Largest Class To Graduate

Morley Will Speak At Grad Exercises

Is Winner Of Pulitzer Prize

CLARK TO SPEAK

Baccalaureate Address To Be By Watts

Three most qualified and interesting speakers have been chosen to address the graduating class, alumni, students and guests of Southwestern during the ensuing Commencement season.

Felix Morley, Ph.D., D.Litt., LL.D., who in 1935 was awarded the Pulitzer Prize for his distinguished editorial writing, is the Commencement speaker.

The son of Dr. Frank Morley, then professor of mathematics at Haverford College, Pennsylvania, later head of the Mathematics Department of the Johns Hopkins University, was born January 6, 1894, at Haverford College. Twenty-one years later Mr. Morley graduated from Haverford. While an undergraduate, he edited the college magazine and was president of the student association. In 1915 he won the Robert Browning Memorial Verse Award open to undergraduates of Pennsylvania colleges.

He has held positions on the staffs of the United Press in Philadelphia and Washington; the Philadelphia North American, as its Washington correspondent, and on the Baltimore Sun. He became editor of the Washington Post in 1933. In 1940 Mr. Morley accepted appointment as President of Haverford College.

He is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations; of the American Political Science Association; of Phi Beta Kappa; a Rhodes Scholar; a trustee of the National Foundation for Education in American Citizenship and of the Bliss School; and a director of the National Metropolitan Band of Washington, D.C. His latest book, The Power in The People published in 1949 is now in its third printing.

An address will be given to the

Soph Tutorials Will Be Offered In Fall

Sophomore tutorial courses will be offered in four fields next year, according to an announcement by Dean Johnson.

These courses were discontinued after the war and will probably be conducted as three hour courses, with two hours spent in reading and one in conference each week.

The four fields in which the tutorial courses, designed to give individual instruction and to explore the fields, will be given are the natural sciences, the social sciences, ancient civilizations, and civilizations of foreign countries.

Pan-Olympic Names Five New Members

Arnold, Beasley, Woods Are Officers For Next Year

Pan-Olympic, honorary athletic society for sophomore, junior, and senior women, tapped five girls recently.

Those invited to membership are:

Mary Woods: WAA representative, softball all-star two years, participant in basketball, softball, archery, track, swimming, volleyball, and tennis. 40 points.

Betty Guthrie: softball all-star, participant in tennis, badminton, basketball, ping pong, softball, archery, volleyball, and track. 27 points.

Barbara Flippin: softball all-star, participant in basketball, softball, swimming, track, volleyball, archery, badminton, and track. 25 points.

Frances Freeman: representative to WAA, participant in volleyball, softball, basketball, archery, and track. 25 points.

Ann Morrow: softball all-star, participant in volleyball, softball, track, basketball, tennis, ping pong, and badminton. 25 points.

Pan-Olympic officers are selected on the basis of points. Jean Arnold is next year's president with 73 points. June Beasley, 41 points, will be vice-president, and Mary Woods, 40 points, is the new secretary-treasurer.

Sigma Nu Entertains Seniors With Smoker

Sigma Nu entertained its graduates with a smoker and dinner in the lodge last Tuesday afternoon. Also guests of the chapter were members of the Memphis Sigma Nu Alumni Club.

Forrest Flaniken was presented an inscribed key for being the Sigma Nu who contributed most to the chapter's welfare throughout the past year.

Graduates who were honored were: John Reid Bell, Ernest Bernhoff, Paul Dillman, John Evans, Forrest Flaniken, Russ Heinze, Frank Hemmen, Eldon Roark, Marshall Scott, Paul Ware, Henry Yates.

The Mothers' Club was in charge of the arrangements for the dinner.

Hill Announces Fourteen New Alpha Psi's

Chilton And Morelock Have 85 Points

By Mary Frances Reese
News Editor

Professor Raymond S. Hill announced the names of the fourteen new members of Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatics fraternity, last Thursday at the Players' picnic.

Membership in Alpha Psi Omega is automatic to all students who accumulate 50 points in dramatic activity. At the beginning of last semester there were only two members in the organization; since then twenty-three students and a professor have been invited into membership.

The recently honored are the following:

William Boyd, who has a total of 53 points, participated in the Oedipus Reading Performance, "Lost Horizon," "All for Fun," and "As You Like It." He was Business Manager of "Sweethearts."

Janet Canada's activity points mounted to 50, having worked on the crew, sold tickets, and acted in "Sweethearts" and "All for Fun."

Vivienne Chilton took part in the Prometheus Reading Performance, "Lost Horizon," "All for Fun," and "Wandering Scholar." She sold tickets and was on the publicity staff for "Lost Horizon" and Business Manager for "All for Fun." She has 85 points.

Charles Clifton, with 75 points, was in the Prometheus Reading Performance, the Oedipus Reading Performance, "Box and Cox," "All for Fun," and "As You Like It." He was on the prop crew and paint crew for "Lost Horizon," and "As You Like It."

Roscoe Feild has 68 points, acquired by acting in "Box and Cox," "Wandering Scholar," the April Fool play, "All for Fun," and "As You Like It." He sold tickets for "Box and Cox."

Sarah Hunter helped with the costumes for "As You Like It," was performed in the Prometheus Reading, "As You Like It," and the Hamlet Reading. She acted as prompter for "Box and Cox."

Bob Starr has sixty five points, accumulated through playing in the April Fool play and "As You Like It." He has worked in the publicity departments of all the shows.

Joan Stewart, with 50 points, was in the "12th Night," the Oedipus Reading Performance and "All

Band Will Be Hosts Friday

Entire Student Body Is Invited To Tea-dance

The Band tea-dance will be held tomorrow, May 19, in the gym, from 5:00 to 8:30. The Band members will be hosts, and the entire student body is invited at the price of 60 cents each. The money will go to purchase new music instruments, supplies and repairs.

Permission has been obtained for dorm girls to remain past the 8:30 curfew. Light refreshments will be on hand with Mr. Markusch officiating at the coke stand. Music will be served to suit popular demand from at least 40 selected records.

This social will follow up a successful concert season for the band members. Although the Band will remain for the commencement activities, the popular music production last Tuesday was the final concert presented for the student body this year.

The concert featured individual student talent as well as standard bandstratation of popular numbers. Bob Matthews soloed in Russell Heinze's arrangement of "Morceau Symphonique," and Dhane Basom played Gould's "Pavanne." Dr. Tut-hill's concert march, "Dr. Joe," was performed for the first time by the Southwestern Band.

The light tunes were a welcome relief to students who have heard only classical music all year. Next year the Band plans to present more of the music which appeals to the student body, and hopes to increase the music library and participate more often in campus activities.

ATO Announces Officers For Coming Year

Alpha Tau Omega fraternity has elected the following officers for next year: Bob Richardson, president; Bill Boyd, vice president; Blake Atchley, Fred Link, John Cochran, Jimmy Lapsley, Mort Mc-Millan, Woody Morriss, and Charlie Landrum.

Eight Will Receive Honorary Degrees

By Al Jacobson
Staff Writer

Fifty-five women and ninety-six men are tentatively to be graduated with the Class of 1950. One-hundred and eight of these will receive the B.A., fourteen, the B.S., and twelve, the B.M. Only in the last department do the women outnumber the men.

Fifteen of those participating will receive their degrees next September for they will complete their requirements in summer school. Sixty of the graduates, three of them women, are registered under the GI Bill of Rights. James V. Cobb, Jr. is receiving two degrees, one in music and one in science; he completed one of these last semester.

Within this class fifteen states are represented. They are Mississippi, New Jersey, Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana, Pennsylvania, Arkansas, Washington, Illinois, New York, Kentucky, Indiana, Texas, Oklahoma, and Tennessee.

At the Commencement, the Doctor of Divinity degree will be conferred upon Albert Clarke Dean, Pastor of the Buntyn Presbyterian Church, Memphis, Tennessee; Archie Clarence Ingram, '12-'16, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Bogalusa, Louisiana; Frank Alfred Mathes, Pastor of the South Highland Presbyterian Church, Birmingham, Alabama; and Roy Edward Watts, '25, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Clarksdale, Mississippi.

Aubrey N. Brown, editor of the Presbyterian Outlook, Richmond, Virginia, and John Goodall Garth, '94, feature writer for The Charlotte Observer and author, Charlotte, North Carolina will receive the Doctor of Literature degree.

CONTEST NEWS

Be on your toes, folks, because this is the last week of the Chesterfield Co-ed of the Week contest, and this is your last chance to win a carton of those Always milder, Better tasting, Cooler smoking Chesterfields.

Should give our clue to you.

Last week the secret clue was golden earrings, made famous in a motion picture of the same name starring Marlene Deitrich. The Chesterfield Co-ed was Betty Oller. Elma Lee Wylie was the winner. This week if you think you know who the Chesterfield Co-ed is, ask her and then see Sammy Reese and get your carton of Chesterfields.

TO THE GRADUATES

May 15, 1950

To the members of the Class of 1950:

It is usually necessary to stand back a bit from the canvas in order to get the full impact of a great painting. Likewise one must become an alumnus to begin to realize the meaning and to really appreciate the lifetime values of the experiences of college days. As you leave the period of formal instruction and continue your education by participating in the affairs of an active and exciting world, do not forget that you are a part of Southwestern—because Southwestern is a part of you.

You represent those of us—students, faculty and staff, who continue to carry on at home. You will do a good job, encouraged not only by the warm affection and sincere good wishes of the "homefolks," but also by the assurance of a warm welcome on every return to the campus.

Thanks People

As another year of onrushing deadlines reaches its end, we, the editors, feel that the staff which has been of immeasurable help in getting out this newspaper from week to week deserve a mighty pat on the back.

So here's thanking the fifteen or so persons who have given freely of their creative talents, the sweat of their brows, and so many of those hard to find extra-curricular hours in the dungeon down below Neely Hall.

It was William Allen White who once said, "Anyone can throw a few odds and ends together and call the result a newspaper, but find a publication worthy of the name, and you'll find a first rate staff."

Thanks, people.

Musical Memphis

By Jimmy Cobb

With the signing of the great Grecian contralto, Elena Nikolaidi to appear at the Auditorium, in late February, 1951, the Angier Congerts completed the list of the four artists presentations for the 1950-51 season. The program for the year offers a varied musical fare which should please everyone, and should be of particular advantage to students in broadening their musical horizon.

The first attraction will be the Virtuosi Di Roma, an Italian Symphonetta, under the direction of Maestro Renato Fasano, artistic administrator of the famous Academy of St. Cecilia in Rome. The repertoire of the Symphonetta ranges from the ineffable lyricism of the early Italian classicists to the rhythmic dynamism of our own contemporary composers. This concert is scheduled for mid-October.

In mid-November the Majorcan Chorus, Orfeo Hispenico, will be the second presentation of the season. This chorus, under the direction of Juan Marie Thomas, is unlike any other choral group in the world. A product of the Spanish coastal island of Majorca, the draws its singers from the sturdy working people of Palma, its capital city. Under the inspired direction of Maestro Thomas these men and women have been transformed into an amazing vocal orchestra that has stirred thousands.

On January 2 and 3 the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo will again appear under the banner of the Angier Concerts. The performance for the evening of January 2 will be the one included in the Season ticket for the year. The management feels very fortunate to be able to enlarge the engagement to two evenings instead of the one, which is the usual allotment of time accorded Memphis by this outstanding popular dance ensemble.

BREATH Of The Lynx

By Robert Q. Dunn

Onions and poison ivy to the people. I'm heading for the tall timber like a bunny rabbit chased by a skunk. Where are you action packed people off to? You know it's summertime and you've got to go. And I might add that them what has to go are the only ones what do.

But seriously, now that you've learned all that you possibly can from dear old Southwestern C., where goest thou, little stoic? John D. Schitso from Dogeywater, New Mexico says that he wouldn't miss summer session here at the Southwestern Resort Boretel for all the starch in the messhall. No sir, he's coming back to get exactly what he got from his winter session plus the southwest tradewinds of Hades. Some good old fashioned larning?

Robert Bates Tapeworn, big wheel extraordinary on campus, is going to Washington, D. C., to study dirty politicking and the frustrating, over-powering, nerve-jangling, tizzy-giving methods of the political combine. Being no mild mannered reactionary, he intends to make vast improvements here next year.

Sadie Glutz, campus society deb, past, present, and future, is going to Parie where she will be given plastic surgery by that renowned example of culture and poise, Doctor Henerette Feline. She is having her nose lifted.

David G. Solinoid, botany major, has found his project here on this great accomodating campus. Growing on the southeastern corner of Southwestern is a healthy vivid green growth known among the laymen as poison ivy.

But be you heathen on a desert island for the summer or Southwestern stay at home, or off to the gay hot city of New Orleans, or stifling in New York City, I'm the only one who's going to beat this citranella and mosquito hex. After considering the previous case histories, I have decided to climb into the antique tub in my cool green bath room turn on the cold water and pull out the stopper and drift down and down and down. . . .

You know, and I know that summer is finally sunning itself on the levy. It's time for exams! It's time for Commencement! In short, it's time for the wind up. Most of us are in a shocked up shape . . . if we aren't . . . we're mighty lucky. Just three words and a phrase come to my mind at this time of year. STUDY! WRITE! PRAY! And never let it happen again!

By this time of the year each and every year, we have finally gotten it through these steel-plated vacuum boxes we use for a head that what I should have done all year, I have to do right now. We've got to get on the strong backs of those three stalwart horses, Text-book, Note, and Memory, and ride out through the gate. If only half the energy used to light the well known midnight til morn oil were poured over the whole year, what happy people we would be.

We never do until we have to . . . and that's bad! This is a pep talk . . . sure it's a pep talk. It has to do with you and me and everybody else who comes to this school! But it goes deeper than that. It goes clear back to the first depression and way up to the next war! We're the people who pay, and pay and pay . . . the people who sit around in school and coddle each other into mass sleeping . . . all of us who Let John Vote, or forget an idea which we might have expressed, or stomp stupidly on the toes of those who might do greater things if we weren't envious. It's shown all year . . . following placidly last year's schedule, just getting by in subjects, no originality, no spirit, no division between a good time and intense study. Let 'er slide, Kelly, let 'er slide!

Next year's another day! If you graduate . . . change, 'cause you'll have to . . . If you come back here decide to put some of yourself into the paper, into campus life, if you criticize, think of some way to correct what you criticize. But Act!

But now, for grade's sake . . . study! Don't give any quarter with those books. Hit 'em for everything they're worth. And when you sit down to those masterpieces of mystification, placed before you on judgement day, WRITE . . . Write a book, two books . . . don't stop writing till you know you've passed or that the professor will be so confused in grading that he will give you an "A" for effort. Good luck, and so long until next year!

Dear Editor,

This is a letter of protest. Why is it, powers that be, that we men must wear coats in the dining hall for the evening meal.

Summer is marching onward and with it the terrific heat that is a part of this Memphis season.

Man has made many strides in the field of refrigeration. He can keep food cool, serve food in beautiful surroundings, serve delicious food. But, alack, we men are doomed to swelter in coats as if we were expecting snow at any moment.

As a man thirsts after water and is tortured by the sight of it in a mirage, so it is with us who swelter away while looking at the girls who are so coolly dressed.

Must man be over inhumane towards mankind, or, shall we here in this institution of higher learning continue to be forced to discontinue enjoyment of our meals in the evening.

To sum this up won't someone let us take our coats off?

Robert K. Bennett

Dear Editor,

I am glad that the matter of very poor chapel services is at last getting the attention of at least a few students. As one who is deeply interested in religion, I like to attend worship services that are inspirational and intelligently conducted. The "Chapel services" to which we have been forcibly subjected this year have been neither inspiring nor conducted in a serious, intelligent manner.

A few months ago, the Ministerial Club, of which I am a member, drew up a paper in which was stated the fact that the ministerial students on campus were not satisfied with the present chapel services. (The club thought that it was expressing the will of a majority of the student body). The paper pointed out some of the shortcomings of chapel and also presented some definite, concrete suggestions for improving the services. This paper was overwhelmingly endorsed by the Ministerial Club. Among suggestions included in it were: (1) Because chapel is the principle religious activity on the campus since it affects more students and takes more time than any other, it ought to be improved and made worthy of its position of emphasis.

(2) Chapel should consist entirely of a religious service two days a week and of an assembly one day a week for both MWF and TTS groups. This would put emphasis where they belong. All tapping services, election campaigns and other non-religious affairs would take place on Friday and Saturday. On those "assembly" days there would be no religious elements whatsoever, such as Scripture reading, offering of prayers, or hymn singing. Likewise, on the other real "chapel" days, the non-religious acts would be kept to a minimum.

(3) Outside speakers should be obtained more often for chapel. Some faculty members have conducted good chapel services, but generally, neither the professors nor the students have been inspired by what they have said.

(4) Announcements should be restricted to those absolutely necessary, and they should be given from the platform by the person conducting chapel or the person who introduces the speaker. (Need anything be said of the ridiculous situation now associated with announcements in chapel?) Bulletin boards would be read more often if more announcements were placed on them.

(5) For the chapel services, students should be in their seats by the time the prelude is finished. The present practice in which students aggregate at the rear of Hardie and then stream to their places while the Doxology is being sung is deplorable.

Those are the chief suggestions of the Ministerial Club. These proposals were submitted to the faculty committee on Chapel and Religious Life on the campus and were approved by it. Also, I believe the Student Council approved the recommendations. What else must be done?

Obviously no chapel arrangement will please everyone. But we of the Ministerial Club, remembering that Southwestern at Memphis is a Christian institution and firmly rooted in a religious heritage, believe that the religious atmosphere on the campus it, to say the least,

The President of Austin College, Sherman, Texas will receive the degree of Doctor of Laws.

The By-Laws of Southwestern at Memphis provide that, generally speaking, not more than two honorary degrees of one type shall be authorized in any one year. In view of the fact that no honorary degrees were conferred by Southwestern at its Centennial and Inaugural Celebration in September, 1949, which is not usual for colleges and universities on such memorable occasions, the Committee on Honorary Degrees of the Board of Directors recommended to the Board at its February, 1950, meeting that four Doctor of Divinity degrees, one in each of Southwestern's four cooperating Synods, be conferred at the commencement exercises on June 6, 1950. The Board adopted this recommendation, but stated that in so doing it was not setting a precedent for the future.

A Senior

Sportsmen's Corner

By Bob Whiteside
Sports Writer

"The time has come—to speak of many things" and we find that we have neither time nor space to say them all. But the end of the year is rolling around and when we look back over the year of sports we cannot keep from being a bit sentimental. So our column brushes back a nostalgic tear and says, Thanks for the Memory:

Doyle taking Crumby's pass and sprinting for the goal line just one step ahead of the safety man in the Sewanee game. Then leaning on the goal post while the rest of the team came down the field to make the extra point.

Crissamore hitting his man and then stumbling to his feet and outrunning the backs to get "just one more" downfield block.

Flaniken standing behind the goal line all alone waiting for that long pass in the Hendrix game.

Coley and Derr planting themselves beneath the basket and controlling the backboards in all the games.

Hudgen's hole-in-one in the match out at Chickasaw and then the "what the heck, I do it every day" look as he twirled the driver in his fingers and stepped off the tee.

Cody digging out from his position behind the plate to back up first and retrieving a wild throw to get the man out at second by ten steps.

Currie consistently returning every ball no matter where it is placed until his opponent becomes so exasperated that he throws his tennis racket away.

The football team dragging themselves out of the ankle deep mud ready for the next play in the Centre game and Sparks sloshing around the ends.

Boyd with his easy up and over throw from short to first always catching the man by just half a step. Lazy, easy-going, but always the first one there when an argument starts.

Gwinn yelling "Save them curves for the batter" when Crumby tried to catch a man off first his first time on the mound.

Roark's impossible off balance basketball shots and his edging out Turpin in what we think was the best match of the year on Southwestern's tennis courts.

The basketball team banging away at the basket to set more new records than we can count in the Sewanee game.

Like we said there is a lot more to say than there is room for—more people that we should mention and more events that deserve notice. The coaches, the boys who give their own time to play and asking no special favors because they do participate, the sportsmanship, and the team spirit. But maybe from this you can understand why we say: Thanks for the Memory.

Netmen Down State; Lose To Mexico

Tigers Trounced Easily; Mexicans Blank Lynx

Southwestern's tennis team completed its season last week with two meets, defeating Memphis State to sweep the city championship series, and losing to the Chapultepec Sporting Club of Mexico City. The Lynx closed the season with a record of four wins and five defeats in dual meets, and second place in the TIAC tournament.

The Cats second victory over Memphis States, while not so decisive as the first, was easy nonetheless. The score was 6-2, with one doubles match being called off due to rain. Southwestern won four of the six singles matches and both of the doubles matches that were played.

Two meets were originally scheduled with the Mexican team, but due to rainy weather, both days were needed to finish one. The Mexicans took all nine matches. The best match of the meet pitted Paul Currie and Alberto Danel in the number four singles match. Currie took the first set 6-4, dropped the second 6-2, then was nosed out in the third 6-4. In the only other three set match Danel and Rudolfo May defeated Eldon Roark and Marvin Shinbaum 6-1, 5-7, 6-2.

This was the second meet on the schedule of the touring Mexicans. They had already beaten the University of Texas, Southwest Conference champs, and moved on to Vanderbilt from Memphis. The Mexican squad included some of the foremost Davis Cup prospects in Mexican tennis circles.

Individual results in the meets were as follows:

MEMPHIS STATE

Glenn Turpin (M) defeated Eldon Roark, Jr. (S) 6-1, 6-2. Ted Fox (S) defeated Lloyd Pritchard (MS), 6-1, 6-2. Judd Williford (S) defeated Bobby Johnson (MS), 6-0,

Linksmen Play At Chattanooga Meet

Huggins, Smith, Beal, Evans Are Southwestern Team

Southwestern's linksmen finished the season last Friday and Saturday by participating in the TIAC tournament at Chattanooga. The Lynx' inexperienced team finished last in a field of seven. The final season's record was three wins and four losses.

Jack Huggins, Omar Smith, Reynolds Beal, and Joe Evans represented Southwestern in the tournament. Beal paced the team with a 78 and a 76 for a total of 154. Huggins and Smith had identical cards of 77-20—157. Evans combined a 95 and a 96 for 191.

6-2. Paul Currie (S) defeated Charles Wing (MS), 6-3, 6-0. Marvin Shinbaum (S) defeated Bubba Fields (MS), 6-3, 6-2. Bill Davis (MS) defeated Jimmy James (S), 4-6, 6-3, 6-3.

Fox-Williford (S) defeated Turpin-Goodfriend (MS), 6-0, 8-6. Roark - Shinbaum (S) defeated Pritchard-Anderson (MS), 6-4, 6-0. Currie-James (S) vs. Fields-Johnson (MS), rained out.

MEXICO

Alfredo Millet (M) defeated Eldon Roark, Jr. (S), 6-4, 6-2. Frederico Corventes (M) defeated Ted Fox (S), 6-2, 6-2. Rodolfo May (M) defeated Judd Williford (S), 6-3, 6-0. Alberto Danel (M) defeated Paul Currie (S), 4-6, 6-2, 6-4. Luis Riefkohl (M) defeated Marvin Shinbaum (S), 6-4, 6-1. Carlos Horcasitas (M) defeated Jimmy James (S), 6-3, 6-4.

Millet-Corventes (M) defeated Fox-Williford (S), 6-0, 6-3. May-Danel (M) defeated Roark-Shinbaum (S), 6-1, 5-7, 6-2. Riefkohl-Horcasitas (M) defeated Currie-Ed Wills (S), 6-1, 6-3.

Doyle Pitches Two Hitter In Nightcap

NATTC WINS 6-3

Roy Gwin Leads Cats' Hitters

By Earl Hayes
Sports Writer

The NATTC Hellicats defeated the Lynx nine 6 to 3 Friday in the first game of a double header, but the Lynx, not to be outdone, came back to win the nightcap 4 to 1 behind a fine two hit pitching performance of Jack Doyle. In the first game, John Ruff of Navy allowed the losers only four hits while they were pounding Billy Pridgen, Jimmy Springfield, and Jack Doyle for twelve safties.

The Cats started the scoring of the afternoon by picking up two runs in the first inning. Sparks started the inning by drawing a free pass, Hays forced Sparks at second, Crissamore drew a walk, both runners advanced on a passed ball, then both scored when Al Boyd hit a long fly to left which was dropped by Miles of the Navy. The Hellicats scored a run in the second off hits by Noggle and Derrberry.

In the third Navy went out in front to stay when Ruff singled, Gulford tripled, and scored on a fielder's choice. Springfield took over the mound for the Lynx and gave the Swabbies three more runs. The Cats' only other score off Ruff came in the sixth inning by virtue of Sparks' single and Crissamore's double.

The second game of the twin bill was a pitcher's battle all the way. Southwestern was able to amass only four hits, and Navy only two. The Hellicats scored for their first and last time in the top of the fourth when Giordano and Hartley drew walks and Blackston singled.

The Cats came back in the bottom of the same inning scoring two runs off four walks and two Navy errors. The home team added two more tallies in the sixth when Bryant singled, Gwin tripled, and Pridgen grounded to first, scoring Gwin.

The softball season was brought to its completion last week as two postponed games were played off. SAE won the championship with a record of six wins and no defeats. Sigma Nu ended up in second place with five and one, while Kappa Sigma took down third honors with four and two.

Last Monday PiKA scored in the last of the seventh to down ATO 5-4. The winning run came across with two out when John Kurts walked with the bases full. Kurts pitched shutout ball in all but the fourth inning when three hits and a walk accounted for all the ATO runs. Brady Whitehead allowed the Pikes only four hits but his wildness kept him in hot water most of the time. Kurts was the only player on either team with as many as two hits.

Wednesday ATO climbed into a tie for fourth place with KA and PiKA by defeating KA in a 22-19 slugfest. Both teams together whacked out 25 hits and drew 24 bases on balls. ATO was off to an early lead with a ten run first inning, but KA came back with four in the third and six in the fourth to make the score 14-10. Four KA runs in the sixth narrowed the gap to 18-16, but ATO tallied four in the seventh, and choked off a KA rally to take the decision. Sonny Christie and Jimmy Caldwell got three hits each for the victors, with Christie scoring six runs. Ray Bryant socked three singles for KA.
