JUMP AHEAD OF THE WRECKING CREW----After near ly 48 years, Universal Life Insurance Company's Hernando-Street office closed its doors in the face of progress, and mov-ed to a new locationat 705 So. Parkway E., formerly headquar ed to a new locationat/05/50, Parkway E., 107 men's headquarters for Mahalia Jackson's food service.

A bit of nostalgia was involved in the move, as the Beale Street Urban Renewal Project took over the site of the company's first owned home office building. It has been used as a branch office since the home office occupied new quarters on Linden Avenue at Danny Thomas Blvd. in 1949.

The new branch office location on South Parkway East is Conveniently located with off-street parking, Presently underremodeling; the public will be invited to an open house upon its completion. Manager W. E. Bates wishes all Memphis policy owners to know that the office is now open, however, and policyowners are being serviced daily from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The telephone number is 774-0930.

Blues Lovers Mourn Dobbins In Niteclub

Members of the Memphis Jazz and Blues Club conducted a blues memorial -Sunday afternoon for Joseph W. Dobbins at the Nite-Lighters Supper Club, 147 Jefferson.

It was in tribute to the 69-year-old composer of lonesome blues tunes who died Dec. 10 at Crump Hospital.

Writing the tunes was a hobby. He never made much Coney as a composer. He made his living working as a waiter and playing the piano in night spots. Funeral services for Mr.

Dobbins were conducted Sunday night from Southern Funeral Home with Bishop J. O. Patterson and the Rev. A. D. Suggs officiating. Burial was Monday in New Park.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

OBSERVING CHRISTMAS AS CHRISTIANS

MEMCRY SELECTION: "The Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, and we beheld His glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father), full of gace and truth." (John 1:14)

LESSON TET: ohn 1-1-18 :

This week we will observe a time-honored event-the advent of Christmas. It is a season of jollity and happiness, expressed in an outpouring of gifts to our loved ones as to-ken of that love. But we must be ware of succumbing to (let's face it) the commercialism that has crept into the holiday over the years.

For Christmas has an even deeper meaning to us as Chris tians. A great part of the hap-piness we feel at Christmas-tide is derived from the greatest gift of all — the birth of a Saviour out of God's all-encompassing love for man-kind. Through this Birthday

Divine thought, Divine purpose. Divine manifestation — these are the keynote of the Christmas Season, For Christ Christmas Season. For Christ is the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost ... the Holy Trinity. He always has been, and He will be. He is the perfect Whole!

The way to Christ's advent on earth had been well pre-pared by an able advocate. John the Baptist was a dedicated messenger, chosen by God to move His mighty plan for mankind towards fulfillment. But. despite John's inspired rhetoric as history shows, the world was still not ready to accept without reservation the advent of Christ.
"He was in the world, and the world was made by Him, and the world knew Him not. He came unto His own, and His.

cwn received Him not." (John 1: 10-11). Perhaps these are the saddest words in the Bi-

But the Bible is a book of purpose. It is a book of hope.

Among the many that scoffed, there were still a goodly number who listended with their hearts, who accepted this wenderful new doctrine and dedicated themselves to its per petuation. And so, according to God's ancient promise. His Word did not return to His empty, but accompanied that which was His purpose.

This Christmas tide we ac knowledge and accept anow the gift of regeneration, for unto us, once again, a Child is given. If we fully accept Christ in our hearts, we have absolute faith in complete Christian re-birth

Let us vow, as we approach the season of Christ's birthday, to renew ourselves in the wonder of His Being; for Christmas if fully and deepby celebrated as a religious experience is, in ruth, an annual pilgrimage from which we can gather strength and great spiritual sustenance, renewing ourselves unto God pledging ourselves more fully to His service.

When the incarnation took place (the birht of he infant Jesus) the babe was poorly received, for ourselves was "no room at the inn."

Let us pause in the midst of our tralitional merry-making and surrounded by our loved ones, our lives bright with the merry laughter of children and grandchildren make our own personal covenant with God: that Christ will not be turned away from our hearts this Christmas. We will make room for him un-

(From The Atlanta Daily World)

The gigantic scope and diversification of small Negro colleges in the United States and the magnificent contribution of these institutions to democracy are land marks of an educational and cultural revolution unparalled any where in the world.

Most of these small colleges were born in the backwash of the Civil War and the formidable challenge of the economic, social and industrial revolution that was to follow.

ignored and fragementized, channelized in poverty and privation and with little of the fruits of the wealth of the nation, these institution eked an existence peril ous pinnacle of survital.

No where is this more vividly illustrated and illuminated than the schools of the Atlanta University Center. Clark, Morehouse, Morris Brown, Spelman, the Interdenominational Theological Center and Atlanta University who are now sculptured in this testimonial of survival aganist massive odds. In Neighboring Augusta, there is Paine College. Some 36 private schools are knowledgeable in the grim, step-by-step and laborious The state of the s

> Perhaps the most formidable helping hand in the augmentation and implementation of these schools to surmount the obstacles of a continuing existence has the United Negro College Fund.

Therefore, it is welcome news that Burrlington in-Industries having joined other awakened business and industrial firms in recognizing the singular worth and inestimable value of keeping these wide-awake schools alive with money and support.

Christmas. Then you will not "spend!" Christmas. You will keep Christmas". Let us prepare to keep Christmas in all of its ancients loveliness. Keep it in the sanctuary of our hearts.

Prepare for a spiritual Christmas, not a paganistic commercial XMAS. Paganistic. commercial Xmas means 'Get it now while the getting is good." A paganistic, commercial Xmas means druken brawls, thousands of accidents, thousands sent to the hospital, scores of people killed. Apaganistic, commercial Xmas means a carnival of mirth for the imps of Hell,

Let us prepare for a spiritual Christmas. Let us reach Bethlehem of Judea on Dec .-25th and Gaze into the baby face of Jesus and sing forth "Joy to the World, the Lord has come." Let us join that chori that sang "peace . on earth, good will to men."

Let us prepare to meet God on Christmas morning and gaze into the face of Jesus. Prepare now to go to Bethlehem of Judea, "Let us go now even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us." LUKE 2:15

Prepare for Christmas by preparing the heart, the mind, and the experience, and Christmas will take on a new beauty and meaning you had never known before.

ROBERT (ROUNDHEAD)LEE

A sadness passed over many of us last week when Robert (Roundhead) Lee passed away suddenly at his Baton Rouge home, Even though Robert and Jim, (his devoted wife) have lived together in Baton Rouge more than 25 years, we still claim them in Memphis...and always shall.

Robert, who was loved all over for his sunny care-free disposition, was affectionately known as 'Roundhead' by athletes all over the country and by his close friends since his school days. He was known. by two trademarks that were characteristic of him: One was his ever-ready smile and the other was the fact that he always knew everyone's name...and always called it when he met them, I could sum it up by saying that Robert was a "Prince of a Guy."

Both Robert and Jim (childhood sweethearts) attended grammar, high school and college at LeMoyne. Both were members of pioneer families.. and I would say that Robert was an exact image of his friendly father the late Mr.

wrence Lee. While Robert's death (after a sick spell on Thanksgiving day) saddened our hearts, we we were privileged to have known and associated with such a truly noble character as Robert.

My friendship was re-united with Jim and Robert during two summers that I spent at Southern University. It was to their beautiful modern home and that of Dr. and Mrs. Felton Clark, where I always went to wash and iron and spend hot evenings in Baton Rouge. It was to Felton (for years President of Southern University and also a close friend to both Jimmy and me) and to Robert who was also close to both of us that I went when I needed a favor in that area. Robert, who reached the top as Athletic Director (a big position under Dr. Clark at Southern) was down to earth, unaffected and kind to every-

In the far corners of the country athletics mour ned... for it is true that Robert was a most loved professor at Southern--as well as one who was qualified and willing to give and share (his belongings and praise) with others. He held a masters degree in health education from Ohio State University, He was more than a devoted husband, son and brother, he was a great warm human being. He was glant in athletics, an institution, a legend. He was a personality whose greatness transcended lavish adjectives.

You don't meet a person or personality like Robert more than once in a lifetime. He was a brilliant athlete, jolly and he did walk with Kings in the field of sports...never losing the common touch. The many designs carried a coming out of footballs, basket balls ... and they came from all over the country did many outstanding athletes and celebrities..Among them was Lou Brock of the St. Louis Cardinals who was trained by Robert. So did a sister-in-law, Mrs. Sarah Movse of Cincinnati go down two nieces who made their home with Jim and Robert, Pat and her husband and baby from Chicago...and Adele who is working toward the PhD in African Art at the University of Indiana.

We will always miss see-ing Robert around Memphis, Baton Rouge, and New Or-leans where they spent much of their time with his uncle. Apallingly enough, a U.S. government report shows that one of every ten families in America sheaded by a woman and 36 per cent of these fragmented groups are below the poverty level.

Man is no longer the head of the house and this compounds a phenomena that is contrary to civilized society. What has happened that makes the breadwinner go over the borderline of established family life?

As capricious as it may seem, the abandonment, neglect and the throwaway of orderly living under one roof is indeed of menacing concern.

Outrageous tragedies of normal social exchange under the protection of an organized family, the up-lift, culture and amenities which make existence as united group is being seribbility challenged and threat-

Able-bodied, men should accept their role in do mestic and cultivated living.

President Richard M. Nixon has offered Congress a new guaranteed income plan for low-income families. There is an argument in the plan that husbands be permitted to share in the upbring of their young. This legislation should be passed!

Think now, the proportions of families headed by women is the highest in history and the sorrowful picture is that this circumstance exists among the most poorly-educated and low income groups in the nation.

Choosing A Baby's Sex

In the December Reader's Digest, the fascinating work of two American doctors, who have been successful in devising a method by which many couples can now successfully choose the sex of their baby, is described in an interesting

While the method suggested, so simple parents can follow instructions themselves at home, is not always successful, the average of success has been well over eighty per cent among some groups; thus it can be said; for the first time in history, that parents now often have a way to determine the sex of their children.

No church has objected to the simple method offered, thus leaving the road clear and open to all who have a preference and want to choose the sex of their baby. Ineffective Drugs

It comes as something of a tetdown to the gullible to learn that many of the highly-touted drugs for which they heard such wonderful claims on television in recent years have been declared worthless by the U.S. Food and Drug

The USFDA recently released a list of 359 products or drugs which it said were ineffective. Evaluations were made by the National Academy of Sciences, and FDA doctors. Stop The Flood

Though the majority of Americans probably isn't aware of it, a flood of Cubans-many of them jobless-continues to pour into Florida. This is a result of the misguided sentimentalism of Washington in 1965 when the Johnson Administration offered to take Cubans who wanted to flee from the regime of Fidel Castro.

Congressman William Clay (D-Mo) objects to the continuation of the ridiculous program, which has already brought into this country almost a quarter million Spanish-speaking Cubans, most of them jobless. The Negro legislator points out that we are taking better care of these rejects than American minorities.

The flood has completely changed parts of southern Florida-where English is not even spoken now in some communities. The continuing flood also threatens to change basically the racial character of that state and the country; this is not a question of race prejudice but merely the normal desire of the majority of Americans to maintain, generally, the racial pattern of the land, for the good of the country and its future: A glance at the history of Latin lands makes that desire natural and inevitable.

The most idiotic aspect of the continuing Cuban refugee program (an airlift of two flights daily deposits these Cubans on Florida shores five days a week) is that the United States taxpayer is footing the entire cost of the programwhich is now approaching $500,000,000! This outlay has built a 300,000-population Cuban ghetto in Miami, aggrevated employment problems and proved extremely costly. And if all those who oppose Castro (plus all the jobless) are accepted into this country, Castro will never be overthrown.

The unhappiness of anti-Castro Cubans is unfortunate. So is the unhappiness of other millions. But the solution is not to force the U.S. taxpayer to move these people into America, contradicting the spirit of our immigration laws, doing more for them than for our own unfortunates. The entire Cuban refugee program concept is misguided emotionalism and the daily airlift should be speedily terminated.

NEWS REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

1972-Democrats' Strategy-The Independents-

Washington, D.C. - President Nixon and the Republican Party are aiming-as did the Dwight D. Eisenhower in the fifties--at the najority middle road American. They are encouraged in following their present strategy by a recent Gallup Poll, which shows that the vast majority of Americans favor a government policy in the middle of the political spectrum, neither too

Mr. Nixon believes he can win in 1972 following this course. One reason many political experts repeatedly underestimated former President Eisenhower as a politician was that they underestimated the deep-rooted and widespread appeal of a moderate to American voters.

A recent Gallup Poll shows that some 35,000,000 adult citizens consider themselves Republicans, while some 54,-000,000 consider themselves Democrats. The interesting factor is that the biggest element (21,000,000) in Democratic Party considers itself middleof-the-road, while another surprisingly large percentage (13,000,000) considers itself fairly conservative. Add the 4,000,000 Democrats who consider themselves very conservative, one has 38,000,000 Democrats accounted for out of 54,000,000!

The largest element in the G.O.P. is that which considers itself fairly conservative—16,000,000. But another large element-11,000,000-considers itself middle-of-the-road. An-other 4,000,000 are very con-servative. That accounts for 31,000,000 of 35,000,000 Republicans.

There are also millions of independents but the recent Gallup Poll shows that they tend more toward conservatism than toward liberalism. It's estimated that there are 31,000, 000 independents. Of this num ber 12,000,000 consider themselves middle of the road, 8,000,000 fairly conservative and 2,000,000 very conservative. That adds up to 22,000,-000 of 31,000,000 independents

A close look at these figures shows why the far left cannot stampede Mr. Nixon, even though that element is very vocal, better organized than other minority factions and is very strong in the nation's communications media. The President knows, as did Mr. Eisenhower, where the votes are and he also knows he must win independent and Democratic votes to win an election. As long as the Democratic party plays the role of the ultra liberal party, and is in the hands of the very liberal element, Mr. Nixon has

Customs Of Christmas Are As Old As Time

The concepts of Christmas are many and varied since the Christian celebration embraces nearly all of the known uni verse, however the date of the celebration is highly controver-

Even to this day, there is no fixed universal date as to just when the man Jesus was born, for in some Eastern sections the birthdate of the Christ is in celebrated in April, but most

ONE OF BRITAIN'S biggest exports is Sebastian Cabot. He weighs in at 260 pounds. Cabot became widely known as Dr. Carl Hyatt on the old "Checkmate" series. He has also been in great demand among recordng companies. His recorded readings have ranged from Poems of Dylan Thomas" to Winnie the Pooh."

MR. FRENCH, played by abot, is undoubtedly the personification of a manservant's manservant on "Family Affair." Sometimes the viewer finds himself regretting this fact. One wonders if Mr. French would indeed be happy in a situation such as is presented in this series. Cabot does a thoroughly professional acting job. He is quite English.

The Amendment

The motion "to amend" is a subsidiary motion, and it is designed to change the wording of the main motion with the hope that it will make the motion more acceptable to the majority of the members.

The motion "to amend" must be germane to the main motion, that is, it must be related to the main proposal. Suppose the motion being discussed is to give a picnic, and someone proposes an amendment to substitute dance for picnic. The chairman would say, your amendment is out of order on the grounds that it is not germane to the question being considered.

Amendment to Amendment. The amendment may also be amended. For example, "Mr. Chairman, I wish to amend the amendment by striking out the word ten and writing in its place the word five."

WHEN THE amendment to the amendment is voted upon, the secretary writes the change in the wording of the amendment to the main motion. When this is voted upon, the secretary reads the motion as amended. Next, the club will consider the main motion as amended.

One mistake so often made is that the club votes upon the amendment and considers the action carried. Voting upon an amendment merely endorses a change in the wording and nothing

MIAMI. Fig. - One must explain what is true and factual. Floida A& M University was defeated in the 38th Annual Orange Blossom Classic by a Jacksonville State University team that is difficult to find on the map. In those years, Gaither was forming his football dynasty that was to make the orang and Green the best in small college football. The Rattlers ruled majestically, and their conquest was legend every where in minority football,

Religion In America

Christmas Gift Idea: New Edition Of Bible

By LOUIS CASSELS

If you accept the premise that Christmas is supposed to have some religious sig-nificance, you're wide open to the suggestion that the best possible Christmas gift is a Bible.

The suggestion is especially valid this year, as several excellent new editions of the Bible are available for Christmas giving.

HEADING the list are the new English Bible and the new American Bible, The new English Bible is the work of British Protestant scholars. The new American Bible was produced by American Catholic scholars.

Both are fresh translations from the original biblical languages Hebrew and Greek into eminently readable contemporary English.

THE NEW English Bible (Oxford and Cambridge University presses, standard edition $8.95) seems to me somewhat superior in clarity and elegance of language, but I would give high marks also to the new American Bible (St. Anthony Guild Press or Catholic Book Publishing Co., $8.50).

Neither translation has any narrow "denominational" bias, and there is no reason at all why Protestants should not read the Catholic translation or vice versa.

IF YOU FEEL like splurging on a gift for someone special, your best bet is the new deluxe edition of the Jerusalem Bible with 32 magnificent color plates by Salvador Dali (Doubleday, $39.95).

The Jerusalem Bible has been available in English since 1966 and has won wide acclaim from both Catholic and Protestant scholars.

THIS LARGE-type edition, printed on a special kind of paper that's reputed to last for 2,000 years, is about as handsome a Bible as you'll ever see, and the Dali paintings are magnificent, a striking departure from his old surrealist style.

Q. Our class is studying wastes and how we can get rid of them. Three of us have been assigned to do a report on solid wastes—like trash and paper. wastes—like trash and paper.
Some towns are running out of holes to fill up, and in some cities it's getting to be too expensive to haul wastes a lon;
way. Burning pollutes the air.
Isn't anybody doing any research on solid wastes?

B. M., Independence, Mo.

A. Solid waste problems have been mounting for years. Los Angeles alone generates enough solid wastes every year to fill a trench six feet deep and 100 feet wide that would stretch rom the Mexican border to the Canadian border.

Most economical method for smaller towns and cities is still landfill. But in metropolitan areas, costs to haul is high; land is scarce and expensive. Best method is burning. Not open burning, but sophisticated in-cineration.

At the other extreme in price is Good News for Modern Man, the fantastic little paperback published by the American Bible Society. It is the New Testament in sprightly, idomatic English, illustrated by some 200 line drawings.

SOME 24. million copies have been sold, which is sufficient proof of its appeal for readers of all ages.

This is a good choice for distribution to a long list of people: The price is only 35 cents. That's below the actual cost of printing. The loss is subsidized by the publisher, the nonprofit American Bible Society.

YOU CAN find it on news stands and in bookstores, or order it directly from the society at 1865 Broadway, New York 10023.

For children, there are

Bible stories, including Young Readers Book of Bible Stories (Abingdon $7.95); the Taize Picture Bible (Fortress Press, $4.95);

PERHAPS the best of the lot is the series of paper-back Bible story books with full-color, full-page illustrations, published under the Arch Books label (Concordin each, set of six for $2.25).

If your shopping list includes a blind person, or Publishing Co., 39 cents an elderly person with failing vision, you might consider a "talking Bible."

THE AMERICAN Bible Society has recorded its Good News for Modern Man on records for $6.75, or in cassettes for $29. All orders to the society, for books or recordings, should be ac-companied by a 5 per cent fee for mailing and handl-

WHAT TO LOOK FOR IN BUYING A TV SET

TV or not TV? That is the TV or not TV? That is the question. Many families are asking it in deciding whether to get an additional TV set.

After coming up with an affirmative answer, then going down to the store to shop many buyers suddenly shop, many buyers suddenly realize that they really don't have a clear picture of what to look for. What makes one IV set better than another? What are the signs of quality to check for?

Even among the finest sets there are important differences, but consumer authorities offer ten helpful hints.
1. Compare the square inches of actual picture provided by the television screen, All manufacturers must specify television sizes according to the actual viewing area, rather than the size of the picture tube. This is a Federal Trade Commission requirement.

2. Ask about the voltages used on the picture tube. It determines the brightness and clarity of your picture. The higher thevoltage, usually the better the picture. The set you buy should have at least 1,000 volts for each diagonal inch of viewing area. The present 25-inch set with newer technical refinements, for example, should have ap-proximately 24,500 to 25,000 volts for a welldefined picture. 3. Automatic color control and automatic noise inverter are important for good color reception. Preset fine tuning allows setting of the channel once and does away with constant fiddling with the set. In some top quality color sets such as those made by Tele-dyne Packard Bell, there are electronic provisions called automatic frequency control (AFC) or automatic fine tun-ing (AFT) that does the fine tuning for you. These devices are to color TV what AFC is to FM radios, locking in the best picture electronically and automatically.

4. Manufacturers are currently in a race to achieve higher color picture bright-ness levels. Ask to view black matrix type color tubes those that combine improved phosphor with a new process that surrounds the screen's nearly one million tiny dots with a black coating. Black matrix or surround offers brilliance, color purity and color fidelity not found in conventional tubes.

5. For added convenience, the set should have a remote control ready feature, with wireless controls available at time of purchase or later.

6. Check noise level. First, make sure that you already have a good antenna and are receiving a clear signal. Turn to an unused channel in your-area. If there are little dots of snow, the ratio between noise and picture is good. If you see big snowballs, the ratio is out of whack.

7. Basic controls should be easy to reach. This includes on off, volume and channel selectors for both UHF and VHF. All sets should have a control for color intensity and one for hue even though the set maker states that you will like his "pre-set" picture without further adjustment.

8. Consider the furniture styling of a table model or a console. A television set now is a functional part of a room's decor and should be bought with its appearance in

9. Check the cabinetry for craftsmanship. Is the styling attractive? Is the finish clean and rich? Do the appointments, such as grill cloth, blend with the rest of the set? Is the design something you can live with as a fine piece of furniture for a number of years? Attune yourself to these TV tips and your choice is bound to get a good-reception.

Do ocean currents swirl to the right in this hemisphere or is this sailor talk, weather folklore?

Ocean currents, just like air masses, swirl or veer to the right in the northern hemishere. They swirl to the left elow the equator. This is thought to be caused by the rotation of the earth. The effect this rotation has on large bodies of water and the sea of air above the surface of the earth is recognizable. But a hot controversy is likely when one claims that this Coriolis Force, as it's sometimes called, extends its power to such minor things as tub water, sink water, etc .-- which way the water will swirl when the stopper is removed.

And whether Coriolis Force causes drunks to fall or not is highly debatable. It's probably still safe to assume it's the beverage consumed.

There are people who stick to their guns even when they don't have any

ABOUT HOME

Furniture arranged poorly, lack of storage space and in-adequate lighting are great inconveniences in any room of a home but in a kitchen they are health hazards as well.

Most kitchens that are ten years old or older suffer from improper lighting. There should be a light over each work surface. This will contribute to safety, and make the kitchen more cheerful at the same time

A ventilating fan over the range will remove cooking odors and excess hot air, m. king the kitchen a much pleasanter place to work.

Counter surfaces should be of a material that is easily and various other cleaning materials out of the kitchen.

By all means have a place in the kitchen where it will be possible to sit down and work. Do every job-possible sitting down. Much fatigue can be prevented by doing so. It's a good idea to have a comfortable work stool that is easily moved to different areas of the kichen.

QUESTION: Just how does life insurance stand up com-petitively with an investment in securities?

ANSWER: It depends on your needs and objectives.

The objective in buying securities is to make a profit.

The objective in buying life insurance is to protect your family or business from financial trouble if you die prema-turely—or to provide money for retirement if you live. Interestingly, at every major

It's a great big wonderful world and there's nothing quite as thrilling as packing up your cares and wares and zooming off to that exotic spot you've been dreaming about all year. So don't spoil it, pack carefully. Here are some tips to put your trip in a packable bag.

Shopping for luggage ...
we suggest the softie, canvas type. It's light, saves on overweight and in a pinch, you can carry it yourself. Choose a color, maybe not your favorite, but something splashy and spotable.

Planning a worldly ward-Son robe ing that's easy to wear and easy to care for, besides be for, besides being flattering. We recommend a wardrobe fashioned of Ban-Lon, the vorld's most travel-able fabrics. These fashions are virtually weightless, a dream to pack. Slip into them and they fit like a second skin, so com-fortable. And what's more they are launderable and wrinkle resistant.

Now that you have your wardrobe safely packed away ... keep it that way. Put all your spillables ... lotions, shampoos, etc. ... into plastic bottles. And label. Don't forget to include a handful of plastic bags for damp swimsuits, towels, swingy little totes for all those shopping sprees. To meet all emergencies, anywhere and every-where, take along a sewing kit, travel iron, spot remove and press cloth.

So see the world, by all means but pack carefully

By adding two cans of shrimp you have the basics for a rich, exciting gumbo, Creole style. This you nave the basics for a rich, exciting gumbo, Creole style. This easy recipe is for an "okra" type, as distinguished from the kind called "file" gumbo. But don't be afraid of the okra. The trick is to fry it (yes, fry) until, in the words of one old-time Louisians cook, it "quits ropin"."

SHRIMP AND TURKEY GUMBO

2 cans (4% ounces each) shrimp.
Turkey wing and "drumstick! or equivalent % cup cooking oil or fresh bacon drippings 1 box (10 ounces) frozen sliced okra 1% cups chopped onlon 3 garlic cloves, sliced I can (8 ounces) tomato sauce I bay leaf M teaspoon crushed thyme M teaspoon cayenne pepper 1 teaspoon salt

Chill shrimp in the cans. Wash all traces of dressing from turkey. Heat oil in a heavy soup kettle; fry okra, onion, garlictogether over high heat, stirring constantly, until okra loses its viscous quality. Add 5 cups water; stir well. Add turkey, tomato sauce, seasonings. Bring mixture to a boil; turn heat to simmer. Cover and cook, stirring frequently, 1½ hours or until turkey falls easily from the bone. Remove meat; break into bite-size pieces; discard all bone, akin, gristle. Return turkey to gumbo; add shrimp and all shrimp liquid. Heat. Spoon gumbo around mounds of fluffy rice. 6 main-course servings.

Yule Tide Trees And Treats

The most joyous season of the year is quickly approaching and while Santa is getting his toys and reindeer ready for Christmas Eve, busy mothers are preparing Christmas decorations to enhance the festivities at home. In addition to the tinseled Christmas tree and the traditional mistletce, here's a delighful and easy idea for a centerpiece for the holiday table.

Buy a sheet of styrofoam 11/2 inch thick, 24 x 12 inches. Pencil an outline of a tree on the styrofoam. Cut styrofoam into Christmas tree shape with a serrated edge knife using a sawing motion. Paint green, if desired, with green spray paint. Dry thoroughly before using. Arrange various shape pretzels in a pretty abstract design on the styrofoam, from small to large.

To delight your family and friends before the holiday feast, use the remaining styrofoam to cut out small rounds for Christmas balls and stars to use as serving plates for tiny hors d'oeuvres. Here are two hors d'oeuvre guaranteed to spread Christmas cheer.

CHEESE BALLS: For speared cheese balls, mix grated sharp cheddar cheese with mashed garlic to taste and enough beer to make a paste. Shape mixture into balls and spear on a pretzel stick just before serving.

HAM ROLL-UPS: For ham roll-ups spread slices of boiled ham with mustard. Roll ham slice around short, fat pretze

These suggestions will help make this Christmas the mer-riest of all!

SWEET REWARD FOR SANTA'S HELPERS

Chestnuts roasting on an open fire . . . Jack Frost nipping at your nose . . . Yuletide carols being sung by a choir . . . " or so the lyric goes.

Christmas is a wonderful time of year. People seem to assume a gay disposition. Shoppers are dazzled by department store displays. Family members are reunited for the holidays. And the laughter of happy children can be heard everywhere as boys and girls dream of the toys and goodies that St. Nick will be loading on his sleigh.

But what is Christmas with out freshly baked holiday treats? Surprise your hungry Christmas tree trimmers and yuletide carolers this holiday season with Christmas Sticky Buns. Gift wrapping and tinse hanging are more fun when the fragrance from the kitchen promises a sweet reward for Santa's helpers.

the little cookbook column

ello, I'm Esther Coley, Home Economist for Hunt-Wesson Foods. If you've been reading my column these past few weeks, we've gotten to know each other pretty well. Well, this is my last Little Cookbook Column for a while. I know I've enjoyed answering your questions. And I hope I've helped you get things together in the kitchen. We've been good for each other. Neighbors always learn from each other when they get together. We'll meet again; I know.

his week's tip: I've got two for you this time. When cooking cabbage or chitterlings, put a piece of bread on top of the cover, it absorbs the odor. A few drops of vinegar or lemon juice added to the ice water will make your pie crusts flakier.

Hunt's Handy Hint: To make a quick sauce for baked or broiled fish, combine equal parts Hunt's Ketchup and mayonnaise . . . season to taste with minced onion and horseradish or hot mustard.

> Dear Esther: Can the protein content of peanut butter be compared to the protein in meat? Mrs. Bennie White, Dallas, Texas

Because of its high quality protein, peanut butter can be considered a very good substitute for meat. Two tablespoons of peanut butter in a sandwich furnishes the same amount of protein as one ounce of sliced cooked meat.

Dear Esther: I just got married. My husband and I like chicken a lot. But we can't eat a whole one. I always wind up throwing out the back and neck. Is there anything I can do with them? Alice L. Reagin, Cleveland, Ohio Yes, there's something good:

chicken soup. Let the back and neck simmer in 1 quart water along with 1 can of chicken broth, some celery, an onion, carrots and about 1/2-teaspoon thyme for 1 hour. Remove the meat from the bones. Season with salt and pepper. Add some peas and tomatoes, if you like, and cook for 5 more minutes. That chicken will be saying something.

Dear Esther: Which kind of orange juice is best for you? The kind that comes in bottles or the frozen kind?

A Paula Tisdel, Berkeley, California

he important thing to notice is whether the product says orange juice or orange drink. Orange juice is as it says, the uice from fresh oranges. Either squeezed and frozen, or squeezed and bottled are equally good for you. Fresh frozen orange juice often costs less han fresh bottled or the fresh juice you would squeeze yourself depending on the season of the year and cost of the oranges.
