Elder Shearon New Sou'wester Editor; Jac Ruffin Gets Lynx

Weiner And Quindley Get Business Posts

Selections Made By Publications Board Wednesday

Elder Shearon was chosen to be editor of the Sou'wester for the scholastic year 1940-1941 at a meeting of the Publications Board last Wednesday in Palmer Hall. Russel Weiner was selected to be next year's business manager.

Other appointments made were Jac Ruffin as editor of the Lynx and Robert Quindley as business manager. The editor of the Journal will be selected later, according to Bobby Elder, president of the Board. There were no applications for the position at this time.

Shearon, who will assume his position when school opens next fall, is at present a sophomore, a member of Kappa Sigma social fraternity, was recently chosen as a member of the Honor Council, and is an intramural boxing champion. He has been on the feature staff of the Sou'wester for the past year. Weiner is also a Kappa Sigma sophomore, and has been active in selling ads for the Sou'wester and the Lynx.

Ruffin is at present a junior, is past president of Kappa Alpha social fraternity, is the new president of Alpha Theta Phi, and has been assistant editor of the Journal this year, as well as a member of the Sou'wester staff for the past three years and a member of the Lynx staff for two years. Quindley is a junior and vice-president of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and is a member of the Publications Board.

Other applicants for the positions which were considered by the Board were Robert Goostree for the Sou'wester editorship, Allen Webb for business manager, Bailey Campbell and Billy Murphy for the Lynx editorship, and Gorton Berry for business manager.

The Board which made the selections is composed of Bobby Elder, president; William McBurney, senior representative; Robert Quindley, junior representative; Harry Hill, sophomore representative; and Dr. Shields McIlwaine, Ogdan Baine, and C. L. Springfield.

The Student Says

QUESTION

To what extent do you think Southwestern elections should be supervised?

ANSWERS

Tom Mobley, senior: Well, personally, I am in favor of absolutely open politics. I prefer open combines which ultimately means majority rule to secret ones which leaves the chance of minority rule by clever manipulation of secret agreements.

Jasper Wood, junior: "Well, just enough to avoid bloc voting and give the individual a fair chance."

Starling Reid, sophomore: "Frankly, I am in favor of open combines but if we have rules against them they should be upheld and enforced."

Jack Mills, freshman: "I think it is all right the way it is now."

Diana Wallace, junior: "Well, they certainly should be empowered, as they now are, to prohibit and prosecute combines and any direct coercion on voters."

Lloyd Parker, senior: "No supervision whatsoever. As long as Southwestern is supposed to better fit us for life, why neglect the political end of it. We might want a government job some day."

Annual Curling Iron Banquet To Be Held Monday

Ladies! Dames! Femmes! Attention! The Curling Iron Banquet, that climax to anything and everything, will be held next Monday, May 13, at Neely Hall at 6:30. Bring your cues and curls to this counterpart of the Grid-Iron Banquet (which, incidentally, is not being held this year).

Sponsored by the YWCA Cabinet, the Curling Iron promises entertainment of all kinds. For the more refined taste Anne Tuthill, Doris Cullings, and Priscilla Shumaker will sing, play the harp, and play the piano, respectively and respectfully. For the less refined, or shall we say, for those with a stronger sense of give and take, there will be nominations, and such titles!

With the Greasiest Greek as toastmistress, both boys' and girls' nominations will be open. The Sloppiest Sophomore, the Most Two-Timing Two-Timer, the Most Honey-Tongued Sweet Thing, the Cat with the Biggest Eyes, will be among the many other glorious and coveted titles. Make up your own title. . . . BUT, be prepared with a speech for your candidate. The better the speech, the more chance your nominee has. No combines allowed.

Sign before Monday noon in the girls' social room, and buy your ticket in the cloister Monday morning. Town girls—50c; dormitory girls—25c.

Presbyterian Laymen Convene At College

Semi-Annual Session Attended By Men From Tri-State Area

The Men of North Mississippi Presbytery met for their semi-annual session on Tuesday, May 7, at Southwestern. The meeting brought together about 65 Presbyterian laymen from many towns in the tri-state area, including Marks, Oxford, Tunica, Sumner, Byhalia, Senatobia, Water Valley, Clarksdale, University, Holly Springs, Charleston, and Shelby, Mississippi; and Hughes and Forrest City, Arkansas.

At the afternoon assembly, held in Hardie Auditorium at 2:30 p.m., Mr. Hindman Doxey of Holly Springs, Mississippi, president of the organization, presided. Speakers for the meeting included Dr. Charles E. Diehl, president of Southwestern; Rev. S. E. Howie, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian Church, Memphis; and Rev. W. J. Millard, pastor of Evergreen Presbyterian Church, Memphis. The dinner session was held at 6:30 p.m. in Neely Hall. Prof. W. O. Sheppard was toastmaster, and Prof. H. J. Bassett addressed the organization on the subject, "A Man and His Church."

The next meeting of the Men of North Mississippi Presbytery is planned for November, at Marks, Mississippi.

The Sou'wester extends congratulations to these four girls and also to the judges who selected them.

Lynx Beauties Chosen For 1940 Annual

Potts, Wallace, Meux And Botto Chosen To Adorn Beauty Section

Anne Potts, Diana Wallace, Jo Meux, and Dale Botto were selected by four judges to appear in the beauty section of the 1940 Lynx. The girls appeared with other contestants on the stage of Hardie Auditorium Friday night, May 10. The identity of the judges will remain unannounced, according to George Jackson, editor of the annual.

Miss Potts, a member of Chi Omega sorority, appeared in last year's beauty section. She is a senior, has been Homecoming Queen, and was coed editor of the Sou'wester this year. She was named last fall in Southwestern's "Who's Who."

Miss Wallace is also a member of Chi Omega sorority, and is a member of the junior class. She transferred to Southwestern this year from Hollins, and has become active in campus activities.

Miss Meux, a senior, is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority, and is secretary of the senior class, a member of the Elections Commission, and is active in other phases. She is from Brownsville, Tennessee.

Miss Botto, a freshman, is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority, and was chosen this year for membership in Pi, intersorority group. She is from Memphis.

These four girls will appear in the beauty section of the Lynx along with Virginia Waggner and Kitty Bright Tipton, who were chosen this year as Miss Southwestern and April Fool Queen, respectively.

A Good Time Is Had By All As Players Bow From Scene

The Southwestern Players gave their swan song for the year last Friday night at Hardie Auditorium. It was also Prof. Lee's final contribution to the Thespians, and we know he heaved a sigh of relief when the curtains came together (well, they really didn't come together as one of the pulleys wasn't working and one curtain couldn't cover more than half the stage) on the last play that he would ever have to produce.

The three one-act plays, which we shall call I, II and III, since we don't remember their names, were given in the usual slapstick, burlesque fashion that has characterized former productions. It is amazing to see what Mr. Lee can do with people who have no conception of acting in order that the audience may get its money's worth. It's a case of the actors saying, "We're having a silly time doing these plays, but it's fun." The audience fortunately catches the spirit and has a good time, too. We would not advise the Players to put on a tragedy, though. "Camille" would hardly be appreciated.

The presentation of the Beauties by George Jackson was typical of all the past years. We do think it was a good idea to have judges though, instead

Zeta Tau Alpha To Give Annual Star Dust Ball

University Club To Be Scene Of Sorority Dance Saturday Night

Beta Sigma chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha will entertain with its annual Star Dust Ball on Saturday night, May 11, from 8 until 12 at the University Center. Jack Booth's orchestra will furnish the music.

There will be three no-breaks, two specials and a Z.T.A. leadout during which the sorority song, "My Z.T.A. Sweetheart," will be played; the only lights will be the twinkle of tiny flashlights held by each couple and reflecting on the silver stars hung from the ceiling.

The decorations will carry out the stardust motif with a canopy of stars and a large silver star with Z.T.A. in turquoise letters will hang over the center of the dance floor. A lighted sorority crest will be above the flower-banked orchestra pit.

Officers who will receive the guests will be: Marie Palmer, president, with Lloyd Jones; Mrs. Mark Hammond, retiring president, with Mr. Hammond; Kate Parker, vice president, with Norman Shapiro; Iris Pearce, secretary, with Bob Beasley; Bennie Joyner, historian, with Bob Meacham; and Mary Virginia Smith with Allen Hilzheim.

Other members and their escorts will be: Georganne Little with E. W. Beaumont; Virginia Hemmington with Richard Chance; Annette Cato with Pat Parks of Coldwater, Miss.; Sara Sparacino with Bob Beasley.

Frank England And Harriette Hollis Win Student Body Offices

Feud With Hendrix Comes To Attention Of Mr. Edward H. Crump

The one-sided feud which the Sou'wester has been carrying on with the Hendrix College Profile in Conway, Arkansas, has had an interesting sidelight.

If you remember, the Profile in one of their ineptly done efforts, made a crack about Southwestern's being "Crump College" and said something about courses being offered in "How to Build a Machine."

The editor of the Sou'wester made reply, stating that he could write a treatise on the value of the municipal leader and organization in the American political system, but that he refrained because he felt that such a work would no doubt be above the heads of the Arkansans.

Carroll Maxwell and Jimmy Allman, circulation and mailing managers of the Sou'wester, clipped out the correspondence and with an explanation as to what it was all about, sent the material to Mr. Crump, who, as some of you may know, is the leader of the Shelby County political organization.

Shortly afterwards, they received the following letter:

Mr. Carroll Maxwell,
Mr. James Allman,
Southwestern College,
Memphis, Tennessee.

My dear young gentlemen:
I surely appreciate your letter of the 21st and have enjoyed reading your enclosures.

In a mass of other statements your Hendrix correspondent refers sarcastically to what he terms the "Memphis Machine." That is a trite expression these days, and is used glibly so often by those who really don't know what it means.

A machine is merely another expression for an organization, and any going concern, whether business, educational, or political, progresses only in proportion to the coordination of its various parts. And a political machine stands or falls on its ability to recognize the needs of the people it serves, and to give them what they demand. So, after all, such an appellation is not a term of reproach to the machine which serves its public.

Wishing you both all the good things in life, and with very best wishes, I am

Very sincerely,
E. H. CRUMP.

Students Study Insanity At Bolivar

Classes In Psychology And Sociology Visit Western State Hospital

The Abnormal Psychology and Advanced Sociology classes made their fifteenth annual trip to the Western State Hospital at Bolivar Wednesday to attend the seminar put on by the hospital staff to illustrate various forms of insanity.

Those attending were: Dr. Atkinson, Mrs. Townsend, Dr. Henry Davis, Dr. Gear, Margaret Jones, Billy Smith, Billy Davidson, Billy Belcher, Anne Eckert, Arabia Wooten, Virginia Ragsdale, Katherine Moore, Nell Brewer, Martha Louise Small, Elizabeth Scarborough, Nancy Wood, Louise Jennings, Mary Elizabeth Douglass, Mary Louise Hughes, Deola White, Jean Walton, Jean Flynn, Elizabeth Holder, Stella Jones, Mary Elizabeth Harsh, Anne Potts, and Jane Lederer.

A picnic lunch packed in separate boxes was served at noon in a shady grove on the hospital grounds. Each box contained three sandwiches (different kinds), potato chips, a fudge square, a portion of potato salad, a pickle, an olive, a fork, a plate, and a napkin.

Selections to the Hall of Fame will probably be made next week. They will be made by Frank England, John Young, and Dr. Diehl from names of seniors submitted by Student Council members.

Pair Chosen As President And Secretary

Win Over Drees And Stacy In Runoff Wednesday

Frank England was elected president of the student body and Harriette Hollis was chosen secretary-treasurer in a run-off election Wednesday. The final tabulation of the votes on Thursday afternoon showed that England had defeated Fred Drees and Miss Hollis had triumphed over Dorothy Stacy.

The primary election was held on Tuesday and others in the race were Bland Cannon and Robert Quindley, ATO and SAE respectively, for president, and Dorothy McGehee, non-sorority, Louise Jennings, AOPi, and Deola White, Kappa Delta, for secretary-treasurer.

Although the final ballots were cast on Wednesday, the counting of the votes was delayed until Thursday pending an investigation of rumors that a combine existed between the Kappa Sigma and Kappa Alpha fraternities on the primary vote. Investigation proved the rumors to be unfounded.

England is from Greenville, Mississippi, and has been for the past year vice-president of the student body, vice-president of the Honor Council, and secretary of the Panhellenic Council. He is president of Kappa Sigma fraternity, a member of ODK, member of the "S" Club, and past member of the intramural board. He was chosen this year as best all-round boy and King of the April Fool Carnival.

Miss Hollis is the president of Chi Omega sorority, and is also a member of the YWCA Cabinet, the Christian Union Cabinet, and the Panhellenic Council. She is from Memphis.

Next week two other campus positions will be filled, President of the Publications Board and vice-president of the student body. Nominations will be made on Monday and elections will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday. Installation will be held either the latter part of next week or the first part of the week following, according to John McGrady, president of the student body at the present time.

The final elections of the year will be those for offices in the various classes. Each class will elect a president, vice-president, secretary and representative to the Publications Board. These offices will be filled week after next. Nominations will be made on Tuesday, May 21, and the first vote taken on that day. The run-offs will be on Wednesday.

Joint Recital Given By Music Majors

Tuthill And Shumaker Candidates For Degree With Major In Music

Last Wednesday night at Hardie Auditorium, Priscilla Shumaker, pianist, and Anne Tuthill, soprano, gave a joint senior musical recital. Candidates for the Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in Music, they will be the first Southwestern students to graduate with that degree.

Formerly it was necessary for a music student to take a Bachelor of Music degree at the Memphis College of Music with supplementary courses at Southwestern. In the fall of 1936, a student entering Southwestern for the first time found the Bachelor of Arts course available with a major in Music. All applied music is taken in extension courses at the Memphis College of Music, which is affiliated with Southwestern.

The program presented consisted of alternating selections by Miss Tuthill and Miss Shumaker. Miss Tuthill, student of Clare Elby, was accompanied by Grace McLean. Miss Shumaker is a pupil of Lois Maer.

Comment by the Editor

The Sou'wester regrets that it is unable to announce the number of votes polled by any of the candidates for president and secretary-treasurer of the student body, either in the primary election or the run-off. Dan Carruthers, president of the Elections Commission, said that it was generally agreed among members of the commission that it would be a wise policy to withhold this information, on the ground, as we understand it, that it might prove embarrassing to candidates who polled a small vote.

On this matter, the Sou'wester disagrees emphatically with the opinion of the commission. To our way of thinking, this information is news and should be available. We think that most students have a natural interest in how many votes the candidates received and we also believe that they have a natural right to this information.

The Sou'wester regards the action of the commission as an unnecessary and unjustified suppression of news. To the best of our knowledge, this policy has never been followed in the past in any student elections. And we know of no other election—whether at other colleges, or in local, state, or national governments—in which this is done. In any case, we are opposed to it, and want to state our opposition.

The plea that this arrangement saves embarrassment for candidates who polled a small vote is to our mind insufficient reason for withholding the number of votes cast. Furthermore, we believe that such an action is a reflection on the maturity of both the candidates and the other members of the student body.

In the final analysis, we can see some reason—not much, you understand, but some—for withholding primary results. But we can find no sympathy for the policy when extended to include the finals. If such a policy is wise, then it should be extended to all elections in America. We can imagine the reaction of the American people if they were simply told that Roosevelt had won the presidency over Landon, but that the number of votes was being withheld to avoid embarrassing Mr. Landon.

We hope the Elections Commission will see fit to change its collective mind on this issue, if not this year, then next year. We think it is necessary and unwarranted.

Journal Will Miss McIlwaine

The Southwestern Journal should be out within the next week or ten days. We want to take this opportunity to call attention to the fact that the Journal is one of the better undertakings at Southwestern, since it furnishes an organ through which literary ability is brought to the attention of the student body, as well as affording entertainment to the other students.

This year the Journal has been edited by William McBurney, and much of the material has come from Dr. Shields McIlwaine's class in composition. Dr. McIlwaine is also faculty adviser to the publication. But, as you know, he is leaving Southwestern next year. This will be a distinct loss to the college, but to the Journal we think it is a catastrophe.

Having been a member of his composition class, we feel that we can safely say that when it comes to guiding students in creative literary effort, understanding what it is they are trying to put across, and criticizing and analyzing their efforts, he is well nigh incomparable. The Journal will miss Dr. McIlwaine next year.

Missing Lynx

From the Campus Chain

Sou'wester attitude on student elections (with apologies to Ogden Nash):

We think there's too much overemphasis Of politics at Southwestern in Memphis.

Browsing takes one to, or through many interesting magazines, all within easy reach of the frequenters of the library. Newly discovered is a mag named "Our Dumb Animals," edited by the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, etc. These good people are actively working to secure better living conditions for the homeless all over the world. In Southern Africa they have a Traveling Caravan, which goes around reminding the natives to water their camels or water buffalo or pet rhinoceroses.

Continuing the Animalia theme, and perhaps inspired by Doris Cullins' little cockrel spaniel, Diana, we bring you the latest news flash from France. This communique comes from no less than the French Premier, M. Reynaud. He says that there are practically no horses left in the French villages, and just because of the war. What was that about mechanized warfare?

A queer duck is the Chameleon, commonly noted for its ability to change color. Its accomplishments include one of the longest tongues in the Reptile kingdom, coupled with an amazingly accurate aim. A seven inch Chameleon has a tongue length of twelve inches, and his dinner hour lasts a split second. The poor fly never knows what happened, because the movement of the Chameleon's tongue is so swift that the eye can not follow it.

New Zealand has a shark, the Mako, which is unique to its waters. This shark is famous for its blue eyes.

If you were on the campus Monday at ten minutes to one, you like everyone else, noticed a yellow plane flying overhead, low. It was Bobby Elder, practicing power dives. Dr. Townsend later cussed him out for interrupting his Drama class, which went, en masse, to the windows.

Interesting Facts Department: A recent biography of Christopher Columbus tells that the discoverer was, in all probability, a Jew.

The chapel bell had already rung. I sprang from my coupe with a bound, slipped on an I. W. Harper bottle, and tumbled over on my neck. Will Mr. Rollo please see that these week-end remnants are removed before the next day?

The other day as we were entering the side door of Palmer Hall we noticed an ambitious little sprout of ivy which was just beginning to make its way up the wall. The thought suddenly came into our mind that it would be a project worth while for the Service Club, Student Council or some other campus group to see to it that these Gothic walls were completely covered with the stuff. Not the poisonous kind, you understand.

Just imagine how nice things would be if we could have this outlet for our Tarzanic instincts. Picture the campus with people clambering up the walls on sturdy ivy vines and peeping in the classrooms. Such an arrangement would also serve as a good way to get rid of Hays Brantley's laugh, and even get rid of Hays Brantley along with it. Just chase him up an ivy vine and either let him starve to death there or just laugh himself sick until he fell off and cracked his silly skull on the pavement. There are no doubt other amusing little episodes and situations which one can imagine, so we'll just let you imagine them and let that be enough said about the ivy.

Poem of the Week:

Lamenting Love, Life, and Lack of Lucre When I consider how my dough is spent E're half my nights in this dark world and wide; And that one talent which is death to hide, Soaked in Insurance and Tuxedo rent, I ponder for means of acquiring a cent. But there's no rich uncle on my side; And if there were I'm sure he'd have died A pauper cause the Govt. would prevent; So take me to my social grave A dead man cause there was no money To squire the lovely lady to the ball Much better to be born a lowly knave To lead a life that some would think was gummy Than spend what there ain't any of at all. —By a Modern Milton. Lynx Chat

Your little lynx pussy is in a horrible mood. We hate politics, elections, etc., and Pandemonia just doesn't understand what's the matter when she comes in to wake us and finds us already up pouring over the Student Directory, saying, "He'll vote for the other one, but if I can just get into the run-off he'll be on my side." You can't smile too pleasantly because they'll say you're politicking, and if you don't smile pleasantly enough, they'll say you're too sure of winning. We think we'll just stay cooped up in our pent-house apartment until it's all over.

The Kappa Alpha dance was really good. The Colonial Country Club made a perfect setting for our budding politicians to put on their act. In fact, we heard several say, "Why he never danced with me before tonight." At any rate, everybody seemed to be having a good time, particularly one gentleman with a towel draped around his head. Either he had an awful headache and just couldn't miss the dance, or he was a visiting dignitary from the Turkish embassy. . . . Sam Fisher and Cecilia Hill seemed to be having a good time together, but Strother and Arabia went off at intermission and forgot to take them along. Strother claims it was because Arabia wasn't feeling well. . . . Jac Ruffin got a beautiful ring given him by the fraternity and then forgot to wear it Monday when everybody asked to see it. . . . Never saw so many girls with new dresses on, Droop, Smithwick, Stacy, and Fourny. . . . We hear that Milton got a compact with a KA crest on it. Can some one else be entering the picture?

Several of our little gals are leaving us this week-end for another campus. They'll be up on the mountain at Sewanee, Miss Hollenberg and Katharine Miller. . . . Should we say anything about Ethel Williams and Jimmy Powell? There really should be a law about getting people to wait and do such things just before press time so we could have a scoop. At any rate, she has his frat pin, and another unimportant piece of jewelry that is worn on the finger. . . . Wednesday night was a birthday for Icky. You probably noticed his new clothes, and we hear he went out for dinner and had a birthday cake, and then went to the symphony afterwards. Icky says he's twenty-two and still looking for the right one.

The science classes have been having so much fun of late that rumors are issuing of rebellion from Palmer Hall. . . . The Biology classes have been spending their afternoons at Shelby Forest, and the Abnormal students (we mean those that take that course in Psychology) have all been going up to Bolivar. . . . Several new candidates for Tarzan were noticed at Shelby Forest with Chuck Guthrie sweeping all aside. . . . Miss Toni Noco was flitting about in the trees herself when she caught hold of a limb just in time to keep from falling. . . . Said Toni as she hung in the air, "Gosh, I should have worn pants."

The Zeta dance will be this week-end and we hear they have a novel lead-out planned. . . . All the lights will be out but some little flashlights they have in their hands. . . . Candidates for vice-president and president of the Publications Board please be on hand. . . . Mrs. Dorothy Helene Steuwer Hammond has promised to give us a good show. . . . Our condolences to McBurney and wishes for a speedy recovery. . . . Also to Jeanne Reeves' mother who is sick. . . . Joye and Bobby Elder seemed to have repaired their breach since we hear they were on a picnic together last Sunday. . . . And Titu deserted us over the week-end for the Heidelberg Roof in Jackson, Mississippi. On the way home that night they hit a calf, killing it and ruining their car. . . . Ethel crawled out of one of the side pockets unhurt.

Now is the time when all good men had better begin to study as those little exams are only a little over two weeks off. . . . The Cotton Carnival will be an interruption that will have to be accounted for, too. . . . Kay Ramsey says her mother is already putting her to bed at nine o'clock so she will be in good condition for the fun. . . . While none of the rest of us anticipate so strenuous a time, we are getting pepped up over the idea. Editor Murphy and Miss Waggener have been enjoying each other's company a great deal of late. Indeed we hear that it is becoming serious. . . . The Memphis Herald, that paper with the big headlines that you have seen posted on the tree in the middle of the quad, seems to have been having a large circulation, what with Lynch, Hearn, and a number of others being in the news.

The most popular smack on the sea of life.
A wireless message from the lips to the heart.
A thing of no use to any one, but much prized by two.
A perfect chord, sounded from two harmonious souls.
The only really agreeable two-faced action under the sun.
The flag of truce in petty wars or courtship and marriage. The thermometer by which we measure the affection.
The thunderclap of the lips that follows the lightning of the eyes.
Something which, once given cannot be taken back, but is often returned.
The only way to get rid of temptation is to yield to it.
Resist it, and your soul grows sick with longing for the things it has forbidden itself.

BLACK AND WHITE

A couple in love were perched beneath a tree and the bashful male said, "Darling, before we get married, there's one thing I want you to know; some people say I'm color-blind."
And the fair maiden answered, "Yassuh, ah knows dat."

ACTIVE AND PASSIVE

Here's a connection between grammar and the popular extra-curricular activity:
You see a beautiful girl walking down the street. She is, of course, feminine. If she is singular you become a nominative masculine.
You cross the street and become verbal, soon changing to dative if she is not objective. You become plural and walk home with her. However, her mother is accusative, but you become imperative although still an indefinite article.
You stroll in and sit down. When you talk of the future she changes the subject. You become possessive and kiss her while she is still objective. She is exclamatory and her father becomes present while you change to a past participle.

KA's Given Even Chance To Take Intramurals

Golf, Softball Are Unfinished, Only Horseshoes Remain

The S.A.E.'s today held a slim forty point lead over the rapidly gaining Kappa Alphas, with spring softball yet to be run off and golf unfinished. With the K.A.'s heavy favorite to take the horseshoes, they are given an even chance of placing first in the final intramural standing. They displaced the Sigma Nus in second at the end of the basketball tournament, having moved steadily upward since the beginning of the season.

In the golf tourney, the Sigma Nus and Pi Kappa Alphas have reached the semi-finals in one bracket, and the Non-Frats and K.A.'s in the other. Defaulting has been prevalent, and few actual matches have been played.

Spring softball is in the second round of the round robin tournament. The S.A.E.'s lead in this event with a total of 35 intramural points, gained by seven wins and no losses. The Non-Frats, with five wins and two losses, placed second by scoring 25 intramural points. They are followed in the following order: K.A., 20 points; A.T.O., 15 points; Sigma Nu, 10 points; and Kappa Sig, 5 points.

Latest intramural standings, with softball and golf point as of May 7, follow:

|---------------------|-----|
| SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON | 405 |
| KAPPA ALPHA | 365 |
| SIGMA NU | 330 |
| NON-FRATS | 305 |
| KAPPA SIGMA | 260 |
| ALPHA TAU OMEGA | 165 |
| PI KAPPA ALPHA | 60 |

MENTAL MEANDERINGS

Last week we were very distressed over our Editor's severe case of hay fever. Then we noticed that the eminent M. D. Logan Clendening cites three hay fever seasons. The mildest type of all is the early Spring type, he says, and it is due to the blooming or pollination of the trees. Now, you aren't going to let a little thing like the life cycle of the oak tree get you down, are you, Mr. Editor?

It's just a question of mind—ah, ah—over—ah—matter—KETCHOO! Aw, phooey on that guy anyway.

Quip of the Week: "When you copy from one book it's plagiarism; when you copy from two, it's research."

(As told to us by Professor Lee who quoted from somebody else. We always like to protect ourselves from the libel law, you know.)

Add similes: As messy as the inside of a girl's purse.

DEPARTMENT OF TRUE LOVE
"Richard Jones, 22-year-old caddy, and Miss Annabelle Hogue, 18, hope somebody will hurry up and return their marriage license. They lost it rushing to a minister's home and they don't want to buy another."—Commercial Appeal (AP).
Yeah, they sure are in a hurry.

Corniest joke of the Week: Dr. Cooper saying that he saw in the paper where a girl's name was Q. T. (pronounced cutie).

Did we call that was a joke? Gosh, we can't even figure out why we printed it.

We were on our way out of the Malco the other night when we noticed an usher walking toward us with a determined look in his eye. We quailed noticeably and tried to avoid him, when suddenly we glimpsed green bills in his hand. Immediately we took on an entirely different attitude and glided gracefully over to meet him. He gave us a bill. We looked at it. It was covered with the phrase, "One Benny Buck." And with one haughty, despairing glance, we sailed out.

But don't think we threw it away. At least it's a bill, and it's green—which is more than we've had for many a day.

Did You Know: That during the Revolutionary War the American dollar was worth one cent?

Things We Aren't Sure We Like Or Not: wedge heels . . . that purplish lipstick with the highfalutin name of cyclamen . . . glasses with dark horned-rims . . . bows in girl's hair . . . those white moccasins all the girls are wearing . . . Salvador Dali's surrealist paintings (we know we can't stand Picasso) . . . those gory funnies like Little Orphan Annie and Dick Tracy—especially since Tracy's hand went through that mashing process—ugh.

And speaking of funnies, for the first two weeks we were so elated over the appearance of Blondie that we didn't even notice that there was no more Mickey Mouse. Shucks, why didn't they take out Andy Gump instead?

ZETAS INITIATE SPARACINO

Beta Sigma chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha initiated Sara Sparacino of Benoit, Mississippi, Tuesday night, May 8, at their lodge on the campus.

After the services, a party honoring the new initiate was held at Fortune's. Miss Sparacino's place was marked by a corsage of gardenias and those of old and new officers by white carnations.

Ministerial Club Addressed By Hale

Importance Of Guiding Purpose Through Life Is Stressed By Rector

The Ministerial Club assembled for its last regular meeting of this school year on last Tuesday evening at six o'clock in the Lynx Lair. The club had the pleasure of having as its guest at the meeting Dr. C. S. Hale, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, who spoke to the club on having a guiding purpose throughout life. The devotional service was conducted by Robert Quindley.

A call meeting was planned for Thursday morning, for the purpose of electing new officers for the coming year. It was also announced that the club's final outside service would be conducted by Bob Cogswell at the West Memphis Presbyterian Church on Sunday, May 19. The meeting was closed with prayer by the club president, Walter Bader.
