Alumni Donate More Than Ever

The Alumni Office reports that the total amount of contributions and the number of contributors to the Southwestern Alumni Fund in 1951 have set a new record.

In 1950, two hundred eighty-three alumni contributed as compared to 446 last year. The total amount contributed reached $5,900, against $2,449.50 in 1950.

The percentage of alumni making gifts also rose to a new high—8.6 per cent against 5.8 per cent a year ago.

South-East Asia Investigated By IRC's Chinese Speaker

"Can we depend on south-east Asia?" will be discussed by Ling Hong Lee at the International Relations Club meeting next Wednesday evening, March 19, at 7:00 p.m. in room 100 Palmer. The meeting is open to all students.

Ling is studying physics and mathematics at Southwestern. He came to the United States from his home in Fatsham Kwantung, China, in December 1949 and won a competitive scholarship to Southwestern. He was one of fifteen students from the schools of South China to be recommended for outstanding scholastic abilities.

Ling Lee has a first-hand knowledge and understanding of the attitude of the Southern Chinese toward the United States, communism, and the Korean War. Mr. John Kenneth Thompson,

Southern Literary Convention Calls Deadline On Saturday

Students Have Entered Work For Judging

The deadline for submitting manuscripts to the Southern Literary Festival is mid-night tomorrow, March 15. The festival will meet on April 18 at Mississippi State College for Women, Columbus, Miss. Several Southwesterners have entered their work and plan to attend the convention.

Material may be submitted in any of five divisions: poems, short stories, informal essays, formal essays, and one-act plays. Only pieces that have not been published before are eligible. Publication in college newspapers does not disqualify material.

Prizes of $10 and $5 are offered in each category for the two articles judged best by the festival speakers.

The convention program will open at 9:45 a.m., April 18. Speakers for the morning session will be a well-known short story writer and a young poet who has published several volumes of poetry.

The afternoon session will include three two-hour clinics on the short story, poetry, and the one-act play. Each will be led by one of the festival speakers. The evening address will be given by an outstanding author in dramatic art.

Awards will be announced at the end of the evening session.

XBP Hears Queener, Initiates Two More

Chi Beta Phi met for the initiation of two new members, a supper, and a talk by Dr. E. Llewellyn Queener. Members initiated were Nathan Salky and Cyril Pipkin.

Dr. Queener spoke on a new branch of psychology, the phenomenological school. Buddy Strauss was in charge of the program.

Donations Sought In Development Project

Approximately one third of the prospects to be solicited for the Southwestern Development Fund have been contacted and have made donations to the drive. The fund is growing steadily through the work of the Advance and Initial Gifts Committees.

Both committees meet each Friday noon for a luncheon at the Gayoso Hotel when the week's reports are compiled.

This campaign is part of the effort to raise $1,500,000 for Southwestern. Half of this total will be raised in the Memphis drive. The other half is promised by the four Presbyterian Synods of Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, and Louisiana, which support Southwestern.

Red Cross Swimmers Receive Certificates

Margaret McKee, Anne Hebert, Jean Enochs, Mary Beth Kilpatrick, Mary Ellen Chambliss, and Ann Feemster have received Red Cross Swimmers' Certificates. The Intermediate Swimming Certificate has been awarded to Barbara Reed, Shirley Melton, Joanne Danielson, and Ann Breed.

The awards went to these ten Southwestern girls for completing requirements in the Red Cross swimming course given at the YWCA pool.

Anne Brown (left), James Crow (center), and Nancy Carrell are rehearsing Moliere's comedy "Le Medecin malgre lui." Details about the play, which will be given tonight, appear below in Bob Starr's review.

Une Piece de Moliere Va Etre Presentee

A Robert Etoile

L'illustre theatre de Southwestern va faire représenter une piece de Moliere ce soir a Hardie Auditorium. La piece, une des plus inspirees qui soit venue de la plume du maitre du theatre comique francaise, s'est intitulee "Le Medecin malgre lui."

Les dialogues seront en francais, alors on doit comprendre le francais pour suivre l'action de la piece.

Mais c'est de la farce, toujours de la farce, et l'action en est fort amusante. Il y a un coupeur de fagots qui se laisse devenir medecin et qui se met a guerir la fille d'un homme riche qui est devenue muette. Sans l'aide de la medecine il vient a son bout apres bien de scenes amusantes.

Henri Ami va prendre le role de Sganarelle, le medecin. Jean Robert Etoile est le pere, Anne Brun la fille. Nancy Noel joue la nourrice, Jacques Corbeau est Lucas, Douglas Marais est Valere, Rene Lemarchand est Leandre, l'amant de la jeune fille, et Margot Pence joue la femme de Sganarelle.

Le rideau se leve a 8 heures et 30.

Singers To Have Six Appearances Four Will Talk At Symposium

The Southwestern Singers will give a concert next Sunday night, March 16, at 8:00 p.m. at the Whitehaven Methodist church. Choir member Tommy Cunningham is organist at the church.

A second concert at Whitehaven, in the high school, will be sung on March 28. Two graduates from the College of Music teach there: Leslie Thompson, vocal director, and Russ Heinze, band and instrumental director.

Three other appearances of the choir are scheduled before the traditional last concert of the year, given in conjunction with the Southwestern Orchestra. The Choir will sing at Central High School, Evergreen Presbyterian Church, and the Civitan Club.

The year's last performance will be Hayden's "Creation," an oratorio to be given April 29 at Evergreen Church.

All appearances of the choir are free and, except for club programs, open to the public.

Two Southwestern professors and two city employees will lecture here for the symposia, Design for a City, next Tuesday, March 18, at 8:00 p.m. in Hardie Auditorium. The topic, "Our American Cities: Problems and Solutions," will be continued from the last symposium.

Some Useful Stunt Night Reminders

To The Students of Southwestern:

With Stunt Night just one week away (March 21), I would like to explain the procedures to be followed this year, for your benefit, whether you are a participant, spectator, or both.

After receiving the consensus of opinion of each of the sororities and fraternities to our various suggestions for correcting the inadequate accommodations for the more than capacity crowd which turns out each year for Stunt Night, we decided that everyone would rather that it be held in Hardie as usual, for one night only.

Fire Marshal

The Fire Marshal's Ordinance requires that everyone purchasing a ticket have a seat to sit in. No one may stand in the aisles or at the back of the auditorium. Reserved seats will go on sale Monday in the cloister in order that you may purchase your ticket and be assured of a seat on Friday night.

If you have friends off campus who are planning to attend, please urge them to purchase their tickets ahead of time. We don't want to turn anyone away Friday night.

I want to remind you that all skits must be original.

We promise you fair judging and a wonderful evening of entertainment, and we wish to extend our sincere thanks to each of you for your cooperation and participation.

To all the World:

I declare the earth is hollow, and habitable within; containing a number of solid concentric spheres, one within the other, and that it is open at the poles twelve or sixteen degrees. I pledge my life in support of this truth, and am ready to explore the hollow, if the world will support and aid me in the undertaking.

Students To Sing In Modern Short Opera

Faculty Recital And Organ Music Will Entertain Public Near Southwestern

By Helen Walker and Vera Burns

Six Southwestern students have top roles in the Studio Theatre's ambitious production of "The Medium," an eerie short opera by the contemporary composer, Gian-Carlo Menatti.

This opera is the strange musical story of a fake spiritualist who roused up more ectoplasms than she could manage. Leading roles will be played by Marie Norment as the medium, Joan Stewart as her daughter and assistant, and Louis Wener as Toby, a mute servant boy.

Others in the cast are Jack Allen, Jacque Roland and Gloria Brown. The date has definitely been set for March 24-26 at the Memphis Little Theatre.

Soderstrom Plays

Next Tuesday at 8:30 Miss Jane Soderstrom, a member of Southwestern's music faculty, will be presented in a piano recital at the College of Music. Her program will consist of three Bach organ chorale-pretudes, "Sheep May Safely Graze" and "O Step Before Thy Throne O Lord," arranged for piano by Egon Petri, and "In Thee Is Joy," arranged by Busoni; Sonata opus 110 by Beethoven; Improvisation by Polenc, six Roumanian folk-dances by Bartok, and three eccasaisses, two mazurkas, and one ballade by Chopin. The public is invited.

Each group will have fifteen minutes in which to place their props and scenery on stage, present their skit, and remove their props and scenery. The skits may be seven to ten minutes long, leaving five to eight minutes for preparations and for clean-up after the skit. The judges will have a stopwatch.

Violation of any one of these rules will result in disqualification.

Paris Doctorate Won By Former Student

By Jim McQuiston

Darrell Don Aufenkamp, graduate of Southwestern in 1949, has been awarded his degree of "Doctorat d'Universite" with highest honors by the University of Paris, where he has been doing graduate study for the past two and a half years.

Members of his examining committee at the University expressed themselves as highly pleased with Aufenkamp's "clear presentation" of his thesis, "Sur la Transformation des Equations de la Dynamique," in an hour and a half oral examination. He became "Dr. Aufenkamp" six weeks before his twenty-fifth birthday.

Winning top honors, or "mention très honorable"—commendation rarely earned with degrees from the University of Paris—comes as the climax of a long series of academic honors and achievements by Dr. Aufenkamp, who has managed to crowd as much learning into his 25 years as many scholars achieve in a life-time of study.

Recognition

He had already earned recognition for outstanding work as a graduate student at the University, in his having published—sometimes in collaboration with professors, sometimes alone—numerous treatises and articles on modern physics in the field of dynamics.

As an undergraduate at Southwestern, Aufenkamp carried during his senior year a total of 41 semester hours, on which he maintained an A average. He received his A.B. degree with distinction in physics.

Besides his heavy academic load he played flute in the Southwestern Band, and served as president of the Southwestern YMCA.

Sincere Greetings

I am gratified to note on every hand keen enthusiasm and vital interest on the part of those who have studied at Southwestern. Not only is this reflected by a most creditable increase in the Alumni Fund, but also by the large number of alumni who visit the college and have an active part in its affairs. A great many alumni are especially helpful in directing prospective students to the campus.

The officers of the Alumni Association and of the Southwestern Men of Memphis are to be congratulated on the outstanding leadership which they are displaying.

The recent election of Walker L. Wellford, Jr. to membership on the Board of Directors of Southwestern gives us four alumni in that important body. I send all of the alumni of Southwestern my warmest and most sincere greetings.

Peyton N. Rhodes

The Scholarly

The awarding of Alpha Tau Omega's national scholarship plaque to Southwestern's ATO chapter is proof of academic excellence among the members of this fraternity. The college applauds you, Alpha Tau Chapter.

Relaxing in Voorhies Social Room are Miss Irma Waddell (1), Mrs. Leslie Buchman (2), and Miss Jane Soderstrom. All three Southwestern graduates spoke at the Women's Undergraduate Board's coke party in the playroom.

Tennis Team Shapes Up To Meet Big Opponents

By Don Ramier

A glance at our tennis team's spring schedule would give one the impression that Coach Maybry has corralled about six professionals to represent us on the courts. The Lynx netsters will face such powerful foes as Alabama, Ole Miss, Western Michigan, Mississippi State, and Sewanee plus the Tennessee Intercollegiate Tourney.

All of these schools are much larger than Southwestern and some will boast tennis squads that compare with the best in the south and even in the nation.

Untimely weather conditions have been slowing down the progress of our players by limiting practice but when possible they have been utilizing the one court that is in decent playing shape.

Dormitory Halls

David Walthall, one of the more ambitious aspirants to the team has gone so far as to use the dormitory halls as practicing grounds when weather has prohibited use of the courts.

With such determination we're bound to win a few matches.

Ed Wills, Jimmy Lapsley, and Burton Henry are the only returning lettermen and will form the nucleus of the tennis team. A creditable four-man aggregation that should win from smaller opponents can be easily organized from these four devotees.

Maybry's Problem

Coach Maybry's problem is deciding whether or not to employ the traditional six man squad. The answer lies in the ability of three of the newcomers to round into good form. James Mitchell, Buck Looney, and David Walthall seem to be the ones most likely to answer Maybry's prayers, while Nathan Salky, Charles Sullivan, Cyril Pipkin, Jim Henderson and Louis Wener also loom as potential varsity netsters.

Baseball Team Shows Talent

By John Maxwell

The Lynx open their baseball season on March 20 when they play host to the delegation from Aurora College.

Starting on the mound for the locals will be either Bill Williams or Ron Davis, a newcomer to Southwestern baseball who has shown a great deal of promise.

Southwestern's 1952 baseball team possesses talent and poise enough to assure their fans a series of close, well-played games and several victories in the season at hand in spite of the team's apparent shortcomings. Prospects for the team are not encouraging. On the surface, this group of young and inexperienced ball players looks pretty bad when it is compared to the more seasoned aggregations of our competitive schools.

Coach Johnson has had a great deal of experience with baseball and will be able to bring out the good points in our green players.

While inexperienced, the team has talent. They can play ball.

Indoor Athletic Meet Is Copped By KA's

SN won the free throw contest, stacking up 24 out of 50 throws. Second place was filled by KA, and third place, by ATO.

Jeff Justis, SAE, won the rope climbing contest by scampering up the rope in 12.5 seconds. He was followed by Roxie Lee, KA, and Al Evans, ATO.

The standing broad jump was taken by Burton Henry, KS, who jumped 8 feet, 8-3/4 inches. Second place was given to Prentice Fulton, SAE, and third, to Jim Henderson, KS.

Chinning

SAE and ATO tied for honors in the chinning contest with 27 total chins each. Chidders for SAE were Ham Smythe and Prentice Fulton. ATO chidders were Bill Young and Tom Strong.

KA won the battleball contest, second and third places going to SN and ATO.

KA, emerging as winner of the Indoor Meet, now leads in the overall intramural athletic program.

Upsets have been the keynote

Basketball Men Get Ten Letter Awards

John Austin, captain of the squad and center for the team during its first semester games, was the only senior to receive an award.
