Fountain, McLendon Win Campus Offices

Parham and Blankenship Also Elected

Maynard Fountain, Paul McLendon, Curt Parham, and Jimmy Blankenship snared offices in the general election held last Monday in the Bookstore, it is announced today by the Southwestern Elections Commission. Fountain was elected vice-president of the student body, Parham vice-president of the sophomore class, McLendon president of the Publications Board, and Blankenship vice-president of the freshman class.

Blankenship, Parham, McLendon, and Fountain defeated respectively Rollin Wilson, Joyce Spalding, Mable Boone, and Gene Dickson.

Maynard Fountain is a junior, a dormitory student, member of the Honor Council, and president of SAE. Paul McLendon is a member of Stylus, a dormitory student, and secretary of SAE. Curt Parham is a sophomore, a town student, sergeant-at-arms of SAE, and member of the Publications Board. Jimmy Blankenship is a Kappa Sigma, a freshman, and a dormitory student.

In order to fill offices of presidents, vice-presidents, and secretary-treasurers of classes and the student body, the convention system is used. The Elections Commission calls for delegates to the Red and Black conventions. The delegates meet with the Elections Commission and nominate candidates for the offices to be filled. These candidates, one for each office from both the Red and Black groups, are then voted upon by the appropriate classes or the student body.

Bernice Wiggins is the president of the Elections Commission.

YWCA Drive Bags Over 200 Books

The YWCA book drive netted over two hundred books, which the World Student Service Fund will send to the prisoners of war all over the world.

Students have been asked to volunteer to help clean the books of all pen and pencil marks before they are sent. To be certain the motto "don't send any books that you would not want in your own library" is kept, the YW will go over all books. So far, the result of checking the books has been good, it is reported.

Bookstore Adds Nickelodeon, Paint

By JANE MILNER

All of you artists and would-be Salvador Dalis hurry up and make some sketches for the bookstore walls. You are left to your own discretion and anything goes, so long as it's appropriate.

We imagine that there are many who hail the rejuvenation of the dismal store with great rejoicing—for there will be better lighting, bridge tables, and a nickelodeon PLUS the gorgeous gallery of Southwestern-owned-and-operated murals on the walls. The bookstore opens at 8:30 a.m. and closes at 4 p.m.; therefore the bridge fiends can bring their own cards, manage to miss chapel and every class, and at four move just a few steps across into Calvin Hall, and thus have a continuous game going all day. Also the dummies at bridge can bring fingernail files or knives and whittle away at the bridge tables all the while. Or better still, several people could jump up and down on them at once. For music this charming group could use slugs in the juke box and turn it up so loud that Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Rutland, the kitchen help, and Peggy Lampp would all be blasted through the walls or else be permanently deafened.

Now, this all sounds silly and sarcastic, but the fact remains that in times past students have had a nickleodeon, tables, etc., in the store and have done just those things. Unintentionally, thoughtlessly, and gradually, of course, and I will say that there were more boys in those former days, and "natchery" the girls will be more refined because of the difficulty of getting help, the store is hard to keep clean, but if each of us would dispose of his own mess, it should look much better when the new lights, juke box and paintings get installed.

Is it coincidence that the freest great nation in the world should also be the most prosperous?—Morning World-Herald, Omaha, Neb., Aug. 8, 1944.

Question of the Week: What traits and qualities do you like in the opposite sex? With this question we discovered the answer to another, "Why are there so many unmarried women on the campus?" Answer: Their ideals are just a little too high for the present male situation.

Men

Curt Parham, Sophomore: She must be the sweet, loving and homey type, dumb and beautiful; and I prefer brunettes.

Charles Pool, Freshman: She should be pretty and have a good figure, be courteous, not the silly giggling type, and above all must be honest and truthful. That's why I got my ring back.

Nimrod Thompson, Sophomore: A good dancer, preferably brainless; looks not necessary, they are only skin-deep.

Donald McGuire, Senior: I refuse to incriminate myself.

Uncle Sam Rewards Southwestern Alumni

Southwestern proudly points to her roll of boys in service who have been rewarded by Uncle Sam for their merit. Two of our most recent heroes are Lt. George F. Miller and Sgt. Joseph D. Crump.

From an Eighth Air Force Bomber Station in England comes the report—for meritorious achievement and for displaying courage, coolness and skill on bomber combat operations over Germany and German-occupied countries, First Lt. George F. Miller, 20, Flying Fortress pilot, Southwestern '46, of Hattiesburg, Miss., has been awarded the Air Medal, it was announced by the commanding general, First Air Division.

Lieutenant Miller, who joined the Army Air Force on November 4, 1942, and was commissioned March 2, 1944, is serving with the Pioneer 91st Bombardment Group—combat home of "Memphis Belle" and first American group to make 100 daylight bombing operations over Europe from England. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis L. Miller, of 303 Sixth Ave., Hattiesburg, Miss.

The 15th AAF in Italy reports—Sgt. Joseph D. Crump, Jr., 26, of 1949 Central Ave., Memphis, Tenn., radio mechanic in a B-24 Liberator squadron, is authorized to wear the Distinguished Unit Badge as a member of a heavy bombardment group cited by the War Department for "outstanding performance of duty in armed conflict with the enemy."

Commanded by Col. William B. Keese, of San Antonio, Texas, the group received the gold-rimmed blue ribbon for the bombing of underground oil storage installations at Vienna. On August 22 the group was assigned the task of destroying this target. The ground crews were credited with having every possible B-24 at the peak of mechanical perfection to insure the success of the mission.

In spite of extremely adverse weather conditions, which separated the group from its badly needed fighter escort, they proceeded directly to the target. Fifty enemy fighters attacked the formation, using rocket guns, cannon, and machine guns. One Liberator was shot down, but the group destroyed or damaged thirteen enemy planes and fought off the rest.

At the target, intense antiaircraft fire was encountered, which destroyed two more bombers. Despite the heavy fire, and the large numbers of enemy fighters, the group concentrated its

Carnival To Take Place On April 14

April 14 will be a red letter date this year on Southwestern's social calendar. On this date a carnival will be presented by the Student Council, patterned after the April Fool's Carnival which is customarily held on April 1 every year.

The World in 1999, is to be the theme and the various organizations on the campus will operate booths depicting certain phases of life as it will be in the last year of the twentieth century. A king and queen and her court, chosen by popular vote, will further carry out the general idea of the world to come. Following a play, which will be written and acted by members of the student body, the evening will wind up with a masquerade dance. The proceeds of the evening will be contributed to the Southwestern Campaign.

The carnival promised to be a highlight among Southwestern's social events of the coming Spring.

The reputation of a great man may be attacked, his sincerity and integrity may be questioned, his motives and purposes may be misrepresented and his honesty may be impugned, by those who resent the power of greatness; but no such attack, question, misrepresentation or opposition affects the character.

Campus Plunges Into Bond Drive Monday

Stylus Club To Tap New Members

Yesterday was the last day for handing in literary contributions to the Stylus Club. Only students who had been especially recommended were given invitations to hand in contributions, but any student could contribute literary productions. The contributions, which could be in any style, will be considered for publication in the Journal of the Stylus at a meeting in the near future.

The Stylus Club was organized in 1920 by a group of students and members of the faculty to stimulate authorship and literary criticism. It is purely an honorary society, and requires congeniality and literary ability. Membership in the club is limited to the senior, junior, and sophomore classes. At bi-monthly meetings a program is given consisting of original writings and studies of literature.

At present the officers of the Stylus Club are Bernice Wiggins, president, and Lee Connelly, secretary-treasurer. These officers are assisted by Professor John Wolf of the English department, who is faculty adviser to the club.

A highlight of the year is the award to the author of the outstanding literary contribution of the year from the freshman class. This award is a beautiful silver loving cup on which are inscribed the names of the winners for each year.

Mr. Edward Barry Speaks In Chapel

"Brotherhood for the Future World" was the theme of Edward Barry's address to Southwestern students in Chapel, February 22, George Washington's birthday, as a tribute to our great forefather. Mr. Barry, an attorney, who is head of the Red Cross drive and an outstanding leader in the civic activities of Memphis, was introduced by Dr. Diehl, who said that last week was "Brotherhood Week," observed for twelve years as the time when Protestants, Catholics, and Jews have conferred together to increase mutual understanding.

"Although we may differ in religion, politics, or other matters, we are all citizens of America united in a common cause," Mr. Barry said. He also recalled that people of widely differing religions settled America, and yet all believed in man's equality. Emphasis was placed on the misfortune which would occur if our returning soldiers find that we on the home front have deserted our principles. He remarked that two great factors of life are religion and morality, without which America today would be quite different.

Drive Also To Get Pledges To Buy

The Southwestern student body will plunge into an all-out war bond drive on March 5. At that time Southwestern will officially enter a nation-wide contest.

The Southwestern bond booth will be patriotically displayed in one section of the Lynx bookstore, and will remain open for business from 9 a.m. til 4 p.m.

Representatives from each organization on the campus composes the "steering" committee. On the executive board are: Bernice Wiggins, chairman; Joyce Spaulding, secretary; Minnie Lee Gordon, activities chairman; June Crutchfield, financial chairman; Van Pritchard, publicity chairman; Margaret Hardwick, art chairman; and Virginia Prettyman, in charge of sales. Meetings are held twice a week, and Miss Helen Gordon is adviser.

The schedule of events to boost the bond and stamp sales will begin on the morning of March 3, at which time the chapel program will be presided over by the war bond committee.

On March 10 there will be a formal dance in the gym. On March 19, AOPi will hold a skit-nite. On March 24, the Gay Nineties Revue will be given. Then two basketball games, Pi vs. STAB, and the boys vs. girls, will be contested. A candy sale will round off the list of events to promote the drive.

Other Colleges Hold Bond Drives

STORRS, Conn.—Culminating Sixth War Loan Drive campus activities, students of the University of Connecticut staged a colorful war bond auction. Dressed in a suit of wide red and white stripes, Auctioneer John S. Rankin, assistant professor of zoology, wisecracked bids on a white rabbit donated by the bacteriology department, an infant Irish Setter donated by a professor of the sociology department, and personality tests offered by the psychology department, besides donations from 150 Connecticut merchants, to net $32,000 in war bonds on the spot.

DENTON, Texas.—The first college in Texas to earn the right to fly the School at War flag, TSCW first flew the blue minute man March 22, 1944, Texas Independence Day. Students are determined to keep the flag flying until the boys come marching home. This year's campaign got off to a good start with 94 per cent of the 2492 students buying stamps in October. Plans for the spring campaign include sponsorship of an ambulance plane.

EUGENE, Ore.—Students at the University of Oregon had sold $108,650 worth of bonds at the end of the first week of the Sixth War Loan Drive on the campus. Nancy Riverburgh, Portland, Kappa Alpha Theta candidate for "Bonds Away Girl" led in the contest with 1,617,500 votes to her credit. A goal of $200,000 was set for the drive which ended on the campus on November 29. The winner of the contest was introduced at the December 1 basketball game. Her selection was determined by the number of bonds sold by her organization.

In a three-hour canvass of the business district of Montgomery, Alabama, 43 Huntingdon College girl students, wearing red, white, and blue banners, sold over $20,000 in "E" bonds.

(ED. NOTE: Only banners, and they didn't sell more than that?)

S'Western Cagers Second In League

Drop Deciding Contest To Goldcrest, Miss Championship

Lynx basketballers dropped a contest to the Goldcrest cagers last Tuesday night to slip into a final second place in the city league. The two teams having previously divided a pair of engagements, this clash crowned Goldcrest as victor.

There were four teams in the league, Southwestern, Goldcrest, Firestone, and National Fireworks. Each team met each other three times; every squad played a total of nine games, one each Tuesday night for nine weeks. Games were played at Dave Wells Community Center.

Firestone finished third, and National Fireworks fourth. The Lynx Cats dealt the biggest whalloping of the season to the National Fireworks five, with a 66-28 count.

Most of the players in the league are ex-college stars. The Goldcrest squad is composed entirely of men of the Second Army.

Final standing:

| | Won | Lost |
|----------------------|-----|------|
| 1 Goldcrest | 8 | 1 |
| 2 Southwestern | 7 | 2 |

Miracle Mentor In Hundredth Victory

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. — (ACP) — When the Sycamores of Indiana State Teachers College defeated Crane Naval Depot on January 23, Coach Glenn Curtis chalked up his hundredth basketball win.

This total was achieved in a little more than six years, for it was in 1938, after a disastrous coke campaign which produced a lone victory in eighteen contests, that Mr. Curtis was brought in from Martinsville High School where his teams had established one of the outstanding scholastic records in the state. The new coach faced little difficulty in improving the mark of the previous season, but his success beyond that was remarkable. He quickly developed State's previously mediocre teams into aggregations respected throughout this section.

In the six and a third seasons he has been at the helm, his teams have won 98 of their 135 games for winning percentage of .726! Never has one of his squads finished on the minus side of the won and lost ledger.

One of the best records was piled up by last season's outfit, which won 17 and lost 4. Asked how he ranked his present squad with those of past years, the Coach opined, "Well, this team certainly has had courage and spirit; in the last two weeks it has shown as much of this as any squad I've ever had."

Fountain Elected President of SAE

Sigma Alpha Epsilon elected Maynard Fountain as the new president last Monday night to succeed Ed Dewey, who has enlisted in the American Field Service. Fountain is a junior, a dormitory student, and an outstanding campus leader, holding several offices. He is vice-president of the student body, a member of the Honor Council, and a member of the Student Council.

Paul Barret was chosen vice-president, replacing Winston Cheairs. Barret is also vice-president of the junior class.

Paul McLendon and Nimrod Thompson respectively were elected to the offices of recording secretary and treasurer. Paul McLendon is president of the Publications Board.

Others elected were: Steve Schillig, corresponding secretary; Van Pritchard, publicity chairman, and Curt Parham, sergeant-at-arms.

COUNT AT 66-48 Red and Black Men Outscore In Last Period

The diminished Lynx cagers suffered a 66-48 setback at the hands of the towering Vanderbilt Commodores last Saturday night on the opponents' hardwood in Nashville. Vandy's victory in the contest completed a pair over the Lynx for this season.

Vandy took the opening initiative, spurring to an 11-0 lead in the first few minutes of play. The Cats trailed about evenly for the rest of the quarter, then slipped back a little more to wind up the half with the count at 40-21, in the foe's favor.

Rallying in the second period, the Red and Black men outscored and outplayed the Nashvillians, to reduce the lead considerably.

Vandy employed a semi-zone defense, which was highly effective because of the team's height advantage; six-footers were used exclusively on the Commodore lineup, except for the ace, David Scobey, who incidentally was a member of the All-Southeastern team of two years ago. The Lynx pierced the defense wall in the latter period chiefly by speedy passing and rushing.

Glen Swingle, forward, was top scorer for Southwestern, turning in 14 tallies. Rollin Wilson tailed Swingle with 10 points.

Tri-Deltas Lead Women Basketeers

The Tri-Deltas downed the Chi Omegas, 28-24, Tuesday to take the lead in the women's intramural basketball rivalry at the approximate midpoint of the card. The game was close all the way, but from the beginning the Delta Delta Deltas took the lead and kept it except for once when the Chi O's scared them with a tie. Crutchfield took the Delta laurel for high point man with 12 markers to her credit. Schillig was in her favorite spot as high point man for the Chi O's with 17 points.

The box score:

| DDD 20 | Pos | Chi O |

| Barbour | G | Beane |

The battle between coeds of Southwestern for the coveted basketball cup is now in full swing. Every Tuesday and Thursday from 1:30 to 2:30 the belles are knocking themselves out riving up points for their various organizations.

Tuesday, February 25, the Zetas were walked over by the Independents. Prettyman wah high point man and star of the Independent team, chalking up ten points. Sara Ralston and Rachel Utley tied for the honors of the Zeta women, each with four ringers to her credit.

The box score:

| Zetas 10 | Pos | Ind. 13 |

| Laguzzi | G | Robinson |
| Sumerall | G | Dale |
| Horton | G | Stokes |

Substitutions: Zetas — Hagon 1; Independents—Ham.

In the second game of the afternoon the spectators saw the Tri Deltas nose out the KD's, 8-7. The game was nip and tuck all the way. Milner played an outstanding game and also took the honors for the Tri Deltas with six points. Bailey ran a close second with the KD's with four.

The box score:

| DDD 8 | Pos | KD 7 |

Thursday, February 22, the Chi Omegas marched over the Zetas, 20-12. Schillig was high point man

SPORTS COMMENT

The Lynx defeat at the hand of Vanderbilt was a stunning upset to the sports world, although the scoring of 32 points by Mr. David Scobey was to some, but not to this reporter. You see Vandy's whole offense is built around Mr. Scobey and guarding his is almost impossible because they have schemed up an elaborate system of screening off the gentleman guarding Master David. After the gent is screened off, Scobey proceeds to fire a set shot. This trying procedure goes on all evening and by the time the final gun barks Mr. Scobey usually is at the head of the class in the point department. So please don't blame Rollin Wilson for Scobey's 32 points; Rollin was screened so much he felt more like a window than a basketball player.

Coach Al Clemens has been an avid spectator at the recent girls' basketball games and it is rumored that he is eyeing prospects for next year's team. Wellford, Ogden and Schillig are some of the outstanding prospects. . . . With this year's basketball season just about history the sports program around here is likely to reach an all time low, although "Tag" Guiton will be active on the cinder path this spring.

With tears streaming down their faces, the city prep champion Tech cagers walked off the Memphis State floor on the short end of a 29 to 27 score with Humes last Friday night. It was almost unbelievable that such a fine team had lost in the first game of the district tournament to such a weaker one, but those things do happen.

Former sports editor of the SOUTHWESTER, Jim Wade, informs us of the fine season they had up at Eastern Kentucky State College. Wade played on the Eastern squad that won 16 games and dropped only four, and Jim they are headed for the annual Invitational Tourney at Kansas City next week.

The Independents came through with another victory over the AOPi's, 26-6. The AOPi's never lacked the spirit, even though they did points. We again see Prettyman doing the honors for the Independents with 19 points to her good. Uhorn made all the points of AOPi.
