CHANGE LINEUP OF CONFERENCE AT S. I. A. A. MEET

Southwestern One of 9 In D. A. C. Group

SPRING MEETS HERE

Provine Denounces 'Jobs' To Lure Players

Formation of a new conference to be known as the Dixie Athletic Conference was effected at the annual S. I. A. A. meet at Hotel Peabody this week.

Seven strong teams, already S. I. A. A. members, comprise the new association. The members are: Southwestern, Birmingham-Southern, Howard, Spring Hill, Mercer, Centre, and University of Chattanooga.

Two tentative members are Millsaps and Mississippi College.

SEEK CO-OPERATION

Purpose of the D. A. C. is to bring about closer co-operation among conference members. At present the S. I. A. A. has a membership of 34. The group is so large, delegates contended, no championship team could be picked. The D. A. C. has that as its aim. Membership in the D. A. C. will be limited to 10.

Nine schools, including Millsaps and Mississippi College, are in the D. A. C. The tenth member will be selected at a conference meeting in February.

TRACK MEET HERE

Dr. W. O. Swan was elected chairman and director of the S. I. A. A. track and tennis meets to be held at Southwestern in May, 1931.

The annual basketball tourney will be held at Jackson, Miss., with Millsaps and Mississippi College joint hosts.

Three schools admitted to membership in the S. I. A. A. are: Mississippi State Teachers College, Murray, Kentucky Teachers and Middle Tennessee State Teachers College.

Talks by Dr. Charles E. Diehl, Dr. Swan and Coach Webb Burke featured the convention's closing session at luncheon in Hugh M. Neely Hall.

DENOUNCES SUBSIDIES

Commercialization of college athletics in any form was denounced Monday by Dr. J. W. Provine, president of the S. I. A. A.

"Some colleges pay athletes by giving them so-called 'jobs,' he said. "It is wrong for anybody to obtain money under false pretenses, and I am opposed to such practices.

"On the other hand, tho," he continued, "I do not believe we should discriminate against athletes. Just because a boy is a good football player is no reason why we should deny him work if he needs it to help pay his way thru school. But I do say this: If he is given a job, he should be required to do the work himself.

"An amateur athlete is one who participates in physical sports or training or uses his knowledge thereof only for the pleasure and the moral, mental, physical and social benefits therefrom."

Nitists Postpone Thursday Meeting

Regular bi-monthly meeting of the Nitist Club, scheduled for Thursday night, has been postponed until 8 p. m. Jan. 8.

"Behaviorism," a paper Sylvester Thorn was scheduled to present Thursday for discussion, will be offered at the meeting Jan. 8.

Thorn will contrast behaviorism and introspection, as well as the old and modern conceptions of behaviorism.

Amiable 'Revolutions'

ATCHISON, KANS.—(IP)—After two months contact with Fernando and Guillermo Ortiz Rubio, sons of the president of Mexico, students at St. Benedict's College here have voted the boys "good fellows."

HOLIDAY TREK STARTS; CLASSES RESUME JAN. 2

FRATS PLEDGE FUNDS TO AID JOBLESS ARMY

Contributions Over $200 in Initial Spurt

FACULTY MAY HELP

Students Give $32 in Cash During Chapel

The student body has harkened to the call—relief for the unemployed.

Following a brief, terse oration by George Whitaker in chapel last Friday, the various student organizations on the campus rallied and soon $214.50 had been pledged to aid in appeasing the needs of Memphis' needy.

FRATS CONTRIBUTE

The Panhellenic Council was first to answer, donating $75. The Southwestern Players pledged $25. Fraternities and sororities came in line rapidly and subscriptions were listed in the following manner: Sigma Alpha Epsilon, $10, pledges, $5; Kappa Sigma, $5, pledges, $5; Beta Sigma, $5, pledges, $5; Kappa Alpha, $5; Theta Nu Epsilon, $5; Alpha Omicron Pi, $10, pledges, $5; Kappa Delta, $5, pledges, $5; Chi Omega pledges $5; Delta Theta Pi, $5, pledges, $5; and Zeta Tau Alpha, $5, pledges, $5; Miss Lucille Work pledged $2.50.

FACULTY MAY HELP

The fund at present represents only the valiant efforts of the student body but probably will be augmented by a substantial donation from the faculty.

Contributions in chapel for four mornings added $32 to the relief fund. In addition to financial assistance students intend to aid in other ways. Those who wish to give an hour's service a week will be divided into working groups and assigned special tasks. Some will provide autos to be used in the relief deliveries. Others will work with the city's organized charity agencies.

Co-eds Urge Riots

NEW YORK—(IP)—That an occasional riot in the public would be a good manner of attracting money to the college is the belief of the Bulletin, undergraduate publication of Barnard College for Women.

CO-EDS OUT FOR HUSBANDS

Some, Tho, Hide Ambitions Under Guise of 'Careers'

Southwestern co-eds long for a home and children, altho their sisters in the East and North prefer professions and careers.

And Southwestern co-eds are frank in admitting they will be looking for a husband after graduation.

Statistics gathered at large universities show co-eds don't want a home and babies. But a representative cross-section of Southwestern co-eds tells a different story.

Miss Meredith Davis, president of the Women's Panhellenic Council, is one of the many harboring matrimonial thoughts.

"I hope to marry," she says. Misses Katherine Reid and Jane Wellford hope for nuptials but have a "substitute in mind" as a "protection."

"We prefer married life. But if this can't be, we'll go into vaudeville," they agree.

"I'm going to chase around until

A Message from the President

TO ALL my associates, whose highly prized friendship is heartily reciprocated, and without whose loyal co-operation our work would be a failure—the members of the faculty, office staff and other fellow workers, and members of the student body—we are extending the Christmas wishes of peace and goodwill, and expressing the hope that simplicity and sincerity and unselfishness and kindness and the spirit of brotherhood may characterize for us this season of sanctity and beauty.

CHAS. E. DIEHL.

NEGROES GREET HADEN PLANS PSYCHOLOGISTS MUSIC COMEDY

Trio Making Color Tests Operetta Will Be Given Last of April

A royal welcome greeted Dr. W. R. Atkinson and two psychology students, Elizabeth Beasley and Josephine Zimmerman, when they visited the Manassas Street Negro High School Dec. 12.

The three are making a study of color preferences.

During the greetings, banners were unfurled and placards displayed bearing the inscription: "Hail, Southwestern."

Refreshments were served the Southwesterners while they were on the stage, facing 700 students and teachers.

Seek Free Phones In Dorm Corridors

Free telephones in all dormitories! As a happy holiday send-off, the Student Council took this project under advisement Thursday, with Harry Walton, president, urging favorable action.

Definite results are expected following the first council meeting after classes are resumed.

Back In Harness

The staff wishes to thank Luther Southworth, former editor of the Sou'wester, for his assistance in editing this edition. Southworth is now on the reportorial staff of the Memphis Press-Scimitar.

HADEN PLANS MUSIC COMEDY

Operetta Will Be Given Last of April

Try-outs for the principal roles in the operetta, "The Pirates of Penzance," to be given last of April by the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs, under direction of Prof. Eric Haden, are now under way.

Excerpts from the operetta were played by Prof. Haden via a victrola for those seeking the leads.

Several who had parts in "Trial By Jury," produced by the club last spring, are candidates for lead parts in the new production.

ANNUAL SERVICES OPEN JANUARY 4

Dr. Cunningham, of Louisville Theological Seminary, will conduct a week of special services for the students of Southwestern, beginning Sunday, Jan. 4. He will address the Southwestern Bible Class Sunday morning and will give talks in chapel each morning and regular addresses each night during the week.

These services, sponsored by the Southwestern Christian Union, are the high points in the religious life of the campus. Each year a religious worker spends a week in early January with the student body, consulting with them about her problems.

There Is a Santie

Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority takes great pleasure in noting the addition of Maury Hull.

PREXY GRANTS EXTRA DAY AS SEASON'S GIFT

Denies Petition But Hints He Might

STUDENTS 'PAY VISIT'

Double Cuts For Those Cutting Classes

Fourteen is a very lucky combination after all, for that is the length of Christmas holidays this season.

Following conclusion of classes Friday, students turned thoughts and toes for the trek homeward—to hang the sock, hope for lats and browse around in leisure and lassitude.

Holidays will officially end with opening of chapel at 8:30 a. m., Jan. 3.

PETITION DENIED

Petition of the student body for an extra day was granted.

President Charles E. Diehl, in discussing agitation for the extra day, disparaged the use of petitions.

"I will be willing to meet with a delegation from the student body," President Diehl states.

Heartened by this, a delegation made an official visit. Result—one day extra.

No fines will be assessed against those leaving a day early or returning a day late, with double cuts being levied against students as a penalty for such action.

Fuller Breaks Leg On Slippery Walk

Don Fuller, former athletic director at Southwestern, fell on the icy pavement in front of Toof & Co., Tuesday, breaking both bones in his right leg.

He was taken to Methodist Hospital, and removed to his home Wednesday night.

Last Christmas Fuller tripped and broke his right arm. The day after the splints were removed, he fell and broke the arm again.

Five Colleges Enter W. C. T. U. Contest

Orators from five schools of this section will gather in Memphis Jan. 16 for the oratorical contest being sponsored by the W. C. T. U.

An elimination contest will be held and a selection made for the entrance in the state contest in Nashville. The subject will deal with some phase of the prohibition question.

Buccaneers Brave Big Banana Ball

The S. S. Yo-Ho, manned by the pirate-garbed Chi Omega pledges, got off to a rousing voyage at the party Saturday night in the lodge, and cruised straight thru an evening of hilarity.

Bananas, peanuts and sundry grub furnished vitamins and calories, while Bill Brickley and his Royal Collegians whetted appetites with pulsating strains.

Floggers Persist

NORMAN, OKLA.—(IP)—Once more authorities of the University of Oklahoma are investigating into the activities of a secret order on the campus, known since its organization in 1907 as the D. D. M. C.

Recently a sophomore, Sam Kaplan, was flogged by the organization.

Done In A Nice Way

SHE WAS ONLY AN ARTIST'S DAUGHTER, BUT SHE KNEW WHERE TO DRAW THE LINE.

Our idea of a dumb Chi O is she who looks for "Children of Divorce" in the library.

Maybe the fact that there's nothing new under the sun accounts for a lot of rotten things.

Mary Laughlin's latest theme song is: "I Don't Wear No Garters 'Cause I Ain't Got No Socks."

It's getting silly to have chaperones at these sorority dances. What they need is a bunch of referees.

"What would you do if I should cry?"
"Hang out a wet paint sign."

Barbara: "What would you call a hypocrite?"
Jinks: "Harry Walton smiling coming to chapel."

PROF. BASSETT—"GIVE ME THE LATIN VERB MEANING TO SKATE."

ELLA KATE—"SKATO, SLIPPERE, FALLI, BUMPTIS EST."

Health Hints—Never try to eat spaghetti when you have the hiccoughs.

"How much do you charge to make children's pictures?"
"Five Dollars a dozen."

"I'll come back later, I only have ten."

S. A. E.—"Fix me a toasted sandwich."
Waitress—"On toast?"
S. A. E.—"No, cutie, bring it on horseback."

JUST SO A PRETTY GIRL FILLS HER DRESS WELL, THERE'S NOT MUCH ELSE SHE NEEDS TO BE FIT FOR.

Come to think of it, we wonder who this "Whoopee" is that the fellows are trying to make.

THE SCOTCH AREN'T THE ONLY ONES WHO LIKE TIGHT SKIRTS.

Headline—"Wife Beats Husband and Flees." Just a new version of the eternal triangle with an outcropping of the insect angle.

K. A.: "Have a smoke, sister."
K. D.: "What! I'm no Chi Omega."

K. A.: "Here, take the package."

"Now this is something," remarked Dr. Kelso, as he discovered his motor was missing.

"What's your new baby sister's name?"
Emily—"Dont know. Can't understand her yet."

June: "You remind me of the ocean."
Elizabeth: "Wild, romantic, restless?"

June: "No, you just make me sick."

Painter says: "Early to bed and early to rise and you don't meet any prominent guys."

THE HEIGHT OF EMBARRASSMENT—TWO EYES MEETING THRU THE SAME KEYHOLE.

Fond Parent: Son, you shouldn't go with that girl. I can see thru her intrigue.

Son: But, dad, they all dress that way now.

"Does Kate belong to Joe?"
"No, but I think he has an interest in her."

"Now this is a nice thing to come to pass," said the young college professor as the pretty co-ed nestled in his arms.

"Mother, dear, may I go for a ride? Jack has a new car."
"Yes, my darling; but be sure and not walk too far."

"Losht losht, in an impenetrable forest," murmured the inebriate as he collided with the same lamp-post for the third time.

PROF: LEAVE THE ROOM!
FROSH: I COULDN'T VERY WELL TAKE IT WITH ME.

After the Calm Comes the Storm

Holidays are with us. After that, exams are in the offing. The time to play is during play time, and to work, during work season. Spend your excess energy Christmas while fun is the order. Then, on returning, tackle those books with renewed vim and pull up any lagging grades it might be your misfortune to have. Remember, tho, now's the time to make merry. The more fully you relax the more fully you can apply yourself on returning.

To Those Who Have, Let Them Give

When Memphis called, students responded. Despite prevalent conceptions of collegians as greedy, the student body was quick to answer the call for funds to aid the unemployment situation. When Southwestern has called on Memphis for help, she has opened her heart and purse. When Memphis called on Southwestern, we returned the honor debt. True, we could not give much, but our gifts reflected our attitude of co-operation. To make the situation more real to us, we can see Angelo, former gardener on the campus, at the corner of Monroe and Third every day selling apples, as one of almost a hundred unemployed men who are taking this means to earn a daily pittance.

Every Student Must Help

Efforts of these men interested in Southwestern and her future have secured the S. I. A. A. track and tennis meets here for next spring. This will be our opportunity to show the conference members that we are a real, progressive school. While we may not boast Big-Ten teams, we can boast the enthusiasm and loyalty that no college, no matter what the size, can surpass.

Gravel For The Sorority Road

Winter has come. Sorority girls look askance at their lodges, for they will be marooned for a greater part of the season. A small expenditure will purchase enough gravel to complete the road from the railroad tracks to Hein Park. Numerous muddy gaps along this stretch make passage impossible during inclement weather. Clean cars look pitiful after a mud bath. The Student Council should determine ways to secure the necessary funds, not only as an assistance to the sorority members but to the men themselves, for sorority parties find both groups at the lodges.

ECHOES FROM THE MORGUE

DECEMBER 19, 1929

Alice Patrick and Lorinne Mitchell were hostesses Dec. 18 to members of Chi Delta Phi Literary society in the A. O. Pi lodge. "The Gift of Magi" was reviewed by Elizabeth Smith. Albert Johnson and his syncopating Catalinks furnished music for the O. K. Christmas party in the Chi Omega Lodge Dec. 19. "Toto" Mosby was Santa Claus. The library committee takes pleasure in announcing the appointment of Miss Margaret Gilbert to the position of head librarian left vacant by the recent resignation of Miss Adelaide Gladden.

Pledges of Kappa Delta Sorority installed gas heaters in the house as a Christmas present to the upper sisters.

Rev. Roy E. Vale, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Oak Park, Ill., will conduct the week of evangelistic services from Jan. 6-11.

Thomas Drake and Billy Armstrong will represent Alpha Epsilon Chapter of the Kappa Alpha Fraternity at the national convention in Louisville, Dec. 30-Jan. 1.

Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity gave the final degree of initiation to Karl Nickle on Dec. 16.

Lorinne Mitchell, Fritz Heidelberg, Margaret Kimbrough, Schuyler Lowe, Frances Jones and Harold Ohlendorf were visitors in Jackson, Tenn., last week-end.

Nitist Club elected Jack Chambliss, George Whitaker and William Marsh to membership at its last meeting.

The Southwestern Players have returned from Greenwood, Miss., where they gave the play, "Am I Intruding?"

Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity takes great pleasure in announcing the pledging of Freshman William Austin.

DECEMBER 21, 1928

Thirty-five students and several faculty members are recovering from flu.

Joe Davs, grid star, and Miss Naomi Dick, former co-ed here, will be married during the holidays.

Coach Rasberry Saturday presented track letters to Roger Wright, Perry Bynum, Fritz Bornman and Oliver Cromwell. Freshman Malcolm McMillan and Elbert Huffman received numerals.

Pledge Mary Gardner Patterson, of Chi Omega, entertained the sorority at a possum hunt Friday.

DECEMBER 16, 1927

Arthur Dulin, coy griddler, wonders if Evergreen Hall co-eds have laundry bills.

Southwestern has been admitted to the S. I. A. A.

This is the freshman edition. The staff includes: Dick Monk, editor; Pauline Barton, business manager, and Jeff Davis, Harry Walton, Bobby Carpenter, Horace Harwell, Charlie Diehl, Leroy Montgomery and Margaret Layne—all good feshmen.

Plane Crashes; One Dies
NEW CASTLE, PA.—(IP)—A youth was killed and his companion was fatally injured when their small monoplane crashed into the roof of a house at Edinburg, near here.

Both were students at Westminster College and lived at New Wilmington, Pa., nine miles from here, where the college is located.

Just A Bit of Dorm Life

Calvin Hall

All the big shots in the "sleepy for hard working boys" are wondering if Southwestern has a heating system besides the one for fresh men. It has been rumored that the building gets real warm in August.

It gives us great pleasure to announce that Freshman John Smith—no kin to the famous brothers—has at last found his wondering teeth. Now he is afraid to leave them on the hanger for fear they will tgain get the wanderlust.

Our latest member to the society of amorous men is none other than the renowned "Izzy" Key.

Stewart Hall

Thru the influence of Meredith Davis, George "Snookums" Lighttower will soon be "Mr. Southwestern."

Harvey Drake, the pride of sorority circle, enjoyed a snow bath last Tuesday night.

Allison Cole has ceased dancing since placing her towel in the laundry. Mrs. Rutland would like to know when Pittman is going to lease an apartment in her establishment.

Due to the ferocity of towel racks, "Shifty" Logan has abandoned East End.

We contend that "Goof" Hinson is causing too many tremons delemons among the girls.

Robb Hall

Altho Buster Dial doesn't look like a woodsman, he's been chopping some tall timber in Bellair Woods of late. "Scrapy" displayed his wares Saturday night.

The dorm inmates have reformed and are studying these days.

Evergreen Hall

Evergreen is fairly teeming with Christmas expectation.

Nell Davis and Martha Burton are going to be Miss Santa Clauses for somebody. They went on a shopping expedition Monday and stayed from 11 'til 5. They're either hard to please or their pocketbooks were full.

Mrs. A. A. Hubbard of Shaw, Miss., has been a guest recently of her daughter, Mary Kennedy Hubbard.

The postman was heard to remark on the increasing number of letters mailed this past week. It's rather close to Christmas, but it's a cinch nobody's sending cards yet.

Mr. J. Weeks and daughters of West, Miss., visited Eugenia during the week.

Quite a few of the girls haven't been home this semester. Ida Banks has to travel only 20 miles, but for a special reason she's going to feel free and happy at 5 this afternoon.

PERSONALS

Jane Barker is leaving Christmas night for St. Louis to visit friends.

Winona Bates is going to Cincinnati to spend part of the holidays with relatives.

Nell Jones plans to arrive to Little Rock one night for a dance.

Frances Meyer beat everybody to it by taking a little jaunt up to Nashville Tuesday.

The twins are going back to their favorite haunts at Hardy for most of the vacation.

Joe Barrett is expected for the Pi K. A. convention, as are many other of the fraternity's alums.

Mitchell Hodges, who has been around the campus quite a bit lately, has decided to look into the more serious side of affairs and enter Southwestern next term.

Experimental School

COLUMBUS, O.—(IP)—A high school in which experiments only will be carried on, is being erected on the campus of Ohio State University. It will cost, with equipment, $450,000.

NEWS DISPATCH GIVES SLOWDOWN

Clubs Foster Spirit Between Groups

Portland, Ore. — (IP) — American education is inefficient in preparing the student for participation in political life, according to Dr. Edward O. Sisson, head of the department of education and philosophy at Reed College, who is now engaged in a lecture tour throughout the East.

In his address, "A Blind Spot in American Education," Dr. Sisson declares that the trend of education is away from politics. More students are studying ancient history than American history, he holds, and more are entered in Latin classes than in civics classes.

Even the civics which is being taught in the high schools, he declares, and the corresponding political science courses in the colleges, are of such a technical and academic nature as to prepare the student poorly for a political career.

The really dangerous citizen, according to Dr. Sisson, is not the thug, the criminal, nor the corrupter of politicians, but the apathetic, indifferent citizen who, by his indifference to politics, throws the control of American political life to the criminal element.

Less than half the qualified voters of the country, he says, turn out for elections, and the whole nation's political policy is controlled by a vicious minority.

"Chicago," Dr. Sisson states, "is an example of the failure of education to prepare the average student to take part in his own government."

Own Press Agents

MILWAUKEE, WIS.—(IP)—Marquette University football stars this fall have been forced to praise or deride themselves in news stories which they wrote about the games.

A number of players, as students of physical education, are taking a course in sports writing and their assignments include covering Marquette's football games, even though they may have played in them themselves.

Students Flaunt Distance And Travel To Nation's Corners For Christmas

Some Go North, Some South, Some Ride On Trains, Some Brave Roads, Some Pine

Distance is no drawback to Southwestern collegians when Christmas holidays start Dec. 19, for they will travel about 65,000 miles before returning to the campus Jan. 2.

Several will spend half of their two weeks Yuletide holidays on the road or rails.

But when the opportunity comes to see the family, sweetheart or to hang the sock on the mantel—well, 1000 or more miles is no discouragement.

When the ancient campus bell rings out following classes Dec. 19, the exodus will start with students making a hasty departure for all corners of the nation except the far West.

Miss Imogene Carmichael will spend four days and two nights to and from West Palm Beach, Fla., covering about 2800 miles in the round-trip. She will celebrate Christmas in summer clothes.

SNOW AND ICE

Miles Freeman, Harry Champlain and Dick Eliot will find snow and ice. They will ride in Freeman's car to his home at Canastota, N. Y., about 1200 miles from Memphis. Then Harry will take a train for Buffalo and Dick for Hartford, Conn., his home. They will travel about 7,500 miles there and back.

Miss Frances Cairns will reach Ft. DuPont, Del., after a two-day and one-night trip, joining her father stationed at Ft. DuPont, and two brothers, West Point cadets.

Three freshettes, Misses Kate Cleveland, Edith Graff and Martha Nichols, will be on the train a total of 12 days and six nights, in the round trip to their homes at Columbus, Ohio.

In still another direction goes Miss Jane Ussery, of Tyler, Tex., who will spend two full days on the train in making the two 750-mile trips.

Tom and Harvey Drake will drive to Ripley, O., and Nate White their cousin, will drive to Falmouth, Ky., a round-trip total of about 3800 miles.

WHOA, DOBBIN

Six lads—Tom Holloway, Freshman Fred Bearden, Johnny Hoyt, Pee-Wee Hines, Freshman George Bell and Jimmy Dainwood—will head for Monroe, La., 450 miles distant, in an antiquated omnibus. They estimate their combined mileage at about 6500.

Three Alabama boys, Charles Plummer from Andalusia, Gilbert Key from Mobile and Teddy Johnson

Who's Who

Malcolm Richie

Malcolm "Mac" Richie, president of the Men's Pan-Hellenic Council and one of Southwestern's star debaters, was born in Somerville, Tenn., May 31, 1908. He graduated from the Fayette County High as the valedictorian in June, 1927, and he was also a four year letter man in sports.

In addition to being the president of the Pan-Hellenic Council, Mac is a member of Beta Sigma fraternity, a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, president of the Southwestern Forensic Society, president of the A. P. O. social Club, member of the Thirteen Club, member of the Nitist Club, and a member of the Student Council. Last year he was president of Beta Sigma and business-manager of the 1930 Lynx. He has won many medals for oratory and debating during his college career.

***
Maria Hunt Negus

Maria Hunt Negus was born Feb. 10, 1910 in Greenville Miss. She is a graduate of Greenville High.

Maria Hunt is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority, and Alpha Theta Phi petitioning Phi Beta Kappa. This young lady has a rather singular habit of making straight A's.

Tit: Is there any variety in the meals at college?

Tat: Yes, we have three meals a day and each has a different name.

Mother: "Come Freddie, and kiss your Aunt Martha."
Fred: "Why, Ma, I haven't done anything."

from Ft. Payne, will travel an average of 1000 miles each.

Bill Walker, captain-elect of the 1931 football team, is planning a trip to his home at Millboro, Va. George Whitaker is heading for Black Mountain, N. C., and Marcus Tansey to Smithville, Tex. Each lives about 9.0 miles distant.

Sidney Hebert and Frank Jones will be "orphaned" Christmas. They will remain in Memphis. Sidney lives at Long Beach and Jones in Los Angeles, Cal.

Tri-state students will average 100 miles each, for a total of about 20,000 miles.

Wisconsin Weekly Flails Pep Spirit

(NSFA) Claiming that smaller colleges are still in the pre-war period when childish exhibitions of college spirit were in vogue, the Wisconsin Daily Cardinal evoked a fiery reply from the Oregon State Daily Barometer this week.

The Wisconsin student press denounced the rah-rah spirit as follows: "The smaller colleges on the whole are still in the pre-war period. At Beloit and Lawrence and Carroll everybody turns out for the send-off for the teams . . . At Purdue, football is not only a god but all the angels too. . . . Even at Illinois the student papers runs a front page editorial . . . as at Oregon State, to boost the team. But at California, Chicago, Harvard, Michigan and Wisconsin, there is almost none of this. The student papers are, by and large, indifferent if not definitely unfriendly to displays of college spirit.

"It is interesting to note," the Wisconsin Cardinal continues, "that these are the schools which are most cosmopolitan, and at which students are given the most freedom of thought and of expression. At small schools where censorship is the rule . . . the student is provincial, collegiate. . . . Also at large schools which draw their students from one district and at which there is small freedom . . . the student is a rah-rahist."

The article in the Oregon State Daily Barometer does not take up the cudgels concerning the charge of "provincialism" but answers the article with evidence on the relative success of the football teams of the two institutions: "If you want a fighting football team—get out and support it. If you want to be 'the mid-west's outstanding disappointment' (quoted previously in the article from a sport writer's criticism on Wisconsin's football) be 'indifferent if not definitely unfriendly to displays of college spirit.'"

***
Georgia University Wants 5 Day Week

Athens, Ga.—(IP)—Believing that the five-day week is just as important an innovation in college life as it is in industry, the Red and Black, undergraduate newspaper at the University of Georgia, has started agitation editorially to keep Saturdays free from classes at the University.

"We admit," the Red and Black says, "that there are certain visible advantages to be gained in going to classes six days a week . . . more work can be accomplished for one thing. But we question whether the quality of work is as high as that done during a five day week. Most experts agree that it is not. Henry Ford has experimented with shorter hours and fewer work days. His tests show that the average man does a higher quality of work laboring over a short period than he does over a long one. His tests are not too irrelevant to be applied to the University of Georgia."

The newspaper further admits that various other difficulties would arise, especially that of completing the week's class scheduled. It suggests, therefore, that students attend classes in certain subjects each day until that course has been completed, and then take up work in other courses, studying in that every day until it is completed.

SEWANEE OPENS FALL GRID MENU

Only Four Games On '31 Football Card

The Southwestern Lynx is a hungry animal, judging from the grid menu planned for next year.

A special nine-course dinner, with six S. I. A. A. and three S. I. C. games will combine to make the season the hardest yet scheduled

Only four of the nine games will be played in Memphis.

The schedule:

Oct. 3—Sewanee at Fargason Field (pending).

Oct. 10—Millsaps College at Jackson, Miss.

Oct. 17—Howard College at Birmingham.

Oct. 24—University of Louisville at Fargason Field.

Nov. 7—Mississippi State Teachers at Hattiesburg, Miss.

Nov. 14—Mississippi A. & M. College at Starkville.

Nov. 21—Union University at Fargason Field.

Thanksgiving or Nov. 28—Spring Hill College at Fargason Field.

Who Cares If They Do?

LONDON.—(IP)—The University of London is to have an art institute associated with its courses in fine arts, and devoted to the history of arts in all branches and to the training of art critics and experts.

THE SPIANS PLAN 4 NEW PLAYS

One-act Productions To Be Given Soon

Southwestern Players will begin work on four one-act plays immediately after the Christmas holidays, according to Marion Painter, president.

The plays have not been decided upon, although several are being considered. The plays will be under the directorship of Misses Meredith Davis and Elizabeth Smith, and Albert Erskine and Painter.

Membership of the Players is large this year, and much new talent is expected to be developed. Those who show up in these plays will have the inside track for parts in the big plays later on, officers say.

300 Students 'Fired'

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—(IP)—Because only unemployed men and men with dependents will be employed to handle the Christmas mails here this year, some 300 undergraduates of Rutgers College, who usually make a total of $25,000 during the Christmas vacation working for the post office, will have to find other means of spending their time this coming vacation.

NUPTIALS FOR DAVE 'CAUSE THAT'S THE WAY YOLA FELT

She Was Only a Waiter, Was Yola, But O, How That Girl Could Love!

CHAPTER 3

"IN THE NICK OF TIME"

As Dave lay in the corner of the abandoned trench, trussed up like a Christmas package, he thought of his comrades safe at home in the French airdrome. He could hardly restrain the tears.

He didn't want to die—he wanted to live, to breathe, to feel the warmth of the sun, the cool wind on his cheek at dawn. But why think of those things. He was to be shot down like a dog when the sun god hung his canvas in the west.

Just as the sun would set in darkness, so would his soul set unless—unless—No! He would not inform the enemy of the Allied plans. Of that he was sure.

They might kill him but they couldn't make him tell. How calm he felt now. He could die like a man, like a real American. He half smiled to himself as he thought of the rage of the German officers when they had been unable to make him talk.

STOMPS TWO MILES

Shortly after noon he was marched two miles thru the woods to an old chateau, remnants of which towered skyward from the debris of constant shelling. After the sentry had thoroughly inspected his bonds Dave was thrown into the cellar and left to his thoughts.

Minutes passed. Dawson noticed the perceptible lengthening of the shadows of a crate on the floor of the cellar, bathed in the slanting rays of a dying sun. In three hours he would be shot. Well, he wouldn't brood at any rate.

As he lay on the cold dirt floor he thought he detected a soft rustle near the great oaken door which the sentry had carefully locked. There it was again! Now he was sure. Suddenly a piece of paper appeared under the door and he heard a woman's voice whisper, "I will return at dusk." Rolling over and over toward the paper Dave read:

Mon Cheri:

It is I, Yola, who will save my beeg American. I have ze plans made. Watch for me closely when you hear ze airplane. You are so handsome, you wonderful American.

Au revoir,
Yola.

HIS HEART LEAPS

Dave's heart leaped as hope was renewed in his breast. Maybe he could get back to his 'drome after all! Boy! He would have a lot to tell his buddies. He could see them grinning and shaking his hand, for they had given him up for dead.

If only Yola could succeed! Who was this young girl? Why should she risk her life to save a condemned man? Could it be love? But why worry? He would leave everything to the girl. The blood coursed thru his body once more, depression turned to hope.

The sun was sliding swiftly down the sky. Soon the sentry would return for him. Dave grew nervous. At every sound he jumped, alert for another message from Yola. What was that? Could it be? Yes! It was the drone of an airship—a Fokker. Dave could tell by the smooth hum of the powerful engine.

The plane circled the chateau twice and landed in a meadow a hundred yards from the half-ruined house.

BLACK MOUTH APPEARS

The motor has hardly been cut off before a great stone in the wall opposite Dave began to slide slowly to one side with much creaking and rasping. Slowly, ever so slowly, it moved until the black mouth of an underground passageway was revealed, doubtlessly a secret tunnel built by the old nobleman who had erected the chateau in the Middle Ages.

A slim French girl slipped thru the opening, her big blue eyes blinking at the dazzling rays of the setting sun which glistened on her jet black hair. Then, accustomed to the light, she moved swiftly over to our young hero, who lay in silence, not daring to utter a word for fear of being heard by the officers upstairs. Quickly she cut his bonds and half pulled him to his feet.

WAITS ON TABLES

"We musz hurry, monsieur. No one guards ze airplane outside. I wait on ze table for ze officers. It is there that I learn the General himself. He come by plane to question you. I know you fly so I wait for General. He is upstairs now. We steal his ship! Fly back to France! Come."

"Great!" exclaimed our young hero as he kissed the smiling girl.

"Come, hurry, monsieur American!"

Together they felt their way down the old passageway, brushing aside cobwebs which had remained undisturbed for centuries. After minutes of cautious progress Yola called a halt. Reaching high on the right hand wall under the third stone from the top and the tenth from the end of the passage, which was blocked by a great slab of stone, she pressed a rusty spring.

DOOR GROWLS

Slowly the door began to open, growling at being disturbed from years of sleep. Sixty yards from the opening of the passage stood the trim Fokker, ready for flight. Not a soul was in sight, all the soldiers having been called for inspection by the General. The time was ripe for escape.

Swiftly the two raced toward the plane. Throwing Yola in the observer's cockpit, Dave spun the propeller and dove into the pilot's seat just as the great motor roared. A rifle cracked as the Germans rushed out of the chateau. Laughing wildly Dave Dawson gave her the gun.

CRATE HURTTLES

Up and up he hurtled the crate zooming for the ceiling. Pointing her nose toward home Dave raced for his airdrome at full speed. He wondered as he sped past three German Albatross pursuit planes why they didn't open up on him and blow him out of the sky. Then it dawned on him. He was flying a German ship! He was a free target for the guns of any Allied pilot!

Swooping low, Dave drove the ship to within a few feet of the trees. He had a better chance of avoiding a fight if he hugged the earth. He was over the trenches now. Like a flash he streaked straight toward the airdrome. As he landed, amid rifle and machine gun fire, he raised a white handkerchief above the cockpit. Leather clad figures rushed across the tarmac.

CHEERS REND AIR

Roughly they yanked Dave from the cockpit. Then they recognized him. It was Dave Dawson! Cheers rang out thru the dusk and Dave and Yola were carried triumphantly into the commander's headquarters.

A banquet was given that night in honor of the prodigals. Compliments were heaped on the head of our young hero for his part in the thrilling adventure. But most of the eyes were turned toward Yola who was lovely.

An officer yelled to Dave, "Hey, Dawson. What are you going to do about Yola? There's a red cross station a mile down the road where she can stay. You can take her there on the company motorcycle."

BORROWS MOTORCYCLE

"Nothing doing," replied our young hero. I know where there's a little French church. Lend me the motorcycle and I'll return a married man."

At this there was a roar of approval and Dave and Yola had toast after toast drunk to their future happiness as they stood locked in each other's arms.

Sue to Lou

Dear Lou:

This will be my last letter before I go home for Christmas. I can hardly wait.

I saw "Lip" Read today with one of his numerous girl friends. He has succeeded Charlie Plummer as the most "powerful" freshman.

You know the Kappa Sigs had a fire the other night. Not a very bad one but enough to cause the treasurer a little trouble. Seems like those boys would know by now that it's bad to play with fire.

Here's something that I have meant to tell you for a long time but somehow I have overlooked it. Ione Wall and Wilson Rainey have been going together quite a bit.

The football boys just look too grand for words in their new sweaters. They certainly are beautiful—the sweaters, of course. Elizabeth Alley came breezing out in one before the "new" wore off. Ain't that something?

Dorothy Smith and Claude McCormick are still going around together all the time. It must be nice.

Well, there goes the bell and I must be gone. See you real soon. Be thinking up all the dope to tell me when I get home.

Yours,
Sue.

COLLEGIANS AIR FAVORITES

Give Benefit Program for Goodfellow Club

Popular tunes by Bill Brinkley and his Royal Collegians featured the Goodfellow benefit program over station WREC Monday.

Listeners "bought" songs by phoning and pledging a certain amount if Brinkley and his boys would respond with the numbers.

As a result, several hundred dollars was raised. This will be turned over to the Press-Scimitar Goodfellows Santa Claus Club for clothes and Christmas cheer to Memphis' unfortunat "varsity."

Believe It Or Not

There are more inmates in the insane institutions of the United States than students in all the colleges and universities.

At Temple University the greatest amount of potential pain has been concentrated into the smallest area possible. It boasts one room in the dental school with 75 chairs.

Haverford sophomores must pass an examination of 2725 questions, covering nearly every department of college education, the quiz requires 12 hours.

TWO MAY LIVE AS CHEAPLY AS ONE, BUT NOT NEARLY AS QUIETLY.

I'm The Gink

I'm the well-read guy who consorts with the upper realm of literary masters. I'm never seen without some ponderous tome under my well-formed arms. I like to flaunt their titles before my mundane fellows. When they seem addled, and query me, I can always offer something in the way of information. Some day, tho, I'll slip off this pedestal of supreme comradeship with the literary peers. I fear the moment when some over-curious nincompoop fathoms my veneer of learning. He'll bore right into the core of my ignorance—and I'll never live down the chagrin. Until then—I'll be the same old highbrow, for—I'm the Gink!

"Iron-Jaw" Walker Chosen Helsman Of 1931 Gridders

Johnny Hughes Elected Alternate Captain For Next Fall

Bill Walker, varsity guard for two seasons, is captain-elect of the 1931 grid machine. Johnny Hughes, end, is alternate captain.

The new leaders were chosen last Friday following dinner in the private dining hall.

"Iron-Jaw" Walker is a graduate of McCallie School, Chattanooga, where he was a star athlete for four years. He won a regular guard position on the Bobcat squad in 1928, and duplicated this position on the varsity for the past two years.

While not a spectacular player, "Iron-Jaw" is always where the play is the hottest. He is steady and dependable.

Johnny, from Central High school, played a terminal position on the Bobcats in 1928. He didn't make the varsity last year. Undaunted by a broken arm received during scrimmage early in the past season, he remained in the game, playing in a majority of the tilts. Hughes is a stellar defensive performer.

Tough Schedule Faces Yearlings

Bobcats Will Meet Local Teams In Practice

Coach Billy Hughes will defer selecting the first-team Bobcat cagers until after the holidays.

Tentative schedule calls for contests with local prep schools prior to the regular collegiate schedule, which will be announced later.

"I have made overtures to several strong teams for dates, and we will have a stiff schedule," says Coach Hughes.

After several more practice sessions, Coach Hughes plans to cut the squad and from this group pick the Bobcat "varsity."

Cage Chief

To those whose acquaintanceship is very limited, this is Willis McCabe, coach of the varsity cagers. Coach McCabe predicts a bright season and is negotiating for games with several outstanding colleges.

Well, I guess all the S. I. A. A. delegates are back home now telling the boys how Southwestern made off with everything but the basketball tournament and Hotel Peabody's silverware.

Prof. William C. Clinton and his group of faculty lobbyists smooth-talked the delegates into awarding the 1931 track meet and tennis tournament to Southwestern.

And Presbyterian College of South Carolina went home a-begging. We'll wager Dr. Rhodes wagged a mean tongue about the tennis tournament.

Seen at the meeting of the S. I. A. A. delegates—Dr. Diehl smoking a cigar and apparently enjoying Dr. Harry Ettelson's after-dinner speech on "Playing the Game."

Looks like Coach Webb Burke bit on the wrong piece of Christmas candy at the meeting. Slip your peepers over this schedule and then weep. Sewanee, Millsaps, Howard, Ole Miss, University of Louisville, Mississippi State Teachers College, Mississippi A. & M., Union University and Springhill.

Speaking of schedules, Coach Willis McCabe has lined up a great cage card. The boys at the meeting were giving "Mc" the thumbs down because he was offering to take on any of the tough clubs (meaning S. I. C. teams). Coach McCabe may get the last laugh, for all S. I. C. teams are certainly no better than this year's Lynx quintet.

Christmas presents we would like for Santa Claus to drop down the Lynx chimney:

A renewal of Webb Burke's football contract.

Enough hard cash to support baseball.

Entrance applications from 11 husky football players.

A good luck charm to be worn during exams.

Ancient Kit

SALT LAKE CITY.—(IP)—What archeologists describe as a pre-historic surgical kit has been discovered beneath a cliff dwelling near the Utah-Arizona border by members of the Charles L. Bernheimer expedition of the American Museum of Natural History.

The kit, which contains a variety of wooden instruments, all well preserved, was hidden in a hollow tube, covered by the skin of an animal.

Archeologists believe that the surgical instruments were used by a race known as basket weavers, many years before the arrival of the cliff dwellers.

Joe: Has your brother been home from college lately?

Jim: Yes; my bank won't rattle any more.

Mr. Wright: May I hold your hand?

Miss Woosley: It isn't heavy, I can manage it all right, thank you.

Lynx Cagers Scramble For Berths; Open Season Against Miss. College

Wealth of Material Out for Posts; Coach McCabe Building Formidable Schedule

As the Lynx quintet is courting form and learning defensive as well as offensive style of play, Coach Willis McCabe is scratching his head in plain bewilderment.

Of a most formidable array, several candidates stand out for the hard positions of guards. Barron Shelton and Eliot Perrette, at close observation, are head and shoulders over some of the other aspirants.

Shelton was tying knots in the foes of the Bobcats but failed to click on the varsity last year. Perrette is a rangy youngster with plenty of ability. Russell Brigance and Meeks Hinson have been shooting at the ring on the tentative squad and are expected to make it a tough decision as to which duet gets the call.

KNIGHT FOR CENTER

"Sheriff" Knight is contender for the center post. Bob Logan is a competitor. More will be heard from this thatched-haired played before the season is over. With six men literally fighting for the forward walls, this position has become a mad scramble.

Chauncey Barbour, by virtue of his stellar performance for two years, has been conceded one of the positions. Charley Diehl will be back at the forward fence. Herbert Newton and "Jinks" Joyner, "finds" from the Bobcats team, are showing up well in practice.

Harold High, fleet of foot and good on long shots, is headed for a berth as forward. The schedule for the season brings a strong host of opponents to the Lynx camp.

The opening tilt will be against Mississippi College at Clarksdale, Jan. 16.

The rest of the schedule follows:

Millsaps at Jackson, Jan. 20-21.

Millsaps here, two games, Jan. 26.

Louisiana College here, Feb. 4-5.

Vanderbilt, Feb. 9, pending.

Sewanee at Sewanee, Feb. 10.

University of Chattanooga, at Chattanooga, Feb. 11.

Birmingham-Southern at Birmingham, Feb. 12.

Howard College, at Birmingham, Feb. 13-14.

Lucky Pants

UNIVERSITY, ALA.—(IP)—To the grid fan who sits in the stadium on a Saturday afternoon and watches the Tide roll, the rusty, threadbare trousers that Mike Szencsi, Alabama trainer, wears are just another pair of pants. But to the Alabama players they are "touchdown pants." When Mike has his touchdown pants on the Tidesmen just can't go wrong.

"Really I can't play golf," the sweet young thing said, "I don't even know how to hold the caddy."

Why is a mirror like strong drink? Because you get back what you put in it.

Rapier Girls Must Wait Until Spring

Give Over Practice Room to Basketeers

Co-ed fencers must wait until after the basketball season is over before resuming the gentle art of parry and thrust.

"Due to lack of a practice room, fencing classes have been discontinued until spring," says Miss Frances Cairns, instructor.

Among those taking the five-weeks of classes under Miss Cairns were: Beverly West, Mary Bornman, Martha Costen, Janie Usury, Elizabeth Hampton, Lyle Stange and Elise McDaniel.

Offer Gridiron To Prep Teams

Free use of Fargason Field for football games has been extended to all city prep schools by Southwestern on condition these schools would not play in Memphis on dates of Southwestern home games.

The offer was made thru Coach Webb Burke.

No action has been taken on the offer by the Memphis Prep League.

Plan 'Contraband' Sheet

COLUMBUS, O.—(IP)—In order to avoid censorship which they feel has ruled the Ohio State Lantern and Sun Dial, student publications of Ohio State University, a group of students will publish "The Free Voice," it has been announced. The magazine is to be published anonymously and sold off the campus.

"My daughter, May."

Father (introducing his son): "My son, Will."

Photographer: "Do you want a large or small picture?"

Adelaide: "Small one."

"Then close your mouth."
