

Episcopal Church Members Protest Charges Made By Priest!

Vestrymen of Emmanuel Episcopal Church at 425 Cynthia held a closed meeting last night (Wednesday) to decide what action to take in regards to their priest-in-charge, youthful Father Cecil Marshall. What happened in this meeting has not been made available to the public as yet.

Communicants of the church were "terribly upset" after reading a statement in the Monday morning paper quoting Rev. Mr. Marshall as saying they opposed his efforts to bring residents of surrounding Foote Homes project into Emmanuel as worshippers and members.

They don't deny this but it disturbed them to see it in print.

Pastor Says Emmanuel Doesn't Want 'Project' People

"Last year we discussed doing something about this but the members felt they were not ready. The church had become so middle-class and they felt they had no message for the people who live in the housing project."

"I then took it upon myself to knock on doors in the project and invite these people to our services," Rev. Mr. Marshall said, "but then members of the church really called me down and told me these people would not be able to support the church."

Most of the complaints about the Monday statement came from men of the church, said Rev. Mr. Marshall. "I really had expected it from the women," he added.

Outside observers believe vestrymen of the church will suggest that Father Marshall leave. There is a possibility too they say that they might try to "freeze" him out.

"As long as I have one altar boy, I can celebrate mass," Rev. Mr. Marshall said.

It was pointed out that Emmanuel is not a parish, but still a mission, because it receives some financial support from the diocese. This, then, according to authorities, gives the Bishop, and not the communicants, the power to decide Father Marshall's future.

It had already been decided some weeks ago that Father Jarret C. Atkins of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., should arrive here Easter Monday to take over the church and that Father Marshall would stay on as assistant priest, a post he held when he came here three years ago. At that time, Father Samuel Rudder was in charge of Emmanuel. He departed the pulpit last May.

Father Marshall is interested in youth work and in recent months organized baseball, basketball and bowling teams among youngsters living in Foote homes. He also opens the parish house to them for recreational and social purposes.

Emmanuel is almost 100 years old and always has had an exclusive membership. When the sprawling Foote Homes project was built around the church property, the sanctuary was torn down and a new one erected. But, not until Father Marshall appeared on the scene did many of the Foote Homes residents worship in the edifice.

"These people (at Foote Homes) don't come to church here because they are afraid they will look shabby and out of place alongside our communicants," declared the young priest.

Rev. Mr. Marshall, who grew up in the East Harlem section of New York, wants them to come anyway and make Emmanuel a neighborhood church.

"You think the integration of the races is difficult, but the integration of the poor class with the well-to-do is just as hard," he said.

The area has a high rate of juvenile delinquency, but Rev. Mr. Marshall hopes to reduce these problems with a well-planned church program.

He would like to stay here and face the challenge.

It is obvious that most of his communicants would like for him to carry his program to another city.

Dr. W. O. Speight Sr., is head of the vestrymen of Emmanuel, the only Episcopal church in Memphis for Negroes.

Negroes Hired In Sales Jobs By 14 Stores In Pine Bluff!

PINE BLUFF, Ark. — Negroes have been employed in sales and other non-menial jobs at 14 Pine Bluff retail stores. They include major department and variety stores.

At least one Negro is working in each store.

Pine Bluff is the home of Arkansas A. M. & N. College, a state-supported institution which spends large sums with downtown merchants.

"Pine Bluff is proving that people with respect for the dignity of mankind can talk together and come up with solutions that are beneficial to all of its citizenry. It is my hope that speedy and effective progress can be continued especially in areas that are basic needs to everyone."

When queried, the firms involved issued a joint statement that said:

"In keeping with the present and projected economic growth, progress and harmonious atmosphere of the City of Pine Bluff, the following stores have and will continue to consider available employment to all qualified persons, regardless of race, creed or color, according to their abilities."

$2,671,723 Raised By UNCF In 1963

NEW YORK. — A record $2,671,723 was raised by the United Negro College Fund in 1963, Lawrence J. MacGregor, national campaign chairman, announced here Mr. MacGregor, retired board chairman of the Summit Trust Co., Summit, N. J., headed the nation-wide UNCF appeal for the second consecutive year.

"The 1963 total tops the $2,300,000 raised in 1962 by 16 percent," Mr. MacGregor said. "This is the largest percentage of increase achieved since the College Fund pioneered cooperative fund raising for higher education in 1944. That first year, $753,683 was raised to bolster the operating budgets of the member institutions.

"Corporation giving climbed the highest last year, amounting to $1,440,610. Foundations and family funds accounted for $468,652. Individuals and groups contributed $77,461 to the 1963 campaign."

The 32 institutions benefiting through the appeal are all independent, privately supported, accredited colleges and universities. They are all located in the 11 states of the Old South.

Dr. Frederick D. Patterson, recently named president and chief executive officer of the College Fund, announced that $48,978 had been received in legacies during 1963.

Unless earmarked for a specific purpose, all bequests are deposited in a special reserve fund established to insure the economic stability of the colleges. "Income from invested reserves helps defray annual campaign expenses," Dr. Patterson said.

The College Fund has raised a total of $75,418,492 for its member colleges and universities over the past 20 years. The annual appeals to help meet operating costs have

Had Placed Only 1 Foot In Vehicle

McKissic Malone of 1896 Clovia Lane, the 23-year-old Hyde Park Elementary School teacher, who suffered critical burns about the body when his 1961 Thunderbird burst into flames, was "feeling pretty good" and "walking around" this week at John Gaston Hospital, his mother, Mr. Ollie Mae Farmer, said.

Mrs. Farmer revealed that her son, a graduate of Lane College, was not in the car when it caught on fire. She said he had one foot in the vehicle and the other on the street and that he had not taken the car keys from his pocket when the explosion took place.

Mr. Malone, a physical ed. instructor at Hyde Park, said he was smoking a cigarette when he started to enter the car which was parked in front of his home.

Investigating officers reasoned that the cigarette touched off the blaze when it came in contact with escaping gasoline fumes but the assistant fire marshal, L. P. Leach, has disagreed with this theory.

Police and fire officials plan to question Mr. Malone at length when he is able to leave the hospital. Surgeons at the hospital cut a hole in his windpipe shortly after he was admitted to aid his breathing.

Neighbors said the explosion sounded like a bomb and that Malone raced back to the home in flames calling for an uncle to help him. He was tearing clothes from his body as he dashed for the house. The entire interior of the car was burned.

Malone was preparing to enter the car and go to the school to pick up his basketball team, his mother said.

Lincoln-Douglass Rally Sends Food To Needy In Delta, Calls For Action By Pres. Johnson

The hundreds who packed Pentecostal Temple last Wednesday night to observe birthdays of Abraham Lincoln and Frederick Douglass joined Republican leaders in a resolution calling on President Johnson to provide food, clothing, housing and jobs for thousands of unemployed Negroes in the Mississippi delta.

The twin birthday celebration was sponsored by the Lincoln League, Ministers for Political Action and the Elks' Department of Education. The three organizations are backed by the Republican wheel, Lt. George W. Lee.

On the temple's parking lot was a Carl Carson van where many of those attending the celebration deposited food and clothing for the delta's needy. Spearheading the food drive was the Rev. John S. Howard, minister of New Life Baptist Church, 383 Lucy.

Principal speaker Grant Reynolds of New York said the one-party system in Mississippi is more responsible than automation for poverty among Negroes in the delta. "This wouldn't happen in a state with a Republican governor," he declared.

Mr. Reynolds said "Lincoln still remains the greatest of all presidents, and one of those who helped make him great was Frederick Douglass." He lamented the fact that "Douglass is too little known" and that "many of our children know nothing of him."

In a plug for the Republican party, he said "The Republicans are not giving Negroes something but making it possible for Negroes to do something for themselves."

In a whack at Democrats, he declared: "The Democrats are opposed to full freedom for Negroes."

Said Lieutenant Lee: "We came here tonight to celebrate in a tangible way by bringing food for the needy in Mississippi."

"They are our people," he added. The local Republican leader suggested that President Johnson set up a $5 million fund for Negroes in the delta area.

A collection was taken at the end of the program to swell the food drive and most of those in attendance signed the resolution addressed to President Johnson.

A spokesman from Cleveland, Miss. said Negroes in that area receive very little of government surplus food sent to the state.

W. W. Walker introduced the speaker and Bishop J. O. Patterson of the temple made the appeal for funds.

Several choirs rendered special numbers.

525 BEAUTICANS AT SOFSTYLE'S BIG SHOW

SOFTSTYLE, a revolutionary new permanent hair relaxer that marks a major scientific breakthrough in the field of hair beauty, was dramatically introduced this week to more than 525 beauticians of the Memphis area by the Epic Professional Products Division of the Gillette Company.

Beauticians and students attending the huge Sofstyle Show at the Ellis Auditorium Monday, Feb. 17, saw demonstrations of the Sofstyle process and the artistry of top stylists Eugene Williams and Helen Martinez, both of whom are affiliated with the Epic Division. In addition, technical aspects of the product were discussed by Neal Harris, representative for Epic, and Mrs. Ethel Arnold.

Tested for several years in the Chicago laboratories of Gillette's Tomi Division and by scores of independent beauticians, Sofstyle is an exclusive process that has been proven to be as safe as shampooing. A cool relaxing lotion, it can be applied by the professional beauty operator without the usual preliminary tests or creme bases and requires no heat or irons. The new product is designed to last until the hair grows out and has built-in conditioners that make hair more manageable.

Sofstyle has been carefully researched and developed by Epic, a division of the Gillette Company concerned with hair products for professional use. More than 15 years of combined effort on the part of scientists and technicians has brought this completely different hair relaxer to the public.

Available only through licensed beauticians, Sofstyle is expected to create new interest in regular hair care since it makes possible frequent shampoos and easy styling. Problems of hair reverting are completely eliminated with application of the product and it can be used successfully on all types of hair, including that which has been color treated.

Serving as host for the show was the Vogue Beauty Supply Co. of Memphis, represented by Messrs. Irving and Al Lansky.

The Memphis show was one of the largest shows held for the beauticians trade in this city.

Two Memphians Re-elected By TEC

Slaughter of Shelby County, who became chaplain; and A. L. Robinson, principal of Montgomery High School, Lexington, was re-elected to the executive committee.

First Lady Offers Heart-Warming Salute to Heart Fund Volunteers

Dear Friends,

My highest praise goes to the 1,750,000 volunteers who will visit their neighbors on Sunday, February 23rd, to raise funds for the campaign against heart disease and other circulatory diseases. This campaign gives us all the chance to help the scientist in his laboratory, the doctor and the nurse in their work of healing, and the patients in their urgent need.

Heart disease respects no barriers of class or region or sex. Many homes have known its mark of pain and suffering. Its challenge is constant and our response cannot be less than the need and the opportunity. I am sure that the volunteers will be received most cordially as they go on their errands of mercy and good citizenship.

Sincerely,
Lady Bird Johnson
Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson

NO. 1 HEART VOLUNTEER is Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, who, in her capacity as National Honorary Heart Sunday Chairman, has directed the message shown at left to the 1,750,000 volunteers who will call on their neighbors this week-end to distribute heart-guarding information and to receive contributions to the Heart Fund. She has long been an active and influential figure in the fight against heart and blood vessel disease.

A note today came from a long time friend, one to whom I was very close during our high school days, the former MISS RUTH MADDOX who lived with relative, Dr. and Mrs. N. M. Watson until she was out of high school. The note came from Ruth who saw my picture in the Memphis World. She is now Mr. James Fitzroy Guy of New York City. I have found fond memories of our walks to school together and even our walks all the way to town from Walker Avenue where we both lived. But the most fun comes when I think back over the debutante party that Dr. and Mrs. Watson gave for Ruth.

When most of our little gang went wild getting new outfits for the party, and I think back to the fact that she thought that maybe Ruth would go to Europe or would be off for the Orient, this being the very first Debutante Party for many of us, and for sure it was for me.

'Hopeless' Believes Nice Girls Are Left Standing, Looking On From The Sidelines

Dear Mary:

What does it profit one to be a nice girl? The other kids get the dates, husbands, homes and families. Nice girls are left standing, looking on from the sidelines.

Dear Hopeless:

I hope you don't really mean all you wrote in your letter. Remember, at least you can look yourself in the eye and can live with yourself. Someday a man will come along who appreciates decency, kindness and goodness. Just be ready to accept him when he does come along. The acceptance must be mental, physical and emotional.

Dear Mary:

At work we were discussing suicide and one in the group said it is abnormal to think about killing oneself. At least twice during my life I have seriously considered suicide. Do you think that is so terrible? The people where I work think it is.

Dear Sally Jo:

Most people have thought of suicide at least once during their lifetime so thinking is not abnormal.

Final Tribute Is Paid To Dave Whitfield

Hundred of Friends of Dave Whitfield, were shocked to learn of his recent death after a short illness.

For almost 17 years Mr. Whitfield had been porter and shoeshine manager for Warren's Barber Shop in an all-white community across from East High School. He was well-known for his dry sense of humor and devotion to his job and family.

Robert Johnson, in his "Good Evening" column in the Memphis Press Scimitar, said: "If he had been white, I believe he would have been a millionaire promoter, a $50,000 a year salesman, or maybe a man who didn't have as many dimes as friends. White or colored, he was a remarkable person, and beloved in that whole community."

Mr. Whitfield lived at 1038 North Seventh, Apt. 2, with his wife, Mrs. Ernestine Whitfield, and his two daughters, Mary Ann, 14, and Gwendolyn, 12, ninth and seventh grade students at Manassas.

Rev. Crawford In Plea To Congress

The Rev. Peter G. Crawford, minister of Avery Chapel AME Church, this week called on the U. S. Congress in "deal positively and objectively" with the civil rights bill. His message, in part, reads:

"Today, I call to your attention that the freedom loving people of this nation and around the globe are pleading with you to deal positively and objectively with the Civil Rights Bill that you will write and pass at this 88th session.

"The overwhelming desire of the people of the known world is that you will consider this proposed legislation, not as the traditional race problem, packed with emotions of hate and bitterness, born of a guilt complex. Observe this matter from a point of view that transcends the mores of the people you represent or the economic political repercussions it may have. See it with wide open eyes and mind. In the dazzling light of Christian faith, as a great moral challenge of our time.

"Yes, let this Civil Rights Bill, that is one hundred years overdue, embrace the urgent needs of all minority groups and become a fitting memorial, not alone to the late President, John F. Kennedy, but also to the unknown, uncounted thousands of Negroes who have died violent deaths at the hands of lawless men."

Shrove Tuesday, Ash Wednesday And Lenten

The church calendars are in full blast with the above religious feasts coming up this month. Those churches engaged in the religious rites recognized by these days have given a full account in customary traditional celebrations.

There are so many advantages in living in a Bible land where the Golden Rule is kept alive and that "emphasis on 'Love thy Neighbor' is the watchword. We love our country for its religious sanction and that enjoyment of our trust in God, embelazoned on our coins.

It is truly the Faith which has brought us thus far along the way. It is the salt that saves the nation and the world.

Twice in a generation, there are those who have seen the virtue in the basic teaching of the Bible, the preaching and practices of the gospel of our Lord. The prayers and long sufferings of the saints have preserved our institutions all down generations.

Whether one subscribes to the synods or the creed of the church, there will have to be an admission that the unsurpassed virtue in the devoutness and charitable functions which stem from the church, has not been without its impact on the thinking and policy-making in the field of Democratic principles.

The 40 days between Ash Wednesday and Easter are never without their divine impulse which causes many a person to live a better life and have more respect for the rights of his fellows.

Negro History Week, Like Time, Marches On

In this, a college community, coupled with many modern school plants for young students, it would be quite natural that an occasion like Negro History Week would go over with marked success. Before the advent of last week, there were signs on every hand of many things meant for review and appraisal by those whose interests lie in the field of history and research.

From the elementary schools on through, much enlightenment came from those whose native industry and scholarship merged to make the affair a fixation in the processes of our units of advancement.

We are proud of Negro History Week and its ability to weave the contributions long neglected or bypassed, into the annals of general history.

Surely our environs have been made better, and a keener interest laid in the field of research on the part of those who were formally left out of the pages.

BETWEEN THE LINES

By DEAN GORDON S. HANCOCK For Associated Negro Press

The Russianization Of America

The super-danger of the civilization of our times is the Russianization of America. Russia has no spiritual values, for all her values are material. They do not have any place for righteousness, although it is written that "righteousness exalteth a nation but sin is a reproach to any people."

In our supposed Christian civilization, we hear but little today about righteousness; and when our nation makes its boast for world-wide recognition, we speak in terms of standards of living. Our great boast is that we have the highest standard of living of any nation in the world, and the highest in the history of the world.

We do not boast of being the most moral, the most righteous, the most just, the most humane and the most brotherly. Our great emphasis is not on virtuous women and self-controlled men, but on sophistication.

When the students of one of our finest colleges for women vote in favor of premarital sex relations, we get some idea of a vicious trend of the times. This does not mean that there is not still virtue among women, neither does it mean that there is no longer control among men.

The vote of the aforementioned college for women is but a straw in the wind, showing which way the wind is blowing. This vote shows the outlook on life. This vote shows that low moral standards are on their way out, but on their way in, and herein lies the great danger.

And so when our great nation's great boast is that we have the highest standard of living of any nation in the world, it means that materialist philosophy and ideals are in the ascendancy. This is dangerous, for the fall of all great nations of history has been preceded by high living standards. The effete and luxury loving nations have always fallen before the lean half-hungry peoples struggling for existence. The history of Babylon, Greece and Rome are too familiar to need recounting here. Russia is materialistic. We are becoming more and more materialistic.

This article was inspired by the pressures being brought to bear on the state legislatures of our nation for larger and larger appropriations for our educational systems. Our colleges and universities are lined up in our legislatures asking for larger and larger appropriations.

ANSWER TO QUESTIONS It has been like this for years on years past, and it will be like this for years on years to come. We are all committed to the belief that education is the answer to the questions raised by our troubled times.

The more money our nation appropriates for education the higher our incidence of rape and robbery and crime and bestiality. Just as we boast that our nation has the highest standard of living of any nation in the world so we must hang our heads in humiliation and shame and confess that ours is the most criminal nation in the world.

This is not to disparage education, for we would not if we could, and could not if we would! Education is a great human good and should be advanced with vigor everywhere. But the emphasis on education is this self-same material emphasis which has taken over in Russia. Education by itself will not answer our pressing questions.

has been awarded a $25,000 verdict. Damages were awarded after an eight-day Circuit Court trial.

Co-defendants were Shelly Donald, 44, of 1396 Gill, the driver, and Audi Armstead, owner of the vehicle. The car driven by Mr. Donald and occupied by six other persons struck an unlighted truck stalled at Highway 51 South and Cessna Road.

Outflow of gold is expected to resume soon.

Finishing positions of Carver, Bertrand, Manassas and Douglass had not been decided at press time as they still had unplayed league games on their schedules.

A second capital-funds appeal for $50 million, now in progress, had raised $27 million by the end of 1963.

"Allocations of the funds raised through the annual UNCF appeals have no strings attached," Dr. Paterson said. "Each college uses the money where most needed, principally to grant scholarships, increase faculty salaries, introduce new courses, up-date libraries and laboratory equipment."

Regional winners and runnersup will then play at Tennessee State in Nashville for the state title.

In the Memphis district meet, games scheduled for the first night will be played on the court of the third place team. Semi-finals will be unrec'd on the home floor of the second place team, and finals will be played at the home of the champion of the league.

Lester is undisputed champion of the city loop, 12-2, but Melrose and Washington are tied at 10-4 for second place. A flip of a coin will decide second and third place slots.

Hamilton, 1-12, very definitely will not be in the district tournament.

Finishing positions of Carver, Bertrand, Manassas and Douglass had not been decided at press time as they still had unplayed league games on their schedules.

INs and OUTs On LBJ Ranch

WASHINGTON--(NPPA)—On the LBJ Ranch you don't know whether you are IN or OUT

Some of the people who seem to be IN are Hobart Taylor, Jr., equal opportunity expert (he's from Texas, too); Mrs. D'Jarvis Watson, wife of the New York judge; and Carl T. Rowan, of USIA (he hopes).

To the same group add Dr. Robert C. Weaver, of Housing; Dr. Andrew F. Brimmer, of Commerce; Howard Woods, of St. Louis; and Franklin Williams and Sam Yelt of the Peace Corps.

Andrew T. Hatcher continues IN as Associate Press Secretary, but not as cozy. Louis Martin is still IN at Democratic National Committee Headquarters. Richard Fox, witty personnel aide at the State Dept., is IN, thanks to Rowan.

The hayride is IN, the rocking chair is OUT. Lincoln Birthday receptions at the White House are OUT. The handshake and pat on the back are IN.

Public Relations is IN, but reporters are OUT. The Kennedy type press conference is OUT. The chummy, spur-of-the-moment news briefing is IN, but few have been able to witness one.

Colored publishers are IN, especially if they come in a group. Clio for civil rights leaders (except those who like to sit-in).

Waste is OUT. Poverty is IN. New jobs are OUT. Expensive chandeliers are IN, but electricity to run them is OUT. So is the income of those caught in the economy push.

Around the White House, colored aides are IN, especially maids and secretaries. Talk of the 35-hour week is OUT. The extra-long workday is IN; overtime pay is OUT. The password: grumbling.

NO GALAS The gala social season instituted by the Kennedys is OUT. Informally is IN (if you can get past the gate). The Cabinet-sponsored cultural function is OUT.

Nat King Cole is IN. Louis Armstrong is IN. Marian Anderson has been IN all the time. Sammy Davis, Jr. does not fit into the equation.

The Beatles are OUT, the hoot-canany is IN, but there is little time for it. Needless to say, rock 'n' roll and the twist are both out.

No change in the status of Jackie Robinson and Sugar Ray Robinson; they remain OUT. District Commissioner John B. Duncan (an LBJ "discovery") once OUT, is back IN. A Leon Higginbotham, Jr. and Spottswood W. Robinson, 3d are IN, so are other colored Federal judges, including Marjorie McKenzie Lawson.

Southern Senators are IN, Republicans are OUT, except when needed. Colored Congressmen can't be picked up by radar, but Adam Clayton Powell should take care of that.

Panama is IN as a subject of conversation. The same for Cuba, but not for long (Castro could care less). Africa, once a prime topic, is fading OUT. It goes without saying that Texas is IN.

Civil rights, re-named equal opportunity, and send the ballot to the Memphis World. One may vote as many times as he wishes. Each vote is worth 10 points.

Lucas suffered fractured ribs, face cuts and internal injuries. Guy received minor injuries. Deputies said the Lucas car struck

MY WEEKLY SERMON By REV. BLAIR T. HUNT, PASTOR, MISSISSIPPI BLVD. CHRISTIAN CHURCH

GOD'S NEWSPAPER

Text: "Ye are our epistles written in our hearts, known and read of all men." - II Cor. 3:2.

Centuries ago the Apostle Paul wrote to the church in Corinth that they were like a letter or a written page which can be read by all men. He meant to say that people are living letters which can be read by others.

In Paul's day there were no newspapers. If there had been, he might have said that people are like daily newspapers read by others. How are we like newspapers? Everything, good and bad, is printed in newspapers. How would you like to have all your thoughts and deeds printed on the front page? Do we live in such a way that if all our acts were printed, we would not mind if the public read about them? Suppose your picture were on the front page of this paper when you were in an ugly humor, your eyes green with envy and jealousy. I am afraid that others see us like that at times. People read us like they read newspapers.

In our newspapers we have a social column where people read about dinners, parties, weddings, socials and the guests we entertain. How would you like to have printed in the social column of the daily paper what you said about your guests when they had gone. your criticisms, etc.?

Now in our daily papers there is the Editorial Section. Here the Editor shows his thinking. How would you like to have all your thinking printed? Suppose all your terrible thoughts were printed. Yet we are read by all men, and by God who knows the secrets of our hearts.

In our newspapers we have a sports section. Sports have to do with games. Games mean leisure hours. Would you want people to know where you spend your leisure hours and what you do in your leisure hours? Another section of our newspapers is the comic section. This section is to make people laugh or smile. Can you make others smile or are you a gloom-spreader, always nursing a grouch causing people to frown? It is important to scatter sunshine, to spread innocent and good cheer, to brighten the corner where you are. Yes, people are reading your comic section.

A most important section of our newspapers is the advertising section. People read advertisements. What are you advertising? We are all advertisers and people read. Christians are all read by the people of the world and it is our Christian duty to advertise Christ and His church. Advertise love, kindness, faith and hope. Advertise Jesus. Say a good word for Jesus, say how He died and why He died. Advertise "He is alive forevermore." Say a good word for the Bible. It is the Book of Life. Advertise to the world that Jesus is a great lover, a lover of souls with a love that will not let go.

True Christians are God's newspapers read by the rest of the world. The only way some people will ever learn about god is by reading us. Therefore, it is very important what they read in us. This we know, others do read us like they read the Daily Paper.

U. S. Fires Missiles Over Ocean

CAPE KENNEDY — (UPI) — The United States Monday fired its mightiest war-ready missiles on routine test flights over the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

The Air Force shot a powerful Titan 2 ICBM from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., on a 5,000-mile earlier this year.

The Titan shot was a success and its instrumented payload landed in a mid-Atlantic target area to the southeast. The Air Force, following normal practice, did not announce the results of the Titan 2 test.

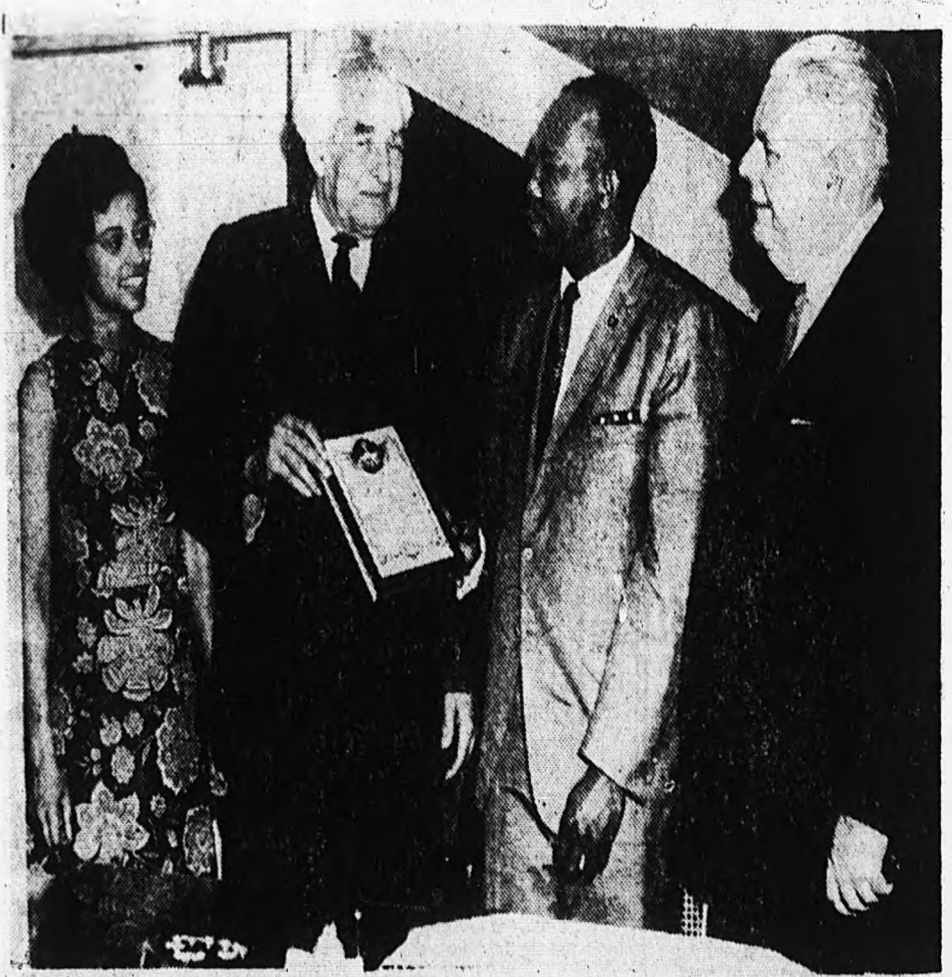

BOTH WERE LOADED FLINT, Mich. — (ANP) — Two loads don't cancel each other out, and 22-year-old Vance Forshay of rural Danby township is poorer by $35 as a result. Police, investigating a report of a man sleeping in a car, opened the car door and found Forshay asleep on the front seat. He was promptly haled into court, and fined $35 and costs.

Why? Police found, that though he was sleeping in the car, he was holding a loaded .22 caliber pistol in his hand. Forshay admitted being intoxicated, so the charge was "possessing firearms while under the influence."

Violence In St. Augustine As Shots, Fire Hit Homes

Residences Of Civil Rights Figures Targets

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla.—(ANP)—Shots from a .30 caliber rifle were fired into the home of a Negro civil rights leader here and the home of another Negro whose children attend an integrated school was severely damaged by fire Friday night, according to local police reports. No one was reported injured.

Officers said the rifle shots struck the residence of Dr. Robert B. Hayling, who was away from home at the time. One shot killed Dr. Hayling's boxer dog.

Dr. Hayling, a dentist, a recently resigned as head of the local youth council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. He said at the time that he was resigning in order to help create a better climate for interracial negotiations in St. Augustine.

Witnesses told police Friday night that a white car was seen speeding away from the scene of the shooting at Dr. Hayling's house. The dentist's wife and family were in the house at the time of the shootings.

At about the same time, around midnight, Bunion Robinson, who lives near the Haylings, said he saw a white car speeding by his house. Seconds later, Robinson said, his house was on fire.

GI Insurance Loans Available To Vets

WASHINGTON — (NNPA) — Veterans holding permanent GI life insurance may borrow up to 84 per cent of their policies' cash surrender value to meet financial emergencies.

This action reduces the amount of protection but leaves the policy in force, the VA said. On the other hand, if the policy is surrendered for all its worth, all protection under the insurance ceases and cannot be renewed or reinstated.

Annual interest on GI policy loans is charged at 4 per cent on the unpaid balance. If not paid, it is added to the loan principal and begins to draw interest.

Hampton Coed Alerts Burning Dormitory Students

HAMPTON INSTITUTE, Va. — Betty Richardson, 21, senior student from Jacksonville, Fla., slept lightly on Feb. 13 in her room in Cleveland Hall. The smell of smoke awoke her about 2:45 a.m., and she alerted dormitory directors, thus saving the lives of 280 other sleeping women students on the second and third floors of Cleveland Hall. Smoke was discovered pouring out of a trash closet on the third floor. While students were being evacuated from the building to nearby Oaden Hall, the two dormitory directors, Mrs. Olivia Ackridge and Mrs. Georgia McPherson, kept the blaze under control with fire extinguishers until the arrival of the fire department about 3:00 a.m.

The orderly withdrawal of the students resulted in only one casualty, a back injury sustained by Patricia Turner, 18, Portsmouth, Va., who slipped on a fire escape. She was x-rayed for her injuries. The fire burned through a wall connecting with a tiled bathroom. The amount of the damage is still undetermined.

Cleveland Hall, one of the oldest on the campus, houses the student's dining room on the main floor. The two upper floors are used for freshmen girls' dormitory. In addition, a few upperclass counselors also reside there.

The campus volunteer fire department was assisted by the City of Hampton's fire fighting crew and equipment in putting out the blaze. Fire was extinguished about 3:15 a.m.

ROBERT N. LANDRUM

Urges Qualified, Independent, Fortright Appointments Made

CHICAGO — A real estate broker and mortgage banker, who is the only Negro Board member of the Department of Urban Renewal of Chicago said this week that Negroes across the country must place more emphasis on getting "qualified, independent and forthright" Negroes on public and quasi-public boards and commissions.

"This is especially important in areas involving housing and economics because these are basic to the civil rights struggle," declared Robert N. Landrum, President of a real estate company bearing his name.

Landrum, interviewed in his Chicago office, explained that by "qualified, independent and forthright," he is referring to trained, experienced Negroes who are financially independent enough to resist the temptation of succumbing to the traditional role of the so-called Negro leader who goes along with the politicians' program for self-gain or for prestige.

"With the Negro making the kind of strides he is making today, these gains must be crystallized at the policy making level of official and semi-official boards," Landrum said. "Since it is almost inevitable that at least one Negro will be named to many of these boards, it is essential that Negro communities throughout America organize to get the right Negro into these seats if the interests of the Negro are to be served.

"Too often, Negro appointees are chosen for the purpose of window dressing while the talents of experienced men in the field go wanting," he said.

Landrum, who has served on the Board of the Department of Urban Renewal since its inception, was a major factor in the recent awarding of an urban renewal site to a predominantly Negro group for a $1,500,000 shopping center, marking the first time that Negroes have made a breakthrough in the lucrative field of commercial development on urban renewal land.

RITA GREEN, a charming senior at Savannah State College, Savannah, Georgia, enjoys attending the semi-formal affairs given on the campus. Rita is an Elementary Education Major from Brunswick, Ga. She reigns as Miss Y.W.C.A., 1963-64.

Lumumba's Body 'Immersed In Acid'

MADRID, Spain — (NNPA) — The body of the late Patrice Lumumba of the Congo was immersed in acid so he would "disappear forever," Mose Tshombe, former president of Katanga Province, charged last week.

Living in Madrid under self-imposed exile, Tshombe said the "acid bath" was ordered by Premier Cyrille Adoula to thwart an investigation of the slaying by the United Nations.

Tshombe told a news conference that Lumumba, the first Premier of the Congo, and two other prisoners were beaten to death by a military escort that brought them to Elizabethville, the capital of Katanga, in late January 1961. Their bodies were in "a lamentable state," he said.

In London, a film of African police torturing and murdering other Africans was shown last Monday night on BBC television.

The film, part of the "Panorama" program, showed Congo police in the town of Kivu, Kivu Province, "treating up a man like a chicken."

The commentator said water was poured on the rope binding the man to tighten it. He was then beaten to death while a large group of Africans, rounded up by police in a raid, looked on.

Death Sentence For Having Arms

ACCRA — (NNPA) — The death penalty awaits Ghanaians who possess explosives, firearms or ammunition "without lawful excuse," under terms of a bill passed last week.

Reporting this, the official Ghana News Agency said the bill places the burden of proving "lawful excuse" on persons found with the weapon or explosives.

U. S. Arranged 'Defection'

GENEVA — (UPI) — The Soviet Union angrily implied Wednesday that agents of the United States engineered the defection of Russian security officer Yuri Nosenko. The Soviets hinted he had been kidnapped and demanded his immediate return.

The Soviets also charged that Switzerland aided "provocative foreign agents" in arranging Nosenko's defection.

The Swiss government promptly rejected the Soviet charge, which cast a pall over the future of Soviet-American relations and the 17-nation disarmament conference.

The U. S. State Department reported Monday that the 36-year-old Nosenko, believed to be carrying top-secret information on Soviet nuclear weapons and defenses, asked for asylum in the United States a week ago. He disappeared from the Soviet delegation to the disarmament conference on Feb. 4.

FIRST RED COMMENT
Wednesday's charge by chief Soviet disarmament negotiator Semyon K. Tsarapkin was the first official Soviet comment on Nosenko.

MARCH ON HOTEL WHERE JOHNSON SPOKE BLOCKED

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — (UPI) — Integrationists leveled charges of "deceit" and "police state" Saturday against authorities who blocked a planned march on a hotel where President Lyndon B. Johnson was main speaker.

Charles R. Oldham, a white attorney and former national chairman of the Congress of Racial Equality, CORE, said protests would be made to President Johnson and Gov. John M. Dalton over the arrest and detention of more than 100 persons Friday night. Johnson and Dalton were in the hotel, unaware of the arrests some four blocks away.

Police had first denied to newsmen that the arrests took place, but an official statement Saturday by Chief Curtis Brostrom said, "We just couldn't permit any opportunity to occur where there could have been a major disturbance."

Tight security covered Johnson's six-hour visit to St. Louis Missouri Metropolitan 200th birthday.

Members and sympathizers of the St. Louis CORE chapter were arrested in Forest Park, scene of the 1964 St. Louis World's Fair.

Authorities at the airport arrested a man carrying a loaded pistol while Johnson was in the hotel.

The man, a Negro, identified as Talma Sawyer, formerly of Mound City, Ill., said he was looking for his bus and wandered into a restricted area. Sawyer offered to take a lie detector test and said he did not even know that the president was in town. He was booked on charges of carrying a concealed weapon.

About the time Johnson was being whisked back to the airport, police ordered the release of the 45 Negroes and 35 white persons.

Fla. Court Order Against Picketing Vacated In D. C.

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Supreme Court Monday vacated a Florida court order forbidding picketing by Negroes of Webb's City department store in St. Petersburg, Fla., in 1960.

The store has since desegregated both its lunch counter and cafeteria.

The Supreme Court had agreed to hear the case this term, but, in view of the suggestion by Webb's City that an issue no longer exists, it vacated the lower court's order and sent the matter back there.

WASHINGTON — (NNPA) — Seventeen CORE demonstrators charged with a total of 33 counts were convicted on Feb. 13 of trespassing on the property of a building contractor in Belair, Md.

Judge Roscoe H. Parker, of Prince Georges County, handed down fines of $25 for each count growing out of their separate sit-ins last September in the sales office of Levitt and Sons.

The defense argued that Levitt was "the only real criminal" because the firm had allegedly adopted a policy of racial discrimination.

State's Attorney Arthur A. Marshall, Jr., said he personally disagreed with Levitt's policy at Belair, but emphasized that the demonstrators, four of whom were colored, had no right to "take the law into their own hands."

LEGISLATIVE ELECTIONS
LIBREVILLE — (ANP) — Legislative elections will be held throughout Gabon on Feb. 23, according to an announcement made here last week by President Leon M'ba. In announcing the date, the chief of state noted that the number of deputies in the national assembly has been cut from 67 to 47, for the nine regions of the republic.

Marian Anderson will retire after world tour.

Jewish Youth Form Anti-Filibuster Unit

HARRISON, N. Y. — At the close of a three-day conference here sparked by NAACP speakers, 300 Jewish youths launched a letter-writing campaign to all U. S. Senators opposing any filibuster on the pending civil rights bill.

Members of the Harrison Jewish Community Center and youth delegates from other New York communities will enlist the aid of United Synagogue Youth in their campaign. Plans are also being made to send youth groups to Washington during the inevitable filibuster to talk with Senators.

The campaign announcement was made following three days of discussion, Feb. 7-9, by the delegates with NAACP representatives on the problems of northern school desegregation, employment and housing discrimination and the improvement of inter-personal relationships.

The keynote address was delivered by Calvin D. Banks, NAACP program director, who told the youths that because of their parents' failure to solve the racial problem, today's youth were being required to resolve the question.

Discussion groups led by NAACP representatives from New York State followed the keynote address. The delegates considered their responsibilities as American youth and as Jewish youth.

In addition to Mr. Banks, NAACP consultants included Mrs. Olive J. Campbell, Mrs. Jeanne Kyles, M. Paul Redd, Mrs. Leona Ferrington, Joseph Jackson, Mrs. S. Grissom, Leroy Burnett and Eugene Burnett.

One particularly dramatic episode in which still participated involved Henry "Box" Brown. It is said that Brown enlisted the aid of a sympathetic white merchant in Richmond, Virginia, who lured him in a box which contained biscuits and water and shipped the box via the Adams Express Company Lines to Philadelphia. Still opened the box and found Brown unhurt after the rugged two-day journey by steamboat, wagon and rail.

In 1837 Still led a successful campaign against segregated street cars in Philadelphia. In 1872 he compiled records on the fugitive slaves which he had been maintaining, and published them under the title of "Underground Railroad." This became an outstanding reference work for both black and white leaders.

After the Civil War, Still devoted his life to fighting racial discrimination and to welfare work among Negroes. He died in 1902 at the age of 81.

The defense argued that Levitt was "the only real criminal" because the firm had allegedly adopted a policy of racial discrimination.

State's Attorney Arthur A. Marshall, Jr., said he personally disagreed with Levitt's policy at Belair, but emphasized that the demonstrators, four of whom were colored, had no right to "take the law into their own hands."

NAACP Continues Fight Against Bias In Schools

NEW YORK—Following prolonged deliberations and full discussion, the 13 New York City branches of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People have withdrawn from the City-wide Committee for Integrated Schools.

Announcement of this decision was made here Thursday night, Feb. 13, by Frederick D. Jones, NAACP state education chairman. Mr. Jones made clear, however, the Association's "insistence... on a comprehensive citywide plan of school desegregation" and its "determination to call further protest demonstrations, including a second boycott, if the Board of Education continues to be deaf to demands for a meaningful desegregation plan."

In addition to the NAACP members of the Citywide Committee have included the Parents' Workshop for Equality, the Harlem Parents Committee, the Urban League of Greater New York, the National Association for Puerto Rican Civil Rights, and local units of CORE.

In announcing the withdrawal of the NAACP from the Committee, Mr. Jones issued the following statement:

"It is quite clear," wrote Mr. Zanders, in the letter that accompanied the payment, "that every Negro should support the NAACP 100 percent today." Turning the money over to the NAACP was the only pleasure he derived from doing business with Gov. Wallace, Mr. Zanders added.

The NAACP was enjoined from operating in the State of Alabama in 1956 when the organization refused to reveal its membership list. Last fall the case was put before the U. S. Supreme Court for the fourth time.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

SIMON AND THE REPENTANT WOMAN
International Sunday School Lesson for February 23, 1964.

MEMORY SELECTION:
"In him we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of our trespasses, according to the riches of his grace which he lavished upon us."

(Ephesians 1:7-8.)
LESSON TEXT: Luke 7: 36-50.

In our Biblical lesson for today we must learn what conditions must be met before we can experience Christ's forgiveness.

Our Scriptures for today present us an incident in the ministry of Jesus that gives us a basic insight into the true meaning of his teachings.

Asked to break bread with a rich Pharisee, Jesus accepted the invitation, and while he sat at the table a woman of the town, learning who he was, came and knelt before him. Humbly she wet his feet with her tears, dried them with her hair, and kissed them abjectly.

The host, Simon, wondered what kind of man this was, who was apparently oblivious to the fact that the woman was a sinner.

Sensing the confusion in his host's mind, Jesus then gave forth with the riddle of the debtors, bringing it home to Simon that true forgiveness can be measured by the extent of the sin; and true love, in turn, takes its measure from forgiveness.

How many of us are, like Simon, the offended host? One of the most flagrant betrayals we can offer Christ is that we insist on passing judgment on the qualifications of those whom we choose to accept.

Instead of receiving Jesus and accepting fully those whom Christ himself has called, the fellowship of Simon insists that the fellowship of the church be fashioned on one's own personal terms, whereas Christ quietly insists that this choosing is His responsibility, not ours, and we are being somewhat presumptuous when we commandeer it.

The contrast between Simon and the repentant woman is somewhat sharply drawn. Simon had not sought God's forgiveness for the simple reason that he was completely unaware of his need for it. The woman, on the other hand, was acutely conscious of her unworthiness, and therefore more appreciative of the forgiveness extended her.

Repentance is, of necessity, a prerequisite to forgiveness and acceptance, in God's eyes. The woman in this narrative had met all the requirements for the cleansing of her soul and the pardon of her transgressions. She was conscious of her sin, and she believed that Jesus would, and could, forgive her.

And strangely enough, the more in love with Jesus a person is, the more conscious he is of sin. Those among us who willingly and openly admit our sins and our need for forgiveness, always find a quick response in Jesus. This is one of the most glorious, and the most fundamental, truths of the gospel.

How grateful we should be that Christ can, and does give forgiveness so freely! It is done by him alone. It can be done directly and immediately upon a sinner presents himself in sincere repentance. It is done without the go-between of a priest, or any other in an official capacity. Forgiveness is a precious, private experience between the sinner and Christ alone.

We must always remember that, insofar as God is concerned, none of us has sinned so deeply that we cannot return to him if we so wish. But the wish must, most definitely be present. Simon, in his blindness, put a barrier between himself and Christ's forgiveness. He felt that, having conducted his life literally by the law, he did not require forgiveness. Therefore, he sought none.

How many of us today make that same tragic mistake? Without meaning to, by indulging in self-pride, we are sinning almost daily. We mistake humility for weakness, when, we have only to remember the incident where Jesus, himself, bathed the feet of his disciples.

Divine grace is always available to us if we seek it reverently and earnestly. When we do this, we are extending the courtesy of a true host to Christ's stay in our hearts.

Magicians End Schedule With .500 Record; Losing 4 Seniors

LeMoyné's Magicians closed their regular schedule Friday night with a .500 record in Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference competition despite rough sledding in the last games that allowed the semester break.

The LeMoyné won eight and lost eight against SIAC competition, putting with such teams as Knoxville, Alabama State, Fisk, Tuskegee and Lane. Overall, the Magicians were 13-12 (their three appearances at the Winston-Salem College Holiday Festival are figured in the total). The Memphis won one and lost two in the North Carolina tournament.

Hambrick, captain of Chicago, Robert Nelson of Hendersonville, Ky., and Vertes Sais and Cleophas Owens of Memphis.

The Magicians ended their home schedule in blazing colors last week by defeating Allen from Columbia, S. C., 99-73, but then went on to bow to Philander Smith, 100-90, at Little Rock, and to Fisk, 95-80, at Nashville. The LeMoyné five mastered both of these outfits in Memphis, smothering Fisk 63-49 and stopping Philander, 83-77.

Despite the .500 seasonal record, LeMoyné can point to its big forward, James Gordon, a native of Louisville, Ky., who held the No. 1 spot several weeks in individual goal accuracy among the nation's small colleges. His rating was based on NATA statistics.

"Samson, The Hero" On NBC-TV Feb. 23

In the fourth of a new series of Bible lectures on "Living Personalities of the Old Testament" on NBC-TV's "Frontiers of Faith," Dr. Hagen Staack compares Samson to a modern-day folk hero like Elvis Presley but in somewhat unflattering terms for both, Sunday, Feb. 23, at 1:30 p.m. (EST).

The series is produced by the National Council of Churches' broad-casting and film commission in cooperation with NBC's public affairs department.

Dr. Staack, a minister and scientist, draws parallels between the ancient and modern-day heroes.

"People may be helped to realize that Old Testament nations had their troubles too," he says. "There have always been crooked politicians, and dumb folk heroes — like Samson. He wasn't better than Elvis Presley."

"Samson was a living contradiction," Dr. Staack points out. "He was the son of promise, of tremendous physical strength, highly gifted, often truly inspired, and at the same time often senselessly violent, uncontrolled in his appetites, and a victim of the Philistine women he associated with."

The Lester High School Basketball Lions are champions of the Prep League, having compiled a season record in the league of 12-2. They are now waiting for the going to be off after more worlds to conquer. Winning the title was indeed a team effort, despite the heroics of Richard Jones and Charles Paulk, whose names and exploits were in the news most of the season.

True, Jones and Paulk deserved all the space they received in the papers, yet it must not be forgotten that the play of their mates, Bennie Price, John Miller, Charles Williams, Claude Humphrey and all the rest of the team had much to do with winning the title.

Now that the league championship race is behind them, perhaps the toughest part of being a basketball champion is the forthcoming tournaments in which the team will participate. The league race covered a period of a little more than two months, while in rapid succession the champions will be called on to take part in the District meet, the Regional tournament meet, the Regional tournament and the state meet. So the real test is coming up.

We congratulate coach Ira Stillers and staff, the entire team and all those who supported the team. So, now it is up to them to go all the way, district, region, state and national. # Strong Civil Rights Law, Or No Law At All Predicted By Solons

Albany Minister Faces Job Loss At Federal Posts

ALBANY, Georgia — A South-west Georgia Negro minister, an active participant in the anti-segregation drive here, has been notified he is being removed from his job at the Albany Marine Corps Supply Center.

In Atlanta, the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) protested the proposed dismissal and asked Marine Corps Commandant Lieutenant General Wallace M. Green Jr. and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to "do everything in your power to insure that Reverend Wells is not being fired because of his participation in the civil rights movement."

The minister, the Reverend Samuel B. Wells, a sandblaster at the Supply Center, received a letter from Supply Center Commanding General Tyler informing him "it is proposed to remove you from your present position with the federal service." The letter said removal proceedings were begun against Wells because of "conduct unbecoming a federal employee in that you committed perjury."

Wells, and eight other members of the Albany Movement, have been indicted on perjury and conspiracy charges by the federal government. Wells was convicted, and on December 23, 1963, sentenced to a year and a day in prison. His conviction has been appealed.

Wells, 49, was born in Lee County, Georgia. He is second vice-president of the Albany Movement, and serves as pastor of Blue Springs Baptist Church in Worth County and William Springs Baptist Church near Albany. He has been arrested "at least ten" times because of his participation in the Albany rights drive. He is married and has four children, ages 12 to 15. A veteran, he was discharged from the Army with a good conduct medal in 1947.

Mrs. Jackson To Trial Feb. 24

MACON, Georgia — Mrs. Eliza Jackson will go to trial here February 24 in United States District Court for the perjury.

Mrs. Jackson, recording secretary of the Albany (Ga.) Movement, is one of nine Albany civil rights leaders indicted for perjury and conspiracy by a federal grand jury.

The indictments grew out of a grand jury investigation of charges by a white Albany grocer that a half-hour picket line before his store was an attempt to intimidate him because he had served on a jury that had failed to convict a Baker County Sheriff of shooting a Negro.

The grocer, Carl Smith, protested to the United States Department of Justice. A grand jury was convened, and nine prominent leaders of the Albany rights drive were indicted.

"No Clues Found" In Miss. Murder

LIBERTY, Mississippi — Sheriff Daniel Jones said here last week he had failed to find "a single clue" in the shotgun slaying of a Negro who had seen a white man shoot another Negro active in a voter registration drive.

"I've interviewed a lot of people but haven't come up with a thing yet," the sheriff said.

The body of Louis Allen, 44, was found early Saturday morning, February 14, by his teenage son. He was dead from three shotgun blasts, two in his head. The sheriff said several neighbors heard the shots but "thought nothing of it." He said Allen was killed as he stepped from his log truck to open a gate 150 yards from his house. The sheriff estimated the shots were fired from 30 yards away.

"I've known Allen for years," the sheriff said. "He was not involved in any civil rights activities."

Allen was a witness in the fatal shooting of Herbert Lee, a 32-year-old farmer gunned down outside a Liberty cotton gin in 1961. Lee was one of several Negroes active in a Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) voter drive. Allen later admitted to SNCC workers he had been forced to lie at a coroner's jury investigating the slaying which set free E. H. Hurst, a white man, then a mem-

Republicans Appear To Hold Upper Hand

WASHINGTON—(NNPA)—The country is going to get a strong civil rights law—or no law at all.

Observers are saying that the civil rights bill passed last week by the House will leave the Senate at least as strong as it arrived. The alternative is to wind up as just another batch of papers in a Congressional pigeonhole.

This prediction is based on the assumption that the Republicans hold the upper hand by virtue of their expert generalship in the House debate.

As leader of the Republican side, Ohio's William M. McCulloch succeeded in swinging enough GOP votes to help House Democrats pass the most sweeping civil rights bill in history.

Without his support, Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.), floor manager for the bill, would have seen his efforts cut to pieces by his own teammates from the South, aided and abetted by a few reactionary Republicans from the North.

McCulloch's associates contend that he has no intention of standing idly by while the bill for which he fought so valiantly is scuttled in the Senate.

He can't do anything about the talkative Senators, but he can withdraw his coalition's support from a watered down bill when such a bill reaches the joint Senate-House conference that normally follows passage of any bill by both houses.

If House Republicans refuse to back the conference report, then according to the Congressional Quarterly, "the bipartisan coalition that pushed the bill through the House would collapse and with it the House majority in favor of the bill."

The publication said such a course would "apparently entail a minimum of political risk since they could place the blame on the Democrats for failure to go all out for a strong bill."

Such an eventuality would place President Johnson in a precarious position in an election year. This could be serious as the Democrats

African Coming To New York To Study Free Enterprise

NEW YORK—The Hall of Free Enterprise scored another first this week when a leading business man from one of the new nations of Africa announced plans to send his employees to New York to learn free enterprise techniques at the New York World's Fair.

Fifteen years ago Akwasi Amoakohene entered the business world with $15 capital. His enterprise consisted of a roadside stand. Today his net assets total more than $1 million. Mr. Amoakohene made his million in Ghana.

"The use of techniques employed in the free enterprise system is the secret," the self-made millionaire said, "but it need not be a secret. I'm interested in sending as many employees as possible to study the free enterprise system as explained by the Hall of Free Enterprise at the New York World's Fair."

Adelphi University, Garden City, New York, is offering a graduate credit course in Enterprise Economics at the Hall of Free Enterprise for the duration of the Fair. The course will be taught in six languages: English, French, Spanish, Italian, German and Russian.

Interest in The American Economic Foundation's Hall of Free Enterprise is internationally widespread with representatives from 48 nations comprising the International Advisory Council. Akwasi Amoakohene, chairman, Amoakohene Trading Company, Ltd., is Ghana's representative on the Council. In

LEGAL PROGRESS NOTED IN DANVILLE, VIRGINIA

DANVILLE, Va.—A marked change in the outcome of cases involving Negro civil rights demonstrators in this hard core segregation city has occurred intervention of NAACP Legal Defense Fund lawyers.

While some defendants continue to be convicted, many acquittals have occurred and many prosecutions are being dropped. Legal Defense Fund attorneys are appealing the cases of those defendants who have been convicted.

Monday, January 27: 16 demonstrators tried and convicted for parading without a permit. All, except one who proved that he paraded only one block, received brief jail terms.

Tuesday: NAACP Legal Defense Fund team, headed by Assistant Counsel Julius Chambers, took part in the trial of the demonstrators. A five man jury was empaneled for the first time. Judge Aiken withheld sentencing for the first time, until the following Saturday when charges against five were dropped.

Wednesday: Eight demonstrators, charged with 33 violations, were set free following Legal Defense Fund motion.

Thursday: Three additional demonstrators, charged with single counts, went free when Judge Aiken

ROY WILKINS SEES SENATE PASSAGE OF RIGHTS BILL

NEW YORK — The sweeping bi-partisan 290 to 130 House vote for the civil rights bill "gives us great hope that the bill will be passed by the Senate as well," Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary and chairman of the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights, said following the final House action.

"We have confidence," the civil rights leader added, "in our Senators and believe they, too, will answer with appropriate action the cry of millions of Americans for simple justice."

The better than two-to-one vote in the House of Representatives came on Feb. 10, ten days after the most comprehensive civil rights bill ever submitted to Congress was received from the Rules Committee. The 11-part bill covers a wide range of civil rights objectives.

103 AMENDMENTS REJECTED
A total of 140 amendments to the bill was offered during debate. The coalition of northern Democrats and Republicans, standing firm, turned back 103 amendments designed to alter the substance of the bill. Thirty-seven minor revisions, including one banning sex discrimination in employment, were either adopted or accepted without comment by the Judiciary Committee, which steered the measure through the House with bi-partisan support.

A majority of each party voted for the broad measure.

The bill, as finally passed, provides additional protection of the right to vote, prohibits discrimination in public accommodations, bans segregation in all public facilities, authorizes the Attorney General to institute school desegregation suits, provides assistance to local school authorities in planning desegregation, directs all Federal agencies to eliminate discrimination in Federal, assisted programs, permits withholding of Federal funds from discriminatory programs, bans job discrimination, extends the life of the U. S. Commission on Civil Rights, and establishes a Community Relations Service to help communities resolve racial disputes.

WHO IS EDUCATED

A professor in Chicago is reported to have given the following test to his pupils. He told them that they were not really educated unless they could say YES to all these questions:

1. Has your education given you sympathy to all good causes and made you espouse them?
2. Has it made you public-spirited?
3. Has it made you a brother to the weak?
4. Have you learned how to make friends and to keep them?
5. Do you know what it is to be a friend yourself?
6. Can you lock an honest man or a pure woman straight in the eye?
7. Do you see anything to love in a little child?
8. Will a lonely dog follow you down the street?
9. Can you be high-minded and happy in the meaner drudgeries of life?
10. Do you think washing dishes and hewing corn are just as compatible with high thinking as piano playing or golf?
11. Are you good for anything to yourself? Can you be happy alone?
12. Can you look out on the world and see anything but dollars and cents?
13. Can you look into a mud puddle by the wayside and see anything in the puddle but mud?
14. Can you look into the sky at night and see beyond the stars?
15. Can your soul claim relationship with the Creator?
