

Six Top Positions Due To Be Filled

BOARD WILL NAME NEW PRINCIPALS THIS WEEK

The names of new principals for city schools will be presented for approval tomorrow (Friday) at a meeting of the Memphis Board of Education. It is believed that those recommended for principalships will be elected.

Three schools formerly used by white students (South Side, Merrill and Prospect) have been designated predominantly Negro schools and these will need principals.

Oliver Johnson, Jr. is expected to be elected principal of Lincoln Junior High, formerly South Side. He began last school year as assistant principal at Georgia Avenue Elementary but was shifted to Florida Elementary as acting principal to fill a vacancy caused by the retirement of S. M. Smith.

William H. Sweet, formerly the principal of Kansas Elementary, is reported the new principal of Patterson which becomes a full-fledged high school this month. Jake Barber is reported under consideration for the principalship at Kansas.

The assistant principalship at Booker T. Washington High, made vacant two weeks ago when Joseph Westbrook, Jr., was promoted to supervisor of secondary schools, is expected to be filled by Mose W. Walker, Jr., a physics and chemistry instructor at Douglass High.

Two other assistant principalships are expected to be filled at Melrose and Douglass. According to reports, Ernest Abron, American history instructor, will fill the post at Melrose High, and Otto Lashley, physics, algebra and trigonometry instructor at Hamilton, will be assistant principal at Douglass.

There is a possibility that principals for Florida, Merrill and Prospect will be elected at Friday's meeting.

PREP FOOTBALL ROUNDUP: Melrose And B. T. W: May Surprise!

Sing Sad Tune At Melrose

Melrose showed steady improvement last season and ended in a tie for second place with Booker T. Washington, but there is no telling what will happen this year. Head Coach Eldridge Mitchell, who starred as quarterback some years back for Southern University, says "Our chances are slim."

Eighteen boys with some experience are on the squad but only two of them were regulars last season. Mitchell said he lost 13 starters from the 1961 team.

The two veteran starters are Walter Bell at quarterback and Allen Scruggs, a tackle.

With the new boys who showed up this summer, Melrose has a squad of 41.

When Coach Mitchell says his chances are slim, he lets it go at that. He isn't discussing the merits of his boys as yet and he isn't singling out what might be his starting eleven.

Washington's Grid Camp Optimistic; Out To Win Title

The Booker T. Washington Warriors may be the one team in the Memphis Prep League capable of snatching the title from Manassas this year. They finished in a tie with Melrose for second place last season and were going strong at the end of the eight-team Prep League schedule. Warrior Head Coach Charles E. Lomax is one of the few mentors taking an optimistic view as the new season approaches. "We should be a pretty good team this year although we are still a year away," he said this week.

Lomax has seven starters from last year's squad along with 18 other boys who have seen some ac-

MRS. REBECCA BIRAM

Mrs. Biram Buried, Retired Teacher

Mrs. Rebecca Biram, a retired city school teacher of 276 S. Orleans, was buried Wednesday of this week in Elmwood. Funeral services were held from Second Congregational Church with the Rev. John C. Mickle officiating. T. H. Hayes and Sons carried out arrangements.

Mrs. Biram died Saturday morning. She was the mother of Mrs. J. Douglas Shepperd of Baltimore and Dr. George W. Biram of Detroit. Her late husband was a well known barber.

A graduate of Tennessee State, she was a trustee of her church, a member of the YWCA advisory board and a retired member of the Retired Teachers Association.

She is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Eudora Mosby of Detroit and Mrs. Margaret Jordan of Chicago.

A home economics major, Mrs. Biram taught in the city system for many years.

Consolidation On NAACP's Agenda

Regular monthly meeting of the Memphis NAACP is set for Sunday, Aug. 26, at Mt. Olive Cathedral, and Linden, starting at 4 p. m.

The proposal calling for consolidation of city and county governments will be discussed.

The Rev. Lawrence P. Hayward, pastor of Parkway Gardens Presbyterian Church, will give the inspirational message.

Shut Him Up With Gun

Mrs. Fannie Mae Bratcher, 64, of 301 N. Manassas, said she got tired of husband, Tommy, 68, cursing her from the front porch. So, she shot him twice in the hip. She told police her mate was moving toward her when she fired. He's at John Gaston nursing his wounds. Mrs. Bratcher was being investigated.

tion. Twenty new fellows are trying out for berths.

Booker Washington's seven dependable veterans include four seniors, Howard Finley at quarterback, Bennie Adams, center; Leonard Ward, tackle and Walter Cummings, end. Junior vets are Sammie Williams, guard; Oscar Reed, full-back, and Melvin Western, flanker.

Three other boys from last year's squad are expected to see plenty of action, Walter Barnes, a senior, and Melvin Carter, junior half-backs, and Ronald Ester, junior, quarterback.

In the lineup of new men, a couple of backs are beginning to show promise, Coach Lomax said.

The Warriors open their home season Sept. 14 against Carver in the B. T. W. stadium. Their first game will be Sept. 6 against Tupelo High School at Tupelo, Miss.

Two other out-of-town teams are on Washington's schedule. The Warriors take on Burt High of Clarksville, Tenn., here Oct. 5 in a homecoming tilt and play Cameron High at Nashville.

Mr. Lomax, who starred at Southern University is being ably assisted by Joe Carr of Fisk University, Hosea Alexander, Lane, and Norman Todd of Arkansas State.

Evangelist Clay Buried In Galilee

Evangelist Bernice Clay, who died Aug. 15 at her residence, 1197 Argie, was buried Sunday in Galilee Memorial Gardens following funeral services held from Bethel AME Church, 626 Wicks. The Rev. James Gleese officiated and Southern was in charge.

Mrs. Clay had been an evangelist nearly 15 years and was well known in African Methodist Episcopal Church circles in the city.

She was the wife of Charlie Clay and mother of Mrs. Doris Foster.

18 Persons Drown In Church Outing; Boat Overturns Off Shore

Rescue Equipment Arrives Too Late To Aid Passengers

QUINCY, Fla. — (UPI) — A boat loaded with Negro children on a church outing capsized Saturday and all 18 persons aboard drowned.

The mishap occurred on Lake Talquin about 15 miles west of Tallahassee.

Gadsden County police officer Reuben Gardner said the boat apparently was overloaded and overturned in about eight or ten feet of water about 300 yards off shore.

Gardner said the children were all members of Blessed Hope Church, located about nine miles north of Quincy. They ranged in age from 6 to 10 years.

Gardner said the first word authorities received of the accident was when a hysterical Negro woman rushed into the county jail and told of the accident.

He said every possible piece of equipment was dispatched but that it apparently arrived too late to be of any help.

Gardner said the vessel was an open fishing boat that apparently had been rented from one of the fishing piers. He said he did not know whether it was equipped with a motor.

He said the 18 persons that drowned included one adult, who was tentatively identified as Joseph Boule.

Gardner said the church picnic was being held on the west side of Talquin Lake at the Jesse Johnson.

QUEEN OF CITY POOLS — Sixteen-year-old Flora Fleming, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Fleming, 2105 Hubert, and a senior at Douglass High School, was crowned "Miss City Pool" last week. More than 40 competed for the title. Alternates were Janet Brownwell, 15, of 1524 Gold (first) and Mary Wade, 15, of 2524 Hunter (second).

CROWD OF 5,000 IS EXPECTED

Grid Jamboree Next Wednesday

The second annual high school football jamboree will be played next Wednesday night, Aug. 29, at Melrose Stadium and a crowd of 5,000 or more will be there to size up the eight teams in the Prep League. Each team will play one quarter, with "South" teams opposing those from the "North."

Five ticket windows will be opened at 6:30 Wednesday evening at the stadium to handle the large crowd. The game will get underway at 8.

Only two ticket windows were used last year and it was impossible for hundreds to get in at game time.

Game officials and ticket handlers are volunteering their services. All proceeds will be used by the various high school athletic departments in purchasing injury insurance for the players.

Last year, the "North" trounced "South" teams by a score of 45 to 20. Representing the "North" were Douglass, Manassas, Melrose and Lester. For the "South" were Booker T. Washington, Hamilton, Father Bertrand and Carver.

Fans will follow every move of Manassas' championship team and will try to determine if the current Manassas eleven is good enough to retain the city title. The northside champs should get their toughest opposition this year from Melrose, Booker T. Father Bertrand and Lester.

First week of Prep League play will throw Lester against Bertrand, Sept. 6, and Hamilton against Douglass, Sept. 7. Manassas is slated to open the season Sept. 8 at Melrose against Merry High of Jackson.

Big Budget For N.C. State Is Urged For Fall

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C. — The North Carolina State Advisory Budget Commission sat in biennial session at the Fayetteville State Teachers College on August 8 and heard the institution's President, Dr. Rudolph Jones, present his request for capital improvements which ran to a total of $3,655,000. Each of the items presented had been approved unanimously by the school's Board of Trustees.

One segment of the request included a classroom building for approximately $385,000 to replace Aycock, the oldest building on the campus. Likewise in this category fell a proposed new dormitory for women at an estimated cost of $550,000 and with capacity for 200 women. This new dormitory will replace Bickett Hall, the oldest dormitory on the campus.

Included in President Jones' request also was a new campus entrance and increased campus drainage that ran to $95,000. So also did the request include a new science building at a cost of $403,000. The recent stepping up of the enrollment and the introduction of "science majors" has warranted this new stress upon science. So also do crowded living conditions for men on the campus necessitate a new dormitory to house 250 men. The estimated cost of this dormitory is $487,000.

Like the dormitory for women, the men's dormitory is proposed on a fifty percent self-liquidating basis. The President's request included also a Physical Education Building for women including a swimming pool for approximately $470,000, and a new library building costing around $600,000. Proposed also is a Student Center estimated to run to $230,000. This building is proposed on a fifty percent self-liquidating basis.

Labor Relations Board To Intervene For Negro

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board disclosed Monday he will intervene against a Union accused of refusing to press a Negro work's grievance because of his race.

NLRB Counsel Stuart Rothman said he had authorized a complaint against Local 1, Independent Metal Workers Union, Houston, Tex., and unaffiliated union. The case is the first of its kind in the 27-year-history of the labor board.

The charge against Local 1 was filed by Local 2, Independent Metal Workers Union. Both groups represent workers at the Hughes Tool Co. Local 1 is composed solely of white workers and Local 2 of Negroes.

Rothman said Local 1 would be accused of violating the Taft-Hartley Act provision which bars a union from restraining or coercing employees in exercising their legal rights.

U. S. Commends Negro Medics On Medicare Stand

Secretary Anthony J. Celebrezze recently sent a message commending the National Medical Association for the resolution of support for President Kennedy's program of health care for the aged through social security which it adopted in Chicago Aug. 17.

At its 67th annual convention held in the Hotel Sherman, the National Medical Association went on record as backing the President's plan by a vote of 106 to 71. The convention adjourned.

Secretary Celebrezze sent his message to the new President, Dr. John A. Kenny, Associate Professor of Dermatology, Howard University of Medicine.

The full text of the telegram follows:

"I am pleased to learn of the resolution adopted yesterday by the National Medical Association supporting President Kennedy's program of health care for the aged through Social Security. Support of the National Medical Association, representing over 4,000 physicians, gives new strength and inspiration to our efforts to make certain that Americans 65 and over will be able to meet hospital costs and essential health care services. Please extend my personal congratulations to the National Medical Association.

"With every good wish."

Social Security Program Passed 27th Birthday

The social security program was 27 years old on August 14. Passed by Congress in 1935, it actually started in 1937. In reviewing the program since it began, Eugene L. Rawls, District Manager for social security here, said that few government programs have grown like social security.

Recalling the original act, Mr. Rawls remarked that it at first provided for only small lump sum payments: The 1939 amendments provided monthly benefits to survivors as well as retired workers. In 1950, Congress voted coverage for self-employed workers. Work requirements were lowered and benefit payments raised that year.

Most farmers got social security coverage beginning with 1956 as a result of the 1954 changes in the law. The 1954 amendments also brought the disability freeze into the social security program. In 1956 the law was changed to pay cash disability benefits at age 50 beginning in July 1957. The 1956 amendments also lowered the retirement age for women to 62, and provided payments to disabled children of deceased, or retired workers.

In the 1960 amendments Congress removed the age requirement for disability benefits and many young disabled workers qualified for payments. The 1961 changes in social security provided reduced payments to men at age 62, raised payments to aged widows and dependent parents, and raised the minimum payment.

Another part of the law which has changed considerably, according to Mr. Rawls, is the definition of retirement. When retirement payments first began in 1940, a worker wasn't considered retired as long as he made $15 a month. Now, we pay Rawls pointed out that a work-part retirement age could earn $1700 a year and get all but $250 of his year's social security payments. "That's why we encourage folks to come see us before they retire," he said. Many people past retirement age but still working, think no benefits can be paid because they are earning over $1200. Workers should visit the social security office when they reach retirement age, whether or not they plan to retire.

Zuber Refuses To Run Against Rep. Adam Powell

ENGLEWOOD, N. J. — (ANP) — Stating he intended to devote full time to the school desegregation fight, New York attorney Paul B. Zuber has announced he will not run against Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, Jr., to represent Harlem in Congress.

Zuber, who has taken the battle here to the Federal courts announced:

"The chips are down and from now on, it's all Englewood. I am no longer a candidate for political office in Harlem and I intend to devote all my energy to bringing to the attention of Negroes, those who are trying to keep them back from taking their rightful place. If the Negroes fall in Englewood now, they're finished.

He said he had told his backers that he had to decide between politics and Englewood and he was making his decision early to clear the air of any charges that he was using the local situation to further his political interests. He added that "vicious remarks" had already been made to that effect.

OKLAHOMA CITY — (ANP) — A mother who claimed her six-year-old daughter placed a dime in a soft drink vending machine and was struck on the head by a decorative planter filed suit for $25,000 in district court here.

KNOW YOUR LIBRARY
 By MAUDEAN THOMPSON SEWARD

Here is a neat little handbook on Christian ethics, covering in a general way the entire waterfront of the role of ethics in the modern scene. The author is a well-seasoned student of religion (now teaching at the State University of Iowa) and presents his subject in a very clear light. In short compass, he analyzes various ethical systems competing with Christianity for the mind of man, and brings some old stuff to life with an engaging sparkle.

As the title implies, he makes a lot of the necessity of ethical decisions; we have to decide — even if life makes the decision for us which obviously is what happens most of the time. The author holds with Brunner that "This is the distinguishing feature of man" — but only an awareness of crisis prompts man to come to a decision of life and death and then it's the do-or-die leap into the hands of God.

Just how do individuals in a fairly safe middle-class society become sufficiently aware of their predicament to decide to jump? Whence comes the faint that God will catch them in His arm of Grace when more prudently they may try some fire escape of their own ingenuity? The author is a consistent Lutheran, and thinks "faith is always a miracle" granted through divine grace — but it comes best to desperate and helpless men! Only after we trust in Christ do Christian ethics begin. "Through the Grace of God faith is in our hearts and all works that we do become good works" which certainly shakes the integrity of any religious education program.

Call at the library today and ask for a copy of "Ethics of Decision" by George W. Forell.

Jomo Kenyatta Makes African Unity Appeal

NAIROBI, Kenya — (UPI) — Three thousand members of Kenya's Kipsigi tribe turned out in Kericho Sunday to hear Jomo Kenyatta, leader of the Kenya African National Union appeal for African unity. Most of the tribe support the rival Kenya African Democratic Union.

Rain which rilled while Kenyatta was speaking thinned the crowd to about 11,000 — to the annoyance of Kanu's vice-president, Oginga Odinga. He shouted to the departing members of the audience: "Are you made of sugar that you should fear water?"

Elaborate security precautions were taken to protect Kenyatta during the meeting. He was surrounded by his personal bodyguard in their saffron uniforms.

Members of the Kanu youth wing searched everyone, including newsmen for hidden weapons. A newsreel photographer who objected received a pummeling and appealed to the police for protection.

Africans who attended the meeting even had to give up their belts. When the audience left, the belts were so mixed up that everyone had trouble finding his own.

Official security men and police in steel helmets also patrolled the meeting place in case of an attack on Kenyatta. An army helicopter hovered overhead.

The only incident was a brawl at one entrance gate caused by over-enthusiastic youths. It was broken up by a police baton charge.

DEFEND FBI CHIEF

Republicans and Democrats have come to the defense of the FBI and its director, J. Edgar Hoover, criticized by a speaker at a Democratic conference in Seattle.

In a speech before the Democratic Western States Conference W. H. Perry, vice president of the Fund for the Republic, Inc. suggested Hoover's warning against Communist infiltration, spying and espionage lack foundation.

Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy also came to the FBI chief's defense.

MARY MARTEL

About Gossips And Liars: Mary Tries To Explain Why People Enjoy Doing This

DEAR MARY:
This is a funny question to be writing about but I have heard that people with a gap between their front teeth are gossips and liars and you can put no dependence in anything they say.
Is this true?

WIDE-TEETH
I have heard the same thing but have no scientific proof that it is so. However, suppose you look at the people you know who have the gap and make up your own mind. Are they gossips and liars?
Also, look at those who don't have gaps in their teeth. See next letter.

DEAR MARY:
I have a friend who does nothing but run from one person's house to another's carrying gossip. She inquires into everyone's business then spreads the word. Several of us have talked about this and wonder what we can do to stop her. Can you help?

PICKED
The Lord made all kinds and this woman is one of the kinds. Probably her trouble is that she doesn't have enough to do so that is why she has time to collect and spread gossip.
An indirect solution would be to involve her in as much civic work as you can. Get her to release her energy doing something constructive.
A direct approach would be to stop her when she starts nosing into your business or someone else's by refusing to listen or by refusing to exchange tid-bits with her. After all she must have an audience to be an acceptable gossip monger.

JEB STUART FAN CLUB

By EDDY J. PICKETT and LINDA MARBLE

Hi "Lady Top" and you too "Ole Great One," this is the Jeb Stuart Internationals back on the scene to bring you the latest chatter around the world of jive, music and social matters.
CONGRATULATIONS:
This week we congratulate Miss Flora Jean Flemings for winning the "MISS CITY POOL" of '62 last week at L. E. Brown Pool. She walked away proud as a lamb with a beautiful trophy. First and second alternates were Mary Wade and Janet Braswell.
Miss Fleming is a 16-year-old senior at Douglas High with 49 other beauties. Her statistics are 34-23-37 1-2, height 5'2", weight 116 lbs. After completing high school Flora plans to attend Howard University where she will study law. Her hobbies are swimming and ballet dancing.

INVITATIONS:
The Jeb Stuart Internationals are sponsoring a swinging "Back To School" Lawn party Thursday, Aug. 30, from 7 till 11 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Callie Wilson, 507 E. McLemore Ave. Refreshments will be sold. Adm. 35c. For information call Linda Marble E. X. 7-7805.
TRIBUTE OF THE WEEK:
This week we pay tribute to April Stevens and Nino Tempo who currently have a big thing going entitled "SWEET AND LOVELY" on Atco Records. This swinging brother and sister team is one of the most successful night club acts in the business.
Both April and Nino were quite active solo-wise before releasing their first big duo hit, "I'm In Love Again." Since joining forces the team has played many top night spots throughout the country.
Tempo is also a songwriter and composer. He started his career at an early age of three and a half, rendering concerts and recitals. At the age of seven he began singing with top bands. He also plays clarinet, saxophone, piano and guitar.
"So hats off to a progressing twosome."

SPECIAL NOTE:

Back To School Movement Pushed By Urban League

The Memphis Urban League this week in urging youngsters to return to school released the following statement:
"The Memphis Urban League Urges all Students to return to School and Pursue their Education.
"There comes a time in the life of each of us when we must choose a vocation. The big question that needs to be answered is "Why Is It Necessary To Work?" We work so that we may secure more than the ever present necessities of food, clothing and shelter. Most important is that we work to secure the pleasures of comfortability and luxury. Man works constantly to improve work methods to satisfy a desire for excellence, to satisfy his personal pride, to be of service to others and many other reasons among which is the love of his family.
"Why then can't our youthful ambitions of becoming such professionals as aeronautical engineers, aviators, aircraft mechanics as well as teachers, automotive mechanics, pharmacists, law enforcement officers, physicists or mathematicians be fulfilled.
"Any occupation can be yours. Providing the steps you take during these years are well calculated and determined ones. Only By Stay-in School and Preparing Yourself Can You Be Able To Achieve These Things.
"Students Return to School This Fall."

Negro, Cited By Liberia, Back In Africa

CLEVELAND, Ohio — (ANP) — A 35-year-old American Negro who participated in and led a country-wide smallpox immunization program in Liberia was back home for a short while only to return to the West African country.
He is Alfred C. Burroughs, a technician at Lakeside hospital here. Burroughs, who has worked at the hospital in the anesthesia department for the past 10 years, was requested to stay longer by the Liberian Government. He was cited by Liberia for his humanitarian and Christian work civilizing our brothers.
Burroughs was the only Cleveland Negro and one of two among a group of 26 persons from Lakeside who worked in the program known as "Operation Brother's Brother."
He was trained for the mass immunization program by Dr. Robert A. Hingson, head of the Lakeside anesthesia department, who planned the mission to Liberia to "wipe out" smallpox.
Dr. Hingson, who invented the Jet Injector (a needless, hand vaccinating machine) departed with the group last January 30. All members of "Operation Brother's Brother" except Burroughs and Robert Antes of Canton, Ohio, returned to the U. S. last April 1.
President William V. S. Tubman of Liberia presented Burroughs with a medal making him Knight Official of African Redemption as a "public testimony of gratitude." Burroughs wore the official uniform for the Order while home in Cleveland.
Burroughs, before leaving for Liberia, reported that he alone vaccinated as many as 13,000 people a day, using the new Jet Injector.
"We had no time limit," the technician related. "We worked from sun up to sun down." He said the roads in the country are few and far between.
"But we went to all the villages," he reported, "hut-by-hut. We barreled none."
He said the speedy Jet Injector made it possible for the team to vaccinate 700,000 Liberians against smallpox.

35 YWCA Ladies Enjoy Western Tour

YWCA LADIES COMPLETE TOUR — Here are the 35 ladies who toured the West this summer under direction of the Sarah Brown Branch of the local YWCA. The group left here July 22 and the tour lasted 16 days. Mrs. Addie Griffin Owen, YWCA director, was in charge.

As the thirty-five members of the Young Women's Christian Association, Sarah Brown Branch, left July 22 for an exciting sixteen-day trip to Southern California, they knew that many scenic thrills awaited them.
Following a brief devotion led by the Rev. Blair T. Hunt the group kissed family and friends good-bye and boarded the modern Greyhound bus and relaxed in air-conditioned comfort to begin the trip which covered over four thousand miles.
We followed America's scenic highways to the big cities, to magnificent national parks, to gay vacation playgrounds of all kinds, and to countless scenic regions and beauty spots in seven states. The group's enjoyment was doubled because of the choice of routes going one way and returning along another scenic one.
Everything about a YWCA trip makes it the friendly way to travel the courteous driver and the informality of the comfortable buses. Most of all, it's the friendly fellow passengers whom you get to know intimately who make your trip such a personal pleasure.
After an overnight stop in Oklahoma City at the Sheraton Hotel, the group said adieu to the Capitol with its background of oil derricks and headed toward Tucumcara, New Mexico for the second night stop.

China Town. We visited the Griffith Observatory for a view of the lights of the City and visited the Planetarium.
Early the next morning we bade farewell to Los Angeles and sped on our way to Phoenix, Arizona to spend the night. Then to El Paso for the next night. Here we crossed the border and visited Juarez, Mexico, the largest Mexican City on the border with some three hundred thousand inhabitants. The group had dinner there, shopped and then walked back across the Rio Grande River on the International Bridge. We each paid two cents to cross into Mexico and one cent to return.
At seven the next morning, we left El Paso for Midland, Texas. Enroute we stopped at Carlsbad Caverns National Park, New Mexico.
Overnight at Midland, then a night in Dallas, finally on the evening of August 6th we crossed the Tennessee - Arkansas Bridge and we knew we were just a shout from our respective families and homes.
Ladies making this memorial trip were: Mrs. Marie L. Adams, Mrs. Gertrude Armstrong, Mrs. Hattie Brattin, Miss Mattie Bell, Mrs. Florence Bolden, Mrs. Pearl Clark, Mrs. Henrietta Craigen, Miss Annie Cargill, Mrs. M. E. Bowman of Canton, Mississippi, Miss Isabelle Greenlee, Mrs. Willette Humphries, Mrs. Elizabeth Harris, Mrs. Joy Horne, Mrs. Narcissa Jones, Mrs. Ida Jackson, Mrs. Pearl Jefferson, Mrs. Floyd Johnson, Mrs. Beatrice Johnson, Mr. Alms Morris, Mrs. Mary Montague, Mrs. Rosa Morgan, Mrs. Elmira Mann of Springfield, Mrs. Katie McGuire, Mrs. Willie Peques, Mrs. Martha Price, Mrs. Ruth Porter, Mrs. Mamie Pampllett, Mrs. Elizabeth Rowan, Mrs. Isabelle Roullac, Mrs. Annie Siddell, Mrs. Teora Smith, Mrs. Omega Shelton, Mrs. Ruth Weed, Mrs. Freddie Westley, and Mrs. Addie Owen. Director Sarah Brown Branch Young Women's Christian Association.

Boating Tragedy Victims Mourned

QUINCY, Fla. (UPI) — The Blessed Hope Missionary Baptist Church held no services Sunday as its congregation preferred to mourn in private the loss of most of its primary Sunday School class in a boating tragedy.
The Rev. Robert Greene said no memorial services were planned for the 18 persons, including 17 children, who drowned when an overloaded boat capsized on a lake during a church outing on Aug. 18.
Church services are held once a month in the unpainted, concrete-block church which serves the rural Negro community of St. John's settlement near here.
Ed Davis, Jr., teacher of the primary class, spent the morning taking food to the families of the victims. Greene visited the parents Saturday night and Sunday.
The community still was in shock over the suddenness of the tragedy on Lake Talquin. Church Deacon Joseph Boule, 25, and 18 children had left Jessie's Landing in a 16-foot boat for a ride on the lake. The overloaded boat began taking in water and Boule raced the motor in an attempt to keep the craft above water. The spurt sent water flowing into the front of the boat and it sank, nose first, with its screaming cargo, in seven to 10 - feet deep water some 200 yards from shore.
"Some of the children fell in and some jumped," said Chief Gadsden County Sheriff Robert Martin. He said Boule could swim but apparently was pulled down by panic-stricken children.
Several children were clinging to Boule's body and he "had a death grip on one little girl he apparently was trying to save," said state trooper Joe Ross, who recovered Boule's body.
Only one boy on the boat survived. Jerome Maple, 11, grabbed a fishing pole extended him by a white man fishing nearby. Other would-be rescuers, including several other fishermen, arrived too late.

Chicago Trade Fair Hears Nigerian

CHICAGO — (ANP) — Nigeria's ambassador to the United States, Chief S. O. Adebó, addressed a luncheon session during the World Marketing and Economic Development conference at the fourth annual Chicago International Trade Fair.
Chief Adebó, who spoke on "Economic Development in Tropical Africa," was one of a group of speakers who appeared on last week's program opening the Fair, which continues through August 12, at McCormick Place Exposition Center.
World peace through world trade and economic development was the aim of the conference, according to Edward C. Loggins, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry and vice president of the United States Steel corporation.
The Association sponsors the global gathering which is expected to attract more than 750,000 persons, including 35,000 professional buyers. The new African state of Chad, Ecuador, Brazil, Malaya, Bulgaria and Columbia are new exhibitors at the Fair.
At its pavilion, Chad is featuring tourism and visitor attractions, displaying its wonders — from bush to river country, from the sands of the Sahara to the land of the long-tusked elephant.
Chad will describe its breath taking beauty and marvelous mysteries among 25 other nations presenting national pavilions at the Fair, largest and most important event of its kind in the American Hemisphere.
In Tucson, Ariz., hotel and restaurant owners pledged equal service to all races and creeds in August, 1960.

St. Luke Set To Honor Officers

On Aug. 26, St. Luke Baptist Church, located at 1280 Stonewall St., will observe its annual "Deacon's and Trustee's Day." The pastor, Rev. T. R. Buckner, will deliver a special morning sermon at the 10:45 worship service.
At the 3 p. m. service, St. Luke will have as its guest the St. Paul Baptist Church of 1144 E. McLemore Ave. St. Paul's pastor, Rev. Samuel H. Herring, will deliver the evening sermon and music will be rendered by the sanctuary choir.
Assisting the sanctuary choir will be St. Luke's No. 1 and youth choirs. I. Reed, Jr. is chairman of the board. L. Hudson is the program chairman and C. Alston is the trustee chairman.

Woman's Day Aug. 26 At Pilgrim Rest Bapl.

Women's Day will be celebrated Aug. 26 at Pilgrim Rest Baptist. Mrs. G. T. Young of Avery Chapel A. M. E. church will be the speaker at the 11 a. m. service and Mrs. Inez Brooks of St. Peter's Baptist Church will be the 3 p. m. speaker.
The women's chorus will furnish music with Mrs. Mayola Killbrew directing.
The women of the church wish to thank all who participated in the Feast of the Seven Tables held at the Wonder Bread Cafeteria.
Rev. C. M. Lee is pastor of Pilgrim Rest and Mrs. Alberta Payne the church reporter.

School Drop Outs

Two youngsters who thumbed a ride were heard the other day discussing their ages and how proud they were that they would soon be of the age where they could drop out of school. They had shared some sad experiences with truant officers and "mean" teachers who often resorted to reporting them to their parents when they failed to show up at class.

These youngsters did not realize the importance of a rudimentary and high school education which would fit them for some type of advanced duty even if they eventually got into the armed services.

The thing uppermost in their minds apparently was when they could drop-out and find a job or pilfering about the street.

So, we have before us just now our drop-outs, a problem posing at a time when the state is pouring out vast sums of money for education and facilities as never before. At the same time there is an urgent call for prepared young men to meet the rigid demands of the time.

There is a temptation on the part of many girls when the lessons and goings are hard to find excuses to drop out.

They drop out at a dangerous age. Here is a source for our juvenile problems and an extra expenditure of tax payers money to keep up penal institutions, houses of correction, asylums and hospitalization.

Just what are we going to do with our drop-out problem cases?

Is there anything that society can do to help out the teachers and the parents to show these potential drop outs they should at least get through high school?

The Early Hours

It is still true that the early bird gets the worm, as far as work and accomplishing it is concerned. For some reason or other—as every business man knows—interruptions can kill much time during the normal working hours.

More than one successful executive knows that in the early morning hours, or even in the evening hours, one can work more or less undisturbed. The morning hours are even better than the evening hours, since the mind is clearer and both the body and mind fresh. At night one sometimes must fight fatigue.

The farmer who rises at four o'clock in the morning knows that much can be done between then and eight or nine o'clock. Unfortunately, the hired man or woman who must work steady hours cannot test this theory.

Finally, some of the prettiest sights ever to be seen will be viewed at sunrise—in case you have forgotten. The earth is still and beautiful and it is a wonderful time for spiritual thought and contemplation, which few of us have enough time for in our rush for the dollar in this twentieth century.

Smallpox Scare Hits New York, Hunt Made

By STAN HALL For UPI

NEW YORK — (UPI) — A boy infected with highly contagious smallpox recently passed through two of New York's busiest transportation centers, health officials learned Sunday.

The disclosure touched off a widespread search for those who might have come in contact with the dread disease.

Emergency vaccination centers were set up at eight key locations throughout the city. Officials from the U. S. Public Health Service, the United Nations World Health Organization WHO and the New York City police department marshaled their forces to stop the possible spreading of the disease.

Par-flung health services went into action after the Canadian Ministry of Health notified Washington that the boy, James William Orr, 15, was in a Toronto hospital suffering from the disease that has been known to have as high as a 35 per cent mortality rate.

Orr, the son of a missionary en route from Brazil to Canada, passed through New York Aug. 11. He arrived with his family at Idlewild Airport on Argentine Airlines flight 323 which carried 75 passengers, officials said.

OFFICIALS TRACE BOY'S PATH From the airport, the family took a taxi to Grand Central Station where they waited from 2 p. m. to 3:30 p. m. to board a train for Canada.

The New York City Police Department released a partial list of those who were aboard the plane with the boy. It listed 16 of the 29 persons named as still unlocated. Of those who have not been found, three had departed for Argentina, one had left for Italy and one had been traced as far as Canada without being found.

Burgon General Luther L. Terry, head of the U. S. Public Health Service, made the announcement from his Washington headquarters. He joined other officials in urging anyone who might have come in contact with the boy to be vaccinated immediately, no matter how recently he may have been inoculated.

The Orr boy's case followed an outbreak early this year in Europe which health detectives traced to travelers coming from Pakistan. U. S. officials said they knew of no serious smallpox outbreak in this country since 1938.

Terry said that in addition to the boy, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Orr, and his two sisters were in the party.

In New York, a Public Health Service spokesman said there was no record of the boy being vaccinated on his arrival at Idlewild. This, he said, indicated the boy presented a valid vaccination certificate.

USELESS VACCINE BLAMED

"There is a possibility that the boy got a vaccine that was ineffective," the doctor said.

The exact number of those who may have come into contact with the Orr boy could not be determined. But officials said that "very few" of the 27,000 persons who pass through Idlewild on an average day or the 100,000 who use Grand Central could be considered to have made "possible contact" with the disease.

Officials did warn those who may have been exposed that the World Health Organization listed a smallpox vaccination as being good for an average of three years only.

While officials said they did not want to create panic, they said anyone who was in the waiting room — at any time between noon and 8:30 p. m. Saturday, Aug. 11 — should get vaccinated. Members of their families also should be vaccinated.

3 Federal Appeals Judges Deny Ala. Petition By Parent

NEW ORLEANS — (UPI) — Three federal appeals judges today denied a request to force a U. S. District Judge in Alabama to hold an immediate hearing on a suit to desegregate Birmingham, Ala., public schools.

The Fifth U. S. Court of Appeals panel unanimously upheld a ruling by Dist. Judge H. H. Grooms putting off the hearing until after a similar case against the Birmingham Board of Education was heard in October.

T. N. Nelson, a Negro with two school-age children, petitioned the appeals court for a writ of mandamus to force Grooms to act on Nelson's motion for a preliminary injunction to desegregate Birmingham public schools.

GUN BLAST KILLS MUSICIAN; CRACKER CATCHER "CRITICAL"

'LOVE TRIANGLE' HINTED IN SHOOTING TRAGEDY

By JOHN BRITTON

ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) — The jumping and living king of jazz organist here was killed early Tuesday by a self-inflicted gun blast to his head, police reported. Detective F. J. Hasty said that before turning the gun on himself, Cleveland Lyons, 42, of 203 Linkwood Road, S. W., fired two bullets from a .32 caliber revolver into the body of Valmy Thomas, 32, the Virgin Island-born catcher for the Atlanta Crackers baseball club. Thomas, a former major-leaguer who has had a turbulent career in Triple A baseball this year, was reportedly improving at the Hughes Spaulding Hospital Tuesday night. He was taken to Grady Hospital earlier in critical condition.

Homicide Detective Hasty said the shooting was apparently the result of what appeared to be a love triangle. The incident occurred at the home of a woman both men had been seeing lately, Hasty said.

The woman involved in the case was identified by Hasty as Miss Marlon Willis Evans, 32, of 483 Fedora Way, N. W., a former waitress. Her home was the scene of the shooting.

Lyons' body was found face down in a doorway joining the dining room and the carport, detectives reported. His eyeglasses and a .32 caliber pistol were found beside his body, police reported.

The baseball player, Thomas, was found lying on his back with two gunshot wounds through his upper right chest. He was found outside the house where the shooting occurred.

FIBED AT HER

Miss Evans was not wounded during the shooting, Hasty said. At least one shot was fired at her as she fled out of the bedroom when Lyons allegedly climbed through a window blasting away with a pistol.

Police based their "love triangle" theory on a statement they quoted Miss Evans as giving them.

The woman was quoted as saying that she had been "going with" Lyons for some two years, and that he had contributed $10 to $20 a week toward her support."

Det. Hasty further quoted the woman as saying that she had known Thomas approximately four to six weeks and that she was "going with him also during this time."

In attempting to reconstruct the case, police agreed on the following sequence of events:

The detective said Lyons apparently was responsible for a torn screen that was found ripped away from one of the bedroom windows. WINDOW ENTRANCE

He apparently entered through the window (it was about five feet from the ground; and fired at least two shots at Thomas who was reportedly in the woman's bedroom.

During the shooting, Miss Evans ran from the house screaming, police said. She went to the home of a neighbor.

Back at the house, police said, Lyons, after having shot Thomas twice, allegedly told the man to get up from the floor and "let's talk like two adult men."

Thomas walked toward another part of the house, police said, then sprinted out the door and he collapsed in the driveway of a neighboring house.

The neighbor who had been alarmed by Miss Evans' screams ran down the street to the home of a city of Atlanta policeman, identified as Roland Lane. Lane was off-duty at the time.

Lane said he heard a final shot just as he stepped from his doorway heading toward the scene.

When the house was re-entered by Lane and others, Lyons was found lying in the dining room with a bullet through his head.

Later Tuesday afternoon, the county medical examiner at the coroner's office ruled officially that Lyons died from a self-inflicted gunshot wound to the head. They said it was a "contact wound."

Though Thomas was reportedly in poor condition at one point Tuesday, he was expected to recover, according to official sources.

Lyons was perhaps the most famous combo leader in the city. He was scheduled to appear for the first time at a westside night club tonight.

His driving rhythms on the organ and his showman antics while on stage made him one of the most warmly received musicians by audiences all over Atlanta and the Southeast area.

He was much in demand by many private clubs that sponsored lavish dances and other parties. At least one nationally-known group would have no other musician play for their affairs when meeting in Atlanta.

VIRGIN ISLAND NATIVE

Valmy Thomas is a native of St. Croix, Virgin Island, where he still maintains his legal residence. In Atlanta, his address was given as 1287 Fair St., S. W.

Thomas, a 5' 8" backstop, broke into organized baseball in 1950 when he was signed by the New York Giants, along with Hector Lopez.

Thomas is single, and came to the Atlanta Crackers after a run-in with an International League umpire while playing for the Rochester Red Wings. He was banished for 30 days following the altercation by George M. Trautman, czar of the minor leagues.

Valmy was signed to an International League pact last spring by the Jacksonville Suns, who then bartered him to Rochester. He went back to Jacksonville after his umpire rhabard, and the Suns then dealt him to the Crackers. He batted .213 for Jacksonville and .222 for the Crackers.

Thomas did not accompany the Crackers on their current road trip, partly due to suspension and partly due to injury. He had not been reinstated to the active list.

CLEVELAND LYONS

He was due to come off the disabled list Thursday.

Lyons was best known throughout the city for his musical combo, though he did once have an interest in several business enterprises, and was qualified to operate in some capacity of the mortician business.

Police said they found blood on one bed in the bedroom where the shooting occurred. More blood was found on the floor beside the bed. A trail of blood led from the bedroom to the spot where Lyons was found.

In the bedroom, the investigators said, police found a pair of pants that was said to belong to Thomas.

In front of the house, police said, Lyons' 1959-model car was found. It was impounded, Hasty said.

Detective Hasty said the pistol found beside Lyons' body will be held by the police department for an indefinite period.

SEVEN IN ONE FAMILY

One family—that of Mattie Mae Watson—lost seven children, ranging in age from 6 to 14, in the tragedy.

Another family lost four children and still another family lost two, witnesses said, but instead it caused the water to rush forward and the boat went under.

"It was panic that got them," said highway patrolman Joe Ross of Liberty County.

"The boat was floating right beside where they went down. All they would have had to do was reach out and grab it," he said.

RAISES BODY

Ross said he personally had raised Boule's body. "He had a death grip on one little girl he apparently was trying to save," Ross said.

The trooper added that Boule apparently "was mobbed" by all the children. "Several were still clinging to him when I found him," Ross said.

The boat went down about 100 yards off shore, just beyond a patch of water lilies. Ross said the water was only about seven feet deep at that point, "just over my head."

Officials said all the victims were members of the Blessed Hope Missionary Baptist church at St.

MISSISSIPPI BLVD. CHRISTIAN CHURCH

THE BEST OF TEACHERS

TEXT: "Learn Of Me", Matt. 11:29 "Jesus teach me that I may learn", should be the prayer of each of us.

Nicodemus was right when he said, "Rabbi, we know that you are a teacher come from God."

Christ was a teacher come from God, and he meant to let us all know that he was when he spoke these words of conscious leadership, "learn of me."

Jesus taught by precept and example. Let us learn from his devoted consecration. Christ had a work to do and gave himself wholly to it. He was in earnest about it. Jesus "pleased not himself." "He went about doing good." Do we? So many go about doing evil. Peace seems to disturb some people. So many people have itching ears and evil tongues. May we learn from Christ's devoted consecration to his work.

Let us learn from Christ's loving sympathy with the needy. He was always kind, sympathetic, approachable. Are we? The heart of Jesus had and has a space in his heart for each and every individual. Let us learn to have a warm spot, a cozy corner in our hearts for every body. Let us learn from Christ the art of winning souls in a winsome way.

Let us learn from his habit of prayer. Jesus began, carried on and followed all his work with prayer.

Do we? How often we read of Jesus going to the mountains, or the desert places or alone to pray. If God's own son felt the need of prayer, how can we poor, weak, mortals expect to get along in our work without it? Before we begin an undertaking, pray. Before we begin the day say "good morning God."

Let us learn from the unwavering faith of Jesus Christ. If Christ knew that he should finish the work God had given him to do, if in the darkest hours he was still conscious that the kingdom he was founding was to be an everlasting kingdom, if he knew the gospel he was proclaiming was destined to conquer the world, then as laborers together with him in the work have we not reason for faith?

Let us sit at the feet of our great teacher and learn of him, attend to his words, study his methods, drink in his spirit and share in his faith.

Jesus the Christ cries out: "Learn Of Me". The humble child of God cries to Jesus "Teach Us". Where there is teaching there is learning; where there is learning there is teaching.

Said Jesus: "You call me, teacher and you say well, for so I am." John 13:13.

Let us matriculate in the school of Christ, study the lessons of Christ and graduate into God's eternal Kingdom.

Placement Law Barred

Federal Judge Orders 3 County Integration

By PATRICK HARDEN

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — Federal Judge Bryan Simpson Tuesday ordered three large counties to integrate their public school systems and barred them from using Florida's pupil assignment law.

Simpson issued permanent injunctions against school boards of Duval, Jacksonville, Volusia, Daytona Beach and Hillsboro Tampa counties.

The orders gave the boards until Oct. 30 to submit plans for complete racial integration of all students, teachers and other personnel, finances and construction applying to their public school systems.

But the orders enjoined the boards immediately from using provisions of the state pupil assignment law to maintain segregation.

Simpson said he anticipated that the three counties would be able to begin operating completely integrated school systems by the start of the second semester next January.

Simpson said that previous federal court rulings had shown that the "good faith application" of Florida's pupil assignment law would result in integration of schools.

"But, the evidence shows that the Florida pupil assignment law has been used to perpetuate segregation and not to accomplish good faith desegregation," he added. "The Florida pupil assignment law does not provide an adequate remedy here."

Lyndon Johnson To Keynote ASNLI Meeting

WILBERFORCE, Ohio—Members of the program committee of the Association for the Study of Negro Life and History (ASNLI) announced that United States Vice-President Lyndon B. Johnson will deliver the keynote address at the national meeting of the ASNLI to be held at Central State College October 22-26.

Dr. Paul McStallworth, chairman of the department of History, Political Science and Geography at the college, stated that the Vice-President agreed via mail to speak before the group in Beacom Auditorium Friday evening, Oct. 26.

The occasion will be the annual meeting of the ASNLI, and a number of the nation's outstanding historians will be present. Among the better known will be Foster R. Dulles, Joseph Taylor, J. Reuben Sheeler, Charles H. Wesley, Lowell J. Ragatz, Jerome Jones, Sherman Savage, Carl Klopstein, and others.

The theme for the national meeting will be "In Pursuit of Freedom: History and Realization, 1862-1962."

Vice-President Johnson will speak at a ten-dollar-per-plate dinner which will wind up the week of historical presentations by the nation's top researchers.

The time will be either 8 p.m. or 6:30 p.m., depending upon pending arrangements with radio and television stations in the area.

Governor Michael V. DeSalle and other top state and local officials have been extended invitations to attend the meeting. Intervention in Miami, White could not be reached for comment.

AMERICAN WOODMEN RE-ELECT LIGHTNER—Lawrence H. Lightner (left) was re-elected supreme commander of the Supreme Camp of the American Woodmen at the 15th quadrennial session held in Denver, Colo., last week. Lightner is shown being congratulated by Percival L. Pratts, co-publisher of The Pittsburgh, Pa., Courier, featured speaker at a banquet honoring Lightner for his 52 years of service to American Woodmen. He has been supreme commander since 1933. American Woodmen was founded in Denver in 1901 and now serves 23 states and the District of Columbia, and is the nation's oldest legal reserve fraternal life insurance association.

American Woodmen Reelect Lightner

DENVER, Colo. — Lawrence H. Lightner, supreme commander of the Supreme Camp of the American Woodmen, was elected to his eighth four-year term at the American Woodmen's fifteenth quadrennial session here last week. He was first elected supreme commander in 1933 and has served the organization for fifty-two years.

J. E. Robinson, Houston, Tex. was elected first vice supreme commander, J. H. Allen, St. Louis, second vice supreme commander, and Harold Jacobs, Denver, was re-elected as secretary-treasurer.

Other Supreme Camp officers elected were: Emory Jackson, supreme escort, Miami, Fla.; Mrs. D. M. Williams, supreme watchman, Los Angeles; Thomas L. Jackson, supreme sentry, Gary, Ind.; Charles J. Blackwood, supreme physician, Denver; and E. R. Boone, supreme prelate, Houston.

Dr. Richard V. Moore Elected President Of American Teachers

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (ANP) — Dr. Richard V. Moore, president of Bethune-Cookman College, has been elected president of the American Teachers Association. Dr. Moore had been vice-president of the organization for the past year.

The American Teachers Association has a membership of over 30,000, with members in 22 states.

In 1956, Moore served on a 70-man commission appointed by the Methodist Church to study racial segregation in the church. He has been secretary and vice-chairman of the City Commission's Interracial Advisory Committee.

Miss Lola Belle Holmes, national vice president and district director of the NALC, charged specifically that certain companies are not complying with the provision of President Kennedy's Executive Order No. 10925, which deals with the promotion and securing of equal opportunities for all qualified persons without regard to race, color, creed or national origin.

Miss Holmes told ANP that she has received a complaint that of the seven unions represented at the Reynolds Aluminum plant at McCook, Ill., only one has non-white workers in the plant, and there are no non-white clerical workers.

She said that she has brought this matter to the attention of Frank Weikel, industrial relations director of Reynolds Metals Company, and that efforts were being made to get a conference with representatives of the company and a NALC committee appointed by Miss Holmes to discuss a possible solution to "the discriminatory practices of these unions."

She said of the seven unions representing workers at the Reynolds plant at McCook six craft unions and one industrial union are involved.

The unions are International Brotherhood of Machinists, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, International Brotherhood of Bricklayers, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners and United Steel Workers of America.

Miss Holmes said the Steel Workers union was the only one which has non-white workers in the McCook plant.

Miss Holmes said the general aims and purposes of the Negro American Labor Council, are to seek the removal of all discriminatory bars against Negroes in unions, industry and government, to serve as the active and articulate voice of the trade union movement within the broad Negro community, to encourage Negroes to give full support to bona fide unions in organizing drives, to discourage any and all efforts to use un-organized Negroes as strike breakers, to encourage higher levels of union responsibility among Negro trade union members, and to actively oppose any legislative proposals or business propaganda (from whites) in the Negro communities that are detrimental to the welfare of the trade union movement.

The NALC is headed by A. Philip Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters and an AFL-CIO vice president, New York.

Miss Holmes, a Chicagoan, was appointed district director of the NALC's seventh district by Randolph at the organization's national executive meeting held in New York in January, which was attended by trade union leaders from throughout the country.

Firms Charged With Dodging J.F.K. Order

Houston Plant, Union Charged With Race Bias

HOUSTON, Texas — (ANP) — Five discharged Negro laborers have filed a $50,000 injunction suit against a Houston chemical company and an oil worker's local union charging racial discrimination. The defendants are Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation and The Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Local 4367.

The employees are Joe Green, Shelba Boney, Frank J. Scott, Johnnie Smiley and Willie A. Stevens, all of Houston.

Robertson L. King, the attorney who filed the suit in U. S. District court, said all five are workers at the company's Pasadena fertilizer plant who were discharged on Aug. 7.

The suit claims that the company discharged the men even though they each has 11 years of seniority.

However, the suit continues, the company retained white employees with less than one year of seniority.

The plaintiffs charge the union has refused to negotiate with the company on matters of racial discrimination against Negro employees.

The suit asks the court to forbid the company and the union to enter into any contract that contains provisions which discriminate against Negro employees.

The union's contract expired May 11, and it is now negotiating a new contract with the company.

AFL-CIO Backs Albany Protest Move Leaders

CHICAGO — (NPA) — "The greatest single moral issue of our time — the right of all citizens to equality — is today being fought out on the streets, in the courts and in the jail cells of Albany, Georgia," the AFL-CIO Executive Council said in a statement issued Thursday.

"On one side," the statement continued, "are those who truly believe in the great doctrine on which our nation was built — the doctrine of the equality of man — no matter what his color, his race, his religion or his national background."

"On the other side are arrayed those who practice the false concept of white supremacy; who seek to throttle the ambitions, the aspiration, and indeed the very rights of our Americans."

"We unconditionally and unequivocally support those who seek equality. The American trade union movement has always supported that fundamental position: we will not retreat one inch from that stand. We will never retreat."

"This Executive Council of the AFL-CIO firmly believes the government of the United States must do more than it has done to guarantee in Albany, Georgia, the freedoms fundamental to America's freedom of speech, or worship, or assembly. We hereby urge the President instruct the Department of Justice to move into Albany, Ga. and make our constitutional guarantees meaningful."

"We salute those men and women who have gone to jail in Albany, Georgia, rather than compromise their principles. They are the true spirit of America. They are our hope of a nation ultimately free of discrimination and segregation."

Sunday School Lesson

TIDINGS OF COMFORT AND JOY
International Sunday School Lesson for August 26, 1962.
MEMORY SELECTION: "How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him who brings good tidings, who publishes peace..." — (Isaiah 52:7)
LESSON TEXT: Isaiah 40: 1-11; 52: 7-10.

Today's lesson is the last in a unit on "A People Unpromoted." In our endeavor to help adults recognize that God's steadfast love has power to sustain individuals and nations, the question we examine today is: In what way does our experience of redemption lead us to proclaim tidings of comfort and joy?

The Bible material for this lesson is essentially the announcement of good news. Its joyous tone is comparable only to that of the angels on the first Christmas morning: "Behold, I bring you good news of a great joy which will come to all the people" (Luke 2:10). Good news is always welcome. How gladly this prophet's message of good news was received by the exiles in Babylon one can only imagine.

But what of good news for the world today? Surely, if ever a people or peoples needed a message of good tidings it is now, in this time of world confusion and turmoil! Are the good tidings of Isaiah needed today also? What are the major points of that message, and what might they mean to us?

First of all deliverance was announced. Captivity was to end. Not peoples and people today held captive in many ways? For some it may be a form of political captivity, for others social or economic under-privilege. In this country, where most of us feel relatively free from this sort of bondage as individuals we are victims of all sorts of fears, from fear of destruction by a nuclear war to fear of failure and loneliness. A message of deliverance from all these forms of bondage would surely be good tidings.

Secondly, the prophet's message was a promise of peace. How much people everywhere desire peace! The enthusiastic reception given anything that promises peace of mind is evidence of a deep sense of need for peace on the level of individual experience. How welcome, then, would be the prophet's promise of peace!

Thirdly, the prophet's message included the declaration to Jerusalem that "her iniquity is pardoned." This indeed was basic to the other points in the message. Only a pardoned people could be delivered and restored to their own land and live in peace. This in turn implied repentance.

One may well ask if there do not exist today some prerequisites for receiving good tidings such as those of the prophet. In preceding lessons we have discussed sin, individual and national, as the cause of the downfall of a people. Is it not true that our personal and national iniquities are the cause of the various "captivities" in which we find ourselves? If so, then good tidings for us, too, must be the declaration that our iniquity is pardoned.

For us also, pardon can only come through repentance, through turning away from our disobedience, whether individual, social, or national. It would seem that we have a great need for the "good tidings" of the prophet's message and that we must prepare for it if it is to be ours.

Our Christian faith is a message of good news, the good news for which the world waits. The challenge to us is to proclaim it. As we do so, we may bear in our hearts the words of Isaiah sung by a mighty choir:

"How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him who brings good tidings."

MADE IN JAPAN
KAMPAIA — (ANP) — The words "Made in Japan," familiar for years in America where Japanese products have been used, will have special meaning for Ugandans when independence on October 9, 1962 is the proposed inscription that will be underneath the Uganda national flag on 650,000 pin-on badges and 2,600 pottery mugs that will be distributed to school children to mark independence. Both the badges and the mugs will be made in Japan.

Gov't May Pay Yule Insurance Dividend

By EDWARD COWAN For UPI

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The government is considering payment of a bonus dividend to 3 million veterans of the two world wars who hold GI life insurance policies, it was learned Sunday.

Consequently pumping out some extra purchasing power a little later this autumn might be very timely.

The Veterans Administration now has about $200 million in uncommitted reserves. Gleason could decide to spend none of it, instead holding it as an extra safeguard against contingencies.

Pay out all of it as a special dividend. Use some of it to augment the regular dividend the VA pays each policyholder on the anniversary of his policy.

Speed up payment of the regular dividend. The VA did that in March, 1961 to combat a recession. It disbursed dividends scheduled to be paid during the rest of the year. It could do that again, anticipating dividends due for three, six or even 12 months.

SPORTS OF THE WORLD

BY MARION E. JACKSON

The best halfback in the Canadian Provincial Football League is tagged Leo Lewis, the former Lincoln University All-American.

When Ross first saw Lewis play, he had just broken Red Grange's touchdown record. He scored 81 touchdowns, 364 points and rushed 4,495 yards during his tenure at Lincoln (Mo.).

In his first year, 1955, Lewis gave an indication of his future genius by scoring six touchdowns with a third place Winnipeg team, and was named on the All-Stars.

After sitting out the 1956 season because of injury, Lewis came back to score eight touchdowns in 1957 as the club hobbled its way into the Gray Cup final against the Hamilton Tiger Cats.

He also set a new record for kickoff returns. In 1958, he raced for 11 touchdowns, and was a leading light in Bombers' Grey Cup win over the Trier-Cats.

Although Leo considers his 1958 performance on a par with his play last year, statistics indicate 1961 was his best year. He topped the Western Conference in rushing average (7.1 yards per carry).

Harry Peter Grant, coach of the Grey Cup championship Winnipeg Blue Bombers, a man not given to superlatives, labels Lewis a "super star."

In an interview on Lewis, Grant reasons this way: "You can't call a man a super star because of one great play... or even two or three. To rate that classification, a man has to deliver over a period of years, under every type of competition."

"The woods are full of backs who can catch the ball when they're wide open or make a big gain when they have a good hole. But you will find a very few like Lewis. Maybe he will make only one play in a game that the average back couldn't have made, but look how many games are won on key play."

Without Leo Lewis, it probably wouldn't have happened.

Negro Problem Via Telstar Is Suggested

By A. J. Siggins (for ANP)

LONDON — (ANP) — The recent development of Telstar will now enable the people of the world to peer behind national boundaries and learn first hand whether life in another country lives up to its propaganda or is as bad as its enemies would have one believe.

For example, the United States has every right to put its many spectacular achievements on parade via Telstar. But it might also be wise for Uncle Sam to show the strides that have been made by American Negroes despite the obstacles encountered in a segregated society.

Under the headline "Telstar Brings the American Scene Live" to European Homes," the Daily Telegraph shows pictures of a baseball game from Chicago, Colonel John Glenn (the American astronaut) talking at Project Mercury Control, heads of American presidents and a red Indian carved in the rocks at South Dakota, and some Japanese dancers at the Seattle (Washington) World's Fair.

A MUST IN EQUIPMENT—Turner High football coach Raymond Williams holds the new regulation mouthpiece for viewing by his players. The mouthpiece is a must for all football players who will not be allowed to play or practice without it.

Judge The Wolves By The Color Of Their Shirts And Pants

By HARMON G. PERRY

ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) — Out at Turner High, Coach Raymond Williams and his staff of assistants have a system by which they categorize their football players. It's a psychological approach to self-improvement designed to either embarrass a player into his best ability, or to keep the top ranked player on the ball to remain top ranked.

When some 70 candidates for varsity positions reported to "Treet" Monday for an issue of playing equipment they were introduced to this caste system and knew how they rated with the coaching staff by the color of the shirt and pants they got.

The Wolves have gotten down to the serious business of making preparation for September 7 date with Price, so the practice field at Turner is a picture of many colors in the mornings and afternoons.

According to the rating system the players wearing the white tops are considered varsity personnel—those whose past performance shows that they have what it takes, but even the white shirts don't have it made.

Then there are those who are wearing the green shirts; they're bucking and struggling to take the job and position of a first-string player. They, too, have the ability but for some reason have not gotten the nod for regular work.

Another group of candidates wear a combination of green tops and yellow pants. Their position is not hopeless, says coach Williams, but mighty dim.

That group of aspirants who wear the yellow tops and yellow pants are just what the color signifies, says coach Williams.

The Wolves are hungry for a city championship and a better showing from last season. Barring injury to the 22 returning lettermen from last season, and considering the large pool of hopefuls, it's no wonder Coach Williams is boasting.

SAN FRANCISCO FORTY-NINERS "LOADED" COACH HICKEY SAYS

By HAL WOOD

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — "This football club," pointed Red Hickey, "is going to be the best I've had in my four years as head coach of the Forty-Niners."

"But that doesn't mean we are going to win a championship. I expect that the other clubs will be improved, too."

To long-suffering San Francisco fans, it was a straw in the wind. They have waited 16 long years to see their favorites win just a divisional title. But no luck.

The Forty-Niners lost their star pass-catching end, R. C. Owens, who played out his option and then signed with the Baltimore Colts.

"But we have a fine crop of ends and pass receivers," says Hickey. "We've never had such a collection of good receivers."

In the group are veterans Aaron Thomas and Clyde Conner, who will vie for the left end position; Monte Stickles and Bernie Casey, after the right tight end; Jim Johnson; and rookies Kay McFarland, Colorado State; John Burrell, Rice; and Dan Coffey, Memphis State.

So quarterback John Brodie, who set Forty-Niner passing records last year, will have plenty of good targets.

New Hall of Fame Rules To Favor Retired Players

COOPERSTOWN, N. Y. — (UPI)

—Directors of the Baseball Hall of Fame Tuesday announced a change in the method of election, putting a greater number of retired players in the "old-timers" category.

Paul S. Keer, president of the Hall of Fame, announced that henceforth players retired for 20 or more years will be considered for election by the special Old-Timers Committee, rather than the Baseball Writers Association of America.

In past seasons, players retired for 30 or more years were voted upon by the Old-Timers Committee; players retired within the past 30 years were considered by the baseball writers.

The changed rule, in effect, would place such old-timers as Sam Rice, Eppa Rixey, Burleigh Grimes, Hack Wilson and Kiki Cuyler (both deceased); Red Faber and Jim Bottomley in the group to be considered by the special old-timers committee.

Other like Red Ruffin, Luke Appling, Ducky Medwick, Phil Rizzuto and Lefty Gomez, who have been retired as players for less than 20 years, still will be voted upon by the baseball writers.

THE SPORTS PATROL

By STEVE SNIDER

NEW YORK — (UPI) — There's plenty of grouching among the players about the current 162-game schedule in effect in both major leagues and the cockeyed travel required to make playing dates on time.

But, says Red Schoendienst of the St. Louis Cardinals, the old days weren't much better. "Remember those trains? Some guys never could get used to sleeping on them. At least now you're flying you can get some sleep in a regular bed."

"I pulled into New York the other morning at seven after a night game at Houston and went right to bed. We had a night game scheduled that night so there was plenty of time for a good rest."

At 31, Schoendienst no longer is a regular who has to drag his bones through that 162-game schedule at nine innings per game but he does make the trips and has to stay sharp as a pinchhitter deluxe.

Up to Monday's games, Red had a total of 16 pinch hits to his credit this year—pretty fair for a man who signed for the season as a coach instead of a player—and is shooting for the National League record of 22 set in 1932 by Sam Leslie of the Giants.

Red you may recall, was kayoed by tuberculosis while playing for the Milwaukee Braves. Shortly after the end of the '56 season, the disease was detected and he was out of uniform until September of 1959. He never made all the way back with the Braves and returned to his original club, the Cards, in 1961.

Schoendienst went to camp this spring as a coach but showed such great form he was placed on the active list on the eve of the official league opener.

Most players, however, don't share Red's view of the hodgepodge travel that turns day into night.

YANKS FACE SCHEDULE The Yankees, for instance, have a nifty one coming up later this month after a game at Los Angeles, they head for Baltimore and will arrive at 6 a.m. They face a two-night doubleheader that night and a doubleheader the following day as well.

Some critics of the 162-game schedule, as opposed to the 194-game chart in effect when both leagues had only eight clubs, insist the extra duty, extra travel, night games, day-nighters and make-up doubleheaders are putting

Henry Aaron, Milwaukee's Mighty A-Bomb, Eyes N. L. Batting Title

By GENE HINTZ

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Milwaukee's mighty A-bomb, Henry Aaron, is aiming for the 1962 National League batting crown, and what's more, he's sure he's going to get it. "I'm too close to miss," he said Tuesday. "I'm going all the way."

Aaron has been red-hot or late, and had the major's longest hitting streak going before Monday night's game with St. Louis. He had hit safely in 20 consecutive games.

Aaron started the season poorly. He was hitting only .267 after the first month of the season and didn't get to the .300 mark until May 31.

Since then he's shown a steady climb to his present .341 and thinks he's got to go a bit higher yet to win his third batting crown.

"I'll take about .345 or .350," he said. "And there's seven or eight other guys I'm going to have to head off."

"The way Frank Robinson is hitting, you can't count him out. Then there's Tommy Davis and Stan Musial. But I don't know if Musial will have enough times up to qualify."

Aaron sloughed off his poor start as "just one of those things."

"I didn't change anything to start hitting again," he said. "I just decided to stop hitting for the fences. Now the average is up where it should be and the home runs are coming naturally."

Aaron's two homers Sunday were his 32nd and 33rd of the year and left him second only to Willie Mays of the Giants in the home run derby.

At his present rate, he's almost a cinch to have at least his second best home run year ever and also his second best hitting year. He slammed RR homers in 1957 to lead the league and he led the league in batting with .356 in 1959. This is the sixth year in a row he's hit 30 or more homers.

The 6-foot, 170-pound Aaron has been in the majors for eight seasons and missed hitting .300 only twice—once in his first year and once in 1960 when he finished with .292 but still managed to lead the league in runs batted in with 126.

His major league RBI high is 132 and he can top that with a good showing in his final month and a half. Before Monday night's game he had 104.

By the 28-year-old Aaron isn't going to let the pressure of the batting race or a consecutive game hitting streak, however him too much.

"I've been in close races before—and I've had hitting streaks before. I learned one thing during the slump this year. I've just got to do what comes naturally," he said.

U. S. To Spend More Money On Huge Rockets

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said Tuesday the United States plans to spend more money on huge booster rockets in an attempt to overcome Russia's "substantial" lead in some space developments.

Until these big rockets are available, McNamara told a news conference, the United States will not be able to match such Soviet feats as sending two cosmonauts into lengthy orbital flights.

He said efforts will be made in the new military budget to be submitted to Congress next January to "overcome this deficiency" in American boosters. One great hope is the Titan III. The Defense Department Monday ordered work to start on it.

McNamara said the Titan III would have between two and three times "closer to three—the thrust that is generated by the Soviets' present big booster rocket."

Titan III will not be ready for "workhorse" space duty until 1964 or 1965.

McNamara said he assumed the Russians also were working to develop more powerful boosters.

He used his news conference to answer congressional criticism of the military space effort, made particularly by Sens. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and Howard Cannon, D-Nev.

The secretary said the Kennedy administration was spending three times as much on such programs this year as was spent in fiscal 1960. He said the figure was twice that of fiscal 1961. His analysis indicated he believed the Soviets are putting their spacecraft into orbit with a booster of 800,000 to 1 million pounds of thrust, as against the 360,000 pounds of thrust generated by the U. S. Atlas.

McNamara rated the Titan III at 25 million pounds thrust, but did not say whether that included both the first-stage solid rockets and the second-stage liquid fueled rockets.

OTHER HIGHLIGHTS McNamara also: —Said he saw "no immediate possibility" of Russia being able to restrict the performance of U.S. missile systems by developing a means to "confuse" the guidance system of American rockets. These guidance systems now are "invulnerable," he said, but acknowledged that "the inconceivable at one time becomes the conceivable at a later time."

—Said there was no change in plans for further high altitude nuclear shots in the Pacific, and declared it had been expected that an earlier shot would produce changes in the belt of radiation surrounding the earth.

—Said last month's successful interception of an Atlas ICBM by a Nike-Zeus anti-missile missile had been expected, and did not "demonstrate a basis for deployment" of the weapon.

ATLANTA YANKEES AND B'HAM'S CONNORS STEEL CLASH SUNDAY

ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) — The Atlanta Yankees, winners of the Georgia - Alabama amateur Baseball League championship two years in a row, are now looking forward to making it their second straight appearance in the Southern Regional Championship Series, scheduled for this weekend.

On Saturday the Yankees will journey to Birmingham to go against the Connors Steel Whiz Kids, champions of the Birmingham YMCA Industrial Baseball League, 2:30 p.m., at Stockham Plant Field, 4200 North 12th Ave.

Then these inter-league rivals will head for Atlanta to wind-up the series with a doubleheader at Yankee Field out in Rockdale Park.

YANKEES WILL BE SEEKING SECOND WIN The Yankees, piloted by Manager Hubert Wade and Coach Nish Williams, will be seeking their second win in the Southern Regional Championship Series. Last year they dropped a 16-1 decision to the Westfield (AFL-CIO 1013) Wildcats, at Acipco Park, Birmingham, then bounced back and upset the Wildcats, 10-5 and 6-0, at Yankee Field, to sweep the championship.

In winning the Georgia-Alabama loop crown this year, the Yankees displayed amazing power in beating out the Atlanta Braves in a tight pennant race.

CONNORS STEEL TOUGH The Connors Steel Whiz Kids, piloted by Manager Leo Hudson, and Claude Turner as general manager, are a tough outfit to handle. They have played in Atlanta previously and have always given the Georgia-Alabama loop champions a hard way to go.

This year the Whiz Kids had to play the tough Ensley (AFL-CIO 1498) Steelers for the Birmingham YMCA Baseball League crown and took them in camp, 10-9 and 15-9 to come through with flying colors.

Connors Steel closed out the regular season with a 14-and-2 record, compared with Ensley's brilliant 16-and-1 mark.

During the Georgia-Alabama loop pennant race, the Yankees walked off with the first half of the split season with very little trouble, but found the Atlanta Braves rather tough in the second half race, yet they managed to finish out front again.

14 Persons Die In Plane Crash

By JOSEPH SIMS

RIO DE JANEIRO — (UPI) — The pilot of the Brazilian airliner in which 14 persons died Monday night when it plunged in flames into Guanabara Bay said Tuesday he discovered "something was wrong" on takeoff.

The pilot, Capt. Renato Lacerda, did not indicate exactly what went wrong as the $5 million DC8 plane roared down the runway on a flight to Lisbon, Paris, and London with 104 persons aboard. But he said the Panair Do Brasil jet couldn't be halted and it rocketed off the runway into the sea despite his desperate attempt to stop it.

Aviation officials said 88 persons are known to have survived the crash and that 14 bodies—13 passengers and a stewardess—were recovered. Two persons, a Lebanese and a Portuguese still are unaccounted for.

Along The Sports Trail

BY SAM BROWN

On August 16th, Amos Alonzo Stagg, patriarch of American sports, celebrated his 100th birthday. Testimonial gatherings were held for him in many parts of the country. He was honored by the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame as "the game's greatest teacher."

Stagg coached more than 70 years before retiring permanently two years ago. He spent many years as one of the Big Ten coaches at Chicago University, and considered among the greatest.

Chester J. LaRoche of New York City, the National Football Foundation's president, pointed out that at Yale, Chicago and the College of the Pacific, Stagg coached boys who went on to become coaches.

The citation presented Stagg read, "You have never cut a corner, you have held honor high, you have put the boy before the game, you have thought of what he could become. We hall you and bring you the title of the game's greatest teacher."

"We pledge that your goodness, courage and concern with America and its youth will forever inspire us in our determination to support our president and leaders towards the greatness needed to bring peace to this world." Three years ago the Foundation presented Stagg its highest award the Gold Medal.

It isn't often that men reach a great age and are able to look back through the years and see the results of some of their teachings. Stagg was deeply religious, and many of examples and deeds were inspired by his deep religious convictions. His life can be an inspiration to many present day in all avenues of life.

HERE AND THERE ALONG THE TRAIL — Little Bennie Logan of Charlotte, N. C. became the first Negro youth to win a United States Lawn Tennis Association title. She defeated Sheryl Smith of North Miami Beach, Fla. 6-1; 6-3 in the tournament played at Chatsanooga, Tenn.

The five-foot-two, 165 pound player, tagged the darling of the tournament was undefeated at the tournament's beginning, but defeated some of the tournament's top seeded stars.

Frank Baniston, a graduate of Tuskegee Institute and a four year varsity catcher for Tuskegee during his school days is the warm up and batting practice catcher for the New York Mets for the National League. Joe Black, former Dodgers pitcher is also, with the Mets and working as batting practice pitcher.

With a little more than a month to go in the pennant races in the major leagues, the defending champions Cincinnati Redlegs and the return of third baseman Freeze, the Giants and the Dodgers can't let any grass grow under their feet.

MEMPHIS ALL-STARS — First row Charles Williams, Robert Terrell, Milton Kelly, Lester Jones, Otis Thomas. Third row Willie Williams, Freddie Lockhart, Clyde Bass, Leonard Draper, Charles Hussey, James Ross, and Mgr. Z. P. Pittman.

VIEWS ON REAL ESTATE

By JESSE L. WILLIAMS

"Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rend you." The Bible-St. Matthew 7 Chapter, 6 Verse.

REAL ESTATE BUSINESS AND THE LAW

The person engaged in the real estate business will be a more capable real estate salesman or broker if he understands the basic legal principles of law under which he must operate. Such an understanding will enable him to recognize the legal problems involved in the transactions which he will negotiate and to appreciate the necessity of the counsel of a competent attorney.

The real estate dealer who understands the fundamental legal principles underlying his business will appreciate the necessity of extreme care in the handling of all phases of a real estate transaction. Carelessness in making out the documents connected with real estate matters can result in expensive legal contests. In reading cases which involve lawsuits growing out of real estate transactions, much of the litigation is the outgrowth of carelessness or ignorance of the law, or both, and costly court action could be avoided if the parties handling the negotiations had competent counsel or had exercised greater care.

Although the real estate business, in its broadest aspects, encompasses substantially all phases of the law a knowledge of certain legal areas is of outstanding importance to the real estate broker or salesman now.

The real estate business has many features common to business in general; yet, the nature of real estate and its importance in our economy endow the real estate business with a number of distinguished characteristics sufficient to justify putting it in a class separate from other business.

In the year of 1961, real estate transactions were over $200,000,000 in the city of Memphis, and the County of Shelby.

462-C1. Real Estate Law. This course is concerned with the basic principles of law and equity relative to many types of real estate transactions. emphasis is placed on those principles with which the businessman and property owner should be familiar. Statutory law as well as the general law, will be studied.

Among the topics studied are land contracts, deeds, broker's fees, mortgages, leases, wills, taxes, etc. This course will be helpful to those preparing to take an examination for a real estate salesman or broker's license. Sixteen assignments, three hours credit.

United Golf Association 36th Annual Tournament

Play was off to a sizzling pace Monday in the qualifying rounds of the 36th annual Open Golf Tournament of the United Golf Association at the Fuller Park and Pine Hill courses.

Pepper Moore of St. Louis shot a seven - under - par 65 at the Fuller Park course to take medalist honors. Memphisian Elton Grandberry had a 71 for third place in the championship qualifying round.

Jimmy Lindsey of Jackson, Miss. and Solomon Guldsky of Chicago led the second division with 81, and Bruce Scarborough of Philadelphia and Charles Dinwiddie of Chicago shot 88 to lead the third division.

Ralph Pretlow of Norfolk, Va., the defending champion of the senior division; Bubba Geeter Memphis, and Thomas Weston of Detroit shot 75 to lead the seniors. Charles Bayless of Chicago had a double eagle on the par five 464 hole of Pine Hill in the senior division, but finished with 77. De Leon Barrow of Detroit, brother of Joe Louis, had a 77. Dollar Saunders of Memphis, a three-time senior champion had a 78.

Mrs. Carrie Jones of Jackson, Miss., led the women's division with an 85 for medalist honors in the women division. Mrs. Louise Walker, Memphis led the second division with 125, and Mrs. Ann Robinson of Chicago had a 93 to lead the senior women.

An added feature of the tournament is the hole - in - one contest and calcutta (closest to hole) open to all players entered in the tournament, with competition confined to regular play. The hole - in one contest is held each day, while the calcutta was only during the qualifying rounds.

Prizes in the hole - in - one contest will be worth $1,000 for the pros and a set of golf clubs for the amateurs. The winners in the calcutta received cooler chests.

Among the pros entered are Arthur Johnson and Henry Allen of Knoxville; James Benford and William Dillard of Huntsville, Ala.; William Tripp and John Brown of Jackson, Miss.; Lee Elder, Chicago; Dell Russell, Detroit; James Black, Charlotte N. C.; Julius Frazier and Kenneth Sharp, Atlanta; Willie Greer, Nashville, amateur champion last year, now turned pro.

The mail truck hijack, largest cash haul in the nation's history, seemed to match in criminal cunning the famed 1950 holdup of Brink's, Inc. here. That robbery netted $1,219,000, most of which was never recovered.

Investigators were checking a number of clues in the case. At Worcester, a resident found a Federal Reserve Bank money bag in Greenhill Park, a secluded area of the city. It was the same type taken by the machine gun gang at Plymouth Tuesday night.

The cash was being transported from Cape Cod to the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston when the robbery occurred. The mail truck, guarded by just two postal employees armed with .38-caliber revolvers, was hijacked by a gang that was believed to include five men and a woman.

Athletes Needed By Peace Corps

The Peace Corps is looking for boxers, wrestlers and judo experts. It also wants swimmers, basketball players and track and field athletes.

In all, the Peace Corps is seeking about 50 athletes, both men and women who have participated in college sports for projects in Morocco, Senegal and the Ivory Coast.

The athletes, who need not be college graduates, have been invited by newly independent African nations to coach and assist in the training of regional and national teams.

Training for those selected will begin about mid-October in an American university. Applicants should therefore submit applications immediately and notify their references to respond to questions as soon as they are contacted.

New Center To Aid School Drop-Outs

NEW YORK — In a new approach toward solving one of the most critical problems facing the nation today the New York City Urban League has launched in Harlem a success center for high school drop-outs.

The program in effect offers a second chance to youngsters who by failure to complete high school face uncertain, if not dismal, job futures.

Candidates will be boys and girls 16 and 17 years old who will receive individual counseling and training services under a New York State grant.

The program scheduled to run 12 months is expected to serve 500 youngsters.

The essential function of the center is to encourage as many youngsters as possible to return to school for some kind of additional training.

This is to be done through diagnosis and treatment of personal, social, family, psychological and vocational problems as probable underlying causes of school departure.

Record Robbery Clues Evaluated By Investigators

By SPENCER GREGORY
BOSTON (UPI)—Top federal and state investigators met Friday to evaluate a series of clues turned up in the record $1,551,277 robbery of a U.S. mail truck.

The meeting at the Massachusetts State House was headed by State Atty. Gen. Edward J. McCormack, Jr., William F. White, chief regional postal inspector, and Leo L. Loughlin, FBI agent in charge of the Boston office.

The mail truck hijack, largest cash haul in the nation's history, seemed to match in criminal cunning the famed 1950 holdup of Brink's, Inc. here. That robbery netted $1,219,000, most of which was never recovered.

Semi-Pros At End Of Season

By J. D. WILLIAMS

The semi-pro baseball season of 1962 ended last Sunday at Bellevue, the Barstoll Dodgers drove the last nail in the coffin of the Beavers. Had the Beavers won, they would still have had an outside chance at the No. 1 spot in Division 1, but their age-old enemy, Anderson Jackson, gave them some of their own medicine of yesteryears.

At Klondike, the Hardwood Stars came out long enough to scare the very living day lights out of the Athletics before the Athletics won it in the last inning with two out in order to remain in a tie with the Blues, this one was a must. Final score: A's 10 - Stars 4.

Wesson Oil almost had a perfect season, losing only one game all season. Clyde Strickland and Henry Busby have done grand jobs maintaining a record of 17 wins against only 1 defeat.

The fans are still talking about the Patton Bros., of the Nashville All-Star team. The two top teams in Nashville now are the Elite Giants and the Teamster Giants. It will be one of these teams that will come to Memphis.

Willie B. Eckridge and his two lieutenants did a fine job for the Black Caps which finished 2nd in the division four competition with a record of 15 wins to 3 losses.

FACTS IN A NUTSHELL
Blues and Athletics in a tie 16-2. Blues won the first half and are tied for the second. In a tight series, Athletics will be champs of Division 1. Magnolia won second half, Humko won first. In a three game series coming up, Magnolia 2 games to 1 over Humko. In Division 2, Desola all the way. Sanitation Sluggers gave them a battle. Flamingo Carriers champ of Div 4 and Wesson dominated Div 5 and now the tournament of champs for the high-crown in the Semi-Pro league.

The Queen Contest is gaining momentum. Who will be the 1962 Semi-Pro Queen? Next Week: Results of the Play-Off.

'62 GOP Election Chances Outlined

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Republican National Chairman William E. Miller said Sunday night that unless his party wins key elections this fall it will "have to look under a rock" for a 1964 presidential nominee.

Saying he must "maintain a posture of complete neutrality," Miller declined to compare the chances of several Republicans mentioned as presidential candidates. But he made these points:

—With New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller running for reelection, "how substantially he wins will, of course, affect his stature and image in 1964."

—"If George Romney is not elected in Michigan as governor this would end that immediately."

—"If Dick Nixon isn't elected governor of California, of course, I think politically he has reached the end of the road."

—Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., "would have his chances enhanced by any of the things which might befall the other candidates of an unfavorable nature."

—"If William Scranton should be elected governor of Pennsylvania and carry this state over from the Democratic to the Republican column, I would think he would be an important figure in our party."

But Miller said matters are purely conjectural at this juncture, and added:

"I try to stress the point that as Republicans, since we don't have the White House or either house of Congress, and less than a third of the governor, and the state legislatures, we better win in '62 and not worry about winning in 1964, because if we don't look under a rock to get someone to take our nomination in 1964."

As for GOP chances at the polls in November, Miller said in a television interview that "we have every reason to be optimistic." One reason, he added, was that in 19 months in control of the White House and Congress the Democrats "have not delivered on their promises."

Miller also listed what he considers the two basic differences between his party and the Democrats. He said:

"In the first place they are in control of government and we are not, and in the second place they can't pass anything when they are in control of government and we could if we were in control."

2 Million Pound Titan III Rocket To Be Developed

By CHARLES W. CORDREY

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Defense Department Monday ordered development of a Titan III rocket that is believed to be twice as powerful as any missile Russia now has. It will be able to boost huge payloads into orbit by the mid-1960's.

When it soars from the launching pads of Cape Canaveral, it will generate two million pounds of thrust from its first stages, which will be strapped to the side of the main rocket.

The Atlas, which powered astronaut John Glenn and Scott Carpenter into orbit, has only 300,000 pounds of thrust.

The Soviet Union is believed to be using a booster with one million pounds of thrust to get their cosmonauts into orbit. Undoubtedly, they also are working on more powerful boosters.

The Defense Department said Titan III will be used to carry out a wide range of manned and unmanned space missions during this decade. It is expected to be in operation in late 1964 or early 1965, unofficial sources indicated.

Annual East-West Game To Attract Thousands

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Thousands of baseball fans are expected to be on hand Sunday August 26 at the Municipal Stadium for the 33rd annual East - West Game of the Negro American League.

Interest and enthusiasm are high for the baseball classic here, which for years has been played in Chicago. This year, the league decided to play the game here in this Central West metropolis for the first time.

Teams composed of the best players in the league will vie against each other in this midsummer battle. Players from the Kansas City Monarchs and the Birmingham Black Barons will represent the West, while the Detroit Stars and the Raleigh Eagles will furnish the East team.

Dr. J. B. Martin of Chicago, and long time league president will be on hand for the classic. Several former participants in East - West games of the past will be honored in pre - game ceremonies. Many of the present major league players have taken part in former games, as well as most of the best known Negro stars.

Condemned Killer Enters Own Plea

CHICAGO (ANP)—Condemned killer James Duker took matters in his own hands last week when he submitted to the U.S. Supreme Court a petition for a stay of execution and a rehearing.

His action was unknown to his attorney, Jason Bellows. While he said he was not aware of Duker's move, Bellows said he had no objection.

Duker, a 37-year-old Negro, is scheduled to die in the Cook County electric chair Aug. 24, for the June 16, 1956, slaying of Det. John Blyth.

Bellows already has filed a petition for executive clemency with Gov. Kerner. The Illinois Parole and Pardon Board will consider Duker's case this week then make a recommendation to Kerner. Duker, who has been reading law-books in his County Jail cell, contends that new ballistics evidence was not submitted to either of the two juries that found him guilty. He also contends in his petition, which he alternately printed and wrote in script with lead pencil, that the fact that the juries see the death sentence was a denial of due process of law.

Upon receipt of a copy of the petition, Asst. State's Atty Marvin E. Aspen telegraphed the clerk of the U. S. Supreme Court that all matters it raised already had been rejected in the courts.

USSR Soldiers Stoned By West Berlin Crowd

By JOSEPH B. FLEMING

BERLIN (UPI)—A Soviet bus carrying Red soldiers to the Russian war memorial in West Berlin was bombarded with stones Monday and two of the Soviet soldiers emerged bleeding from head and hand injuries.

A jeering crowd of 500 West Berliners waylaid the bus, carrying 16 Soviet honor guard replacements, shortly after it passed through "Checkpoint Charlie" on the wall.

It was the third attack on a Soviet army transport in as many days, sparked by anger over the Communist East German shooting last Friday of a teen-age refugee who was left to bleed to death at the wall.

Mayor Willie Brandt, who warned West Berliners that police would crush any anti - American demonstrations such as occurred Sunday, also attempted to protect the Russian transport with a heavy escort but in vain.

POLICE CLEAR CROSSING
The crowds had been cleared away from the U. S. Army's Checkpoint Charlie on the East-West Berlin border at Friedrich Strasse. Two hundred police cordoned it off.

But minutes after the Russian bus passed through and turned into Koch Strasse, a fusillade was unleashed from West Berliners standing only 80 to 100 feet away on either side of the street. UPI correspondent Joachim Grieben reported that almost everyone of the 500 persons in the crowd threw one or two stones or bricks and broke four windows in the bus.

The Russian soldiers were surprised by the attack. They ducked placing their heads between their knees.

Attorneys File To Desegregate Public Schools

RICHMOND, Va. — (UPI)—Attorneys for 65 Negro children filed a federal court suit Friday to desegregate the public schools of rural Powhatan County.

The suit said 62 of the children had applied for transfer to white schools in the county, but neither the County School Board nor the State Pupil Placement Board had taken any action on the requests.

Powhatan's Board of Supervisors has threatened to abandon public education if Negroes are assigned to white schools in the county.

The county has one white high school and a white elementary school for its 711 white students. A private school for whites,

No wonder the English keep so cool!
(mix Gordon's Gin in a tall, iced drink—and you will, too!)

The English are not easily fazed, even by summer heat. This national talent was given a cheerful accompaniment in 1769, when Alexander Gordon introduced his remarkable gin. The Gordon's you drink today harks back to his original formula, because one does not tamper with gin of such distinctive dryness and flavour. Try it soon in a tangy Gin & Tonic or Tom Collins. You'll see why, summer and winter, Gordon's Gin is the biggest seller in England, America, and indeed—the world!

Jamaica's Independence Celebrations End After Unexcelled Hospitality

Powell, Johnson Celebrate Affair

By CLAUDE A. BARNETT KINGSTON, Jamaica — (ANP) — While many of the hosts of visitors who attended the Jamaican Independence Celebrations have departed, throngs still remain in this "enchanted island" basking in its sunshine, enjoying its abundant green foliage, wonderful climate and hospitality.

Jamaica proved to be a generous host. While scores, even hundreds of the visitors came from various countries in the West Indies, Great Britain, Canada and America accounted for many more.

Princess Margaret, representing her sister Queen Elizabeth of England, was of course the star attraction accompanied by her husband, the Earl of Snowdon. There were other titled folk such as Lord and Lady Milverton, from Haiti and Hugh Foot also a governor, the Lord Bishop of Birmingham, representing the Archbishop of Canterbury and the Archbishop Giovanni Ferrafino, from Haiti but representing the Pope.

The more than 100 especially invited guests were housed in the plush new Sheraton-Kingston hotel in which they were the only guests. A car and driver had been assigned each guest for the entire ten-day period of the celebrations so that they could negotiate the considerable distances between events with ease.

Special invitations and admittance cards awaited each of them to numerous events such as the raising in the sparkling new stadium seating 30,000 people, the opening of the first session of the new Jamaican Parliament, the reception at King's House where Princess and her husband were housed. Cards were required at many places including the reception at the Prime Minister's House which had just been refurbished by the outgoing chief minister, Norman Manley, only to have the first event staged there presided over by Sir Alexander Bustamante, the new chief.

The State dinner, the State ball and the mayor's dinner were held in the magnificent ball room of the Sheraton. Visitors were constantly on the move. There were numerous musical and artistic events, plays by Jamaican playwrights, impressive exhibitions of sculpture and paintings by Jamaican artists. Fourteen of the sculptures and paintings were by Mrs. Norman

Jersey Asked To End School Bias

TRENTON, N.J. — The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People recently filed a petition with the New Jersey Commissioner of Education calling for elimination of existing school segregation in Bridgeton, N.J.

The day the celebrations closed the Pan American athletic games bringing athletes from all over the West Indies and South America opened.

Among those from the United States were Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, who headed the American delegation, and his wife and daughter, Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, who represented the United Nations, and Mrs. Bunche; Elmer Anderson Carter, who represented Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, and Mrs. Carter.

Others from New York included Roy Wilkins, executive secretary, NAACP; Congressman Adam Clayton Powell, State Senator James C. Watson with his mother, the widow of the late Judge James C. Watson, with her daughters, Barbara and Grace; Rick Haines of Rockefeller Brothers Foundation; Mr. and Mrs. Kelvin Wall of the Amsterdam News; a Wendell Malliet; Maj. John Silvera, and Mrs. Joseph Davies of the Carver Federal Loan Association.

From Chicago, Judge Richard A. Harewood; Atty. and Mrs. Bindley C. Cyrus; and Mrs. Claude A. Barnett of the Associated Negro Press; Mrs. Jerry Mardis; Mrs. Frances T. Matlock and Lee A. Blackwell representing the Chicago Defender.

Mrs. Gladys Badeau of Kansas City and J. R. Alveranza, well-known engineer of Detroit as well as George W. Westerman, editor of the Panama Tri-une and Principal and Mrs. Williams of Trenton, N. J., were present.

Nigeria was represented by J. M. Johnson, minister of labor, Mao Olaraju, minister of state for police and A. O. Ninlola, Liberia sent Dr. and Mrs. John Mitchell, minister of education.

Sierra Leone had two delegates, Paramount Chief Bakabansah Marah and Kephala A. F. Williams. M. P. Tanganyika, A. Z. N. Swai; Ghana, A. K. Piplum, deputy minister of foreign affairs; H. C. Yemokpe, third secretary and H. Onyand, public relations officer to Ghana Mission, New York.

Mississippi Told To Gather Vote Records

JACKSON, Miss. — (ANP) — A Hinds county circuit clerk has been ordered to produce his voting registration records for inspection by the Federal government.

H. T. "Bubba" Ashford, the clerk, said last week that he had been served with formal papers from the U. S. District Court office here, "requiring production of records copying."

He is required to appear in court Aug. 21, for a hearing.

Two deputies from the federal court served the papers which were signed by Robert Harberg, U. S. attorney.

The U. S. Attorney General's office, represented by Burke Marice, represented by Burke Marshall, assistant attorney general handling civil rights matters first called upon Ashford in July by letter to permit inspection of his records.

Ashford, represented by his attorney, Weaver Gore answered and declined voluntarily to submit to inspection.

The Hinds clerk is expected to ask for specific charges, who brought them and what the violations are for which the action was brought.

Negro Maid One Of Few Guests At Monroe Rites

By CALLA SCRIVNER LOS ANGELES (ANP)—Miss Florence Thomas, the Negro maid of Marilyn Monroe, paid her last respects to the glamorous film actress by attending her funeral rites along with some 30 invited guests.

It is believed that of those present Miss Thomas was the one most closely associated with Miss Monroe. Not a single Hollywood celebrity was discernible in the tiny group of mourners that filed into the chapel of the Westwood Village mortuary.

Neither Miss Monroe's second husband, Joe DiMaggio, the ex-New York Yankee star, nor the star's half-sister, Mrs. Bernice Maracle, were as closely associated with the actress during her lifetime, as was Miss Thomas. According to Marilyn's close friends, Mrs. Maracle had met her sister only once in her lifetime. DiMaggio and Miss Monroe were divorced after only nine months of marriage.

As I stood with other members of the press behind the ropes near the entrance to the mortuary, I couldn't help thinking to myself: "This is the strangest Hollywood funeral I have ever witnessed—absolutely not one big Hollywood name."

I couldn't blame Miss Monroe's intimate friends actor Peter Lawford and his wife, Pat, President Kennedy's sister, Frank Sinatra and Dean Martin, for being peeved.

The Lawfords had interrupted a vacation at the President's summer resort at Hyannis Port, Mass., to fly here for the funeral. But they weren't invited. Lawford, before returning to Hyannis Port, blasted the poor handling of the funeral, allegedly by Mrs. Maracle, DiMaggio and Marilyn's business manager, Inez Melson, saying:

"I am shocked. Pat flew in Monday night from Hyannis Port, where she had been vacationing with the kids, just to attend Marilyn's funeral. But we were not invited. I don't know who's responsible, but the whole thing is badly handled."

The press, including this reporter, was also barred from the rites.

I can say this for Joe, however. He must have loved Marilyn deeply and sincerely. Several times prior to the simple rites, he had spent hours in the chapel alone with the remains of the famous actress. To me he was the most sorrowful mourner in the whole funeral procession. He plucked one lone carnation from the snow-white blanket which had covered the bronze casket just before it was placed in the mortuary crypt.

However, Miss Monroe's public was not so considerate. After the funeral, crowds stormed the mortuary grounds, ripping flowers from the colorful funeral wreaths for souvenirs.

During the rites and burial, I stood on the grass and on the bare ground for over three hours, but I was glad I had come. I had only one regret. I had not worn my "Walking" shoes.

Morticians Will Meet In Chicago

Chicago, "the world's most exciting city" will be host to the National Funeral Directors and Morticians Association when it opens its silver anniversary convention at the Morrison hotel on August 26. More than 800 delegates are expected for the business sessions and social events which on August 30 ends.

The Association represents a membership of nearly 3,000 progressive morticians and funeral directors who are highly respected and useful citizens of their communities. F. H. Purnell of Houston, Texas, is the president; and Aid. Robert H. Miller, varsatile businessman of Chicago, Ill., is the general secretary and editor of the association's monthly publication, "George W. Jones, president of the Illinois Selected Morticians Association, the host organization, stated that plans for the greatest convention in the Association's 25 year history have been completed by the Chicago group in conjunction with the national body's convention committee.

Memorial services for deceased members will be held on opening night at Greater St. John's Baptist Church, 4821 S. Michigan Ave. Rev. William A. Johnson, the pastor, will participate with the chaplain, J. R. Weatherly of York, Ala., the 1962 recipient of the Mortician of the Year trophy.

The president's breakfast on Monday August 27, will be followed by a 10 o'clock public meeting at which greetings will be brought by Mayor Richard J. Daley and other leaders in the city's community affairs. A fashion show, featuring the Carl Scott models, is on Monday's evening program.

A multi-million dollar exhibit of embalming supplies and automotive machinery featuring the latest developments in the industry will be on display in the Morrison's Constitution room.

Another convention highlight will be the awarding of certificates of merit to members who have been in the association since 1939. The "Woman of the Year" trophy, awarded annually Aid. Robert H. Miller will go to Mrs. Birdie Beal Anderson of St. Louis, Mo.

Shriners Urged To Push For Human Rights

Carl Rowan Says Group Must Help Strengthen Democracy

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (ANP)—Five thousand Shriners here for their 61st annual Imperial Council session were urged to take the front ranks in the struggle for human rights.

Speaking at a pre-convention public program, Carl T. Rowan, State Department Deputy Assistant Secretary of public affairs, commended the delegates for their outstanding assistance to Negro education but emphasized that Shriners must help strengthen democracy in our time for all Americans.

Meeting at the Leamington hotel, delegates to the Ancient Egyptian Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, heard Imperial Potentate Booker T. Alexander of Detroit, keynote the annual session with an appeal for Shriners to assume new roles of leadership in communities across the country.

Alexander said members should provide frontline leadership in registering and voting drives, encourage Negroes in business and fight for a reduction in crime.

The Potentate declared that the huge influx of Negroes into metropolitan areas of the North, East and West make it imperative for Shriners to begin a new program of assistance.

Black Muslims Step Up Push

WASHINGTON, D.C. — (ANP) — While the House Un-American Activities Committee geared itself for a possible full-scale probe into their activities black Muslims stepped up their outcry for separation of the races and black supremacy.

In San Francisco, they threw themselves into a school desegregation fight and were reported as urging that Negroes have their own schools instead of attending schools with white youngsters.

In St. Louis, 64-year-old Elijah Muhammad, Georgia-born black muslims leader, repeated his request that part of the United States be given to the Negro people as their own homeland.

Disagreeing with Negroes who oppose black supremacy, he said: "If they never lived under black supremacy, how do they know they won't like it?" Muhammad was speaking at the city convention hall to a crowd estimated at 3,500 including about 50 white persons, who were seated together.

In Los Angeles, Jensen between whites and Negroes mounted as nine muslims indicted for assault and resisting a policeman await trial as an aftermath of a riot involving muslims and policemen in which one member of the sect, Ronald T. Stokes, was shot dead by a law officer.

In Chicago, headquarters of the movement, muslim resentment has been on the increase since May, when the muslim school was dropped from the list of accredited private schools by the Cook County Education Office. The office acted after muslims refused to permit inspection of the school's curriculum.

The resentment in Chicago was compounded last week with the ap-

Ellington And Armstrong Set For Commercials

NEW YORK — (ANP) — The music of band leader-composer Duke Ellington and trumpeter Louis Armstrong, both internationally famous, will soon be heard on records, and in motion pictures and television throughout the world in sales advertisements for the Good-year 1700.

The employment of the two jazz immortals as super salesmen for Good-year's new multi-million dollar marketing and advertising program was announced last week by Richard V. Thomas, president of Good-year International, during a torrid jazz session at the Basin St. East night club here.

Ellington and Armstrong, Thomas said, are among a number of jazz performers who will be featured during the sales campaign, slanted exclusively to overseas markets. The records will be sold through dealer stores at prices about one-third the normal cost for similar albums. Neither the records nor the films will be made available in the United States, Thomas explained.

appearance in a metropolitan paper of a controversial "expose" of the sect written by a Negro reporter Ben Holman, who got his material for the articles by joining the movement under an assumed name.

A federal judge here last week refused to stay a court order granting religious privileges to black muslim members in District penal institutions.

The privileges had been granted in the wake of two riots at the Lorton Youth Center staged by young members of the sect. It was this riot, coupled with the one in Los Angeles and the "general preaching of black supremacy" that led a Southern Democrat, Rep. L. Mendel Rivers of South Carolina to urge that a probe be conducted by the House Un-American Activities Committee, observers here say.

The resolution approved by the powerful House Rules Committee, charged that the black muslims are "undemocratic and subversive." But an FBI spokesman commented that neither the Justice Department or the FBI had found the muslims subversive.

Meanwhile, a Negro minister here, Rev. Wallace H. Terry of Merced Hill Baptist church, warned that unless the racial injustice that produces the black muslim movement is corrected, the idea of "an integrated democracy nourished in brotherly love may be lost."

ELEANOR

That Word Black

"This Evening," said Simple, "I feel like talking about the word Black."

"Nobody's stopping you, so go ahead. But what you really ought to have is a soap-box out on the corner of 126th and Lenox where the rest of the orators hang out."

"They express some good ideas on that corner, said Simple, but for my ideas I do not need a crowd. Now as I was saying, the word BLACK, white folks have done used that word to mean something bad so often until now when the NAACP asks for civil rights for the black man they think they must be bad. Looking back into history, I reckon it all started with a black cat meaning bad luck. Don't let one cross your path.

"Next somebody got up a blacklist on which you get if you don't vote right. Then when lodges come into being, the folks they didn't want in them got BLACK-BALLED. If you kept a skeleton in your closet, you might get BLACK-MAILED. And everything bad was BLACK. When it came down to the unlucky ball on the pool table, the eight - rock made it the black ball. So no wonder there ain't no equal rights for the black man."

"All you say is true about the idiom attached to the word BLACK," I said "You've even forgotten a few. For example, during the war if you brought something under the table illegally, they said you were trading on the BLACK MARKET. In Chicago, if you're a gangster, the Black Hand Society may take you for a ride. And certainly, if you don't behave yourself, your family will say you are a BLACK sheep. Then if your Mama burns a BLACK candle to change the family luck, they call it black magic."

"My Mama never did believe in voodoo so she did not burn no black candles," said Simple.

"If she had, that would have been a black mark against her."

"Stop talking about my mama. What I want to know is where do white folks get off calling everything bad black? If it is a dark night, they say it's black as hell. If you are mean and evil, they say you got a black heart. I would like to change all that around and say that people who Jim Crow me have got a white heart. People who sell hope to children have a white mark against them. And all the white gamblers who are behind the basketball fix are the white sheep of his sports world. God knows there was a few if any Negroes selling stuff on the black market during the war, so why didn't they call it the white market? No they got to take me and my color and turn it into everything bad. According to white folks, black is bad.

"Wait till my day comes. In my language, bad will be white. Black-mall will be white mall. Black cats will be good luck and white cats will be bad. If a white cat crosses your path look out. I will take the black cat for the cue ball and let the white ball be the unlucky eight-rock. And on my blacklist—which will be a white list then—I will put everybody who ever Jim Crowed me from Rankin to Hitler, Talmadge to Malan, South Carolina to South Africa.

"I am black. When I look in the mirror, I see myself, daddy-o, but I am not ashamed. God made me. He also made F. D. dark as he is. He did not make us no worst than the rest of the folks. The earth is black and all kinds of good things come out of the earth. Trees and flowers and fruit and sweet potatoes and corn and all that keeps people alive come right up out of the earth—good old black earth. Coal is black and it warms your house and cooks our food. The night is black, which has a moon, and a million stars, and it is beautiful.
