XMAS VESPER TO BE HELD SUNDAY

Harold Gillespie, Ex-Lynx Gridder, Makes Success In Movieland Trials

Memphian May Play Lead Opposite Jean Harlow

Harold K. (Gip) Gillespie, former Southwestern football star, may play the juvenile lead opposite Jean Harlow, the famed-platinum blonde, in her next movie.

If "Gip" Gillespie makes the movie grade, and if Hollywood reports are true, he has an excellent chance to be the second Southwestern student to crash into the cinema racket. Dorothy Jordan has made good in the moving picture game in a big way.

The success of Gillespie makes Prof. John Henry Davis a real prognosticator. When "Gip" was in Davis' history class, the good doctor remarked that Gillespie should go over big in Hollywood. The reasons that he gave were his blonde handsomeness and his excellent build. No one believed Davis at the time, but it seems that he will be vindicated.

"Gip" Gillespie has been doubling for William Haines and Joel McCrea in swimming scenes. He almost secured an important part in "Let's Go," but was supplanted by Conrad Nagel at the last minute.

Short addresses will be given by Dr. Charles E. Diehl, Coach Haygood, Capt. High, and Joe Fowler, who was chairman of the ticket sales committee.

New Greek Club Formed By Eds

Under the luminating light of our beloved old Alma Mater, a new Greek letter club was formed, and we do hope that the organizations as well as participations of the worthy student body will comply with our principles concerning collegiate activities.

There have been many attempts made by students to carry forward the campus spirit, but never have they phased the feeble minded co-eds. Keep on your toes! Don't drop your eyes in the empty bucket!

DELTA GAMMA DELTA Charter members are "Deacon" Thomas, Charles Woolfolk, Earl Christian, and Ernest Sawrie.

FRATS MEET IN DEBATE FINALS

Heated Arguments On Tab At 8 P. M.

The finals of the inter-fraternity debating tournament will be held tonight when the fiery orators upholding the honor of their respective frats argue on the futility of compulsory chapel attendance. Last night's meeting between the Non-frats and the Kappa Sigs was a heated affair which was followed by an equally hotly contested debate between the A. T. O.'s and the Pi K. A.'s.

These teams won the right to participate in the semi-finals by defeating representatives from the remaining fraternities on the campus. Last Thursday, Dec. 8, the Pi K. A.'s defeated the Beta Sigs while the Kappa Sigs won over the S. A. E. team.

The debates Friday night rounded out the week's program with the victory of the A. T. O.'s over the T. N. E. team, while the Non-frats won a close decision over the representatives from K. A.

Bible Class To Hold Open Forum

Departing from the usual type of program on which there is a principal speaker, the Men's Bible Class will hold an open forum next Sunday morning. Bob Pfrangle will serve as chairman for the meeting. The subject open for discussion will be "My Own Idea of Christmas." Every male student of Southwestern is cordially invited to attend the class.

A.O.Pi's Send Xmas Box To Kentucky

For Xmas, the A. O. Pi's are planning a box to send to the children of the Kentucky mountaineers. Each member of the active chapter will bring toys and Xmas stockings filled with toys and candy.

Grace Braun is in charge of making the arrangements and of having the box packed. All presents will be ready for packing today or tomorrow. The box will be sent Monday, so that it will arrive there before Xmas.

CHRISTIAN UNION TO HAVE XMAS TREE FOR NEEDY

"How much do oranges cost per crate? Will it be better to have a large tree or a small one in the cloister? Shall we give any kind of play or readings? Who will be Santa Claus?" and other questions are popping right and left among the various Christian Union Christmas Tree Committees. At a meeting held last week, it was reported that 256 ribbons were sold to students. This is a goodly number, but did not reach the top as the members of the C. U. Cabinet had hoped. An additional $25.00 was voted by the C. U. for the Xmas Tree fund. The tree is to be sponsored Saturday afternoon, Dec. 17. The following chairmen of committees are collaborating to make it a success: clothing committee, Malline Lyon; food and fruit refreshments, Mary Kennedy Hubbard; toys, Nell Davis; tree and decoration, Russell Cross.

Malline Lyon is being assisted by Thelma Worthington, Adele Bigelow, Lillias Christie, Francis Benton, Charles Hamilton, and Louis Nicholas. Mary Kennedy Hubbard has as her co-workers Russell Cross, Harriet Storms, James Gregory, William Bensberg, and Henry Watkins. Nell Davis is working with a committee consisting of Tom Jones, Russell Perry, Dick Keeton, James Overholser, and J. B. Brezeale. Cross and his cohorts are Tom Jones, Malline Lyon, Nell Davis, Thelma Worthington, Charles Hamilton, J. B. Brezeale.

Further committees are to be appointed, and the Christian Union Cabinet feels that the party will be a huge success and wishes to express its joy at the response afforded the entrants by the students.

Merely a Bit Of Nonsense

"Now let me give you a piece of my mind," the wife began. "I don't believe you can do it," retorted the husband; "it would take an expert scientist to split an atom."

"Do you feel capable of leading the public?"

"Certainly," answered Senator Sorghum. "The art of leadership, as I now see it, is to learn which way the public is determined to go and then keep a few jumps ahead of the stam-pede."

Teacher—James, what is meant by freedom of the press?

James—It's what papa complains about when mama lays out his evening suit.

Son—What does the word "chauffeur" mean?

Father—That is the name given to the driver of an auto.

Son—That was not the name you gave the driver of the car that nearly ran into us yesterday.

Friend—Are you going to march today in the parade of the Order of Independent and Masterful Brothers of the World?

Rastus—No, de boss won't let me off.

Love is blind—but marriage is an eye opener.

Lawyer—"You have only six dollars? Then your relations must come across."

Defendant—"Not a chance! They want to see me hung, so's they can divide the six dollars!"

Radio Man—"I shall call upon you every week until you pay this bill."

Shorty Simmons—"Then there seems to be every probability of our acquaintance ripening into friendship."

*Slippery ice very thin,
Pretty girl—tumbled in,
Saw a boy—on the bank
Gave a shriek—then she sank,
Boy on bank—heard her shout,
Jumped right in—helped her out,
Now he's hers—very nice,
But—she had—to break the ice.*

"Darling," she said, "will you love me when I grow old and ugly?"
"Dearest," he replied tenderly, "you may grow older, but you will never grow uglier."

"I got a hunch."
"Really, I thought you were just round-shouldered."

"Students trek home to tie up stockings. Fifteen-year-old Freshman Eugene Stewart of Deridder, ole Luzianne, will play in "The First Dress Suit" Wednesday afternoon. Herbert Pierce expresses fears of old Kris Kringle appearing somewhat slim and gaunt, instead of boasting "That future Shadow." Phillip O'Donnell, flying frosh from Philadelphia, Penn., won the intra-mural run of last Saturday. Scudder Smith placed second.

Prof Swan—First, I'll take sulphuric acid and then I'll take some chloroform.

Sleeping Stude—That's a good idea.

"Sure, haven't you heard of the Connecticut valleys?"

"Love is of the higher regions. It has nothing to do with sex," said Dr. William Shimer of the department of Philosophy at Ohio State yesterday in his talk, "Is it Adam's Rib?"

Just a Bit of Dorm Life

STEWART HALL

The following letter, presumably to Santa Claus, was found in Toxey Fortenberry's barber shop by Dick, the janitor. The letter reads:

Dear Old Man Claus,

We boys down here in Stewart Hall in Memphis on the Mississippi river are most unhappy. We don't ever get what we want. Now Chicken High he wants a nice new soldier's suit, but everyone knows Chicken hasn't any kind of a soldier's suit at all. See if you can't rectify Chicken's trouble, Sandy.

Ned Wright, one of the nicest boys who ever went to a tea dance, calls on you too, Sandy. Ned says he'll die if you don't put a pair of roller skates in his stocking Christmas night; also a roll of adhesive tape. His ankles ain't very strong, Sandy.

Jimmy Haywood don't want much, Sandy, all he wants is to be the king of tea hounds at Stewart. He says he sure wishes Ned would move out.

Lastly and not leastly make it so's Jack Crosby can substitute once in a while for Pick. You know what we mean, Sandy.

That's about all for now, Sandy. If we need anything else we'll let you know later.

Don't forget us.

Yours,

The Boys of Stewart.

—Merry Christmas—

EVERGREEN HALL

It's too near Christmas to think about anything else. All week mysterious looking packages have been arriving and everyone has taken a few hours off to go up to Main Street and do their Christmas shopping early.

Nell just won't be beat and declares that she'll surely be the first one to leave. She won't be far ahead of the others, however, as everyone will leave on the first train going in their direction.

That strange man that persists in hanging around the dormitory was seen again last Sunday. He should know better than to come around scaring us. Everybody is going to have to move upstairs and then won't he be fooled.

—Merry Christmas—

ROBB HALL

Intense cold and the danger of falling limbs have kept most of the inmates to the confinement and safety of their rooms, but not Julio Robinson. He has had a date every night this week and each date was with a different girl. "What a man!"

Since there are no statistics on college bull sessions, the wind bags of this hall have, on several occasions discussed the question of what topics are mainly dealt with in them, and have finally, after much dissention reached the conclusion that they generally start with religion and end with sex.

This seems to be a set rule, or habit, but there are no restrictions as to what is discussed between the two. Thus they reach the conclusion, that the average college man is mainly concerned about getting settled on these two questions.

—Merry Christmas—

CALVIN HALL

The Calvinites are going back to their childhood days in their ideas of Christmas and its herald, Santa Claus. It is getting to be quite popular to gather in the social room and discuss what is expected to be in the stockings on Christmas morning. Russell Cross is eagerly awaiting the holiday in hopes of receiving an electric train with which he can amuse the other residents of the dormitory when he returns after the vacation.

There are several boys who are to delight the dancers at the Panhellenic if preparation means anything. Ra-ford Herbert and Louis Graeber have made three or four excursions to the downtown stores, purchasing the necessary equipment for their "tuxes."

Charlie Woolfolk seemed to enjoy himself the other night at the Kappa Delta dance. He secured at least one dance with nearly every girl present. Sidney Strickladn, also, was getting the "breaks" that night.

This 'n That On Campus

We hear, weeks apparently after everybody else, that another blonde is sporting a fraternity pin—and is George's vest empty? What are we going to do about all these gals being out of circulation?

The Big Broadcast lured a lot of us down to the Palace last week. Saw Paul Calame, Shorty Simmons, Katy Reid, Martha Johnson, Fred Bearden and lots of others going into "twits" when "Cab" Calloway started kicking the gong around.

Everybody is getting all wound up for the big event of the year tomorrow night. There is nothing quite like a "Pan"—the gang all dressed up and on their good behavior, soft lights and sweet music and everything—

Charlie Layman tells us that the S. A. E. house is about to be a reality. No depression for them and the Tri-Delts it seems.

SWAN ELECTED DIXIE PREXY

Circuit Passes New Rules At Meeting

Dr. William Orr Swan has been elected president of the Dixie Conference for the coming year. Dr. Swan, who is faculty chairman of athletics at Southwestern, succeeds Gilbert Meade, Birmingham-Southern's dean, as head of the Conference. M. C. White, of Millsaps, succeeded Dr. Swan as vice-president.

Other important legislation passed was in regard to athletes changing from defunct schools. Players from schools that have dropped intercollegiate athletics from their programs or from institutions that have closed will be eligible in the Dixie Conference.

There is a slight chance that the Conference will sponsor a track meet limiting each school to a five man team. The purpose of this will be to curtail expenses, as one car will be sufficient to bring such a small team to the meet. Another factor will be that the schools who have not had track teams in the past will have a better opportunity to make a favorable showing.

The Dixie Conference business session was held in Birmingham last Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

Students Make Varied Plans For Xmas Holiday Activities

Eds and Co-Eds To Travel, Study, Sleep, Dance, and Enjoy Themselves During the Vacation

What are you going to do during the Christmas holidays? The reporter put that question to a number of the representative students on the campus and what was discovered? Mr. Morpheus will reign supreme during the holidays.

Zelda O'Brien answered without hesitation, "I have no idea, except that I'll sleep till noon, get up to eat lunch, go back to bed, get up to eat supper, and then play bridge. I'll go to a few dances if I can tear myself away from bridge long enough." Zelda plays the Culbertson system.

Dan Ross informed the reporter that "I 'spect I'll be driving home for two weeks. Guess I'm gonna sit by the fireside, doze, and warm my feet."

Olive Black wasn't at all sure but said, "I guess I'll stay at home—that is, I'm not going out of town. May go to some dances, and may even get as far as Hot Springs, but I'm not sure. I know I'll enjoy sleeping late."

Jack Kelly is more ambitious. "I'm going to get a job. Of course I'll run around some, too. On second thought, just say I'm gonna study philosophy all during the holidays, in hopes that Kelso will soon read this."

Pud Mahan again lapsed into the lazy row, "I'm gonna sleep and knit and not do anything I'm supposed to. I certainly do intend to enjoy the holidays." Pud's got the right idea.

Virginia Reynolds resorted to the improbable, "I'm going to sit at home," (Oh Yeah?). "Of course, I may go to Mississippi but I'm not sure."

Harvey Drake also gave a suspicious answer, "I'm going to Lexington, Ky., and then to Ripley, Ohio." Harvey says it's his grandmother that he's going to see, but—oh well, here's a chance for the reporter to keep a secret—Christmas spirit—and all that sorta thing, you know.

FROSH CAGERS START WORK

Official Practice Begins After Holidays

Coach Miller announced that freshman basketball will not begin officially until after Christmas. However, many of the yearling cagers have been out practicing "on their own."

A good cage team should be assembled from the following, many of whom show much promise: Dick Mays, Murray Rasberry, Curt Johnson, Owens, Joe Wilson, J. R. Mann, Whitaker, Pannel, Lloyd, Lumpkin, McKendrick, Jordan, Harwood, Hammond, and Jusserley.

Fencers To Renew Work After Xmas

The fencing classes which started off with such a bang last week have been allowed to lapse until the weather gets warmer. Felix Cortese is in charge, and he hopes to continue instruction next week.

Flays Failure To Produce Leaders

New York—In his annual report to the president, Dean Howard Lee McBain of the schools of political science, pure science and philosophers at Columbia University asserted that the universities of the world, while making progress in the sphere of learning, have failed to produce public leadership and have given little assistance in meeting important economic and political problems of the depression.

"It is manifestly cause for regret," he said, "that in the world's present emergencies so little of light and leading has come out of the world's universities."

GIRL CAGERS BEGIN WORK

Appoint Gym Class Captains

The girls' basketball season is going to begin this year with teams composed of the different gym classes playing each other for practice. Miss Stratmann appointed the captains. They are Helen Gordon, Margaret MacNicol, Margaret Tallichet, Olga Hartmann, and Charlotte Stange.

After Christmas holidays practice will begin in earnest with workouts four days each week. The girls will have to attend at least eight practices or they will be barred from both inter-sorority and inter-class games which will begin after mid-term.

There's some very good material in the new class this year. Great things are expected of Sally Naill, Lib Pearce, Priscilla Painter, Marjorie Stratmann, and Mary Mehrle. Both Mehrle and Stratmann played on state teams while in high school.

However, most of last year's champion team are still here and willing to play anybody a good game anytime they want it. The sophomores will be out just as strong as ever and expect to keep up the good record they made for themselves last year.

The tag drive held the other day by the Women's Panhellenic Council proved a big success. The girls collected nearly $25 and said they could have done better if they had had more time.

—Merry Christmas—

Here and There

Due to the ice, the skating rink and what not we have several cripples in our midst. Sid Hebert and Deedie McConnell head the list.

Joe Moss, Riney Matheson and Carroll Cloar are the "harmony trio." They surpass the Mills Brothers, Boswell Sisters and all.

Speaking of singing Judy Schwinn sang over the radio the other night and gathered herself a whole lot of fans right quick-like.

The Chi O's have had their famous one here—Dorothy Jordan. Now it's the K. D.'s turn. Helen Wills Moody is coming. All tennis fans say that this really is something.

Alvan Tate deserves honorable mention or something. He can, with no difficulty, impersonate Dean Hartly, David Bloom, Kimbro, Deedie, and Ella Kate. And it really is rich!

The Panhellenic is creating quite a bit of excitement. Little girls are running around the campus saying "You should see my new dress!"

There are rumors out that Julio Robinson just loves to be kissed on the cheek by "sweet girls."

"Snuzzle" Durant says he just loves to be called "Snuzzle." He urged everyone to keep it up.

"Chicken" High Is Now A Hen

W. A. Jones, the uncle of freshman Howard Ramsay, is a well known poultry fancier. Every year he sends some of his best hens to the Egg Laying Contest conducted by the University of Florida.

Last year Mr. Jones won the first prize with a hen named "Humpty Dumpty." In the interim, however, "Humpty Dumpty" has died.

This did not dismay Mr. Jones, however, who feels that he has a young hen who will become a greater egg laying champion than the redoubtable "Humpty Dumpty." He is so sure that this new hen will be a champion that he has named the fowl "Chicken" High.

"Who's Who" Lists Many Lynx Alums

Large Per Cent of Grads Named

In the new "Who's Who in America" just published, Southwestern is well represented. In fact, the college stands sixth among all the colleges in the United States in the percentage of its graduates listed in "Who's Who."

There is only one name omitted in the new edition that was in the one previous, and there are many additions. Of these, the preachers head the list with five new subjects, John M. Alexander of Birmingham, Ala.; Eugene L. Hill, Athens, Ga.; Robert Hill of Tyler, Texas; Sidney McCarty of Augustus, Ga.; and John C. Tims of Tampa, Fla.

There is one professor, one author, two lawyers, and two bankers on the new list. As to fraternities, the A. T. O.'s lead with four former members; the S. A. E.'s are a close second with three members; and the Kappa Sig's and Pi K. A.'s have one representative each.

PLAYERS PLAN ONE-ACT PLAYS

To Give Presentation After Holidays

The Southwestern Players have decided to give three one-act plays immediately after the Christmas holidays. Jimmie Kate Johnson, Margaret Lewis Tallichet and Anne Galbreath will be the directors. The plays have not been chosen yet, but will be chosen and cast by the directors before the holidays begin.

This is the first time the players have ever had two presentations of one-act plays in one year. It is hoped that much talent will be discovered for the three-act play which the players are planning for sometime in April, to be given possibly at the Auditorium.

EPISCOPALIANS FORM CLUB

Girls Organize At First Meeting

An Episcopal Club has been founded by the Episcopal girls at Southwestern. A name for the club has not been chosen, but the members have decided to hold their meetings once every month at the college. Mrs. A. R. Bliss has been elected honorary advisor and will assist at all meetings.

Programs will be given at each meeting, and many notable speakers will be invited to talk to the girls. Mrs. Bliss suggested the plan last Saturday at her apartment in the Hotel Peabody, when she entertained some of the girls.

The following girls are members of the newly organized club: Edna Barker, Louise Carroll, Chloe Burch, Audrey Townsend, Priscilla Painter, Alice McSpadden, Jean Reid, Anne Brown Taylor, Aylmarie Pearson, Annie Laurie Pentecost.

Digest Poll 98.85 Per Cent Correct

Although it was mistaken concerning the way five states would vote in the presidential election, the Literary Digest's presidential straw vote proved to be 98.85 per cent correct for the nation as a whole. The Literary Digest poll predicted that Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt would receive 59.86 per cent of the total popular vote.

The governor actually received 58.71 per cent of the popular vote. The final Digest figures assigned Pennsylvania and Delaware to Roosevelt and Massachusetts, Rhode Island and New Jersey to President Hoover.

Collection Of Indian Relics And Animal Skins Is Prof's Hobby

Dr. McIlwaine Gathers Historic Treasures to Adorn Walls Of North Carolina Cabin

If any Southwesternite should enter Dr. McIlwaine's office (it is the projection room), he or she would probably be amazed to see a pair of deer antlers and feet over the professor's desk, as Dr. McIlwaine so aptly

Originates Trick Play

It is rumored through grapevine channels that Coach Haygood learned a great deal at the annual Dixie Conference conclave at Birmingham.

He originated the new "Haygood Hidden Play," which promises to entertain, at least. When asked "why the fullback uses a bicycle," Coach Jimmie reddens auspiciously.

says, "entirely out of keeping with our collegiate and Gothic atmosphere."

The deer antlers and mounted feet are only part of his growing collection of Indian relics, animal skins, and native odds-and-ends, all of which he hopes will some day adorn a prospective lodge in North Carolina. Among his treasures at present are a coyote skin, which he bought in Estes Park, Colo., from a taxidermist; from whom he also obtained the deer horns, a Navajo blanket, a Cherokee cane basket, and a Hopi ceremonial pot.

HOBBY

Dr. McIlwaine is, as he modestly admits, interested in Indian folk lore, songs, crafts, and music, and has excluded treasures of any other kind from his collection.

"The feet of the deer in my office are cocked up in a "curly-cue" manner so that some day I may put a blunderbuss of some kind across them. I have my suspicions as to what Dr. Diehl thinks of this stuffed creature in my office, but it is the only one of its kind at Southwestern, and that lends a note of interest."

Dr. McIlwaine has been planning his lodge for a number of years and expects to have it materialize "in twenty-five years or so."

BAD WEATHER HALTS WORK

Tri-Delt Lodge Goes On Slowly

The Tri-Delt house was going up fine and then—the freeze! Long ice cylinders hanging from the white stone of the window ledge of the windows and the white covering on the beams supporting the living room's roof give a Christmas look to the scene.

However, one can tire of anything—even the loveliness of ice—and the members are all eagerly awaiting the thaw which will be a signal for a renewed frenzy of building. The house will be finished about the middle of January unless winter continues to favor us with arctic displays.
