Strategy Aimed At Blocking Negro In Sheriff's Race

If a Negro does enter the crowded sheriff's race, a plan has been devised that would split the Negro vote in Memphis and Shelby County, it was learned this week.

A group of downtown politicians is reported mapping strategy that would stall any Negro candidate who thinks he has a chance of winning.

It has been reported that if a Negro candidate does enter the race, even at the last minute, a Negro policeman and a Negro deputy will enter.

Petitions for the policeman and deputy are ready to be presented to the Election Commission on a moment's notice, it was learned from a reliable source.

More than 12 white men have announced for the office, and if all of them qualify and stay in the race ,the white vote is going to be split many ways.

A Negro Candidate with strong backing would stand a good chance of winning against a field such as this.

But, with three Negroes in the sheriff's race there would be a lot of vote-splitting among Negroes.

As of now, no Negroes have hinted they are thinking of running for the office. Atty. Ben Hooks, who missed winning a city judgeship by less than 1000 votes in such a field last year, has said he will not run.

O. Z. Evers, politician and businessman who has the ears of Mayor Ingram, says he isn't running for anything.

Atty. Russell Sugarmon Jr said running for sheriff has not crossed his mind but it is reported he is thinking of entering the race for state legislature.

Mr. Evers said he doesn't believe any Negro candidate can win in a countywide election at the present time because there are less than

COMPLETE DESEGREGATION ASKED

All Grades Will Be Mixed In 2 Years

School Board officials this week indicated they will follow the U.S. Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals' ruling that all junior high schools in Memphis must be desegregated by September 1965.

The high court's ruling in Cincinnati Monday also said all high schools here must be desegregated by the fall of 1966.

The court ruled that the Memphis School Board's plan for desegregating schools is "too slow"

The Board is desegregating grades 5 and 6 in September of this year.

The decision by the Court of Appeals stands as a victory for the local NAACP, headed by Jesse H. Turner, and its small battery of lawyers which includes Russell Sugarmon Jr., A. W. Willis Jr., Ben Hooks, Jr. and H. T. Lockard

Also playing important roles in the school case were Jack Greenburg, chief NAACP counsel, Mrs. Constance Baker Motley and Derrick Bell, all of New York.

The Memphis Board of Education's step-by-step desegregation plan had been approved by Federal Judge Marion Boyd of Memphis.

Despite the court's favorable ruling for complete desegregation, the flow of Negro students into previously all-white junior and senior high schools is surely to be governed by already fixed school boundary lines and the checker-board housing areas that have been established.

On other points, the Court said it is up to Judge Boyd to determine if there is "teacher segregation" here

It also instructed the federal Judge to conduct further hearings on school districts set up by the school board

The Court of Appeals also declared unconstitutional a student transfer provision adopted by the school board and put into use in May 1963.

The NAACP is currently in a $10,000 financial campaign and is urging all Memphians to contribute over and above the regular membership fee.

Nixon Sees Next Two Weeks As Vital, Decisive

NEW YORK — (UPI) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said Tuesday he believes the next two weeks are crucial and probably will be decisive in the battle between Sen. Barry Goldwater and Gov. William A. Scranton for the Republican presidential nomination.

The key question, he said, is whether Scranton can raid Goldwater's camp of enough national convention delegates to stop the Arizona senator's nomination on the first ballot at the July 13 convention in San Francisco.

"The next two weeks will probably be decisive," he said.

Nixon, who spoke before some 600 delegates to the 47th annual convention of the National Coal Association, said that Scranton's forces are now as powerful

Citizens Petition Mayor Ingram, Commissioners

Thousands of Memphians Tuesday petitioned Mayor Ingram and City Commissioners Armour, Moore, Lane and Sisson "to enact appropriate city ordinances" which will:

1. Outlaw racial discrimination in all public accommodations in the city of Memphis.

2. Completely desegregate all public facilities, including the public school system and the reopening of all swimming pools pursuant to orders of the U. S. Supreme Court.

3. Make any and all jobs in city government available to all persons regardless of race.

4. Require withholding of city funds from any agency or contractor who practices racial discrimination.

The signed petitions, which called for the changes, were circulated by the local NAACP.

In presenting the petitions to the Mayor and commissioners, an official of the NAACP said: "Due to the seriousness of these problems, we request your immediate action."

Nearly 200 persons attended the City Commissioners' meeting Tuesday of this week to witness the presentation of the petition which had been signed by approximately 5,000 individuals.

Actual presentation, reading of the petition and discussion that followed required about 25 minutes. It was the first item on docket.

Jesse H. Turner, president of the NAACP, was first up announcing that a petition calling for a "civil rights bill for our city" was ready to be read.

The Rev. John Charles Mickle, minister of Second Congregational Church, read the petition. He closed by saying local NAACP lawyers are available to work out any details with city attorneys.

Commissioner Armour offered a rebuttal, claiming that police training classes are not segregated as

Memphis Forgot Medgar Evers

Less Than 75 Attended Memorial Observance Of Slain NAACP Official

If Memphians cried when Medgar Evers, the Mississippi NAACP field secretary was fatally wounded June 12, 1963, most of them must have dried their tears and forgotten that he gave his life in a crusade for a better way of living for all Negroes.

Last Friday night at Vollintine Baptist Church, Bellevue and Vollintine, less than 75 persons were on hand for a memorial observance conducted in memory of Mr. Evers.

Similar observances were conducted throughout the nation by the NAACP.

Stressing responsibility among Negroes, Dr. Charles L. Dinkins, the president of Owen College and principal speaker for the occasion, said: "Things seem to be too easy for us in Memphis and the result is a satisfied community."

"No one is really safe until all of us are safe," he added.

"Apathy among Negroes in Memphis is our big problem," he went on. "We have not walked into the doors that we have opened."

He said Negroes should cross the picket line thrown up by the Citizens Council in front of an integrated restaurat on Madison Avenue.

In closing remarks, Jesse Turner, president of the local NAACP, said Memphians didn't think enough of Medgar Evers' crusade, which cost him his life, "to come out tonight."

Presiding was the Rev. T. J. Griffin, minister of Warren Methodist Church.

Sees Party Defeat Behind Arizonian

By JOHN F .O'BRIEN

HARTFORD, Conn. — (UPI) — Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania June 13 launched his last-ditch fight for the Republican presidential nomination with an attack on Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, whose policies he described as "outlandish."

Scranton, referring to the Arizonan as the "present front-runner," flew into his native state in a bid for a majority of Connecticut's 16 delegates to the July 13 GOP nominating convention in San Francisco.

In an address given before the state Republican convention here, Scranton said Republicans must repudiate Goldwater if the GOP is to escape defeat in the November elections.

"It is a fact that we have reached the ludicrious point here every responsible leader in our party knows that to stave off defeat in November, a make - believe coating of moderation must be shellacked over

ROCKEFELLER SUPPORT IS GOING TO SCRANTON

NEW YORK — The support of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller this week was given to Pennsylvania Governor William W. Scranton in the battle for the Republican presidential nomination.

Rockefeller said he decided to support Scranton "in order to fight for the basic principles of progress and moderation on which the Republican Party was founded and has prospered."

Gov. Scranton's candidacy early this week appeared to be slowing the GOP stampede to Sen. Barry M. Goldwater but there was no solid evidence that it has started a significant switch among delegates previously pledged to Goldwater.

Student Minister Raps Policy Of 'Y'

A desk clerk at the Leslie M. Stratton YMCA, 245 Madison, has been charged with attempting to deny rooms to three students because they were from New York and two of them were enroute to Mississippi. The charges was made by Ronald J. Young, student assistant minister for the summer at Centenary Methodist Church.

Mr. Young worked with young people at Centenary last summer and during the school year of 1962-63. During that time, he moved out of the downtown YMCA when officials obpected to him bringing in Negro youths. He later moved into the all-Negro Abe Scharff YMCA at Linden and Lauderdale and integrated it.

In a letter of complaint against the desk clerk at the Leslie M. Stratton YMCA, Mr. Young said:

"On Tuesday, June 9, three students were refused admittance at the Leslie M. Stratton YMCA because they were from New York and two of them were on their way to Mississippi. The desk clerk suspected that two of the students were planning to participate in the Mississippi Summer Project, and told the students your kind are not wanted here. Clearly, this action was not consistent with national YMCA policy. First, guests at a YMCA should not be required to say where they are going, and second, where a person is going should be irrelevant to his obtaining lodging at a YMCA.

"Considering these facts and the fact that the desk clerk was acting without authority, I advised the two students with me that we should remain in the YMCA until the situation was corrected. Upon informing the desk clerk of our decision, he threatened to call the police. We remained in the lobby.

"I called Mr. Johnny C. Alexander, Metropolitan general secretary, to request his advice and assistance He agreed that the clerk's refusal to admit us was not in accord with YMCA policy; and he promised to check into the situation. Finally, two of us were given rooms. I was refused again, this time because I had caused trouble. If patient perserverance in the face of injustice is causing trouble, I hope I never tire of causing this kind of trouble. The clerk hen refused to accept a $10 American Express Travelers Check and forced the boys to pay cash. The boys were also told that they were confined to the floor their room was on and the lobby. It is clear that this kind of action neither represents the spirit nor helps to achieve the purpose of the Young Men's Christian Association.

"The incident discussed here served to remain again of the painfully unjust and shamefully un-Christian policy of racial segregation which all but one of the YMCAs in our city maintain, even while privately owned hotels and motels are opening their facilities to all people. I still hope and firmly believe that an organization like the YMCA can lead the community in such progress, and so grow to become what its high and noble purpose calls it to be.

"At a time when our city has decided not to open the public pools again this summer, it is not possible, and even necessary, that the Young Men's Christian Association open its facilities to everyone on a nondiscriminatory basis, and so help to point the way toward a new Memphis, where the barriers between black people and white people will be broken down and all people will work together to build a city of love and understanding."

Memphis Trio Off To Africa

Dean And Student From LeMoyne And Howard U. Coed Making Long Journey

Lionel A. Arnold, dean of LeMoyne, and Miss Varnell E. Logan of 1612 South Third, a senior at the college, left Memphis early this week for New York City where they are joining 300 other participants in Operation Crossroads Africa.

Dean Arnold will be the leader of a group of 13 students scheduled to go the Tigre Province in Ethiopia.

Miss Logan will be among a group of students going to Sierra Leone in West Africa

Operation Crossroads Africa is a project enabling students to work, play and live with African students during the summer months.

Both left Memphis Monday, Dean Arnold by plane and Miss Logan by train. Miss Logan was traveling with Miss Beverly Williams, a Memphis coed at Howard University who also is participating in the project.

All students participating in the project were required to raise a portion of their expenses.

Members of the project are due back in New York the latter part of August.

Mrs. Etta Varnado Is Laid To Rest

Funeral services were held from Metropolitan Baptist Church Wednesday of last week for Mrs. Etta C. Varnado, wife of the Rev. W. L. Varnado, retired minister of Cummings Street Baptist Church. Burial was in Elmwood with T. H. Hayes and Sons in charge of arrangements. Officiating was the Rev. S. A. Owen, pastor of Metropolitan.

Mrs. Varnado, who had been ill several years, continued her membership at Metropolitan even though her husband pastored many years at Salem Baptist and later at Cummings Street.

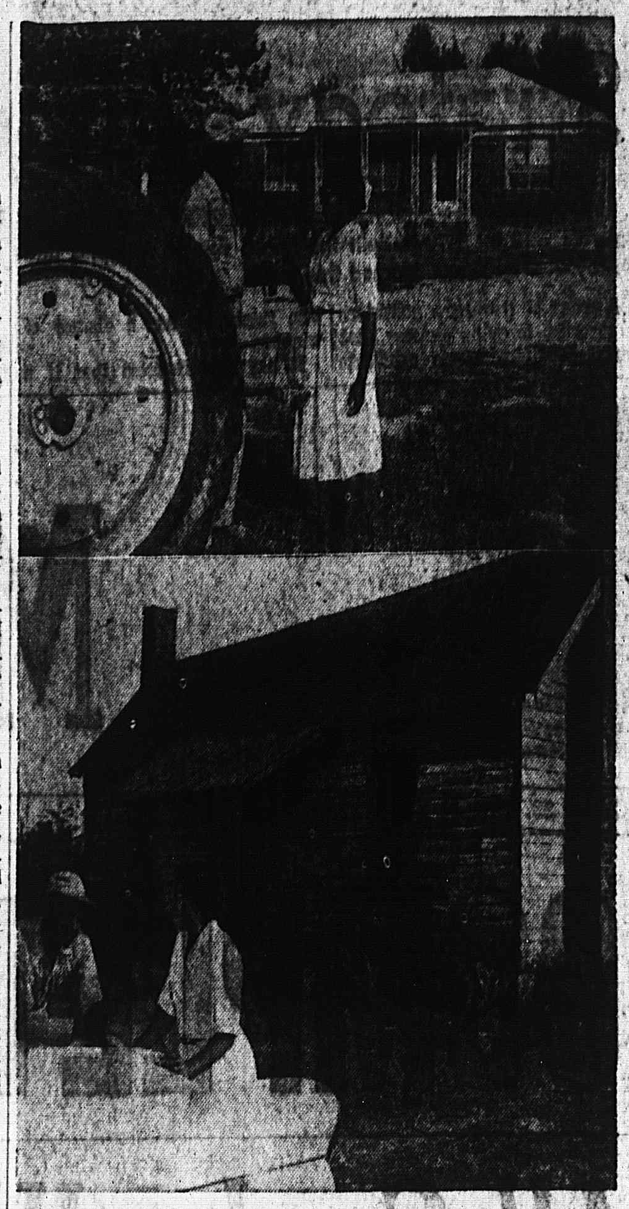
The 85-year-old Rev. Mr. Varnado was retired in December of 1962 after 59 years in the ministry.

He and Mrs. Varnado were honored on their golden anniversary Feb. 23, 1962.

There are five Varnado children -- Mrs. Lillian V. Watkins of Montgomery, Ala.; Mrs. Doris V. Conie of Jackson, Miss.; Mrs. Pearl V. Crawford of Meridian, Miss.; Mrs. Ernestine V. Guy of Memphis and Willie C. Varnado of Detroit, Mich.

Honorary pallbearers were members of the Baptist Ministerial Alliance.

Active pallbearers were the Revs. H. C. Nabrit, T. H. Hammond, E. Waller, R. W. Norsworthy, J. L. Netters, E. H. Johnson, C. Burg and Charles L. Dinkins.



LONG STRIDE TO BETTER HOME — Mr. and Mrs. John Hobbs of Nesbit, Miss., near Memphis, have made a long stride from the shabby house at bottom to the modern home above during the past 18 years. A Farmers Home Administration loan to be repaid by the family's sound farming program made the new home possible. Last year Farmers Home made 13,300 housing loans to farm and other rural families. — (USDA Photo)

Farm Family Of 12 Near Here Making Big Strides

From cotton sharecropping to ownership of a diversified farm, from a shabby dwelling to a modern brick home is the long stride that John Hobbs and his family have made since he was mustered out of the Army 18 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobbs and their 10 children now live on a 311-acre farm near Nesbit, Miss., about 30 miles south of Memphis. And when they are not busy with their crops and livestock, they are waxing floors, polishing furniture, and generally sprucing up their new home, says their home demonstration agent, Mrs. Graftie M. Randle.

However, until three years ago, the family lived in an old run-down house that no amount of sweeping and scrubbing and dusting and even papering could improve very much, the home agent continues.

Then the Hobbses applied to the Farmers Home Administration for a loan to build a new home. The loan was approved and the home was built. "Moving into our new home was like moving into a new world", Mrs. Hobbs recalls.

Last year Farmers Home made 13,300 similar loans to farm and other rural families. While most built new homes, many repaired and modernized their old ones, Farmers Home officials explain.

The four-bedroom home of the Hobbs family was built at a cost of $7,800. They have been doubling up on their notes to speed up repayment of the 33-year loan.

The larger payments are made possible by the family's sound farming program. Last year they produced and harvested mostly by themselves 70 bales of cotton on 61 acres, 900 bushels of soybeans on 30 acres, and nearly 1,000 bushels of corn on 10 acres. In addition they sold 12 head of beef cattle from their herd, about 300 dozen eggs, and vegetables week by week off a four-acre plot. And three times a day the table is set for 12 who are served foods that come right out of their garden and home freezer.

Growing their own food, diversifying their farm, and following sound management practices result from Mr. Hobbs' early training as a 4-H'er. County Agent Charles H. Fletcher points out. In the county 26 years, the agent has seen Mr. Hobbs grow up from a teen-ager with small project plots to a man owning and managing a well-rounded farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobbs married in 1942 and began sharecropping. Within a year or two he was off

Poverty In City Hit By Grider

Widespread poverty in Memphis and the nation is costing governments and individuals fortues in extra taxes and loss of sales George Grider, candidate for Congress, declared this week.

"Victory over poverty could bring as much as $140 million to the local economy, reduce the tax burden on citizens by creating new wag earners to share the load and blast forever the lies of international communism," Mr. Grider said.

Basic cause of poverty in Memphis, Grider said, is not unemployment but the lack of quality jobs. "Over six per cent of our labor force is household help. The national average is 2.7 per cent. The average Memphis family earns $4,900 a year, way below the national average of $6,400 per family. Memphis has more than one - fourth of its families classed as poverty stricken, much more than the national level, even though our unemploymet record is good."

What Memphis must have, Mr. Grider said, is more industry to provide jobs with wages above the poverty line supported by better education to train workers to fill the higher-level jobs.

GAY GOINGS ONS of the "Capital Press Club" in Washington last week were pleasant. So lively was the week - end that it might well have been passed for Christmas .. and so lovely were the many festive parties (that most of the many people who attended the CAPITAL PRESS CLUB'S TWENTY- FIRST CELEBRATION) that most people did not have time to catch their breath .... But the greatest thing about the celebration were the many high and timely tributes paid Heroes who have given their lives and Leaders who have given freely of themselves to help others and this great country, the United States of America .... Going up to the Nation's Capital last weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Whittier Sengstacke (he General Manager of the Tri - State Defender) .... and "Your Columnist."

CAPITAL PRESS CLUB PAYS TRIBUTE AND RESPECT TO THE LATE PRESIDENT JOHN F. KENNEDY AND MEDGAR EVERS

The Honorable Robert Kennedy And The Honorable Carl Rowan and A. Phillip Radolph Receive Distinguished Service Awards ....

Many Newsmen, Statesmen and Community Leaders went to Washingto, D. C. last week -ed to see leaders receive awards for outstanding work .... and to hear the many tributes paid the late and Honorable Late President John F. Kennedy and the brave eminent Medgar Evers who both gave their lives that America might be a better place to live .... and immediately after the Luncheon on Saturday visitors took buses from the swanky International Inn (where all activities were held) for the WREATH LAYING CEREMONIES AT THE GRAVES OF John F. Kennedy and Medgar W. Evers .... It was here that Mrs. Medgar Evers was first seen as she stood bravely at her late husband's grave - side.

THE HONORABLE HUBERT H. HUMPHREY AND JACOB K. JAVITS ARE PRINCIPAL SPEAKERS

The Honorable Jacob Javits, Senator from California, was first of the principal speakers to talk .. .. and he re - emphasized "Equal Justice under the Law for All" .... Minnesota's Senator of Minnesota spoke thanking first the people for the fine program dedicated to the memory and honor of our late President Kennedy and Medgar Evers who gave their lives for freedom .. Mr. Humphrey continued "We have been living in an exciting year when we have seen the relationship between Peace and Human Dignity What we have done has been our duty .. ..and we are two -hundred years late. He paid tribute to those who struck the first blow for Civil Rights .... to great Religious Leaders and organizations who examined our consciousness and made us decide to be better and face a moral obligation .... and to seventy -one of the one - hundred senators who respoded last week." Mr. Humphrey ended his masterful talk .... repeating the words, Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness .... saying that to bring equal justice gives a fullness that comes when people can live their life. The sick, poor and delinquents are all victims of an attitude. However, he added education will no longer be a promise but a reality.

AWARDS ARE RECEIVED

Receiving Awards for outstanding contributions to our great Nation were The Honorable Robert Kenedy, Attorney General .... The Hoorable Carl T. Rowan, Director of the United States Information Agency and former Ambassador .. the eminent A. Phillip Randolph who directed the March on Washington and a man who has stood out as a leader for many years .... Awards for Distinguished Services went to all three.

Others receiving awards were Irene Beckwith .... Ruby Hurley, Atlanta Lawyers and Director of the Southern Division of NAACP .... who received the "Medgar Evers Civil Rights Award at which time Mrs. Medgar Evers was also represented .... and the attractive young Mississippi matron spoke beautifully out of deep humility and pride .... Sidney Poitier received the Human Relations Award and sharing honors of receiving the same awards were George C. Scott and Cicely Tyson of the East Side West Side Story.

Ralph McGill of the Atlanta Constitution received an award for Journalism Service .... James Baldwin for Journalism Achievement .... Walter Cronkite for Journalism Excellence .. and it was at this time that a Washington, D. C. high school graduate was presented the John F. Kennedy Scholarship.

Among leaders receiving awards were Whitney Young, Director of The National Urban League .... Roy Wilkins, Executive Secretary of the NAACP .... James Farmer of CORE .... Martin Luther King (who was unable to attend) .... John Lewis, Walter Reuther .... Adam Clayton Powell, Jr. and Gloria Richardson.

SENATOR KENNEDY AND DIRECTOR (USIA) CARL ROWAN SPEAK

The youthful Senator Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts received a standing ovation as he entered a bit after the program had started .. He spoke after receiving the award for his brother, The Honorable Robert Kennedy, Attorney General whom he said has done much to fight bias feelings. One, he added, never questions his interests. The young senator, whose voice was exactly like that of the late president said that it has been an honor and privilege to work with the many dedicated men.

The Honorable Carl T. Rowan, who appointed Ambassador to Finland by the late President Kennedy, spoke saying that he accepted the award with a feeling of guilt .... even though he said he has never been accused of having a feeling of modesty. He mentioned two kinds of people that his grandmother always told him about .... "Those who do great things" and Those who take the credit for having done great things. "Her advice to him was to always try to be in the first class because it is less crowded. The Honorable Mr. Rowan, who is a native of Tennessee, spoke of his early life in Tennessee, as a boy .... when he then tried to live up to whatever was noble. The new Director of the United States Information Agency (that interprets this nation to the rest of the world) is also an author whose most outstanding book is The Pitiful And The Proud, a book written about Asia .... and in the Author's Note he spoke of Loyalty .. saying that he believed that the Western white man can find a greater loyalty to truth, justice and liberty than to his Anglo - Saxon heritage. Mr. Rowan ended his brilliant talk paying high tribute to Preisdent Kennedy and Medgar Evers as he called them Lamps of Freedom that have been caused to burn so much more freely by men like President Kennedy and Medgar Evers whom he said we can all be proud of.

SPEAKERS TABLE

Among the many seated at the Speaker's Table with the recipients were The Honorable Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman and Mrs. Freeman .... the very attractive and petite Mrs. Carl Rowan .. the attractive and Internationally know Mrs. Claude Barnett who was presented from the Speaker's Table as wife of the Director of the Associated Negro Press (Ettie Moten) in private life .... Mr. Howard Jenkins, Jr. of the National Labor Relations Board .... and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace H. Terry, II, the Club President who received the Distinguished Service Award from President Lyndon B. Johnson for 1963.

Recognized in the audience by the President of the Capital Press Club were Harry, Sykes, Louis Martin, Dr. and Mrs. John Hope, Daisy Bates of Little Rock and former Memphian .... Judge and Mrs. Arthur Fisher of Dayton, Atty. W. Billingsley of Birmingham .. Atty. Grant Reynolds .... Church Stone .. Sherman Briscoe of the U. S. Department of Agriculture .... A. Montague Cobb .... Percy Green of the Jackson, Mississippi Advocate ... Moss Kendrix who served the luncheon as he always does .... giving his best .... and with Mr. Kendrix was his young son who is assisting him with Coca Cola.

MORNING SPEAKERS

Of the speakers for the morning session, we all heard and enjoyed Clarence Mitchell, Jr. Grant Reynolds, Cnuck Stone, editor of the Chicago Daily Defender G James Flemmings, President of Morgan College ... and we missed A. Phillip Randolph who was scheduled to speak, but was unable to attend.

CAPITAL PRESS CLUB MEMBERS NOTICED

Of the many Capital Press Club noticed in the audience or those names we heard but failed to see in the crowd were Sherman Briscoe, Alice Dunnigan, O. Rudolph Aggrey, son of a native Nigerian on loan to the State Department and a very dear friend to my husband .. Percy Green, Damond Henry of the Embassy of Jamaica, Moss Kendrik, Charles A. Lewis of the United States Information Agency; Gerri Major of Johnson Publications .... George Murphy of the Afro .. Ethel Payne of the Democratic National Committee; George Ready of the White House .... Carl Rowan, Maurice Sorrell of Johnson Publications .."Chuck' Stone of the Defender Publications ..Tomlinson D. Todd of the D. C. Public School System .... J. Hugh Warren of the Observer N.. Samuel Yette of the Peace Corps .... Irene Beckwith, Malcolm F. Wise member of the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity.

SOCIALS

Social activities included a Luncheon given by Coca Cola with Moss Kendrix as host .... a Beautiful Cocktail Party around a dome shaped swimming pool that has a movable top for evening events .. and a Banquet that had a strange combination of simplicity and elegance that added to the beauty of the very fashioably dressed crowd .... and all affairs were given at the International where meetnigs were held .... and where most of the guests were guests (as the Sengstackes were from Memphis).

Among the many old friends and acquaintances that "Your Columnist" saw and talked with were Dr. Millard Dean (related to my God-Father Dr. W. B. Woods and the Sugarmons whose name appeared on the printed program as a patron .... Daisy Bates who was eager to hear about friends in Memphis .... Mr. Garland Pinkston, Washington business man with whom I was graduated from College with .... and his beautiful wife .... U. S. Marshall Luke Moore who sent his best to Memphians (especially Elder Blair T. Hunt who befriended him in high school and Rev. Eddie Currie) .... Mrs. Claude Barnett, mother of Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Ish of Memphis .... Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Rolark (he in charge of the tour to Arlington Cemetery) It so happnes that Mr. Rolark (he in charge of the tour to Arlington Cemetery) It so happens that Mr. Rolark, who has a paper of his own in D. C. was once with the Memphis World .. ..and both he and his charming wife (Wilhelmina, a D. C. Lawyer) extended many courtesies .... Whitney Young, often in the area .... Grant Reyolds who is a close friend to Dr. and Mrs. Leland Atkins, Mr. and Mrs. A. Maceo Walker and Mrs. Johnetta Kelso Hozay .... Dennis Akey of the USIA and Sherman Briscoe who holds a position that the late L. O. Swingler turned down to remain in the Newspaper world .... and Mrs. Medgar Evers who sent her best to Memphis friends .... especially to Dr. and Mrs. V. Smith who were with her at the time of their tragedy — Scores of newsmen asked about Emory Jackson Editor of the Birmingham World, who always represents the Scott Newspaper Syndicate.

In Washington, D. C. last weekend, I was house guest of a cousin who often visits us here, Miss PHILOMEME KIRK of Wichita, Kansas who went to Washington last year to take a course for Graduate Nurses at Washington University. She is now a nurse (R. N.) at Provident Catholic Hospital in the Nation's Capital .... and is in surgery .. In spite of our tight schedule, we drove cut to see my sister -in-law, Mrs. Robbie Thompson who was out .... and called Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Eiland who entertained for me lavishly last year when I was married at the Shorsham Hotel. I also missed the Eilands who were attended a Real Estate Board party .... Incidentally Mr. Eiland has been named a member of the D. C. Real Estate Board .... and I did talk with Mrs. Leslie Johnson Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Johnson and cousin to my husband who was going out on their Cabin Cruiser Sunday morning .... insisting that I go ..

On back home through Nashville, I spent a few minutes with relatives, Dr. and Mrs. Horace Frazier. He was walking out with his robe in his hand for Meharry's graduation when I walked in .... Mrs. Frazier and her mother Mrs. Robert Fields (whom I was shocked to see as I entered) were walking out to get help for a big party that Dr. and Mrs. Frazier always give after graduation .... Went across the street for one minute to see Rosemary (Dr. and Mrs. Jack Lewis, friends to many of you) .. and there is surely a pretty modern spot in Haynes Heights .... with pale yellow pure silk covers on all living room furniture .... yellow carpet (pale) against white walls and tall lipstick red chairs in the dining area providing a contrast and taking the eye as we entered .... The Lewises were also having a party for visitors who came to Meharry's graduation.

MRS. HAROLD SMITH AND MRS. ALMA HOWARD ENTERTAIN RETIRED TEACHERS AND A SOCIAL WORKER

One of the prettiest parties of the early summer season was one given by Mrs. Harold Smith and her sister, Mrs. Alma Howard complimenting friends who retired from positions, Mrs. Willette Humphrey from the Department of Public Welfare .. Mrs. Verna Meekins, Miss Isabl Greenlee and Mrs.. Omega Shelto who retired from the Memphis City School System. The elaborately planned steak dinner was served family style and in courses .... with a vivid colored banquet centering a long table overlaid with a white Damask cloth .... and lovely china and silver. The Luncheon was served at the residence of one of Memphis's newest caterers. Mrs. Larcenia Cain at her beautiful home.

Guests of the evening were Mrs. Emitt Megand, Mrs. John Outlaw, Mrs. B. T. Johnson, Mrs. Grace Collins Brandon, Mrs. Lettye Irvin ad Jewel Gentry Hulbert .... all who also had place cards with a tiny rocking chair.

The two charming hostesses (who sat at opposite ends of the long table) received and chatted with each guest .... and presented gifts

Walter Hall Gets Kalamazoo Degree

KALAMAZOO, Mich. — Walter Lawrence Hall, son of Mrs. Ann L. Weathers, 666 Pontotoc Ave., Memphis ,and William F. Hall, Jr., Detroit, was graduated from Kalamazoo College, June 14. He was among 157 seniors receiving bachelor of arts degrees.

Hall, a psychology major, plans to enter graduate school this fall. For his senior project, Hall was engaged in work at the Wayne County General Hospital in Eloise, Mich.

At Kalamazoo, Hall was a member of the Drama Club, College Players, participated in intramural sports, played baseball, basketball and was a member of the K Club. He was disk jockey and station manager for the campus radio station, served as president and secretary of the Century Forum Men's Society, participated in the Showboat production, and was president of the Inter-Society Council. He also was a member of the Psychology Club.

Hall has taken part in several phases of the Kalamazoo Plan for Year-Around Education inaugurated in 1961. Operating on a four-quarter system, the college provides students the opportunity to gain work experience through a Career Service Quarter; to study abroad for six months at no increase in tuition or fees, and to engage in independent study during a senior off-campus thesis research quarter. Under this new program, vacation periods are staggered for both faculty and students.

Scranton Gets Boost From Rockefeller

Eleventh-hour Republican presidential hopeful William W. Scranton received a tremendous boost this week when New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller decided to pull out of the race in the Pennsylvanian's favor.

Although time and arithmetic appear to be in Sen. Barry Goldwater's favor, support from Rockefeller backers and Henry Cabot Lodge delegates could quite possibly swell Scranton delegate strength to a fighting nucleus of over 300, and allow for a wide open GOP convention in San Francisco.

Gov. Scranton's last-minute effort to head off the odds-on-favorite candidacy of conservative Sen. Goldwater's drive for nomination is a healthy development and will give the delegates to the convention a clear-cut choice between directly opposed philosophies on how best to solve our domestic and international issues.

The Invoking Of Cloture In Senate On Civil Rights An Historic Act.

The invoking of cloture Wednesday in the Senate, which ended a futile and wasteful filibuster conducted by Southern Democrats, will meet with approval of the great majority of Americans of both major races, we believe.

The members of the Senate had been discussing the civil rights bill for almost three months and it had long became clear that all pertinent discussion about the bills had been done. It had become clear that the talk was merely an attempt by those who opposed the measures to kill time and to avoid a vote on them.

The 71 to 29 vote to cut off discussion so a vote on the merits of the bills could be held, gave the sponsors more than the two-thirds majority necessary to bring a discussion to a close. It is the first time in the history of the Senate that this action has been taken regarding the Civil Rights issue. It also shows that the measures have true support by a majority of the senate members of both the Democratic and Republican parties. This is good because we do not like to see either of the major political parties making capital out of an issue which is racial or religious.

The action is significant also in the fact that all 100 senators partcipated in the voting. Approving were 44 Democrats and 27 Republicans; Opposing were 23 Democrats and 6 Republicans. Per centage wise, a fraction over 80 percent of the Republicans voted for cloture in compraison with 65 and a fraction over percent of the Democrats.

It is generally conceded, even by opponents, that the pending rgihts bills, which have already passed the House, will in a matter of days pass the Senate and thereafter be signed by the President.

When this is done, the laws of the Nation will be brought more in line with the court decisions and Executive actions aimed at eliminating discriminaton based on race where essental rights are concerned.

Passage of the laws will eliminate some of the friction which is existing between the races and will put our Nation in a better position to give world leadership.

Goldwater Hit By Chicago GOP Leader

CHICAGO — (ANP) — The Republican Party must repudiate Barry Goldwater or run the risk of being torn asunder by a "dangerous" man who has rejected the principles of Republicanism.

That was the warning sounded last week by Dr. F. D. Moore, a Chicago dentist who has voted Republican "all of my adult life." Dr. Moore asked:

"How has America managed to fail its people so in the field of education and religion, that a large segment of the population falls for the blandishments of Barry Goldwater as the presidential nominee of the Republican Party?

"He would tear it asunder hopelessly, and if the Republican Party does not have the wisdom and the strength and moral courage to rid itself of the threat of a Goldwater and his ilk, it deserves to die — to disappear from the American scene even as the Whigs did when the Republican party rose as a phoenix from its ashes."

Dr. Moore's blast at the Arizona Senator came as party leaders, aware of Goldwater's growing strength, sought to project a more moderate image of the outspoken conservative.

Following Goldwater's close victory over New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller in the California primary, Dr. Moore declared:

"The idea pushes through to the foreground that the shadow that Goldwater casts on the national and international scenes is more ominous and foreboding than the man himself.

"It is almost inconceivable that Americans of good will and soundmind - voters would elect a man like Barry Goldwater to the presidency of the United States."

Goldwater's opposition to the Civil Rights Bill puts him in the class with Governor Wallace of Alabama — "only Wallace is the more honest," Dr. Moore said.

Dr. Moore, who has been an outspoken critic of Goldwater in the past few months, is founder and president of the Free Elections Foundations, a non - partisan Chicago civil rights organization concerned in "obtaining the vote for Negroes in the South and promoting intelligent use of the vote by Negroes in the North."

The Chicago dentist became active in Republican politics as a precinct captain in Chicago's 20th ward in the mid 40s. He served as executive vice chairman of Friends of Ike, a branch of the Illinois Citizens for Eisenhower Committee, during President Eisenhower's campaign.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Few Present For Vote On Cloture

WASHINGTON — (NNPA) — Few dark-skinned spectators were on hand in the public gallery last Wednesday when the Senate voted to clamp the lid on the civil rights filibuster.

Shortly before the historic moment, not more than a dozen non-whites were seen among the half-thousand or so persons — mostly tourists — who awaited the outcome in hushed silence.

Clearly visible were Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, and Clarence Mitchell, NAACP Washington bureau chief. Only three colored reporters (Adolph Slaughter, ANP; Rosemarie Brooks, Chicago Defender; and Dan Day, NNPA, filled seats among the 100-plus newsmen in the press gallery.

Observing this, a curious wire-service reporter button-holed the nearest non-white spectator and asked: "Where are the colored people today? Aren't they interested in what the Senators are doing?"

Back came his answer: "This is their day. We've had our day in the streets of Montgomery, Birmingham, Jackson, Cambridge and St. Augustine."

ONLY 65 NON-WHITES appeared for the Foreign Service and USIA examinations given last Mar. 7 by the State Department at sites throughout the country. This compares unfavorably with the 189 colored candidates who took the tests last year.

On Dec. 5, 1964, the examinations will again be offered. Qualified young people are being urged by William J. Crockett, State's personnel chief, and his principal assistant, Richard K. Fox, to apply for them.

Except for political appointments, this is the only route to officer career positions in the Diplomatic service.

DR. JEANNE L. NOBLE, 36 (and single), an associate professor at New York University, is the latest addition to Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver's anti-poverty staff of volunteers. She will plan for the enrollment of thousands of underprivileged girls in home-making and vocational centers proposed in the poverty legislation now before Congress.

Mr. Shriver introduced the attractive Dr. Noble at a press conference Thursday as "one of the most distinguished experts in the country on the needs of culturally-deprived young women."

A former president of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Dr. Noble was recently appointed as a member of the Commission on Presidential Scholars. She has been active in community affairs in Harlem and served as a consultant and board member on major community projects.

DR. ADELAIDE C. HILL, research associate of the African Studies Program at Boston University, is the newest member of the Agency for International Development's Committee on Voluntary Foreign Aid. She appeared at her first committee meeting in the State Department June 9, Tuesday.

USIA DIRECTOR Carl T. Rowan was a special guest at the American Bookseller's Association's convention which closed Wednesday at the Shoreham Hotel. Among the exhibitors: Johnson Publishing Co., represented by Mrs. Doris Saunders, book division director.

ROBERT W. KITCHEN, director, Office of International Training for the Agency for International Development, is the sole colored person among 60 members of four top committees organized to lay plans for the International Rural Development Conference to be held in Washington, July 27-28.

WALLACE H. TERRY, 2nd, former Wasnington Post reporter and now with Time-Life, was installed June 13 to succeed himself as president of the Capital Press Club, only national organization of newsmen in the colored and general press press covering civil rights.

THIS ONE is making the rounds in Washington: A white reporter, seeking the location of Mrs. Lady Bird Johnson's Alabama farm, stopped an elderly colored gentleman and asked him, "How do I get to the property of the President of the United States?"

"What's that?" the local man inquired.

"How do I get to the Johnson property—he's President of the United States?" the reporter said.

as Senator Goldwater's now that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has bowed out of the race and thrown his support behind the Pennsylvania governor.

"When there are only two in a race, the usual thing is that one wins and one loses," he said. "A very strong possibility is one of these two will be nominated with Goldwater the favorit."

Nixon said nothing, however, to discount the possibility of a comprmise nominee if the convention deadlocks.

He also said that he believed that the Republican nominee would have a good chance of beating President Johnson.

"(The polls were wrong in New Hampshire, Oregon and California and we're going to try to make them wrong in November," he said. "I would point out that he Johnson is not unbeatable."

The major issue in the campaign, Nixon said, should be foreign policy.

moved from Capleville to Mason-Pleasant Grove, and the Rev. J. W Lawrence is going to Capleville from Mason-Pleasant Grove.

The Rev. E. L. Easley was shifted from Jackson to the Martin Parish.

Another unexpected change will see the Rev. C. E. Young going from Golden in Walker Homes to Lebanon. The Rev. D. W. Simmons is being shifted from Lebanon to Golden.

A new appointment saw the Rev. J. S. Scott go to Mays-Tigrett.

Returning to their puplits are the Reverends James M. Lawson, Jr., of Centenary, Jesse Harvey of Alamo-Hudson, Frank Holmes of Cedar Grove Circuit, Bryant Walker of CliftonWaynesboro, L. C. Teague of Dyersburg Circuit, E. S. Anderson of Lawrenceburg, Martin Crockett of Lexington Circuit, J. H. Gardner of Lucy Circuit, J. A. Rogers of Mansfield, C. J. Reed of Bethel, Nathaniel Smith of Paris-Dover, and I. E. White of Selmer-Bethel Springs Circuit.

The 98th session of the Tennessee Conference was held at Bethel in Binghampton of which Rev. Mr. Reed is pastor.

The Rev. H. H. Jones is superintendent of the Memphis District. Superintendent of the Nashville District is the Rev. D. M. Grisham.

The Conference meets next year at John Wesley in Nashville.

MISS PORTIA SCOTT received her degree in Journalism from Howard University this year. Portia is the attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Scott (The Managing Editor of the Scott Newspaper Syndicate and Editor for more than twenty-five years of America's only Negro Daily Paper) that is still going strong as a daily. Portia follows a pattern as many of the Scotts had degrees in Journalism. The most recent to receive a degree before Portia was Stanley Scott who received a journalistic degree from Lincoln University . . . having also studied in Journalism at Kansas University. Portia's father, Mr. Scott also attend the School of Journalism at Kansas University after he was graduated from Morehouse College.

DR. AND MRS. LENALD ATKINS again this year attended the Chicagoan fabulous affairs given every year by the swanky members. The Memphis couple, invited up by their uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. Maurice Gleason, had a suite next to theirs at the Chalet Motel and Inn just out of Milwaukee where all of the affairs were held . . . with the exception of the President's Ball given by Mr. and Mrs. Baxter Collier at the swanky new Continental Hotel in Chicago.

Mrs. Collier, who hails from Nashville, but who is now prominent in Real Estate in Chicago, has a elegant and spacious suite that was opened up for dancing with a band . . . All invited guests and Chicagoans and their wives spent all Friday evening, Saturday and Sunday on Chalet Lake. Checks were picked up for all of the guests . . . and so was the cost of their suites. Breakfast (and a very special one) was on Chalet Proper . . . Saturday night The Dinning-Dancing Party was the most according to guests . . . but Friday night was one that could not be forgotten either . . . Coming to Memphis for a few days with the Atkins was their aunt, MRS. MAURICE GLEASON, a brilliant, unassuming woman of charm whose is a friendly, kind person who makes you immediately feel at ease . . . and her feeling of affection and pride in her family is contagious. Modestly, she would rather talk about her husband who is a prominent physician in Chicago. . .

But Mrs. Gleason holds a Ph. D. degree in Library Science and she and Dr. Gleason have made tours around the world twice . . . making many other trips to Europe, Africa and South America. This Spring the couple went to the Virgin Islands.

Word comes to Memphis that MRS. ERNESS BRIGH BRODY, daughter of Mrs. Maud Bright and the late Rev. E. E. Bright, has been appointed as Lecturer with the rank of Assistant Professor at Rutgers College, New Brunkwick Mrs. Brody will begin her new position in September. Erness is Married to Dr. Nathan Brody who also is a professor at Rutger College and the New School of Social Work in New York City.

MR. AND MRS. ATKINS were in town from their home in Phoenix last week. . . and were the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ratcliff. Jack, who taught at LeMoyne and was football coach there for years making a brilliant record as a coach, was sought after. Friends went around to find where he was stopping. With the Atkins was their pretty little 5-year-old daughter.

WALTER GIBSON, JR. is now Dr. Walter Gibson . . . having received his medical degree from Meharry Monday. We passed Meharry just after graduation and who were the first to be seen but Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Gibson, Young Dr. Gibson's parents and his wife's family.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE ISABEL had a double dose . . . their daughter, Josephine is now Dr. Josephine Isabel and is the third woman doctor around Memphis . . counting Alma Miller who is away and Dr. Clara Brawner. The Isabel's son-in-law, LeRoy Thompson also graduated Monday from Meharry and is now Dr. Thompson.

John Harden, Businessman, Minister, Fatally Stricken

ATLANTA, Ga.—(SNS)—Death claimed Atlanta's well-known and well-liked businessman, minister and community leader John H. Harden early Tuesday evening. Death came suddenly, unexpectedly.

Mr. Harden, employees said, left his filling station business on Auburn Ave. about 6:30 Tuesday evening to view the body of a friend, Jesse Jackson, at the Moreland Funeral Home. Mrs. Harden accompanied him. Mr. Jackson, reportedly, had died Sunday of a heart attack.

Mr. Harden himself was stricken with a heart attack on the visit to the Jackson home and was rushed to Grady Hospital. The attack was fatal.

It was difficult to get many details immediately. Mrs. Harden was grief stricken and there are no children in the marriage. His body was removed to the Haugabrooks Funeral Home.

REV. JOHN HARDEN

Mr. Harden was a native of Griffin in Spalding County. For over 30 years he has operated the filling station, now located on Auburn Ave. and at one time was an owner of the celebrated baseball team, the Atlanta Black Crackers.

Mr. Harden was also a minister of the gospel, having been ordained a few years ago. He pastored the Henry St. Church of God.

Funeral services are incomplete. It is understood that he is survived by several relatives.

Mr. Harden is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Mable Good and family of Tennessee Ave., and Mrs. Henrietta Gross of Hickory St., both of Chattanooga, Tenn.

the views that have been uttered by the present frontrunner," he declared.

"A small but vocal minority too often has made our party sound naive, irresponsible, reactionary and heartless .... the outlandish proposals that have come from the camp of the present frontrunner-particularly in the field of foreign affairs — are not real alternatives to the Johnson administration. They are mere echoes of despair."

SEEKS NOVEMBER VICTORY

Scranton, who announced his candidacy for the GOP nomination June 12 in Baltimore, referred to Goldwater only once by name.

"Somebody asked me yesterday whether my candidacy was the beginning of a stop Goldwater movement," he said. "My answer is this a movement to win in November."

A crowd of about 200 persons waited in a light rain at the airport to greet Scranton on his arrival here from Pennsylvania. A middle - aged Girl Scout leader grasped his hand and said, "I've got something to vote for now, governor."

"I'm out to tell the voters of the United States that we must have a separate choice," Scranton declared at an airport news conference. "I consider my candidacy for the Republican nomination an uphill fight."

In his convention speech later, Scranton said the Johnson administration is "only marking time ... it is not moving America forward. It should and can be turned out of office if the Republican party first gets its own house in order."

"STRONG, VIBRANT MAJORITY"

He urged fellow Republicans to change from a "whipped and sullen minority" to a "strong and vibrant majority." In another reference to Goldwater, he added:

"Because of the havoc that has been spread across the national landscape, the Republican party wonders how it will make clear to the American people that it does not oppose Social Security, the United Nations, human rights and a sane nuclear policy."

Scranton said at the airport that Goldwater's vote against cloture on the civil rights bill this week "had a lot to do" with his announcement that he was seeking the GOP presidential nomination.

The Connecticut convention opened Friday night. Rhode Island Gov. John H. Chafee, the keynote speaker endorsed Scranton's candidacy.

CRITICIZES ADMINISTRATION

Criticizing the administration's policies at home and abroad, Scranton decared that "the federal government has become paternalistic enough to interfere with private initiative, but not imaginative enough to propose truly new solutions."

He said the government was "not honest enough to admit that it has been unable to live up to its own slogans."

Turning to the GOP Scranton said:

"It is a fact that too many of those in the highest councils of the present frontrunning candidate have made it a rather poorly kept secret that they plan if successful at the convention, to write off the very states our party must carry to win.

"It is a fact that in too many instances candidates who must run with our presidential standard - bearer this fall have already begun, as a matter of survival to plan campaigns for themselves independent of the national ticket."

taken earlier this year at the General Conference which met in Pittsburgh. At that time it became the avowed policy of the Methodist Church to effect ultimately the dissolution of the Central Jurisdiction as one step toward achieving a truly inclusive Methodist Church.

White conferences of the Methodist church must also approve merger of Negro and white conferences before a definite timetable can be established.

The two Negro conferences in Mississippi have approved merger plans.

The Central Jurisdiction was established more than 30 years ago when southern Methodists merged with northern Methodists.

MY WEEKLY SERMON

By

REV. BLAIR T. HUNT,

PASTOR,

MISSISSIPPI BLVD. CHRISTIAN CHURCH

I DARE YOU TRUST GOD

TEX: "JESUS SAID UNTO THEM HAVE FAITH IN GOD." — MARK 11:22.

"TRUST IN THE LORD JEHOVAH FOREVER FOR IN THE LORD JEHOVAH IS EVERLASTING STRENGTH."—ISAIAH 26:4.

Graduation season brought to me 32 invitations from my youthful friends on the eve of their graduation. I purchased 32 little volumes titled "I Dare You" by Danforth as graduation gifts. The table of contents read: "I Dare You To Be Strong," "I Dare You To Share," "I Dare You Build Character" and ten other "I Dare You." I wish Danforth had an added "dare'—I "I Dare You Trust God." I think he omitted the most important "dare."

Now I dare scribble a brief sermonette titled "I Dare You Trust God." To young and old alike, I hurl a challenge "I Dare You Trust God."

My beloved, reason can go so far and no farther. We must have faith. Everyday we live we act on faith. When we board a plane we dare have faith in the pilot. When we enter the hospital for surgery, we have faith in the surgeon and the nurses. When the druggist fills our prescription we trust the pharmacist. We entrust ourselves to somebody. We can't be a person alone.

The Bible makes it crystal clear that in the spiritual realm we must have faith; we must trust God. Every Christian walks by faith, not by sight. Jesus says "all things are possible: "only believe." Everybody has faith; we are born with it. Life depends on where we place our faith. To be on solid ground and not on shifting sand we must deposit our faith in God, He who made heaven and earth.

God through his prophets and through his only begotten Son, implores us, begs us to place our faith in Him. Human beings are fallible; God is infallible. "O taste and see that God is good." In my life and in the lives of others I have seen faith vindicated. Jesus had faith and he was able to say "I have overcome the world." The Bible is honeycombed with vindications of trust in God. Job of antiquity cried out "Though He slay me, yet will I trust Him." Faith and trust are synonomous.

I dare you acquaint yourself with the Bible. The Bible acquaints us with God, his nature, his power, his love, a love that was nailed to the cross, a love that death and the grave could not conquer. Study God's word and your trust in God will be strengthened. I dare you try it.

Exercise your faith, your trust. If I fail to exercise, to use my legs, they will become weak and at last useless. Exercise faith in your problems. We all have problems. Life is a terrific problem. It is terror-filling to be a man or a woman with life's impulses, drives and appetites. When we would do good, evil is always present. It is dangerous to be alive. In our poverty, sickness, bereavement, in all troubles we dare to trust God. Put faith to work. James says: "Faith unless it has deeds is dead in itself." Don't put God's business in man's puny hands, then you are taking God's work out of God's hands. All resources are at God's disposal.

Let us pray for, study and exercise for more faith, a greater trust in God. God will hear us pray and hearing us He wil answer us. His answer may be "yes," or "no" or "wait a while." God knows best, His will not ours be done.

Yes, I dare you trust God.

Mound Bayou, Miss. Gets $298,000 Loan

WASHINGTON — (NNPA)—The April directory of approved public works projects, issued Monday by Commerce Department, lists the all-colored town of Mound Bayou, Miss., as the recipient of two Federal loans totalling $298,000.

The first, an Accelerated Public Works (APW) loan of $27,000 was approved to help finance the construction of a $96,000 lagoon. Other Federal funds in this project, falling under the jurisdiction of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and the Public Service, amount to $29,000.

Work on the lagoon was started last December and was reported as 80 per cent comp'eted at the end of April.

A second APW loan of $242,000 was approved for the construction of water facilities which eventually will cost $519,000. This project was reported as being only 3 per cent completed in April. It was processed through the Community Facilities Administration of the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

had been pointed out in the petition.

The petition also pointed out that the mayor and commissioners had received letters concerning the civil rights matter but had not replied.

Mayor Ingram explained that he and the commissioners had planned calling a meeting and discussing the requests of the NAACP but had not had time to do it.

The mayor went on to say he and the commissioners were still awaiting decisions on some cases now before the Federal Court before taking any action.

But, Mr. Turner came back with a statement that showed that the U. S. Supreme Court already had ruled on parks, playgrounds and hospitals and still the city refuses to open the swimming pools and admit Negroes to all hospitals.

Mayor Ingram went into a long discussion on what he and the city commissioners have done and are doing in bringing Negroes into responsible city government jobs. He closed the session by telling Mr. Turner: "We will consider your request."

DR. ADELAIDE HILL . . . Newest member of the Agency for International Development's Advisory Committee on Voluntary Foreign Aid ,was introduced to other members of the group this week by Miss Margaret Hickey, right, contributing editor of the Ladies Home Journal, who served as acting chairman for a meeting at the State Department. Dr. Hill, who graduated from Dunbar High School in Washington, D.C., in 1936, is presently Research Associate of the Boston University African Studies Program. A recognized authority in the field of sociology she has been appointed to her present committee post by AID Administrator David E. Bell to help the group advise AiD on coordination of the activities of some 56 voluntary relief agencies which work with AID overseas in developing nations. – (Photo by USAID)

Warns 40 Million May Forfeit Vote This November

WASHINGTON, D. C. — "Forty million Americans of voting age are not registered and will forfeit their right to vote in the important November elections unless they place their names on the registration rolls," Thomas D'Arcy Brophy, president of the non - partisan American Heritage Foundation, told a meeting, at the Hotel Statler Monday, of 80 national membership organizations participating in the 1964 National Non - Partisan 'Register and Vote" Campaign. The campaign is sponsored by the foundation and the Advertising Council.

"The organizations have a combined membership of some 100 million, -- with some overlapping, of course," said Mr. Brophy. The organization leaders attended an 11 A. M. news conference and preview of this year's new campaign materials which were created as a public service by Grey Advertising, Inc. Samuel Dalsimer, vice -chairman of the agency presented the materials.

An estimated 10 million dollars worth of advertising time and space will be contributed by American business through the Advertising Council as a public service in support of the campaign, according to Theodore S. Repplier, president of the council.

Roy Wilkins Named Spingarn Medalist

NEW YORK—Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, has been named the 49th Spingarn Medalist, Dr. J. M. Tinsley, chairman of the award committee, announced here June 11.

The gold medal, awarded annually to a Negro American for distinguished achievement, will be presented to Mr. Wilkins on June 23 during the 55th Annual NAACP Convention in Washington, D. C., June 22-27.

The citation hails Mr. Wilkins as "a great American who has made a distinctive and immeasurable contribution to the advancement of the American people and the national purpose."

COVETED AWARD

Instituted in 1914 by the late J. E. Spingarn, then chairman of the NAACP Board of Directors, the award has long been regarded as the most coveted in its field. Among others who have received the medal are Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, Miss Marian Anderson, Jackie Robinson, Judge Thurgood Marshall, Dr. Martin Luther King, Mrs. Daisy Bates and the Little Rock Nine, Langston Hughes and Dr. Robert C. Weaver. Last year it was awarded posthumously to Medgar W. Evers, the slain NAACP field secretary for the State of Mississippi.

In his will, J. E. Spingarn left a fund sufficient to continue the award "to perpetuate the lifelong interest of my brother, Arthur B. Spingarn, of my wife, Amy E. Spingarn, and of myself in the achievements of the American Negro." At the time of his death in 1939, Mr. Spingarn was president of the NAACP. He was succeeded by his brother, the Association's present president.

Mr. Wilkins jointed the NAACP staff in 1931 as assistant executive secretary. In 1955, the Board of Directors named him executive secretary to succeed the late Walter White. A former newspaperman, Mr. Wilkins has also served the NAACP as acting executive secretary in the absence of Mr. White, as administrator, and as editor of The Crisis, the NAACP monthly magazine.

In addition to Dr. Tinsley, members of the Spingarn Medal Award committee are Earl B. Dickerson, Mrs. Octavia Catlett, the Rev. Theodore Gibson, Theodore Berry, Dr. Ralph J Bunche, Judge William H. Hastie, Dr. Buell Gallagher and Ralph Ellison.

NCC SCIENTIST HONORED — DURHAM, N. C. — Dr. Ezra L. Totton, chairman of the Department of Chemistry at North Carolina College at Durham, was recently elected to membership in the American Society of Biological Chemists.

Dr. Totton, who received the doctorate in chemistry from the University of Wisconsin, working under Dr. H. A. Lardy and Dr. S. M. McElvan, for the past fifteen years has been professor of chemistry and chairman of the Department of Chemistry at NCC.

BATTLE LINES SHAPING UP—Following Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton's decision to seek the Republican presidential nomination, his chief opponent, Sen. Barry Goldwater (left) says in Washington that Scranton "will fight a clean, vigorous campaign. He will not duck the issues." Maxwell Rabb (center), former Eisenhower staff member and head of a draft-Lodge organization, threw his support to Scranton after visiting former President Dwight D. Eisenhower at the latter's Gettsyburg, Pa., home. In New York after a trip to London, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon (right) predicts a "two-man race" between the governor and senator, but warned the Pennsylvanian "must not appear to be a puppet maneuvered by someone else" in his campaign.

Company Nixes Miss. Deal, Will Remain In Michigan

GEENVILLE, Mich. — (ANP) — The Gibson Refrigerator Company apparently will not move to a low cost market in Mississippi after all, it was announced here Tuesday. Instead, Gibson stated that the Company will began a $1.65 mil'ion expansion program in Greenville and also in Belding.

The more than 2,000 employees of Gibson interpreted the expansion program as a confirmation that the firm will not move away to another area of the United States although a year or so ago, Gibson was contemplating a massive move.

After months of uncertainty in 1963, the company decided to remain in Michigan after the United Auto Workers agreed to a two-year contract freezing wages and fringe benefits. There was also a union pledge to reduce costs and improve efficiency.

C. J. Gibson, Jr., president of the division, announced also that "there is unqualified support to the intent and desire to remain here."

UAW Local 137 President, George A. Trusde'l upon hearing of Gibson's proposed expansion plans, said he was gratified to hear the good news: "I definitely feel this points in the direction of Gibson staying in the area," he said.

But neither Gibson nor Truesdell would predict how contract negotiations would progress next year.

The expansion program will include a 72,000-square foot warehouse, and a new 600-ton press for fabricating refrigerator and air conditioner stampings.

Negro Employment In TV Up, But Pace Still Slow

RADNOR, Pa. — Negro emp'oyment in TV is increasing but Negro leaders still think the pace is far too slow, TV Guide magazine said this week. Negroes also charge the industry is extremely timid about using Negro stars in regular series and is reluctant to give them their own programs.

The magazine, in the first of a two-part survey of the Negro's role in television, reported:

1. More Negroes than ever before are being used as extras in Hollywood produced TV programs and there has been an increase in employment by networks and TV production firms. Talent agencies who provide actors, actresses and entertainers to producers are being integrated.

2. More Negroes are appearing in TV commercials and the number will increase during the coming season.

3. The NAACP said that whi'e progress has been made in Negro employment in the industry, there is not one Negro employed by a TV network or station in a top executive or administrative post.

4. Negroes concede that TV networks and some producers are making a concerted effort to show Negroes in typical, every day activities.

5. Most Negro actors and technicians contracted in the survey are not so optimistic as to believe that next season or the immediate future will bring them major gains.

Most Negro leaders, however, think that the progress to date has been slower than it should be. "Television is growing as far as the image of the Negro is concerned. Still, it has a long way to go," said Jesse H. Walker, city editor of the New York Amsterdam News, a Negro newspaper.

Ballantine Story Told In Negro Market Letter

NEW YORK — P. Ballantine & Sons, Newark, N. J., brewers, has its products in a favorable sales position in the Negro market, as a result of understanding why the Negro market is different and correctly programming to it, according to THE GIBSON REPORT, a monthly newsletter on the Negro market.

To insure its continued sales growth in the Negro community, where consumption of alcoholic beverages is higher than among whites, Ballantine recently appointed its Negro assistant public relations manager as chairman of an 11 - man Ethnic Marketing Committee, composed of executives, to keep the brewery in a growth position.

Early to learn the fact that Negro consumers want to be recognized and be able to identify with a company's products, according to The Gibson Report, Ballantine designed, produced, and distributed its first point -of - purchase material created exclusively for the Negro market in October 1951. It was the first of its kind to be produced by a brewery in the New York metropolitan area, where Negroes and Puerto Ricans are approximately 25 percent of the total market, and account for an estimated 33 percent of the market for beer.

Ballantine has distributed well over 500,000 pieces of specific Negro point -of - purchase material. In addition, according to The Gibson Report, the company uses Negro -oriented newspapers, radio, magazines, community, and organization journals.

"In its marketing territory, and primarily in New York, Ballantine has the best image of any brewer, and it is this way because the effective use of Negro - oriented public relations activity has been a focal point for the brewer's sales successes that have followed," stated The Report.

The dual community promotion offered by Ballantine's sponsorship of TV shows like Mitch Miller's 'Sing - Along" with Leslie Uggams; "Campy's Corner" with Roy Campanella; and other programs, was cited in the newsletter.

In quoting Ballantine's advertising manager, Leonard B. Faupel, The Gibson Report noted the brewery follows its own advice to companies wanting to know how to successfully develop the Negro market: "Once you decide to go after a share of this business — make up your mind that you are sincerely interseted in doing business — you cannot hope to influence this consumerwith on again-off again endeavors — you've got to stay with it — month after month — year after year — the start and stop technique is the surest road I know of for failure in advertising to the Negro market."

The Gibson Report also pointed out Ballantine's qualitative employment of Negroes, an important consideration in today's Negro community, and one that has a relationship to a company's sales performance.

Young Hails Civil Rights Cloture As "Historic Blow"

NEW YORK — Whitney M. Young, Jr., executive director of the National Urban League, Wednesday hai'ed the Senate's vote shutting off the filibuster on civil rights as "an historic blow against tyranny and inhumanity which will echo across the world."

Young declared, "The Senate's action says to Negro Americans, 'We are resolved that you shall be treated with dignity in your own land, and with equality and justice before all mankind."

He congratulated the Senators who voted to invoke cloture but warned them that "a declaration of princip'e, however hard-won or dramatic, is without value unless translated into meaningful reality."

"I pray," Young declared, "that a strong civil rights bill will be signed into law; that the right to vote, to attend a movie or a park, to have a chance to get a job and a decent education, will now become part of everyday life for Negro citizens.

"If it does," he concluded, "we can put prejudice, and hatred behind us, close ranks, and unite to forge a new and greater democracy where the b'essings and responsibilities of liberty are not limited to some but shared by all."

Japanese Television Films NAACP Office

NEW YORK — Japanese citizens will soon have an opportunity to see a televised report on the NAACP National Office at work. Jiro Maeda and Jamio Kawakami of the Mainichi Broadcasting Company, Tokyo, recently took silent films of the NAACP headquarters for broadcast in Japan with Japanese language commentary.

Among scenes filmed was one of a meeting in the office of the executive secretary where Bishop Stephen G. Spottswood, chairman of the NAACP Board of Directors, was in conference with Roy Wilkins and his assistant, John A. Morsell, and other staff personnel.

Dr. Walter Flowers, Of A & I, Passes

NASHVILLE — Dr. Walter A. Flowers, field services and extension director for Tennessee A & I state University's School of Agriculture and Home Economics, victim of a heart attack, was buried here last week.

Dr. Flowers 'attack which came unexpectedly while viewing television following a full day of activities, shocked the university and the community which had scarcely recovered from the unexpected death less than five weeks before Dr. Major F. Spaulding, Dean of A&I's School of Agriculture and Home Economics. Dr. Spaulding also succumbed to a heart attack. Both were officers of Clark Memorial Methodist Church here.

Dr. Flowers, strickened in his home, was rushed to a local hospital where he passed. His wife, Mrs. Mattye C. Flowers, associate professor and head of home economics at A&I, was with him when the end came.

NEGRO ATTORNEY GENERAL SEEKS REELECTION

Father Killed By Son, 4 Who Said He Feared Beating

LOS ANGELES — (ANP) — As a result of a domestic quarrel and separation of a Los Angeles couple, the father is dead by his young son's hand and a tiny little boy is sadder and wiser.

Leonard Thierry, 32, succumbed to a bullet wound in his forehead 24 hours after ordering his 4 -year-old son, Glen, to shoot him. A few minutes before the incident, Thierry had attempted to get his daughter, Tharesah, 7, and his older son, Gary, 5, to fire the gun. Both refused.

The younger son, fearful that his father might punish him, shot him with a 22 - caliber revolver. "Daddy said he'd get the belt and beat me if I didn't," Glen told officers at the scene.

Thierry, a baker, was described as a heavy drinker by his wife, Mary, who had left the house the previous day after a violent family quarrel. The victim was apparently despondent over her absence. Mrs. Thierry said she left because she was tired of "eight years of nothing but quarrels."

Samuel Booth, a neighbor rushed to the Maple St. home when he heard the shots. He found the father in the front bedroom, bleeding from the forehead wound. Thierry was taken to the General Hospital where he died the following day. Mrs. Thierry returned home shortly after the shooting to take care of the youngsters.

Black Heroes Of The American Revolution

A Weekly Feature by NAACP

DEBORAH GANNETT

Times of crisis produce not only heroes but also heroines. This was true of the Revolutionary War and the gallantry of Molly Hays is in the finest American tradition. On the battlefield at Mounmouth, as the story is well known, Molly Hays, or Molly Pitcher as she has become to be known, took her wounded husband's place in the crew servicing an artillery piece and stood at her post under fire. The story of the Negro heroine in America's fight for freedom, Deborah Gannett, is not so well.

Deborah Gannett actually enlisted and served as a soldier in the Revolutionary Army for over a year. She had disguised herself as a man and used the name Robert Shurtliff. The record of her service and a grateful State's recognition is inscribed in the official records of the General Court of Massachusetts.

This citation, dated January 20, 1792, tells her story and reads as follows:

"XXIII. — Resolve on the petition of Deborah Gannett, granting her 34 pounds for services in the Continental Army, January 20, 1792

"On the petition of DEBORAH GANNETT, praying for compensation for services performed in the late army of the United States:

"WHEREAS, it appears to this Court that the said DEBORAH GANNETT enlisted, under the name of Robert Shurtliff, in Capt. Webb's company, in the 4th Massachusetts Regiment, on May 20th, 1782, and did actually perform the duty of a soldier, in the late army of the United States, to the 23rd day of October, 1783, for which she has received no compensation; and

"WHEREAS, it further appears that the said Deborah exhibited an extraordinary instance of female heroism, by discharging the duties of a faithful, gallant soldier, and at the same time preserving the virtue and chastity of her sex unsuspected and unblemished, and was discharged from the service with a fair and honorable character; therefore,

"Resolved, that the Treasurer of this Commonwealth be, and he hereby is, directed to issue his note to the said Deborah for the sum of thirty - four pounds, bearing interest from Oct. 23, 1783."

Pioneer N'Orleans Musician Gets Traditional Funeral

NEW ORLEANS — (ANP) — Trumpets wailed, horns hummed and drums resounded with hot licks, as the George Williams Bank serenaded pioneer jazzman William (Wi'd Bill) Matthews for the last time in a traditional jazz funeral here last week.

Matthews death removed from the jazz scene, one of the fast dwindling group of pioneer New Orleans jazzmen. A jazzman for more than 40 years, Matthews began as a drummer, piled his jazz wares on steamboats up and down the Mississippi River, and played in the bands of King Oliver, Jelly Roll Morton and Louis Armstrong, among others.

He was well known to patrons of the Paddock Lounge in the French Quarter, where his group played for a decade. They dubbed him "Wi'd Bill" because of his antics while playing the trombone.

It was a virtual hot jazz session as the Williams band swung out enroute to St. John's Institutional Missionary Baptist church, where funeral services were held for Matthews, 65, and then along the route from the church to the cemetery.

Spectators lined the route to hear the band serenade the fallen jazzman and some fell in line with the procession.

ELEANOR

FROM FATHER TO SON

My son, remember you have to work! Whether you handle a pick or wheelbarrow or a set of books, dig ditches or edit a newspaper, ring an auction bell or write funny things, you must work!

Don't be afraid of killing yourself by overworking on the sunny side of thirty. Men sometimes die, but it is because they quit at 6 p.m. and don't go home until 2 a.m. It is the intervals that kill, my son. The work gives you appetite for your meals, it lends solitude to your slumber, it gives you a perfect appreciation of a holiday.

There are young men who do not work, but the country is not proud of them. It does not even know their names; it only speaks of them as "old so-and-so's boys." Nobody likes them; the great busy world doesn't know they are here.

So find out what you want to be and do! Take off your coat and make dust in the world. The busier you are the less trouble you are apt to get into, the sweeter will be your sleep, the brighter your holidays, and the better satisfied the whole world will be with you.

—BY BOB BURDETTE

WHEN FATHER PRAYS

Build me a son, O Lord, who will be strong enough to know when he is weak and brave enough to face himself when he is afraid! One who is proud and unbending in defeat but humble and gentle in victory!

A son whose wishbone will not be where his backbone should be; a son who will know that to know himself, is the foundation stone of all true knowledge!

Rear him, I pray, not in the paths of ease and comfort but under the stress and spur of difficulties and challenges — Here let him learn to stand up in the storm; let him learn compassion for those who fail.

Build me a son whose heart will be clean, whose goal will be high. A son who will master himself before he seeks to master other men. One who will learn to laugh, yet never forget how to weep, yet never forget the past and to profit by his past experiences as well as past experiences of others.

And after all these are his, I pray, enough of a sense of humor so that he may always be serious, yet never take himself too seriously; a touch of humility, so that he may always remember the simplicity of true greatness; the open mind of true wisdom; the meekness of true strength.

Then, I too, his father, will dare in the sacred recesses of my own heart to whisper, "I have not lived in vain."

What Is A Home?

A London magazine recently asked its subscribers what a home is, and received over eight hundred answers. Out of these six were selected as the best. Here they are:

"HOME — The Father's kingdom, the mother's world and the child's paradise."

HOME — A world of strife shut out, a world of love shut in.

HOME — A place where the small are great and the great are small.

HOME — A place where we grumble the most and are treated the best.

HOME — The place where our stomachs get three square meals a day and our hearts a thousand.

HOME—The center of our affection, round which our hearts' best wishes twine."

Miss America 1965 —

Who Will She Be?

This will be the scene on Saturday evening, September 12th, when Donna Axum, Miss America of 1964, will crown Miss America 1965. Competition for state winners is taking place now, and come the second week in September, finalists from all fifty states will head for the National Pageant held in Atlantic City, New Jersey.

Girls competing for the Miss America title must be talented as well as beautiful–imaginative as well as poised. For one year, Miss America is one of the busiest girls in the U.S.–making public appearances throughout the country, speaking before civic and business organizations . . . schools and community groups. In addition to other awards, she receives an Educational Scholarship from Pepsi-Cola Company. In 1958, it was decided to provide annual college scholarships–not only to the national finalists, but to state and local winners as well. Last year the total value of Pepsi Scholarship Awards was more than $200,000!

Here are some facts you may not know about the Pageant. The second Miss America was also the third! In fact, according to the original rules, if Martha Catherine Campbell, of Columbus, Ohio, had won again in 1924, she could have retired the crown! Twenty-three states in the Union have produced Miss Americas, Pennsylvania leading with five. A number of the winners have gone on to national prominence.

Who will be this year's reigning queen? Who knows? Miss America 1965 may be from our home state.

D. C. Private Hospitals Said Still Jim Crow Units

WASHINGTON — (NNPA) — A Washington Urban League report charges that private hospitals in the area have made little progress over the past year in erasing segregation practices which hve hampered colored physicians.

The report, released Sunday by the League's Hospital Survey Committee, revealed that there are no colored physicians on the active staff at three hospitals — Casualty, Columbia and Sibley.

Of Doctors Hospital, a fourth private facility (a corporation) which has no non-white physicians on its staff, the report said: "It has no Negro physicians, no Negro nurses and only very rarely does it admit a Negro patient."

The three focal points in the report covered the number of non-white physicians on active and "courtesy staffs", practices in assignment of patients to hospital rooms, and the membership of non-whites on hospital boards.

STAFF FIGURES

A breakdown of the courtesy staff figures revealed the following: Washington Hospital Center, total: 639, of which 29 are Negroes; Casualty, total: 125, of which 3 are Negroes; Children's, 433, of which 10 are Negroes; Columbia, 347—11 Negroes; Providence, 300—16 Negroes; Sibley, 518—33 Negroes; Georgetown University, no courtesy staff; George Washington University, 655—5 Negroes; and Hadley, 51—33 Negroes.

With regard to assignment of patients, the League said Casualty Hospital maintains racially segregated wards, but semi-private room assignments are made according to medical need. All other hospital told the League that they assign patients according to medical needs. However, both Casualty and Columbia indicated, the report said, that they "practice segregation in room assignments."

Only two of the 10 hospitals have non-whites on their governing boards, according to the report. They are Sibley, with one Negro, and Hadley, which has two Negro board members.

Washington has about 300 non-white physicians, most of whom are affiliated with the Medico-Chirurgical Society. White physicians in the city number about 2,328. The D. C. Medical Society, once restricted to white physicians, opened its membership to Negro physicians several years ago.

In its conclusion, the report asserts that the Urban League, working with the Medico-Chirurgical Society, "will continue to encourage Negro doctors to apply for staff privileges at local hospitals."

NAACP Seeks Anti-Bias Unit In Auto Industry

DETROIT — Following a three-day series of separate conferences with officials of the General Motors, Ford and Chrysler automobile companies, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People called for the establishment of "an industry - wide committee to work toward integrating job classifications and all professional occupations" throughout the industry.

Announcement of the NAACP proposal was made here, June 10, by Herbert Hill, NAACP labor secretary, who headed the Association's negotiating committee. Mr. Hill also announced that American Motors had agreed to meet with the NAACP committee at a later date.

Associated with Mr. Hill on the committee were Raymond Harth, president, Illinois State Conference of Branches; Edgar B. Holt, president of the Michigan State NAACP organization; Miss Evelyn Roberts, St. Louis Metropolitan NAACP Council and president of the St. Louis branch; Donald Lee, representing the New York State NAACP Conference; Bruce Miller, chairman, Detroit NAACP Legal Redress Committee; and James Watts of the Detroit NAACP Labor Committee.

MILLION WORKERS

The NAACP proposal pointed out that the three giants of the industry — General Motors, Ford and Chrysler — together employ nearly 1,000,000 workers. "In many communities these corporations are the largest employers. They are the pace - setters in our social structure. The racial employment practices of these corporations frequently determine the total pattern of Negro job opportunities," the report said.

The proposed industry - wide committee, the NAACP said, should "consist of representatives from each of the corporations .... empowered to work out a joint strategy to implement integration of facilities at every level of each firm. Such integration would include employees in the technical, professional and managerial occupations," as well as assembly line and office workers.

"Because bigots and hate - mongers seek to defame and injure any single corporation seeking to integrate more rapidly than another," the NAACP noted, "it is necessary that each corporation provide representatives on the industry - wide committee. Such joint effort would provide no disadvantage to any of the firms."

General Motors, the NAACP committee charged, refused to give any information on the occupational distribution of Negro employment in its vast industrial empire contending that such information was "not the public's business."

Sharply disagreeing with the corporation's position, the NAACP called General Motors' refusal "an indefensible disregard of the company's public responsibility. If the facts show that GM has done a good job in fairly and equitably employing Negroes at all occupational levels, then we would like to commend General Motors. But if the facts show that this corporation is not employing or under - employing Negro men and women, then the public has the right to know this, too," the committee said.

Cloture Vote "Historic", Roy Wilkins Tells Nation

NEW YORK — Hailing the imposition of cloture to close the Senate debate on the civil rights bill, Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, called the action "an historic legislative achievement, both in the unexpectedly decisive margin of the victory and in being the first time cloture has ever been effected on a civil rights measure."

The NAACP leader paid tribute to the "Senate's bi - partisan leadership (which) deserves our thanks and congratulations." He noted with particular gratification that 27 of the 33 Republican Senators voted in favor of cloture."

The full text of Mr. Wilkins' statement follows:

The United States Senate's vote, on June 10, to close debate on the civil rights bill is an historic legislative achievement, both in the unexpectedly decisive margin of the victory and in being the first time that cloture has ever been effected on a civil rights measure. Southern Senators, with some Northern help, have successfully exercised minority tyranny over the legislative process; on June 10, 1964, seventy -one Senators concluded that the time had come to end this perversion of democracy and to ensure that the Senate should be able to work its will.

"Negro citizens, keenly aware that the bill is no panacea and still leaves much to be done, will nonetheless rejoice at the clearing of the way to its enactment. They know how much it has cost them, in toil, tears and substence, to develop the climate in which far-reaching legislation of this kind now becmes a probability. They know, too, how great a debt they and all other Americans of good will owe to the Senators of both parties whose votes made this history. The Senate's bi - partisan leadership deserves our thanks and our congratulations, and it is not amiss to note with particular gratification that 27 out of the 33 Republican Senators voted in favor of cloture.

"The NAACP will pursue without relaxation its work in behalf of speedy enactment of H. R. 7152. Achievement of the cloture victory does not reduce the need for continued effort by all the groups to whose labors over the past year much of yesterday's result must be credited."

United Presbyterian Women Meet Soon

LAFAYETTE, Ind. — More than 5,000 women from the 50 states will attend the second national meeting of United Presbyterian Women at Purdue University here June 22-27.

Meeting under the theme, "Called to be Free and Obedient," the women will hear nationally - known speakers discuss the topic from various perspectives.

Speakers include the Rev. Eugene Carson Blake, the denomination's stated clerk (chief executive officer), and the Rev. Marshal L. Scott, director of the Presbyterian Institute of Industrial Relations, Chicago.

Among those attending the sessions will be 500 voting delegates.

Put To Bed, Boy Found Dead In Pool

NEW ORLEANS — (ANP) — Police are busily trying to learn how a six-year-old Negro boy, put to bed in his home about 2 p. m. turned up dead in a pond in the lakefront area two hours later.

The victim was Bryan A. Simmons, whose body was found in the pond on the Pontchatrain aPrk go'f course.

The child's mother told police that she had put him to bed and did not see him again until police notified her of his death.

Richmond Man Wins City Council Seat

RICHMOND, Va. — (ANP) — For the second time in this century, a Negro has managed to win a seat on the local city council. B. A. Cephas Jr., a real estate operator was the victor last week during municipal elections.

Cephas was a member of the winning slate which captured control of the nine-member council. He ran second in voting to Mrs. Eleanor Sheppard, the city's first woman mayor.

Oklahoma City Has Accommodations Law

OKLAHOMA CITY — (ANP — The first public accommodations ordinance to be passed in Oklahoma was approved by the city council here last week. It becomes effective in 30 days.

The provisions of the ordinance forbids operators of establishments of public accommodations from refusing service or facilities to persons because of race, religion, color, creed, ancestry or national origin.

On the hee's of the passage of the ordinance, Negro leaders throughout the state announced demonstrations before the 1965 Oklahoma legislature to pass a similar law for the entire state.

Swastika Painted On Massie's Home

DURHAM, N. C. (ANP) — A Nazi swastika was removed from the home of Dr. Samuel P. Massie, president of North Carolina college by workmen one day last week.

The Nazi sign, emblematic of the dictator regime of Chancellor Adolph Hitler in Germany from 1933 to 1945 (the date of Hitler's death), was painted on the rear of the Massie home by parties unknown. It was presumed to have been in protest of a recent turn of events in whic ha student was ousted for infraction of the co'lege's rules and announcement was made of the recently-installed president's plans to make two top-level personnel changes involving the deans of the graduate college and the undergraduate college.

Claims Negro Anti-Semitism Growing; Group Gets Warning

NEW YORK — (NNPA) — A national Jewish leader voiced confidence Monday that Negro anti-Semitism — which he described as growing - would be rejected by the overwhelming number of Negro citizens.

But Shad Polier, chairman of the National Governing Council of the American Jewish Congress, warned of "tragic consequences" if the Nation's Jews should "respond with bitterness, hostility and anti-Negroism."

He said "anti-Necroism" was a product "no less terrible than anti-Semitism."

Mr. Polier spoke at a meeting of the Governing Council, the policy-making body of the AJC, at Stephen Wiss Congress House in East 84th Street.

"The Negro in striking out against the Jew is assaulting a white world which he be'leves has short-changed him and which he believes is determined to take advantage of him, "Mr. Polier said.

GROWING PHENOMENON

"This growing phenoenon has taken place despite the active role of Jews in supporting the Negroes just demands for full equality."

The speaker said he did ont "dismiss Negro anti-Semitism", but he was equally concerned lest Jews react to it by alienating themselves from the struggle for racial justice. "Such a response," he assured the Council, "will be self-defeating and can serve only to fuel the fires of anti-Semitism and civil strife in our country."

Mr. Polier said he did not regard Negro anti-Semitism as "either pervasive or enduring," and added:

"Like Black Nationalism, it touches only a tiny fraction of Negroes, and is, I believe, a passing phase. Iam confident that the Negro will recognize both 'isms' as sterile concepts offering only blind al'eys that lead to nowhere.

"Certainly the responsible leaders of the Negro struggle for civil rights are fully aware of the Jewish contribution to the struggle and the tragic consequences if Negro and Jew in America were to be pitted against one another."

Odetta To Sing In Tanganyika

DAR-ES- SALAAM — (NNPA)— Odetta, the internationally famous Negro folk singer, will perform on July 6 in Dar -es- Salaam, at the invitation of the Tanganyikan government.

Her appearance is being sponsored by the American Society of African Culture, New York City. She will be accompanied to Dar -es-Salaam by Calvin H. Raullerson, director of the Society's Cultural Center in Lagos Nigeria.

LACK OF INFORMATION BARRIER TO EDUCATION

WASHINGTON — (NNPA) —The reason most farm youth are not going to college is simply lack of money. They say they "can't afford it."

A U. S. Department of Agriculture survey of 160,000 high school seniors showed 47 per cent didn't intend to go on to college. About four out of every 10 of these said they lacked sufficient funds.

Money, however, isn't the only barrier to a college education for rural youth, the department contends. Lack of information keeps many farm boys and girls out of school.

Students in rural high schools often don't understand the advantages of making an investment in education. They are not aware of the amount of education it takes to qualify for technical and vocational careers.

Nor do they know about the many low - interest loans that are available to help them get the training they need to compete in today's labor market.

Sunday School Lesson

OUR MISSIONARY IMPERATIVE
International Sunday School Lesson for June 21, 1964.

MEMORY SELECTION: "You shall receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you; and you shall be my witnesses in Jerusalem and in all Judea and Samaria and to the end of the earth."
—(Acts 1:8).

LESSON TEXT: Matthew 28: 16-20; Acts 1: 6-8; Romans 1: 8-16; 10: 1-18.

Today the point for our consideration is what attitudes and strategies should be used in the church's effort to reach people at home and abroad.

It is no great secret that there have always been, and probably always will be, those who have questioned the propriety of the church's missionary programs. The people who argue that the church has no business sticking its missionary nose into the lives of other people, and those who feel that it is rather dictatorial to try to enforce the concepts of Christianity upon other peoples, exist both within and without the church.

These people are, however, overlooking the fact that Christ himself charged his disciples to carry God's Word abroad. "You shall receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you; and you shall be my witness in Jerusalem and in all Judea and Samaria and to the end of the earth." (Acts 1:8). These words were spoken to the disciples by the resurrected Christ just before his Ascension. They leave little doubt of the path to be taken — in the minds of his true followers.

The disciples, scattered and in hiding, shaken by the tragic events of the Crucifixion, were so overwhelmed by the glorious fact of the Resurrection that they veritably took their lives in their hands when they were motivated to spread the good tidings throughout the land. They could not have chosen a more dangerous time in which to spread Jesus' teachings. Yet this did not deter them; they were motivated to share this tremendous thing that had come about; it was too glorious to be kept to themselves.

As members of the churches of our faith, we are disciples of Jesus. Our belief in Christ and in what he died for . . . our salvation .... are too precious an experience not to be shared with others — especially others in far distant lands that are less fortunate than we.

And we must ever bear in mind the fact that the salvation which is available to us in Christ can only be retained through sharing. This is one of the fundamental laws. Nothing continues to exist if it is not fulfilling its purpose. Salvation is not for a chosen few — it s for everybody. It is therefore the duty of the church (and of the congregation of that church) to spread the Word, and to be living witnesses for Christ. America is singularly blessed in this regard; we have knowledge of Christ — which other people gave to us. We therefore have no right to withhold it, from other less fortunate people, especially bearing in mind the fact that we have had a command from Jesus to spread his Word. (Matthew 28: 19).

The religion that begins at home is fine .. but . religion that ends at home is its own death warrant. Jesus never won all the people in one place before he won some in another. He never waited for any one person to be sinless before he sought to bless other sinners.

The church must ever be mindful of the needs at home, on its own doorsteps, but it must never be neglectful of the needs farther afield than that. It cannot afford to be, indeed, if it wishes to remain a live, pulsating thing. Therefore its members must adequately and whole - heartedly support its programs abroad in the field of missionary works.

Claims Christianity Destroyed Family Life

LONDON — (NNPA)—A Kenya official last Thursday blamed Christianity for the "destruction of African tribal life."

The official, M. Ndisi, permanent secretary o the Kenya Ministry of Labor and Social Service, told the International Planned Parenthood Federation at Church House, Westminster, that this was caused by Christianity's advocacy of monogamy.

Citing the African's "great love for all children," he said polygamy "obviously had advantages in the African society as this practice was also related to laws and traditions which were strictly adhered to."

Gloria L. Gaston Becomes Top Employe With AID

WASHINGTON — (NNPA) — Miss Gloria L. Gaston, of Dallas, Texas, is a precedent-setter in the U.S. Agency for International Development (AID).

She was recently appointed as a deve'opment resources assistant for the Bureau of Latin America and became the first colored woman to be employed by AID in a position as high as GS-13. Her grade level pay scale ranges from $11,725 to $14,805 a year.

Miss Gaston is specializing on community development in the Education and Manpower Division of the AID bureau. Her varied career and her knowledge of French has taken her to Africa, Europe, parts of the Middle East and Latin America.

Prior to joining AID, she served as political analyst in Khartoum, Sudan, with a Columbia University School of Law project involving research on public international deve'opment financing.

From May 1962 to June 1963, Miss Gaston worked as a Peace Corps liaison officer orienting volunteers for service in West Africa. She held the position of public relation director for the American Society of African Culture in New York before joining thhe Peace Corps.

Other positions held by Miss Gaston include assistant administrative supervisor for the Bank Street College of Education, New York; director (of program services for the National Conference of Christians and Jews; librarian with the Council of Student Travel; and head cottage supervisor for the Clinton (N. Y.) State Reformatory for Women.

She also has been a UNESCO librarian and an interviewer with the State Pub'ic Opinion Laboratory at the University of Washington in Seattle.

Miss Gaston was graduated from the University of Washington in 1948 with a B.A. degree in political science and later did graduate work there and at the New School of Social Research in New York City.

She holds membership in the American Sociological Society, the Adult Education Association, and the American Academy of Political Science.

Gordon's & Tonic:
English invention for coping with the noonday sun.

A retired English colonel, vividly recalling the heat of India, created the first Gin & Tonic nearly 75 years ago. Chances are, the gin he used was Gordon's. For, at that time, Gordon's had already been a favoured English gin for over a century. Today, in England, America and the world, Gordon's is the biggest-selling gin and the indispensable ingredient in a variety of summer drinks. And, of course, in the glorious Gordon's Martini. Always specify "Gordon's."

Along The Sports Trail

BY SAM BROWN

The Tennessee Secondary Schools Athletic Association has agreed to desegregate high school athletics across the state, in an announcement made last Friday. All sports in which high schools engage are included with the exception of basketball and wrestling tournaments.

The announcement stated: "The Board of Control of the TSSAA voted to approve affiliate membership in the TSSAA for Negro high schools provided a majority of the Negro Schools request this type of membership."

A majority of the Negro schools of the state have already requested this membership, and officials of the Tennessee High Schools Athletic Association have met on two occasions since the first of the year with the TSSAA to discuss the situation. There are more than 100 Negro high schools in the state, with 14 of them in Memphis and Shelby County.

The announcement also stated; "Affiliate members will be entitled to all privileges of TSSAA membership except the right to enter TSSAA basketball and wrestling tournaments. However, such schools may schedule single athletic contests with member schools in any sport sponsored by TSSAA.

"They will also be eligible to enter TSSAA tournaments and meets in spring sports. Each school will have the privilege of making its own schedule in so far as single contests are concerned. Separate tournamets in basketball and wrestling will be set up for th affiliate members. This arrangement will continue until representatives of the two groups feel that the affiliate membership status may be terminated."

The Negro schools now participate in baseball, basketball, football and track. This new move could add other sports such as golf, tennis wrestling and swimming ,although the schedule for most of the schools has already been drawn up. The Board of Education of Memphis will likely make some decisions in regards to the Negro schools participating in the City Prep League.

Just how this will affect the Negro Prep League remains to be seen. It was learned sometime ago that this move was expected, and that some of the Negro Prep League teams would schedule some games in football, baseball and basketball during the 1964-65 season.

Local fans will be able to see some all - Negro teams compete against some all - white teams perhaps during the coming school season, and no doubt in the ear future ,instead of just itegrated contests, there will be integrated teams in the prep league.

Professional sports have shown that integration can work, and it is to the everlasting credit of sports, that athletics took the lead in desegegration. Jackie Robinson points out in his latest book "Basseball Has Done It," that integration in baseball is working, and that it has done much for the 'Great American Sport."

A few nights ago an all - Negro team composed of players from the Negro Prep League played the Bill Speros American Legion team composed of many C B C high school boys, and runners - up for the Legion title last year, at one of the diamonds at the Fair Grounds. The Bill Speros team won the game 6-1, but it showed that it could be done.

The Negro All - Stars team was off to a shabby start, committing four errors in the first inning for three unearned runs, which led to their defeat, although they (the All-Stars) were held to only one hit, with it coming in the top of the ninth inning, as the Speros team two hurlers fanned 17 batters.

The large crowd on hand, some 2500 fans enjoyed the contest and applauded good plays made by both sides. For the All - Stars, it was an experience that showed that experience and a well organized outfit means a great deal in a contest. No doubt some of the players were asking themselves whether or not they are really ready for that type of competition.

Thunderstorm Hits Jacksonville, Fla.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — (UPI) — A thunderstorm — possibly a tornado - packing winds estimated at 75 to 100 miles an hour slammed through a southwest section of Jacksonville on June 6, toppling a 300 - foot radio antennae, sweeping cars off the street and smashing several homes.

There was no immediate report of serious injuries, and no damage estimates.

The Jacksonville weather bureau said the thunderstorm, kicked up by the remnants of a tropical disturbance drifting into Florida from the Gulf of Mexico, cut its destructive swath through the Normandy section of southwest Jacksonville.

The weather bureau said the highest winds recorded by airport gauges were clocked at 40 miles an hour, but that reports from the scene of the worst - hit area indicated winds of 75 to 100 miles an hour.

BTW Band Teacher Under Dope Charge

TAMPA — (UPI) — The director of the student band and music teacher at Booker T. Washington School, was free under $2,500 bond Friday on charges of possession of narcotics.

Police said Willie Gray Dixon, Jr., was arrested at his home late Thursday night. They said they found a rolled-up sock in a pants pocket and it contained a homemade syringe, two needles, a pill box containing an opium derivative and four cocaine capsules.

Dixon was suspended from his school duties pending the outcome of the charges.

ROUND & ROUND WITH GOLFING

By PRESTON JONES

The Volunteer State Medical Convention, convening in Memphis this week, is also holding its golf tournament at Fuller Park.

Out of town players participating in the tournament are Dr. S. B. Hardy of Knoxville; Dr. Frank Perry, Dr. Walton Bell and Dr. C. J. Walker, all of Nashville; Dr. Waldo Coln of Detroit and Dr. Mose Jones of Montgomery, Ala.

Memphis players are Doctors H. H. Johnson, A. E. Horne, W. O. Speight, E. W. Reed, A. R. Flowers, A. F. Sanlef, F. W. Northcross and I. A. Watson.

Trophy winners will be announced next week in the Memphis World.

Among the more than 200 players accommodated by Fuller Park last Sunday were Misses Odessa Dickens, Louise Walker and Doris Clift, who played a threesome. Miss Walker made 2-par on No. 13 hole, but Miss Clift hostess at the park, was the winner.

Jimmy Sills, Herbert Tate, James Henderson, Harold Ray and Charles Toman played a good foursome with Tate and Henderson taking the 18-hole game.

Bridge Rogers, Glover Jones, Thomas Veach and Aubrey Price played a nice foursome with Rogers and Banks declared the winners on the 18-hole game.

Paul Nickalaus, Troy King, James Smith, James Teel and Arthur Pierce played a game with Nickalaus and Pierce taking the lead to become the winners.

Elton Granberry and Pleas Junes played an all even 18 holes which was a hard game.

Edward Lewis, John Gordan, Harold Winfrey and Lonnie Briscoe played a good all even foursome.

John Walker , Mrs. Betsy Walker, D. C. Jordan and Lawrence Mason played a foursome with Mrs. Walker winning.

R. J. Acey, Fulton Ford of Clarksdale, Miss., Dr. Montgomery, also of Clarksdale, and James Roland of St. Louis played together. Mr. Acey and Ford beat the seats.

Lymond James and R. J. Arnold played an even twosome.

John Crawford, Dalton Nickerbery and Lee June played a nice game together with Nickleberry taking the lead and winning the game.

Humphrey Urges Conference To Implement Civil Rights Law

WASHINGTON—Senate Majority Whip Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) recommended today that governor's conferences be called in every state after the Civil Rights bill is passed to help implement its application and enforcement.

Humphrey also urged the United States Conference of Mayors to call a general meeting of its members to seek work within the framework of the new law and "bring about application of civil rights."

"It may very well be that the President himself will want to call a national conference on civil rights after we pass the Civil Rights bill to talk about the continuing problems that beset us, how we implement this law on the state and local and federal level and how we back it up by community action and community support," Humphrey said in a television interview program for Minnesota stations.

Humphrey said these problems will not be solved merely by signing the bill into law.

"I don't believe that at all," he said. "I do believe that what we will be doing is to establish a framework of law in which we can attempt to work out many of the legal problems involved in the abridgment of civil rights or in the denial of civil rights."

A NECESSITY

He said it will be necessary to go to work immediately upgrading education, attacking poverty, and assuring better housing and economic conditions for may of the people directly affected by the civil rights law.

"One of the great needs today is to upgrade education, particularly for those who have been deprived of really fair and good educational opportunity," he said.

" and that job is going to take time. And that job also requires that we pass a good deal of other legislation."

Locking too Congressional action expected after the Civil Rights Bill becomes law, Humphrey said he expected an attempt to pass a Medicare measure to be the "hard battle."

JFK Had Planned Reelection, Then Writing, Speaking

NEW YORK — (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy planned to spend the rest of his life writing and teaching after eight years in the White House, a former aide said Monday.

Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., was quoted in the current issue of Look magazine about the late President's plans. Schlesinger was Kennedy's confidant and a White House adviser.

He said Kennedy expected to be reelected this coming November and complete the unfinished business of his administration. He then would be 51 years old upon leaving the White House, and too young he felt, for retirement.

"The President intended to establish his headquarters in Boston where he planned to live at least part of the year," Schlesinger said. "His office was to be in the John Fitzgerald Kennedy Library, which was to be built on a two-acre site he had selected only two months before his death.

"Kennedy wanted to hold seminars and talk to young people at Harvard where he had gone to school, and also at a half-dozen other nearby colleges. At the same time, he was going to write his memoirs."

Last Rites Held For Mrs. Coffey, Noted Churchwoman

CHICAGO — (ANP) — Funeral services were held here last week for Mrs. Lillian Brooks Coffey, 70, head of the 800,000 - member international Women's (missionary) Department of the Church of God in Christ, and one of the most widely respected church woman in America.

Mrs. Coffey died of a heart ailment in Jackson Park Hospital. She was perhaps a victim of her own boundless energy. She set an amazing pace as national supervisor of the Women's Department ,and of its missionary affiliations in some 30 foreign countries in the Caribbean, Africa and Europe.

Thousands of persons thronged Mrs. Coffey's rites Saturday at the Tabernacle Baptist church, including scores of dignitaries. Long before the services for the revered church woman got under way, long lines of viewers, including just plain folks who had known "Sister Coffey," formed in front of the church.

However ,the crowd, perhaps in a marked show of reverence to her, was very orderly.

Delivering the eulogy at the rites was Bishop O. T. Jones, of Philadelphia, senior prelate of the denomination.

U. S. Court Integrates Jekyll Island Resort

By ED ROGERS
(United Press International)

Federal District Judge Frank A. Hooper ruled June 12 that Georgia's Jekyll Island Authority must integrate all state-operated facilities at the oceanside resort.

Hooper said he will issue an injunction but delayed doing so in order to learn what facilities on the nine - mile, state - owned island, once a millionaires' preserve, are now under private lease.

The judge gave seven Negro plaintiffs who brought the integration action last year 15 days in which to furnish the needed additional facts.

The forthcoming injunction, the ruling indicated, will include a golf course, beaches, and an amusement area. Negroes now have a beach, a motel and a bathhouse area on one end of the island.

Hooper refused to issue an injunction against any of the many holders of private leases who now operate motels, stores, restaurants and a convention center. He cited

For one thing, Hooper said, the plaintiffs had claimed they had been denied use of some of these privately operated facilities but failed to show that it was the policy of the lease holders.

Hooper also pointed out that the plaintiffs had decided not to make any of the lease holders parties to the integration suit even though he had strongly suggested that they do so.

In lengthy comment on the legal effect of this, Hooper said there was no evidence that either the several legal grounds.

state or the leaseholders had settled on any segregation policy, either expressed or implied.

He said he cannot issue an injunction so long as they are not parties to the suit.

The Jekyll Island Authority, operated by several top state administration officials, could do nothing about it if the leaseholders were guilty of discrimination, Hooper said in effect.

Even though the organizations using the convention facilities thus far have been all - white, Hooper said, that does not support a finding that even these facilities had been operated in a discriminatory way.

Hooper cited the reasons plaintiffs gave for not trying to bring the leaseholders into court: There are too many of them, making such a move expensive, and the Negroes sought to avoid a precedent.

The plaintiffs claimed there were indications some of the leaseholders would be willing to desegregate if they were assured it would not jeopardize their long - term leases.

Tampa Couple Jailed For Own Protection

TAMPA, Fla. — (ANP) — A domestic quarrel led police to jail a couple for "their own protection," here last week—the man for disturbing the peace, his wife for displaying a deadly weapon.

Involving were Julius Poinsetta, 32, and his wife, Betty, 26.

When police arrived at Mrs. Poinsetta's home, they found her husband at the rear door, trying to break into the house, and Mrs. Poinsetta inside, waving a .25 calibre pistol.

She told police she had left her husband and he was trying to get her back. Failing in their efforts to calm the people down, officers decided to take them into custody. Their three children were placed in a receiving home until the Poinsettas are brought to court.

Old Douglass Home Is Now A Museum

WASHINGTON — (ANP) — If Frederick Douglass were alive today, he would probably be pleased to know that in the townhouse where he once lived, just a few blocks from the Nation's Capitol, the Museum of African Art has made its new home.

The museum is one of Washington's newest cultural landmarks. It opened last week with its first exhibition of some 150 pieces of authentic African sculpture, primarily representative of Western Africa.

Many of the works to be seen have been loaned to the museum by art collectors and individuals who have long recognized the artistic talent and brilliance of traditional African sculpturers.

Warren M. Robbins, director and founder of the Museum, and a former foreign service officer with the United States Information Agency and the Department of State, said the museum is the first institute in the United States to be devoted "exclusively to portraying the significance of African sculpture and its contribution to Western art."

CRASH KILLS MEADE LEWIS

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—(ANP)—Boogie Woogie pianist Meade Lux Lewis lived through the turbulent "Roarin' Twenties," but failed to survive an auto crash here last week.

He was killed when an auto carrying four Minneapolis youths crashed into the rear of his car at high speed. Jimmie Dibbins, a passenger in the second car, also was killed. The others were injured. The crash occurred in the Golden Valley area, west of Minneapolis.

Meade Lux, an "eight-to-the-bar" beat bookie woogie pianist, had just concluded an engagement at the White House Restaurant in the suburb.

Many Children Are Poison Victims Of Common Aspirin

BOSTON — (UPI) — More than 100,000 children in the United States were poisoned accidentally last year, 144 fatally, by a common medicinal product which can be found in almost every home, reports the Children's Hospital Medical Center. The product, says the hospital, is aspirin.

A bottle of 50 baby aspirins, or a lesser number of adult aspirins, can kill a 2 - year -old, according to the hospital.

The high incident rate of poisoning of children by baby aspirin is due to the fact that such aspirin is candy flavored, and many parents, in inducing their toddlers to take an aspirin, refer to it as "candy," says the hospital, Children not only will eat it if it is lying around, the hospital says, but will search it out on high shelves or in medicine cabinets.

40 College Students Begin Foreign Service Training

WASHINGTON — (ANP) — The Foreign Affairs Scholars program established at Howard university last January by a $600,000 Ford foundation grant, began operations here last week when 40 college students of minority groups were enrolled in the course under special graduate fellowships.

The program is aimed at preparing Negroes and members of other minority groups for carreers in the U. S. Foreign service. It is administered by Dr. Vincent J. Browne, assistant to Howard's president, Dr. James M. Nabrit, Jr.

The initial student body consists of 11 college seniors and 29 juniors who will be involved in a 10 week indoctrination program conducted by the U. S. State department, Agency for International development (AID), and the U. S. Information agency. The prospective civil service interns will receive weekly stipends of $80.

At the end of the course, the juniors will return to their respectivetive schools and will continue training until they enter the 1965 school program.

Eisenhower Indicts Demo Administration

PHILADELPHIA — (UPI) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower Monday indicted the Democratic administration for using inexperienced men in key foreign policy-making positions and "weakening" American alliances.

The former Republican President said that U. S. alliances are not as strong today because of "leadership methods and personalities."

Eisenhower headed a panel discussion of American foreign policy at the last of a series of six "Party-to-People" forum discussion sponsored by the GOP National Committee.

Dr. Thurman Is Given New Post At Boston Univ.

BOSTON, Mass. — Dr. Howard Thurman, retiring Dean of Boston University's Marsh Chapel and one of the nation's outstanding preachers, has been appointed Minister-at-Large for Boston University for the 1964-65 academic year, President Harold C. Case of the University announced Saturday.

Upon Dr. Thurman's formal retirement as Dean on July 1, Dr. Robert H. Hamill, who has been Dean-Designate of the Chapel for the past two years, will become the new Marsh Chapel Dean. Dr. Hamill came to Boston University in 1962 after a successful career as pastor of prominent Methodist churches in the Mid-west.

As Minister-at-Large, Dr. Thurman will continue the role he began two years ago when he took a two-year leave of absence to extend his ministry "to the nation and to the world." During this period, he has preached and lectured throughout the United States and in several foreign nations.

Recently, Dean Thurman returned from a five-month global tour which took him to Nigeria, Israel and Hawaii for lecture engagements and research.

In Nigeria, where he was called upon by the American Ambassador to that country to deliver the eulogy at a memorial service following the assassination of President Kennedy last November, Dr. Thurman said the President's death severely damaged the image of the United States in the eyes of Nigerians.

VIEWS ON REAL ESTATE

"Buy the truth, and sell it not; Also wisdom, and instruction, and understanding. Proverbs 23 Chapter, 23 Verse — The Holy Bible.

REQUIREMENTS FOR LICENSURE — Since the avowed purpose of license law legislation is to protect the public from incompetency, fraud and deception, it is to be expected that licensure should be conditioned upon the applicant submitting to the state his qualifications before being invested with a license.

A licenses is part of the broker's or salesman's stock in trade. He uses it often to instill confidence in a dubious client. It is most important, then, that the state exercise care in the issuance of certificates, and in requiring an applicant to furnish recommendations of responsib'e parties as his good repute and honesty.

BONDS. — There is a tendency in license law regulation to require that licensure be conditioned upon the posting of a bond by the applicant, conditioned upon faithful execution of the duties he assumes under his license. Most states require the salesman's bond be $1,000 and the broker's bond $5,000.

EXAMINATIONS. — If the public is to be protected against incompetent real estate dealers and if the business is to be elevated to a plane comparable with the professions, it is necessary to include in all licensing acts a provision that an applicant must pass an examination before he can obtain a license.

Most states giving examination follow the question and answer method of examination. These examinations are fair and comprehensive. Either the applicant knows his subject and gives proper and intelligent answers, or he is incompetent and deemed unworthy of license. An applicant must of necessity devote himself to diligent study.

POCKET LICENSE CARD. — Evidence of licensure, which shou'd be carried by the Licensee at all times and presented when requested by any person with whom the licensee is dealing in regard to real estate.

NEGRO CAMPUS QUEEN

NEWARK, N. J. — (ANP)—Miss Geneva Streeter, a member of the June 1964 graduating class, was easily the most popular student at Rutgers university during her senior year. Miss Streeter was the first Negro girl to reign as campus queen at Rutgers, and in addition, had her photographic likeness on the covers of two national magazines.
