NAACP Leader Says Ike Silent On Race Violence

By THADDEUS T. STOKES
ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) — President Dwight D. Eisenhower was criticized by a national executive officer of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Wednesday evening, for "remaining silent" about the recent wave of racial upheavals launched against southern Negro leaders in their fight for first class citizenship.

The NAACP official, Roy Wilkins, executive secretary, also spoke out against Gov. Marvin Griffin and State Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook, for their "persecution" of the NAACP and their utter disregard of the U. S. Constitution. The secretary also attacked other high southern officials.

Wilkins "blasts were released while he was addressing about 200 persons at a "Freedom Dinner," sponsored by local branch NAACP at Walnut Hill apartments.

"President Eisenhower chooses to remain silent while American citizens (Negroes) are being bludgeoned," he said.

School Plan Bills Await Gov. Clement's Approval

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — (SNS) — All five of Gov. Clement's school segregation bills were overwhelmingly approved Tuesday by the Senate, it has been announced.

Three were sent to the chief executive for his signature while minor changes of clarifying amendments on the remaining two bills must be discussed in the House before being signed into law.

Two of the bills, the Pupil Assignment and Voluntary Segregation Acts, top priority within the five bill package, were sent through to the Governor without amendments despite attempts to amend them. Administration leaders were successful in overriding attempts of opposition write-in amendments.

The Pupil Assignment bill saw easy passage in the Senate by a 27-3 approval. Two Senate members present did not vote. By a 27-4 vote, the Voluntary Segregation Bill was passed, with one Senator present not voting.

An amendment to the Transportation Law to omit mention of race was approved 39-0.

Authorization by local school boards to transfer pupils from one system to another was passed 31-1.

An amendment was attached in conformation to the present law making it possible for children to attend public schools should they reach their sixth birthday before Dec. 31.

OPPOSITION RAISED

Senator Clifford Allen of Nashville was the leader of an unsuccessful attempt to make changes in several of the bills.

Ministerial Group Urges Race Calmness

The Memphis Ministers Association in a meeting at the Springdale Methodist Church last week adopted two separate resolutions calling upon local citizens to remain calm with pending bus desegregation cases and urging defeat of bills now before the Tennessee Legislature aimed at curbing the activities of the NAACP.

The influential religious group, which is composed of white church leaders and teachers of many religious denominations, emphasized that because of the good relations which have long existed between the races in Memphis and because of mutual "supreme obligations to love God and to love man" every effort should be made to avoid any possible violence.

Integrated Workshop Slated At Highlander School Site

A Tennessee school has its own quiet answer to the White Citizens Council: Negro and white leaders are adding a new chapter to the history of the South.

More than two hundred men and women took part in the three public school integration workshops last year at the Highlander Folk school. There will be twelve such workshops in 1957 starting Jan. 19, when according to Mrs. Septima Clark, the workshop director, "discussions and lectures have been planned so students can share mutual problems and arrive at answers that can be adapted to their home town situations."

In the words of the retiring chairman, Dr. George S. Mitchell "Highlander is a place way up on 'op of the Cumberland Mountain in East Tennessee where everyday people in the South come and figure out how they would like the South to be and what it takes to get it that way."

Former students who will take part in the workshops include Mrs. Rosa Parks, Montgomery, Ala.; L. A. Blackman, Elmore, S. C.; Esau Jenkins, Johns Island, S. C.

Other consultants will be Dr. Fred Patterson, Dr. Herman Long, Dr. Charles Gomillion, John Bell Culbertson, Fred Routh and Rev. Robert C. Palmer.

The purpose of these workshops is to provide community leadership for an orderly transition from a segregated to an integrated public school system.

Highlander students in the past have provided the leadership in some of the most dramatic episodes in the struggles for citizenship among Negroes.

Both students and staff are integrated at Highlander.

The tension arising from attempts at bus segregation and other integration efforts in Tallahassee, Fla., Montgomery and Birmingham, Ala. can certainly be avoided here if "all citizens in this community accept the forthcoming Federal Court decision, respectfully and obediently, the ministers pointed out in the first resolution.

In the second resolution regarding bills aimed at the NAACP, the ministers saw the possibility of further use of such bills being used against unions and other organizations, even churches. They declared that such suppression would be against the democratic principles of American democracy.

POWELL CHARGES EDUCATION AND LABOR COMMITTEE HAS STRIPPED HIM OF SENIORITY

SOLON SAYS HE IS THE 2ND RANKING MEMBER

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, Jr. (D) N. Y., charged Wednesday that the House Education and Labor Committee "has stripped me of my seniority."

The Negro congressman told news men that the committee voted 19 to 8 against a motion calling upon the chairman to respect seniority in the appointment of subcommittee chairman.

Powell said the motion was offered by Rep. Edith Green (D) Ore., after chairman Graham Barden (D) N. C., told him he would not be named to head a subcommittee.

Powell asserted that "every Republican voted with Barden, along with six Democrats, of whom five are going to be named to subcommittee chairmanships."

GEORGIAN THERE

He named the five as Reps. Augustine B. Kelley, Pennsylvania, Cleveland Bailey, West Virginia, Carl D. Perkins, Kentucky, Roy W. Wler, Minnesota, and Carl Elliott, Alabama. Powell said the five were joined at the closed door meeting by Rep. Phil M. Landrum (D) Ga.

Powell has served in the House and on the committee continuously for 14 years. Last year, he supported President Eisenhower for election, the only Democratic congressman to do so. Another member, Rep. John Bell Williams (D) Miss., backed a states rights ticket.

EMPLOYEES FIRED

Several days after the Nov. 6 election, the House Democratic patronage committee fired two house employees who had been appointed as part of Powell's patronage.

Powell said the matter came to a head when Barden asked the committee to adopt rules which provided, among other things, for five permanent subcommittees.

Mrs. Ola Lynk Passes 8 Days After Her Husband, Dr. Lynk

By Jewel Gentry

Just eight days after the death of her husband the late Dr. M. V. Lynk, Mrs. Ola Moore Lynk passed away at her Willett Street home on Sunday afternoon a week ago. Mrs. Lynk had been confined to bed at home for several weeks.

Funeral services were held at Collins Chapel C. M. E. Church on Thursday with the Rev. D. S. Cunningham, pastor of the church officiating.

Burial was in Elmwood Cemetery with T. H. Hayes and Sons in charge of arrangements.

Before Mrs. O. M. Lynk

burial her body was viewed by many of her friends throughout the city. A large grouping of flowers sent to Hayes and Sons showed the affection felt by many for the deceased.

We have missed seeing Mrs. Lynk since both she and Dr. Lynk were shut-in. Friendliness and kindness were virtues that she possessed in full measure. It was during my childhood that I grew to love Mrs. Lynk (then Mrs. Moore) who lived on McDowell at Walker and we on Walker Avenue. Mrs. Lynk lived to be at a ripe old age, but her death on Sunday before last saddened many hearts of those privileged to know such a noble character.

Plan To Start With First Grade Approved

JUDGE CALLS FOR COMPLETE PLAN BY LAST OF YEAR

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — (SNS) — Nashville school board's partial plan for beginning school desegregation with the first grade next September was approved Monday by Federal Judge William E. Miller.

Under the ruling Nashville would be the first city in Tennessee to schedule desegregation at the elementary level and the second to desegregate state-supported schools below the college level.

(Twelve Negroes were admitted to Clinton High School earlier this year.)

The Nashville suit was brought by the parents of 21 Negro and two white children seeking desegregation of city schools.

In answer to the suit the board proposed a six point plan for school desegregation with Judge Miller approving five points of the board's plan, but disapproved a sixth which called for "further study" of the problem by a committee directed to report next Dec. 31.

The sixth proposal of the board stated: "The instruction committee is directed to continue its study of the problem and to recommend by Dec. 31, 1957, the time of and the number of grades to be included in the next step to be taken in further abolishing of compulsory segregation."

In disapproving the sixth point and directing the board to have a "complete plan" by Dec. 31, Judge Miller said:

"It is manifest that paragraph six makes the plan submitted partial and incomplete, and that it is in effect simply a proposal for indefinite postponement of further desegregation, directly contrary to the mandate of the Supreme Court that full compliance with its ruling shall be accomplished with all deliberate speed."

Parts of the plan approved by Judge Miller:

Abolition of compulsory racial segregation in first grades of city schools in September.

FRED ROUTH ADDRESSES FRONTIERS

ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) — Democratic practices are on the increase among all people in the United States explained Fred Routh, assistant director of the South Regional Council, while he was guest speaker at a dinner-meeting of the Atlanta Frontiers Club Tuesday evening at Joe's Holiday Room on Auburn Ave.

Routh, speaking on "Building a Democratic Society," stressed the following three points:

- (1) Democratic progress made up to now
- (2) Current situation in race relations
- (3) Unfinished business.

Under the first point he cited the increasing democratic practices of all United States cities in relation to its citizens as opening of graduate schools to qualified students in most states; jury service, ending of segregation on inter-state transportation; ending of white primaries and the integration of Armed Forces.

Under point two, he said "the current racial situation is being incorrectly defined. This is not a struggle between Negroes and whites, nor between the north and the south. But it is a struggle between those who believe in democracy and those who do not."

He explained the "unfinished business" as the idea of working for a situation which will grant equality of citizenship to all people. One in which the individual will be recognized for his inherent value and as a child of God."

Presiding at the dinner-meeting was Jesse O. Thomas, president of the local club.

Court Orders Louisiana College To Admit Negroes

BY O. C. W. TAYLOR

NEW ORLEANS — (ANP) — Louisiana State University last week was ordered by a federal court judge here to permit Negro graduate students to register in the institution without being forced to secure eligibility certificates.

The action came as a result of U. S. District judge Herbert Christenberry who issued an order restraining LSU from denying admission to Miss Arnesse Ludley, a 23-year-old sociology graduate student "and all others similarly situated."

The provision forcing students to obtain eligibility certificates came under a 1956 law devised to keep Negroes out of LSU and other state colleges.

Miss Ludley, a graduate of Grambling college, is scheduled to complete work for her master's degree next August.

Atty. A. P. Tureaud said the court action attacked Act 15 of 1956, requiring the certificates of "eligibility or good moral character" signed by high school principals and parish or county school heads.

Tureaud said the suit also attacked Act 250 of 1956, which changes the teacher tenure act to permit firing of teachers who perform "any act toward bringing about the integration of the races within the public school system or public institution of higher learning."

Tureaud contended these laws "are a violation of the equal protection clause of the federal constitution."

ALL NEGRO CAST PLAYS SEASON HIT

NEW YORK — (INS) — Last season's most obscurely intellectual play, "Waiting For Godot," returned to Broadway Monday night with an all-Negro cast and the same mysterious message.

Samuel Beckett's formless play about the meaning and futility of life, the need for hope and lack of its fulfillment, the failure of human relations combined with the compulsion to strive for contact, remains the same.

The scene is still a barren roadside the main characters two tramps waiting for Godot, who never comes. They again meet the bully and his abject slave. Again there is much talk and the audience must indulge in a bit of "do-it-yourself" in order to decide on the allegorical meanings.

The tramps are played by Earle Hyman and Mantan Moreland this season. Last year it was E. G. Marshall and Bert Lahr. As with the 1956 version of the play, the roles are played with expert combinations of comedy and tragedy.

Moreland makes his primitive, memory-less tramp a little more likeable than did Lahr. Hyman, who starred in "Mr. Johnson" last season, plays the other vagabond with thoughtful pomp and anguished despair.

Rex Ingram is a bestial bully and Geoffrey Holder does a magnificent job of blithering in his one big scene as the otherwise mute slave.

'MAYOR' THORNTON FETED — Matthew Thornton, 'Mayor of Beale Street', was saluted by these two beauties upon presentation of the handsome bouquet of flowers when he was honored by the Kiwanis club last Saturday morning at the Handy Theater at the Kiwanis sponsored movie and ice cream party for members of the school safety patrols.

'Mayor' Thornton is responsible for the beginning of the safety councils among Negro schools. He influenced the Harmony club to sponsor the safety patrols for several years. Later the Kiwanis club accepted the responsibility of the patrols for both white and race schools.

H. W. Tidwell, chairman of the Kiwanis safety committee, served as emcee at the program honoring Mr. Thornton and the Rev. Marshall Wingfield, pastor of First Congregational Church, presented the "Mayor".

Mr. Thornton told of the early days of the safety council and complimented the Kiwanis club for its service in carrying forward the program.

1956 Income Tax Return Forms Are Like Last Year's

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. — (SNS) — Federal income taxpayers who sought aid last year from the Chattanooga office of the Internal Revenue Service should be sure to dig out their 1956 returns as a guide in preparing the 1956 forms, if they had questions or problems then they will recur this year, Revenue Agent H. M. Owen, cautioned taxpayers in this area today.

"There is little change in the forms normally used by most taxpayers except for a few points of clarification and generally improved typography," Mr. Owen said. "These minor revisions are not likely to affect problems which were common to many taxpayers last year and which we were happy to help solve."

"Taxpayers referring to last year's return, while working with the 1956 forms and the excellent new instruction booklet, should be able to come up with the right answers without too much difficulty. They can probably do a better job than they think."

"Where new circumstances have developed and present new problems we're happy to help, and a telephone call will probably clear up the trouble. It usually isn't necessary to visit our offices, although help is of course available there to those who have special and complex problems."

Mr. Owen urged Chattanooga taxpayers to file each year's returns carefully among their important papers, and to keep with them all personal papers, cancelled checks, receipts, etc., which relate to income and expenditure, for at least three years.

80 words a minute, are being sought for employment at salaries ranging from $3175 to $3415 per year. Personnel Officers from Washington, D. C. are now at the Tennessee State Employment Service Office, 122 Union Avenue, Memphis, from January 28 through February 2 to interview interested applicants.

For further details and a personal interview, come in and talk with them today or telephone Jackson 7-6661.

Reintroduces Same Rights Bill From Last Year

BILL PASSED HOUSE BUT GOT STALLED IN SENATE

WASHINGTON — (ANP) — One of the first bills to go into the Congressional hopper in the new 85th Congress was one dealing with civil rights. This measure was recommended by the Administration and introduced by Rep. Kenneth B. Keating, Republican of New York.

The bill was identical with the proposal he sponsored last year, which passed the House toward the end of the session, but was stalled in the Senate Judiciary Committee and never reached the Senate Floor for action.

The legislation is in the form of four proposals:

- (1) It calls for the creation of a bi-partisan Civil Rights Commission to investigate, collect information, revise laws and policies and make recommendations designed to ease racial tensions.
- (2) It provides for an assistant Attorney General to head a new civil rights division in the department of Justice.
- (3) It calls for the strengthening of protection for the right to vote by giving the Attorney General power to bring civil action on behalf of injured individuals and elimination of the requirement that all other remedies must be exhausted before cases can reach Federal courts.

And (4) it authorizes the Attorney General to bring civil actions against private individuals, as well as state officials, who interfere with the victim's right to vote.

In introducing the measure, Rep. Keating pointed out that this is the same proposal supported by President Eisenhower in the last congress.

"The moderate approach of this legislation should enlist the support of Members of both parties," he emphasized. "But if we are to get a civil rights bill through it is essential that we get immediate action on in the House in the early part of this first session of the 85th Congress."

'CARVER AWARD' TO IKE — For "outstanding contribution to the betterment of race relations and human welfare," the George Washington Carver gold award was recently presented to President Eisenhower in Washington. Integration Starts At Okla. School

EARLSBORO, Okla. — (INS) — Three of four Negro children began classes without incident Monday at the Earlsboro high school where integration was ordered recently by a Federal Court Judge.

The three children of Coyle Permetter — John Earl, Betty, and Coyle Lee — moved into the previously all-white school but the school superintendent, C. J. Smith, said the fourth youngster, Francis Jean Carr, had not yet enrolled for the term.

Smith discussed class schedules for the Negro children and said it was probable that two of them who are seniors may be graduated at the end of the current term, earlier than the other two.

Smith said this was unlikely because the Earlsboro school did not have subjects which they needed to complete high school. He said they could acquire the needed courses through correspondence from the University of Oklahoma or some other qualified college.

The teen-agers attended classes for the first time since last Sept. when their parents had refused to

Nixon Sees Good Chance For Rights Legislation

WASHINGTON, D. C. — (NNPA) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon believes the chances of Congress passing civil rights legislation this year are good.

Interviewed on the television program "Let's Look at Congress" by Representative Kenneth B. Keating, Republican of New York Sunday, Mr. Nixon was asked whether there would likely be civil rights action in this session of Congress.

"I would say this, just to get it in perspective," Mr. Nixon replied. "I think there is a much better chance that we will have action on civil rights legislation in this Congress than there was in the last Congress. And incidentally, may I say also that all of us who are interested in this cause have appreciated the leadership you have given this in the House of Representatives where, of course, the bill was passed in the last session."

"I think first you will agree with me that the civil rights proposals of the President will again pass the House in this session and I think in the Senate now that the climate is much better than it was two years ago and even a year ago for passage of a substantial portion of that program this year."

"I think the chances are good. It is difficult to say that they are sure."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

NEEDS THAT JESUS MEETS (TEMPERANCE)
International Sunday School Lesson for Jan. 27, 1957
MEMORY SELECTION: "Son, be of good cheer; thy sins be forgiven thee."—Matt. 9:2.
LESSON TEXT: Matthew 9: 1-13.

Matthew follows his account of the Sermon on the Mount by Jesus giving us, in two chapters, ten exhibitions of the miraculous powers exercised by Jesus, although these miracles are not necessarily set down in their natural order of occurrence.

Taken together, after reading the Sermon which precedes them, these examples of divine love seeking to relieve the sufferings of humanity, reveal the eternal hostility of God to any and all forces in life which tend to degrade, afflict or oppress mankind.

These miracles cover a wide range of power, but most of them contain some peculiarity in the attending circumstances which make them noteworthy. Some of them are among the best-attested facts in the New Testament and have never been contradicted by any serious student.

A Roman centurion, brave and humble and reverent, approached Jesus on behalf of an ill slave—a useless mission—indicating his sympathetic kindness. He did not even ask Jesus to go to his house but expressed confidence that he could heal his servant at a distance. Jesus did so and told the unnamed Roman soldier that he had not found so great a faith anywhere in Israel.

JESUS RESTORES LIFE

As Jesus walked along a road, journeying to perform a miracle restoring life an unnamed woman, believing that the mere touch of his clothing would cure her of a malady, reached out and touched his cloak. Jesus did not encourage any such superstitious dependence upon a magic cloth, but he cured the woman, stopping to tell her that it was her faith that had accomplished the miracle.

Just after returning from the country of the Gadarenes, while partaking of his noonday meal, news came to him of the critical illness of the daughter of Jairus, ruler of the synagogue. He showed his concern for the sorrow of the parents of the little girl by going almost immediately to the home although he was informed that the child had already died. Permitting only the believing parents and the three disciples to accompany him into the room, Jesus took the child by the hand and raised her up to complete physical restoration. Tears of joy replaced recent tears of sorrow and when the news of the miracle spread in the household, "the fame thereof went abroad into all that land."

Another time, while Jesus and his disciples were in a boat crossing the lake, a sudden storm came up which was so intense as to make even those who had been fishermen afraid. Jesus has been sleeping but when he was aroused by a frightened companion, he demonstrated his power over the

PRIME MINISTER RESIGNS POST IN EASTERN NIGERIA

LAGOS, Nigeria — (NNAP) — Dr. Nnamdi Azikiwe, Prime Minister of Eastern Nigeria, has resigned with his Government, it was announced Friday.

The resignation came two days after Dr. Azikiwe was declared "guilty of misconduct as a Minister" for not relinquishing his financial interest in the African Continental Bank of which he was founder, before public money was deposited in it.

The decision produced a political crisis in Eastern Nigeria. Dr. Azikiwe had vowed last November that he would resign if the tribunal which inquired into his conduct concerning the bank condemned him. It is expected that elections will be held in several weeks.

Dr. Azikiwe is head of a political party known as the National Council of Nigeria and the Cameroons. Leaders of Dr. Azikiwe's party decided at a meeting Friday night at Enogo, the Eastern region's capital, that the African Continental Bank should be nationalized. The Prime Minister has a large financial interest in the bank.

The tribunal of inquiry found that Dr. Azikiwe, although he resigned as chairman and governing director of the bank on taking public office in January, 1954, remained in the background acting through his nominee Adolphus Blankson.

"We believe that Dr. Azikiwe's primary motive was to make available an indigenous bank with the object of liberalizing credit for the people of his country, but we are satisfied that he was attracted by the financial power his interest in the bank gave him," said the report published as a White Paper by the British Government in London Wednesday.

The tribunal was appointed last summer by the British Colonial Secretary, Alan Lennox-Boyd, to investigate charges against Dr. Azikiwe of "abuse of office and corruption in connection with the deposit and investment of public moneys in the Eastern region in the African Continental Bank in

Expert On Rights Named To Jewish Congress

NEW YORK — Will Maslow, noted legal expert in the field of civil rights and civil liberties, has been appointed director of the newly established Department of Public Affairs of the American Jewish Congress, it was announced by Isaac Houbin, AJ Congress executive director. Mr. Maslow, who headed the AJ Congress Commission on Law and Social Action from its founding in 1945 through 1956, will also retain his post as general counsel of the organization.

A graduate of Cornell University and the Columbia University School of Law, Mr. Maslow was formerly the director of field operations for the wartime President's Committee on Fair Employment Practice. He has also served as a trial attorney and trial examiner for the National Labor Relations Board, as associate counsel for the New York City Department of Investigation, and as a reporter for The New York Times. He was at one time associated in law practice with the late Arthur Garfield Hays.

For the past several years, Mr. Maslow has taught courses on race relations and civil liberties at the New School for Social Research.

Many articles written by him on civil rights and legislation have appeared in leading professional journals. He is a member of the United States Supreme Court and New York Bars.

As the director of the newly formed Department of Public Affairs of the American Jewish Congress, Mr. Maslow will coordinate the activities of three major commissions of the national agency: the Commission on Law and Social Action, the Commission on Community Interrelations and the Commission on International Affairs and Israel. Through these commissions, the American Jewish Congress—an association of American Jews founded in 1918 by Dr. Stephen Wise, Supreme Court Justice Louis Brandeis and others—formulates action programs aimed at preserving and extending democratic freedoms, assisting creative Jewish survival, and helping to protect the civil, religious and economic rights of Jews abroad.

During the 11 years of Mr. Maslow's supervision, the Commission on Law and Social Action pioneered in developing new approaches to problems of racial and religious discrimination in fields like housing, employment education and communications. Briefs prepared by the Commission's legal staff have been cited in significant opinions handed down by the U. S. Supreme Court and by numerous State Supreme Courts, most notably the historic school desegregation case, the McCollum Case, the "Miracle" film case and the Gideon Bible case. Bills drafted by the department have been used as models for legislation subsequently adopted on the local, state and national levels.

Jackson Enrollment Is Up; To Host Science Meeting

ENROLLMENT at Jackson State College for the Winter Quarter is 1,770 according to DeLars Funches, Registrar. A total of 1,651 of these are regularly enrolled college students. The figure indicates an increase of two students over the Fall Quarter enrollment. Current figures show 218 seniors, 218 juniors, 260 sophomores, 354 freshmen, eight specials, and five nurses. One hundred and seventeen are enrolled in the Laboratory and Nursery Schools, 223 in vocational trades and 364 in Saturday and evening classes.

Jackson State College will host high school science and mathematics teachers and principals in a one-day conference Saturday, February 2. The theme of the conference which is scheduled to begin at 9:00 a. m. in the science building is "Discovering, Motivating and Developing the Potential in Science and Mathematics Students."

The morning session is scheduled to begin at 9:30 following registration. Lunch will be served from 11:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. with the afternoon session beginning at 1 p. m. and lasting until 4:00 p. m. Group discussions will be centered around "Developing Criteria for Discovering and Recognizing Potential in Students," "What A Teachers Can Do Towards Self-Improvement," and "Programs in Science and Mathematics Currently in Effect in Our Mississippi High Schools." The conference is an outgrowth of an interest in the shortage of trained personnel in the fields of science and mathematics and the College's desire to do its part in alleviating these conditions. Advance registration indicates that principals and science teachers representing approximately 50 Mississippi high schools will attend the conference.

REV. RALPH JACKSON

Former President To Visit Knoxville College Campus

CITY, NEWEST PASTOR — Latest to join the ministerial ranks of Memphis is Dr. H. Ralph Jackson, former pastor of Bethel AME Church in Nashville, now pastor of St. Andrew AME Church, Calhoun and Avery, succeeding the Rev. W. M. Wingfield.

Taking over the pastorate on Nov. 1, Dr. Jackson launched a $5,000 drive to reduce the church's mortgage and balance the budget. On Jan. 20 the drive culminated with some $6,600 in cash being raised.

Pastor of the Nashville church for seven years Dr. Jackson was instrumental in founding the AME Brotherhood, an organization embracing the ministry of the AME denomination, of which he serves as president.

A candidate for the AME bishopric in 1950 Dr. Jackson believes that "hopeless people are hopeless people" and resolves to use his influence to have every member (1400) of his church informed, registered citizens in 1957.

The new minister received his A. B. degree from Daniel Payne College and his D. D. from Shuter College. He is also the recipient of honorary degrees from Wilberforce, Monrovia (West Africa) and Allen universities.

His wife Mrs. Hattie (nee Ell) Jackson is a graduate of Arkansas A. and M. College and is working on her masters at Columbia University. The Jacksons have two children, Zita, eight, and Sheri, five.

The Bulldogs, coached by H. B. Thompson boast an overall mark of 7-3 against all-comers.

Cook William T. Greene's Morris Brown Wolverines is bracketed in fourth place with a 11-3 SIAC record. The Wolverines are viewed as dark horse contenders for the SIAC crown having bowed to Fisk, Bethune-Cookman and Florida A&M on the road.

Clark College has been playing 500 ball in the circuit and is desperately trying to improve its performance in order to nail down a berth at the Feb. 21-23 SIAC tournament at Tuskegee Institute.

Morehouse, now 5-7, faces an uphill struggle to win a berth but the Maroon Tigers last week won three in a row beating Tuskegee and Allen, the latter twice on the Atlanta's home court.

Baseball's "Satch" Paige Refuses To Quit Playing

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — (AP) — Indicating that he may go into semi-pro baseball, Leroy (Satch) Paige, rated by many as the granddaddy of baseball, said last week that he definitely "is not ready to retire from the diamond."

"Satch," who answers to the age of 51 had an excellent season with Miami in the International League in 1956, chalking up 14 wins against 4 losses.

The ancient pitcher, who has a lifetime record in baseball that is probably the only of many big league hurlers, expressed an ambition to return to semi-pro after 25 years and regain the title of most valuable player in the annual national tournament in Wichita, Kansas.

National Baseball Congress officials said Paige won the title almost single-handedly for Bismarck, N. D., in the first tournament in 1935. He was credited with four straight pitching wins in seven games taken by Bismarck.

His NBC record of an average of 15 strikeouts per game down through the years still stand.

The NBC awarded Satch the "Most Valuable Player" award title for a 20-year period in 1954.

Mississippi Researchers Study Dairy-Cotton Farming

The prospect of small-scale dairy-cotton farming in the Prairie soil area of east Mississippi has been studied as an experiment station project on a 160-acre pilot farm near West Point, Miss.

Over a five-year period, the farm grossed annually an average of $13,940 out of which was paid $9,887 in operating expenses. About two-thirds of the returns came from milk; and the rest from cotton, poultry, grain and hay.

However, poultry and egg production was discontinued in 1954

when results showed that a much larger unit and more careful management would be needed to make it profitable. Poultry and egg production was never considered as especially desirable for this farm because of location, facilities, and feeds available.

Principal items of expenses for the whole farm were: purchases of dairy animals, seed, fertilizer, and insecticides, hired labor, and hired machinery.

The researchers conclude that dairy-cotton farming on this scale and level of management has earning possibilities. Returns can be increased, they say, by cutting labor costs, and by increasing milk production through further herd improvement and more intensive production of grains and hays for home feeds.

Coaches Praise Curbs On Wild Whistle Blowing

BY BOB GLASS CHICAGO, — (INS) — Four of America's outstanding basketball coaches praised Wednesday the free throw rule being tried out by the Big Ten as the answer to constant whistle blowing which slows down the game.

Oklahoma A. and M.'s Hank IBA, Harry Combes of Illinois, Loyola's George Ireland and John Jordan of Notre Dame agreed that the rule allowing only one free shot for the first six fouls "is the best thing that has happened to basketball."

Speaking over the telephone from Stillwater, Okla., IBA told the Chicago Basketball Writers' Association that although the Big Ten is the only league using the rule the effect apparently has been felt in other parts of the nation. IBA said:

"We usually play the control style of basketball, thereby slowing down the pace of the game and decreasing the number of fouls. A majority of the coaches feel that something must be done to hold down the number of fouls and they have been teaching their players a different type of game."

Combes, who addressed the group from Champaign, Ill., said "teams are becoming more cautious about fouling."

Jordan agreed with Combes and IBA in principle but he said he would not adopt the rule for Notre Dame until it is "put in the rule books."

The current issue of Good Housekeeping magazine, in profiles of the first ladies of the Ivy League, the wives of the presidents of eight of America's most famous schools, report that although a mother of three and grandmother of four, as well as official hostess to 2,500 teachers, Mollie Farnwell enters in her job as the wife of the famed atomic physicist and President of the University of Pennsylvania.

Along The Sports Trail

BY SAM BROWN

The twelfth annual CIAA Basketball Tournament is slated for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, February 28-March 1-2 at the North Carolina College Gymnasium, Durham, N. C.

The tourney is being billed as the "Greatest Indoor Attraction in Negro Sports History," with the North Carolina College gym being advertised as "Nation's Finest." The CIAA has produced some great athletes, and should the tournament live up to its billing it will be a real treat for basketball fans in that section.

One of the favorites for the tourney is North Carolina A and T Aggies, undefeated in conference play with a 7-0 record. North Carolina College has a 7-2 record, while Winston-Salem is 4-1. Maryland State last season's champions, rates 12th in the 17 college basketball race with a 3-4 record.

Other clubs of the CIAA are Fayetteville (5-3), St. Augustine (4-3), Virginia Union (5-3), Virginia State (6-3), Bluefield (4-2), Delaware (4-3), Morgan (4-4), Howard (5-5), Shaw (4-6), Hampton (2-8), St. Paul (1-9), J. C. Smith (0-7), Lincoln (0-5).

Local fans who witnessed the Harlem Magicans with Goose Tatum and Marques Haynes a few nights ago at the Auditorium were thrilled with the basketball antics of the famed players. Although, the crowd was not as large as in previous appearances of the barnstorming professional eagers, it was nonetheless enthusiastic in its reception of the cages of the unmatched pantomime performers.

We talked with many fans who stayed away and most of them stated that they figured it would be a repetition of former appearances with the same exhibition and too, they realized that it was only an exhibition without real competition, hence they did not care to see the same things they have been seeing from year to year.

Now, maybe with a team offering some real good competition the fans will again turn out in large numbers. Memphis is a good sports town regardless of what the attraction might be but the fans can get tired of kurbesque even if it is Tatum or any other name attraction.

According to announcement, the Harlem Globetrotters are scheduled to appear here early in March. The "Trotters" usually give an evening of good entertainment, and Abe Saperstein, owner, is one of the greatest if not the greatest showman in the business, and knows how to keep the fans coming back for more.

After Tatum and Haynes pulled out from the "Trotters," many fans felt that their absence would prove detrimental to the Saperstein troupe, but on the contrary, the Globetrotters have been going just as strong as before, adding enough new features and playing the brand of ball that made fans anxious to see them again, and again. The ever progressive Saperstein, never allowing any grass to grow under his feet has added a trained kangaroo act to his production, according to reports. It involves a real kangaroo who can DO things with a basketball and cause the fans to roll in their seats. Leave it to the Globetrotters for new ideas and innovations.

SPORTS OF THE WORLD

BY MARION E. JACKSON

The Lily-white Southern Association has lost over a million paying customers in the past nine years. Morehouse and Fisk cage quints will make a three city tour of Chicago, St. Louis and Detroit following the Feb. 21-23 All-SIAC basketball tournament. Jackie Robinson will stop in Atlanta on a 12-city coast to coast tour for the NAACP. The National League schedule for '57 lists 260 night games, 10 more than last season. The St. Louis Cardinals is the pacesetter playing 46 home arclight contests.

Southern League statistics show 1,888,231 fans dropped their dollar and cents into coffers of the eight team circuit in '57, 38,881 less than the number that paid admission to contests the year before.

The league reached its peak in attendance in 1947 when 2,180,344 fans paid admission to contests more than twice the number that went to games last year.

Atlanta and Memphis showed attendance boost last year over 1955. Atlanta led the loop with 265,578, a hike of 26,571 over 1955, and Memphis added 29,000 to its 1955 figures.

Chattanooga, Birmingham, Little Rock, Mobile, Nashville, and New Orleans all registered decreases at the turnstiles.

NIGHT TREND: The National League trends toward night baseball. Some 260 night games, 10 more than in 1956 will be played next season. St. Louis leads with 46 arclight contests.

Cincinnati is next with 44 followed by Philadelphia (43), Milwaukee (38), Brooklyn (37), Pittsburg (32) and New York (20).

The Dodgers will play eight home games in Jersey City and seven of them will be under the lights.

The '57 season opens April 16 with Brooklyn at Philadelphia in a night game, Milwaukee at Chicago, and New York at Pittsburg.

Statistics show that only 25.8 per cent of the 571 players signed by professional baseball ever had returned to continue their education. Bert Mell, commissioner of the National Football League, commenting on charges of dirty play: "I've been in football 45 years and I've never seen a malicious football player. Sure there are flare-ups when your tempers flare up. That's different than going out to get somebody deliberately; a guy who tried that wouldn't last long. The players around the league would take care of him."

The Brooklyn Dodgers will take Rene Valdes, redhot Cuban right-hander to Vero Beach for spring training. The 26-year-old pitching prospect is off the roster of Brooklyn's Portland, Oregon farm club. A fastballer, Valdes led the league in five pitching departments last season. He worked 251 1-3 innings, made 35 starts, pitched 18 complete games, won 22 games and scored 8 shutouts.

EYE-OPENER: Morehouse College will call upon two of the nation's outstanding leaders to celebrate its annual Founder's Day exercises during the week of Feb. 17-25. The occasion is especially significant since ground-breaking ceremonies for its 800,000 gymnasium will be held.

Dr. Mordecai Johnson, president of Howard University, Washington, D. C., and Dr. Kenneth Brown of the Danforth Foundation, will make the major address.

The Morehouse gymnasium, complete with swimming pool, has been a major project of Dr. Ben-

Students Told Of "Educated" Heart

GREENSBORO, N. C. — The emptiness of an educated mind without the fullness of an educated heart was described last Sunday at A. and T. College.

The speaker was Rev. Cleo M. McCoy, director of religious activities at the college, who spoke at the first of the twice-monthly morning worship services for the new year in the Harrison Auditorium.

Speaking from the subject, "The Function of an Educated Heart," he took his text from Proverbs 4:23, "Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life."

He described the educated heart as a spiritual whirlwind "which lifts the human spirit, carries it to lofty heights, generates insight and vision, places every day activities above the level of selfish concern and lowers its possessor gently down for an unending stream of neighborly kindness, thankfulness and appreciation."

He stated that an educated heart calls attention to our own weaknesses, which would require us to do right, though tempted to do wrong, would use power only for good and that would use education for human improvement rather than human destruction.

"The educated heart," he said, "gives us worthy aims in life and it develops those worthy habits of kindness, helpfulness and friendliness."

Others appearing on the opening program for the New Year included: Dr. F. A. Williams, dean of the Graduate School, who read the scripture and Monnie Allen, vice-president of the College Usher

PRICE AND CARVER MOVE ON TOP IN "AA" BASKETBALL STANDINGS

There was a drastic shake-up in the Class AA regional standings during the past week, with the Luther Judson Price High and White Wildcats, and the George Washington Carver Vocational Maroon and Grey Panthers moving on top. To date both quints have spotless records. The Henry McNeal Turner High Wolves, are in third place with a 3-and-1 record, with the South Fulton Lions right on their heels with a 3-and-2 mark.

The Price Wildcats romped over the Archer Eagles and Washington Bulldogs to climb on top with a 3-and-0 record. The Price girls defeated Archer and dropped a close decision to the BTW Jesters. Basketball Coach Carl C. Hubbard's starters include: Jimmy Byrd, Bobby Arnold, forwards Wilner Owens center; Coleman Hillary and Irwin Ross, guards. Ross holds the key to the Price offense with a 17.5 point-per-game average.

Mickey Mantle Hits Hot Spots For Business Reasons Only

NEW YORK — (INS) — If you should ever see Mickey Mantle in a night club please don't get the idea that he is out on the town like some of the Milwaukee Braves whom Jackie Robinson put the finger on.

Of course, a smart supper club will need some Broadway or Hollywood talent and hence Mickey's prospective tour of night spots.

When Mickey first joined the Yankees, he was a shy, reserved conversationalist. Now he is a relatively assured and glib man-about town who knows all the angles. At first he was reluctant to talk; now he is getting ready to talk the Yankees out of a $50,000 salary. And he'll succeed.

The successful ball player these days is a business man. Many of them have business agents who arrange TV and radio appearances, endorsements and other means of making an extra buck.

The stars these days have plenty of money, and they are always seeking ways of putting

Clark Panthers Sweep To 82-63 Win Over S. C. State Bulldogs

Teddy Wright Steals Spotlight With 31; James Enoch Gets 16

By JOEL W. SMITH
ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) — Putting on a display of speed, uncanny ball-handling and sensational marksmanship, the Clark College Panthers blasted their way to a convincing 8-2 victory over the South Carolina State College Bulldogs, Saturday night, at the Joe Louis Gymnasium.

Julius Bunn, of New York City, turned a scintillating performance as he led Clark's offense and set up most of the plays. The entire Panther quint exhibited lots of hustle and Bunn was ably supported by his mates.

Off to a slow start, the Cardinal and Black Panthers trailed 8-7 after five minutes of play then surged ahead 17-12 midway the first half with Gerald Tate, of Athens, Ga.; Edward Jones, Laurinburg, N. C.; and Bunn doing most of the scoring.

ENOCH STARTS FIRING — James Enoch, promising, one-handed shooter from Indianapolis, Ind., found the range and went on a scoring rampage as the Cardinal and Black Panthers pulled away for a quick 15-point lead. Johnny Carlton, Milton Fields, and Nudie Williams also joined the scoring parade as Clark went out front, 41-28 at half-time.

Enoch sank a field goal as the second half got underway, then Eugene Walker and Edward Jones, scored from the free throw lanes for a 46-26 count.

Alcorn Braves Top Southern Cats 65-63

ALCORN, Miss. —

The Alcorn A. & M. College Braves stopped their second Louisiana team in as many outings, edging Southern University 65-63 in Baton Rouge, La. last Wednesday. They had previously defeated the high flying Grambling Tigers 83-78 in a contest last weekend.

Mitchell Howard, 6' 7" Alcorn Center went on a scoring spree blasting for 27 points to help the Braves cause as Robert Pickett, currently leading Braves scorer, contributed 12 markers, which in one way, was a bad night for him. Southern shot into the lead from the opening whistle and appeared headed for victory until the dogged determined Braves knotted the count at 52 all with a little less than six minutes to play. An exchange of balls found the tigers from Southern again out in front but the Braves quickly regained pose, tied the game again, and flew home to victory by a hair-raising verdict of only two points.

Roosevelt Hill, man under the post for Southern, led his aggregation in points scored; hitting the hoops for 20 markers.

Florida A & M Tops Tuskegee 85 To 56

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — The Florida A. & M. cagers snapped a two game losing streak by downing Tuskegee 85 to 56 here in the A and M gym Tuesday night.

Knoxville College edged the local quintet 84 to 82 in Knoxville Saturday night and Morris Brown re-vengeed a two game trouncing handed them by A and M by turning back the Rattlers 76 to 69 in Atlanta Monday night.

Coach Ed Oakesby's forces erased an early four point lead held by Tuskegee and soured on to take their sixth SIAC game against three lesser Florida A and M led at the half 41 to 30.

The close up game played by A and M featured lay ups and tip ins with towering Leon Collier, Captain Roy Young, Leroy Gibson, and Eddie Simmons tallying most of the field goals.

Collier was high for A and M with 23 points, Thomas Lampkins and Nat Frazier led the Alabamians with 14 and 13 points respectively.

BAMBOO CURTAIN IS NO ROCK 'N-ROLL BARRIER

BY JAMES YAPP

HONG KONG — (INS) — Rock 'N' Roll, Cha-Cha-Cha and other Western dance rhythms have penetrated the Bamboo Curtain. And they are spreading fast, much to the concern of the Communist Chinese authorities.

Open and clandestine dancing parties are being held in Shanghai as well as peking almost daily, lasting into the early hours of the morning.

SLACKNESS — The picnic, however, will be short-lived. The authorities have already taken note of what they describe as "the undesirable tendency fostering moral degeneration and slackness in discipline."

The Communist Chinese press also has complained about students refusing to participate in political studies and factory workers refusing to attend political meetings, preferring to pass their time reading comics thrillers or dancing.

One Communist newspaper reported that students and factory workers even performed the rock 'n' roll and cha-cha in parks along the famous Shanghai Bund "singing ribald songs and swaying in a fantastic manner."

SOCIAL PROBLEM — The Shanghai newspaper Hsin Wen Jiu Po commented that "un-restrained dance party activities have now developed into a social problem deserving serious attention of the Shanghai community."

The dance craze apparently introduced into Communist China through recordings sent or brought from Hong Kong, has resulted in the reemergence of dance hostesses who are now much in demand at both open and underground dance parties. These parties, according to the Communist press, are patronized by minor government officials as well as young factory workers and students.

80 CENTS — The demand for admission tickets to dance parties is so great that a black-market has come into existence -- a nominal five-cent ticket selling for as high as 80 cents.

Describing one clandestine dance party, the newspaper said that "on the crowded floor, underground dance hostesses clad in strange provocative dresses rubbed shoulders with nearly 100 juvenile delinquents and rascals of both sexes in fancy dress and rocking the steps commonly done by American

Morehouse Sweeps Series With Allen Jackets 56-48, 64-61

Morehouse College swept its two-game series with the Allen University Yellowjackets by winning a squeaker 64-61 Saturday night, the Maroon Tigers won Friday's encounter 56-48, in the College-Gymnasium.

Coach Frank Forbes cagers thereby made it three in a row having defeated Tuskegee Institute earlier in the week 84-65.

In winning over the astutious Yellowjackets the Atlanta quint was extended to the final whistle. George Gludman of the Yellowjackets was on the firing line with a gift toss with five seconds remaining. He missed and the Johnny-on-the-spot Maroon Tigers gloved it and the seconds ticked away without hazard to the victors cause.

The game was close all the way. Morehouse had a scant 19-17 lead at the end of the first ten minutes of play. The Maroon Tigers led 34-33 at halftime. However, Morehouse found its balance and pulled away 55-46 with 10 minutes remaining to play. It was still nip and tuck as the play went down to the wire.

Elmer Wilson plunked in 17 points to lead scoring for the Maroon Tigers. Ronald Hunley bagged 15 to top the runner-up spot. Robert Byrd tallied 15 points for the Yellowjackets in a losing cause.

Morehouse's victory over the Allen quint tremendously bolstered

Bulldogs attempted to close the gap with a determined rally. Wright pitched in several shots from the foul line and dribbled underneath for close-ups but got very little help from his mates.

Two straight baskets by George Tapley, of Waycross, Ga., failed to get the Bulldogs rolling as Williams, Bonner, Carlton and Ronald Jones kept hitting the strings for the Panthers. Then with time running out Bunn spearheaded a "semi-freeze" with a "change-of-pace" dribble.

Teddy Wright captured scoring laurels with 31 points and James Enoch finished in the runner-up spot with 16. Other high scorers were: Nudie Williams and Gerald Tate with 13 points apiece.

FAMU's Willie Galimore Signs With Chicago Bears

ST. LOUIS — Willie Galimore, Florida A and M's All-American halfback, came to terms with the Chicago Bears professional football club here during the meeting of the American Football Coaches Association.

The terms of the contract were not disclosed but according to Coach Jack Galther and Galimore the figures and terms were very satisfactory.

Galimore was the guest of the Chicago Bears organization at a luncheon at the Staller Hotel which was attended by the Chicago Bears' president, George Halas, Sr., Geo. Halas, Jr., Bear Coach Frank Korch, Jimmy Councilman, former teammate of Halas, Sr., Coach Galther and Robert Griffin, both of Florida A and M University.

Halas, Jr., who represented the Bears' front office, exhaled a sigh of relief after having the former Florida A and M University grid star signed to a contract following surmounting rumors that Galimore had received several sizable offers from other leading pro teams.

The newly acquired member of the Bears has been one of the most publicized football players to come out of the South in recent years. He was named to the All-American mythical team four years and was cited as "Back of The Week" by the Florida Sports Writers Association and "Florida's Most Outstanding Negro Athlete of the Year" by the Orange Blossom Classic committee.

Willie scored 16 touchdowns and made two conversions for a total of 98 points during the past season. His total for 1956 was 61 points. He led the Southern Interscholastic Athletic Conference in rushing with 820 yards on the ground in 86 carries for an average of 9.5 per carry. He caught six passes for another 100 yards and returned three punts for 38 yards.

The President Takes Over Again In The Blossom Of Health

Those who witnessed the first induction of President Dwight D. Eisenhower, hardly saw in the second inauguration any demarcation from the buoyancy of health in which he became the nation's chief executive four years ago.

Fate was kind to the President, and the country is eternally grateful that he was able to come through an illness which last year threatened his brilliant career. Not only so, he was unanimously nominated and overwhelmingly elected for a second term.

Last Sunday marked the beginning of another term which promises to mark the nation well on the way past the crossroad of decision.

He would issue the rallying cry for a world order of peace; that the role of the United States during his second term will be to heal by peaceful means a world he called sorely divided by communism.

Standing on the same capital steps where Lincoln had called for "malice toward none" he declared "the more certain will come that day when our peoples may freely meet in friendship."

This was an indication that the President would fight vigorously for a united front on the home base in order that the nation and the free world might combat the peril of communism.

The terrible menace of home had already been dealt with in his message to the 85th Congress. The walls of the filibuster apparently seem to be crumbling from the onslaught of the positive stand taken and defended by the sponsors of the President's civil rights legislation.

The National Anthem as sung by Marion Anderson might be regarded the cap-stone of the historic occasion. Her brave mask, beaming from the pulsation of a golden throat, will long linger in this drama which ushered into power again that administration which has meant so much to her times and her people.

Thusly, truly American and in the free American way of doing things, the 34th President of the United States takes over again for another epochal occasion in the annals of the country and the world.

Being a golf enthusiast and a lover of Georgia and her sun-bright clime, it would naturally be expected that the vacation White House would still remain in Augusta where the President has been coming for that relaxation responsible largely for his robust health, even before he was elected President.

The good heart of the nation and a big hand from all over the free world, join in the happy felicitation which goes out for one of the most popular personages to ever cross the pages of history.

An Example For Others

(From The Birmingham World)

About four years ago the Grain Workers Federal Credit Union was organized. Today it is not only operating soundly, but is rendering a beneficial service to the workers and to the community. It is lending money to its members and members of the sponsoring labor union, at cheaper rates and, at the same time making a profit for those who save their money by buying shares in the credit union.

A recent financial report by this credit union indicates that in 1956 it provided approximately 40,000 in loans. Over a four year period it has loaned approximately $109,000. This seems to be an encouraging record for a union of 300 members. Yet not all of them are members of the credit union, according to the reports recently made.

The federal credit union offers numerous benefits and services to employee groups. It stimulates thrift and savings, allows worker participation in a business venture, and awakens interest in consumer counseling. It can be made an economic self-defense tool.

This federal credit union has set a good example which might be followed profitably by other occupational groups.

Publishers Look To Ike For Civil Rights Backing

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — (SNS) — Members of the National Newspaper Publishers Association, at the wind-up session of their three-day Mid-Winter Workshop at Fisk University here Jan. 17-19 adopted unanimously a statement which asserted that "President Eisenhower has an inescapable responsibility to use the full weight of all resources of his office to guarantee to every American citizen that his constitutional rights shall be freely exercised, protected, and preserved in every section of the nation."

Prepared by a special drafting committee composed of Thomas W. Young, president of the Norfolk (Va.) Journal & Guide, chairman; Dowell H. Davis, manager of The Kansas City (Mo.) Call and Emory O. Jackson, managing editor, Birmingham (Ala.) Post-Herald, the document urged Congress to "enact legislation to guarantee to all Americans the right to vote and other civil rights." It added that governors of the various states and their legislatures "have a corresponding obligation" to see that civil and constitutional rights may be fully and freely exercised "and to bring about an immediate end to disorder and violence within their respective states." Meantime the NNPA board of directors discussed arrangements for their annual convention set for June 20-22 in Columbus, Ohio. The board approved plans for celebrating the 130th anniversary of the Negro newspaper during National Negro Newspaper Week March 17-23.

Thurgood Marshall, of New York City, director-counsel of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc., speaking at a special assembly attended by Fisk students and community residents, declared that "one of the cheapest ways to get your rights is at the polls."

He observed that the problems of desegregation could not be solved in the courts alone but had to be worked on at the community level. He praised the work of the Negro press in during the transition period.

Workshop activities began Thursday with NNPA Vice-President W. Beverly Carter, Jr., publisher of The Pittsburgh Courier, presiding in place of T. C. Jervay, president, and publisher of the Wilmington (N. C.) Journal, who couldn't attend the workshop because of illness.

Silent prayer in respect to the memory of the late Dr. Charles S. Johnson, deceased president of Fisk University.

Carl Murphy, president of The Afro-American Newspapers, Baltimore, presided over a panel discussion of the topic, "New Ideas of Operations That Have Saved Money or Improved Our Newspapers." Other panelists were C. C. Dejeu, Jr., editor of the Louisiana Weekly, New Orleans, La.; Mr. Young and Mr. Davis.

Mr. Carter presided over the session at which the topic discussed was "The Operation of a Daily Newspaper as Compared with That of a Weekly." Louis E. Martin, of The Chicago (Ill.) Daily Defender and Russell Simmons, of The Atlanta (Ga.) Daily World were the speakers. John H. Johnson, Johnson Publications, Chicago, discussed "The Operation of a Monthly Magazine."

Thursday night the workshopers were guests at a cocktail party given at the Fisk Faculty Club by Chuck Williams.

Russell Jackson, editor of The Ohio (Columbus) Sentinel, host paper for the 1957 NNPA convention, served as moderator over the Friday panel discussion of "The Role of the Negro Press in the Fight for Civil Rights." Speakers included Mr. Marshall, Guichard Parris, of New York City, director of public relations, National Urban League and William J. Trent, of New York, executive director, United Negro College Fund.

Text of the NNPA resolution reads: "Members of the National Newspaper Publishers Association adopted the following statement:

"In view of the breakdown of interracial amity and understanding in some parts of our nation, we believe that all Americans of good will must speak out and act, without delay, to bring about the end of violence, terrorism, bombings, disregard for human and civil rights, and contempt for Constitutionally-guaranteed law and order."

"Our country has developed the philosophy that all men possess inescapable dignities and rights. It now faces the responsibility of proving to itself and to the world that such a philosophy can be the guiding principle in man's search for security and peace."

"The keys-one of any civilization adhering to these beliefs is observance of law and order. The foundation of American law is the Constitution of the United States as interpreted by the Supreme Court."

"President Eisenhower has an inescapable responsibility to use the full weight and resources of his office to guarantee to every American citizen that his Constitutional rights shall be freely exercised, protected, and preserved in every section of the nation. His assurance to the American people that the law of the land must be observed is urgently needed at this time."

"The Congress of the United States should enact legislation to guarantee to all American citizen their security, equality of opportunity and exercise of voting and other civil rights."

"The governors and legislatures of the various states have a corresponding obligation to guarantee that all Constitutional rights may be fully and freely exercised. The first step is to bring about an immediate end to disorder and violence within their respective states."

"The American people have an equal responsibility to insist that their elected officials, their civic and religious leaders in every community, take immediate action to restore confidence in the principles of freedom, equality, human dignity and government under law."

"Only in this way can our nation earn the respect of other nations and secure domestic unity necessary to preserve our civilization."

School Bias Ruled Out In Nashville

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — (SNS) — A Federal Judge ruled Monday to abolish segregation in Nashville's elementary public schools.

Judge William Miller told the State Board of Education to submit, by next week, a "complete plan to abolish segregation in all of the remaining grades of the city's school system."

The ruling came while Miller was approving five of the board's six recommendations for gradual desegregation. He said he disapproved of the sixth point for what he termed its "indecisive" nature, and set

Dec. 31, 1956 for the board's segregation abolishment report.

Miller said he objected to the sixth point because it merely provided the continuance of study of the problem and was directly contrary to the Supreme Court ruling. He said it is manifest that full compliance with the high tribunal ruling be "accomplished with all deliberate speed."

Miller had already approved sections of the board's gradual desegregation plan including: Compulsory integration in the city's first grade elementary schools for the scholastic year beginning this September.

A plan of school zoning based on location of schools without reference to race be set up for the first grade and other grades to be eventually integrated.

A ruling that would allow all students entering the first grade to be permitted to attend the school designated for the zone for which he or she resides.

Members of the National Newspaper Publishers Association adopted the following statement:

Plan To Start NAACP Leader

ed out of their freedoms and their rights, said Wilkins. "He can see the plight of the Hungarians. He can hear their cries for help in Washington, but no one hears the cries of (Negro) American citizens from Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, South Carolina, Georgia and Virginia," he continued.

He said the President pays personal attention to soil drought areas, but he does not reply to appeals from human beings in the "Dixie Disaster" belt. "They (Negroes) only ask that he speak out from his high office against lawlessness and violence. If not by tanks and armies, he could say at least what he said of the Hungarians last December 10," said Wilkins.

He said that Negro Americans are only asking for equality under law, as written by the Constitution and interpreted by the Supreme court.

He said Gov. Griffin would sweep away the last 100 years and try to pretend that they never existed when he "order the preservation of segregation" no matter what any court may rule. Wilkins said such statements "explains the cause of the South's racial tension today."

Wilkins, told about the southern states which have outlawed the NAACP. Here, he said Cook is attempting to prove the NAACP was a Communist-front organization. He accused the White Citizens Councils of trying to help spread the rumor. "The NAACP has never been Communist," he said.

"The NAACP will still fight for the Negroes civil rights. However, 'they are now trying to take away our right to fight for our rights.' Wilkins assure the audience that the NAACP has not been frightened but are more determined to continue.

"Southern school bonds are being snubbed by financial houses. Those that are being purchased are at an all-time high interest rate. What he wants to invest in the bonds of a school system in a state where legislators pass laws which virtually abolish the system" if integration occurs, said Wilkins.

In conclusion Wilkins said, "the NAACP has never espoused violence and we do not intend to start now." He was introduced by Mrs. Eunan Cooper, secretary of the Atlanta NAACP branch. Atty. Donald L. Hollowell was toastmaster.

John H. Callahan, president of the local branch, was presented a scroll by E. M. Martin, vice president of the Atlanta Life Insurance Co. for "outstanding branch work."

Among others appearing on the program were: Rev. H. I. Bearden, Calhoun, John G. Gloster, Rev. Samuel W. Williams, who told about how "determined Atlanta Negroes are to obtain civil rights," and Rev. T. C. Lightfoot.

He said he would protest to House Republican leader Joseph W. Martin, Jr., Massachusetts. He added that if Martin advised him the committee-Republicans had not followed official party policy, he would ask for another vote.

Powell said he has headed only one subcommittee in his 14 years in the House. He said that in 1949, the late chairman John Lesinski (D) Mich., named him to head a subcommittee handling employment legislation.

POWELL CHARGED THAT BARDEN "MADE A DEAL" WITH REP. SAMUEL MCCONNELL, Pennsylvania, the top ranking GOP member, and other Republicans to adopt the move.

POWELL SAID HE HAD HEADED ONLY ONE SUBCOMMITTEE IN HIS 14 YEARS IN THE HOUSE. HE SAID THAT IN 1949, THE LATE CHAIRMAN JOHN LESINSKI (D) MICH., NAMED HIM TO HEAD A SUBCOMMITTEE HANDLING EMPLOYMENT LEGISLATION.

wasn't making any noise, but he was laughing. "Hiya, Blondie," he said. "You're cute."

"Now, listen," I said, "I don't want to have any trouble with you."

"Mata," he said. "Mata Hari." "You answer my questions and I'll answer yours."

"Oh, stop it," he said. "You just answer my questions and I'll let you go."

"You'll let me go?" he asked quietly. "Look, you don't have me. I have you."

"Let's put it this way . . . we have each other." He said, "Your hands are shaking."

I clenched my hands together, tight. He said, "They should be shaking. I have a very vicious attack in me. I fight people who bother me . . . and Dottie."

"With one of my shaking hands I jammed down the door handle, shoved against the door with my shoulder. He grabbed at me and missed, I was out on the sidewalk. He got out the door on his side and started around the hood of the car toward me."

I scrambled back into the car, got the door closed and locked. I lurched across the seat and locked the other door just in time. I turned on the ignition, stepped on the starter. He was shaking the door handle.

The car lurched forward and sent him sprawling. As I turned the nearest corner, I saw him in the rear view mirror. He was on his feet again, his hands on his hips, watching me disappear.

I had got away from Jack Walston. He had learned a thing or two about him and Dottie Harris. I was doing better this evening than I had all day. But I didn't feel better for it.

The Barton family was going rapidly to seed. Mr. Barton was the Walizer, that maniac killer that the police of the world's largest city were seeking. Mrs. Barton was, at the moment, driving the streets of Kew Gardens in a car she had stolen.

I abandoned it at the subway station. I parked it within sight of an honest looking cop and headed for home. I didn't duck under the turnstile. I paid my fare and that returned to me a little of my self respect. I wasn't completely unregenerate yet."

An unwelcome visitor is waiting at home for Dottie as Chapter 17 of "The Blonde Died Dancing" continues here tomorrow.
