The News Beat

by John Crabtree

The Marines have landed and the situation is well in hand. This is the situation in the Middle East when this article was written. You must read further to realize the implication of its meaning. There has been any number of questions in both official and unofficial circles as to how long it would take to put the military aspects of the Eisenhower Doctrine into effect. To end all this conjecture the United States Sixth Fleet now in the Eastern Mediterranean put ashore in Lebanon one thousand combat ready Marines in the amazing time of approximately thirty-six hours. This may seem like a long time to land one thousand men, but we are told that the problems of supply being considered it is a very short time.

The above paragraph does not mean that the U. S. has gone to war, but rather that the old policy of stand firm or as T. Roosevelt put it, "speak softly and carry a big stick," is in operation. And you can be sure we are letting the world see the big stick. There are some fifty ships and twenty-five thousand men in the Sixth Fleet. We hope that the all too prevalent policy of appeasement to the Communist forces is at an end as is indicated by this landing of Marines.

The question of stability in Jordan is still far from a pat answer. It is the sincere hope of all the West that the young king can maintain his throne, particularly

S. W. Goed Memphis Cotton Carnival Queen

Miss Lila Wrape, Southwestern junior international studies major, was announced last Saturday as Queen of the 1957 Cotton Carnival in the traditional crowning ceremonies at Ellis Auditorium.

Wednesday in student assembly, Miss Wrape addressed the student body and commended them for their support of the Cotton Carnival in the past and the interest which they are taking once again this year as is evidenced by the various students who are actively engaged in the festivities in one way or another.

As the Carnival itself will get underway on May 14, next week's Sou'wester will give a complete rundown on which Southwesterners are what in the fun.

The Publications Board is now accepting applications for the positions of Editor and Business Manager of the SOU'WESTER and Editor and Business Manager of the LYNX.

Each of these positions is open to any member of the student body and each carries an honorarium of $100 per semester.

All interested students may submit their letters of application stating qualifications to any member of the Publications Board or to the Commissioner of Publications any time before Friday, May 8. Final selections will be made the following week.

Kappa Omicron Chapter of the Alpha Omicron Pi cordially invites the faculty and entire student body to its Rose Ball Saturday night, May 4, from 8 to 12 in the Chickasaw Ballroom of the Chisca Hotel.

Two Classes Name Honor Council Reps

Seven junior and senior members of next year's Honor Council were named in chapel balloting Wednesday.

Sophomore Council representatives will be chosen in class meetings Saturday morning. Richard Dortch and Ed Stock were named to the Honor Council presidency and vice-presidency, respectively, in elections held earlier in the spring.

Next year's Council members from the senior class are John Quinn, Louis Zbinden, Beth LeMaster, and Mary Jane Smalley. Juniors are Sam Martin, Sandy Calmer, and Truly Brown. The remaining seat to which the class is entitled will be filled by vice-president Stock.

Plans Announced For Summer Stock

Plans for a Memphis summer stock theatre, to be known as Front Street Theatre located in the Military Ballroom of the King Cotton Hotel, are now under way. Productions will be under the direction of George Toulitos, and Barbara Toulitos will be producer.

The company, composed of out of town and local talent, will provide the people of Memphis and the surrounding area with an enjoyable and unique type of light summer entertainment. Season tickets will be available for the series of four plays.

IFC Elects McLellan Prexy For 2nd Term

The Inter-fraternity Council met in the Bell Room Wednesday and re-elected Denton McLellan to his second term as Southwestern IFC president.

The Council also elected Buddy Whiteaker to fill the office of vice-president of the group and Steve Tacker is next year's secretary-treasurer.

McLellan is an ATO, Whiteaker a SN, and Tacker represents PIKA.

In other action Wednesday, the IFC reached a deadlock in its efforts to amend its constitution to specify the method of selecting the Council's representative to the Student Council, and will reconvene Tuesday to settle the question.

New Class Officers Are Now All Picked

Southwestern's class elections were completed this week, and their conclusion saw the completion of the process of selecting student government representatives for next year.

Elected in the senior class were Johnny Bryan, president, Dick Baldwin, vice-president, Neville Frierson, secretary-treasurer, Sue Robinson, Student Council representative, and Mary Ann Lee, Publications Board representative.

TORCH TAPS TOPS: FOUR NAMED TO HONOR GROUP

ELAINE DONELSON IS OUTSTANDING SOPHOMORE IN WEDNESDAY CEREMONY

Four Southwestern juniors and one sophomore were honored Wednesday, May 1 by Torch, honorary society for senior women, which recognizes outstanding senior women who have attained high standards of leadership and scholarship throughout their college careers. Nancy Carter, Neville Frierson, Beth LeMaster, and Mary Jane Smalley were tapped into membership, and Elaine Donelson was named outstanding sophomore girl.

Nancy Carter, a member of Kappa Delta, is now Secretary of that sorority and was formerly Editor. She is President of S.T.A.B. Intersorority, Vice President of Religious Seminar, and Secretary of the PRC for next year. She was last year's Princess of the Delta Invitational Track Meet and this year reigned over the same event as queen. She is also Poetry Editor of Stylus.

Neville Frierson has been Music Chairman and Personnel Chairman of Chi Omega sorority and is now President. She was Secretary-Treasurer of her sophomore class, Student Council Representative of her Junior class, and will be Secretary-Treasurer of her Senior class. She was a member of Voorhies Dorm Board for two years and Honor Council for one year. She was last year's Kappa Alpha Rose.

Beth LeMaster, who transferred to Southwestern her sophomore year from Mary Baldwin, is President of AOPi sorority. She is Secretary-Treasurer of her Junior class, YWCA President, and student representative of the Danforth Project. She is on the PRC and has been on the Honor Council for two years. This year she was chosen Kappa Alpha Rose.

Mary Jane Smalley, last year's Torch outstanding sophomore girl, is a member of Kappa Delta sorority. She is Secretary-Treasurer of the student body, Business Manager of the Lynx, and last year was Co-chairman of the Student Counselors. She is campus reporter to the Commercial Appeal and has been selected a representative to the Going-To-College Handbook. She held the highest grade averages in her Freshman and Sophomore classes.

Outstanding sophomore Elaine Donelson is a member of Tri Delta sorority of which she has been Treasurer for two years. She was Publications Board Representative of her Freshman and Sophomore classes, and will hold the same office next year. She served on the Lynx staff last year and on the Sou'wester Staff as News Editor; she is a Student Counselor and a member of the Dorm Board. She has played in the orchestra for two years and is a member of the French Club.

A scholastic average of at least 2.8 is required for membership in Torch. Membership is limited to ten women who are tapped in May of their junior year.

Kip Shoaf

Pi Selects Kip Shoaf

Kip Shoaf was announced as May Day Pi, Monday, April 29, by Pi Intersorority, which honors outstanding sorority women on campus and each year recognizes a May Day Pi as the final new member of the year.

Kip, a junior from Covington, Tennessee, is a member of Chi Omega Sorority, which she serves as Herald. She is a member of Eta Sigma Phi, National Classical Languages Fraternity, of which she was formerly secretary. She participated in April Fool Festivities as Lady-In-Waiting, and was recently chosen Sweetheart of SAE Fraternity. Kip is also a Cheerleader for Southwestern.

Across The Desk

This week provides the perfect illustration of the need for the early consummation of the proposed suggestion of the IFC to the Administrative Committee concerning the establishment of a system of open hearings for cases, outside the jurisdiction of the Honor Council and not involving scholastic matters, concerning disputes between groups on campus, individuals and groups, individuals, and individuals and administration.

At present authoritative details of the situation which resulted in the suspension of one member from the varsity tennis team shortly before the team left for the TIAC tournament in Nashville are not known. There are many rumors abroad in the student body, but there is apparently only a minimum of factual information generally known.

On the basis of what is known, it is impossible to take a position pro or con on the wisdom of this decision. It is hasty to take an unequivocal stand that merely because the action impairs the efficiency of an athletic team it should not have been taken. If such were the case, the situation which would exist of excusing any and all actions merely because the individuals involved happen to be varsity athletes would be one of granting complete immunity from discipline on grounds which are certainly not justifiable by any reasonably oriented scale of values. The tail, in short, would be wagging the dog.

At the same time, disciplinary measures of this degree of severity should be very carefully weighed in terms of the enormity of the offense before they can be justified on the same reasonable value scale.

The whole point we are trying to make is this: if the facts were known, it would be possible for all to know exactly what the offense is and what it entails in terms of consequences. It would be well if the "open hearing" plan were in operation at the present time, but since it isn't, we can only urge that the committee which is working on it do its job with all wise haste so that in the future the present state of misunderstanding and misinformation may be avoided, if possible.

YOUR Student Council

The regular weekly meeting of the Student Council was held Tuesday evening at 6:00 p.m., with president Mike Cody presiding.

In the excused absence of the Athletic commissioner, Sam Martin reported that next Thursday, May 9, has been set for the intramural track meet, and that the track team will help with its arrangements. Activity Day date has been set for May 10.

Religious Commissioner John Quinn reported that a representative from the PRC will go to LeMoyne College this week to present the annual PRC scholarship from the proceeds of the Thanks-Through-Giving drive.

Mike Lupfer reported a proposed change of the Social Committee by-laws which will alter the method of representation on that committee. He also reported that the date will be set Thursday for the Student Council picnic. At Thursday's meeting groups will set their exclusive dates on next year's social calendar.

Next balloting on the Elections Commission schedule is that for next year's cheerleaders. Those are in the process of being set up at the present time.

IFC president Denton McLellan reported that the IFC will elect officers for next year Wednesday evening. He also pointed out that the Council would Wednesday consider the method by which their

LETTER to the EDITOR

Southwestern is currently engaged in a program of development. Every effort is being made by the college to interest high school students in attending school here—and these efforts are paying off.

An important facet of this program is a buildup in athletics—and the strides forward in Lynx teams over the past few years have been tremendous.

This week Coach Derrick Barton took his top-notch tennis team to Nashville in an attempt to win a second straight state collegiate crown, and chances for the repeat were excellent. One member of this team was refused permission to make the trip by the school, and refusal was delayed until immediately before the squad was to leave—a discourtesy to coach and team in the very timing of the announcement.

What this individual had done to warrant punishment is not here considered. Even he will agree that the act which brought about his restriction was not in the best of taste—although the incident would have been overlooked by most of the faculty. And it was a professor who pushed the charges to their ultimate conclusion. But the fact remains that it was a trivial thing which caused the trouble—not a violation of the honor code, disciplinary restrictions, or rules of the college in general.

The question which arises from all this is whether the crime, so-called, justified the punishment—in all that the punishment meant to the tennis team, the coach, and the school itself. If the removal of a member of the tennis team immediately before its most important match of the spring, and potentially the highpoint of the Southwestern athletic year, would punish that person and leave the team unimpaired, then there would be no basis for this letter.

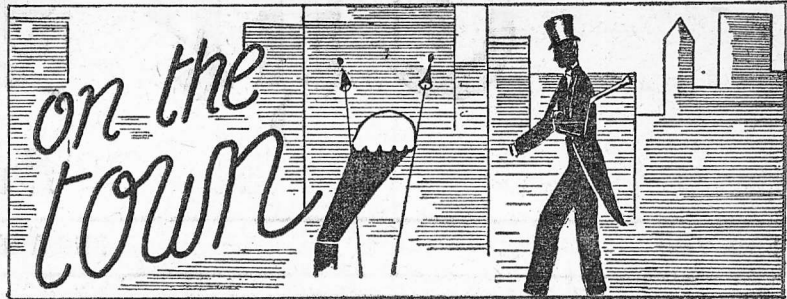

But this is not the case. The individual concerned suffered because of the restriction—true, but the greater hardship was imposed on the team, representing the interests of the college. It is hard to see a justification for this act, at least for an undergraduate who is proud of his school's teams, and jealous for their success.

During the past basketball season, a similar restriction was placed on one of the members of the cage squad, and the team suffered greatly, as a result, during the road games in which the player was kept from participating. Here too, the wisdom of the penalty imposed was lost to most observers, and protests came from every quarter.

The damage is done in both cases. The tennis team, still having a good chance to keep the state championship, is playing without one member. And perhaps this type of punishment will continue to be placed on Lynx teams by the college officials. But it seems that some method could be conceived to restrict the actions of an offender without harming a varsity team of which he is a member. Is this out of order? It seems not if Southwestern's program of development and athletic improvement is to be successful.

A FACE WITHOUT A NOSE IS NOT A PLEASANT THING!!!!

John Maxwell

by J. L. Jerden

The year is drawing to a close and with it comes the breeze which carries away the thoughts of the good times we have had this year. We see up in this air such things as leaf smoke (wonder where that came from?) Dean Diehl because of the fire crackers, a greasy petition (?), and at the present, the scent of final exams. The good side to all of this has been the opportunity to go "On The Town," which is now suggested.

If peace and quiet is your aim, then go to the Loew's Palace where you will hear the rhythm beat of the "War Drums," starring Lex Barker and Joan Taylor, and to really get your money's worth stay to see the "Revolt at Fort Laramie" with John Dehrer and Frances Helm.

Then to the Malco comes a sadistic young bully from a Southern military school who presents an eye opening story. This guy, Ben Gozzara, is "The Strange One" and his actions show it. He is described as "the most fascinating louse you ever met."

At the Loew's State is the story of the conflict about which every young girl dreams and that is to be romanced by a French migrant vineyard worker. The girl is Pier Angeli and the man is Mel Ferrer. "The Vintage" is the most exciting story ever written about the contributions of a grape.

Alan Ladd goes on an art treasure hunt with Sophia Loren in "Boy on a Dolphin" at the Warner, and Clifton Webb is the third person with ideas about who should get this treasure beneath the sea.

Then down the street at the Strand a new release, "The Ten Commandments," is now playing.

"Fernandel the Dressmaker" now showing at the Ritz presents the unique situation of a man inheriting a plush salon (not to be confused with saloon) from a lady friend of his. This little business all transpires without the knowledge of his wife who gets all shook up when she finds out about it.

Thus endeth the week of cinemas and the time of joy and happiness. Thus returneth the vile scent of final exams.

Campus Challenge

THE CHALLENGE OF SOUTHWESTERN

Southwestern offers a challenge to each one of us—a challenge to develop our mental capacities to the very highest, a challenge to grow and mature in our relations with other people, and greatest of all, a challenge to find, to understand, and to love and serve God. Most colleges have as their aims and objectives the development of students mentally and socially, but the aim of developing the student spiritually is usually reserved for the church college.

It is easy to find God on our campus. We see Him as we look at the soaring lines of our Gothic buildings reaching upwards toward the sky, the same style of architecture that inspired the people of medieval Europe so many years ago. We see Him in the flowering loveliness of Fisher Memorial Garden in the springtime. We see Him in the quiet peacefulness of the little chapel in Voorhies Hall when the morning sun makes the stained-glass figures of Mary and Martha of Bethany beam with saintliness.

In our classrooms our professors try to lead us toward a better understanding of the Bible and, through the Bible, to a better understanding of God. Our chapel services three days a week and our Religious Evaluation Week twice a year attempt to bring us into a closer relationship with God. These are the challenges Southwestern offers us.

Whether we accept these challenges, whether we lift up our eyes and see God in the beauty around us, whether we listen with our minds and hearts to the Bible lectures, the chapel programs, the Religious Evaluation speakers, is up to each of us. If we accept the challenge and find God and learn to know Him in our imperfect way, then we are offered the greatest challenge of all—the challenge of loving God with all our mind and body and heart, and of committing our lives to His Service. He does not offer us an easy way, but for a job well-done the reward is great. This is our challenge—mine and yours. Will you accept it?

Latta Heads Dorm Board

Mary Ada Latta was selected to serve as President of Voorhies Governing Board for 1957-1958 in a recent dormitory election.

Board members chosen were Nancy Carter and Anne Underwood as senior representatives, Elaine Donelson, Peggy Ann Bornman, Truly Brown, and Bates Peacock as junior representatives, and Carol Ann Quade, Ruth Tuthill, Margaret Stewart, and Gwynne Salmon as sophomore representatives. Freshman members of the Board will be elected by the incoming freshman at a special meeting next fall.

It was announced at a joint meeting of the dormitories April 29th that it will be necessary next year for the upperclassmen dormitory to be extended to the third floor of the present freshman dorm; this will, of course, diminish the number of potential freshmen.

OPINION, PLEASE!

by Mary Ann Lee

Question: What specific action would you suggest that the Southwestern student body take in regard to making its feelings concerning the need for a student center known to the administration, Board of Directors, and patrons of Southwestern?

Claire Sebrella, Junior:

I think Southwestern students should take every possible means for bringing the attention of the administration the need for a student center. A petition could be drawn up and submitted to the officials. The Student Council could, with the approval of the student body, appoint a committee to present to the faculty all of the many reasons why Southwestern needs the center. Since all the students want their feelings expressed by being gas enthusiastic as possible in supporting any measure decided upon.

Dal Covington, Freshman:

I think Southwestern needs a place for students to meet and have a suitable place for meetings, parties, etc. A committee should be considered to study a plan or idea for a student center. I also think that a place of this sort should be run by the student body and planned so that the student will benefit to the fullest extent. Also a petition drawn up by the student body would also help to show the feeling of the student body.

Andy Gandy, Junior:

The Student Body with the aid of the Student Council could designate a committee to draw up a petition with a proposed plan. First, however, the committee should find the

COLLEGIATES' "DREAM BOY" MAY SCORE

Five Southwestern boys may be well on their way to musical fame if a hit-type record of an original song called "Dream Boy" realizes its potential.

"Dream Boy" was written by Dickie Lipscomb, Memphis State student who sings the lead and also plays guitar. Backing him with vocal effects are Southwestern freshmen Allen Reynolds, David Glenn and Bill Talmage. Allen whistles the catchy introduction to the song. J. L. Jerden and Selby Barrach are featured on bass and drums, respectively. Eddie Weil of State rounds out the rhythm trio on hot guitar.

Because of contract difficulties the tune is not as yet waxed by the company which has shown interest and thus far exists only as a master recording made from tape. Dewey Phillips, Memphis' top rock and roll disc jockey, is solidly behind the new group, known as the "Collegiates," and he has played the tape recording several times on his show. Many listeners promptly wrote or phoned asking where they could buy "Dream Boy." Phillips is high on the song and thinks it will click once it is available for release and the few rough spots are ironed out.

The Collegiates made one of their first public appearances at the Sigma Nu dance last weekend and were enthusiastically received. If "Dream Boy" is released Memphis and Southwestern may have come up with the answer to the Stardusters and the Hilltoppers.

The Week with the Greeks

by Mary Farish

Well, with all the student body elections over it looks as if the fraternities and sororities are getting back into the swing of things and having a few parties.

Last week the Kappa Delta's Mothers Club entertained for the seniors with a tea at the sorority house. Refreshments were served to the members and the senior mothers. Truly Brown entertained with some piano selections.

Chi Omega initiated four girls last week. They were Sarah Longino, Faye Rogers, Patsy Smith, and Clara Stevens. They also had a dinner for members and their parents.

Monday night the ATO's had initiation and elections of officers for next year. Donnie Cross and Lewis Wilkins were initiated. The new officers are as follows: Worthy Master—Bob Booth, Worthy Chaplain—Louis Bledsoe, Worthy Keeper of the Exchequer—Tom Moody, Worthy Scribe—Lewis Wilkins, Worthy Keeper of the Annals—Bill Hackleman, Worthy Usher—Charles Hammett, and Worthy Sentinel—David Smith.

Kappa Alpha elected their officers for next year Monday night. The top nine officers for next year are as follows: No. 1—Charlie Ames, No. 2—David Simpson, No. 3—Mike Lupfer, No. 4—Jack Streete, No. 5—Bradley Wallace, No. 6—Richard Park, No. 7—Louis Zbinden, No. 8—Mike Ivy, and No. 9—Ray Zbinden.

On April 29th, Paul Ivy was initiated into Pi Kappa Alpha. The service was held in the Pike House with John Devine, President, and

EARLY DAWN CEREMONY SOLEMNIZES CLUTCH PICKS

By John Farris

Precisely at the stroke of midnight last night four outstanding junior men were routed from their beds by the traditional rabid Doberman Pinschers of CLUTCH, men's honorary and leadership fraternity, and compelled to lead from their windows into the sacred vat of stable sweepings while members of CLUTCH gathered 'round and rendered the Amanda's First Act Seduction motif from Staubert's long-forgotten opera "Der Klinker." The members of CLUTCH were arrayed in the time-honored red nightshirts decorated with boughs of hemlock and they toasted the new initiates with traditional two-gallon flagons as each initiate arose in turn from the sacred vat and was hosed down.

Membership in CLUTCH is awarded to only the truly distinctive male student who holds a 3.9 average and a goodly supply of CLUTCH activity points. New members of CLUTCH invited to join the bunch last night were:

Max S. Churdley, a 4.0 average and several dozen CLUTCH activity points; Zeke (Happy Zeke) Murch, a 3.8999 average and scads of CLUTCH activity points; Eddie Wobble, a 4.0 average and many, many CLUTCH activity points; and Schuyler B. Shin, a 4.0 average and plenty of CLUTCH activity points.

Max, known affectionately by his many friends as "Mr. Churdley," is vice-president of Students for Scandinavian Relief, president of the Teddy Roosevelt Chapter of the Stoutheart's Hiking club, a President of LUK, Dream Boy of Dateless Wenches, ex-officio Courier of Alpha Phi Rho, and campus correspondent for Pakistani Youth. He has been a leader ever since somebody told him he was.

Happy Zeke plays football, basketball, baseball, handball, softball, ice hockey, jai-alai and the horses. In campus religious activities he is delegate to the Salvation Army All-Sing. He is devout.

Eddie, known familiarly by all as "Stupid," is a member of the Bring Back the Great Auk Society, president of the Early Risers for Milking, president of LUK, senior class representative to the Committee for More and Better Culture, editor of Students for Evolutionary Thought, a civilian plane spotter, and kind to his deaf old mother.

(Eddie is currently on social probation for stealing his history teacher's third period lecture hall and converting it into a day camp for underprivileged six-year-old Negro children. When informed of his probation Eddie fumed, "That's the trouble with this school. Nobody can take a joke.")

Schuyler B., who answers to the nickname "The Fat Lover Boy," is president of LUK, parts his hair on the left, used to be an Eagle Scout, is a helluva good guy and really devout. He plays a crashing good game of bridge, collects shrunken heads, reads early Mickey Spillane for relaxation and tintillation, wants to be a success in his chosen vocation, the shoe shine game. His favorite movie was The Snake Pit. He saw it 84 times. CLUTCH is lucky to get its hands on somebody of this caliber.

Musicians Perform For Music Week

The Music Department of Southwestern at Memphis is participating in the activities of National Music Week with four performances on the campus. The series will open with a recital by Ann Hart of Dyersburg, Tenn., a senior who will be heard in voice recital on Sunday afternoon, May 5th at 3 p.m. in the Bohlman Hall, 1822 Overton Park Avenue.

The most important event of the week will occur that same Sunday afternoon at 5 p.m. at the Evergreen Presbyterian Church when the Southwestern Singers and Orchestra directed by Dr. Burnet C. Tuthill, Director of the Music Department, will present three choral works with orchestral accompaniment. The program opens with the Mass in G by Carl Maria von Weber, is followed by a new composition, Agnus Dei by Professor Raymond Haggh, of the music department of Memphis State College. The third number is a Te Deum by Henry Purcell, 17th century British composer. The first and last numbers will call upon the services of a number of soloists—sopranos Ann Hart, Salliejane Dickerson of Helena, Ark., Helen McDonald of Montgomery, Ala., and Amanda Schmitt of New Orleans, La.; baritones Billy Jon Woods of Kennett, Mo., and Keith Buckley of Caraway, Ark. A recent graduate, William Akins of Memphis, will sing the tenor solo. The public is cordially invited to be present at this and all the other recitals.

On Tuesday, May 7 at 8:30, senior pianist William Alfred Browne, Jr. of Memphis will give his recital at the Bohlmann Hall. His teacher, Professor Myron Myers, has chosen for him a demanding program opening with a Bach Prelude and Fugue in D major and proceeding with the Beethoven Waldstein Sonata. After intermission Mr. Browne will play the Ravel Sonata and then close with Liszt's eleventh Hungarian Rhapsody.

On Friday, May 10 at 8:30, also at Bohlmann Hall, Miss Harriet Byrd of Wynne, Ark., will present another senior piano recital. A brilliant student of Professor Myers she will open with a Bach Sinfonia from the second Partita and then essay the very difficult Variations on a Theme of Paganini by Brahms. Her sonata is Chopin's Op. 38 and this will be followed by three numbers by Ravel.

Warren Picked "Miss Paint-Up"

Joan Warren, Memphis freshman, was named Miss Paint Up, second alternate in the Miss City Beautiful Contest held April 26. Joan, one of seventy-nine contestants, was the only entry from Southwestern. She represented the Kappa Delta Mothers' Club.

The contest is held yearly in conjunction with Clean up-Paint Up-Fix Up Week. Winners participate in parades and appear at luncheons throughout the designated week.

Joan is a member of Kappa Delta Sorority and serves as secretary of the Pan-Hellenic Council, as a representative of KD. She is office manager of the Sou'wester, Activities Editor of the Lynx Annual, and is on the Dean's List and Honor Roll.

Under new business, Cody announced the appointment of Sue Robinson and Diane McMillan as representatives to the Library Committee.

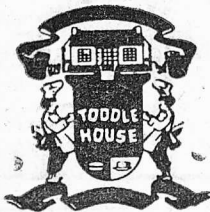

Secretary-Treasurer Mary Jane Smalley presented a tentative budget for next year, and it was decided to vote on it at the next meeting.

The remainder of the meeting was given over to consideration of revision of regulations governing hazing for next year.

Lynx Burn The Delta Cinders, Vollmer Named Top Individual

Southwestern made off with all the trophies at the Delta Invitational. Lambuth and Freed Hardman runners just couldn't catch the fast flying Lynx cindersmen.

Richard Vollmer of the Lynx was named the outstanding performer in the meet and he earned the honor. Richard won the 100 yard dash without too much trouble, broke his record in the broad jump set the previous week with a leap of 22 ft. 11½ inches and came from behind in the 440 yard relay and 880 yard relay to win for the Lynx as he was running the anchor leg of both relays.

Mo Mo Waller won the high jump with 6 ft. to win that special event with Bill Harris placing second. Sidney Peek won the discus, another special event, as the Lynx took all the places in this event.

The relays began with the 440 yard relay and the team of Eddie Horton, Sam Cole, Bill Carrell, and Vollmer took the trophy. The trophy for the mile relay went to the team of Travis Casanova, Bob Sanford, Richard Park, and Finis Carrell. The sprint medley trophy went to the team of F. Carrell, B. Carrell, Vollmer, and Mike Cody. Cole, Cody, B. Carrell, and Vollmer took the 880 yard relay trophy.

Bill Carrell was again a workhorse for the Lynx. Bill was on the winning relay team in the 440, 880, and sprint medley and finished second to Vollmer in the 100.

In the high school division Treadwell took top honors winning two relays and Tech, White Station, Whitehaven each won one.

The Lynx end their dual meet season this Saturday against Austin Peay at Clarksville, Tenn. The following week the Lynx will again journey to Clarksville for the T. I. A. C. track meet to end the season.

Students Give Senior Recitals

Southwestern senior music majors Margaret Redden, Ann Hart, Harriet Byrd, and William Browne will present their senior recitals during the week of May 3-10 at the College of Music, 1822 Overton Park.

Margaret Redden of Pace, Mississippi, will be presented in her senior piano recital on Friday evening, May 3, at 8:30 p.m. Ann Hart, soprano, of Dyersburg, Tennessee, will be heard in a program of songs and arias on May 5 at 3:00 p.m. William Browne, pianist, from Memphis, will play Tuesday evening, May 7, at 8:30 p.m. Harriet Byrd, of Wynne, Arkansas, will present her senior piano recital Friday evening, May 10 at 8:30 p.m.

The pianists have received their training from Professor Myron Meyers. Miss Hart received vocal training from Professors Whittington and Leighton.

All students and members of the faculty are cordially invited to hear these Southwestern students perform.

Commander—Sam Martin, Chaplain—Larry Kennon, Recorder—Ronnie Markette, Treasurer—John Faulk, Marshall—Dick Crais, Sentinel—Jim Strong, Recorder—John Gay.

The social calendar is mighty full for the rest of the year, so everybody have his big fling before (pardon the expression) exams start.

Netters Notch Two Wins, Lose To Ole Miss

Southwestern's tennis team successfully continued its 1957 tennis season last week as the Lynx netmen, after losing a close match to Ole Miss, bounced back to defeat Sewanee and Hendrix colleges.

On April 25, the Lynx journeyed to Oxford, Mississippi to avenge an earlier loss to the Ole Miss Rebels. Fortune, however, refused to smile on the netters, as Ole Miss again defeated the Lynx, this time by the count of 6-3. In this match the Rebels' Phil Berry downed Southwestern's Tommy Buford as Buford tasted defeat for the first time in the 1957 season.

The following day the Lynx netmen entertained Sewanee at the University Club. The weather was excellent and everyone was in fighting spirits, so at the end of the day Southwestern emerged as victor by the one-sided score of 8-1.

After a weekend of rest from the tennis wars, the team completely blanked an outclassed but fighting Hendrix band. They thus gave themselves a six won and four lost record which they hope to improve as they stop to complete a rained out match at Union. After the Union match they will continue on to Nashville to defend their Tennessee Intercollegiate Athletic Conference tennis crown.

since he is openly supporting the West. In this picture it seems that we must include the kingdom of Saudi Arabia. It now comes to light that the friendship shown King Saud when he visited this country was definitely not wasted. He has been the great stabilizing factor in the present crisis in Jordan.

This brings to mind the discussion of last week in this column as to the validity of giving aid to communist countries with no indication of change. We attacked this position on the strength that it would only serve to enforce the hold the present government had over the people. In the case of the crisis in Jordan we will be helping an ally who wishes to both stand with the West and maintain his country. The size does not matter as we see it, but the emphasis should be placed on the fact that a free people wish to remain so and are proud of their freedom. Jordan does not want our troops, she does not even want our money, but finds that it is necessary to continue existence.

The Jordanian people are a proud people; proud of their heritage, and proud of their little nation. It behooves us to maintain such nations on the side of the free world.

Once again the guess of what will happen in this area is about anyone's. However, we do think that the governments of Egypt, Syria, and Russia will take into consideration the fact that Admiral Brown is not fooling with the presence of the naval power of the U. S., and can put it into operation at the will of the president or Congress.

We are truly happy to see that a firm stand has been taken and the United States is finally willing to make the opposition risk something to gain a nation. Maybe we are getting back to our free enterprise system which says that the risk should gain proportionately, but the very element of risk makes loss

by Lewis Bledsoe

Athens, Ga.—May 1—Surprise! In case you missed me around the clubhouse, well, I'm out of town but here is the latest on your Links Cats. We just happen to be presently in Athens, Georgia, awaiting the beginning of the Southern Intercollegiate Tourney.

Yesterday the Lynx were found in the middle of a four-way match for glory. Southwestern wound up the day with two victories and one defeat. Sewanee, led by Flowers Crawford with a 71, nipped the Lynx by a 10½-7½ margin. But the SW Linksters managed a 10½-7½ victory of Troy State and a 11½-6½ victory over Howard College. Bobby Weaver blazed home with a fine 74 for low medal for the Lynx followed by Lewis Bledsoe with a 76. Par for the Roebuck CC course was 71.

Today the Lynx engage Sewanee on the Athens course in a medal play affair in preparation for the Tourney which begins tomorrow. So if we can get ready and blow it around for a good 36 hole total Thursday and Friday, then we will be still firing on Saturday. Wish us luck and we'll see you next week at the 19th hole with the results.

WOMEN'S INTRAMURALS

Woman's Intramural Softball started off with a bang this year. In the first two games Tri Delta beat Zeta 23-10 and Chi O got 23 runs to KD's 17. AOPi got into action by beating Tri Delta 9-6 while ZTA pounded KD fell to Tri Delta 23-14 last Tuesday and AOPi retained first place by beating Chi O 18-13.

The last two games will be played May 2 between AOPi and KD and ZTA and Chi O. The standings on May 1 are as follows:

Team	W	L
AOPi	3	0
Tri Delta	3	1
ZTA	1	2

HORSEHIDE LYNX WIN AGAIN—LOSE TO STATE

By Bob Mansfield

The Lynx Nine jumped on the victory wagon by plastering Mississippi College twice over the weekend and then slipped off again as Memphis State took a squeaker 9 to 8 last Wednesday.

The Lynx backed up Rose's neat seven hitter with smooth fielding and six big runs as Miss. College fell 6-2 in the opener. In the second contest Peters went all the way in picking up his first win of the season. Although in trouble often, Jerry came through with great clutch pitching to eke out an 8 to 6 victory. John Dunlap saved the game for the Lynx when, in the bottom of the sixth with the bases loaded, he raced back deep in left field, leaped high in the air, and speared the flying blob of white smashed by the Choctaw batter. Southwestern came up with two big runs in the top of the seventh, held the Choctaws scoreless, and the bob-tailed contest was history. Hoelscher's fine fielding played a large part in the two victories as did Gandy's blast over the center field fence. Jilting Joe Weeks also smashed a circuit clout to almost the identical spot.

Rose took the mound again Wednesday against State and quickly found himself behind as the Tigers came up with five runs on three hits and several Lynx miscues in the first inning. Southwestern battled back with two runs in their half of the frame, but Memphis State erased that with two more in the second. At that point Rose got down strictly to business and tamed the Tigers the rest of the way as they were able to pick up only two more unearned runs. Meanwhile the Lynx clawed steadily away at the Tiger lead and going into the bottom of the ninth were down by only three. Things quickly began to brighten when Rose sizzled a double down the left-field line and Kilpatrick drove a wicked single to center for his fourth hit of the evening. Hoelscher then promptly slashed a single over the third baseman's glove followed by Bowen's looping safety to the same side of the field. When Gandy reached first with a cleverly placed bunt, filling the bases with nobody out and sending Hoelscher to third with the tying run, the Lynx were presented with a golden opportunity to pull victory out of defeat. However, their cheers soon turned to tears as Weeks went down on strikes followed by Young. When Hoover grounded softly to second, the Tigers walked off the field with a gift 9 to 8 victory.

Friday Southwestern travels to Millsaps determined to get on the winning side of a present 5-5 record.

proper authorities to present the petition.

Charlie Brown, Sophomore:

No specific action can possibly be taken until faculty, admissions committee and patrons realize that the well-rounded, beneficial individual is not produced by mere intellectual concentration and improvement. Everyone is helpless to correct the situation until some effort is made to incorporate into the student body well-rounded individuals, healthy, moderately intelligent boys and girls who are not so bogged down in their books that they can not contribute to all phases of college and later life.

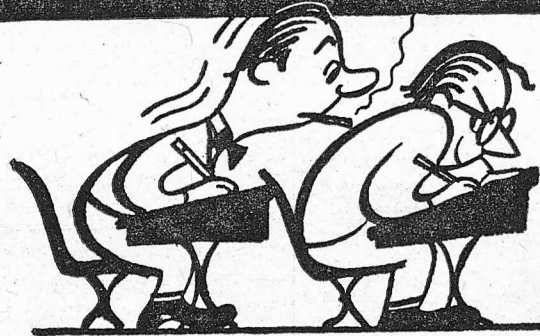

Ray Zbinden and Anne Uhlhorn:

In view of the past attempts by the Student Body to accomplish anything that we need and the fact that it was seemingly passed off as little less than high school gossip by our all-knowing administrators—it seems to me our situation is utterly hopeless.
