

Lynx Cagers Meet Lambuth Tonight

Tip-off At 8:00 P.M. In First Game of Basketball Season

The Lambuth cagers are journeying here tonight for a game which will be the opening test for the Southwestern quint, who have been hard at work since the early part of October. All schools seem to be longer than usual this year on basketball material due to the influx of returning vets and the Lynx are no exception. Many of the returning lettermen are being hotly contested for their positions on the squad. The offensive system is based on fast breaks with special emphasis placed on team play and no individuality. This system worked well in both of the pre-season practice games with Coca-Cola.

Varsity Candidates

As forwards we have Jud "Gee" Williford, an All-Memphis lad in high school, who captained Central's five in 44; John Broderick, a returned letterman who has quite an eye for the bucket and can sink them with reckless abandon; Billy Brock Davidson, who hails from Greenfield, is also a returned letterman from last year and 1941; and Jasper "Jabo" Templeton, who played two years for Central and is one of the best passers on the squad. At the center position we have Clyde McCloud who is quick on rebounds; Dean Bailey, who can snag the high fliers out of the ether, and Bill Haynes, a letterman of two years standing here. The boys who bring the ball down court are John "Kumbodie" Williford, "one of the red on top" twins, an alert ball handler, who isn't green at the game, having made his "S" here last year; Bill Bryce, who lettered in '43 and drops the pill in from outside the seventeen foot line with ridiculous ease; Marvin "Sunshine" Shinbaum, a dependable fellow with a cool head; Bill Bell, a returnee, who is fast and scrappy and sure to see action; and Harland Smith, the Yankee who flips them in with unerring precision from all points south.

Squad Well-Rounded

You can tell by the above mentioned array of talent that the College by the Zoo should have a successful season. The squad is well rounded out with the exception of the lack of height but this is made up for by their fight and spirit. Coach Stokstad has come up with some very clever plays which will send many of our opponents to their favorite psychiatrists. From reliable sources, we have learned that Lambuth has a sparky bunch of boys who are out to win the game.

The game will be played tonight at 8:00 P. M. in the gym, with the expectation of a large crowd.

NOTICE

Bill Kelley, manager of the Student Union, has several articles that have been left there by students. These include several fountain pens and automatic pencils. These articles will be returned to their owners upon identification.

NOTICE

Any player of violin, 'cello, or bass, who would like to play in the orchestra for the Christmas Vespers on Dec. 15, please call Prof. Burnet C. Tuthill at once.

"S" CLUB WILL SPONSOR DANCE

Will be held after Game Saturday Night

The "S" Club, Southwestern's organization to recognize those men who have lettered in a varsity sport, is sponsoring a script dance Saturday night, December 7, after the Lynx-Lambuth basketball game in Fargason Field House, it was announced today by the club's president, Billy Speros.

There will be a charge of $1.00 for couples and 75c for stags, admission to the ball game being included. An effort is being made to put the club back on its feet after an absence of several years from the Southwestern campus.

The "S" Club plans to hold initiation in the near future, as there are a number of men on the campus eligible for membership since the awarding of letters to this season's varsity football lettermen.

Joe Scianni and his band will play for the dance, which will be over promptly at midnight.

Zeta's Entertain Guest Speakers

December 3, in the AOPi House, Zeta Tau Alpha was honored by the presence of Miss Jean Davies and Miss Etta Rodriguez. Miss Davies, from Wales, is a student at Southwestern. Miss Rodriguez, a student at the University of Tennessee Medical School, is from San Juan, Puerto Rico.

They spoke to the sorority group on the study and activity on the campuses of the schools in their respective countries. After the program they remained for dinner with the Zeta actives and pledges.

Maid of Cotton To Go By Air To Paris

The 1947 Maid of Cotton will fly to Paris and the Riviera in the spring, the National Cotton Council has announced.

It will be the first time that the Cotton Belt's goodwill representative has flown the Atlantic or visited a foreign country.

Air France, French national airline and one of the pioneers in international air travel, will fly the Maid from New York in late March aboard a four-motored Comet with stops at Gander, Newfoundland, and Shannon, Ireland, the Council said. On her return from the gaiety and elegance of the greatest fashion salons in Paris and Cannes she will resume her coast to coast tour to display her cotton wardrobe, especially styled by America's topnotch designers, (Continued on Page 2)

Sightless Veteran Studies Pre-Law

Everyone has probably met Walter Hooker, the red head who owns "Paul," the big German shepherd dog. Walter, who, like the other G.I.'s, is starting in at school for the first time in several years, is certainly doing well at college. He is to be especially commended in that he does all of his studying without the use of his eyes.

"Paul," his dog, does a good job of finding his way around the campus, and in this way Walter has no trouble in being at the right place when he should be. Then, too, Walter has several readers who assist him in storing up all of this knowledge that is so hard to retain.

Studies Pre-Law

Walter is taking a pre-law course at Southwestern. After he finishes these two years he plans to attend Vanderbilt law school, where he will complete his course in law. He is now taking three subjects; they are Bible, economics, and English. This eight-weeks Walter has made a very good showing on his three subjects, on which he is experimenting. Next semester he plans to take a full program of five subjects.

Walter's method of study is quite ingenious. He takes his notes from all lectures in long-hand; these are later transcribed by one of his readers. Each week's lesson is read to him from the textbook at certain scheduled periods of the day. Then when it is time for a test, he studies from his notes and text. He has learned to remember just by means of listening to a voice, instead of by reading it himself. This is extremely hard to do.

Walter's mother, who is naturally very proud of him, is a great help to him with his studies. She does a great deal of the reading to him, and she is a good tutor when it comes to tests.

Southwestern is also proud to have one so courageous and industrious among its students. Walter, who will settle in Memphis some day, will have acquired some of his education along with the rest of us.

Christian Union Forum

Friday afternoon at 3:45, the Christian Union Cabinet held its regular forum at the AOPi house.

Reverend King, assistant pastor at Irlwild Presbyterian Church, spoke on the topic, "How Can I Tell the Right From the Wrong". He suggested that one decide before doing a thing whether it is wise; and whether he would want it exposed.

There was some discussion on whether life should be a struggle against the wrong, as some think that the right should be the easier.

Wade Attends WCAA Meeting In Chicago

Southwestern's alumni secretary, Jim Wade, will leave Memphis tonight for the University of Illinois where he will attend a meeting of the American Council of Alumni Associations. On Saturday Wade will be in Chicago where a dinner meeting of Southwestern alumni will be held in the Stevens Hotel.

Amis, Baker Are Chosen By Juniors

WSSF

Seven hundred and ninety-five dollars and sixty-eight cents was contributed to WSSF by the students, faculty and staff here at Southwestern. This is a remarkable record, and the committee in charge of the drive sincerely appreciates the cooperation shown by all.

EIGHT WEEKS HONOR ROLL

Only three students qualified for the First Honor Roll, announced last week by the Dean; however, there were eleven on the second list.

First honor requirements are five A's while four A's plus another grade are necessary for the second. The Dean's List formerly consisted of the highest ten per cent of the student body but because of the increase in the number of students it requires at least two A's and the rest B's. It includes twenty-one besides the honor roll students.

Run-offs were needed in Sophomore Class

To fill up vacancies in the Student Council which have occurred since the beginning of this semester, a special election was held in chapel Saturday morning, November the thirtieth.

The offices to be filled for the junior class were those of the vice-presidency and the representative to the Publications Board. The nominations, held from the floor, for these offices were, for vice-president, Virginia Anne Withers and Bob Amis; for Publications Board representative, Peggy Baker, Margaret Hardwick, and Paul Morehead.

One Sophomore Office

The only office to be filled in the sophomore class was that of the vice-presidency. Several nominations were made from the floor; these were as follows: Fletcher Scott, John Brakefield, Jane Phelps, Jimmy Turner, Ann Patterson, Peggy Marshall, Steve Schilling, Gene Page, and Gerald Sweat.

Votes were counted by the Election Committee Saturday afternoon, and the results gave the vice-presidency of the junior class to Bob Amis, who returned to Southwestern this fall after serving with the armed forces. Bob is a Kappa Sigma and a member of the Southwestern literary staff.

Peggy Baker was elected to represent the junior class on the Publications Board. She is a member of Chi Omega Sorority.

Run-Offs Today

Run-offs were held to determine the winner in the election for vice-president of the sophomore class, and the polls were open in the bookstore until 2:00 P.M. Candidates in the run-off were John Brakefield, Fletcher Scott, and Jim Turner.

Results of the run-off have not been determined as yet.

Torch Will Honor "B" Average Coeds

On Saturday, December seventh, Torch Honor Society will honor all girls with a "B" average at a luncheon. This party will be at the Chi Omega lodge at one o'clock. As a highlight of the luncheon there will be a quiz program with Julia Wellford, Irma Waddell, and Kathryn Lynch as judges. After the luncheon all guests will be invited to remain for a bridge game. Mary Langmead is in charge of invitations, which are being designed by Sally Thompson.

Second-Hand Criticism

Lately, some second-hand criticism of the Southwester has reached our ears, and while we welcome criticism, we like to receive it from the originator. We are trying to do a good job, and certainly if anyone can help us, we want them to do so.

Putting out the Sou'wester is running into quite some job; actually it's more of a job than we can handle well, alone. Not that we are not receiving help—we are—but there is room for much more. We need sports writers, news writers, and feature writers. We initiated a column intended for nothing other than contributions from non-members of the staff—we have received no contributions since the feature was inaugurated.

The Sou'wester is your newspaper—if there is something wrong with it tell us about it, and maybe together we can work out some solution. It will always take at least two people to reach an agreement.

Vandalism In Library

There is a matter which should be brought to the attention of all members of the student body. In one of the most senseless pieces of vandalism we have seen in quite a while 18 pages were torn from one of the encyclopedias in the Southwestern library. Only one who thinks nothing of the rights and privileges of others could pull such a trick.

As a result of this, a new set of the encyclopedias will have to be purchased, since they cannot be obtained in single volumes only, and every member of the student body who wants the information that was contained in the stolen pages will be forced to go elsewhere for it.

Surely we all have time enough to remain in the library until we finish with whatever we are doing, without having to resort to such desperate measures. It reflects on the Southwestern spirit that such a thing occurred on our campus.

Music Notes

The Southwestern Chamber Music Society will present its second in a series of programs on Tuesday evening, December 10, 1946, in Bohlman Hall at the College of Music at eight-thirty.

The Musical Offering of Johan Sebastian Bach, which is composed of thirteen parts, will make up the program. In 1944 the first practical edition for performance was published in New York, making it possible for the Southwestern String Quartet to make the first complete performance in Memphis. The String Quartet, consisting of Noel Gilbert and Florence Knox, violists, Ruth Tuthill, viola, and Vincent de Frank, violoncello, will be assisted by Virginia Myers, piano, Anne Reynolds, flute, Don Cassel, oboe, Burnet Tuthill, basset-horn, and John Davis, bassoon.

A short background of the Musical Offering will be of interest to those who plan to attend the program. Bach's son, Carl Phillip Emmanuel, was pianist in Frederick the Great's Ensemble in Sans Souci at Pottsdam. This Ensemble played every night and toward the end of Johan Sebastian Bach's life in the year 1747, he visited his son and Frederick at Sans Souci. While there Bach wrote a theme on which he improvised fugues and canons at the keyboard of a harpsichord. Bach wasn't satisfied with what he had done off-hand, so he went home to Leipsig and worked out with care what he had improvised. He had the work engraved and sent to Frederick as a musical offering.

The work is a tour de force of contrapuntal technique but, at the same time, is, from the standpoint of its sound and emotional appeal, a great expression in music.

Student memberships are available at $2.50 for three concerts including the London String Quartet's. Parents and friends may obtain memberships at $5 at the College of Music.

Fashions

By Nancy Little

For many occasions it seems that the short date dress has replaced the formal or dinner dress. The scoop or off the shoulder neckline is popular this season and gives a "dressed up" aspect. Their new length is a happy medium between formal and informal, and there are numerous variations on hemlines. There is the uneven skirt, similar to those of the twenties and steadily gaining in popularity. Also the new harem trouser effect is attractive and unusual. In general these skirts are one of two extremes, either billowing and full or pencil slim.

Tri-Delt Formal

Betty Bouton in a strapless pink formal—the billowing net skirt gave her the air of a ballerina... Dot Fuller in a lovely old-fashioned dress made of row upon row of white net ruffles... Ann Avery in black trimmed in gold that set off to perfection her brunette coloring... Shirley Sibley's blue strapless with a tiered skirt—small silver sequins were sprinkled over the dress... Gene Langhart in a gay plaid taffeta with a bustle in the back... Speaking of bustles Pat Caldwell's idea of pinning her flowers on the bustle of her ice blue satin dress was certainly a clever one... Mitzi Wheelless in a white strapless—the bodice was of white satin with a design of tiny red flowers on it.

All-America Coaches Select 1946 Team

Players who make the 1946 All-American team will be selected by the American Football Coaches Association will have the stamp of approval of former All-Americans.

For upwards of a tenth of the 475 coaches in the association figured in the mythical national selections themselves at one time or another. Among them are 11 head coaches and an estimated 35 or more assistant coaches.

As players, these coaches gained national recognition for their brilliant gridiron achievements over a period of nearly 50 years. Now they train their own candidates for football's hall of fame.

Dean of the coaches, of course, is Alonzo Stagg of the College of the Pacific. He was named to the first All-American team ever chosen, in 1889, because of his great play at Yale.

Army's Earl Blaik

Bo McMillin, of Indiana, made the mythical team for three years hand-running, 1919, 1920 and 1921, while starring at Little Centre College. Army's Earl Blaik made it as a West Point cadet in 1919.

Bob Higgins, head coach at Penn State, holds a record of interest in these days of war-veteran players. He made the All-American while at Penn State in 1915, went away to World War I and returned to make the honorary team again in 1919.

Fritz Crisler

Michigan's Fritz Crisler won a place on the All-American in 1921 while playing for Chicago under the old maestro, Stagg. Lynn Waldorf, of Northwestern, made it in 1922 and again in 1924 while playing at Syracuse.

Harry Stuhldreher, now head coach at Wisconsin, was chosen in 1924 while one of Notre Dame's famed "Four Horsemen." Coach Ralph Welch, of Washington, was singled out for the distinction after starring for Purdue in 1929.

Three current head coaches who made All-American, during the 1930's and who will participate in the 1946 selection to be published in the Saturday Evening Post are Beattie Feathers, outstanding Tennessee back who now tutors North Carolina's Tarheels; Bobby Dodd, another Tennessee ace, now at Georgia Tech., and Marchy Schwartz, great Notre Dame back who currently coaches Stanford.

MAID OF COTTON . . .

at fashion shows in more than 30 cities.

She will display the same wardrobe in France, and will also have designed for her there some Parisian creations by famous continental couturiers.

Contest Closes Dec. 20

The Air France tour is expected to attract dozens of new contestants to the Maid of Cotton competition. The finals will be held in Memphis in January. The contest will close December 20. Any girl born in a cotton growing state who is between 18 and 25 and has never been married is eligible. Her entire tour, here and abroad, will be without cost to her.

In America, she will be accompanied by Mary Allie Taylor of Memphis, tour manager. On the trip abroad, Miss Taylor and Margot Herzog, fashion director for the Cotton Council and the Cotton Textile Institute, will accompany the Maid.

The group will virtually be in France from the moment they step aboard the transatlantic plane, Air France officials said. Stewardesses are French. Meals aboard the plane are prepared by a French chef in the continental manner, and include the finest French wines.

The GI's and The Colleges

LARGE ENROLLMENT FORESEEN IN 1948

Many leading educators foresee a larger enrollment of G.I.s in our large universities in 1948, thus creating a more serious education emergency in those schools than exists today, it is revealed in "The G.I.s And The Colleges," a booklet just issued by the Crowell-Collier Publishing Company.

The new educational study, the fourth of a series of booklets issued by the company on veterans' problems, also discloses that G.I.s are today the best students generally, thus contradicting the fear of many educators of a year or so ago that many of them would draw governmental educational allotments but be "educational bums."

On the basis of replies from 583 institutions of higher learning, the study reveals that "the majority of veterans wish higher education with a definite vocational interest." Engineering is said to rank first in veterans' interest, business administration a close second, and pre-medical third.

Because of this, educators fear that many of today's G.I. students, who are now enrolled in junior and liberal arts colleges, will seek to matriculate in the larger universities for their professional training. Since these universities will have their own lower classes going into the professional courses, it is expected that a critical situation will arise.

Higher Marks

"In general, veterans' marks have been higher than normal pre-war classes," the booklet says in reporting on the G.I.s as students. "Returning veterans have done better than before they left campus to enter the armed services."

"The University of Richmond and many other institutions call it 'a pleasure to teach' the G.I.s," the study says. Other institutions are reported as saying that the veterans are "intolerant of poor teaching" and that they "demand to know why statements (of the professors) are true."

It is reported that the G.I. Bill of Rights has democratized higher education by making it possible for 75 to 80 per cent of our G.I. high school graduates to attend college, as compared to less than 50 per cent of high school graduates who went to college in the pre-war years. And the proportion who have been withdrawing from school, as compared to the pre-war years, is said to be only one-half to one-fifth as great.

Vocational Guidance

The educational study points to the need of "careful, realistic vocational guidance based upon a knowledge of job opportunities as well as of aptitudes." It is said that, while engineering leads the field in veterans' interest, it is estimated that the demand for college-trained engineers will be filled by 1953. After that "only replacements will be needed."

The study generally indicates that the present overcrowded situation in our colleges and universities will continue for three to five years, and that college enrollments will never again drop to their pre-war levels.

The G.I.s as students, are hailed as Phi Beta Kappas in the art of "gripping." One Western college official speaks of their "directness, maturity and 'post-graduate skill' in gripping when things can be improved...gripping, not whining." The institutions generally bend every effort to improve conditions that prompt the "gripes."

Lynx Chat

People, Kitty has tried and tried, but this school is either becoming very uninteresting, or all the frogs are holding back on her, cause she has a dearth of dope for you this week. Well, we've always said, "People that live in glass houses, shouldn't."

On into the fray:

Dean Bailey and a distinguished alum whose name appears all too often in the Sou'wester, got Shanghied into going to a We Moderns dance at the Peabody Community Center. Bailey said that he never saw so many cute girls under the same roof. It's too bad they all go to high school.

Everarde was back again. This time he had his color camera along and took a picture of Claire and Vi. Everything was fine until Claire and "Miss Quarrels," as he now calls her, looked at each other and started laughing.

Forrest Flaniken is our idea of an up and coming young man . . . W.O.T.W. is Mary Nell Grainger . . . The reason: her middle name is Trouble. Get her to tell you about the ice sometimes.

Sara Anne Elliott came back for the Tri Delt formal on the 23rd and she sho' looked good to these tired old eyes. By the way, she was sporting a knocked out evening dress and Walter Haun.

Congratulations, Ole Miss style, to Rufus Irby and B. A., pinned about two weeks now.

Charter member, Founder, and, come to think of it, only member of the "Moan" Club is Tosh. W.S. S.F. is trying to raise enough money to get him a haircut. That man really ought to get chummy with a pair of scissors.

Many people were back from U.T. over the thanksgiving holidays. Among those seen at school were: Robert Love, looking for Ann Pridgen; Bobby Clough, bald-er than ever; Bobby Van Dyke, sporting an SAE pledge pin; and McAfee!!! who must have gone to sleep in a barber's chair . . .

The girls in Everdead Hall miss their old friend, Beethoven . . .

Well, well, well, the Kappa Sigs finally dug that ditch . . . It's about time.

S.Q.T. has turned into a cave-man recently . . . Kitty saw him put the bee on some poor young thing, but good, in the social room the other day . . .

You've had it, Darnell, Lundy doesn't like you any more . . .

Girls basketball was unusually colorless and drab this year, until near the close of the season. Then, Brent and Gallimore started playing again. Poor Brent, she thought that she had finally gotten out of taking Gym . . .

Man (?) of the Week . . . Sutherland. There are three reasons:

1. He quit the Sou'wester in order to have more social life.
2. Mary Nell Campbell took him to the Tri Delt Founders Day Banquet.
3. HE TOOK ANN PRIDGEN TO THE KAPPA SIG BLOW-OUT!!!

Kitty noticed much skulduggery going on at the Kappa Sig affair Saturday night. Guy King came up from LSU and squired his old, old flame, Nancy Conn, whom Kitty hadn't seen in a coon's age . . . Also attending were Bill Rachels, and a luscious gal whose name we didn't catch, she was awfully careful about that . . . Bill Clary store Barbara Cullins for the occasion . . . and shades of war-time days, Fred L. Kelly popped up with Miss Arkansas, Becky McCall . . . People Kitty missed — Pee Wee Miller, who is in the hospital minus an appendix—and McAfee, who has never before been known to miss such a function.

These SAE pledges are truly knocking themselves out over the S & W women . . . noticeably together are Julian Elliot and Wilmary Hitch, Bill Douglas and Peggy Baker, (all of whom celebrated Thanksgiving at the Mississippi home of Miss Baker), and Earl Hays, who is definitely in the running for the affections of Jeanne Amis.

Add noticeably together . . . Gene Page and Mitzi Wheless.

Add people Kitty misses—Jerry Flippin, who was in town for the week end before shipping out for Tokyo or somewhere in that direction.

Kitty saw Ruth Sharpe, ex-AOPi pledge, in the social room yesterday . . . AH! Married life!

And so Kitty sheathes her claws and sharpens her ears for next week's listening.

TRI-DELTS HONOR FOUNDERS NOV. 27

"Woman of Year" Presented at Banquet in Cadet Room

Tri-Delta sorority entertained on Wednesday, November 27, at its annual Founders Day Banquet, as a part of the nation-wide celebration of the sorority's 58th anniversary. The event had as its setting the Cadet Room at Hotel Peabody.

The alumnae, actives and pledges met for dinner at 7:00 P.M., and adjourned to the Skyway for dancing at the conclusion of the banquet.

"Under the Moon"

The decoration featured an "Under the Moon" theme and the programs were attractively printed in blue with three little girls silhouetted in white, singing under the Tri-Delta moon.

The beautifully appointed table was decorated with yellow chrysanthemums, with blue tapers glowing in silver candelabra. Three green cellophane trees, at intervals around the table, represented Tri-Delta's symbol, the pine tree. At the top of each tree was placed the crescent and three stars of the sorority. There were also three story-book dolls around the trees, each holding ribbons of silver, gold, and blue, the sorority colors. Behind the speakers table there was a shining crest on the wall, and cascading from the crest were silver, gold, and blue streamers.

Alumnae Guests

The program included the proclamation by the president of the alumnae, Mrs. Basil Bland, the former Anne Hoaga. The feature of the program was the announcement by Mrs. Olivia Tompkins of Tri-Delta's "Woman of the Year." The Tri-Delta chosen for this honor was Mrs. Early Maxwell, Memphis' own "Ethel Taylor," who has won the acclaim of many audiences with her beautiful voice.

There were also songs by the Tri-Delta trio, composed of Sarah Beth Meadows, Jane Kilvington, and Pat Caldwell. June Crutchfield was program chairman.

Betty Bouton, president of the active chapter, introduced the members and pledges, and the pledges then presented an original skit.

Local AOPi Chapter To Honor Founders

Kappa Omicron Pi chapter of Alpha Omicron Pi will celebrate the 50th anniversary of the founding of the sorority on Monday, December 9, with a banquet in the Louis XIV Room at the Hotel Peabody. After the banquet, which starts at 6:30 P.M., there will be dancing in the Skyway for the members and their guests. The affair is being held in conjunction with the local alumni chapter.

Ann Pridgen of the active chapter, and Josephine Bower of the Alumnae, are in charge of the arrangements.

SPANISH CLUB

The November meeting of the Spanish Club was held Friday afternoon at 2:00 P.M. in the Chi Omega lodge. The president for this month, Eugene Reynolds, introduced Professor Southard, who made a talk on Mexico, showing color slides made on his recent trip through that country.

Evelyn Givens was elected president for the month of December. Dr. Storn, faculty sponsor of the organization, also took part in the program. Refreshments were served. Evelyn Givens and Ann Pridgen were in charge of the refreshments.

KS's CELEBRATE FOUNDER'S DAY WITH BANQUET, DANCE

Annual Event Held At Hotel Peabody on Saturday, Nov. 30

Phi Chapter of Kappa Sigma honored the 77th anniversary of the fraternity's founding with a banquet and dance Saturday, November 30, at the Hotel Peabody.

The banquet was held in the Cadet Room, from 7:00 'til 9:00 P.M., with the alumni, members of the active chapter, and the pledge group, with their guests, attending. Toastmaster was Frank Kimbrough, president of the alumni chapter, who introduced J. C. Jenkins, District Grand Master, and Sam Watson, president of the active chapter.

Entertainment Program

Fraternity songs were sung by the group, and a skit was presented by members of the active chapter and pledges, representing one of the fraternity songs. Master of ceremonies was Virgil Bryant, who also introduced his brother, Johnny Bryant, who sang "Mommie, please stay home with me," and Ben Gilliland, who played a piano selection.

The tables were decorated with the scarlet, green, and white of Kappa Sigma, and a lighted crest hung from the bandstand at one end of the room. Dinner music was provided by a five piece band, led by Joe Scianni at the piano.

Dance In Continental Room

At 9:00 P.M., dancing began in the Continental Ball Room, with Scianni and his full band of 12 pieces holding forth from the bandstand. There were 2 no-breaks and

SPORTS

By Barron Seiferd

With the end of this last week end we just about put the lid on football for this year and open the door for basketball. Basketball will get under way in many parts of the land this week, but the game that most Southwesterners are interested in is the clash between Lambuth College and the Lynx. This will be the opening game for our cagers and they are liable to run into plenty of trouble in their first outing as Lambuth has a capable quintette. Saturday night Ole Miss invades Fargason Field House to see what they can do with the Black and Red. This game is just a warm-up for the Rebels before they tangle with some of the big boys of the Big 12, but here's hoping that the Lynx can make it rather warm for the Ole Miss cagers and it is very probable that they will do just that.

Looking back at the football picture most of the games went as expected with very few exceptions. The biggest surprise of the week was Army's close squeak with Navy. The Middies had the clock run out on them when they were down knocking at the West Pointers goal again. The crowd got out of hand and flocked to the sidelines to see what they thought would be the upset of football in many years.

Swinging down into the land of Cotton, Charley Trippi led his mates to a shocking victory over the Rambling Wreck of Tech, which completely wrecked Tech. Many thought Georgia would win, but never by the count of 35 to 7. Alabama bounced back from their defeat by Boston College to trounce a favored Miss. State team 24 to 7. Shorty McWilliams couldn't do a thing against the 'Bama line, but Hurlin' Harry Gilmer did everything as he has done all season for the Red Elephants, passing his team to victory. Ted Cook was the man who was usually on the receiving end of his passes.

The game that attracted a great deal of attention to most Tennesseans was the knock down drag out battle at Nashville between U.T. and Vanderbilt. Both teams scored in the first quarter and that was all the scoring, but that didn't keep the game's excitement down. Because Vandy almost came through again in the second quarter when Jamie Wade passed in the end zone but the Vandy receiver stepped out of bounds just before receiving the ball. The Vols knocked at the T Ddoor four times afterwards but never scored.

Vanderbilt's touchdown, which covered seventy yards, was one of the most beautiful plays you ever hope to see on a football field. Wade ran to his left and faded back to the twenty, being a right handed passer it was an extremely hard pass to throw, then he stepped to one side as a Vol charged past him. He let the ball go just as an orange clad man hit him and the pigskin was taken on the thirty-five by Bushmeier, who ran the rest of the way for the TD. Bushmeier caught the ball over his head on the dead run as two Tennessee men tried desperately to get their hands on the ball. This game was featured by the terrific tackling and blocking of both teams and there was no doubt that both teams were playing for keeps.

While Tennessee was edging Vandy, their opponents for the Orange Bowl were smearing Baylor, 28-6. The U. of Oklahoma really made it a bad day for the Cowboys of Oklahoma A. & M. by throwing the record book away and trouncing them 73-12. Tulsa pulled the Arkansas battle out of the fire by a 14 to 13 count and UCLA took Nebraska 18 to 0 to be one of the only two major football powers to go undefeated and untied for this hectic year of football.

The Sugar Bowl did well on their selection of Georgia and North Carolina U. for their annual classic on New Year's Day. This game will feature two of the best backs in football when Charlie "Choo Choo" Justice and Charley "Hippi" Trippi meet. It will be a battle to see which one of the stars can punch over the most touchdowns and make the most brilliant runs.

Turning to the Intramurals of the School by the Zoo we see that the Chi Omega's have quite a basketball team. They are the only team in the league that are undefeated to this date. Only two games remain and that is between Zeta and Tri Delt and they should take both to win the championship.

Volley ball gets underway for the men students and there should be some fine contests. Many of the teams will have boys playing who gained a great deal of experience in the armed services at this game. So if you're interested in volley ball you might wander to the gym these afternoons in the future and see some good games. Southwestern students now have a good chance to get behind a winning team at the start of the season. You students are going to find out that you're going to have a good basketball team and it is a team that is playing a full schedule against some good teams. They won't be teams that are just push overs, but teams that have been heard of before in the world of sports. But many of you are going to be surprised when this team gets going and starts winning games. How? I'm not saying they will win every game, but they will win the majority of the contests they enter. The time to get behind this team is tonight and Saturday night in their first week of play Every student should turn out if possible and as small a gym as we have, it should be filled to capacity. Let's see some school spirit out of the students. Tomorrow night, come out and yell, yell, yell!!! This means everyone.

Chi O's and KD's Lead Girl Cagers

As the Women's Intramurals Season proceeds, the race for leadership is resolving into a two-team contest between Chi Omega and Kappa Delta, with each having three wins and no losses.

The Chi O's, led by their sharp-shooting forward, Jane Ogden, have taken everything in sight, including Gamma Delta, Independents, and AOPi.

Lib Dudley has led the KD's to victory in all three of their games, which have been, so far: Zeta Tau Alpha, AOPi, and Tri-Delta.

There was only one game last week, in which the Zeta's, led by Dot Hogan, defeated the scrappy Gamma Delta's, 45-0. Dot scored 24 points, the highest total of any player so far this year.
