Custodian helpers were raised from 78 cents to $1.05 an hour.

The NAACP complaint also brought a reduction in work hours for maids. They are now working

50 hours and earning $33 a week Under the new plan they will work 40 hours and receive $36 a week.

City Commissioner Pete Sisson said he fayors bringing minimum wages to 1.25 an hour. "If the job is not worth paying a living wage they ought to do away with the job," he said.

The budget also boosts the minimum for starting teachers from $4,500 to $4,750 and provides as much as a $500 increase annually in higher teacher categories.

All retired teachers were brought in the $4,50 monthly level.

> Almost everything manufactured must be carefully inspected during the manufacturing process. The millions of automobiles, sewing machines, television sets, production machinery, and other mass - produced items must be tested and inspected to make sure they operate properly.

Inspectors are the workers who see that the size and quality of raw materials, parts, and assemblies, and the operation of finished products meet specifications established by the plant.

Semiskilled inspectors may look for scratches and other defects in products or parts. They often use simple guages to find out whether parts are made to speci-fied sizes; they may also use measuring devices such as micrometers (a precision measuring instrument) check the accuracy of the parts. Semiskilled inspectors may be required to read simple work orders and do arithmetic involving decimals and fractions when reading measuring instruments. Some inspectors use handtools, such as screwdrivers or pliers in their Inspectors often keep records of the number of parts they have inspected, accepted, and rejected. When they find a large number of faulty pieses, they notify their supervisors so that corrections can made on the production line.

In some industries, inspectors may preform additional duties such as making minor repairs and adjustments, and grading products for quality.

In contrast to semiskilled inspectors, who work under close super-vision, skilled inspectors work under general supervision. In the metal working industries, skilled inspectors are often required to read blueprints, interpret specifi-cations, and use complex precision measuring insturments.

Many employers prefer workers with no previous inspection experience. They look for applicants who are physically able, dependable, have good eyesight, and can follow instructions. A few large

To Start

We are getting into April. The danger of winter has past and birds are building nests. The early pre-Easter flowers have been with us for a good while and the spring wind is blowing our way. "This country started off as agrarian enterprise. It insisted upon leaning on its farm-foundation. A mon was rated according to his form prowess and it was the ambition of every citizen to make one good farmer out of the family. Many of our early poets sand the song of growing crops and the plowman. The scent of the furrow suggested that sweet nostalgia that no other afforded. Now that we have become urbanized with the old farm lands made expressways and factory grounds, with the city atmosphere running from one country town into the other, we have with us The garden is our one avocation that opens a release for that pent up energy not taken at the job and the office. It allows one to have a little project during the late afternoons. On the other hand, the vegetable one might raise will fill a long-felt need at the breakfast table and it will help out the family budget.

Get out, old friend, plant a garden. Just takes a few hours and some muscle grease. Clean up that yard, put out some flowers and work them during your spare time.

'And some day you will be a man-my boy."

JACKSON, Miss. - The NAACP Legal Defense Fund this week asked the Federal Court here to order the reinstatement of about 300 Negro students who were suspended from their Issaquena County schools two months ago for wearing freedom buttons.

The buttons were allegedly "disturbing the school."

In the same suit, the Legal Defense Fund sought desegregation of all schools in Issaquena and Sharkey Counties, which share certain facilities.

The suit was filed on behalf of the largest number of children 198 ever to join in such as action.

This large number reflects r rapidly growing concern on the part of Mississippi Negroes for integrated education. According to local obserers, the freedom button issue awakened many parents to the need for remedying the in-justices of the present situation.

The students began wearing free dom buttor, on January 21. After two days of warnings, the sus pensions began. Despite repeated meeti is with school officials, ef-forts by parent to have their children readmitted ended in failure.

Legal Defense Fund lawyers pointed out that at no time was any evidence offered that the freedom buttons actually caused any diturbance. The suit asks that the court order the children readmitted with permission to wear The case is reminiscent of the

AN INFINTE FOUNTAIN

Courtesy, kindness, friendliness, tolerance, and kindred virtues, are an infinite fountain of life! Those who forsake virtue and a knowledge bringing it into disrepute, knowingly or unknowingly are working against the way of life that has sided mankind through all the adversities of bygone ages. It is desired that all nationalities join hands in seeking: good not evil; love and not hate; right and not wrong; patience and not impatience: sincerity and not insincerity; tolerance and not intolerance; courtesy and not discourtesy; kindness and not unkindness; purity and not impurity, justice and not injustice. VICE IS THE DEVIL'S

PITCH-FORK

Physical sufferings are caused by evils. Happiness is the result of giving and receiving of virtue. Very often the taunts of our friends make us become enemies of ourselves and others. Those who cater to vice do not fear God. A child needs virtue with his education, which should include all phases of virtue. Virtue should be granted to all people; not only to relatives but to non-relatives, not only to people of my race, for this is not whole justice, honesty or truth - but to all races and nationalities.

Tempest within the soul is vice at work! The teacher of every child should try to discover the virtuous qualities lacking in the character of the child, just as he tries to discover the assigned educational qualities lacking in the child. Parent and teacher should work together to correct any deficiency in virtue, realizing that this may be a handlcap to successful living and progress in later life.
