

5,000,000 Voters Registration Goal Set For South

WASHINGTON, D. C. — (ANP) — Vice-President R. M. Nixon is expected to join the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr. and other members of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference in spearheading a drive to register some 5,000,000 Negro voters in the South this fall, it was announced by Rev. King, leader of the successful Montgomery bus boycott, said the drive would be waged by the large organization of Negro ministers on a $200,000 budget and will utilize all available facets of the law.

"We intend to use all facilities of the law and to appeal to the Justice Department whenever it is necessary," Rev. King stated.

With Vice President Nixon supporting the drive, as indicated by Rev. King, the organization expects to enlist large contingents of Negro voters in towns and cities throughout the South. The campaign will be waged by Southern Negroes in order to avoid charges of outside interference.

Campaign headquarters will be in Atlanta.

POWELL ENDORSES

Congressman Powell (D), New York, recently declared: — "I endorse 100 per cent Martin Luther King's registration drive in the South to place on the books one million Negro voters. I will assist him by sending in expert political workers to aid in this effort. I, personally, will come South anywhere and at anytime as needed as I did to spark the Montgomery Bus boycott."

"Negroes must not ally themselves with or think in terms of either party, but should concentrate on the issues and the position of the candidates in relationship to these. This should be the signal for the North to register now as never before. On September 17, 1957, I am returning to the United States to exert all effort toward such registration."

"It is time now for the big city Northern Democrats to do some painful soul-searching."

President Eisenhower Signs 'Civil Rights' Measure Into Law

Owens, Walden, Shepard Dropped In Jackson Win

Atlanta's Rev. B. J. Johnson Named To Statistician Post

BY LOUIS LAUTIER
LOUISVILLE, Ky. — (NNPA) — Doubt about the reelection of Dr. Joseph H. Jackson of Chicago for a fifth term as president of the National Baptist Convention was removed Thursday afternoon.

In the most orderly session of the convention since it opened, the minutes of the three sessions on Wednesday were read and overwhelmingly approved.

These minutes recorded the approval of the motion in the stormy session of Wednesday afternoon to suspend the rules and elect Dr. Jackson by acclamation.

One member of the convention seconded the motion to approve the minutes "because everything in them was right and can stay as it is."

Dr. Jackson was in complete charge of the Thursday afternoon session as the convention went into the election of its other officers.

OWENS, WALDEN, SHEPARD DROPPED

In the election of a slate of officers recommended by a committee, several officers who had opposed Dr. Jackson were dropped. Included among them were the Rev. S. A. Owens of Memphis, who was the vice president at large of the convention; Austin T. Walden of Atlanta, who was the attorney for the convention; and the Rev. Marshall L. Shepard of Philadelphia, chairman of the Foreign Missions Board.

Dr. Owens was one of the persons being backed to depose Dr. Jackson. Mr. Walden gave a legal opinion to the Board of Directors upholding the tenure provision of the constitution of the National Baptist Convention.

If the Walden ruling had prevailed, Dr. Jackson would have been ineligible to run for reelection. Dr. Jackson himself ruled that the tenure provision was invalid because it had not been properly adopted in 1952.

Dr. Shepard, who prior to the convention fought to sustain the tenure provision said the convention is powerless to elect officers of auxiliary boards. These boards are

Ministers Calm As Baptist Head Preaches

BY LOUIS LAUTIER
LOUISVILLE, Ky. — (NNPA) — Ministers who had been minutes earlier fighting, shouting and pushing each other were calmed Thursday morning as Dr. Joseph H. Jackson, president of the National Baptist Convention, delivered his annual address.

Trouble makers in the convention began early in the morning session. They were shouting for the minutes of the Wednesday sessions to be read and delayed a program on behalf of the American Baptist Theological Seminary.

Even during this program, the speakers had to make themselves heard above the noise and confusion around them. The trouble was on the platform. Most of the persons seated on the floor of the Jefferson County Armory where the convention was held indicated several times that they wished to hear the program.

When Dr. Jackson came into the convention he was given an ovation but the disorder continued. The Rev. L. Evans, formerly of Nashville, Tenn., now of New York City, the ringleader, kept shouting into the microphone. Some ministers pushed him off the platform. He grabbed a folded metal chair and drew back to throw it. A minister on the platform beat him to the draw and threw a chair at him first. He threw a chair back.

In the melee that followed, at least one minister on the platform was pushed or knocked down and chairs were angrily hurled.

The Rev. Mr. Evans escaped arrest, but policemen stationed at the Armory, who moved in to restore order, went upon the platform and arrested four ministers.

DISMISSED FROM CONVENTION
Later, by voice vote, the Rev. Mr. Evans was dismissed from the convention. (Continued on Back Page)

Church of God in Christ Plans For Memphis Meet

Plans for the national convention of the Church of God in Christ were discussed when 25 bishops and ministers met here last week. The three-week convention is expected to convene in Memphis starting Nov. 25.

Thousands of delegates are expected to come from the denomination's 3,500 churches, in 46 states.

Church of God in Christ was founded in Lexington, Miss., 50 years ago by Bishop C.H. Mason, 94, of 970 Mason St. He will be paid a special tribute during the convention.

Site of the convention will be Mason Temple, 958 Mason St. headquarters for the denomination.

Bishop Lewis H. Ford of Chicago is chairman of the convention. Bishop J.O. Patterson of East Tennessee is also an official in mapping the convention. He is associated with the Pentecostal Temple on Wellington St.

Mrs. Octavia Green Out Of Collins Chapel After Ten-Day Hospitalization

Mrs. Octavia Green of 2510 Vandale St., who accused two city policemen of "brutally beating" her on Aug. 17, was discharged from Collins Chapel hospital Sept. 3 after being hospitalized 10 days.

She was treated for injuries to the back, bruises and other injuries, according to a statement from Mrs. Green, a 47-year-old mother, who added "the injuries were received at the hands of the two city policemen."

Mrs. Green said, "I am still under Dr. Sam Wener's care. My back still bothers me. My left eye and left thumb is still bothering me also." She said the thumb had been numb ever since the Aug. 17 beating. She continued "the laceration in my mouth healed well but it left a ridge."

The mother said on Monday, she was still unable to return to her job at Nicky Brothers Co., on Summer Ave. since the "day I was beaten."

Makes No Comment While Affixing Name To Measure

WASHINGTON, D.C. — President Dwight D. Eisenhower signed the Civil Rights Bill early Monday morning without comment.

The measure—first to be enacted by Congress in more than 80 years—was passed Aug. 8, by the 85th Congress and sent to the President. It provides the following:

A Federal Civil Rights Commission with subpoena power to study the entire field of racial discrimination; a new Justice Department Division on Civil Rights under an assistant attorney general, and it empowers the federal government to take court action to bar interference with any individual's right to vote. In criminal contempt cases, however, the defendant will have a qualified right to a jury trial.

BILL CHANGED
The bill, originally drafted with sharp teeth to protect civil rights, weathered a long and stormy flight through both houses of Congress and a Conference Committee composed of Representatives and Senators. Some of the teeth were extracted and the jaws of the bill weakened by Southern foes who would just as soon have had no bill at all.

Most of the opposition coming in the Senate, the bill was tossed about but finally ejected favorably after it had been watered down.

The controversial jury-trial amendment to the Administration's bill was adopted by a vote of 51 to 42 last week after Eisenhower charged that it would take most of the enforcement powers from the legislation. Southerners said, however, that Dixie juries would "rule fair" in cases involving civil rights.

TUSKEGEE MERCHANTS ADMIT PROTEST PINCH

TUSKEGEE, Ala. — Circuit Judge Will O. Walton took under advisement Friday a motion to end the temporary injunction aimed at a Negro boycott of white businesses and promised a decision at the "earliest possible" time.

About 1,000 Negroes heard legal arguments for and against the injunction which was issued against the Tuskegee Civic Association three weeks ago at the request of Atty. Gen. John Patterson. He had charged the organization with sponsoring an illegal boycott designed to cripple and destroy the economy of an entire city and county.

The boycott began in June after the Alabama Legislature began tinkering with a bill which would re-zone Tuskegee, eliminating over 400 qualified Negro voters from within the city limits. The bill was later enacted and proclaimed law without the governor's signature. The boycott protested the legislation.

10 AYS TO FILE BRIEFS
Judge Walton said both sides in the dispute had 10 days to file briefs in support of their arguments before he made a decision.

The injunction prohibits TCA and other groups from "using any force, threats, intimidation and coercion" in keeping Negroes from trading at any Tuskegee stores.

Negro spokesmen denied taking such action. They also denied that an organized boycott existed, according to Alabama's anti-boycott

Two Klansmen Sign Confessions Admitting Brutal Attack On Man

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — (INS) — Birmingham police questioned an exalted cyclops of the Ku Klux Klan Saturday in an effort to uncover the names of two carloads of men whom they say sexually mutilated a Negro "as an example."

Joe P. Pritchett, 31, was the Klan official being examined, while William J. Miller, 28, and John N. Griffin, 38 both of Birmingham, have already signed written confessions admitting they attacked Judge Aaron.

Deputies said the two men, both members of the KKK were part of a crowd that abducted Aaron Monday night because they wanted to set an example and find "some damn Negro to scare hell out of."

The 34-year-old Aaron, meanwhile, was listed in "fair" condition at a nearby hospital.

The victim, a one-time mental hospital patient, has been described as an easy going individual who never had any connection with any integration movements he was beaten, castrated and left unconscious on a lonely road where police found him.

Officers said they received a "tip" which led to the three arrests last night. They said others should follow.

Aaron claimed there were two carloads of men involved in the incident.

The victim was abducted from a friend's home late Monday night, police said, and taken blindfolded to an abandoned home where was attacked. He told police the raiders said before attacking him: "This is what will happen if Negro leaders attempt to integrate white schools."

Leading Negroes in Birmingham said they had never heard of Aaron and could not reason why he was selected for the attack.

Federal Officials Study Decision For Course Of Action

By BOB CONSIDINE

BULLETIN
Gov. Orval Faubus Monday refused to back down on his position of keeping state guardsmen at Little Rock's Central High School, while federal officials studied all moves in the unprecedented case involving integration.

The Central High principal was understood quoted to have advised Negro students to enroll in Negro high school classes as heretofore. Events in the Arkansas dilemma were changing hourly.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — (INS) — A federal judge sternly brushed aside Saturday attempts to delay the "immediate" integration of Little Rock's Central High School and cleared the way for a historic showdown between President Eisenhower and Gov. Orval Faubus.

With biting sarcasm, and warnings clearly directed at the Governor, Judge Ronald M. Davies rejected a petition by the Little Rock school board that he go slow on a previous order compelling the board to "proceed forthwith" on its plan of integration.

BOARD TO CONTINUE PLAN
An hour after Davies' decision, the school board issued a statement which read in part: "The Federal Court has again ordered the school board to proceed with its integration plan. The plan is still in effect and Little Rock Central High School will be opened Monday for all students."

This aligned the school board, however reluctantly, with the federal government and some observers wondered whether national guardsmen could or would halt school board members in the event they wished to escort the Negro students through the armed line.

TOO ELEMENTARY

"That we, and each of us, have the duty to conform to the law of the land and the decrees of the duly constituted tribunals is too elementary to require elaboration," the 52-year-old jurist said in his decision.

There was no immediate comment from Faubus, who has exchanged bitter telegrams with President Eisenhower. And in Washington, where Eisenhower discussed the crisis with Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr.,

Dallas Schools Ordered To Integrate In January

DALLAS, Tex. — (INS) — Federal Judge William Atwell Thursday ordered integration of Dallas public schools in January.

The judge ordered attorneys for the school system and the 23 Negroes who sought two years ago to enroll in white schools to draw up an agreement deciding how they will proceed with the desegregation.

The agreement is to be presented to Judge Atwell Monday for his approval, at which time he will make it part of the desegregation order.

50 PERSONS
The judge whose two previous anti-integration orders have been reversed by higher courts, gave his order in a brief, quiet session attended by about 50 persons.

He said it was difficult to make the order "which will unsettle the tranquility of the Dallas schools" but "this is a land of law."

Judge Atwell said approximately one of every six students in the Dallas schools are Negroes and that since the school buildings are now filled the integration will mean that some white students will have to be

Rev. James W. Golden and his wife of 1106 S. Orleans St. can rightfully be called "globe-trotters." They returned recently from a 30,000 airplane tour which carried them to three continents and 21 countries.

Rev. Golden was a delegate of the World Prayer League which was sponsored in the tour by the National Fraternal Council of Churches U. S. A., Inc.

He said the most striking thing which claimed his attention during the nearly 3-month tour of Asia, Africa and Europe was the "seething situation in Jordan between the Arabs and Jews and the explosive conditions in Iraq, Syria, Egypt and Turkey. They left Memphis June 4.

The aim of the tour was to study the social, economical and political life in these countries.

A CHILD IS NAMED
In promoting the World Prayer League, the minister "spoke to youth and adult groups, colleges, universities and other schools." In India he even "preached, baptized and named a child."

Union Protective Company To Celebrate 24th Anniversary

The 24th anniversary of the Union Protective Assurance company, 368 Beale St., which has been celebrated for several weeks, will climax with a formal program at Mt. Olive CME Cathedral, 538 Linden Ave. Sunday, Sept. 15, announced the company's president.

The program is scheduled for 3:30 P. M.

The company, born out of the dreams of the late H. David Whalum, its first president, during the dark days of the Depression of 1930's has grown steadily until today it ranks among the top industrial life insurance companies in Tennessee.

The company presently handling all forms of industrial life, health and accident insurance, will also start writing all forms of ordinary life insurance beginning next year. The approval has already been received from the Tennessee State Insurance commissioner.

OVER $1 MILLION
Union Protective company started with a capital asset of $133,000 in 1933 when "breadlines" was the biggest business on Beale Street. Today it boasts assets of more than one and half million dollars.

Starting in Tennessee with one office and few employees, now the company employs about 240 persons in its seven branch offices in Tennessee and one in St. Louis, Mo. Of that number about 80 are employed in Memphis' home office and two branch offices.

Prior to forming the company the first president had worked for the Universal Life Insurance Company a number of years. He was the first insurance manager hired by Uni-

GOP Senators Hit Demos On Action In 85th Congress

WASHINGTON — (INS)—Five Eisenhower Republican Senators charged Saturday that the record of the first session of the Democrat-controlled 85th Congress amounted to "too little, too late or not at all."

The quintet of GOP legislators said in a prepared statement that under the Democrats "Few truly constructive pieces of legislation were enacted directly on the heels of President Eisenhower's unprecedented victory."

They stated: "Democrats in Congress made it impossible to extend the concept of an effective civil rights bill beyond the protection of voting rights. They labored in the immigration field and gave birth to a mouse. They demonstrated a new shifting trend away from responsible internationalism. The assaults of their leadership on the U. S. information agency budget were symptomatic of this trend."

The five senators also blamed Democrats for "ignoring" labor legislation.

Joining in the criticism were GOP Senators Gordon Allott of Colo., Clifford P. Case of N. J., Irving M. Ives of N. Y., Jacob K. Javits of N. Y., and Frank Carlson of Kansas.

Principal Permits Young Girl To Enroll In School

AUGUSTA Ga., — (INS) — An Augusta Negro school principal permitted a young Negro girl to enroll at his school Friday, but only after a heated controversy because her skin was "too light."

I. E. Washington, principal of the Walker Elementary school, had refused to admit first-grader Patricia Utley to enter his school until he was positive she was not a white girl posing as a Negro.

Washington said — Friday after much dispute, "if they (the girl's parents) bring her back, we'll take her."

The principal explained the reason he had first refused was because of her devious appearance. "Although her parents live in the Negro section the child is so light-skinned it appeared to us that she was white," Washington said. He added:

"We couldn't enroll her if she was white because it is against Georgia law to mix the races."

Use It Or Lose It

BY LOUISE LYNN

Yea though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me. (Psalm 23: 4)

Christian Faith
Probably the greatest test of our Christian faith is the untimely loss of a loved one. Jesus has promised to walk with us when we go through the valley of the shadow of death, and He will.

Our youngest daughter loved school, her choir, and her church. When we lost her at the tender age of seven, it seemed impossible for us to understand why she should be taken so young.

How did we find peace? We found it when we realize that she was with Jesus; that she had achieved, though so early, the immortality we all hope for; that the trials and temptations of this world were behind her; that moral life is brief, even if we live three score and ten years; and that we have a future reunion to strive for, through a more Christlike life.

These things Jesus told us as He walked with us through our valley. I will fear no evil: for thou art with me.

JOSEPH

We think of how Joseph kept the Christian faith, he was sold into slavery. He was a prisoner in Egypt, but he kept the Christian faith. After being sold as a slave he had to endure the situation and soon, he became head of the household. After he was thrown in prison he wasn't uneasy because he knew God was with him. While in prison there were two more with him. One night they had a dream and Joseph interpreted them. Later Pharaoh had two dreams which none of the wise men could interpret. He was told about the two dreams Joseph interpreted for two men. So he sent for Joseph and he explained what the dreams meant. (Seven years of famine). He was appointed the food commissioner. Let us have faith as Joseph had the Christian faith, that whatever the situation might be God will bring us through.

Sometime ago a crushing experience engulfed my spirit. My faith in the goodness of humankind was assailed. Moreover, I had forgotten, temporarily, that God is always near. If he be for us, no force can really prevail against us.

It was my small daughter's faith in me which helped to restore my confidence in others. Being an only child, Rosemary has drawn ever closer to me since her father's death. Often on vacation trips she has taken naps on the back seat of the car. She was confident that I, at the wheel, would keep her safe. Then during school days, if I promised that a dress hem would be ready by next morning, she went happily to bed. She knew my word was reliable.

Though I knew myself to be full of mistakes and weakness, I had been nevertheless deeply trusted by my child. God helping me, I knew that I must lay hold upon an unshakable faith in the utter dependability of God and in His power to make my fellow beings dependable also. Faith is victory. The just shall live by faith.

Ask - God To Help Us To Use Christian Faith And Not Lose It.

GUARD BARS NEGRO STUDENTS

GOV. ORVAL E. FAUBUS (top, left) of Arkansas has ordered out National Guard troops in Little Rock to maintain order by keeping Negro students out of the all-white Central High School. Armed men guard the entrance (right) while crowds (bottom) gather in front of the building. The dozen Negro students scheduled to enroll awaited word from the school board, but Gov. Faubus, in a TV address, said lives and property would be endangered if a Federal District Court order to admit them were not defied. — (International)

DOUGLASS HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

BY GERALINE BELL

Hello fellows and girls. Welcome back to school. I certainly hope all of you had a very pleasant summer and are just as glad to get back to school as I am. The number of students at Douglass has increased greatly. The High School alone had approximately 30 per cent more students than we had last year. This only goes to prove that our school is getting larger and better each year.

We have many coming events to look forward to this school term. Among them are the selection of Miss Douglass, and the Football Queen, the football season, which is already in progress; the basketball season and many other such activities. This year certainly promises to be an eventful one.

DEVILS WIN
The Douglass Devils have already won their first two football games. On August 31, our team journeyed to Forrest City to play the Lincoln High School football squad. We won 13 to 6 with John Nason and James (Droope) Moore making the touch downs. The day we came back to school Douglass won again. This time it was against Bruce High of Dyersburg. The score in this tilt was 21 to 13 with two touch downs by Ivy Hunt in the third quarter and the next one coming from Robert (Monk) Manning in the fourth quarter.

We're expecting a lot from our football team this year and from the way they're starting out it looks like we're going to get—just what we expect.

Our first city game is against Hamilton this Friday Sept. 13, at Melrose Stadium and I hope we'll see all of you right there.

STAR DOUGLASSITE

This week our spotlight turns on one of the most talented and well-liked seniors at Douglass, Mr. Geo. Hudson.

George lives with his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hudson, Sr. at 1431 Locust Street and is a member of Mt. Zion Baptist Church.

Mr. Hudson is affiliated with various clubs around the school. He holds membership in the Senior band (and has since his Freshman days) the school orchestra, the Swingsters, and the SOD's (Sons of Douglass).

If you've heard Ben Branch orchestra play within the last few months you know George is the guy on that golden trumpet who makes all the young ladies scream with joy.

PLANS TO MAJOR IN MUSIC

When we asked our star Douglassite what his plans are for the future he told us that he hopes to major in Music at the University of Chicago.

Do you feel that teenagers should go steady? Well, this is what George said: "Yes, but I do feel that they should not get too serious about each other and therefore miss the fun of going around with other young people their own age."

Thank you very much for your opinion Mr. Hudson and hats off to you our Star Douglassite of the week.

Cornerstone Baptist Cited For Program Of Christian Education

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — The Cornerstone Baptist Church of Brooklyn, N. Y., received the S. N. VASS AWARD for "outstanding achievement in Christian education," presented annually by the Sunday School Publishing Board, during the National Baptist Convention's Sunday School Hour.

Announcement of the AWARD was made by Dr. A. M. Townsend, Secretary of the Board. Dr. Sandy F. Ray, pastor of the Church, and Mr. Cyril A. Davis, superintendent of the Sunday School, were cited for their accomplishments in Christian Education.

The S. N. VASS AWARD is given to a church, its pastor, and an outstanding lay leader, in recognition of accomplishment in the development of Christian Education in the church in cooperation with the program of the Sunday School Publishing Board.

Dr. S. N. Vass was the first Secretary of the Board's Department of Christian Education, and laid the foundation for the educational work done through the Board.

Cornerstone Baptist Church offers a complete educational program, and at times its leaders have been cited for their outstanding accomplishments. One feature is the Church's Parent-Teacher Association which is a link between the home and Church's educational program. The Church also offers a released-time school, and provides a program of in-service training and supervision to produce leaders for its program.

Dr. Ray is also President of the Empire Baptist State Convention of New York. Mr. Davis is a Board member of the National Sunday School and B. T. U. Congress.

Parkway Presbyterian Discusses Plans For Purchasing Church

The Parkway Gardens Presbyterian church, 1442 Gill Ave., discussed plans for purchasing a church and property, during a meeting at 10:30 a. m. last Sunday. Church trustees were elected during the meeting. Rev. A. E. Andrews is pastor.

Mid-Social Club Makes Plans For Annual Tea

The Mid-Social Club held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Carrie Johnson on Tunica Street, recently. Plans for the annual Tea were made. The date will be announced later.

There was a report from all committees. The next meeting is scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 12, at the home of Mrs. Cornelius Patrick of 2091 Hunter Street. Mrs. Willie B. White is club reporter.

Federal Officials

after interrupting his vacation at Newport, R. I., federal officials studied Davies' decision before determining a course of action.

"Ultimate chaos will prevail if court decrees are flaunted," the tiny tough-minded jurist ruled.

He left open the means by which nine Negro students barred since the school term began Tuesday by armed national guardsmen called out by Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus, may now answer the claims in which they have registered.

The big, brown high school remained under guard by a small detail of guardsmen Saturday during the extraordinary Saturday session of U. S. District Court.

Gov. Faubus has called up additional troops to be on hand on Monday morning to replace and implement the guardsmen who encircled the previously all-white school during the week.

Unsettled for the moment was the action the federal government will take to remove such a guard or safeguard the Negro students when and if, they appear Monday morning.

Judge Davies called the plea of the Little Rock's school board for a temporary stay of execution of the integration order as "anemic as the position of the school board itself."

"It does violence," the judge said, "to the integration plan originally conceived by the citizens of Little Rock and approved by this court and upheld in appellate courts."

PLAN OF THE CITIZENS
The plan is the plan of the citizens of Little Rock.

"This court has given careful consideration to the matter. I must agree, as we all must, that the education of the students must go forward, but I have a duty to perform from which I shall not shrink.

"The decision is a tenuous one. The police of Little Rock have not had a single case of violence since this matter began.

"The petition of the Little Rock School district and the Little Rock superintendent of schools for a stay order is in all things denied. "Court is dismissed."

Vatican Newspaper Condemns Faubus For Acting In Integation Issue

VATICAN CITY — (INS) — The semi-official Vatican newspaper Observatore Romano Friday condemned Gov. Orval Faubus' actions in the Little Rock segregation crisis.

An editorial, probably the strongest statement ever made by the paper on the race question, praised President Eisenhower for rebuking the Arkansas Governor.

Race discrimination, the paper said, is "unjustifiable from any viewpoint." The Editorial added:

"Whoever professes racist principles and whoever defends them and applies them under any pretext should not be admitted to the exercise of political duties. Even less should he be eligible for any public office . . . because there is no crime more serious than this, which contradicts the nature, character and inspiration of (U. S.) laws."

Faubus' use of the National Guard, the paper said, means that "outlawed aggressors are protected and those attacked because they are observing the law are considered and treated as disobedient."

Detroit Heads Business League's Program Committee

BOSTON—The National Business League closed its 57th annual convention here with the re-election of Dr. Frederick D. Patterson, president. Also re-elected were Rufus G. Byars, Washington, treasurer; Emmer Lancaster, Washington, secretary; J. E. Robinson, first vice-president and J. L. Henderson, second vice-president.

Edward Davis, Detroit auto sales dealer, was elected third vice-president and named chairman of the League's new committee on program.

With a view to expanding the organization's membership and increasing its services, delegates to the 57th annual convention of the National Business League passed resolutions recommending the appointment of a committee "to develop, clarify and expand the program and objectives" of the League.

SMALL BUSINESS EMPHASIS
"The establishment and operation of local leagues," the convention resolutions asserted, "is of paramount importance to the development and welfare of the National Business League," the future of which must "be based on effectively becoming a membership organization with special emphasis on small business."

The resolutions proposed "local level cooperation between available educational institutions and business men" to be accomplished "through the encouragement of business clinics, individual consultations, adult and extension courses." The development of apprenticeship program by local leagues wherever feasible was also recommended.

REAFFIRM WASHINGTON CONVICTION
Further the resolution reaffirmed the conviction of Booker T. Washington, founder of the League, "that economic freedom is the springboard of all freedoms," and asserted "that the basic purpose of the organization is the continuing enhancement of the economic well-being of the Negro people.

The League's new policy admitting "to its membership any person interested in business without regard to race, creed or sex" was reaffirmed, as was the policy of "full cooperation with the National Housewives' League of America, Inc."

Expressions of appreciation were extended to Gov. Foster Furcolo, Mayor John B. Haynes, the Professional and Business Men's Club, the Boston chapter of the Housewives' League; the AMEZ Church convention headquarters; the McCree Laboratories, Inc.; and others who helped make the convention a success.

President of the club is Mrs. Beulah Williams and Mrs. Evelyn Iles is secretary.

ing, we cannot comment on the decree.

"We will say, however, that we will continue to hope the school board and the people of Little Rock will continue to follow the mandates of the court."

Little Rock school superintendent Virgil Blossom, when asked for statement, replied:

"Would you say anything when you got the national guard looking down your throat from one side, and from the other—Hims?" He pointed at the department back of Judge Davies.

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY RETREAT AT OWEN'S COLLEGE
The Missionary Women of Memphis and surrounding territories had their first "Retreat" Wednesday and Thursday, August 21 and 22 of last week at Owen College.

The get-together was sponsored by the Department of Leadership Education under the Reverend A. Mc Ewen Williams, pastor of St. John Baptist Church and the Reverend C. L. Denkins, Dean of the college.

Mr. K. M. Terrell, general chairman of the retreat, presided over the entire program that consisted of inspirational singing, worship, lectures, fellowship and recreation. Lectures (according to leaders) were at their best.

A top lecture was brought by a native African and native of the country who is doing a great work for his country. A group of women are collecting books for the college library.

Preparations were made for the Retreat for another year to be again

Klan Back For Violence, Urban League Head Says

DETROIT — (INS) — Some 1,200 delegates and guests to the National Urban League conference were told Tuesday "Teamwork between white and colored people" is the best way to solve race problems.

The League's executive director Lester B. Granger warned the gathering which began Tuesday in Detroit:

"The Ku Klux Klan, which yesterday was thought dead forever, is back in business and is compiling a new record of intimidation, violence and murder.

"The Pseudo-respectable businessmen and civic leaders who are responsible for the Klan's rebirth are now deploring its growth, forgetful that they made the Klan's reappearance inevitable when they organized their White Citizen's Councils and similar groups for economic and social repressions of their Negro neighbors.

Granger also outlined the theme of the 1957 conference as "Inter-racial Teamwork." He said the prime objective of the conference is greater development and utilization of colored industrial skills.

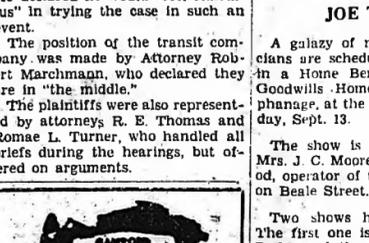

At a public meeting of the league last night, Republican Gov. Theodore H. McKeldin of Maryland said in a prepared speech:

"The country realizes more keenly than ever before that it has been throwing away part of one of its greatest resources—in not developing the full potential of the Negro group."

The Governor compared modern "emanipulated" Negroes to early American settlers at Jamestown and Plymouth. He said he believed the American Negro will not fail. "But like the others, will devote his strength, his brains and his character to inscribe and multiply his strength, his brains, and his character to increase and multiply the wealth, the power and the glory of our common country."

Home Benefit Show
A galaxy of natively known musicians are scheduled to appear here in a Home Benefit Show for the Goodwill Home, Inc. colored orphanage, at the Palace Theatre, Friday, Sept. 13.

The show is being sponsored by Mrs. J. C. Moore and Chester Cherod, operator of the House of Sound on Beale Street.

JOE TURNER
Such noted music-makers as Coker Campbell and his orchestra, T-Bone Walker and Son, Joe Turner, Larry Birdson, plus Joane Mitchell and Del-Rios will appear on the program.

The Goodwill Home, Inc. is a citizen organization which is spearheading a city-wide financial drive to obtain $180,000, to build an orphanage for Memphis Negro orphans.

Mrs. Mary Stanback Rites At Trinity CME, Wed.

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Stanback will be held 8 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 11, in Trinity CME Church, 655 Wells.

The Rev. P. G. Hentzel, pastor, will be assisted by Elder A. J. Colston, in officiating during the service.

Mrs. Stanback, 63 since last April, had been receiving occasional hospital treatment. Her death occurred last Saturday morning at 5:30 in a local hospital.

The deceased was born to the late Mr. and Mrs. Russell Garrett 47 years ago in Frazier, Tenn.

Her educational training was in Woodstock, Little John, and Pierce Chapel schools.

In 1926 she became the wife of Will Stanback Sr.

For many years, Mrs. Stanback was an active member of Trinity Chapel CME Church. She participated with its choir.

Survived during the past nine years by Pantaze Drug Store, Main and Calhoun, she counted among her many friends hundreds of the firm's patrons.

Mrs. Stanback is survived by two sons, Will Stanback, Jr., of Memphis and Larry Stanback, a student at Manassas High School; two sisters, Mrs. Christine Myers of Benjestown, Tenn. and Mrs. Emma Davis of Memphis, and a brother, Daniel Barrett of Memphis.

Bishop Nichols' Appeal Before Judicial Council

BY ART SEARS, JR.

CLEVELAND, Ohio — (NNPA) — Indications that two General Board members of the African Methodist Church lost their appeals to maintain jurisdiction in their respective Districts from which they were moved, came out of the opening day's session of the powerful Judicial Council meeting at Hotel Hollenden, here, Wednesday.

The two General Board members in question, Rev. J. D. Howell, formerly of the Third Episcopal District, and Rev. Ellis, formerly of the 12th Episcopal District, appealed their removal from the Board because they had moved out of their Districts of jurisdiction.

Rev. Howell and Rev. Ellis voluntarily transferred to the Fifth Episcopal District.

Bishop Howell maintained that despite his move from the Third District, the transfer had no effect upon his membership on General Board to which he had been elected by the Conference of his church.

Interested in Nichols Case But the eyes of the world, as well as the more than 150 interested ministers who clustered around the Council's hearing room, were most interested in the appeal of Bishop D. Ward Nichols, suspended from his Florida jurisdiction of 57,000 members, on charges of mishandling church funds and defiance of AME directive governing the conduct of its bishops.

Bishop Nichols' hearing was to get underway early Thursday morning, according to Municipal Court Judge Perry B. Jackson, Cleveland, who is president of the Judicial Council.

Counsel for Bishop Nichols base their appeal on the grounds that: "The presiding officer of the trial, Bishop R. R. Wright, of the Eighth Episcopal District, denied Nichols the privilege of calling several necessary and important witnesses to the stand." The witnesses named in the petition were:

The Rev. D. A. Anderson, chairman of the finance committee, and the Rev. A. W. Smith, a member of the finance committee, both members of the Central Florida Conference.

Bishop Nichols' petition charged that the two ministers were denied the right to testify. He also charged other witnesses to the stand. He named these as the Rev. James I. King and Dr. Lucille G. Coleman. The complaint stated that the Rev. Mr. King was the only other witness to testify as to the employment of Mrs. Virginia C. Nettles and Dr. Coleman sponsors of the "so-called unauthorized" project held at the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, Fla.

Otis O'Neal, Ham And Egg Show Founder, Funeralized

FORT VALLEY, Ga.—The late Otis Samuel O'Neal, founder of the famed Fort Valley Ham and Egg Shows, was eulogized in the Fort Valley State College Center Episcopal Church here Saturday and buried in the O'Neal plot in his native Upson County, Ga.

The 72-year-old agriculturist died in his home here on Sept. 5. Working for a long time as the County Agent for the Georgia Agriculture Extension Service in Houston and Peach counties, O'Neal found that farm families needed assistance in curing and preserving food and in raising their standard of living through the live-at-home program.

The plight of farm families who had inadequate home-grown food supplies inspired him to give birth to the Ham and Egg Show on Feb. 1, 1916, at his alma mater, Fort Valley High and Industrial School, now Fort Valley State College.

The show, telling how some farm families had been successful in curing and preserving meats, attracted the attention of W. T. Anderson, editor of the Macon (Ga.) Telegraph and it later took on national significance in the columns of Life, Coronet and Service publications and the bulletins of the Agricultural Extension Service.

Among O'Neal's many citations Award presented to him by former Secretary of Agriculture Charles and awards is the Superior Service in agriculture through the Ham and Egg Shows. P. Bannan in 1949 for his distinctive show has continued each year since its conception.

O'Neal was born on a farm in the Sugar Hill Community of Upson County, Ga., on Nov. 6, 1884. Upon completing Fort Valley High and Industrial School in 1908, his interest in agriculture led him to continue his studies at Tuskegee Institute. He returned to Fort Valley in 1914 when he began his work with the Agricultural Extension Service.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Addie Perdue O'Neal; one brother, Thomas O'Neal and several nieces and nephews.

Soldiers With German Wives Face Prosecution In Texas

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The Army said Friday that U. S. Negro soldiers who have white German wives are being advised that they will face criminal prosecution if they return with their division to Texas.

The Army made the comment in response to a statement by Rep. Charles C. Diggs, Jr. (D-Mich.) who demanded that secretary Wilber N. Brucker rescind any order that would lead to detachment of the troops.

A spokesman said he knew of no such order, but he explained that Negroes in the second armored division at Bad Kreuznach, Germany, face trouble if they take their wives who were unit shifts to Ft. Hood, Texas this fall.

He said that Texas law provides for a two-to-five year prison term for mixed cohabitation. He said "a number" of Negroes are involved and added that it is "up to them" whether they want to take the chance.

detachment would lead to flagrant discrimination in the assignment of troops.

He asserted: "If personal factors relating to social or community pressures of one type or another are to influence the assignment of members of the Armed Forces, the ultimate result could be to re-institute through direct means even more flagrant discriminatory practices than have already been banned in the services."

Five Negro children were denied enrollment recently at an all-white high school in Maryville, Tenn.

The youths -- three boys and two girls -- attempted to enroll at Maryville High school during a recess period and were promptly turned out by principal J. P. Stewart, who said:

"Under instructions I have, there will be no integration of Maryville schools this year." The children walked away peacefully and said they would return to Hale High school, a Negro school where they are seniors.

It was the second attempt in the county this week by Negroes to cross the racial barrier. Twenty-six Negroes were refused enrollment at Alcoa Elementary school on Tuesday.

Howell, Ellis Appeals Denied

BY ART SEARS, JR.

CLEVELAND, Ohio.—(NNPA)—A hot session was promised for the second day's appeal hearing of Bishop D. Ward Nichols, late Thursday afternoon by the Chief Counsel who prosecuted the Bishop in Florida, earlier this year.

Attorney Sadie T. M. Alexander, Chief Counsel against Nichols, completed only one hour's argument before the judicial council of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, Thursday.

Mrs. Alexander, of Philadelphia, who requested an early adjournment Thursday, because of near exhaustion, refuted charges that Nichols had not been properly informed of the trial as to time, place and specifications of the charges; was not permitted to strike jurors empaneled by Presiding Bishop R. R. Wright and that the trial held at Jacksonville's (Fla.) Mt. Zion Church was chaotic.

During the midday recess, Judge Jackson announced that the appeals of Rev. J. D. Howell and Rev. C. W. Ellis had been denied.

The two ministers lost their appeals to maintain jurisdiction in their respective districts from which they moved.

Rev. Howell, formerly of the Third Episcopal District, moved to the Fifth Episcopal District, as did Rev. Ellis, formerly of the 12th Episcopal District.

CHURCH GIVEN AWARD FOR CHRISTIAN WORK

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — The Cornerstone Baptist Church of Brooklyn, N. Y. received the S. N. VASS AWARD for outstanding achievement in Christian Education, presented annually by the Sunday School Publishing Board, during the Thursday afternoon by the Chief Counsel who prosecuted the Bishop in Florida, earlier this year.

Announcement of the AWARD was made by Dr. A. M. Townsend, Secretary of the Board. Dr. Sandy F. Ray, pastor of the Church and Mr. Cyril A. Davis, superintendent of the Sunday School, were cited for their accomplishments in Christian Education.

The S. N. VASS AWARD is given to a church, its pastor, and an outstanding lay leader, in recognition of accomplishment in the development of Christian Education in the church—in cooperation with the program of the Sunday School Publishing Board.

Dr. S. M. Vass was the first Secretary of the Board's Department of Christian Education and laid the foundation for the educational work done through the Board.

"Cornerstone Baptist Church offers a complete educational program, and at times its leaders have been cited for their outstanding accomplishments. One feature is the Church's Parent-Teacher Association which is a link between the home Church's educational program. The Church also offers a released-time school, and provides a program of in-service training and supervision to produce leaders for its program.

Dr. Ray is also President of the Empire Baptist State Convention of New York. Mr. Davis is a Board member of the National Sunday School and B. T. U. Congress. Grand Jury Indicts Man On Slaying

ATLANTA, GEORGIA.—(GNS) — The Fulton County Grand Jury Friday indicted an Atlanta man and charged him with the week-old slaying of an East Point Coal Company employee.

The jury charged Fletcher Perry with the August 31 fatal shooting of Lamar McCoy, a 37-year-old resident of 203 1/2 Woodard Ave., S.E.

McCoy was shot several times in his home, officials had reported. Details of the fatal shooting were not disclosed.

State Probe Of Migrant Labor Camps Ordered In New York

NEW YORK—The governor yesterday ordered state agencies to investigate migrant labor conditions while the state industrial commissioner invited legislative proposals relating to migrant labor from Herbert Hill, NAACP labor secretary. Both actions followed charges of abuses made by Mr. Hill after he conducted an investigation of migrant labor conditions in several New York counties.

Gov. Averell Harrison's announcement was made on August 28, at the conclusion of a conference between State Industrial Commissioner Isador Lubin and Mr. Hill. The governor acknowledged that as a result of the N. A. A. C. P.'s report, 264 violations were found in migrant labor camps and that action was being taken to eliminate these violations.

Mr. Lubin said his department will sponsor in the forthcoming session of the state legislature the proposals for new legislation to be submitted by Mr. Hill.

Commenting on the governor's announcement, Mr. Hill said: "The NAACP is, of course, gratified that state agencies corrected violations in 264 migrant labor camps as a result of the Association's investigation and charges."

CO-ORDINATION REQUIRED "However," he continued, "action on individual complaints is not enough. The entire system of migrant agricultural labor is inherently an evil one. A coordinated, systematic approach by all the state agencies involved is required to fundamentally eliminate the system of exploitation suffered by southern Negroes brought to New York State for harvesting work."

The NAACP official declared that "health violations in labor camps are but a small part of what is essentially a vicious racket in which thousands of dispossessed southern Negroes and their children are brutally exploited and victimized."

"Our investigations," he said, "reveal that after entire families have worked several weeks they are informed by crew leaders that they have earned no money or that they are in debt because of deductions for food purchased in labor camp commissaries and deductions for living quarters and transportation. This is a frequent practice, together with the withholding of wages."

"When attention to leave the labor camp because of this system of exploitation they are told that they cannot leave because of their debt to the labor contractor. Threats of violence and intimidation are commonplace in attempting to prevent the worker and his family from leaving the camp site."

The National Baptist Convention And Its Opportunity

The National Baptist Convention meeting in the city of Louisville, Kentucky this week had before it an enviable opportunity of both observation and challenge in the current issues of the day. The reputed largest Negro religious organization in the world, would represent numbers and the impact of a verdict from such a vast cross section of assemblymen from all parts of the country would be important and effective data for this occasion in which we are engaged.

MINISTERS CALM

Evans was dismissed from the convention.
The four ministers who were arrested and the charges against them were:
The Rev. William Allen Baily 58, Los Angeles, fighting in the Army with open knife in hand; The Rev. Cleveland Jordan, 53, Greenwood, Miss. fighting in Army; the Rev. Roy William Norsworthy, 42, Memphis, Tenn., who was the statistician of the convention, fighting on stage in Army; and the Rev. Charles Calvin Wheeler 43, Chicago, fighting with others and disorderly conduct.

"And A Little Child Shall Lead Them . . ."
THE MOST BEAUTIFUL and expressive picture of the week came from North Carolina. Dorothy G. Counts had just registered as a high school student in Charlotte's all-white public facility and was proceeding home. Following behind her was a heckling young crowd, one holding his fingers to his head to characterize a devil, another poking his tongue out and others making faces.

THE 16-year-old girl, who had the bearing and stature of a little queen, walked on untouched by the gesticulations. According to reports, Dorothy Counts, the daughter of a minister and college professor, is an exceptionally brilliant teenager, one who exhibits leadership on every score.

THESE WERE OTHER pictures of the South showing its dirty linen to the world during the week . . . the state militia of Arkansas keeping a handful of little Negroes out of Little Rock's Central High, where a survey of white youth showed them in favor of being let alone to decide their lot with integration . . . the Sturgis, Ky., Maryville, Tenn. and Birmingham, Ala. Affairs.
THOSE PICTURES must not look good overseas where the fate of America's leadership in the world is being decided, where the black and brown-skinned nations are taking positions for or against the Western World and its expressed ideologies. We were not advertised well last week to the people whose aid we will need in preventing disaster to America's future generations and to the Earth itself, beset by probable fools with atomic and hydrogen bombs. We are showing our soiled undies.

NEVERTHELESS, the South is making progress because the devil-horn making and face-contorting of those kids at Charlotte and Little Rock is so shallow that it can be called childish silliness that will fade away, if the oldsters let them alone.
Allowed to know firsthand that pretty and stately Dorothy G. Counts is far from being a "devil," as the little fellow just behind her feebly tried to demonstrate, they will change their minds. As has been the case all over the integrating South, Negro student Counts would probably become their leader. They may be afraid of this factor alone that picture shows that they need her and her representative Americanism!

REVIEWING THE NEWS
BY WILLIAM GORDON

The Miracle At Mackinac
MACKINAC ISLAND, Michigan — The American Indians came here more than 300 years ago to throw off their shackles of hate.

"It seems not by accident," someone said, "that the Assembly of Nations is currently meeting here and basically for the same purpose.
Today, you drive or go by train to the city of Mackinaw; leave your car and take a small boat over to the island surrounded by two of the world's great waterways, Lake Michigan and Lake Huron. It is much easier today to get there. One can imagine what happened centuries ago when the Indians paddled their small canoes across the choppy waters of the great lakes. During the great winters, when the ice comes, it is possible to walk across.

But the Indians came, irrespective of the kind of weather. They came when there was no war, when they wanted peace and to talk to the Great Spirit at a place on the island called the Arch Rock.
Today, men are still going to Mackinac; not by tribes but as nations. We met them from more than 63 different countries; men and women of position and status. They are also in search of peace, and an ideology, a superior ideology that begins with man's soul and not with just and greed. They call it Moral Re-Armament, based on the principles of absolute honesty, purity; it was more than a quarter of a century ago, in 1921, when an American, Dr. Frank N. D. Buchman conceived these four basic principles. Seeing what war and greed had done to the souls of man, this man has dedicated the greater portion of his life, not merely preaching Moral Re-Armament, but living it. Because of his beliefs, nations have come together, prayed together. Men and women come from around the world to meet Moral Re-Armament. More than 5,000 have visited the Canadian breeze-swept island of Mackinac this year and they are still coming.

There were Chinese, Japanese, Englishmen, Burmese, Germans, Africans and Asiatics, many holding high places in their governments have come to Mackinac.
Although, MRA had its beginning in Europe and is still deeply rooted there, Americans are also awakening to the miracle taking place in their midst. It is not unlikely to meet people from almost every state in the Union, including those from the Deep South. There were those from Mississippi, Georgia and Alabama.
Aside from the vast mixture of races, nationalities and cultures, one is struck by the harmony, peace and respect that go to make up a pattern found in no other part of the world today. More than this, one is struck by the change that comes over men and women, the change that turns people from enemies to friends, from the lack of respect for God to that of a Supreme Being.
One is also struck by the force of Moral Re-Armament that brings a stream of representatives from nations that come to the island, not to mass for warfare, not to study how to increase the forces of destruction, but to rearm morally and to arrive at an understanding, that in order to help save the world, there must first be a reexamination of one's own soul.

Here on this island, where men met more than three centuries ago to find themselves and their God, a revolution is taking place; not with guns and tanks and hate, but in the hearts of men. They call it MRA, but a clearer definition would reveal "the miracle at Mackinac."
Having shown that he is a great preacher, Jackson next showed that he was a great showman, Mahalia Jackson of Chicago, the gospel singer, sang "Walk With Me."
Olivet Baptist Church, of which he is the pastor, made a presentation to him of $1,000. Another presentation from his church was made to Mrs. Jackson, the amount not being announced.

The main address at Sunday's celebration is scheduled to be delivered by Lewis H. Twigg, the president.
PRESIDENT TWIGG
Twigg, a native Memphian, who also started in the insurance business in 1933 at the Universal Life Company; where he was an agent, started at Union Protective as assistant secretary and rose up thru the ranks.

A graduate of LeMoine college, he obtained special training in machine accounting at the IBM School in Endicott, N. Y.
He is married to the former Miss Ann Reba Kelly, who is presently at Morehouse College in Atlanta, Ga., and a daughter, Miss Clara Ann, a freshman at Fisk university in Nashville.

President Twigg, on discussing the operation of his company, revealed that Union Protective "invests most of its assets in first mortgage loans on homes, churches and other businesses in the state." He also stated "other investments include U. S. Bonds, Insured Federal and Loan Stock and approved municipal and states bonds."

OTHERS who are scheduled to appear on the program are: Rev. Lee Thigpen, chaplain at Kennedy General hospital; Mrs. Susie Spencer, who makes remarks on behalf of Mt. Olive Church; C. A. Rawls, a vice president of Union Protective, and several choral from local churches.
Other officers of the company include: O. T. Westbrook acting agency director and secretary; E. R. Kirk, treasurer; Onzie Horne, E. O. Horne A. M. Woods, S. W. Qualls, Jr., T. H. MY WEEKLY SERMON
By REV. BLAIR T. HUNT
PASTOR
MISSISSIPPI BLVD. CHRISTIAN CHURCH

TEXT: "Thou will keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on thee: Isa. 26:3."
There is confusion. My health confuses me. Deceitful people confuse me. A sense of insecurity confuses me. Things and people are so unpredictable. I am confused. I am troubled in mind. What shall I do? A prophet of Israel answers me: "Thou will keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on thee." What haunting words! what healing in their wings!
To be kept in peace by the power of God is superlatively appealing. Not world peace . . . but our text is something personal, basic, fundamental.
To experience peace of mind is to be free from fear, to be a master of self. It is mental poise, composure linked with moral might.
The tap-root, the fountain head, the source of this peace of mind is our God . . . "in the beginning God."
One's idea of God determines his religious life. Think not of God as a great, vindictive, big white man above the clouds, scattering distress, pain and suffering. Have an exalted idea of God as a loving father. Such an idea was Isaiah's. He conceived of God as a God of purity, of righteousness . . . As a Father to his child, "Come now and let us reason together: Though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow, etc." The God of Isaiah will keep us in perfect peace whose mind is stayed or fixed on that God. . . . Later we have the same perfect

FINAL ORDER
Members of the Dallas school board held an executive session in the courtroom after the order was issued, but all refused to comment except president Edwin L. Rippey, who said he would make a statement after the final order is issued.
W. J. Durham, NAACP attorney and counsel for the Negroes who sought to enter the schools two years ago said the integration would be peaceful and orderly.
Judge A. well commented that there are not enough teachers in the public school system to give specialized instruction necessary because of difference in aptitude of the two races, but added that "scholars denied registration because of color alone are being denied their constitutional rights."

"DOES DRURY ever come to see the children?" I asked Mrs. Ambler.
Her lips came together in a grim line. "He comes to see the children just often enough to keep things all stirred up. He's hoping that someday Estelle won't let him see them and then he'll use that as grounds for a charge of mental cruelty—not that it will do him any good. Estelle has so much on him he can't ever get a divorce, although he probably doesn't know about it. You should see some of the letters my daughter found in his things, letters from a dozen different women, the most brazen, absolutely awful letters—I don't know how women can write letters like that."
"Drury always asked them to write," Estelle said tonelessly. "It saved his ego and flattered his vanity."

"In case he should show up to see the children," I said, "don't mention the fact that I was here. I'd like to conduct my investigations as quietly as possible."
"That's all right, Mr. Lam," Mrs. Ambler said. "Estelle understands."
Estelle gave me a limp hand and a wan smile. Mrs. Ambler followed me to the door. "It's a horrible thing when a girl's life is ruined this way," she said. "Estelle lives in dread of hearing that the children's father has gone to prison. If he'd only stay away from them, Estelle could tell the children that he was dead. Then people wouldn't know about him."

"I'll keep things as quiet as I can at my end," I told her, and went back to sit in my rented car and do a little thinking.
I got hold of a city directory and looked under the Pattons to see if I could find a Lucille Patton. Luck was with me; she was listed with a street address and a telephone number.
I drove around to the address. It was a small apartment house. The manager told me that Lucille Patton worked at one of the state offices. She didn't know where one. She said Miss Patton was nearly always home around five-fifteen. The manager was a garulous woman, dying for someone to talk to. I had some time to kill so I sat around and chatted. Finally, when I brought the subject of conversation back to Lucille, she was wide open.
Lucille had been there for about five years, living in the one apartment. She was steady-going and respectable, but a good scout. Everybody seemed to like her. She was very reticent about her family, but apparently had never married. She was five feet three inches, around a hundred and ten, a very striking brunette with black hair, dark eyebrows and lashes, and gray eyes.

The manager, a woman about forty-five, thought Lucille was not more than twenty-six or twenty-seven. She said Lucille was a good-natured girl who had lots of friends, and yet had the knack of keeping her own business affairs to herself. She had a good job and steady pay.
Then the manager tried pumping me, wanting to know what I did and what my interest was in Lucille.
I told her I'd been friendly in the east with a fellow who had known Lucille when he was living in Sacramento. He told me if I ever got out there to be sure and give Lucille a ring, he'd said she was a perfect lady but nice company and never grouchy, always cheerful.
"That's Lucille, all right," the manager agreed.
I got away from the manager about a quarter to five. She offered to introduce me to Lucille if I'd wait, but I didn't want it that way.
I drove my rented car down to the corner, found a place to park near the curb, opened the car door, got out on the sidewalk and waited.
I had no trouble recognizing Lucille Patton from the description I had when she came along the street. I raised my hat.
"Miss Patton?"
She paused and gave me one of those looks. Her eyes started with my face, went down to my shoes, came back up to my face.
"Hello?" she asked.
"I want to talk with you."
She moved slightly away from me. "About what?"
"About Drury Wells."
Her face was completely blank. "And your uncle, Aaron Bedford. It might be well for you to have certain information."
That did it. She was starting to walk away, but she caught herself midstep. Her eyes, cool, gray and watchful, spared with mine. "Official, personal, or curious?" she asked.
"Let's say a combination of all three. I'm a detective."
"Private," I said.
"Oh," she said, and again moved slightly away.
"Perhaps," I told her, "I can keep the official inquiry under control if we can talk personally."
"Listen," she said, "I'm not going to carry on a conversation on the street corner. I'm not going to get in that car with you, so there's no use holding the door so invitingly open. If you're holding any cards, start putting

North Carolina School Accepts 15-Year-Old Girl

WINSTON-SALEM N. C. — (INS) — A 15-year-old Negro girl became the first member of her race to enter an all-white school in Winston-Salem as she registered in the 11th grade Thursday.
There was no disturbance marring Gwendolyn Yvonne Bailey's first day of school in the 1800 white-student formerly all-white high school.
FOUR ARRESTED
Earlier in the day, however, four white men were taken into police custody on suspicion of having painted racial obscenities in front of the newly integrated high school. An effigy was also burned from the school flag pole, but was removed before students arrived.
In Charlotte, five teenagers were placed in police custody, charged with hanging an effigy from a school flagpole.
Three Negroes, who ended the traditional color line in public schools yesterday attended peacefully Thursday.
A 16-year-old 11th grade Negro girl who was attacked by a mob of white students, stoned and spat upon yesterday, returned to class again Thursday with no disturbance.
The Winston-Salem principal Claude R. Joyner praised his students for not demonstrating as their school became desegregated for the first time in its history, and added:
"This is the beginning of a new era. She'll be just another student tomorrow."
Gwendolyn walked unmoiled into the school building, spent ten minutes registering and left followed only by newsmen.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

the ace on the table. Then if I want to look at the rest of the hand, I'll let you know."
I said, "Your uncle, Aaron Bedford, owned a section of land in San Bernardino County. He died and left the whole piece to Yvonne Clymer."
"Yvonne Clymer claims to be married to Drury Wells. If there's a marriage, it's bigamous."
"So what?" she asked. "There are lots of bigamous marriages."
"Doesn't you want to protect Yvonne?"
"Why should I?"
"Her cousin, isn't she?"
"Who's related, but I've never seen her in my life."
"Okay," I told her. "I give up. I'm making an investigation and I'm in a jam. I need all the information I can get. I think you might help."
"In what way are you in a jam?" she asked.
"It's a long story."
"How did you spot me?" she asked.
"I went to your place. I got acquainted with the manager. She described you to me."
"I don't strike up street-corner conversations with strangers—no matter what the bait."
"Want me to go to the house and have the manager introduce me? She offered to do that."
"That wouldn't help. She only knows you because you introduced yourself to her. I know you that well."
I said, "Here's the key to the automobile. Would you like to sit behind the steering wheel? I'll sit on the right-hand side. You'll be behind the wheel. In that way no one's going to kidnap you."
Suddenly she laughed and said, "I have an idea you're a nice boy. I believe you're more afraid of me than I am of you."
"Hello," I told her. "I thought you'd want some assurance."
"Give me the key."
I handed it to her.
"Move over."
I moved over and she slid through the door and in behind the wheel. I got in beside her and closed the door.
She fitted the key to the lock in the car, turned it once to make certain it worked, then locked the ignition, opened her purse and dropped the key inside.
"All right," she said, "tell me the rest of it."
"I think you're going to take me to dinner, and you may as well call me Lucille." Donald Lam is told. Continue the story here tomorrow.
