DR. VENSON MOURNED!

The Venson Wave

This recent picture of Dr. and Mrs. R. Q. Venson shows them waving at a Cotton Makers' Jubilee crowd. It was one of Dr. Venson's last public appearances. His funeral was held Monday afternoon at National Cemetery following a 21-gun salute and the blowing of Taps.

Dr. R. Q. Venson was lowered his final resting place Monday afternoon at National Cemetery following a 21-gun salute and the blowing of Taps.

More than 125 cars followed the remains to the cemetery.

The crackling rifles and the mournful bugle helped close out the final chapter of a man's life that has meant so much to the City of Memphis.

Sitting with her family at the funeral was Elder Blair Hunt, pastor of Mississippi Boulevard Christian Church.

Earlier at St. John Baptist Church were the pastor, the Rev. A. McEwen Williams, gave a touching eulogy, a special unit of police officers sat together. Also seated among the mourners were members of the Memphis Housing Authority of which the widow, Mrs. Ethyl Venson, is a member.

Scores of floral designs lined the front and walls of the church.

The minister told the overflow congregation "We are here in memory of one who reached for the best. We shall miss him at St. John."

He said he talked to Dr. Venson about two weeks ago and quoted him as saying, "I am not afraid as I go for I am trusting in the Lord."

The mixed congregation of blacks and whites heard the Rev. Ben Hooks read the scripture and offer prayer, a solo by Osie B. Lewis and resolutions from the church, the National Dental Association, the American Legion Post No. 27, the Cotton Makers' Jubilee and the Tri-State Bank.

Paul Borda, chairman of the Memphis Housing Authority, was among the MHA members attending the rites.

Dr. Venson was a familiar figure on Beale Street. He was a part of it in its heyday and was still around when its fame began to fade.

His dental office was at 179 Beale, and his wife, whom he affectionately called Ethylbelle, was his office assistant before their marriage.

Many will remember him as the leader of Armistice Day parades, while others remember him as the dentist and as a director of Tri-State Bank of Memphis.

Dr. Venson is a part of Memphis' history. Along with his wife, he founded the Cotton Makers' Jubilee back in 1935. It was founded during a period of absolute jimcrow and segregation "to give the Negro a sense of pride and a sense of belonging."

At that time, Negroes were denied the right on participate in the Memphis Cotton Carnival. A few were employed to sit on top of bales of cotton to give additional atmosphere to the parades on Main Street.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning of this week for Miss Alfreda McDaniel, a former Memphis who died Aug 4 in Albany, N. Y.

OMAR ROBINSON

Robinson In Sun. Recital

Omar Robinson, well-known musician and choral director, will be presented in a recital at 5 p.m. this Sunday, Aug. 16, at St. Andrew AME Church, 867 South Parkway East.

Services were conducted in the chapel of T. H. Hayes & Sons and burial was in Forst Hill Cemetery.

Miss McDaniel was the oldest child of Rev. and Mrs. J. A. McDaniel of 1297 South Parkway East. She was a religious social worker.

Rev. Mr. McDaniel was retired recently as executive director of the Memphis Urban League and as pastor of Bethel United Presbyterian Church. He currently is serving as a public relations officer for the Defense Depot in Memphis.

The deceased was the sister of J. A. McDaniel Jr. of New York, N. Y., Mrs. Harry Hamilton, Jr., of Albany, N. Y., Mrs. LeRoy - Comier of Oakland, Calif., Joseph McDaniel and Mrs. Robert Crawford Jr. of Memphis, and Miss Sandra McDaniel of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Appearing with him in the Sunday recital will be a baritone, Michael Thompkins.

The recital is being sponsored by the stewards of St. Andrew which is pastored by the Rev. E. M. Martin.

Memphis will present two all-black races for State-House seats in the Nov. 3 general election.

Clifford D. Miller, unopposed in last week's Republican primary, is taking on incumbent Alvin M. King who won the Democratic nomination by turning back school-teacher George A. Dowdy, -2,694 to 2,140. Miller and King will fight out for the District 11 seat.

Newcomer Melvin Cummings, running as a Republican, will oppose incumbent L. H. Murphy, a Democrat, for the District 6 seat. Both were unopposed in the pri-

A 25-year-old mortician, Harold E. Ford, came on strong in his initial try at politics, and unseated incumbent James I. Taylor for the District 3 State House seat. Both ran as Democrats and there is no Republican opposition. Mr. Ford piled up a total of 3,931 votes to Mr. Taylor's 2,348.

Atty. J. O. Patterson Jr., a state senator as well as a Memphis City Councilman, has no opposition in the primaries and will have no opposition in the general election for his District 29 State Senate seat. He is a Democrat.

Mr. Dowdy ran Representative King a close race but was not strong enough to offset the support given Mr. King by state Senator Patterson.

Political observers believe Representative Taylor lost his House seat as a result of some of his former backers drifting over to the Ford camp.

In the District 8 State-House race, David C. Ellison Jr., the lone Negro in a four-man race, ran third with 807 votes, Russell X. Thompson won the seat with 1,707 votes. Negroes were involved in two other important races. Harrel Moore finished last with 18,980 votes in a seven-man race for the County Commission. The three incumbents were re-elected: Jimmy Moore with 76,446, Lee Hyden, 56,022, and Jack Ramsay, 53,705.

Harrel Moore a realtor, became better known to Memphian as a result of running for the office.

In the sheriff's race, Melvin Robinson and Carey Walker Jr. were the two Negro candidates in an eight-man race. Mr. Robinson came on strong, running fourth with 21,614 votes. The winner was

Southern Will Join Big Firm

R. E. Woods, president, and S. W. Robinson, executive vice president of Southern Funeral Home, Inc., announced Monday that Southern Funeral Home, along with two other Tennessee funeral homes, will merge with Service Corporation International, a Houston-based funeral service company.

Alvin Wunderlich, Jr., speaking on behalf of the stockholders said that there are certain conditions to be satisfied prior to the consummation of the affiliation. Wunderlich stated that the capital stock of the three firms will be exchanged for 350,000 shares of SCI's common stock and that SCI has agreed to purchase facilities and properties in Memphis and Chattanooga for a consideration of cash and long term debt.

Woods stated that it was SCI's policy to retain the personnel, management and identities of the local firms. "The net effect of this transaction will not be readily visible to the public. The people who have served the Memphis community will continue to serve in the same thoughtful and sincere manner as always. We are justifiably proud of this association.

"Certain principles are fundamental to the successful operation of any funeral service firm, be it family operated or part of a publicly held corporation. Simply express-

'Witnesses' To Assemble

In this day when attitudes toward the Bible are changing, one religious group is convinced that the Bible is authentic, reliable and the only guide that leads to everlasting life.

To Jehovah's Witnesses the Bible is the Book of the Creator, in which God tells his creatures about creation, about himself, about His rules of life--rules that are simple and practical.

"The Word of God Is Alive" is the theme selected for their forthcoming circuit assembly program September 4-6. Delegates will come from the eleven recently integrated congregational units in Memphis and from six other congregations in the West Tennessee circuit. George Yarbrough, presiding minister at 353 Boyd, explained that the Witnesses are anticipating a colorful program at the Highland Towers, 400 S. Highland St.

A special program for the public is scheduled for 3 p. m., the final day of the assembly. Joseph Saia, district supervisor of ministers, will talk on "Who Will Conquer the World in the 1970's?"

Teen - Soul Festival Is Coming Up Next!

Devotees of the popular tunes called "Soul Music" will hear "the brightest sound in town" Sunday night, Sept. 6, when the Memphis Teen-Soul Festival is initially presented. The "Festival" will feature five acts of Memphis teenage "soul" vocalists and musicians who made their first recordings of original songs and tunes this summer. They were selected, trained, and guided under the production experience of Tom Nixon, head of a new Memphis production company operating under a new label known as "Stripe."

The five acts consist of high school students or graduates of Memphis high schools. This is in line with Mr. Nixon's objective of finding, encouraging, and developing young talent. He is following a precedent set by several other nationally-known recording companies. Such "soul" stars as the Supremes, Little Stevie

TENNESSEE - KENTUCKY CLASH SET FOR MEMPHIS

It's official! Tennessee State and Kentucky State will clash in a football game Sept. 19 at Crump Stadium. The game is scheduled for 2 p.m.

Announcement that the game will be played in Memphis was made this week by the Rev. W. A. Suggs, president of Tennessee State's local alumni association.

He said tickets will go on sale soon at locations to be announced.

Rev. Mr. Suggs said the famous Tennessee State Tiger band and majorettes will accompany the team to Memphis.

Tennessee State Athletic Director Howard Gentry and Head Football Coach John Merritt made a trip to Memphis to sign the contract with the alumni association which is sponsoring the gridiron battle.

Mr. Suggs said a sell-out is expected "because we have thousands of alumni in this area."

Nine Memphians are members of the Tiger football squad.

OSCAR REED CONGRATULATES FORD - Harold E. Ford, left, 25-year-old mortician, is congratulated after he defeated incumbent James I. Taylor for the District 3 State House seat. Congratulating Mr. Ford is Oscar Reed, the former Booker T. Washington High School football star who is now a running back for the Minnesota Vikings.

Roy C. Nixon with 61,410. Criminal Court Judge O-dell Horton of Division 4 was unopposed for re-election and actually has withdrawn his name, but pulled in 29,067 votes anyway. Mr. Horton has been elected president of Le-Moyne-Owen College, effective Sept. 1.

Atty. W. Otis Higgs, who was appointed by Governor Ellington to succeed Judge Horton on the Division 4 bench, was running for the judgeship of General Sessions Court (division 4) before the appointment. It was too late to remove his name from the voting machines and he got 12,501 votes.

In the Shelby County Department Executive Committee race, O. W. Pickett won in District 5, Mrs. Sarah Swannigan lost a close one in District 8, City Councilman Fred L. Davis defeated Mrs. Alma Morris in District 11, and Kenneth Cole won in District 12.

In the race for delegates to the Constitutional Convention O. Bernard Johnson was defeated, 660 to 509, by William Wright in District 5, and I. H. Murphy of District 6 and Frank Kilpatrick of District 11 were unopposed.

Removal Of ROTC From Campuses

WASHINGTON UPI — Sixteen Republican Congressmen proposed Monday a reorganization of the ROTC program to remove it from campuses where it has been the target of violent antiwar demonstrations.

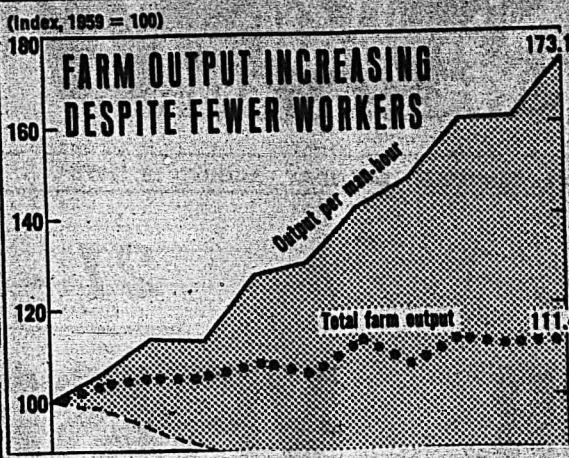

Instead of taking a training program on college campuses cadets would spend 10 weeks during each of three summers at military installations. Only an ROTC administrative office would remain on campuses.

The 16 House members, led by Rep. Marvin Esch, R-Mich also said their plan would upgrade the quality of training, induce more students to join and reduce the program's cost. Noting that unruly students have caused serious damage to ROTC facilities at several colleges and universities, the 16 said in a statement their plan would mean "the military presence and visibility on campus would be sharply reduced from what it has been in the past."

"The most convenient and accessible target for student wrath," the statement said, "has been -- the college-based Reserve Officers Training Corps. It was inevitable, therefore, that attacks -- verbal and sometimes physical -- would be mounted against ROTC programs and facilities."

The 16 based their recommendation on a study by six of them. Reps. Charles W. Whalen, Jr., Ohio, John R. Dellenback, Ore., Peter H. B. Fre-

It's your ECONOMY

By CARL H. MADDEN, CHIEF ECONOMIST
 Chamber of Commerce of the United States
A STRIKING CHANGE in our economy during the past decade has been a decline in the number of people working on farms. From 1960 through 1969, while other kinds of employment were expanding, the farm population dropped from 15.6 million to 10.3 million people -- or by 35 per cent. Despite this drop, farm output continued to rise because efficiency of operations -- or productivity -- improved steadily. Accompanying the sharp drop in the farm population was a drop in the percentage of that population working exclusively on farms. This was due to more "part-time farmers" who are found in regions where small farms still predominate.

Banquet, called for a strengthening of the economic resources in the black community by increased patronage of businesses operated by blacks, and support of institutions and organizations which serve blacks. Speaking from the topic, "Where Do We Go From Here?" Judge Hooks called for integration as the goal for the black community, but for strengthening black institutions as integration takes place.

Citizen of the Year honors were given to Judge A. A. Burch, Jr., of Nashville, Judge of the General Sessions Court of Davidson County.

Mason of the Year honors were given to Adam Watkins of Clarksville retiring Right Worshipful Deputy Grand Master, who was also named Deputy Grand Master Emeritus during the session. Grand Master Williams noted that the Grand Lodge has awarded $800 in scholarships to children of Masons who were enrolled in College. The highlight activity of the year was the pur-lingbuysen, N.J., Frank J. Horton, N. Y., Bradford Morse, Mass., and Phillip E. Ruppe, Mich.

At a news conference, Whalen, Dellenback, Freilingsbuysen and Horton said it was necessary that ROTC be continued to ensure that a "substantial portion" of the Army's officers be "civilian oriented."

The Congressmen said cadets could learn more in three 10 week sessions at military installations than they now learn in campus classes and and organizer died early Wednesday morning of last week in his hotel Plaza room at Miami Beach, Fla. He has been ill health for several months.

He had insisted on going to Miami to attend the national convention of the National Dental Association, of which he was president emeritus. Mrs. Venson said she tried to dissuade him, but he said it might be the last such meeting for him. He also insisted that Mrs. Venson and their daughter, Pamela accompany him to the convention.

Dr. Venson was born in Rapides Parish, La. He was a graduate of the old Coleman

High School and College in Rapides and the school of dentistry at Meharry Medical College in Nashville.

He came to Memphis in 1912 and began his profession in the Bluff City shortly after World War I. During the war, he attained the rank of lieutenant.

In 1935, Dr. Venson and his wife founded the Cotton Makers' Jubilee, the Negro counterpart of the Memphis Cotton Carnival celebration.

He helped establish American Legion Post No. 27, and in 1918 he helped organize one of the first Negro patriotic parades.

He was active in church affairs and was a member of St. John where he has served as finance chairman.

chairman of the board of trustees, chairman of the building fund and as a Sunday School instructor.

He was also a Mason and an Elk.

Besides his widow, Dr. Venson is survived by two daughters, Miss Pamela Ray Venson of the South Parkway East address and Mrs. Clyde Bulletin; a sister Mrs. Cora Cleveland, of Boyce, La.; a brother, James Venson, of Los Angeles, and a half-brother, the Rev. Oscar Smith of San Diego, Calif.

Wonder and others were developed under such a program in other cities; Mr. Nixon aims to do the same thing for Memphis Mid-South youth.

The five acts to be presented at the Festival consist of the Soul Diplomats and the Temprees, vocal groups composed of young male and female singers from Booker Washington, Carver, and other local high schools; Vicki New, a ninth grade vocalist from Corry Junior High; Carol Smith, a young vocalist from Washington High, and David Hudson, a teen-age male singer from Atlanta, Georgia. The singers will be backed by the music and original arrangements of a local teenage combo, dubbed "The Wildcats," who are also teenagers. Carl Hampton, a 1970 graduate of Booker T. Washington, will produce with Mr. Nixon.

The Festival theme will be "Reach out and touch somebody's hand." A low admission of only one dollar ($1) advance admission will be charged. Tickets will be $2 at the door. Mr. Nixon explained that the idea is not to make a profit, but to give the young entertainers "exposure" to their home-town public and introduce the records they have been making this summer. The youngsters will be given a preliminary introduction to the city on August 24 at a press party, to which local disk jockeys, and newsmen, will be invited.

House Approves Bill For Equal Rights For Women

WASHINGTON UPI — The House gave overwhelming approval to a proposed constitutional amendment, first introduced 47 years ago, to guarantee equal rights to women.

The roll call vote was a historic victory for feminists, who said the proposed amendment would give women access to better, higher-paying jobs and end a host of discriminatory practices sanctioned by state and federal laws.

Opponents complained the proposal was adopted without sufficient consideration and warned it could lead to years of costly litigation testing the constitutionality of laws on child custody and support as well as laws aimed at protecting women workers. They also said, and supporters of the proposal agreed, that it could subject women to the draft.

THE HUMAN DEVELOPMENT WORKSHOP of teachers, a curricular approach for educational programs designed to aid children develop sensitivity to others, self-awareness, tolerance and personal effectiveness, was a delightful experience last week. Given by the Memphis Board of Education to the first 500 teachers who applied.

The program instilled much self-confidence, know-how and confidence in each other as teachers; as was intended. Thanks to Mr. E. C. Stinbert, superintendent of City Schools; Members of the Board Mrs. Charles Patterson and Mr. "Doc" Harden (as he is affectionately known) to all of the teachers who loved and respected him as a director to have been chosen as one of the recipients.

We shall never forget the "Magic Circle." The rich experience was brought to Memphis by Dr. Uvaldo Palomares, author and director of the Program and with him were his associates and counselors (a large number who were Blacks whom we were justly proud.

DR. R. Q. VENON AND MRS. HENRIETTA CRAIGEN FUNERALIZED HERE

Memphis lost two community leaders. Both were funeralized at St. John Baptist Church. Both were friends to the Memphis community and both were sincere community workers. Also devout members of St. John Baptist Church.

DR. R. Q. VENON, Founder of the Cotton Maker's Jubilee (with the assistance of his devoted and able wife) was known from coast to coast and in foreign countries for his service in Memphis and to the Negro whom the Jubilee glorified since 1935. For his work with the American Legions; Elks and Dental Society; a group he passed away in the midst of at Hotel Plaza in Miami Beach Florida while attending the National Dental Convention with his devoted wife Ethyl and his adorable little daughter "Pam."

Dr. Venon loved all that he was connected with; but stood out in the Dental Group as chairman of the Board for many years.

Dr. J. B. Singleton, instructor at Meharry Medical School and close friend to the Venons, expressed so beautifully in a Resolution from the Dental Men ... and I quote: "Dr. Venon was an agreeable person ... he killed doubt. He was loyal, friendly and a friend to the young and old. Being around young dentists he said that he learned much from made him feel young. We have all been strengthened by having known and associated with him.

MR. A. MACEO WALKER, a business giant, spoke as a friend and one connected with Dr. Venon in business and gave Resolutions from the Tri-tate Bank of Memphis to which Dr. Venon was a board member and I quote: "Dr. Venon was one of the founders of the Tri-tate Bank along with my late father. 'I Am Ready' characterizes Dr. Venon. He was one of the most loyal supporters. It is with deep sorrow that I stand over his bier, but I am better off for having known him."

DR. VASCO SMITH, President of the Local Dental Society; have Resolution for the dental group: "Dr. Venon has been a guiding light for dentists. His advice has been valuable. His passing has left a gap that cannot be filled, as he spoke for members of the Shelby County Dental Society."

MR. CLIFFORD SATTERFIELD, whose name is also synonymous with St. John Church, the Cotton Maker's Jubilee and St. John, gave Resolutions for the church and for the American Legion. He gave much to his late close friend whom he was very devoted to.

NATHANIEL (NAT) WILLIAMS, another person synonymous with St. John, the Cotton Maker's Jubilee, WDEA and with the Venon family, he said: "Dr. Venon raised the status of the Black Man ... and has done so with the Jubilee since 1935. He has installed dignity and pride in youth of our community."

Rev. Ben Hooks and Elder Blair T. Hunt were on program and gave praise before Rev. A. McEwen Williams spoke. Rev. Williams gave the Eulogy and I Quote excerpts from his timely speech: "It is faith that makes a Christian whatever he is. It changes the opinion of himself, he changes himself. Dr. Venon will be remembered in so many walks of life. He changed himself for the better ... and this we can see. He was dedicated to St. John ... and was never absent from church unless duty

NMA Sponsors $25 Million Health Program In Calif.

BY AGYENIM BOATENG

One of the highlights of the 75th Jubilee Convention of the National Medical Association (NMA) which ended here Thursday was the announcement of a $25-million program to provide health care for about 100,000 people in Los Angeles County, California.

Dr. Phillip M. Smith of Los Angeles County, Calif., signed a two year contract with Charles R. Drew Medical Center, the local chapter of NMA, to provide the health care under the national medicaid program.

Dr. Smith mentioned that the program will be the first time a medical society has sponsored a program under which the physicians will provide all necessary health care for an individual for a monthly fee-capitation program.

Recounting the numerous benefits this program would offer to the poor and black communities, Drs. Smith and Emerson Walden stated between 300-400 doctors would participate in it, and it would also encourage physicians to see more Medicaid patients under quality health care at a less cost to the government.

Dr. Emerson C. Walden, 46, of Baltimore, Md., was named president-elect by the House of Delegates to succeed Dr. W. T. Armstrong of Rock Mount, N.C., at the 1971 NMA Convention in Philadelphia, Pa.

The 1,700 convention delegates, considered to be largest turn out in NMA's history, considered abortion to be a matter between doctor and patient, and should give their support to the national health insurance plan.

Nixon & Thieu

Each time hope grows that the United States might be able to negotiate a peace with Hanoi ending the fighting in Vietnam, President Thieu of South Vietnam all but dashes these hopes. The story is usually about the same. The State Department favors allowing all elements of the population to be represented in the Saigon government, plus international supervised free elections.

President Thieu then announces he will not allow Communists in the government, that he will suppress any South Vietnamese advocating a coalition including the Communists and that he will never accept the imposition of a coalition regime. President Nixon then announces he will never force Thieu to accept any such coalition.

There are, unfortunately, those in South Vietnam who would vote for Communists and some who favor the Communists. They are a minority. There are, of course, Communists in most of the western democracies, including the United States. Not many years ago we had a Communist member of Congress (from New York City).

Thieu, of course, knows this well. The one man among anti-Communist forces who could bring about a negotiated truce with a democratic posture, he continues to put his hopes in undemocratic principles and procedures of government.

A New Anti-Crime Weapon

The nation is now taking a strong position in this current crime wave. The Ford Foundation has made a special appropriation to aid in the strengthening of the police departments in effort, morale and spirit. This goes on to show the seriousness which this crime wave is being taken.

President Richard M. Nixon is holding a firm hand in the line of holding back the wave of crime taking every day a heavy toll on the peace of our society.

It is of interest that President Nixon signed recently into law a very strong instrument which might serve as a guide for the states to fight crime.

The Congress already has approved for the District a law permitting police officers with special search warrants to enter and search premises without announcing themselves if they believe evidence such as drugs would be quickly destroyed otherwise. The law also authorizes judges to order preventative of up to 60 days in jail for defendants awaiting trial for forcible robbery, arson, rape or illegal drug sales.

The President said the new law would stem rising crime in the capital and make Washington an example of respect throughout the country.

So it is seen that from the White House down the nation is being alerted not only to crime treatment but crime prevention. No country can rise in the Democratic fashion and pattern any higher than the safety of its people are vouched for. A government with the consent of the governed cannot be a good government with a segment of its population undermining its good values and principles.

We are happy to see the Nation disturbed in the area of crime.

President Nixon adds another score to his already unprecedented batting averages. He is on the firing line of national safety. He is guaranteeing a free people in a free land a safety guard.

Surely the judges and general law enforcement personnel will welcome this sweeping move and will use this law or get needed law in the states to effectively combat the growing crime menace.

Eat, Girls!

For many years fashion magazines have stressed pictures of female models consisting mainly of bones, few curves—little more than racks for clothes to hang on. The diet pill manufacturers and other food producers constantly stress the sales pitch that men prefer slim girls.

The facts have always been otherwise. Most men do not prefer thin girls. They like normal, healthy girls with curves. Now comes a new revelation for wives who seek to stay slim when pregnant. The National Research Council reports a thorough nutritional study indicates women should gain twenty to twenty-five pounds when pregnant, not just ten or twelve, which has been the recent fad.

Even doctors have been suggesting, in recent years, that pregnant women limit their weight gain to ten or twelve pounds. But the Council reports that babies of mothers who have thus restricted their gain have a "high incidence of low birth weight and death." In other words, healthier babies are delivered by mothers who gain twenty to twenty-five pounds.

IS THE CHURCH ON TRIAL?

The present growth of many cults, and pseudo religions cause one to wonder if the church as we know it really on trial by the present day society.

In conversing with laymen and Clergy alike, all seem to be seeking answers to questions, that they deem necessary to a clear understanding of just what the church really ought to be in today's society.

Many feel that the position of the Clergy is given to the Pulpit, and that the teachings ought to be on love and life of the Believers; others feel that the Clergy ought to be more concerned with the community itself, whether they be members of the congregation or not.

WHAT IS THE CHURCH?

Perhaps before we can discuss the "Church," we ought to have a clear understanding of just what is the church; the Biblical interpretation calls the church, a "drawn out body" of believers, in the world, but not of the world. Theologians call it, the "Spiritual Body Of The Christ." Now no matter what one may choose to call it, the Church is God's foundation, created for man, but not by man. However the church is managed by man, and because of this, management may be given to error. Now concerning the Holy Bible and its teachings, many doubt its infallibility, some even say that it may (not be the infallible "Word" of God, basing their argument on the fact that it was written by fallible man.

Upon consideration, if we are to base our disbelief on the possible errors of man, then why do we cite historical factors, why do we accept any theories as fact, when they all are the interpretations of man?

To those that would be doubters, know now that the works of God are done by human hands, but at the direction of God Himself, and as to your religion, it is an individual thing, and all things are possible in whatever religion you or I believe in. . . . If we only believe.

TV COMMENTARY

THE MAN who made "Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea" is filming the deep waters again in "City Beneath the Sea." The co-stars are Stuart Whitman and Robert Wagner.

GLENN FORD lives with his twenty-three year old son in a beautiful Beverly Hills home. He doesn't enjoy seeing some of his old movies which are being run on TV but he will do a special for CBS in September entitled "America" and in 1971 will do "The Glenn Ford Show." In the latter he will have the role of a police officer.

EDDY ARNOLD is the man who first combined country music with pop music and made it pay. He was helped by singers, one of which was Bing Crosby, who used some of his songs and caused them to become big hits. Arnold now adds to his income by appearing in nightclubs and big hotels.

MAE WEST, the sex symbol of yesterday, is the same today as she was then and is still able to demand a salary that runs into thousands. She disapproves of nudity and profanity.

AND NOW we are to have a show on maternity. It will be called "The First Nine Months" and is supposed to be an NBC comedy.

ON SEPTEMBER 16th the "Music Hall" will star Alan King, and the theme will be the Women's Liberation Movement. Paul Lynde and Eva Gabor will be on the show.

ON SEPTEMBER 21st a movie based on two Tennessee Williams' stories will be entitled "Boom" and have Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor in the cast.

Safety Precautions Are Stressed for Private Swimming Pools

A back yard swimming pool provides relaxation, recreation, and a cooling-off spot during warm weather.

But once it has been scrubbed down, cleaned up, and readied for the season's first plunge, it also calls for careful supervision, cautions the Insurance Information Institute. And family and guests alike should be required to abide by a few simple rules of safety.

Your first safety device should be a sturdy fence enclosing the pool area, to keep wandering neighborhood children from accidentally falling in.

Some communities require pool fencing, but even if yours does not, it is still a good step for safety. Unless you have taken reasonable precautions to keep them out, you may be held liable for injuries even to trespassing children.

Other safety devices around the pool should include a well-stocked first aid kit and rescue equipment such as a ring buoy or long pole.

Shallow and deep sections of the pool should be clearly delineated with buoy lines. For added protection when the pool is not in use, some owners install alarms that go off at sudden water displacement, caused, for example, by "a person falling in the water."

Safety rules are especially important when children are using the pool.

Provide adult supervision whenever children are swimming, urges the Institute. Air

ABOUT YOUR HOME

One Of the most important functions of a home is rearing happy, well-adjusted children, who will in turn make a home of their own. Any parent who wants to prepare a son or daughter for success in the world and success as a husband or wife might well concentrate on these.

1. Set a good example for your children to follow. Let them see the happy behavior of their own father and mother.

2. Let the children take an active and important part in the work of their own home, from early childhood onward. A young child will take a great deal of pride in doing even the simplest chore. It will give him a feeling of importance and help him develop a sense of responsibility. Don't expect too much of your children, for this will make them nervous.

3. Make sure you are giving your children a sound and accurate attitude toward sex from infancy onward.

4. As they grow into adolescence, make every effort to see that they have friends of both sexes and an opportunity to meet with these friends informally, to work together as well as play together. Let them feel free to invite their friends into their home.

5. Have some form of entertainment that all members of the family can join in. Music is a perfect topic of mutual enjoyment. Always include the children on vacations.

6. Be understanding. Be fair and always consistent. Children understand this type of treatment. When it's necessary to punish them, make sure they understand that the punishment is fair.

Institute Offers Power Mower Tips

Don't let that power mower become a liability this summer, home owners were cautioned today.

The Insurance Information Institute noted that many injuries are recorded each year because of careless operating errors that can and should be avoided — cleaning or lifting the machine while it is running, walking backwards while pulling the mower, or for some reason touching the blade before it is stopped.

"Such incidents are easy to prevent, just by being careful," the Institute observed. "But for your own safety and for the safety of others, there is another factor to be kept in mind — that the lawn should be raked free of stones and debris before you start."

Noting that a stone or branch thrown by a power mower can injure another person or even damage his property, the Institute pointed out that within limits any financial obligations which might accrue are covered under the homeowners insurance policy. Homeowners or tenants who do not have such a policy were advised to check with their insurance agent or broker about obtaining coverage in some other form.

ABOUT A BOOK

About your money! A book that can save you thousands of dollars by showing you what to buy, how to buy, where to buy, when to buy, is "Getting the Most for Your Money; How to beat the high cost of living," by Anthony Scudato.

This book shows you how to get the most for your shopping dollar. A useful feature is a list of organizations that consumers might consult for help, giving address and type of service which can be secured.

Covered are such topics as food and clothing, transportation and entertainment, health care and services, home furnishings and appliances, insurance and education. This is a book you can't afford to miss.

Daybook of America 1770-1870-1970

No. 74 Absent from some 10,000 listings in Eison C. Smith's Dictionary of American Family Names (Harper & Row) is a famous one: Jukes.

The name was a contrivance of Richard L. Dugdale for the anonymity of the family he explored in 1870. The result was a famous treatise: The Jukes: A Study in Crime, Pauperism, Disease, and Heredity.

Dugdale was a school drop-out who worked for a merchant at New York, when he formed a consuming interest in causative factors of habitual criminality and degradation. Free night courses in social science at New York's new Cooper Union prepared him for intensive inquiries among inmates of prisons, asylums, almshouses, and family connections.

Dugdale's eventual concentration on one family line—the pseudo-named Jukes—produced a unique genealogy of imbeciles, alcoholics, sexual deviates, thieves, violent criminals, through several generations.

In contrast, the family name Edwards was given exalted meaning by circumstantial evidence of hereditary influences in New England family lines going back to a marriage in 1667 of Richard Edwards, member of a well-to-do mercantile family at Hartford, Connecticut, and Elizabeth Tutthill (later spelled Tuttle). They had one son, who became a Harvard graduate and Congregational clergyman, and four daughters who married well. The Edwards line was admixed with Stoddards, Dwights, Palmes, Fairbankses, Burrs, Whitneys, Roosevelts, others. By 1900, an extra ordinarily high percentage of the 1400 known descendants of Richard and Elizabeth Edwards had achieved note as clergymen, college professors, college presidents, military officers, physicians, authors, lawyers, judges, public officials—including a Chief Justice (M. R. Waite), British statesman (Winston Churchill) and the President in 1870: U. S. Grant.

The lineage is detailed by Charlotte McCartney in an extraordinary new account for Yankee Magazine. Revelation is made of Elizabeth's brother killing one of her sisters. Another sister killed her son. Richard lived with Elizabeth for 74 years "in spite of repeated acts of perversity and infidelity on her part." The "Tutthill taint" showed up in grandchildren of the pair. Richard got a divorce in 1891. Then he married Mary Talcott. "Not one descendant from this later marriage ever knew fame or fortune," Miss McCartney avers.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Tax Free Dollars

Your neighbor carelessly backs his car into your fence, causing $200 worth of damage. Acknowledging his fault, he hands you a check for $200. Do you have to pay income tax on this amount?

No, because it is not really "income" at all. The money merely makes you "come out even."

Now, suppose he refuses to pay and you have to sue him for the money. Then, too, if you win the $200, it is tax free. Again, it simply makes you come out even.

This principle has wide application, notably in personal injury cases. Accident victims sometimes win verdicts involving large sums of money. To the extent that the money is compensation for their injuries, it is not subject to income tax.

In fact, the injury need not even be physical at all. In one case, a man won $100,000 for defamation of character. The government tried to collect income tax on this sum, but a court ruled that it was not taxable. The court said the purpose of the money was just to "make the plaintiff whole."

And in another case, the money that a girl won in a breach of promise suit was likewise held not taxable, since it was compensating her only for the harm she had suffered.

However a verdict may also include "punitive" damages, imposed not to compensate for the plaintiff's injury but to punish the defendant for his wrongful conduct. On this portion of the verdict, a tax may indeed be collected.

For example: In another defamation case, the plaintiff won $1,000—$650 for the damage done to his reputation, and $350 to teach the defendant a lesson. The $650 was held tax free, but the plaintiff did have to pay income tax on the $350. This was considered income because, in spite of the harm he had suffered, he came out $350 richer than he had been before.

Sunday School Lesson

RESULTS OF ARROGANCE

MEMORY SELECTION — "Pride goeth before destruction, and an arrogant spirit before a fall." (Proverbs 16:18)

LESSON TEXT: Genesis 11: 1-9; Deuteronomy 9: 10, 15; Psalm 10:4; Luke 12: 13-21.

This Lesson endeavors to point out the fact that no matter how hard man may strive towards building a better life, if he depends upon himself alone, he is guilty of arrogance; he can only succeed if he acknowledges the sovereignty of the Lord and seeks His help!

The story contained in Genesis 11 stresses the original unity of the human race; and that unity was intended by God. Today we have moved far from that concept. Geographical factors have entered into the picture, and along with them differences of language and physical aspects. But human nature remains constant. Man, everywhere has strengths and weaknesses, moments of triumph and defeat! Man has a soul, and a heart, and mind, and therefore complexity is the common denominator.

We are, today perhaps closer kin to the Babylonians of Biblical times than we care to admit!

Man has ever been restless. Thus were the Babylonians — a nation of nomads seeking a place to put down roots. This they did building the city which was to be known as Babylon. And within this city they built towers, in which they took a great "national" pride. They deemed themselves by virtue of their ingenuity, invulnerable. In due course God was to humble that pride.

Pride if it be the wrong kind of pride — is a besetting sin. It can lead to arrogance too easily. This is the kind of pride upon which God frowns. The inner pride, that of being a man in God's image or of aspiration to all that is good in man meets with His approval. But there is a difference!

One is ever mindful of the sovereignty of God, the other is divorced from God. Should ever, it measures its pride in terms of superiority over others, then it is doomed. If, however, it measures its pride in the accomplishments of God, by being, and is truly motivated by Christian standards, the word "pride" never consciously enters into it; it is not beset by arrogance. One is the sin, full-pride of a sense of self-sufficiency; the other is simple trust in goodness and love. The two can never be compatible. Paradoxically, pride is the offspring of humility — TRUE pride, that is.

For mankind the only way to discover a meaningful and rewarding way of life is to acknowledge our true dependence upon God.

Arrogance enters the picture when he disregard God in our lives. We cannot make it alone, without His help. For it is through His grace that we accomplish that of which we are capable. We must ever be mindful of that fact.

The spirit of arrogance, which blocks communication between one individual and another, between one nation and another, between man and God.

Christ, himself was the most humble of individuals. He thought with authority, He spoke with authority, He acted with authority — but He was ever mindful of God's supremacy. He was ever mindful of the Father's will.

MY WEEKLY SERMON

By REV. BLAIR T. HUNT, PASTOR, MISSISSIPPI BVD. CHRISTIAN CHURCH, MEMPHIS, TENN.

TEXT: "But we have this treasure in Earthen vessels, that the Excellency of the power may be of God, and not of us, 2 Cor. 4:7.

Yes, "We have this treasure that is the treasure of the knowledge of God in Jesus Christ, in earthen vessels." Human bodies that are subject to the limitations of the flesh, to injuries and ailments.

The truths of the gospel have been entrusted not to angels, but to frail and dying men. Men to frail and dying men. Men have frail bodies, frail minds, men are fragile vessels. The most vigorous in intellect is weak, the most lofty in genius is feeble. The most enlightened is ignorant.

God has chosen as ministers of the Gospel earthen vessels, fragile men. Heavenly treasures are in earthen vessels.

"We have this treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellency of the power may be of God, and not of us," which is another way of saying that important as these bodies are as our thoughts, our purposes, our spiritual treasure; that mind and spirit should dominate and control the affections when these faculties are baptized with the Divine Spirit and filled with the Goodness of God.

Let us thank God that we have this treasure in earthen vessels. Otherwise we might become unduly puffed up and arrogant.

Not only are our frail bodies broken physically but some times morally; and here the tragedy is greater because the treasure is affected. The moral wreckage of human beings is a sad sight. Tragic, indeed, are the men and women who throw themselves away for the playthings of life. There are human beings who mean well, who are weak, and the result is earthen vessels broken by temptation too strong for the weakened fibers of their characters.

Yet, the treasure is still housed, though imperfectly in earthen ware. Think of the men and women whose lives had been wrecked but who began all over again and made good. It is grandly true, "no shamed faced outcast ever sank so deep but yet might rise again and be a man." The young son in the famous "Parable of the Prodigal Son" was a weak earthen vessel to begin with. He passed from plenty to poverty, from popularity to loneliness; but the treasure was still there in the earthen vessel, and it responded to the call of home, nobility, the better way of life; and out of the wreckage, He was saved as by fire.

Men and women broken by sin have through repentance and a new beginning in Christ soared in mind and heart to Heavenly heights.

If our fragile vessels, our frail bodies have been broken by sin let us rise on the strong wings of Faith and Hope to new endeavors and new experiences. For it is grandly true that "if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: Old things are passed away; Behold all things are new."

Rev. Louise Lynom-Ivery will be guest speaker at the 11 a.m. services at Moody Chapel C.M.E. Church Sunday Aug. 16. She will speak from the subject: "Let Us Lay Aside Every Weight and the Sin Which Doth So Easily Beset Us, and Let Us Run With Patience the Race That is Set Before Us."

Rev. Mrs. Ivery is a CME evangelist and founder of Story Memorial CME Church and director of the South Memphis District Board of Evangelism. She is a graduate of Phillips School of Theology in Christian Education. She attended Rust College and Memphis Christian College.

At 3 p.m., the Rev. T. L. Tipton, pastor of Zion Baptist Church, Hernando, Miss., will be the speaker. Mrs. Gloria Bailey is chairman of Women's Day and Ernest Sanfield is chairman of Men's Day.

Rev. Rufus Fleming is the pastor.

In Behalf of Hal Suit

Forty Days, Forty Nights Campaign Promised By Jones

UPI—Promising an evangelistic campaign of "40 days and 40 nights," former Georgia Republican Chairman G. Paul Jones said over the weekend he has accepted the job of campaign manager for Hal Suit.

The Macon Republican made the announcement in a news conference here.

Jones, who directed the successful Georgia campaign for GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater in 1964, said he decided to join the Suit campaign last Saturday and decided then that for the 40 days and 40 nights from then until primary election day, he will wage a non-stop battle. The fight, he said, will be one of "political evangelism" waged by "hundreds of missionaries."

In announcing his support for the former Atlanta television newsmen, Jones also took a swipe at Suit's opposition in the GOP primary, especially State Compt. Gen. Jimmy Bentley.

Bentley and Fulton Superior Court Judge Jephtha Tankley, Suit's opponents in the GOP primary, both are former Democrats turned Republicans.

"It is plain that there are people involved in our primary who think Georgia Republicans can be whipped into line by some of the same people who have taken the Democrat Party to its political perdition," he said.

Suit Friday had announced that Frank Troutman of Augusta, a GOP county commissioner, would head up his campaign advisory committee.

Earlier last week he also picked up the endorsement of 5th District Chairman Dr. Bill Dowda.

Profit From River

Memphians are invited to enjoy the cool breezes of the Mississippi River with volunteers of God will Homes abroad the Memphis Showboat, Friday Aug. 14, from 8:30 p.m. to midnight.

The generous support of Memphians at the first such activity enabled the organization to furnish one room of the new cottages which were a recent addition to the institution.

The second annual "Moonlight Cruise" will help provide additional transportation for more than 30 children at the Homes.

For tickets and additional information phone Good will Homes for children, 396-7412 or contact any Volunteer.

Mt. Gilliam Celebrates

Mt. Gilliam Baptist Church, 1029 Raymond St. (Orange Mound) will observe its 46th anniversary Sunday, Aug. 16, with a special program at 2:15 p.m. Mrs. Rosie Lee Jamerson will preside.

Among those appearing on the program will be Mrs. Emma Ward who will give the occasion. Mrs. Irene Richardson, the church's secretary for 38 years, will read the resolutions.

Also featured on the afternoon program will be the deacons, trustees and mother's Board. The Rev. J. D. Jamerson, pastor, will preach the anniversary sermon. Music will be rendered by a mass choir of 100 voices throughout the day.

Plan Confab For Faculty

Dr. Harold Stinson, president of Stillman College, Tuscaloosa, Ala., will address the opening session of a two-day conference planned for faculty and staff members of LeMoyné-Owen College.

He is scheduled to speak to the group on "The Purpose of a Liberal Arts Education" at 9 a. m. Monday, Aug. 24, in the Little Theatre located in the Student Center.

The theme of the conference will be related to the self-study which the college will undertake for the 1970-71 school year. In a letter to faculty and staff members, Dr. Lionel Arnold, academic dean, said: "On Aug. 24-25 we shall be studying the purpose of the college."

LeMoyné-Owen will be evaluated later in the school year by a visiting committee of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. The college is already accredited by the Association.

The afternoon session of the opening day of the conference will offer a panel composed of faculty members, Mrs. Ernestine Peoples, Dr. Paul Hayes, Dr. Walter W. Gipson and Edward Ouellette.

Douglas M. Wilkins, graduated from LeMoyné-Owen "with distinction" last June, also will be on the panel.

The second day of the conference will be devoted to the organizational aspect of the self-study, with committee meetings at the morning session. Operation of the college and registration procedures will occupy the afternoon session.

Classes will begin Aug. 31 following the Aug. 26-28 registration period.

THERE IS A REAL LURE IN HAWAII

There is more behind Heisman Trophy winner Mike Garrett the Kansas City Chiefs' star running back, quitting National Football League competition following the 1970 season, to seek a career in baseball with the Los Angeles Dodgers, than meets the newspaper reports. NFL is so strongly policing its image and the conduct of top performers that undercover investigators and informers are keeping such close sleuthing practices that many players have virtually no private life.

For example, Garrett drafted by baseball in its recent draft while keeping a close tab on its major leaguers, on-and-off field activities, has not been quite as provocative despite an interesting number of incidents which have made headlines. Garrett in a recent interview gave his reason for preferring baseball. Noting "I have heard its different in baseball. I hope so. Right now, the coaches tell us how to dress, where to go and what jobs, we'll have in the off-season. With the Kansas City Chiefs, if you're one second late in reporting to your room at night socked $500. We had $10,000 in the kitty when the season ended. Maybe, I don't particularly care for that. Maybe if I hung around in football I would hurt the team. I want to leave football while I am on top."

STRATEGICALLY the best advice that a minister ought to give a couple is that "a good run is better than a bad stand. Somebody should have told Gen. Custer this at Little Big Horn. There might never have been that shocking massacre!

NOW FOR GIRLS, who have just about given up hope of marriage and enjoy a modern day re-actment of Tolstoy's WAR AND PEACE, statistics show that the best hunting ground for matrimony is Hawaii.

In Honolulu, Hawaii, this tiny news item appeared in print. Read it and girls of little faith and faint hearts, please take note: "Among those 14 years of age or older, single males outnumber single females by 31 per cent, said Robert C. Schmitt, the State's statistician. In other words, for every 100 single women over 14 there are 191 single men."

FOR BACHELOR GIRLS AND SPINSTERS—There is just about every list of eligibles that commonsense scheming, and chiseling can devise, but the maneuverability of a man into marriage, is perhaps the most unworldly trap yet to be conceived or invented.

National firms that sell cosmetics, deodorants, bad-breath killers, eye-make up, powder and the designers who lower or shorten the hemline, and emphasize top-less or bottom-less or leave it off altogether will tell you that there is no surefire guarantee to get a man to pick up pen and quill and put his signature on that marriage license.

Hollywood filmmakers in recent years have become obsessed with movie scheming on how to trap a guy into the so-called bliss that magically can be achieved with all variations of allurements and entrapment.

Yet, if you dove-tail right down to the nitty-gritty, one of the most difficult adventures in American life is landing or luring a guy to his vows and keeping him after the strains of the wedding march has long lost its usefulness. Social workers in this nation, allied with the courts and the enforcement are seeking thousands of husbands who have fled the responsibility. Nowadays, guys and Dolls get their certificates in judo and karate long before the walk the middle of the aisle.

COOKIE GILCHRIST Carlton "Cookie" Gilchrist, who once said that he was the best fullback who ever lived, has finally beat old nemesis Jim Brown at something.

When the NFL-AFL records were lumped together, Cookie turned out to have gained more yards than any other in a single game.

Brown's record of 237 yards in a single game was eclipsed by Cookie's 243 yard job that he did on hapless New York in 1963. Brown still has gained more yards than any other full back in the history of pro football, however.

ALBANY STATE College's Sanford Natatorium has been chosen as the site for the 1971 Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (SIAC) Championships on February 19-20.

According to Obie W. O'Neal the College's athletic director and Wilburn A. Campbell, head swimming coach, the '70-'71 championships, which were held in Orangeburg, S. C. last year, were awarded to Albany State at the Conference's annual meeting this past spring. Announcement of Albany State as the site for the conference's swimming meet was made by the SIAC president, C. L. Dunn of Alabama State University.

Morehouse College, the defending SIAC swimming champion, along with Florida A & M, South Carolina State, Fort Valley State, Alabama State and Albany State, will lead a host of SIAC aquatic teams seeking the '71 title.

The tourney, held at the Pierre Marquis Golf Course in Alcapulco, Mexico, drew 90 golfers and 400 participants.

Bill Cosby Show Set For August 23, At Stadium

Bill Cosby, actor, comedian and physical education enthusiast, will headline a galaxy of the nation's top entertainers, Sunday, August 23rd at Atlanta Stadium.

It may not be generally recognized that Cosby portrays all three roles in his NBC-TV coast-to-coast feature "The Bill Cosby Show" which will return this fall among the top 10 interest-getters of the media.

The versatile Cosby made the transition from comedy monologists in the NBC-TV series "I Spy" in which he co-starred with Robert Culp. He won three Emmy awards for his portrayal of the role.

An on-the-go performer, Cosby was emcee for the giant Joe Louis benefit show last Wednesday at Detroit's Cobo Hall. He has made numerous other benefit performances for former show business greats and charities. Cosby comes to Atlanta Stadium, Sunday August 23rd under the sponsorship of Supersonic Attraction of which Atlanta businessman Henry Wynn is president.

His appearance will be a one night, in person affair and he will bring some of the top stars of Stax/VOLT Recording Company of Memphis, Tenn. Among the entertainers to be spotlighted in the giant entertainment spectacle will be Isaac Hayes, the balladeer, blues stylist William Bell, the sensational "5 Steps", the Velvetones plus many, many other acts.

Tickets for the giant Bill Cosby show, which marks his first major "in person" appearance in Atlanta are at regular locations.

John Carlos Sidelined Six Weeks

PHILADELPHIA—(UPI)—John Carlos, the Olympic champion sprinter who is trying to become a professional catcher with the Philadelphia Eagles, has been sidelined for at least six weeks with a knee injury.

Carlos injured the knee while running during a light workout at Franklin Field, a team spokesman said. DR. JAMES E. NIXON, team physician, said he would operate on Carlos to repair a torn medial collateral ligament in the right knee.

Nixon said Carlos will not be able to resume practice for at least six weeks. Carlos, drafted 13th by the Eagles although he never played college football, signed his contract less than a month ago and began

George Jimmerman Signs Florida A&M Cage Pact

TALLAHASSEE, Fla.—Florida A & M University has signed its first white basketball player as well as the 1969 high school individual scoring champions in Texas and Indiana to highlight a banner recruiting year, according to FAMU cage coach Ed Oglesby.

George Jimmerman of Chicago, Ill. became the first white basketball player ever to sign with the Rattlers and Oglesby said the 6-5 cager is a strong rebounder and could possibly be a starter this year since freshmen are eligible for varsity competition in small colleges.

Oglesby is also very high on 6-2 Luther Robertson of Dallas, Tex., and 6-3 Reginal Lipscomb of Muncie, Ind., who were the leading scorers in their respective states in 1969. Five other cagers who have inked Rattler pacts are Crandall Casey (6-6), Tampa; Jesse Lawrence (6-6), Tampa and Tyrone Sparrow (6-5), Orlando.

Casey, Lee, Reeves and Lawrence are exceptionally excellent rebounders," Oglesby said. "Reeves and Lawrence are also prolific scorers. Sparrow is a versatile athlete who is good on the boards and has a good eye for the basket, either in close or from long range."

Oglesby has coached basketball at FAMU for the past 20 years and has compiled a 366-126 won-lost record. His teams have won the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference visitation championship 11 times and the tournament championship 10 times, more than any other team in the league.

He has a young team already, basically sophomores and juniors, and with the fine crop of recruits he just signed, he has the nucleus of a team, although not extremely big, that could develop into a small dynasty.

He lost most of his big guns off last season's 12-12 team but has 10 returning and neither is a senior. In fact, there will be only one junior on the squad and he's 6-1 Johnny Hall. The other nine

HOT WATER ANGLING Being in hot water usually means being in trouble, but this isn't necessarily so when it comes to fishing.

In many areas of the country there are "hot water" lakes where fishing is excellent both summer and winter. These bodies of water are adjacent to electrical generating plants which use the lake's water as part of their steam generation process. Cool water is taken into the plant and warm water is returned to the supply reservoir.

In many places this warm water creates a year around primary food source — plants and animals which are forage for desirable species of fish. In some lakes, the area near the water discharge becomes rich with food; in turn, the fish become fat and sassy.

Species of fish found in these discharge water reservoirs are varied, according to information received by the fishing department at Mercury Outboards. In western Wyoming, for example, a coal-fired steam generation plant returns water to a lake where trout fishing is excellent. There, rainbows of three and four pounds are taken by deep trolling along the fringe area of the hot water discharge.

Other examples can be found in Missouri, where coal-fired generation plants at two locations offer good bass and crappie fishing the year 'round.

Not all the facts are known about hot water discharge into rivers and lakes. In some areas, anglers are opposing proposed nuclear-powered electrical generation plants for fear hot water discharge will seriously damage local fishing. Research into the problem is continuing, and while the story isn't complete yet there are some reservoirs where a water recycling process is being used. The fishing gang at Mercury suggests you check nearby power plants and learn what is happening in this "hot water" fishing.

What's keeping you from looking good? Damaged hair?

Over-processing isn't the only cause of damaged hair. All hair can be hurt by exposure to sun and extreme weather. Or by improper use of harsh chemicals or greasy compounds... or even just brushing your hair without a natural bristle brush.

The beauty experts know how important natural "lubricants" are to your hair—they give it body, lustre and protection. Artificial bristles actually brush away the lubricants... the sun burns them away... chemicals dry them away. And before you know it, you have damaged hair—split ends, brittle, breaking, dry-ox dull, limp hair.

Now you can bring your hair back to beautiful. Trained beauticians know Clairol condition™—The Beauty Prescription for Troubled Hair. It softens split ends. It makes dry, dull and limp hair silky, shining and stronger. Takes just two minutes (for Instant Lotion) or a few more minutes (for the Beauty Pack).

If you're concerned about the shape your hair's in, go to the expert, your professional hairdresser, to check it. You'll end up with a beautiful head of hair. And keep on looking good!

By the way... by Joe Black

Do you know a grocer who'll give you a basket of food because you tell him you hate what he stands for? Or a landlord who will let you live rent-free because you yell Black Power. Or an employer who will offer you a job with a future because you're wearing an Afro hair style? I don't. Yet many of our black youth seem to be trying to "make it" just that way. The reasoning escapes me. And the tactics being used are doing great harm to the black community.

Now don't misunderstand me! I can see some positive results of this "new thing"... the natural hair-dos and the Black Power concept. Black people do have a new pride. We are no longer ashamed of our skin color or our heritage. We have a togetherness we never had before. But all of these gains, all of the pride and unity will go right down the drain if black youth continues to ignore reality. We've all got to recognize that success and "sell-out" are not the same thing. That thing called "the establishment" is not going to fade away because people call it names. We've all got to realize that the "establishment" can pay money for jobs that most black businesses cannot afford.

Think about that! And chances are it'll come to you... that chanting slogans, spewing hate and changing your physical appearance won't stop hunger pains, or get you a solid job with a future. Start remembering that success is not a dirty word. Remember it for yourself, for your future and self respect, and for the dignity of black people everywhere.

TIPS ON CAR CARE

More Bounce To The Ounce Can Be Dangerous Have you ever ridden down a bumpy street and watched the vehicle in front of you bounce along like a basketball being dribbled by a Globetrotter?

That bouncing effect is caused by worn or broken shock absorbers. Shock absorbers are a key part of your car's suspension system. They prevent dangerous shifts in your car's weight when it accelerates, stops, turns or changes lanes, according to B.F. Goodrich engineers.

Stopping without a good set of shock absorbers results in the car's nose mashing down while the rear comes up, putting all the car's weight on the front tires. Accelerating has the opposite effect. The car's nose comes up, the rear end goes down and the rear tires squeal and bounce along because the rear shocks can't hold them on the road.

Both of these conditions cause unnecessary tire wear and lessen control, but they probably aren't as hazardous to your health as having to change lanes in a hurry at turnpike speeds with inadequate shock absorbers. Why? Because as you change lanes quickly at high speeds your car's weight will shift to the side to which you're turning. As you try to correct for the shift and try to straighten out in your new lane, the car heels heavily over in the other direction. Overcorrection can worsen the condition and the ultimate result can be total loss of control at turnpike speeds.

The danger can be prevented by a simple test you can perform yourself. While the car is parked, give each fender a hard, fast shove down. If the car bounces like a rubber ball... well... don't go into any fast curves on the way to your service store for a new set of shock absorbers.

Shock absorbers, like cars, come in different models. When you buy them, make sure you get the type that best suits your needs. For everyday driving, standard shock absorbers are fine. However, if you intend to do a lot of trailering or carry heavy loads frequently, you'd better get the heavy-duty variety.

Of course, heavy-duty shock absorbers cost you some of that soft ride that Detroit cars are noted for, but they are worth it. The best route, if you're the "have your cake and eat it too type," are the adjustable shock absorbers. These have a valve on them that allow you to adjust them "hard" for loads or "soft" for just loafing along on a Sunday afternoon.
