ONE PROFESSOR, TWO STUDENTS TAPPED BY OMICRON DELTA KAPPA

Allen, Case Are Students Invited In Chapel Service

Dr. Felix B. Gear Is Tapped Today From the Faculty

Phi Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa, the national leadership honor society for men, received two men students and one professor into membership in a tapping ceremony held in chapel this morning. The students tapped were Ray Allen and George Case. Dr. Felix B. Gear is the new faculty member.

Omicron Delta Kappa recognizes excellence in five phases of campus life: Scholarship, leadership, athletics, social and religious activities and publication, dramatic, and other cultural activities. The organization has for its ideals character, recognition, opportunity, inspiration and loyalty. Five indispensable qualifications for membership are integrity, fellowship, humility, courage and consecration to a great purpose. A further qualification is that a member must place within the upper thirty-five per cent of the men in his college, scholastically.

Omicron Delta Kappa was founded in 1914 at Washington and Lee University, and its three cardinal purposes are: To recognize men who have attained a high standard of efficiency in collegiate activities and to inspire others to strive for conspicuous attainments along similar lines; to bring together the most representative men in all phases of collegiate life, and thus to create an organization which will help to mould the sentiment of the institution on questions of local and inter-collegiate interest; and to bring together students and faculty members on a basis of mutual interest and understanding.

Ray Allen, a Junior, of Memphis Tenn., is at present president of the Christian Union Cabinet and of the Honor Council and the Ministerial Club. He has for two years been a member of the Student Council and of the Honor Council. He was president of his Freshman class and is a member of Kappa Alpha social fraternity. He has been outstanding in religious activities.

George Case, a Senior, of Tarrytown, New York, and Brownsville, Tenn., is at present president of the Men's Pan-Hellenic Council and of Alpha Tau Omega social fraternity, and the Nitist Club. He is vice president of the Elections Commission, a member of the Service Club, of Stylus, of the Intramural Board, the Sou'wester staff and the Student Council. He is also a student member of the Committee on War Information, and a candidate for Honors in Philosophy. He served for some time this year as proctor of Calvin Hall.

Dr. Felix B. Gear, vice president of Southwestern, and Albert Bruce Curry professor of Bible, was invited to become a faculty member of the organization to replace Dr. Robert Pond, whose term as an active member of the circle expires this year.

Old members of the circle include William Allen, president; John Whitsitt, vice president; Dr. H. J. Bassett, secretary-treasurer; Dr. Pond, Dr. W. Ross Junkin, Roland Jones, Robert Goostree, and Julian Nall.

The new members will be guests of the circle at lunch in the Bell Room this afternoon.

BULLETIN

A special bulletin coming just before press time from the Men's Dormitories announces that Dr. Ogden Baine has been appointed special faculty representative to the dormitory men. This announcement was made at a meeting of the dormitory men last night. Dr. Baine's duties, it is understood, will be to receive complaints from the dormitory students and assure them of a hearing before the faculty.

New Navy Reserve Program Now Out

For College Physics, Math and Engineering Juniors and Seniors

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—Junior and Senior college students had an opportunity today to enroll under a new Navy officer-candidate program.

Lieut. A. B. Pittman, USNR, officer in charge of the Office of Naval Procurement in Nashville, said that the new plan would be known as the SV-7 program and is designed for students 18 to 28 years old who are pursuing a course leading to an engineering degree or to a baccalaureate degree with major in physics, naval architecture, mathematics or electronics.

This is the first Navy officer-candidate plan for Junior and Senior college students since the V-7 program was stopped with the President's order halting voluntary enlistments last December.

"The Navy needs well-qualified college men for subsequent commissioning in the Naval Reserve, upon satisfactory completion of the Reserve Midshipman course, to serve on the many warships which are being launched almost daily," Lieut. Pittman said.

Applicants will be examined at the Office of Naval Officer Procurement, located in the Third National Bank Building, Nashville.

The accepted candidate will remain on an active duty status in college until placed on active duty under authority from the Bureau of Naval Personnel in Washington.

Franco-German Club To Meet Tuesday

The Franco-German Club will hold its next meeting in the Zeta House Tuesday night.

The program has not been completed yet, but one feature will be the discussion of the French film sponsored by the club. This movie is "The Human Beast," adapted from the novel of the same name, by Emile Zola, and the stars are Jean Gabin and Simon Simone.

All students are urged to lend their support to this undertaking of the Franco-German Club. All proceeds from the advance sale of tickets will go to the benefit of our French Allies. Only the advance sale of tickets will count. The admission is thirty cents for students and members of the armed forces and forty-four cents for adults.

The movie will be shown at the Linden Circle Theatre on April 6. Tickets may be secured from any member of the club.

Officers of the Franco-German club include: Harry Frissell, president; Meredith Flaunt, vice president; Virginia Hughes, secretary-treasurer; Hugh Davidson, historian; Dr. Paulsen is the adviser.

ODK Holds Dance To Honor New Members Saturday

Sophomore Cup Will Be Awarded in Gym Tomorrow Night

Phi circle of Omicron Delta Kappa will hold its second script dance of the year in the Farguson Field House in honor of its new members, tapped in chapel today. The gym will be decorated in the colors of the fraternity, sky blue, white and black. Featured in the decorative scheme will be the letters Omicron Delta Kappa, and the outline key which is the emblem of the fraternity. Tommy Meadows orchestra will play and there will be three no-breaks, two specials and an ODK leadout.

According to the custom of the circle, the ODK Sophomore Cup will be presented. This cup is presented annually to the sophomore student, who in the eyes of members of the circle most nearly fulfills the qualifications and ideals of Omicron Delta Kappa. The same qualifications and activities are considered in the selection of the person to whom the cup is to be awarded as in consideration of candidates for Omicron Delta Kappa itself. The cup will be presented at some as yet unannounced time during the dance.

Last year's winner of the Sophomore Cup was Ray Allen, who was tapped for membership in Omicron Delta Kappa this morning in chapel.

New members and their dates will be George Case with Peggy Kelly and Ray Allen with guest, and Dr. and Mrs. Felix B. Gear. Old members and their dates are William Allen, president, with Marjorie Moorhead; John Whitsitt, vice president, with Cissy Fauntleroy; Bob Goostree with Mabel Francis; Julian Nall with Louise Howry and Roland Jones with guest. Dr. Robert W. Hartley will attend with Mrs. Hartley, Professor W. R. Junkin with Mrs. Junkin and Mr. John Rollow with Mrs. Rollow.

Students Say

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF THE SOUTHWESTER?

Sam Stephenson—It would be censored! Goostree, bah!

Virginia Wade—A thing of the past.

Lupe Wellford—It could contain something more than a list of past and future date lists. It's definitely below average.

Imogene Wilson—Catty, isn't it, and I do mean Goostree.

Dot Hall—What's that?

Betty Albro—Those words would never be allowed in S'western's halls. Goostree—Superb! Superb!

Nancy Kizer—I'll never tell.

Dorothy Schrodt—Must I say it? Margaret Lyne—It's o.k. by me.

Zeta Tau Alpha And Sigma Nu To Hold Joint Formal

Next Saturday Night In Gym; With Music By Meadows

Zeta Tau Alpha and Sigma Nu will unite their resources in staging their annual spring formal Saturday, the 20th, from 8 till 12. The scene will be the Farguson Field House and Tommy Meadows will furnish the music.

The white star of Sigma Nu and the annual Star Dust Ball inspired the combination of the two themes for a White Star Dust Formal. A canopy of Silver Stars and streamers of blue cellophane extending from the center and ending at each end with the lighted crests of each organization will complete the theme.

The bandstand will be decorated in silver and blue. There will be three no-breaks, two specials and a Zeta-Sigma Nu leadout. A medley of "The White Star of Sigma Nu" and "Stardust" will be played for the leadout.

Officers of Zeta Tau Alpha who will attend are: Mary Virginia Smith, president; Emily Morgan, vice president; Kathryn Martin Jones, secretary; Betty Albro, treasurer; Jane Soderstrom, historian; Joy Gallimore, conductor, and Alice Siviter, guard.

Officers of Sigma Nu who will attend are: Billy Sneros, commander; Kenny Holland, lieutenant commander; James Andrews, treasurer; Robert Goostree, secretary, and Bill McClure, sentinel.

Double Capacity For Wave Training

Women Take Over at Anacostia Naval Air Training Station

NASHVILLE—Two new developments in the rapid expansion and progress of the Women's Reserve of the U. S. Naval Reserve were announced here this week by Ensign Dorothy Lull, procurement officer for Waves in Tennessee.

All Naval training facilities for storekeepers at the University of Indiana will be turned over to the Women's Reserve as part of the expansion program which calls for training increased numbers of Women's Reservists of the Navy, Coast Guard and Marines.

Additional Women Reservists, all seamen, have taken over important work at Anacostia Naval Air Station. The new contingent of Waves at Anacostia are a few of the 6,200 Women Reservists now in duty or in training. Their numbers are being rapidly added to under the new recruiting plan whereby information and preliminary phases of application are available at more than 500 Navy Recruiting Stations.

The Indiana School for storekeepers has a capacity of 1,200 trainees every four months, but at present half of these are men. The change, making Indiana an entirely Women's Reserve training school, will take place gradually. No more classes of men will be admitted and as each of three classes now in training graduates, classes of women will replace them.

Storekeepers are trained at Indiana by the faculty of the University in cooperation with the Navy. The new move doubles the capacity for training women storekeepers, and follows by less than a month doubling of the capacity of the training school of yeomen at Stillwater, Okla.

Junior Commandos!

So you're wondering, too! Is it purely for unsocial purposes? We hear there is dissention in the ranks already. Pappy Hiltzheim seems to be straining at the leash. But we understand James Edwards and Ray Allen have the inside track.

APOLOGIES

The SOUTHWESTER has been asked by the Co-Editors, Miss Marianna McCalla and Miss Janet Kelso, to apologize for and correct an error which occurred in the Co-Ed Edition. The Co-Editors wish to extend their apologies to Flora Williamson, Business Manager of the Co-Ed Edition, and the Business Staff for inadvertently leaving out their names in the mast-head containing the Co-Ed Edition Staff. This was a gross error. Those names should have appeared.

Players Plan New Production

Four Plays Under Consideration, Lake Announces Today

The Southwestern Players plan to present a play selected, directed, staged and acted in by members of the dramatic group sometime after the beginning of the next quarter. Laura Lake, president of the Players has announced.

Four plays are under consideration by the playreading committee. These stage vehicles claim four distinct types of audience appeal. The selection verdict and plans for casting and staging will be announced probably in the next Sou'wester.

"Yes and No" by Kenneth Horne, is an unusual and highly imaginative drama in the "wonder-what-would-happen-if" mood. P. G. Wodenhouse's "Laughing Gas" is a modern farce with a huge cast. "Outward Bound" from the pen of Sutton Vane is a serious and thoughtful drama about the Ship of Death and its passengers. "The Shining Hour" by Keith Winter is an English drawing room play complete with domestic entanglements and tense scenes.

Rapp Opens Today In Balinese Room

In Claridge Hotel, With Featured Radio Band Entertainment

When Barney Rapp and his famous orchestra take over the podium in the Balinese Room of Hotel Claridge Friday night, audiences will have an opportunity to see and hear a band which has ranked among the nation's top musical units for almost a score of years. Indeed, Barney Rapp rates with veterans like Ted Lewis, Fred Waring, Jan Garber, Guy Lombardo and Horace Heidt—all of whom have seen new bands come and go, but who, themselves, seem to go on forever. And like these perennial favorites, Rapp owes his continuous popularity to the fact that his rhythms and showmanship are always as fresh and up to date as tomorrow's headlines.

"Rhapsodies by Rapp" have been thrilling radio listeners for many years. Barney Rapp has long been a feature over all the major radio networks—NBC, CBS, and MBS; and his radio programs total several thousand hours of broadcasting, including several commercial programs.

The outstanding reason for Barney Rapp's many years of success is undoubtedly his great showmanship. No matter what he is playing, or where he is playing—Barney Rapp does a sparkling, imaginative job that commands interest and generates enthusiasm.

Featured with Barney Rapp are the

Taylor Heads Group For Next Session; Officers Elected

Tau Chapter of Chi Beta Phi, national Honorary Scientific Fraternity, invited to membership five new members in the spring tapping service which was held in chapel last Friday morning. Those students tapped were James Andrews, David Baldrige, Frank Elby, Tommie Jean Haygood, and Hugh Murray.

The requirements for membership in Chi Beta Phi are that the students must evince a deep scientific interest, must be majoring in a science, and must have at least twenty-eight hours with a 3.2 average in science courses.

At the luncheon in the Bell Room that day in honor of the newly-tapped members the election of officers for the next session was held. Jack Taylor was elected president; Marion McKee, vice president, and David Baldrige, secretary-treasurer.

James Andrews, a Senior member of Sigma Nu Fraternity, was recognized for his work in Mathematics. He is a candidate for distinction in that subject. David Baldrige, a Junior pledge of Kappa Alpha, has done outstanding work in Chemistry. Frank Elby, Sophomore, was recognized for outstanding work in Chemistry. Tommie Jean Haygood, a Senior, is also a candidate for distinction in Mathematics, and is outstanding in that subject. Hugh Murray, a Junior member of Kappa Alpha, was given recognition for work in Biology.

Cabinet Plans Set

The coming Y.W.C.A. luncheon for March promises to be one of the outstanding campus events of the month. Following the luncheon, the regular discussion meeting will center about the theme of Post-War World Affairs. The cabinet is securing outstanding authority to address the group on this subject.

Taking place in the Tri Delt house March 20th, at 1:00 o'clock, the program, beside featuring the forum, will also present several interesting special music selections. Following the meeting, Jean Dickson will lead the entire group in a series of songs.

Plans will be made to continue the cabinet's work at the Juvenile Court on Thursdays. Girls from the Cabinet supervise recreation for the children at the Court, and a special meeting is to be called for the prospective expansion of the work.

Special efforts are being made to have as large a body of girls present as possible. Girls who are interested in the discussion and would like reservations for the luncheon are asked to see Katherine Miller before next Friday.

Education Elsewhere

"Education" on Nazi terms has become a major interest of Vidkun Quisling, the Norwegian quisling. Smuggled reports reveal the puppet premier has put the scientific works of Marie Curie and all books by authors of Polish origin on the "verboten volume" list. At the same time, libraries were ordered to display "large pictures" of Vidkun Quisling.

Sportsman's Corner . . .

With the approach of spring, the sports world is now in the waning stages of the basketball season. Many tournaments have been completed and with many surprising upsets. For example, in the Southeastern conference Kentucky finished the regular season as champion but were upset by Tennessee, 35-33, in the finals of the conference tournament. Kentucky advanced to the final round over Vanderbilt and Mississippi State. The latter gave the Wildcats a battle before going down in defeat. Tennessee knocked over Georgia Tech and L. S. U. to gain the title round. Another tournament that resulted in an upset was the Southern Conference, in which Duke fell at the hands of George Washington University by a score of 56-40. Duke was the defending champion.

Since last issue the Lynx cagers have finished their season. The home team suffered defeats at the hands of Memphis State and Phi Delta Kappa. This last defeat eliminated them in the quarter finals of the Tri-State tournament. The Lynx finished second in the City league at the Y. If they had not suffered a defeat by the U. T. Doc's while Holland and McClure were attending the Symphony concert they would have tied Coca-Cola. One of their outstanding wins was over the Four Ferry Command, 46-45. This team had formerly beaten Memphis State by a one-point margin. However, it is hardly accurate to say the same team, for the Ferry Command never has the same team twice. The Lynx chalked up further victories over Grace St. Luke and Vesco, and both by wide margins.

The intramural tournament has completed the first round with the Kappa Sigs on top, closely followed by K. A. and S. A. E. A number of fans have been asking for an All Star selection. Although the tournament isn't over, your columnist will oblige with the following selections: Kennedy, Kappa Sig and St. Martin, N. F., forwards; Kelly, Kappa Sig, center; Speros, Sigma Nu and Hood, S. A. E., guards.

Recently Warren Prewitt, former Southwestern athlete, received upon graduation from Army Air Corps a loving cup as the outstanding athlete of his class. Although not a student here, Eugene Bledsoe is familiar to many of the town students. He was awarded a guard position on the Southeastern Conference All-Star Quintet, playing for Mississippi State. George Senesky, St. College ace, needed only six points to break the

NEWS by the CASE

We were most deeply impressed by the exceedingly profound analysis of the news which appeared in the last issue of this paper, under the heading of "News for Space." Seldom indeed, has a point been so well cleared up as was done through that understanding reiteration and by that sound, yet simple, emphasis.

It is our desire to here reprint a most interesting document which was presented for probate in the court of Judge Charles D. Millard, in White Plains, New York. It was entitled "Last Will and Testament of Adolph Hitler, alias Adolph Schickelgruber." It was dated "Very soon." The document reads as follows: "I, Adolph Hitler, being of unsound mind and misery, and considering the possibility of a fatal accident known as assassination, declare this to be my last (you hope) will and testament: To France I leave all the beautiful mademoiselles in occupied Paris. I never was one for girls. Whoops!

To England, I leave the original manuscript of "Mein Kampf," which their R.A.F. spoiled. I had written a different finish but their fliers got me in the end.

To Norway's Quisling, I leave my double cross. He was a piker compared to me, when it comes to double-crossing.

To Poland, I leave a 16x10 gold-framed photograph of myself to hang in their public schools to scare the hell out of any kid who might think along Nazi lines.

To Mussolini, I leave my Chaplin mustache, which he is to make into a toupe for his ivory dome. He will need a disguise to hide from the Italians who know what a mess he got them into.

To Russia, I leave all of my frozen assets. I never could warm up to Comrade Stalin, or get near enough to Moscow to even smell vodka.

To Franklin D. Roosevelt, I leave my apology for interrupting his fishing, but he got even. His 'unconditional surrender' agreement at Casablanca certainly cooked my goose.

To Count Ciano, son-in-law of Mussolini, I leave the Victoria Cross for bringing down in one day 41 bombers and 72 fighters—all Italian.

To Japan (land of the rising scum) especially to Hirohito, I leave all my medals, which will help him to sink quicker when he goes down in the Pacific.

To Himmler and Goering, I leave the final execution of my will as they are experienced in executions.

To Denmark, I leave my ashes in the knowledge that there will then always be something rotten in Denmark.

To Pierre Laval, I leave a moldy cheese (ersatz if you please) so that he will always remember me, thereby.

To all the world, I just leave, and will they thank God. My final wish individual scoring record for one season as this was written.

For those interested, Michigan won the Big Ten indoor track meet but lost the conference swimming title to Ohio State.

is that I be buried in an asbestos suit, as I will need it where I am going."

We do not believe that there is any need to comment further upon this exquisite expression of our own innermost feelings about Herr Tooth-brush Bristle.

It is not the usual custom of this column to give dramatic criticism. However, there are time when strong criticism is in the best of order. "The Patriots," by Sidney Kingsley, recently opened in New York. It was opened upon the two hundredth anniversary of the birth of Thomas Jefferson. The plot is based upon the life and strivings of Mr. Jefferson. In a most spurious presentation of the facts it is implied that only through efforts of Jefferson was the United States saved from autocratic government. It upholds Jefferson as the champion of the rights of the people.

Jefferson's opponent Hamilton is portrayed as the sponsor of an autocratic form of government. The whole play is designed to stir up its audience emotionally to a realization of the struggles that occurred at the founding of our republic. This is well and good in itself. It is also at a good time.

Yet it is most disturbing to find that in this time of danger and excitement that certain radical elements, under the guise of patriotism are trying to undermine our faith in our foremost principles. Admittedly Jefferson was the champion of the rights of the people. He was also the leader of those who wished cheap money to erase their debts. Even beyond that he represented the radically minded revolutionists. On the other hand Hamilton was not as he was portrayed an ambitious autocrat. He believed that the people had certain inalienable rights, but he also believed at the same time that they had certain duties. It was especially in this respect that these men differed. Hamilton stood for an honest fiscal policy, full repayment of

Chi O's And K.D.'s Neck And Neck

At End Of First Round Of Girls' Cage Tournament

At this point it looks as though the Chi O's and the K. D.'s were neck and neck for the top step in the girl's basketball tournament. Both of them have excellent teams boasting such hot shots as Silliman Gunther, Kizer, Reid, Bailey, Williamson, Prichard, Morrow and Fauntleroy. The A. O. P.'s have had a fairly successful season so far, but don't offer much threat of defending the championship cup, which they walked away with last year. They have Scott Bigger, Miller, New, Ming and Jett as standbys, occasionally calling into play Kelso and McCalla (The Coeditors).

The Tri Dels have a clean slate, except the one time they beat the Zeta's. Their stars are Hunter, Lay, Milner (who made 18 points in one game), and Stoltzenberg. The Zeta's have a clean slate period. They have a fighting team, led by Albro, Smith and Walthal. The non-sorority team has done well with the help of Chism, Moorhead and Hill.

debts, stability and domestic order. Maybe Hamilton did not trust the average man as did Jefferson, yet his lack of trust was not without basis. He had seen the fury of angry mobs. He had noticed their tyrannies and jealousies. The basis of this play seems to us to be an undercover attack upon those forces which seek to maintain order in the government and in the people, upon those who prefer honesty to expediency, to those who prefer justice rather than advantage. Only the stupid, the radical, and the subversive will accept this kind of play as a genuine expression of Americanism. God help America if we do accept the doctrine of rights without concurrent duties.

Open Letter

Professor J. H. Davis.
Dear Sir:

At the time when the present series of forum discussions was being planned, I was appointed as a member of the Student-Faculty committee. I appreciate your attitude toward the participation of the student members of the committee. However, the attitude of some of the other members and influential non-members has been in direct contrast with your own.

I hereby present my resignation to you as a member of the Student Faculty Forum committee, for the following reasons:

1. The student members have not been consulted upon forum policy.
2. The student members have not been invited to attend the planning meetings.
3. The student members have not been allowed to participate in the forums in other than the auxiliary functions of asking questions during slack periods of the discussions, of greeting guests at the doors, and of sitting at the speakers table.
4. The student members were not informed of their functions for the present forum until this Thursday morning.

5. I do not believe it possible to cooperate, or to attempt to cooperate when the possibility of cooperation is non-existent.

Association with you in attempting to secure faculty-student cooperation has been a pleasure, yet the other factors here mentioned compel me to tender my immediate resignation.

Most sincerely,
GEORGE B. CASE.

The reason for publishing this letter is not for personal advertising, rather it is to answer those who wonder why there is not adequate cooperation between students and faculty. I mean to point out that those of us that respond to appeals for cooperation find that we are not allowed to cooperate. Acts in good faith by the students in this and in other matters have been nullified in every instance. If the administration and faculty want cooperation, let them act in good faith.
