Swift Current Claims Lad's Life

A 5-year-old boy lost his life Sunday around 3 p.m. after he fell from a makeshift bridge over a drainage ditch which runs behind his home on Tulane Rd. in Whitehaven.

Anthony Tyrone Jackson, son of Mrs. Gladys Jackson, 4763 Tulane Rd., apt. 2, was crossing the bridge with his brother, Robert Wayne Jackson, 7, when the accident took place.

Anthony is believed to have lost his balance and slipped from the wooden bridge into the swift water while trying to retrieve one of his shoes that had fallen into the ditch.

The ditch, which had been swollen by an all-day rain, runs along the rear of homes on Stoneham and empties into Nonconah Creek.

Mrs. Jackson said the children had just gone outside to play when Anthony fell into the ditch.

"They hadn't been gone three or four minutes when Robert came in and told me what had happened," Mrs. Jackson said.

Neighbors said children living in that area of Tulane Rd. often used the plank-covered bridge when they were going to a nearby store.

Sheriff's deputies, firemen, members of the Shelby County Rescue Squad and the Red Cross searched for the body until late Sunday night without success. They used boats to patrol the ditch, which was four feet deep in parts because of the heavy rain. The search was renewed Monday.

Nelson Moves Up In Housing

Joseph L. Nelson, manager of William H. Foote and Edward O. Cleaborn Homes for the Memphis Housing Authority, has been named director of the Management Department, Orelle Ledbetter, executive director, announced this week.

Mr. Nelson succeeds Mrs. John T. Griffin, who retired December 19, 1969, after 30 years of employment by the Housing Authority.

As head of the Management Department, Mr. Nelson will supervise and assist in administering the resident assignment policy, in managing more than 5,000 apartments and in levying and collecting rents and will co-ordinate management activities with work of the Maintenance Department.

Mr. Nelson was first employed by the Housing Authority in February, 1946, as assistant manager at William H. Foote Homes. At that time he was a resident of the development. Since then, he has served as manager of four other developments. The Foote-Cleaborn management entails responsibility for 1,500 apartments.

A Cummings Street Baptist Church worker, Mr. Nelson is active in the Boy Scouts, the War on Poverty Committee and Memphis Area Project-South.

The deceased was the brother of Mrs. Luvenia Smoot of Winona, Miss.

BRITISH NAVY & RUM
London—The Admiralty has announced that the rum ration, introduced in 1731, would be abolished Aug. 1. The decision does not mean the navy will go dry. Petty officers, like officers, will be able to buy liquor, and the lower ranks can buy beer.

Dillard Is Next For Magicians

The Magicians of LeMoyné-Owen College will be back in Bruce Hall this Saturday night Jan. 3, waging battle with Dillard University of New Orleans.

High-powered Dillard split a two-game series with the Alcorn Braves, winning the first and dropping the second. The Magicians are credited with knocking highly regarded Alcorn out of the Associated Press' top 20 weekly poll of small college basketball teams' last week. Coach Jerry Johnson's LeMoyné-Owen charges accomplished this feat by trouncing the Braves 99-86 before an overflow holiday crowd.

The Magicians will be at Rust College in Holly Springs, Miss., Jan. 7, and then return to Bruce Hall Jan. 9 for a crack at Christian Brothers College. CBC will be LeMoyné's second Volunteer State Athletic Conference opponent.

An action-packed schedule awaits the Magicians this month. After the tussle with CBC, LeMoyné-Owen will hit the road for three games. They'll be at Tougaloo, Jan. 12; at Union, Jan. 15; and at Lane, Jan. 17. They return to Memphis to host Lincoln University of Missouri, Jan. 23, and Bethel, Jan. 24. They'll be at U. T. Martin, Jan. 26, and travel across town Jan. 28 for a return engagement with Christian Brothers.

Clark Praises Rev. Abernathy

LeRoy Clark, president of the Memphis branch of the NAACP, gave the Rev. Ralph Abernathy a pat on the back while he was in jail with four local ministers.

In a press release, Mr. Clark announced that he had sent a telegram to Rev. Abernathy.

The release also said "High among the priorities of the Memphis NAACP in the approaching decade is a fight against the type of police suppression that led to the indictment of 19 civil rights leaders and the imprisonment of Dr. Abernathy and four of our local leaders."

In his telegram to Rev.

Abernathy, Mr. Clark said:

"The Memphis Branch NAACP is deeply grateful to SCLC and to you personally for your contributions and sacrifices made on behalf of our efforts to rid our city of the racism that pervades. It is our hope that your witness in the Shelby County jail will prod the consciences of those who seek by suppression to stifle the black man's determination to reach his goal of equality and dignity. Yours is a meaningful Christmas gift which will serve to encourage us as we continue in the oftentimes frustrating struggle."

cism of the news media for what he feels is an intended slight on the part of the media in leaving out of the news some things he feels should have been included as important information to the general public.

"Enlightened black people feel the same way at having been left out of our school curriculum.

"That is largely what the present struggle is all about—black studies, black representation, black involvement at the top level. We are still being denied this basic right and decency and consideration.

"Black people have contributed much to the development of our great country. To have largely omitted our part in this development is to have under-educated both white and black students to the truth. Things must change and will change.

"We are as tired of marching and demonstrating as the power structure is. We don't enjoy this either, but it is our only non-violent way to bring about the much needed change.

"By and with the help of God, the black man and woman will at long last set free both white and black people. Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free."

NAACP Selects Five To Probe Police Brutality

The Memphis branch of the NAACP this week gave its reasons for naming a committee of five black leaders to probe charges of police brutality in the city.

The reasons were cited by LeRoy Clark, the NAACP president, and Mrs. Maxine A. Smith, executive secretary of the civil rights organization.

"For many years, the Memphis Branch NAACP has filed complaints with the heads of our law enforcement agencies on behalf of many black men and women and children who have been cursed, beaten and otherwise brutalized by police officers; but these charges have, in almost every instance, not been sustained after these agencies have conducted their own investigations. These same charges have been filed for grand jury action with the attorney general, who has shown complete disregard and lack of respect for the black community by failure to even send a routine letter of acknowledgement.

"More recently, in our community we have witnessed and experienced new attempts by these same public officials to curb our fight against racial discrimination by securing grand jury indictments on the basis of laws designed and passed solely to stifle racial protest. Specifically we refer to the indictments against the 109 Memphis State University students for sit-ins protest; and the 19 civil rights leaders in connection with their protest against the failure of our school officials to comply with the U. S. Constitution, U. S. Supreme Court decisions, and other federal legislation.

"Astoundingly, we are able to discern a similarity between the repressive methods used against our students and civil rights leaders in Memphis and those measures used against members of the Black Panther Party in other sections of the country.

"Because of this new trend toward repression, the marked increase of complaints of police brutality, and the fear that these problems might well lead to unwanted confrontations, we have sent the following telegram to five black community leaders (City Councilmen Fred Davis, J. L. Netters, J. O. Patterson, Squire Jesse H. Turner and former Criminal Court Judge B. L. Hooks) who hold or have held city or county office:

"Far too often the NAACP has received complaints from black citizens charging police brutality and discrimination in the administration of justice in our community. Regrettably, these charges are usually ignored or found invalid by our law enforcement officials.

"Because we feel that these investigations have not been impartial and have

Lakeview School News

Lakeview Elementary and Junior high school was involved in many activities before the holidays. The school observed junior postman day, Dec. 12. About one-third of the students brought mail for the mail truck.

Harold Lazard, junior high art teacher, was in charge of decorating the Christmas tree for the "Christmas Around the World" display at Southland Mall. Lakeview's tree represented the traditions of Denmark. Flags of Denmark, fishnets, and silhouettes representing children were used.

Grades one through four presented the Christmas story Dec. 18. The story was read by some students while others acted out the story. The students not on the stage formed a chorus and sang carols. Pupils in Mrs. Climble Pilot's room drew a mural of the town of Bethlehem for the background.

On Dec. 19, the last day of school before the holidays, grades five through eight gave their Christmas program. The sixth graders presented "We Three Kings" and "Drumhead Boy." One section of seventh grade gave a reading "Do Christmas Shopping Early." The other section sang "Silver Bells." The fifth grades rendered the song "Away in a Manger." One class of eighth graders presented the play "Christmas Treasure." Another pantomimed "The Christmas Song." The other pantomimed "Ring Bells - Wild Bells." The program concluded with the audience singing "We Wish You a Merry Christmas."

Miss Lillie Mae Walker, principal, gave the faculty a Christmas luncheon. During the afternoon each class had its Christmas party.

The Lakeview Pirates are living up to their name and are continuing to scuttle the opposition. On Dec. 18 the "A" team sank Coro Lake's "A" team 67-17. Lakeview's Larry Mason scored 34 points. The Coro Lake "B" team fared a little better, but lost to Lakeview 22 to 32 with Larry Wells scoring 16 points for Lakeview. Lakeview was supported by its cheerleaders while the Coro Lakers walked the plank. Two members of the cheerleaders, Debra Pugh and Sabrina Franklin, are student reporters.

No Influenza Epidemic Seen

The Health Department has received a number of calls from physicians and others concerning the possibility of a local influenza outbreak since an epidemic is now raging in England.

Dr. R. C. Rendtorff, director of communicable disease control, states that the chances of having a major outbreak of Hong Kong A2 influenza in Memphis are very remote since there was a major epidemic in the city last winter.

"Influenza rarely strikes in the same place two years in a row," Dr. Rendtorff says. "When it does, it is apt to be a minor outbreak."

The U. S. Public Health Service states that there is no evidence of significant influenza activity in the United States at this time, except in Alaska. Records of the Memphis Shelby County Health Department do not indicate any unusual influenza activity in the community at present.

Influenza immunizations are not debilitated, and the chronically ill, probably should be immunized on an annual basis, since these are the people most severely affected, Dr. Rendtorff says.

CHRISTMAS IS SHARING... and we are deeply appreciative of the many beautiful social events that our friends have allowed us to share with them...and enjoyed those who have visited with us...and the visits that we have made. We started off with the fabulous Pre-Christmas Party (one that is always looked forward to) given by the P.A.T.S. on Friday before Christmas at the Sheraton Inn...On Christmas Day, my spouse and I had two long time friends for dinner... Carrie Nabors (Incidentally Jimmy was best man in Carrie and Bill Nabors wedding)...and Erma Laws whom I have known along with her mother in the church through the years...and in the News-Paper Game as L. O. Swingler would have termed it... We made a short visit with Alma and Phil Booth...Leath and Peter Jones and stopped off at the Marvin Tarpley residence to see their off-springs... We also talked to Vivian White and visited my late mother's friend, Mrs. Narcissia Jones who spent most of her time telling me how proud she was of her two nephews, Atty. George Brown, Jr., recently named to the Advisory Board of the City Board of Education...and his brother Alfred Ray Brown, a senior in the Dental School at Meharry... We had visitors Sunday...and they were none other than the charming and gracious Miss Roberta Church and her aunt, Miss Annette Church who were guests at Holiday Inn on Union... We dropped in to see them too on Christmas Day...and had planned to stop to see Marjorie Ulen who came down from D. C. BUT Marjorie has been ill every since she arrived... Sunday after dinner, we visited Mrs. Taylor Hayes and her sister Mrs. Mary Thornton of Detroit and their aunt almost like Jimmy's own family...and had planned to drop in on Atty. A. A. Lattin and his young daughters, Judy and Joan and her husband...Marjorie Ulen who is with her brothers and their wives...Dr. and Mrs. Fred Rivers to see Margaret's father Dr. U. L. Mayfield and his sister who came to Memphis from Texas...and the Lewis sisters Marjorie and Teda who are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Lewis, Sr...but the rains still came...forcing us to come home. We also planned to visit with the C. S. Jones and Mrs. Vivian White...and the Bartholomews whose youngsters were home...even with out seeing Lynn and Thelma McCorkle and the Arvis Lattings... We did manage to visit the Lewis Twigg's (he who stood with me when I was married) The Twigg's had their children home, Dr. and Mrs. Lewis Twigg, Jr. and our usual Christmas visits with Mr. and Mrs. Maceo Walker.

Looking especially good in green velvet and hostess pajamas was Mrs. Tarpley who was assisted in receiving by other members of the Tarpley Club...and dropping by to greet the guest after another party were Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Tarpley and their nephew and niece who came up from Alabama for the Christmas Season.

Guests mingled in the basement rumpus room...one that many of us have learned to love and feel at home in. The gracious and friendly Mrs. Tarpley greeted each one of her members and friends who came.

Miss Shirley Peace Becomes Bride Of Donnell R. Cobbins

MR. AND MRS. DONNELL R. COBBINS were married Monday, Dec. 22, at Metropolitan Baptist Church with the Rev. S. A. Owen performing the ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Peace of Memphis. The groom is the son of Mrs. Thelma Cobbins of Memphis and Mr. Theodore Cobbins of New York City.

Of widespread interest was the recent marriage of Miss Shirley Annette Peace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Peace to Donnell Roosevelt Cobbins of St. Paul, Minnesota. Mr. Cobbins is the son of Mrs. Thelma Cobbins of Memphis and Mr. Theodore Cobbins of New York City.

Views were so warmly pledged before an altar adorned with palms and centered with an arrangement of white gladioli and carnations. The impressive formal double-ring ceremony was performed at the Metropolitan Baptist church by Rev. S. A. Owen on Monday, Dec. 22. A program of nuptial music was played by Miss Francene Guy. Soloists were Sandra and Samuel Peace, sister and brother of the bride.

The attractive young bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an Empire A-Line gown that featured a rounded neckline and three quartered sleeves cuffed in white mink and was designed with a chapel train held high in the back by a Dios bow. Her elbow length veil of silk illusion flowed from a wedding ring circlet of white fur. She carried a white wedding bible mounted with white orchids.

Female attendants wore red velvet and white crepe gowns designed with ruffled necklines. The slim white crepe skirt was banded at the high waist with narrow satin ribbon and tiny satin buttons added back interest to the bodices.

Miss Sandra Louise Peace was her sister's maid of honor and bride maids were Miss Carol Earls, Miss Eloise Pope, Miss Yvonne Robinson, Miss Thelma Cobbins, Miss Jessie Williams, Miss Sarah Baker, Miss George Lynom, cousin to the bride Miss Regina Riley, and Miss Jeanette Cobbins all of Memphis and Miss Leah Minor of Houston Junior bridesmaids were Wanda Jones, and Sandra and Shella Peaces, sisters to the bride.

The groom's mother wore a smart gold velvet gown adorned in brown in gold beads.

Mrs. Emmett Woods Sr. wore a lovely lime suit.

RECEPTION

The bride's parents entertained with a lavishly planned reception given in the Reception rooms of the church. Long refreshment tables were overlaid in white and centered by vivid colorful bouquets. Frappe was served from both ends and open-face sandwiches were made in Christmas colors.

Priority Resolutions

The turbulent years of the '60 decade are now history. They saw protests, massive demonstrations, burnings, historic court decisions, assassinations, broad civil rights legislation and finally the landing of men on the moon.

In short, and from a racial point, the '60 decade was largely one of removing barriers to our progress.

But now we begin the first day of the '70s and we should look at the future from a constructive or building point of view.

We should give priority consideration to three big problems.

First, the war in Vietnam. It continues to confuse and frustrate many young men. Let us support President Nixon's plan. Let us discourage and refuse to support actions which show national division over the war. We realize our country is bogged down in this war. But we also realize it would bring a great disaster to try to unilaterally run out of it.

Second, we must work closer together to build a broader economic base for our race. In the '60s we lost ground in the business field. We must expand existing businesses and begin some new ones. The U. S. Government through the Department of Commerce is willing to help us.

Third, we all must become aware of the growing menace of crime in most cities and the nation as a whole. We all must cooperate with law enforcement officers to reduce it.

We look on the '70s as an opportunity and a challenge for progress. How do you see it?

Mislabeled Meat

In a recent investigation of meat-labeling, county officials in Nassau County, New York, found "shocking" conditions prevailing in 34 of 40 retail food outlets investigated. Some local stores denied the charges, others were silent.

County Executive Eugene Nickerson believes this is occurring in practically all chain stores in the Nassau area, called in reporters to exhibit thirty different purchases, all "mislabeled" meat.

Prices charged for the allegedly mislabeled meats were often sixty cents a pound higher than they would have been had the meat been labeled correctly, according to Nickerson.

These charges, which probably relate to many other sections of the country, are only the most recent in a series which indicate the public needs greater protection in the field of meat marketing. In New York City it was recently found that hamburgers were often not all beef. Officials suspect many were goatburgers or horseburgers.

Health officials in various parts of the country have found much contaminated pork in stores in recent years—especially in states where packing houses do not engage in interstate commerce and thus do not come under close federal inspection.

Handgun Curb

Dr. Milton Eisenhower, who has headed a national commission seeking to determine the causes and preventatives of crime in the United States for eighteen months, says only a limited number of Americans need pistols, that others should not be allowed to possess them.

In his estimation, such a ban would do much to reduce the crime rate in America since too many irresponsibles today possess, and use, handguns. Such a ban, he says, would save lives. Eisenhower urges a law requiring all citizens who are not authorized to carry pistols to turn them in to the states, which would determine who has a right to such weapons.

The traditional American argument, that every farmer and hunter is entitled to own his rifle or shotgun, does not apply to the proposed ban on handguns. One could keep his hunting weapon under the conditions proposed by Dr. Eisenhower. These guns are less of a crime problem for they cannot be easily concealed by those entering stores or other business establishments for criminal purposes.

This nation's crime rate argues strongly in favor of the Eisenhower proposal. The sooner it is adopted the greater the number of innocent lives saved.

School Lunches

The Nixon Administration has proposed an increased outlay for school lunches. Most of the nation's social workers and educational leaders support the program. As much support as there is, however, there are some states in which a sizeable percentage of children, some who are in need, are not provided this nutritional supplement to their daily diet.

A state official who supports the increase vigorously is Supervisor Kathleen Gaston of South Carolina, in charge of that state's lunch program. "We lead the nation in the percentage of those getting free or reduced price lunches," she recently told a news conference.

She says 78 per cent of the state's pupils are getting school meals, that most of those who don't are in the first and second grades and get home in time for lunch, or in the upper high school grades where they are allowed off-campus privileges. She says a third of the meals served are either free or at reduced prices.

"DEAR TAXPAYERS, 49,600 cartons of income tax forms soon will reach you in New York and New England. A fleet of 90 trailer trucks will deliver them in cartons instead of mail bags this year to reduce costs. The picture shows Norman E. Morrill, Internal Revenue Service Center director at Andover, Mass., checking the cartons. Sincerely yours, IRS."

"YOU ALSO CAN GET HIGH ON JESUS" Evangelist Billy Graham is introduced to a crowd of some 2,500 youngsters before speaking to them at his first rock music festival, at Hollywood, Fla., by Capt. Marvel (Mike McBaron). Among other things, Graham said, "You also can get high on Jesus." A youth had told him he "gets high" on pot every night.

Hundred Million Africans Vaccinated Against Smallpox

Representatives of the United States and of 20 West African nations took part in ceremonies November 30 near Niamey, Niger, to mark the 100 millionth smallpox vaccination given since January 1967.

For uncounted centuries, smallpox has afflicted and killed thousands of people in these countries each year. In recent years, the annual average had reached 7,000 cases, with a death rate of about one in seven. In the first ten months of this year, only 485 cases were reported from the 20 nations. Eleven of them reported no cases at all. Of the nine which did have cases, only four reported more than 50. A 90 per cent decrease in smallpox cases was experienced in these countries over the same time period in 1968.

The West African Regional Smallpox Eradication and Measles Control Program is an international assistance project financed by the Agency for International Development and directed by the National Communicable Disease Center, Atlanta, Georgia. The program is a major contribution of the United States to the World Health Organization's global smallpox eradication campaign.

Looking Ahead To '70 Elections

"Do nothing" label might misfire in non-presidential year. BY ARNOLD B. SAWSLAK

WASHINGTON UPI—Looking ahead to the 1970 elections and backward to the 1948 catch phrase that served Harry Truman so well, some Republicans are starting to talk about the "do-nothing" 91st Congress.

At first glance, the argument that the Democratic-controlled House and Senate are to blame for balking the new Republican president might seem attractive to GOP strategists. But if they do adopt such a theme in the forthcoming campaign for 435 house and 35 senate seats, the Republican will be operating on several debatable political assumptions.

The first would require a conclusion that the Democrats regained control of Congress in 1948 because Truman attacked the GOP-led Congress of the previous two years. Such a strategy would discount the fact that Truman was campaigning for his own reelection first and for a Democratic Congress second.

It is certain that the political risks are great for a president trying to get someone else elected to public office. If the president's man is defeated, he loses far more face than he gains if the House or Senate candidate he smiled upon wins.

Another questionable assumption in trying to adapt the "do nothing" label to the 1970 elections is the assumption that Nixon really needs more Republicans to get his public ly stated program enacted.

Truman was campaigning against congressional conservatives who were dedicated to rolling back or at least stopping the increased role of federal government in national life. Civil rights was only beginning to split the Democratic Party in 1948 and enough representatives of the solid South were still voting liberal on domestic issues for Truman to regard any Democratic candidate as preferable to any Republican officeholder.

Such a clear partisan line does not exist for Nixon, any more than it existed for Presidents John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson before him. Although he would never say so publicly, Nixon must some times feel as plagues by congressmen at the extremes of his own party as he does by any Democrat.

D.C. HOSPITAL GETS GIFT. Washington—The Children's Hospital of the District of Columbia will get a $200,000 check from the profits of President Nixon's inauguration. It is the third major gift for social betterment in the capital coming from inauguration profits of more than $1-million.

Have You Got Good Religion?

From the old folk song, "Have you got good Religion" many among us get the notion that as long as we make our fellowmen believe that we do have "Good Religion", we are more or less saved.

Well for information, whether we have a good religion or not is a fact that is known only to God and the individual for man's actual religion is not visible, and it may be displayed only by the actions of the heart.

The fact that you and I are carried on the church rolls, and we crowd the door everytime the church is opened does not signify that we are religionist at all in the sense that is geared to ward Christianity.

Now as to whether or not you or Me have 'Good Religion' actually depends on what kind of religion one may refer to. You see a person maybe a "Religious" liar or may do anything religiously; as to whether you and I have 'Good Religion', let us be more concerned with our status as "Christians." Perhaps the old song should say, "Do you have good Christian Religion?"

ABOUT YOUR HOME

The area just inside your front door is very important. Since it is the first thing people see upon entering your home it has a great deal to do with the overall impression.

An entrance should be well-lighted. Take advantage of all the daylight available. A lamp on a chest or table will give a softer light than almost any hanging fixture.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

The proper foods can contribute greatly to your natural beauty and health. There is an old saying "You are what you eat." This is true to a great extent.

No matter what beautiful features or good health that is passed on to us by our parents—without healthful eating and living habits, we can destroy our looks and our health.

BRASS TACKS

By Theodore T. Sikes

The Board of Regents of the University of Georgia took sensible action last Monday when it approved the appointment of Former Secretary of State Dean Rusk to the Samuel H. Sibley professorship of international law.

A wave of political opposition to Rusk's appointment by several conservative politicians—no doubt stemming from the fact that he was a member of the cabinet of the late Pres. John F. Kennedy, who was disliked religiously by many Georgia politicians. Rusk also served in the same capacity under the Lyndon B. Johnson administration. Southern—particularly Georgians—also disliked LBJ because he was on the staunch segregationists who turned liberal during JFK's administration.

The dislike that Georgians reserved for LBJ was deeper, wider and more intense than that they felt for Yankee Liberal, JFK. But LBJ they will never be able to forgive because "he was one of them who turned traitor."

These and many other deep seated political, social, racial prejudices surfaced immediately after Fred C. Davison, president of the University of Georgia asked the regents to name Rusk to the post.

President Davison, members of the board of regents, Roy Harris, notwithstanding, refrained from becoming engaged in a lot of public statement concerning the appointment before the board of regents approved the appointment. It must be said that the situation was handled very intelligently.

Back in the minds of a lot of Georgians was the fact that Dean Rusk's daughter married a Negro man. It was the first white woman who married a Negro man and I dare say she will not be the last one. As a matter of fact I predict that there will be a great increase of such marriages in the near future.

For Dean Rusk's daughter to be denied the privilege of marrying the man she loved—as well as another person—man or woman, black or white would be tantamount of taking democracy away from them.

MARION JACKSON Views Sports of The World

BRITONS HORRIFIED BY OUR FOOTBALL

United Kingdom (Great Britain) television viewers were astonished at the violence of the game between Southern Cal and the University of Michigan for most Britons, whose favorite sport is soccer, it was the first time they had seen the American gridiron version. Segregation American-style is often bewildering, but in Mississippi Negro and white coaches met four square. The white schools and the Negro schools had separate athletic associations with separate standards and each had its established schedule and conference.

The coaches partially solved the problem by combining the minority and the white athletes into a single team with a few practice sessions during the holidays. Coaches report no problems in the solution....

In Jackson, Miss., I was told that other student activities carry more sentiment and threaten to cause more emotional difficulties. Class rings and graduation already had been made for white students, but many of the Caucasians will windup graduating from a previously Negro school and many Negroes will windup wearing class rings from a black school but attending a white school.

It is in this area of school identity that Negroes also have protested the Supreme Court mandate. Some fear their class officers, club memberships and other activities will be lost in the shuffle in a merger with a predominantly white school. Negro students at Starkville staged a protest demonstration last month over desegregation plans calling for a phase out of all Negro Henderson High School over a two-year period. Yazoo City schools will have separate yearbooks.

But in some areas, plans for carrying out the orders have gone smoothly. At six Meridian schools, 268 of 271 teachers accepted new assignments, and a spokesman said two of three teachers who resigned did so for personal reasons not connected with reassignment. Superintendents said the teachers were "dedicated to their profession" and would "honor" their contracts for the remainder of the year.

ALCORN A&M COLLEGE approaches a tremendous cross-road and landmark in history in this segregation-troubled Magnolia State. The Alcorn A & M College Braves, coached by Marino H. Casem, will be honored Jan. 9th by THE PITTSBURGH COURIER and January 23-24 by the THE 100 PER CENT WRONG CLUB OF THE ATLANTA DAILY world. The forthcoming tributes are a far cry from the past neglect of the school's athletic program. The Braves went bigtime when they defeated Florida A&M University in the '68 ORANGE BLOSSOM CLASSIC.

Now Alcorn A&M College is coming to Atlanta in high style company and those country bumpkins out of Loram, Miss. will be staying at the plush Marriott Motor Hotel.

AMERICAN FOOTBALL IS OFTEN bewildering to the foreigners who visit the USA. It is no less complex to British viewers who saw the ROSE BOWL by satellite. Millions of British viewers saw the 1970-Rose Bowl game via satellite from Pasadena, Calif., in which the commentator noted "Mitch-Igan" and the "Trogand".

Athletes Can Out-Do The Sociologist

By GUY OLSON

RALEIGH, N.C. (UPI)—The professional athlete can do more for delinquent children than sociologists or psychologists, according to John Baker.

And Baker packs more than a 6-foot-6, 220-pound frame behind his philosophy.

The 12-year veteran of the National Football League who retired this year spent each off-season working with youthful prison inmates and school dropouts—talking to them, "man to man."

"I've always said that pro athletes can do more than sociologists and psychologists to help these boys," Baker said. "As a pro athlete I could go in to inmates and talk sports and get to them."

"They know these guys got a theory, but the only reason they listened was because they had to," Baker said. Baker, 34, retired in September when the Detroit Lions put him on waivers. The defensive end who had started every exhibition game for the Lions this year admitted he was surprised with the action, but takes satisfaction that he passed by two his goal of 10 years in the NFL.

He played four years with the Los Angeles Rams and seven years with the Pittsburgh Steelers where he was an all-pro defensive lineman. He had a half-year stint with Philadelphia and was just beginning with Detroit when the Lions put him in limbo.

North Carolina's Department of Conservation and Development snatched Baker up and switched him to offense in their commerce and industry department. He travels in the state to encourage industrial expansion and outside to attract new firms.

Baker, who admits to weekend depression watching football games on television, says he's "going through a learning period here" in his position as industry development representative.

Football and his work with youth excite him, though. Leaning back in his chair and holding a pencil against the bridge of his nose, Baker said, "I always make a comparison between football and real life. Football and the game of life are about the same. There are rules and regulations. That's the some thing I would tell the inmates and the school dropouts."

During his first eight seasons he spent the offtime working with the North Carolina prison department. "The most frustrating thing was in see so many young kids

—13, 14 and 15-year-olds come in. This really got to me. I said this is not the kids' problem,

Vikings, Chiefs Meet In Annual Super Bowl

(By UPI)

It will be the Minnesota Vikings against the Kansas City Chiefs in pro football's Super Bowl next Sunday in New Orleans.

The Vikings smashed the Cleveland Browns 27-7 Sunday at Minneapolis-Sat. Paul and the underdog Chiefs upset the Oakland Raiders, 17-7, at Oakland.

The Vikings, winning their first National Football League crown, raced to a 24-0 halftime lead and added a field goal in the third period. The Browns got on the scoreboard only in the fourth period in a game played in eight-degree weather.

Kansas City, in capturing the American Football League title, trailed favored Oakland 7-0 after one period, managed a 7-7 tie at halftime, then went on to victory.

The 1969 Super Bowl was won by the New York Jets, 16-7, over the NFL champion Baltimore Colts.

The deep freeze weather plagued the Browns at the outset, when in the span of minutes two Cleveland defenders slipped on the icy surfaces, permitting the Vikings' Gene Washington to grab two passes from quarterback Joe Kapp. The first catch set up a seven-yard touchdown play by Kapp, and the second resulted in a 75-yard scoring play.

Fred Cox kicked a field goal in the second period, and Dave Osborn then tallied on a 20-yard to make it 24-0 at halftime. Cox added his second field goal in the third period. A Bill Nelsen to Gary Col-ins pass produced Cleveland's only touchdown.

For Kansas City the come-from-behind victory resulted from a punishing rush put on the Oakland quarterback, Daryle Lamonia who was intercepted three times in the second half. The Kansas City defense also forced two vital fumbles that wrecked Oakland drives.

Chief quarterback Len Dawson had the satisfaction of engineering the win over the Raiders who had whipped Kansas City twice in regular season play.

It will be the second appearance for the Chiefs in the Super Bowl. They lost to Green Bay in the inaugural AFL-NFL title match in 1967.

We made the college of his choice, the college of our choice.

What do you do when you've got everything it takes to be a good college student except money? Put your dreams in your pocket and settle for something else? That was the question facing Bobby Hicks.

His case came to our attention and we looked into it. He had all the qualifications: good grades, desire, and ambition. So we supplied the one thing he lacked. Money. Through a grant to Winston-Salem State University from the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Bobby was able to hold onto his dreams and make them a reality.

The R. J. Reynolds grant provides scholarships each year to deserving students like Bobby. It also supplies funds to attract highly qualified faculty members to Winston-Salem State University and broaden the school's curriculum.

This educational grant to aid the cause of Black students and teachers is only one example of our commitment to equal opportunities for all Americans. But it's one of which we're especially proud. Because we believe that, ultimately, education is the key to unlocking the shackles of poverty and bringing Black people into the picture of American prosperity.

People have helped R. J. Reynolds by buying My-T-Fine Desserts, Chun King Oriental Foods, Vermont Maid Syrups, College Inn Chicken and Tomato Products, Davis Baking Powder, Winston, Salem and Doral cigarettes and our many other fine products. We're just returning the favor.

NY's Clay Ban Upheld

NEW YORK (UPI) — A Federal Court judge has upheld the right of the New York State Athletic Commission to suspend the license of Cassius Clay to fight in the state.

Clay, former heavyweight champion, had applied for reinstatement four months ago. He charged that his Constitutional rights were violated when the commission lifted his license after his conviction for refusing to submit to the draft.
