FOOTBALL SCHEDULE TAKING FORM

Manager Promises Excellent Season.

Manager Morrow, of the 1920 football season has begun work on the schedule for the coming year, and has it well under way.

He assures the Boosters of an excellent schedule, while the coach is enthusiastic over the prospects for the team. Practically every man who made his letter this year will return to his position next fall, and will be closely rivalled by quite a number of men who will try again, having lost out in the last season by a small margin.

POPULARITY CONTEST.

Furious Contest Comes to a Close.

The famous Sou'wester Popularity Contest came to a close Saturday night at midnight. The contestants were making such a run that it was estimated that the votes cast after nine o'clock Saturday night were the ones with the greatest influence. Over 5,000 votes were cast on Saturday alone, completely changing the aspect of things.

In our estimation the Popularity Contest has been a very great success. It has aroused great interest among the students and faculty, it has shown that their esthetic sense of duty has not been warped, and it has brought to light the latent power of campaign managing and has shown us that we have the makings for some big-town politicians in our midst.

The Sou'wester hopes to publish the pictures of the winners as soon as possible. The results were as follows:

Look here, said the guest at the restaurant, things around here are just about as rotten as can be found. Here I've found hair in the ice cream, hair in the honey and hair in the apple sauce.

Well, responded the genial proprietor, the hair in the ice cream I presume came from shaving the ice, and probably the hair got in the honey from the comb. But, I don't understand how there could be hair in the apple sauce because I bought those apples myself and everyone was a Baldwin.

Union University First to Suffer Defeat At the Hands of S. P. U.

Team Fails to Bring Home Bacon, But Brings Back the Rind.

On Tuesday morning, the team left to play games with "Ole Miss" and Union University. The weather was perfect, and old "sol" did its best to make things hot. All games were well umpired, played fast and close.

The following are results of the games by dates:

"OLE MISS" APRIL 28.

The first game was pitched by Stringer, who allowed only a few hits compared to what "Ole Miss" usually does. "Ole Miss" scored in the second inning, but S.P.U. tightened up and then in the third inning Buckley slammed a two-bagger, followed by a single which allowed a run. In the third and fourth "Ole Miss" pulled five runs, but then S.P.U. checked them up and in the seventh scored two runs. The hitting for both sides were rather scattered. Box score:

VISIT OF MR. NESBITT.

Student Volunteer Secretary is Here Thursday and Friday.

Mr. R. D. Nesbitt, traveling secretary for the Student Volunteer Movement, was at S.P.U. Thursday and Friday of last week. Mr. Nesbitt's work was in the line of foreign missions, and in conference with the Y.M.C.A. cabinet. He outlined the work that could be done here to aid foreign missions and made valuable suggestions for the organization of Bible Study classes for next year.

Mr. Nesbitt also spoke in chapel Friday morning. The Scripture lesson was taken from the twenty-third chapter of second Samuel. The substance of this most beneficial talk was relative to foreign missions. As the three men risked their lives to serve their King, (David), so should we be willing to risk our lives in the service of our Lord and King. The soldiers in this world war paid the price, and they would have expected us to continue the work. So, we must stand behind the workers in the battle against heathenism. The effect of our Western civilization upon the Non-Christian world is of the most importance,—its effect is far-reaching. The many instances of changes wrought in China, in South Africa and in other parts of the Non-Christian world were depicted most clearly.

The effects of our sciences are of tremendous importance, however, it has been said, "As science makes its way, the old gods die." Hence it is our duty that when the science of our civilized world sweeps over the pagan fields that we must provide a new God for these people, for here is the most fertile field for the missionary. In the countries newly opened to the forces of civilization, men have entered who have no sense of justice, nor any idea of what is right. These have caused the people to become skeptical of the benefits of civilization—and men and women of God are necessary to create the proper attitude of these people to civilization, the right, and God.

The needs of this non-Christian world are tremendous. It is an Ignorant World,—only a small per cent of its people can read,—they are of the most illiterate type. It is a Hungry World,—this was the condition before the war as well as now. As in the case of India where millions starve yearly. This condition has been relieved slightly through an experiment among the lepers who were put to work, and at the present time this work has been extended greatly, but there is still much room for improvement. It is a Suffering World,—for only women doctors can best treat the women sufferers and there are hardly a handful of doctors in the entire Non-Christian World. Finally there is a great need for Jesus. When Jesus comes into this world all need, ignorance, suffering and hunger will cease. This is possible to be done by philanthropy,—yet Jesus can and will do more, for within Him lies the power to change the hearts of mankind. This change of heart will bring about all wonders. We may speak of a League of Nations, this can never become a reality until man has had a change of heart, and when this change has been effected, a league will not be necessary.

Missionaries must proclaim God to the Non-Christian world, they must broaden and reconstruct the life of the people with whom they must work. This does mean a sacrifice of home, family, fortune and all hopes for a future,—yet when God calls and we hear this call we must respond at once and at all costs.

"Did you hear of the awful fright Charlie got on his wedding day?"

"Yes, I was there and saw her."

London, one could see that almost immediately, had been his habitat. English he was—unmistakably English, from the pronounced French lines of his clothes. All about him men lounged, in English-cut clothes, with English walking sticks in natty English-gloved hands. These were Americans. Ah, international trade, without which Economics 6 would not be.

And now he picked his way carefully across the gay floor; and not once did he say "Bah jove!" or "Gorblime," which again shows that he was full-bloodedly English. He settled himself at a vacant table, and signalled the waiter. What he ordered is immaterial; he may or may not have known the waiter. And then into the central enclosure there came—men who yodelled, and women who warbled, a duo which accentuated its jokes by profuse slaps on the back, and another which reached the same effect by excessive moroseness.

And then onto the polished floor there glided a man and a woman, who slithered and slid around the floor in perfect harmony. And then suddenly they stood stock still. And shook. In horizontal peregrinations they shook. In undulations that made their bodies a single shaking jell, they shook. And from the citizens and citizenesses there burst forth peal upon peal of applause, plaudit after plaudit. For was not this the great American dance? But the Englishman leaned back affrighted.

"Well," said he, "I only 'opes 'e marries the girl"—Columbia Jester.

UNION UNIVERSITY, MAY 1.

With one victory to our credit, and an almost certain one before us, the Red and Black failed to come back and win the second game. Up to the fourth inning, a lead of three runs was held over the opponents, but in the fourth when bases were drunk, Union scored 5 runs on errors and then 2 in the following inning. In the seventh inning it looked as though we were to win the only scored three runs, when we needed five. Box score:

"OLE MISS" APRIL 29.

Defeated the third time by "Ole Miss," the Red and Black was determined to take away the fourth, and we must say, had it not been for breaks, we would have been the first to scalp "Ole Miss" this year, who has won 18 straight games. Ferguson pitched a wonderful game, and Moore behind the bat is due much credit. The fielding and hitting of Buckley was also grand-stand stuff. In the first inning "Ole Miss" scored, but Ferguson was only getting his stride, and was getting down to business. In the third inning S.P.U. got three straight hits off of "Ole Miss," and for a while it looked as though we were going to knock their, supposedly, best pitcher, Carney, out of the box, but only through the wonderful fielding of "Ole Miss" did she save herself. Ferguson held them to the seventh inning, but one or two errors on our part allowed them to score three runs. S.P.U. continued to slap the ball, but runs seemed impossible. "Ole Miss" again made a run in the eighth inning. Box score:

UNION UNIVERSITY, APRIL 30.

Though defeated eight successive times, the Red and Black never slacked and by a little effort took the first game from Union University by 5 to 4. The game was very close up to the seventh inning when we scored three runs, which put us over our opponents by one run. It was only through a two base hit that this game was saved, which was made by Stringer, who was pitching. The field played on was very rough, but our men seemed to make better of it than Union for we made only two errors and Union nine.

Greater X-ray Service— through Research

FOR years after the discovery of X-rays it was evident that only intensive research could unfold their real possibilities.

Meanwhile, scientists of the General Electric Company developed the process of making wrought tungsten. This proved ideal as the target in X-ray tubes and its use for this purpose soon became universal.

Then further research resulted in the development of an X-ray tube of a radically new type—the Coolidge Tube—with both electrodes of wrought tungsten and containing the highest attainable vacuum.

But the complication of high-vacuum pumps made the new tube in large quantities impossible. The answer to this problem was the Langmuir Condensation Pump, utilizing mercury vapor in its operation and almost automatic.

Self-rectifying, Radiator-type Coolidge X-ray Tube

To meet the need for simple X-ray apparatus during the war, the G-E Laboratory developed the Self-Rectifying Coolidge Tube, which made possible portable outfits at the front. The latest X-ray outfit of this type is so small it can be taken conveniently to the home or to the bedside in the hospital.

Thus the Research Laboratory of the General Electric Company continues to serve, that progress in things electrical may continue for the good of humanity.

THE REMOVAL OF S. P. U. OPPOSED

Attorney for the City Files a Demurrer to the Bill of Removal.

The attorneys for the city, Dancy Fort, City Attorney, and the Honorable Austin Peay, today filed a demurrer for the city to the bill to remove the Southwestern Presbyterian University to Memphis. It will be remembered that on the 26th day of January, 1920, the University filed a bill in the Chancery Court for this county, through its Board of Directors and also through the Presbyterian Synods of Tennessee, Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama, alleging that the efforts to establish and maintain a permanent institution for higher education in Clarksville by the Presbyterian Church had signally failed and that the corporation had been offered inducements to remove the institution to Memphis. The inducements so offered were five hundred thousand dollars to be contributed by the City of Memphis, a million dollar endowment fund to be raised by subscriptions and a site to be given by the City of Memphis.

The bill seeks the advice of the Chancery Court as to the removal of the assets of the institution to Memphis. It states, among other things, that the endowment fund of the institution consisted of certain real estate acquired from Stewart College, certain monies acquired from James Jennings McComb, of Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., and of forty-one bonds of $1,000 each from the City of Clarksville. With reference to this gift from the city, the bill alleged that the complainants were advised that it was an absolute gift and that the corporation was not legally bound to continue the maintenance of the institution perpetually and forever, but that the conditions upon which the gift was presented had been fully performed and that the whole duty and obligation of the University in this regard, both legally and morally, had been fulfilled in perfect good faith. The complainants stated that they were disposed to make the city an offer to return the bonds conditional upon the city's offering no opposition or hindrance legally or otherwise to the expeditious and satisfactory conclusion of the suit.

The demurrer filed by the city contains fourteen grounds.

The Leaf-Chronicle will not go into the details of this demurrer, but will state briefly some of the ground.

The first ground of demurrer is that the bill seeks the advice of the Court to examine the conditions of a trust and construe the same and the demurrer sets up the defense that so far as the city is concerned there is no trust involved, but that it is a plain question of contract between two corporations. It also alleges as a defense that if any trust is involved the donors are not made parties to the suit and therefore the court has no jurisdiction to construe the trusts. The demurrer also sets up the defense that the Chancery Court has no jurisdiction to advise or decree the removal of the institution from Clarksville and that the questions involved have already been settled by the Supreme Court in 1904. The demurrer states also that the Supreme Court held in that case "that by the terms of the deeds of conveyances in the transcript of the record mentioned, and the terms of the charter of the said corporation the institution or University was and is permanently located at Clarksville, in Montgomery County, in the State of Tennessee and that the Presbyterian Church of the United States, nor any Synod thereof, nor the directors of the Southwestern Presbyterian University, nor any other person, company, association or corporation has any right, power or authority to transfer or remove the said University or College, or any of the assets of the property of the said corporation from the State of Tennessee or to locate the same elsewhere than within the limits of the State of Tennessee, and that the said institution must be maintained at Clarksville, Montgomery County, Tennessee."

The people of Clarksville, of course, are vitally interested in this case and will watch it with interest. A hotly contested legal battle is expected and no doubt the case will be heard on demurrer before Chancellor Stout at an early date.

PERSONALS.

The baseball team returned Sunday morning from an extended trip to Mississippi, where they spent much time with the University of that State and also stopped off at Jackson, Tenn., on the way home.

Messrs. Joe Love and V. H. Pritchard didn't come back with the bunch they left here. When last seen they were headed south from Jackson, Tenn., and it is supposed by the wise ones that by now the fatted calf has been slaughtered and devoured.

Pete, it is reported, hungering for a sight of the white lights and the crowded streets, deserted his team at Milan and continued on to Memphis. Strange to relate, the team actually arrived safely at University even tho their beloved coach was not with them. The day of miracles is not past yet.

Our honored and much beloved matron, Mrs. Beebe, left here Monday morning for the University of Mississippi on a food inspection. She was a spectator at the S.P.U.-"Ole Miss" games and returned Friday to our midst.

HAWKSHAWS WIN FOURTH STRAIGHT

Boy Wonders Still Undefeated.

Playing on Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday, the Hawkshaws proved successful each time; twice against High School by the scores of 16 to 2 and 17 to 3 and against the I.O.O.F. Home by a 5-4 score.

The first game against High School was pitched by Tipton, the boy from Brownsville, and he had the "Wildcats" (?) eating out of his hand from the first. In this game the hitting of the two Thomas boys featured, both "Stuck" and "Fannie" fairly murdering every one of the numerous pitchers "Runt" Ferguson sent in.

The second game was a victory for the little Scruggs boy who had them all breaking their backs after his slow curve. In this game "Chief" shared with "Fanny" and "Stuck" the honors in hitting, especially after Prince went in to pitch for High School. It was in this game also that "Fannie" drove out the longest home run ever seen by any of the spectators, the ball going into the sink back of left field.

Saturday marked the first real interesting game and the closest the Hawkshaws have played so far. In this battle the Odd Fellows' Home boys put up a good fight and were in the lead with a 4-2 score till the lucky seventh. The stars of this game were the two pitchers, Tipton and Holden and 3rd Baseman Edger of the "Hawks" and Pollard at first for the I.O.O.F.'s.
