more about our new building. He writes:

"Tulsa's proud slogan of 'The City Beautiful' takes on a new meaning now. . . I was afforded the princely privilege of making a tour through perhaps the world's most beautiful building. . . ."

"This new Oral Roberts headquarters building, with exterior of white Vermont marble, really glitters and glows with dazzling brilliance. And the interior is no less beautiful."

"The two top floors of space in the seven-story structure are devoted to a magnificent auditorium . . . the like of which these eyes have never seen."

"(This building) . . . makes you feel good all over . . . and seems to whisper a message, clear and firm, bespeaking God's unlimited abundance. . . ."

"I was one of the critics of this man's ministry when he first became prominent in evangelistic circles."

"But in my extensive travels I often have opportunities to do a lot of firsthand investigation, and I must add that in recent years the more I have learned about Oral Roberts, the more I have admired him and appreciated what he is doing in spreading the good news of the gospel of Jesus Christ to the four corners of the earth. . . ."

"From these international headquarters go out to the four corners of the earth millions of pieces of literature proclaiming in 108 languages the glad tidings and the unsearchable riches of the gospel of Jesus Christ."

"The tremendous growth and achievement of the past ten years, judging from plans and indications, are a mere prelude to what is in store for the years immediately ahead and beyond."

"Thank God for this yielded and dedicated man who is reaching millions with the message of the Prince of Peace. . . . Also, praises galore for his associates, helpers, and partners in prayer. . . ."

Mr. Smith was impressed with our new building, as were thousands who visited it in Tulsa following the dedication!

The building was built solely as an instrument for God. This very newspaper column was prepared within its white marble walls. From the Abundant Life Building we plan literally to blanket the world with literature, telling people everywhere, in their own languages, about the love of God and his power to forgive sins and to heal sick bodies!

Senators Introduce Amendment To Outlaw Poll Tax Requirement

Southern Solons Back Constitutional Move

WASHINGTON, D. C. — (NNPA) — Senator Spessard L. Holland, Florida Democrat, Thursday introduced for himself and 59 other Senators, Democrats and Republicans a proposed constitutional amendment to outlaw the poll tax as a requirement for voting in Federal elections.

The resolution included among its sponsors both Senators Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader, and Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican leader.

Only five states — Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi, Texas and Virginia still retain the poll tax as a requirement for voting.

The only Senators from poll-tax states sponsoring the resolution, in addition to Johnson were John L. McClellan of Arkansas and Ralph Yarborough of Texas.

Other Southerners among the sponsors were Senators Russell Long and Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana, George A. Smathers of Florida, Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, and Ralph Yarborough of Texas.

"STILL A BURDEN"
Senator Johnson told the Senate

that he'd not believe the poll tax is "any great barrier to voting in Texas. But it is still a burden on voting."

As a young Congressman many years ago, he said he had urged Texans to repeal the tax and that he has remained consistent in stating that it should not be in force.

Both he and Senator Holland were agreed that if Congress passes the Holland resolution, "the State legislatures will follow quickly."

"The right to vote is the most precious heritage we have," Johnson said. "Any man who has a vote has a potent instrument for helping himself."

Senator Holland pointed out that the resolution is "completely bipartisan." He said it is supported by Senators of both parties and from every section of the country.

In the past liberal groups have contended that the poll tax should be outlawed by a simple statute. Senator Holland said the sponsors of the proposed amendment "feel very strongly that the Federal Government is without authority to do except by a Federal constitutional amendment."

Senator Clair Engle, California Democrat, said a constitutional amendment was the proper course "and one which will result in the most expeditious elimination of the poll tax as a bar to voting."

Cong. Powell Improving After Surgery

WASHINGTON (ANP)—Cong. Adam Clayton Powell (D., N. Y.) who underwent surgery at Bethesda Naval hospital last week was reported improving at press time.

The Congressman had an emergency operation Thursday night after having been rushed to the hospital with an acute attack of appendicitis suffered in his office.

The attack came a day after Powell had held a press conference in his office to discuss his anti-discrimination amendment to the labor bill. He told reporters at that time that he had been advised to enter Bethesda on the following Monday for an operation but would try to hold it off until the House had acted on his amendment.

His office later reported that the Congressman had not previously suffered with appendicitis, and the operation he referred to was of a different nature, but they would not reveal the type of operation needed.

White Powell was in the hospital. It was learned that a lobbying campaign was continued on Capitol Hill in favor of the Powell amendment to pending labor legislation.

Lad Dies Trying To Save Another

PARKIN, Ark. — (ANP) — Walter E. Holmes, 12, died here in his attempt to save Joseph Duckett, 14, when the latter floundered in a water-filled ditch on a plantation.

Another Negro youngster, Odell Worthem, 12, in turn tried to save the white lad, but failed. Duckett was finally brought to safety.

NEW YORK — (ANP) — The Rockefeller foundation has granted the Institution for Research in Social Science $190,500 for the study on the changing position of the Negro in the South. The study will be undertaken within the general framework of the changes in the South resulting from urbanization and industrialization.

Lynching, Jazz, Satchmo, Rock 'N Roll Top Russian Questions

MOSCOW — (ANP) — Want to know what were some of the most frequent questions asked of the electronic brain computer on display at the U. S. exhibit here during the first 10 days of the fair?

The seventh most popular question was "How many Negroes have been lynched in the United States since 1950?" The answer is six.

The 10th most popular question: "How Old is Louis Armstrong?" 69. But exceeding this in popularity were No. 3 — What is the direction of American jazz? — and No. 5, What is American rock and roll?

According to the computer, which has answers to at least 4,000 possible queries, jazz is "becoming musically more complicated as the players increase their training, but the tendency is also to return to the freely improvised solo." On rock and roll, the computer says "it stems from the old blues form and represents a minor phase in the over-all strain of American popular music."

ALABAMA LA CHEERIOS SPEARHEAD $5,000 ANNUAL PROJECT FOR YOUTH

ALPHA Chapter of Montgomery, Ala., headed by Soror Inez J. Baskin, is setting a new record in its local community by spearheading a most worthy project of sponsoring hot lunches for 100 children during the school year 1959-1960, which will run approximately $5,000 for the year.

The La Cheerios Chapter plans to coordinate 129 Social and Savings Clubs in the city in its unified goal, and launched its project at a mammoth tea, Sunday, August 2.

Alpha is the mother of some 60 La Cheerios Chapters stretching around the globe, from the heart of Africa to Alaska and Hawaii, the 50th state. La Cheerios was founded by Lou (Swartz) LaTour, some 24 years ago with just one major aim — "Spreading Sunshine and Cheer Each Day of the Year" in a four-fold way—through prayer with "Miracle Keys," to the aged through the "Golden Age Group," to youth "Teen Town," and to shut-ins and others less fortunate than we through La Cheerios "Cheer-o-grams."

Big Educational Advance Planned By Liberia Minister Of Education

WASHINGTON — (ANP) — Dr. Nathaniel Massaquoi, Minister of Education for the Government of Liberia, has an ambitious program for the training of Liberians which he hopes is going to revolutionize educational procedure in his country.

If his plans succeed learning will filter down to the primitive tribesman's children and will spread through the accelerated plans President Tubman has inaugurated for building schools scattered throughout the hinterland as well as in the cities and towns.

Dr. Massaquoi who was elected President of the International Conference on Public Education last month during the 22nd annual session of that organization which was attended by representatives of 73 member nations, has just completed a tour of southern states. He has visited Georgia, Alabama, Texas and Kentucky. Week before last he inspected schools in Puerto Rico.

"We are proud," said Dr. Massaquoi, "of President Tubman's program to unify our entire country by integrating the founders of the state with the tribesmen whom I have often spoken of as 'our brothers in exile' and 'the keepers of the fireside.'"

SCHOOLS FOR PRIMITIVES
"This program will remain only on paper unless the Government of Liberia and all those working in the country will begin a practical educational program designed to raise the 95 percent of the population by a 'operation bootstraps' realistically planned according to the spirit of men like Booker T. Washington. It must be an all-out educational process, not aiming to change the identity of the tribal people yet giving them the full advantages of an educational experience which will bring them from the present point of limited development to a place where they can grow rapidly and make a much needed contribution to our country."

"I have decided, therefore," Dr. Massaquoi continued, to establish a few rural teacher training institutions in places like Zoror, Western Province, Webebe, Central Province, and a few other areas. There we will train carefully recruited elementary school graduates in methodology, community development over a two year period to be added to later. These students will be placed in village schools to teach in grades one to four.

Within the next ten years I hope that every child in the country will be enabled between the ages of seven and sixteen to attend elementary school. Booker Washington Institute will be expanded to carry on trade centers in various sections for the training of boys and girls who usually come to school late in their lives.

"We plan to have the University of Liberia which now has its first Livorian president, affiliate with Cornell University."

Eight Ways To Get More Miles Per Gallon Of Gas

Your car can be made to yield more miles per gallon of gasoline, according to the editors of Changing Times magazine. On an annual basis, the difference in gasoline cost between the highest and the lowest mileages recorded in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run, for example, would be around $60.

The first step, the editors say, lies in the choice of an economical car. That means selecting the lightest car that is spacious enough for transportation needs; an engine of modest displacement; the lowest rear-axle ratio available; the most economical transmission.

Once a car with built-in economy features has been selected, the keys to gasoline savings are maintenance and driving habits. Briefly, the editors set up these rules:

1. Engine tune-up. Tune it every 5,000 to 10,000 miles. Carburetor and timing adjustment is important. Change spark plugs when needed.

2. Brake adjustment. Check periodically to see that wheels turn freely with no binding or dragging.

3. Wheel alignment. Watch front tires for signs of faulty alignment.

4. Tire pressures. Keep tires inflated at least to recommended pressures; three or four pounds

Labor Organization Seeks End Of "Slave Labor" In South Africa

UNITED NATIONS — (ANP) — In the current issue of its monthly journal, FREE LABOR-WORLD, the International Confederation of Free Trade unions has called for the ending of slave labor in the union of South Africa.

The confederation is one of the non-governmental organizations which has a consultative UN status.

"Here is a country (South Africa)," wrote the editors, "which claims to be civilized, yet which subjects the majority of its citizens to a regime of inhuman treatment at least as brutal as that practiced by Hitler."

AGAINST THE STORM

They come: the knave, the rogue, the thief, the fake, The fickle-hearted and the menial ones, They come: the kings, the Brobdingagians, The priests, the poets by the silver lake of life. They come at morn, at noon, at night — And life moves on. Then comes the raging storm, The evil moment that destroys the warm And pleasant hour of calm and bliss and right.

These tread the path of earth; the good, the bad, The devious, the envious, the slick, The ones who know quite nothing of a dream, The fickle maiden and the heartless lad, When come the blighted hour or the thick, Deep mists of fog, stand fast. The sun will beam.

—By JAMES BUTLER.

Dear Eleanor, I recently visited the home of a friend where there were several other guests invited at the same time.

All of the guests were seated in the living room, some watching TV others chatting miscellaneously, laughing at jokes etc. I felt that the hostess should have invited those persons not watching TV to another room. The home was large enough. Then there would not have been such a bedlam of sound. The atmosphere on the occasion would have been so much more pleasant. What do you think?

Answer: I agree with you Marjorie, that the TV watchers should have remained in the living room with the TV. For it does cause too much concentration of sound in one room to have both the voices of TV and various other guests perceptible at the same time. The hostess should have had the other persons to use the den or dining room, also.

Good music is often a stimulus to conversation if it is kept in the background. If everyone, or nearly everyone, is interested in music, classical or otherwise, the hostess may ask if certain records or special programs will be welcome. Then conversation may or may not cease.

Many a delightful evening with friends can be spent with hardly a word exchanged if all are listening to music.

Few people can or want to talk against the glare of the radio or the glare and chatter of the television screen. If you plan an evening of radio, bridge, poker, or television, say so and give any guests who prefer a different evening the opportunity to leave approximately one hour after dinner.

West All-Stars Win Over East, 43-40

ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) — A chips down, fourth period threat was nipped in the bud as the West defense rose to the test to repel a spine-tingling East rally which had stalemated the score at 34-all, gave Raymond Wainwright's refuse-to-scare cagers 43-40 victory over Alexander Shepard's five Wednesday night at the Washington High Gymnasium.

The East had fought grudgingly from a ten-point deficit to knot the count and it seemed for a moment as though the West would panic, but the payoff never came.

One, two, three, four, five, six times the East had the ball car-cened off greedy blue-jacketed finger tips for the game - crackling marker, but the losers could not claim it. When the ball was finally gloved the West had survived its biggest and most fearsome challenge and this proved to be the settling force, as the victors settled down to play a cohesive game the rest of the way.

The game was played in sizzling 100-degree temperature which turned the gymnasium into an inferno. It was a torrid pressure cooker to the SRO crowd, but it made no difference to the Wainwright-men, who led 14-7 at the end of the first quarter and 22-17 at half-time.

The score was stymied three times at 5-5, 7-7 and 32-32, but the East was never ahead during the entire game. In the second stanza the West ballooned its lead to 20-10 with 3 1-2 minutes to play and had a 28-18 spread with 3 minutes of the third frame. It was in this period that comefrom-behind Shepardsmen began methodically to chop down the lead and it was 32-28 at the end of the period.

The score was 32-all within 2 minutes and 15 seconds of the fourth, period and it was at this

Satchel Paige To Pitch In D.C., Aug. 20

WASHINGTON — (ANP) — Washington baseball fans will enjoy one of the rare treats of baseball Thursday night, Aug. 20, when Leroy "Satchel" Paige makes an appearance at Griffith Stadium with the Havana Cuban Stars.

The Cubans, an aggregation of talented youngsters assembled by Joe Cambria, veteran scout for the Washington Senators, will meet the Kansas City Monarchs in the 8:15 p. m. game. Paige was playing with the Monarchs when he broke into the Majors back in 1948.

Despite his age, (it is anybody's guess), Satchel can still hurl with the best of them. He can still fire the fast ball, still set the young upstarts back on their seats with his famous "bowl-over" pitch.

Since leaving the big leagues, Paige has been pitching for the Miami Marlins of the International League and this season be-

Burial Club Operator Fined, Ordered Out Of Illegal Insurance Activity

SANDERSVILLE, Ga. — (SNS) — Ernest Hodges, who operated a burial association under the name of "Hodges Funeral Security Club," recently was fined, placed under probation for five years and ordered not to write or engage in "any illegal insurance business" in Washington County, Georgia.

The fine levied against Hodges by Judge I. L. Evans, of City Court of Sandersville, was $157.75, or 12 months. At the same time Hodges was ordered to make a "restitution" of $38 to the widow of Son Collins. Probation was ordered transferred to the jurisdiction of Treutlen County where the defendant resides.

NAL West Squad Wins In 11th Inning Over East All-Stars

CHICAGO — A crowd of 8,000 including scouts from various major league teams, saw the East and the West battle for 10 innings before the West won in the 11th inning of the 27th annual East-West baseball classic at Comiskey Park here Sunday. The 11-inning stint marked the longest contest in the history of the Negro American League classic.

In the audience were a number of celebrities, some of them appearing as guests of Dr. J. B. Martin, president of the league. John H. Johnson, publisher of Ebony and Jet, Tan Confession and Hare magazines, threw out the first ball. The game was preceded by the crowning of Miss Vaughn as Miss East-West of 1959. She was honored and presented with gifts in ceremonies conducted by the Chicago Cosmopolitan Chamber of Commerce, which sponsored the contest, in cooperation with the NAL.

The East took an early lead in the contest on a single, a sacrifice and throwing error. However, the West bounced back with five runs in their half of the inning. The runs, three of which were unearned, came on a three-run inside the park homer and a two-run double.

PITCHER SCORES 3
Willie Smith, the West's starting pitcher, lifted a fly ball to centerfield which Larry LaGrande misjudged and then lost momentarily. Two men were on base at the time and they scampered home with Smith trailing them to score the third run. The other two runs in the inning were legitimate.

The East didn't square matters again until the sixth, when Ralph Fontson batted in three runs with a double to right field. The West had filled the bases on walks.

SPEED PAYS OFF
The clincher came in the 11th. Ernest Harris, the West's speed merchant, beat out a high infield hopper to third. He reached second on his second base theft of the game, moved to third on a pass ball, and scored the tie breaker on Bill White single to left field. White is no relative of Bill White, the St. Louis Cardinals infielder-outfielder.

The winning pitcher was reliever Pete Mumford for the West. The loser was James Filmore.

The crowd of 8,000, although considerably smaller than the 25,000 to 20,000 which the classic drew during the heydays of such stars as Jackie Robinson, Satchel Paige, Roy Campanella and other, was the largest in the past few years. Paige, incidentally, is scheduled to pitch for the Havana Cuban Stars against the Kansas City Monarchs in a game at Griffith Stadium in Washington D. C., Thursday, Aug. 20.

COLTS' UNITAS SET TO THROW AGAINST COLLEGE ALL-STARS

WESTMINSTER, Md. — (Special) — Coach Webb Ewbank, who is readying the world champion Baltimore Colts for their Aug. 14 assignment against the College All-Stars in Chicago's Soldier's field, calls Johnny Unitas "one of the most daring quarterbacks I've ever seen."

"Johnny will take a gamble anytime he feels like it," says Ewbank. "I don't mean that he's reckless. He just has a lot of courage and assurance, and he's willing to take chances if he thinks he can get touchdowns that way."

Ewbank says Unitas has a "tremendous" ability to "feel out the defense. He can sense things. He'll go up to the scrimmage line and check off (change signals) without any break in rhythm and hardly any hesitation. He has great peripheral vision. He can size up the whole field of play in one instant."

Unitas, who tossed 19 touchdown passes last season, throws 50 yards effortlessly with no wind-up. And he throws quickly. "He has a real live arm," declares Ewbank. "He can throw long or short with accuracy. And his down."

Unitas is fully recovered from the rib injury which sidelined him for two games in the middle of last season. "I didn't know there was anything wrong with me," the star Colt quarterback recalls, "until I tried to walk up a flight of stairs after the game in which I was hurt. I couldn't breathe, the pressure against my lungs from the broken ribs was so great."

Ewbank held Unitas out of a game with the New York Giants the following Sunday, and again against the Chicago Bears the next week. "But I threw a heck of a scare into George Halas and the Bears," Webb chuckles. "I refused to say whether I was going to start George Shaw (now a property of the Giants) or Unitas. There's a heck of a lot of difference in preparing for those two guys. The day of the game in Wrigley field, I had Unitas out there throwing during the warmups. I thought: Papa Halas' eyes were going to pop right out of their sockets. He didn't know that there wasn't a chance in the world of Unitas playing that day. It was all he could do to lift the ball."

Auburn Coaching Aides Tell Ralph Jordan Line Secrets

ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) — Auburn coaching assistants working under the premise that their head coach Ralph Jordan's main responsibility is to coach the coaches continued to explain Wednesday fundamentals and techniques that made the Plainsmen the nation's stingiest defensive unit and possessor of one of the country's longest winning streaks.

The Auburn topkick was in Chicago, for the first annual National Coaching Clinic which is being held in conjunction with the College All-Stars - Baltimore Colts football game, the latter scheduled for Friday night in Soldier Field. Herring, Bradberry and Lorenzo substituted for him promptly at the Georgia State Coaching Clinic now in progress.

Minus their boss Auburn assistants Hal Herring, Buck Bradberry, and Gene Lorenzo, hammered home to some 50 coaches, thirteen from out-of-town, the know-how of sledge hammer defensive line play and the lightning-like striking force of offensive play.

With a giant blackboard as the wisdom stone, the Auburn diagrammed the gilded plays which made Auburn linesman almost of granite strength and the power-folding that permitted the offense to open gaping holes for TD-minded backs.

Topsy-Turvy Pennant Races Making Bookies Look Silly

NEW YORK — (UPI) — Those Topsy-turvy pennant races are making even the smart money look foolish.

The Phillies and the Senators are the only two clubs playing the way the Broadway bookies figured they would when they drew up their pre-season odds last April 8. They're running dead last in their respective leagues as 100-1 shots are supposed to do.

But three other 100-1 shots the Cubs, Athletics and Orioles were in the first division as play resumed August 4 after the second All Star break.

Moore Decks Durelle 4 Times, Keeps Title

By JACK CUDDY (United Press International) MONTREAL (UPI) — Champion Archie Moore, apparently powered by age, floored Canadian Yvon Durelle four times Wednesday night for a knockout in the third round of their return title fight and equalled the light-heavyweight division's record for eight successful title defenses.

Durelle, brawny Canadian fisherman, hit the deck Wednesday night the same number of times he did in their Dec. 10 brawl before being counted out at 2:52 of the third round.

But he failed to score a single knockout against 43-year-old Archie, who had gone down four times in their December thriller before belting out Yvon in the 11th round.

Wednesday night referee Jack Sharkey counted out Durelle as he lay helplessly on his back, with blood pouring from his nose and mouth, down for the fourth time in the third round.

The count-out extended amazing Moore's all time all division knockout record to 128 and extended his unbeaten string to 17 bouts. At the same time, Archie's eighth successful defense equalled the record of Maxie Rosenbloom, who lost the light-heavy title when he risked it the ninth time against Bob Olin in 1954.

Moore, weighing 174 1-4 pounds to Durelle's 173, fought on fairly even terms with the aggressive, wild-hooking French Canadian in the first two rounds, but at the very beginning of the third, cunning old Archie, wearing a five-day mustachio and face beard, went to work on him.

But it looks as if the Yankees are cooked and a flock of "wise money" with them.

The failures of the world champs have been the major baseball story of the year on in, in both leagues—the front-runners deserve all the attention.

WHITE SOX OUT AHEAD
The White Sox, dubbed by a contemptuous Frank Lane Cleveland as the "bunt and stolen base champions of baseball," have stolen a three game jump in the "Yankee league."

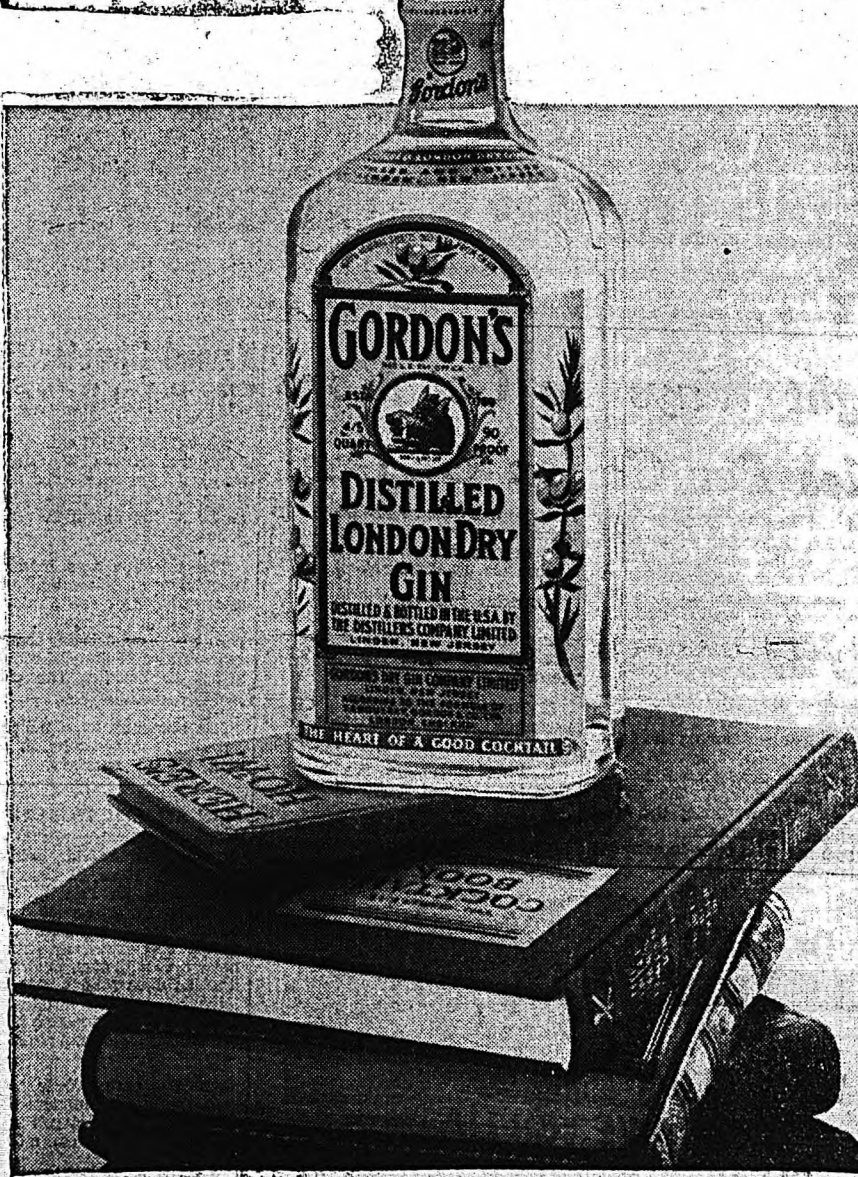

They're fifth in batting and third in fielding but they keep at you till it hurts. Veteran Early Wynn, winning - est pitcher among those still active, is having a dandy year and bull-pen help from veterans Turk Lown and Gerry Staley is paying off.

Only the Indians, led by Vic Power, Rocky Colavito and Cal McLish, have been able to stick close to the go-go Sox.

In the National League, the Braves were expected to be good enough to win without ailing second baseman Red Schoendienst - which they never could before - but they're having a tough go. So far, manager Fred Haney has tried seven second basemen at Red's old position. He still expects to win.

The Giants, second choice on opening day, aren't exactly a major surprise. But the Dodgers, 25-1 in April, are making a dandy run with Duke Snider and Gil Hodges back in form.

Garyville Giants Sweep Dixie Tourney

BY CHAMP CLARK
NEW ORLEANS, La.—Bursting like the purple bomb which exploded at Bilkin, the power-laden Garyville Giants, coached by Wesley Barrow, downed the ALMCO Dodgers 14-0 to salt away the Dixie Tourney title.

Joseph "Jap" Mills whiffed 16 batters and hand-cuffed the big berthas of ALMCO in the clutches. ALMCO had a golden opportunity in the first inning, but was unable to score as Mills' dazzling curve-ball left three Dodgers standing on the bases.

In addition to his shutout over ALMCO, Mills bounced Port Allen from the Dixie Series in the first round, 4-0. In the semi-final game for the Garyville Giants, Charlie Smothers notched a 4-2 victory over the New Orleans Black Pelicans.

EIGHT TEAMS COMPETE
Eight teams competed in the Dixie Tournament for the right to play in the National Tournament, sponsored by the National Baseball Congress, to be staged in mid-August at Wichita. The Garyville Giants, managed by Percy Duhe, opened the first inning against ALMCO with four big runs and were never headed.

Among the principal stars for the Giants were Harry Levy, Calvin Smith, Eddie Morton, Larry Henderson, Willie Coleman, Percy Duhe, Nicholas, Burl, and Telfair.

Garyville rode stout pitching, clutch hitting and air-tight fielding to the Dixie title. Both the Giants and Dodgers are members of the strong Riverside Baseball League.

Was Southern Victory Over Jackson A Fluke?

When Jackson State Tigers and Southern square off Saturday, Oct. 24, for their second grid title, Tiger fans will be out to see if Southern's victory last year was a fluke or the real goods. For one thing it will be recalled that the Tigers won three games and one tie (with Prairie View) while Southern was undefeated.

Prairie View went on to claim the mythical national Negro championship following their defeat of Southern in the last game 20-14. But Tiger fans cannot help but recall that without the two fifteen-yard penalties in the last few minutes of play, Prairie View would have been defeated by the Tigers who—just about dominated the whole field of play.

Even after the Panthers scored and trailed the Tigers 12-14, Lady Luck still had to favor them in order to tie the score 14-14. On the other hand followers of Southern can claim, and justifiably, that the Tigers met Prairie View during the early part of the season while the team was still developing, whereas Southern met them at the tail-end and after the team had matured.

TIME TO JELL
For one thing, it does prove that comparative scores are of very little value when it comes to a football game. It also means that the 30-6 shellacking Southern gave Jackson State last year is no good indication of how the game will go this year. For one thing it may serve as an incentive for the boys from the Bayou State. Judging by the early response of the fans, Jackson and Baton Rouge, this contest will be one of the better-attended games.

Since it is scheduled on October 24, it means that both teams will have ample time to jell before their meeting. Barring injuries then both teams should be at their peaks. Yet, to meet such opponents as Prairie View, Mississippi Vocational, Arkansas AM&N, and Alcorn all prior to the Southern tilt means that it will be a miracle if the complete team comes through unscathed. Still, Southern faces the same hazard.

A. W. Mumford will be coaching the Jaguars for the 23rd season.

Platters Held On Morals Charge In Cincinnati, Ohio

CINCINNATI, Ohio — (UPI)—A crowd jammed the Municipal Court Tuesday to hear four members of a nationally-known rock-and-roll singing group tell their escapades in a downtown hotel that led to their arrest on a morals charge.

The four men were part of the "Platters" quintet, which also included a girl vocalist, a sister of one of the men. The group's attorney here said she was not connected with the case and knew nothing of it until after the arrests.

But Municipal Judge A. L. Lubbers struck a sour note for the spectators when he continued the case until Aug. 28 so a jury could be impaneled.

Police arrested the Four Platters a singing group, when they raided their room and found them with four 19-year-old girls.

The Platters who closed a three-day engagement at the Newport, Ky., Cops Club Sunday night, were charged with aiding and abetting in prostitution.

The girls, three of them from nearby Hamilton, Ky., were charged with prostitution.

All eight were released on $2,000 bond each.

Catholic Missionary Work In Africa Grows

VATICAN CITY, — (ANP) — The Roman Catholic "Fidos" Missionary agency reports that, according to current statistics, the Christian School Brotherhood has a network of 116 schools spread over 21 African countries.

In missions in Africa and Asia, run by the Sacred Congregation "De Propaganda Fide" the number of native pupils has increased seven-fold in 40 years, rising from 1,009 in 1918 to 7,364 in 1957. In these same territories, the number of native bishops has increased from 35 to 89 in 10 years.

A's, Bruce, Hardwood Are "All Shook Up"

By J. D. WILLIAMS
Memphis Trojans deal E. L. Bruce a double setback. Beavers shake up Athletics. Letter Carriers keep winning. Hardwood Stars suffer defeat at the hands of Wishing Little Rock Club, 6-2.

That's the hottest news in the Semi-Pro League.

The tail-end Memphis Trojans, who have been playing opossum all year, came to life long enough to give Bruce something to remember them by 'til next year, taking a doubleheader to the tune 11-10 and 10-9. Bruce is first half champion in his division. It was a costly defeat for the Bruce boys as they could have saved it up for the second half crown.

LETTER CARRIERS TOO TOUGH
The tough Letter Carriers walked the South Memphis Hawks 13-8. Richard Bradshaw had a little help from Larry Williams to stop the Hawks' uprising in the 5th inning.

Ellendale took a 9-0 forfeit from the Tate Red Sox to keep pace with the Carriers. As this is written, the two teams are tied for first place in Division Three. The Carriers are first half champs.

Amble-scamble for the honors in Division One. The upsurging South Memphis Chicks, having dined on growing mesh, or some potent formula, have been dominating the division one clubs. In the second half and have worked their way right up to the top of the heap with a win this week over the faltering Hardwood Stars at Lincoln Park.

The Stars could have wrapped it up had they been able to stop the Chicks, but those Chicks were eating Full-O-Pep and were winning like mad. They stole so many bases that the umpires had to hold up the game until more bases could be brought to the field.

FOUR WAY TIE
And now there is a four-way tie with the Blues, the Stars, the Poms of Binghampton and the South Memphis Chicks deadlocked for the No. 1 position. Anything might happen from here on out.

Playoffs will start this weekend. However, no schedule has been worked out as yet because there is one game left, and that is between Bruce and Goldsmith.

Friday night at Lincoln Park, which is tonight, will settle the Division 2 championship, so you can look forward to it. Seeing this article scribble in these closing games of the Semi-Pro League for the city championship which will follow immediately after the playoffs should mean that some interesting games are coming up. Juan Pizzaro Holds Key To Braves' Pennant Campaign

MILWAUKEE — (ANP) — The Milwaukee Braves' hopes for winning their third consecutive National League pennant might well hinge on the success of an unpredictable, 22-year-old Puerto Rican.

Juan Pizzaro, a southpaw with a world of stuff, is unbeatable at one time and hopelessly ineffective the next. But since his return to the Braves after being exiled to Louisville, Pizzaro has shown signs of finding himself.

He has picked up three glittering victories, all of them white-washings. The importance of his contributions is indicated by his 8-to-0 win over the Pittsburgh Pirates a couple of weeks ago.

Juan threw a four-hitter and struck out 12 to help stem the Braves' tail-spin that threatened to carry them into the second division.

When Pizzaro came into the National League in 1957 a brilliant future was predicted for him. He had an incredible debut in organized baseball with Jacksonville of the South Atlantic League. He won 23 and lost six, compiled a 1.77 earned run average and recorded 318 strikeouts in 318 innings.

LIKES TO WORK
But shutting between Milwaukee and American Association farm clubs of the Braves, Pizzaro had managed a major-league record of 11 wins and 10 losses until this season.

The young Puerto Rican recently said that it didn't matter whether he started or relieved — all he wanted to do is pitch.

The bosses on the Braves say that Pizzaro is more effective when he works every fourth or fifth day, preferably as a starter.

One of these is Birdie Tebbetts, Braves' general manager and an astute judge of pitching talent.

"You'll find the kid hasn't pitched a bad game any time he has started without too much rest," says Tebbetts. "He just doesn't seem to be the relief type, whether it's psychological or whatever."

Tebbetts noted that Pizzaro is a strong kid who pitches the year round and has to pitch to be at his best. In winter, Juan hurls in the Puerto Rican League.

On this point, Pizzaro says: "Arm gets stronger when I pitch. When I don't pitch enough, I don't know what I'm doing out there. It's just like playing a new position."

The Braves' manager, Fred Haney, remarks: "He pitches better when he starts than when he relieves. I don't know why, but he does."

The Braves' pitching coach, Whitlow Wyatt, insists that Pizzaro has more natural stuff than any pitcher in baseball.

The Braves are hoping he is the right man to take up whatever slack on the pitching mound. There is no doubt, either, that the Braves are looking to many great years in the future from the Puerto Rican southpaw.

Booklet On Hunting Regulations Issued

The new "Pocket Guide to Tennessee Hunting" is now available from your local Game and Fish Officer, sporting goods stores and license agents. This handy little booklet, prepared by the Information-Education Section of the Commission contains the answer to practically every question which might arise in regard to the hunting seasons for 1959-60 in the Volunteer State.

The 43-page booklet has a summary of the seasons, including information regarding the various hunts on the wildlife management areas; what type of licenses are needed, and where hunting is permitted, etc. While it lacks information on the dates for the coming duck season, it does contain a section on the identification of ducks; the various flyways and time tables which will be of value to the duck hunter once the season is announced. The booklet also contains a list of all Game and Fish Officers, complete with home address and telephone numbers.

I. M. Brooks of Memphis, Tenn., caught a ten pound, 11 ounce bass out of Browns Creek Lake on Natchez Trace Park Saturday, August 8. Mr. Brooks was casting a "Dive Bomber" when he hooked this record bass, according to John B. Simmons, Manager of the Game and Fish Commission operated lake.

LITTLE RICHARD
By Bob Bartos
Manager, Friskies Research Kennels
By rescuing Little Richard, a coonhound, from five days of imprisonment in a rocky crevice, the town of Owasso, Oklahoma, recently was the proud recipient of the Friskies Fidelity Award.

This coveted award is presented by Friskies Research Kennels to humans for valorous deeds in behalf of their four-footed friends.

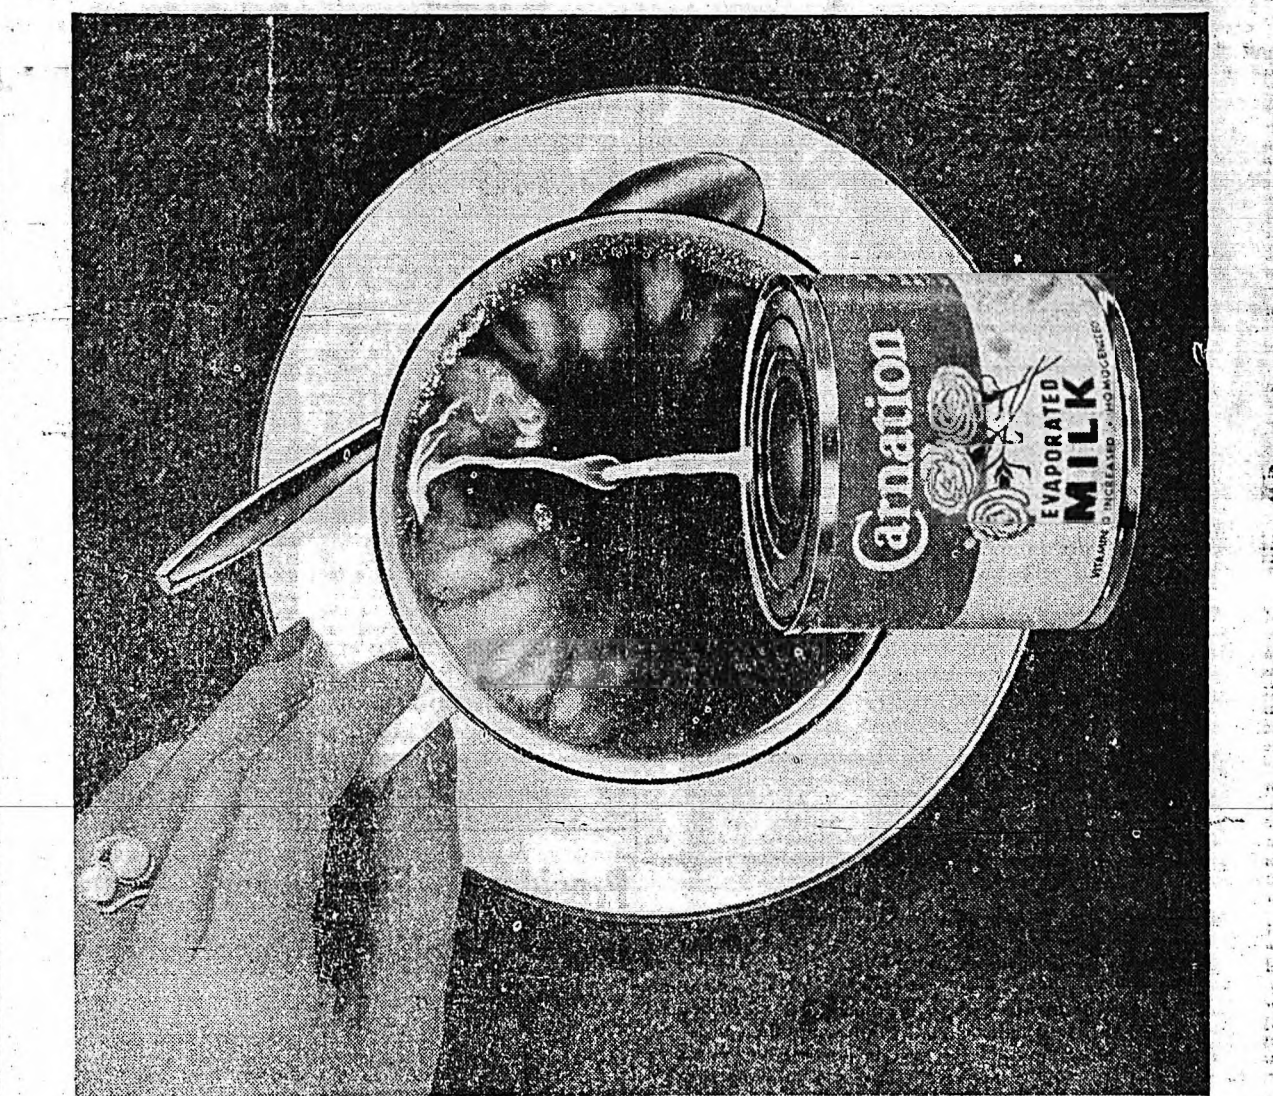

In the case of Little Richard, it was impossible to single out any one individual for the honor. Immediately townsfolk learned of the dog's plight . . . how he had become trapped while chasing a coon and how his owner was trying to extricate his pet single-handed with nothing more than a pick . . . they rallied 'round.

For five long days and nights, dog lovers from Owasso as well as nearby Tulsa toiled to free the coonhound.

It was a grim battle against time, for Little Richard grew weaker and weaker from lack of food and water. Finally, at the end of the fifth day when hope had dimmed, a carefully laid dynamite charge loosened the surrounding rock. Little Richard was freed.

Carried out of the crevice by his master to a waiting ambulance, he was rushed to a nearby veterinarian. After thoroughly examining the dog, the vet predicted Little Richard would be back chasing coons after a good night's rest and plenty of nourishing food.

As a permanent memorial to his devotion to dogs, Friskies presented the town with a granite dog drinking font for its new park. The inscription reads: "Friskies Fidelity Award to the People of Owasso for their Humane Act in Saving the Life of Little Richard, April 30, 1959."

MARTHA KILGORE tipped the mirror on the wide old walnut dresser until she could get a full-length view of herself in the new riding clothes her grandmother had bought her the day before.

EISENHOWER-NIXON ASK COURTESY FOR KHRUSHCHEV—Vice President Richard M. Nixon reports to President Eisenhower after returning from a two-week visit to Russia and Poland. They both joined in pleading that Americans "in the interest of peace" treat Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev courteously on his forthcoming visit to the United States. In Moscow, Nixon (bottom) told a news conference that he was planning "to talk peace without saber-rattling" in his Washington and Moscow meetings with President Eisenhower.

Crime On The Rampage

It is altogether disturbing when the increase of crime on varied social fronts is noted. Crime ranging from adolescent groups on through to elderly "problem people" is chronicled every day, and it is no strange thing for one to walk along the public streets and hear indecent language from the lips of persons who should exercise more self-respect.

With much of the care and coaching of children belonging to the home being left to the school, in the function of the school's imparting an education, home training cannot be effectively done.

Most of the incidents of alleged rape are laid to young people. Surely the church and society in general should bestir themselves in an all-out challenge in these outrages that in the end must be paid for by the hard earned dollars of the taxpayers.

We have distanced a long way up the road of social progress. We have come into home improvements and modern methods of communications, enhancing the appreciation of the common environ, which should on the whole improve the sentiments and motives of a social order. Wherever there are human needs and the lack of those essentials out of reach of small income groups, there are social agencies whose duty it is to inquire into these conditions, with remedial suggestions for treatment. Free school books and lunches, and in the interim of school, we have our summer camps, vacation Bible classes, and park and playground facilities.

In fact, there are no sensible excuses for such a wild rampage in crime disorders. But the fact is crime must be reduced.

Beginning first with the home, there should be some active procedure to discourage and diminish so much of this uncalled for crime wave. It does no credit to any of our agencies and is a great liability undermining whatever good we are able to do in the direction of others who are not of criminal tendencies.

Surely our activities and grave interest in the common good of the community should extend in the direction of curbing and treating this crime wave.

Whipping out revolvers and firing wildly into crowds, stabbing at the least impulse of an argument and befouling the air with vile language are certainly not becoming to a decent society.

Won't some agency or organization study a way out through the setting up of a rural home for these boys and girls who are orphans or those who are neglected by their parents?

There are hundreds of acres of waste lands which could be converted into self-supporting through the labor of those being cared for. The most effective approach to the objective of a reduction of crime, we believe, is a program that will make possible a better home life for children who do not have a decent home life. What do you think?

Let The Teaching Forces "Think On These Things"

It might well be said that Dr. Samuel D. Proctor, president of Virginia Union University, delivered somewhat of a "different" kind of graduating address to the recent class of '57, graduating from the Atlanta University Summer School.

Dr. Proctor was open in his challenging of the faculty and general teaching force in somewhat of a failure in imparting personal, social and religious values to their students.

He charged that the university, a volunteer community, ideally suited for the transmission of human values, occasioning discouraging news from their campuses. He argued that the campus had an added responsibility—that of imparting personal values inasmuch as students no longer can be counted upon as having acquired them at home.

The speaker went further in his challenge to teachers in charging them with an indifference in life's basic issues and the lack of love for young people.

He strictly emphasized what a good society should do for its members, as one of the burdens of teaching responsibility.

At any rate, Dr. Proctor has hurled a challenge. Turning his attention more to the end of the teachers' responsibility than an ordinary lecture to young graduates to go out into life and "do it," he sets up his contention at the very fountain of education. He would have teachers in the first place, examine and ask themselves questions arising from the basic results of their teaching in order to use such corrective measures in imparting virtues and personalities to those in their charge.

Improved teaching is bound to result in an improved social and spiritual value, evidenced by those sent out every year from our colleges and universities by the thousands. Teachers, "Think on these things."

Elks To Honor Heroes Of Southern School Scene

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Three heroes of the Southern School Integration progress will be honored at the annual educational services August 23, at the Elks National Convention in Atlantic City. They are 18-year-old Gustavas Roberts, first Negro graduate of Central High School in Charlotte, N. C.; 17-year-old Olivia L. Ferguson, first Negro to enter Lane High School of Charlottesville, Virginia, and Ann Rhodes, leader of 21 children in the Front Royal, Virginia integration controversy.

An estimated 10,000 persons are expected to watch the courageous youngsters lead a delegation of some 50 other students in integrated schools in four southern states. The procession will be one of the moving demonstrations at the meeting planned for the huge Senior High School Auditorium, which will feature an address by ex-baseball star Jackie Robinson.

In his early days at the school, Roberts was called names, taunted, and a group of white youngsters attempted to block his entrance, but he refused to quit. A Charlottesville girl was chosen because of her patience and persistence in September, 1957. The Court ordered Olivia to enter Lane High School as a student.

Meanwhile, Miss Rhodes, who was denied a diploma at the Front Royal (Va.) High School, because of the lack of a credit, is spending the summer attending school in order to be eligible to receive a high school diploma at the special ceremonies. She was named winner of an $2K $1,000 scholarship. Arrangements are also being made to extend scholarship aid to Mr. Roberts and Miss Ferguson.

Borders Speaks At Canadian Rally

By ISAAC JONES
WINDSOR, Ontario, Canada — (ANP) — More than 150,000 Americans and Canadians last week attended the 28th annual Emancipation Celebration halting the 126th anniversary of the abolition of slavery in the British Empire.

Twenty bands participated in the colorful parade down Windsor's main street to Jackson Park and Dr. William Holmes Borders, of Atlanta, Ga., was the principal speaker.

He told a crowd of 75,000 persons that the NAACP and the Negro Press are among the greatest disciplinary influences on American democracy today.

He called the Supreme Court's decision on school segregation "a second emancipation." He said: "The colored people of the world are watching the actions of the American Negro. The Negro has earned his freedom. He is no more an African today than the white American is a European."

JAMAICANS STILL TRAVEL TO ENGLAND TO LIVE — In spite of the resurgence of racial anti-pathy, Jamaicans continue to arrive in England, along with other West Indians. Later, 474 persons came by plane from Kingston, Jamaica, to join relatives and seek work.

Mrs. Walker

Uncle Toms' who dare to manifest themselves during this political campaign. Their "determination to kill off all 'Uncle Toms' was pointedly evidenced during the Freedom Rally held at Mason Temple several days ago, at which time E. L. Washburn, principal of Lincoln School, was unmercifully criticized as an "Uncle Tom."

Mrs. Walker said "and anyone who dares to call me an 'Uncle Tom' I shall call him what he is. An... and still vote for Mrs. Coe."

"I have tried to avoid this conflict in several ways, but if anyone wants to get nasty, I am a past master at being nasty and abusive."

Signed: Mrs. Willa McWilliams Walker.

Church Group

ed to the Public Works Commission to help develop this great potential for the betterment of all citizens."

Stanback told the group "we have won a victory already because we have registered 57,000 Negroes to vote. But we will not succeed until all of those voters go to the polls on Aug. 20."

Bomer said "I am president of the Citizens Sunday League. I got into this race to stop this heavy drinking on Sunday, the distribution of obscene literature. He went on to explain that he had been an attorney but was disbarred during the reign of the Crump machine "for political reasons." He avowed he would defeat incumbent Amour as Fire and Police commissioner.

GAINES BOOED
Rev. Love said "I am not going to make a political speech. The only thing I want to say is to vote for me."

Gaines said "the lower and the middle class group in Memphis needs representation on the Board of Education. He said "if I am elected I will do everything in my power to give equal treatment to the separate school systems. I am sure that the well thinking Negro and white of this community don't want integration."

At this point a thunderous roar went up from the audience saying "no no no" He was also booed and several men walked out. George W. Lee who was presiding banged on the table loudly to restore order. He was not successful for several minutes.

Next to speak was Rev. Bunton, who answered Gaines. Rev. Bunton said "I stand with the United States Supreme Court's 1954 decision which says that we cannot have equality if schools are separated. We don't want any harmony if it means the expense of the Negro, as the expense of racial segregation. We want Memphis to know that we as Negroes will never be satisfied with anything short of integration... whether we win, lose or draw this election."

Ally. Hooks claimed "the only way we can make the other race respect us is to vote. Democracy can work in Memphis if only the white people here will let it. The game will soon come if the whites don't let democracy work here the Negroes will never be satisfied with slup and make it work. We are not mad because as some white would have you think. We are only seeking the freedom which every man wants. No man wants to be a slave."

MINISTERS TELL OF POLITICAL PULSE-TAKING
A number of ministers at the Monday meeting told of their "political pulse-taking" among their congregations and communities. Leading the speakers was Dr. W. Herbie Brewster, pastor of East Trigg Baptist church, and a worker in the "Volunteer Ticket."

"I am of the opinion that when the Negroes in Memphis want integrated schools had enough, they will go to court and get them. One or even two Negroes on the board will not get them. There are five people on there.

"As much as I would like to see Negroes take their rightful places in our city government, I shall never vote for a Negro just because he is a Negro. I shall always vote for a qualified person, not to supplant a qualified person because of or creed or religion, and that he will initiate a program in the position in which Negroes will get government jobs where they qualify."

Evers, who dropped out of the city commission race a few weeks ago because of a political technicality, said that Taliaferro speaking to the LeMoyne College student body a few hours after the United States Supreme Court made its famous ruling against school segregation in 1954, told the that the high court's decision was "fair and just."

Taliaferro has also been endorsed by Matthew Thornton, mayor of Beale Street. Thornton endorsed Taliaferro after the young Memphis attorney promised he would see to it that Beale Street is made a "Great White-Way."

Attress Not Recognized
LONDON — (UPI) — Former British Prime Minister Lord Attlee failed to recognize Jayne Mansfield Thursday night when she swept up to him at a movie premier and shook hands. "I'm very glad to know you, Miss... er..." he said. Asked later if he had met Miss Mansfield before, Lord Attlee replied: "Who? Oh, I don't really know. You had better ask my wife. She knows more about these things than I do."

President Eisenhower Thanks United Golfers Association

WASHINGTON, D. C. — President Eisenhower has sent messages of thanks to member of the United Golfers Association delegation which recently delivered to the White House a UGA honorary membership plaque and other citations noting the first citizen's interest in golf.

Saying that he was "truly grateful," Mrs. Eisenhower, in a letter to UGA president, Franklin T. Lett, Detroit, "wished for the members of UGA 'many hours of enjoyment and relaxation in the sport that we love so much.' The President also sent letters to youth golfers Francis Barrett, Jr., Pittsburgh, and Alan Kendrick, Washington, D. C., who accompanied Mr. Lett, Mrs. Paris B. Brown and Dr. George W. Adams, Washington, D. C., to the White House.

Final plans were being made this week for the 33rd annual UGA tournament which will play over the New Langston Golf Course and a second Leffler operated course in Washington. It is expected that the 1959 UGA tournament will carry the largest field in the history of the event. The tournament is played in nine divisions — pros, men and women, amateur, senior men and women, and four sections of juniors.

Three Washington area golf clubs are cooperating in the tournament — Arlington Divots, Royals and Wake Robins, which for the first time is being sponsored by UGA. The Roosevelt Hotel, upper 16th Street, N. W., is the headquarters facility for the tournament, while the New Dunbar Hotel, 15th and U Street, N. W., is listed as an alternate housing location. Several social affairs, including a Tee-Off Party, 18th Hole Social and a Lou Borders Fashion Show, are scheduled during the week.

trying to carry out their slogan, "GREAT DIFFERENCE"
"This is the great difference between the two candidates. Mr. Taliaferro has impressed us that he is a Christian man, and it is high time that we had a Christian man on the City Commission. The results of our investigation show that Mr. Taliaferro, his friends and associates are God-fearing people. Mr. Taliaferro has long served and is serving on several bi-racial committees designed to better racial relations. His actions and his attitude are befitting for the job that he seeks.
