Black Convention Nominates Hughes, Lamberth For Posts

THE BLACK PARTY met in 100 Palmer Tuesday afternoon and after a two and a half hour convention session, nominated this slate of candidates:

Bill Hughes for Student Council President.

Bennie Lamberth for Student Council Vice-president.

Jean Enochs for Student Council Secretary-treasurer.

Chandler Warren for senior class president.

Truman Nabors for junior class president.

Tom Tosh for sophomore class president.

Albert Evans for Commissioner of Religious Activities.

Anne McGehee for Commissioner of Publications.

Esther Jane Swartzfager for Commissioner of Undergraduate Women.

Frank Horton for Commissioner of Athletics.

Tom Cunningham for Commissioner of Social Activities.

Qualifications Told

Bill Hughes of Memphis, a junior, is retiring president of the Honor Council. He has served as treasurer of Kappa Sigma Fraternity, is a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, having been named that group's "outstanding sophomore," and is a two year letterman in football and track. He was recently chosen "Best All Round" in the popularity elections.

Bennie Lamberth of Jonesboro, a junior, is president of the "S" Club. He is a secret officer of Kappa Alpha Fraternity, is the retiring commissioner of athletics, and a past basketball captain. He has also lettered in track.

Jean Enochs of Laurel, Miss., a junior, is now Commissioner of Undergraduate Women. She is guard of Kappa Delta Sorority, and president of the WAA.

Chandler Warren of Natchez, Miss., is the new president of Kapa Alpha Fraternity and the retiring Commissioner of Social Activities.

Other Nominees

Truman Nabors of Selma, Ala., is new president of Sigma Nu Fraternity and the newly-elected vice-president of the Honor Council.

Tom Tosh of Huntingdon, Tenn., was named the "best pledge" of Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity and lettered in football.

Albert Evans of Memphis, has served as vice-president of the Protestant Religious Council, president of the Methodist Student Movement and a member of the ATO and is a junior.

Reporter Finds Political Conventions In Sharp Contrast For Nominations

By ROBERT PATE

Tuesday and Wednesday, representatives of the social organizations on campus met in convention to select the slates for the spring elections. This is an account of what happened at these conventions.

When your reporter arrived in Room 100 Palmer on Tuesday to attend the Black Convention the atmosphere was already stuffy and hazed with smoke. A confusion of noise filled the room as delegates sat alone or in clustered little groups around the room. Some conversed, some went over notes for nominating speeches, and others just sat.

The voting delegates for the convention were Jack Worthington of ATO; Don Ramier of KA; Orley Lilly of Kappa Sigma; John Maxwell of SAE; Willie Bow of the Independent Men; Helen Swartzfager of AOPi; Katherine Hinds of Chi Omega; Elma Lee Wylie of Tri-Delt; Vi Deavours of KD; Anne McGehee of Zeta Tau Alpha. The Pi Kappa Alpha delegate was not there; the Independent Women's delegate left in the middle of convention.

Ballots were to be secret with the voting continuing until one candidate for each office received a majority.

After the nominating began the general atmosphere was one of boredom. Nominating speeches were mumbled for the most part and few bothered to try to listen. The results caused no excitement or even evident interest as the delegates looked forward to the second day.

Nominees for president and vice-president of the Student Body; Commissioner of Religious Activities; Senior Class president; and Junior Class President won on the first ballots taken for their respective positions — and with never more than two opponents for their places on the slates.

Five of the other six positions were filled on the second ballot with the number of candidates ranging from three to five.

Exciting Race

The only exciting race of the entire afternoon was that of nominee

Elections Begin For Council

Southwestern's 1953-54 Student Council will be named a week from today.

The college's spring election campaign swings into high gear this coming week with campaigning and speech making scheduled through Wednesday.

First Elections

First elections will be held from 8 until 1 Thursday in Palmer Hall and the run-off balloting will be Friday during the same hours. Results will be announced next Saturday.

Campaign signs will go up after midnight tomorrow all over the campus.

Wednesday during student assembly, the Black Party, the Red Party and the Independents will each have eight minutes to state their platforms and make their speeches.

Urges All To Vote

Allen Cooke, vice-president of this year's Student Council and elections commissioner, urged all Southwesterners to exercise their privilege of voting. He said:

"It's every student's duty to vote and students should have enough interest in their school to elect its leaders. They have no right to criticize later if they don't vote in important Student Council elections."

Red Convention Nominates McLin, Crais For Offices

THE RED PARTY, meeting in 100 Palmer Wednesday in a two-hour convention session, nominated the following slate of candidates:

Jimmy McLin for Student Council President.

Tommy Crais for Student Council Vice-President.

Elizabeth Price for Student Council Secretary-Treasurer.

Clark Young for senior class president.

Lee Weed for junior class president.

Gerald Smith for sophomore class president.

Mary Williams for Commissioner of Religious Activities.

Mary Rodriguez for Commissioner of Publications.

Millye Bunn for Commissioner of Undergraduate Women.

Reg Germany for Commissioner of Athletics.

Amel Peterson for Commissioner of Social Activities.

Activities Listed

Jimmy McLin, junior, of Earle, Ark., has served as vice-president of Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity, president of Eta Sigma Phi, national honorary classical languages fraternity, and last month was chosen a member of Omicron Delta Kappa. He is a member of the "S" Club and was named Southwestern's "Mr. Talent" twice in the annual ZTA contest.

Tommy Crais, junior, of New Orleans, is a former treasurer of Sigma Nu, is chairman of the Protestant Religious Council's fund-raising drive; is vice president of the junior class, a member of the tennis team and lettered in baseball.

Elizabeth Price, a junior, of Jackson, Miss., is a member of Chi Omega Sorority, and was named that group's "model initiate." She is a transfer from Agnes Scott.

Others Named

Clark Young of West Point, Miss., is treasurer of Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity, has served on the Intramural Board for two years, has played on the baseball team three years, and was named "Most Handsome" last year.

Lee Weed of Memphis is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity, a member of the "S" Club, having lettered in football.

Gerald Smith of Sumner, Miss., is a member of Kappa Sigma Fraternity, the "S" Club, having lettered in football.

Mary Williams a sophomore, of Calhoun City, Miss., is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority, the Protestant Religious Council, and has been active in the Westminster Fellowship.

More Candidates

Mary Rodriguez of Monroe, La., is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority and has served as a member of The Sou'wester and the Lynx staffs. She is a sophomore.

Millye Bunn, junior, of Jonesboro, is a member of Chi Omega Sorority, a student counselor, vice-president of the Women's Undergraduate Board.

Reg Germany, sophomore, of Memphis, is a member of Kappa Sigma Fraternity and the "S" Club, having lettered in football two years. He has also played on the baseball and golf teams.

Amel Peterson, a junior, of Memphis, is vice-president of Kappa Alpha Fraternity, secretary-treasurer of the "S" Club, and managed the football and tennis teams.

Jimmy McLin

Students Elect Nine To Honor Council

Winners in the recent Honor Council elections were Dot Henning, Gerald Smith, John Mays, Emily McKay, Viola Deavours, Tommy Crais, Louise Aiken, Albert Evans and Margaret Jones. Before these class elections, the student body chose Newton Todd president and Truman Nabors vice-president.

It Takes Guts

If Bob Crumby and the 1952-53 Student Council hadn't done a thing all year, they should be recognized for that forthright and conscientious announcement made in assembly Wednesday.

Especially on the verge of another hot election campaign does it take guts to stand up before your fellow students and admit you might have done something wrong.

It takes guts to assume all the responsibility when something is criticized. It's awfully easy to pass the buck and blame on somebody else.

It takes guts to stick your neck out and ask your fellow students to write down their comments and criticisms about a project you were responsible for.

It requires a certain humility and nobility too, to remember to return to the real power—the people who elected you.

Thing about it is, Bob Crumby and the 1952-53 Student Council have done a great deal all year. Freshman hazing was carried out well. Homecoming was a big success. Regardless of opinion on the April Fool Play, it cannot be denied that the 1953 April Fool Carnival, with the Re-Bops, even topped last year's.

The extraordinary fact about Wednesday's request for student opinions is that it wasn't the first time. Earlier in the year, when the Student Council realized the seriousness of "organizationitis" on this campus, it went first to the students for suggestions on which groups to clip. And many of the suggestions were carried out.

Sure, the Council has made mistakes. They've slipped occasionally in their duties—but for the most part, they have exhibited integrity, leadership and a sincere interest in students' welfare. They have followed through.

Most of all, they have set a remarkably high standard for next year's officers.

Letters To The Editor

To The Sou'wester:

Three cheers for the forthright editorial in last Saturday's Sou'wester condemning The Snowbird, as disappointing a spectacle as we have ever seen on this or any other stage.

We hasten to assure everyone that we are not professional "viewers-with-alarm." Our noses are not blue; our laces are not straight; and we are as bored by Pilgrim's Progress as anybody. But we don't enjoy an hour and a half of sub-adolescent dirty jokes devoted to sex and sacrilege.

We think there's a difference between fun and filth; we think it's possible to be clever and clean at the same time.

A college which makes a point of calling itself "Christian" should not tolerate trash that would be given the old heave-ho by any self-respecting state school. That Southwestern is church-related cannot be denied; that it is "Christian" would be hard to prove to any outsider with sufficiently strong stomach to sit through "The Snowbird."

With apologies to Percy Shelley, we conclude:

"Hail to thee, blythe Snowbird,
Decent thou never wert."

Douglas Marsh
Frances Van Cleave

To The Sou'wester:

Dear Editorial Writer;
There is nothing like hypocrisy.

Orley Lilly

To The Sou'wester:

Dear author of the editorial "Snowbird's A Kookoo:"

When I first read your editorial in last week's Sou'wester I did exactly what Dr. Gibbs admonished us not to do in chapel last Tuesday. I scorched inside and out. And as a result, I promptly wrote a letter that fitted the mood. Later I tore it up. It was pretty satirical. But why stoop?

I had decided to just forget it as something not worth worrying about. But your editor, who I sincerely think is broad-minded and a hard worker for the betterment of the paper and the school, asked me to go ahead and write the letter.

So, let me begin with a few questions. Why did you condone the play by your participation in it, then turn right around and condemn it in your editorial? This is not very consistent. There will be other opportunities to get points for Alpha Psi Omega. How can a person who is so opposed to anything work for it with a clear conscience? Why not do something about it before it happens?

The power of the press is a wonderful thing and can be used greatly for good. If you had exposed the play earlier, you would have reason to be commended. You could have also criticized the committee, the judges and the play itself.

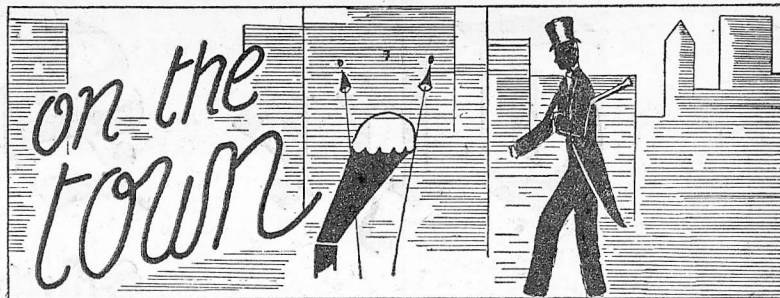

But your delayed editorial—the height of satirical bad manner, hypocrisy and rudeness—in my opinion, was almost a wasted effort. True, it may through talk prevent a repeat performance. But if any harm was done, it's too late.

One more question. Does your editorial express the opinion of the entire Sou'wester staff? If so you are justified for not taking credit. If not, it's not too good to hide behind the editorial column.

A few last thoughts. Was the play so bad after all? It was an April Fool Play, not a culture class. You will say if the students can't handle their responsibility, it will be taken away from them. You flubbed a good chance to help them.

Bob, I just guess it would have been all right if you had done it sooner or let someone else write it. No hard feelings. Thanks.

Jip Walters

You still have time to make your reservation for the jazz concert at the Hippodrome tomorrow night. It costs nothing to reserve a table, and space will be at a premium. Illinois Jacquet and his orchestra will hold forth from 8:30 to 10:30 in a concert featuring the great tenor sax man himself. Oh, incidently, you can get advance tickets .50 cheaper than you can get 'em at the door tomorrow night—they're 1.50 at The Home of the Blues or at any Ferguson's record shop. You really shouldn't miss this, if you like great jazz.

After you leave the Hippodrome and still want some "kicks," drop out to the Handy Theatre on Park for a "ramble" starring The Royals, who made the best record of "Don't Do It" there is. This begins at 11:30, so you have plenty of time to get there. Tickets will run about .85.

Marjoree Russell In Recital

Tomorrow at 2:00, Miss Marjoree Russell, senior organ major, will give her senior recital at Calvary Episcopal Church. Marjoree is a pupil of Adolph Steuterman, one of the nation's finest organists and music director at Calvary, and her concert promises to be a fine one. It is free.

Memphis has two good dance bands in town this week. At the Peabody, Chuck Foster gives forth with his rippling rhythms; and the Claridge has Teddy Phillips. Both of these bands have recorded numerous records, and they both know how to please the public; so for the next ten days if you plan to go dancing off the campus, you won't be disappointed.

Shakespeare In Festival

One of the finest things dramawise that has come to Memphis in a long time will begin Monday at Memphis State and run through Saturday. It's the Shakespeare Festival that has been getting so much favorable response throughout the city. For five days Shakespeare will be read, acted, and shown. Memphis theater-goers are looking forward to the festival with an eye toward making it an annual affair, if it goes over, that is. Here are the schedule of events as I have them: on Monday the 20th, a group of dramatists from The Little Theater will give dramatic readings from various plays. On Tuesday the 21st and Wednesday the 22nd, various Shakespearean movies will be shown, among them "Othello," "Macbeth," "Romeo and Juliet," and "Hamlet." Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, the Memphis State players will present "Romeo and Juliet" starring a former Southwestern student, Johnnie Lovelady. If you like Shakespeare and good drama, you shouldn't miss some of this. I don't have the times for the performances or the prices unfortunately, so you'll have to consult one of the daily papers for this information.

Rita Hayworth In "Salome"

Boy, all the publicity that "Salome" has been getting from Hollywood makes it a picture I don't want to miss. Hayworth is back with Stewart Granger and Charles Laughton in a slightly hopped-up version of the biblical story. They say that Rita does a dance in this one that makes "Gilda" look quite tame. This I am wanting to see, and I suggest to you the same thing. It started yesterday at the Malco. Others—a good one at the Warner—"The Blue Gardenia" with Anne Baxter and Richard Conte; a good one at the Strand—"Tropic Zone" with Ronald Reagan and Rhonda Fleming; a good one at the State—"Call Me Madam" with Ethel Merman; and a not-so-good one at the Palace—"Abbot and Costello Go To Mars" with you know who. One that is very good that is coming to the Palace in the very near future, however, is "Moulin Rouge" with Jose Ferrer.

Say, any of you girls interested in going to Hollywood with a Paramount contract awaiting you there? Well, you have a chance to enter a big $40,000 contest sponsored by Paramount and the Admiration Costume Hosiery Co., With this contract, you also get a new automobile for first prize. You can also win watches, rings, perfume, cocker spaniel puppies, lighters, and a host of other prizes. All you have to do is pick up an application blank at the Three Sisters store at 69 South Main. Good luck, girls!

See you—On The Town!

Week's Activities Include A New Club, Costume Party, ATO Honor

COSTUME WINNERS—This foursome was judged best-costumed at the April Fool dance last Saturday in Fargason Field House. Mary Nell Wendt (left), as goddess of the night, and David Morelock, as god of the sun, won the couple honors, while Anne Thomas (foreground), boxed as a camera, and Henry Williamson, in the guise of the hunchback of Notre Dame, copped the individual honors.

ATO ACHIEVEMENT—Jack Worthington (1), president of Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity at Southwestern, received a silver engraved tray from Dean J. Milton Richardson (4) of Houston, national ATO president. Witnessing the ceremony were William T. Walker (2) president of the Memphis ATO alumni and Hubert Garrecht (3) of Memphis, province chief for Tennessee and Kentucky. The top officers of the fraternity honored the local chapter for achieving the highest scholastic average among all national social fraternities in the country—an honor won for the past three years by Southwestern's chapter of ATO.

Commission Announces Regulations

Allen Cooke and Helen Swartzfager, president and secretary of the Elections Commission, have announced these regulations for the 1953 Student Council elections:

Elections will be held from 8 a.m. until 1 p.m. Thursday and Friday. Ballots will be cast at a polling booth located at the far east end of Palmer Hall.

Use Of Signs

The commission will permit the limited use of signs in campaigning for election to the various offices. Signs cannot be distributed on the campus in or out of buildings until after midnight tomorrow and they must be removed before midnight Wednesday to qualify the person whose name appears on the sign for election.

Campaign speeches will be given by candidates Wednesday in student assembly and each ticket will have eight minutes. A maximum of $25 per ticket or $2.50 per candidate will be allowed for expenses of the election.

Expense Account

An itemized account of the campaign expenses must be presented to the secretary of the Elections Commission before polls close Friday.

No petitions for candidates on Independent Ticket will be accepted after 12 noon today. These petitions must be submitted to the president of the elections commission.

Wives Of Students Have Social Club

There's a new ORGANIZATION on campus—but don't get worried, students—this is a club for married folk, for the wives of Southwestern students.

The P. H. T., Putting Hubby Through, meets the first Tuesday night of the month. Mrs. Taylor Reveley is their "faculty" advisor. The only qualification for membership is to be a wife of a Southwestern student. The purpose of the club is for fellowship and for discussing mutual interests.

The members of P. H. T. are Mrs. Ralph Addington, Mrs. Bill Q. Allen, Mrs. Jack Armstrong, Mrs. Charles Brady, Mrs. Clyde Carlisle, Mrs. Al Clemens, Jr., Mrs. George Goode, Mrs. John Gray, Mrs. Joe Hobbs, Mrs. Fred Phillips, Mrs. Cy Pipkin, Mrs. James Scanlon, and Mrs. John Turpin.

The next meeting is to be May 5 at Mrs. Reveley's, 1732 Tutwiler Avenue. The group will meet with their husbands for a covered dish supper in her backyard.

Poochie's Patter

SPRING has sprung! The weather's warm and the fever has hit . . . What have we been doing lately? . . . picnicking, partying, kiting, sunbathing and of course, dancing . . .

The April Fool Ball is over, but it left its mark . . . Somehow we had the idea that it would take quite a bit of rest to recover but evidently not . . . at least for some. . . . Bill Barnett, Tommy Crais, Jip Walters, John Walters, Bob Hunter and Bill Threlkeld weren't content to go home to bed after the zero-hour. . . . They ventured to the hearth and cooked breakfast at 3 a.m. over an open fire. Then did they go home? No. They say sleeping under the stars does wonders for a person. . . .

A few last remarks about April Fool's: No. 1 Sentiment; the Re-Bops were not over-estimated. They really rocked. No. 2 Sentiment: it's a good thing we're getting a new gym. The old one can't take another party like that. . . .

Costume Winners

Congratulations to costume winners of the ball—David Morelock and Mary Nell Wendt, who were the god and goddess of the day and night; Anne Thomas, who won the girls' individual prize as a camera; and Henry Williamson, who won the boys' individual prize as the hunchback of Notre Dame. . . .

Also congrats to Buddy Allison and Bill Allen who won the prizes as the biggest fools on the campus. . . .

Dessert Parties

The AOP's entertained the Kappa Sigs Monday night at a fraternity dessert party. . . . Donuts and Cokes were served while the group danced, played bridge and sang. . . . A similar party was also given by Kappa Delta honoring the Pikes and Independents Monday night. The group enjoyed hot chocolate and muffins. . . .

Last Saturday, the Kappa Delta Mothers Club gave tea honoring KD seniors. The club members presented the seniors with demitasse spoons in each senior's silver pattern. . . .

Last night the SAE's had quite a party in their lodge. . . . Hosts were Horace Kitchell and Hugh Chalmers. The dinner dance was backgrounded by the music of Bob Morris' trio. . . .

Carnival Ball

First party of the Cotton Carnival season took place Saturday night. The big deal was the Crown and Sceptre Ball, as King W. W. Robinson Jr. and Queen Mary Abbay Joyner made their first appearance as the Carnival monarchs. At their coronation we were so impressed to see many, many familiar faces serving the King and Queen. . . . Then we ventured to the gay party at the Peabody and waved to mucho Southwestern students—Katherine Hinds, Jan Hudson, Joe Lawson, Marion Cobb, Joanne Paten, Walker Graham, Frank Barton, Susan Fulmer, David Morelock, Laverne Meyers, Carolyn Dillinger, Charles Kennon, Mop Spruell, Jeff Justis, Helen Gilliland, Ann Gill, Virginia Lee Anthony, Bob McKnight, Tommy Cunningham, Vallie Jo Whitmer, Mike Reich, Nancy Dupree, Corinne Waite, Doyle Moorhead, Suzanne Snyder, and Sara Jane Brockman. . . .

Jim Gillis has been running a picnic agency for the past two weeks, and he has had very enthusiastic response. . . . He took his parties to Shelby Forest and to President's Island and is planning on going to Sardis today. . . . It only costs two bucks—if you hurry you can catch him!

Truman Nabors is the new Commander of Sigma Nu. Elections were held Monday in the lodge. Other new officers are Holly Mitchell, lieutenant commander; Tommy Jones, recorder; Bill Williams, chaplain; Jack Bugbee, reporter; Bryan Smalley, sentinel; Charles Kennon, marshal; Malcolm Anderson, alumni contact officer; Wayland Carlisle, historian. These new officers will be installed Monday.

Nabors Presents $200 PRC Award

Truman Nabors, outreach chairman of the Protestant Religious Council, recently presented a $200 scholarship award to Aline Sykes, Negro Memphis girl at LeMoyné College.

The money represented $100 donated by students at Southwestern in the PRC's annual fund-raising campaign, and this amount was doubled by a national Negro educational organization.

The award will provide another year's education for the LeMoyné student. It was presented during the college's annual ceremony at

Lynx Tennis Team Wins Over Navy

The tennis team turned into the winningest team on the campus last Monday when they thoroughly trounced the Memphis Navy 6-3. This was the third win turned in by the netsters, the second in a row, and it looks like the prediction of Coach Barton to have a winning team is well on the road to being accomplished.

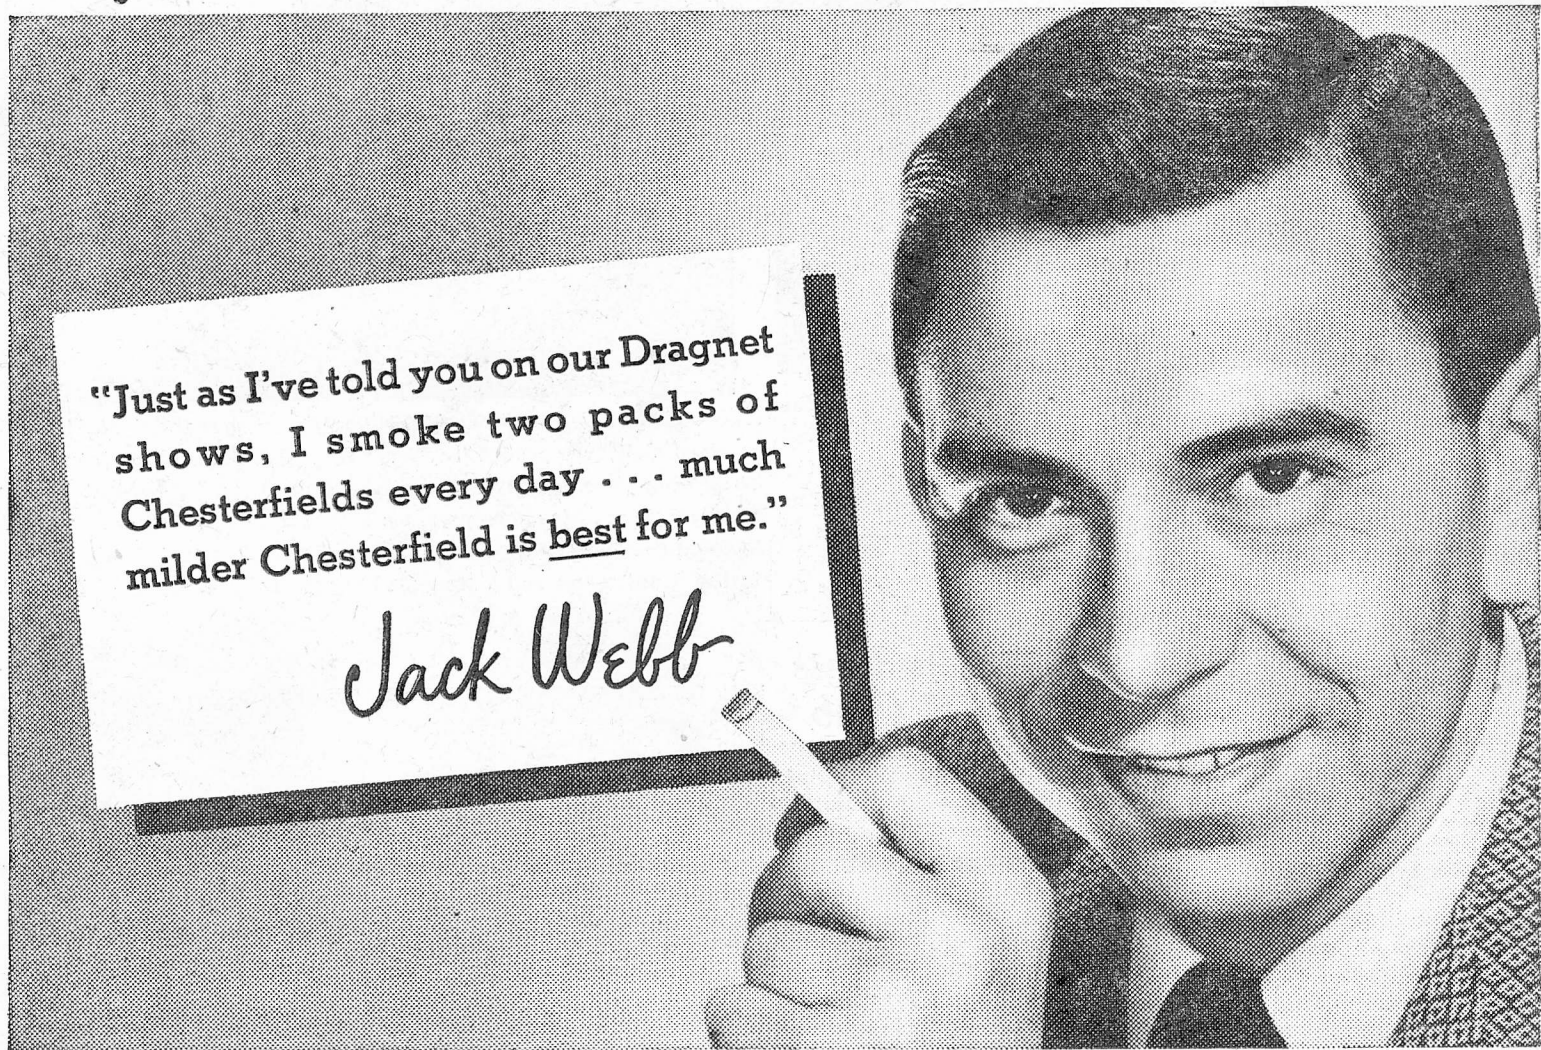

The experience gained on the week long road trip taken by the netsters seems to be paying off now, as after gaining some well needed experience, the two newcomers to the game, Bob Stewart and Tommy Crais, have started winning, and from all appearances will continue to do so.

Second Congregational Church, with some 400 LeMoyné students attending.

The seven man tennis team was reduced to six last Tuesday, as the number four man Buck Looney, dropped from the squad; however
