William Elmore Guns Thunderbolts To Wins Over Warriors

Melrose's Golden Wildcats continued to show off their superior forces last week by beating mud and a stubborn Hamilton machine, and Manassas' Tigers made a comeback by trouncing the determined Douglass Red Devils, but Game of the Week honors go to the surprising Father Bertrand Thunderbolts who blanked the 1963 co-champions, Booker T. Washington Warriors.

Bertrand was a fumbling and somewhat confused aggregation when the Thunderbolts dropped the Prep League opener, 6-0, to Lester on the night of Sept. 3. But, they were a different team when they took on the once mighty BTW on Wednesday night of last week.

Coach W. P. Porter shifted his captain, William Elmore, from fullback to the quarterback position and made a fullback out of a big tackle, Louie Watkins, almost over night, Ond it paid off.

On top of that, the Bertrand ball carriers were off with full force at the snap of the ball and on line plays, there was always a big hole for the man lugging the oval.

All of this, plus excellent defensive work, gave the 'Bolts an 18-0 win over Coach Charles Lomax' puzzled Warriors.

AT THE OUTSET, it looked like another bad night for the Bertrand charges. Twice they were forced to punt and each time the ball was punted almost straight up in the air after nearly being blocked. Turning point for the Thunderbolts came in the second quarter when, with their backs casting shadows over the goal line, Elmore intercepted a BTW pass and dashed about 30 yards. The team put on a sustained drive with Watkins finally bucking over from the five for the firsts TD.

The 'Bolts tallied again in the third when James Hall broke through and trotted 46 yards, and again in the fourth with Robert Stephens dashing over from the six after the TD march had been set up by Elmore's interception of a BTW pass at the Bertrand 43.

THE 'BOLTS picked up 11 first downs to Washington's four and helping the Bertrand cause were guards Emmitt Woods and Raymond Mott, tackles Ronnie Pryor and Melvin Williams and center Larry Hill.

Standing out defensively for Father Bertrand were Curtis Berry, Artis Johnson and Solomon Garrett. Looking good, too, were rookie quarterbacks Larry Holmes and Clarence Jones.

The Slaughter brothers, Willie and Jim, picked up considerable yardage for BTW but to no avail.

MELROSE'S Golden Wildcats came back on the scene Thursday night of last week and proved that their 46-0 win over Manassas the previous week was no fluke.

Hamilton's Wildcats, aided by a muddy field, held Melrose scoreless for two an done-half quarters, but midway of the third period Coach Eldridge Mitchell's 1963 co-champions exploded and from then on it was the funeral march for Hamilton.

Head Coach Jesse Joseph saw his Hamilton charges go down to defeat, 30-0.

The Melrose outfit scored three TDs in the third frame. On the first tally, the Golden Wildcats took a Hamilton fumble at the Hamilton 42, sent LeRoy Moton to the 16 and then shot Jimmy Ward across the goal line. A pass from QB Henry Dawson to Bobby Smith accounted for the second, and Eric Wilburn sprinted 26 yards for the third.

In the fourth, the dangerous Mr. Smith raced 65 yards for six points on a pass interception ,and Henry Dawson accounted for the other marker on a 35-yard pass.

MANASSAS' Tigers bounced into the win column Friday night by standing off Douglass, 27-8.

Quarterback Wilbert Trigg was the Tigers' money man. He tossed two TD passes, heaved three more for extra points and carried the ball himself for two additional markers.

Trigg bucked from the one-yard line for one of the TDs, and dashed 22 yards for the other. His touchdown passes were to Houston Chaffin and Raymond Webb. The extra point passes also were to Webb.

Douglass tallied on a safety and on a goal-line blocked punt which was covered by a tackle, LeRoy Thomas.

LESTER dropped a tough one Saturday night to the invading Riverside High from Chattanooga, 14-13. The Lions of Lester came up with several trick plays that worked. thanks to the smart quarterbacking of Sylvester Havslett.

Scoring for Lester were Hayslett on a one-yard plunge in the first and Fred Alexander on a 28-yard march in the fourth. Dallas Bradford converted for the Lions after the initial TD.

Sylvester Ray sprinted 13 yards for Riverside's first marker and William Lanier went 62 yards for the second tally. Stanley Paine accounted for both extra points.

'Marching 120' At Manassas In Debut

Manassas High School's "Marching 120" gave a colorful half-time exhibition Friday night at Melrose Stadium. It was the first prepband to perform this season.

Under the direction of Emerson R. Able Jr., the gold-clad musicians did a takeoff on the famous Florida A&M University band as they took the field.

They played special numbers which had been arranged for last year's band by Billy Herron and Jesse Butler.

Neal Harris was the graceful drum major, and cute Camella Guy and Prescilla Wooley were tops as the drum majorettes. The majorette coach is Miss Rose Caviness.

Manassas' band is sure to face tough competition in the well-coached unit at Carver and Booker T. Washington's classy outfit.

No band is permitted to perform before Sept. 15.

2 More Churches Hit By Fires In Mississippi

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. — (UPI) — Two small churches were hit by fire early Saturday near this central Mississippi town where the bodies of three slain civil rights workers were found last month.

Neshoba County Sheriff Lawrence Rainey said a pre - dawn blast gutted a Choctaw Indian church about 13 miles northeast of here. A Mennonite church which reportedly had been used for civil rights activities is situated near the reservation.

A small Negro church about three miles away, in neighboring Kemper County, also was damaged by a fire which apparently started about the same time.

Local officials and authorities from the state fire marshal's office were looking into the incidents.

The fire at the Kemper County church appeared to have been started by a homemade firebomb. Damage was confined mostly to the front door and steps.

More than 20 Negro churches have been damaged or destroyed by fires during the past few months in Mississippi. Civil rights workers have accused nightriding segregationists of starting the blazes in protest of a summer - long campaign to help Negroes register to vote.

Since that time she has steadily advanced toward her goal of deepening her knowledge of the insurance industry, by working for the fellowship that is symbolic of this achievement. Her field of major specialization for the fellowship was office management.

She is the first woman at Universal Life to receive the fellowship designation. Her connection with the Universal life family of employees was formed in June 1947 when she became office clerk for the Memphis district. The interest in agency operations which would later cause her to choose agency management as a minor for her LOMA Fellowship was initiated at this time.

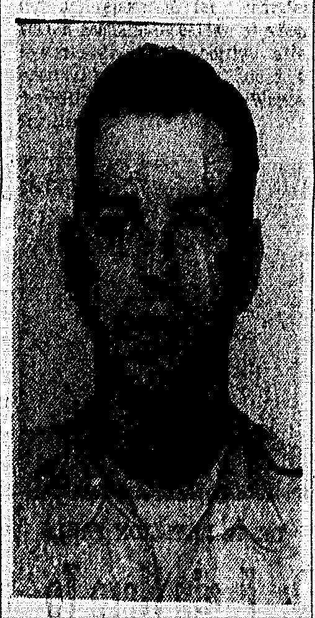
FBI Seeks Roving Carnival Worker

Lloyd Donald Greeson, Jr., a roving carnival worker and handy man, with an international criminal record stretching from London, England, to San Diego, California, and a reputation for charging women acquaintances, two of whom mysteriously died shortly after meeting him, has been added to the FBI's list of "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives."



LLOYD DONALD GREESON, JR.

Greeson is charged in a Federal warrant issued at Miami, Florida, on June 12, 1964, with unlawful interstate flight to avoid prosecution for auto theft and grand larceny. Another Federal warrant, issued at Pittston, Pennsylvania, on June 18, 1964, charges him with unlawful interstate flight to avoid prosecution for larceny.

Local authorities in Dade County, Florida, are particularly interested in questioning Greeson concerning the sudden and mysterious death of a 44-year-old South Miami divorcee who was last seen alive in the company of Greeson on the late evening of May 16, 1964. The victim's nude and lifeless body was found several days later in the bedroom of her home and medical examination reflected her death to be caused by a combination of alcohol and barbiturates, although investigation indicated that the victim never used drugs.

Greeson is charged with stealing a valuable ring from the victim, along with her automobile which was recovered on May 18, 1964, abandoned behind a tavern at Bonita Springs, Florida.

In addition, Greeson is sought for questioning by Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania, police relative to the death of a 35-year-old woman who reportedly met the fugitive on the early morning of June 13, 1964, in a Wilkes-Barre cocktail lounge. The dead body of this woman, last seen alive with Greeson, was found on June 16, 1964, in a drainage ditch in a wooded area on the outskirts of Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania.

Senator Goldwater's Atlanta Visit Gives Big Boost To 2-Party Effort

Hardly any candidate of any party ever drew the attention of more people than those who turned out along Peachtree Street and gathered later at Hurt Park to see and hear Senator Barry Goldwater, the Republican nominee for the presidency.

Having been given a false and misleading view of the G.O.P. candidate, we admit there were comparatively few members of our racial group at the speaking occasion.

But regardless of this, no one can dispute the fact that the Arizona Senator's candidacy and his visit to this section are a big boost to the much-needed two-party development in this area. The one-party Democratic control of this state since the Reconstruction period has prevented this state from adequately meeting its obligations to its citizens, especially our racial group. The Southern Democrats have talked loudest about States Rights when the federal government or its representatives have intervened in behalf of our rights.

Senator Goldwater has made an issue about States Rights in his opposition to growing power in the National government. He was strongly applauded when he referred to States Rights in his Atlanta speech. Aware of those who were heard to talk first about States Rights, some of our people are inclined to want to move in the opposite direction of those who advocate this position. So it seems this phrase "States Rights" will confuse more voters this year than ever before since it was first uttered.

On the basis of Senator Goldwater's public record, we believe his meaning of the term is quite different from that which is held by the masses of citizens in both racial groups in the South.

When Gov. William Scranton spoke here he referred to "States Rights," but we believe both Gov. Scranton and Senator Goldwater mean that the states will have both the rights and responsibilities to see that all citizens are treated equal and just under the law. This is the concept of "States Rights" we have.

We are glad Senator Goldwater paid our state a visit and we hope all the other candidates will visit us.

We are tired of our state being taken for granted by one party and more or less being ignored by the other in the past.

We want to see two strong parties operating in this state and Senator Goldwater is helping more than any other candidate to make this a fact.

We hope before this campaign is over and before the voters go to the polls, there will be a clearer understanding about this "States Rights" phrase."

A Public Service Record

The long drawn out controversies over meeting the medical needs of the elderl and the indigent, along with other public health problems, have undoubtedly shadowed, even obscured, the story of free medicine's achievement and the attitude of the medical profession in broad areas of public service and obligation.

President Welch of the American Medical Association recently said two things which should help to set the record straight.

First, 4.5 million Americans, who in any other period would have died are alive today thanks to new knowledge, new drugs and new techniques.

Second, the medical profession has always believed that all Americans are entitled to the best medical care regardless of their ability to pay for it. n Dr. Welch's words, "For many years, doctors have insisted on help for the needy. It is conservatively estimated that they now give the American people $700 million in free medical care annually."

There is certainly room for honest differences of opinion as to just how any particular health need should be met. We have plenty of that, and in the long run public opinion and feeling will provide the final decisions. But it would be a tragedy if that opinion solidified itself on a basis of emotion coupled with an ignorance of the salient facts. Knowledge is the essential prerequisite to any intelligent decision.

To quote Dr. Welch once more, "Progress and freedom are rooted together." And this is the most important point of all. Medicine, or anything else, goes forward when those who are a part of it are free to seek, to experiment, to follow their own guiding lights. Medicine, like anything else, must stagnate when it is bound and buried in red tape and the rules imposed by an adamant and faceless bureaucracy.

Johnson Announces Plans To Cut Excise Taxes Next Year

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — (UPI) —President Johnson stood before 3,500 cheering steelworkers Tuesday and pledged he will cut excise taxes next year as part of a six-point program designed to give every American family more money to spend.

The taxes are levied against a long list of items ranging from television sets and automobile tires to furs, jewelry and even long distance telephone calls.

Johnson made the pledge after the 1.2 million-member United Steelworkers of America USW gave him its unanimous endorsement.

The stage Johnson stood on to speak to the union's 12th constitutional convention was the same one upon which he accepted the Democratic nomination less than one month ago.

Johnson said that the excise tax cut will bring immediate relief to working men and women of America. He said that if the American prosperity boom continues its present trend, the average family income within the next three decades will be "twice what it is now."

BITTER ATTACK

The President launched perhaps his bitterest attack of the campaign against Republican candidate Barry M. Goldwater. The 3,500 delegates and 1,200 guests applauded long and loud. They interrupted his speech between 50 and 60 times.

Departing from his prepared text, Johnson said the nation would extend a helping hand to the poor and the helpless.

"And we will do all these things because we love people instead of hate them; because we have faith in America, not fear of the future; because you are strong men of vision instead of frightened cry babies; because you know it takes a man who loves his country to build a house instead of a raving, ranting demagogue who wants to tear down one."

Later, urging a forward look, Johnson added: "Beware of those who fear and those who doubt and those who rave and rant about the dangers of progress. . . Embrace those who tell you to follow the Golden rule. . ."

He said "those who think we have hit our peak. . . better get out of the way because they'll be run over by a marching America.

"And you know in your hearts that I'm telling you true," he said with a grin, twisting a popular GOP slogan.

NOISY DEMONSTRATION

The delegates set off a noisy demonstration similar to the political hoopla of the national convention the instant Johnson walked into the hall. They waved "LBJ" hats and banners, cheered, stomped their feet and clapped their hands. They all but ignored, for several minutes, Union President David J. McDonald trying to gavel the convention to order.

Before Johnson spoke, McDonald told the President that the convention delegates had given him and his running mate, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, their unanimous endorsement.

Johnson said the question to be decided next November is whether the American people want to "go forward with Johnson and Humphrey, or whether we are to go back to the dark ages with Goldwater and Miller."

"They have opposed everything from Social Security to the war against poverty. . . but the American people have not heeded the voices of doom," Johnson said.

Goldwater Says Democratic "Weakness" Bringing War

FARGO, N. D. — (UPI) — Sen. Barry M. Goldwater said Saturday that Democratic weakness has brought the nation into war "as certainly as the sun sets in the west."

In a speech prepared for delivery at the National Plowing Contest 30 miles west of here, the GOP presidential nominee said:

"Our country has lost the peace-the peace left to it by the Eisenhower administration."

Goldwater was scheduled to make another major speech Saturday night at St. Louis, Mo.

Goldwater's speech at the plowing contest, traditional airing point for major farm policy orations, was devoted largely to foreign policy. Democratic vice presidential nominee Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, who spoke at the contest a few hours earlier, talked mostly about farming.

CHARGES WEAKNESS

Goldwater said the Kennedy and Johnson administration have allowed the "peace of the Fifties to become the warfare of the Sixties . . . because of a policy of weakness, a policy of indecision, a policy of indirection.

"Today we are at war as certainly as the sun sets in the west."

Goldwater accused the Democratic administrations of pursuing "dream world diplomacy" in its dealing with Fidel Castro. He said:

"Never in this century has ideological blindness so endangered the national interest..

"Weakness allowed the missile threat to be implanted in Cuba."

PROMISES PEACE

Goldwater said that if elected he would "succeed where this administration has so miserably failed — in bringing peace to this land and to this world."

"It will not be easy to do so," Goldwater said, "and I would not be honest if I said it will be. We have to undo all the horrible bumgling of the last four years, bungling that has brought this country to war."

He pledged support for the GOP platform.

"We know in our hearts that you are plagued with your special problems," he said. "And we know they are serious problems. We will work with you toward solutions, not schemes."

Appearing as guests before a regular meeting of the Memphis Public Library Staff Association, each will review a book of his own selection.

Protestant Group Hits Goldwater

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — A major Protestant denomination Friday told its 2 million members that Sen. Barry M. Goldwater "has set himself against the overwhelming consensus of Christian social doctrines enunciated by the churches."

It said in an "election issues" report that Christians should bear this in mind when they vote Nov. 3.

The report which stops just short of a formal endorsement of President Johnson, took the form of a special electin issue of a bi-monthly magazine published by the Council for Christian Social Action of the United Church of Christ.

Included was a statement by Daniel P. Bryant, president of Bekins Van & Storage Co., Los Angeles, protesting what he called the "partisan political stance" taken by the denomination's leaders. He singled out the Council for Christian Social Action, an official agency of the church.

Bryant defended Goldwater as "a man whose character has never been questioned and who has consistently held to certain fundamental principles throughout his political life." He said President Johnson's record shows no such "consistency of principle."

The principal article in the pamphlet was written by Rev. Dr. Roger L. Shinn, professor of applied Christianity at Union Theological Seminary, New York. He noted that church organizations traditionally refrain from endorsing political candidates. But he said the 1964 presidential campaign is "different from any other within memory."

The thing that makes it different said Shinn, is that "one candidate consistently rejects alost all" of the social and foreign policy positions taken by most of the major religious groups in the United States.

"Sen. Goldwater, on practically every major issue he has chosen to raise, opposes the positions of the churches," he said.

As examples of such programs which Goldwater has opposed, Shinn listed the new civil rights law, foreign aid, a nuclear test ban, and various measures to combat poverty.

2 Mississippi Grand Juries Probe Deaths

BILOXI, Miss.—(UPI)—Two grand juries, meeting in separate parts of the state, pressed an investigation Tuesday into the deaths of three civil rights workers.

Several Negroes from rural Neshoba County were among the witnesses who went before a federal grand jury which convened in this Gulf Coast city Monday.

The Neshoba County grand jury, meeting in Philadelphia more than 200 miles away, also was digging into the sensational case.

Both sessions were held behind closed doors and witnesses were instructed not to talk to newsmen. There were indications it would be several days before any decision is reached on whether to return indictments.

Circuit Court Judge O. H. Barnett, a cousin of former Gov. Ross Barnett, charged the county panel at Philadelphia to investigate "the homicide of the three men whose bodies were found in this county some weeks ago."

"Because of this unlawful and dastardly deed of a few persons," he said, "the entire citizenship of Neshoba County has been indicted and tried before the whole world."

The bodies of the civil rights workers—Andrew Goodman and Michael Schwerner of New York and Negro James Chaney of Meridian—were found by the FBI Aug. 4 under an earth dam near Philadelphia.

Gore Stressing Peace, Freedom

"You have permitted me the great and dearly cherished privilege of being one of Tennessee's United States Senators for two terms. Your permission to continue this career of public service is earnestly petitioned," said Albert Gore, Tennessee's senior senator, in a prepared message, delivered in Memphis last Friday.

Here with his wife and daughter, Senator Gore said his service on the Public Works Committee for four years and as chairman of the highway subcommittee enabled him to co-sponsor the Gore-Fallon Highway Bill establishing the interstate and defense highway system, now underway.

Speaking favorably of the Medicare Bill, the senator said: "The high cost of medical care, drugs, hospitalization and nursing home care is one of our most pressing, but unsolved problems.

"Perhaps the happiest hour of my entire public service was upon Senate passage of my bill to provide increased Social Security benefits of $7 per month to each Social Security pensioner, and, more importantly, to provide a prepaid program of health care and hospitalization through Social Security."

Concluding, he said "My first and foremost desire has been and will be for the prservation and promotion of peace and freedom."

MY WEEKLY SERMON

By

REV. BLAIR T. HUNT,
PASTOR,
MISSISSIPPI BLVD. CHRISTIAN CHURCH

SUBJECT: "GOD MAKING US"
TEXT: "We Know That All Things Work Together For Good To Them That Love God."—Rom. 8:28

A poor woman, upon whom sorrows poured like rain and troubles swarmed like bees about a hive, cried out bitterly, "I wish I had never been made.' A friend of Christ-like character said to her, 'My Dear, you are not made yet; you are only being made." Yes, God is making his children through every experience.

It takes a strong, resolute faith to face losses, griefs and pain believing that 'All things work together for good.'" It takes a deep faith to believe that good may come out of what at that time seemed wholly bad.

"We know hat all things work together for good"; this statement is qualified. The next does not say that whatever happens to anybody will work for good. The promise is limited; it is limited "to those who love God."

What does it mean to love God? The beloved apostle John is to the point here: "Whoso has this world's goods, and sees his brother has need, and shuts up his bowels of compassion from him, how dwells the love of God in him?"

In the teachings of Christ the love of God and the love of God's children are bound inseparably together.

The prophet reaches the high water mark of the Old Testament standard in these words: "He has shown you, oh man, what is good and what does the Lord require of you, but to do justly, tc love mercy, to walk humbly with your God." The trouble with the world today comes because of injustices, hate, intolerance and foolish pride.

Jesus linked together two great commandments, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart . . . and thy neighbor as thyself.

Who is my neighbor? Jesus answers this question in the story of the Good Samaritan. The answer: Anyone who needs help and we are able to give help is my neighbor.

It is the purpose of God to make us, to fashion human souls into the likeness of Christ.

The cross helps us to understand our text. Behold Calvary, survey the old rugged cross on which Jesus died. There out of seeming defeat and deepest darkness a supreme victory was wrought. The inspired writer of Hebrews tells us; "The Son of God's perfection came by suffering." Jesus dying on a cross, a patient, willing victim, is the supreme demonstration of our text. The good was not apparent at Calvary; evil seemed triumphant, for darkness for three hous, darkness in the hearts of his disciples.

Jesus did not know the complete vindication of God's love until the third day, until he had passed into the resurrection life.

It requires a life beyond death to fully affirm Paul's words of our text. This life shows but part, only a very small part. Another life is needed when that which is perfect shall come to pass, no longer shall we see as in a mirror darkly, but then face to face. Therefore, "We do not ask, O Lord, that thou should shed full radiance here; give but a ray of peace, that we may walk without a fear."

$10-Million Fund For Negro Youth Is Established

DETROIT — (NPI) — The National Baptist Convention, U. S. A Inc., at its 84th annual convention here, re-elected the Rev. J. H. Jackson to an unprecedented 12th term as presidnt and approved the establishment of a $10 million education fund to aid Negro youths.

The fund had been announced in advance of the convention by Dr. Jackson, who is also pastor of Olivet Baptist Church, Chicago. It is designed to provide financial aid to Negro boys and girls who would otherwise be unable to continue their education, and to provide for scholarships and other benefits.

Following a past pattern, the re-election of Dr. Jackson came amid what was described by the Michigan Chronicle as "a boisterous and completely snafu affair," The paper said that "all attempts at parliamentary procedure were abandoned." as the election approached, an dat one point some 50 people could be heard talking ovre the amplifying system at once.

FATAL INJURY

Three years ago, the Rev. A. G. Wright, of Detroit's New Harmony Baptist church, was killed when he fell or "was pushed" while trying to climb onto the stage during the election of Dr. Jackson at Kansas City. Some persons say Rev Wright was blocked or pushed Others say he simply stumbled and was fatally injured in the fall.

Dr. Jackson last week was re-elected easily. His re-election by acclamation was proposed by the Rev. C. D. Coleman of Mississippi.

Thus, Dr. Jackson, now 60, will be at the 5.5 million denomination for another year, at least.

During the convention in Cobo Hall, the Young People's department and the Women's auxiliary of the convention held joint session and discussed a number of topics, including civil rights. Theme of the youth group was "Christian Youth in a Changing World," while that of the women's group was "Our Commitment Requires a Decision."

Prior to his re-election, Dr. Jackson delivered his "State of the Church" address to the estimated 10,000 delegates and guests. It was described as "low-keyed," until near the end, when the minister's appeal for justice in "all areas of life" brought shouts of amens and emotion.

Also addressing the convention was S. B. Fuller, wealthy Chicago cosmetics manufacturer.

A pageant, "O Zion, Haste," was also presented under the direction of Mrs. Corenne Watts, women's director for the Southern region.

Jury Indicts 14 For Part In Race Riots In Chicago

CHICAGO — (NPI) — The Cook County Grand Jury last week indicted 14 men, both Negroes and whites, arrested in last Aug. 15 Harvey-Dixmoor riots near here and charged them in true bills with mob action and unlawful use of weapons.

The grand jury also announced that it was continuing its investigation of the race riots. The riots started when a white liquor store owner in the predominantly Negro suburb seized and allegedly beat a Negro woman, after charging that she had stolen a bottle of gin from the store.

The incident touched off several days of rioting in Dixmoor, which adjoins Harvey, in which 80 persons were arrested and extensive damage was done to the store. The store has since been closed.

The names of those indicted were not disclosed, although the state's attorney's office said they included members of both races.

Eleven of those indicted were charged with mob action, while three were charged with unlawful use of weapons, including two pistols, a blackjack and a switchblade knife.

Conviction under the unlawful use of weapons ordinance calls for a maximum penalty of up to a year in jail and a $500 fine.

Conviction under the mob action law calls for a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a fine of up to $1,000.

Sunday School Lesson

"THE SAVING DEEDS OF THE LORD"

International Sunday School Lesson for September 27, 1964.

MEMORY SELECTION: "All these, though well attested by their faith, did not receive what was promised, since God had forseen something better for us, that apart from us they should not be made perfect."
—(Hebrews 11:39-40).

LESSON TEXT: 1 Samuel 12; Hebrews 11: 22-32, 39-40.

In this lesson we attempt to understand the nature of God as presented in the Old Testament history — the God who performs saving deeds for his people.

During this study we see that man is, initially, given his own choice as to the path he will follow; but we will also see that should man's response be anything but one of trust and obedience, he will fall heir to all sorts of calamities, from which only God's repeated acts of mercy will rescue him.

As we study our passages today, we read of Samuel calling the people together into a great assembly, and in turning over the reins of leadership to Saul, recalling to those gathered before him God's great acts of saving grace in their behalf leading them out from under the heels of their enemies who would have subjugated them — and this despite the fact the people had forsaken him and his commandments time and time again.

And as we see God's hand in the history of Israel, we would do well to remain ourselves that He is also at work, with the same goals in mind for us, in our day and time.

As we study our Bible ,we see that God has always been a just and loving God — even if he has had to be a disciplinary God. Some of his best-loved followers were the very ones who were called upon to suffer the most. And they inevitably came out of it stronger persons because of the adversities inflicted upon them.

God never promised that the way would be easy. It never was. Jesus was his only begotten Son, and he suffered pain and humiliation the greater part of his short life — and came to an ignominious death on the cross, between two criminals. That was intended to be the geratest insult the infidels could offer him. Instead, it became the greatest act of all time — ennobled by humility and steadfast concern and love.

"Service" was the keynote of Jesus' life .. Service to God and to humanity. How well He performed that service!

He gave his life into his Father's hands — to be used as God's will directed.

Today, God is still performing saving acts for his followers. He performs them through humans, much as you and I. True, some are inspired leaders and humanitarians, of such depth of mind and heart and soul that few of us ordinary mortals can ever hope to aspire to — the Albert Schweitzers, the doctors who faced ridicule and even embarrassment and loss of their livelihood in seeking to further science and medicine for the greater benefit of mankind. The men put service to their fellowmen above their own interests and desires. They were God-inspired. They, and others like them, are legion.

And while it may not fall to our lot to bring Christianity, education, sanitation and medical help in the fight against disease to a backward people in some far-flung corner of the world, we can do our share in God's redemptive plan for all nations by simply giving what we can to these programs sponsored through the Houses of God all over the world. We can give of our love, our time, our money, through programs instigated by our church that will bring God and the concept of Christian fellowship to some lonely soul on a lonely shore.

And we need not necessarily contribute of our time and money and effort to some foreign part. There is plenty of scope for us to work for God right on our own doorstep We only need to be receptive and ready to engage in the claims of his Holy Spirit. Then we become His.

Freedom Party List For November Sought

JACKSON, Miss.—(UPI)--The "Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party" (FDP) said Sunday it will attempt to place five independent Negro candidates on the November General Election ballot to oppose Mississippi's incumbent Democratic congressmen.

The predominantly Negro group, said it would support a Mississippi official of the National Association of the Advancement of Colored People, to oppose U. S. Sen. John Stennis.

The party, twice rejected official state recognition and under court order to cease activities, said it would attempt to qualify the five candidates Monday with the Secretary of State's office.

National attention was focused on the biracial political group at the national Democratic convention last month when it attempted to take delegate seats on the floor.

The NAACP official to oppose Stennis is Aaron Henry, a Clarksdale druggist and state president of the NAACP.

Henry led the FDP delegation to Atlantic City and a partial victory in challenging the regular Mississippi Deocrats for seats.

The national Deocratic committee offered to seat two FDP spokesmen as "at large delegates." All regular Democratic delegates would have been seated, provided they sign a pledge of loyalty to the national party.

Most regular Democrats refused to sign the loyalty oath and walked out of the convention. The FDP group also rejected the compromise.

The Council of Federated Organizations COFO — which organized the FDP group — said the other four Negro independents owuld be:

Harold D. Roby of Tupelo, opposing Rep. Thomas G. Abernethy in the 1st District.

Mrs. Fannie Lou Hamer of Ruleville opposing Rep. Jamie Whitten in the 2nd District.

Mrs. Annie Devine of Canton opposing Rep. Arthur Winstead in the 4th District.

Mrs. Victoria Jackson Gray of Hattiesburg opposing Rep. William Colmer in the 5th District.

Richmond Drive Nets 500 Voters Daily; Conservatives Alarmed

Va. Lawyer's Bid For Congress Backed

RICHMOND, Va. — A concerted drive to register Negro voters in the expansive Fourth Congressional District is beginning to produce results. The drive, under way for several weeks, is being conducted by civil rights organizations on behalf of S. W. Tucker of Emporia, chief legal counsel for the Virginia State Conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

RUSSELL A. JACKSON

Mr. Tucker is running as an independent against Rep. Watkins Abbitt of Appomattox, state Democratic chairman, in the 18 - county, four - city Fourth District which covers most of Southside Virginia. The district takes in what is sometimes called the state's "black belt." It had, in 1960 113,100 white adults and 84,900 Negro adults.

Only 61,100 whites were registered and about 16,100 Negroes in the 1963 State Board of Elections tabulation. However, Levin Nock Davis, board secretary, said reports of heavy Negro registration activity have been coming in lately from his Fourth District registrars.

Both the NAACP and the Southern Christian Leadership Conference are working together on the effort along with various local civil rights groups and students and adults from the entire central and southern Virginia area.

DULUTH REGISTRATION

DULUTH, Minn. — A voter registration drive by the local branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has netted 150 of the 200 unregistered potential Negro voters in this city. Two months ago, a survey revealed the unenrolled persons among a total 400 who were eligible. William Maupins, branch president, has pledged a goal of 100 per cent registered before the November elections.

Calls S. Rhodesia Referendum 'Fraud'

NAIROBI, Kenya — (NNPA) — Southern Rhodesia's plans for an independence referendum were denounced last week as "a fraud" by Tom Mboya, Kenya's Minister of Justice and secretary general of the Kenya African National Union.

A statement issued by KANU and signed by Mr. Mboya said the party was "appalled at the blatant dishonesty" of Ian Smith, white supremacist Prime Minister of Southern Rhodesia.

Mr. Smith has promised a referendum of registered voters and consultations with Africans, but "within the tribal structure."

African Gets Passport, But Told To Stay Out

JOHANNESBURG — (NNPA) — An African columnist on the Rand Daily Mail has been given an exit permit from South Africa with the understanding that he would face prosecution for illegal entry should he try to return.

Pope Tells King Of Friendship For Negro People

VATICAN CITY — (UPI) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., the American Negro leader, said Friday night Pope Paul VI told him that "I am a friend of the Negro people."

King talked to newsmen in St. Peter's Square following a half-hour private audience with the Pope.

"I had a very fruitful and friendly meeting with the Pope," Dr. King said.

"The Pope was crystal clear about the fact that both he personally and the Catholic Church support the cause of civil rights."

Junior Chamber Of Commerce Behind Registration

RICHMOND, Va. — An overwhelmingly effective voter registration campaign being conducted by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and several other groups has created near panic among conservative political elements in this Dixie stronghold.

Since September 8, Negroes signing up to vote in the November contest have averaged 500 per day. And according to John M. Brooks, NAACP director of registration and voting, "if the registrar's office would cooperate, we would be averaging 1,000 per day."

Alarmed over the rapid increase in prospective Negro voters, the Richmond News Leader, Thursday, September 10 published a stinging editorial upbraiding unenrolled conservatives, who, upon spying the the long lines outside the registrar's ofice, continued on their way.

The newspaper, whose editorial page editor is the rabid segregationist James J. Kilpatrick, said: "If they (conservatives) have to wait in line for a while, that's tough.

Negro legions are ready to suffer this inconvenience."

EXTENDED HOURS

Mr. Brooks attributed the high rate of prospective voters being enrolled to the registrar's office hours — from 8:30 a. m. to 8:30 p. m. — which were scheduled to remain in effect until September 21. He credited Richmond's Junior Chamber of Commerce with applying the pressure for the new hours.

The NAACP voter registration official said: "We have been trying for years to get the books to open at night for the benefit of people who work during the day." Mr. Brooks added that he believed the Chamber was successful because "more Negroes than whites have been registering during the day" and with night enrollment it is hoped "more conservative white people will register." He said, however, the NAACP and the Crusade for Voters will continue flooding the registrar's office with Negroes as has been done every night.

Charging that Registrar Vernon Davis has been "very nasty," Mr. Brooks said, "we have been sending busloads of people back home because the registrar refuses to extend the closing hour, hire sufficient help or step up the pace of the four or five registrars on duty." The NAACP official added, "We understand he is looking for an excuse to stop the night registration project."

The Mayor and the Chamber, declared Mr. Brooks, "are doing their best to correct the situation, but they are beating their heads against a stone wall because the registrar's office is a state function."

Jackie Robinson's Jazz Concert Nets $30,000 For Civil Rights

NEW YORK — (NNPA) — A jazz concert staged on the lawn of Jackie Robinson's home in Stamford, Conn., before a racially mixed audience of nearly 2,000 raised about $30,000 for the Goodman-Chaney-Schwerner Center.

The center established in memory of the three youths whose bodies were unearthed near Philadelphia, Miss will be located in Meridian, Miss.

James Farmer, executive director of CORE, predicted in a short speech that the center would become "a symbol of the conscience of the Nation."

Nat Schwerner, father of slain Mickey Schwerner, delivered an emotional-pack talk about racial discrimination — which he termed "A devastating disease" — and the importance of maintaining personal dignity and individual liberty.

More than 75 musicians and singers donated their services to the caused, of civil rights. The Haryou-Act Youth Band from Harlem opened the session on a specially built bandstand.

Performances rated "impressive" to "magnificent" were given by such top performers as Sarah Vaughan who teamed up with Carmen MacRae, Leslie Uggams, Barry Miles, Quintet, Skitch Henderson's band, Ruth Price, the Ramsey Lewis Trio, Maynard Ferguson's outfit, Bill Henderson, Billy Taylor's Trio, Ray Bryant, and Damita Jo.

The event, the third in a series of fund-raising "Afternoons of Jazz" presented on the grounds surrounding Mr. Robinson's home, was the most successful of the group.

At Meal Time

The degree of peace and pleasantness that makes a family's dinner hour has long been regarded as an indication of the graciousness of the family's living.

A smart homemaker will do her best to overcome the pressure of her own day and insure a relaxed mealtime atmosphere. When she does this she is doing much more than providing an appropriate prelude to a quiet evening, she is helping to build a line of defense against tangled nerves in family members. In the long run this is insurance against actual physical disease.

Some doctors have said that studies indicate that almost half of those people seeking medical attention are suffering from ailments brought on by prolonged emotional stress. Long lasting and concentrated doses of worry, anxiety or fear can knock the body's chemistry so out of kilter that illness may result.

One outstanding authority on stress has pointed out that all disease stems from it. Altho' this view is still in the highly controversial class, a definite link between sickness and stress whether physical, emotional or a combination of both — is now generally accepted in medical fields.

The emotional stress that gets people down is the kind that makes it difficult or nearly impossible to relax. Intense and persistent anger, fear, frustration or worry kept bottled up, can threaten health.

Emotional tension one is aware of, even when it is unpleasant, can be useful if it leads to efforts, to solve problems at hand.

CONVERSATION AT THE TABLE
(By Amy Vanderbilt)

Conversation and laughter should always be modified at the table. Loud guffaws are disturbing at any time but worse from a dinner partner. General conversation, though it should never fall to a too confidential tone between diners, should never be so loud that the hostess cannot make herself heard, if she wishes to address the table. As it is, she who guides the conversation, it is necessary for guests, even at a distance to watch her for possible breaks in the general talk.

The modern hostess no longer does what her Victorian predecessor did — that is at some point halfway thru' dinner "turn the table" by turning and talking to her dinner partner on the other side, with everyone, no matter where he was in his conversation, expected to break off and turn in the same direction to talk to the partner on that side. Instead well-bred men and women talk pleasantly across a narrow table and whenever a partner on one side seems disengaged may draw him or her into the conversation on the other side. No two partners should ever allow themselves to become so engrossed in conversation as to exclude everyone else, especially partners on the other side, throughout dinner. And it is the host's and hostesses' task to prevent such a thing.

WHAT IS CORRECT CONVERSATION TODAY?

What is deemed proper table conversation today? Almost anything except highly controversial (religion, politics) or squeamish topics (accidents, illness, operations, real scandal, unaesthetic things) but many sophisticated people are able to discuss once taboo-at-table subjects in a manner that is quite unoffensive because they know how to employ polite euphemisms in the same or a foreign language, being sure they are comprehensible of course, to the others at the table. For example, one of the funniest anecdotes I ever heard at the table was told by a man quoting from an English magazine.

Nurses Back Scholarship Amendment

An intensive public information campaign to inform Georgia voters of the state's increasing need for nurses has been announced by Mrs. Olive Barbin of Augusta, president of the Georgia State Nurses Association.

The campaign, to be coordinated from Association headquarters in Atlanta, is timed to create public awareness of educational needs in nursing and other allied medical fields before state voters go to the polls in November.

The November ballot will carry as a Constitutional amendment the creation of a Georgia State Scholarship Commission. The bill creating the Scholarship Commission, subject to approval in the 1964 General Election, was passed in the last regular session of the General Assembly.

Pointing out that the enabling legislation on state scholarships for nurses passed the General Assembly without a dissenting vote, Mrs. Barbin, said, "It is a widely accepted professional fact that Georgia needs more registered and practical nurses than we have right now, and also that the need is increasing with the public demand for better health services. Our job, as we see it, is to let voters know that state scholarships will help fill the need."

Mrs. Barbin said that all nurses in Georgia were being asked to inform themselves about the provisions of the scholarship program and be prepared to answer questions about it.

"The scholarships are not giveaways," Mrs. Barbin said. "Nurses and all of the other medical workers covered by the amendment must be Georgia residents and good students, but who are financially unable to pay for their own education."

She pointed out that a student receiving a state scholarship would be required by law to repay the obligation by practicing in a Georgia community needing her professional skills-one year of service for each year's education at state expense. In special cases, when approved by the Scholarship Commission, the obligation could be repaid in cash at four per cent interest.

Further information on the scholarship program can be obtained from the Georgia State Nurses Association, 269 10th Street, N. E. Atlanta 9, Ga.

Mrs. Freeman Confirmed For Civil Rights Unit

WASHINGTON — (NNPA) — After considerable delay, the Senate on Sept. 15 confirmed the nomination of Mrs. Frankie Muse Freeman, of St. Louis, as a member of the U. S. Civil Rights Commission.

A native of Danville, Va., and a former teacher or law, Mrs. Freeman was nominated for the post by President Johnson last March 11. She currently is associate general counsel for the St. Louis Housing and Land Clearance Authority.

Mrs. Freeman received her law degree from Howard University in 1947 and was admitted to the bar of the State of Missouri in 1949 to 1955, when she was appointed Assistant Attorney General for Missouri. In 1956 she accepted her present position with the Housing and Land Clearance Authority.

The appointee has been a member of the Missouri Advisory Committee to the Civil Rights Commission since 1958. She also has been active in the affairs of the NAACP, the National Council of Negro Women and Delta Sigma Theta Sorority. She is married to Shelby T. Freeman and is the mother of one daughter.

In commenting on the actio Sen-Edward V. Long (D.-Mo.) said Mrs. Freeman's approval "provides final assurance that our country will benefit from the efforts of a distinguished Missouri resident. I am glad that such an extremely able person will continue her contribution to the national effort to secure equal rights for all Americans."

N.C. Shriners In Drop-Out Attack

DURHAM, N. C. — The Shriners of the Desert of North Carolina are planning an all-out attack on drop-outs, according to an announcement made here this week by Imperial Deputy-at-Large, Frank G. Burnette.

The fraternal brothers will bring every drop-out possible to the Shrine Youth Bowl Game, which will be played in County Stadium, December 5. A special committee has been formed to formulate plans. Governor Terry Sanford, Imperial Potentate Thomas S. Poag, Grand Master Clark S. Brown and Dr. Charles S. Carroll Superintendent of Public Instruction, are honorary chairmen. Burnette is general chairman of the committee on arrangements.

A special promotion committee headed by the veteran newspaperman, Alexander Barnes, has begun work on the program. Governor Sanford is being sought to climax his drive for "quality education" in a pre-game speech. Prominent persons from thoughout the nation are also being south to lure drop-outs back to school.

Embrace Quality Education--Laws

DALLAS, Tex. — Negro students must increasingly strive for quality education to improve their lot and make a meaningful contribution to the social order, the NAACP Southwest Regional Director said here recently.

In a statement released at the opening of new school year, Clarence A. Laws called attention of young people to "the imperative necessity of embracing quality education and putting first things first in school.

"Sports and other extra curricular activities have their place," he said, "but this should never be the first place."

Emphasizing the lower test scores of Negroes on College Entrance Examination Boards than the national average, Mr. Laws stated that on the basis of their CEEB test scores Negroes cannot afford to devote too much time to the less essentials of education.

Mr. Laws reminded Negro students that quality eduaction is essential now for quality living and that as racial barriers to employment drop, "merit and personal attitudes, not race, will determine who gets the job."

SPORTS OF THE WORLD

BY MARION E. JACKSON

Kenneth P. Gibson, a native of Brooklyn, N.Y., who attended Boys [illegible] School there, and the A.B. and M.A from Indiana University, has been named head track coach at Florida A & M University, succeeding Richard Hill, the latter an alumnus of Southern University. The FAMU newcomer will also serve as an assistant professor of health and physical education. As it stands, the Orange and Green Rattlers have had three cinder tutors in four years, has been named head track coach at Florida A & M University.

Hill has returned to Southern University after two seasons at Florida A. & M. It is known that he covets the track and field job there, but the overture has been stymied by a coaching upheaval there.

Whether it is known or not, Southern University has been in a state of coaching unrest since the death of the late athletic director and head football coach Arnett W Mumford.

Robert H. (Bob) Lee succeeded the late famous Coach Mumford as athletic director and head coach, but likewise he inherited a staff. This staff has had ideas of its own. One was to separate the athletic directorship and the football head coaching job.

Southern University President Felton G. Clark has resisted any change of Lee's status, despite a very publicized willingness of the incumbent to step down. Lee has said it didn't matter one way or other, but the status quo will be in effect at least for this campaign

It is into this cleavage that ex-Rattler Coach Dick Hill has stepped in a bid for new status at his alma mater. His position will not be clarified soon.

A. S. (Jake) Gaither, athletic director and head coach at Florida A. & M. will deny any deemphasis of track and field, but a new policy which has been implemented if not publicized has diminished the sport siderably. The horizon signals that it will be quite a few years before another Robert Hayes is developed on the FAMU campus — if ever. At Florida A. & M., it will now forever be known that football is king. Make no bones about this!

New FAMU track and field coach will hardly be discouraged by the track and field outlook there. He will perhaps survey the water through consultative appraisal coordinated with one - time Rattler Coach Pete Griffin.

It should be known that Gibson's credentials include specialization in health, safety and physical education, as emphasized at Indiana University.

While at Indiana, he lettered in track and field as a cross country runner. He came to Florida A&M from Boys High, where he had been employed as the track and cross country coach in addition to his regular teaching duties. His teams at Boys High won three outdoor and two indoor city championships.

Keep in mind, U. S. women spend $132 million for lipstick. Thirst for alcoholic beverages make the cash registers ring to the tune of $11.6 billion or more annually.

ON DEFENSE

WILSON, BENFORD MOVED TO GIVE CLARK STRENGTH

ATLANTA, Ga.—(SNS)—

There will hardly ever be a time when a football coach is completely satisfied with his team. Somewhere at some position there is a deep concern.

Clark College head football coach Leonidas S. Epps believes in a strong defense.

Epps, although impressed, was not satisfied. This state of unreadiness has brought about a change in the Panthers grid machine.

Tuesday Epps switched wingback Archie Wilson, a 6-1, 190 pound senior from LaGrang, Ga., to end, his home position. Wilson, who played both end and wingback last season, came to Clark as an end but his running ability proved to be an asset in the Panthers backfield.

Wilson did not play in the first controlled scrimmage last Saturday due to a slight injury. He is back in pads now and will work from his new position.

Epps mentioned that he had to make the change to add more strength to his defense. He went on to say, "our ends are young and we need more experience strength there".

"Wilson is a football player", Epps said. "He plays anywhere we ask him to play . . . so we put him back at his regular position".

Charles Benford, a 6-3, 215 pound senior from Chicago, takes over the wingback position. Prior to his new assignment, Benford was an alternate wingback. He is considered one of the best blocking backs and can run well.

Presently freshmen end Ronald McIllwain, a 6-3, 210 pass catcher from Washington, D. C., and Morris Stroud, 6-8, 215 pounder from Griffin, Ga., will join Wilson at the flank.

Last year, Clark was second to Florida on defense in both conference standings and in all games. Florida gave up 14 points in conference play and Clark yielded 62 points. In all games 54 points were scored on Florida and 82 points against Clark.

Tenn. A&I Overturns Fort Campbell, 32-26

NASHVILLE—A freshman and a junior college find sparked Tennessee State University opening 32-26 victory over Fort Campbell eleven before 4,700 screaming home folks in W. J. Hale stadium last Saturday night.

Neophite quarterback Eldridge Dickey, a needle threading right-hander, tossed three touchdown aerials and two extra point flips to pull the big blues through in a come-from-behind opener.

Oshoma (Mississippi) Junior College-prepped flankerback, Willie Walker, snagged two paydirt Dickey offerings. Walker's second TD scamper completed a 71-yard-pass-play that uncovered Rickey's strong and accurate arm. With 4:18 left in the third stanza and trailing 16-19, newcomer Dickey, standing on his own 29, hefted a moon to Walker, who grabbed the ball on Fort Campbell's 26 and raced to the end zone.

Scoring in every quarter, Coach John A. Merritt's big blues spoiled an otherwise perfect opening with a general donnybrook that erupted with less than two minutes showing on the clock and that got Tiger end, Maurice McDonald, and Fort Campbell guard George Howe tossed out of the game. It took more than four minutes to clear the field for play and started the season on the same note of the final game last season. Last season's homecoming finale was marred by a gneral fight that broke out in the last few minutes of the game.

Stretching their win-string to five, the Merrittmen scored in the first quarter on a Dickey to Walker pass. Sophomore fullback, Gene Bowen added another talley on an 8-yard plunge in the second period to give the big blues a 16-0 advantage.

The screaming Eagles scored with six seconds remaining in the half when end Elmo Birdon recovered a fumble after an interception in Tennessee State's end zone.

Opening the third stanza, the Eagles recovered a Tiger miscue on Tennessee's 47 and scored on Art. Levis' 8-yard pass to Birdon with 6:42 remaining in the period making the score 16-12 Tennessee. Trailing by three points, on the kickoff, Fort Campbell forced Tiger quarterbic Howard Findlay to fumble from his own eight yard stripe and Bruce Hiem recovered the pigskin in paydirt and a 19-16 lead over the Merrittmen.

Two plays later, freshman thrower Dicket hit Walker with the 71-yard scoring pass and a 24-19 lead.

Midway the fourth quarter the servicemen drove 48 yards 12 plays to take the 26-21 lead again as quarterback Lewis fired a 14-yard touchdown pass to end August Hoevar with 8:03 left in the game.

Saved by a pass interference call after an interception, flash-freshman Dickey uncorked the pin-point accuracy of his assing as he drove 55 yards for the game's final score. In the march Dickey hit four of [illegible] passes including a needle to Robinson for the score.

"Our line did a good job against Fort Campbell," Coach Merritt praised. "They have a very fine ball club. W were hurting in the second half because Campbell controlled the ball. It was a good thing Dickey got hot.

"Annual Black And White Game"

Black Shade Whites, 13-12 In Morris Brown Intra-Squad Game

By [illegible] ANDY ANDERSON

ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) — Saturday, September 19, the Morris Brown College Purple Wolverines held their Annual Black and White football game.

The final score being 13-12 in the favor of the Black team does not indicate the type of football played in the game. However, the score did indicate that both teams are ready for both offensive and defensive play.

Leading the attack for the Blacks was Eddie Henderson, who did a great job in leading his team to victory.

FOUR PLAYERS IMPRESSIVE

Impressive in the game was the running of Eddie Fennell, a 205 lb. junior end of Sawannah, and George Bowman, a 189 lb. end of Atlanta, who looked great on his pass catching assignments.

Freshman, Tommie Hart, a 200 lb. Tackle, was great in the Black line. Eddie Dean also did a good job on defense as he intercepted and returned one for about 30 yards.

The Blacks won, but the Whites had their moments too.

George Brown started at quarterback for the White team and was assisted by Clarence Darden, a freshman quarterback of Rockmart, Ga., who was very impressive as he led the White team with his signal calling. Most impressive was Darden's accuracy in passing the ball, and that he is not afraid to be hit.

Making a good showing for the Whites with his running was William Jones, a converted halfback.

James Bing, who seems to be coming into his own, was great on both offense with his running, and on defense with his interceptions and breaking up pass plays.

On the whole the Wolverines' coaching staff was satisfied, but looks ahead now to smoothing out the rough places as we approach our first game with Benedict College at Columbia.

Interracial Day In D. C. Oct. 18

WASHINGTON — (NNPA) — About 6,000 white persons are expected to visit the homes of about 1,000 colored families here Oct. 18 to mark the second annual National Home Visit Day.

Sponsored by the Interreligious Committee of Race Relations, the observance, an educational program, will be devoted to talk about race relations.

Last year, all host families were white. This year colored families will welcome whites into their homes, because in the words of the Rev. F. Franklin Jackson, chairman of the Committee's person-to-person communications unit, "there is a little deeper education involved."

Morehouse Squad Loaded With Talented Newcomers

RICHARD ENOCHS

ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) —

Coach Duke Foster and his assistants have been working unmercifully for the past two weeks with what he terms "The finest bunch of football players that I've had in a long time." Forty-four men reported early in September for practice and until this date everyone of them is still seeking a job. Even if things don't materialize as planned, there is a bright future for the Maroon Tigers. Of the 44 men reporting for practice, there are just 16 lettermen among them. The rest are freshmen among either they are out for the first time.

Morehouse boasts of one of its biggest and fastest teams in recent years. Some of the onlookers at the practice sessions have already rated the Tigers among the top teams in the conference in size and speed. They have also been labeled the "dark horse" of the league after a dismal 1-7 record last season.

The "dark horse" label may be attributed to the fine all-around play of many fast year men and some of the returning lettermen.

NEWCOMERS SHOW PROMISE

Those first year men who have shown great promise in the practice sessions include Joseph Champion who played high school football at Howard. He is 6'2", 180 pound end. Paul Coluard of Price adds great strength to the line backing and end positions with his 6'2", 175 pound muscular frame. Henry Evans of Price stands 6'1" and he tips the scales at 200 even which makes him the largest back on the team. Carlton Heard of Atlanta will back up Chaucey Johnson at quarterback with his fine speed and rifle like throws. Walter Hickling of Price has the size (5'9"-192 pounds) and moves to become one of the best fullbacks in the conference.

Jimmie Jordon of Molena, Georgia has proven that guard is no new position for him. Willie Smith of Carver High School looks good at tackle and could move some of the regulars. Probably one of the finest prospective ends to ever come from the midwest is John Townsend. He is a huge 6'2" and 215 pounds from Chicago. La. Monte Vaughn of Chattanooga, Tenn. brings much experience to the end position after having starred for several undefeated teams at Howard High School there.

However, the freshman to watch is Larry Wilson, of Price. He has literally manhandled men superior to him in size in practice. He stands 6' tall and weighs 200. Other newcomers who are not freshmen include Samuel Andrews who brings a record of great experience to the linebacking position. He is 6' and weighs a solid 220 and hails from San Francisco. He is a junior. Also a junior and playing guard is Alfred Byrd. He comes from Carrolton, Ga. and has been a star pitcher on the Maroon Tigers baseball team, for two years.

ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) —

Nine collegiate games are scheduled for Atlanta sports fans during the 1964 football season and the Morehouse College Maroon Tigers will go against the Alabama A & M College Bulldogs, from Normal, Ala., in the curtain-raiser, Saturday, October 3, at Herndon Memorial Stadium.

With most of the SIAC elevens swinging in action this weekend, Atlanta pigskin fans will have to get on the road since no collegiate game is scheduled for the Gate City. Hundreds will probably make the short trip to Griffin to see the Clark College Panthers clash with the Fort Valley State College Wildcats in the Textile City Classic, while other may go to Columbia, S. C., to get a good look at the Morris Brown College Purple Wolverines in their opener against the Benedict College Tigers.

The Morehouse-Alabama A. & M. game should lure a fine crowd at Herndon Stadium. It is generally know that the Maroon Tigers will be out to get even with the Bulldogs for the 23-6 beating they absorbed last year at Normal.

MORRIS BROWN CELEBRATES HOMECOMING OCT. 10

Morris Brown will be celebrating homecoming when the Purple Wolverines pair-off with the tough Bethune-Cookman College Maroon and Gold Wildcats in their first game at home, on Saturday, October 10.

SEMI-PRO LEAGUE NEWS

By J. D. WILLIAMS

Things really happened last week, baseball - wise. The inter - city series between Nashville and Memphis continues to create a lot of interest and rivalry. This year the Capital City Stars came to town Sunday and played a double - header, winning the first in the seventh inning with a four -run outburst of 7 to 3. The Defense Depot team came roaring back to take the night cap 3 to 1, thus making it an even split.

Several home runs were hit. One of the longest, if not the longest ball hit of the year, was by "Big Bill" Mathews. It went all the way up on the hill in right center field for the Defense Depot and another by Jerome Hoseclaw of Nashville.

The second game was a pitching duel led by Houston Harrison of Nashville and Melvin Delaney of the big "M." The score was 3 to 1 with DeLaney getting the best of it.

The series will continue this weekend in Nashville with a single game probably Saturday, and a double header Sunday, pending weather conditions. Rain has halted the series several times in recent years.

The Flamingo Carriers were prevented from playing a team from Victoria, Miss., by park police who said they had instructions from the Recreation Dept., to that effect.

The reason given was that Gene Cumby, manager of the Carriers, is accused of not fulfilling his obligations as to payment for use of lights at Bellevue Park earlier in the season, which charges he denies. However, the police remained in the park and the team refused to go on the baseball field.

Manager Robert Mitchell will take his team to Nashville this week to try and bring back a couple of games, thus winning the series for the first time.

The series began in 1956 with the Memphis Grays meeting the Morocco Giants. The Giants won 3 to 2. Let's hope they can do the trick this time.

Could Have Beat Dempsey, Clay Declares

NEW YORK — (UPI) — Cassius Clay brashly declared Sept. 17 he could have knocked out Jack Dempsey in the second round had he fought the great Manassa Mauler at his peak.

Cassius made his Dempsey brag while receiving the Ring Magazine's World Championship Belt in a ceremony at the magazine's headquarters in Madison Square Garden.

Ring publisher Nat Fleischer proclaimed Clay "still world heavyweight champion" despite the fact that the World Boxing Association (WBA) had stripped young Cassius of his title last Monday.

When Dempsey was informed of Clay's remark, Jack diplomatically commented: "You've got to expect statements like that from young fighters. Every young champion thinks he could lick any man that ever lived."

But Mickey Walker, former welterweight and middleweight champion, was less polite — as he later sat across the table from Jack in Dempsey's restaurant.

Said Mickey: "Jack could flatten that Clay bum right now. He can't fight. Why — with two weeks of training, I could flatten him too."

Dempsey is 69; Mickey, 63. Clay, who appeared somewhat plump in his dapper silky gray suit, announced that he would not sue the WBA for declaring his title vacant because of his signing on Monday for a return championship fight with ex-champ Sonny Liston at Boston, Nov. 16.

"Nobody's payin' any attention to the WBA," explained the fast-talking Clay. "Everyone knows titles are won and lost in the ring."

Cassius said he now weighs 230 pounds. He flys to Miami Beach Thursday night and will resume training there. He expects to scale "about 223" when he steps into the ring at Boston against Liston, whom he stopped at the start of the seventh round in their first fight at Miami Beach last Feb. 25

Savannah Cops Hold Man Naked

SAVANNAH, Ga. — (UPI) — A Savannah lawyer charged Tuesday that police are holding a Negro murder suspect in a jail cell without permitting him to clothe himself.

The Negro, Robert Manor, 34, is being held in connection with the slaying last week of Miss Lucile Williams, 66, a retired nurse.

Attorney Edward J. Goodwin said he visited Manor at the Savannah city jail Monday night and said "the police wouldn't even let him put on his pants while I talked to him."

Goodwin said he found Manor naked, "with nothing but a cold, hard floor to sit on.

"A lawyer shouldn't be made to talk to a client when a client doesn't even have on his pants," Goodwin said.

Police Chief Leo Ryan said Manor was not allowed to put on clothes because he had indicated "he was going to do away with himself," if he had the opportunity.

Manor has confessed orally, according to police, that he killed Miss Williams. However, he has signed no written confession.

Manor, a handyman, was arrested Sunday. He was identified as having worked in Miss Williams' yard on the day of the murder.

Miss Williams was choked and later placed in a bathtub half full of water. An autopsy showed that she had drowned and also was raped. Manor denied any knowledge of the rape.
