GAY BARCELONA TO BE DEPICTED AS CLUB MEETS

Spanish Club Holds First Meeting of Year Tonight at Palmer Hall

Seniors and senioritas of Southwestern will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in Palmer Hall for the first session of the Spanish club this fall. Following a short business meeting, Espanol will fill the air during the rendition of the program. Prof. E. F. Haden, French instructor, will deliver an address.

El Circulo Espanol de Camarados Americanos, the official name of the club, was organized in 1925 by the Spanish V class. Several notables appeared on the club's programs during the year. Included among these were Professor Steinke, head of the department of modern languages of the University of Mexico, Mexico City; Flor Reyna, of Candler College, Havana, Cuba. Prof. M. H. Donaldson, of the Southwestern faculty, also appeared before the Spaniards.

Prof. Martin Storn, Spanish instructor at Southwestern, and Mrs. Storn are sponsoring the club. Prof. Storn has spent many years in Spain and Mexico and is thoroughly acquainted with its literature, customs, and language.

All students with two years of Spanish are eligible to enter the club.

Graduation last June robbed the club of several members, listing Mary Culbertson, Everett Frey, Robert Penn Moss, Earl B. "Hawkshaw" Whitfield, Alfred Sipes, vice-president, and others have not returned to the campus this year.

Of the new students who have broached the intention of becoming members is Allen Haden, who has spent much time in Barcelona, Spain. He will appear on the program.

COLLEGE HEADS AT SYNOD MEET

Dean McDougall to Address Auxiliary

President Charles E. Diehl and Dean E. D. McDougall, of Southwestern, are at Nashville, Tenn., attending sessions of the Synod of Tennessee, which convened on Oct. 5.

Dr. McDougall is secretary of stewardship in the Synod. He will address the Women's Auxiliary of the Synod at Galletin, Tenn., on the topic "Southwestern."

HOT CAKES AND COFFEE AGAIN!

Doleful Soph Reminisces on Old Gray Mare

To continue the conversation, as I was saying, the Old Gray Mare ain't what she used to be, although she still has a few of her old characteristic remnants of the past that bring back touching memories of the long ago. But considering her generally, that is considering her with respect to the main points of merit, you can see that she has changed mightily. She is well fed, and from all appearances, is strong and healthy. They say the best way to put new life and pep into a horse that begins to get lazy and won't work is to twist its tail or put cockle burrs under the harness.

But changing the subject, in a way, I was telling a friend the other day how glad I was that the Sunday morning curriculum hadn't changed a bit. It is still hot cakes and coffee. It makes it seem so homelike and natural, and

NOISE MAKERS PRACTICE FOR VANDY SPECIAL

Hold Secret Practice Sessions in Anticipation of Nashville Trip

Members of the Southwestern Windjammers, official brass band of the college, will organize into a Razzers Club and will function at all athletic events.

The purpose of the club is to encourage cheering in a novel way, and be of material aid to the cheer-leaders. This will be the pep organ in school. Students will have their ebbsing spirits aroused through their eerie chants.

Plans are now on foot to take the band to Vanderbilt, and secret practice sessions are being held in order that a good impression might be made.

Casualties suffered at the last game include one broken lung to Macky Newton, two split teeth to J. D. Causey, on the saxophone. Colie Stoltz, director, sustained a sprained thumb when he attempted to play the "Jackass Blues" in honor of the Mayfield Mules.

'COLLEGE NEEDS' FORMS Y TOPIC

Announce Officers of Y. M. C. A. Cabinet

Regular weekly "Y" meeting was held Thursday night with several new faces present. The program for the evening was a free-for-all discussion of the subject, "The Needs of the College Y." Several of those present took part in the discussion, and many needs were brought to light.

The cabinet members were announced as follows: Charles F. Stewart, president; John Chester Frist, vice-president and chairman of the program committee; Richard Taylor, secretary-treasurer and chairman of the finance committee; John M. Looney, chairman of the attendance committee; Price A. Patton, chairman of the check-up committee; Ralph McCaskill, chairman of new ideas committee.

The prayer-bands are going strong, but more students could make it still more successful.

A good program is being planned for Thursday evening, Oct. 14. Watch for the announcements.

make out the list of line probabilities.

Six men are available for the backfield, Milton Hawk, Wes Adams, George Stokes, and Dode Farnsworth will likely get the starting call. Doc Price and the diminutive Ora Johnson may get in later.

ONE-DAY TRIP TO VANDERBILT

Leave In Morning and Return About Midnight

Blossom out ye dollar bills, for beginning next Monday you may deposit your initial $4 for the Vandy trip.

Plans now are to leave Memphis about seven o'clock in the morning arriving in Nashville 45 minutes before game time at 2:15 o'clock. The return trip will start at 6:30 that afternoon and arrives in Memphis at midnight. This new arrangement will do away with the night travel to a large extent. It is hoped that many more will be able to make the trip than as otherwise planned.

Temporary pasteboards will be issued to all depositors and will be redeemed later when the final call is issued. President Ralph McCaskill, of the Booster's Club, will hold a meeting of the student body next Monday morning in which he will outline the whole plan.

HURT IS HURT IN AUTO SMASH

Southwestern Student Sustains Fractured Arm

Oscar Hurt, Southwestern student, was hurt in an automobile smash-up last Sunday afternoon.

Hurt was driving a Ford. A large car approached. He was forced off the road to prevent a collision.

The student sustained a fractured arm and a split lip. His injuries were treated.

Huskies Barricade In Closet as Bold Prof Quiets Melee

Deep silence reigned save for the intermittent notes issuing from Prof. Cooper's room. It was but a friendly conversation between the Prof. and Warner Hall.

All did not remain quiet. Evidently a Freshman had taken offense and was asserting his privileges (although he had none).

Both the doughty campus luminaries were to the fore and into the seat of turmoil. A rap on the door to the denizon of strife, then all was quiet.

As the pair entered, the place was vacant. A hiss in a closet betrayed the hissers. But they wouldn't come out so the gentle prof could have that little talk. But when the hero threatened to lock them in, they hied forth and were submissive and humble. They were forgiven.

IGHTING with only a remnant of his squad, the remainder being ruled out by agreement, Coach Jess Neely will endeavor to avenge the 10-3 defeat handed the Cats last year by the Birmingham-Southern Panthers. Last Saturday the Lynx mentor had abundant reinforcements. This week he must scrape to find sufficient men to play the game.

In the line Mentor Neely will have four tried veterans, led by Capt. Joe Davis. "Chi" Waring will be at his end post, while Sid Davis will be at center, flanked by the redoubtable Art Dulin. T. M. Garrott, Crawford McGivaren, Hiram Smith, Bryce Draper, Montgomery and A. M. Hicks

Birmingham-Southern returns with a strong team, having held the Mississippi Aggies to a 19-7 score. Black and Fullbright, stars against the Lynx last year, are back. Other men who have shown well this year are Pace, Williamson and Miller.

The probable line-up:

Southwestern	Birm.-Southern
Waring	Miller
McGivaren	L. E. Barnes
Montgomery	L. G. Williamson
Sid Davis	C. Stephenson
Dulin	R. G. Bartlett
Garrott	R. T. King
Joe Davis	R. E. Mitchell
Hawk	Q. B. Fullbright
Adams	L. H. Black
Stokes	R. H. Beck
Farnsworth	F. B. Pace

FLEMISTER HERE FOR GRID GAME

Bob Flemister, president Boosters Club at Southwestern during 1925, will be on the campus Saturday to witness the Lynx Cat-Panther football skirmish.

Bob is driving from his home to Memphis.

LYNX PICTURES TO START SOON

Cameraman Will Start Hostilities on Oct. 15

Photographic work on the Lynx will begin Oct. 15. All clubs, honor societies and fraternities, and other organizations must be prepared for this work at the proper time.

In order to avoid unnecessary delays, the taking of photographs must proceed in accordance with the schedule arranged.

All persons added to these organizations during the year will be inserted in the year book of next year.

"Prompt and early disposition of the photographic work of the Lynx will insure a better and bigger year book," quotes Editor Hicks.

FORLORN MADAM X FLEES DORM

Freshman Hicks Casts Light on Bold Escape

Late this summer our noble and valient assistant registrar was approached by a bashful person of the female sex, who desired knowledge of him, to wit, how to become a Freshman co-ed at our noble institution of learning. Whereupon said assistant registrar spake: "Livest thou in Memphis town?"

"Yea, kind sir."

"Ah! that is bad, for thou must live in our beautiful dorm. It must be filled."

FRESHMEN DON GRID REGALIA; ELAM TO COACH

Thirty-Eight Candidates Respond to Appeal—Gangs of Achy Joints

Bob Cats? What are they? The Frosh football squad. Yes, such a thing is in existence now. Just think, this year's Frosh are the pioneers, the leaders in this movement.

A group of Southwestern's friends, downtown business men, conceived the idea for them. Arthur Halle and Bill Bailey made the proposition to back and arrange games for them if the Frosh would respond, and they did, nobly. Thirty-eight of them reported Tuesday afternoon for the initial practice.

Southwestern is going to enter the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association next year, and will not allow Freshmen to participate in any kind of varsity athletics.

Membership in this organization will be a check in the development of winning teams for a year or two, but the good to be derived from it will be worth the temporary loss. To offset the dearth of material which is likely to result next year, the Bob Cats were organized. Several All-Southern players are expected to be developed out of this squad.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR FRAT HOUSE

A. O. Pi Sorority to Build $4,000 Structure

Plans are complete for construction of A. O. Pi sorority house on fraternity row. Work will begin in two weeks. The house is expected to be completed by Feb. 1, 1927.

The stone and stucco structure will cost about $4,000. It will have a foundation of stone. The chimney also will be of like material. Outside decorations will be of stone. The inside is to be of cream-colored rough plaster.

The house will contain one long living room, bath, dressing room and kitchen.

STUDENTS FILL CHURCH PULPITS

E. W. Parker, Southwestern student divine, will preach at Longview Heights Methodist church, Walker and South Lauderdale streets, Sunday morning, Oct. 10, at 11 o'clock. Rev. E. L. Morgan will preach at 7:30 p.m. at the same place.

Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at Stephenson's Chapel Methodist church, on lower Horn Lake Road, in the Winona Community, Rev. Morgan will preach.

"Our kingdom for a name," shouted the directors. "A light!" cried one, as yet unknown.

"Let us name it after our new arrival who lives in our metropolis. "Yea," they cried in one voice. And so it was.

But, upon hearing this, our bashful co-ed insisted upon leaving the hall named in her honor saying: "I cannot stay here to advertise my dorm. It is too unladylike."

Concerning Honor Systems

We have before us a copy of the honor code of the University of Virginia. It is such an excellent code for students that we are reproducing it in full, and will be found on page three of this issue.

Scholastic circles all over the world recognize the potency and effectiveness of the Virginia code for student decorum. This system has been the ruling force at the University since 1842. With very little amending, it is the original code. Throughout the long years that it has served, it has withstood them well, and is the proud boast of the student body and the model for other institutions of learning.

Southwestern also has its honor code. There are several salient points in which our code differs from that of the University of Virginia. In each instance the systems are for the purpose of furthering honesty, and gentlemanly decorum. But the scope of our system is not as extended as the Virginia system. Should a dishonest act be noted by a Southwesternite, the accuser reports immediately to the Honor Council. The Virginia code stipulates that:

"Anyone believing that a breach of the Honor System has been committed shall, with the assistance of such members of his class as he may desire to call upon, investigate the matter as secretly and speedily as possible. After a thorough investigation, they shall demand of the accused an explanation of his conduct. If, after hearing his explanation, or after he has refused to make an explanation, they are convinced of his guilt, they shall demand that he leave College at once.

"The accused must then either leave College or demand the President of his class to convene the Honor Committee and to try his case."

By these clauses the individual student is an Honor Council unto himself. If the infringement is so flagrant that it would be needless to demand a trial, the student quietly leaves the campus. But if there is a false acquisition, the accused stands trial before the Honor Committee and his classmates.

The matter of student honor legislation, indictment, trial, and punishment is left entirely in the student's hands. It is so with us, the primary difference being that at Southwestern the accused must face trial. The accuser is not granted the privilege of demanding a withdrawal from college, this is left to the Honor Council for disposition of the case.

The world advances through that human trait called honor. Modern business is carried on through credit. Credit is based on honesty. Honesty means honor. Some are sadly lacking in that quality. They fill our prisons. They are but the vast minority. We can thank our stars that we rate in scholastic circles as an institution that promotes and engenders this trait to the utmost.

The Work Has Just Begun

Upper classmen. Now that you have succeeded more or less in pressing the Freshmen into your fraternities, remember that there is yet a large number who are non-fraternity men. The Freshman is hungry for friendship, especially that coming from an older man to whom he can go for assistance and advice. The Freshman is not the imbecile you would have the world believe he is. He is a very sensitive animal who repays with accrued interest the slightest act of kindness or friendliness done him. It is incumbent on you upper classmen to remember how lonely you were your first year in college, unless indeed you are a very unusual person, and treat the neophytes of the student body other than just the receiving end of a pine paddle or the butt of your sarcasm.

We Congratulate Rollins College

Hamilton Holt, president of Rollins College at Winter Park, Fla., on Sept. 5, announced a gift of $100,000 by Mrs. Homer Gage, of Worcester, Mass., and Mrs. George E. Warren, of Manchester, Mass., for a new chapel at Rollins College. The chapel is to be known as "Knowles Chapel," in honor of their parents, Frances Bangs Knowles and Hester Ann Knowles, both benefactors of the college.

Dribblings From The Drowsy Droll

Our conception of what would be the height of slow motion would be two Scotsmen racing for the dinner check.

Despite the fact that scandal-mongers are a very disagreeable lot of people we must admit that they all have a fine sense of humor.

Some co-eds are so dumb they think cuckoo clocks are made in nut houses.

The editor of a newspaper that had adopted phonetic spelling, in a measure, received a postal card from an old subscriber in the country, which read as follows:

"I hev tuk your paper for leven years, but if you kant spel enny better than you have been doin fur the las to months you may jes stoppit."

We used to wonder whatever became of the fellows in school who always got C minus in spelling and grammar. Now we know. They are writing "Hot Mama" songs and such like.

A man never shows his own character so plainly as by his manner of portraying another's.

I'm the Ginkette

I'm the ginkette that had myself a big time during "rushing" season. I was about the most popular thing on the campus, and it sure did go to my head. I acquired a characteristic strut and had lots of fun by keeping the sorority women guessing, realizing that the sorority that pledged me was going to be greatly honored, and I just wouldn't make up my mind as to which I preferred. At last I am safely pledged and I just know the other sororities are heart-broken over losing me, but I can't help it, I'm too good for that bunch of "sticks."

Subtle Workings of the Freshman Mind

This column will be run each issue that the intelligence of the lowly Frosh might be pronged.

Question. Why does the dog flea?
Answer. Freshman Rhea—Because the catnips.

Q. Why does a switchboard?
A. Freshman "Hambone" Smith—Because it can't move its trunks.

Q. Why does a foot print?
A. Freshman Hicks—Because the wheel-wrights.

Q. Why does the hair cut?
A. Freshman King—Because the lamb chops.

Q. Why does the gun powder?
A. Freshman McGee Moore—To take the shine off.

Q. Why does an easy mark?
A. Freshman Si Slocum—Because its "made in Germany."

Q. Why does the organ grinder?
A. Freshman "Ben" Turpin—Because it makes the notes sharp.

Q. Why does the violin string?
A. Freshman John Hagen—Because the bow-knots.

Q. Why does the floor oil?
A. Freshman "Shorty" Craven—Because the beeswax.

Q. Why does the book mark?
A. Freshman Winfrey—Because the shipwrights.

Q. Why does the cereal set?
A. Freshman "Brute" Stewart—Because the fruit stands.

He had spoken to her on the street and she was properly insulted. "I don't know you from Adam!" she exclaimed indignantly. "You ought to," he retorted mildly. "I'm dressed differently."

The sweet young thing had broken her glasses. She took the remains of them back to the optometrist. "I've broken my glasses," she said, "do I have to be examined all over again?"

The young optometrist sighed. "No," he answered, "just your eyes."

Dere Bill,

I suppose you heard all about our football game over the radio. It sho was an exciting day, that being the pledge day for them girls wot calls themselves sorry-ties. And sum of 'em sho did look it. But Bill, you oughta been in that shirt-tail parade. And just to think you wuz in it last year. You sho wud of looked cute in them perjamers the freshettes donated. Them freshettes got more sence than we give 'em credit for, if they rote that come without the help of a sopmore.

Bill, you oughta see the freshman they call Haden. Rosie Clark thinks he's almost as cute as he thinks she is, but they ain't got a thing on that Solon Miles. He sho has got a turning to red. Her name is Henry, and she ain't no kid to John, either. But I guess it's a good thing that everybody ain't as faithful as Tommy Ap.

However, I'se always your admiring Lily

Who's Who in the Senior Class and Why

Thomas Howard Appleton, Jr.

All Freshmen know Thomas Howard "Daddy" Appleton, Jr., member of the solemn San Hedrin Council. "Daddy" plays the daddy act to the upstarts in the neophyte class, and fond memories it brings to them. He likes to make them feel at home, which is one way of being friendly in modern times.

But "Dad" isn't all that bad. He claims everyone on the campus as a friend, and they accord him likewise. Ever since "Dad" greeted Nashvillians of Tennessee on Feb. 28, 1905, he has been making friends. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Appleton, thought him such a fine chap that they gave him the full paternal appellation.

He spent his grammar school days in Nashville. He also attended Peabody Demonstration school at the same city. His college life has been spent under the flying banner of Southwestern, entering Southwestern Presbyterian University at Clarksville, Tenn. He spent his junior year at Southwestern in Memphis last year. He is completing his senior year now.

Speaking of popularity, well, Tom is that very thing. Possibly his greatest love is being a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. He has been an active frat man in all fraternal activities. He listed his name on the Stewart Literary society roll in '23. He has worn the toga of office in the San Hedrin during '25, and also this year. As a tennis player, "Ap" is all right. He filled a berth on the '24, '25 teams, being captain in the second year. He copped the crown of doubles champion in '26, and was runner-up in singles the same season. Besides being a Greek (fraternity man) he is also a Greek fathoming article, prompted by his winning the Greek prize for '26.

"I'm the Gink" articles which have appeared in the Sou'wester during '25 and thus far this year, have dripped from "Ap's" versatile pen. He certainly knows student feeling, especially the Frosh.

If you need any mothering let "Dad" do it. He's about the best confidant on the campus, and gives sane advice, too. Possibly he needs advice at the present, for his idle hours lead him unerringly down a certain path to a certain house.

Social Activities Among the Co-Eds

Strife Was Rife

"Rushing" is over. Sorority girls on the campus have been in such a rush "rushing" that they have not had time to pore over their tomes. But it is over now. Sororitorial strife is submerged. All have quit their "rushing" of the "rushees." Strategy and stratagems have been relegated to lie dormant until next year, when again they will be revived and new ones added.

Announce Pledges

K. D. Pledges

Kappa Delta sorority announces the following as pledges: Elizabeth Norton, Virginia Webb, Janet Moody.

Pledges Are Feted

Alpha Omicron Pi sorority has the pleasure to announce the pledging of eight girls: Misses Mildred Rainwater, Binie Belle McCraw, Mary Evelyn Wailes, Edith Watkins, Mary Frances Philips, Elizabeth Williams, Ann Trezevant and Ellen Goodman.

A beautiful ceremony was held Saturday at the home of Mrs. Turnbull, on Vinton Avenue, in their honor. Afterwards an elaborate buffet supper was served.

"Take away every woman!" shouted the orator, "and what would follow?" "We would," came a voice from the back of the crowd.

Tourist: "Ever have any excitement around here?"
Native: "Durn near had a circus here ten years ago."

"We had a quarrel last night and my wife got historical."
"You mean hysterical."
"No, historical; she began to bring up the past."

Grid Highlights

Art Dulin covered the ball over the goal line early in the game, after Dode Farnsworth had carried it over only to have it jostled out of his grasp. Dulin is the only lineman who has as yet made a touchdown.

Harold Gillespie showed his ability to pick holes by clipping off several good gains. He also loomed as a threat in the kicking department, when he slightly missed a 30 yard drop-kick. When he gets the knack of starting quicker, he will make a valuable man.

Sid Davis recovered a blocked Mule kick back of the goal, but the score didn't count because some Lynx were holding. Sid was up to last year's form; he didn't make an awry pass and was in every play.

Dode Farnsworth unreeled the most spectacular play of the day when he took a punt on his own 30 yard line and with a graceful swoop down and across the field eluded the entire Mayfield team to deposit the ball for a touchdown. Dode made several other gains ranging from 10 to 25 yards.

Milton Hawk gave another exhibition of his old cunning in the art of broken-field running when he made two touchdowns from scrimmage, one after a sprint of 25 yards, the fruit of a 17 yard dash.

Wes Adams, still handicapped by a shoulder that wont stay in place, ran brilliantly to return a punt 30 yards and was only stopped by being run out of bounds. He displayed his gameness when he stayed in the game after his shoulder had been hurt again.

George Stokes tore off repeated gains through the line, plunging with vim and vigor. George will be counted on to do big things in the game next Saturday afternoon.

King and Vern Baumgarten, playing tackle, towered a mountain of strength both on the offense and defense. They often broke through to stop a play before it was well started, and opened holes large enough to drive a wagon through.

A pass from Steve Jamison to Wes Adams for a gain of 5 yards was one of the prettiest and best executed plays of the game. Jamison is a good passer and should engineer many a ground gaining toss.

Bob Ruffin demonstrated his ability both as a plunger and hole picker by reeling off considerable yardage. At times he would go from 12 to 20 yards at a pop.

Flint Liddon at guard and Ernie Atkins and Bobby Lloyd at ends essayed their wares in fine style. This trio will make a name for themselves.

Professor: "I am going to speak on liars today. How many of you have read the twenty-fifth chapter of the text?"

Nearly every student raised his hand. Professor: "Good! You are the very group to whom I wish to speak. There is no twenty-fifth chapter!"

UNIVERSITY of VIRGINIA

Honor Code

THE Honor System requires that a man shall in all the relations of student life act honorably. Lying, cheating, stealing or breaking one's word of honor under any circumstances are considered as infringements of the Honor Code. Upon conviction by the Honor Committee the result in such cases will always be dishonorable dismissal from the University. The pledge in classes on quizzes, examinations, written problems and exercises means that the work which a student hands in to his professor is his own, which he himself has done in accordance with the requirements of the course as laid down by the professor. The faculty will co-operate in establishing a clear understanding of these requirements.

The Honor System requires in the second place that when a student sees another student in suspicious circumstances he shall investigate the matter as secretly and as speedily as possible and if he finds evidence of guilt shall accuse the suspected student to his face, and before the Honor Committee if necessary. It is important that everyone recognize this duty of protecting the Honor System and the student body. Anyone who sees a fellow student in suspicious circumstances and fails to investigate the matter is himself guilty of a breach of Honor.

It is also important that everyone should exercise the greatest care to keep himself free from the suspicion of evil. Such practices as leaving the examination room for any length of time unaccompanied, or taking an examination alone, or bringing texts and notebooks into the examination room, or carelessly glancing toward another man's paper—these are heartily condemned by the Honor Committee. While they do not of themselves constitute infringements of the Honor Code, such practices are highly dangerous both for the individual and for the continued well-being of the Honor System.

Men have been requested to leave the University for cheating in the class room, for violation of athletic pledges, for attending pledged University dances while intoxicated, for cheating at cards, for wilfully cashing bad checks, and for stealing, cheating, and lying, in various circumstances.

New students especially should take every opportunity of acquainting themselves with the working of the Honor System in detail, as well as these general principles. An important open letter appears in the first issue of College Topics. Also a further explanation of the Honor System will be presented before various classes.

UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA HONOR CODE

(1) Anyone believing that a breach of the Honor System has been committed shall, with the assistance of such members of his class as he may desire to call upon investigate the matter as secretly and speedily as possible. After a thorough investigation, they shall demand of the accused an explanation of his conduct. If, after hearing his explanation, or after he has refused to make an explanation, they are convinced of his guilt, they shall demand that he leave College at once.

(2) The accused must then either leave College or demand the President of his class to convene the Honor Committee and to try his case.

(3) The accused may request a public trial before the Honor Committee, in which case the members of the class to which he belongs shall be admitted, but no others.

(4) In the trial before the Honor Committee, both sides may be represented by counsel from the student body.

(5) Counsel shall have the privilege of asking the witness questions, but only such questions as shall tend to bring out the facts of the case. Counsel shall not be allowed to make an argument, but the accused may say what he chooses in his own defense.

(6) If, after thorough trial, five of the six who compose the Honor Committee are convinced of the guilt of the accused, and shall so cast their votes in a secret ballot, the accused must leave College immediately.

(7) The President of the department of which the accused is a member shall act as Chairman and his Vice-President as Secretary. Such Secretary shall keep minutes of the proceedings in a minute-book, which shall be placed for safe-keeping in the Bursar's safe when not in use. In case the accused is declared innocent, the minutes of his trial shall be immediately destroyed. On conviction of the accused the Secretary shall report the name of the convicted student and the offense of which he was found guilty to the Registrar, who shall notify all the professors and the Alumni Secretary.

(8) Upon conviction, each department president shall call a special mass meeting of the students of his department and shall there announce the name of the student who has been dismissed and the nature and particulars of his offense, explaining at the same time that such communication must not be made public outside the University.

In case the man is dismissed from the University without trial by the Honor Committee, the accuser shall notify the President of the class of the name of the offender and the nature of his offense. Following such notification, the Honor Committee shall take action to publish and record the facts just as if the case had been tried before them.

(9) The Honor Committee shall consist of the Presidents of the five departments of the University and the Vice-President of each department of which the accused is a member. In case of the absence of any member of his committee, the next highest officer in his department shall act in his place, the officers ranking in the following order: President, Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer, Historian.

(10) From the decision of the Honor Committee there shall be no appeal.

(11) In the first issue of "Topics" each year shall be printed a copy of these rules and at the first University Hour time shall be devoted to explaining the rules and system.

LYNX CATS DRUB MISSOURI MULES BY SCORE, 57-0

Mentor Neely Uses Three Teams in "Workout." Mules Not So Good

NOTICING the Mules from their Missouri mooring, the Lynx Cats scratched and clawed them unmercifully last Saturday on Fargason Field, when the Mules pulled out they had 57 abrasions, while the Lynx were unscathed.

Coach Jess Neely used his numbers to overwhelm the stolid Missourians, all told the Southwestern trainer used three teams to amass nine touchdowns and three points after touchdown. Milton Hawk and George Stokes each went over twice, while Dode Farnsworth, Harold Gillespie, Frank Trelawney, Bob Ruffin, and Art Dulin scored once each.

From the opening whistle the Lynx relegated the game to a scoring procession, counting twice in the first quarter before any substitutions were made. Then the reserves were run in and only scored once for the remainder of the first half. The third period finding all the starters back in the lineup, produced three more touchdowns, the reserves not to be out done pushed over three more in the last quarter.

The Mule team was much weaker this year than last, but they fought hard and clean. Clayton, captain and full-back, was their outstanding player. He got good distance on all of his starts despite the fact he was hurried because his line failed to hold.

The lineup:
Southwestern (57) Will Mayfield (0)
Lloyd L. E. Pierce
Baumgarten L. T. Bidwell
Liddon L. G. Douglass
Sid Davis C. Caldwell
Dulin R. G. Smith
King R. T. J. Caldwell
Joe Davis (C.) R. E. Day
Hawk Q. B. Rolf
Farnsworth L. H. Barner
Trelawney R. H. Carter
Ruffin F. B. Clayton (C.)

Score by periods:
Southwestern 13 6 19 19—57
Will Mayfield 0 0 0 0—0
Scoring Touchdowns—Dulin, Trelawney, Gillespie, Ruffin, Farnsworth, Hawk 2.
Stokes 2. Points after touchdown—Farnsworth, Dronkick—Adams. Dropkick, pass—Hawk to Davis.

Freshman Stands On Head And Man Buys Grid Passes

Now here's the proposish. "If you'll make the Freshman stand on his head I'll buy an athletic ticket," quoth a business man.

"Freshman, stand on your head!" Freshman Logan Anderson heard LeRoy DuBard quote these ungentlemanly words. Off came his coat in preparation for the event. The tragic scene was in a cotton office. Taking a wad of the fuzz, the Freshman made a head rest. He emerged victorious after propping himself against the wall. "I never was a heady fellow," he exclaimed as in apology.

The man bought the ticket.

GOSSIP

Rumor Hints A. O. Pi Clean-Up

It is understood from divers sources that next week is to be A. O. Pi. clean-up week. At least it is alleged to be, as Katherine, with enlightening words, enticed a certain Sophomore to buy her a toothbrush at the campus store. It is hinted that she is going to put the article into immediate use, provided some bold Freshman will be kind enough to supply the tooth paste. Step up, Freshmen, do your stuff. Help make Southwestern a school of clean speech, etc.

HENDRICKS IS NOW ON THE JOB

Gink Hendricks, Vanderbilt star of former days, reported last week to assist Coach Jess Neely in the conditioning of the football squad.

Gink is a versatile athlete, having made his mark in football, baseball, and basketball. He has rounded out one of his most successful years in baseball, finishing second in batting in the Southern League. He played in the post-season series with the New Orleans Pelicans, and delivered some timely blows.

Hendricks won renown with Vanderbilt as a 10-second-man and football player.

"One cold morning a sign was pushed up above the German trench facing the Allies, only about fifty yards away, which bore in large letters the words 'Got mit Uns!' One brave cockney lad, more of a patriot than a linguist, looked at this for a moment and then lamplacked a big sign of his own, which he raised on a stick. It read: 'We got mittuns, Too!'"

Most Everybody's Happy

"All's well that ends well" is the old maxim. Everything didn't end quite so well for some of the frats as they hoped for. But they still thrive and are doing well. Some of their hopeful pledges couldn't see these particular fraternities as well as they could see others. Consequently, some frats were disappointed. But the Freshman from down the way says that the world still progresses and women continue to be puzzles. Thus "rushing" season comes to an end, and the eds now can get down to studying.

Waylings Get Homes

Everybody's happy in frat circles now. President Charles E. Diehl has consented for the frats to meet in classrooms provided they have the permission of the professors. Everything points toward a happy solution.

The college faculty was increased by six members on opening of the fall term. The rooms used by the frats last year were taken for classrooms for the new pros. And, consequently, the frats had no place to meet. A lazy moon continues to depend listlessly over a once a disturbed element of school life.

BEDLAM BREAKS FORTH WHEN FROSH PARADE IN PAJAMAS

High Priest Sid Davis Calls Roll of Somber Lads. Raid Hotels, Stop Traffic Make Heap Noise.

Silence of Court Square was unbroken save for the occasional chirp of a squirrel or the maternal hoot of a pidgeon. Suddenly a blast from a trumpet pervaded the tranquil atmosphere. Then ten robed figures arrived upon the scene. They were soon followed by hundreds of trembling creatures, garbed in the costume of the bedroom.

High Priest Sid Davis, of the San Hedrin, was administering the roll call to the frigidaire victims, after which ceremony they were ushered, amidst the clashing of sabers, into the thoroughfare. The official band of the San Hedrin Council was functioning to perfection. The well known ditty, "The Rambler," was gushing forth from the satanic flutes of the "wind-jammers."

The procession moved on. What was formerly an orderly line of trembling Freshmen was converted into a gesticulating mob of "hoodlums." All of the hotels of importance were visited, clerks held their ears, bell-hops hopped, chamber-maids fainted. They were unaware whether the invaders were a Florida hurricane or an anniversary celebration from Bolivar.

Squire Avent tantalized the knights of the traffic into subjection, while the howling hundreds did their war-dance around the stations of the law guardians, namely, Main and Madison, Union and Main, and Beale Avenue. After many more vocal storms of enthusiasm had been dispensed with, the mob disbanded and the Freshmen adjourned to their respective bed-chambers, where they retired without removing their clothes. Thus ended an eventful night.

The almanac lists this bedlam as the first "pajama parade" of Southwestern Freshmen this fall.

LIMNERS

Frosh Paint Gridiron With Lime

Ballon pants rolled and sweat teeming from their brows, the Frosh took a work-out on the grid-iron Saturday morning. The San Hedrin issued a call for all Frosh to turn out, and they did that in numbers. With broom, hose, and water, the yearlings struggled 'neath the sun and the wide open eye of the comandeering San Hedrin. All morning long they toiled, until many yearned for the quiet repose of the classroom which they too often grunt about. Hard are the problems of math, difficult the passages of History, and amazing the rules of economics (even under Dr. Donaldson), but the lash of the San Hedrin is still more bitter.

"FILTHY" SHEET TO APPEAR SOON

Notorious Catalink Ready for Fall Debut

Friends, Romans, and countrymen—guard your characters. The Catalink is on the verge of appearance. Having gained a notorious reputation from its initial appearance the latter part of last semester, the "filthy" animal is thirsting for more notoriety.

No holds are barred. No respect of persons is considered. The animal will bare its fangs and sink them deeply into the respectability of everyone, and let the blood of humility flow freely. Jokes, rare and otherwise, will bedeck the infamous pages. Masterpieces of art-work will be sprinkled therein. Through the superhuman efforts of its publishers, the Catalink has obtained the services of one Herman Alonzo Chrisman, one of the worlds best artist (if you don't believe it ask Dorothy Lee Corner).

There is plenty of room for more dirty work to be done. If you have any proclivities along the literary line the Catalink solicits your contributions. Places are open on the staff for jesters, cartoonists, and advertising solicitors. Here's your chance to get sweet revenge.

Due to the high cost of watermelons in Denmark and the fact that there is something rotten in Denmark, a substantial reduction will be made to Southwestern students who subscribe to the worthy paper. Another reduction will be made to those who wish to get an additional subscription to send home to the little girl friend. No more than 40 subscriptions will be sold to any one student.

All who wish to try their hand at writing or drawing see Jimmy Gladney or Sam Rhem.

ALGERNON GREETED BY FRATMEN

Mistaken for "Material" by Collegians

The train came to a stop with a loud wheeze. Alonzo McNonif arose and started down the aisle. He had hardly gone a step when he tripped up on something and fell. Algy looked up to see who was walking over him. No, it was not a lady, it was an alligator. It was tied to a string and the string was tied to a Scotchman.

"Say, buddy," he inquired from his position on the floor, "I have the floor so I would like to ask the chairman a question. How come the alligator?"

"Well, you see, said the Scotchman, "I been down in Florida playing golf and this—swallowed my ball."

That one would have floored Algy, but for the fact that he was already on the floor.

As soon as he reached the station he was mistaken for a Kappa Sig, and a young lady in a Packard rode him out to the school. A delegation of collegemen met him, patted him on the back, bought him drinks, etc., and began to question him.

"What does your old man do?"

"How do you like our bunch?"

Algy wondered why they were treating him so nice, and little did the lad realize that he had put his mothers dress on and it looked just like T. M. Garrott's balloon pants. Therefore he was fraternity material.

"Say," he asked, "How come all those guys got beards?"

"Why, they're 'rushing.'" (This is the printer's mistake. I didn't write it.)

Algy's first class was bible, and the lad proudly brought his copy of the New Testament presented to him on the eve of his departure by his Sunday school teacher, to class.

"Mr. McNonif," asked the professor, "can you tell me where Hellis?"

"Yezzir, that's the place where dad said his liver had gone to."

The professor was astounded.

"Young man don't you know that this an educational institution?"

"Nozzir, its a co-educational institution."

"Young man, why did you come to school?"

"I gotta scheme to get rich. I intend to organize a company of co-eds to sell advertising space on their stockings."

A regular old soak, well known to the police, was brought up in the ordinary course of affairs before a magistrate who knew him perfectly well. He recognized "his honor" familiarly. "John Jones," said the magistrate, with severity, "you are charged with habitual drunkenness; what have you to offer in excuse for your offense?" "Habitual thirst, your honor."
