Letter Explains Lynx Finances

Carrell Declares No Extra Fees Charged

Dear Editor:

Your editorial, "Double Play," as it was worded, seems to have been directed to me and was written without obtaining the facts. Had the editor asked me personally or, for that matter, anyone familiar with the management of the annual, he could have easily and properly been informed of the situation with which this editorial is concerned.

Since, however, this problem has been brought to the attention of the entire student body, who certainly have every right to know the facts, I shall attempt to explain the causes behind the "extra" $5.00 for the Lynx this year.

It is very true that students in the past three years did not pay for their annuals. I should like to point out, however, that a charge for the annual was made for the years 1941 through 1948.

Yearly Subsidy

Each year a certain amount of money has been allotted from the tuition fees to defray in part the expenses of the publication of "The Lynx" and "The Sou'wester." This amount by no means paid the total cost of "The Lynx"—the cost be-

Mr. And Miss. Talent To Receive Trophies

ZTA To Give Traveling Cups To Fraternity And Sorority

The second annual Talent Night will be presented tonight in Hardie Auditorium by Beta Sigma chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha. The contest begins at 7:30.

Representatives from each sorority, fraternity, and independent group will compete for the four trophies offered. Two traveling trophies for the organization demonstrating the most talent, and two permanent trophies for Mr. and Miss Talent, judged to be the most talented individuals, will be awarded.

Last year's winners were Kappa Delta, Kappa Sigma, Gloria Brown and Jimmy McLin.

Judges Selected

Judges this year are Mrs. Edlbert Withee, Memphis voice teacher; Glen Allan McKee, formerly associated with the Little Theater group in London, England; and Olivia Browne, well-known commentator for Station WMC.

Talent Night proceeds go to the national Zeta philanthropic organization, the Cerebral Palsy Fund. This organization aids in research and treatment of cerebral palsy all over the nation.

Entries announced thus far are: PiKA, Louis Wener; KA, Chandler Warren and Charlie Andrews; KS, Frank Montesi and Roscoe Field; SAE, Jimmy McLin and Joe Hobbs; XO, Jennie Lee Davis, Mary Beth Davidson, and Margaret McKee; KD, Gloria Brown and Jackie Roland; AOPi, Ann Hebert and Gwin Pryor; DDD, Marjoree Russell, Jean McLean, and Margaret Jones; and Independent Women, Vera Burns.

Juliette Read will present a cutting from "The Spy" to introduce the program, and a group of Zeta pledges will entertain during the final intermission.

SW Student Speaks At TAS Convention

Five Southwestern students and three professors attended the annual convention of the Tennessee Academy of Science held in Clarksville, Tenn., this year.

Fred Pritchard, Southwestern junior, read a paper to the convention on the construction of Southwestern's carrier current radio station. He illustrated his talk with slides of the equipment now housed in the speech building.

Other students who attended the convention are Don Feldman, Toby Horn, Ling Lee, and Betty Wood. Dr. Arlo I. Smith, secretary of TAS last year, Dr. Clinton Baker, director of the Reelfoot Lake project for the TAS, and Dr. J. S. McCartney also went to the Academy meeting.

Bethel Five Tops Lynx In Opener

Cats Gain Narrow Margin Over Favorites Until Third Quarter

The Lynx Cats lost a spirited season-opener on the hardwood, 74-41, to the Bethel College five last Tuesday night. The game was nip and tuck into the first of the third quarter when a one point lead was seesawing on the scoreboard.

The Southwestern boys worked well together, but they couldn't last the whole game in the face of a more experienced team. They got a little ahead of themselves sometimes and got careless. Lamberth's passes were especially wild. He seemed to be concentrating on his receivers without watching the opposition.

Fresh Led Scoring

Two freshmen, Maxwell and Cunningham, led the scoring with 11 points each. Captain-center Austin was so effectively hemmed in by Bethel's guardsmen that only one of his scoring attempts was successful.

Slippery forward Cain led the floor play and the scoring (20)

Caldwell Tells How To Pick Seminaries

Dr. Frank H. Caldwell, president of the Louisville Theological Presbyterian Seminary in Louisville, Kentucky, addressed the Ministerial Club last Monday evening in room 100 Palmer Hall. This was the first program in the club's survey of theological seminaries and seminary life.

After the address questions were asked from the floor about problems of ministerial schooling.

Southwesterners studying at Louisville Seminary now are Charles Ping, Woody Morriss, James Caldwell, John D. Reese, and James Bartlett. Next year Bob Bennett and Maurice Van den Bosch plan to attend Louisville Seminary.

"The campus of SOUTHWESTERN AT MEMPHIS is a beautiful tract of one hundred acres, much of it wooded, within the city limits of Memphis, on North Parkway, just opposite Overton Park. . . . The buildings—all of ferruginous sandstone, as hard and as durable as granite, but not quite so heavy—are constructed in the collegiate Gothic style of architecture; and no pains have been spared to make them both beautiful and lasting (and livable). These buildings, with their Vermont slate roofs, have set a new standard in collegiate architecture in the South."—Southwestern BASKETBALL Prospectus, 1951-52.

Magic Words

The entire management of this year's Lynx shows either poor thinking or an amazing lack of thinking.

Year-books are customarily composed by and printed for the students. Complaints have been made by talented students who were refused a part in Lynx work. These people—capable, experienced, and enthusiastic—were arbitrarily denied year-book jobs because the Lynx staff was carefully hand-picked before the school year began.

The policy on taking student pictures has also caused some bitterness. The early deadline was unreasonable and confusing. A $.75 fine imposed on students who were unable to get their pictures made is the most colossal outrage of all. Since no photographs will be made at the studio, these students will not have pictures in their own annual. Second semester first registrations will of course be left out.

The photography has not been outstanding, and the photographer himself was not consistently in his Lynx-office studio during the announced hours.

These various attacks upon the dignity of individual students are supposed to be justified by the magic words practicality and convenience.

College publications are never put out at the convenience of editors. Rather, they are put out at the inconvenience of editors. Editors are appointed to do a job; the job is for the students.

Chapel Chimes

By Margaret Jones

What Happened to Jo-Jo?, a motion picture, will be shown at the regular monthly meeting of the Christian Union Forum. The meeting will be held Wednesday, December 5, at 3:45 p.m. in the Sigma Nu house. Everyone is invited to come and see what did happen to Jo-Jo.

Muhsin Mahdo from the Oriental Institute, University of Chicago, will speak Monday morning at chapel services. Dr. Baker, professor of biology, will conduct the chapel service Tuesday morning. On Thursday morning Dr. James Webb, from the chemistry department, will speak on Phi Beta Kappa. Regular student assemblies will be held Wednesday and Friday mornings.

The World Student Service Fund Drive is still on, and there are students who have not yet contributed to the drive. Contributions, either cash or pledges will be greatly appreciated. This is a worthy drive and requires everyone's full support.

The Westminster Fellowship of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., is working on a program emphasis book to be used in the fall of 1952. The work has been divided among the synods, and the Synod of Tennessee was assigned the topic, Basic Christian Doctrines. The Westminster Fellowship of Evergreen Church is planning the programs for this emphasis area and work has already begun. The group has a big task ahead of them and the participation of the entire fellowship is needed.

Crescendo and Diminuendo

Mme. Guimar Novaes, whom critics have called the world's greatest woman pianist of today, was presented in a recital at Ellis Auditorium on Tuesday evening, November 27. The Brazilian artist was the second in the current Beethoven Club series of subscription concerts. A sincere and eloquent artist of the keyboard, Mme. Novaes is no stranger to Memphis and Mid-south music lovers. She last appeared here in November, 1949.

The program opened with two works by Bach, "Chromatic Fantasia and Fugue" and "Capriccio sopra la longtanza del suo fratello dilettaissima." Third on the program was Beethoven's "Sonata, Op. 81 (Les Adieux)", followed by a Chopin "Sonata in B minor, Op. 58." Last on the program was a group of three numbers, "Intermezzo in B flat minor" and "Caprice in B minor" by Brahms. She concluded with "Brole de Bebe (The Baby's Family)" by Villa-Lobos.

"Young Artists"

Surprise package of the week: The Memphis and Mid-south Piano Association revealed that the four "young artists" are Joy Brown, violinist; Clifford Tucker, pianist; and the vocal duo Dolores Hanke, soprano, and Norman McLean, bass-baritone. The selection was made on basis of their standing in the annual competition last spring. The Association's concert will be at Ellis Auditorium, Sunday, December 2, at 3:00 p.m.

Juilliard Quartet

The Juilliard String Quartet will play at 8:30 p.m. in Hardie Auditorium as this year's visiting ensemble in the Southwestern chamber music series. The program will consist of three string quartets—the "Third Quartet" by William Schuman, a modern work on the program; the "Quartet in F major, K590," by Mozart, the classic work; and the "Quartet in A minor, Op. 132," by Beethoven, the romantic section of the program.

Members of the quartet are Robert Mann and Robert Koff, violins; Raphael Hillyer, viola; and Arthur Winograd, violoncello. They comprise one of the finest music groups in the nation. Admission is free.

Here 'n there: Shep Fields and his "Rippling Rhythm" orchestra opened a three-week stay at the Peabody Hotel Monday, November 26. . . . To The Contest Staff

The Sou'wester wishes to express its appreciation to the many people who helped stage the Southwestern Maid of Cotton contest.

A special thanks to Ray Hill, master of ceremonies; Henry Freund, stage manager; and Ann Gill, contest manager, for an excellent job in their departments.

Helen Walker, Vera Burns, Carol Clemens, Glenda Selman, Joan Clas, Eleanor Bosworth, Rita Cunningham, and F. F. Walker provided the refreshing intermission.

Entertainers Louis Wener and Billy Bord were great at making the judges' time out seem short.

And Oh, judges, (Mrs. Mary Allie Taylor, Miss Edith Pirtle, Mr. Julian Bondurant, and Mr. Charles Taylor) thank you for picking our Maid of Cotton.

Ann Brown and Mr. Rollow, your help was indispensable backstage.

Posters are to the credit of Ann Milner.

Finally, a hearty thanks to all the candidates and the fraternities and sororities who sponsored them. Without you the contest would have been impossible.

Congratulations Miss Jane McSpadden, and good luck in the national contest!

Bulletin Board

Prospective Students

The registrar would appreciate receiving the names of prospective students.

If you have friends who will begin college next fall, be sure to turn in their names. Forms are available in the registrar's office.

Diabetes Tests

All diabetes tests performed here during National Diabetes Week were negative.

Dr. Tullis and his staff would like to express their appreciation to the Southwestern chemistry students who ran the analyses. Carl Strauss, Jeff Justis, Thomas Strong, Nathan Salky, Thomas McClellan, Robert Bourne, William Q. Allen, and John Paul Jones helped with the project.

Pre-registration

Pre-registration for the second semester will be held Monday, December 3, through Friday, December 15.

Students are asked to come to the Registrar's Office, obtain a copy of the schedule, and bring it back with their second semester courses marked and the sheet signed by their faculty advisers. The two weeks allowed for pre-registration will give them ample time to do this.

Fees for the second semester must be paid before 5:00 p.m., February 5, if penalty is to be avoided.

In order that an adequate supply of text books may be secured and definite information obtained as to what elective courses are needed, it is most important that every student complete his registration at this time.

tween Caruso's time and ours. Today the best singers are found not only in opera and on the concert stage, but in movies, radio, T.V.

Idle thought—"Tis said that violinist Yehudi Menuhin, now touring Japan, says Japanese audiences are so-o-o polite. "They don't cough, sneeze, scrape their feet, or rustle their programs." Wonder what he would say of Memphis audiences? Not only do they commit the crimes listed above, but many invariably leave before the lights go up.

Thirteen Dollars

The business manager of the annual in answer to the editorial, "Double Play" (Sou'wester, November 16), has attempted to justify the "extra" $5.00 charge for each copy of the Lynx.

Southwestern is a small school. Our Lynx shouldn't try to compete with the annuals of universities like Vanderbilt and Northwestern. 500 student pictures don't take up nearly as much space as 5,000 or 15,000. There is no sense in trying to pack the rest of the space with a multiplicity of scenes from our hundred-acre campus, one corner of which contains all of the main buildings and dormitories. There is no need to indulge in past extravagances such as padded covers, even if they are practical when several thousand copies of a year book are being printed.

Costs have gone up; so might ad rates. A good annual, which might be printed for not much more than $7.00 a copy, should contain enough advertising to show a profit when sold for $5.00 each. It should never be necessary to charge students more than the fee indicated in our college catalogue.

The fact that more money can be made available for the Lynx is of little significance. The publication board's power to raise the price of the Lynx does not justify an excessively expensive annual.

While individual frivolity is permissible, it is definitely unwelcome in college publications.

Clubb Fights Evils Of Crittenden Handicap

By Bob Starr

I got a bookie friend who's betting five to one that Dixie Downs doesn't win in the great Crittenden County Handicap. What's more, he's putting up four to one they don't get the place and three to one it never shows.

But win, lose, or neither one, its been a great fight. The right honorable Reverend Clubb has closed into the combat now, coming to hand to hand grips with the dark evil of horse racing. Accusations have been flouted about flagrantly, and not much has been done by either side. It's a lot like the truce negotiations in Korea, only here it's just an exercise lot for a flock of bangtails at stake, and over there it's a little more serious. People have been killed over less.

The big question of the moment, of course, is will Ike run. I saw an interesting cartoon this summer that showed Harry himself in a track suit beating it around the turf holding a little sign which said, "I haven't decided whether I'll run or not."

The situation's a little different with Eisenhower, however. D. D. is in a position where he has everything to lose and nothing to gain by running for the presidency. He can well profit by what happened to that fine old fellow, General George Marshall, when he got back into the filthy thing we now have for politics in this country.

Marshall suffered for what a bunch of ne'er-do-well hangers-on to the Truman regime are responsible for. And Ike's afraid the same thing will happen to him. . . . What is most hard for me to understand, is the astronomical rise of the fortunes of Mr. Republican, none other than Robert Taft himself. A year ago nobody wanted anything of this boy but blood, but now the situation has altered more than somewhat. Taft is the lad, they say, and who am I to bicker.

The current theme over there in Korea is get the boys home for Christmas. Seems like the same deal was on this time last year. Mac said he'd have the boys back by Noel. They didn't make it, but he almost did.

Review Of Bethel Game Adds Up To A Strong Lynx Team

By DON RAMIER

Even though our basketballers absorbed a thorough defeat poured on by Bethel, they showed promise and played extremely well at times.

The first half was a creditable one that ended with the Lynx trailing by only two points. Several times during this period, we led Bethel and out-played them noticeably. But during this part of the fracas, our first team was being charged with more than its share of personal fouls, which hurt them greatly later in the game. It seemed for a time that Coach Johnson had found a smooth-working combination that might pull the game out of the fire and go on to victory. But the large number of fouls forced him to substitute, break up the combination, and consequently extinguish Southwestern's victory blaze.

Time Outs

Another factor that aided in the defeat was our inability to call "time out" without being penalized. As you may know, each team is allowed a certain number of "time-outs." After these have been used up, a technical foul is imposed upon the squad that calls for more.

During the first period, when things were going bad, Coach Johnson frequently suspended action, talked to the boys and rallied them so that when play was resumed they did a much better job. Coach used this strategy during the first half, and the team responded by playing some good ball. But during the third quarter we exceeded our limit of "time-outs" and at that point the seams burst. Coach Johnson had relatively little control over the team and Bethel went on a scoring spree. The opposition continued using most of its first team against our foul-riddled squad and ran up an impressive score.

The Next Time

But even in defeat, the Lynx displayed some of its potential ability and played heads-up basketball at times. I say, and I have heard some of the members of the team say, that the score will be quite different the next time the two teams meet. We may not win (although such an event would not be a surprise to me), but we will improve and give Bethel a battle they should not forget.

ing approximately $13.00 (not $5.00 or even $10.00) for each book; the rest of the money is supposed to come from advertising, etc.

This same amount has been reserved from the tuition fees this year, but due to 1) a decrease in the number of students and 2) an increase in the cost of printing, engraving, and materials, it was deemed necessary by the administrative committee of the Publications Board to charge this extra fee for "The Lynx" rather than have a deficit, as we had last year.

Publications Board

You have referred to the constitution of the Publications Board saying that it states no provision for a "sale" of annuals. I could find nowhere in the constitution a provision stating the specific cost of the annual or the fact that students may not be asked to pay an additional amount.

If you had read, or better, quoted, to the student body the entire document, you would have found this provision also stated in it: Article IX. "Powers of the Student Publications Board: Except insofar as expressly herein limited the Southwestern Publications Board shall powers in the management of all student publications."

No Added Fee

With the above information in mind it should now be clear that this is not an added fee, but is a necessary one to make the publication of the annual possible this year.

Students desiring to obtain a 1951-52 Lynx please pay for it sometime between now and the time of second semester registration. Those who wish to include this amount ($5.00) in the check with their tuition fees may do so. Any other time money can be paid to either Nancy or Sue Carrell. If you have not paid for an annual by then, you should not expect to receive one.

KA's volleyball machine, which had rolled in high gear all season, stalled and threatened to stop before defeating a determined and fighting ATO team on November 19.

ATO gained the finals by defeating SN in a play-off of a disputed semi-final match.

The championship match was extended to the maximum five games before a winner could be determined.

The final top four showed KA, ATO, SN, and SAE in that order. All-Stars picked by the intramural board are Wayne Todd, ATO, Dick Kinsinger, ATO, Bob Palmer, KA, Red Wray, SN, Chandler Warren, KA, and Charlie McAllister, KA. Honorable mention was given Jerry Wood, SAE, Robert Goodson, ATO, Burton Henry, KS, Prentice Fulton, SAE, and Tommy Crais, SN.

Juilliard Artists Will Present Concert Of Ensemble Music

The Juilliard String Quartet will present a concert of chamber music in Hardie Auditorium on Tuesday, December 4, at 8:30 p.m. The concert is sponsored by the Patrons of Music at Southwestern in cooperation with the Memphis Arts Appreciation Society.

The four members of the quartet are Robert Mann, violin, Robert Koff, violin, Raphael Hillyer, viola, Arthur Winograd, cello.

Third Quartet by William Schuman; quartet in F major, K. 590 by Mozart; and quartet in A minor, Op. 132 by Beethoven will compose the program.

Highest Ideals

The Juilliard String Quartet was founded with the aid of the Juilliard Musical Foundation in order to stimulate in America the development of chamber music in keeping with the highest ideals and the noblest traditions.

The quartet is in residence at the Juilliard School of Music of New York, and its four musicians are members of the ensemble faculty of the school. It is organized on a non-commercial basis and appears only under the sponsorship of the school.

The Juilliard String Quartet is an American quartet in the sense that its purpose is to contribute to a greater understanding of the problems of music in America today. Its more immediate objective is to perform the great works of the repertoire; to explore the lesser known literature of the past; and to bring to contemporary music the painstaking musicianship usually reserved for the revered works of other periods.

Social Notes— Weekend Overflows With Small Parties

By Patricia Riegle

Now that the Thanksgiving holidays are over, all the fraternities and sororities are getting back into the swing of social activities, and from the looks of things to come, Southwestern is in for a series of rollicking good times.

Yesterday Chi Omega entertained the faculty with their annual Chocolate Hour from 3:00 until 4:00 P.M.

Last night the Kappa Sigmas had an outing at the lodge at Ellendale. All the members, their dates and invited guests were in attendance. Dancing and games were the order of the evening.

Greek Parties

Tonight will be a full one, for several of the Greek-letter organizations have chosen it for their parties.

Things will certainly be buzzing at the Alpha Tau Omega lodge, for the fraternity will hold its first official party of the year. All the members, pledges, and their dates will be present to enjoy the dancing and fine food that has been planned.

Pi Kappa Alpha will hold forth with their weekly party at their lodge. I understand that they have a new piano; so there ought to be plenty of good music coming from that end of "fraternity row."

Weird Slumber

Don't fear for your life, you dorm students, if late tonight you hear weird sounds drifting across the campus. Be assured that it is only the Kappa Deltas having a slumber (less) party at their house. They may quiet down in time to go to breakfast in the morning.

This afternoon the Mother's Club of Alpha Omicron Pi will honor the new pledges and their mothers at a tea from 3:00 until 5:00 P.M.

Open House

Sigma Alpha Epsilon will entertain the student body with an open house on Tuesday evening, December 4, from 6:00 until 7:30 at their house. That is the night that our varsity basketball team meets the Mississippi College team, and it is the desire of the SAE's that everyone go to the game. The spirit of SAE in preceding the game with an open house is an admirable one.
