lowships are being offered to quali-fled Negro college graduates who wish to prepare for managerial careers in business in a unique graduate program being organized by Indiana and Washington Universi-ties and the University of Wiscon-

Applicants need not have studied either business or economics. Each recipient of a fellowship will receive $2500 a year plus free tuition and $500 a year for each dependent up to a maximum of two. The fellowship will be renewed for a second year upon successful completion of the first year of study.

Financial support for this undertaking will come from a $300,000 Ford Foundation challenge grant to be matched on a one - forone basis by contributions from industry under terms of an an-nouncement made public last De-cember. The three Midwestern universities have formed a consortium to implement the program, and hope to recruit as many as 50 students for the academic year 1967-68.

Those awarded fellowships will be enrolled at one of the schools in a course of study leading to a master of business administration degree. To prepare those accepted for specialized study leading to an M. B. A., an eight - week pre graduate program will be held this summer on the Washington University campus. In addition to regular course work, students in the summer session will attend seminars and visit industrial plants in the St. Louis area. A fellowship plus tuition costs will be awarded to all candidates for this period of study.

The program also cludes a business internship to be undertaken generally during the summer months between the first and second years.

GRADUATES WELCOME Those maticulating in June & well as young Negro college graduates with a few years experience are eligible for the program.

Negroes interested in this new project are urged to write immediately to Dr. Sterling H. Schoen program director, Consortium for Graduate Study in Business for Negroes, Washington University, Box 1132, St. Louis, Missouri, 63130.

"Our aim in setting up this new program on the three university campuses of Indians, Washington and Wisconsin," Schoen said, "is to prepare more Negroes for the expanding number of executive openings in industry. J-U-G-S' FORMAL CHARITY IS FEBRUARY 24 THE RIVERMONT IS THE SPOT

If Winter comes be far behind? Jugs will use their magic and rush Spring upon us February 24 at their annual Ball of all Seasons to be held in the grand ballroom of the "very plush, fabulous and new Holiday Rivermont on the "Bluff."

The selected high school seniors will represent the seasons of the year ... and the show promises to be a superb one, with Joan, Johnson and Norma Griffin doing the choreography. You can expect the "living ads" to be mirthful and spectacular. You may purchase your bigs now from any of the J-U-G-S.

Knowing that you saw the head-lines of the past week concerning the high hopes of researchers from across the nation of the remarkable new drugs discovered at St.
Jude, J-U-G-S feel that you couldn't possibly miss this charitable affair.

J-U-G-S are asking: Will you please help them to help those who need it so badly. The children at St. Jude need love, but more than that, they need your dollars so that that love can become more radiant. Let Spring be a continuous season for these wonderful children here in Memphis and everywhere.

Hif Here are your roving report-ers, Aline Jones and Wandra Gard-ner, bringing you the latest around SPOTLIGHT

This week our spotlight beams on one of Hamilton's fine all - male singing groups known as the Pas-sions. It is composed of some very handsome and talented young men-They are Cartrell Bounds, William Young, Stanley Carter, Henry Ford, William Bryant and Ellis Collins.

Their outstanding voices have been heard in many local clubs: the Rainbow Terrace, Paradise, Tiki, Clearpool, Rosewood, French Quarters, Matador Lounge, Royal Arms, and the Alcy Acres Country Club. They have also performed at Le-Moyne College, Owen College, Arkansas State College, YWCA, Chis-ca Plaza, WDIA Radio Station, Melrose, Washington, Carver, Ber-trand, Douglas, Capleville, and Wonder High Shoool.

Some of the songs they have sung are "My Girl," "I Got To Go berts and Clifford Miller Jr. (Milltary Academy in S. Virginia).
"Peak Of Love" — Wilma Ingram and George Siggers . "My Special Prayer" — Eva Tharp and Kilpatrick Reed.

The game between the Hamilton Wildcats and the Manassas Tigets was filled with suspense and thrills: During the first quarter, the score was 4 to 20 with the Tigers in the lead but later in the game Hamilton's Wildcats successfully defeated the Manassas Tigers 68 to 63. The high point men for the Wildcats were Ralph Siggers with 19 points, Vernon Mathes with 14 points, Kil-patrick Reed with 13 points and Ernest Moss with 9 points.

Other outstanding players were Willie ean and Anthony Hell. Af-ter winning the game, most of the On," "Without You," You Need Confidence,' and 'OOO Baby Baby." The group has been together for two years. Hats off to you, Passions, and we hope your success

Educator Proposes Children Be Granted "The Right To Quit"

NEW YORK — A California educator asserted recently that American school children get a worse education than they deserve be-without any clients. In effect, no cause they are denied "the right to quit."

"The impossibility of quitting prevents the one form of pressure' that would help get poor teachers out of the nation's classrooms, Dr. Julius A. Roth, professor of sociology at the University of California, contended in an interview in the current issue of Redbook, just released. "The fact that pupils cannot quit means that teachers and administrators can and largely do ignge criticism from parents," Dr. Roth charged.

"No matter what the issue, you cannot threaten to withdraw the child," he said. "Schools often a- Beale Street Topic void outside observation by refus-ing to allow parents of other outsiders to examine records, and even by failing to provide for any neutral observers to make periodic investigations.'

Dr. Roth proposed two "tevolutionary solutions" to the problem of poor teachers, said Red-book. A "limited right o quit" should be introduced in the public schools, he said, by more readily permitting pupils to transfer from one school to another or from one teacher to another. "The present block to such transfers, he feels, are not for the benefit of the pupil or parent but for administrative convenience and as a policy of backing up teachers and principals." "It is time," Dr. Roth argued

"that we backed up the educational consumers and gave them a part in the choice." A second reform proposed by Dr

Roth "is even more radical." suggests a "system of tuition grants that parents would be able to spend in ANY school that met minimum educational requirements. Such a system would allow parents to transfer their children from one school to another whenever they "Knowing that their clients could of the National Education Association who deals with professional ethics, criticized member groups in the NEA.

'Most local NEA groups are not doing the job they should be doing," he told Redbook. "Under standably, all of us have a tough time blowing the whistle on a col-league No one wants to 'rat.' But a professional organization, like ours can't be successful until it checks unsuitable behavior by teachers."

Hugh Gloster

(From The Atlanta Daily World)

The news revealed last week of the retirement of President Benjamin Elijah Mays as president of Morehouse College on June 30th of this year was not a surprise because it was indicated about a year ago that this illustrous educator would retire BORNE ON CAISSONS

But the name of Mays and Morehouse have become synonymous for so many years until the recent announcement carried a degree of shock.

During the past 27 years, Dr. Mays guided the destiny of Morehouse with ability and brillance. Under his leadership, Morehouse attained a new status which ranks here among the outstanding educational institutions in the nation. Not only has Morehouse, but the state and the nation have felt the impact of the activities of Dr. Mays.

Dr. Hugh Gloster, dean of the School of Education at Hampton Institute and a graduate of Morehouse has been selected to nearly four years ago had said of

Dr. Gloster, while already in harness as an educator, comes at a time when this college center is demanding the best of the best in this illustrous facility making new gains and heights in the area of education.

He brings with him a wealth of experience and a background of testimonials vouching for that peculiar fitness so much in the demand of time.

Morehouse College is now in its centennial year and we extend our felicitations to both the college and its president,

We also wish to extend a word of congratulations to Dr. Gloster.

Religion Hasn't Failed

The challenge to religion and the role of the church are no different today from what they were in the post. While there are various creeds, philosophies, and faiths, they seek essentially to bring about a communion between man and a Supreme Being. Differences in the manner of operating the various churches do not involve the substance of religious beliefs.

There is no reason to believe the pessimistic conclusions of some individuals, who assert that men and women are going to the dogs faster than ever. Neither is there any basis for the opinion that millions and millions of people have turned "against God." If either of these conclusions is true, the inevitable deduction is that religion and the church have failed in their purpose. We are not prepared to accept this.

At West Point, N. Y. - Lt. Col Edward H. White II, the astronaut who walked the heavens alone, was buried Tuesday in heroes' company high above the ice - flecked blue of the Hudson River.

Under a bright winter sun, with the temperature at freezing, the gray coffin was lowered into a grave at the U.S. Military Academy Cemetery, the newest among 4,000 graves holding the dead of every American war

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson were among the dignitaries who gathered with about 2,000 other persons for a 20 - minute ceremony at grave - side. This followed a - minute service in the nearby old cadet chapel.

The chapel was filled with 400 persons, about half of whom were honored guests. The service began with the congregation standing while the balconied cadet choir sang the "Alma Mater" song of the academy.

"And when our work is done, "Our course on earth is run, "May it be said, 'Well done; "Be thou at peace."

500 Businessmen Talk To Leaders On Minorities

500 leading businessmen sat down this week with major civil rights leaders, five mayors of major citles, a U. S. senator, government and foundation heads to begin discussions on the crisis in our cities and the status of minority groups.

Vice - President Hubert Humphrey, Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and National Urban, League Director Whitney M. Young were scheduled to be the key speakers at the two - day meeting of Plans for Progress in the Sheraton Park Ho-tel last Monday and Tuesday.

The mayors of Baltimore, Bos ton, Milwaukee, Houston and Oakland, Calif., opened the conference with a panel discussion on urban problems. Private businessmen must take the lead in solving the problems of civil rights, urban renewal and education, the mayors told the key delegates.
PLANS FOR PROGRESS

Plans for Progress is a government sponsored, voluntary equal employment opportunity program with the 351 companies employing a total of nine million persons.

It is not the government's responsibility to solve the major pro-blems of the cities, Baltimore mayor McKeldin told the group. "Gov-ernment is supposed to create the climate for business to make the changes," said the mayor.

McKeldin recommended preferen tial hiring for Negroes, redevelopment programs for the slum areas and recruitment of workes in the ghettoes. Donald M. Kendall, the pesident of Pepsi Cola Co., also told the group laws and authority could hot solve the problems without help from private initiative and business.

Other speakers included the Rev. Leon Sulliver, founder of the Opportunities Industrial center in Philadelphia and Hobart Taylor, director of the Export - Import bank.

HEALTH AND SAFETY

HOME FIRE DRILLS: Children are more likely to escape school fires without injury than they are to escape uninjured from home fires. Why? Because they've been taught in repeated fire drills in school how to behave when the alarm sounds. They know exactly where to go, how to go, how to get out of the buildir, . Their response to the gong becomes virtually automatic after a few drills.

Are you sure your children would what to do if a fire broke out in your home? What escape routes to use? The importance of goiting out as quickly as possible? How urgent it is not to waste time gathering up possessions? Why smoke is dangerous? How to contain it somewhat?

Why not work out a home fire drill with the whole family - and then practice it at regular intervals. Practice drills will help reduce panic should the unexpected happen—and will increase the chances of the family escaping unharmed.

ON SEQJUESTERING ASPIRIN: Bottles of children's aspirin sold after July 1 will contain a maximum of 36 aspirin tablets, and these will be a maximum of 1 1-4 grains. The bottles will also carry the following legend: "Precaution: No cap is 100 percent child-proof. In case of accidental overdose, notify physician immediately."

However, one more step is essential if the shocking number of deaths of toddlers who chew up aspirin is to be reduced. Aspirin (and all other drugs) should be kept well out of the reach of small children. Youngsters should NEV-ER be told that aspirin is candy: this makes it desirable and worth gobbling. Be as firm about children not touching medicine as you are — hopefully — about their not playing with matches.

SOCKLESSNESS HAZARDOUS: prise ABC's Africa program, Now it turns out, according to Podiatry News, that it's risky to wear shoes without socks — a fact you may find it hard to sell your sockless teen - ager. It seems that the inner surface of a shoe, being harder and less resistant than a sock, can cause blisters and corns. Blisters provide the midlieu in which the critter causing athlete's foot thrive. Since leather also nurtures spores, bare skin against leather may develop fungal infections. And one more thing: Bare feet in shoes increases foot odor. Socks, anyone?

Heartburn Is A Pain In The Gullet

In spits of its name, "heartburn," a common symptom of guatric distress, does not originate at the heart, but in the esophagus or gullet, the tube that carries food to the stomach for digestion, Because no muscle closes off the esophagus from the stomach, gastric acids are often belched up and irritate esophagus tissue. This produces what is commonly called well while tablets, passing quickly "hearthurn."

Dr. Walter Alvarez reported in the journal, Modern Medicine, that most of the 123 patients he studied described a burning sensation as severe that it was sometimes "like fire." Some felt pain, distention, or spasm in the esophagus region.

(A busning pain just below the ribs is also frequent in the middle and later months of pregnancy.)

Anger and other emotional upsets often bring on heartburn Dr. Alvarez reported, but no matter how the problem origiit appears to be the same nămely, an antacid that soother be otophaged by alle and relieve he symptoms by neutralizing the Maray of By. Alvares' patients found that a liquid antacid which can bathe the esophagus (home-mixed bicarbonate of soda in water, for example) works very through the esophagus, do not. In line with the reasoning set forth by Dr. Alvarez and other eminent physicians; drug manufacturers have produced a number of liquid One that has just recently become available for relief of heartburn - and stomach overacidity generally - contains the long-tested aluminum and magnesium hydroxides refined to the point where they are capable of neutralizing 800 times their weight in gastric acid. It is called WinGel and has been described as the "near ideal" antacid.

Dr. Alvares concluded from of the discomfort it equals in not a threat to life and is usually not a symptom of a more secien disorder. It is, however, annoy ing - samething one must learn to live with. Antacids in pill and liquid form make this a little easier for most people.

NBA Czar Bows To NBA Players Final Demands

NEW YORK — (UPI) — Walter Rennedy, commissioner of the Na-tional Basketball Association, said the league's board of governors will accede to a demand of NBA players to hold a meeting by mid -February or be faced by the threat

A dispatch in the Baltimore News-American Thursday reported the players had set Feb. 15 as a "target date" for attlement of certain grievances with the owners. They said if no action was taken by then they were prepared to take 'drastic action" in the form of a complete walkout. Kennedy replied:

"About a week ago I received a letter from the NBA's Players' Association outlining several requests that they wanted the owners to act upon at a meeting to be held by Peb. 15. I responded immediately to the letter advising I'd make every effort to have a meeting by Feb. 15 because we normally hold a mid - February meeting to discuss playoff plans.

"But because of the difficulty in getting 10 owners together in the middle of the season and because of several detailed administrative problems with our expansion program, it might not be possible for of the organization and will have me to get everyone together by overall responsibility for activities Feb. 15, but the meeting certainly should be held within a few days thereafter."

By GORDON B. HANCOCK

God Is Not Dead. But Terribly Nauseated!

A terribly sincere but severely untrained Negro minister of former years took his etext from Revelation 3:16, which reads: "Because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I will spue thee out of my mouth.

at Laodicea. The minister's subject was: "God Sick On The Stomach". Although sophistical theological exegetes have sourned this rather crude topical deducation, it was the crude expression of a crude truth, and the Bible abounds in rude expressions of vital truths.

When John exclaimed in the wilderness "O ye generation of ", he was speaking crudeiy but to the point. Let meticulous students of homiletics and hermaneutics and propadeutics apply their sophisticated interrogations as they will but the old Negro preacher had the point as made in the Scriptures. According to the text, God was terribly sick on the sto-mach, over the lukewarm people or church. For some months, the silliest of silly discussions have been ranging around the question of just whether or not "God is Dead'. The very question begets a kind of spiritual and intellectual abhorrence; but it does raise the question of whether or not God !s "sick on the stomach". The writer is rather inclined to take the affirmative position that the He's not dead. He must be terribly sick on his stomach, if hypocrisy and cow-ardice are capable of turning his stomach! Hypocrisy today is a religion in itself. It is not only presumptious but aggressive and highly respected throughout the world. Nowhere is it so blatant and pre-

Thus spake Jesus unto the church | foot-dragging. The Southern Baptist Convention with its prejudiced millions is sweeping the country, with Northern churches rushing to its standards. Such prosperity and popularity and power of race prejudice is enough to make God "sick on the stomach."

The prejudiced church of Jesus Christ worshipping race prejudice first, and Jesus -- later, it at all; While so many denominations are singing the "financial blues," the Southern Bantist Conention has full coffers. Race prejudice seems to be no liability, but an asset instead. God's 'stomach' must be

Even if hypocrisy does not nau-seate God, perhaps the current crop of cowards around the nation will. One of the sorriest spectacles in creation is to see a generation of college trained young men and women have died to make possible, yet too cowardly to rish death to preserve the liberty others bought with sweat and tears and blood. Suppose the Colonial soldiers had preferred to burn draft cards instead of fighting at Valley Forge! Suppose the Union soldiers, who fell at Gettysburg had conveniently turner to conscientious offectors and burned draft cards instead of hurling the slave-minded Scuth back on its heels. Suppose the boys who sleep in Flanders Fields had submitted to the Kaiser'se yoke, instead of fighting for. Democracy; Today our great nation is cursed with a breed of weaklings and cyciphants and would-be slaves who are surrenderists, and quite willing to wear the Russan yoke! A sorry set who are at heart cowards and surrenderists Want shrinking from paying the price! They burn draft cards and are "sick on the stomach! Coward!

Work-Study Program To Benefit 190,000 Pres. Johnson Says

tion's Negro youth are expected to benefit from a new Federal college work - study program announced by President Johnson.

The President said approximate-ly 190,000 students whose college education depends on having a job will receive help from the Federal college work - study program dur-ing the first half of 1967.

Nearly $62 million in grants has been awarded by the U. S. Office of Education to 1,541 colleges and universities to provide jobs for stu-dents who could not enter or continue in college without financial help. Institutions in all 50 States, the District of Columbia, Guam, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands are participating in the program. The present award continues financial assistance in effect during the first half of the current school

Since the college work - study program began in the spring of 1965, under the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964, Federal grants totaling $219.9 million have been made available. The program provided jobs for 37,000 financially needy college students during the first semester it was in effect and has increased each school year to the present total of 190,000. The number of institutions participating has increased from 674 to 1,541.

Under the program, students may work up to 15 hours a week while in school and up to 40 hours a week during vacation. The Federal Gov-ernment pays 90 percent of the wages of student workers, and the remaining 10 percent is provided by the college or off - campus em ployer.

Student employment consists of on - campus jobs such as library aides, teachers' assistants, maintenance workers, laboratory assistants and adminitrative aides. Off-campus work is in State and local health, welfare, and recreation programs.

A college or university presents its overall request for Federal assistance to a regional panel set up by the Office of Education. The panels are composed of local college officials and Federal student financial aid officers. The U.S. Commissioner of Education makes awards to the institutions on the basis of panel recommendations.

A student needing financial as-sistance applies to the college he is attending or plans to attend for participation in the program.
