Staff Meets Saturday to Talk Things Over.

With the Christmas holidays past, work on the 1931 Lucky Lynx has begun again in earnest, in an attempt to finish up all preparations as soon as possible. Sections being worked upon especially at present are the joke section and the snapshot section. A feature of the joke section will be the cartoons prepared by staff artists which will be inserted in the section to make it more attractive and enjoyable.

Smoky Hood has been working during the past week on the mounting of pictures for the snapshot section of the Lucky Lynx. These pictures will cover almost every phase of student life at Southwestern and will convey an idea of the activities of the students at Southwestern.

Pictures were taken Tuesday of the varsity Basketball team, and some of the pictures of campus organizations were also taken during the week, thereby completing the work which has to be sent to the engraver for final preparation.

With the completion of the work for the engraver, attention will be turned to the copy for the annual in order to get it in as soon as possible and insure the early appearance of the Lucky Lynx. All copy must be in by February 15 in order to do this.

Editor-in-Chief Paul Jones called a brief staff meeting Tuesday morning, to discuss with his staff the final details of preparation for the annual.

A brief but very important meeting of the senior class will be called Saturday morning to discuss with the members of the class an important feature in connection with the annual. It is desired that all members of the class be there.

Twelfth Nighters Postpone Meetings

There will be no more meetings of the Twelfth Nighters until the members are notified differently by Dr. Townsend. A notice to this effect was placed on the blackboard in Dr. Townsend's room last Saturday morning.

Nitists Postpone Thursday Meeting

Sylvester Thorn will read a paper on "Behaviorism" Thursday night at the regular bi-monthly meeting of the Nitist Club in the private dining room.

Thorn will open his paper with an analysis of and clarification of the terminology of behaviorism, contrasting it with introspection. The meeting this week was postponed because of the religious services held nightly in Palmer Hall.

Bible Class Hears Dr. Cunningham

The Southwestern Bible Class was addressed last Sunday morning by Dr. J. R. Cunningham, who is conducting the evangelistic services here this week. Dr. Cunningham spoke on the beginning of the New Year. He urged everyone to forget the reverses and trials of the year just past, and to begin the New Year with determination to overcome these obstacles.

New Lynx Athletic Director

Jimmy Haygood

Jimmy Haygood, who Monday was named athletic director of Southwestern, comes to the Lynx from University of Alabama, where he has served as freshman football coach and varsity track coach for three years. Haygood graduated from Vanderbilt in 1904 and has been coaching about 25 years.

He turned out some fine football teams at Henderson-Brown College in Arkansas from 1907 to 1925. He coached two years at Southern College, Lakeland, Fla., and from there went to Alabama.

He will assume his duties with the local school on March 1.

OVERHAUL GYM FOR BASKETERS

This Christmas was a hard one for the unemployed, but it brought many improvements in the Southwestern gymnasium, which help make life more comfortable for the athletics. Three men have been working for an entire week in covering the once rough gymnasium floor with non-skid varnish, making it much more attractive and sanitary.

Another improvement is the final installation of the furnace. It is especially built for such a building, being equipped with fans to prevent all of the heat from going up to the ceiling.

Ministers Club Hears Evangelist

Dr. J. R. Cunningham, who for the week has been holding religious services in Hardie auditorium, kindly consented to speak to the Ministers Club on Wednesday at their regular meeting, and a large number were present. Dr. Cunningham's talk was on the responsibilities of a young man expecting to enter the ministry, and a brief sketch of the advantage offered and routine as carried out at Louisville Seminary. This talk was given in the same clear-cut and interesting manner that has characterized all of his talks this week.

KITTY LIKES DORM GIRLS

Sleuth Trails Mascot to Evergreen Rendezvous

Missing—One Lynx cat. Such was the news that flashed throughout Robb hall one rainy night some days ago when catty students found their wildwood friend missing from his usual haunts and his bed still made up. It was first thought that the collegiate kitty had been out on a late date but investigations among the feminine contingent revealed the fact that no one had seen the handsome fellow since the last football game.

Pee Wee Hines, super sleuth, was put on the job with instructions to "Get his Cat," and given complete control of the case. From Prof. Rhodes this master mind borrowed a magnifying glass and went over every inch of the Robb Hall Social Room, town residence of Mr. Y. L. D. Cat. Pathos racked the heart of Hines, for it was he who had induced the cute little carnivora to come to Southwestern. At first he could discover nothing but photographs revealed the imprint of a WOMAN'S shoe! Aha. Cherchez la femme! What a clue this turned out to be. On his hands and knees our young hero unravelled the threads of the mystery as he traced the trail of the kidnaped cat across the campus to the door of Evergreen Hall.

Biting viciously into a long black cigar, Pee Wee mounted the steps, and beat the door with his clenched fists until a startled frail let him in. When he had taken a roll call Hines selected three girls whose

Driver Drives Fire to Firemen

Maybe, if he had been patient enough, the mountain finally would have come to Mahomet.

Look what happened to the boys at Engine House No. 11! Always they've had to go charging to the fire, but just recently the fire came charging to them.

Like a comet on wheels, a truck owned by Southwestern College and driven by a negro, bore down on the corner of Union Avenue and McLean Boulevard at 11 a.m.

A 10-foot tail of flame roared out behind it.

Captain Louis Rickenbacker and his boys at the engine house, which is about a hundred yards from the corner, saw the truck coming.

In less than a minute, they had a hose snapped onto a plug and were waiting with a stream when the negro skidded to a stop in front of the house.

The fire was in a barrel of creosote on the truck. Damage was small.

No Prep Grid Tilt On Fargason Field

High School League Declines Offer

Memphis Prep League football games will not be staged on Fargason Field next season.

Free use of the field was extended to all city prep schools by Coach Webb Burke, on condition those schools would not play in Memphis on dates of Southwestern home games.

The offer, however, was declined, on grounds that Fargason Field is not as advantageously located as Hodges Field and, consequently, would not attract as large a crowd of spectators.

Feminine Cavalry Take Long Canter

Four feminine equestrians report a most slippery ride during the holidays. Adelaide Anderson, Elizabeth and Kathryn Alley, and Helen Brown were the foursome who trotted briskly for three hours among the bridle paths of Memphis, even venturing as far as the Pink Palace. As one of them declared, "It was one of those pretty country roads, but after that Christmas rain, some non-skids would have really helped."

JIM HAYGOOD 'B A M A COACH TO LEAD LYNX

Veteran Coach Assumes Duties March 1.

MAY DROP WEBB BURKE

Newcomer Will Have Full Charge of Athletics

Jimmy Haygood, newly elected director of athletics at Southwestern, will take over the duties of reorganizing the athletic department here March 1.

Haygood turned in his resignation at the University of Alabama early this week. He had served at the Capstone as freshman football, basketball and varsity track coach.

Haygood, a graduate of Vanderbilt in 1904, started coaching at Henderson-Brown College in 1907. He coached there until 1925, when he joined the athletic staff at Southern College, Lakeland, Fla. In 1926 he went to Alabama, where he remained until this year.

Election of Haygood by the executive committee as a seasonal coach may mean the passing of Webb Burke, popular football coach. The status of William C. Rasberry, director of physical education; Billy Hughes, freshman coach; and Willis McCabe, varsity basketball coach, is similar to that of Burke.

TO HAVE FREE REIN.

Haygood will have supervision over every phase of athletics. He will work out athletic problems in collaboration with Dr. Diehl and the faculty athletic committee.

Either two or three men will assist Haygood in his duties. Whether or not any of the present coaching staff will be retained next season will not be determined until Haygood reports here March 1.

Outside of Dan McGugin and Mike Donahue, Haygood is the oldest coach in point of service in a southern institute. He has been coaching for 25 years.

Wallace Wade, head coach of the Alabama Crimson Tide, thinks highly of the new Southwestern athletic director.

"I don't know of any man better qualified as an all-around coach of athletics for Southwestern than Jimmy Haygood," said Coach Wade. "It has been a pleasure to have had him on my coaching staff for three years."

Students Swell Out of Work Fund

The call for help caused by the severe unemployment in Memphis was received with a hearty response from students—both eds and co-eds. The appeals of Harry Walton and George Whitaker were fruitful to the extent of $250.00, as the student groups vied with one another in their liberality. This money has been handed over to the Mayor's Unemployment Fund, which will distribute it as it sees fit.

The girls went farther still by contributing something like two full cars of old and discarded clothing, which was taken by Adelaide Anderson, in charge of that part of the work, to the headquarters of the Mayor's Relief Fund.

Mrs. Townsend has been very active in helping them, and during the holidays she spent a large part of her time in visiting needy families in the city, and administering help wherever she could.

Dean: "I see that you are. What for?"

Stewed: "I read the letter stating that I was expelled, but on the envelope it said, 'After five days return to the dean.'"

Big Sister: "And after be kissed you three times, then what?"

Pledge: "Well, then be began to grow sentimental."

First Chi O.: "That's a good idea. Why don't we have dates at the house for dinner tomorrow night, too?"

Second Gal: "What is the matter? Don't you have a date, either?"

She: It is very good of you to ask me to dance.

He: Don't mention it, this is a charity ball.

"You had better get a haircut."

"But it costs money."

"Yes, but it is cheaper than buying a violin."

Reporter: To what do you attribute your ability as a swimmer?

Lady Champion: Oh, I used to walk back from rides in Venice.

Friday: Doctor, mark me present, please.

Doc Shewmaker: Who is me?

Friday: Don't you know me?

RELIGION MADE REAL

This week's religious services have been a good thing for Southwestern students. It is well to shake one's mind and heart rather severely at least once a year and more often if possible. If for no other reason than the fact that they make students think and make some who have never thought before think deeply, the services are worthwhile.

The student body is indebted to Dr. Cunningham for the work he has done in talking with and consulting with them. He has shown himself to be an interesting, forceful, and appealing speaker. He has none of the doddering talk of old age. He appeals to young people. His visit has been a most worth while one, for he has made religion on the campus a vital, gripping thing, a magnetic problem, and a new channel of expression for many students who had never thought the thing out before.

Not until religion on the college campus becomes as real a thing as football will any school be a truly Christian college. We need less disbelief among those who do not know what they do disbelieve and more faith among those who purport themselves to be Christians.

Men like Dr. Cunningham take religion out for a healthy airing and make it throb with life. In their hands it grows appealing. And it is for this that we are glad he came.

SO STUPID WE SMILE

The absolutely unfounded charges directed by eleven local Presbyterian ministers against President Charles E. Diehl seem to be more ludicrous than menacing so great is the stupidity of the allegations. How anybody with a normal, intelligent mind could accuse such a man as Dr. Diehl with the things he has been accused of is beyond the greatest allowances usually made for narrow, little minds.

It is useless to restate here the absurd charges made against Dr. Diehl, for they have been aired considerably in the local papers. In fact, too much has been said publicly already about the nature of the charges. Such publicity, although legitimate news, is decidedly unfavorable to the interests of Southwestern. And already the accusations have become so warped that the core of the matter is obscured in a cloud of fiction.

But you will pardon us if we smile at the insinuation that Dr. Diehl is not a strong religious influence for good on the campus. No college president ever sought more earnestly, in word and deed, to set a higher religious standard for his students than has Dr. Diehl for the students of Southwestern. How any critics could overlook his constant, dominant Christian work for moral good on the campus is a mystery. But critics have done so and until they are completely silenced the smudge of the accusations will stain the presidency of Southwestern.

It takes more than one man to put down charges of the nature of those which have been preferred against Dr. Diehl, although he is fully capable of bearing his brunt of the fight for justification in the eyes of Memphis and the Presbyterian synods. Not until every student of Southwestern makes a strong effort to silence the unwarranted criticism directed against Dr. Diehl will the evil work of those behind the "job" be defeated.

We need not drag the red flag of rebellion across the campus and rush madly to the defense of our president. Serious and controlled action is what we need—not the hot flame of temporary indignation. Let us be on guard against letting the smudge spread further by stopping all gossip talk until the spot is completely removed, as it must and will be removed. We ought to be as jealous of Southwestern's honor as we are of our own and this is a matter that touches the honor of Southwestern.

WE WANT BOTH MEN

The appointment of Jimmy Haygood of Alabama to the position of head of athletics at Southwestern is a fortunate move in spurs as a good coach. Bringing him to Southwestern will be the starting point for a gradual uplift in the athletic department. It will be stronger and will function better with him in charge.

But unless Coach Webb Burke is asked to come back the student body of Southwestern will not be satisfied with the new arrangement. He has produced two excellent football teams during his stay here and has been well liked by players and authorities alike. He has installed a football system which is taking ground by leaps and bounds.

A new man on the job may mean a new system, and that system may take two or three years to work out. Burke's has progressed rapidly and is now at the peak of its form. With Southwestern standing on the threshold of football prominence this is no time to slow down the machinery of progress.

Why not keep Burke on the job next year until Haygood has definitely established his system on the freshman Bobcat squad where his work should begin? The varsity would be stronger than ever and not hampered by a change of coaches and the freshmen who are to make the teams of the future would learn to work with Haygood early.

If Burke must be dropped, and we would hate to see him leave here at any time, it should not be done until the other man has got the engine running smoothly.

Southwestern Profs Fail To Make Any Lofty New Year's Resolutions

Maybe They're Too Good Already, Maybe They're Just Careful, and Maybe They Won't Toll.

Whatever the significance of the advent of New Year had for Southwestern profs, it was certainly not a time for making resolutions. A large number of professors were approached, but to no avail. Each one of them smiled and said he had not only failed to make resolutions, but that the idea hadn't occurred to him. What sort of professors are these that don't resolve? How do they get that way?

Perhaps the profs knew and love their pet vices and see no object in turning traitor to them by New Year resolutions. Or maybe they don't see themselves as students see them, and know of nothing to resolve against. It is understood that Prof. Davis has a set of interesting resolutions not offered for publication.

It did seem that Dr. Cooper would have resolved to make the world safe for democracy or Panhellenics, or for something. But he not only failed to make resolutions, but suggested none for the interviewer to adopt.

What promised to be a good story and a very revealing one, has gone wrong. The profs just won't resolve. What a bunch of meanies they are!

I'm The Gink

I'm the gink who puts my studying for exams off until the last minute. I never saw an examination yet that I couldn't "cram" and pass. They don't make 'em that hard.

It's a lot of bunk about reviewing studies carefully. What didn't stick at first won't matter in the end.

Don't preach to me about the "folks at home," and all they have done to send me here for an education. I know all that, but they don't know what a good time is. They can't see youth with a telescope. I'm here for a good time, and I'm not gonna let studies interfere with my education because—I'm the Gink!

Co-Eds Are Shipped

Tiffin, O.—(IP)—Three co-eds and a young man, all students of Heidelberg College, have been indefinitely suspended by the faculty after an extensive investigation by that body.

Explanation of the suspensions on the campus was simply "infraction of the rules and smoking."

Members of the faculty are carrying on an investigation of parties that have been held in and near Tiffin. Other students are under suspicion.

Faculty members have possession of the diary of a co-ed from which they have gained information which is aiding them in their investigations.

Campus Romance Buds

A campus romance or rather a campus marriage which is much exciting since it was entirely unknown was announced to a surprised public on Dec. 26 by Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Gildart, 23 E. Evergreen, in announcing the marriage of their daughter, Willa Mae, student of Southwestern, and member of the Zeta Tau Alpha sorority, to Malcolm Gibbons, Beta Sig, and former Southwestern student. The marriage took place at Marion, Ark., on Oct. 25.

Popular Co-Ed Marries

A wedding of interest is that of Pauline Cheek Barton, former student of Southwestern, and member of the Alpha Omicron Pi sorority, to George Newton, of New York, which was solemnized Dec. 30 at the Second Presbyterian Church. A reception was held immediately after the ceremony at the home of the bride, and the young couple left soon after for New York, where they will make their future home.

Dr. Cunningham Gives Services

Makes the Campus His Headquarters

Dr. J. R. Cunningham, president of the Louisville Theological Seminary, concludes tonight the series of religious services which began with a talk to the Southwestern Bible Class last Sunday morning, and have been conducted on the campus each morning and evening since. These special services are sponsored by the Southwestern Christian Union, and similar ones are held each January to heighten the interest in religious subjects, and give encouragement to those who might need it. In order to be able conveniently to consult with students on religious problems, Dr. Cunningham has made the campus his headquarters, and has been here constantly since his arrival. Much benefit has been derived from these interviews, as well as from the regular services.

The subject of Dr. Cunningham's talk Sunday was "Beginning the New Year with Christ." The other messages, in the order of their occurrence, have been "Christ's Challenge to Youth," "Why Religion?", "Whose We Are," "Righting the Wrongs," "What Wilt Thou?", "Personal Evangelism," "The Choices of Youth," "The Will of God," and "Ambassadors for Christ." He terminates his series tonight with "The Supreme Question."

Southwestern Co-eds Will Give Aid To Memphis Unemployed People

Girls Will Make Warm Clothes For Needy; Groups Need Car and Clerical Aid For Cause.

By ELIZABETH HAMPTON

Betsy Ross gathered a few scraps together, picked up a needle and set to work when she learned of her country's pressing need for a flag. Memphis has thousands of unemployed, people who are suffering this winter from lack of proper clothing, and Southwestern co-eds have agreed to take up the needle and do what they can to assuage this need. A sewing machine is to be placed in the room adjoining the library office, thus converting it into a miniature factory where warm underclothes and sleepers will be made for children who might otherwise have none.

Other fields of service are open to students who do not favor sewing. Car service is needed at some one of the charity agencies every afternoon. The Federation of Jewish Charities would like the use of one car and driver on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoon, the Travelers' Aid every or any afternoon, and the Associated Charities on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Six clerical workers are needed at the Unemployment Headquarters on North Second street, and the Community Fund can use three persons, and the Juvenile Court one for clerical work. On Wednesday afternoon the Mother's Pension Bureau of the Probate Court would like to have two girls to aid in visiting.

All who are interested in helping with any phase of this relief work will be given an opportunity to signify their intention of doing so and to indicate the time and type of work they prefer. Here's a real chance to start the New Year out right.

Campus Males Spout Forth Theories Concerning Their Ideal Co-ed Dates

Some Plea For Brains, Some For Humor, and Some For Other Interesting Things.

Some like 'em fat or lean, Some like 'em dumb and funny, Some like 'em intellectual, But I like mine with money. —Oriental Ditty.

The question for discussion today is "What do you consider the essential qualities which constitute a successful date?" The master minds of the school never come to an agreement on anything, so why should they agree on this momentous question?

Harte Thomas says: "I find in my experience that a girl who is the best date is a good dancer, and can carry on an intelligent conversation regardless of the one with whom she is conversing. A girl does not need to have both beauty and brains, but I would prefer the latter, if I could have only one of the above-mentioned."

Lizzie Smith says: "I consider a date is successful if the boy has a sense of humor. I mean by that that he appreciates humor in others, and has a goodly store of it himself. But he in no wise be one of the giggly gigolos. I am so used to having dates with boys who have no money, that I am quite resigned to it, and have come to prefer it. I prefer double dates, if everyone in the crowd is congenial. But there is nothing that I hate worse than people that talk too much."

Sid Hebert says: "It depends on the nature of the girl. Some of them like to dance, and I consider that an essential requirement, but others like other things, such as—but maybe we had better not go into that."

Julia Marie Schwinn says, "The essential quality in a date is that he positively must not have a line. He also must have an acutely developed sense of humor. I would much prefer that he be a tall blonde and smoke a long briar pipe. Of course money is not essential, but it helps."

John Crofton, being a member of the B. L. U., says that: "A girl of unquestionable beauty, a spot of deepest solitude, a harvest moon above, and a bright spotlight are terrible. Other things being equal, I'll take one with brains."

SUE TO LOU

Dear Lou: Well, here I am back at school again. It's great to see everybody and hear all about what they did during the holidays.

It's good to be back in spite of the shadow of exams thrown over the near future.

More things have happened since I wrote you—

Malcolm Gibbons and Willa Mae Gildart skipped into the sea of matrimony during the holidays. Here's to 'em!

Did you know that Buck Roberts was married? He married Dorothy Bowen, a Memphis girl, the 5th of October—it was announced only a day or so ago. It was quite a surprise to lots of people on the campus.

Margaret Harwood went to Holly Grove over the holidays.

Meredith Davis had a huge Xmas. You can ask her why.

I guess I told you all about Tis Laughlin getting married, didn't I? We all expected that, though.

Did you know Mary Gardner Paterson was going to Barnard next semester? New York won't ever be the same again!

I'll see you, SUE.

Plan Giant Arts Fund

Chicago, Ill.—(IP)—A plan to secure a fund of $200,000,000 for the benefit of American liberal arts colleges has been formulated by the Liberal Arts College Movement, recently organized with President Ward, of Western Maryland College, as chairman.

The purpose of the movement is to promote liberal arts studies.

"We shall undertake a vast advertising campaign," said Dr. H. J. Burghstahler, of Cornell College, Mount Vernon, Ia., "which shall urge American youth to undertake such college work as will make them well-rounded citizens. Too frequently students are graduated with a lopsided education. They know one subject very well, but don't know anything about anything else."

Where Are the Wives

Lawrence, Kans.—(IP)—But seven of 1,705 women students at the University of Kansas are studying to be home-makers, according to a recent survey of the university undergraduate body. Teaching school is the aim of 879 of them.

Eighty-four intend to take up journalism, 80 are planning to be nurses, 60 hope to be business women, 16 will take up the practice of medicine, and 15 will practice law.

Another 123 are undecided and 136 did not answer the questions of the registrar.

Wicker Girls Have No Varsity Cagers

Intramural Contests Will Occupy Prominence

Girls' basketball will not foster a varsity team this season, according to Miss Louise Stratman, woman's athletic director.

Cage events this season will take the form of intramural contests. Each class and sorority will sponsor a team to be its representative in the inter-class and fraternity meets. These games will be played in the afternoon in accordance with a schedule which has not yet been arranged.

Margaret Ashley was chosen captain of the Senior team and Alice Cohill of the Freshmen. The leaders of the sorority and other class teams are yet to be elected.

Due to a paint job under way in the gym, the Lynx kittens were not able to resume practice until Wednesday afternoon. But they will soon be in shape for some spirited contests which will probably begin a week or two before exams.

Man Handlers Toss Each Other Round

Strong Guys Break Bones In Wrestling Art.

A group of strong boys are working out for the wrestling team every afternoon. Among the leading grapplers are big Jeff Davis, Gordon Fox, "Chief" Moore, Scudder Smith, and Joe Wells. Prospects look fine for a great aggregation of bone crushers. Meets will be announced in the near future.

Evergreen Hall

L. C. seems to have taken a permanent perch on the piano in Evergreen Hall. The Lynx cat which has witnessed all of Southwestern's football games last fall, has wandered from its haunts in Robb Hall. Perhaps he thought the co-eds would be more entertaining, and he bids fair to remain a while.

All the inmates of the Hall were here bright and early for chapel last Saturday, with the exception of Imogene Carmichael. She has been detained by illness in her sunny Palm Beach, Fla., home. Not a bad place for convalescence.

Evergreen Hall wasn't deserted at any time during the holiday. Mrs. Rutland remained here and her family kept her from being lonesome.

Lorinne Mitchell's Christmas continued after she had returned. Thoughtful of a very particular person to send a box of candy! And she wasn't stingy with it, either.

Bill Roper Retires

Princeton, N. J.—(IP)—Retirement of Coach Bill Roper at Princeton University removes another of the small number of famous coaches who have stayed at one institution for an extended period.

Others who have almost permanent berths are: Stagg, of Chicago; Zuppke, of Illinois; McGuggin, of Vanderbilt; Rockne, of Notre Dame, and Steffin, of Carnegie Tech.

Lynx Basketeers Start Campaign Tuesday Night Against Local Foe

Meet Tri-State Cleaners In Practice Affair. Squad Gets In Form Rapidly

Southwestern's basketball team took up where they left off before the holidays, and they will hit that long old trail of basketball engagements in a game with the Tri-State Cleaners in the Southwestern gym Tuesday night. The first S. I. A. A. contest is scheduled for Jan. 16 at Clarksdale with Mississippi College as the foe.

Coach Willis McCabe spent most of the week in teaching his Lynx some of the fundamentals of the game. Several scrimmages were held, and the squad seems to be shaping up well for their strenuous campaign against conference foes.

The Lynx offense is being built around Sheriff Knight, the crisp shot artist par excellence. With the center position decided, the problem facing McCabe is to develop a pair of reserves and a guard.

SPORT SKRIP

BY SHAFFER

"Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown."

Uneasy rests the contract of a Southwestern football coach. Webb Burke's contract expired at the close of the past season. It was not renewed. Instead, Jimmy Haygood, 48-year-old coach at the University of Alabama, has been named to serve as athletic director.

Retention of Burke as an assistant is hardly creditable.

Football coaches at Southwestern have been ill-starred. Jess Neely departed after three seasons, to join Wallace Wade at Alabama. Pos Elam lasted only one season. Webb Burke went Pos one better.

Haygood will aim to please. Let's hope he will get better co-operation from those.....

Incidentally, Webb Burke compiled the best record of any previous Lynx coach. Here are some telltale figures:

JESS NEELY, 1925-'27

G.P.	W.	L.	Pc.	Pts.	Sc.	Op.	Sc.
30	17	11	.607	432	375

POS ELAM, 1928

G.P.	W.	L.	Pc.	Pts.	Sc.	Op.	Sc.
10	6	4	.600	181	216

WEBB BURKE, 1929-'30

G.P.	W.	L.	Pc.	Pts.	Sc.	Op.	Sc.
17	11	6	.647	317	117

Studes are in for some good basketball entertainment this season. Coach Willis McCabe has lined up Home games with Millsaps, Louisiana College, Ole Miss and Union. Union may be a cakewalk, but the Lynx will have to play a clever brand of ball to win against the other three teams.

The newly varnished floor in the gym looks fine.

Bob Cat Cagers In For Stiff Season

Frosh Have Big Galaxy Of Young Stars

Coach Billy Hughes' Bobcats take their basketball seriously, and have been spending the week in hard labor in an effort to develop into a smooth running machine before opening of the season. A stiff schedule is in the offing and it means nothing but work for the aspiring cagers from now on.

Several tentative games are on the boards with games with T. M. I., the traditional foe of the first year men; Jonesboro College, Union and Blue Mountain College. Four games will probably be played with both T. M. I. and Union. Prior to the opening of the collegiate season the Bobcats will engage several local prep teams by way of preparation.

The biggest problem that Hughes has at present is selecting his first team from the host of material with which he has to work.

Newton Makes S.I.A.A. Halfback

Climaxes Big Season With Honor

Herbert Newton, Lynx sophomore halfback, made the first All-S. I. A. A. eleven. This is a very great honor for Newton to receive, since it was his first year on the team. Herb was counted on only as a reserve during the early season, but he found himself in the Missouri Teachers night game. In each succeeding contest he showed more and more improvement, finally to climax a wonderful season by his brilliant work in the Sewanee game.
