Chemistry Section Pays Visit To Memphis Industrial Plants

By Betty Wood

Interrelationships of chemistry and industry are currently being studied by the chemistry 2 section taught by Dr. M. Foster Moose. During the last three Monday lab periods these chemistry students have toured a number of industrial plants in Memphis.

These trip-studies acquaint the class with applications in industry of topics of chemistry being studied in the regular lectures.

The most recent trip—made last Monday—was to the Memphis Casting Works. The "chemists" watched the preparation of casting moulds and cores and witnessed casting procedures. They also saw some casting patterns.

Willard Storage Battery Company was visited by the group on February 18. All parts of the lead storage battery are made there except the battery cases. Batteries are also assembled and charged at the Willard plant.

Electro-Chemistry

Another field of electro-chemistry, electroplating, was studied on the afternoon of February 11. The Memphis Plating Company and two plants of the Southern Electroplating Company were toured. Both the delicate "art" of replating and mass-production techniques were demonstrated.

Dr. Moose says that there will probably be more trips for the chemistry 2 lab. The Humko Company and a petroleum concern are prominent on the list of intended visits.

Van Den Bosch Voted Honor Council Officer

John Van den Bosch was elected new vice-president of the Honor Council in student assembly last Wednesday. He replaces Dianne Dennison, who was unable to return for the second semester.

New senior woman representative to the Honor Council is Hattie Edens, whose election was also announced last Wednesday.

Be A Fool

The theme of the April Fool Carnival this year will be an "All Fools' Ball." Come dressed as a fool or someone you consider to be a fool, or just as something foolish; the most important thing is to come costumed.

The student council decided on this theme because they felt it was almost unlimited in its possibilities. Costumes can easily be original, clever and home-made.

If you consider some one in the funnies, or in legends, or in novels foolish, dress like them. Surely there will be a Truman there, and several "Profs" could easily be characterized. More information about the carnival later but in the mean time get busy on those costumes. —Sue Pingree

Worth The Money

The annual membership campaign of the Memphis and Mid-South Piano Scholarship Association is now in progress, and that means the people of this city and section are being offered a double bargain. The association presents four noted artists each season, and these attractions are well worth the money. These occasions are standouts each year in the cultural life of this area.

In addition, however, and this is the reason for the whole affair, the funds derived go to provide scholarships for gifted youngsters. The association's next auditions will be held around the middle of March and the fact that the number of applicants is already the largest on record is the most satisfactory proof of the worth of the undertaking. We have boys and girls with talent and ambition, and the association makes it possible for you to help them through enjoying yourself.

Incidental to the main objective of the association, and for all that most useful and attractive, is what is known as Young Artists Concert Management. Through this organization young singers, instrumentalists and pianists are presented in numerous Mid-South communities on such a basis that they gain experience, give pleasure to our neighbors and help themselves along the road to greater success. Purchase of memberships is worthwhile indeed.

This editorial, from the Commercial Appeal, February 27, 1952, while written for the people of Memphis, pertains directly to Southwesterners. In addition to enjoying the excellent concerts which the Association sponsors, many Southwestern music majors profit by this scholarship program.

Employees Can Show Variety Of Experience

Music Teacher And World Traveler Help College To Run Smoothly

By Doug Marsh and Patricia Riegler

There are many fascinating people around this campus whom we never think of as anything other than Southwestern employees. Each has a story to tell, each a background outside these hallowed walls that is not known to the student.

James Thompson has been a steady employee here for 22 years. He came to work here very shortly after the buildings of the Southwestern campus were completed. He has washed the dishes in Neely Hall and been in charge of the china ware. James has also done a good deal of construction work around the grounds.

Mary Belle Thompson is his wife and has for the past 8 or 10 years been sick. Although James has had this illness in the family, he has never ceased to be here to do his work. Still active and still working, James is 68 years old.

The Ambulance

Quite a few of you noticed the ambulance on the campus this past week. It took to the hospital one of our most faithful employees. Tom Edwards ruptured a disk in his back when he tried to lift a piano. Although he has had trouble with his legs for some time now, this is his first serious accident.

Tom and his wife, Ophelia, have a son and several daughters, most of whom live in the North. His brother Bob is the night watchman on the grounds. They live in the little house behind the gymnasium.

Twenty-one years of service is what Ida Tyler has given to Southwestern. She came to our school in 1932. "Ida", as she is known to the students, is the maid in the Girls' Social Room in Palmer Hall, Library, the offices of Professors Price, Kinney, and Strickler, and the Dean of Women. "I just go and work wherever they need me," she said.

Good For Good

Returning good for good is the philosophy of DeWitt Herron, caretaker of the Science Building. He has been quite ill for some time now, and while sick Tom Edwards came to see him. Now that Tom is laid up, he has taken Tom's work on his shoulders. He was appointed caretaker for the Science Building by Dr. Diehl, and he has complete charge of cleaning and the maintenance of the building. Not only is he a former music teacher but is now serving in the capacity of a minister in the Missionary Baptist Church.

A capacity for remembering exact dates seems to be a strong feature of Ned Bownes, Mr. Rollow's chief helper. He stated that he had worked in Cuba for three years and seventeen days. That is where he learned to speak Spanish so fluently. He also spent one year and nine months in Mexico. He and his wife Susie have one son, Ned Jr.

Brooks

All of us are familiar with Brooks Roddick whom we see every day in the Dining Hall. Brooks has traveled quite extensively all over the world. While he was working for the Stewart and the Henning families, he completed his high school work and finished State Normal in Holly Springs, Miss. He went on to teach school for a while.

While employed by Dr. Henning, he married Maggie Harris, the cook. They have three daughters all of whom are married. Two of them are now living in Los Angeles, Calif. He came to Southwestern in 1940 where he started working in the kitchen but later was moved to the Dining Room proper. He plans to remain at Southwestern because he enjoys the work and the people here.

Lombardo's Band Shares Program With CM Pianist

By Vera Burns

Guy Lombardo brings his Royal Canadians to Ellis Auditorium on Saturday, March 1, at 8:30 p.m. In the orchestra presentation Guy will feature his brothers Carmen, Lebert, and Victor, with Kennedy Gardner, Bill Flannigan, Kenny Martin, Cliff Grass, the Lombardo Trio, and the twin pianos. Gene Sheldon, banjo soloist, and the adagio team of Gangou Brothers and Juanito will round out the stage bill.

Myron Myers

Myron Myers, pianist, will present a faculty recital at 8:30 p.m. on Tuesday, March 4, at the College of Music. The program will consist of four Beethoven sonatas, "Sonatine, Op. 79, G Major," "Sonata, quasi una fantasia, Op. 27, No. 2, C sharp minor," "Sonata, Op. 53, C major," and "Sonata, Op. 57, F minor."

The Southwestern Orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Burnet C. Tuthill, presented its second concert of the season at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 26, in Hardie Auditorium. Vocal and instrumental soloists were O. D. Yancy, Mary Inman, and Andy Orr, pianists; and Gloria Brown and Jacque Roland, vocalists.

Cincinnati

The Cincinnati Orchestra, under the direction of Thor Johnson, was presented as the third event of the current Beethoven Club series at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 27, at Ellis Auditorium. Included on the program were two symphonies, Mozart's "Symphony in D Major" and Brahms' "Symphony No. 1 in C Major." A modern work, "Job, A Masque For Dancing" by Vaughan Williams, separated the

Stephenson Congratulates

Dear Editor,

I would like to compliment you and your staff on doing such a great job of redecorating the dismal old Sou'wester office. I'm sure that now it is a more pleasant place in which to work.

You have shown that you are interested in keeping the newspaper on the high level that a college paper should run on. I think that with more cooperation from the Student Body you could fill your paper with interesting facts that all of the Southwestern students would enjoy.

A college paper is just as much a part of the campus life as the Student Council, Honor Council, etc. For that reason our students with journalistic qualifications (and the ones without) should take an active part in reporting authentic news and happenings on the campus.

It seems that this has been forgotten, and I would like to see more news of events on our campus reported to the Sou'wester.

Again, let me say that your office is certainly one of the nicest places on the campus.

Yours truly,
Lindsay Stephenson,
President of the Student Body

The seventeenth week of the WSSF drive will begin next Monday. This project is a vital part in Southwestern's international outlook. Let's hurry up and make those pledges and contributions.

Sportlight—

Varsity Vs. Intramural Flames Blaze Again Among Athletes

By Don Ramier

The old battle of varsity vs. intramural sports is raging once again. It has been decided that both standards of athletic expression have their place on the campus, that both are necessary, but that intramurals should be subordinate to the varsity. And, too, there should be no over-lapping of one upon the other's players. If a man is of intercollegiate calibre, he should not waste his talents on the lesser mode of expression.

Recent injuries received by Prentiss Fulton and Billy Howard on the intramural basketball court have served as cues in renewing the old conflict in theories. Both of these men are runners and their wounds may stand as severe setbacks to the track team.

Some Questions

Should they have been allowed to play intramural basketball, or should they have been confined to the track, where chances of injury are not so great? Further, should varsity material be allowed to participate in any intramural sport? In such a small school, where athletes are not plentiful, and specialization can't exist, these are hard questions to answer.

And while on this subject, I think that a harsh word or two (not meaning personal offence to anyone) should be directed toward the few lazy men who possess varsity talents and are wasting them. There are quite a few intramural participants whose services could be greatly utilized by Coach Johnson.

Just why is this the case? Is it that these people are slothful; is it because they are afraid of becoming a bit fatigued, or is it because they have no sporting blood? I think it would be a good idea for the friends of these people to get behind and push the timid ones into some good, stiff competition.

Murder in the Cathedral by T. S. Eliot will culminate the month's activities on March 27, 28, and 29. This modern work will be staged in the Church of the Good Shepherd, at the corner of University and Jackson, and admission will be $1.00 for each performance.

Varsity Boys Taste Strength Of Tigers

The Southwestern Lynx Cats once again tasted defeat last weekend at the hands of two powerful quintets, Lambuth College and Memphis State.

In an early game Saturday night, February 23, the Lambuth Eagles defeated the Lynx by a score of 80-57 in a hard-fought contest. This marked the second time this season that the Southwestern squad has been beaten by the Eagles. The other game was played at Lambuth.

At Memphis State last Monday night the Cats met their worst defeat of the season bowing to a power-laden Memphis State aggregation by a score of 100-39. The Tigers kept up a steady attack which was unrelenting during the four frames of play.

The Southwesterners played a hard game and were in there fighting for sixty full minutes, but the upper hand went to the Tigers the whole way.

Even though the contest was played at Memphis State, a large crowd of Southwestern students witnessed the game.

Tournament Trophy Awarded To ATO

ATO took the basketball trophy last week by winning top honors in the intramural basketball tournament. The ATO team, strong all season, defeated SN 36-34 in the best-played game of the year. Before the tourney play-off three teams, ATO, SN, and KA, were tied for top honors in the intramural league.

In the Park Commission league the Southwestern Seniors won their first game from Tyrnza, Arkansas, 38-29, but lost to Nickey Brothers team 48-45. The Sophomores were downed on their first try by the Truman, Arkansas, five 53-36. Both Truman and Nickey Brothers have reached the finals in the tournament.

Finals of the Southwestern interclass competition will be played tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. in Fargason Gym. The seniors will meet the sophomores in a clash to decide the top team of the pre-varsity group.

Badminton is scheduled to start on Tuesday, March 4, and the indoor track meet will be held Wednesday night, March 5, at 7:00 p.m.

The movie studies and explores the world of the supernatural through the eyes of the characters, played by Charles Boyer, Barbara Stanwyck, Betty Field, and Edward G. Robinson. Initiations

Last night the Alpha Tau Omega house was the scene of the official initiation of six ATO pledges. Those who now wear the fraternity pin are Charles Dismukes, Robert Goodson, Bernard Hooker, Robert McClure, Robert Power, and Newton Todd. All the members and pledges of ATO were guests of the AOPi's last Monday night for supper.

March 7, the Sigettes will entertain the Kappa Sigma's and their affiliates with a spaghetti supper. Miss Lucy Hay, president of the Sigettes, is in charge of the arrangements.

Sigma Nu has big plans for the evening of March 7. On that night the pledge's will become members at a formal initiation at the Claridge Hotel. A stag banquet will immediately follow the initiation ceremony. The Balinese Room will be the scene of the big party that will follow the banquet with all members and their dates attending.

Monday night the AOPi's will continue their policy of entertaining the fraternities by having the Kappa Alpha's to their house for dinner.

Congratulations are most certainly in order to the ATO's for their wonderful dance last Saturday night. They did a fine job indeed as was shown by the decorations and lead-out.
