Stokes Praised As One Of Intellect, Compassion

BY PORTIA SCOTT

Remembering a fellow churchman and friend, Rev. James M. Lawson, pastor of the Centenary Methodist Church in Memphis, Tennessee, Monday described Thaddeus T. Stokes as one of great spirits and intellect, and praised him for "his love of children, compassion for the poor and sincere interest in his fellow human beings."

Recalling his first time seeing and meeting Stokes, who was copiously taking notes from his sermon, Lawson later got to know the deceased as a friend and journalist, who used his pen to reveal truth and justice.

Spearheading a delegation that came from Memphis for the funeral, services held at 3 p.m. at Central Methodist Church on Mitchell St., Rev. Lawson said further that "nothing separates us from the love of God, not even death. He observed that Stokes 'shared our faith in God, who's love cannot be removed from us.'"

"Life is not measured in terms of length," the Memphis theologian continued, "but quality." He cited Stokes as one who lived such a quality life, one that will be greatly missed, but yet one that leaves a rich heritage.

A graduate of Kent University in Journalism, Stokes lived in Memphis and worked for the Memphis World, an affilia-

MY WEEKLY SERMON
 by
REV. BLAIR T. HUNT,
 PASTOR,
 MISSISSIPPI MVD. CHRISTIAN CHURCH
 MEMPHIS, TENN.

"FATHERHOOD"
 TEXT: "And Ye Fathers, provoke not your children to wrath but nurture them in the chastening and admonition of the Lord." Eph. 6:4.

For a number of years our churches have been observing Mother's Day... A beautiful custom... A blessing to the mothers and their children. But isn't it time to think of "Daddy" and have a Father's Day Too? And so we do Sunday.

Here is a poem to the day, Author unknown:

"He's the best thing, Daddy is,
 When he ain't got the rheumatiz,
 Gives me pennies and good advice,
 'Bout keeping clean and being nice,
 All the time my Dad says,
 Give the kid the best there is
 And when Ma sends me off to bed,
 He always takes the light a head,
 And holds my hand and talks maybe,
 About the things that used to be,
 When he and Uncle was little boys,
 And all about their games and toys.
 What am I gonner be, Gee Whiz,
 I'm gonner be like Daddy is.
 He's like Ma says angels is,
 When he ain't got the rheumatiz."
 He was a great daddy, a real father. But too many fathers are too busy with other things they have no time for their children. Don't be too busy and leave the children to your wife. Father has a responsibility too. Every father should realize the great obligations resting upon him in the training of the immortal soul that has been given unto his keeping. The soul of his child is of more value than all else in this world. Man has built the Pyramids, the Parthenon, man has tunneled the Alps, he has dug the Panama Canal, he has built great cities. Man has played his part in making the present.

to blossom as the rose, he has caused to be produced the finest cattle and swine, but what about his son?

An acquaintance told of attending a fair, a large group of people were gathered about a blue ribboned hog. The hog was everything one could wish a hog to be. His hair was nicely combed. His hoofs were well manicured. "Surely he who raised that hog knew his hog raising business," said one onlooker. Attending the hog was a dirty, hatched face chest sunken, barefoot lad, smoking a picked up cigarette butt. The father of this ragged boy and the owner of the blue ribboned hog was the same man. In the hog business the father was a whale of a success. In the boy business he was a whale of a failure.

We wonder about our boys, we worry about our boys. Lay the blame at daddy's feet nine cases out of ten, Daddy is to blame. The fatherhood among men is but a reflection of the fatherhood of God. God our Heavenly Father gives good gifts to His sons and daughters. He so loved that He spilled His life blood and gave His all for us.

Father give to your children your time, your influence, your money your all, if it need be God will Bless you and that right early.

By JEWEL GENTRY HULBERT

I am writing to you this week from Atlanta where I am attending the last rites of a co-worker...one who worked in the newspaper world in Memphis for more than 10 years. The late Mr. Thaddeus Stokes passed away on Thursday evening at 8:43 at the Holy Family Hospital in Atlanta where he was City Editor of the Atlanta Daily World, a daily and the first Negro Daily operating for more than 35 years. Mr. Stokes was well known and liked here. He made himself felt as a writer...a political figure...and as a church worker. He worked closely with the prominent Rev. James Lawson at Centenary where he was a member. It was Thaddeus Stokes who re-organized the Frontiers club here. He was also very active with the local Branch of NAACP and the WMCA and many other civic groups.

He was graduated from Kent State University in Ohio. After graduation he started work for the Cleveland-Call and Post in Cleveland where he met Mrs. Dorothy Racks, a social worker. He later became editor of the Memphis World, but returned to the Atlanta Daily World five years later.

He will be greatly missed in Memphis and in Atlanta by his many friends. He was very close to Ann and Bill Weathers in Memphis and to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Withers. However, he has a wealth of friends here...many who came to Atlanta for services on Monday. Burial was in Atlantic City, Mrs. Stokes' home. Mr. Stokes worked in several agencies in Memphis...the latter being the New Psychiatric Hospital on Poplar...and was the first and only Negro to be placed there. The Ernest Withers went to Atlanta Sunday morning. Other Mamphians in Atlanta for the funeral were Rev. James Lawson who spoke, Mr. Sam Brown, a pallbearer from the Memphis World; Dr. John Jordan, Mr. Larry Turner, Mr. Noah Bond and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Driver.

MRS. GREEN DIES

We in Memphis were also saddened over the passing away of Mrs. HASILEE GREEN a pioneer...and daughter of a pioneer the late Atty. Sandy Southern Carter who had offices on Main Street years ago. Mrs. Green made herself felt in this community and she and other members of her family were pioneers in the Emmanuel Episcopal Church. She and her late husband were the parents of 10 children all of whom she could be justly proud. Mrs. Green is survived by 4 of them Charles of New York, Robert also in New York, and Paul who brought his young sons with him from California for the last rites...and a daughter, Mrs. Joe Westbrook (Dorothy) who is the last of 5 girls. Mrs. Green was Club Woman she was a church worker...and she was a wonderful mother. She loved her old friends and spent much of her useful time with the friends of her children and grandchildren. Aside from the sons, Miss Jolene Westbrook arrived home from Little Rock where she recently was graduated from College. Incidentally she and her father received degrees at the same time. He now Dr. Westbrook, received the Doctors of Education from the University of Tennessee.

RETIREMENT PARTIES

There were many beautiful parties complimenting several teachers who retired from the Memphis School System this year. Many we heard about...and other we dropped in on or were invited to affair complimenting them.

MRS. ADDIE JONES RETIRES FROM MANASSAS HIGH

On Thursday before school closed, Mr. L. B. Hobson, principal of Manassas High School and counselors at the school entertained in the school's library with a program and party complimenting Mrs. Addie D. Jones on her retirement from Manassas, Mrs. Jones, at the time of her retirement was Head Counselor. She has served in the school in many capacities. She was instructor of History (serving as head of the department) for many years...and it was under her administration that came into the History Department learning much from Mrs. Jones in the early 40's. Several spoke, but Mr. Hobson's speech was the most impressive. He declared that day Addie D. Jones Day...He also stated that a scholarship will be given away every year (as the Addie D. Jones scholarship) to a worthy Manassas student. He spoke of Mrs. Jones as a teacher...a co-worker...as one with whom he worked in the history department...and as one who has gotten over a half million dollars worth of scholarships for Manassas students every year. Linnie Reed, who will enter Yale University under Mrs. Jones guidance this year, spoke for the students...Mrs. Kathryn Perry Thomas, Mrs. Bebe Bowers Fingal and Mrs. Georgia Harvey also spoke telling of her outstanding work in the school that started years ago.

Mrs. Fingal named the many organizations that Mrs. Jones started at Manassas Student Council, The Future Teachers of America...The Varsity Scholarship Team, and Amasses more than a half-million dollars in scholarships each year. Mrs. Jones was selected by the National Merit Corporation to work as a Reader in helping select National Achievement Finalists for two consecutive years...a real honor that she brought to Memphis...Mrs. Jones helped her husband, Dr. C. S. Jones build a fine Drug Store in the North Memphis Community... she helped rear a talented sister, Mrs. Vivial White who now lives in Cleveland...and an outstanding nephew Dr. Augustus White who now made history at Yale University where he is a professor of Orthopedic Surgery. She and her sister (toured Europe last summer and spent most of their time with Dr. White who was there doing research for Yale and writing a book that has now been adopted by the university...Mr. Hobson ended saying that he hated to see a day without Addie Jones...He hated to think of a Manassas without Addie Jones. His life and that of the many students, he continued, have been enriched by thorough contact with such a noble character.

MRS. A. JOHNSON TURNER a member of a pioneer family had many parties given for her. The first was one given by relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Lewis honoring her upon her retirement...The gracious couple invited more than 100 friends and workers to their lovely Quinn Street residence. Many carried gifts...and all good will for the much loved Mrs. Turner...Also entertaining for Mrs. Turner were members of the La Rose Faculty who entertained at Holiday Inn with a Brilliant Dinner Party...and Mrs. Josie Flowers who entertained on Tuesday, June 2 at the Parlinesian Restaurant...and the luncheon was a gay one with approximately 15 friends attending... After lunch guests were invited to Mrs. Flowers beautiful Foster Street residence for champagne...Here both principals, Mr. Johns Brinkley and Mr. Harold Osborne attended. It was Miss Gertrude Walker who made the presentation to the honoree...and it was a solid gold bracelet engraved with her initials (from Brodnax).

Other city teachers whom we have heard had lovely parties complimenting them were Miss Maydella Reeves, the former Miss Forrestine Lewis, Mr. A. B. Blanc, principal of Hyde Park...Mrs. Hazelle O. Lewis, principal at Alonzo Locke who was entertained by her faculty (lavishly so) at the residence of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. & Mrs. Sam Brown on South Park way. We would love to have had more information on the retired teachers and who entertained.

IN AND OUT OF TOWN

My very good friend Mrs. Valerie Kennedy Arnett and her mother and two sisters Mrs. Mary Kennedy and Mrs. Norma K. Brown of Detroit and a younger sister, Mrs. Helen K. Mitchell of Detroit, drove in last week for a 10 day visit with their daughter and sister Mrs. Louise Shivers Morrow and Mr. Bill Morrow in West Memphis. Valerie, who resides in Buffalo and I have spent much time together this past week and she was graciously received by many Memphians. They go from here this week to Little Rock where Norma was married to the late Dr. Hugh Brown, T. B. Specialist at Alexandria (just outside of Little Rock) Dr. Brown made a record and was the only Negro at that time to head a State institution of this nature as Medical Director.

MR. HOMER COKE VISITS RELATIVES HERE
In town for the past two weeks has been Mr. Homer Coke, veteran newspaper and insurance executive in Birmingham. We stopped off in Birmingham several weeks ago. Homer who is a long time friend to both Jimmy and me, met us at the city limits...and took us to his home in the hills. Here he is with father and brother.

Word comes that the CAFREY BARTHOLOMEW are away this week attending the wedding of their daughter, the former Ann C. Bartholomew who is now working toward a doctorate. Chief Inspector W. O. Crumby as saying he was looking through the area for used lumber when he discovered the body. Police revealed Monday that they were holding two suspects in the weird slaying. Investigating officers said the nude woman was smeared with mud and had been sexually molested. They said there was evidence, too, that the body had been dragged at least half a block from the scene of the slaying. They also said it appeared she had been beaten to death with some sort of blunt instrument.

Chief of Detectives Joe Gagliano said police found witnesses who described seeing a muddy orgy in which the assailants repeatedly threw the victim in the mud and struck her.

The church building where the victim was found was abandoned and partly wrecked.

Black Profiles Of Courage

By Lou LuTour

Ralph J. Bunche, who has been associated with the U.N. since 1947, knows that faith, courage, determination and preparedness are necessary in order to accomplish things worthwhile.

Mr. Bunche became a member of the faculty of Howard University, Washington, D.C. in 1928. In 1944, he was invited to join the State Department, where he successively held the position of Area Specialist (Expert on Africa and Dependent Areas) in the Division of Territorial Studies; Acting Associate Chief, Division of Dependent Area Affairs. Office of Special Political Affairs, Associate Chief and Acting Chief of the Division of Dependent Area Affairs. In 1946 the United Nations requested his services on loan from the State Department and he subsequently resigned from the State, Dept. (1947) to accept a permanent post in the United Nations Secretariat.

After the death in September 1948 of Count Folke Bernadotte the United Nations Mediator in Palestine, Mr. Bunche was appointed by the Security Council as Acting U.N. Mediator in Palestine, and in this capacity directed the negotiation at Palestine and elsewhere, which began in January 1949 and ended in July of that year, resulting in the four Armistice Agreements between Israel and the Arab States. He was assigned by the Secretary-General in March 1964 to a supervisory role with regard to the U.N. Operation in Cyprus (UNFICYP) involving a U.N. peace force of more than 6,000 Officers and men.

He has been the recipient of numerous honorary degrees and awards. Among the latter are Phi Beta Kappa; The Nobel Prize in 1950; The Spingarn Medal in 1949; The four Freedom Award in 1951; The Peace Award of the Third Order of St. Francis in 1954; and The Golden Key Award in 1962. In 1963 he was awarded the Presidential Medal of Freedom.

Articles concerning Mr. Bunche may be found in the following magazines: Colliers, June 1949; Saturday Evening Post August 1949; American, February 1950; Reporter, Dec., 1949; Reader's Digest, April 1950; and February 1955; The Progressive, January 1955; Catholic Digest, July 1958.

An Undersecretary General of the U.N. Mr. Bunche is not afraid to speak out on the issues of today. He stated that racism was the No. 1 problem in the nation today, in terms of its potentiality for disruption, for trouble in the country. He said that "any Administration today, if it is going to deal realistically with this problem, must wage war on racism on the same scale as the Vietnam war—a cost of about $30 Billion a year.

His family consists of his wife, Ruth and a son, Ralph Jr., who has been in the service since 1968.

Suit Filed in Kent Aftermath

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Arthur Krause of Pittsburgh, whose daughter Allison was one of four students killed at Kent State University by Ohio National Guard bullets, filed two wrongful death suits totaling $3 million last week against the state of Ohio, Gov. James A. Rhodes and two Guard officers.

The suit said the defendant's "intentionally and maliciously disregarded the lives and safety of students, spectators and passersby, including Allison Krause."

Prof. Hamilton To Talk At NAACP Confab, June 29

NEW YORK — Charles V. Hamilton, professor of political science at Columbia University, will deliver a major address at the 61st Annual Convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in Cincinnati, June 29-July 4. Job Openings Are Announced

New employment opportunities for skilled workers were announced by State Employment Security Commissioner Mrs. Leo R. Burson.

One hundred journeyman machinists are needed for immediate employment in Oak Ridge, where they will be offered a starting rate of $3.90 an hour, Mrs. Burson said.

At the same time, key-punch operators are being sought for an Oak Ridge employer who will pay $461 per month for qualified operators, she reported.

Cleveland office has orders for automobile body repairmen, engineering equipment mechanics, carpenters, cement masons and scraper operators.

ENGINEERS ARE NEEDED Kingsport, for work in chemical, civil, electrical, industrial and mechanical engineering industry experience.

The Church

Polls continue to show that the church plays a declining role in American life, and life elsewhere in the world. The biggest Christian church, the Roman Catholic, is losing priests and nuns through resignations in wholesale numbers because of the continued efforts of the Pope to rule as of old, with unchanging views and orders.

The Protestant churches in the United States are experiencing crises in attendance, in Sunday School operations and, as the non-profit, evangelist magazine Eternity said recently, they are "less important in community life" today than ever before in U.S. history.

Obviously, traditional church concepts and operations are at the crossroads. Both members of the clergy and laymen must face the issue and decide, relatively soon, what can be done to halt the trend, if it is to be halted. The churches, of course, have contributed greatly to our ways of life, and brought about much good. Those in them, and those who support them, today face a time for reflection, effort and action.

What's keeping you from looking good? Damaged hair?

Over-processing isn't the only cause of damaged hair. All hair can be hurt by exposure to sun and extreme weather. Or by improper use of harsh chemicals or greasy compounds... or even just brushing your hair without a natural bristle brush.

The beauty experts know how important natural "lubricants" are to your hair—they give it body, lustre and protection. Artificial bristles actually brush away the lubricants... the sbq burns them away... chemicals dry them away. And before you know it, you have damaged hair—split ends, brittle, breaking, dry or dull, limp hair.

Now you can bring your hair back to beautiful. Trained beauticians know Clairol condition!—The Beauty Prescription for Troubled Hair. It softens split ends. It makes dry, dull and limp hair silky, shining and stronger. Takes just two minutes (for Instant Lotion) or a few more minutes (for the Beauty Pack).

If you're concerned about the shape your hair's in, go to the expert, your professional hairdresser, to check it. You'll end up with a beautiful head of hair. And keep on looking good!

New book details voodoo 'beauty'

NEW YORK — Contrary to popular belief, voodoo is an exceedingly complex religion of striking beauty and theological purpose, according to a new book "Secrets of Voodoo."

Today a single girl needs more than just a closet full of clothes to call her own.

Like a closet full of eligible bachelors for starters.

But that's the rub. If you're one of those women who doesn't want to get married, at least not right away, you know what we mean.

You want to live a little first. You want to kick up your heels, see a little of the world before you settle down.

But, because you're you, you still want security.

That's where U.S. Savings Bonds come in. Bonds are a secure way to save. And you don't have to be making a fortune to save them. You can get started with just a few dollars a payday when you join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

And now Bonds pay 5% interest when held to maturity of 1 year, 10 months (4% the first year; thereafter 5.20% to maturity). That's the highest rate ever.

Who knows, the money you save might just come in handy when you fall in love and marry that guy who hasn't made his first million yet.

Take stock in America. With higher paying U.S. Savings Bonds.

Reggie Smith puts his tools to work

By DICK DEW
BOSTON (UPI) — Boston outfielder Reggie Smith has, as they say in baseball, "all the tools" to become one of the game's superstars. And this season, he's using those "tools" better than ever.

Smith, 25, is in his fourth full season with the Red Sox and despite a troublesome knee injury, is keeping pace with an impressive personal improvement program.

Reggie saw brief service with Boston in 1966 after a big year in Toronto, but didn't exactly set the American League on fire with a .164 batting average.

But playing fulltime over the past three years, Reggie has steadily boosted his batting marks to .246 in the 1967 pennant year, .265 in 1968, and .309 last season.

His current .319 batting mark is just about on the improvement pace he's been setting.

The switch-hitting Smith, whose righthanded average is an imposing .392 at 1st base, hasn't limited his improvement to his batting average, either.

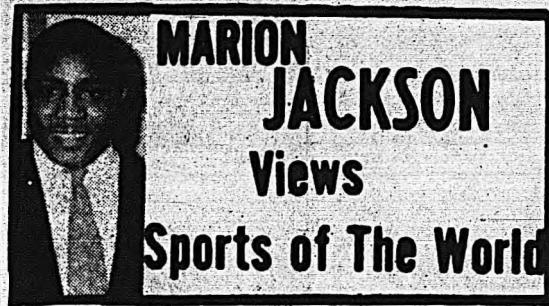

His home run production was 15, 15, and 25 over full seasons while his runs batted in have climbed from a rookie year total of 61 through 69 to 93 last season. His homers are off a bit this year at five but figure to start climbing when he recovers from a wrenched knee.

In addition, Smith no longer is troubled by a sore throwing arm and has come to be regarded as one of the best defensive centerfielders in the American League with one of the strongest, most accurate aims.

MARION JACKSON Views Sports of The World

NATIONAL HIGH SCHOOL FEDERATION RULE CHANGE—National High School Federation, the body that governs play for all member institutions, recognizing the growing interest in prep competition, has made major rule changes for the 1970 campaign....Atlanta Hawks will hold fall training camp at Bolles School, Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 14-23....The Houston Texas newspaper "The Voice of Hope" has charged the N. L. club there with "racism."

TARGET-FINDER: Atlanta will get a chance to see the actual communication of the new National High School Federation rules next fall, to wit: Counting the down has been eliminated as part of the penalty for an ineligible receiver downfield, but the 15-yard walkoff will remain. Intentional throwing or kicking of the ball after a score will result in a 15-yard penalty ensuing kick-off. The ball shall remain live when the place-kick holder received the snap with one knee down and rises to run or pass. After a valid fair catch signal, no member of the receiving team may in any way advance the ball. If each team fouls during a down in which there is a change of team possession, the team last gaining possession may retain the ball provided a foul was not prior to the change of possession, and provided it declines the penalty for its opponent's foul. A player who inadvertently contacts a goal post placed on the end line and does not otherwise go out of bounds may continue to participate in the play without penalty.

The use of four officials was strongly recommended by the Alliance: referee, umpire, linesman and field judge. A greater or lesser number, however, is still permitted. It was also recommended that the line-to-gain equipment (chain gang) be operated on the side of the field opposite the press box, if there is one.

FOR THE RECORD — One of the major contributors to these changes has been honest and outspoken Clark College alumnus Leroy T. Hambrick, whose torrent of letters to the National High School Federation must not have been thrown in "File 13". Hambrick sent me countless copies of his views, which had been set to views, which had been sent to the group which controls the prep game.

Oilers sign JC Smith HB

HOUSTON — Speedy halfback Bill Dusenbery of J. C. Smith and center Bob Morris of Duke have signed their contracts for the 1970 season with the Houston Oilers.

Dusenbery was Houston's second round draft choice and the 6-2, 197 pounder could be the Oilers' answer for an outside running threat. A three-time All-CIAA selection, Dusenbery was named the outstanding player in the conference in '69 while leading J. C. Smith to the championship.

During his career, Dusenbery scored 28 touchdowns and rushed for 21,136 yards on 565 carries for a fine 3.7 average. He is also a good pass receiver and caught 46 passes for 842 yards and five TD's during his career. He holds the school record with 228 yards rushing in one game and once scored four touchdowns in one contest.

Dusenbery was a member of Smith's championship 440 and mile relay teams and has been clocked in 4.6 in the 40.

Morris, picked in the 11th round, was a three-year starter at Duke and a very steady performer. The 6-4, 225-pounder is a strong pass blocker and good power blocker on ground plays.

Fonda, Lanchester Bill Cosby guests

Henry Fonda and Elsa Lanchester guest-star in "The Elevator Doesn't Stop Here Anymore," a color-cast of NBC Television Network's "The Bill Cosby Show" Sunday, June 21 (8:30-9 p.m. NYT; repeat of Jan. 11, 1970).

Physical education instructor Chet Kincaid (Cosby), English teacher Joshua Richards (Fonda) and Holmes High School cleaning woman Mrs. Wochuck (Miss Lanchester) are stranded overnight in a broken school elevator.

The non-English speaking Mrs. Wochuck has little to add to the evening's entertainment other than a Thermos of beverage. The teetotaling Kincaid knows dozens of word games, and the gentle Mr. Richards has something to learn from his fellow elevator passengers.

Finding a new bride is problem for 'Brides'

A black lumberman who is the Bolts' hope in a logging competition plans to quit unless they come up with a bride for him on the ABC Television Network's "Here Come the Brides" Friday.

In "Obie Brown and the Black Princess," Jeremy goes to San Francisco to find a bride for Obie. His only problems are where does he find a black bride and how can he convince her to go to Seattle?

Robert F. Young stars as Jeron and Bobby Sherman co-stars as Jeremy. Joan Blondell as Lotie, Bridget Hanley as Candy, David Soul as Joshua, Mark Leonard as Stempel and Henry Beckman as Clarence. Susan Tokely is seen as Biddie and Hoke Howell as Ben. George (cq) Stanford Brown plays Obie.

Hampton Institute Netters Set For Major Summer Tour

HAMPTON INSTITUTE, — Hampton, Virginia: Bill Morton and David Williams, two Hampton Institute Tennis players will be the first athletes in the Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association to see net action in the tennis Athletic Association.

Announcement of the tour by the two HI athletes was made by Tennis coach Dr. Robert Screen who also noted the tour is under the sponsorship of Mrs. Gladys Feldman, editor and publisher of "World Tennis" and several other persons besides himself.

Morton and Williams, both CIAA champions will leave June 17 for a three day stay in New York City with Mrs. Feldman where they will practice with some of the top names in the East at the Town Tennis Club in Manhattan.

Morton, a Vietnam veteran, is an HI sophomore from Cleveland, Ohio and Williams is a Hampton freshman from Newport News, Va.

From the Town Tennis Club their first match on the tour, they will go to the Eastern Clay Courts in Port Washington, N. Y. (June 20-23); Central New York Invitational Championship (July 3-5); Hudson Valley Championships (July 24-Aug. 2); Park Lane Invitational Championships (Aug. 10-16) in South Hampton, N. Y.; Edison Invitational (Aug. 15-22) in Rexford, N. Y.; and Janesville Valley Invitational (Aug. 22-23) in Pittsford, N. Y.

Commenting on Mrs. Feldman's offer to help Morton and Williams, Dr. Screen noted she offered to help Arthur Carrington last year who was an HI CIAA champion three years straight.

"I wanted to get them, Morton and Williams, some help and so I wrote Mrs. Feldman not thinking she'd help, but thinking she would let me know who 'would,' Screen said.

"This is really a great chance for these two HI tennis stars to gain national ranking," the Hampton coach said. "Aware of the fact that a disproportionate number of Blacks compete in big-time tennis as compared to their sports, Mrs. Feldman offered her assistance to Morton and Williams in an "effort to promote the sport among the minority groups."

Hampton Institute stands unique among Black colleges in its enthusiasm for tennis. Reigning as conference champs for 14 of the last 17 years (including this past year), most of the players receive some form of financial aid.

Dr. G. Robert Cotton, an HI alumnus and the interim president of the College, was so impressed with tennis at Hampton that he announced he and his wife will provide a player with a full scholarship each year.

Hampton Institute was represented in two major tournaments this week end June 5-6 and June 12-13.

Morton, Williams and the doubles team of Mike Ruffin and Ken Porter will be in East Stroudsburg, Pa. for the NCAA College Division Eastern Regionals.

The team travels to Rochester, N. Y. the following weekend for the Eastern Collegiate with Morton, Ed Eleazer, Ruffin and Porter competing in the varsity division and Williams probably being seeded among the freshmen.

Jackson's Caster Signed By Jets

NEW YORK (UPI) — Richard Caster, a wide receiver and tight end from Jackson State, has signed with the New York Jets. Head Coach and General Manager Weeb Ewbank announced here recently.

Caster, drafted number two by the Jets, caught 160 passes for 3,638 yards during his four-year career at Jackson State. As a senior, he caught 36 passes for 990 yards.

By the way... by Joe Black

We can't hide from the fact that brotherhood these days is not being "crowned from sea to shining sea." A better word might be "flattened." And that word "brotherhood" is going to continue to have less and less meaning unless all of us stop "tsk, tsk, tsking" and start doing something tangible and constructive.

I'm referring to the great hordes of black and white citizens who daily battle our national problems by uttering such profound statements as: "My God, what is this country coming to?" Or... "This country will be better off once we get rid of those irresponsible, long-haired kooks and black militants."

No doubt this is a serious and perplexing time for all Americans, black and white. But it's not going to get better until we all start getting involved. Begin by re-appraising your own feelings and prejudices about people and things. Stop hating people simply because they're black, white, yellow or red. Look at them as individuals with the same rights to opportunity and happiness as you have.

With the polarization of the races rapidly approaching the dangerous stage, the philosophy of "I got mine, you get yours," must go. If it doesn't, nothing else that happens will matter.

BASEBALL

BY PETE FRITCHIE

Washington, D.C. — Jim Bouton's book on baseball has most players in the Majors disgusted. Bouton probably knew that would happen when he wrote the book, it's assumed here, because he had little to lose.

Discarded by the Yankees, his fast ball gone, now struggling to stay with one of the expansion clubs, this was a way to make a buck—if the book was sensational enough.

The book rakes up behind-the-scenes muck and this sells books, but it doesn't help baseball. It helps Bouton's bank account, as in doing this serves its purpose admirably.

The tales are interesting reading but one gets the idea some yams are stretched a bit to make them eye-opening. That's the opinion of ballplayers who disapprove of the revelations, which put the knock on such as Mickey Mantle, taken to task for not signing autographs and drinking, among other things.

The Bouton book is not the first of the inside books. Most of them have been funnier than this one, however, if not as critical. Baseball is not unlike any other business or sport and its players are like any other cross section of the population. There are good ones, bad ones and ordinary guys.

Onree Jackson Signs With Atlanta Falcons

Appropriate Calling
Chump—Yes, I take very naturally to dancing. My business has helped me a lot.
Dolly—What is your business, Chump—Furniture moving.

Quarterback Onree Jackson of Alabama A&M is one of three free agents signed by the Atlanta Falcons, the club announced.

Jackson, wide receiver Bob Shannon of Tennessee State and kicker Ken Vinyard of Texas Tech were all draft choices of other professional clubs one year ago.

Jackson was the fifth round draft choice of the Boston Patriots in 1969. Shannon was drafted in the tenth round by Washington, Vinyard in the sixth by Green Bay.

Earlier, the Falcons announced the signing of four other players who were drafted, then cut, by other clubs a year ago. They are guards Tom Fink of Minnesota (drafted ninth by Minnesota) and Terry May of Southern Methodist (11th by Houston), center John Kulka of Penn State (7th by Miami) and wide receiver Joe Williams of Southern University (9th by San Diego). Ninth-three players have now been signed by the Falcons, who open training camp at Johnson City, Tennessee, July 23.

Jackson, 6-4 and 212 pounds was a three-time All-Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference selection in college. Alabama Agricultural and Mechanical college is located in Normal, Alabama.

Shannon was also a collegiate quarterback at Tennessee State, but Washington drafted him as a defensive back, and the Falcons will try him at wide receiver. He's 6-2, 195.

Vinyard was rated the country's top collegiate kicker in 1968 at Texas Tech, where he averaged nearly 40 yards a field goal, 67 out of 70 extra points in his college career, and also punted and kicked off. He is 5-10, 180, and will contend for the Falcon punting and placekicking jobs.

Maryland State's Bill Belk Eyes 10-Years In Pro Ranks

CLEMSON, S. C. — San Francisco 49er defensive end Bill Belk says when he enters the NFL three seasons ago he planned to play five years and then quit, "but now I hope to stick around for 10 years."

When his playing days are over the 6-4 245 pound Maryland State College graduate who is from Lancaster, S. C. says he hopes to enter the public relations field, although "I just might end up coaching because I like to work with young people."

Belk's fondness for young people is being utilized this week at the Fellowship of Christian Athletes conference ever held in South Carolina, on the campus of Clemson University. Some 275 delegates, mostly high school and college athletes, plus several pro players and college and high school coaches, attended the five day session, one of four FCA conferences in progress this week and one of 17 scheduled throughout the United States this summer.

"I think most young athletes look up to any type of athlete who is older," Belk said in explaining his reasons for being here. "I've let them know we put God before athletics, and that we can't do anything without God, than we're helping them to take the right road."

Belk said he was introduced to the Fellowship of Christian Athletes in 1967 by Maryland State football coach Sandy Gilliam, but "I was working at this time and really didn't become involved until this conference. I plan to also attend the conference scheduled for next week at Mars Hill, N. C."

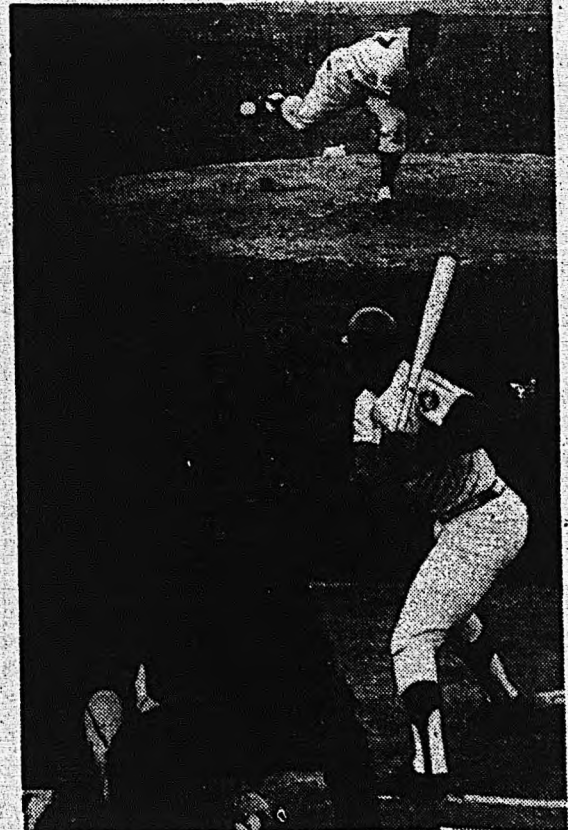

Coach Gilliam told me the FCA was a means of bridging the gap between athletics and Christianity, and I've always remembered that," Belk said. Gilliam, now a talent scout for the Denver Broncos, living in Union S. C., and is also attending the FCA conference here. He has his wife and three children along while Belk, who is single, brought his 12 year old sister.

Gilliam, a graduate of Allen University in Columbia, S. C., with a Master's degree from Indiana University, was head coach at Maryland State five years before becoming a pro-football talent scout. He covers 75 colleges in five Southeastern states and is beginning his second year with the Broncos.

"Basically, my job is contacting people at the college level," explained Gilliam.

Black Power Turns To Green Power

The recent developments in Atlanta may well have performed a miracle, and to quote Secretary of Commerce, Maurice Stans, "Here's Where Black Power Turns to Green Power," as he cut the Ribbon signaling the formal opening of the nation's first one-stop Office for Aid to Minority Businesses.

The Secretary told of the $100,000,000 available to Minority Businesses, and especially available to the Negro American. This new "Minority Business Enterprise" is a brain child of the Nixon Administration, and should remove all doubts of the sincerity of the President to aid the Negro.

The newly opened "Cannolene Company" may well be cited as a dream come true for the Negro businessman, and his approach to the main stream of American social and economic world.

While not presuming to be a 'Drum-Major' for the President or the Republican Party, one must admit, that the GOP's got here the firstest with the mostest.

The Vote For 18 Year Olds

The question of giving 18 year olds the right to vote on a national basis is presently before the congress and many pro and cons will be forthcoming, but the real issue is not simply giving the 18 year olds the right to vote, but conveying the meaning of the vote to these youngsters.

In the state of Georgia, 18 year olds are already voting and thus far everything is fine, but this state has learned the lesson that the right to vote does not necessarily mean that the youngsters will vote.

In times of great stress on a national scale, the right to vote is certainly a grand privilege, as well as a duty, it ought to be the concern of our law-makers that all persons give nibe privilege to vote in elections, actually know the value of the vote.

Despite all of the 'Jive' talk about participating in our various Governments, the only manner that John G. Public can actually participate is through the power of his or her vote.

We find no fault in the 18 year olds voting, but one may wonder what policy is forthcoming to teach the new voter how to vote and what to vote for.

To all who would be community leaders, this is your challenge Teach them.

The Arrival Of Summer

The summer solstice arrives midway between the spring and fall equinox.

The first day of summer this year is June 21st, as it often is, and summer lasts until September 23rd, the first day of autumn. The hottest days of the year will probably come if the weather follows the traditional pattern--after the longest day of the year (the 21st).

This is true, usually, because the earth stores heat in the period when the sun shines longest. By July and August the earth has stored great quantities.

Summer means vacation-time to many students, and shorter vacation periods to many adults.

To make this summer different, drive safely on trips to mountains, lakes and beaches; reduce the death rate, which might include you.

Father's Day

American fathers make more money than those of most nations and give their families a higher living standard. But in spite of such plenty, American families are not much of an example to the world as to permanence, child behavior, juvenile behavior.

On the contrary, American children are pushing the juvenile crime rate to record highs, the nation's divorce rate is constantly increasing and the breakdown in the rate of stability and endurance of the American family seems to parallel the breakdown of paternal authority in the home.

One of the major reasons for this turn of events is the "dunce" role so often played by the American father these days. Whether the average American father is brainwashed by television programs constantly stressing female dominance (selling women the products being advertised) or whether he has simply abdicated his role as the rock of stability, security and authority in the home, is a question.

Psychiatrists tell us wives want a husband they can respect, look to for guidance and the maintaining of discipline in the home. Too many of them aren't getting much of it from American fathers and husbands.

As wives and children remember them Sunday on Father's Day, this is something they should be thinking about.

We miss that tramp-tramp through the hall Making the rounds for copy call: 'Tis midnight: time to go to press-- Comes one now too tired to rest.

How he did love the Atlanta World And those press releases hur'd Toward his desk to reproduce For God's nation's wholesome use.

The vibrant thoughts that rack the brain That stream through anxious genius rain No more disturb the muscle call Out where the taps sound - "all is well."

The echo of that rapid pace That knew him in his trade race. At last is ceased and through the hall is heard no more: God rest the pall.

An Undersecretary General of the U.N. Mr. Bunche is not afraid to speak out on the issues of today. He stated that racism was the No. 1 problem in the nation today, in terms of its potentiality for disruption, for trouble in the country. He said that "any Administration today, if it is going to deal realistically with this problem, must wage war on racism on the same scale as the Vietnam war--a cost of about $30 Billion a year.

His family consists of his wife, Ruth and a son, Ralph Jr., who has been in the service since 1968.

Father of Father's Day

William Smart--original father of Father's Day.

By JERRY KLEIN

Written Especially for Central Press and This Newspaper SUNDAY, June 21, will be Father's Day, and here is the original father for whom our annual Father's Day holiday was begun!

His name was William Smart. And the traditional observance was started in his memory just before World War I in Spokane, Wash.

The guiding force behind the holiday honoring fathers was Smart's daughter, Mrs. John B. Dodd of Spokane. Out of reverence for her father, she started the practice of having a special day set aside in his remembrance.

Then with the help of local ministers and the YMCA, Mrs. Dodd was able to organize a nationwide Father's Day to honor all dads. Spokane was first to establish the special day, but it spread not just throughout the United States, but to other countries, too.

Smart lived to see President Woodrow Wilson authorize a Father's Day insignia in 1916. However, he died before another president, Calvin Coolidge, first recommended a national observance of the day. That was in 1924.

Women & Home

Foreigners often look on in bewilderment at the sight of so many American women dashing here and there, in all sorts of organizations, clubs and tea parties, to the almost complete neglect of homes and families.

To many American women the desire to conform, or to be a community leader, so-called, is so great it confuses their values.

Taking care of one's home, family, and garden, is a big job in itself. If properly done, it requires many hours of planning, work, and perhaps supervision, each day.

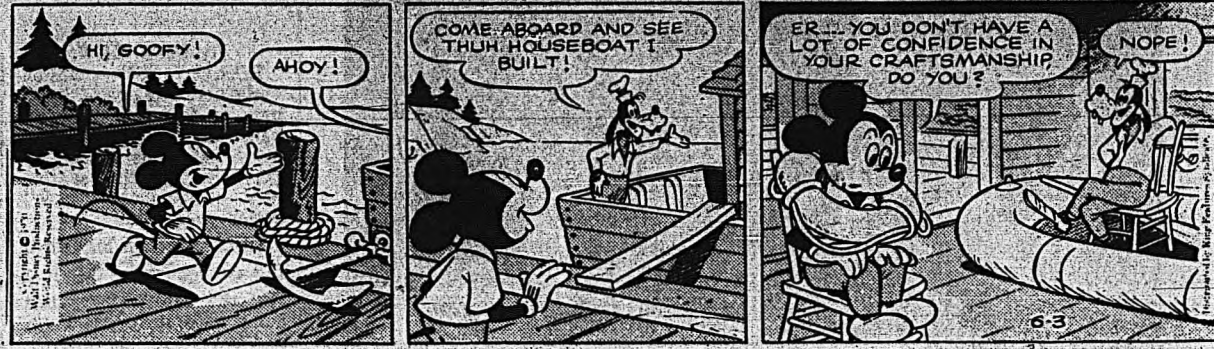

Yet the happiest women are those who enjoy doing this demanding job well, the psychiatrist tells us.

SPACE & PEACE Moscow--Premier Aleksei N. Kosygin says that space cooperation between nations depends on better relations on earth. He said that international cooperation in space exploration and the use of outer space for peaceful purposes must be based on the development of mutual understanding and trust among peoples.

LOUISA'S LETTER

Dear Louisa, I am very much in love with a boy and we try to be together as much as we can but my problem is my mother. She thinks I should limit my dates but why should I do that when I would rather be with him than with anyone else in the world. I am in high school and I know how to behave and the boy I go with is a gentleman. He lost his job a few weeks ago but it wasn't his fault because the company had to cut down its working force. So, of course, I can see him a lot more now than when he was working. I would like to know what you think about this situation. D.F. - Va.

is that young. There are so many temptations for young people to sidestep in this present era that they have a difficult time to live up to their Christian standards, but believe me, it will pay you in the end if you try to do the right things and think about what your example means to younger girls who probably look up to you. Also, give a little thought to your parents. The rules they make for you are not done to harass you but to protect you from making mistakes. When you grow older you will understand why and regret many of your disagreements with them. Louisa

NOTES, COMMENTS

The politicians have convinced us that some of them have to be liars.

The SST

William Magruder, head of the U.S. supersonic transport program, said recently he was "absolutely confident" two projected SST prototypes would be constructed and tested on schedule. (The airlines plan to introduce the SST in 1978.)

This is encouraging in a program that has been on and off again for years and in an age when every aircraft ordered by the military services seems to encounter production delays, performance deficiencies and unexpected cost increases.

Magruder says the public has been partly misled by half-truths and rumor concerning the noise problem connected with the development of the big supersonic transport. He believes the big supersonics will be quieter than today's commercial jets along takeoff and approach paths and that the noise problem elsewhere can be solved by an extensive technological effort between now and 1978.

The big supersonics, built in America, will bring billions of foreign currency into the country if successful; this alone is a good reason for their construction. In addition, these are undoubtedly the air transports of the future and U.S. security and technological preeminence are involved in their development.

Daybook of America 1770-1870-1970 By CLARK KINNAIRD

No. 54 He was the first who dared to take a broadhorn (a low, flat-bottom ark) heavily loaded from river over the turbulent Falls of the Ohio (at Louisville). He out-butted, out-gouged, out-stomped all challengers in the roughest variety of frontier "rassling." He out-ate, out-drunk anybody. There were hundreds of tales about him that expanded in retelling till it was popular assumption he was the strongest, fightingest, sure-shootingest, most devilish man the lengths of the Allegheny, Kanawha, Ohio, Mississippi Rivers. Countless storytellers professed to have known him. Who? Why, Mike Fink, "king of the flat-boatsmen," and one spectacular companion of Davy Crockett in some actual and much fanciful folklore. There was a Mike Fink more real than Paul Bunyan; he's due bicentennial attention.

For 1770 is given as his birth year at the Forks of the Ohio (Pittsburgh). "As a historical person little is known of him; in the field of American legendry, he is the hero of many a tale. It is certain he was a keelboatman, that he was a remarkable rifle marksman, that in 1822 he joined a party which ascended the Missouri River to its uppermost reaches to open up trade with the Indians of the Northwest," says an authority.

That was an epochal expedition organized by William H. Ashley for the Rocky Mountain Fur Co. From it came back tales of Mike Fink riding a wild moose, wrestling a bear, eating a whole buffalo. Mike didn't come back himself. The first time he ever missed in "shooting the cup," i.e., a tin cup of whisky from a head at some thirty strides, he was slain by a friend of the dead cup-bearer, who had been forced--Mike's idea of a joke--to be an unwilling William Tell.
