

DR. PRICE SPEAKS AT Y. M. C. A.

Dr. Frank Price, missionary to China, spoke to the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon, April 20th.

"And Jesus answering said, a certain man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and fell among thieves, which stripped him of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed, leaving him half dead." Luke 10:30.

China can be compared to this unfortunate man. She is in a condition today that thieves in the form of the European governments placed her. She herself is not to blame. The fault of her conditions is not the present race of people but the people who lived centuries ago. Her own government is corrupt to the core. The president bought his office.

Economical conditions are bad. Wages are small, some of the working men get 15c a day. We know the results of such things. These poor people live in straw huts 10x6 feet with 7 or 8 in a family. No wonder the conditions of China are as bad as they are.

The learning of China is low. Ninety-three per cent of the people cannot read. But improvement along this line is making great headway. There are now two big universities in China. One of these is a Christian institution and it is doing a great work.

The religion of China is degrading, except where Christianity has found a foothold. There are two things to fight in their religion, superstition and materialism. Oh! just think of a country where the view after death is hazy and the life on earth is filled with fear and superstition.

Other things were mentioned showing China in a terrible condition, yet she is now beginning to make progress. The Christian spirit has made a great change.

There is one nation that can do much with China and that nation is America. The friendly attitude of America has won the people of China. They are ready to follow the Americans. Now, America is a near neighbor of China's. And America should take advantage of the opportunity afforded her.

Call for laborers should be answered if it comes to us. Pray for China!

FIRST GLEE CLUB APPEARANCE

Prospects for Good Club

The Glee Club is now engaged in its last week of practice before its first public appearance next week at the meeting of the Monday Evening Musical Club of Clarksville. The Glee Club's share in the program will consist of four choruses and a selection by the sextet composed of Messrs. A. G. McInnis, C. C. Smith, W. H. Thompson, W. I. Stewart, J. H. Thompson, and R. C. Beale.

In addition to those just named the membership of the club now consists of J. B. Shelby, A. A. Walker, W. H. Oliver, J. T. Kitchell, R. R. Saunders, J. P. Simmons, R. L. McRaney and R. E. Watts. Mr. J. A. McLean is the club's accompanist and Dr. R. C. Beale the director.

Practices have been held twice a week since the mid-winter period, and the interest shown by the members has been steady and active.

Until recently the club had been expecting to give a concert early in May, in connection with a short play to be presented by Mr. Haden's French class. The postponement of the play has altered the earlier plans, and it is now expected that the entertainment consisting of the play and Glee Club concert will be given on the Saturday night of Commencement week. In addition to the vocal numbers supplied by the Glee Club, several instrumental selections will be furnished by the college orchestra.

Give Brilliant Banquet

Kappa Beta Chapter, Chi Omega Fraternity gave a brilliant banquet Thursday evening at the Woman's Club complimenting Mrs. Harry Webb, President of the Memphis Alumni Association of Chi Omega. Other honor guests were Mrs. Frank J. Runyon, the three patronesses, Mrs. Charles E. Diehl, Mrs. Charles L. Townsend and Mrs. Scott C. Lyon.

The decorations in the fraternity colors, cardinal and straw, carried out the Easter idea and were most elaborate. The tulip was the flower used. The place cards bore a floral contest, which was won by Miss Irene Clardy. The honor guests were given corsages.

Miss Margaret Fort was toast-mistress. Mrs. Webb, Mrs. Runyon and the three patronesses responded to toasts. Miss Polly Minor's subject was The Seniors, which was responded to by Miss Iola Smith.

Covers were laid for Mrs. Webb, Mrs. Runyon, Mrs. Diehl, Mrs. Lyon, Mrs. Townsend, Misses Margaret Fort, Elizabeth Foster, Dorothy

A TRIP TO DUNBAR'S CAVE

Friday morning about twenty of the boys under the leadership of Capt. Chap Fenwick started to Dunbar's Cave for the purpose of exploring the cave. The boys started out with "Speed" as their watchword but on reaching the cave it had been changed to "Rest." At eleven o'clock the cave was entered, Maupin bringing up the rear with his lantern. The rest of the boys were supplied with candles and flashlights. After travelling several minutes they reached "Table Rock" and from there took the narrow path known as "Indian Trail." After several minutes of walking which were made more interesting by the many slips and falls sustained by the careless members of the party they came to a high arched cavern called the "Cathedral."

They retraced their steps and turned upon another trail or path which led them to "Spray Chamber." Upon descending the perilous path which led to this chamber several of them sustained a variety of injuries which were made noticeable by the various groans and ejaculations.

The boys were becoming very interested in their explorations, as was shown by different ones breaking away from the main party and exploring different chambers and crevices. After a few minutes they joined the main party which now went to a great pile of rocks called "Rocky Mountain." After admiring this they passed through other chambers filled with stalagmites. The next points of interest visited were "Fat Man's Misery" where Maupin had a great deal of trouble forcing himself through the narrow entrance, and "The Lake" which was the most difficult of all, wound up the journey. They retraced their way and left the cave at about 12:15 p. m.

SOU'WESTER ELECTIONS

On Tuesday afternoon, April 15, Mr. A. A. Walker, Jr. was elected Editor-in-Chief of THE SOUTHWESTER, and Mr. J. A. Redhead was elected Business Manager, by the Stylus Club in whom rests the responsibility of getting out the paper. These two elections were submitted to the Eooster's Club and were approved by them.

The following were then appointed as the rest of the Staff:

- Assistant Editor—Mr. A. G. McInnis.
- Athletic Editor—Mr. G. A. Newton.
- Assistant Athletic Editor—Mr. C. G. Bruce.
- Religious Editor—Mr. J. M. Looney.
- Local Editor—Miss Dorothy Jordan.
- Joke Editor—Miss Louise Orrell.
- Circulation Manager—Mr. R. D. Hart.

REORGANIZATION OF TENNIS ASSOCIATION

Plans for Spring Tournament

It was with a feeling of genuine regret that the members of the Tennis Association met together after Chapel one morning last week to accept the resignation of Professor Pharr, as President of the Association. Dr. Pharr has always been intensely interested in tennis and as President he has devoted a great deal of time and work to the affairs of the Association. It was felt therefore, that he should be persuaded, if possible to continue in office. This, however, he refused to do and Professor Cooper was elected to fill his unexpired term of office.

Professor Cooper immediately appointed A. A. Walker, Jr., as Chairman of an executive committee, with R. M. Robison, Lillian Wilson and George Newton as the other members of the committee to arrange for the annual tournament; to devise methods of securing immediate payment of all membership dues; to arrange inter-collegiate matches, and to suggest other needs of the Association.

Perhaps the most imperative need at present is money. Therefore, if you have not paid your seventy-five cents membership dues for the year, will you see the Treasurer or Mr. Walker at once and attend to this matter! This will save the executive committee a great deal of trouble.

Arrangements for the tournament will be made and the tournament will begin within the next few days. You will be asked to enter your names for the men's singles or women's singles; for the men's doubles or women's doubles and for the mixed doubles. Please have your partners chosen and give your names to the committee when called for.

Last Spring, inter-collegiate games were played with Vanderbilt, Ogden, Bethel and Logan. The number of games played this Spring will depend on the money raised and on the interest shown by the members of the Association in preparing themselves to represent the University worthily against other colleges. We urge you, therefore to come out and do your part.

EDITORIALY SPEAKING

This issue is the first one to be put out under the guidance of the newly elected staff. We, the staff, would like to say right at the beginning that we are going to do our very best to put out the kind of paper Southwestern wants and will be proud of, BUT, fellow-students, do you ever stop to think just what it takes to make a good paper? Do you realize that it takes the whole-hearted co-operation of one-hundred per cent of the student body? If so, this article does not necessarily apply to you, for you will know what is needed and will be guided thereby. But if not, please think over carefully what is to follow.

The first, last, and main requirement, in our opinion, of a good paper is well-written, "newsy" news. Everybody can't write well, and everybody can't pick out "news"—if they could, we would all be writers of some description. When you do find out about something, don't let the other fellow do it, but write it up yourself and hand it in. Or if you can't or haven't the time to write it, tell us about it—we'll get it in.

Southwestern is primarily a small school and we are glad it is. Because of its size however, it is a hard job to find live and interesting news. So when an issue comes out with one or two articles in it that don't make you hold your breath in suspense from start to finish, don't knock—just remember we are doing the best we can. If you are of the opinion that we are making an error in some respect come to us and tell us about it—we would appreciate it a whole lot.

If you happen to write a story or a poem (we have seen several samples already now that Spring is here) for pity sake TURN IT IN. If all you can write or have written is a joke, turn that in. We won't be so overburdened with material that we can't give some space to your efforts if they are worthy.

It seems rather peculiar to be asking the student body for help in the paper, for it is an organ of the student body; it belongs to the student body entirely. So, fellow-students, can't we count on you for your co-operation?

remains of ancient life. The party left Clarksville at 7:40 via the L. & N. arriving at Baker's, a little station in the mountains, at 10:00 o'clock.

Here the party divided and spent the morning rambling over the hills to reassemble at a mountain spring near Baker's station for lunch. The lunch was served picnic style and everyone did justice to the lunch which had been prepared by the co-eds who made the trip.

After lunch the male members of the party started out again leaving the ladies to take a much needed rest. It was on this trip that some of the members forgot they were on a geology trip and started hunting animals. Ask Chap Fenwick, Geo. Rawlins or Bud Lee about this hunt.

When they reassembled at the spring the party soon took up its journey again, going to Ridgetop, another mountain railroad station, going by way of an old railroad bed which gave the party a good chance to observe Geological formations outcropping in the railroad cut.

The party consisted of Dr. S. C. Lyon, Mr. Henry Lupton, Misses Durrett, Dorrity, McCraw, Orgain, Pennebaker and Wilson. Messrs. Bankston, Barbee, Evans, Fenwick, Lee, Rawlins, Smith and Ward.

Smith, Lillian Wilson, Iola Smith, Catherine Rudolph, Dorothy Jordan, Frances Beach, Mary Louise Drane, Virginia Smith, Polly Minor, Coralie Derr, Irene Clardy, Martha Settler, Frances Edwards, Laura Byers, Eleanor Warfield, Myra Mewborne, Sara Orgain, and Mary Frances Pennebaker.

A proper retribution came to the German engineers who built an extensive railway in Belgium during the war, according to the "Railway Age." They built, for strategic reasons, a new line from Aix-la-Chapelle to Vise and Tongres. This says the "Railway Age," has proved of inestimable service to the Belgians. "It was on this track that came the long, heavy freight trains bringing German coal, cattle, and other reparation supplies to both Belgium and France. The line is also used to day for the ordinary freight traffic to and from Germany—and very heavy this traffic is... This new road, when supplemented by a link between Tongres and Louvain, will become one of the first commercial roads in Europe."

About the only way the modern man can express his individuality is to dent his hat in some other way.

Dr. Markham Lee says that fox-trots, with their life and rythm, are far better than the "Maiden's Prayer." They certainly are what most of the maidens' prayers are for.

"If a man can write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mouse-trap than his neighbor, though he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door."

He: "I'm from Bermuda."
 She: "You look big and strong."

PI KAPPA ALPHA ENTERTAINS

On Wednesday night of last week the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity was host to a number of friends, giving an informal party in the Chapter house. Music for the occasion was furnished by Dabney's Trio. During intermission delightful refreshments were served.

The guest list included Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Lindamood, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lindamood, Messrs. Nolan McLean, Farrish, Morrow, Lemmon, J. Caldwell, Seavey, Beard, Anderson, Hall, and Lavender, and the young lady friends of the Chapter.

of age may compete. The subject of the essay to be written is "Why a Young Man Whom I Know Should Attend the Citizens' Military Training Camp," limited to three hundred (300) words.

The War Department offers a trip to Washington to the writers of the three (3) best essays, with all expenses paid and a generous allowance for necessary expenses en route and while in Washington. Prizes are also offered by the Women's Overseas League in the form of medals which will be presented by Mrs. Coolidge in person upon the arrival of the lucky contestants in Washington.

Anyone desiring to compete in this contest will please see the editor for further information.

POET'S CORNER

Light

Balmy breeze
 Leafy trees
 Whispers of love in the twilight.
 Jasamin and rose,
 Flowers that close
 Under the mantle of twilight.

Two little things
 With folded wings
 Sitting on a twig in the moonlight;
 Warm hearts a-beating
 Hot thoughts a-fleeting,
 Flying away in the moonlight.

On a stone bench,
 Quite without blench,
 Two lovers sit in the starlight;
 Hearts without blot,
 Blood running hot,
 Eyes sparkling bright as the starlight. —E. F. H.

OH; GOD, as this late in life I come to thee,

May it be with humbleness and humility.

OH; FATHER, thou who hearest prayer how'er weak

Come into my life, teach me to speak,
 Teach me to love thee, praise thee,
 glorify thy name,

As I think of my own weakness, ingratitude and shame.

Grant that as the light is breaking clear,

I may count my blessings knowing thou are near.

To be thankful, Lord, always I pray I may be

For love, care, tenderness and the way to thee,

For friends dear Lord, who are all ways true,

For the human love that carries us through

The dim, hazy Outer-Rim of cold despair

Into the presence of thy love beaming where

We shall all gather, after life is complete,

And we shall bear our own souls at thy own feet.

LOCALS

Hello Central, what's the matter? Shut that door, there's such a chatter. Central, can't you get me Main? This phones enough to turn one's brain!

Johnny, please stay in or out, Can't hear daddy when you shout. Is that you, dear? What? No! No! Central, I said 5 5 0!

Baby, leave the ink alone, Come and listen to the phone. Johnny, stop that, you'll get dizzy. Hello! Busy! Always busy!

Guess I'll try the market now; Children, I won't have this row. Jimmy, don't pull baby's hair, Give me 59J—Montclair.

Now she's crying, go away! Come to mother—59J. Is this the market? Will you please Send some chops—you're such a tease Mother's lamb! Did brother hurt'er? And string beans, two quarts—and butter—

Yes, six chops will be alright, Mother'll hold her darling tight. Central, please don't cut me off! That last steak was rather tough.

Yes, there's something else—don't cry, I'd like some haddock—no to fry. Hold the line, I'm not through yet—

SOUTHWESTERN WINS FROM CUMBERLAND

Feemster Pitches Single Hit Game

Playing a class of ball that is seldom equaled among college teams, the S. P. U. outfit took the measure of the Cumberland University big league club comprised of ex-college stars, semi-pros, etc., by the score of one to nothing. Feemster had them eating out of his hand the whole route letting them down with one hit, a fly ball that fell back of the infield after twisting off a broken bat.

Cumberland had recently defeated Indiana University and boasted a win over a mixture of the Nashville Vols and Louisville Colonels. They were just fresh from a three game win over Union University and expected to dangle the local's scalp to their belt. However they had not reckoned with Feemster who was out for revenge for the severe drubbing they had given him in a former meet and to him goes the credit for the victory for the masterly way in which he hurled the whole game. However great fielding by Rennie was a feature of the game as well as the spectacular work of Henry in the outfield.

The run which won the game came in the local's half of the first inning. Culberson drew a base on balls, stole second and came all the way home on Henry's hit back of third. This also was the only hit the locals were able to register off Chest's delivery, the Cumberland pitcher, and Rambler basketball star.

Opportunity knocked in the seventh when the bases were filled and only one out, but a hit or sacrifice fly could not be manufactured.

RESERVES BEAT CUMBERLAND CITY

Win 10-3

While Coach Kenney's Satellites were undergoing the rigors of a hard road trip in the Eastern part of the state, the Reserves travelled toward Memphis to a small town that boasts a baseball team and has ambitions to prove their mettle as wielders of the willow. But, as the score shows, the Reserves proved to be their Waterloo.

The first two innings were fast, no one scoring on either side. The home boys opened up the in third showing three runs across the plate while the Reserves were held scoreless.

The fourth inning, however, was the beginning of the end. Lapsley led off with a double, Smith singled Lapsley going to third. Galceran doubled scoring Lapsley and Smith and went out at third trying to stretch it into a triple. Lindamood singles but goes out at second. Myrick singled and scored on Anderson's double. Enis retired the side by striking out.

The fifth frame was uneventful with only three men facing each pitcher.

Two successive doubles by Galceran and Myrick accounted for the lone tally of the sixth inning.

Howell led off the seventh with a triple, Hall doubled scoring Howell, Lapsley doubled scoring Hall, Smith sacrificed Lapsley to third, and Galceran singled to center, scoring Lapsley.

Myrick opened the eighth with a single and scored on Anderson's triple to left. Enis was hit by the pitcher and went to second on a wild throw to first while Anderson scored. Hall singled through third and Enis scored.

Neither side scored in the ninth, and the game ended ten to three in favor of the Reserves. The features of the game were the pitching of Anderson and the hitting of Myrick.

Stuck in a pair of floppy galoshes;
Nestlings warble their "tweet, tweet, tweet,"
Spring is coming with lightsome feet,
Daffodils, tulips and daisies sweet,
Colds, umbrellas and mackintoshes,
Spring is coming with lightsome feet
Stuck in a pair of floppy galoshes.

Dietary

"I am happy to know that my establishment was recommended to you by one of my former boarders."
"Yes, indeed, madam; I'm trying to get thin, you see, and he advised me to come here."
"What's your opinion of civilization?"
"It's a good idea. Somebody ought to start it."

She (back from a honeymoon from Switzerland): "Don't you remember that wonderful gorge in the Alps, dear?"
He: "Sure do, it was the squarest meal I ever had."

Suitor (to girl using rouge): "You remind me of a pirate."
Suited Flapper: "How so?"
Suitor: "You fight under fast colors."

Jane: "Marriage is a great institution."
Janet: "So is a penitentiary."

"If a wish could make it sew," said the wife as she looked at her husband's socks.

Latin Prof.: "Now— will you decline the verb amo, please."
Stude: "Yes, sir, I'm afraid I'll have to."

Service

Service is not an extra that we throw in because we are so good natured. We give you good service because it's good business. We want you to come back, and we know you won't unless the purchases you make here continue to please you after you have left the store.

The things a man buys at a store like this are very personal. If he invests in a suit that doesn't wholly satisfy him at the time, it's certain he will think less and less of it—and of us—every time he wears it.
