Course Description and Course Objective:

We will use fundamental sociological concepts and theoretical perspectives to examine multiple race/ethnic identities, experiences, and relations, primarily within the United States. The course will survey a broad range of topics, with many touching on controversial debates that surround social stratification issues. By the end of the course, students should have the conceptual and theoretical tools to apply sociological perspectives of race/ethnicity to their everyday lives, to the lives of “others,” and to American society.

Required Readings

Gallagher, Charles A. 2004. 2nd ed. Rethinking the Color Line: Readings in Race and Ethnicity

Parrillo, Vincint N. 2003. 7th ed. Strangers to These Shores: Race and Ethnic Relations in the United States

Reskin, Barbara F. 1998. Realities of Affirmative Action in Employment

Most of the material covered in lectures will not be on the readings, so you will be responsible for covering many of the readings on your own. I will ask you to prepare ahead of time for the readings that will be specifically discussed in class, but I expect you always to be prepared to discuss the weekly readings.

Course Requirements
1. Attendance: You are expected to attend and participate every class period. However, you can miss up to 2 days of class for emergencies or illnesses with no penalty. For every class missed after two absences, you will have 3 points subtracted from your final grade.

2. Class Participation: Class discussions are an important element in this course. What you get out of the course is as much dependent upon the preparation and participation of you and your classmates as it is upon my instruction. What you learn from one another can be as valuable as the lecture and reading materials. Thus, everyone is expected to actively participate in class. You will be graded on the level and quality of your participation.

3. Commentaries: Students are required to do 6 out of 12 possible commentaries. You must complete half of the commentaries before midterm. See the class schedule for due dates. I will give you an assignment for each commentary, but generally they will focus on analyzing the readings, raising questions, and making connections to your personal experiences and to current social issues. Each entry should be at least two pages typed (double space).

   The commentaries will be graded on a 10 point scale. There will be a letter grade reduction for every day a commentary is late (e.g. one day late, grade reduced from a B to a C).

4. Exams: You will have a take-home midterm exam and final exam. The exams will consist of identification, short-answers, and short essays. Lectures, readings, and class activities will all be covered on the exams.

5. Discussion/Presentation: Every student will lead a 30 minute class discussion on a reading and bring in additional materials (research, media examples, statistics, etc.) to connect to the reading’s topic. You must also develop questions for the class to discuss. Guidelines for leading discussion and presenting will be handed out in class.

   By February 25th, you must choose a reading (other than Parrillo) from the weeks March 22nd to April 19th. You will lead/present during the Wednesday class period.

Course Guidelines

1. Please avoid disrupting class by arriving late or leaving early.

2. Do not disrupt me or your classmates by talking amongst your neighbors while other people are speaking.

3. You are responsible for all announcements and assignments made in class.

4. You are required to check your e-mail once a day for any updates from me.

5. If anyone has special needs that require modification of seating, testing, or other class requirements, please contact me in the beginning of the semester and provide documentation from disability services, so that suitable accommodations can be made.

6. Make-up exams will only be allowed in the event of a documented emergency. If you cannot take the exam for any reason, you must contact me prior to the exam. Failure to do so may mean that you will not be able to take a make-up exam.

7. Academic misconduct and dishonesty (such as cheating or plagiarism) will not be tolerated and will be dealt with according to the Honor Code.

8. The following reading and lecture schedules are subject to revisions, however, the exam dates and the assignment due dates will remain the same.

9. This class will require you to look at your life and the lives of others through many different perspectives. This can be a very challenging experience. Although I want you to feel free to share your ideas, I expect you to respect one another when listening to other viewpoints.
