HOBO PARTY IS RARING TO GET GOING TONIGHT

King, Queen and Subjects All Set For Big Time

COLLEGIANS BLARE

Scene Set in Italian Hall; Time, After Gym Fun

The annual April Fool Carnival will be climaxed tonight with a Hobo Ball in gayly decorated Italian Hall. After the elaborate celebration in the gymnasium where King and Queen and Royal Court will be crowned before cheering thousands all loyal subjects of the throne will adjourn to Italian Hall, on Second Street, where the soft strains of Bill Taylor's Collegians will keep time to the tripping of the light fantastic as gay couples whirl and dip amid a setting of underworld splendor.

COURT LEADS OUT

Beside a splendid Court lead-out where all the glorious costumes of the royal court will be paraded before the dazzled eyes of the gypsy crowd, there will be three no-breaks and two specials.

The party, which is a part of the carnival, will be given under the auspices of the "S" club, who are co-operating with the Boosters Club in putting over the carnival.

PRICE IS LOW

Admission will be 99c for stags and 1c for ladies fair or unfair.

Refreshments may be served, depending on what the hoboes can rake up for the occasion. A rumored raid on Fortune's and Pig 'n' Whistle may yield many choice morsels for the hungry gypsies.

Old clothes, of course, will be in order. Anyone found sporting finery will be forcibly ejected by Beppo Sanders, chief bouncer.

Grab a dame and be at Italian Hall after the main show in the gym. Step right over this way. Tickets on your left, please. Don't crowd the little lady. Heigh-ho for the big show. See you at Italian Hall.

Guy and Carmen to Play At Panhellenic

The Pan-Hellenic Council announces the engagement of Guy Lombardi and his Royal Canadians for the mid-spring "pan." The Canadians will make their first showing in Memphis at the prom. The nearest they have ever shown to Memphis was Knoxville, where they played at the finals last year.

The bringing of the Lombardos to Memphis is only one of the foremost of the nation's bands that will play for future Southwestern dances. Such orchestras as Ben Bernie, Rudy Vallee, and George Hall will play at future dates. Negotiations are now under way for the above mentioned bands to show in Memphis.

Senorita Moves To Wilds of Tasmania

Recent dispatches from missionary headquarters indicate that Senorita Myrtle James will be transferred from Mexico to Tasmania in an effort to get the natives of Tasmania more talkative.

Statistics from Tasmania show that the average native speaks only seven words per day. The nation is worried over this. It is expected that under the expert tutelage of Senorita James this number will be increased to seven thousand words per day.

Upon being quizzed by pressmen Miss James could only murmur bashfully: "Oh, this is so sudden."

KING AND QUEEN RULE APRIL FOOL CARNIVAL

Noted Biologist Starts Cat-Rat Ranch This Summer On Field Back of College

Innovates and Renovates Idea for Big Money Making Scheme That Bids Fair To Be a Success

CENSOR CLIQUE TAKES PREVUES

May Ban Hooey, Ballyhoo and Other Racy Mags

Chi Delta Phi, women's literary society of Southwestern, has appointed a Dirt Committee to investigate Ballyhoo, Hooey, and Slap Stick to see if they are worthy of being placed in the college library.

The group will meet tomorrow at high noon in Mrs. Townsend's office behind locked doors to read the three magazines from cover to cover so as to be in a position to pass judgment on them.

THEY SPEAK UP

The following statement was issued for publication: "We, the girls of Chi Delta Phi, feel that it is our duty to preview these magazines every month and warn the girls of this college especially against such literature. We realize that we are running the risk of ruining our morals but why not take a chance? Steve Brodie did. We are doing the whole thing out of a wholesome spirit of self-sacrifice. We have to have some of the stories and pictures explained to us but we manage to get along with our previews pretty fast."

Doctor's Pet Pills Cure Newton's Ills

Herbert Newton, the Amite Antelope of football fame, underwent an elbow operation for the removal of injured cartilage this week and has recovered in great style.

Newton has this to say about his startling recovery: "When I told Dr. Drake I had a damaged elbow he immediately treated me by giving me a pill. I accredit any recovery I have made to this remarkable insight on the part of the good doctor. Man and boy I have taken his pills and I now swear by them. Drake pills slake ill. That's my motto."

Lackey's Labs Lag

All biology students who have not as yet finished their dog-fish lab will be excused from lab the remainder of the year, Dr. Lackey announced yesterday. Not wishing to trouble the student with excessive work inasmuch as they already have their share, Dr. Lackey has ordered an adjournment.

The noted Dr. James B. Lackey of Southwestern has startled his fellow biologists with the announcement that he will privately promote a Cat-Rat Ranch this summer in the big field behind the tennis courts. A ten year lease has been secured from the college authorities and construction will start as soon as hot weather sets in. At the end of ten years the college has the right to take over the ranch and operate it, reserving a 40% cut on the profits for the courageous doctor who is a pioneer in the movement to "Get more cat fur to make kitten breeches," as he so quaintly puts it.

HERE'S HIS PLAN

The scientist explains his plan as follows:

"You see, we start off with about 100 cats and 250 rats which we can pick up for a nominal sum in the back alleys of Memphis. As all students of genetics know, rats multiply twice as fast as cats. Thus we will kill some of the rats, sell the skins for 25c each and feed the bodies to the cats. Then we will kill some of the cats, sell the skins at 50c each and feed their bodies to the rats. Then we will repeat the process ad infinitum.

HAVE RECIPROCITY

Thus the cats will eat the rats and the rats will eat the cats. Since rats multiply faster than cats we will always have more than enough rats to keep our balance. Our only expense will be skinning the dead animals. We have secured the services of two shyster lawyers who can skin any-

Clough and Katy Don Royal Robes

Gypsy blue-blood will tell tonight when members of the royal family of Southwestern are duly inducted into office for one night of carnival fun and frolic.

Queen Katherine Reid and King Clough Eaton will sit on the gypsy throne and surrounding them in vagabond splendor will be a picturesque court of twelve.

Members of the court are Margaret Mason, Frances Durham, Anna Hudson, Mildred Veazey, Miriam Heidelberg, Sarah Elizabeth Gemmill, Jimmy Hamilton, Johnny Hughes, Albert Erskine, Bill Berson, Paul Jones, and Jinx Joynes.

A Mysterious Mr. X will be court jester. His identity will be revealed later.

Here's How You Toast Regal two

To the King!
To His Royal Highness Clough,
To his laced sleeve and cuff,
To his dainty dip of snuff,
To the king!

To the Queen!
To Her Majesty K. Reid,
The best Queen ever seed,
And a regal one indeed,
To the Queen!

VOLUNTEERS TO GIVE HAY RIDE

Student Group Plans Trip Through Overton Park

The Student Volunteers have volunteered to furnish wagons for an old-fashioned hay ride next Tuesday night at 7:15, weather permitting. Already tongues are wagging at the thought of making hay while the moonshines. One fair co-ed said, "Hay, hay, it's straw right with me." All of which was an atrocious pun.

OFFER PRIZES

The wagons, three in number, one for the boys, one for the girls, and one for the chaperones will drive through the dark lanes of Overton Park. A prize of $3 will be given to the girl who spots the most petting parties while the boy who counts the most parked cars will win a baseball bat and a glove to go with it. Telescopes are on sale in the Supply Store.

Honor Council Vote To Soften Penalties

Copying O.K. If Credit Is Given To Author

Realizing the difficulty that some students have in getting through college the Southwestern Honor Council has passed a motion that the rules be amended to read, "A student may cheat all he wants on an exam provided he puts quotation marks around his answers to show the prof that he is not trying to be deceitful."

CHANGE RULE

Rule 17 has been changed to read, "Any student kicked out of college for academic dishonesty shall be awarded a diploma automatically to compensate him for being deprived of the privilege of pursuing knowledge at Southwestern."

The amendments to the Honor Council Constitution will go into effect at 8:30 Monday morning.

ANNUAL FROLIC READY TO BOOM IN GYM TONIGHT

Coronation Big Event Of Vagabond Carnival

CROWDS MILLING

Don't Miss the Time Of a Short Lifetime

Amid a fanfare of trumpets heralding the coronation of a new regal pair, Queen Katy Reid and King Clough Eaton will be crowned rulers of the annual April Fool Carnival tonight in the Southwestern gymnasium. The carnival, which will be a vagabond fiesta, will start at 7:30 and will climax with a Hobo Ball at Italian Hall, where lads and lassies will tango to the tambourines of Bill Taylor's Collegians.

Featuring the big show in the gym will be four 20 minute class acts that are purported to be screams. A prize has been offered for the class putting on the best stunt.

HAVE GRAND MARCH

A grand march of all vagabonds attired in outlandish garb will be held and the hobo judged the most nondescript, ragged, picturesque, and appealing will be given a prize.

No one will be admitted to the gymnasium unless attired in old clothes. There will be no special costumes. Anything decent is allowed. A fine of ten cents (to be collected on the spot) will be taken from those who come in street clothes.

PROGRAM VARIED

Everything from a monkey on a string to a bright tin hopping toad will be at the carnival tonight. Freak side shows, muscle men, snake charmers, tattooed wonders, and a host of other amazing, wonderful, majestic, stupendous, fascinating, glorious, breath-taking major attractions.

Don your old togs, sport a grin and a happy disposition, bustle out to the gym, and whoop things up for a big carnival. See you at the pink lemonade counter with a sack of roasted peanuts.

Booster Boys Boost April Fool Shindig

Thank the Boosters Club for a big time tonight. They are promoting the carnival and whatever success it achieves will be largely due to their efforts.

Decorations, programs of stunts, arrangements, and refreshments have been prepared by these energetic gypsies who have the welfare of all Southwestern hoboes at heart.

Incidentally, get happy, and help put the carnival over yourself.

Gym Fixed Up for Night of Hilarity

Gayly festooned and blazing with a riot of colors, Southwestern's staid gymnasium will be made to resemble a gypsy grotto tonight as all the vagabonds on the campus assemble for the annual April Fool Carnival.

A crew of energetic gypsies have gathered from near and far all bright colors obtainable and they declare that even the color blind will see tonight.

Smoked glasses will be in order for those with weak eyes.

HEY! HEY! STEP RIGHT UP!

Hey, hey...step right over this way...see the big elephant open his trunk...watch Lula the Hula girl gyrate and pirouette...get an eyeful of Beppo, the fat man, he weighs ONLY 395 pounds...hey, hey...don't miss the human Chicken...step right up and see the human Rooster...tickets on the right, please...the biggest show on the midway...see Sailer, the Tattooed wonder...you haven't lived until you've seen the half-man, half-Camel...hey, hey...step right over this way...and DON'T crowd the little lady...see the human snake with the women...don't miss this side-show. GREATEST YET And with a lusty shout of encouragement the barker whips the crowd into a fine frenzy as he advertises his many wonders. This scene will be duplicated forty times or more tonight when the greatest series of side shows EVER PRESENTED in the SOUTH is paraded before the befuddled gaze of milling throngs in the Southwestern gymnasium as the annual April Fool Carnival swings into full force.

TAKE YOUR FUN ABSOLUTELY FREE, you see the seven wonders of the known world and many other things. On the magic carpet of romance you are swept from one corner of the globe to another. Your startled eyes will revel in the magnificent display of splendor revealed in this amazing collection of side-shows. Don't miss this opportunity of a life time. Hey, hey...step right up this way...tickets on the right, please...and remember DON'T crowd the little lady.

KAMPUS KRAX

Three track stars entered a restaurant to eat. 1st star—Give me a steak and make it thick and rare. 2nd star—Give me a steak and make it more rare and thicker. 3rd star—Just send the bull through and I'll bite him on the run.

Dr. Huber—What is the deadliest fluid known? Streete—Embalming fluid. You're dead when it touches you.

"The clothing business has certainly done a lot for Cohen." "Oh yes—it's gone through fire and water for him."

"Was that a ladle I seen you coming home with last night?" "Naw, wasn't no ladle, that was my knife."

IT'S THE WHOLE SOULED GIRL WHO NEEDS HALF SOLES MORE OFTEN.

"The man I marry must be a hero," said the co-ed. "He will," remarked the sympathizer.

SALOME WAS THE FIRST WOMAN TO DISCOVER THE RELATION BETWEEN GAUZE AND EFFECT.

The prize for this week's dumbness award goes to the fair co-ed who thought the Pied Piper was a drunken plumber.

You'll feel better if you go for an auto ride with me," the ego remarked. "Yeah. I guess it'll put me on my feet," answered the fond maiden.

"Darling, I love you." "And I love you." "Will you always love me?" And so it goes on for about ten minutes. "Haven't you forgotten something?" "What?" "Well, you didn't leave me any ice."

"Do you always look under your bed before you say your prayers at night?" asked the flapper niece. "No," was the prompt reply of the old maid, "first I say my prayers."

Said the old maid after reading of the cremation of the Widow Jones' third husband: "Some women don't know how lucky they are. Here I've never had a man, and this woman has them to burn!"

First Spinster—Is it true that you're going to be married, Miss Antique? Second Same—No; but I'm thankful for the rumor.

Ione—I want a Lucky Strike. Jimmie—That's what all gold diggers are looking for.

"Say, Tom, has your baby been christened yet?" "Nothin' doing. No kid of mine's goin' to get hit over the head with a bottle."

Cowan—Your suit is beginning to look rusty. Moore—Just as I expected. The salesman said it would wear like iron.

Abie—What a horrible noise comes from that radio! Frykberg—Well, I guess you would make just as much noise if you were coming out from ether.

Howry—I just adore Keats! A Pal—Oh, it's so nice to meet a man that still likes children.

"Dearest," he pleaded in tender voice, "I've loved no one but thee." "Then you may go," said the dizzy blonde. "No amateurs for me."

That Schoolgirl—Complexion. "Is that fellow you're looking at one of your former husbands?" "No. I think he's one of my children."

TAKE WITH A GRAIN OF SALT

This is an April Fool Carnival edition. The spirit of the day is admittedly one of joviality and frivolity.

Don't take much of this paper seriously, and if you find something personal about yourself that you don't like just forget it, knowing that it was written in a spirit of fun. We can't help it if you're funny.

In case you give an issue of this edition to any preachers please make it clear that it's all a lot of hooey. Maybe you'll have to tell them what hooey is. Anyway, caution them.

Don't leave the paper around where innocent little children may be burned by contact with it.

After read and enjoyed (?) drop carefully in a wind-proof waste basket.

Thank you.

Campus Men Give Bodies For Science

Noted doctor says Youths Are Stalwart Fellows

Irwin Abbay, Jimmy Harrison, and William Gammage, campus bullies, have offered themselves to scientists at Matthews Institute in Chicago who are seeking to find out just how much strain the athletes of this country are capable of standing. Tests will be started next month.

DOCTOR SPEAKS

Says Dr. Blaher of the institute. "We picked these three boys because they are representative of the athletes of this country. They have never wasted time around girls and, in fact, have never evinced any interest in the fair sex. We feel that their martyrdom shall not go unheralded. Science will see their names are blazoned across the Hall of Fame of America, nay, of the world. Science must go on. I have said."

Weismueller Cavorts

John Weismueller, world's champion swimmer, will show at the new college swimming pool on the afternoon of May 9. Weismueller is being brought to the pool through the efforts of the Lynx Cleaning Association of which Chicken High and Cotton Perrette are co-presidents. Mr. Perrette announced that no admission would be charged for the event but that all clothes worn to the exhibition would be cleaned while U wait.

thing, so even that item of expense should be at a minimum. If the lawyers fail we can call in some old skinflints or tell the animals ghost stories and scare them out of their skins.

AND BY-PRODUCTS

"Think of the by-products the ranch would produce. Besides strings for tennis rackets and violins, we could supply Ford with rattles for his cars. What a gym class we could develop. In two days we could teach any bright lad how to skin the cat. Pert young girls could have a class in how to get catty. To keep the worker busy and at top speed Ruth Etting will sing the Ranch theme song. "I got a feline for you." After walking around in the sand pile which will be a part of our equipment, our cats will be able to supply enough Sandy Claws to guarantee a big Xmas for every kid in the country. Of course the fraternities might object to the rat system, but we could soon make them cheese it."

What do you think of this plan? Write in and you may receive a prize.

SUE TO LOU

Dear Lou: You ought to have been here for the debate with Princeton Monday night. Everybody and his uncle were there. The general consensus of opinion seemed to be that Hoover is the greatest president that we have ever had. The boys who sought to attack his administration couldn't find a thing against it.

The big carnival is all set for tonight, costumes, pink lemonade and everything. Guess you know that Clough and Katy are King and Queen respectively and respectfully. Eaton will appear in his royal robe of bare skin whilst Katy will be stunning in a garb of sack cloth and ashes. After the carnival the "S" Club is going to sponsor a dance at the Hotel DeVoy at 99c couple or stag. It's really going to be something. Haven't found anybody yet who isn't going. Guess you knew that the faculty gave the club permission to run the dance till 3:30. I've got the third no-break with Prof. Wisewell. Don't you envy me?

Played bridge last night with Dean Hartley, Dr. and Mrs. Townsend and we really had a time. After the game the Dean slicked Townsend to a fare-you-well. It all started with card tricks. After the usual run of tricks the Dean said, "Hey, Townsend, have you ever played 52 pick-up?" The gullible Shakespeare Prof. answered "No," at which reply the Dean threw the deck in the air. I left Townsend on his hands and knees reaching under the sofa for an elusive ace which had slipped out of the Dean's sleeve. See you next month. Write soon.

As ever,

Sue.

Install Squash For New Campus Sport

The Southwestern Athletic Association has authorized the installation of squash as a major sport at the college. The athletic department wishing to get all students taking part in some form of athletics has decided to adopt this sport for its 1932 program. Squash will supplant boxing on the local lad's sports schedule. Coaches John Miller and City Thomason will have full charge of the newly selected sport. Coach Miller was a former member of the Alabama squash team. No, lady, this squash is not a vegetable.

COLLEGIANS TO PLAY IN CANADA

Take Long Tour On Way Up for Summer Work

In an exclusive interview with a correspondent of the Sou'wester, world's foremost newspaper, William Taylor, B. V. D., leader of the Royal Collegians, dance band, said that the Collegians have been engaged by the management of Bigwin Inn, Lake of Bays, Canada, for a summer engagement.

The Collegians were selected from a host of applicants for the job. The orchestra also will play for other points of interest along the Atlantic seacoast on their way to Canada. The first stop will be Asheville, N. C. The band will play there for two days, June 10 and 11.

THE LONG TRIP

Next the band will play at Atlantic City for three dance engagements. They will play for the Grand March of the annual Atlantic City beauty contest. The next stop will be Ashbury Park, N. J. The Collegians will stop there for only one engagement, which will be June 24.

The orchestra will next play in the exclusive Hotel Roosevelt, relieving Guy Lombardo for two days. This is the final engagement before they hie to Canada.

The Collegians will open their Canadian engagement on July 1. Taylor says if you have a chance drop in and visit the gang.

There's a story going round about the Scotchman who wanted to smoke monogrammed cigarettes, so he changed his name to Chesterfield.

DANCE BARN TO BE BUILT SOON

Faculty Sanctions Plans For Campus Casino

Plans for the building of a gigantic dance hall on the northeast part of the vast campus were discussed at the last meeting of the Student Council. James Hamilton, president of the council, said that the council voted unanimously for the establishment of the dance barn.

If present plans go through, the outfit will be ready for cash customers by the end of the present college semester. John Rollow has been receiving bids from Memphis contractors and contracts are expected to be signed by A. H. Sarafin, bursar, at an early date.

Members of the social committee of the faculty have sanctioned the plans, and the chairmen of the committee said to the editor yesterday, "I think that it will be a splendid way for the students to get more recreation from their studies." All faculty members will be admitted free of charge at the opening dance given at the hall.

Salesman—How would you like a "Woman's Home Companion?" Old Maid—I've been dying for one, come right in.

DEBATERS FUSS OVER POLITICS

Attack, Defend Parties In Dreary Debate; Crowd Sleeps

James Highsaw and Ronald Hayhoe, engaged Princeton University, represented by James R. Mitchell, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Charles S. Hamilton, of Lombard, Ill., in a forensic battle Monday night on the question, Resolved: That the Hoover Administration no Longer Deserves the Confidence of the Country.

When the audience was awakened by the clarion call of the chairman demanding a vote to decide the winner it was found that the Negative, Princeton, had won by a count of three votes.

HERE'S LYNX ALIBI

In an interview after the debate the Southwestern debaters attributed the loss of the decision to the fact that several members of the audience were too sleepy to arise on the first vote which called for support of the affirmative and only succeeded in arising from their seats in time to be counted as votes for the negative.

They claimed a moral victory, due to the fact that a member of the audience who was a graduate of Princeton, '05, and a Phi Beta Kappa, was so uninterested during the second negative speaker's tirade against the Democratic party that he opened

Golf Course, "Lynx Links", Ready Soon For Students and Profs; Funds at Hand

Bobby Jones Will Enroll to Take Advantage of Fine Golfing Opportunities North of Tennis Courts

Plans are now under way for the establishment on the part of the campus north of the football practice field a golf course to be known as "The Lynx Links," and on the first stormy day in May, Dr. Diehl will break ground when he digs the hole for the end of the first fairway. Ceremonies befitting the occasion will be in charge of the local chapter of O. D. K. who will plant a fringed gentian under the sandbox on the first tee.

SKILLED FINANCING

"The Lynx Links" will be paid for in part by a diversion of the funds used in the past for the payment of salaries to professors. As this fund would pay for only two and one-seventh holes, the remainder will be taken from the profits made by Angelo in the sale of apples. Thus the athletic committee will be able to put in a nine hole golf course, though four of the holes will have to coincide with four others. This, however, will be only temporary as it is believed that by the second month of next semester students will have paid enough in green fees to make possible the putting in of several new holes.

PROFS LIKE IDEA

A nominal charge will be made as greens fees and the Lynx Links will soon pay for itself, the backers state. "In fact," stated Dr. Swan, golf enthusiast and co-backer with Dr. J. H. Davis, would-be-golfer, "Southwestern will in this way be able to subsidize many pingpong players, for in their spare time these boys can hold jobs as caddies. I also believe that the course will make enough money to enable Dr. Diehl to erect a tower on the campus that will put the Empire State building in New York in the shade." All of Dr. Swan's statements were fully endorsed by Dr. Davis.

BOBBY MAY ENROLL

The course will be built with every modern inconvenience and is expected to be the finest college golf course in Memphis. It will add much to the school's ability to attract students and it is believed that Bobby Jones and other famous golf stars will enter Southwestern in order to obtain the rights and privileges of the "Lynx Links."

It is rumored that Howard Cook, who is suspected of having played golf once, will accept the lucrative and honored position of professional of the Southwestern Golf Club. Plans are now going forward under the capable direction of William Bensberg for the establishment of the usual "Nineteenth hole."

She's Not Fired Just Goes Ahead

In case you've missed seeing Mrs. A. M. Bright in the Business Office recently, don't think she has been fired. Sometimes absence from one office means promotion to another and such is the case with Mrs. Bright.

Perceiving that a bright person was needed to help carry on the drive for emergency funds for Southwestern, the leaders of the drive decided to pick Mrs. Bright as the logical one to help. And so she is delegated to serve two months at the headquarters of the drive, located at 73 Madison Ave.

ST. NICK AIDS IRVING BERLIN

Song Writer Says Nick Is Some Punkins

Southwestern students will be saddened at the news that Mr. Louis Nicholas, present choir director and musician extraordinary, will be lost to them after this year, as he goes, immediately after examinations have been completed, to join Irving Berlin on Broadway.

Mr. Berlin, recently feeling his talents failing him, was passing through Memphis incognito a few weeks since, in search for some original "Mummy" songs, and upon hearing Nicholas' latest composition, "With You At My Side, Near Evergreen Hall," immediately offered him a generous contract.

AIDS BERLIN

The fortunate youth refuses to name the sum, but states that his work will be to compose scores for the musical reviews planned by Berlin, while the latter will produce them and will incidentally use his own name as the composer. The first production will appear late this summer, and is to be "The Turks Had Lots of Them, or Tea in a Turkish Seraglio."

The Sailer Wins In Tough Boxing Bout

Punches Ganns' Ticket for Trip Toward Fame

By the United Press. Miami, Fla.—Sailer Anderson, tough waterfront bo, carrying the colors of Southwestern College, won the S. I. A. A. heavyweight boxing championship last night from Flash Ganns, Presbyterian College heavy. The fight was the standout battle of the S. I. A. A. competition which ended last night after three days of hectic fighting.

Anderson was content to take it on the chin for seven rounds but at the end of that time he cut loose without mercy on his opponent. At the termination of the eighth round, Ganns looked like an olive leaf in China.

SIGNS WITH KEARNS

Immediately after the fight, Anderson signed a contract with Jack Kearns, former manager of Jack Dempsey. Under Kearns' tutelage, Anderson should be the world's heavyweight champ within six months. Anderson plans to complete his college undergraduate work after he wins the championship.

Erect New Cloister For Science Studes

The science department of the college has decided after a meeting held in solemn conclave last Tuesday to put up a cloister from Palmer Hall to the Science Hall. The reason for such action was to insure a drier bunch of students.

It seems that certain students have a habit of getting drenched every time they pass the windows of science hall. The science department, wishing to curb such an evil, has authorized the building of the new cloister. From the day that the cloister is built, the science department claims no responsibility for the pouring of water on passing students from any lab window.

ZETAS SET FOR PARTY ON SHIP

Open House Tomorrow at 7:30 on Campus

The good ship Zeta will dock at the Southwestern Pier tomorrow night at 7:30 p. m. Captain Eugenia Weeks, Turret Captain Meta Russell, Quartermaster Sophia Hunt, and Ensign Barbara Porter have planned a hop for the crew to be given on board the ship. The boat has been gaily decorated with pictures of the proverbial wives in every port. All who can't swim grab the chandelier.

The officers have invited representatives from four other ships in port: Malline Lyon from the Tri Delt; Elizabeth Smith from Kappa Delta; Ida Banks from A. O. Pi; and Kathryn Stratton from Chi Omega.

Rear Admiral William Taylor and his Navy Blue Collegians will furnish the music. There will be three no-breaks.

Members of the crew who will be present are: Lucille Gwaltney with Frank Yost; Hortense Louckes with Albert Adle; Minnie Lee Hamer with Gordon Fox; Helen Moore with O. P. Cobb; Olga Hartmann with Clark Porteus; Ethel Mae Rives with John Streete; Meta Russell with Joe Moss; Grace Johnson with Alvin Tate; Sophia Hunt with Woodson Morris; Rosemary Burke with Tom Holloway.

Barbara Stanwyck In "Shopworn" At RKO

Barbara Stanwyck in "Shopworn," romantic drama of a girl whose love was sacrificed on life's "bargain counter," is the week's attraction at the RKO Orpheum theater beginning Monday.

The cast also includes Regis Toomey, ZaSu Pitts, Lucien Littlefield and Oscar Apfel. Miss Pitts, the popular comedienne, is said to have an exceptionally good comedy role in "Shopworn."

"Shopworn" is the story of a girl of lowly surroundings but high ideals. She falls headlong in love and finds that a price has been put on her, but those who estimated she could be "bought," soon find that her ideals cannot be shaken.

I'm The Gink
I'm the gink who reads the Sou'wester hurriedly for news of myself and finding none throws it on the ground to be trampled upon.
I'm the gink who doesn't give a continental what the campus looks like on paper day. I like to see the papers blow all over everywhere. They look swell, torn and mangled and trashy.
I can't understand why anybody would want to keep the campus clean even if they didn't want to save the darned old paper. These guys who keep the paper off the ground worry me.
I guess I was just born the careless, thoughtless person I am. Why change? Why not just keep on being, to the infinite disgust of many, the same old guy so I can keep on saying—I'm the Gink!

The traffic officer raised his hand and the lady motorist stopped with a jerk. Said the officer as he drew out his book, "As soon as I saw you coming around the bend I said to myself "forty-five at least."
"Officer," said the lady remonstrating him indignantly, "you're very much mistaken. It's this hat that makes me look so old."
Two old maids were in an insane asylum for years, always knitting and knitting. "Oh, Gee," sighed Mabel one day, I wish some tall, handsome man would come and wind his arms around me and squeeze me until I gasp."
"Now you're talking sense," said Hattie. "You'll be out of here in a few days."

NOTED ALUMNUS GIVES $10,000 FOR FINE POOL

Read Article in Paper and Thought Idea Good

WORK STARTS SOON

Lackey Explains Rules To Be Strictly Followed

Thank to Mr. George G. Robinson of New York and Chicago and other prominent alumni of Southwestern who have pooled their interests, the proposed swimming pool at Southwestern will become a reality when construction starts April 31. Mr. Robinson, a subscriber to the Sou'wester, read the article on the outdoor tank and was well pleased with the idea. Calling a Board of Directors meeting of the officials of his Home Products Manufacturing Company, Mr. Robinson and his associates voted $10,000 to be used "for the construction and maintenance of a swimming pool at Southwestern."

HERE ARE RULES

Dr. Lackey, Health Inspector of the Pool, has issued the following stipulations governing its use:

(1) Girls shall wear cellophane bathing suits. False modesty shall be thrown to the winds and the ultra violet rays must be given a chance to do their good work.

(2) Dressing rooms shall be of plate glass to derive a maximum benefit from the healthy rays of the sun.

The good doctor hails the swimming pool with delight as a new home for his turtles, dogfish, and frogs which have been singing "How Dry I Am" for months. Dormitory students will be benefited by the scrambled turtle eggs every morning, eggs laid and hatched in Southwestern sand, by Southwestern turtles, for Southwestern students.

LADY AGREES

Mrs. Sophrah T. Glutz, noted ornithologist of Tupelo, Miss., writes: "I am heartily in favor of the open air bath. My dear little birdies will have plenty of drinking water during the hot summer months. My pet canary just sat on a pound of ice and hatched out three croquet balls. Don't you think he's cute? I'm a lonely old lady. Won't you write me?"

All over the campus Southwestern students are saying "April Pool."

WIZE KRAX

"Where did you find this wonderful follow-up system? It would get money out of anybody."

I simply compiled and adopted the letters my son sent me from college."

A proud young father wired the news of his happiness to his brother in these words:

"A handsome boy has come to my house and claims to be your nephew. We are doing our best to give him a proper welcome."

The brother failed to see the point, and wired back:

"I have no nephew. Throw him out. The young man is an impostor!"

Ned—Do you know what an old maid says at the conclusion of her prayers?

Jerry—Sure, she says, "Ah! Men."

Oculist's clerk—You say you came in for an examination. Now what is your age?

Spinster (coyly)—I've seen just 25 summers.

Clerk—Say, lady, how long have you been blind?

TWO OLD MAIDS WENT FOR A TRAMP IN THE WOODS. THE TRAMP DIED.

Mac Elder Flies Plane To Aid In Big Search

"Camel" Cabaniss, James Overholser, and Russell Cross will take off from the Municipal Airport today at 3 o'clock in a Ford tri-motor, piloted by McLemore Elder, for Hopewell N. J., to aid in the search for the missing Eaglet.

Prompted by the deep-thinking Cabaniss, who has done exhaustive pondering in regard to clues and probabilities of the whereabouts of the missing lad, the Southwestern Bible Class went into a huddle early this week and claims to have definite proof that the young Lindbergh is held prisoner on a yacht in a certain harbor on the East Coast, but the members refuse to disclose any further information.

CAB SEES CAPONE

It is rumored that "Camel" Cabaniss entered into correspondence with Al Capone on the subject, and that it is from him that the secret was divulged.

A goodly crowd promises to gather to see these young students off, and congratulations on their venture, and especially a note from Lindbergh himself, authorizing them to aid in the search, are pouring in.

"Dice Is Vice" Says Warden; Jails Seven

Violate Game Law; Find Bones Strewn on Floor

Seven Southwestern students have been arrested and are being held under heavy bond by the campus game warden for shooting more dice than the law allows. Those under custody are Allen Cabaniss, James Shepherd, Bond Dashiell, George Willis, Sailer Anderson, Bob Pfrangle, and James Breazeale.

Efforts by friends to release them from the Tower Room have proven in vain.

HINSON SAYS "NO"

Judge Meeks Hinson, author of the campus Blue Laws, has remained adamant saying, "We must put these devils down. The fact that the warden found bones on the floor when he opened the door proves they shot dice. Personally, I know of nothing that merits such universal disapproval as this custom of shooting dice."

Indications point toward immediate conviction with possibilities of capital punishment looming ever nearer.

Cooper's room Now "Official Dice Den"

In a college crap game the other afternoon, Tommie "Bull" King emerged from the game with a total and net winning of $2649765.73. Mr. King announced after the game that he attributed all his success to Star brand cotton socks.

The game was held in Dr. Cooper's old room in Robb Hall. The game officially started at 1:15 and lasted until 5:45. Among those noted in the crowd were James Gregory, Robert Pfrangle, John McFerrin, John Chung, L. T. Webb, Vandy Madison, and others who asked that their names be withheld from the guest list. Queensbury rules were observed throughout the afternoon's play.

Colored Gents Sing In Chapel Assembly

Jessie, college dark hand, will render several selections to the student body in chapel on Monday morning. Dame Rumor has it that another fine singer of the college will sing a duet with Jessie. Herron, swarthy keeper of the Science Hall, will also give a song. He will sing "When the Roll Is Called Up Yonder I'll Be Here," in a high bass cleff. St. Nick will furnish the accompaniment.

The famous Faculty Foresome ran amuck yesterday afternoon when Profs. Kelso and Strickler played off a nine hole grudge match with Profs. Cooper and Atkinson over the difficult Overton Park Golf Course. The match was nip and tuck up to the seventh hole when the players ran out of golf balls, thanks to some lousy driving and worse approaching.

KELSO BLOWS UP

Kelso shot a 9 on the first hole, a 11 on the second, an 8 on the third, and then he relaxed and blew up.

Strickler swore that henceforth and forever more he would give up the game unless somebody found a way to cross golf balls to homing pigeons. "The game's all Greek to me," he cursed lustily as he swished a weed in two with his faithless mashie.

RUDY GOES HIGH-BROW

On the way back to the college Atkinson, who had fared a little better than the others, puffed up his chest and proudly said, "You see, boys, golf is nothing but a neuro-anatomical activity, an association and synchronization of the central, peripheral and sympathetic nervous systems. It is merely a product of heredity times environment, mostly time."

"Where's Cooper," queried Kelso as the little party trudged home manfully through the park.

COOPER SCORES

Said Strickler, "Oh! I forgot to tell you, boys, Cooper was searching through the bushes looking for a lost ball when he ran upon a couple walking down a path holding hands. He was shocked beyond words and would have nothing else but marriage as the culmination of such an outrageous and immoral act. After delivering the couple his pet lecture on morals, he forced them, in his car and the last I saw of him he was off for Marion."

Moral: Feed the baby garlic so you can find him in the dark.

Will Install Radio Station On Campus

Despite the financial needs of the college, the board of directors has appropriated $3,000 to the construction of a radio station at Southwestern.

The station will be the largest and most modernly equipped of college radio stations. The work has been under way for one week and Johnny Rollow, who has charge of the construction, says that the station will be ready for use on April 15.

It will be a 45,000 kilowatt affair with two elaborate studios. The chief announcer for the station will be Jim Wadlington (no, lady, not Wallington).

TELEVISION TOO

Plans for installing television are also being considered and it is hoped to have this branch of radio established by May 1. As soon as television is installed, the broadcasts will be sent direct from Evergreen Hall.

Build Bird Baths

A bird house building campaign will be started at the college tomorrow. A group of charming young ladies will start the work off tomorrow afternoon when the first bird house will be built. All houses will be built out of stone, with the stone coming from the rockpile which banks either side of the railroad track. All proceeds received from the House Building Association will be used to build baths for the homeless birds which are frequenters of the campus.

Librarians Snitch Forty Extra Winks

The college library will start opening at 10 a. m. each day instead of 9 a. m., as has been the custom for some years. The reason for the change was given out by the librarian yesterday.

"In answer to a number of requests submitted by the library force, I think that it would be advisable to open the library a bit later and thus allow the student library assistants more time to get their morning sleep. In keeping with this or these requests, the library will open one hour later from today onward."

Mysterious Mr. X Court Jester

Intense mystery has surrounded the selection of a court jester for the grand April Fool Carnival tonight in the gym. Speculations as to the identity of the Mysterious Mr. X range from the Lindbergh Baby to Dr. Bassett.

Fearing for the safety and sanity of anyone selected court jester, authorities have withheld the name of Mr. X and not until tonight will his identity be known.

Regardless of whether the jester is a good jester or just a bad one, remember that the jester is just a jester, and just allow for that before making any jest about the jester.

Prof. Davis' Music Is Hors de Combat

Prof. John Henry Davis, Oxonian grad., will not be able to practice at his regular daily piano lesson in Prof. MacQueen's classroom. The piano is out of tune and the inhabitants of Robb Hall will be unable to have their regular afternoon serenade.

It has been said that several of the college boys were out for no good at all last night and slipped into said classroom and unfixed the said instrument.

S. S. S. S. STOPS HADEN'S VOICE

Award Singer (?) Medal As Hush Money

Announcement has just been made that the Southwestern Society for Solo Singing has struck a medal in the honor of Professor Eric G. Haden, in recognition of his talent and his work in this field.

The announcement came as a surprise to Professor Haden, and throughout the interview with the press he could hardly suppress his emotion. "I feel how unworthy I am of such an honor," he said, "but I will do my best to live up to this honor. For instance, I did my best to select an anthem that nobody knew the last time I led chapel, and I heard Sanders singing away over in the choir section. And then at the Chi Delta program, in the quartettes, you know, somebody swore to me that he heard Joe Mobley once in the second number. But I will do my best to prevent such occurrences in the future."

MEDAL NIFTY

The medal struck in Professor Haden's honor is in green gold and carries his portrait with the inscription, "Vox Vincit Omnes," or "His voice overcomes all."
