SHAPING UP ON CAMPUS—The million-dollar science-mathematics learning center is beginning to rise on the LeMoyné-Owen College campus. The ultra-modern building is scheduled to be completed by June 1. The structure is to be paid for out of cash gifts and pledges totaling $1,600,000.

POVERTY ISSUE IN MEMPHIS SPLITS BLACK LEADERSHIP

A faction of Negro leaders opposing restructuring of the Memphis War on Poverty Committee won the first round this week in their battle with City Council, the Shelby County Court and OEO officials.

The faction, headed by the Rev. Ezekiel Bell, president of the Memphis chapter of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference in getting a hearing changed from Thursday afternoon of this week to the night of Oct. 16.

Rev. Mr. Bell contended that poor people would not be able to attend the afternoon meeting, which had been scheduled for 2:30 in the Council chambers, because many of them would be on their jobs.

The rescheduled night ses-tion will be held at 7:30 p. m. in the County Court auditorium.

Even as the faction of Negro leaders was winning the first round of the WOPC dispute there was evidence of a split developing within the blackpower structure.

Mrs. Cornelia Crenshaw, who lives in a home that is without water, gas and electricity because she refuses to pay the garbage collection fee, charged that "black traitors" within the Negro community are siding with the white power structure and working against the interest of poor people. She said they are the people the city and county government plan to put in charge of the local WOPC.

The Rev. James M. Lawson Jr., pastor-on-leave of Centenary United Methodist Church is on the committee that proposed the restructuring plan as a means of giving new life to the controversial WOPC program.

The Rev. Harold Middlebrook, assistant pastor of Greater Middle Baptist Church also was listed as a Negro leader favoring restructuring of the local NAACP during the NAACP's recent fight with the Memphis Board of Education.

Bell said "We want it clear

Deaths Unveil Mystery Of Big House On So. Parkway

Neighbors often wondered what went on inside the big two-story stucco house that sits near the rear of a spacious lot at the northwest corner of South Parkway East and Barksdale.

Tragedy struck the 26-room house Saturday night, unveiling some of the mystery that hovered over the ghostlike building.

When fire hit the structure late Saturday and claimed the lives of three persons, a police investigation began to unravel the mystery. The building served as living quarters for some, a "nursing home" for several aged persons, and the headquarters for a church, the Assembly of God in Jesus' Name.

Nineteen-year-old Rev. Franklin King Zollicoffer, a Memphis State student and minister of the church, was quoted by investigating officers as saying his grandmother, Bishop Ardessa Tennyson, started the enterprise about 15 years ago.

The young preacher was quoted as saying 10 persons lived in the house, four of them convalescents.

Police officials Monday, after a thorough investigation, called the building a firetrap and revealed that the owners had no license to operate a nursing home. The late Saturday night fire created a traffic jam. Several firemen were felled by smoke. Those who died in the blaze were listed as Mrs. Amanda Smith, about 70 and a widow; Mrs. Emma Jackson, about 70, and Mrs. Della Carter 34.

Critically injured were James Coffey and Porter Moore, both about 65.

Magicians Slate Meet

LeMoyné-Owen College's five-man cross-country team will open its season Saturday, Oct. 10, against Tougaloo College at Tougaloo, Miss.

Coach Jerry C. Johnson said his squad will make four other appearances, all out of town. The Magicians will run against Fisk University at Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 17, and participated in the TIAC meet, Oct. 24, at Sewanee, Tenn.; the NAA District No. 24 meet, Oct. 31, at Cumberland, Ky. and the Volunteer State Athletic Conference meet, Nov. 7, at Martin, Tenn.

Three freshmen are on the LeMoyné-Owen team, Larry Davis, James Martin and Hammond Seay, all from Manassas. The other two members are T. W. Hayslett, a junior from Manassas, and Bennie Liggins, a sophomore from Northside.

Lee Calls For Black "Summit Conference"

George W. Lee, a Memphis businessman and former Republican whip in West Tennessee, this week called for a Summit Conference of local black leaders to bring about "greater unity."

In a prepared statement, Mr. Lee said: "There is in Memphis, today, a prime need for a summit conference from every level of our citizenry for the purpose of developing greater unity in the black community, a black community that was once united, but today is torn apart into splinters.

"There needs to be a community-wide consensus of what can be done politically, socially, economically, and educationally. We have a mandate from history, we have a mandate from the dead; we have a mandate from the living, to make the black vote in November a forceful instrument to keep the trend of freedom, of justice and equality moving forward. "What we do with our vote in the November election will determine the kind of atmosphere we shall live in, in Memphis, for many years to come. The future of the Negro in Memphis and everywhere depends on the ballot box for those who can work. The ballot and the dollar are the two weapons that will create an atmosphere in which all of our problems, can be fairly solved in the brilliant sunshine of a democratic tomorrow."

"I think it is time for a summit meeting of the leadership of this community for the purpose of arousing the black people in Memphis, in the last Primary Election less than 35% of the registered Negroes actually went to the polls and voted. If this kind of apathy, if this kind of indifference is exercised by the Negro in the November election we can only hope for the most dire consequences. Consequences that will turn back the clock and press us deeper in the quagmire of second-class citizenship. "The whole country is looking to the black leadership in Memphis to arouse the average voter to embrace the seriousness of this November election so that they will go to the polls for the purpose of bringing our full strength to bear in the election of candidates who can offer a remedy of our community and national sickness which springs from our inability to come to terms with our identity as a racially mixed community.

"It is our fight. It is our responsibility. It is our challenge to get out the vote to the last man, to insure the election of fair-minded candidates, whether they be Republican or Democrat. Just candidates who will broaden the climate in which rational men and women, black and white, can work together in an atmosphere of goodwill in an effort to find a happy solution to the problems that fret and trouble our domestic scene.

"In Memphis we boast of some 80 odd thousand qualified black voters. This re-

Nurses Club Plans Recital

The Registered Nurses Club of Memphis will present Vincent Cole, tenor soloist, in a benefit recital Sunday Oct. 18, at 4 p.m. at the Metropolitan Baptist Church, 767 Walker Ave. Donation is $1.

Mr. Cole gave a previous recital for the club in Memphis at the age of 12 and received a standing ovation.

The club is a non-profit organization and has contributed to such organizations as Good will Homes, Beale St. Day Care Center, and provided nursing scholarship. Proceeds from this concert will be used for a day care center.

Mr. Cole is a junior at University of Missouri and hopes to become an opera singer.

'YW' Starts Fall Program

The Sarah Brown Branch of the YWCA kicked off its fall program at the annual Autumn Ice Breaker, Thursday, Oct. 8.

As is traditional at the YWCA, members also observed world fellowship in the YW and its work with women in some 80 countries.

Guest artists at the event were members of the Union Valley Baptist Church Youth Choir, under the direction of David Flagg.

Miss Naomi Creswell, Mrs. Nettie Brown, and Mrs. Lois Greenwood were in charge of the program. Mrs. Mary W. Collier is YWCA Branch chairman.

MURAL ON DISPLAY—Mrs. Julia Camp, local florist, and George Walker, Memphis State University artist, take a final look at Mr. Walker's mural which was on display at the Mid-South Fair. The mural was part of the exhibit of the Allied Florists Association in the Horticulture Building. Mr. Walker, a graduate student in communications at Memphis State, is an experienced commercial artist. Mrs. Camp is the president of Louise Oglesby-Flower Shop, Inc., at 911 Kerr.

LeMoyné-Owen Plans Religious Life Week

LeMoyné-Owen College will observe its annual Religious Life Week, Oct. 12-16.

The Rev. Edward Ouellette, the college chaplain, said a team of religious leaders will be on campus during the week to conduct services and sit with students in discussion groups.

Heading up the team of visitors will be a 1960 graduate of LeMoyné-Owen, Dr. Ronald Cunningham, now a professor of religion at Lane College, Jackson Tenn.

Other members of the team include Louis Harvey, a 1967 graduate of LeMoyné-Owen and now a student at Colgate Rochester Divinity School; the Rev. Edward E.

Good, new minister of second Congregational Church, and Miss Pamela Haley, a student at Memphis Theological Seminary.

Rev. Mr. Ouellette said "during this week a campus wide opportunity is offered to explore the relationship between present life at college and any convictions, or present lack of convictions, a student may have concerning matters of religion."

Tells Blacks: "Split Ticket"

A former State Senator from Kansas, Edwin T. Sexton, Jr., special consultant to the Republican National Committee urged black Tennesseans not to support the full Democrat slate this year.

"The blacks have become disillusioned and disenchanted with the Democrat Party over the country. More especially the blacks of Tennessee are more acutely aware that he is a captive of a one-party system in Tennessee Mr. Sexton said.

Sexton was in Memphis consulting with Harrell Moore, real estate broker, who recently ran for County Commissioner and Melvin Cummings and Clifford Miller who are running for State Representatives.

Sexton said blacks should learn to split the ticket in November and vote for those Republican who work for the best interests of blacks people.

Sexton stated the one-party system in Tennessee has slowed progress in Tennessee and worked against the best interest of black citizens. "I would certainly urge the black citizens of Memphis and all of Tennessee to do their demonstrating at the polls this year as free agents and not as tools of party bosses and split their ballot and vote for GOP candidates; Winford Dunn for Governor; Dan H. Kuykendall for U. S. Congress; Melvin Cummings and Clifford Miller for State Representatives.

Miss Golden Plans Study

Miss Addie M. Golden, an assistant librarian at LeMoyné Owen College, has accepted an invitation to participate in a library fellowship program in Minnesota, starting Oct. 19, and ending Nov. 14.

The four-week fellowship program will be conducted on the campuses of selected Minnesota colleges.

The program is sponsored by the Hill Family Foundation and the Southern Education Foundation, with the cooperative college Library Center in Atlanta serving as coordinator.

IN AKA CONTEST—These tots will be contestants in Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority's fashion marathon scheduled for Sunday, Oct. 25, from 6 to 9 p.m. in the Skyway of the Sheraton-Peabody Hotel. The annual affair will swell the sorority's scholarship fund. Youngsters in the contest, left to right: Darius Bruce Williams, son of Mrs. M. L. Williams; Ursula Marie Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Jones; Juandalyne and Jacquelynn, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Green; Sonja Gwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Terry H. Gwin and Eric Adair, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Adair. Not pictured is Samone C. Polk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel L. Polk.

Inside Memphis

PRETTY FACE ON WHBQ TV—The attractive addition to the WHBQ TV news department is Carole Hall, a native of St. Louis. She is the first black woman to appear as a newscaster on a local tube. Miss Hall is a graduate of Stephens College in Columbia, Mo., and completed a course in communications at Columbia University in New York last summer while doing some work for a New York TV station. "We have high hopes for her," said WHBQ's News Director Don Stevens.

100 APPLICANTS—Newly opened Memphis-Shelby County Legal Aid Services office processed 100 applicants during its first month of operation, according to Atty. George Brown, director of the government-funded agency. The agency is seeking space in the old Centenary United Methodist Church building, Alston and Mississippi, for a branch office.

TOUGH LUCK—While the Mitchell High School football team was losing, 16-20, to Douglass, thieves broke into the unguarded Mitchell gym and stole $70 in cash and clothing of several football players.

MORE BROKEN GLASS—The Memphis Board of Education voted an additional $31,457 to pay the cost of replacing broken glass windows at 17 schools—Maury, LaRose, Fairley, Kingbury, Springdale, South Park, Carnes, Getwell, East High Driver Education, Graceland, Community Learning Lab, Colonial, Sherwood Jr., Kansas, Richland and Westside.

CONCERN

Perhaps nowhere in the Bible are the attributes of the Christ-like life more beautifully described in the Beatitudes. (Matthew 5: Verses 3-9). They epitomize the Christian life and attitude.

"The poor in spirit" are those humbly and openly acknowledge their spiritual poverty — and go about repairing it — in Christ. And in this the key word is repentance of sins. An acknowledgement a striving to do better.

"Those who mourn" are those who, recognizing their poverty of spirit, mourn their condition, and strive to improve it.

"The meek" are those who humbly hand the direction of their souls to God, trusting in His omnipotence to bring something worthy out of their fleeting existence on earth.

Those who "hunger and thirst after righteousness" are those individuals who desire to be intimately related to God, and who strive to live a life of which He would approve.

"The merciful" possess an understanding heart, a blind eye, a truly loving disposition.

"The pure in heart" will not be swayed from the devotion they tender to their Maker... they are steadfast in their loyalty while the "peacemakers" unceasingly strive to reconcile man with man, and man with God.

None of these Christian attributes come to mankind naturally; they have to be striven for. They cannot be attained without God's help. And when we fail in that striving, we are content in the knowledge that God has taken note of our striving. He forgives our falls from grace. He "picks us up, dusts us off, and sets our feet on the right road again." Our lapses are not held against us in His heart; only our indifference.

The new person in Christ is changed from within; he has a new disposition, a new outlook, a new personality. By this he is known among his fellow men. By this he makes his presence felt in the affairs of man. By this he is a true witness.

What kind of witness are YOU?

NEW LIFE IN CHRIST

MEMORY SELECTION — "I am crucified with Christ; nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me; and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me." — (Galatians 2:20)

LESSON TEXT: Matt. 5:3-9 Luke 19:1-10; Romans 8:1-9; 2 Corinthians 5:17-21.

Last Sunday we studied what was unique in our faith. Today we are really studying an extension of that theme, for we now concerned with our admittance to a new life through Jesus Christ. And who could be more unique than this Personage?

Man, estranged from God by his foolish foibles and weaknesses, sinned repeatedly from the beginning of time. God, however, was never estranged from man. This is aptly demonstrated when we consider the sacrifice. He made in giving His only begotten Son, who died on the cross that the sins of mankind might be henceforth absolved.

When man, deeply and sincerely aware of the grace thus extended him, responds to a suitable degree, he is, indeed, "born again." Slifishness, which has hitherto been man's prime motivations, becomes self-sinness. Despair becomes hope. Indifference becomes music by the choir. At 3 p.m. Annual Choir Day will be observed at Prince of Peace.

Guest include: New Salem, Tillman Stareet; Shiloh Baptist, Summerfield and Promisland Baptist Churches. A skit "Do's and Don'ts of Choir Members" will be presented. Mrs. Eva P. Turner is pianist Marshall Alexander organist and James Seymour is president. Mrs. Esthe r Redd is program chairman. This is always an outstanding program of the gospel in songs. The public is invited to attend.

 PASTOR

 MEMPHIS, TENN.

I SEE AN ANGEL

TEXT: "I saw an Angel standing in the Sun." Rev. 19:7. Wherever I go among people, I see angels. They are not "standing in the Sun"; they are standing in the shadows... Shadows of sin. The angel within is hidden. It takes love's microscope to see the angel within a sinful mortal. Nevertheless, there is an angel there-in. There is an old familiar true story. I want to relate it briefly and use it as a platform to catapult my brief message.

The great sculptur, Michael Angelo, was walking through a builder's yard. He saw in a far corner a misshapen block of marble. It had been thrown away. Weeds had grown around it. It was almost hidden by debris, trash. The Sculptor asked the yardkeep what he was going to do with it. The yardkeeper said that it was useless and therefore thrown away. Michelangelo replied, "It is not useless, send it to my studio; I see an angel imprisoned in it." The yardkeeper had thrown it away, but the Sculptor saw an angel imprisoned. Months later the Great Sculptor unveiled a Statue of a beautiful angel, wings outspread; an angel carved from a misshapen block of marble thrown away. The Sculptor had set free an imprisoned angel.

Jesus Christ sees an angel in each human being. He died an ignominious death that imprisoned angels might be released, released from the bondage of sins, that chords that were broken by satan might vibrate again.

Out of thrown away misshapen marble, Jesus built his early church. The membership was made up of the riff-raff of society, cast-a-ways, slave girls, men and women for whose souls and bodies no man cared. True there were a few of wealth power and learning, but the great majority was unlearned ignorant cast-a-ways. In these people Jesus saw imprisoned angels... Angels with dirty faces. In Matthew, a

"X" in Governor "Y," in Senator "X." The rubble of racial prejudice bigotry and politics imprisons the angels with them.

We see angels on our street corners, the loafers, the crap shooters, the hoodlums that disgrace our race and nullify our leaders' efforts in this day of racial tension. It is our business, a business of love, to release the imprisoned angels. It is love and love alone that will bring about the release. When all else fails, love wins, for God is Love.

ELDER BLAIR T. HUNT IS HONORED ON 82nd BIRTHDAY

Mississippi Blvd., Christian Church Compliments Pastor with Birthday Dinner.

It was no accident that Elder Blair T. Hunt was honored on his 82nd birthday at the Mississippi Blvd. Christian Church on Wednesday of last week. Plans had been building up for weeks by members of the congregation who could not help loving such a wonderful minister and father. In fact it has often been said that Elder Hunt a native Memphian who was born Mid-Town Linden Avenue, has (for years) been the most outstanding the most popular and most loved and respected Black Memphian. It was Elder Hunt who had the most outstanding Testimonial ever given in Memphis when he retired as principal of Booker Washington High School. It was he who was given a new automobile at the dinner by leading city officials upon his retirement. He was the first and only Black to ever serve as a member of a Board of Education, and he is on the County School Board. The many other honors that have been bestowed upon him could never be remembered nor mentioned at one writing.

It was Mr. A. Maceo Walker prominent Nationally and Internationally, known business tycoon, chairman of the Board and one of the Founders of the Mississippi Avenue Christian Church who spoke for the occasion saying, and I quote "It was 1921 December when I met Blair T. Hunt, and it was then that I discovered electricity...He has done as much as any man to shape my life. You have heard of "Love thy neighbor as yourself" and "Jesus went about doing good. I have seen Blair Hunt who has done all of this. It does not require that a man be wealthy to be great. True greatness is told by what one does for others. Mr. life, Mr. Walker ended - has been much greater having known him. He is not a dictator but he would surely be a wonderful one if he were. Elder Hunt shaped destiny when he started out at Mississippi BLV Christian Church.

Mrs. Addie D. Jones, another devout member of the church, served as Toast Mistress, saying many beautiful things about her pastor. She presented Mr. Walker speaking of a member of the city's foremost family. She also presented Mr. J. T. Chandler who made the presentation of a fine suit (from the congregation) to Elder Hunt. Others on the time ly program were Elder Warner Benson who said Grace... and Mr. Charles Johnson who sang "In the Garden." Another member of the church asked to speak and he said that Elder Hunt has been a Heavenly Father for him.

Mrs. Letitia Poston General Chairman, presented her co-chairman, Mrs. Ida Crawford after which she too praised her beloved pastor.

Mr. Hunt's acceptance speech was a humble one and out of humility. For once he was really lost for words with big tears, large enough to be seen at a distance, dropping all around. He added and I quote: "The occasion is too wonderful for words. The Affair is beyond my expression. 1887. Linden Avenue...October 1, Blair Theodore Hunt was born. 48 years ago, the most wonderful thing happened to me. I became pastor of the Mississippi Blvd. Christian Church. I have had many tragedies too. First Dr. Blair T. Hunt Jr., my son, passed away in Boston. Then another son was found dead less than a year ago. I have found much happiness with Miss Harry M. Simon whose home I have found comfort. It was the late Dr. Julian Kelso who always gave me a suit on my birthday.... and Mr. Maceo Walker who always gives me more than a suit at Christmas. Elder Hunt also spoke of the late Dr. J. E. Walker, Mr. E. Bright and Mrs. M. W. Bonner saying that they made the congregation keep him as pastor, during early days.

A large number of friends sat at the Speaker's table that was centered by long stem red roses, and they were Miss Simon, Mrs. Christine Robinson Elder Hunt's private secretary at Washington High School for many years., Miss Jim Ella Cotten, Miss Dora Todd, Miss Rosa Robinson all who worked closely with him in the school system. Mrs. Johnetta Kelso who has been close to him since early childhood, Mrs. Maceo Walker and Mr. J. T. Chandler, both very close to their minister and Elder and Mrs. G. A. Edwards of the Walker Memorial Church built by the late Dr. J. E. Walker in memory of his wife.

Among the many members of the church who seemed to have been serving as hostesses were Mrs. Foster Wilson, Mrs. William Hughes, Mrs.

Emma Lee Wilson, Mrs. Ann Stribling, Mrs. Ida Mae Lockard, Mrs. Donald D'Conner, Mrs. Ann Weathers Mrs. Alma Brown, Mrs. Lena Crawford, Candy Walker, Bonnie Turner, Cheryl Shirley, Mrs. Ceneta Qualls and Mrs. Elizabeth Shaw.

Other members of the church noticed (and I do wish that I could have known and remembered all of the names) - were Mrs. Aline Lowe, Mrs. Esther Brown, Mrs. Sallie Bartholomew, Rev. and Mrs. Warner Benson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson, Mr. Harold Shaw and Little Harold, Mr. Horace Chandler, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Turner, Mrs. Angie Mitchell, Mr. Douglas Meiters, Mrs. Clara Collins, Mr. and Mrs. B. Billbrew, (she Clara) Mrs. Jimmy Mitchell, Mr. Harvey Doran and James Hulbert.

Other glimpses were Mr. & Mrs. Lloyd Hastings, George Parker, John Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge Williams, Aldein Powell, Paul Spearman, Mr. and Mrs. Donald O'Conner, Mrs. Elizabeth escorted by Mr. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boyle, H. L. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brown, Harvey Durant, Sam Qualls, Mrs. Wardington, Silas Washington, Mrs. Mamie Pamphlet Mrs. Clovis Exum and Mrs. Susie Blackmon, Assisting the many men who worked all evening was William Hughes who will give his time and car to drive Elder Hunt anytime he wishes to go a distance out of Memphis.

MR. MRS. LEROY BRUCE MR. MRS. FRANK WILLIAMS and DR. MRS. "IKE" WATSON ENTERTAIN AFTER EUROPEAN TRIP

"Rarity is an essential party of beauty," the minute anything becomes abundant, some of its beauty is lost. A trip to Europe is still a rarity and so was the elaborate party given by Pearl and Leroy Bruce, Mildred and Fran Williams and "Neet" and "Ike" Watson a month after their return from several European countries. All went with the exception of Dr. Watson who could not get away from his office, but all of them were enthusiastic about the party on Saturday night.

More than 100 guests were invited to the pretty and imposing newly remodeled residence of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce. All were perfect hosts and there was charm and warmth poured out of by the female hostesses who wore smart cocktail pants sets with an Oriental flair.

Vivid colored rose-buds enhanced the colorful decorations that certainly had a modern touch. A bar-tender never left the corner bar in the huge back recreation rooms where we saw pictures of their European tour along with some of their friends met who went on the trip and who also attended the party Saturday, starting off with their leaving Memphis and landing in Amsterdam. We followed them through Germany Switzerland France (seeing much of Paris London with emphasis on Parliament, Buckingham Palace, the Changing of the Guards, the Thames and London Towers. Atmosphere counts and the party Saturday evening had it. The formal living and dining area was an elegant spot with Mrs. Mabel Winfrey and her catering service serving dinner (a delectable one) served buffet style in a glowing candle light atmosphere. Every minute was a delightful one with a diversified group of friends. We find that people like to move about, so this is just what guests did as they got cocktails, food and for conversation and to change the pace in between films.

It is absolutely impossible to do justice to the beauty the courtesies extended and to say just how much guests seemed to have enjoyed last evening. Assisting in receiving were Mrs. Ethel Lockwood, the Williams' sister and Perry Anderson, Mildred's brother.

Among the approximately one hundred guests invited noticed during the evening - the Phil Booths, James Byas, Floyd Cambells, John Brinkleys, Harry Cash, Fred Rivers, John Outlaws, Frank Sims, E. Lewis, P. L. Burford, Haywood Thornton, Mrs. A. W. Willis, Jr., Lawrence Westleys Pres and Mrs. Rankins and Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Boden.

NASHVILLE -- Approval of a $77,800 grant for continuation of a program of undergraduate training in social welfare at Tennessee State University was announced last week by State Welfare Commissioner Herman L. Yeatman.

The program offers a major in social welfare under the direction of Mrs. Anne B. Martin of the TSU sociology faculty.

In announcing the grant, Commissioner Yeatman said, "As head of the state's largest social agency, I see daily evidence of the need for manpower trained in social welfare at the undergraduate level. If we are to live up to the expectations of the people who come to us, we must look to the state's universities and colleges to prepare workers for this vital field."

Bethel Will Hear Laymen

L. H. Falls, elder and lay minister commissioned by the West Tennessee Presbytery, will deliver the message at the regular 11 a.m. service, Sunday, Oct. 11, at Bethel United Presbyterian Church.

Odell Horton, president of LeMoyné-Owen College, will speak at the 5 p.m. service

Coffeehouse For Osborn

A coffeehouse for Memphis young people will be opening this weekend in--of all places--the campaign headquarters of a candidate for U. S. Congress. The coffeehouse will serve as a place for the city's youth to get to know each other, drink coffee and soft drinks, eat popcorn, listen to music--and talk politics.

The staff of Ninth District candidate Michael Osborn has given part of its headquarters at 1519 Madison to be used for the night spot, Dubbed "Osborn House," the coffeehouse will open this Saturday night, and will be a gathering place for young people six nights a week--8:30 p.m. till midnight Monday through Saturday.

According to Karin Hubert, coordinator for the coffeehouse activities, "The Osborn staff hopes this can be a place where young people will go--a place to enjoy each other and to discuss the issues confronting all of us in American society in 1970."

Rust Awaits Gospel Choir

LeMoyné-Owen College's student gospel choir is scheduled to make its first public appearance of the season Oct. 15, at Rust College in Holly Springs, Miss.

Fred Mosbey, a senior, is director of the 40-voice singing groups which was organized by students last year.

The gospel choir attracted citywide attention last school year, while performing in schools and churches.

The choir was organized after Mr. Mosbey and Calvin Coleman, a former student, decided the college needed more "Soul" music.

M. Mosbey is organist and minister of music for St. Stephen's Baptist Church on Chelsea.

Shopping Sears with

JOAN October is Coat Month

This is the month for tricks-or-treats. And in keeping with the season, Sears has plenty of treats in store for you during your next visit. A real coat bonanza is just waiting for your shopping pleasure.

There are colors and fabrics galore, representing all the glorious tones of autumn, such as barnished gold, warm rusts, fiery oranges and earthy browns. For those who desire, Sears offers exciting combinations of the fall colors in addition to most year-round favorites.

Choose your style

Sears has a wide selection of coats in the latest styles and lengths. Whatever your preference--including the new mid-calf look--you will find it at Sears. Over the years, I have discovered one style that has been most becoming and flattering to me. Like most of you ladies, however, too often I have not always had a choice or selection. There is nothing exciting about deciding between a navy, black or brown coat. Fortunately, Sears has not forgotten us slightly plump ladies. In fact, they may have remembered us too well. I was late picking up my husband last Saturday because there were so many beautiful coats that I simply lost track of time.

Sears coats offer fine fabrics from the leading mills of this country and more from abroad, in order to give you the most up-to-date selection anywhere. My personal favorites are the bubbly Boucles. Donegal-style tweeds, tweeds of wool, of acrylic and of nylon blends... looped fabrics of wool and nylon as well as snappy checks are just a few of the fabrics you might want to choose from.

Exciting New Styles

Even the sad pumpkin faces will smile at the gigantic selection of smart styles for the country set. You can have your choice of safari styles, the double-breasted look, the Mandarin collared types... all with or without fur-trimmed collars. There are fashion-powered compact coats, just perfect for those quick shopping trips that pop up when you least expect it. For those really biting cold days, on which no self-respecting woman would ever be caught out, Sears offers you an entire forest of fabulous pile coats that look like fur and are impossible to tell from the real thing.

Don't be tricked this year into buying the same old style or with just being satisfied with the same old fabric. Stop in at Sears and be treated to the biggest coat selection I know of. I think you'll agree, any coat you select will be a treat.

'Fire Prevention' Hints

Best Way To Protect Job Is To Do It Well

By DEAN O. MILLER UPI Business Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — In times of business depression such as these the boss and his employees play a deadly "cat and mouse" game.

He looks around for ways of cutting "deadwood" or marginal help; the employee busies himself making certain he doesn't fit either category.

ROBERT HALF, president of a 34-city personnel agency bearing his name, over the years has noted examples of such company pruning and how employees fight back to preserve paychecks.

"YOU'RE TOO bright for your job according to the tests," said the boss. "You should be president of your own company."

Next thing the potential company president knew he was clearing out his desk. He had been fired.

A MANUFACTURING firm in Omaha expanded into the leasing business and brought in a high-priced, high-powered leasing expert.

Eighteen months later it got out of the leasing field and Mr. Leasing expert was out of a job. His big salary didn't fit into the smaller business picture.

SO WHAT time-tested "fire prevention" techniques are available to employees trying to protect their jobs in times of economic stress?

Become indispensable. Make certain you know your job better than anyone else around and see to it that your boss knows it.

BURN THE midnight oil. It is difficult to fire someone who comes in early and stays late.

Don't become "one of the gang." Large companies, looking for a substantial scapegoat, often will fire everyone connected with one office clique.

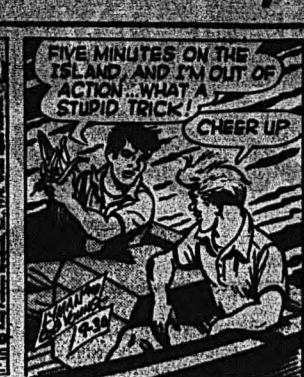

DEMONSTRATE company loyalty. It's amazing how quickly disgruntled remarks find their way to the front office.

Sunday School Lesson

NEW LIFE IN CHRIST something worthy out of their fleeting existence on earth.

MEMORY SELECTION — "I thirst after righteousness" are those individuals who desire to be intimately related to God, and who strive to live a life of which He would approve.

LESSON TEXT: Matt. 5:1-9 Luke 1:1-10; Romans 8:1-9; 2 Corinthians 5:17-21.

Last Sunday we studied what was unique in our faith. Today we are really studying an extension of that theme, for we now concerned with our admittance to a new life through Jesus Christ.

Man, estranged from God by his foolish foibles and weaknesses, sinned repeatedly from the beginning of time. God, however, was never estranged from man. This is aptly demonstrated when we consider the sacrifice He made in giving His only begotten Son, who died on the cross that the sins of mankind might be henceforth absolved.

When man, deeply and sincerely aware of the grace thus extended him, responds to a suitable degree, he is, indeed, "born again!"

Perhaps nowhere in the Bible are the attributes of the Christ-like life more beautifully described in the Beatitudes. (Matthew 5: Verses 3-9). They epitomize the Christian life and attitude.

"The poor in spirit" are those who humbly and openly acknowledge their spiritual poverty — and go about repairing it — in Christ. And in this the key word is repentance of sins. An acknowledgement of a striving to do better.

"Those who mourn" are those who, recognizing their poverty of spirit, mourn their condition, and strive to improve it.

The Chicago Fire

On October 8th, 1871, in Chicago—near or in Mrs. O'Leary's stable—straw was accidentally set afire by a pipe, a dropped lantern or by the cow, Mrs. O'Leary was milking kicking over her lantern. (Mrs. O'Leary always denied the famous cow story.)

Whatever the cause, conditions were just right for a fire. It was October, dry and a brisk wind was blowing. The fire that began near Mrs. O'Leary's stable burned down 20,000 houses and buildings, and left 100,000 people homeless.

A Circus. A hard-driving taximan ignored a red signal, threatened the traffic policeman's knees, missed the street island by an inch, and grazed a bus, all in one clash.

The policeman hailed him, then stropped over to the taxi, pulling a big handkerchief from his pocket en route.

"Listen cowboy," he growled, they tender to their Maker. "On your way back I'll drop they are steadfast in their loyalty and see if you can pick it up with your teeth."

None of these Christian attributes come to mankind naturally; they have to be striven for. They cannot be attained without God's help. And when we fall in that striving, we are content in the knowledge that God has taken note of our striving. He forgives our falls from grace. He "picks us up, dusts us off, and sets our feet on the right road again." Our lapses are not held against us in His heart; only our indifference.

The new person in Christ is changed from within; he has a new disposition, a new outlook, a new personality. By this he is known among his fellow men. By this he makes his presence felt in the affairs of man. By this he is a true witness.

What kind of witness are YOU?

Memphis Pros To Face N. Y.

The Memphis Pros are down to their last exhibition games and the countdown continues for the fast approaching regular season opener on Oct. 20.

The final tuneup game for the Pros will be Thursday night, Oct. 15. Babe McCarthy's Memphians will meet the Texas Chaparrals in the University of Tennessee at Martin gymnasium in Martin, Tenn.

The regular season lifter Oct. 20 will send the Pros against Rick Barry and the New York Nets in the Mid-South Coliseum.

"We're making good progress," noted McCarthy in the midst of the exhibition grind. "To be honest, we're actually a week behind where we should be at this point, but we're catching up."

Rookie forwards Wendell Ladner and Coby Dietrich have been impressive in exhibition performances and this has been a pleasant surprise for McCarthy. "I knew they'd be paying dividends, but they're coming along faster than I had expected," he said.

Included on the roster are forwards Gerald Govan, 6-10, St. Mary's of Kansas; Ladner; Wilbert Jones, 6-8, Albany State; Al Cueto 6-7, Tulsa; and Dietrich; centers Craig Raymond, 6-11, Brigham Young; and Lee Davis, 6-9, North Carolina College; and guards James Jones, 6-4, Grambling; Steve Jones, 6-5, Oregon; Skeeter Swift, 6-3, East Tennessee State, and Bob Warren, 6-5, Vanderbilt.

that we're for keeping the WOPC like it is. But, if it is going to be changed, we want the poor people to have some control over it since it's the poor people who will be affected."

It is no secret that the power structure would like to see Washington Butler removed as director of WOPC. White officials of the city and county contend he has lost control of the anti-poverty agency and they frown upon his Afro and the dashikis he wears. Mr. Butler says the Afro and garb help him relate to the poor in the ghettos.

Friction within the agency has not helped Mr. Butler's status either.

Memphians packed the City Council chambers last summer when a similar public meeting was held for the purpose of acting upon a resolution calling for Mr. Butler to take a long vacation with pay while a complete study of the agency could be made. The crowd was loud and noisy, a situation that the WOPC board chairman, the Rev. J. C. Miller, could not handle. The Office of Economic Opportunity in Atlanta has threatened to discontinue the

Under the restructuring plan, all present employees of WOPC would have to be re-hired.

Minority Loans Made Easier?

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Bank of America has published a practical guide to applying for minority business loans. The 28-page report provides the information a businessman needs to package his loan proposal, and suggests where to go and how to obtain financing.

"It is our hope that this report will encourage others to consider the possibility of starting or expanding their own business," the bank said in a statement.

Free Tests For Children

Preschool children in the city and county will be offered free tests for amblyopia or "lazy eye blindness." Thursday, Oct. 22, the day has been officially proclaimed "Fifth Annual Amblyopia Day in Memphis and Shelby County" by Mayor Henry Loeb.

Some 400 trained volunteers will test the eyes of children three to five years old at approximately 100 locations in the city and county, including public and Catholic schools, housing projects, the Memphis-Shelby County Health Department and neighborhood health centers, and the Memphis Area American Red Cross.

About four children in 100 are said to be affected by amblyopia, which is dimness of vision due to disuse of one eye.

Carawan On CBC Stage

Folksinger Guy Carawan leads off the 1970-71 CBS-Siena Arts Program series Friday, Oct. 9, at 8 p.m. in the college auditorium. Admission as always to these events, is free.

Carawan is best known for popularizing "We Shall Overcome" for the Civil Rights movement. He currently is folklorist — in residence at Pitzer college, Claremont, Calif. He teaches American folk music and Appalachia, in which students live and work in the communities.

He has appeared on TV, at concerts and festivals and has several recordings. He has played at several hundred colleges in the past 12 years. His home is South Carolina. His college programs are especially unique in that he paces his performance to maintain involvement with the audience.

We never go to church on Sunday. We go on Saturday.

"And God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it: because that in it he had rested from all his work which God created and made." (Genesis 2:3)

The Bible also tells us: "Six days shalt thou labour, and do all thy work; but the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God." (Exodus 20:8-11)

Why, then, do many Christians — sincere Christians, mind you — honor Sunday as the Sabbath? Bible scholars have the answer: man, not God, turned Sunday into a holy day.

We can worship God on any day, including Sunday; but Christ, Himself, rested on the seventh day. So did his disciples.

And so do we, the Seventh-day Adventist Church. We believe in the fundamental teachings of the Bible. And so, we keep the Sabbath as God has commanded, rather than following the traditions of man.

We also believe that men who substitute Sunday for the Sabbath are usurping God's authority. And that is tragic. If you have been observing Sunday as the Sabbath — or no day — does it really matter? Wouldn't you like to know? If so, we'll send you a special booklet just for the asking. (No one will call on you, but you may want to call on us.)

$1,500 Raised By Nurses For Kidney Foundation

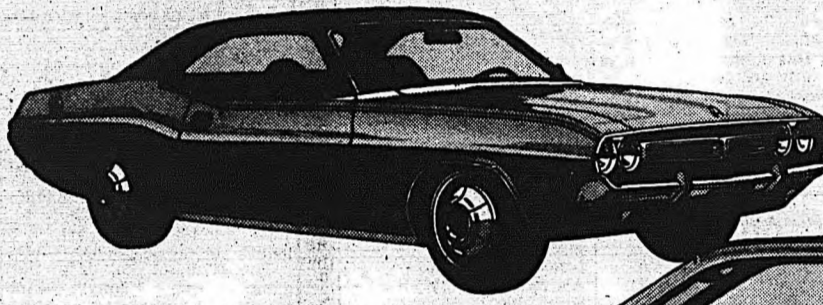

The City of Memphis Hospital School of Nursing Alumnae held its fifth annual fashion show Sept. 13 at the Sheraton-Peabody Skyway.

The theme used this year was "A carousel of Psychedelic Fashions." The models, with their many lengths, colors and fashions expressed just such a mood.

More than 500 attended the gala affair and Leroy Hobson, Memphis' first kidney transplant receiver, and wife were honored guests. All proceeds of the affair went to the founation. A check of $1500 was presented to the Memphis Kidney Chapter, Sept. 15, by the president of the alumnae, Mrs. Florine Rainey.

The City of Memphis Nursing alumnae as members of the kidney foundation will be working for and with the kidney foundation throughout the year. The candy drive is scheduled for the month of Oct. with all alumnae members selling bags of Holloween candy for the foundation.
