Malenkov Plans World Power Believes Price

Malenkov, Stalin's successor, is just giving the free world "a breathing spell" while he whips his forces into shape for Communist world conquest.

Dr. Frank Price, Southwestern's Spring Religious Emphasis speaker, said this in a special interview for The Sou'wester. He added, "Stalin had tremendous power and prestige in the Communist world. It is doubtful whether Malenkov can develop an equal influence. There will be more purges in the Communist pattern, a continuing inner struggle within the Party hierarchy. I think Malenkov will move cautiously until his power is consolidated, but indications are that his policy and strategy will not veer from the ultimate goal of world revolution."

Favorable For Reds

The situation in China is favorable for the Communists as Russia has her finger in every pot and on every vital vein. According to Dr. Price, "The Communist party in China is Chinese, with Chinese leadership, Chinese membership, Chinese national spirit, but with a hundred percent Marx-Engles-Lenin-Stalin philosophy."

"Within the Chinese Communist party are two factions, one that resists increasing Russian pressure, one that wants even closer ties with Russia." Although the second faction is "in the saddle," Dr. Price said that "among the Chinese people there is deep and growing resentment against Russian control."

No Hope For Break

Dr. Price sees no hope for an immediate break between the Chinese Communists and Russia, but he feels it will ultimately come. He also said that "at present there is little chance of the Nationalist Government on Formosa regaining the mainland in the foreseeable future."

Incidentally, Dr. Price appreciated the warm reception he received during his recent visit to Southwestern. In a letter to Dr. R. P. Richardson he wrote,

"I have never been in a more sympathetic and stimulating atmosphere for speaking and conferences. Southwestern at Memphis has a great history and I am sure a greater future in its contribution to the church and society. . . . May the Christian Revolution go on!"

Tri-Delts To Name Scholarship Girl

The annual Delta Delta Delta scholarship, awarded each year to some woman student at Southwestern, will be presented May 9 at the Pansy Breakfast to be held on the campus by the college's Delta Psi chapter members.

Applications for the scholarship, which will be worth $200 this year, may be obtained in the Dean of Women's Office and must be returned by April 13.

The scholarship is available to any Southwestern co-ed and applicants will be judged on the basis of character and need. This scholarship project is the philanthropic work of the Delta Psi chapter.

David Chang Impressed With US Homes, Gardens, Students

By MARY DEVLIN

Southwestern's newest foreign student, 24-year-old David Chang from Chensi Province, China, is impressed with the apparent carefree, happy attitude of American college students. He says its "more natural and makes people friendlier." You see, in China, a person of David's age must always have a serious expression and appear in deep thought. David felt that the frank, open manner of American young people is wonderful.

He also especially notices the beautiful homes and flowers. In China the people must work all day in order to have enough to live on. There is no leisure time to cultivate flowers and enjoy luxury—in fact, there are few luxuries.

Likes US Activity

Our great respect of time is another thing David spoke of. He said we seem to do everything according to a time schedule, that we are always looking at our watches. He says that we are always in a hurry and that we have so much to do. He thinks this is good because since we always have something to do we are happy.

All of his life David has been trying to stay one jump ahead of the Communists. In 1947 the Communists moved into his native town just as he was leaving to go to the University of Peking. After studying one and a half years here, the Communist danger became so great that he was forced to leave. He went to Shanghai and entered the University of Soochow. During these college years David was taking care of his mother, nephew, and two sisters-in-law. In the spring of 1950 he had to leave Shanghai. He went to the Chusan Islands on a small fishing boat; here he found his brother. Five days later he left these islands with the Chinese Nationalist Forces evacuating to Formosa. He escaped, walking right into the claws of the Communists only by six days. On Formosa he entered Tanckang College, from which he graduated in June of 1952.

Army Service

From August through December of 1952 David served in the army. Here he first met Fredrick Wang and Andrew Liu, who are both at Southwestern. After completing his military training he left Formosa and arrived at San Francisco on February 26. He came to Southwestern on March 4.

David is from a family of eight

—four boys and four girls. His father was killed by the Communists in civil war when David was only three. One of his brothers, a captain in Chiang Kai-Shek's forces, was killed in Manchuria in January of 1948. His oldest brother is a major-general in command of the 34th division of the 52nd Army of the Chinese Nationalists. David left his mother in Shanghai in 1950; he does not know where she is now.

Taught Sunday School

It was while he was at Tanckang College that he first learned the doctrines of Christianity. Miss Lillie C. Wells, a missionary in China for thirty years, was his Bible teacher there. She led him to join the Church, and in his senior year at college he taught Sunday school in the Primary Department of his church.

After graduating from Southwestern as a political-science major, David hopes to continue his studies in international law.

Of Southwestern, David says, "I enjoy it very much. Particularly the fellow students and professors being so friendly and frank and helping me in everything. I hope they will try to teach me all about America. Thanks. You are very kind to help."

Fellowship Retreat Will Begin Friday

Some 55 students from Southwestern will attend the Westminster Fellowship retreat Friday, Saturday and Sunday at Chickasaw State Park. In all, there will be around 125 students, including those from this college, Memphis State, Vanderbilt and Austin Peay.

Main speaker for the retreat will be the Rev. Eugene Daniel, member of the Presbyterian Board of World Missions. Among Southwesterners attending will be Henry Moseley, Newton Todd, Bob Crumby, Peggy Fitch, Bettie Worthington and Mary Frances Forbes.

Two Mid-South Universities Request Interest Surveys

Dr. E. Llewellyn Queener, head of Southwestern's psychology department, and his research assistant, Dr. Arthur L. Greenberg of New York, have been invited by officials at the University of Arkansas and the University of Mississippi to administer the same "interest patterns survey" which Southwestern students and faculty members took March 18.

The psychologists do not know yet whether they will be able to accept the invitations to make a comparative study of values at the other colleges, but they will decide definitely by the end of this month.

Scoring Completed

The tests given at Southwestern have already been scored with the help of a full-time clerical assistant and three student assistants. Personal value ratings were tabulated on an IBM machine.

Dr. Queener and Dr. Greenberg and their staff are now breaking the test scores down into the fields of college year, sex, and major subjects of the students.

Results Soon

Final results will be ready by the latter part of this month, Dr. Queener announced. He said that each student will be sent a personal "profile" on his values in six major divisions, and he can compare his scores with fellow students at Southwestern and across the Nation.

"All but seven students and three faculty members have taken the interest patterns test," Dr. Queener stated, adding, "that's a fine percentage and shows great cooperation." The Southwestern test project was financed by a $5000 grant from the Ford Foundation for the Advancement of Education.

Literary Festival To Present $175 For Best Works

Cash awards totaling $175 will be given at the close of the Southern Literary Festival April 24 at Mississippi Southern College, Hattiesburg, Miss.

First prize of $10 and second prize $5 will be awarded by the Association to the first and second place manuscripts in each of these five categories: short story, poetry, one-act play, informal essay and formal essay. A $100 bond will be presented to the writer of the best manuscript submitted to the Festival.

The Festival, to which Southwestern students are invited, begins at 8, April 24. Featured in the morning's activities will be an address by Kermit Hunter, member of the University of North Carolina faculty and author of three successful outdoor dramas. Also included in the pre-lunch program will be a talk by Karl Shapiro, a past winner of the Pulitzer prize for poetry.

Afternoon Clinics

Following luncheon in the college cafeteria, afternoon clinics in drama, poetry and fiction will be conducted by Mr. Hunter, Mr. Shapiro, and by Shelby Foote, well-known fiction writer. That night a banquet will be held in the cafeteria.

During the evening session which begins at 8:30, Mr. Foote will make his address and the prizes will be awarded to writers of the best manuscripts.

Foreign Bureau To Hold Exams Sept. 14-17

Southwestern men and women have been invited to apply for examinations for appointments to the US Foreign Service. The examinations will be held Sept. 14-17 in major cities across the country.

Duties Named

Duties of Foreign Service officials include negotiation with foreign officials, political reporting, economic reporting in the fields of labor, finance, transportation, communications, commercial reporting and trade promotion, agriculture; and issuing passports, visas and developing cultural and informational programs.

Southern cities where the examinations will be held are Atlanta, Dallas and New Orleans. Appointments are made in the $4000 to $5000 yearly salary range after successful completion of written oral and physical tests.

Qualifications

Candidates must be at least 20 and under 31 years old as of July 1, a citizen of the United States for at least 10 years, and if married, married to an American citizen.

Applications for the examinations should be mailed to the Board of Examiners, Foreign Service, U.S. Department of State, Washington, 25, D.C. before July 1. Additional information about the Foreign Service can be furnished by Prof. T. M. Lowry and Prof. D. M. Amacker of Southwestern's Political Science department.

ATO Again Wins Highest Grades In The Nation

For the third consecutive year, Southwestern's Tennessee Alpha Tau Chapter of Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity has held the highest scholastic average for all 115 ATO chapters across the country and the highest average for all national social fraternities.

Tray Presented

The Very Rev. J. Milton Richardson of Champaign, Ill., Worthy Grand Chief of the fraternity, presented Jack Worthington, Worthy Master of Southwestern's chapter, with an engraved silver tray in chapel Thursday.

The national officer was honored afterwards with an open house at the fraternity lodge on campus and Thursday night he spoke at an ATO Alumni Banquet at the Peabody.

Two In PBK

The award was made on the basis of the 1952 averages. At present, ATO at Southwestern boasts two Phi Beta Kappas, Bill Young and Morton McMillan, while last year, Jimmy Ratcliff, Fred Link and John Cochran were initiated into the national honorary scholastic group.

The scholastic average of the ATO members here ranks 32.9 above all men's averages at Southwestern.

"Snowbird's" A Kookoo

The April Fool Play which many Southwesterners sat through in Hardie Auditorium last night ran the gamut of comedy, plot and characterization from A to B. A more dismal combination of items from Joe Miller's Joke Book and smutty little stories a carnival side show would have thrown out has never before been assembled to form the backbone of what was laughingly mis-called a "plot."

The actors in the pitiful little thing—most of whom were in it because someone had told them it was a "privilege"—did not know their lines because, believe it or not, a great deal had been cut at every rehearsal; and because some of them had inherited their roles only a few days previously. Many parts, in fact, were cast three or four times before someone willing to risk his good name could be found to play them.

Southwestern's April Fool masterpiece, which for some reason or other was called "The Snowbird," was selected from three others by a board of five students. It was selected during a hurried conference in the middle of a student assembly after tryouts had already been announced.

Three of the five members of the selection committee had not even read the play.

It is nauseating that such a literary monstrosity should earn $25 and special recognition for its authors at the April Fool Carnival. It is even more sickening to realize that the authors should want to be recognized.

It is the duty of the Student Council to see that such a farce is not repeated. The April Fool Play should not be selected by a haphazard committee, but by the full Publications Board—including faculty members.

Biblical Favorites

(Today The Sou'wester presents the first in a series of "Biblical Favorites"—Scripture passages which have become particularly meaningful to some Southwesterners.)

"I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help.

My help cometh from the Lord, which made Heaven and Earth."
 ..(Psalms 121:1, 2.)
 —Beth Perkins

"Let the words of my mouth and the meditations of my heart be acceptable in Thy sight, O Lord, my strength and my redeemer."
 (Psalms 19:14)
 —Katherine Hinds

"Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth, while the evil days come not, nor the years draw nigh, when they shalt say, I have no pleasure in them."
 (Ecclesiastes 12:1)
 —Chandler Warren

"And again I say unto you, It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the Kingdom of heaven."
 (Matthew 19:24)
 —Heinz Probst

"In the beginning, God..."
 (Genesis: 1:1)
 —Bill Hughes

"I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me."

Letter To The Editor

To The Sou'wester:

I just want to express my thanks to those of James Crow's friends here, on the faculty and staff and among the student body, who have shown their concern for his death. I am sure that his family and close friends have appreciated this, as I have, and that the knowledge that others have felt some share, great or small, in their loss has been at least some little solace to them in the face of a tragedy which many of us feel as both a personal and a social loss.

Officers Named By Student Church

Last Sunday the Student Church at Idlewild Presbyterian Church held its first Communion Service. This was the fourth meeting of the group.

At a recent congregational meeting, officers were elected. Charlie Sullivan and Kyle Creason (of the University of Tennessee Medical School) are co-chairmen; Eleanor Williamson of Memphis State, secretary; Jeff Justis, treasurer; Rodney Feild, chairman of budget; George Graham, chairman of publicity committee; Mary Ann Tyson and Mary Wood in charge of fellowship. Bill Sullivan is in charge of the ushers and Mary Delvin in charge of arrangements.

Every other week, activities are planned after the church service. A theme of "Students of the World" will be carried out. To learn more about foreign countries and the part of the church in these countries, discussions with the foreign students at Southwestern are being arranged.

The student members hope that contact can be established with several churches in Europe and then through letters, they will exchange information and ideas.

Color Movies Shown

A. A. Hunt, landscape engineer, and Russell Terry, director of public relations for the Bellingrath Gardens in Mobile, presented a color and sound movie about Alabama's famed gardens Thursday night in Voorhies.

—with Buddy Allison

Whew!

After all the furor of getting out the April Fool edition last week, I'm surprised I can go back to a normal style of writing. This business of "thou and 'Th's" made the column look rather strange to me, since I didn't write it that way at all. Oh, well, everybody seemed to enjoy it...

I don't know why you're reading this column—didn't you have enough kicks last night? I, personally, am going to spend the evenings this week at home, trying to build up the energy lost at the April Fool Dance. Not that I will—trying to keep up with that music is like trying to stop a runaway elephant with a piece of string—it just can't be done. I can safely say that just about everybody I saw and talked to told me it was the "maddest" thing Southwestern has ever had, and they really thought it was the greatest. Our congratulations to Bob Crumby and all the rest of the Student Council for obtaining the "Rebops" for the dance, and my personal thanks to Southwesterners for supporting it. As long as the school gets behind something like this, it will be a big thing....

Johnny Long At Skyway

Let's see—where was I? Oh, yes, this column is supposed to give out some information, isn't it? Well, you just have time to get down to the Skyway and catch Johnny Long's band before he moves on. Johnny has always been very popular in Memphis, and his smooth, close music pleases a lot of people. Almost all of the old group is back, and I will guarantee that they will play "Shanty Town" and "Blue Skies" at least once while you're up there. His last performance is tomorrow night.

Are you all set to hear the concert at the Hippodrome next Sunday night? To hear Illinois Jacquet you will have to pay two bucks a person—but take it from me, it's really worth it. The concert will be cabaret style, like the last one, and things will commence to pop about 8:00. You'd better phone for a table several days in advance if you don't want to stand during the whole show.

Chicks At Russwood

Baseball opened in Memphis last night, and from now until the end of school you can go out to Russwood and see the Memphis Chicks in action when they're in town. They have a single game tonight and a doubleheader tomorrow afternoon with Chattanooga. All night games start at 8:00 P.M. and Sunday doubleheaders at 2:00 P.M. Tickets are $1 for general admission and $1.50 for box seats. An added note to you fellas, you can take a date on Tuesdays and Fridays and it'll cost you nothing extra—Ladies Night—

Tuesday evening at 8, the 40 voice choir from Tyler Junior College, Tyler, Texas, will present a concert in Hardie Auditorium. The choir is under the direction of Arthur Schoep, and will include among its selections both choral and instrumental soloists. Compositions by J. S. Bach, Handel, Wagner, and Mendelssohn will be sung; included also are a few numbers presented by the Southwestern Singers this year. This concert promises to be quite good, and certainly worth hearing.

Good Movies Uptown

Danny Kaye holds forth at the Palace for another week in "Hans Christian Andersen" and I urge everyone to see this one if they are able to spare the buck it takes to get in. Danny outdoes himself on this one—wonderful songs, good acting, and no slapstick. Excellent...

Keeping up with the crowd, the State has booked "Call Me Madam" to start today. Ethel Merman projects her great stage personality in the same manner as she carried out the Broadway show that ran for three years—if you like musicals with plenty of music, this is it...

"Peter Pan" is being held over at the Warner until Tuesday; then "The Blue Gardenia" comes in. "P.P." is a delightful thing and one of Disney's best. I don't know anything about "Gardenia" except that it stars Richard Conte and Anne Baxter...

See you—On The Town!

Poochie's Patter

BACK AGAIN! Holidays with all their orchids, eggs, and rabbits are over . . . We were welcomed back to the campus by a host of new male faces—then met disappointment when we discovered they (Wabash boys) were only here to play a ball game, but we were soon cheered as we thought of Re-Bops, dancing and Re-Bops . . .

Last night the campus rocked! The April Fool's Ball brought 'em in by the hundreds—with a little help from the Re-Bops. A few of those in costumes were: Mop Spruell and Earl Browne as Scotch and Bourbon; Bill Barnett and Sue Carter as male and female idiots; Gus Barton and Connie Stevens as IOU's; Margaret Jenkins and Cameron Stewart as Dorothy of Oz and the Scarecrow; Jack Tomlinson Beverly Mayhall in tails and shorts; Gay Rush and Jim Napier as kids again; Jean Johnson and Loyd Templeton as "the Worm and the Apple; Joe Eades and Sally Thomas as a Dutch couple; and Bebe Mosby and Jerry Bennett as Aeneas and Dido. The Fool's Ball began at 10 and lasted until 2—then all the happy fools rushed to the dorms while visions of Re-Bops danced in their heads. . . .

New Pledge

Congratulations to Ralph Addington, new Pike pledge! Ralph is a senior and a transfer from U.T.

Lane Erwin, Holly Mitchell, and Truman Nabors journey to Birmingham for a Regional meeting of Sigma Nu Fraternity at Howard College today. . . .

The AOPi girls had a big week before the holidays. Not only did Stunt Night occur but also the KA's came for a dessert party. The entertainment was quite unusual—the KA's presented their Stunt Night Skit — Snowred and her troupe. Then the group really opened up the house and danced on the patio as Jerry Bennett sang "Every Peasant Finds a Guy" — There's hope. . . .

"Y" Hunt

The "Y" held an Easter Egg Hunt for 18 little boys from Memphis Boys Town before the holidays. The entire party created quite a commotion around Palmer Hall. Eggs, ducks, rabbits, and little boys were all over the place, and before the party ended we saw all the college sophisticates crawling around the ground, climbing trees, and digging in the earth—never too old for Easter!

Welcome back to Meredith Bolinger who returns to S'western after his time with Uncle Sam. Mo attended Southwestern before entering the army, and he now plans to come back and major in philosophy. . . .

Last thought—Don't know how we're going to take time out for exams . . . the social calendar is jammed from here on out!

Contest Announced For Co-ed Writers

Women undergraduates at Southwestern have been asked to enter the annual college fiction contest conducted by the editors of Mademoiselle magazine, which awards a $500 prize to the two winners of the contest.

Entries must be postmarked by midnight Wednesday and addressed to College Fiction Contest, Mademoiselle, 575 Madison Avenue, New York 22, N. Y.

Stories that have appeared in undergraduate college publications are acceptable only if they have not been published elsewhere. The stories should be between 3000 and 5000 words and must be typewritten, double spaced, on only one side of the paper, accompanied by contestant's name, home address, college address and college year. The editors will accept as many stories as submitted by one person, and can return the manuscripts only if contestants enclose a stamped, self-addressed legal-size envelope.

Tennis Team And Players Score Wins

The Lynx netsters returned last Saturday from a five day trip and a lone win against three losses. Coach Derrick Barton said that the team had gained valuable experience from the trip, anyway.

The netsters opened their season on March 30 and were defeated 9-0 by Illinois State Normal.

Three Win

The tennis team then traveled to Tuscaloosa, Ala., where they met the University of Alabama, and again they met defeat; this time 7-2 with Buck Looney winning in singles play and the doubles combination of David Walthall and Tommy Crais winning their match.

The next day found the netsters in Birmingham where they broke into the winning column—defeating Howard, 8-1.

On Thursday they invaded the University of Georgia and again got beaten, 8-1; the doubles combination of Burton Henry and Bob Crumby turning in their only victory.

Sprinters Lose In Two Meets

By DAVID WALTHALL

Opening their spring season against Arkansas State, Southwestern's track team showed to good advantage although they lost 89-41.

Pete Street covered the cinders in a speedy 9.9 to win the hundred and also in the 220, Pete led the pack with a 21.8.

Russell Is Second

George "Smoky" Russell placed second in the 100 yard dash with a 10 flat, and in the low hurdles, he led the rest of the entries and finished in 27.7 seconds.

Other outstanding runners were Walter Gorman, who won in the mile and placed second in the two mile; Billy Lawson, who placed second in a photo finish 880; and Robert Jackson, who came through with second place in the high jump and third in the javelin.

Mile Relay Best

Most outstanding performance of the day, with the exception of Street's two races, was the mile relay, with Russell, Wheatley Beard, Lawson and Frank Simon-ton performing with honors. They won in 3 minutes, 42 seconds, which is considered very good for that race.

For their second track meet, the sprinters traveled to Howard in Birmingham, over the spring vacation and were defeated 90-37.

Pete Street again raced through the park to win the hundred in 10 seconds and the 220 in 22.6.

Billy Lawson sprinted in ahead of the rest of the field to take the 880 in very good time, considering the condition of the track.

Other Standouts

Other standouts were Tom Tosh, who was running his first track meet, in the 440; David Robertson, who placed second in the two mile, and Leigh MacQueen, who placed second in the mile.

The next track meet is Wednesday with Ole Miss and Union University.

Tennis Team

with Emory University at Atlanta, Georgia. The strong Emory team, headed by the eighteenth ranked player in the country, defeated the Lynx, 7-2. David Walthall won the only singles victory, and Henry and Crumby, the only other victory, won their doubles.

The team arrived back in Memphis early Saturday night, and received a well earned rest on Saturday and Sunday.

The Southwestern netsters were invaded on Monday by a strong Western Michigan team and again fell in defeat, 8-1 with David Walthall turning in the only Lynx victory.

Scores Listed

So far the tennis team has a record of one win and five losses, but it must be remembered that these losses were to the strongest teams on the netsters schedule. The individual records up to the present are:

Tommy Crais—1 win, 5 losses; Burton Henry—1 win, 5 losses; David Walthall—3 wins, 3 losses; Buck Looney—2 wins, 4 losses; Bob Crumby—1 win, 5 losses; Bob Stewart—1 win, 3 losses; Jip Walters—no wins, 2 losses.

Cuts Announced

"Students may obtain information about their cuts in classes and convocations this Friday from 1:30 until 3 in the afternoon in Room 102 of Palmer," announced Dean A. Theodore Johnson. He added that all students in danger of overcutting should be sure to check on their cuts.

BIG NIGHT, STUNT NIGHT—It was an important night for all three as Bill McClure (left), president of Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity, proudly held the trophy his group won for the AOPT "Stunt Night," while Lisa Rollow (center), who was named president of AOPT, presented another cup to Viola Deavours, president of Kappa Delta, women's group winning "Stunt Night." The SAE skit was titled "Chicago—A Wonderful City" and the KD performance was "Scotch on Rocks." Second places went to Chi Omega Sorority and Kappa Alpha Fraternity.

Lynx Baseball Team Drops Three To Howard Twice And To Wabash

By DON RAMIER, JR.

Southwestern's baseball team has been extremely active in the recent past, playing two games over the Easter holidays and a third tilt with Wabash last Tuesday.

The Lynx baseball ambassadors traveled to Birmingham, Ala. and bowled to the Howard Bulldogs in two games, 20-14 and 6-4.

Some Vacations Meant Travel, Tribulation

When that last class was over on Thursday, April 2, most Southwestern students headed for home. However, this was not an altogether happy experience for all. Polly Baber, for example, got off the bus in Galatin, Tenn., with fear and trembling.

It seems that Polly went to have her hair cut just before vacation. Trusting Polly asked the operator to trim her hair; she then removed her glasses and settled back to relax. Presently the "operation was performed." Polly replaced her glasses and was horrified. Where had her hair gone?

They "Hated it"

Not only was Polly unhappy about her haircut, but she was uneasy about facing her parents in the sheared condition. She carried with her on the homeward journey many tokens to pacify her folks, but nevertheless, when I asked her how they liked her hair, she frowned and said, "Hated it—just loathed it."

Jenny Hurst, not to be outdone by the out-of-town folks, also traveled this vacation. With a two fold purpose she headed to Birmingham to visit Dot Henning and to see the baseball team and the track team.

Hold Services

At 8 Easter Sunday morning Malcolm Anderton, at the wheel, with Bill Sullivan and Charles Kennon as passengers headed up the highway. Malcolm was on his way to Marl Bluff, Tenn., to hold Easter services at his little church.

In the initial contest with Howard, Southwestern was snowed in the early innings and at a time was on the losing end of a 9-0 score. Then it was 11-1 and the Lynx began pecking away and making the hits count. Soon the score was knotted at a rousing 14-14 and it was anyone's game. But the Bulldogs got to Lawhorn's offerings and tallied six runs in the eighth inning to walk away with a 20-14 slugfest.

Allen Led Attack

Bill Allen led the Lynx hitting attack in that game with a double and a tremendous triple.

The next Howard game, Saturday, saw the Lynx jump to an early lead and hold it until the seventh inning. Then, with Southwestern out front 4-1, Howard began to move and tied the score in that frame.

The score was tied 4-4 in the

Charles Kennon and Bill were going to Regan, Tenn., to hold services at Bill Mitchell's church. After church all three boys went home with members of their congregations to enjoy one of those good farm meals.

Betty Sue Wilcox headed for Texas to spend her spring vacation. To be more specific, she headed for Austin Theological Seminary to visit Maurice Venden Bosch. Maury and Betty Sue will be married this June between her comprehensives and graduation.

Ling Lee spent his vacation in Chicago while Tim Lui and Rene Lemarchand, accompanied by Prof. Jared Wenger, motored to New Orleans.

Southwestern's Calm Shattered By Mad (And Burned) Scientist

By WILLIE BOW

Last Friday, the peaceful calm of Southwestern was shattered to smithereens, along with the pride and joy of Greenville, Texas. Young Bobby Howse, the mad scientist, had worked hard for four months to perfect the correct formula for phosphorus and potassium chlorate.

Precisely at 12:06 P.M. Friday, April 3, 1953, he found it. As the smoke cleared, Bobby hastily put on some clothes and staggered to the office. The switchboard operator Beverly Mayhall, took one look at the bloody figure and ran, screaming, down the hall, losing a 77c dinner in the process. Mrs. C. R. Gilliam and Mrs. J. R. McQuiston managed to smother the anguished screams and took the pieces over to the Methodist Hospital. Despite many heroic efforts by the doctors, Howse still lived.

Tells Details

Upon returning to the campus, our hero tells this story: "I was sorely wounded, but my rugged constitution pulled me through. A less hardy person would have surely perished. Say, I met the cutest nurse. . . ." Here Bobby went off on a tangent and after I had absorbed thirty minutes of first-hand information about nurses and their habits, Howse returned to the subject.

Bobby considered the incident as God-sent because:

1. Received one week, cut-free vacation from school.
2. Had his name mentioned in the papers and over the radio.
3. Interviews by press and police.
4. Had his folks visit him over Easter.
5. Something to start conversation with.
6. Dated some cute nurses (according to Bob's story).
7. Had Southwestern officials begging him not to sue the college (complete with a sob story accompanied by a few crocodile tears).

Displays Scars

With the white, ghostly ointment on his face, Bobby can currently be seen scaring Snowden students and proudly displaying his scars to groups of admiring females.

In fact, everyone is happy but me. I had an aquarium of slender, graceful tropical fishes which Bobby was supposed to feed during the holidays. Mrs. Gilliam then assumed the task and fed them. Then Mrs. Hugh Adams also began feeding them. Then Charlie Rhodes came in and fed them. Then George Wilson tried to be helpful and served them double helpings.

eighth, with Bill Williams, the starting Lynx hurler, still showing his offerings to the Bulldogs. At that unfortunate moment, with men on second and third, Howard's relief pitcher struck a two base blow that spelled a 6-4 defeat for Southwestern.

Lynx Track Star Is Pete Street With Four Wins

The winningest athlete on the campus at present, is Pete Street, the Lynx' track team's star sprinter.

The speed-demon of the cinder paths has entered four regularly scheduled events, and won them all in excellent times.

First Win

The initial scalp for Street's belt came at the expense of Arkansas State's 100-yard dash men. Southwestern's low-flying track representative easily out-distanced the field and pulled up with a 9.9 time in that event. His nearest rival, George Russell, who placed second, finished a good five yards behind Street.

Then with a little rest, Pete turned in his best time in the 220-yard dash to cop that event. He won with a time of 21.8 seconds, and retired from the field with a good day's work behind him.

Two More

The next couple of victories Street snatched down in Birmingham against Howard, where he again won the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

Street's winning time in that 100 was 10 flat on what has been described as anything but a good, fast track. He also took the 220 with ease.

Muscle Pulled

On the following day, Street entered the Southern Relays, competing against the finest from the Big Ten and Eastern colleges. He was running second when a muscle was pulled and Street was forced to stop before reaching the tape.

With such a record so far, who's to say Street won't win every 100 or 220-yard dash he enters if that pulled muscle heals well?

was even less fortunate, in fact the year's worst for the baseball squad. Nothing seemed to go right, neither fielding, hitting nor pitching, and Southwestern went down 18-2.

Southwestern scored its first run in the fourth as Allen doubled Tommy Jones home. Jones had singled, his first of two for the day, to open the inning.

The final Lynx run came in the sixth inning on a well-executed double steal. Allen stole second, and Frank Horton came home on the play.
