Memphis Salutes Melrose

Top Praise Goes To Spectacular Champs Of 1964

Pete Mitchell's undefeated Golden Wildcats of Melrose High are being saluted this week by all Memphians for the spectacular manner in which they swept to the 1964 Prep League football championship. Seldom have local pigskin patrons seen a team such as this, a team that spouts power in every player and in every department.

More than 3,000 braved the chill of last Friday night to see the Melrose powerhouse in its final league game. They wanted another look at this finely executed outfit which rolled up a total of 243 points this season.

Booker T. Washington, co-champion with Melrose last year, was the opposition in this final loop outing for the Wildcats and the BTW Warriors gave off the feeling that they really invaded the stadium with high hopes of outwitting the champs from Orange Mound.

But, there is just too much power in the Melrose camp. The Wildcat backs never stop running until they are flat on the ground. They have the ability to side-step and swivel-hip for extra yardage. And, their defensive line is a slicing and slashing machine that breaks through and smothers opposing backs.

The Wildcats dropped the Warriors, 37-0, their fifth shutout of the season. Only two league teams scored on Melrose this year. Father Bertrand was the first, getting one marker, and Douglas managed to ring up two TDs.

Melrose's Prep League record:

Manassas 0—Melrose 46.
Hamilton 0—Melrose 30.
Bertrand 7—Melrose 40.
Carver 0—Melrose 32.
Douglass 12—Melrose 27.
Lester 0—Melrose 31.
Washington 0—Melrose 37.

In last Friday night's test, the hard-running Jimmy Ward and the slick ball-handler, Sylvester Hoskins, each got two, while the mighty LeRoy Motton and Henry Bridgeforth accounted for one apiece. Bobby Smith kicked an extra point.

Assisting Head Coach Mitchell in molding the Wildcat aggregation are two other wellknown footballers, Jesse Wilburn and Charles Evans.

IN OTHER ACTION last week, the Manassas Tigers moved into second place by turning back Father Bertrand, 12-0, and the Lester Lions toppled Douglass, 14-6.

Meanwhile, fans this week are turning their attention to the three-way battle for the No. 2 spot. Lester went against Washington last night (Wednesday) and Carver tackles Hamilton tonight (Thursday).

Manassas plans a brilliant homecoming against Mitchell Road this Saturday afternoon at 2.

GEORGE CLARK CHOSEN TO HEAD UNCF DRIVE

George D. Clark, Jr., principal of A. B. Hill Elementary School, will serve as chairman of the 1964 United Negro College Fund campaign in the Memphis area, it was announced this week by Dr. Hollis F. Price, president of LeMoyne College.

GEORGE D. CLARK JR.

The drive will get underway during the third week of November.

Mr. Clark made excellent contributions to the fund in 1962 and 1963 when he served as chairman of the city teacher's division.

He is a 1948 graduate of LeMoyne and later earned the master's degree in education administration and supervision at Memphis State University. He also has done graduate study at Fisk University.

Mr. Clark, who resides with his family at 1217 Fountain Court, began his teaching career at R. B. Harrison High School in Blytheville, Ark. He later taught at Magnolia School here, 1950-53, and at Booker T. Washington High School of Memphis, 1953-60.

He was elected principal of A. B. Hill in 1960.

Chairman of the UNCF campaign here last year was Melvin Conley, principal of Douglass High School.

UNCF is a national fund-raising agency for 32 member colleges, including LeMoyne in Memphis, Lane at Jackson, Tenn., Fisk University at Nashville, Knoxville at Knoxville, Philander Smith in Little Rock, Ark., Tougaloo at Tougaloo, Miss., Xavier and Dillard at New Orleans, and Stillman, Talladega and Tuskegee in Alabama.

Bury Boy Killed By Car Near School Bus Stop

Ten-year old Robert Earl Gross of 5129 Hallbrook, struck down and killed by a car last week as he ran to catch an approaching school bus, was buried Sunday in Union Forever Cemetery following funeral services conducted from J. H. Snow Funeral Home.

Robert Earl, a student at Geeter, was struck at Holmes and Hallbrook. Investigating deputies said the driver of the death car, Richard Gray, 53, of 2154 Ethelyn, was at at fault.

The boy was rushed to John Gaston where he was pronounced dead.

Deputies said witnesses told them Mr. Gray was driving about 30 miles per hours in a 35-mph zone and the child darted across the street in the path of the car when he saw the bus coming.

Mr. Gray broke into tears in the sheriff's office. "Oh, Lord, why did it have to happen?" he sobbed. "I braked as quick as I could, but it was just a little too later."

Following the death of the boy, Capt. Aubrey Floyd, head of the county school safety program, contacted County Engineer George Dando and requested that school warning signs be erected on each side of the intersection.

Edward Earl was the son of Eddie Lee Gross and the late Mrs. Barbara G. Gross.

He also is survived by five sisters.

QUADS CAUSE TRAFFIC JAM IN JACKSON, TENN.

JACKSON, Tenn. — Tennessee's first quadruplets — Carline, Pollie Ann, Willie Jr. and Lamar Lyons — were responsible for a big traffic jam here all day Sunday.

Word of the quads' birth early Sunday morning at Jackson-Madison County General Hospital spread like wildfire.

Hundreds from Jackson and surrounding areas poured into the hospital to see the newcomers.

Off-duty policemen were rushed to the hospital to handle traffic. Long lines formed on the third floor of the hospital where persons can look through a glass window at the babies.

A closed circuit TV also was trained on the quads, making it possible for hospital patients to see them. It also gave the mother, Mrs. Robbie Mai Lyons, her first glimpse of the babies.

Mrs. Lyons and her husband, the Rev. Willie Grant Lyons, knew in advance that she would give birth to quads. They reside in Maury City, about 25 miles northwest of Jackson.

Rev. Mr. Lyons, 45, pastors Mt. Pleasant Baptist Church at Trimble two Sundays a month and is paid $14 per Sunday. He also works as a laborer.

Mrs. Lyons is a twin. She and her husband are parents of four other children.

Mrs. Lyons, 35, had been residing for the past month with Rev. and Mrs. F. D. Freeman in Jackson awaiting arrival of the four babies. She entered the hospital at 2:30 a. m. Sunday.

The first baby, Pollie Ann, arrived at 4:14 a. m. and weighed 4 lb. 14 oz.

Second to arrive was Willie Jr. at 4:16, weighing 4 lb. 3 oz.

Third was Carline at 4:18 and weighed 4 lb. 3 oz.

Fourth was Lamar at 4:19, weighing 4 lb. 12 oz.

Six doctors were present for the births. The hospital is donating its services to the mother and babies. The Puritan Club of Maury City is accepting gifts for the family. Address is QUADS, P. O. Box 1 Maury City, Tenn.

She Had Her Own Circus!

Beverly Traylor, 11-year-old sixth grader at Hollywood School, had her own private circus Sunday.

She won it in a drawing after sending in her name, age, address and a food wrapper to Channel 13.

Beverly wanted the circus to perform in her front yard but her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Johnson of 1505 Harrison, turned thumbs down on this.

So, Beverly's circus (the Paul Miller Circus) put on a show Sunday afternoon on a parking lot next to Beale Street Baptist Church.

About 200 persons enjoyed the performance as guests of a proud and happy little Beverly.

Not 1st Box Of Apples!

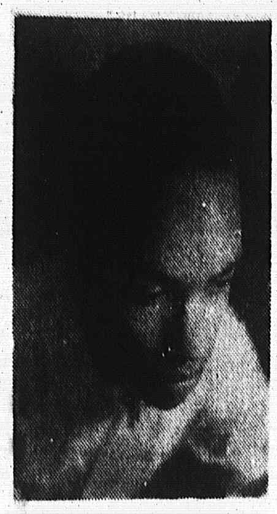
Publishers of newspapers have learned that it is unwise to report an event as a "first" because in most instances the reported event turns out to be a "second" or a "third."

The Memphis World blundered last week when it reported that Mrs. M. H. McWilliams of Booker T. Washington High was the first Negro public school teacher to receive a box of apples after being named a winner on the popular WMPS feature, "My Favorite Teacher."

Now, it has been pointed out to this paper that Mrs. L. C. Gilliam, English teacher at Porter Junior High, won a box of apples in the "My Favorite Teacher" contest last school year. The letter winning for Mrs. Gilliam was written by Audrey Hardy, now a student at B. T. Washington. The student received five records for his winning letter.

WM. GRANT NABORS SET FOR MEMPHIS RECITAL

LeMoyne College will present a talented young pianist in recital on the evening of Nov. 17, in Bruce Hall, starting at 8:30.



WM. GRANT NABORS

The artist, William Grant Nabors, appeared before a Memphis audience several years ago as a boy prodigy. He now resides in Switzerland.

Born in Roanoke, Va., he is the grandson of a Memphis insurance broker, E. P. Nabors, and nephew of W. F. Nabors, 1387 South Parkway East, manager of Foote Homes housing project here.

The young pianist began his musical studies at the age of 10 and for more than five years appeared in concert at colleges and universities.

At the age of 16 he appeared with an orchestra in Cleveland, Ohio, playing the Tschaikowsky Concerto. Upon graduation from high school he received a grant to study in Italy and subsequently won admission to the world-famous Academy of Saint Cecilia in Rome, the oldest musical institution in existence. It was founded by Palestrina.

There in Rome he studied with Carlo Zecchi and Renata Borgatti. He received the masters degree in music from the academy in 1963, receiving the highest vote in his class for which he was invited to appear as soloist with orchestra at the final concert of the academy concert series.

Since then he has played throughout Italy, Switzerland, Holland, England and Egypt.

The public is invited and tickets may be purchased at the college business office or at the Bruce Hall box office the night of the event.

On the following week, Won-Kyung Cho, the Korean classical dancer, will appear in recital at LeMoyne. The event is scheduled for the evening of Nov. 23, starting at 8:30 in Bruce Hall.

Memphian Dies Suddenly In Gary

Memphian James E. Lee died suddenly Monday in Gary, Ind. where he had worked several months for American Bridge Co.

He was the husband of Mrs. V. Lee of 1361 Gaither Parkway and father of Gail E. Lee.

Mr. Lee was transferred to Gary several months ago when American Bridge closed its plant here.

He was the son of James Lee of Indiana and Mrs. Ardella McKinney.

The deceased was the brother of Samuel Lee, Mrs. Esther Davis, Mrs. Mary Ella Diggs and Mrs. Annie Pearl Jackson.

Lewis is in charge of arrangements which were incomplete at press time.

No Changes In AME Pulpits

There were no change of pastors or presiding elders under jurisdiction of the West Tennessee Annual Conference of the AME Church ended its session Sunday at Clayborn Temple.

Four bishops were here for the conference — S. L. Green, W. F. Ball, E. L. Hickman and H. N. Robinson.

The Rev. Malcom Blackburn was accepted into the conference, coming from the Presbyterian Church in Canada to head the AME stewardship program under direction of

ATTY. A. W. WILLIS

History Made In Shelby

Attorneys A. W. Willis and H. T. Lockard, both victorious in Tuesday's election, are accepting congratulations from well-wishers this week. Attorney Willis, who showed up at his victory party at Mutual Federal around 1:30 Wednesday morning with a big box of barbecue sandwiches, defeated Republican Garvin Crawford for a seat in the State House of Representatives.

He was accompanied by Mrs. Willis. Attorney Lockard, who campaigned for the vacant city seat on the county court, did not know he had won until around 12:30 Wednesday morning. Once his victory appeared official, workers and friends assembled in his headquarters sent up a loud roar. With him for the victory announcement was Mr. Lockard.

The two candidates had spent most of the evening at Democratic Headquarters in Monroe watching election returns. Mr. Lockard will be the first Negro to serve on the County Court and Mr. Willis is the first Negro elected to the State House since Reconstruction. Attorney Lockard came through in a close finish, defeating four popular white candidates and another Negro, Republican O. W. Pickett. The county court race was a separate election and non-partisan observers said Tuesday's Negro vote was the largest in the history of Shelby County. It was a democratic vote. It was not so much anti-republican as it was anti - Goldwater and anti - James (Bob James, who opposed Democrat George Grider for congress).

The big Negro vote definitely pushed Mr. Grider into office. As late as 9:30 Tuesday night, Mr. Grider was trailing Mr. James by 7,000 votes, this was before the big Negro precincts came in. Mr. Grider, a tireless campaigner, won many friends among Negroes. The heavy Negro vote also was a big factor in turning over Shelby votes to President Lyndon B. Johnson. The Memphis and Shelby County vote is credited too with turning the tide for incumbent Senator Gore, and Ross Bass who campaigned for a seat in the U. S. Senate. Said Atty. Russell Sugarman Jr., president of the strong Shelby County

DELTA FASHION SHOW APPLAUDED BY 1,500

Wednesday night of last week in the Music Hall, approximately 1,500 guests of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., the Memphis alumnae chapter, enjoyed a spectacular and breath-taking fashion show staged by professional models.

National and international designers Christian Dior, Balenciaga, Yves St. Laurent, Biki, Eleanor Garnett, Oleg Cassini, Norman Norell, James Galanos, Scassi and top Negro designers who used excellent materials and new-look designs for their costumes, completely revamped milady's wardrobe. The show was fast-moving, the descriptions were vivid, and the Memphis audience was receptive to the so natural but unusual costumes that ran the gamut from lounge- and - leisure to high society cafe entertaining.

From observations, it was evident that the Memphis woman is definitely in the mainstream of fashions. Beautifully attired matrons, fastidiously dressed men and sub-debs made a striking bouquet of fall colors of silks, soft woolens and brocades of dresses and suits.

At intermission Miss Mose Yvonne Brooks, chapter president, herself pretty in an autumn two-piece suit with a fox collar and matching accessories, presented eight bound copies (12 issues each) to high school principals. Melvin Conley, popular principal of Douglass High School, was on hand to receive this bright red engraved book for his school library.

Warm thanks were extended by Mrs. Ernestine Cunningham, general chairman, who was very chi

Secretary Hurt, Husband Killed

Funeral services were being planned this week for Priestly Hoof, 37-year-old Humko worker of 2024 Warren, who died early Saturday when his car jumped the curb on Cincinnati near Menager and struck a utility pole.

His wife, Mrs. Helen Hoof, 36-year-old secretary at Father Bertrand High School, suffered a broken left hand and cuts of the forehead in the wreck.

Investigating officers quoted her as saying she and her husband were enroute home after spending the evening out. She said Mr. Hoof had been drinking and she urged him not to drive.

When he insisted on driving the car, Mrs. Hoof said she sat in the back seat. Police said this probably saved her life.

There are six children in the Hoof family.

Negro Students Outnumber Whites

Negro students in Memphis public schools outnumber white students, it was revealed this week by the City Board of Education. There are 57,289 Negro students and 54,937 white students.

White students in Shelby County public schools outnumber Negro students, however. In the county there are 28,983 white pupils and 14,843 Negro pupils.

Both city and county enrollments are up, 112,226 in the city and 43,826 in the county. Last year, the city school enrollment was 110,031 and the county enrolled 41,355.

Reese Wells of the Memphis Board of Education said between 2,000 and 3,000 students will be added to the city school rolls by the end of the school term because of migration.

It is believed that Negro students outnumber white students in the city because more whites are moving to Suburban areas.

VIEWS OF REAL ESTATE

By JESSE L. WILLLIAMS

"Honor thy father and mother: which is the first commandment with promise." — Ephesians, 6 chapter, 2 verse The Bible.

"And, ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath: but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. "Ephesians 6 chapter, 4 verse - The Bible.

MARKETING-SALES MANAGEMENT — The work of the modern sales manager is not that of making great sales records in the field, it is an administrative position drawing upon vast resources of technical training which the average salesman does not possess.

It may be stated that one fallacy is that promotion to the sales manager's desk is the only form of worthwhile promotion for a salesman. This is not true. Better territories, shifting of type of accounts, increased salary, and other adjustments to make one's work easier, more interesting ,or more profitable are often more adequate promotions than is the assignment of executive responsibility to men not fitted for it. Many tragic cases of sales managers who long for the field attest to this fact.

INITIATIVE — Other even more intangible factors are often listed as desirable or "must" qualities in the sales manager.

One is initiative, the power and intelligence to visualize new steps in management and the readiness to undertake a new course of action. Some sales managers are deficient in this respect. They believe that because a service or type of service rendered in the past it must continue to see well. They pay mental tribute to time-honored but perhaps ineffective methods of compensating salesmen, holding conventions among the salesmen of its own particular firm, instead of attending National Conventions in an effort to attain new ideas, or routing territory.

Such a man sometimes believes that the channels of distribution used by the firm for many years must necessarily be right and fails to allow changing market conditions to modify his course of action. The pace of selling that is competitive is usually too fast for such a man. He must give way to the sales manager with initiative.

Mrs. Malone Entertains Ladies Birthday Club

The Ladies Birthday Club met Sun., Oct. 25, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Malone, on Macon Road, Collierville, Tenn.

Upon arrival members were ushered into the dining room where the table was covered with a Madeira cloth with napkins to match and a centerpiece of fall flowers with fern. The table also held beautiful chinaware, silver and multi - colored initialed tea glasses.

The chandelier overhanging the table made a beautiful picture. The menu consisted of green peas, turnip greens, corn muffins, a relish dish, roast turkey, and all of the trimmings; also baked ham, a choice of two salads hot rolls, iced tea or coffee, home made cake and ice cream.

Assisting in serving the dinner in courses were Mrs. Charlean Moore and daughter, Evelyn; Mrs. Lois Emery, the Malone daughters, Mrs. Katherine Boyce, and Mrs. Amelia Malone. Mr. Malone, his son, Buford, and grandson, Kelvin, stayed near by to lend a helping hand. Mr. Alonzo Whitmore was also present.

After dinner, a short meeting was held and plans made for the holiday season.

Mrs. Georgia O. Horne is president and Mrs. Blanche McKinney, secretary.

Other members attending were Mrs. Aline Loftes, Mrs. Inez Boyd, Mrs. Corine Hightower, Mrs. Mary Beaty, Mrs. Rosa Gant, Mrs. Nancy Mitchell, Mrs. Gissie Lester, Mrs. Ada Shaw and Mrs. Eunice Malone, the hostess. Mrs. Ruth Hicks was absent because of illness in her family.

The guests departed after an enjoyable afternoon to meet again the second Sunday in November with Mrs. Inez Boyd, 1335 Decatur St.

Mrs. Thelma Trail returned to her home in Chicago Monday, Nov. 2, after spending three weeks here with her mother, Mrs. Ida B. Strong, who is ill at 989 N. Manassas St.

FAMOUS LAST WORDS

So long for now. It was fun to visit with you this week to help you to what's been happening at Lester and its surroundings. I hope to do so again soon. Remember though, that a little learning is a dangerous thing so let's stock up on knowledge, okay? Okay.

This week's column is dedicated to all of the injured players of the football team, especially Tommie Howse. Get well and hurry back to us.

Lorraine Hansberry Faces "Closing Of Curtains On Life"

NEW YORK — (UPI) — Playwright Lorraine Hansberry continued in critical condition in University hospital Wednesday while revisions were being made in her current Broadway play in order to delay its closing.

Hospital officials said there was no change in Miss Hansberry's condition, described as the terminal state of a malignant disease.

The play, "The Sign in Sidney Brustein's Window,' had been scheduled to colse Saturday. Fifteen actors and playwrights took a newspaper advertisement Tuesday asking the public to support the work.

Junior Chamber In Jazz Revue

Tickets may be purchased from any J'cee member, or from the following places of business; E. A. Cole Paint Store, Bellevue and McLemore Shopping Center; Ford's Photographers', 1336 Florida; Union Protective Life Insurance Company, 1234 Mississippi Boulevard; or by calling 948-2706.

Negro Student Said Lower In Academic Score

BOISE, Idaho — (NPI) — Johnny L. Jones, doctoral fellow at the University of Idaho, says the average Negro child does not score as high on standardized tests as the average white child, in an article in the October issue of Clearing House.

"As long as racial disparities in test scores exist, the Negro will receive less than his proportionate share of all the opportunities dependent on test scores," the article states.

Quoting a conclusion from a 1956 publication of Eli Ginzberg, "The Negro Potential," Jones says, "the overwhelming majority of graduates from southern Negro high schools cannot compete with the average high school studen t."

Dr. Eli Ginzberg, a professor of economics at Columbia University is considered an educator and youth expert and has done some comparative studies on the southern Negro pupil.

Jones reports that Negro students do not do as well as whites on tests mainly because of inferior opportunities and inferior use of inherited abilities; inadequacy of vocabulary of students and teachers; inability to think as they read; poor ability in mathematical reasoning; inadequate instrutcional tools; and low average academic performance of their teachers who are attempting to teach what they do not know and thus do not expect much from the student.

Jones concludes that because the factors that make the Negro student a low academc achiever are so complex and of such longstanding, eevn if these factors could be identified and remedied overnight, the Negro child would still be academically years behind.

Clearing House is a journal for modern junior and senior high schools published by the Fairleigh Dickson University, Teaneck, Articles included are to report good practices, interesting experiments, research findings, or new slants on persistent problems in education.

COOL 'N BREEZY AT HAMILTON HIGH

By BARB. & BEV.

Hi, peers, we are back again this week with the latest news around Hamilton.

SPOTLIGHT:

This week it gives us great pleasure to spotlight a most intelligent, energetic faculty member. His residence is 1285 Niese Street. He is a member of the Mt. Gilliam Baptist Church. At the church, he is a Sunday School teacher and an assistant scout master. Around the city he is affiliated with Alpha Phi Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity and on campus he is the advisor to the High School A. V. Club.

He received his bachelor of science degree at LeMoyne College. This past summer he received his masters degree at Memphis State University. I asked him why he chose teaching as his vocation, and his reply was, "I think this is a profession where I can best serve humanity". He enjoys working with children and his total enrollment is 36 students. This young man is none other than Mr. Cleophus Hudson.

The elected officers of his class are:

President — Minnie Polk.
Vice President — Henry Fondren.
Secretary — Marian Dabney.
Asisstant Secretary — Ruby Kirkpatrick.
Treasurer — Beverly Wells.
Parliamentarian — James Knight.
Bus. Managers — Barbara Tabor and Elizabeth Hill.
Chaplain — Barbara Hunt.
Reporter — Barbara Thomas and Mary McKinney.

The honor roll students of this fine class are:

ACADEMIC — Madeleine Currie, Mae Byas, Minnie Polk, Eddie Henderson and Chiquita Long.

CONDUCT — Milton Bonds, Carolyn Adams, Mary Bradshaw, Madeleine Currie, Elizabeth Hill, Minnie Polk, and Barbara Thomas.

We are proud to announce that we are members of his homeroom class and we are certainly glad to have him as our homeroom advisor. Hats off to a most friendly and gentlemanly advisor!

JUNIOR CLASS ELETION:

Recently our junior class elected officers for the year 1964-64. They are:

President — Mark Bishop.
Vice President — Joseph Tate.
Secretary — Ruby Smith.
Assistant secretary — Geraldine Hibler.
Treasurer — Tony Cox.
Business manager — Freda Greene.
Parliamentaran — Edna Barnes.
Reporters — Don Hogan and Carolyn Bridgeforth.
Chaplain — Wilma Boyd.

We would like to congratulate all students of the Hamilton family for the work you are doing this year. We would like to send out special congratulations to all new students because you have learned well and follow our law and regulations. We appreciate this and hope in the future you will keep up the good work.

ACTIVITIES:

On Wednesday, Oct. 21, Mrs. Shaw, an advisor, presented to us a talent show. On the talent show we saw some of the wonderful talent of our fellow peers. Here at Hamilton we have some of the best talent in the city.

During the week at the third period, we have been watching films of various subjects in our auperiod, we have been watching ditorium.

Well, boys and girls we shall see you next week with the best of news from the Wildcats Den. B. C. N. U!

DELTAS PRESENT EBONY FASHION PARADE

Ellis Auditorium threw open the doors of its plush Music Hall Wednesday evening and members of Delta Sigma Theta staged one of the gayest events in many a month.

The Ebony Fashion Parade drew a terrific crowd, one of the largest turnouts lately.

In spite of the crowd Delta women seemed able to get around in the huge crowd . . . and their approval of the show was enthusiastic.

The very first to be seen when we entered was that smart looking and vivacious Mose Yvonne Brooks, local basileus of local Deltas . . . and she was looking ever so good. Other Delta women who took a very active part seen at the entrance) were Phyllis Brooks, Ticket Chairman .. Maggie McDowell, Regional Director and Publicity Chairman .... Ann Willis, chairman of Housing .. Rosalind Hayes, Chairman of the Library Project for Deltas .... and this year the organization presented 1963-64 Round Ebony Magazines to each of the high schools .... Janet Lewis, chairman of ushers and Ernestine Cunningham, General Chairman who spoke and thanked the packed audience.

Among the other Delta Women who attended were Charlotte Brooks Pope, June Glenn, Frederickia Hodges, Ocie Carter, Rosa Robinson, Hilda Smith, Vernice Nabrit, Lois Tarplay, Lorraine Osborne Aline Lowe, Leola Gilliam, Bernice Abron, Lottie Brooks, mother of the president and of three other Delta Women .. Mary Collier, Eleanor Curry, Odessa Tate, Dorothy Westbrook, Dorothy Evans, Beulah Williams, Johnnie Rogers, Grace Collins, and Imogene Wilson.

Velma McLemore, Marion Gibson, Jessie McCoy, Beulah Reed, Hattie House, Pearl Spann Bruce (a newly wed) of a month), Mildred Williams, Annie Mae Cramp, Deloris Brack, Harriette Walker, Sallie Bartholomew, Jackie Knight, Evelyn Kennedy, Henriene Jenkins, Orphelis Byas, Lillian Campbell, Ann Gibson, Minnie Anderson, Elsie Thomas, Minnie M. Woods, Ouita Catchin, Addie Owens, Bobbie B. Jones, Dorothy Jones, Lynn Ross, Countess Walker, Rachelle Carhee, Geraldine Little, Dr. Juanita Williamson.

YOUNG MIS JUANITA ADAMS, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Adams was named Football Queen by the Manassas team last week. The pretty girl came to Manassas last ear from Jeter High where she was a student child at Goodwill Homes where Mrs. Mildred Herd took a genuine interest in the sub - deb. Aside from being quite attractive, Juanita has a broad smile and an even disposition . . . that goes along well with her wonderful personality . . . Not only is she popular with the student body, but has made friends with all of the teachers . . . even those who did not know her.

NAACP MEMBERS SPONSOR "MISS SOCIAL BELLE CONTEST"

The "Miss Social Belle" Contest and Talent Show are being sponsored by the Memphis Branch of the NAACP to highlight the vast amount of talent to be found in Memphis youth . . . to give recognition to individuals and organizations making outstanding contributions to the Cause of Freedom . . . and to raise sufficient funds to continue to carry on the Fight for Freedom.

Contestants are all singles girls (who have not been married) and are between the ages of 13-21. Members of the immediate families of the Executive Committee of NAACP are not eligible to take part. Girls are sponsored by an organization. However, an organization may run more than one girl with a preliminary run off within their group. Prizes will be awarded to the contestants and to their sponsoring organizations.

For the first prize the top girl will receive $100.00 and the organization sponsoring her will receive $200.00 .... $35.00 will go to the second place winner and $125.00 to the organization sponsoring her . The 3rd place contestant will be given $25.00 and her sponsors will receive $75.00.

If you want to be "Miss Social Belle" for 1964, you have to get a club or organization to sponsor you .... get a many individuals and groups as possible to work on behalf of you (including relatives, classmates, friends, your church or civic group. Contest social, civic groups business white and Negro) with which you or your supporters trade for donations .... for the souvenir booklet and make Original plans for other ways to raise funds to aid.

The contest will continue until November 20th., when the winning contestants will be named "Miss Social Belle" at a Talent Show to be held on November 20th. (a P. M.) in Bruce Hall on the LeMoyne College campus.

Among the contestants (who have been named are) Miss Janet Horne who is being sponsored by members of the Jack and Jill .... Woman Doused With Kerosene, Turned To Torch

SAVANNAH, Ga. — (UPI) — A 69 - year - old Negro woman who was doused with kerosene and turned into a human torch after an argument over $6, died Tuesday at a hospital.

Mrs. Juanita Blocker was burned over 70 per cent of her body Saturday as she lay sleeping. Police arrested Harry Dixon, 57, on a charge of attempted murder. The charge probably will be changed since the victim died.

Mrs. Blocker told police she and Dixon argued over $6 she gave him to buy moonshine. She said he did not buy the whiskey. She said he threatened to get even with her, but she left the room to lie down. She said she awoke 20 minutes later to find her clothing afire.

Dixon admitted the argument, police said, but said he returned $5 of the money. He said he was in a bar at the time of the fire. A witness said Dixo nwas at the home.

LAUDERDALE COUNTY NEWS

By MRS. LULA COLEMAN

When Rev. H. L. Olaker spoke at New Hope CME Church last Sunday, quite a large number was on hand to hear him. He was accompanied by Mrs. Olaker. We appreciate the friendly cooperation of St. Mark Baptist Church, who always stand ready to play a part.

Mr. Franklin Green, president of New Hope's choir, is asking his choir members to meet with him Friday night before each first Sunday for rehearsal.

Mrs. Lilie Sue Miller and her sons, who are now living in Jackson where she is enrolled at Lane College, were in Hennings Sunday to visit her father. We were happy to see her take her old seat in the choir.

Mr. Leslie Halliburton was returned to Kennedy Hospital by Thomas Funeral home this week. Mr. Alex Graham remains ill at his home. Also, Mrs. Josephine Adams and Mrs. Willie Ada Curry.

Your reporter, Mrs. Coleman, visited in the home of Mrs. Josephine, and was guest for two days in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Montgomery. She had an enjoyable time with the Montgomery children who have their fun when she is around. She also spent some time with Mrs. Susie Hennings and the Charlie Bonds.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie James Sims and their son, E. H. Sims, and Mr. Palmer Hailor, all from New York, are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allen, Hennings, Tenn. The elder Mr. Sims is a brother of Mrs. Josephine Allen who has been ill for some time. All are former Tennesseans and their friends entertained them well while here. They made nice talks in church Sunday.

The visitors were dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Montgomery, along with Mrs. Coleman. The table was beautiful with a linen embroidered cloth with matching napkins and a beautiful silver service. Fall flowers centered the table. The menu consisted of baked ham, fried chicken, pork chops, english peas, greens and candied yams, salad, fruit cocktail and cake.

Mr. Sims and Mr. Hailor are writers and plan to do a book on the town of Hennings, Tenn. They are anticipating a trip abroad soon and will visit the Holy Land, Jerusalem etc., where they have been before.

Mrs. Louanna Spivey of Lou's Flower Shop attended the Christmas Open House and Design School in Nashville, given by Geny's Wholesale Florist. She visited her brother, A-2c Howard Spivey, and his family in Murfreesboro, Tenn., Stonet River Military Park and friends at A. & I. State University.

PRESENTING GIFT — Miss Mose Yvonne Brooks president of the local alumnae chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, presents bound copies of a popular magazine to Melvin Conley, principal of Douglass High School. Other high schools received similar gifts. Presentations were made at intermission of the Ebony Fashion Fair staged last week by the sorority in the Music Hall.

Dr. Carrigan Will Speak At LeMoyne

Dr. Richard Carrigan of Washington, D. C., national director of the student division of the National Education Association, will be guest speaker at LeMoyne College, next Monday, Nov. 9.

He will appear here during the observance of American Education Week and will speak in Bruce Hall at the 10:30 a. m. hour.

Calvin Cunningham, student NEA president at LeMoyne, said a coffee and fellowship hour is being arranged for Dr. Carrigan.

Won-Kyung Cho, Korean Dancer, In LeMoyne Recital

Won-Kyung Cho, the Korean classical dancer, scholar and dance critic, will appear in recital at LeMoyne College, Nov. 23. The performance will be given in Bruce Hall, starting at 8:30 p.m.

The dancer's appearance here will be under sponsorship of the college's cultural activities committee.

Dr. Cho uses a dazzling variety of Oriental costumes, masks, props, authentic music, slides and books for each performance.

His concert consists of 10 different dances: Nightingale Dance, Tah-ryong Dance, Sword Dance, Impromptu Dance, Old Man's Dance, Fan Dance, Farmer's Dance,

He earned the M. A. degree at Yonsei University in 1955 and for the next five years was assistant professor and visiting lecturer on Korean literature and dance at Yonsei, Ewha Women's University and other colleges in Seoul.

He danced at the National Theatre and City Hall Theatre and conducted his own studio in Seoul where he also served as dance critic for four of Korea's leading newspapers.

He came to the United States in 1960 and studied at Juilliard School of Music and at the Martha Graham School of Contemporary Dance. He has given dance recitals at Carnegie Recital Hall, Seattle World's Fair, New York World's Fair and at the leading colleges and universities of this country.

Dr. Cho published an illustrated booklet "Dances of Korea" in 1962. He choreographed and performed in "Teahouse of the August Moon" at the Hodges Gardens Summer Theatre in Louisiana.

He was recently awarded the Doctor of Fine Arts degree by Monmouth College in Illinois.

Co-Ettes Install New Members

The Memphis chapter of Co-Etts installed twelve new members Sunday, Oct. 18, in the reception room of Brownlee Hall on the LeMoyne College campus. A tea honoring the new members, their parents, and friends, following induction ceremonies.

The table was beautifully centered with tinted blue and white daisies representing Co-Ette colors. The table cloth of coffee colored lace made a beautiful base for the array of silver settings.

The guests were graciously received by the new and present co-Ettes. The new members and parents are as follows: Patricia Dixon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Dixon, Margaret Flyth, daughter of Mrs. Ida Flythe; Kathy Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Graham; Sandra Hobson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hobson, Jessica Johnson, daughter of Mrs. Inez Johnson; Emma Mayweather, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Z. Political Slates Have Outlived Usefulness

Election year '64 was marked by the massive use of endorsements and recommendations designed to sway the Negro vote. Many of these slates conceived to woo votes for various candidates were often faked and issued by phanton organizations, whose main purpose was to deceive the voters and confuse the issues.

Throughout the United States and particularly in Georgia, the increased flood of so-called "slates" has grown to such massive proportions that they have outlived their usefulness. For these phony and often scurrilous endorsements have become documents for misleading the public often wrongly in the use of its most cherished privilege.

Now that the universality of the ballot is recognized in the nation and the outlawed white primary is no more, it seems that the intelligence of our people to appraise and define the issues should be sufficient for enlightenment on what candidates and issues should be supported.

A particular case in point is the so-called "Western Unity" telegram asking write-ins for Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., for president without his knowledge. Such deceptive devices to channelize and thwart the Negro vote by a Committee For Negroes in Government, allgedly in Louisville, Ky., illustrate that there is no telling how far invisible organizations will go to dilute and deceive our people.

It is time for our people to think for themselves and vote their own convictions.

Interracial Couple Fights Virginia Law

RICHMOND, Va. — (UPI) — A Washington, D. C., white man and his Negro wife Thursday lost the first round of their federal court battle against Virginia's laws against racially mixed marriages.

U. S. District Judge John D. Butzner Jr., denied the request of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Perry Loving for a temporary restraining order to permit them to visit their families and friends in Caroline County, Va.

The order also would have protected the couple if they appear in court to continue their fight against the state's miscegenation laws.

The couple, parents of three children, were not in court Thursday. Mrs. Loving is part Negro and part Indian.

Butzner denied their request on ground their attorney, Philip J. Hirschkop of Alexandria, failed to show that "irreparable injury" would result if the order was not granted.

But the judge said he has asked the chief judge of the 4th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals to assign a three-judge court to hear the couple's challenge to the constitutionality of the Virginia statutes.

At the outside of the 10-minute hearing, the attorney said Loving, a construction worker in his late 30s or early 40s, was employed in Virginia and that he and his wife "have a right to visit their parents, friends and other relatives in Virginia" with fearing arrest on a 1959 conviction.

Students Protest Absences Of LBJ Name On Ballot

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — (UPI)— Neyro students protested the absence of President Johnson's name on the Alabama ballot Tuesday by boycotting classes in Anniston and Tuscaloosa.

A scheduled boycott of Mobile schools failed to materialize and attendance appeared normal here in Montgomery. Some 26 Negroes were arrested in a demonstration at the state capitol Monday.

Tuscaloosa's school system apparently was the heaviest hit. An estimated 75 per cent of the Negro students skipped classes there. The Rev. T. Y. Rodgers said the students were ordered "to stay at home and watch their brothers and sisters while their parents go out and vote."

Some 600 Negro students stayed at home in Anniston. There are a total of 1,700 there.

The protests were called by the Alabama branch The Southern Christian Leadership Conference SCLC. King said in Atlanta he possibly would come to Alabama later this week to lead a civil rights drive.

It proved only partially successful. An estimated 75 per cent of the Negro students in Tuscaloosa stayed home, and about 600 of the 1,7000 Negro students at Anniston were absent. But a boycott of schools in Mobile failed to materialize.

At least 26 Negroes were arrested in Montgomery Monday when they tried to picket the capitol in a premature beginning of the protests.

A spokesman for the predominantly Negro group said 2,000 votes remain to be counted in the four-day "freedom vote."

MY WEEKLY SERMON

By

REV. BLAIR T. HUNT,
PASTOR,
MISSISSIPPI BLVD. CHRISTIAN CHURCH

SUBJECT: I SEE AN ANGEL
TEXT: 'I Saw An Angel Standing In The Sun." — Rev. 19:17

Wherever I go among people, I see angels. They are not "Standing In The Sun." They are standing in the shadows . . . Shadows of sin. The angel within is hidden. It takes love's microscope to see the angel within a sinful mortal. Nevertheless there is an angel there-in.

There is an old familiar true story. I want to relate it briefly and use it as a platform to catapult my brief message.

The great sculptor, Michelangelo, was walking through a builder's yard. He saw in a far corner a mis shapen block of rough marble. It had been thrown away; weeds had grown around it. It was almost hidden by debris, trash. The sculptor asked the yard - keeper what he was going to do with it. The yard-keeper said that it was useless and therefore thrown away.

Michelangelo replied, "it is not useless, send it to my studio; I see an angel imprisoned in it." The yard - keeper had thrown it away.

Michelangelo replied, "it is not useless, send it my studio; I see an angel imprisoned in it." The yard - keeper had thrown it away, but the sculptor saw an angel imprisoned. Months later the great sculptor unveiled a statue of a beautiful angel, wings out -spread, an angel carved from a mis-shapened block of marble thrown away The sculptor had set free an imprisoned angel.

Jesus Christ sees an angel in each human being. He died an ignominious death that imprisoned angels might be released, released from the bondage of sins, that chords that were broken by Satan might vibrate again.

Out of thrown away mis - shapen marble, Jesus built his early church. The membership was made up of the rift - raft of society, cast-a-ways, slave girls, men and women for whose souls and bodies no man cared. True there were a few of wealth, power and learning but the great majority were unlearned, ignorant cast-a-ways.

In these people Jesus saw imprisoned angels .... angels with dirty faces. In Matthew, a crusty old tax collector, in Zaccheus a mean little money lender, Jesus saw angels. Jesus saw an angel in the chariot, in the street walker ,in the lamp - post girl, in Mary Magdalene, a prostitute spurned by every one except Jesus.

From wilted flowers that seemed dead forever Jesus made them to blossom again.

Throughout the new testament we see —Jesus pushing aside, pushing away the rubble, the trash, cutting down weeds that hide imprisoned angels. Like that he saved men and women. He saved me: that is why I love Him So. He has saved and is saving uncountable millions..

Jesus wants us to see an angel in every mortal being, in the alcoholic, the prostitute, the gambler, the liar, the thief, the murderer. There is an angel imprisoned in Governor "X", in Governor "Y", in Ex - Governor "Z" The rubble of racial prejudice, bigotry and politics imprisons the angels within them.

We see angels on our street corners, the loafers, the crap shooters, the hoodlums that disgrace our race and nullify our leaders efforts in this day of racial tension.

It is our business, a business of love, to release the imprisoned angels. It is love and love alone that will bring about the release.

When all else fails love and wins for God is Love.

In Virginia

Reapportionment Decision Reduces Senators' Term

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Virginia lost its final appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court Wednesday - necessitating reapportionment of both houses of the general assembly in the upcoming speical legislative session.

Chief Justice Earl Warren refused to stay part of a three - judge federal court's order which, in effect, cuts the terms of Virginia's senators to two years. They were elected in 1963 to four - year terms.

Gov. Albertis S. Harrison has called the privileges and elections committees of both houses to convene in Richmond Nov. 6 to plan for redistricting the general assembly on a population basis. He said the special session would open about Dec. 1.

State Atty. Gen. Robert Y. Button had asked Warren to block the order temporarily so that the high court could consider the reapportionment decision handed down in Alexandria Sept. 18.

That court, following the "one man, vote" mandate of the Supreme Court, called for both the house of delegates and the state senate to reapportion itself by population by Dec. 15 and hold an election for senators before January, 1966.

SHORT TERMS

Since the present 40 Virginia senators were elected to remain in office until January, 1968, Button argued that it was unprecedented for a court to cut short the terms of elected legislators.

The Virginia attorney general argued that the Virginia and Maryland reapportionment cases were parallel and the court permitted members of both houses of the Maryland legislature to finish out their terms in office. Button said this was unequal treatment of sister states.

The Virginia suit was originally brought by a group of voters living in the highly populated areas of northern Virginia and Norfolk.

Another Church Is Burned Down In Mississippi

RIPLEY, Miss. — (UPI) — A Negro Baptist church, site of a mass rally Friday, Oct. 30 burned to the ground early Saturday, the Council of Federated Organizations COFO reported.

The pro - integrationist group said the Antioch Baptist Church burned about 2 a. m., CST. It was located five miles south of this northeast Mississippi town in Tippah County.

About 20 churches and homes had been bombed and burned in Mississipi until a recent crackdown by the FBI and local authorities.

School Desegregation Takes Place In All Southern, Border States

Commission On Civil Rights Makes Report

WASHINGTON, D.C. — When school opened for the 1964 fall term, there was some measure of public school desegregation in each of the 17 Southern and Border States for the first time since the 1954 Supreme Court decision, according to a report released Sunday by the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights.

The 304-page volume, Public Education: 1964 Staff Report, contains a state-by-state account of major public school desegregation developments from the opening of schools in 1963 to the opening in 1964.

Two decisions of the U. S. Supreme Court in the 1963-64 court term significantly affected school desegregation in the fall of 1964. Negro children in Prince Edward County, Virginia attended public schools for the first time since 1959. This occurred after the high court ruled that the county must maintain a public school system and prohibited the state from using tax-supported tuition grants to support private segregated schools.

In another significant education decision, the Supreme Court ruled that review of the grade-a-year desegregation plan adopted by the Atlanta School Board was an appropriate question to be considered by the lower Federal courts. The language used by the court in redefining the "all deliberate speed" decree of the 1954 Brown decision was the basis for a pattern of minimum standards adopted by the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals. The Fifth Circuit Court fashioned decrees requiring that desegregation begin with the upper grades as well as the lower grades (12th and first grade) for schools in Georgia and Alabama.

A number of school desegregation suits filed in 1964 requested integration of teachers and administrative staff as well as student integration. "Freedom of choice" of schools (on a first-come, first-assigned basis, together with elimination of boundaries and transfer requirements) has also emerged in North Carolina and Virginia as a widely used plan of desegregation.

The report notes that de facto segregation (school populations reflecting segregated neighborhood housing patterns) is evident in St. Louis, Kansas City, Jackson (Tennessee), Wilmington (Delaware), Atlanta, Baltimore and Cambridge (Maryland).

SOUTHERN STATES

In Mississippi, the only state which had no previously desegregated schools, classes began with three school districts desegregated for the first time. In a fourth school district, under order to desegregate, no Negro pupil sought to register at a white school. Four more school districts desegregated in Alabama to bring the total in that state to eight. In South Carolina, which had only one desegregated district in 1963-64, fifteen school districts desegregated for the first time. No major incidents accompanying school resegregation were reported in any Southern state.

PLAYS TOP ROLE — Earl Cameron, one of Britain's foremost colored actors working continuously in films, TV and he stage, plays the role of Captain Abraham, an African officer on the losing side of a revolution in a recently independent African nation, in the 20th Cetury-Fox production "Guns At Batasi." The 38 - year old Bermudian's greatest ambition is to establish a Negro theatre in London where colored actors and playwrights could learn their craft and extend their range.

Sunday School Lesson

FEARLESS WITNESS

International Sunday School Lesson for November 8, 1964.

MEMORY SELECTION: "God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love and of a sound mind."

—(2 Timothy 1:7).

LESSON TEXT: 2 Timothy 1: 6-14.

Our lesson for today is directed towards analyzing the requirements of a good witness.

Towards this goal we have a perfect example in 2 Timothy of what constitutes a fearless witness for Christ, as exemplified in the life and hardships of Paul, and as revealed in his letters, from his prison dungeon, to his young protege, Timothy.

The early days of Christianity were fraught with many perils for believers. Often at the mercy of pagan rulers, they suffered imprisonment, lashes ,even torture, as a penalty for their Chistian testimony.

It was in circumstances of this nature that Paul wrote his letters to the churches and to his followers, and in these epistles we are made sharply aware of the stature of the man in relation to his belief in Christ. Even in the face of death, and apparently in the face of defection from many whom he thought were his staunch friends and allies, Paul never let go of his religious convictions. Jeered at, laughed at he took all this in his stride. And not only rose above it, but consistently urged those who were to bear the word abroad to be strong in their convictions.

From our scriptures, therefore, we can learn that which will stimulate us, as servants of Christ, to grow in our ability to be fearless witnesses for our Saviour.

The world in which we live today is far removed from that which persecuted believers in Christ during Biblical days. Our churches stand — in their various denominations — proudly on many streets in any one given town across this broad land of ours. We join with our families and friends and neighbors in those churches to give thanks to God for the gift of His grace; and none of this is cloaked in secrecy. We have noth'ng to fear in the proclaiming of our faith. Why, then, are we so often reticent when it comes to witnessing for that faith?

While it is true that a person's religion is a personal thing, and should be held with sanctity, that is still no excuse for us to shun airing our beliefs in public. Rather, it should mean so much to us that we should WANT to talk about it, and so share our spiritual riches with others.

Ours is, by nature, a teaching religion and how can it be taught without teachers?

To be a fearless witness for Christ does not necessary mean that we have to be fanatics about it. It means that we have our convictions and are sufficiently extroverted about them that we can talk easily and naturally — and sincerely — about them to our fellow men.

And while we cannot all pretend to have the fiery oratory of the gifted few who have gone abroad all over the world and gathered many converts, we can, each in his own particular little world, reach out to the people around us and share the wealth of our Christian faith.

Oral testimony simple and sincere backed up by a practicing Christianity in our daily lives in our contacts with others these are the cornerstones of being an unashamed witness.

How fearless are you?

BILLY DANIELS TURNS "CHARACTER ACTOR"

NEW YORK — (NPI) — Veteran night club entertainer Billy Daniels, probably best known for his rendition of "That Old Black Magic," has recently discovered an aspect of show business that can provide an outlet or new medium of expression for an aging performer. Daniels is currently appearing in the role of a "character actor" in the Broadway musical version of Clifford Odets' "Golden Boy," starring Sammy Davis Jr.

"Its an entirely different world than the one I've lived with while working the night clubs," Daniels said, "In a club I am the boss. I have a certain act that someone buys, knowing what it is and knowing that he can't tell me what to do.

"On the stage I am at the mercy of writers and directors. Don't misunderstand me, I'm not objecting to that. But now I do what someone else has palnned. I have to do what I am told to do."

Daniels, who has been going great guns on the night club circuit for many years, took the role in the play at something less than he might earn at his regular trade, but admits, "I'm not exactly a kid anymore. I can't play the clubs forever. But as an actor, a character actor, you can go and on. I hope that this show gives me a whole new image that will lead to the playing of many roles."

Research Grants Awarded To Howard

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Howard University officials today announced the receipt of two grants totaling $77,192 in support of research on compressed gases and Japanese technology. The grants were awarded to the University by the U. S. Air Force Office of Scientific Research.

Principal investigators for the projects are Doctors George C. Turrell, associate professor of chemistry, and Daniel L. Spencer, professor and head, the Department of Economics.

Dr. Turrell has received a renewal grant of $40,192 for the next two years to continue research on "Infrared Spectra of Compressed Gaseous Mixtures." He recently completed two years of study on compressed gases under an earlier Air Force grant.

Dope Trial Of Lymon Opens

NEW YORK—(UPI)—Trial of Frankie Lymon, 22 year-old former teen-age singing sensation, was set to begin here Thursday on charges of possession of narcotics.

Frankie, currently free on $1,000 bond, was arrested by narcotics detectives when they entered his apartment with a search warrant and allegedly found marijuana on a table in the living room.

His arrest was the latest in a series of problems which have plagued the singer since his heyday of popularity in 1959. That was the time when, as the favorite of the teens, he won numerous awards from various civic and athletic groups as an "outstanding exemple to American youth."

In June, 1963, his marriage to the former Elizabeth Phillips, 23-year-old Philadelphia, was challenged by his first husband, Charles Phillips. Phillips, a career soldier, contended he had received no final divorce papers and maintain that Lymon's new bride was still married to him. The squabble was further complicated by the fact that Mrs. Lymon was expecting a child.

Frankie recently revamped his night club act, adding dancing and drumming to the repertoire, in an effort to stage a comeback.

SAMMY DAVIS GETS COVETED NCCJ BROTHERHOOD AWARD — Sammy Davis, Jr., gifted young star who has risen to fame by talent and pluck is seen at Americana Hotel in New York receiving the National Conference of Christians and Jews Brotherhood Award, which was presented to him by Dr. Sterling W. Brown, NCCJ Vice president. Davis was honored because "in benefits, in personal appearances, and in less well known ways Sammy Davis had shown concern for human relations."

In response to the award Mr. Davis said that "he would never do anything knowingly to tarnish the meaning of his Brotherhood Award." He received a standing ovation from some 350 guests who had paid $100 a plate for the use of NCCJ.

Black Muslims Said Attempting To Change Image

NEW YORK — Leaders of the Black Muslim movement are hard at work trying to erase the general impression that their group hates whites and wants to live in a separate nation, The Insider's Newsletter reported Monday.

They are trying to change the image of the movement by emphasizing the self-improvement aspects of Black Muslim policy and are denying the anti-white doctrines long attributed to them.

According to The Newsletter, spokesmen for the movement now say that Negroes and whites must "reason together" to end racial conflict in America.

Reportedly behind the reason for the shift in policy is that the rank and file in the movement want more tangible goals than promises of a separate black nation.

Militant black nationalists — Malcolm X of New York for one — who focus on a hate-whites policy, are critical of the coexistence movement, but are meeting condemnation from Black Muslim leaders.

INDIAN "HALL OF FAME"

NEW YORK — (NPI) — What may become the first lasting tribute to the American Indian, an "American Indian Hall of Fame," opened here last week at the Museum of the American Indian. The exhibit consists of memtos of 16 celebrated warriors, especially selected from more than two million relating to North and South American redskins. Twelve of the 16 Indians represented were warriors and include Sitting Bull, Geronimo and Tecumseh.

U. S. Rejects Plea To Aid Three Condemned Africans

Opposition To Apartheid Cited By Secy. Tasca

NEW YORK—The State Department has declined to intervene in behalf of three African leaders sentenced to death in South Africa because of their opposition to that country's harsh anti-Negro policy.

American intervention in behalf of the condemned men was urged by Roy Wilkis, NAACP executive director, in a telegram to Secretary of State Dean Rusk on Oct. 14. Mr. Wilkins asked that the United States government "bring to bear its influence in behalf of clemency" for Vuysile Mini, Zinakele Kaa and Wilson Khayingo.

The weight of evidence against them is "questionable under that country's repressive system," the NAACP leader told Secretary Rusk. Moreover, he added, "their execution could serve no purpose other than cruel vengeance. We know you share fully our apprehension of consequences of South African adherence to present policies and our hope that this new fuel will not be added to flames."

In reply, Henry J. Tasca, Acting Secretary of State for African Affairs re-affirmed the government's "fundamental opposition to apartheid, to repressive legislation and political trials" and said that the government "has endeavored to use the influence of the United Sttes wherever possible, to moderate these practices."

In the present case the three men were "charged and found guilty, among other things, of murder of a state witness. Because any expression by us in a case such as this would be interpreted by South Africa as interference in that country's internal judicial processes, the Department must abstain from taking any action which might weaken its position and its efforts to moderate policies of apartheid," Mr. Tasca added.

His letter, date Oct. 23, noted that the United States has in the past requested clemency for condemned persons in certain instances were it was abundantly clear that justic had been flagrantly violated."

A QUEEN IS CROWNED—North Carolina College President Samuel P. Massie is shown crowning Miss Mary Jane Logan, a senior psychology major from Belmont, N.C., as "Miss North Carolina College" during elaborate ceremonies recently in the college's McDougald Gymnasium.

The coronation preceded a round of Homecoming festivities which culminated Homecoming Day, Saturday, October 24, when the NCC Eagles met the Maryland State College Hawks in Durham.

Back Use Of Local Groups In Poverty Programs

NEW YORK—(NNPA)—A committee of 100 has been formed to support the use of local citizens' groups in anti-poverty programs. Included in the group are civic, political, religious and civil rights leaders.

One of the first acts of the new committee was the issuance of a statement defending the policy of the lower East Side agency known as Mobilization for Youth, which has been criticized for supporting local community protest activities.

Members of the committee include Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive director; James Farmer, CORE executive director; State Senator Constance Baker Motley, NAACP counsel; Alexander J. Allen, executive director of the Urban League of Greater New York; and Dr. Kenneth Clark, professor of psychology at City College.

Film Star Charges Mississippi Threats

NEW YORK — Dick Beymer, 25-year-old star of 11 Hollywood movies, including "West Side Story," 'Anne Frank," and most recently 'The Stripper," charges that Mississippi police threatened his life while he worked with civil rights groups in the voter registration drive in that state.

Beymer is now back in Hollywood editing a film he wrote and directed himself about the world that COFO (Council of Federated Organizations, including NAACP, CORE, SNCC and SLOC) is doing in voter registration and freedom school projects. His charge appears in an article in the winter issue of Datebook, a magazine for aware teenagers, which gies on sale Nov. 19. The article was written by Steffi Sidney, pen-name of Sidney Sholoky's daughter.

Browning of Port Arthur, Texas, and a senior biology major, was selected as the most outstanding cadet at Webb Air Force Base Summer Encampment program, and presented the high echelon Commandant Award after winning out over 186 competing cadets on the basis of attitude, leadership, ability, initiative, dependability, and military bearing. — (Photo by Joe Zinn)

Survey Shows Many Have Not Finished High School

SAN FRANCISCO — A survey of 68 cities by the National Urban League indicates that 70 percent of adult Negroes over 25 years of age do not hold a high school diploma.

Of 4,669,000 non-white adults in cities having League branches, some 3,233,000 may be classified as dropouts and 142,000 others have no educational background whatsoever.

The survey, based on U. S. Census data, was disclosed in an address by Whitney M. Young Jr., the League's national executive director, before the annual conference of the National Assn. of Public School Adult Education on Oct. 31 in the Sheraton Palace hotel here.

Young pointed out that the high number of Negro dropouts in cities listed in the survey was not an indictment of any educational system as many are migrants from other cities. But he warned "it is an indication of the enormity of the problem facing adult educators in those cities."

The Negro leader called for a massive multi-billion dollar war against illiteracy, which he cited as an even greater malefactor in producing unemployment than racism. A successful effort, he said, would reduce unemployment, relief rolls, and strike a major blow at chronic dependency.

"At night, we must light up our schools, our churches, libraries, settlement houses, museums, community centers and field houses in our parks, if that's what it takes (to reach the uneducated adult)," Young said. He suggested that "hundreds of boarded up movie theatres could be converted also into lecture hall cultural centers": in an effort to bring adult education programs into the urban community.

However, he noted, many existing adult education centers are only partially used because people often feel ashamed to admit their academic inadequacies. He suggested that the Urban League try to reach Negroes who feel this way in a cooperative effort with educators.

"Basic literacy programs," Young said, used to occupy a large part of adult education programs during the melting pot days (of high immigration) and need to be directed anew to millions of adults, including many Negro citizens."

The Urban League official also advocated pre-kindergarten training for disadvantaged children; expanded guidance counseling; a massive infusion of Federal aid into both black and white ghetto schools" and a neffort to "break down the walls which separate the children of America."

The interracial Urban League, founded in 1910 is a professional social work agency created to assist Negroes and other similarly disadvantaged populations obtain equal opportunities in housing, employment, education, and health and welfare programs through fact-finding, research, community education and organization.

Wholesalers, Retailer Urged To Up Business

CHICAGO — (NPI) — An "economic" self - help meeting between Negro wholesalers and retailers was held here last week under the sponsorship of the United American Progress association, designed to back a concerted drive to obtain more business for the Negro trademan and in so doing, make more jobs available for Negroes.

Some 10 wholesalers and an undetermined number of retailers were present at the meeting presided over by Webb Evans, UAPA president. Principal speaker at the meeting was the Rev. Wilburn N. Daniels, pastor, Antioch Baptist church and Republican candidate for Congressman from the First District.

Among the wholesalers represented were Joe Louis Milk company, Grove's Fresh Juice; Z. & M. Sausage company, G. N. N. Wholesale Restaurant Supply; and Parker House Sausage company.

During the discussions, the speakers stressed the need for Negroes "to engage in business and to cooperate with each other in building their businesses and planning a better life for the younger generation." Each speaker pointed out that the most effective way to accomplish this dual growth of business and job opportunities was by "pooling our monies together, and taking advantage of government loans for expansion of our businesses."

Washington-Lee U. Drops Race Bars After 162 Years

LEXINGTON, Va. — (NPI) — Racial barriers at Washington and Lee university toppled here last week when the private institution formally announced that Negro students will be permitted to enroll for classes.

The 215 - year - old institution, founded in 1749, has had only one Negro student — John Chavis, a free - born Negro who attended in 1802. The action to drop racial barriers was taken last summer by the school's board of trustees, which at that time stated that "admission policies are at the discretion of the faculty - controlled commitee on admissions." The faculty reportedly has favored integration of the school for quite some time.

A boys' school with an enrollment of about 1,000, Washington and Lee is named after Gen. George Washington, and Gen. Robert E. Lee, who is buried in the university Chapel. It originally come into being as Augusta Academy, and later the name was changed to Liberty Hall. When President Washington donated $50,000 in stock, the school became Washington university. At the death of Gen. Lee, one-time president of the institution, his name was added to that of Washington as the school's name.

Although the "no bias" policy is in effect, the committee on admissions disclosed that it has received no applications from Negroes either for the remainder of this term, or for the next term.

Hoover's Will Filed For Probate

NEW YORK — (UPI) — The will of the late Herbert Hoover was filed for probate in Manhattan surrogates court Monday, disposing of a "more than $1 million" estate.

The five and a half page will, dated August 31, 1964, provides bequests totalling $150,000, after which the remaining estate is added to existing trust funds with the state National Bank of Connecticut in Bridgeport, Conn.

The will directs that the funds be applied for the benefit of relatives. They were Allen Hoover, Jr., and Andrew Hoover, Lou Henry Hoover, "and others."

MEANY ISSUES CALL TO 'GET OUT THE VOTE'

WASHINGTON — (NNPA)—AFL CIO President George Meany sent a telegram Wednesday to all affiliated national and international unions and all staote and local & central bodies in which he called for a massive get-out-the-vote drive on Nov. 3 as a weapon against "complacency the greatest threat to victory for the candidates we support."

Ohio Official Scored On Klan

COLUMBUS, O. — The Columbus branch of the NAACP has disagreed sharply with a statement by Ohio Secretary of State Ted W. Brown that he could find nothing unlawful about the Ku Klux Klan when he issued the racist group a charter earlier this month.

Mr. Brown revoked the charter only after learning that the KKK is on the U. S. Attorney General's subversive list.

In a letter to the Ohio official on Oct. 23, Barbee William Durham, executive secretary of the NAACP branch, called his attention to a law of 1889 which outlawed all persons united "to commit a misdemeanor while wearing white caps, mask or other disguise."

"Since the Klan is the only organization whose members have traditionally so disguised themselves, we would have no difficulty in arriving at the conclusion that this section of Ohio law outlaws the Klan in this State," Mr. Durham stated.

"We regret that your legal staff did not call this important section of Ohio law to your attention," he added.

Famous Quotes Concerning Citizenship

Every citizen owes to the country a vigilant watch and close scrutiny of its public servants and a fair and reasonable estimate of their fidelity and usefulness. Thus is the peoples' will impressed upon the whole framework of our civil policy — municipal, state and Federal.

(Grover Cleveland's First Inaugural Address in 1885)

You cannot possibly have a broader basis for any government than that which includes all the people, with all their rights in their hands, and with an equal power to maintain their rights. — (William Lloyd Garrison)

The man who holds that every human right is secondary to his profit must now give way to the advocate of human welfare, who rightly maintains that every man holds his property subject to the general right of the community to regulate its use to whatever degree the public welfare may require it. (Theodore Roosevelt in 1910).

The humblest citizen of all the land when clad in the armour of a righteous cause is stronger than all the hosts of error. — (William Jennings Bryant in 1896)

A man who is good enough to shed his blood for his country is good enough to be given a square deal afterward; more than that no man is entitled to and less than that no man shall have. — (Theodore Roosevelt in 1891)

I have lived, Sir, a long time; and the longer I live the more convincing proofs I see of this truth, that God governs in the affairs of men. And if a sparrow cannot fall to the ground without His notice, is it possible that an Empire can rise without His aid? (Benjamin Franklin's Motion for Prayers at the Philadelphia Convention in 1787).

Natural liberty is a gift of the beneficent Creator, to the whole human race, and civil liberty is founded in that, and cannot be wrested from any people without the most manifest violation of justice.— (Alexander Hamilton in 1775)

With my own ability, I cannot succeed without the sustenance of Divine Providence, and of the great, free, happy and intelligent people. Without these I cannot hope to succeed; with them, I can not fail. — (Lincoln's Speech at Newark, N. J., in 1861)

God is good in its place, but living, brave, patriotic men are better than gold.—(Abraham Lincoln)

Freedom is not dominant where subjugation still exists, even in a corner. —(Dagobert D. Runes)

Man was made of clay. Clay is black or red, but never white. The White man is a decadent creature, away from the sun, wind, and the sea.—(Phi'osophic Library (1959) of Dictionary of Thoughts of Dagobert D. Runes).

It is time for America and the world to move on from a social order in which unregulated profit is the driving force. It is time to move up to a social order in which equality of opportunity will cease to be a dream and actually come to pass.

The rightful use and purpose of our natural resources is to make all the people strong and well, able and wise, well-taught, well-fed, well-clothed, well-housed, full of knowledge and initiative, with equal opportunity for all, special privilege for none. Whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them. That is the answer.

(From Gifford Pinchot's "Breaking New Ground," Pinihot was born in 1867, died in 1946.)

Red China Influence In Africa

LONDON — (UPI) — Communist China has an edge in its propaganda battle with Russia to win influence in Africa, according to a study published Sunday by the Royal Institute of International Affairs RIIA.

But, the study said, the rival claims by Moscow and Peking can have "a mutually destructive effect and there are even some signs of Chinese and Soviet awareness of Afro-Asian impatience with the quarrel."

The Chinese campaign also may backfire, the study said.

"Foreign propaganda is still foreign propaganda whether Russian or Chinese and if it is true that it becomes less persuasive as it becomes more familiar, and that it begins to defeat its own ends as soon as the recipient starts to suspect the system behind it, than a saturation of Africa with Chinese propaganda in its multifarious forms may have a more salutary effect than is feared," it said.

Certain recent patterns of African revolution have been closer to the hard line advocated by Peking than to that of peaceful coexistence supported by Russia as a result of China's steady buildup over a period of years.

OLYMPIC MEDALIST TO STUDY ECONOMICS

LONDON — (NNPA) — Wendell Mottley, of Trinidad and Tobago, winner of a silver medal in the 4001meter event at the Tokyo Olympics, arrived in London Mondon Monday to study economics at St. Catherine's College. He holds a bachelor of arts degree from Yale University.

Is it proper to call for Gordon's by name in English Pubs?
It's not a matter of being proper. It's unnecessary. For when most Englishmen ask for gin, they expect to get Gordon's. After all, its distinctive dryness and delicate flavour have been a part of English life for 195 years. Americans, however, have been enjoying Gordon's for a somewhat shorter span of time. So it is wise (and proper) to specify Gordon's by name. Your first sip of a Gordon's martini will tell you why it's the biggest selling gin over here as well as in England and the rest of the world.

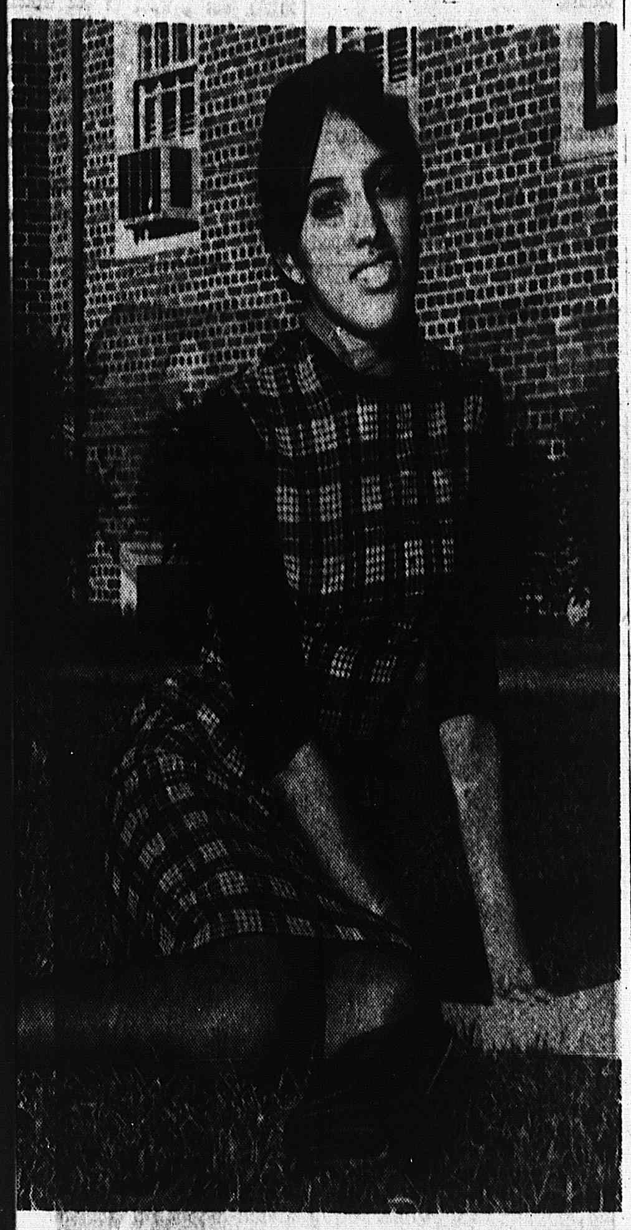
Morris Brown Wolverines Trample Miles Bears, 26-6



PRELUDE TO WINTER—Anxious to get a last fling at out-of-doors studying before Jack Frost and cold weather move in, Juanita Pruitt, a student at North Carolina College, picks a sunny spot on the college's Durham campus to enjoy the last days of Indian Summer. A graduate student in commerce, she is a native of Boston, Mass.

By MARCEL HOPSON

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — Coach M. J. Powell's Morris Brown College Wolverines of Atlanta, Ga., gave the Miles College Golden Bears a "painful lesson courses" in devastating tackling, blocking on defense and surperb offensive running as they emerged the winner of a colorful 26 to 6 football victory at Birmingham's Rickwood Field, Saturday night, Oct. 31.

Shortly after the kickoff, the injury-ridden Golden Bears showed strong intentions of making the game an interesting, action-loaded contest. However, the Bears' "dreams of victory" soon faded as Big Senior Tackle George Moore of Fairfield Industrial High School; and freshman tackle Ronald Lyas of Birmingham's Carver High School joined Tommy Hart, Johnny Williams, Eddie Fennell, Charlie Spivey and Eddie Henderson in staging some of the most head-busting tackling ever witnessed in Birmingham.

Tommy Hart blocked a Miles quick-kick and set the stage for Morris Brown's first scoring play. Quarterback George Brown hit end Billy Anderson with a sizzling 50-yard pass and placed the ball on the two-yard line. Halfback Oswell Jones pushed over the two for the Wolverines' first touchdown.

George Moore recovered another Miles Fumble and opened the gates for Morris Brown's second touchdown in the first quarter. Behind some colorful blocking, Oswell Jones went off tackle for 39 yards and paydirt.

Shortly after a post-score kick, Johnny Williams recovered a Miles fumble. George Brown hit George Bowman with a 16-yard pass for Morris Brown's third touchdown in the first quarter. Roosevelt Russell toed the PAT.

Miles tasted a score for the first time, in the final seconds of the second quarter, when freshman end Marvin Johnson of Western-Olin High School pulled down a 25-yard deflected pass thrown by quarterback Joseph Reese into the end-zone for a touchdown.

Morris Brown led 19-6 at half-time.

The Atlantans completed their night's scoring shortly after the third quarter kickoff. Oswell Jones provided more "working room" with an eight-yard dash. On a second down play, George Atkinson went on a 46-yard excursion for Morris Brown's fourth touchdown. Russell toed the PAT.

MANASSAS HIGH SCHOOL TIGERS

Hi: This is Claudean Cooper and Sylvia Coleman with the latest news around Manassas's campus.

SPOTLIGHT:

While strolling down the corridors of the sacred walls of Manassas, we run upon a very studious and delightful lady of the senior class. Dale Stevenson is a member of 12-1 Homeroom where Mr. L. A. German serves as instructor. Around the campus, Dale is associated with the Mu Alpha Theta Math Club, National Honor Society Vice President of the Double Tenn Squad, NDCC sponsor and vice Society, co-captain of the Pep president of her homeroom.

In religious life she is an active member of Ebenezer Baptist Church. She is very active as secretary and announcement clerk of the Sunday School.

After all her busy activities around school and church, she still has time for social life. In social life she is an active member of the very popular Capri Social Club.

Dale resides at 3366 Emmon Drive with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Steverson.

After graduation she plans to further her education at Fisk University.

So we would like to tip our hats to a very outstanding young lady and good luck in the near future.

A crop of freshmen will lead the Maroon Tigers attack this weekend. George Satterwhite, a graduate of Archer High, Atlanta, heads this list of top freshmen.

Satterwhite sneaked 81 yards last weekend against Clark to set up a TD for the Tigers. He was also a member of the All - City Football Team for two seasons, as a End and Safetyman. Basketball and baseball were a part of Satterwhite's athletic career at Archer.

Other top freshmen are, Carlton Heard, QB, Henry Evans FB, Paul Colvard E, John Grier G, James Sims, G, Curtis Sprott, James Swinney, Anthony Ballard, Willie Pullen and Walter Pickling.

The Tigers are sporting a 1-4-0 mark.

3 LETTERMEN CO-CAPTAIN KNOXVILLE BULLOGS

Tree junior lettermen have been chosen co - captains of the Knoxville Bulldogs, Head Coach Iris Brown announced. Richard Corbin Guard, 5'9, 160 lb, Charles Neal Guard, 5'11, 180 lbs., and Stephen Samuel, Tackle 6'1, 175 lbs., will take helms of the KC Bulldogs.

Knoxville lost a close game to Fisk last weekend on a 23-24 score. And the Bulldogs are looking for a win Saturday, when the spirit of homecoming is in the air.

News Agencies, TV Networks Join For Election

NEW YORK — (UPI) — The major news agencies and television networks for the first time in history pooled their resources Tuesday night in a cooperative effort to compile the vote in a United States national election.

The service provided the nation with a faster and more efficient delivery of election results from the 50 states and the District of Columbia.

The service was supplied through an organization called Network Election Service NES. It provided returns in the races for the presidency, the Senate, the governorships and the Congress.

The national service was a joint undertaking of United Press International, the Associated Press, the National Broadcasting Company, the Columbia Broadcasting System and the American Broadcasting Company.

UPI tabulated its own contests below Congress.

COLLECTION AGENCY

NES is a collection agency set up to insure the fast and simultaneous delivery of the figures, precinct by - precinct, from Maine to Hawaii as they become available, to all five cooperating news disseminators and thence to their newspaper and broadcast subscribers and affiliates.

The cooperating five thus had the same figures at the same time to pass on to readers, watchers and listeners — along with their own interpretations, analyses, charts, and explanations. NES however, supplied only the bare figures; telling what they meant and deciding races was undertaken individually by each of the five.

Tabulation centers were set up in each state and the District of Columbia. The press associations handled 12 states each, the broadcast networks nine each. A national tabulation center was set up in a New York hotel.

GATHERED BY PRECINCTS

The cooperative, or "pool," figures were gathered precinct - by - precinct from most of the nation's 175,000 plus precincts by more than 130,000 reporters. The remaining territory was covered by about 3,000 county reporters. More than 10,000 persons manned tabulation centers.

In UPI, about 1,500 staff reporters, writers, editors, tele - printer operators, and technicians aided in processing and distributing returns. Another 2,500 special part - time UPI reporters gathered votes on state contests not covered by the pool.

The pool did not use computers. The raw returns were distributed to pool members at headquarters in each state for use on the local level. At the same time, returns for president, senators, and governors were transmitted to the New York center on private, full circuit open telephone lines from each state.

Leftist Cabinet Sworn In For The Audan Area

CAIRO, U. A. R. — (UPI) — A new leftist cabinet was sworn in Oct. 31 in riot - torn Sudan, replacing a military junta which had ruled the African nation for six years.

The new premier, Sirr-el Khatm el Khalifa, is considered an authority on the southern Sudan where agitation by the Negro population against Moslem rule from the north touched off rioting Oct 31 which led to 29 deaths.

The Cairo newspaper Akhbar El yon said one of the new ministers Agriculture and Forestry Ministe Ahmed Soleiman, was a member o the Communist e oriented Anti Imperialist Front. The newspape said he had been arrested during the rioting and had been released two days ago.

Another Cairo newsapaper, A Gombouria, said the members of the dissolved junta and former cabinet ministers remained under house arrest.

Sudan's Omdurman Radio said train services from Khartoum into the provinces would resume Saturday and that some schools would reopen. It repeated an appeal by the Sudan labor federation that all workers return to their jobs Saturday.

The new premier called his cabinet, which includes two representatives of southern Sudan, into a one - hour session Friday night and met with the members again Saturday.

Attempted Murder Suicide Reported

ATLANTA, Ga.—(SNS)—Atlanta and Clayton County police late Saturday were investigating the alleged attempted murder of a woman and the suicide of a young man, following up reports that the two were connected.

Hospitalized in Grady was Miss Alice Grimes, 20, 69 Daniel St., SE. shot in the side, shoulder and breast, while dead was Delaware Hooks, 24, of Morrow, Ga. The deceased was found in the Paradise Park area of Clayton County, it was stated. Police were sifting details.

THE REV. ELMER M. MARTIN, minister of St. Andrew AME Church, pictured here with his family. They were honored with an appreciation program and banquet Sunday, Oct. 25. The affair was sponsored by steward boards of the church.

APPRECIATION PROGRAM, BANQUET FOR REV. ELMER MARTIN, FAMILY

The steward boards of St. Andrew A.M.E. Church are grateful to loyal members, to visiting ministers and friends for their presence at an "Appreciation Program and Banquet" that honored the Rev. Elmer M. Martin, pastor of St. Andrew, and his family on Sunday, Oct. 25 at 7:30 in the evening.

The program, given in the sanctuary, was inspirational and enjoyable, with Thomas W. Perkins as M.C. An organ prelude was given by Mrs. Leona Jamison, followed by a heartwarming and soul-stirring prayer by J. Gardner, and scripture by L. J. Bailey. St. Andrew's joint choirs furnished musical selections with Mrs. Mai Hunt and Mrs. Laurentine Nelson at the piano. Greetings were given by Miss Lucille Hawthorne for the stewards, and W. L. Buford for the trustee board. Mrs. Bennie Foster brought greetings from all of the organizations of the church.

D. S. Martin, a dynamic speaker, gave the principal address for the occasion which included quotes from the Bible and from great men like Disraeli, Victo Hugo, Richard Allen, and Paul Lawrence Dunbar.

Immediately after the "appreciation offering," Rev. and Mrs. Martin, Rev. and Mrs. H. Ralph Jackson, Rev. and Mrs. Peter Crawford of Avery Chapel, and Rev. and Mrs. Robert McRae of Ward Chapel led the recessional to the dining room for the beautifully planned banquet. Dinner consisted of turkey and dressing, congealed fruit salad, creamed sweet potatoes, hot rolls, and ice cream and cake.

The program continued with Mr. Perkins as M. C. Glowing remarks were given by Rev. Mr. Jackson, general officer of the A.M.E. Church. The Pattersonettes and Little Miss Leaordoras Hutcherson gave selections.

Both Rev. and Mrs. Martin spoke out of deep gratitude to members and friends for their loyalty and devotion. Congratulations go to stewards who were responsible for sponsoring the program and banquet. Howefer, it was Mrs. Irma Beardon (one of St. Andrew's most faithful members) who serfed as general chairman, getting the program together and planning the banquet.

Mrs. Beardon is a dedicated member who never tires of serving and never works for praise.

Roosevelt Rattliff, co-chairman; Rueben Barrett, I. T. Brewer, George Evans, Gardner, Don Gentry, Alvin Greene, E. W. Hunt, Charlie Jones, Mrs. O. M. Coleman, Mrs. Selma Jones, secretary, Luther Martin, Ernest Massey, Shelby Russell, Buford Shelby, Tommie Todd, Luke Wright and James Henderson.

The stewards are grateful to Mrs. Mattie Taylor, Mrs. Eva Ferguson, Mrs. Leona Owens, Mrs. M. R. Todd, Mrs. Vera Thornton and the young men of the junior church for assisting with the banquet.

TOO LATE

ST. LOUIS — (NPI) — Four members of the House of Deputies telegraphed a plea to U. S. Federal Judge Thurgood Marshall to return to the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church here last week, but they were too late. Judge Marshall the first Negro representing the Diocese of New York at the triennial gathering, had walked out on the convention, following that recognizes the right of persons to disobey segregation laws "conflicting with the concept of human dignity under God." The walkout occurred on Tuesday, the telegram was dispatched on Thursday, and the convention closed Friday.

Historic Voting Shatters Patterns North And South

By WILLIAM THEIS
(United Press International)

WASHINGTON — President Johnson, who had appealed to Americans to "crush" Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, won a landslide victory Tuesday night in an election which shattered historic voting patterns North and South.

Johnson was swept back into the White House for a four year term in his own rights by a tidal wave of votes which smashed Goldwaters' conservative cause everywhere but in the Deep South.

His victory with Vice President - elect Hubert Humphrey gave him the mandate he wanted to try to unite the American people behind domestic programs aimed at achieving "the great society" and revitalizing the nation's leadership in world affairs.

It was an election in which time - honored political rules were overturned. The President planted the Democratic banner in Vermont for the first time in the state's history and carried Maine, which hadn't gone Democratic since 1912 when it voted for Woodrow Wilson.

Goldwater, on the other hand, broke the long Democratic monopoly in the South and won Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, South Carolina and Georgia was an unexpected bonus for the GOP candidate.

But that was about all for the 55-year-old Arizonan, who had said he was offering a "choice, not an echo" and who had pledged to "stop socialism at home and communism abroad."

Johnson led from the start as returns cae in from states that had gone Republican before. He jumped into an early lead in Kansas, which last voted Democratic in 1936, and kept widening the margin throughout the evening.

INCREASE IN AUTOMATION

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said that increasing automa- 70,000 jobs a week in the United States but eventual full employment is dependent upon such increased production efficiency. He said that the last 12 months showed the greatest increase in automation and technological development in our history.

Food output is trailing population growth.
