CHILD BURIED IN ELMWOOD

Services were held Monday night of this week for 4-year-old Beverly Rodgers who was found dead Saturday morning in a North Memphis drainage ditch. Firemen removed the body from 2½ feet of water at the end of a culvert which runs under Ayers.

Burial was Tuesday morning at Elmwood Cemetery with Southern Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

The child was the daughter of Mrs. Betty Jean Rodgers Brown

Inside Memphis

COACH ROBERT HEWITT of Mitchell Road High School gave off a sigh of relief Sunday morning as he watched his much sought-after basketball star, Robert (Ricki) Roberson, board a plane for Cincinnati where he will work two weeks and then enroll in the summer pre-freshman program at University of Cincinnati.

This means Ricki will be playing for University of Cincinnati and it also means Coach Hewitt's phone will stop ringing. Coaches at some of the nation's top universities, including Oklahoma and Kansas, have been trying to land Roberson and Hewitt had to listen to all of them.

Why did Ricki go to University of Cincinnati? Several reasons. Oscar Robinson, the star of the Cincinnati Royals, is one reason. Ricki took to Oscar right away when they got together in Cincy recently.

University of Cincinnati plays in New York and you've got to play in New York if you expect to make the pros because that's where the top scouts see you. That's another reason.

Other reasons: Cincinnati has one of the nation's top professional basketball teams, and the city's big businessmen help establish their pros in the business world when their playing days are over.

Man Killed Trying To Stop Auto

Jesse Hall's death Sunday at John Gaston Hospital goes on record as the city's 24th traffic fatality of the year. It also will be listed as one of the strangest mishaps of the year.

Mr. Hall, 58, of 1548 Doris, was critically injured when he was dragged underneath a car driven by his estranged wife late Saturday night on McLennore near Walk Place.

Witnesses were quoted by investigating officers as saying Mr. Hall ran from a restaurant in the 1200 block of East McLennore around 11 p. m. Saturday and tried to stop a car driven by his wife, Mrs. Arlene Mae Hall, 47, of 1958 Frisco.

The officers said Mr. Hall had an argument with Mrs. Hall and then grabbed the car as she drove off.

The victim was dragged beneath the car as he held on to the moving vehicle, police reported.

They said the car sped away after Mr. Hall was knocked to the pavement.

Mr. Hall was admitted to Joni Gaston with multiple injuries shortly after the incident.

City charges against the widow were dismissed Monday afternoon in City Traffic Court. She had been held to the State Sunday on $250 bond on charges she left the scene of the accident.

In her testimony, Mrs. Hall said she and her late husband separated two months ago after 20 years of marriage. She said he had repeatedly asked her to come back to him and even threatened to kill her when he was drinking.

Mrs. Hall told the court "I just couldn't stop when he grabbed the car because I was afraid of him when he was drinking."

The deceased was the brother of Guy and Andrew Hall, Mrs. Mattilda Neely of Holly Springs, Miss., Mrs. Inez McClain of Chicago, Ill., and Mrs. Margaret Lee and Mrs. Mahalia Stevenson.

He was the uncle of Leon Stevenson, brother-in-law of Mrs. Willoia Hall and Mrs. Freddie Hall and stepfather of Sylvester Wolfe.

Funeral is being arranged by Lewis & Sons.

Mrs. Ann L. Weathers

HIGH HONOR GRADUATE — Miss Juanita Gardner receives her bachelor of arts degree with high honor from Dean Lionel Arnold and President Hollis F. Price at LeMoynes College.

Douglass High Grad Given $8,600 Grant

Henry Ambrose, Jr., salutatorian of this year's graduating class at Douglass High School, has been awarded an academic scholarship at Emory University, Atlanta, Ga., worth $8,600.

Emory, one of the finest private universities in the country, was until recently, dedicated to the education of the aristocratic and academically talented white youth of the South, offering degrees in medicine, law, dentistry, theology and up to the Ph.D. degree in all academic areas.

Mr. Ambrose is the first Negro of this area offered an academic scholarship of this magnitude to any deep South university.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ambrose, Sr., of 2171 N. Hubert Circle, and plans to major in mathematics and science.

HENRY AMBROSE JR.

St. Jude Charters Bus To Hospital

A chartered bus will leave from St. Jude Baptist Church 853 E. Trigg Avenue, Sunday, June 13, at 1 p. m. for Shelby County Hospital to "spread a bit of sunshine among the patients."

Jail Death Shocking

Sheriff Morris said this week he will continue to work for suitable emergency hospital space for the mentally ill.

His pledge came after Robert Roberts, 46-year-old mental patient of 746 North Montgomery, was found dead Sunday morning in a cell on the fourth floor of the county jail.

Mr. Roberts had been in the cell since last Wednesday awaiting transfer to a mental institution, the sheriff said.

Officials said there is a critical shortage of space for the mentally ill in Memphis and Shelby County.

John Gaston Hospital is the only emergency treatment ward in Memphis and it has only 15 beds for mental patients.

Western State Hospital at Bellevue, Tenn., has a waiting list for mentally ill persons over age 65.

The sheriff revealed three other mental patients are in the county jail.

Sheriff Morris described Mr. Roberts' death as "tragic" and said he hopes the death will arouse public officials and the public in general to the acute situation.

Father Of 4 Buried

Services were held Friday night for 44-year-old John Allen Hughes, an unemployed father of four who was stabbed to death Tuesday night of last week by another passenger on a city bus.

Funeral rites were held from Greater Lakeview Baptist Church on Eighth Road with the Rev. R. D. Anderson officiating. A former Navy man, the deceased was buried Monday morning of this week in National Cemetery.

Mr. Hughes was employed by Memphis Distributing Company until 30 days ago when he was laid off.

He was a member of the youth board of Greater Lakeview Baptist Church.

Mr. Hughes, who resided with his family at 6178 Jonetta, was stabbed to death after taking a fellow passenger the time of the night.

Mr. Hughes asked Sylvester Bradford, 23, of 454 George, for the time, but objected to the manner in which Mr. Bradford answered. Sheriff's Chief of Detectives w.

Mrs. Baldrige, James Townsells Visit Knoxville

Mrs. A. V. Baldrige accompanied Mr. and Mrs. James Townsell to Knoxville, where they saw their daughter, Miss Donna Victoria Christmas (also the Baldrige's niece), receive the B. S. degree in Education from Knoxville College.

On arriving in Knoxville, Sunday, May 30, the party registered at the Admiral Benbow Inn. Later in the morning the group was invited to attend services at the all-white Arlington Church of Christ, 2206 Tecoma Drive N. E. The guest group was impressed and heartened by the warm, Christian manner that they were received. Prior to the morning worship, they participated in the Bible Study Group.

Knoxville College Baccalaureate was held in stately McMillan Chapel. The sermon by the Rev. A. K. Stewart was most inspiring. The Science Building at Knoxville College is named for Rev. Mr. Stewart. Following the sermon, families and friends of the graduates were invited to a reception given by the faculty.

On Monday, May 31, the bi-theistic commencement exercises were held on the beautiful campus beneath the stately trees. The address by Dr. Thomas E. Crooks, a trustee of the college, challenged the graduates to touch and explore territories ahead of them. He charged that each graduate should equip himself first by being "A child of God."

Mrs. Baldrige returned home inspired to do more in her quiet, unassuming manner to encourage all the young people she is in contact with to continue to attain educational and academic heights.

To Meet Monday

The Memphis and Shelby County Young Democrats Association is swinging into action.

A general membership meeting,

Have you heard the new Space Song, Social Welfare Hymn, or A World Order Hymn? Here they are as far as space will allow:

NEW SPACE AGE HYMN
Tune: Last Unk, etreuer
DECLARE, O HEAVENS, THE LORD OF SPACE
8, 8, 4, 4, 8, 8, with Alleluia
Words: Robert Lansing Edwards 1962

Declare, O heavens, the Lord of space,
Reply broad lands in every place,
Tell His splendor! Alleluia!
New realms we find He first hath made,
All being is His power displayed;
Alleluia Alleluia! Alleluia! Alleluia!

Launch forth, O man, and boldly rise,
Beyond our planet pierce the skies.
Boundless venture! Alleluia!
No soaring flight can e'er outrun
Truth God has shown us in His Son;
Alleluia! Alleluia! Alleluia! Alleluia!

Yet see this world with problems filled;
Earth longs for life the Master willed;
Light its darkness! Alleluia.
Reach out all broken lives to mehd,
In Christ win peace no war will end;
Alleluia! Alleluia! Alleluia! Alleluia!

O Lord, whose power all space extols,
Draw near our lives, enlarge our souls,
Dwell within us! Alleluia!
Stir deeds of grace to serve Thy plan,
Wake joy the morning stars began;
Alleluia! Alleluia! Alleluia! Alleluia!

This poem is dedicated to our astronauts who are at this moment of writing orbiting the earth in its 37th revolution.

DR. AND MRS. FREDERICK RIVERS COMPLIMENT CHICAGO GUESTS

Climaxing a gay week of festivities complimenting two popular Chicago visitors (DR. AND MRS. MELVIN MACLIN) Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Rivers entertained for the couple inviting many of their friends to their swanky South Parkway Villa that would be called magnificent in any language and any where.

Guests arrived as early as 8 in the evening and were invited to the side lawn back of the hill-side mansion. Many others sat in the rose garden area where Red-wood furniture was placed. Still others wandered to the back of back yard. Patio lights and hurricane lights decorated the entire outdoor area. A small portable stood between the two divided gardens. Especially pretty were the seats under beach umbrellas and the picnic table with superb service from a line of caterers and bar-tenders. One scene stealer for sure was the food.

Dress was casual and Dr. and Mrs. Rivers were the usual gracious hosts and both have excellent taste and observe all of the social graces and both have a great intellectual insight without being social or intellectual snobs.

Dr. Maclin was a most elegant conversationalist. Although it was a bit hard for Mrs. Maclin to adjust to Southern Society, she was charming and wore beautiful casual outfits (two to be exact during the evening) as did all of the guests look exceptionally good in colorful casual attire.

Among the guests seen around until late were Mrs. O. B. Braithwaite, the charming couple's mother and Dr. and Mrs. W. O. Speight, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. Leland Atkins, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Young, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Howell, Mr. and Mrs. A. ## MRS. WATSON AND ESTER ENTERTAIN ELITE CLUB MEMBERS

Hostesses to the Elite Members for May were Mrs. N. M. Watson and her sister, Mrs. J. W. Ester at Mrs. Watson's stately residence, LeMoel on Walker last Thursday afternoon.

Presiding over the business session was Mrs. H. H. Jones. Attending the last meeting of the season were Mrs. J. H. Seward, Mrs. B. Thompson, Mrs. J. A. Beauchamp, Mrs. A. Hunnicut, Mrs. L. W. Jones, Mrs. B. G. Olive, Jr., Mrs. L. H. Twigg, Mrs. T. H. Watkins, Mrs. G. W. West, Mrs. John Goodman and Mrs. Milton Brandon.

SUMMER WEDDINGS really takes most of the interest this month and even the later part of May but brides left in a hurry without leaving information for the Press. However we do know that Dr. and Mrs. Sidney McNairy took off in their new car last week for Purdue where he received the Ph. D. degree in Bio-Chemistry. The couple plan to go back to Southern University at Baton Rouge where he is a member of the faculty.

The Tennessee History Class of Porter Junior High made an eduational tour of historical points in Nashville and Chattanooga. While in Chattanooga several students stopped at Holiday Inn. Sponsors were Mrs. Grace Brandon and Mr. Perry Allen. Mrs. Ann Benson was a chaperone for the group who had a Trailway Bus chartered.

MISSMORRIS PLANS SUMMER WEDDING: Rev. and Mrs. Robert Edward Morris of Washington, D. C. announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Ann to Elwood Lee Reams, Jr. of Memphis. Miss Morris is a student at Howard University where she will receive her degree in elementary education in June. Mr. Reams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Lee Reams of Memphis, is also a student at Howard University with a major in sociology where he is an active member of the Student Body and has participated in varsity football and track. He was graduated from Manassas High School in Memphis. A June wedding is planned at First Baptist Church in Washington.

MR. AND MRS. A. MACEO WALKER are back after an Island Hop with the Chicagoans (a swanky club made up of business and professional men). More than sixty guests (from all over the country) made the trip to the islands. The Islands Hoppers went first to San Juan in Puerto Rico and on the Virgin Islands and back to Puerto Rico where they had a delightful time. This week the Walkers are off for a week end of activities in Washington, D. C. where they will visit several couples.

Mother Of The Year At Old Salem Baptist Is Mrs. Frankie Rhodes

On Mothers' Day the young people of Old Salem Baptist Church, 694 Scott St., selected as their "Mother of the Year" Mrs. Frankie Rhodes.

She was presented a bouquet of roses during the Mothers' Day ceremony, with Miss Carrie Marshall making the presentation.

Mrs. Rhodes, who lives at 651 Gankler, is an active and well-thought of member of Old Salem, where she is chief usher, president of the Sunday Booster's Club, teacher of the BTU and a supervisor of the young people.

Chief Laurie Pritchett Named In $50,000 Suit

ALBANY, Ga.—(SNS)—Albany's famed Chief of Police Laurie Pritchett and four members of the Albany Police Department were named defendants in a $50,000 civil suit. The other police officers were listed as Det. Billy L. Manley, Ramon Slaughter, Leon Ieys and Howard Yelverton.

This civil action was brought by Henry Terrell to recover damages from the defendants, members of the police department of the City of Albany. Attorneys for Mr. Terrell are C. B. King and Dennis Roberts.

The complaint alleges that Henry Terrell was deprived his civil rights in violation of federal statutes and the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States. He is asking for an award of damages in the amount of $50,000 from the defendants jointly and severally. He alleges that the defendants did wrongfully arrest and detain him in violation of his rights under the Constitution and laws of the United States.

The suit is an outgrowth of an arrest made following the fatal shooting of Wilmon Jones by an Albany Policeman.

Henry Terrell made statements to the FBI and to Atty. C. B. King about the shooting. He was arrested and is alleging in the complaint that throughout his imprisonment, there was no warrant for his arrest; he was never charged with any crime, and was never informed that he had been or was going to be charged with any crime; he was

Peace Corps Test Slated For June 12

An opportunity for Memphis area residents to test their aptitudes for Peace Corps service will come at 9 a.m. Saturday, June 12, at the Post Office Building, Room 303.

The opportunity is the Peace Corps Placement Test, which is not passed or failed and you can't study for it. It, for example, test scores indicate limited language acquiring ability, the Peace Corps tries to place the applicant in an English-speaking area.

The test is used by the Peace Corps only as a tool in the matching of volunteers and jobs. The Phe Peace Corps application is the most important indicator of suitability for Peace Corps service. It must be filled out and brought to exam unless previously submitted.

Applicants should plan on about one and a half hours at the testing center.

Hyde Park Honors Stimbart

The eighth grade class of Hyde Park School held its final assembly program of the year with some 400 students and parents present.

Speaker for the occasion was E. C. Stimbart, superintendent of Memphis City Schools.

The program theme, "One Step Forward," was developed by the speaker. The summation of his address was "No Real Progress is made instantaneously. It must be, and is, a laborious process, one step at a time, for one to reach a tangible goal and acquire a lucrative place for himself in this competitive society."

The Hyde Park PTA presented a citation to Mr. Stimbart "for his outstanding contribution to the progress of education and public relations on a national and local scale." Mrs. Ramona Harrell, president of the PTA, made the presentation.

Other awards were presented to students that have made outstanding progress in scholastic achievement and curricular activities during the 1964-65 school year.

A. B. Bland is principal of the school.

June, 1965

June is the favorite month of millions of Americans. It is known and remembered for many things.

It is a time for roses, blushing brides, graduations, school vacations, summer and beautiful weather.

To us, two of the most interesting things about June is that it always brings the summer solstice, and Father's Day which is always observed on the third Sunday.

June is not a month of birthday anniversaries of famous Americans, but it contains many patriotic days.

The United States Government actually began in the month of June, 1788, when New Hampshire ratified the Constitution.

The first American troops to land in France in World War I landed June 26, 1917.

But the main attraction of June is that it brings long days, summer and a new crop of brides.

Pope Paul May Announce Plans For Reform Of Roman Curia

VATICAN CITY - (UPI) - Vatican sources said Saturday Pope Paul VI may announce plans Sunday for a reform of the Roman Curia. They said he also may call on the Roman Catholic clergy to defend its saintliness against temptations of the world.

The sources said it was "possible" the pontiff may refer in a Pentecost speech to a reform of the Curia - the Vatican central church administration that has been criticized by Ecumenical Council liberals as a bulwark of conservatism.

The sources said, however, they expected the papal address to deal mainly with the need for a saintly clergy. This would be an indirect comment on the recent scandal in which two Capuchin friars in Albano were jailed on charges of complicity in large-scale cigarette smuggling.

They said it was highly unlikely

GOP Candidates Make Strong Bid In Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss. - (UPI) - Mississippians voted across the state Tuesday for municipal officers in an election that saw Republicans make their strongest bid for local offices in nearly a century.

The GOP put up 47 men in the elections, including mayoralty candidates in seven cities.

Gov. Paul Johnson termed the vote "probably the most important elections in this state's recent history."

Not since the turbulent Republican party in Mississippi fielded more candidates in a general election.

Johnson backed a series of election reform bills in the 1964 legislature which opponents claimed were designed to crush Republican strength.

Last week the governor said he was "more disappointed every day" that the bills were defeated because a two-party system "plays right into the hands of a minority."

GOP officials discounted the results of last month's municipal primaries when Democratic party candidates outpolled Republicans by a 10-to-1 margin.

They said none of the GOP primaries was hotly contested and this led to voter apathy.

Republicans now hold 11 elective offices on the national, state and county levels in the once solidly Democratic state.

Mississippians voted overwhelmingly for Barry Goldwater in the November presidential election and elected the state's first GOP congressman in modern history.

Accounting Majors Among Most Sought After College Graduates

(Part II: Job Opportunities for Women)

WASHINGTON - (NNPA) - Accounting majors, both women and men, continue to be among the most sought after college graduates, the Labor Department reports in a survey covering June employment opportunities.

In most parts of the country, the supply of qualified applicants is well below the needs of CPA firms, manufacturers, insurance companies and other business organizations. Starting salaries are averaging about $550 a month for most graduates with bachelor's degrees. Salaries are somewhat higher for graduates with advanced degrees.

An increased demand for business administration and liberal arts graduates for employment as sales representatives and sales trainees is especially evident this year, the survey reveals. In addition there are sizeable numbers of openings for management trainee graduates.

Manufacturing and retailing firms, insurance companies, banks and sales organizations are also actively recruiting graduates. Positions are available for liberal arts graduates in personnel work and advertising, but competition for these jobs will be keen in most sections of the country, the Labor Department warns. Competition also will be keen for graduates seeking positions in public relations work.

Starting salaries range between $425 and $600 a month for most business trainee and sales jobs. Graduates with a master's degree in business administration can expect to start at a higher salary.

Numerous opportunities for clerical and related jobs with good prospects of promotion will also be available to business administration and liberal arts graduates.

Women qualifying for general office or secretarial work will have excellent prospects for jobs which may lead to more responsible and better paying administrative positions. Retailing also will provide management trainee jobs for women graduates; the banking and insurance industry is becoming a growing source of openings for women trained for work in the financial field.

SOcial SCIENCES About 600,000 students will obtain their bachelor's degree in the basic social sciences this year. Many of these will pursue graduate

MY WEEKLY SERMON by REV. BLAIR T. HUNT, PASTOR, MISSISSIPPI BVD. CHRISTIAN CHURCH

TEXT: "Because you are neither cold nor hot, I will spue (spit) you out of my mouth." - Revelations 3:16.

STRANGE CHURCH MEMBERS There are strange church members. There are ice-berg members who are cold, unresponsive. There are church tramp members who visit occasionally. There are critics members who are brick-throwers, fault-finders, gossip-carriers. There are conspicuous members, dictators, bosses, who must have their way or else quit the church.

There are members who talk about prayer but who never pray. There are strange members who stay away from church because of trivial reasons; they sing, "I Love Thy Church, O God" and "My Jesus I Love Thee." There are strange members who say that the Bible is God's word to man and yet do not read it. There are members who say they believe in a heavenly reward but who never do anything to earn such a reward.

Church member who criticizes others for things they do themselves. They are truly strange people. There are members who say malicious things about others and yet consider themselves as followers of Christ, the prince of peace. Isn't it strange there are Sunday School teachers who leave before the worship service. Are we one of them?

Worst of all there are preachers, Church members, who do not practice what they preach. They say, "Do What I Tell You To Do, but don't do as I do." There are stewards, elders, deacons, trustees, church officials who accept the high honor of leadership, but who take no interest in the departmental work of the church. There is a countless host of members who seldom attend church or support it's work with their finances. God will spue (spit) them out of His mouth.

A big personal question: "In what group am I?" Another question: "If every member in this church were just like me, what kind of church present day.

It is not a book on Negro Memphis; it deals with all of Memphis. The author goes at length describing early streetcars and the yellow fever epidemics.

Considerable space is given to such well-known personalities as the late William C. Handy, Robert R. Church (senior and junior), Ed Crump, Tom Lee and Clarence Saunders.

One chapter in the book deals with Beale Street. The book traces Memphis' population growth and lists all of Memphis' firsts.

CHICAGO — (NPI) — The first of a series of traveling workshops on inter-group relations on northern and southern college campuses this summer will be conducted at Loyola University June 14-18.

Negro Astronaut Denies Bias In Space Program Elimination

CHINA LAKE, Calif. — (NPI) — Capt. Edward J. Dwight, Jr., in denying charges last week that he had been eliminated from the space program because of his race as reported in a magazine article, said the story apparently has "some information out-of-context."

The denial by the nation's first Negro to be picked for astronaut training, gave rise to the observation in certain quarters that the "hue and cry" was years behind the initiation of the space program.

Captain Dwight flew into the naval air test station here after a charge that he had been dropped from the space program had been widely publicized.

The story first appeared in Ebony magazine published in Chicago. According to the article, the Air Force captain, 31, had submitted a 15-page report to the Pentagon describing "racial pressure" against him during his training.

In response to an inquiry, the Pentagon confirmed that Capt. Dwight had received another assignment but did not touch on the charge of racial pressure.

"Selections for special assignments and training with the Air Force are made without regard to race, creed, color or national origin," the reply said.

According to a spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, it was against policy to discuss any individual's qualifications, but added:

"If he was not selected as an astronaut, it does not mean he was not qualified. It means that someone more qualified was selected ahead of him."

The statement stressed the fact that Capt. Dwight was not the only one who did not make the grade in the final stage of training.

Only seven of the 26 Air Force nominees were accepted and only 4 of a total of 136 applicants has been accepted for manned space-flight training by the space agency.

No one could be found, it was claimed, who knew of the report Capt. Dwight was said to have written to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

In its statement the Pentagon emphasized the merit aspects of the training program.

All personnel who meet the racial background and experience criteria are at liberty to apply for these assignments with the understanding that only the best qualified applicants will be selected."

In Kansas City, Kan., where Capt. Dwight's parents reside, his father Edward J. Sr., said he never heard a word about the report that his son was no longer in the space program.

RACIAL BLINDNESS PLAY — NEW YORK — (NPI) — A one-act play dealing with racial blindness was the high point of communion services at St. Clement's Episcopal church last week.

The play, "A Study in Color," was presented by Woodie King Jr. and Mervyn Haines Jr., and produced by the American Peace Theatre. The play was designed to point out attitudes that cloud race relations in the U.S., or as one of the actors put it "the trouble is, anybody can see you're a Negro and I'm white... anybody can see..."

Urge Expansion Of U. S. Housing Bias Directive

WASHINGTON — (NNPA) — The American Civil Liberties Union called June 3 for "expansion and revitalization" of the President's Executive Order banning discrimination in federally-assisted housing.

The New York-based group said in a letter sent to Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, coordinator of the Administration's civil rights programs.

The letter, signed by ACLU executive director John D.emberon, Jr., said Executive Order 11063 while an historic development itself by committing the government to an anti-discrimination housing policy, has made hardly a dent in the "armor of housing discrimination" since it was issued Oct. 20, 1962.

To increase its effectiveness, the ACLU suggested expansion of the ban on housing discrimination to programs of all federally-aided banks and lending institutions, including commercial and national banks, savings and loan associations, which are chartered, regulated or insured by agencies of the federal government.

The ACLU also urged extension of the order to cover retroactive, all federally-aided housing built or contracted for prior to Oct. 20, 1962. The 1962 order applies to less than 10 per cent of federally-aided housing.

SHOW YOURSELF A MAN — International Sunday Lesson for June 13, 1965.

MEMORY SELECTION: "Be strong, and show yourself a man, and keep the charge of the Lord your God, walking in his ways and keeping his statutes, his commandments, his ordinances, his judgments, and his testimonies" — (1 Kings 2: 2-3).

LESSON TEXT: 1 Kings 1 - 3. Today we ponder the significance that Solomon's prayer for understanding holds for us as we go about the business of our daily lives.

The lesson under study today has for its background the impending death of David, and contains one of the most inspiring admonitions that any man — then or now — can give his son. David's words: "Be strong, and show yourself a man..." will most assuredly echo the desire of every parental heart today, as we watch our children emerge from childhood to maturity and face the decisions and opportunities that life will assuredly bring.

As we go about the business of daily living we are faced with many decisions — decisions in family life, in business transactions, and in community living. And, last — but by no means least — in our attitude towards religion. How we meet these challenges, and how we respond to them, is, in effect, a measure of the man.

For God never forces an issue; He presents an opportunity and a choice — and the choosing rests with us. Would that we always meet our opportunities with the humility of Solomon, who openly confessed that he was but a child, and pray for guidance and understanding with the sincerity with which Solomon prayed!

Therefore, when God spoke with Solomon in a dream and asked what gift He could give to the young King, Solomon prayed for an understanding heart, that he might rule his people with humanity and compassion.

It must be borne in mind that the word "heart" was the seat of the intellect, the will, and emotions. Therefore Solomon was asking for guidance in all that he was, or could ever be.

Solomon was aware that with opportunity comes responsibility. And the greater the opportunity, the greater the responsibility. Life today presents many opportunities — calls for many decisions, not just for the young — but for people of all ages. And whether the decisions we make are large or small, they are immaterial in regard to size when we consider that how we respond to them can have far-reaching effects on the molding of our character. Jesus, in teaching his disciples, pointed out to them that the important decisions in life are really the small ones which appear insignificant, for in the aggregate, as made, they are the sum total of the man.

NAACP Summer Voter Project Starts In South Carolina

NEW YORK — The first of a series of three orientation institutes for volunteers in the NAACP summer voter registration project will be held at Frogmore, S.C., June 7-9, Executive Director Roy Wilkins announced this week.

The project which will be conducted in South Carolina, Alabama and Mississippi is designed primarily to get a large number of Negro citizens registered to vote in each of the three states. The project will utilize volunteers working under direction of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Orientation institutes are scheduled for Birmingham, Ala., June 22, and for Jackson, Miss., July 3. The project will continue in each of the three states until Aug. 1.

Heading a six-person staff which will conduct the South Carolina institute is Glover B. Current, NAACP director of branches and field administration. The project is under supervision of the Association's branch department.

Other NAACP staff members who will instruct the volunteers on various aspects of the program include Robert L. Carter, general counsel; Miss Althea T. L. Simmons, coordinator of the project; C. Patton, voter registration field director; and I. DeQuincy, field director for South Carolina. Richard Miles, field director of the South Carolina Voter Education Project, will serve as guest consultant.

Unlike the project in Alabama and Mississippi, the South Carolina program will be conducted almost entirely by South Carolinians — 600 members of NAACP youth units in the state under the guidance of 51 adult advisers with a minimum of out-of-state participation. The orientation course consists

Agriculture Dept. To Hire 1,150 Youths

WASHINGTON — (NNPA) — Agriculture Department agencies The Agriculture Department announced on June 3 it will hire about 1,160 boys and girls, aged 16 to 21, this summer to provide them with jobs and work experience.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said preference will be given to those who need jobs the most, "regardless of race, creed or color."

Throughout the country have been instructed to compel local State Employment Security Offices and begin hiring immediately.

All positions are to be filled "as early this month as possible," Freeman said.

President Johnson has called on both public and private agencies to provide at least 500,000 jobs this summer — over and above any previously planned summer hiring — for boys and girls.

In a similar move, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare announced it would provide summer jobs for 850 young people.

Weaver, Hatcher To Head Capital Press Club Panel

WASHINGTON — (NNPA) — U.S. Housing Administrator Robert C. Weaver and former Associate White House Press Secretary Andrew T. Hatcher will head panel discussions for the 8th Annual Press Institute of the Capital Press Club, at the Washington Hilton Hotel on June 19.

Wallace H. Terry, Jr., Washington correspondent for Time and president of the Capital Press Club, said the Press Institute will present the club's 21st Annual Awards Banquet at the hotel that same day.

Among those on the evening program are Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, Attorney General Nicholas de B. Katzenbach, United Nations President, Alex. Quisenberry, Peace Corps and Office of Economic Opportunity director R. B. Shriver, Sen. Thomas Kuchel (R-Calif.), actor Ossie Davis, writers Art Buchwald and Eric Sevareid, and entertainer Abbey Lincoln.

Moderating the 10 a. m. panel discussion on "The Negro in the City" will be M. Carl Holman, newly appointed special assistant to the staff director of the U. S. Civil Rights Commission.

Participants for this panel include: Dr. Weaver; Rep. John Conyers, (D-Mich.); James Banks, Director of the Washington anti-poverty effort; Edwin Barry, director of the Chicago Urban League; Cecil Moore, militant Philadelphia NAACP president; Bernard Rubin, director of the 1963 March on Washington.

Edward Peck of the Charleston, W. Va. Gazette, a former Washington Afro-American reporter, will moderate the 2 p. m. panel discussion on "The Negro in the Press."

In addition to Hatcher, the participants include: James Booker, political writer for the New York Amsterdam News; Iren A. Franklin, civil rights reporter for the New York Times; Herbert Kaplow, Washington-based correspondent for NBC television; Robert Novak, nationally syndicated columnist; and Ted Pollock, reporter for the New York Post.

Most of the jobs will be in the agency's field installations throughout the country, primarily in Social Security offices and Public Health Service facilities.

Practically all of the young people will be employed in basic training positions at $1.25 an hour.

Job Preparation Project Sponsored By NAACP, NUL

WASHINGTON — Local units of two of the country's oldest and largest civil-rights organizations — the NAACP and the National Urban League — have entered into an unusual agreement to sponsor a federally-financed job preparation project for 1,250 youths in the Greater Cleveland, Ohio, area.

Announcement of the project was made here, May 2, by Under Secretary of Labor John F. Henning after cosigning the $388,000 agreement with Robert Taylor, Jr., executive vice chairman of the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity.

Signing the contract on behalf of the cooperating organizations were Harold B. Williams, executive secretary of the Cleveland NAACP, and Ernest C. Cooper, executive director of the Cleveland Urban League.

Under the contract the sponsors will administer an experiment and demonstration project designed to prepare 16- to 25-year old persons to qualify for apprentice examinations, enrollment in manpower training programs, acceptance into the neighborhood youth corps, and other opportunities requiring basic elementary preparation.

The federal government allocated the money for the project under the Manpower Development Act. The project will be conducted in two phases covering a total of 15 months. Young people in Geauga, Lake Lorain and Cuyahoga counties with reading and arithmetic abilities above the eighth grade level will be eligible.

The agreement came as the result of a sustained drive by the NAACP and the Urban League, including picketing of a government building under construction in Cleveland to secure skilled jobs for Negroes in the building industry. The training under the project will prepare applicants to take tests for apprenticeship programs in the building trades and for other employment.

Williams said that the major credit unions in the construction industry had agreed to test Negro applicants, to set dates for examinations, and to alter their oral interview procedures so that standardized questions would be asked all applicants and their answers recorded. Moreover, they agreed to reduce from 30 to 21 points the credits for the oral part of the examination.

Herbert Hill, NAACP secretary for Cleveland Branch in the job campaign and in the development of the program for job preparation.

Mr. Hill said that the Cleveland program would serve as a pilot project and that the NAACP anticipated seeking similar contracts in other cities where Negro workers experience difficulties in securing jobs in the skilled crafts. New York, Newark, and Cincinnati are among cities under study for such a project, he said.

Among those on the evening program are Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, Attorney General Nicholas de B. Katzenbach, United Nations President, Alex. Quisenberry, Peace Corps and Office of Economic Opportunity director R. B. Shriver, Sen. Thomas Kuchel (R-Calif.), actor Ossie Davis, writers Art Buchwald and Eric Sevareid, and entertainer Abbey Lincoln.

Colored Firms Push Summer Job Program

WASHINGTON — (NNPA) — The Labor Department announced Friday that two colored publishing companies and a colored life insurance company were among the first private concerns in the country to respond to President Johnson's plea for summer job opportunities for boys and girls, aged 16 to 21.

A spokesman said the Chicago (Ill.) Defender and the Johnson Publishing Co., also of Chicago, had agreed to offer jobs to two trainees each, and the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Co., of Durham, will provide summer jobs to 15 trainees.

The Labor Department listed Dr. Ralph Bunche, United Nations Under Secretary for Special Political Affairs, as an "early sponsor" of the summer trainee program.

In announcing the Youth Opportunity Program, President Johnson said "getting jobs may be the difference between being able to go back to school or not going back." He asserted the program would be "worthless" if it resulted only in replacing regular employment opportunities.

The White House has directed Federal departments and agencies to make every effort to find meaningful work or training opportunities for one extra trainee for every 100 employees on their present payrolls.

Practically all of the young people will be employed in basic training positions at $1.25 an hour.

15 Strikers Walk Away From Eastland's Farm

INDIANOLA, Miss. — 15 cotton choppers walked off Senator James O. Eastland's plantation in Doddsville, Mississippi, to participate in a strike in Indianola. They are the first workers to leave Senator Eastland's land. There are now over 4 workers on strike in Sunflower County and over 1000 in the Delta. All of the strikers are members of the Mississippi Freedom Labor Union. They are working for a minimum wage of $1.25 per hour.

The same scene is repeating itself in many counties in Mississippi. Negroes who have been harassed all their lives are finally finding the courage to stand up and speak out against the injustices done to them and their families. They work from sun-up to sun-down on the average pay per day is $3.00.

Mrs. Fannie Lou Hamer of the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party states "What these people are doing here is the most important thing that has happened in Mississippi. It's something we've all wanted to do for a long time but they are the first who have had the guts to do it."

The Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) has stepped up its drive in the Delta. Each time a Negro is beaten up or has his home burned down, more Negro citizens join the big drive for freedom.

The Mississippi Freedom Labor Union (MFLU) has its largest supporters in Washington, Bolivar and Sunflower Counties. Many have been arrested and families have been evicted from plantations, but there will be no stopping now. As one local Mississippian says, "This is only the beginning."

Negro Publishers Plan Silver Anniversary Meet

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — (NPI) — An imposing array of speakers has been programmed for the silver anniversary convention June 16-17 of the National Negro Newspaper Publishers Association. Leading the list will be Carl T. Rowan, director, U. S. Information Agency and former U. S. ambassador to Finland.

Convention Of NAACP To Stress Leadership

NEW YORK — The NAACP 56th annual convention, to be held in Denver, Colo., June 28-July 3, will place special emphasis on education for community leadership.

In addition to its regular program topics, including workshops in school desegregation, political action, housing, employment and anti-poverty legislation, the convention will have three new features, designed to aid NAACP branch leaders to deal more effectively with community problems. One of these will be a special Leadership Development Institute.

Press Institute; Maurice Henry, president, Kentucky Press Association and Mayor William O. Cowger. The Louisville Defender is a founding member of the National Newspaper Publishers Association. Seminars on "The Negro Revolution" and "The Negro Press: Re-examined" will occupy the opening day. Rowan will address the annual NNPA awards banquet.

On the lighter side, newsmen will enjoy a sunset boat ride on the St. Bell of Louisville; visit historic Churchill Downs where they will lunch and see the museum; have a horse race and enjoy a cookout at Miles Park and an honor at Miles Park and enjoy a cookout at the Ohio river bank residence of President Frank L. Stanley, editor - publisher of the host paper.

A second innovation will be a branch "problem clinic" where NAACP branch personnel with specific problems in such areas as housing, membership, church work, fund-raising, etc., will have an opportunity to discuss them with NAACP personnel experienced in the area and work out possible solutions.

Aid To Racial Change

ATLANTA — (NPI) — The Home Mission board, Southern Baptist convention, announced here last week, the beginning of a 7,500 denominational-sponsored study to assist churches in developing ministries in racially changing neighborhoods. The study, to encompass 21 metropolitan areas, will be headed by G. Willis Bennett, Louisville, Ky., associate professor of Christian ethics, Southern Baptist Theological seminary.

Rights Leaders Protest As Negro Teachers Lose Jobs

WASHINGTON — (NPI) — Funds to a school district that dismisses Negro teachers while it desegregates classrooms should be cut off, a group of civil rights leaders declared last week.

They urged government action following a statement of a federal official that the Civil Rights Act of 1964 cannot guarantee the placing of teachers.

The protest was aimed at James M. Quigley, assistant secretary, Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Quigley addressed a conference on enforcement of the Civil Rights Act section that shuts off federal support for school districts discriminating by race.

President Johnson has been urged to insist that qualified Negro teachers receive equal consideration in teacher placement. The issue arose because nine Negro teachers have not been rehired for desegregated schools in Southwest Virginia. Ten others have been assigned as "teachers helpers."

Charles H. Carroll, North Carolina superintendent of public instruction in answer to the accusation leveled last week by Jack Greenberg, director of the NAACP Legal Defense Fund in New York, gave what some consider an evasive reply.

Mississippi Family Missing Since March; FBI Searches

GULFPORT, Miss. — (NPI) — The FBI last week disclosed it has found no trace of a Hancock county family missing since last March. Leon Acker, his wife and six children disappeared from their home in the Catahola area around the middle of March. Their hurried departure as indicated by a cooked meal, untouched on the stove, a freshly slaughtered hog. One of the family's two cars was also missing.

Ambush Slaying Of Deputy Stirs New Race Tension

BOGALUSA, La. — (NPI) — A Negro deputy sheriff was shot to death last week, apparently by white racists, in a bold ambush near here.

The victim was identified as O'Neal Moore, who was shot in the head as he and his partner, Creed Rogers, drove along a highway just north of the city. Rogers was injured in the attack.

The victim was identified as O'Neal Moore, who was shot in the head as he and his partner, Creed Rogers, drove along a highway just north of the city. Rogers was injured in the attack.

Being held for murder in the brutal slaying was Ernie R. McKeen, 41, of Bogalusa.

They were hired by Sheriff Norman A. Crowe to patrol Negro areas. This move had brought angry reaction from the Ku Klux Klan in the area.

The slaying brought added tension to the Bogalusa area. Earlier, mobs armed with clubs and pipes attacked Negro civil rights pickets and Columbia, the town's main street, resembled a battlefield until police arrested 28 persons — 15 whites and 13 Negroes.

At least four persons were injured and a total of 48 arrested in four days of scrimmages.

Couple Held In Slaying Of Circus Clown

NEW YORK — (UPI) — A young Negro couple from New York's "hoghead jungle" was held Sunday and charged with slaying 65-year-old circus clown Paul Jung to death with the brass nozzle of a fire hose last April 21.

Allen Jones, 24, an unemployed laborer, and Marian Deberry, 21, who, police said, lived together in Harlem while trying to support a $40-a-day heroin habit, were arraigned before Criminal Court Judge Manuel A. Gomez on a charge of homicide. Gomez held them without bail and slated a hearing for June 15.

A police affidavit said the couple beat Jung and robbed him of $40 and a typewriter in his room at the Forrest Hotel, a short distance from Madison Square Garden. Jung, of Tampa, Fla., had performed at the Garden with the Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey circus shortly before his death.

Jung, wealthy from 31 years under the big top and operating a "fun factory" in Florida, was beaten so severely on the head that he suffered multiple skull fractures, scalp wounds and brain damage. A fragile 5-foot, 8-inch 140 pound man, he limped because of an injury suffered when he was a trapeze artist.

His palama-clad body, covered with a bedspread, was sprawled across a narrow entryway into his room. There was no sign of forced entry.

How the killers gained entry to Jung's room remained a mystery, hidden behind new legal restrictions here designed to keep certain information from the public before trial.

But it was known that police for weeks had solid leads to the killers and had been scouring the Eastern Seaboard in a search for them. A reliable source said the police were seeking a couple who worked the old badger game, whereby a woman would strike up an acquaintance with a man. Then, while the woman was in the man's room, her male accomplice would enter and rob or shake down the man.

Millions of children had laughed at the antics of Jung, who in his last performance only hours before his death, had worn his blinking neon eyeglasses and a misfitting orange and red coat.

ELEANOR From Father To Son

My son, you must work. Whether you handle a pick or wheelbarrow or a set of books, dig ditches or edit a newspaper, ring an auction bell or write funny things, you must work. Don't be afraid of killing yourself by overworking on the sunny side of thirty. Men sometimes die, but it is because they quit at 6 p.m. and don't go home until 2 a.m. It is the intervals that kill my son. The work gives you appetite, for your meals; it lends solitude to your slumber; it gives you a perfect appreciation of a holiday.

There are young men who do not work but their country is not proud of them. It does not even know their names; it only speaks of them as "Old So and So's boys." Nobody likes them; the great busy world doesn't know they are here.

So find out what you want to be and do. Take off your coat and make dust in the world. The busier you are, the less trouble you are apt to get into; the sweeter will be your sleep, the brighter your holidays and the better satisfied the whole world will be with you. (Bob Burdette)

WHEN A FATHER PRAYS Build me a son, oh, Lord, who will be strong enough to know when he is weak and brave enough to face himself when he is afraid. One who is proud and unbending in defeat but humble and gentle in victory. A son whose wishbone will not be where his backbone should be; a son who will know that to know himself, is the foundation stone of all true knowledge.

Rear him, I pray, not in the paths of ease and comfort but under the stress and spur of difficulties and challenges. Here let him learn to stand up in the storm; let him learn compassion for those who fail. Build me a son whose heart will be clean, whose goal will be high.

Then, I too, his father, will dare in the sacred recesses of my own heart to whisper, "I have not lived in vain." —Anon, "From Tony Wov's Scrapbook"

A London magazine recently asked its subscribers what a home is, and received over eight hundred answers. Out of these, six were selected as the best. Here they are: "Home — The father's kingdom, the mother's world and the child's paradise." "Home — A world of strife shut out, a world of love shut in."

"Home — A place where the small are great and the great are small." "Home — A place where we grumble the most and are treated the best." "Home — The place where our stomachs get three square meals a day and our hearts a thousand."

"Home — The center of our affection round which our hearts best wishes twine."

RESTAURANTS DEFY RIGHTS LAW

SILVER SPRING, Md. — (NPI) — A restaurant here and another in Baltimore were found to have violated state law for refusing to serve Negroes, according to Maryland's Interracial Commission. The commission issued orders directing Crivello's Wayside Bar and Grill, and Leonard's Restaurant in Baltimore, to stop discriminatory policies. It rejected arguments from both that the large amount of alcoholic sales exempted them from compliance.

SPORTS OF THE WORLD

BY MARION E. JACKSON

Southern University, Baton Rouge, La., faces censure from the National Collegiate Athletic Association for competing in an Amateur Athletic Union meet in California.

Therefore, Southern University now joins Southern California, and several Ivy League schools, in breaking the solid front the NCAA had in its fight for control of U. S. and international sports.

It is unfortunate, that the Stars and Stripes will not be able to send abroad this summer its greatest track and field competitors.

The first two finishers in each event in San Diego, will also be the basis for selection for the World Games in Budapest, generally known as the Student Olympics.

Caught in the middle in addition to Southern University and Southern California are such track and field fortresses as North Carolina College, Grambling State, Texas Southern University, Maryland State, Winston Salem State and Morgan State College to name a few outstanding powers in small college track and field competition.

AAU President Clifford Buck offers a ray of hope that many small colleges, and major university athletes might make the trip behind the Iron Curtain, in stating "We recognize that a number of college men will be completing their eligibility this month. Fortunately, these men have an opportunity to move up the competitive ladder to meet mature, experienced athletes of other nations."

Buck has scotched all suggestions that some athletes be hand-picked for the confrontation with the Soviet Union which rivals in importance the showdown at the XVII Olympiad held in Tokyo, Japan last year.

Buck has emphasized that only athletes qualifying in the AAU Championships will make the plane to Moscow and Kiev, noting "In head-to-head competition in the National AAU championships, the men will be competing against the nation's best athletes on the same track, on the same day and under the same conditions."

"From this competition will emerge men who have proven their right to a place on the United States' team after meeting and defeating the other top athletes of our country. Our top athletes expect and accept such a policy."

It is regrettable that there will be some undergraduate students who will be deterred from gaining this valuable experience with an opportunity to compete against our top stars.

Arthur Delay writing in the New York Times states (in part) regarding the NCAA conflict with the AAU:

The new boycott smacks of desperation. The N. C. A. A. is losing its fight with the A. A. U. and it knows it. The International Amateur Athletic Federation has repudiated the N. C. A. A. and reaffirmed its sole recognition of the A. A. U. The puppet track federation of the college group can get nowhere. A face-saving peace is the only hope for the innocent victims of this needless feud, the college athletes themselves.

Whether America's strongest team will go abroad is open to question. Their judgment warped by the insatiable desire of their power, mad leaders to wrest away control of track and field in this country from the A. A. U., the National Collegiate Athletic Association would seem willing to scuttle the ship. The N. C. A. A. has threatened enalties on any college that permits or fails to prevent its athletes from competing in the A. A. U. national championships.

College classes will be over by then. The boys will be on their summer vacations, free men able to do as they please. But these campus connivers insist on exerting a cradle-to-grave suzerainty that is unmitigated presumption. If the colleges don't bow cravenly to the whip, Big Brother will black Jack them by withholding television dates and other emoluments.

SPORTS BEAT - Never before have blood ties been more evident in sports than the upsurge of brother combination in professional wrestling. The trend is pinpointed on the Friday night, June 11 matches to be staged by Promoter-matchmaker Paul Jones at the City Auditorium.

Three "brother duos" are booked to appear. They are Al and Mario Galento, Billy Boy and Red Boy Hines, and the celebrated Corsican Brothers, Joe and Jean!!

Major League baseball is still headed for Atlanta. Perhaps, the Milwaukee Braves - Chicago White Sox game, Monday, June 14 will be played without the deluge of rain which cancelled out the Atlanta Crackers - Cincinnati Reds fray early this week.

The White Sox will have as Manager Al Lopez and of course you're well acquainted with Bobby Bragan of the Braves. June 21st, the Minnesota Twins come here to oppose the Braves!!

Golf is big business, that is professional-wise. Jack Nicklaus is the nation's top Professional Golfers Association money-winner with $52,000.

Bruce Crampton and Doug Sanders are in the second and third top-winning spot, respectively.

Champagne Tony Lema used his victory in the Buick Open to jump from 21st to fourth place on the Professional Golfers Association list of money winners.

Lema, who collected $20,000 for his first place finish in the Buick, raised his total earnings for the year to $37,164.12. Jack Nicklaus retained his hold on first place by picking up $5,000 in the Buick and raising his total winnings to $52,900.

Johnny Pott, second place finisher in the Buick Open, moved into sixth place and into the top 10 for the first time this year. He won $12,000 to bring his total earnings to $30,734.34.

Crampton's total is $33,095.17 while Sanders, who finished sixth in the Buick, raised his earnings to $41,166.11.

ATLANTA, Ga. - (SNS) - The Atlanta Stadium Authority Tuesday refused to negotiate with either the National Football League or the American Football League for a possible Atlanta franchise, an announced it would keep the door open for possible deals until July 1.

The American Football League Tuesday granted an Atlanta franchise to the Cox Broadcasting Co. for 1966, at a meeting in Oceanport, N. J.

Chairman Arthur Montgomery announced the authority members decided unanimously in a 2-1-2 hour meeting that they would not choose between the football leagues, but seek the best possible deal for their brand - new $18 million stadium.

Montgomery explained the authority members considered themselves as being mere "landlords" of the stadium and, as such, must seek the best possible use of the property.

Montgomery said the authority will consider proposals of "responsible owners of territorial franchises" between now and the July 1 deadline.

Along The Sports Trail

BY SAM BROWN

The tumult and the hullaboo that followed the recent Clay-Liston heavyweight championship fight have subsided somewhat, and a rational look at the facts is now taking place. Several blaring headlines were used in connection with the description and report of the one minute knockout of Liston by Clay, with most of them being critical of the whole boxing game.

The fight was referred to by some as "a fix," and a disgrace to the game and the participants; the fight you didn't see; the fight that wasn't, and other statements representing storms of protest. But now in a calm and cool look at what happened at Lewiston, Me. May 25, it is brought home that the fight was legit, and that Liston, an older and slower fighter got belted around by a younger and better fighter.

Time Magazine reprinted under the headline of Theater of the Absurd, "Nobody can deny that Cassius Marcellus Clay, 23, has an affinity for fantasy. Last week in Lewiston, Me., Cassius fought a fight that did not seem to be a fight, threw a punch that did not look like a punch, scored a knockout that the referee did not realize was a knockout, and set a record that turned out to be no record.

"In the process Cassius clearly established himself as the heavyweight champion of the world and a consummate actor — in the theater of the absurd."

There are those who shouted "fix" if that was true it was a poor job indeed. The rank amateur fixer could have done a better job at fixing than that. The knockout blow was so fast that many at the ring side did not see it. Clay was lightning fast and razor sharp and was determined to prove that he was truly the heavyweight champion.

At the race in the major leagues reached the 1st holiday milestone of the season, the Los Angeles Dodgers and the Minnesota Twins were leading the pack in their respective leagues. However, both are closely trailed by the second place teams, the Milwaukee Braves in the National and the Chicago White Sox in the American.

The Milwaukee team is perhaps one of the hottest in the league, and making strides towards overtaking the Dodgers. This is particularly ironic because the Braves fans have almost forsaken the team and are very conspicuous by their absence. Attendance at home is the lowest since the Braves moved to County Stadium.

This can be attributed to the fact that the Braves are moving to Atlanta after this season. The brand of baseball now being played by the Braves could carry them to the league championship. This would be a wonderful way to end their sojourn in Milwaukee. Then too, just imagine how proud the Atlanta fans will be to have a championship team move into their midst!

The Braves can boast one of the best one-two home run punch in the game in Eddie Mathews and Hank Aaron who are second only to the immortal Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig of home run punch in baseball history. While Ruth and Gehrig were together on the Yankees team of other days, they hit a total of 854 homers, and career totals of 1,107. Ruth hit a career total of 714 and Gehrig 493.

Since Mathews and Aaron have been together they had a total of 739 homers at the start of the season, and both are still hitting them, although Aaron is off to a slow start, as he was out of the lineup much of the first of the season. Of course the Giants have Mays and McCovey who could challenge the Braves duo for the season.

The pennant races in both leagues are still up for grabs by any one of six teams in both leagues, and the Braves are very much one of them in the National.

Mississippi Legislature To Meet On Rights?

By DALLAS ROUTER
United Press International

JACKSON, Miss. — (UPI) — Gov. Paul Johnson said June 3 a special legislative session, probably this month, would not be an effort to "circumvent" the effect of the President's voting rights bill on Mississippi.

"A lot of voting laws need changed without a doubt," the Mississippi governor said. "Some need to be made more reasonable."

Johnson said a meeting of legislative leaders tonight in his office was set for the purpose of giving "institutions and judicial committees something to start with" prior to the special session planned to deal with the voting rights crisis.

Johnson said a date for the special session probably would be decided at the closed meeting.

"The probability is high that it will be this month," he said, indicating the session likely would be set before the voting rights legislation is enacted by Congress.

The governor spoke to newsmen at an impromptu news conference after addressing a joint session of the 1965 Boys State mock legislature.

Approves Bill Making It Federal Crime To Murder A U.S. President

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The House Judiciary Committee Tuesday approved one of the key recommendations of the Warren Commission—a bill making it a federal crime to murder a president.

The measure also would cover assassination of the vice president; persons who have been elected president and vice president, but have not taken their oaths; and any other federal official who is "next in order of succession to the office of president."

Because the slaying of a president is not now a federal crime neither the Secret Service, nor the FBI had jurisdiction over Lee Harvey Oswald, President John F. Kennedy's accused assassin. FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover contended that Oswald would not have been killed by Jack Ruby if he had been in federal custody.

has gone in the matter of pending Mississippi's voting law. Johnson said. He said "hundreds of a page" of testimony had been compiled in recent weeks.

Had a bill of the sort approved Tuesday been in effect, Speaker John M. McCormack would have been covered in the period when President Johnson was without a vice president following Kennedy's assassination.

The presidential succession now goes from the speaker to the president pro tempore of the Senate and then to members of the Cabinet, starting with the secretary of state.

The legislation approved Tuesday would empower the attorney general to offer rewards up to $100,000 for information leading to the arrest of persons who harm or try to harm the president and the vice president. This would cover kidnaping and assault.

Penalties under the bill would range from death for murder to prison terms and fines for assault.

Comedian Dick Gregory Jailed In Sit-In At Education Board

CHICAGO — (UPI) — Comedian Dick Gregory, jailed with six other civil rights demonstrators in a sit-down outside the Board of Education offices, charged Tuesday that Mayor Richard J. Daley is conducting "a secret government of State Street businessmen."

Cigarette Smoking Damages Gullet, Study Shows

CHICAGO — (UPI) — Cigarette smoking damages the gullet, a medical study showed Wednesday. A paper presented at the annual bring pressure on the mayor. Gregory and four who were arrested with him early Tuesday on charges of disorderly conduct and resisting arrest did not post bond and were sent to jail. Two others were freed when they posted bonds.

Gregory vowed to "sit in jail 10 years if I have to" and said the Loop demonstration would continue on an around-the-clock basis "until Willis is gone."

The demonstrations were called to bring pressure on Daley one of the most powerful Democratic mayors in the nation, to exert his influence to force Schools Supt. Benjamin C. Willis out of his job. The School Board recently gave Willis a new four-year contract, with an understanding that he would retire when he reaches the age of 65 in December, 1966.

At Last They Tell It

American Espionage Included Negroes

American Negroes participated in a number of espionage operations during World War II, helping to contribute to Allied victories. While little has been said of the nationalities involved in espionage, the team spirit necessary in espionage is evidenced in Metro-Golwyn-Mayer's "Operation Crossbow."

"Operation Crossbow," which is the dramatic story of the British and American intelligence operatives and their assignment to destroy Hitler's rocket bases, deals with a solitary incident of the war and focuses on a British and an American agent.

"There are outstanding instances of espionage in behalf of our national interest conducted by Negroes from the Revolution to the present," according to John D. Silvera, author of "The Negro in World War II," and a lieutenant colonel in the U. S. Army Staff Specialists Reserve.

According to Silvera, who was the first Negro base intelligence officer in the Armed Forces, and served with the U. S. Army Air Force's 477th Composite Group, "whether on a segregated or integrated basis, Negroes have distinguished themselves in all military action and planning."

World statesman; Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, for example, served as a Senior Social Science Analyst in the Office of Strategic Services during World War II.

In Operation Crossbow, which stars Sophia Loren, George Peppard, Trevor Howard, John Mills, Tom Courtenay, Jeremy Kemp, Anthony Quayle, Lilli Palmer, Richard Todd, Sylvia Sims and John Fraser, much of the training and preparation an espionage agent needs is shown, as well as the dangers that constantly confront agents.

Filmed in color and Panavision, "Operation Crossbow" was directed by Michael Anderson and produced by Carlo Ponti.

Negro Steelworkers Push Racial Demands

CHICAGO — (UPI) — The Negro Steelworkers Leadership committee, which played a key role in the upset victory of I. W. Abel over incumbent David J. McDonald for presidency of the powerful United Steel Workers of America, met here recently to map strategy for carrying out its program.

The meeting followed a victory banquet for President - Elect Abel last Friday night, in Whiting, Ind., sponsored by committee members in District 31.

Abel was recently officially declared winner in the hotly-contested election and is scheduled to take office on June 1.

Last weekend's meeting, at the Southmore hotel, involved the steering committee of the NSIC and centered around the group's three major goals:

1. Inclusion of Negroes on the meeting of the National Tuberculosis Association showed that pre-cancerous cells were found in the gullets of 79.8 per cent of cigarette smokers examined.
