

HUGHES NAMED SOUTHWESTER EDITOR; JONES GETS ANNUAL

DATE SET FOR STUDENT BODY TO ELECT MEN

Elections To Start On May 5 Officially

TO APPOINT BOARD

Electoral Board To Control Elections

An election commission appointed from the personnel of the Student Council will control all student body elections this coming election time. The commission will arrange the dates of elections and will act as a judging board to count ballots in all elections and announce decisions. This commission will be announced later.

Student body elections will hold sway the first week in May, nominations for president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer of the student body being made on Monday, May 5. Elections will be held on Tuesday morning, May 6. If there is need of a run-off between candidates, that will be held Wednesday morning, May 7.

Strict parliamentary law will govern all elections. Balloting will be done secretly and a majority vote will be necessary before an election can be announced, according to election rules passed by the Student Council Tuesday.

All class elections will be held Thursday morning, May 8, and dates for elections in other organizations besides the classes will be announced later. Run-off for class officers will be held Friday morning, May 9.

The date for the installation of student body officers has not yet been set by the Council.

LYNX TO MEET EMORY DEBATE

Fortas and Whitaker Meet Crack Team

A two-man debating team, composed of Abe Fortas and George Whitaker, will meet the Dixie championship team from Emory University, Ga., Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in Hardie Auditorium. The Lynx men will uphold the negative side of the question, "Resolved, That the Nations Should Adopt a Policy of Complete Disarmament Except for Police Purposes." Emory's team is supposed to be one of the best collegiate teams in the South. Southwestern is putting her crack team on the job and an interesting debate can be expected.

The team of James Randle and Charles Simmons lost to Millsaps debaters on a tour last week. They debated the same subject, having the affirmative side of the question. The debate at Howard College was a no-decision tilt. Simmons debated one of his former high school colleagues, Samuel Sasser of Andalusia, Ala., who was the state champion orator in 1927. The presiding officer of the debate was also a former colleague of Simmons.

McGee to Speak At Nashville In May

Vernon McGee, Southwestern senior, will represent Western Tennessee and Southwestern at a state-wide oratorical contest conducted by the Women's Christian Temperance Union in Nashville May 10. He will meet with representatives from other sections of Tennessee. A prize of $100 will be given the winner. McGee's subject will be "Eternal Vigilance Is the Price of Prohibition."

Student Leaders Selected

JAMES HUGHES

PAUL JONES

These two editors were chosen by the Publications Board to serve next year. Hughes will be the editor of the Sou'wester and Jones will edit the Lynx. Both are sophomores, Hughes being a Memphis boy, Jones coming from Corinth, Miss.

Prof. Lackey Leads His Youthful Biologists On Hiking Expedition

Children Amused at Things the Insects and Other Creatures Do; Lackey Is Thought to be a God

By JIMMY HUGHES

Professor James B. Lackey, head of the Biology department of Southwestern, the College of the Mississippi Valley, was filled with the Easter spirit last Thursday afternoon and took his Biology 2 class on an extended field tour of the rolling pampas and matted jungles of Overton Park. Equipped with all the paraphernalia necessary for minute observation and graphical picturization the students of life as it is, took to the field and spent several hours poring over the secrets of Mother Nature, that wily old lady who speaks in such a varied tongue.

Led by the capable Lackey dressed in knickers by Phil A. Halle, tie by Oak Hall, and garters by Benny Epstein, the frolicking nymphs of the Biology class accompanied by their rude swain trooped over the green-sward right merrily in their quest for knowledge. Sir James B. seemed to be the pied piper in reality as the roguish group of youngsters clung to his heels tenaciously even as did the rats and mice of old to their pipe.

Trees of a coniferous nature were given the third degree and made to give up their inmost thoughts beneath the concentrated barrage of questions put to them by the eager students. Dandelions and magnolia leaves were sketched rapidly with all the skill and finesse of a blind Eskimo doing fancy Irish lace work.

Brilliant conversation lent spice to the trip. Behold a sample of it:

Mr. Lackey: "No, Hazel, dandelion is not pronounced as though the 'm' were a 'd.'" Hazel: "Aw."

Jane: "If the spider spied her had the cedar 'seed' her?"

Katy: "Dr. Lackey, do you want us to draw the elephant life size?"

But enough of this. Seriousness is the one thing which the Biology class is justly proud of and no other class in the school pays such strict attention to the lectures and general instruction as does this group of earnest students who are giving their all to wrest the secrets of Biology from the clutch of the dread giant, Ignorance.

"Twas enough to move the hardest heart to see Sir James tenderly stoop and reverently touch the gentle poison ivy softly reminding the class that the gods had made him immune to it. Wide gaped the mouths of the astonished maidens and the boys turned to each other in utter amazement at such a deed of disinterested bravery.

But now the red sun was a great orange in the west, dripping its golden juice upon the clouds and his daughter, the moon, was nothing more or less than a bent banana in the East. The soft music of the lion's voice fell like a benediction after prayer from the confines of the "largest free Zoo in the world" and the little elephants packed the trunks for the night. And so the story ends. May the peace and blessings of Biology be with us always, Amen.

Honor Group To Eat and Initiate

Alpha Theta Phi, honor scholastic society, petitioning Phi Beta Kappa, will hold its annual banquet and initiation service Friday night, April 25, at the Parkview Hotel. The pledges who will be initiated are Barbara Bates, Maria Hunt Negus, Margaret Williams, and Anne Sheemaker. Gerald Capers, the retiring president, will be the toastmaster. Pres. Charles E. Diehl will speak. Dr. Diehl and Prof. Raymond Cooper are honorary members.

The Southwestern professors who are members of Phi Beta Kappa have been invited to attend. They are Drs. A. T. Johnson, P. N. Rhodes, R. P. Strickler, W. O. Swan, and H. J. Bassett. Dr. Sam Monk and Miss Annie Beth Gary, alumni members of Alpha Theta Phi, will also be guests.

Grandpa Squared

Dr. W. S. Lacy, executive secretary of the college, received word Monday morning that he had a new grand-daughter born on Easter Sunday to his daughter, Mrs. J. Courtney White of Hope, Ark. Dr. Lacy's second grandchild will answer the name of Sarah Elizabeth White.

HOW NO MEN? WELL, WELL!

Girl Is Lone B.S. Candidate

Out of 56 probable graduates from Southwestern this June, 29 of them being boys and 27 girls, there is only one candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Science. That candidate is a girl, Ellen Goodman. The other members of the class are candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

It is unusual that the candidates for the B.S. degree be so few in number. In the graduating class of 1929, having 64 members, there were 11 candidates for the B.S. degree, all of them boys. In the class of 1928 with 42 members, there were six B.S. degrees received, one of them going to a girl, Virginia Hogg.

Ellen is studying to be a technician.

WHITAKER WINS AT NASHVILLE

To Represent W. Tenn. In State Contest

George Whitaker, the Demosthenes of Southwestern, won a new victory last week in his crusade toward oratorical fame when he was selected as one of the two speakers to represent the western division of Tennessee in the state wide contest to pick the champion orator. The selections were made after each school entered had picked its own champion and sent him to Nashville. There the final district eliminations were carried out until the East and West had both selected two men to uphold their honor in the final tourney or words.

Whitaker swept the judges off their feet with his fiery speech on "Industry, Civilization, and Religion" and won the right to represent the West in the state championship meet to be held at Jefferson City, Tenn., on May 2. If he shows the same stuff he showed in Nashville he will bring home the bacon or the medal.

Whitaker's rise to forensic supremacy has been quick but decisive. Entering school last fall as a freshman his marked ability was unnoticed for a while but it soon cropped out and came to the forefront. He has been one of the mainstays of the debating team and combines fiery eloquence with incontrovertible logic. His prospects for future fame are bright and rosy and ere the lad graduates from this institution he will have made a lasting name for himself in the annals of debating and oratory at Southwestern.

To Move Store To New Location

Workmen from the Memphis Wire and Iron Co. were busy the first part of this week installing the wire cages in the College Store in preparation to moving the book store to the basement.

The books, office equipment and other supplies will be moved today from the library to the new location. Miss Marjorie Gates will keep the store open from 9 to 1 each day.

Members of Chi Omega sorority entertained the members of Delta Theta Pi sorority with a tea Wednesday afternoon.

Pledge Mobley

Beta Sigma fraternity takes great pleasure in announcing the pledging of Robert Mobley of Memphis, a freshman this year.

MISS ARTHUR IS GIVEN JOURNAL FOR 2ND TIME

Lowe Succeeds Himself as Business Manager

SOPHS HAVE JOBS

Ohlendorf Lynx Business Mgr. Next Year

Editor-in-chiefs and business managers for the three student publications were announced by the Publications Board officially Tuesday. The new leaders will take over their offices next September.

Two sophomore boys were given the job of editor-in-chief for the two main publications, the Sou'wester and the Lynx. The business managers are juniors.

James Hughes, sophomore feature writer on the Sou'wester this year, and associate editor, was appointed editor for next year. He succeeds Nate White who has served as editor for this year.

Schuyler Lowe, business manager of the Sou'wester this year, was re-named business manager for next year, so efficiently and well has he done his work.

Paul Jones, associate editor of this year's annual, and sophomore, was selected as editor of the Lynx for next year. He will succeed George Booth.

Harold Ohlendorf will handle the annual till next year, succeeding Malcolm Richie. Ohlendorf is a junior.

Frances Arthur will succeed herself as editor of the Journal for next year, and Billy Mitchell will serve as business manager.

FELLOWSHIP IS AWARDED MONK

Professor Will Study Abroad 14 Months

Dr. Samuel H. Monk will sail on June 11 on a 14 months' tour of Europe doing research work on certain aspects of 18th century literature. A fellowship awarded by the American Council of Learned Societies, enabling Dr. Monk to do this work was confirmed this week.

Dr. J. H. Davis will accompany Dr. Monk on the transatlantic voyage, the former to continue his trip through France, Dr. Monk remaining in England for a brief period.

Prof. Robert Warren, a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford now, has been appointed to fill the vacancy in the English department left by Dr. Monk. The latter, however, will retain his professorship at Southwestern.

To receive the fellowship from the Council of Learned Societies it is necessary that an applicant have a Doctor of Philosophy degree. The requirements are difficult, and it is considered a great honor to be chosen.

Arc Twirlers Push Garner In Finals

Second round of Southwestern's arc tourney has been completed, with contestants pushing "Champ" Garner Watson for finals honors.

Spirited competition prevails among those reaching the penult brace for the gold horseshoe to be awarded the best flinger.

Officials urge that matches be completed in order that the tournament may be finished on schedule.

Sophocleans Meet

The "Temptation of St. Anthony" by Flaubert, was discussed by members of the Sophoclean Club at its meeting Wednesday night.

CAST FOR PLAY BEEN SELECTED

"Twelve Pound Look" for May 1 to be Good

The cast for "Twelve Pound Look", a one-act play by Barrie, to be given by the Southwestern Players May 1 at the Mazda Theatre on the Southwestern Night Program, has been selected and practice started. The comedy is one of Barrie's best, and promises some highly amusing scenes for the audience.

Elizabeth Smith and William Berson will play the roles of Lady and Lord Sims, with Tommy Drake acting the butler. Louise Nowlin will be the former Lady Sims who left her husband for reasons which the play explains. The plot grows thick when Lady Sims 1 and 2 are left alone in the room.

June Davidson and Morys, alias "Pee-wee" Hines, the wolf teaser of Southwestern, are getting up an act guaranteed to raise the roof off the theatre.

So They Think--

"There is no evidence that women are less warlike than men."—G. B. Shaw.

"The urge to gamble is so universal and its practice so pleasurable that I assume it must be evil."—Heywood Brown.

"For many years the United States has treated Canada as a bully treats a small boy."—R. B. Bennett.

"It is not being dead but the process of dying that frightens us."—Dean Inge.

"Time is no good solvent for injustice."—Heywood Brown.

"Beauty is the flower of abundant health."—Maria Jeritza.

Fencers Pose

The fencing class has progressed rapidly in the last month both in skill and numbers. A full score of swordsmen are available for the defense of the school.

Last week the class had a picture taken which will appear in the rotogravure section of the Sunday Commercial Appeal.

GONE!! GONE!!

(Oklahoma O'Collegian)

School spirit is dead!—The school is gone to the dogs—and with these sad statements we shall weep copiously and with trembling effort to wipe away the falling tears, will clear our hoarsened throat and attempt to falteringly tell you of the sad, sad story.

No longer do the sessions gather on the corners to "bull" about this and that matter, no longer do students riotously take exception to legislative enactments, no longer do we find the student ire aroused or even warm over the political pot, either national or local. It is a strange thing that has descended on the campus.

We remember when our ideal of college was contained in the hearing of the boys gathered around an all-night eating joint talk and talk and talk. We can't remember of anything particularly weighty being said, but then we enjoyed it nevertheless. Remembering back to the gladsome time, we can see and hear the hearty comradeship that existed among campus organizations. The open razzing and equipping of rival groups added a touch of salt to leaven of class going. We can recall too, of the momentous occasions of sparkling classroom recitation.

There is no doubt about it, the college had moved its bedtime far ahead! The all-night eating places no longer are filled at late hours with students alert for "something to happen." Even the corner benches with the advent of warmer weather fail to see the nightly gatherings, that were once the pride of the campus.

Seriously we are in a quandary as to the cause of this change in the demeanor of the collegian. Surely we trust it is not caused by a lack of a joy of being collegiate. Mayhap we can attribute this lack of the gregarious spirit to the influence of some strong and more potent force in their lives. Maybe after being accused of being ladies and gentlemen for some many years they are convinced!

"I'M KNEE DEEP IN LOVE WITH YOU."
"ALL RIGHT. I'LL PUT YOU ON MY WADING LIST."

CONGRATULATIONS!

The Publications Board made known its decision this week in regard to the new publications leaders for next year. Their decisions were good ones, and the editors-elect are to be congratulated upon having been chosen for such important offices. Jimmy Hughes has done beautiful work on the Sou'wester and has been diligent in digging up articles for the campus news sheet all year. Paul Jones has worked many a night helping George Booth out with this year's annual. The jobs are familiar to both, so the students and faculty should be pleased with their work next year.

DO THE RIGHT THING

It's just as easy to do the right thing as it is the wrong thing. Large wooden boxes have been placed in the College Store as receptacles for trash, candy wrappers, etc., which students usually throw on the floor. The Store is being broadened in its scope and is the business place of Southwestern. Can anyone feature one of the large down town department stores allowing trash, paper, etc., to be strewn all over the floors? A customer would be ashamed to litter the floors of one of the department stores. The College Store is the same thing. It should be kept clean, and it's been made easy for students to do their bit in keeping it clean since the addition of the large boxes. After this throw your papers and waste paper in the boxes placed in the Store to receive it.

The Student Council set the date Tuesday for the annual spring elections. With election time near, it might be well to say a few words on the subject of politics. There's no use denying it; it seems to be human nature to "politic." There have been some "messy" doings on the campus in years gone by at election time, and unless the students restrain themselves there's going to be "messy" doings this time as usual. A law passed by the Student Council will not prevent politics; it seems in the past to have promoted dirty work. The only honorable way, may it be suggested, to do away with politics is for representatives from the even fraternities to meet together as men, which they are supposed to be, bound by the common bonds of human brotherhood, and swear on the Bible to do the square and right thing. By meeting face to face with men, it might (notice we don't say "could") be done, and a cleaner system of conducting student elections be worked out. When a man goes through three years of college and has succeeded, as success in college goes, it seems only right that he should be honored according to his merits. Students in a small student body like Southwestern's should be old-fashioned or naive, whatever you will call it, and vote for a man on his merits. Group-combining to get the most seats on the Student Council is detrimental and dangerous to a school Southwestern's size; it destroys friendships and acquaintances that have developed during the school year; it leaves a bad taste in the mouths of students at the end of the school year; and the man elected by dirty work could scarcely feel honored on having his position. If we're going to have politics, why not announce the candidates openly, tell what group is running him, and openly seek for votes instead of secretly indulging in office-swapping, and openly patting the fellow you're working against on the back and passing jokes with him? Why not have a regular party political system, have your stump speakers and mud-slinging in the open? That at least might provide something interesting and maybe some good fist fights would show up during the campaign, acting as a cooler to some of the hot passions that are usually developed during election time and allowed to smoulder secretly.

Initiate and Elect

Theta Alpha Phi, national dramatic fraternity, initiated Jennie Burford Puryear and Elizabeth Smith Monday afternoon. Officers for the coming year were elected and are as follows: Thomas W. Drake, president; Robert L. Sanders, vice-president; Elizabeth Smith, secretary-treasurer; Hazel Edmunds, corresponding secretary.

"It's easy to distinguish between a prof and a student."

"Ow's that?"
"Ask him what IT is, and if he says it's a pronoun—well, he's not a student."

"I love you," he whispered. "You must not leave me." Her eyes melted.
"I adore you," he choked. "You must stay." Her heart melted.
"I must have you," he shouted. "I cannot bear to lose you." Her knees melted. Then her feet, her hands, her head and her shoulders melted, and soon there was nothing left of his little snow girl at all.

Ain't that tough, children?—Kentucky Kernel.

Some Appreciatin'

Gerald Capers can well be called the busiest little fellow on the campus. He is always starting something, and after he's gone this year, one wonders if inter-class athletic events will be kept up as he kept them.

He has started the ball rolling for the last three years in class football, baseball and basketball tournaments, and he's surely done his bit towards creating a friendly rivalry conducive to a better school spirit.

Gerald's small, but he's a good sport and he's game for anything. His mind is active and he keeps interest of Southwestern closest his heart. He is business manager of the Journal this year, member of Sigma Upsilon literary fraternity, president of Alpha Theta Phi scholastic fraternity, honor student in his freshman, sophomore and junior years, and a candidate for Honors this year.

These little people, if they have the right attitude and "push" behind them, can surely account for a great deal of good done.

DAVE HARMAN'S Greater Orchestra

YOUTHFUL COLLEGIANS CAPER IN ZOO, SHOUT, THEN REPENT

Hyenas, Elephants and Wolves Furnish Fun, But Hughes Can't Read Latin—Too, Too Bad

That Southwesterners are a childish lot officials at the Municipal Zoo will affirm. Seven youthful students will be hauled up before the city judge next week for disturbing the peace and rest of the animals at the zoo.

One pretty day last week, led by the wiry "Peewee" Hines, a small group of students sucking lollypops and eating peanuts wended their way through Overton Park, admiring the beauties of nature and seeking some way to work off excess energy. The other members of the group were Jennie Burford Puryear, Garrett Ratcliff, Irene Hyman, Perry Bynum, Claude Bowen and John Hughes.

They decided to see the elephants and feed them some peanuts. Irene, especially, wanted to see the great big animals, because she once had a toy elephant. The elephants proved extremely rude, one of them sneezing in the face of the playful Hughes boy.

After such crude treatment the curious group paid a call upon the hyenas. "Peewee" always curious and pointing in the cage, looking at Jennie, asked how she would like to be one of "them curious things." Horrified faces on the part of the rest of the group caused the wiry leader to turn his head, thereby seeing for the first time a big woolly policeman at whom he had been pointing his finger all the time. The group "snuck" stealthily away. The hyenas laughed and laughed.

The wolves had just taken their morning bath when the crew came upon them; consequently they were feeling in no humorous mood. "Peewee" thought of a new yell right then and gave a loud whoop. That set the wolves all howling at once as only wolves know how to howl. An attendant came upon the group, catching them all laughing at the vexed wolves and told them they should not be so naughty. When asked if they could not read the signs posted. The worthy Hughes stepped up and said, "Kind Sir, I cannot read the sign saying 'Americus Lupis,'" although he had had four years of high school Latin. The attendant sought to teach the youth hereupon how to read the sign. The group was obstinate and unable to learn so they were given a special invitation in the form of a warrant to come for a school lesson before the judge next week. And so they took their woeful ways home.

Quips

Well, suh, the big boat ride and Panhell are past history now. Some funny things happened. Heard Leroy had a terrible time keeping up with "Skippy" Patterson.

One often wonders why "Jink" Joyner looked so worried at the Panhell. He acted as if he was searching for someone all evening.

Marion Painter's sister, Priscilla Painter, sure made a big hit with the college crowd and got a grand rush.

Everyone saw Dick Monk mistake a girl dressed in a white outfit for Marjorie. Was he hacked?

The orchestra played "Singin' In the Bath Tub" for the Pi leadout. Sure was a nice lookin' bunch of girls all right in the Pi group.

Nice representation from the faculty on hand. Drs. Johnson, Monk, Cooper, Mrs. Townsend, Dr. and Mrs. Davis, Dr. and Mrs. Strickler, Registrar Atkinson, himself, and Coach Burke.

There was a large crowd of former students on deck, too. Among those seen were Ramsey Russell, Emmons Turner, Ed White, Luther Southworth, Leroy DuBard, John Stansell, Oscar Bell, Harold Avent, Moore Moore, "Buck" Roberts, Lindsey Gunn, Will White Holloman and Tom White Holloman, and others.

Install Officers

The officers of Alpha Omicron Pi for the coming year will be installed next Friday night at the sorority lodge. A buffet supper honoring the new officers will precede the installation. The officers selected for next year are: Harriet Shepherd, president; Virginia Demuth, vice-president; Martha McFerrin, recording secretary; Elizabeth Beasley, corresponding secretary; Virginia Richmond, treasurer; Carolyn McKellar, Pan-Hellenic representative.

"What's the matter, old top?"
"Just found a recipe for home brew, and I haven't any home."

Evergreen Hall

The Evergreen co-eds were scattered all over Mississippi, Arkansas and Tennessee last week-end. But the girls who stayed at the dormitory to keep the home fires burning reported that they had lots of fun and excitement. As an example of excitement they mentioned that Johnny Hagan (himself) called on Lucille Parente.

Margaret Smith certainly must know the secret of saying "Come hither" by long distance. A gentleman "friend" came all the way from Texas to take her home for Easter. The peculiar part is that Margaret has not yet returned to Evergreen.

Other inmates who got home by some means or other were Mary Prestige, Mary Woosley, Elmer Draughon, Fay Simpson, Grace Rowland Rogers, Lorinne Mitchell, and Maria Hunt Negus.

Jimmie Walls is another one reported missing after the holidays. She was kept at home on account of illness.

Several girls took home visitors. Mary Gardner Patterson accompanied Allison Cole to Amory, Miss. Mattie Reynolds visited Margaret Ashley in Greenville and reported many wild rides on the mules of the countryside. An account of Martha Burton's visit to Mary Bornman's home in Clarksdale was suppressed in order to spare Harold High's feelings.

However, the record for high-class week-end trips is held by Gertie Mayo, Mary Moore and Ruth Harris. They visited Ruth at Red Banks until Saturday morning. Then they drove back to Memphis took a plane and flew to Helena, Ark., in twenty-two minutes. Louise and Johnnie drove over from Holly Grove and took Gertie home Saturday afternoon.

Ruth spent the rest of the vacation with Mary Moore.

Marion Mills' family came up to see her, but instead of staying in Memphis they carried her off to visit her grandparents in Medina and Greenfield, Tenn.

There is something uncanny in roommates having as much luck as May White and Glenda Rice. They went to a bridge party during the week-end and each brought home a prize. May was also seen wearing a lovely corsage Sunday.

Kappa Sig Frosh Give Tea-Dance

On Saturday afternoon, from five till eight o'clock, the Kappa Sigma freshmen will entertain their upper-class brothers with a tea dance at the Kappa Sigma lodge. The affair is to be an open-house and all the friends of the chapter are invited. A. Holaday and Chauncey Barbour.

Delta Pi's Elect

Delta Theta Pi sorority has announced its new officers for the coming year. They are Lyle Stange, president, Elise McDaniel, vice-president; Alice Rogers, corresponding secretary; Louise Mitchell, recording secretary; Catherine Bigelow, treasurer; Elizabeth Gale, Panhellenic representative.

Epitaph: Here lies an atheist—all dressed up and no place to go.

Poems Accepted

Southwestern poets will see their poems appearing in print in the next issue of The Poetry Journal, published in Chicago. They received word this week that their poems had been accepted. Maury Hull's poem, "Neopanthemism," and two poems by Jack Chambliss, "To a Green Goddess" and "Miniature" were accepted by the magazine.

SEASON OPENED BY FRESHMEN

Play Two-Game Series With T.M.I. Boys

The Bobcats meet T. M. I. in a two game series as a season opener on the home grounds. The second game of this series will be played this afternoon on Fargason Field. Southwestern and T. M. I. split a two game series with T. M. I. at Tupelo several weeks ago, the Bobcats taking the first game 24 to 9 and forfeited the second game to the Colonels. Bill Jones, lanky speed ball artist, is marked up to start the game this afternoon, with Tally doing the receiving.

Coach Willis McCabe has developed a rapid fire, air-tight infield out of High at third, Lloyd at short, Summerville at second, and Carson at first. Johnson, Hoyt, Harned, Carson, Jones, and Mobley, Bobcat hurlers, are perfectly capable of meeting any situation that may arise on the pitchers mound. Tally has proven himself a capable catcher, and McCabe is grooming Eden as an under-study of Tally.

The Bobcats have won two games and lost one so far this season. In the season opener at Tupelo against T. M. I., the Bobcats walked away with the game 24 to 0, but the Colonels were handed the decision in the second game by the umpire, who forfeited the game to them, 9 to 0. In the game against Forrest City, Ark., the Frosh romped home with the long end of an 18 to 9 score.

Schedule:
 April 24-25—T. M. I. (Here).
 April 29—(Open).
 May 1-2—Blue Mountain (Here).
 May 5-6—Ole Miss (There).
 May 7-8—Blue Mountain (There).
 May 12-13—Ole Miss (Here).
 May 15-16—(Open).

Elect Officers

Union Bulldogs To Run Against Lynx Squad Sat.

Meet To Be Held On Fargason; Ford To Enter Meet

Southwestern students will get a chance to see their Lynx track men in action against real competition Saturday afternoon when they meet the Bulldogs from Union University.

It will be a chance for Southwesterners to reap sweet revenge on the Unionites for the defeat meted out to them in the triangular meet at Jackson. Coach W. C. Rasberry believes that his men can beat the Bulldogs and he expects them to come through with a win.

Morris Ford who was injured in the triangular meet has recovered and will enter several of the events Saturday. Captain Roger Wright will enter several of the distance runs. Wright, who was ill in the last race, has been training hard throughout the last week and is in fine condition. Malcolm McMillan will enter the half mile and mile runs. He turned in wins against Union men in the last meet and he is expected to win again tomorrow.

Woods, the high point man for the triangular meet, is the man most feared by the Lynx men. He will enter the sprints, jumps, and hurdles. Lauderdale, a former Southwestern student, is expected to give the Southwesterners plenty of trouble in the weight throwing events.

The list of events and the Southwestern entries follow:

- 100-Yard Dash—Hightower and Bill Hall.
- Pole Vault—Ford and Shaw.
- One Mile Run—McMillan and Wright.
- Shot Put—Lilly and Baine.
- 220-Yard Dash—W. Hall and Dial.
- High Jump—Ford and Bradley.
- 880-Yard Run—McMillan and Rand.
- Discus Throw—Davidson and Ford.
- 440-Yard Dash—Lloyd and Capers.
- Broad Jump—Ford and Hightower.
- Two-Mile Run—Huffman and Wright.
- 220-Yard Low Hurdles—King and Ford.
- Javelin Throw—Lloyd and Bynum.

The first event will be the 100-yard dash and it will begin promptly at 2:30. Officials of the meet are Barnes, former world's record holder for the pole vault, and Dr. W. O. Swan, judges; Dr. P. N. Rhodes, starter; Dr. J. B. Lackey, clerk; Morys Hines, announcer, and James Hill Jackson, timer.

SENIORS, SOPHS LEAD CLASSES

Standing Of Classes Shows Frosh Low

Seniors are leading and the sophomores are second in the inter-class baseball struggle. The schedule for the rest of the games has not been decided on but the next game will probably be between the seniors and sophomores. The seniors and freshmen have played six games while the sophomores and juniors have played only five. The standing of the classes is as follows:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Seniors	4	2	.667
Sophomores	3	2	.600
Juniors	2	3	.400
Freshmen	2	4	.300

Hope To Raise Debt Off College

"If the various Presbyterians are able to secure the sums they have tentatively agreed upon as their respective goals of attainment, we probably will have the $175,000 that remains to be raised to clear Southwestern's $625,000 indebtedness in escrow by June 1, Dr. Charles E. Diehl, president of the college, said recently.

North Mississippi Presbytery last week set its goal in the drive for funds to raise the indebtedness at $10,000, and Central Mississippi Presbytery set a goal of $15,000, as did the East Alabama Presbytery.

The Southwestern indebtedness drive was presented to the Memphis Presbytery Wednesday by Dr. A. B. Curry, pastor of Second Presbyterian Church, and Dr. W. S. Lacy, executive secretary of the college. The Memphis organization opened its annual meeting in First Presbyterian Church, Tuesday night, with a sermon by Dr. George Stanley Frazer, retiring moderator.

Southwestern Night, May 1

I'm The Gink

I'm the gink that tries to make everyone miserable. I like to be sarcastic and say things that I know will make other students gripe. I don't care what they think of me. I think I'm a perfect gentleman, so what other people think about me doesn't matter. I pose as the steady of one of the most popular co-eds at school. That helps me a lot. It seems to add to my importance. I'm also the gink that never does anything for the school. I gripe about what ought to be done, but far be it from me to bother about doing it. I call the school a "sissy institution" and everyone on the campus except those in my particular set "nubs." The way I rate is by my frat pin. Anyone that wears the pin I do must be the stuff. I don't have to accomplish anything to show people who I am. They know. Students often wonder who starts some of the filthy lies that get going around the campus about people, but they never find out, because I'm the gink.

VISITORS LIKE SOUTHWESTERN

Registrars Are Guests On Boat Ride

Forty-one states of the Union, the District of Columbia, Canada and China were represented last week at the 18th annual convention of Collegiate Registrars which met in Memphis with its sessions at Southwestern on April 16. There were representatives from all of the leading universities in the country present, the enrollment being the largest in the history of the organization, the Cleveland convention coming second. There were 266 delegates at Memphis and 260 at Cleveland. The states whose schools sent no delegates were Arizona, Nevada, Utah, Montana, Oregon, Connecticut and Delaware.

Southwestern is definitely identified in the minds of the visitors as a place where hospitality reigns supreme. The delegates were the guests of the school at a luncheon on April 16 in Hugh M. Neely Hall, at which Dr. W. R. Atkinson, registrar, was the presiding officer. President Charles E. Diehl made an informal address. The registrars were given a treat on the night of April 16 that many of them probably had never had before when they were the guests of the Men's Panhellenic Council on a boat ride on the steamer "J. S." on the mighty Mississippi, the occasion being the third Panhellenic dance of the year. The representatives from all over the nation were given an intimate glimpse of the father of waters, and a taste of the friendliness and hospitableness for which the South and its people are famed.

The one foreign delegate, besides the Canadian registrars, to the convention, was Mr. Harold Smith, registrar for Cheeloo University, Tsinan, China.

Buffalo, N. Y., was chosen as the meeting place for the 1931 convention. Before the Memphis convention was adjourned, a resolution was passed that a vote of thanks inscribed on parchment be sent the Panhellenic for the fun afforded delegates.

Y.W.C.A. to Elect Officers Tuesday

The annual election of officers of the Y. W. C. A. will be held on Tuesday, April 29. According to the ruling passed in the fall, only about 40 girls are eligible to vote in this election. The nominating committee composed of Harriet Shepherd, Mary Carpenter, Effie Porter, Lorinne Mitchell, Martha Hogg, and Catherine Bigelow with Elizabeth Williams as chairman met on Monday and nominated the two tickets. Those who will run for offices are Margaret Williams and Mary Carolyn Lee for president; Margaret Ashley and Virginia Richmond for vice-president; Barbara Bates and Lyle Stange for secretary; Eloise Brett and Margaret Kimbrough for treasurer.

Miss Lucille Day, traveling secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement, addressed the regular bi-monthly meeting of the Y. W. C. A. on Tuesday. Miss Day, a graduate of Oberlin College, has been stationed in Turkey for over five years. She told the girls of the movement with which she is connected and recounted some of interesting travels and experiences in Turkey.

Frosh To Have Track Meet With Messick Hi Lads

First Meet for Frosh this Season; Newton Star Performer

Entering their first meet of the season the Southwestern Bobcats will meet the Messick High School team this afternoon on Fargason field. The strength of the Messick team is unknown but the freshmen have a strong team and are expected to turn in a win.

Herbert Newton will be the strong man of the team entering the sprints and jumps. Harold High will enter several of the sprint races. Riley McGaughran will enter the distance runs. Louis Bornman is another stellar performer for the frosh.

Coach W. C. Rasberry is going to enter men in all of the thirteen events of the meet. One casualty has occurred through the last week. Herman Levitch, an entry in the distance runs, injured his ankle in practice Monday afternoon and will not be able to enter any of the events.

LYNX, OLE MISS TO MEET AGAIN

Tennis Matches To Be Played Saturday

The tennis team of five players and Dr. P. N. Rhodes will journey to Ole Miss this afternoon for a return engagement with the Ole Miss racquet wielders. The matches will be played Saturday morning and afternoon. The Lynx are confident of evening the score between the two schools, having suffered defeat at the hands of the Mississippians two weeks ago on Southwestern courts. The men who will probably make the trip are Herman Bevis, Paul Jones, James Dainwood, Charles Diehl and Robert Russell.

One addition has been made to the tennis schedule, Mississippi A. & M. to play the Lynx here May 26. The proposed match with Sewanee net men did not materialize.

All first round matches of the tennis tournament to select a Southwestern champion have been played and most of the second rounds are completed. Some contestants have finished the third round.

We believe that educated people should understand these truths.

Public Utilities render services that are essential to modern living standards.

These services directly contribute to the convenience and comfort of people hourly each day. They have raised living standards, brought us up to a new plane of material existence; and are, in fact, the agencies by which modern living standards are maintained.

Without these services, present-day conditions would be turned backward half a century, and we would revert to the days of the tallow candle and the ox-drawn cart.

In addition to their contribution to the convenience and comfort of people, utilities are economic factors of important worth to their communities—stimulating channels of trade and business activities with their large payrolls and immense purchases of supplies.

These are facts that educated people should understand.
