THOSE WONDERFUL YEARS

Alumni Musical Ready To Unfold

"Those Wonderful Years," a musical revue produced by the Memphis alumni of LeMoyné College, will be presented to the public this Friday night, November 30, starting at 8 in Bruce Hall. The revue has created unusual interest throughout the city and is expected to attract a near capacity house. Tickets are being sold by alumni and in the college's business office.

"Those Wonderful Years" will start with 1870 and continue through 1952, featuring songs, dances and fashions of the various periods.

One of the highlights of the evening will be the scene in which Mrs. Charlie P. Roland, an alumnus of LeMoyné and a member of its faculty, will model a bathing suit. This in itself is worth the price of a ticket.

The revue was born in the mind of Joseph Westbrook, supervisor of secondary education for city schools. Serving as general chairman is Miss Clarice Sykes. Steering committee consists of Miss Sy-

In Race To Head Church

When delegates attending the 55th Holy Convocation of the Church of God in Christ at Mason Temple get around to electing a successor to the late Bishop Charles H. Mason, Sr., it is believed that their total vote will favor a Memphian, Bishop A. B. McEwen, pastor of Lane Avenue Church of God in Christ.

Bishop McEwen is currently serving as chairman of the specially appointed board of executive commissioners, a body that has been directing the affairs of the church. The board was appointed by Bishop Mason before his death a year ago.

Two other bishops, including another Memphian, are in strong contention for leadership. The Memphian is Bishop J. O. Patterson, pastor of Pentecostal Temple Church of God in Christ. The other strong contender is Bishop O. T. Jones of Philadelphia.

When the election is held, it is believed that the margin of

Mrs. Alma R. Booth, principal of Keel Elementary School and chairman of the Links' special committee, escorted seven young people from Goodwill Homes to the Auditorium to hear and see "La Traviata," which was done in English. Inside Memphis

THERE WAS A POLITICAL RING in the air as George W. Lee and Commissioner William Farris took turns at the mike before a crowd of 5,000 during halftime of the Blues Bowl game in Melrose Stadium. If this political ring had a meaning, politicians haven't quite figured it out.

THE STUNNING BLUES BOWL QUEEN, Marion Mitchell, came on like they do in Hollywood. Her stand-in was crowned during brief ceremonies before the game, and then the richly gowned Miss Mitchell appeared in person at halftime to accept the crown officially from Commissioner Farris.

THE BLUES BOWL GAME still lacks coordination. They tried to keep the lengthy ceremonies moving at a fast pace this time, but unpredictable flaws popped up anyway.

HALFTIME SHOW IN THE BLUES BOWL was one of the finest ever witnessed here. The Mississippi Vocational College band was a spectacular in itself. It was a splash of color and rhythm, well decorated with girls, an abundance of flags and colorful plumes.

AND, THE HORACE MANN High School band and its unit of 52 marching girls from Little Rock, Ark., proved that prep bands can play, march and go through difficult formations.

SPECIAL OUT-OF-TOWN GUESTS ARE INVITED TO MEMPHIS FOR THANKSGIVING HOLIDAYS

Holiday Social Whirl Got Much Attention: A Group of Memphians invited approximately 30 prominent out-of-town friends in for the Thanksgiving holiday season. This year it was done up in even more style than usual and the Gay goings-on of social activities might well have passed for Christmas. . . . Lovely too were the many festive parties that most guests did not have time to catch their breath.

INVITATIONS (that went to guests out of town) were pretty long white cards adorned with Red Velvet Ribbon that rolled out as the card was opened. . . . and the "Bid" read "We Are Rolling Out The Red Carpet".

OUT-OF-TOWN GUESTS AND THEIR HOSTS

Out-of-town guests who came to Memphis for the true Southern hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bland (the native Memphian) who are quite successful in Real Estate in Washington, D. C., guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Maceo Walker at their Colonial mansion on South Parkway East.

Visiting Dr. and Mrs. Leland Atkins at their ultra modern South Parkway ranch style home were Mrs. Arnold L. Johnson, wife of a former Memphis physician and their young daughter, "Precious" who came from Gary and Dr. Hadley Cox, Dr. Atkins' long time friend who hails from Benton Harbor, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis, Jr. had about the largest group of guests at their swanky Vance Avenue "Pent House" (top their modern funeral home) and they were Dr. and Mrs. Robert Woods (the native Memphian and she that youthful Ph. D. socialite and civic worker) who flew here to be with the Lawises (members of their family) for the holidays. . . . Dr. and Mrs. Sidney Smith (she the former Miss Weldon Sugarman) who came from their home in St. Louis. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Willard Tyler (he an Insurance Executive with Chicago Metropolitan Insurance Company. . . . Dr. and Mrs. Roscoe Bryant of Louisville.

Guests of Dr. and Mrs. W. O. Speight, Jr. at their unusually pretty English style home were Dr. and Mrs. Nathan Anderson (a well known Memphis, Tenn. couple) who have visited here with the L. L. Atkins several times before. . . . Also with the Speights were their long time friends, Dr. and Mrs. Parker Word, a St. Louis couple, the Speights' guests last Thanksgiving.

Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Gibson had as their house guests two charming memphians, Mrs. Lois Searcy Pitts of Chicago and Mrs. A. A. Branch of Tougaloo College who were extended every courtesy at the Gibson's very pretty East McLemore residence.

A beautiful Villa high upon a hill on South Parkway East was the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Fred Rivers' house guests, Dr. and Mrs. Wilbur Martin (he a Detroit physician) and she Mrs. Rivers' childhood friend and room mate at Fisk U. . . . Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Noel of Greensboro, N. C. (he a fabulous character who operates his own plane. . . . flew in early Wednesday before the holidays.

Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Ish, Jr. had as their guests another charming couple. . . . well known to many Memphians, Dr. and Mrs. Wendell Cox (he a well known Detroit dentist and brother to the ATKINSONS' guest Dr. Hadley Cox and Mrs. Wendell Cox (Mrs. daughter of Dr. Hayley Bell, who also owns and operates a Radio Station in the Motor City.

Much preparation preceded the parties and dinners that were planned early this fall.

DR. AND MRS. STANLEY ISH, JR. AND MR. AND MRS. A. MACEO WALKER GIVE BRUNCH HONORING VISITING GUESTS ON THURSDAY

Again the Walkers and the Ishes (close relatives) entertained on Thanksgiving day in an air of splendor, warmth and a bit of graceful living was felt at their annual holiday Brunch given at the Top Hat and Tails Club, where both Mr. Walker and Dr. Ish are members. It was early Thursday at 11 that the carpet began to be ed out with guests greeting each other vivaciously at the very first party honoring them. . . . Accompanying the luxurious setting was a four or five man "brist band" that gave way to (twisters) and Thanksgiving decorations (done on a long table in the buffet room) stole the show. . . . Another stealer was the food. . . . served by the Casam Caterers who also attended the bar.

Mr. Walker complimented each guest with a surprise. Each of the Memphis couple's house guests were presented at the Mic by Mr. Walker after which he presented gifts to the couples. Not only were gifts given to their special guests, but to all out of town guests, and those noticed were Mrs. Janet Miles sister of Mrs. Betty Bland who hails from Oklahoma City and Mr. "Jimmy" Hulbert (an old friend to the Walkers here from Asia who escorted "Your Columnist". Each guest responded. Not only did Mrs. Walker and Dr. and Mrs. Ish make an appearance at the Mic, but chatted with each and every guest.

The informal gathering, enjoyed to the utmost, gave an opportunity for a bit of reminiscing as well as news exchanging among many Memphians who knew guests of far off.

LOCAL GUESTS

Local guests who welcomed the good-looking visitors were Mrs. Johnetta Kelo Hozay, Mr. Walker's sister, here from Los Angeles. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Phil Booth, Mrs. Claiborne Davis, Atty. and Mrs. A. A. Letting, Mr. and Mrs. Al Calloway of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Gilliam, Mr. and Mrs. "Bill" Nabors, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Campbell, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Young and getting much attention were Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Sawyer who came in a bit late.

Mr. and Mrs. Gensid Howell, Mr. Jesse Turner, Mr. and Mrs. John Outlaw, Dr. and Mrs. Vasco Smith, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Horne, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Olive, Mr. and Mrs. John Whitaker, Mr. and Mrs. Lacey Kennedy of Maliana, Dr. and Mrs. Alphonzo Saville, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cash, Mrs. Maude Bright, Mr. and Mrs. Calfrey Bartholomew and Dr. and Mrs. James B. Byas.

And of course Dr. and Mrs. Fred Rivers, Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. Leland Atkins, Dr. and Mrs. W. O. Speight, Jr. entered with all of their visiting guests whom they presented to Mr. Walker.

Another group of Memphians noticed were Dr. and Mrs. R. Q. Venson, Mrs. A. A. Branch of Memphis, New York and Tougaloo. . . . Dr. and Mrs. Edward Reed (newcomers), Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Wilson, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Westley, Mr. and Mrs. John Brinkley, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Horne Mr. and Mrs. William Owen and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Simpson.

DR. AND MRS. LELAND ATKINS AND MR. AND MRS. ROBERT LEWIS, JR. GIVE BRILLIANT DINNER PARTY

COUNTING the round of parties honoring a popular set of guests (mostly all close friends) was a brilliant dinner party given by Dr. and Mrs. Leland Atkins and their sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Lewis, Jr. at their beautiful and swanky Vance Avenue "Pent House" apartment and Rumpus Room that tops the apartment. Throughout the house were artistic arrangements of vivid colored flowers. In the living room flowers picked up the predominant colors of flowers that could be seen through a glass wall on an upstairs tiled patio.

Unusual was the fact that Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Atkins (Julia and Ruth) the Mason sisters wore identical gold lama hostess pajamas. Dr. Atkins received with his charming wife in a Chinese Red velvet dinner jacket. . . . while Mr. Lewis (receiving with his stylish wife) wore a dark dinner jacket with the last word in a tuxedo shirt as did Dr. A.

Guest arrived at 6 in the evening and traffic throughout the spacious apartment was free-flowing. The two couples knew that for a successful party little things, as well as the guests must rhyme. . . . and they did. . . . all looking especially good.

The food schedule, arranged by Mrs. Mattie Wiggle and her caterers, was the most. . . . served in the formal dining room. . . . after guests made many trips to the rumpus room bar where waiters went through the crowd all evening. In buffet, de core style, people ate in groups, when and where they liked, at tables scattered throughout the living and dining area and the two pent house party rooms.

Guests of the evening included all of the out-of-town guests and their hosts. . . . Among the few others asked in were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Howell, Atty. and Mrs. A. W. Willis, Dr. and Mrs. Vasco Smith, Dr. and Mrs. "Ike" Watson, Dr. and Mrs. James Byas, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Young, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Flowers, Mr. and Mrs. Calfrey Bartholomew, Atty. and Mrs. A. A. Letting. . . . and with them were their youngsters, Al and Carol Calloway. . . . Two other youngsters around for a while were Harold Shaw (married to the Walker's daughter and a student at Mahar-y and his brother, Lawrence Shaw who teaches in Chicago) . . . and "Your Columnist" arrived early with Mrs. Johnetta Kelo Hozay whom we still claim as a Memphian even though she spends most of her time on the West Coast.

DR. AND MRS. FRED RIVERS AND DR. AND MRS. W. O. SPEIGHT, JR. GIVE EXOTIC COCKTAIL PARTY

Hawaiian Formal Party Climaxes Activities: Climaxing a gay social whirl was a fabulous cocktail party (Black Tie) with a Hawaiian theme given on Saturday evening by Dr. and Mrs. W. O. Speight, Jr. and Dr. and Mrs. Fred Rivers at the Rivers' South Parkway mansion that sits far back and high up on the hill.

Memphis Society-goers with a Capital "S" was also magnificently outfitted and dripping with jewels and furs in front of one of the city's most elegant homes where sleek cars made their entrance through a gateway and a long winding drive-way that was lined with many lights done up with hurricane lamps.

Again all of the visiting guests, their hosts and scores of Memphians chatted among themselves. . . . All of the visitors dripped in furs and many wore full length minks with the big collars. . . . as did Mrs. Wilbur Martin. . . . But the grandeur of fur was seen as a (some staler) when Mrs. Wendell Cox (who wore the beauty with grace and simple elegance. . . . and it was a full length. . . . mink with a hand made lining.

Mrs. Rivers and Mrs. Speight greeted guests at the front entrance of the foyer with Hawaiian leis. Both hostesses wore Hawaiian hostess outfits. There was Hawaiian Music all evening as well as the Native's punch at the second bar set up in the breakfast room. . . . But we must tell you that there was another bar. . . . and the buffet table in the dining area. . . . was set up second to none. Many guests preferred the mid-way Pannated library, seen well from the foyer and the stair case (that

Act As Though Nothing's Happening If Your Buddy Likes Your Boyfriend

Dear Mary: My best friend likes my boy friend. What can I do or what should I do? —Frustrated.

Dear Frustrated: This is a very common problem. Not being able to do what one would like to do because of some reason beyond the control of the individual. Most people find some other activity, it might be related to the initial desire or it might be some other area of activity which will bring the person satisfaction. In your situation learn to do well some of the jobs needed in the sports world where size is not important — or, try to excel academically, artistically, or in some other field of endeavor.

Dear Quandy: Smile and go right along with the program. After all you are the girlfriend — the one who is taken on dates, parties, and is visited in your own home. Anyway, you don't want a boy friend no other girl would like. Now would you?

Dear Mary: I am very small for my age and like sports very much. I cannot participate because of my size. Is there anything I can do to help this situation? —Quandy.

Views on Real Estate

By JESSE L. WILLIAMS

"Nw do ye Pharisees make clean the outside of the cup and the platter, but your inward part is full of ravening and wickedness." — St. Luke 11:39.

A mortgage is a pledge of real estate as collateral for the repayment of money or the performance of some other act.

The legal principle, equity of redemption, was developed which permits the debtor, within a statutory period, to repay the debt together with a penalty in the form of interest and to reclaim his property.

The courts have stepped in at this point and allowed the creditor to file a bill to foreclose the debtor's equity of redemption, and a day was fixed on or before which the debtor was required to pay up or suffer his property to be lost. This modification was the forerunner of the present-day mortgage. The term mortgage comes from the old French Mort (dead) and gage (pledge).

In some states a mortgage is really a transfer for real estate upon condition as security for the payment of a debt. Between parties it is a conveyance of real estate; to third parties it is a lien. In other states a mortgage is considered and treated only as a lien. A lien is a hold or claim which one person has upon the property of another as a security for some debt or charge.

There are essentially two parties in a mortgage transaction; the mortgagee, who is the borrower and the owner of the property and who executes a mortgage upon the property as security for payment of his debt, and the mortgagee, who is the lender of the money and the creditor and who receives the mortgage.

Illinois Sets A Fine Example In Ratifying Poll Tax Amendment

Illinois has set an example for the nation in becoming the first state to ratify an amendment to the U.S. Constitution prohibiting the poll tax as a requirement for voting in federal elections.

Legislation providing for the poll tax amendment was passed by the second session of the 86th Congress.

It is significant that Illinois, which gave us one of this country's immortal presidents should take the lead, that the adopted state of the Great Liberator should face the challenge of the times in facing up to its responsibility while our country is observing the 100th anniversary of the Emancipation Proclamation.

Senator Fred J. Smith and Representative Corneal A. Davis, two Negro legislators, introduced identical resolutions, in their respective houses, which won the approval of their colleagues.

Illinois has taken the lead toward mustering support for the amendment which must be ratified by three-fourths (39) of the states of the Union. Ole Abe would have exulted over this splendid gesture by the state he served so well.

Georgia must take its place in the front ranks of the South in being the first Southern state to approve the amendment. We hope the legislature will approve it at its January session.

Recognizing that Georgia does not have a poll tax law, the responsibility to end this requirement is nevertheless an opportunity and a trust so that all elections might be free in the Southern states where such laws are on the books.

Only Through Blue Glasses Would It Seem That Richard Nixon Is Through

Because many newspaper columnists and high powered magazines are making the most of the aftermath of the gubernatorial election in California in which Richard M. Nixon was defeated by Governor Edmund Brown, we venture our say.

Picking up the chips and assessing realities, one would assume the seriousness of a defeat for gubernatorial honors by a titular head of a political party and the impact upon ones ambition to again become the candidate of his party for the highest office in the land.

Even some in his own party have been so hasty as to assert that Nixon no longer would be a contribution as titular head of his party; that he, of his own account is through.

While Nixon might have been somewhat peeved, (which is a human property) when he intimated to the press that it would have no further trouble with him, when one faces the record of one of the ablest and most trusted Vice Presidents in the nation's history, now only 49 years of age, there would be no consistency that such an individual is through.

First, the presidential bug, according to many top authorities, is one that never leaves a man once he is bitten. Alf Landon, one of the worst casualties of GOP candidates, would attest that fact. The urge is always there and like the old firehorse of tradition, his blood is sternly warmed when even the presidential campaign bells are rung.

Second, Richard Nixon all but got elected in the last presidential election. That race remained in doubt for a long time.

Third, as foretold, Nixon was the top trusted adviser to former President Eisenhower, and while the former President lay desperately ill of a heart attack, Nixon carried on the functions of the office to great credit.

This is not a campaign piece; it is not a much needed booster, but merely some thoughts by the way which would not subscribe to a principle that so great and powerful a personage, just now in the bloom of life (at 49) was thinking of being finished.

It must be kept in mind that the nation knows what it has invested in the able head of the Alger Hiss investigating committee; it also remembers that the nation and the world accorded him an unprecedented position in world affairs.

In a system like ours where values and not prejudices count, the draft for great leaders is always in order and such will obtain where men of the calibre, the fiber, and toughness of Richard Nixon come into judgment.

Watch this prediction!

Scope Of Executive Order Banning Bias In Housing

WASHINGTON - (NNPA) - The executive order on "Equal Opportunity in Housing" when President Kennedy signed at 5:45 p. m. Tuesday, Nov. 20, bars racial discrimination in housing built or purchased with Federal assistance. Specifically, it covers:

Housing built in so-called tract developments such as multiple family units and apartment houses. All low-rent public housing subsidized in whole or in part by the Federal Government. This would also include urban renewal projects.

Housing built with Federal funds such as college dormitories and related facilities and homes for the elderly.

Other housing built with Federal money such as college dormitories and related facilities and homes for the elderly.

The executive order will not apply this time to individual sales by private home owners and all housing constructed with conventional (non-Federally aided) loans through such agencies as the Federal Housing Administration and loan associations.

For those found guilty of violating the provisions of the executive order, the appropriate Federal department or agency may: Cancel or terminate all or part of any agreement or contract. Refuse any further aid under any Federal program. Refuse to approve a lender as a beneficiary.

The "Miss Universal" contest conducted during September, Founder's Month, put each district in competition to have its queen selected "Miss Universal." Falling short of that, a district queen could win a runner-up position if her district were tops in overall performance within its geographical area. Universal Life's 36 districts are divided into four geographical areas, thus the contest allowed for the selection of "Miss Universal" and three alternates.

In addition to the four beauty queens making the expense paid trip to the home office for the "Miss Universal" pageant, seven other members of the company's field personnel were given expense paid trips to Memphis for top individual performance.

Fifteen staff members from 13 Universal districts, attending a 3-day training conference at the home office, also attended the coronation festivities along with home office personnel and their guests.

Following a buffet supper, the affair was held in the company's recreation facilities.

THE GREATEST OPPORTUNITY

The greatest opportunity, That God has ever given me Was not when that suggestion came To show an easy road to fame, Was not the day when fortune smiled And claimed me, for a time, her child, Nor yet the chance that I must hold To turn some talent into gold; The greatest one of all, I say, Is now, always here — today.

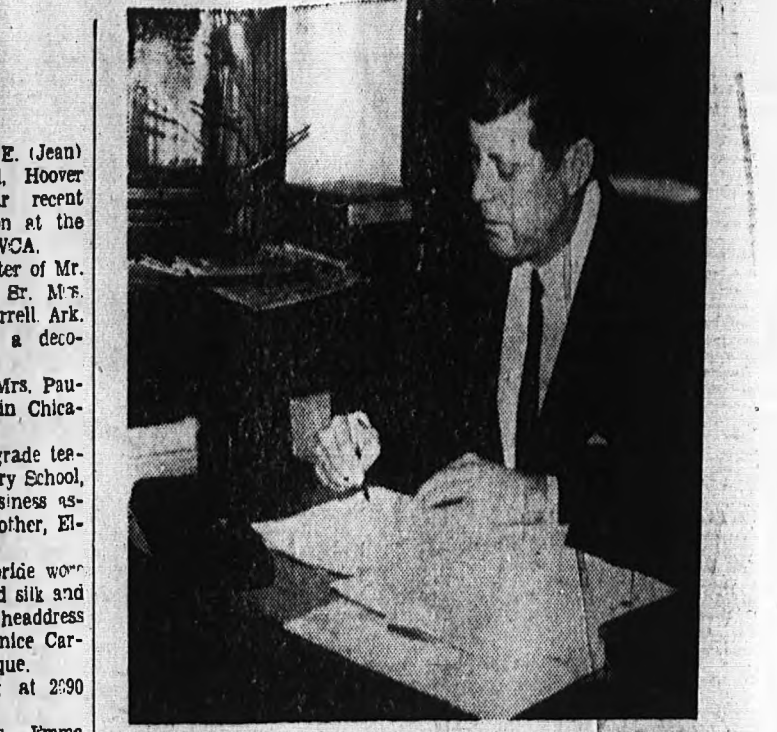

TODAY, my opportunity Is just as great as I can see, It is my privilege to LIVE, To learn, to earn, receive and give; To do the little task assigned, And smile the while, nor leave behind Regrets or flaws in what I build; But do the work as God has willed And see in the small part I play My opportunity — Today.

LOVE Love's holy flame for ever burneth; From heaven it came, to heaven returneth; Too oft on earth a troubled guest, At times deceived, at times opprest, It here is tried and purified; But hath in heaven its perfect rest It sooths here in toil and care, But the harvest-time of love is there. —Southey

Making this the Lord my choice, I have nothing more to choose But to listen to Thy voice, And my will in Thine to lose; Thus whatever may betide, I shall safe and happy be; Still content and satisfied, Having all in having Thee. HISTORIC 'STROKE OF PEN' — President John F. Kennedy uses the long-awaited "stroke of the pen" in signing historic executive order banning discrimination in housing built or purchased with Federal assistance. Urban League Salutes JFK Housing Order

NEW YORK—The long-awaited "stroke of a pen" whereby President Kennedy, by Executive Order "Equal Opportunity in Housing," this week struck down discrimination in federally-aided housing, drew both commendation and a provisional reminder from the Urban League.

The reminder, as noted by Whitney M. Young, Jr., executive director of the National Urban League, in commenting on the Presidential action, suggested the action be viewed primarily as "a long overdue launching base for new, exciting and dispassionate" drives toward a solution of the nation's housing complexities.

Mr. Young expressed regret that provisions of the order do not cover the government-insured savings program. This, it was pointed out, excludes extensive funds now under government insurances which can be used for conventional mortgage loans.

"A CHALLENGE" Also, he cautioned, it must be recognized not only as a climax more important than any yet attained in the battle for equal opportunity for all Americans in housing, but also as "a challenge to all whom it is designed to benefit" to make it work.

The Presidential order, said Mr. Young, marks the culmination of a years-long battle by the Urban League, shoulder-to-shoulder with parallel concerns, toward "access for all to a decent fireside on which to re-forge the family fabric" of the nation.

He pointed out that the Urban League has provided leadership toward accomplishment of the housing goals spelled out in the Executive Order. Over the years, he said, the League's Reginald A. Johnson, NUL associate director, has been responsible for League programming in housing.

MY WEEKLY SERMON

By REV. BLAIR T. HUNT, PASTOR, MISSISSIPPI BLVD. CHRISTIAN CHURCH

I MUST LOVE YOU; YOU MUST LOVE ME! TEXT: "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."—Matt. 19:19. I must love me — you must love you!

We don't deny our responsibility to love God and to love other people. But too often we pass over our obligations to ourselves. There are times when we act as if we really hate ourselves.

Do I really love me? Do you really love you? With an ellipsis we read in Matthew: "Thou shalt love thyself." Another question: How do I treat me — how do you treat you?

Remember, we must live with ourselves 24 hours per day. Therefore, I must have a worthy concern for myself. I must keep myself fit to live with myself. The great English bard wrote, "To thine ownself be true, and it must follow as the night the day, thou canst not then be false to any man."

How we treat our bodies? Remember, they are temples of God for the dwelling of His spirit. I must not abuse this temple — it is God's sanctuary. I must not put into it that which steals away my brain — because I love me. I must keep this temple of clay in repair because I love me. I must not sin against my body, this temple of clay, because I love me. I must feed my mind on the true, the beautiful, the holy — because I love me!

I, loving me, and you, loving you — you and I must always remember three things: Who we are — what we cost — and where we are going.

Say this: "I am somebody, therefore I must love me." Just as you are a part of your mother's body; cut-off — you are a part of God; You are made in the image of God; You are a child of God. Borrowing a thought from Rev. William Borders: God stamped His image on your brow — God placed the quest for truth in your heart. God did posit divinity in your soul — you are somebody!

Say this: "I cost too much." Yes, we most too much not to love ourselves. We were purchased with the life blood of Jesus, the Christ. The greatest purchase price ever paid is what we cost.

Say this: "I'm on a journey." Yes, we are journeying to the home of our souls — we are traveling at the speed of 60 heart beats per minute. We are somebody and it does not yet appear what we shall be.

"Thou shalt love the Lord thy God — thou shalt love thy neighbor." Too, I must love me — and you-must love you!

Univ. Of Miss. May Be Allowed To Keep Accreditation

DALLAS — (UPI) — An official of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools indicated on Monday the group may allow the University of Mississippi to keep its accreditation.

Dr. Gordon W. Sweet of Atlanta, executive secretary of the association's commission on colleges, said he believed the association will accept written assurances from Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett that politics will not be involved in the administration at Ole Miss. "I think we would not question a cogwort governor's statement," Sweet said. "And I don't think the governor would make such a statement without expecting to carry it out." The association's college delegates' assembly, which will decide whether to take away the University of Mississippi's accreditation, will meet Wednesday. University officials had until Monday to assure the association that there was no political interference.

HOUSING ORDER SEEN AS IMPORTANT FIRST STEP

NEW YORK — President Kennedy's long-delayed Executive Order banning discrimination in federally-assisted housing was welcomed by NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins as an indication that the Government has made plain "that the national policy of non-discrimination between citizens, which has been recognized in other areas of American life, applies as well to housing."

In a telegram of commendation to the President, Mr. Wilkins said that the order was welcomed "for the anticipation that it will remove longstanding barriers to freedom of residence."

Not only Negroes and members of other minority groups, "but all citizens who revere our constitutional guarantees of equality, must hail this reaffirmation of our nation's commitment to basic democratic ideals," the telegram said.

The NAACP leader additionally noted that "the order does not go as far in coverage as has been recommended over a long period of years by the NAACP and more recently by the United States Commission on Civil Rights and other responsible organizations."

The order does not cover "conventionally" financed housing. Mortgages on new housing arranged with federal savings and loan associations and banks with federal insurance are exempted from coverage.

"Even though the order does not cover all aspects of discrimination in housing, it is an important first step," Mr. Wilkins said. "We are calling upon our branches throughout the country to seek prompt implementation locally of all applicable requirements of the President's order. We will utilize the order fully and seek to have it broadened."

Boys Find Use For Mom's Coins; Put Them In 'Piggy Bank'

McPHERSON, Kans. — (ANP) — Mrs. Myron D. Stucky has learned that her two young sons have a mind for saving money. Looking through her coin purse for some change, she found it empty.

She had left the purse and the boys in the car while shopping. The mother had a hunch. Had they stayed put, as she had told them. No, they had not.

"We got out and put all your money in the piggy bank," they said pointing at the parking meter.

Morgan Film Deals With Voting

BALTIMORE — (NNPA) — Morgan State College held the first public showing of its new educational film, "Politics Is Our Business," on Nov. 28.

Designed to give the ordinary citizen a view of how the political process works, the film emphasizes the importance of the vote to the proper functioning of government.

The documentary was produced by a professional firm under the direction of Dr. G. James Fleming, head of Morgan's Institute for Political Education.

Peace Corps Applicants Reveal Many References

By PAULA DRANOV
WASHINGTON — (UPI) — "I need, want and must have a job," one applicant wrote.

Another, describing himself as a "jack of all trades," said: "I wish I could be the master of one."

These are among the off-beat replies the Peace Corps selection division has gleaned from more than 40,000 applicants and their references.

One applicant listed his occupation as "connector of steel girdles."

Another said he had participated in "gorilla warfare."

Some of the most peculiar comments were from acquaintances of applicants asked to return questionnaires designed to tell something about the volunteer's character and ability.

One applicant was described as making "good strides toward developing from a shy, self-conscious girl into a persevering, self-confident lad."

Perhaps to point out a volunteer's self-control, a reference wrote, "I have seen her react favorably when her hand was smashed in a car door."

Another wrote that "even police patrolmen that have arrested him in past years stated they like him."

CONTINUED REFERENCES

Other references commented: "About emotion, he can like it or leave it."

"He can carry on a conversation with anything that comes up."

"Although he shakes a little, I feel he is emotionally stable."

"His kindness and understanding... illicit warm feelings."

"Socially she can mix with the masses as well as the classes."

One reference reported about a volunteer: "Recently her folks have been working, but before that her father was a minister."

Another presumably a pessimist, said the applicant he was asked about "hasn't been arrested yet."

In summing up the character of one volunteer, a reference reported: "We have known him for a sufficient length of time to have noticed any seriously weak link in his armor, and we have found one."

Another reference stated that he knew a volunteer "first as an annoyance, later as a sister-in-law."

One applicant, answering a question about his primary skills, wrote "I don't remember."

Another summed up what he hoped to accomplish in the Peace Corps in one word: "Peace."

CME Senior Bishop Stewart Funeralized

By C. E. CHAPMAN
LAST MAY

At the recent General Conference at Lane Tabernacle C. M. E. Church St. Louis, Missouri, last May, Bishop Stewart became Senior Bishop of the church, having succeeded the late Bishop W. Y. Bell, South Boston, Virginia who died just one month prior to the recent General Conference. The late Bishop Stewart had the distinction of being the only person in the history of the C. M. E. Church who was ever elevated to the Bench of Bishops as "the son of a Bishop," being the son of the late Bishop George W. Stewart, Birmingham, Alabama, who was elevated to the Bishopric by the 1910 General Conference at Augusta, Georgia.

Bishop Bertram W. Doyle, Nashville, Tennessee, who succeeds Bishop Stewart as Senior Bishop and delivered the funeral eulogy, referred to the late Bishop Luther Caldwell Stewart as "the only person ever elevated to the Episcopacy in the C. M. E. Church whose father was also a Bishop in the C. M. E. Church." Not in the history of Hopkinsville had such a huge audience been present at the funeral rites of anyone, irrespective of race or creed. The fine and exemplary life lived by the late Bishop Stewart brought to Hopkinsville the leaders of his own race and his own church, plus leading white citizens to pay their final respects. The widespread respect for the departed was evidenced by the more than a thousand telegrams and messages of condolence which came to the family.

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. — Funeral rites for the late Bishop Luther Caldwell Stewart highly respected citizen of Hopkinsville and the senior of the Bench of Bishops of the Christian Methodist Episcopal Church, were held here last week at Freeman Chapel C. M. E. Church. The funeral rites were completed in one hour and ten minutes. More than 3,500 were present.

The floral offerings were the largest ever seen in this section of the country at the funeral rites of any person. The entire front of the pulpit was transformed into a veritable flower garden; the high windows were profusely adorned with bounteous and beautiful arrays of floral offerings along the eaves on both sides of the huge auditorium.

The white citizens of Hopkinsville joined with members of Bishop Stewart's own race in paying homage and respect to the departed Methodist minister, who had long been a resident of Hopkinsville and led the Freeman Chapel congregation in erecting the fashionable church plant during the twelve years he served as its pastor. He was then assigned to the Presiding Eldership of the Hopkinsville District under the late Bishop Charles Henry Phillips, a position which he held for eighteen months from which he was elected to the Editorship of The Christian Index, official organ of the Christian Methodist Episcopal Church.

After serving as editor for eight years, he was elevated to the Episcopacy by the General Conference at Lane Tabernacle Church, St. Louis, Missouri, in May, 1946, as the twenty-second bishop of the C. M. E. Church.

Other prominent participants included Dr. Martin Luther King, President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference; Whitney Young, executive director of the National Urban League; James Farmer, national director of CORE; and Dorothy Height, head of the National Council of Negro Women.

Also, Dr. James Noyes, Jr., president of Howard University; Dr. Raymond Logan, head of the Howard history department; Atty. Bedford Lawson, husband of Washington Judge Marjorie M. Wilberforce Gets Kettering Grant

The Charles F. Kettering Foundation announced Monday a grant of $20,000 to Wilberforce University to provide for the employment of a superior teacher with a Ph.D. degree in the area of the biological sciences. The grant was made for a period of two years with payments of $10,000 in two equal installments.

In commenting on the grant, school president Dr. Rembert Stokes said "in addition to increasing the quality of science instruction, this generous grant will enable the biological area to engage in faculty-student research projects. Employment of the teacher will be made beginning with the 1963-64 school year."

Wife Ties Up Fighter Henry Hank's Purse

DETROIT — (ANP) — A Detroit court last week tied up middleweight Henry Hank's $6,000 purse from his nationally televised fight Saturday night in Madison Square Garden against Mauro Milla of Peru.

Judge Edward S. Plonze issued a restraining order barring "Hammering" Hank, a productive fellow boxer and outside of the ring, from "spending, giving away, assigning, pledging or in any way disposing of the fight proceeds."

Hank's wife, Vivian, charged in court that the fighter is a playboy. She claims he is currently living with another woman and that he squanders his ring earnings on wine, women and song, often leaving his family without food and clothing. The Hank's are parents of five children.

ORDERED IN COURT

The judge also ordered the Detroit skater to appear in his court on Friday (Nov. 30) to show cause why the restraining order should not be granted. The action followed divorce proceedings filed against Hank whose real name is Joseph Harrison, earlier this month by his wife. The suit was filed by Atty. Damon J. Keith.

The court order tying up his purse was believed to be a greater bolt than Hank has ever received in the ring. One of the ring's top middleweights, Hank has never been floored in his professional fights. The order came close to doing that.

Hank has scored 53 victories against 16 defeats. He has fought three draws — inside the ring.

Judge Didn't Dig This Beard Fad

CHICAGO — (NNPA) — The judge said he really didn't want to be naive, but two luxurious sets of chin whiskers displayed by two men indicted in a post office narcotics ring fascinated him, no end.

"What is this? Is it a psychological reaction to certain oppositions which you feel? Is it a part of the mores of the new artistic colony now? Does it give intellectual tone which brings about beto artifice?

One of the accused, who acknowledged being an artist and furniture designer, thought it was "possibly so."

The District Court Justice wasn't satisfied. He pressed his line of questioning:

"Is it an affectation? Does it demonstrate an attempt to be an exceedingly liberal type of life that doesn't comport with the general American way of life?"

"I don't want to be antiquated," said Judge James B. Parsons, a Negro, and a recent appointee to the Federal bench.

"I don't want to be antiquated in my attitude. There's nothing worse than a naive judge, but I have to do some reading to catch up on this beard fad."

With that pronouncement, Judge Parsons deferred sentencing in the case until Dec. 15.

'William Tell' Missed, Got Caretaker's Goat

CHESTERTON, Ind. — (ANP) — It was a case of crying "wolf" when Tony Ehrri dashed into the police station last week shouting "Quick, my kid has been shot in the head with an arrow!"

Answering the urgent plea, Sgt. John Heller hurried outside to discover the District Court Justice wasn't satisfied. He pressed his line of questioning:

"Is it an affectation? Does it demonstrate an attempt to be an exceedingly liberal type of life that doesn't comport with the general American way of life?"

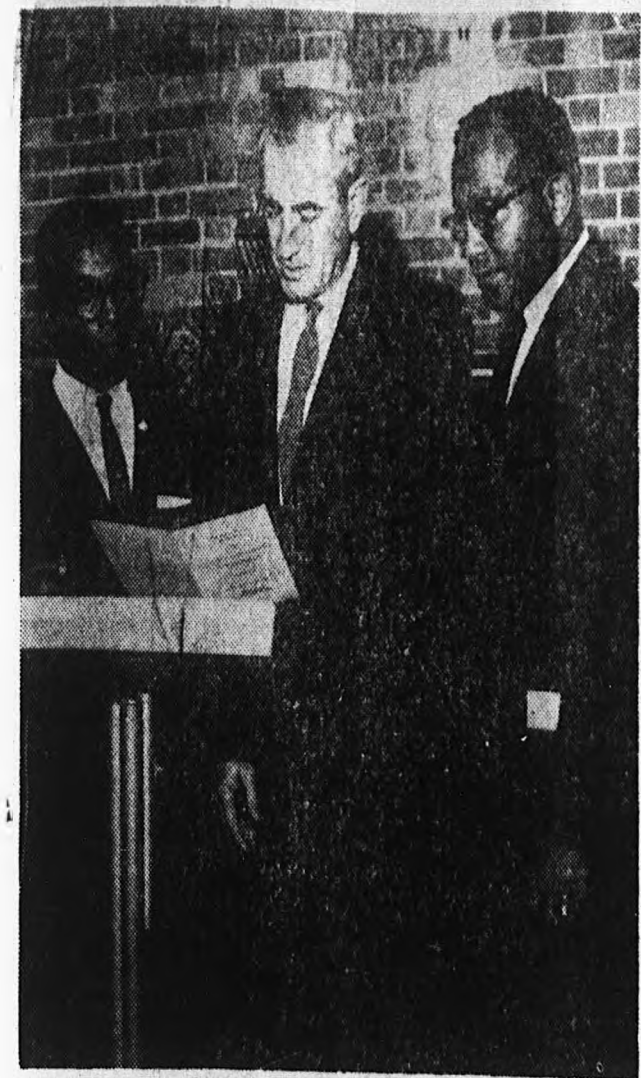

"I don't want to be antiquated," said Judge James B. Parsons, a Negro, and a recent appointee to the Federal bench.

Alabama A & M, Florida A & M Co-Championship Of SIAC Football

B. T. Harvey To Issue Official Ruling; Dickinson Rating System Indicates Tie

ATLANTA, Ga.—(SNS)—Alabama A&M and Florida A&M will rule as co-champions of SIAC football under an unofficial tabulation of the Dickinson Rating System. B. T. Harvey, Commissioner of the SIAC, will release his official findings this week after a careful evaluation of the DRS.

Alabama A & M earned the deadlock by two first place victories over Morehouse, 22-0 and Fisk, 38-20.

Florida A & M had one top SIAC division conquest over Bethune-Cookman and another over Lincoln (Mo.) 52-6 of the Midwestern Athletic Association which is a "conference game" through permission of the circuit since the Rattlers played only four league games.

Florida A & M completed its regular season schedule on Saturday night, Nov. 24, winning over Texas Southern University of Houston, Texas, 28-18 in a fourth period rally in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla.

The Orange and Green will battle Jackson State College of Jackson, Miss., for the second year in a row in the Orange Blossom Classic in the Orange Bowl at Miami, Fla., Dec. 8.

The official SIAC season came to a close with games played as of Nov. 24. No other games will influence the outcome of the SIAC race.

Morehouse College apparently clinched the second place spot in the SIAC by virtue of first division victories over Clark 20-14 and Fisk University, 28-18. Under the DRS a team with identical records, must not have precedent if one defeated the other. This coupled with a loss to first division Alabama A & M raised the stock of the Maroon Tigers under the DRS. The Maroon Tigers' lone conference defeat was to the Bulldogs, but the team bowed to Hampton Institute 12-9.

Bethune-Cookman closed the season with a 6-2-0 record and will no doubt push Fisk University into fifth place under the DRS.

All of this reasoning is speculation, but the final "official" SIAC returns will no doubt support these findings.

South Fulton Lions Capture GIA Northern Region Crown

By JAMES D. HEATH

COLUMBUS, Ga. (SNS)—South Fulton captured the Northern Region Championship in a hard fought game with the Spencer High Greenwaves, 13-9, in Memorial Stadium Saturday night. The Greenwaves scored six points in the first quarter and three points on an 18-yard field goal in the fourth quarter to rack up nine points. The Lions hit paydirt in the first two minutes of the game to take the lead 6-0 and scored seven points with 1:08 left in the game to come out top dogs.

The Lions posted a 9-1 during regular season with the Greenwaves spoiling their perfect season on a 20-14 decision early in the season. The Lions were undefeated in their region with a 5-0-0 record and the Greenwaves were 3-1 in their region, losing only to Carver of Atlanta.

This is the first time the Lions have won the Northern Region only coming close to win their sub-region several times. The Greenwave has won the Northern Region several times and represented their sub-region in 1958-59. GEE & BROWN HIT PAY DIRT

Spencer received the kick off and returned to the 16, but the Lions would not give the Greenwave running room and Spencer punted to his own 27 yard line. The Lions took over and a 16 yard punt moved the ball to the 12 and All-State bound halfback Charles Greer took a hand off from quarterback George Brown and hit paydirt on a 12 yard run, at 10:02 in the first quarter. PAT no good.

With 4:10 left in the first quarter, Spencer scored on a 1-yard plunge by Joseph Carter. PAT no good. Spencer started a drive on its own 30 yard line and romped 77 yards for a touchdown to tie the game 6-6 at the end of the first quarter. The backfield of Lonnie Harvey, Otis Strunk, Clarence Spencer and Carter moved the ball into scoring position.

In the second quarter the Lions had a scoring drive going down to the Greenwave 10 but failed to score and Spencer took over on down. The second stanza was a defensive period; ball intercepted, fumbles and breaking up runs was done by both teams. There was no scoring in the third quarter with

NEW YORK — (UPI) — Army 0-3 or Navy 1-3? Rarely in recent years has there been a service football game with more intriguing angles for the 100,000 interested parties at Philadelphia, at Army bases and on all the ships at sea.

Neither a national nor a sectional championship is at stake Saturday but that's all that's lacking in this 63rd contest of football's most glittering series. It brings together two evenly matched teams led by two fine young coaches—Faul Dietzel of Army and Wayne Hardin of Navy—who can be counted on to unveil a flock of new wrinkles in an attempt to confound the other.

Dietzel was "drafted" from Louisiana State to bring an end to a series of three straight defeats by Navy and the hunch here is that Paul will do it at something like 13-7.

CADETS BOAST BEST DEFENSE

Army has the defense; Navy the attack. Neither has stood up too well under heavy fire but back in the fourth game of the season Dietzel did stir up the Cadets long enough to pound out a 9-6 upset over Penn State, holding the eastern champs to a pair of field goals in Penn State's only losing venture of the year.

However, Army had been overpowered by 50-50 Michigan the previous week, later lost to nard-hitting Oklahoma State and then dropped a one-pointer to Pittsburgh. Navy whacked Pitt, 32-9. That rout of Pitt was Navy's only significant triumph of the year but the Middies showed staying qualities in a 13-6 loser against Southern California Nov. 17 and that's no mean achievement against a team rated No. 1 in the nation.

Earlier black marks were leached by Penn State 41-7, Minnesota 21-0 and Syracuse 34-8. In all three cases, the Middies lacked the muscle either to contain their foes or mount an attack.

LIKE MASS SUBSTITUTION

Both service coaches are advocates of mass substituting. Though Dietzel carries it to the extreme with his three units—the regulars, go team and defensive Chinese Bandits.

He tries to run them in and out at intervals governed by the stop watch. The regulars go to the first half of each period, being relieved by the "go" team if Army is in possession or by the "Bandits" if the Cadets are defending.

But the Cadets lack a passing threat from quarterbacks Joe Blackgrove, Cammy Lewis and Dick Bokart.

Navy has it in Roger Staubach, a nifty runner as well as a flinger. Navy thus has the "bombs" available but this one is more likely to go to the foot soldier.

Still Aglow At 80

NEW YORK — (ANP) — Two men appeared in Bronx Criminal court after they had been involved in a fight over a girl. Joseph Felstein and James Misonce, the gladiators, each had his head wrapped in bandages, and each accused the other of felonious assault.

"What happened?" Judge Nicholas DeLaghi asked. "He stole my girl," said Misonce, pointing at Felstein. "Steal his girl?" replied Felstein. "Who needs her — I got one of my own."

After a huddle with the judge the men agreed to withdraw their charges. The femme fatale was not identified. Felstein is 81, Misonce, 82.

Prairie View Panthers Rip Southern, 34-14

HOUSTON, Tex. — Prairie View fullback Mack Green emerged as the Panthers' secret weapon here Nov. 24 as he scored three touchdowns to lead his team to a 34-14 Southwestern Athletic Conference showdown victory over Southern University in Jepperson Stadium.

Like a bolt from nowhere, Green quickly handed the Panthers a first quarter lead of 14-0 almost single handedly as he scampered to touchdowns of 48 and 30 yards respectively with John Harris adding one conversion.

At the end of the first quarter, Prairie View led the Jaguars 13-0.

Southern fought its way back in contention in the second quarter, when Quarterback Alfred Simpson, operating from Southern's late season shot - gun formation, was rushed, but eluded the defenders, and ran first to his right then to his left, and suddenly bolted straight up mid field for 34 yards to score.

John Clayton, who missed out on his only field goal attempt of the night three minutes after Simpson's touchdown, kicked the extra point to cut Prairie View's lead to 13-7.

Charles Warner scored Prairie View's third touchdown from 16 yards out, to give the Panthers a 19-7 lead at the halftime.

In the third quarter, Prairie View scored nine points in 10 minutes on a safety and a 68 yard kick off return by Earl Seals.

It was Green who wrapped up scoring for the night, making his third tally with a one yard plunge late in the fourth to give the Panthers a 34-14 edge over the Jaguars.

The two teams went into the skirmish fighting for third place in the SWAC. Each had a 3-3 record, and stood a good chance of holding down the three positions in the league despite a possible co-possession by Grambling.

BEATING THE GUN

By BILL BROWDER

CHICAGO — (ANP) — The Cleveland Browns have been having their difficulties to say the least. In the National Football League this season the second-guessers, always is the case under disconcerting circumstances, are having a field day.

Ironically, the fine year enjoyed by Bobby Mitchell with the Washington Redskins has done nothing to ease the pains of Coach Paul Brown. Then, it calls highest-paid performer, fullback Jim Brown, has been having a comparatively unimpressive season for the Browns.

There is no doubt that Coach Brown took a gamble when he traded Mitchell and Leroy Jackson, the veteran back of the Pittsburgh Steelers, for bargaining rights for Ernie Davis, last year's Heisman Trophy winner with Syracuse.

The misfortune that overtook Davis, of course, was not foreseen. Coach Brown was seeking a power-running combination like that of Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung, of the Green Bay Packers. Davis had the speed and weight necessary to complement Jim Brown. But when Ernie was stricken with leukemia, those plans had to be junked.

Fullback Brown, customarily a league leader in rushing, is considerably off his five-year pace. He was fifth last week with 588 yards in 149 carries for 4.0 average. He will have to go some to achieve the 1,000-yard season mark for the first time in a row. He has just about given up any hope of over-taking Taylor, who had 1,075 yards. On the other hand, Mitchell is having a dazzling season, twice having been the prime influence in Redskins' victories over the Browns. In the second game of the season, he snatched a last-minute pass and raced into the end zone after outkicking bewildered Browns defenders.

In the return game in Washington, Bobby was the subject of such concentration by the Browns' secondary that other pass catchers were free to roam almost as they pleased. Result: another win for the Browns.

This has been a good season, too, for John Henry Johnson, the veteran back of the Pittsburgh Steelers. Johnson has taken full charge of the Steelers' running assignments after Bob Ferguson, the ex-Olio star and sloutout All-American last year, did not develop as quickly as expected.

Price Wins Invitational Band Contest

ATLANTA, Ga.—(SNS)—The Luther Judson Price High School Band, under the direction of Bandmaster Alfred Wyatt, won the first annual Invitational Marching Band Contest Thursday afternoon, Nov. 22 at Herndon Memorial Stadium.

Sponsored by the Clark and Morris Brown Music Departments, the contest was held in connection with the annual Thanksgiving Day Orchestral Classic, won this year by the Clark College Panthers, 34-14. This new innovation, directed by Bandmaster Cleophas Johnson, of Morris Brown, made a real hit with the fans.

The Lemon Street High School Band, under the direction of Bandmaster Leo Stubbs, finished in the No. 2 spot; and third place went to the Samuel H. Archer High School Band, under the direction of Bandmaster Lloyd Terry.

Other bands competing in the contest came from South Fulton High School, East Point, with Milton Clark, bandmaster, and William A. Fountain High School, Forest Park, with Wilson C. Bostic, bandmaster.

BANDS JUDGED ON TOTAL PERFORMANCE

In announcing the contest, Director Johnson said each band would be judged on the basis of total all-around performance—drill, precision, selection and rendition of selected numbers.

The judges were: Dan Smith, of the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra, and a former member of the University of Michigan Marching Band; and William Miller, bandmaster of the Hapeville High School Band.

The halftime entertainment features included intermission pageants by the Clark College Band, under the direction of Bandmaster Wagon Carver; and the Marching Wolverines, under the direction of Bandmaster Johnson.

Another innovation of the Big Turkey Day Classic was the playing of the National Anthem by the five high school bands, just before the kick-off, under the direction Assistant Charlie Cox, of Morris Brown.

Bandmasters Johnson and Cox awarded trophies to the bandmasters of the winning bands at halftime.

SPORTS OF THE WORLD

BY MARION E. JACKSON

December 9, 1962 will mark the beginning of a year long observance of the founding of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. The celebration will begin with a testimonial banquet which has been scheduled during the 49th Annual SIAC meeting which will feature as speaker Bishop David H. Sims of New Orleans, one of the surviving founders of the circuit which was born December 30 1913 at Morehouse College. Press, radio, TV, athletic directors, coaches, sports fans and old-timers are being asked to help locate players and coaches who contributed to 1914 sports teams.

The Golden Jubilee Committee which is spearheading the tribute to SIAC founders and pioneers include Dr. F. L. Forbes, Morehouse College; Mr. A. J. Lockhart, Morris Brown College; Mr. C. Johnson Dunn, Alabama State College, and SIAC Commissioner B. T. Harvey, Miles College.

Spadework for the Golden Jubilee began in Atlanta on Nov. 8 and was presented to the Executive Committee of the SIAC on Nov. 11.

Historians delving back into the SIAC archives recall that baseball and football were the recognized sports of the 1914 founder era. As a result every coach and administrator of the conference is being sought out for recognition and awards at the banquet next month.

Each member school of the SIAC has been requested to search records, programs, personnel files of former coaches and players of the 1913-14 era so that they might be summoned to return for the gala.

Any records, names or addresses should be mailed to Mr. A. J. Lockhart, Morris Brown College, Atlanta 14, Ga. Sportswriters and sportscasters of yesteryear are being asked to join in the hunt for old clippings and data. The search should be an exciting one. Hope some readers of this column can help. If so, their contribution would be an invaluable one.

All member schools of the SIAC are being asked to appoint a Golden Jubilee Subcommittee to outline plans for school-wide recognition of the SIAC's founding as well as support activities planned during the year long celebration. This would certainly facilitate the work of the overall committee.

The SIAC will also publish a Golden Jubilee Bulletin. The last such literary work printed was 25 years ago for the Silver Jubilee celebration.

Special programs for the Golden Jubilee will come during the SIAC basketball Tournament at Tuskegee Institute, February 21-23, 1963, and SIAC Track and Field Championships in Atlanta, May 18-11, 1963.

A target date for material for the SIAC Bulletin has been set for April 1, 1963. This means that all member schools will have to begin research for the printed work immediately and submit it as promptly as possible to the Golden Jubilee chairman.

It is important to note that the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference was born during the rumbling of World War I in Europe. Germany was smoldering for conquest. War fanaticism was being fanned throughout the civilized world. This nation while frantically thirsting for peace saw the heat waves of militarism hungrily licking the civilized skies.

While the Teutonic imperialism was becoming swaggering and overpowering men of great aims and challenge set down to erect a monument to organized athletics and excellent at Morehouse College. They did foundation construction Tennessee A & I State College and Knoxville College were admitted on February 9, 1924, and the Alabama State Normal School was readmitted.

On December 17, 1927, Miles Memorial College was readmitted. Edward Waters College, Jacksonville, Florida, was admitted December 14, 1929.

In April, 1929, five of the institutions holding membership in the Southeastern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference withdrew and formed the Collegiate Athletic Conference.

At a joint meeting of the Southeastern Conference and the Collegiate Conference, held at the Butler Street YM.C.A., Atlanta, December 13-14, 1929, there was formed the Southern Conference. December 30, 1932, beginning of Golden Jubilee Year of competition in the conference.

Eisenhower denounced Mississippi's stand.

FAMU Officials said: "The selection of Jackson State College as the Classic opponent represents a tradition of bringing to Atlanta fans the very best possible team available."

The added that the rematch between these two teams should draw at least 50,000 fans, topping last year's record attendance of 47,781 paid admissions.

Tenn. State Posts 1962 Win Defeating Kentucky State 33-10

By EARL S. CLANTON, III

NASHVILLE —Delighting an overflowing 50th anniversary homecoming 6,500 crowd, Tennessee State's Big Blues punched out their first win in a year by belling Kentucky State's Thorobreds 33-10 in W. J. Hale Stadium Thanksgiving Day.

Along The Sports Trail

BY SAM BROWN

Football fans will get a chance to see two good football teams in action Saturday December 8, when Arkansas AM and N College Golden Lions of Pine Bluff, Ark. meet the M I College Tigers of Holly Springs, Miss at Crump Stadium.

A and M Rattlers in the Orange Blossom Classic in Miami, Fla. Dec. 8. Jackson State College was invited to play in the game here, but declined the invitation as they awaited the invitation for greener pastures. So, we congratulate the Tigers on their great season. The Tigers lost to the Rattlers in the Classic last year by a 14-8 score.

Members of the Vanguard Club, sponsors of the game are looking forward to making this a manual affair to be known as the "VANGUARD CLASSIC," and will attempt to bring some of the top teams to Memphis each year. Some of the members of the governing body have suggested that the winning team be invited to defend its victory the next year.

Scoring in every quarter while picking up their first conference win, halfback Paul Byrdell picked his way to pay dirt from the 11 with 1:34 remaining in the half. Fletcher Smith booted the extra point that capped a 66 yard march. Tennessee recovered another Kentucky State fumble on their own 34. The fleet ex - Haynes halfback Johnny Hunt picked up 23, Byrdell added a first down while moving the ball to Kentucky's 37 and Charlie Powell carried it to the 36. A 15 yard penalty against Kentucky left the ball on the 11 yard stripe from where Byrdell scooted to paydirt to give the Big Blues a 13-0 halftime edge.

So, there is the possibility of the VANGUARD CLASSIC becoming one of the top football attractions of the post season in the Mid-South. Many encouraging letters and messages have been received in regards to the idea of a post-season attraction in this section of the South. Now that the football season is over, sports-fans will turn their attention to the basketball season that is now upon us. The Prep League season will get underway in a few days, and LeMoyné College home season will get underway Saturday night December 8. So, there are two big attractions awaiting sports fans next week-end.

It's great to get back in the winning column" Coach Simmons grunted while getting a victory kiss from his wife and pumping the hands of the victory - starved old grads. "But I can't be as happy about this win as I would like to because we made too many mistakes," he continued.

The Lester Lions' River Of Jordan

Wednesday, Nov. 21, an assembly was held in the gymnasium, sponsored by the sophomore class. The guest speaker was Ronald Taylor, president of the sophomore class. His topic was "How Thanksgiving Had Its Beginning. A play was also presented. Some of the characters were: Doris Rhodes, Edith Bull, Crystal Bynum, Cheryl Means, Elaine Dotson and Carolyn Hunter.

The Schemmners Seven Social Club had a party that turned out like the name. (If you know what I mean, "a flop"). Some of the members are Rosetta McKinney, Eugene Logan, Frances Mitchell, Claudette Tucker, Cordella Porter. I indeed say their choice was a wise one.

Barbara Lewis and Willie C. Owens are into something big (I wonder what?). Frances Mitchell says to Larry Miller, nothing beats a try.

Marion Roberson says she has a certain like for Cheyvs. Courtnie Fair told O. W. "You're fighting a losing battle." IS IT TRUE THAT?

Quincey McDonald and Maxine D. Bromley are the last of the big times? Bobby Berner is using Bleach and Glow Cream? Jamie Simelton drives a foreign "to school every day?" Larry Miller takes Cordelia Porter everywhere he goes?

A. J. Albright and Charles (Toy) Bowers believe in that brotherly saying, "Share and Share alike?" (meaning Rosetta McKinney). Courtnie Fair and Al Payne Sugg have something in common (smiling), or were they born that way? Faye Ward is waiting on Thomas Parham to come home?

During his first two years at Howard, Evans maintained a "B plus" average.

Magicians Tackle Alabama In Local Opener With 2 Fast Freshmen In Lineup

By JAMES GORDON

LeMoyné's Magicians take to the road this weekend for three games on foreign soil before returning here for their home opener December 8 against Alabama State of Montgomery. Memphis fans will see the LeMoynites again December 11 when the Magicians meet the Dragons of Lane College. Both games will be played in Bruce Hall, starting at 8 p.m.

LeMoyné meets Knoxville College at Knoxville this Friday night at Knoxville and tackle the Fisk University Bulldogs Saturday night at Nashville. The third out-of-town game is slated for Monday night, Dec. 3, at Huntsville against Alabama A&M.

JAMES GORDON

Coach Jerry C. Johnson starts the season for LeMoyné with an 11-man squad, one of the smallest in the history of the college. A 12th man, David Gaines, senior from Detroit and top scorer last winter, is ineligible this semester but will be back in harness at the beginning of the second term.

Two of the highly touted new men are lost to the team, Willie Jones, who came to the Magicians from Melrose High School here, dropped out of college, and James Giles from Detroit was found to be ineligible. The squad suffered another blow when Robert Ne's, senior center, withdrew from LeMoyné.

Two veterans, Chester Collins and Curtis Mitchell, were graduated in May and academics loomed fear over dependables, including Donald Nelson of Cincinnati.

LeMoyné's opening lineup will include two fast-moving freshmen, Richard Dumas of Kousas City, Ky., at guard, and Jerome Wright, 6-5 center from Louisville, Ky. Monroe Corbin, sophomore guard from Hills, Tenn., will be the floor general, and the rough and ready James Gordon, sophomore from Louisville, Ky., and acting captain will be at forward.

Willie Ferguson, the 6-6 Memphis senior, will start at the other forward position but giving him a battle for the position are Jimmy Chretien, sophomore from Syracuse, N. Y.; Whitney Bakstian, freshman of Memphis, and Robert Hambric, junior from Chicago.

Others sure to see action are Verles Sales, junior guard from Woodstock, Cleophus Owens, junior forward and center of Memphis, and Richard Sykes, senior center from Chicago.

Wiley Wildcats Whip Dillard Blue Devils, 20-6

NEW ORLEANS, La. — The Wiley Wildcats played a big third-quarter rally in a come from behind 20-6 victory over the Dillard Blue Devils in the annual Thanksgiving Day classic. Three thousand partisan fans saw their blue and white favorites roundly outplay the East Texas entry during the first two quarters only to fall before a methodical second half uprising of the Wildcats.

Coach Bill Martin's Gulf Coast Conference champions were not overly impressed with the heavier Wildcats, stopping them cold and taking over the lead four minutes deep in the second stanza on a 75-yard drive when Ervinverton blasted over center from the two. A 65-yard pass from George Coleman to Doug Evans was the key play in the drive. Coleman attempted to pass for two points but Tommy Edwards broke up the play and Dillard led at half tie 6-0.

The Wildcats lost little time getting back in the game when Linell Moore took the Dillard kickoff at the beginning of the second half and outran the Blue Devils with a 95-yard TD scamper. Bob Newsall put Wiley in front 7-6 with a perfect placement.

The visitors counted again when Tommy Edwards climbed an 81-yard drive with a 1-yard plunge at center. Newsall was again perfect and Wiley led 14-6 with 7:06 remaining in the third quarter. LeMar Barwell led the affair with a 12-yard dash to the Cats third marker with 5:40 remaining in the contest. A rock ribbed Wiley defense spearheaded by Wiley's wild wacoan, Willie Ward and Clarence "Sluggo" Wells, two very fine guards, was too much for Dillard in the second half.

BLUES BOWL QUEEN CROWNED — City Commissioner William W. Farris crowns the 1962 Blues Bowl queen, Marion Mitchell, during halftime Saturday night at Melrose Stadium. Around 5,000 were present for the 24th annual high school football classic.

Security Checks At Mississippi Continue

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Justice Department said Saturday it was making every effort to ease security measures on the campus of the University of Mississippi but said some precautions were still necessary.

Edwin Guthman, a department spokesman, made the comment when asked about reports that there was no longer any effort being made to check visitors to Baxter Hall, the "Ole Miss" dormitory where James H. Meredith lives.

The army has been making security checks on persons entering the dormitory since riots broke out on the campus the night before Meredith was enrolled as the first Negro knowingly admitted to the university.

"Right from the outset we were trying to make things as normal as possible on the campus," Guthman said. "We took up with the army what steps could be taken to ease the situation there."

"But our first responsibility is to see that there is no interference with the court's order," he said. "It is obvious, however, that when we have demonstrations like those of several weeks ago, it makes it more difficult to ease the security checks."

The demonstrations to which he referred involved students in Baxter Hall dropping cherry bombs and firecrackers from windows of the dormitory.

Guthman said the only statement he had made about the security checks previously was in answer to a query about a letter the department received from Sen. Stennis, D-Miss. Stennis protested against the army requiring students entering Baxter Hall to show identification cards.

Guthman said the army was allowing some students to enter the hall without showing their identification cards because they were recognized. But he said there was no relaxation of measures designed to make sure there was no interference with the court order requiring Meredith's admission to the university.

Which holiday greeting is older... the first Christmas Card or Gordon's Gin?

Gordon's Gin was an English holiday greeting 74 years before Mr. J. C. Horsley designed the first Christmas card. The Gordon's you drink today harks back to Alexander Gordon's original 1769 formula, for one doesn't tamper with a good thing... especially when it is the world's biggest seller. This year send cards, serve and give Gordon's London Dry Gin.
