

City's 13 Top Women Chosen!

The Memphis Inter-Denominational Fellowship, Inc. will present its 13 "Most Outstanding Women" at the organization's Annual Awards Program this Monday evening, April 27. The affair will be held at Metropolitan Baptist Church, 767 Walker, starting at 7 o'clock.

In addition to presenting the 13 women, the organization will give awards to seven well-known civic workers, according to Mrs. Nettie B. Rogers, coordinator of the occasion.

Mrs. Rogers said the 13 outstanding women include Mrs. Joan Golden of radio station WLOK and Pentecostal Temple Church of God in Christ. Mrs. Golden has been named "Woman of the Year."

The Fellowship's 12 "Most Outstanding Women" are: Mrs. Elsie Mason of Church of God in Christ, Mrs. Ellen Carrell of Church Women United, Mrs. D. S. Cunningham of the CME Church and Ecumenical Council CWU, Mrs. Marshall Lewis of the Funds of Needy School Children, Mrs. Marita Pinkel of the Human Relations Council, Mrs. Lena Duke of Galilee Baptist Church and the Back to Church Crusade, Mrs. Ellen Dixon of Mt. Olive Cathedral and the Daughters of Tabor, Mrs. Pinnie McAlister of Wayman Chapel and the Back to School Crusade, Mrs. David Gairham of Church Women United, Mrs. Ann Schaefer of Concerned Women, Mrs. Georgia Walker of the Tennessee Regular Baptist Convention and Mrs. Colvert Ishmael of Foote Homes Kindergarten.

The Citizenship Award will be presented to the Rev. S. A. Owen, pastor of Metropolitan; the Goodfellow Award to Carl Carson, and the Fellowship Award to Cuba Johnson, founder of the Famous Southern Male Chorus.

Others scheduled to receive awards are Riley C. Garner, Harry Strong, John Montesi and William Shelton.

DEDICATING GRAND LODGE OFFICE BUILDING - Here is part of the big crowd that gathered Saturday to dedicate the Grand Lodge Office Building of the Most Worshipful Prince Hall Grand Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, Jurisdiction of Tennessee. The building is located at 253 South Parkway West. The Grand Lodge vacated its old site on South Fourth because of the Beale Street Urban Renewal Program. The group gathered at Beale and Fourth for a Thanksgiving Service and then went by motorcade to Bloomfield Baptist Church on South Park way West for the Consecration Service. The Dedication Service took place in front of the new site. Charles F. Williams is the most worshipful grandmaster and Ben L. Hooks is the right worshipful grand secretary.

Dr. Roberts In LeMoyné Talk

Dr. Theophilus W. Roberts of New York, director of pathology at the Harlem Hospital Center, was at LeMoyné-Owen College, Thursday, April 23 to address a natural science seminar.

Dr. Roberts, a native of Warren, Ark., is a 1947 graduate of LeMoyné-Owen College. The seminar is conducted for students and faculty in the natural science division. Dr. W. W. Gibson, chairman of the division, coordinated the program.

Dr. Roberts was certified by the American Board of Pathology after earning his degree at Meharry Medical College and doing post-graduate study at the Albert Einstein Medical Center in Philadelphia, Cornell Medical School, the Presbyterian Medical Center in New York and the Hospital of Bone & Joint Diseases.

Before becoming director of pathology at the Harlem Hospital Center in 1964, he was assistant professor of pathology at Columbia University College of Physicians & Surgeons, assistant pathologist at the Delaware Hospital in Wilmington, assistant professor of pathology at Albert Einstein College of Medicine and associate professor of pathology at Columbia University College of Physicians & Surgeons.

were held from Old Shiloh Baptist Church in Brighton, Tenn. with burials in Mt. Tipton Cemetery, also at Brighton. Mrs. Chavis was 22.

Services for Mrs. Eugenia Bohlen, 33, and her daughter Eugenia Rena Reilford Bohlen, 3, were conducted in Memphis from Riverside Missionary Baptist Church on Mitchell Road with burials in Union Forever Cemetery.

All of the funerals were held at 1 p.m. Sunday.

Charged with the five murders is Travis Chavis, 25, who shot himself in the head after killing his estranged wife and their two small children and Mrs. Bohlen and her daughter. He was reported in satisfactory condition at John Gaston Hospital. Chavis also shot and wounded Mrs. Bohlen's two-year-old son, George. The child also is at John Gaston.

Mrs. Chavis and her husband had been separated about two months. She had been living in Brighton with relatives before moving in with the Bohlen family at 936 Grove where the shooting took place.

Investigating officers said Mr. Chavis arrived in town by bus and went directly to the Bohlen home to seek reconciliation with his wife. The officers said they believe he started shooting when she refused to leave the Bohlen home with him.

Mrs. Chavis leaves her parents, two sisters and three brothers.

Mrs. Bohlen is survived by three sons, a daughter, her mother and 10 brothers and sister.

Tea To Back Up Campaign

Tickets may be purchased from Mrs. Alma Morris and members of DDO.

Mrs. Florence Johnson is chairman of the tea; Mrs. Alma Morris, membership chairman, and M. R. Davis, president.

Lockhart Of WREC Cited

The Congress of Outstanding Young Men of America has selected WREC's Hank Lockhart as one of the Outstanding young Men of America for 1970.

Lockhart, who has been with the WREC Stations since 1966, is a reporter for the radio and television news departments. His first experience in the broadcast field was at Quincy College in Illinois when he served as station manager of QCIM.

Lockhart holds a degree in music education from Lane College in Jackson, Tenn., and he taught in the Memphis City Schools prior to his joining the staff of WREC.

Vitaly interested in community affairs, Lockhart is active in the Memphis Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Black Knights and the Catholic Human Relations Council.

Crenshaw Asks 'Neutral Panel' To Weigh Willis Appointment

Action Consolidated, an organization of Memphis Housing Authority employees with Mr. Cornelia M. Crenshaw as leader of the group, objected to the recent appointment of Atty. A. W. Willis to the newly created Shelby County Housing Authority.

Mrs. Crenshaw called on the Shelby County Court, which appointed Mr. Willis, to give Action Consolidated the right to oppose the appointment.

The County Court granted this request and set April 27 as the date for the hearing. Mr. Willis, who is president of Supreme Mortgage and Realty Company and a former state senator, said he has no objection to a hearing but declared that attack on him that led to the committee hearing was "irresponsible" and the result of a "personal vendetta."

Mr. Willis said he would insist the hearing be public and that the committee warn persons appearing to make statements on him that libel and slander suits may be filed against them for untrue statements.

He predicted that the city and county will have trouble getting people to serve on unpaid citizen boards if they are subjected to "attacks of this sort."

To Mrs. Crenshaw's charge that he failed to represent her group adequately in negotiations with MHA, Mr Willis said the claim was "an outright lie. I don't know what she's talking about. I've never represented her, never purported to represent her."

In a statement this week, Mrs. Crenshaw called for a "more neutral panel" to conduct the hearing.

Here is her statement:

"We are very pleased that the Shelby County Court has set April 27, 1970 as the date for Action Consolidated to oppose the appointment of Mr. A. W. Willis, Jr. to the new Shelby County Housing Authority as requested.

"Action Consolidated is ready and determined to participate in this hearing, however we must inform you that we feel that the committee in charge of the hearing is not neutral in the matter and is therefore objectionable for the following reasons.

1. Committee #5 -- Land Use and Planing (Messrs. Stanley Dillard, Jesse Turner and Oscar Edmonds is the Committee who recommended Mr. A. W. Willis for appointment.

2. Mr. Jesse Turner removed himself from a position of neutrality when he publicly accused me and defended and pledged his future support to Mr. A. W. Willis. If Mr. Turner conducts the hearing he will then be placed in a position of judge juror, accuser and prosecutor if his past actions are repeated.

"Gentlemen, we feel that you have turned Action Consolidated over to a Committee who will seriously jeopardize our right of peaceful dissent and where a fair decision is almost negative.

"Another very important matter that we wish to make crystal clear:

Action Consolidated is opposed to the appointment of

Mr. A. W. Willis only. We do not wish this hearing to reflect on the character of the other four appointees. We are not acquainted with these men and do not wish to complain against them nor embarrass them in any way. Indeed, we are happy that another Black man was appointed to the Authority and we sincerely hope that Mr. Willis' replacement will be Black (Action Consolidated has no desire to recommend anyone) so as to maintain a racial balance conducive to the operation of the Authority.

"We look forward to April 27, 1970 as the hearing date. At this time, we hope that the Shelby County Quarterly Court will have seen fit to provide a more neutral panel to conduct the hearing."

Celebration At LeMoyné

DR. GARDNER C. TAYLOR - The president of Southwestern at Memphis and a nationally prominent Baptist Minister of Brooklyn, N. Y. will be speaker at LeMoyné-Owen College's one day centennial celebration this Friday, April 24.

President William L. Bowden of Southwestern will be the morning convocation speaker at 10:30 in Bruce Hall, and Dr Gardner C. Taylor, pastor of Concord Baptist Church of Christ, Brooklyn, will address a public session starting at 7:30 p.m. in Bruce Hall.

Faculty members of LeMoyné-Owen and visiting educators will be attired in academic regalia for the morning convocation. They will march from the Hollis F. Price Library to Bruce Hall. The College choir is scheduled to sing at the morning and evening sessions.

Dr. Taylor is a former president of the Progressive National Baptist Convention. The Tennessee Baptist Missionary and Education Convention, one of the sponsors of LeMoyné-Owen, is an affiliate of the Progressive National Baptist Convention.

The 100th anniversary program also includes a luncheon and a panel discussion. The luncheon will be held at noon in the Alma C. Hanson Memorial Student Center. The panel discussion is scheduled for 2 p.m. in the Little Theatre located in the Student Center. Panelists will discuss various subjects dealing with the theme: "The Private College: Past, Present and Future."

Inside Memphis

$1,000 PLUS—Mission Impossible's Greg Morris, who exceed the Frontiers' annual awards dinner Sunday night, is taller than most realized. A star with his talents usually picks up $1,000 and expenses for filling the role of master of ceremonies.

NEXT BANQUET—This is the banquet season. The Memphis Urban League is planning a $5-a-plate affair for May 26 to honor Dr. Hollis F. Price, retiring president of LeMoyné-Owen College; UL Board Member Edwin Dalstrom, and the Rev. J. A. McDaniel, former director of the League. Whitney Young, national UL executive director, will be the speaker.

ANOTHER ONE—Alumni of LeMoyné-Owen College are pushing a $10-a-plate banquet May 30 at the Rivermonth to honor retiring President Price.

PROTEST EXPRESSWAY—The Glenwood-Edgewood Manor Area Association is calling a public meeting for 7:30 p.m. Monday, April 27, at Tabernacle Baptist Church 1662 Kendale, to protest the proposed Southern Expressway which the Association says would cut around the southern perimeter of Glenview Park and uproot residents of Netherwood and Waverly avenues.

NEW MINISTER—Second Congregational Church at Walker and McDowell is expected to choose a new minister this Friday night.

Gore, Morris Banquet Stars

Nearly 500 were there for cocktails and dinner.

Highlighting the $10-a-plate event were Senator Albert Gore and Greg Morris of Mission Impossible. Senator Gore gave the address and Mr. Morris was master of ceremonies.

Awards were presented to Criminal Court Judge Odell Horton, Mrs. Lawrence Coe of the City School Board, Mrs. Maxine Smith of the local NAACP, Dr. Hollis F. Price, retiring president of LeMoyné-Owen College, and to the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and the Memphis branch of the NAACP.

Senator Gore was presented to the audience by former Judge Ben L. Hooks and Mr. Morris was introduced by Johnny Arnold.

Opening remarks were given by the Frontiers president, A. C. Montgomery.

Church Of God In Christ Will Establish Seminary In Atlanta

The General Assembly of the Church of God in Christ has voted to establish the Charles Mason Theological Seminary in Atlanta, Ga. The newly established seminary will be an affiliate of the interdenominational Theological Center which was initiated in 1958.

The school represents the realization of a dream coming true under the leadership of the present presiding, Bishop J. O. Patterson. Plans are under way for a September opening.

The newly appointed president director of the Charles Harrison Mason Theological Seminary is the Rev. Leonard Lovett, a native of Pompano Beach, Fla. presently residing in Philadelphia, Penn.

Rev. Mr. Lovett completed two years at Saint's Junior College, Lexington, Miss. and was graduated from Morehouse College, 1962; from Crozier Theological Seminary in 1965, and presently is a first year graduate fellow at the Bryn Mawr Graduate School of Social Work and Social Research in the field of community organization.

A member of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Rev. Mr. Lovett has also held a pastorate for eight years in Haverford, Penn. where he is the vice president of the local Human Relations Council. He has worked two years as a federal coordinator for the Health and Welfare Council, Philadelphia, and two years as administrator of the Ultra-modern Stephens Towers Apartments for Senior Citizens in Philadelphia.

Rev. Mr. Lovett feels that as the largest black Pentecostal Movement in America, the Church of God in Christ must now seek to move from the periphery to the mainstream, and help to provide the moral and spiritual leadership so badly needed in America.

As prerequisites for entrance, a student must have a bachelor's degree from an accredited college in order to enroll in the Seminary for the basic degree program, which is the Master of divinity degree. However, non-degree programs will be arranged by the Seminary for ministers and others who may benefit from theological training but who do not have a college education.

The following received the signal distinction of becoming the first board of trustees of the Charles Harrison Mason Theological Seminary: Bishop J. D. Hubbard and Bishop J. Howard Dell, th resident bishops of Georgia O. T. Bell, a member of the Church of God in Christ in Atlanta's Elder Charles Blake, chairman Los Angeles of an alumnus and former student body president of Morehouse College; Elder Roy L. H. Winbush, Crowley, Lou, who serves as president of the Publisher of divinity degree. However, non-degree programs

Channel 5 To Air Special

"Cry Help: an ABC White Paper on Mentally Disturbed Youth" will mark the opening of Mental Health Month 1970.

Mental illness among adolescents, which has increased in the United States to proportions termed alarming, will be the subject of the colorcast on the NBC Television Network (Channel 5), Saturday, April 25, 6:30 - 8:00 p.m.

James E. Chapman, president of the National Association for Mental Health, Inc., has announced the Association's endorsement of the 90-minute NBC News special. This is the first time the National Association for Mental Health has taken such action in regard to any TV program. "We commend the NBC Television Network," Chapman said, "for performing an enormously important public service by giving its attention to this deeply significant topic — and especially for giving it the kind of attention it truly merits by scheduling the program during prime time."

The Mental Health Association of Memphis - Shelby County will have a team of mental health professionals to answer the phones on inquiries from the viewers immediately following the program.

Seek TV Sets For Youngsters

Warrant Officer E. E. Redditt of the Memphis Police Department has accepted the chairmanship of Memphis' "Open Sesame Street" campaign to provide television sets for areaday care and Head Start centers.

The campaign is being coordinated nationally by Children's Television Workshop, producer of "Sesame Street," the new educationally - entertainment daily television series for pre-school children.

In cooperation with WKNO - TV, the local campaign was launched Friday, April 17, with the presentation of four color TV sets by Wayne Bledsoe, manager of the Memphis RCA plant. RCA is presenting sets to day care centers in 56 cities.

"The 'Open Sesame Street' campaign is in answer to the desire of many day care and Head Start centers, which do not have television sets nor the funds to purchase them to provide their pre-schoolers the opportunity to benefit from 'Sesame Street,'" Redditt said.

"We hope this campaign will help remedy the problem," he added. "We know immediately that there are 22 day care centers and Head Start centers who do not have working television sets, so we have our work cut out for us," Mr. Redditt said.

The local presentation took place Friday at Emmanuel Episcopal Church's Head Start Center.

Mr. Redditt said a general appeal for both funds and sets would begin following the Friday presentation. "Another purpose of this 'Open Sesame Street' program is to encourage children to watch this fine program," Mr. Redditt added. Sesame Street is shown locally twice daily on Channel 10 at 11:30 a.m. and again at 4:30 p.m.

Mr. Redditt, a 39-year old graduate of Lane College was commended by President Nixon earlier this year for his work with the Riverview-Kansas Day Care Center. He has received numerous other awards for his work in the area of community relate ones.

Mrs. Daly Thompson is co-chairman of the Committee.

College Choir In 4 Concerts

Recently, March 31, the LeMoyné-Owen Choir made a trip by Greyhound Bus to perform in two concerts.

One concert was presented in Detroit, at Greater New Mt. Moriah Baptist Church, the Rev. E. L. Hooks, pastor. The Rev. Jimmy Holly, who was in charge of arrangements, and the Detroit LeMoyné-Owen Alumni Club did a wonderful job in welcoming them upon their arrival. The choir ate dinner at the church and stayed with church members that night.

The next day, April 1, after breakfast at the church Rev. Holly took the choir on a sightseeing trip of Canada and a tour of the city. The choir also saw Motown. They performed that night at 8 p.m. and received a standing ovation. A reception followed. A party was given for them each night in Detroit.

On April 2, at 9 a.m. the choir left Detroit and headed for Chicago. They arrived the same day at Zion Baptist Church, The Rev. E. W. Williamson, pastor. The choir ate dinner at later performed at their second concert. They stayed at night with relatives and members of the church. The Chicago LeMoyné-Owen Alumni Club welcomed them. There was a party given for them that night.

The choir left Chicago, Friday, April 3, at about 12:30 p.m. They arrived in Memphis that Friday night. Before leaving, the Le Moyné - Owen College Choir performed at Idlewild Presbyterian Church in Memphis. After they returned from Chicago, they performed at Wonder High School in Arkansas.

Mrs. Mildred Denby Green is the Director of the choir. Others that accompanied her on the trip were Miss Lula Skinner and Mr. and Mrs. Willie Watson.

Dry Cleaning Class Is Free

The Memphis City School System is offering a training program in dry cleaning to teach individuals the latest methods and how to operate equipment used in the industry. All phases of dry cleaning, checking, pressing, finishing, and spotting is being taught.

The dry cleaning business is one of the fastest growing and largest industries in the city of Memphis, and there is a great demand for people who know how to work with new fabrics.

This training can be completed in eight weeks and a certificate of achievement is awarded to students who complete the course satisfactorily. An excellent opportunity awaits men and women to train for a new occupation. Many jobs are available in the dry cleaning industry and often the Adult Education Center is able to help students locate good paying jobs.

Any person interested in taking this free training, should call the Adult Education Center, 527-6521. Persons interested in seeing the facilities and talking with the instructor should go to the Adult Education Center, 591 Washington Avenue.

Needed: Semi-Lawyers

The Denver College of Law recently released a study which calls for the establishment of semi-lawyers, or partly trained legal persons to take much of the routine work load off the shoulders of lawyers.

The study points out that millions of Americans suffer from a lack of legal services (we aren't fully convinced yet that they are not, at least in some cases, the lucky ones) and protection. Less than twenty per cent of the legal needs of the poor, it is said, are being met today.

The recommendation is that limited legal training be offered by universities to prepare lawyer's assistants, who need not be fully trained in all legal fields. These semi-lawyers would, in effect, be legal technicians competent in their special field and could do much of the legal and paper work, drafting and negotiation, and other things which take up so much time today.

By utilizing such persons it is possible—though perhaps expecting too much—for legal fees to be lowered in some areas. But the main purpose of the proposal is to make available to more Americans legal services and protection, a desirable end, which the last two Washington administrations have also sought.

A Timely Move

Representatives from thirty-four predominantly Negro Colleges met in Atlanta last week for the purpose of considering "methods for future financial and physical growth" of these public controlled institutions of higher learning.

The representatives of state college come from 12 states and reportedly they represent the source of higher education for one-third of the total Negro youth enrolled in American Colleges and Universities.

This group was organized in 1968 by the National Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges. It is called the Office for the Advancement of Public Negro Colleges.

This is a timely action because as standards increase and population grows it is going to become more and more difficult for Negroes to get enrolled in the predominantly white educational institution of higher learning.

A higher government official last week in addressing an educational group advised against lowering educational standards in order to enroll certain members of minority groups.

Also we anticipate the time will soon come when a college degree will be pre-requisite for many more positions than it is today.

Therefore, we must give attention and private support to both the private operated predominantly Negro College and the public operated predominantly Negro College.

We hope more of the major corporations, industries and foundations will see the importance of giving more financial support to these educational institutions.

Court & President

The recent rejection of Harold Carswell by the U.S. Senate, despite everything the White House could do to have President Nixon's Supreme Court choice confirmed, was of historic interest and focuses great attention on the President's next court choice.

Mr. Nixon can accurately cite tradition and precedent in his charge that the Senate's liberals seek to assume some of the executive power of the President in rejecting nominees because of their political shading. The President feels strongly it is his decision, as to what thinking is needed on the court, liberal or conservative, that the Senate should judge his nominees as to qualification.

He and some in the Senate who supported Carswell, even though he was not their choice, feel the President's last two defeated nominees were qualified but denied their seats because they were too conservative to suit the political tastes of a majority in the upper body. They feel the liberal Senate majority is insisting on liberal nominees by refusing to support a conservative. The President still intends to "balance" the court, as he pledged to do in his presidential campaign. He feels that's the will of the majority which elected him.

Mr. Nixon has known defeat before and is not giving in on this fundamental issue.

Since the court has contained a majority of liberals for many decades, and since the President constitutionally is supposed to select its members, Mr. Nixon has a right to feel the Senate has over-stepped the line of power delineation for political reasons. It is true, of course, many of those who opposed the President's last two choices are very much dependent on liberal organizations and organized labor to get elected.

James Buchanan

The fifteenth President of the United States, James Buchanan, served at a critical and fateful time and was criticized for seeking to avoid war over the question of secession. In retrospect it now seems possible that had his original view prevailed the nation might have escaped the awful civil war of a century ago.

Buchanan was born near Mercersburg, Pennsylvania, April 23rd, 1791. Educated at Dickinson College at Carlisle, he practiced law at Lancaster. He served in the state legislature, then in Congress and as Minister to Russia. Trusted in the South, he won the Democratic nomination in 1856 and was elected President.

These were inflammatory and electric times, for the South believed in the right of a state to secede, while the abolitionists and most of those outside the area denied such a right. Buchanan did not think a state could secede, but he also held the view that no President could send military force into a state unless state authorities requested such forces.

Critics at the time and afterward claimed this view was tantamount to weakness, an encouragement to secessionists. However, probing historians have speculated that Buchanan might have avoided an all-out war with his policy of patience, even if a temporary rupture had been effected. No one, of course, will ever know the answer, for when Lincoln adopted a more positive attitude, the flag was fired upon and the great majority outside the South, including Buchanan, supported the war effort.

Buchanan was a man of exceptional ability. He was one of two bachelors elected President, the only President who never married. He died at his home, Wheatland,

IN OUTER SPACE

I am glad that man still cares about mankind. At times it appears that man is on a collision course to totally destroy his own kind. In other words, it appears, at times, that man is committed to genocide.

The human is the only animal which deliberately plan and plot the destruction of its own specie without the provocation of hunger and self survival.

But man still cares about the whole human race, despite his political differences, geographical locations, religious prejudices and socio-economic classifications. We still act-out "I am my brother's keeper."

However, it is very difficult to believe that man cares about man, particularly if one starts to analyze the Vietnam situation or the Israeli-Jordan conflict; observe South Africa apartheid or think of a divided Germany or what is brewing in Cambodia or even to think of the internal strife in our own beloved country; not to mention England and Ireland.

Despite all of the afore mentioned conditions, man does care about mankind.

This fact was vividly pointed out during the crisis experienced by the disaster-ridden Apollo 13 Astronauts.

When it was flashed around the world that the astronauts were in danger of losing their lives in outer-space, the nations of the world were quick to offer assistance and showed genuine concern for the well-being of the astronauts.

People around the world breathed with abated breaths while the genius of the Houston Control mission center worked frantically to bring the spacemen safely back to earth ...which it did.

Forgotten immediately were those human-made barriers such as nationality, religion, race, creed, color, etc. ....which under normal conditions separate man from man, nation from nation, race from race, and all other things which believe that "I am my brother's keeper."

In the daily frustrations, man hates man, nation opposes nation and show how capable it is for man to turn into a beast, worse than any other beast in the animal kingdom.

What a pity that it required a history-making disaster in outer-space to bring men on earth just a little closer together.

We are glad we did find it necessary to accept the offers made by other nations. However, we are very glad they made the offers.

Could it be that the solution to mankind's difficulty on earth can be found in outer-space? .....(4-21-70)

Refrigerator Death

Every so often a playing child shuts himself into an abandoned refrigerator, lives a few terrifying minutes trying to get out again, which he cannot do, and then suffocates to death. It happened again a few days ago when two children died in such circumstances in Charleston, South Carolina.

Newspaper editors in every part of the country have been warning parents of the danger in leaving unused or abandoned refrigerators in places where children might play with them and in them. Yet accidents of this kind continue, in every state.

Many modern refrigerators can now be opened from the inside but many older models are still in use. Doors on any not in use should be removed. It is relatively simple to protect children but no amount of suffering, regret or recrimination will bring them back after thoughtlessness which costs their innocent lives.

SPY PLANES LOST

The Pentagon reports that nine of the Air Force's small fleet of SR-71 spy planes were lost in crashes in the last four years. The 2,000-mile-an-hour intelligence collector plane was developed in the early 1960's as a successor to the U-2 spy plane.

QUIPS FROM A COUNTRY PREACHER

"A PILL FOR EVERY ILL"

In a much disturbed society, we, the elders are wondering just why our youngsters resort to the popular pastime called "Trips," but it must be admitted that the youngsters are not alone in this newest thing, you see some oldsters take "Trips" too.

Now if we are worried about the youngsters, and their possible end, then let us consider ourselves, and our possible end in the first place, the habit of taking "pills" was not started by the kids of our society, in fact they are only imitating the parents of this age.

While the parents may or may not actually take "dope" in its rawest sense, many do almost completely rely on some medication in "pill" form to dismiss or relieve aches and pains, and in many cases problems of life.

Now the idea is born that there is some "pill" to make one forget life's problems, at least temporarily so the imitating child soon finds that he or she can "Do their thing" as affectively as Mom and Dad, but with different kinds of "pills."

True the "pills" used by the kids are far more dangerous than the "pills" used by their elders, but the pill does take them into another world where there are no problems.

Now the society in which we live is considered a "Golden Era of Christianity," yet the people are turning more and more for help, other than Christian, the "Old Fashion" idea of lifting one's eyes to the hills, from whence cometh strength, is seldom used.

Decidedly few homes still practice "Home Prayers," the church rolls are swelled to a new high, but the old fashioned style of praying for help is fast being replaced by the "pill" for every ill.

Daybook of America 1770-1870-1970

By CLARK KINNAIRD

No. 30 Virginia was chosen in 1770 as Agent of the Province of Massachusetts at London. Subsequently, he was named with Benjamin Franklin as Agent also at Paris, unfortunately for the patriot cause. Those responsible for the appointments had been impressed by Lee's pamphlets published as open letters to acquaintances in England about grievances of the colonists with British regulations and taxes.

Lee spent his twenties in the British Isles, acquiring an M.D. at the University of Edinburgh, studying law in London and qualifying there for the Bar. But he remained without the qualities of his older brothers, Richard Henry and Francis Lightfoot (who were signers of the Declaration of Independence while Arthur remained in Europe). He was declared "vain," "capitious," "deceitful," "insatiably ambitious," somewhat later than Anna Vallayer discerned these characteristics.

She was a remarkable artist admitted as an Associate of the Academy of Fine Arts at the Louvre in 1770, when twenty. Beautiful as well as talented, she was an attraction at the salon of Mme. Sophie Arnould, a gathering place of Pierre de Beaumarchais and intellectuals hostile to Britons and conditioned to sympathy with the American resistance. Franklin and Lee were welcomed there. Lee, unhappy about the division of authority with Franklin and jealous of Franklin's popularity with the French, intrigued against him secretly. It was to be concluded by historians that Lee's untruthful letters, by which members of Continental Congress were made distrustful of Franklin and Beaumarchais, did immense damage to the American cause in early years of the War of Independence.

ESCAPE THE MONOTONY OF THE KITCHEN--THROUGH DESSERTS

ELEGANT CUSTARD TORTE

When you spread layers of a sponge or chiffon cake with the makings from a convenient package of egg custard mix, you get this Elegant Custard Torte. It's great for family meals-- and when company is coming too. Try making one soon.

*Courtesy of Jell-O Golden Egg Custard Mix*

A little change in the desserts you prepare can help you escape the monotony that often goes along with cooking. It works, whether you're making a substantial dessert to follow the family meal or an attractive dish for party refreshment.

For example, a simple food like sponge or chiffon cake can be turned into a lovely sweet treat with the aid of a package of Jell-O Golden Egg Custard Mix. Try making one soon.

Cake as dessert has a definite place in most menus. Offer it to the family after any meal, to your lady friends, at the next club meeting, or the community bake sale table. Dessert fixin' is a cinch when the maker stops for a few moments to get herself organized before beginning preparation. Little things like placing the necessary utensils together, measuring all ingredients at the start, or even rinsing soiled dishes as you work makes a big difference.

By using these few shortcuts, along with any others you practice regularly, you'll be out of the kitchen in little or no time. Women agree that some thought to organizing the cooking procedure, like a change in the dessert recipes used, can help one escape boredom in the kitchen. Whip up this Elegant Custard Torte the next time you get the kitchen blues.

Elegant Custard Torte

- 1 package (3 oz.) egg custard mix
- 1 1/3 cups milk
- 1 cup prepared whipped topping*
- 1 commercial 8-inch tube sponge or chiffon cake
- 1/4 cup crushed peanut brittle (optional)

*Or use 1 cup thawed frozen Jell-O Golden Egg Custard Mix, Dream Whip Whipped Topping Mix, Birds Eye Cool Whip Non-Dairy Whipped Topping.

Prepare custard mix as directed on package for pudding, using the 1 1/3 cups milk. Chill until thickened. Stir until smooth and blend in prepared whipped topping. Chill until mixture will mound. Meanwhile, cut cake horizontally into 4 layers. Spread custard between layers and over top of cake. Chill. Just before serving, sprinkle peanut brittle over top.

Chicken Salad Fills Sparkling Cherry Ring

With the first signs of spring filling the air, it seems a perfect time to invite a few close friends in for a special luncheon. Set your home in gleaming order and have your table adorned with fresh flowers and your prettiest linens and silver.

Keeping in the mood of the gay spring season, this attractive Cherry Chicken Salad would be a festive entree. Accompany it with dainty tea sandwiches filled with cream cheese. For dessert, serve a light-as-a-cloud lemon souffle.

Jewel-like canned sweet cherries fill the sparkling gelatin ring. The syrup from the cherries is used as part of the liquid with the wild cherry gelatin. The addition of a carbonated beverage gives extra sparkle to the pretty mold.

A savory chicken salad nestles in the glistening ring. Celery, green pepper and toasted slivered almonds and interesting texture. A gentle touch of curry and soy offer new flavor appeal.

This delicious luncheon menu can be prepared well in advance, leaving you time to be a relaxed and gracious hostess.

For sparkling salads, glamorous desserts and sophisticated accents to meat and poultry, you can always count on canned sweet cherries.

Either the light golden Royal Annes or Burgundy-toned Bing and Lambert cherries can be used interchangeably in recipes. All varieties are plump and juicy and have the same delicately sweet flavor.

Cherry Chicken Salad

SPARKLING CHERRY RING:

- 1 (1 lb.) can light or dark sweet cherries
- 2 (3 oz.) packages wild cherry gelatin
- 1/4 cup lemon juice
- 1 (10 oz.) bottle gingerale, chilled

Drain and pit cherries, reserving syrup. Measure reserved cherry syrup and add enough water to make 2 cups. Heat to boiling. Pour over gelatin, stirring until dissolved. Cool. Add lemon juice and gingerale, pouring this slowly down the side of the bowl to preserve the bubbles. Chill until partially set. Fold in cherries. Pour into an oiled 1 1/2 quart ring mold. Refrigerate until firm. To serve, unmold and fill center with Savory Chicken Salad. Makes 6 servings.

SAVORY CHICKEN SALAD

- 2 1/2 cups cooked, diced chicken
- 1/2 cup diced celery
- 1/4 cup diced green pepper
- 1/2 cup toasted slivered almonds
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 teaspoon sauce

1/4 teaspoon curry powder
Combine above ingredients. Chill 1 hour to blend flavors. Serve in center of Sparkling Cherry Ring.

Recipe of the Week

By Sarah Anne Sheridan

The right dressing for the salad is as important as the salad itself. The success of the dressing depends on the quality of the ingredients you use.

Tangy Dressing

- 2-3 c. vinegar
- 1/4 c. sugar
- 1 t. dry mustard
- 1/2 c. salad oil
- 2 t. onion juice

Combine vinegar, sugar, salt and mustard. Heat to the boiling point and cook 1 minute. Cool. Stir in salad oil and onion juice. Serve over a mixed salad.

Dressing For Tomatoes

- 6 hard boiled eggs, chopped
- 1/2 c. chopped pimento
- 1/4 c. chopped green onions
- 1/2 c. chopped celery
- 1 c. mayonnaise

Mix all ingredients. Chill. Pour over tomato quarters.

Celery Seed Dressing

- 1/2 c. sugar
- 1 T. paprika
- 1 1/2 t. flour
- 1 t. dry mustard
- 1/2 c. vinegar
- 1 T. lemon juice
- 1 c. salad oil
- 1 T. onion juice

Sift together sugar, paprika, flour and mustard. Add vinegar. Cook over low heat stirring constantly, until slightly thick. Add lemon juice and chill. Add salad oil slowly beating with electric mixer. Beat in onion juice. Add celery seed. Serve on fruit salad.

Desserts Eliminate Guesswork

Ever wonder how much time you need to make a dessert that will delight and satisfy the whole family?

Here are three time-tested recipes that remove the guesswork.

Under 30 Minutes

Minted Melon Bowl

- 1 1/2 cups orange juice
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 3 cups cantaloupe balls
- 3 cups honeydew melon balls

Combine orange juice, sugar, lemon rind, lemon juice and mint in saucepan. Place over low heat; stir occasionally until sugar is dissolved. Bring to a boil. Remove from heat and cool. Combine melon balls in a large bowl; strain syrup over melon balls. Chill several hours or overnight. Serve garnished with mint sprigs. YIELD: 8 servings.

Salad Days For Dieters

DREAMY DIET DRESSING made with canned condensed beef broth, chill, onion, vinegar and crumbled blue cheese tastes great when it's tossed with a bowl of salad greens.

By JEANNE D'ARCY

SNACK up on salads when you're dieting. They're filling but not fattening and variety can keep them from being dull. You can use a variety of greens—iceberg lettuce, chicory, Bibb lettuce and Belgian endive solo or in combination. A handful of spinach leaves or some peppery watercress may also be used.

You can choose, too, from a wide selection of salad vegetables — tomatoes, scallions, cucumber slices, bits of green pepper, a sprinkling of chopped parsley, sliced radishes or thinly sliced raw mushrooms. All of these are low in calories but high in flavor and appetite appeal.

Finally, it's the dressing that makes a salad. For dieters, it must be low in calories but this needn't limit you to salt and lemon juice with a splash of vinegar. Dressings for salads can be as varied as the ingredients which go into the salad bowl itself.

Seasoning is one of the secrets of perfect dressing—and seasoning is what you'll find if you used a canned condensed soup as one of the ingredients. Subtly blended, it will give a sparkly spiciness to the salad.

Here are three souped-up salad dressings to toss into the bowl.

CHEESY TOMATO DRESSING

- 1 cup cottage cheese
- 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed tomato soup
- 1 tablespoon India or sweet pickle relish
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- Grated lemon rind, if desired

Blend all ingredients; chill. Stir well and serve over green salads. About 2 cups dressing.

DREAMY DIET DRESSING

- 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed beef broth
- 2 tablespoons chili sauce or ketchup
- 2 tablespoons vinegar
- 1 tablespoon grated onion
- 1 ounce crumbled blue cheese

Combine all ingredients. Shake well and serve over green salads. About 1 1/4 cups dressing.

CALIFORNIA DRESSING

- 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed cream of celery soup
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- 4 anchovies, chopped
- 2 teaspoons lime juice

Place unopened can of soup in the refrigerator 3 or 4 hours. Blend soup and mayonnaise; stir in remaining ingredients. Serve with green salads. About 1 1/4 cups dressing.

Cornmeal Sugar Pie

- 1/2 cup soft butter
- 1 cup sugar
- 3 egg
- 1/2 cup yellow cornmeal
- 2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 8-inch unbaked pastry shell
- Cream butter with sugar. Add eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition. Stir in cornmeal, lemon rind, and juice. Turn into pastry shell. Bake in 400 degree F. oven 10 minutes. Reduce heat to 325 degrees F. and bake 15 minutes longer, until filling is set but not firm. Serve slightly warm or at room temperature. If desired, garnish with whipped cream and lemon slices.

Two-Bowl Salad For Easy Dressing

This meal in a salad bowl is a special favorite when it has the tang of a Danish Blue Cheese dressing, prepared and tossed with great two-bowl flair right at the table.

Here's a new trick to tossing a chef's salad, and one you'll want to use often for family meals—with all the flourish of a maitre d'hotel. Part of the appeal of the Chef's Salad is watching its final preparation at the table. First comes the salad bowl, the crisp greens and ripe tomatoes, set off by hearty meat and cheese strips, then the smooth dressing is poured over, a special favorite when it has the tang of Danish Blue Cheese, and the whole is tossed crisply at the table.

First, line the bowl generously with an assortment of crisp salad greens, and arrange meat strips, cheese, olives, cucumbers, tomatoes, onion rings, on the greens. At the table, in a second bowl, mash a wedge of Danish Blue Cheese with a salad fork and beat in the other ingredients, blending until smooth. Then comes the big moment: pour half the dressing over half the salad; remove the rest of the salad to the bowl with the dressing. Toss one salad, then the other—there's plenty of room to do this in grand style!

Danish Blue Cream Mayonnaise

- 2 ounces Danish Blue Cheese
- 1/2 cup sour cream
- 1/4 cup mayonnaise
- 1 tablespoon wine vinegar

Mash Danish Blue Cheese in salad bowl, add mayonnaise, sour cream. Beat well with fork. Beat in vinegar. Top salad with dressing, or pass separately. Makes about 1 cup, about 8 servings.

THE EVER CHANGING FACE OF SPORTS

'Amazing' is the word for this item: Within four days, du-cats for the New York Giants meeting with their crosstown rivals, the New York Jets in a per-season game August 23, in the Yale Bowl in New Haven, Conn., were sold out to the tune of 71,000....Lamar Hunt of the Kansas City Chiefs was elected president of the American Conference and George Halas of the Chicago Bears to a similar post with National Football League both for two-year terms.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle said their roles were to act as spokesmen for their conference, maintain liaison and communications within their conference, represent their conferences at major public function and work overall to foster and continue the rivalry between the AFL and NFL.

OTHERS ACTIONS at the League meeting.....

1971 Super Bowl game was awarded to the Orange Bowl Stadium, Miami, Fla., for Sunday, Jan. 17, two weeks after the playing of the American Football Conference and the National Football Conference championship games.

Both the AFC and NFC will use the Wilson ball beginning in 1970. It will have a new design but the shape will be hat of the old NFL ball.

Both the AFC and NFC will use the former NFL conversion rule one point for a successful try either running, passing or kicking.

The scoreboard clock will be the official timing device in both the AFC and NFC. The official timer will be appointed and trained by the league office.

Names of players will be mandatory on the backs of jerseys in both the AFC and NFC.

Inter-conference training was reopened as of March 19 and the deadline extended to May 1. It had originally run from Jan. 19 to March 2. Beginning in 1971, the inter-conference trading period will run from the day following the final post-season game until April 15.

No changes were made in the playing rules. A proposal for a change in the sudden-death rule (giving the trailing team an opportunity to score if it had not had the ball for at least one play from scrimmage) was withdrawn.

The player limit for 1970 was set again at 40, with a 7-man future list and 10 moves (roster changes that do not require the asking of waivers) permitted for each team. This is the same as was in effect in 1969 in both the AFL and NFL.

A waiver procedure was adopted whereby the other 12 teams in one conference will have first priority at claiming a player before he may be claimed by teams in the other conference.

DID YOU KNOW Sandy Stephens, who quarterbacked the University of Minnesota to the Big 10 championship was labeled a 'can't miss performer' when he signed a pro-essional football contract? Well, he did miss! Since Negro quarterbacks are taboo in the pro ranks, Stephens ran into an indictment of being too big and too slow to be a signal caller. He never got a chance to perform before an American audience.

Eldridge Dickey who performed at Houston, Texas, Booker T. Washington High School and under John A. Merritt at Tennessee A&I University was similarly exploited by Oakland Raiders of the AFL.

The Oakland Raiders tried to convert him into a punt return specialist.

Marlin Briscoe was a star quarterback at Omaha University. However, the pros would not draft him as a quarterback. He signed with the Denver Broncos as a defensive back. When injuries sidelined the Broncos' regular quarterback, the team was forced to give him a crack at the QB slot. Marlin, only a rookie, performed well but the Broncos let him go when he refused to return to his defensive back post.

Other quarterback tragedies -- James Harris of Grambling College, Larry Foster of Texas southern and looming in to future Karl Douglas of Texas A&I and Jimmy Jones of Southern Cal. James Harris of Grambling..... will he and Dickey ever get another shot at quarterbacking a pro team? What will happen in the seventies? Will we Black fans and Black football players sit back and let the man make a mockery of Blacks who want to quarterback? Or will we do something about it?

A THOUGHT FOR THE DAY-Booker T. Washington said, "No race shall prosper until it learns that there is as much dignity in tilling a field as in writing a poem."

Snaring Murphy Pleases Rockets

SAN DIEGO (UPI) -- Never has a 5-foot-10 player been given an estimated $250,000, two-year contract to see if he could play professional basketball, but the San Diego Rockets are "tickled to death" to land Calvin Murphy.

The three-year Niagara University All-American selected the Rockets over the American League Pittsburgh Pirates, several European teams, the Harlem Magicians and a prospective pro league for 6-foot-2 and under players which said, "don't sign until you've heard our offer."

Alex Hannum, coach of the last-place Rockets feels Murphy gives the club the outside shooter, ball handler and leader the Rockets have lacked and that first choice Rudy Tomjanovich will provide rebounding and scoring strength to aid Elvin Hayes up front.

All City Teams Cited By Extra Point Club

BY JAMES D. HEATH (WORLD SPORTS STAFF)

Members of the All-City College Football and Basketball Teams were placed in the spotlight by the Extra Point Club last week at the Annual Awards Dinner sponsored by the club.

The best of the city, conference and south were present at the knife and fork affair held at the Canopy Castle on Hunter Street.

Using their style of informal meetings, the Extra Pointers displayed another event where the purpose of the program was the main point.

Hubert M. Jackson, president of the club, was the emcee and from time to time during the program, he would toss in a few remarks about the club's history and in general what the club attempted to do during the days when the black athletes were not getting proper recognition.

Dr. Theodore Benson, a member of the Extra Point Club, was the main speaker and talked generally about the future of the athletic starts honored. He gave a few of his experiences after his playing days were over with in college.

Benson, of course is no stranger to the sports scene in Atlanta. He was a star football and basketball player at Morris Brown College in the early '50s and starred on the three teams that won the SIAC Basketball Championships three years in a row.

Benson told the group not to be concerned about the records, points, touchdowns, etc., etc., that you have broken or scored. Now is the time to look toward the future, Benson related.

"And tonight, right here in this very room, the best any city could offer is present and for one moment, don't think the Extra Point Club is not proud of you," Benson related.

"But don't stop here or at any athletics. If you go into professional sports and I'm quite sure some day you will, remember one day your playing days will be over with and then what. Plan now for that day," he concluded.

After getting a good ovation on Benson's remarks, the awards were presented. Extra Pointers Frank Scott introduced members of the All-City Football Team, composed of the best players from Clark, Morehouse and Morris Brown.

Alvin Neeson followed with the basketball team, dominated by the Clark Panthers, who captured the city championship trophy, awarded by the Extra Pointers.

A special award was presented to Jerry McNeal of Decatur High, who was the State AAA Most Valuable Player, presented Paul E.K. Brown, marketing representative of the Atlanta Coca Cola Bottling Company, who donated the trophies.

CINCINNATI (UPI) -- Former Cincinnati Royals star Maurice Stokes left his alma mater part of his estate which St. Francis (Pa.) College can use in any way, in the name of Jack Twyman.

The will of the former St. Francis basketball star, filed in Probate Court here, stipulated the fund be set up in the name of his former teammate, guardian and friend Twyman and "ascribe his name to whatever use is made of it." The will was dated March 5, 1970.

Stokes, 36, who played three years for the Royals in before he was stricken with encephalitis in 1958, died last week after suffering a heart attack March 30.

He was buried on the Loreto, Pa., campus where he was an outstanding basketball star in the middle '50s.

TWO BRAVES WILL MAKE HISTORY IN 1970

(Hank Aaron and Hoyt Wilhelm should both make history this season for the Atlanta Braves. Aaron needs just 44 hits to reach his lifelong total of 3000 and become the first player ever to have both 3000 hits and over 500 homers. Wilhelm needs just 11 appearances to become the first player in history to pitch in 1000 big league games.)

Alcindor Wins Unanimous Acclaim As Rookie Of Year

NEW YORK -- "Early in the season we were standing around watching Lew," said Milwaukee Bucks forward Greg Smith. "What can you do about a ballplayer like that except watch him in amazement?"

Fans throughout the National Basketball Association did what they could -- turning out in numbers to watch Lew Alcindor, Milwaukee's 7-1 center, as he helped lift a last-place club to second place and, in so doing, finished second to Jerry West of Los Angeles in scoring average at 28.8 points per game.

Writers and broadcasters throughout the NBA also did something -- they voted Lew the Rookie of the Year Award for the 1969-70 season. And with a special flourish in the award which was announced Tuesday, they voted it to him unanimously. He will receive a check for $500 for the award.

Whitney Young Yankee Pitcher

NEW YORK -- (UPI) -- Whitney M. Young Jr., a prominent civil rights leader accepted an invitation from the New York Yankees and threw out the first ball at their 1970 home opener April 7 against the Boston Red Sox.

ELIZABETH CITY, N.C. -- Israel Oliver -- an All-CIAA, All-NAIA and Conference Yearbook All-American from Elizabeth City State University -- signed a contract calling for bonus and salary of $55,000 with the Portland Trail Blazers of the NBA here last week.

Flood gets day in court on May 18

NEW YORK (UPI) -- Curt Flood will finally get his day in court.

Judge Irving Ben Cooper has set May 18 as the day when Flood's fight to overturn a baseball's reserve clause will officially open in federal court.

Pro-Files WHAT'S HOCKEY'S TOUGHEST GOAL?

6 HOURS 25 MINUTES... IT TOOK TO SCORE THE ONLY GOAL... DETROIT SCORED ON THE MONTREAL MARCOONS AT 16:30 OF THE SIXTH OVERTIME AT 2:25 A.M. MAR. 25, 1956

Flood previously had asked Judge Cooper for an immediate injunction preventing the St. Louis Cardinals from trading him to the Philadelphia Phillies, but on March 4, the judge denied Flood's request on grounds that it "would work the type of unfair surprise and carry the same sort of sudden effect" that the U.S. Supreme Court took pains to avoid in its earlier decisions.

Flood and his lawyer, former Supreme Court Justice Arthur Goldberg, had the decision of whether to appeal the injunction or press for a full trial and decided to ask for a trial since an injunction would delay the case even further.

Flood, who hit .300 for the Cardinals last season, plans to sit out this season and possibly next season, too, while the suit is held. It is possible a decision will be reached in District Court before the season is over, but the loser will then appeal to the U.S. District Court of Appeals and then to the Supreme Court -- a process which could take two years.

HERRERA OPTIONED MONTREAL UPI -- The Montreal Expos announced Thursday that they had optioned outfielder Jose Herrera to Buffalo of the International League on a 24-hour recall basis. Herrera was replaced on the roster by newly-acquired catcher Jack Hatt, purchased from the San Francisco Giants Monday night.

NAMED CAPTAIN NEW YORK UPI -- Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., the top-ranking women's tennis player in the United States 1954 and 1955, has been named captain of the U.S. Wightman Cup Team. Miss Hart played on 10 consecutive winning Wightman Cup Teams from 1946-1955 and won two U.S. Nationals titles.

RECEIVES MEDAL NEW YORK -- UPI Lou Carnesecca, the departing coach of St. John's will receive the University's President's Medal, the highest award that the school bestows on a lay member of its faculty or staff at a special convocation next Tuesday.

Carnesecca was head coach at St. John's for five years and had a 104-35 won-lost record.

DEAL FALLS THROUGH NEW YORK UPI -- A proposed deal to sell the New York Jets of the National Football League's American Conference to a syndicate that included for new York Giants' head coach Alie Sherman has fallen through. Jets' President Philip H. Iselin said that negotiations were terminated because of the "inability of the parties to arrive at mutually acceptable terms."

THE HAWKS MADE THE PLAYOFFS IN 1956 DESPITE A 33-39 RECORD and eliminated Minneapolis Lakers' team that included Clyde Lovellette, Vern Mikkelsen and Slater Martin. Then Fort Wayne ousted the Hawks in five games.

Martin, like Holzman a veteran guard with leadership qualities, replaced Red midway during the 1956-57 season. Holzman joined the Knicks on April 29, 1957 as chief scout.

Holzman became happy with this role, and the Knicks were happy to have him too. He scouted Willis Reed at Grambling and Walt Frazier at Southern Illinois, then recommended drafting them to the Knicks' braintrust. Less obscure as collegians were Carl zle Russell of Michigan and Bill Bradley of Princeton. Holzman wanted them in Knick uniforms, and saw his hopes come true.

Meanwhile, New York had gotten off to a slower start (152) than anticipated in the fall of 1967. The front office felt a change was necessary. Holzman, motivated more by the best interests of the Knicks than his own personal ambitions, took the job.

The Knicks won 28 of their last 45 games under Red and finished third. They came in third last year, too, then routed Baltimore, the Eastern division champs, in four straight playoff games. Boxton stopped the Knicks in six games in the Eastern Division playoff finals, then went on to beat Los Angeles for the championship.

The 1969-70 NBA season from the start was earmarked as a crucial year for Holzman and the Knicks.

Here's how Knicks' forward Dave DeBusschere, the only New York Player with NBA coaching experience, explains how Holzman met and conquered a big challenge:

"We were picked as the team to beat, the team of the future, the greatest lineup ever, you name it." DeBusschere, the only New York Player with NBA coaching experience, explains how Holzman met and conquered a big challenge:
