SINGERS TO RECORD LYNX ALMA MATER

This afternoon a select group from the Southwestern Choir under the direction of Prof. Burnet C. Tutill, will make a recording of the Alma Mater. The record is to be used as an introduction to the radio programs originating in Hardie Auditorium this year.

PRIZE OFFERED FOR BEST NAME

Student Naming The Hearth To Receive $5.00

The Southwestern Christian Union Cabinet is offering a prize of $5.00 to the student submitting the best name for the campus hearth. The selection of the name from those sent in will be made by Dr. Diehl, Elizabeth Cobb, and Bob Armstrong. Each student has one choice which must be submitted upon the ballot for that purpose found in this issue of the Sou'wester. All selections should be placed in the ballot box in the store before 6:00 P. M. Monday.

The hearth was built by the Southwestern Christian Union and is situated in the grove east of Palmer Hall. It will be available for steak fries and barbecues to all organizations on the campus which first receive permission from the Christian Union Cabinet.

The hearth is a chimney fourteen feet high with a broad base in which receptacles have been provided for the storage of firewood. A flagstone pavement extends fifteen feet from the fireplace. The architecture is Gothic and is in harmony with the other permanent buildings on the campus. It was built by college labor of the same stone used in the other buildings and according to specifications generously furnished by Mr. H. C. Hibbs, the architect of the college.

FOUR ADDED TO HONOR COUNCIL

Freshmen, Juniors Elected To Fill Quota

Honor Council elections for the freshmen and junior classes took place this morning. Mary Churchill, Mary Hunt, W. C. Rowan, and John Conway, freshmen; and George Jennings, Fred Dixon, Bernardine Taylor, and Effie Ola Anthony, juniors, were nominated by the council when it met Wednesday in the Bell Room.

One girl and one boy were elected by each of the classes, girls voting for a girl and boys for a boy. According to the Honor Council rules, no other nominations may be made for the freshman class representatives. In the junior election, however, other nominations may be made from the floor.

The upperclassmen members of the council were elected last spring, this morning's junior election being held only to fill the vacancies left by Betty Hunt and Henry Daniels, who did not return to school.

Henry is now a cadet at the United States Military Academy at West Point, and Betty is working in an insurance office in Greenville, Miss.

Time Marches On

The school clock is running again. All last year it remained well hidden on the tower of Palmer Hall, unable to muster enough strength to shed dust, dirt, and clinging vines from its grimy hands. But old students rejoice to see that some time during the hot summer days, the old clock had its hands washed. Its self-respect regained, our old friend is all wound up to warn oldsters and newcomers alike that the hour draws nigh.

NEW ASSISTANTS TO AID FACULTY

Large Enrollment Makes Jobs For Many

This year, because of the large enrollment at Southwestern many student assistants are needed. Several of the old assistants have graduated and new ones have taken their places.

The library has a large group who are a great help and very necessary to all students. Jimmy Carpenter, John Watts, and Clark McDonald have returned to their positions. H. R. Holcomb, Billy Kelly, Hylton Neill, Alberta Whiteside, Dorothy Jackson, Katherine Giuliani, and John Cleovis are the new assistants.

There are three new helpers in the English department: James Merrin, Woody Butler, and David Gibson, who are to aid Dr. Linton, Dr. Monk and Dr. Johnson.

Thomas Fuller, last year's editor of the Sou'wester, is now assistant to Mr. Howie, the newly appointed chairman of public relations for the college.

Janet Tucker is the new assistant to Dr. Atkinson in the Psychology department.

Dorothy Givens is the assistant to Dr. Strickler, new dean of freshmen.

The laboratories in biology and chemistry are crowded this year and more than the usual number of assistants are necessary. Norman Shapiro, Alfred Page, Wendell Whittemore, and Betty Wells are biology assistants. Robert Moffett, Wallace Mayton, Robert Smith, Oliver Yonts, and Lee McCormick work in the chemistry lab. Craig Crenshaw helps in the physics department.

Dunlap Cannon is tennis assistant, but his more dignified title is coach of freshman tennis.

Many students are also working in the book store, the office, and in the dining room.

HOSHALL HEADS S. T. A. B.

Virginia Hoshall was elected president of S. T. A. B. inter-sorority society at a recent meeting. Virginia Buchman was chosen vice-president and Rose Lynn Barnard, secretary-treasurer. Membership in the organization is limited to twelve brunets and one blonde.

SMITH, SASSER TO PLAY IF NEEDED

Frosh Parade Downtown Tonight; Game At 2 P. M.

Faced with a determined squad of Majors that held Mississippi State Maroons 20-0 Saturday, the Lynx are making final preparations to continue their undefeated record when they meet the Millsaps crew at Crump Stadium tomorrow at 2 P. M.

Although rated the superior team, the Lynx have looked none too impressive in practice drills. Against a peculiar Major defense of six, one, three, one, the Lynx could get nowhere with running plays. However, this defense proved weak against passes, and with Hartwell "Kite" Morton or Jimmy Sasser in the backfield the Lynx should pull out of trouble. The Lynx drills have lacked the customary air of seriousness, which may have its effect in making the score close. Coach Propst, however, is not underrating the Majors, for as he says, "Their holding the Maroons 20-0 was much more impressive than the 45-0 walloping handed the Bulldogs by Ole Miss." The Lynx took the Bulldogs last week to the tune of 32-3.

The Lynx may enter the game minus the services of Gaylon Smith, last week's star back. Coach Propst says that he and Warren Prewitt, who twisted a knee in the first game of the season, will be in condition to play if needed. Roy "Flusie" Littlefield and Porter Chappell will be out of the game because of knee injuries. "Flusie", at end, was on the receiving end of a pass that put the Lynx in scoring position and also blocked a Bulldog punt last week. Chappell is dependable as a pass snagger.

Coach Tranny Lee Gaddy will bring his entire squad to Memphis to take on the Lynx. In spite of having a small squad—only 25—and having the reputation of being a green crew, the Majors gave a fine demonstration of courage and fight in their game with the Maroons last Saturday.

The Southwestern student body is expected to take up its "football spirit" where it left off Friday night. Parades and general ballyhoo concerning the game will begin tonight when the Freshmen parade downtown.

Sponsors for the game will be Effie Ola Anthony and Marjorie Jennings.

VOTING BEGINS NEXT TUESDAY

Frosh Offices, Vacancies To Be Filled

Freshman class elections and two upperclassman elections will take place next Tuesday and Wednesday. Alfred Page, president of the Elections Commission, announced this week.

The regular freshman offices of president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer will be filled. Vacancies left by Walter May, vice-president-elect of the student body, and Henry Daniels, vice-president-elect of the junior class, are also to be filled.

Preliminary balloting will take place Tuesday morning in student assembly. Wednesday morning with the field narrowed to two candidates for each office the final vote will be taken. If any candidate secures a majority in the preliminary election, the Wednesday run-off can be omitted.

The Elections Commission urges all students to attend chapel on Tuesday and Wednesday mornings so that they may take part in the balloting.

Results of the elections will be announced in the Sou'wester next week.

LYNX GRADS CARRY ON IN NEW PLACES

Familiar faces are missing from our campus. Our smartest students from the class of '36 are still in pursuit of a higher education. Audrey Townsend now studies in the library at Radcliffe, while her fellow scholars, Kate Galbreath and Edna Barker, attend classes at L. S. U. Vanderbilt seems to hold some interest for our former men. Dickie "Lamb" Dunlap and Louis Gauchat are there studying how to be future statesmen, or saviors of their fatherland. Of course, they are roommates there. Leslie Buchman is beginning his junior year there; Maurice Carlson will realize his dream of being an English professor when he has received his M.A. degree in two years. Hinky Jones is at the Louisville Theological Seminary. Another future lawyer is Hi Lumpkin, who is carrying on at the University of Alabama. Rafoord Herbert is at George Washington University and Ed Hutchinson is at the University of Virginia. Ed Atkinson is on the road to surgery, that is, he's going to be a surgeon. He's attending U. T. in Memphis. And Saichi Sakai—we really hate to see him leave us for the sunny shores of California; he's in college there this year.

And the business world is practically permeated with Southwesterners. Tom Mills can now devote his life to his dear Coca-Colas; he's selling them in Missouri. Frank Fiederling is working for DuPont; Sidney Strickland is a big shot at Sears-Roebuck in Shreveport. Walter May has turned farmer, learning what it takes to make ends meet. J. O. Wallis is hanging prisoners in Clarksdale. Murray Raspberry is a travelling salesman for Firestone—last heard of in Helena. The coffee business now claims Harvey Jones. Scott Chapman and Mac Givens are leading the boys on to victory in their respective football fields. Just give them time and we will be proud to say—"Oh, I went to school with him"—we'll know Coca-Cola magnates and Knute Rocknes in the years to come.

A Southwestern Disgrace

Among the few features of Southwestern which are definitely disappointing is the Yearbook. Several years ago under the appellation LYNX a creditable publication was produced. But, ostensibly for financial reasons it has since been pared down until it bears strong resemblance to a travel folder, which to add insult to injury makes its sheepish appearance three months late.

There are several reasons which warrant definite action being taken now toward assurance of a satisfactory annual in 1937.

First, the college graduate wants his yearbook to be a permanent record of his college days. It is something he will show with pride to his grandchildren. It is not something to be economized on to the point where the student is ashamed of it.

Certainly the financing of a worthy yearbook would enlist the willingness of every student to pay for his book. In many schools they sell for as much as $5.

And finally what can our college be thinking of when with all the emphasis it is now placing on publicity, it allows such a puny album as the current one to be circulated in the guise of the official Southwestern yearbook.

Honor Council's New Plan

The personal interviews which the members of the Honor Council are having with the new students at Southwestern are a very good idea, in that they impress upon the students the meaning of the Honor System and the functions of the Honor Council more firmly than the old method.

This impression can not be made too deep. It is a very significant fact that of those brought to trial before the Honor Council in the past few years all but one were freshmen or transfer students, who had not been here long enough to realize the ideals embodied in the Honor System. It would seem that too many come to Southwestern with the mistaken idea that the Honor System means that they can do as they please because the professor will not watch over them and the other students will not report a dishonest act, and that the Honor Council is a rather idealistic but ineffectual body which meets every month to eat in the Bell Room.

The Honor System is a tradition at Southwestern, and honesty not only in the scholastic but in every phase of campus life is expected of each student as a matter of course. The system is based on the belief that a college student is capable of being put on his honor. It is a privilege extended to the students, who in return guarantee that they will be worthy of it both as individuals (refraining from dishonest acts) and as a body (seeing that each member abides by the Honor System). This is what is meant in the pledge each student signs when he registers. Certainly no one wants a return of the old method whereby the teacher is also policeman. Therefore, it is to the students' advantage to see that the system works.

It is the function of the Honor Council not to force but to lead the students toward the realization of the ideals behind the Honor System. It is not primarily a punitive body. But it has the power to make the Honor System effective. There are a few who scoff at the system, those to whom honor is a somewhat hazy idea which concerns them little; it is because of this fact that the Council must meet occasionally for other things besides meals in the Bell Room.

The Honor System and the student body are one and the same thing, and every student who has signed the pledge card when he registered has given his word of honor that he not only will not engage in dishonest practices but will also report any student he sees doing so. The effectiveness of the system depends on the cooperation of the student body. It takes a student body with a high sense of honor and a reasonable amount of moral courage to make the honor system work. It is up to each of you who compose the student body to determine what kind of student body and what kind of honor system we shall have at Southwestern.

ROUND AND ROUND WITH RADIO

Southwestern will be heard over Radio Station WMC at 4:30 P.M., Oct. 7, in its initial broadcast of the year. Thereafter, Southwestern will be heard as a weekly feature over this same station until the close of school in June.

The series of programs for this year will be entirely different from those of last year. The programs in the past, you will recall, dealt with the adventures of Bob and Betty, freshman and freshette, whom you followed through the various campus activities. Instead of continuing Bob and Betty, Southwestern will present a dramatic "History of English Drama," dating from the earliest Morality and Miracle Plays, through Shakespeare, Milton, and Ibsen, up to the present day. Such a program will not only be educational and worthy of Southwestern, but it will also be highly entertaining. The first program will center around "Noah's Flood," a slapstick dating back to the beginning of the sixteenth century.

Auditions are being held at Radio Station WMC by Professor C. P. Lee and Randall MacInnes in order to select a permanent cast of radio actors. Among those who have tried out are Marion Keisker, Marjorie DeVall, Abe Pletchnow, Maxine Hallburton, Thomas MacLemore, Dorothy Steuwer, Ruth Johnson, Cameron Clough, Ewing Carruthers, Joe Stuart, and Ben Lewis. More trials will be held on a date to be announced later.

New Books

The screen version of Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet," as it was recently produced by Irving Thalberg, is perhaps the first book we should suggest to the reading minority at Southwestern, as being one which should be profitable both to all the would-be Romeos and Juliets on the campus, and also to those lovers of Shakespeare who intend to see the picture when it comes here.

Sinclair Lewis's "It Can't Happen Here" has now been added to our library. It should prove as delightfully humorous and satirical as his "Main Street" and "Arrowsmith."

For uplift and instruction, we have James Truslow Adams' "The Living Jefferson." If for no other reason, both the author and the subject of this biography have reputations sufficient to demand a perusal of this book by all who claim to be connoisseurs of good literature.

Thrill lovers will find their book in "Teak-Wallah," by Reginald Campbell, telling of his adventures in the forests of Siam while inspecting teak trees. He tells of exciting encounters with cobras, panthers, tigers, bears, and other beasts of the jungle.

As a novel by a Frenchman, about France, or, to be more exact, Paris, we would recommend to our public "The Earth Trembles," translated from the French of Jules Romains. THOMAS McLEMORE.

One Of Our Profs—

By A FRESHETTE

Dr. Zee impressed me more definitely the first day than any one of the other profs I met. Dr. Zee appeared to be a charming, irresponsible but intelligent gentleman. Every girl listens to his lectures not, it seems, to learn the subject, but merely because he is talking. I am fascinated as I watch his graceful paws grasp and pull nothing from nowhere. Still, his ideas lack a certain tangibility, a sense of dry humor pervades his lectures—and, although neither is unpleasant at all, they are inclined to turn one's mind from the serious side of the subject. Dr. Zee is, as an individual, "interesting." His combination drawl is the most characteristic thing about him—it could be called the key of his personality. How could anyone who speaks as he does be bubbling with nervous energy? It would be against the laws of nature. So in these first few days I have begun to call Dr. Zee my favorite professor. Even if he did wear the same ensemble for a week!

It isn't hard to see why Arnold Hebert is creating a sensation in the Lynx line—so much so that even Captain "Toto" Houts has to step lively to keep him out. He keeps his eye on the ball carrier absolutely at all times, pushing his opponents around with his hands in the meantime. In other words he does what a really good lineman should: He uses his hands, sort of mechanically, to keep himself in the clear, thus being ready at all times to make the tackle if the unlucky ballcarrier should stray anywhere near him.

Hebert received nothing but praise for his work Friday night from those who really watch football and know what it is all about. That is, those fans who realize that there are eleven men on the field. To be specific, the average fan notices only the man who makes the tackle, or the man who reels off a long run; the observant fan sees all the blocking on offense, and the knocking down of the interference on defense. Hebert was in every play Friday night—in the Union backfield. When he didn't get the tackle he made it easy for the secondary to tag the runner—and thus the Lynx went to town.

The "S" Club comes out of its yearly hibernation and throws its annual haply hop. And to us, it's surprising that they get together long enough to figure out the details. Unlike most organizations of the sort, they have no clubhouse of their own. It seems that somebody should take the initiative in this situation. The "S" Club says they are taking preliminary steps to remedy the sad situation by setting aside all the profit—if any—from the dance for a clubhouse fund. According to "Toto" Houts, president of the organization, the members are really "Red" Davis knock a Bulldog sailing itable club house. The students can help them out by attending their dance at the University Center tomorrow night.

Credit goes to Cy Williams, center for the Lynx, for doing a job well—a job we thought he couldn't do. When Cy was shifted to center during the early part of the season we indulged in a doubtful shake of our none too stable cranium. For, you see, before this year, Cy was used at center, and he was about as agile in that position as a hermit snail. But this year came the metamorphosis and the nasicorn. One is doing a great job—and a disputable reporter stands corrected.

Incidentally a local said that there was no blocking when Gaylon Smith made his sensational run but we saw "Red" Davis knock a bulldog sailing on the play. And so breath-taking was the way Smith gently pushed "Peaches" Pechonick in the face that a gentle Chi Omega fainted dead away.

LYNXMENSWAMP UNION BULLDOGS WITH 32-3 SCORE

Men From Jackson, Tenn. Score First

SMITH MAKES RUN

Both Aerial And Running Attacks Improve

Five thousand excited and highly-pleased fans saw the Southwestern Lynx overwhelm the Union Bulldogs by the score of 32 to 3 Friday night at Crump Stadium. Lynx fans are forced to admit it looked bad in the first few minutes of play. The Bulldogs set the Lynx back on their haunches and scored three points by a field goal—their first one in the history of Union football. The goal was no fluke, either—it came as a result of a steady Bulldog drive to the Lynx 12 yard line, where Raymond Phillips toed the ball perfectly for the first score of the game.

After this Union spree the tables turned, and the Lynx dug in with all four paws to delight the Memphis fans with a brand of football which they had not shown in several years. The fear that the Lynx lacked power and drive was shown to be a foolish one, and although Smith and Sasser reeled off their expected long runs, it was clearly demonstrated by the Lynx that they had the power necessary for needed yardage at crucial moments.

The aerial attack showed marked improvement from all angles; five out of 12 were completed—most of them counting for long yardage. Morton and Sasser demonstrated their ability to make accurate chunks, and Smith, Hammond, and Grooms showed that they were no slouches on the receiving end.

England's repudiation of the gold standard was certainly a tough break for the co-eds. Oh well, they can still become platinum blondes.

"HORSE" SASSER GALLOPS GOALWARD

Jimmy "Horse" Sasser, Lynxcat halfback, shows some of the form which he is expected to exhibit in the game with Millsaps Saturday afternoon. The flashy speedster intends to duplicate his long touchdown run of last Friday night.

GIRL CHAMPS TO HAVE SCRAP

Miscellaneous Program For Girl Athletes

With last year's champions in the major girls' sports out of the lineup, this year's program offered by Miss Louise Stratman, director of girls' athletics, promises to be keenly contested.

The winner of the athletic plaque awarded on the point system and won by Tri-Delta last year, will be in doubt until the last series of games.

Kate Giuliani, senior, is president of the Athletic Association.

The Freshman Tennis Tournament will be the first event on the schedule. Anne Potts and Frances Smithwick promise to be outstanding.

The Golf Tournament, won last year by Margaret Tucker, Kappa Delta, will probably be contested by Mary Katherine MacGuire, outstanding in this event last year, and Mary Laura Tistadt, interested newcomer.

Archery, won by Wil Tate last year, will begin in two or three weeks.

"If sufficient interest is shown in horseback riding and swimming, we will add those sports," said Miss Stratman in an interview.

SPECIAL BUS WILL GO TO VANDERBILT

Plans for transporting the student body en masse to Nashville for the Lynx-Vanderbilt game October 10 are already taking form. The student body voted Monday to take the annual football holiday on that date.

Special buses, each carrying 40 passengers, will leave Memphis early Saturday morning and arrive in Nashville about noon, returning Saturday night after the game. This will cost $4 round trip. Harold High, manager of athletics, is in charge of the project.

The prospect of running a special train is also being considered. This, of course, would be prohibitive in cost unless a very large number agreed to make the trip.

—why Luckies taste better, smoother

On certain mountains in the Near East is a limited collar of earth—called in Turkish, "Yacca." Tobaccos grown there cost as high as $1.00 a pound. Carefully they are examined, leaf by leaf. Often it takes a man a whole day to select two pounds of certain of these fine tobaccos. Lucky Strike is the world's biggest user of fine Turkish tobaccos. For these tender, delicate Turkish leaves are blended with choice tobaccos from our own Southland—to make your Lucky Strike a cigarette that is fully packed—round and firm—free from loose ends. That's why Luckies taste better, smoother.

HUG DIRECTS INTRAMURALS

Shapiro Heads Revamped Student Board

The intramurals for the year of 1936-37 will be under the capable direction of Coach Paul Hug, new assistant to Coach Propst. Coach Hug will be assisted by Student Director Norman Shapiro and an assistant from each fraternity.

The representatives are: Kappa Sigma, Andy Myers; Sigma Nu, Carroll Smith; Pi K. A., Douglas Johnson; A. T. O., Billy Lapsley; SAE, Woody Butler; and Kappa Alpha, Bob Leake.

The program will open with a softball tournament beginning Wednesday. Following will be such events as basketball, a cross-country run, volleyball, track, baseball, swimming, horse shoes, and three new sports: golf, tennis and boxing.

Coach Hug and the members of the board have adopted a new system of point-keeping. Forty points will be given to the winner of an event and 20 points to the loser. The champion of a series of events in any particular sport will receive 25 additional points. The intramural board will keep the score of each team competing, and each fraternity will keep its own individual score. In this manner the man with the largest number of points in a fraternity will be awarded with an intramural jacket, while the fraternity with the highest number of points will receive the intramural cup.

The softball schedule for the fall elimination tournament follows:

Wednesday, Kappa Sigma vs. Sigma Nu; Thursday, Non-frats vs. Pi Kappa Alpha; Friday, Kappa Alpha vs. Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Alpha Tau Omega, bye.

Saturday, winner Kappa Sigma-Sigma Nu vs. Alpha Tau Omega; Monday, winner Non-frats-Pi Kappa Alpha vs. winner Kappa Alpha vs. Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Tuesday, the two remaining teams will meet for the championship.

All games will be called at 4:00 P. M. Any team not on the field by 4:10 will lose the game by forfeit.

BAND CHOOSES NEW OFFICERS

Makes First Appearance At Union Game

In their colorful Cossack uniforms of red and black, the Southwestern band, under the direction of Prof. Tutthill, made its first public appearance this year at the Southwestern-Union game last Friday night. During the course of the game, the band played ten numbers, added to the general hullabaloo at exciting moments, and spurred the Lynx eleven on to victory. Prof. Tutthill's tooters number about 40 at present, but repeated absences from practice kept several from playing at the Union game.

A treat is promised all football fans tomorrow. For the past week the band has been practicing marching and plans to show off at the half of the Lynx-Millsaps struggle. There have been numerous try-outs for the position of drum-major, but Henry Turner will probably lead the boys through their capers, accompanied by Murrah Gattis and Wayne Paullus.

The following officers of the band were elected at a meeting Wednesday night:

President, Robert Armstrong; vice-president, Foster Rosebrough; secretary-treasurer, Oliver Yonts.

Bandmaster Tutthill says that the outlook for the year is favorable and that he hopes to see the band increase to 48 players, not counting drum majors, etc. Ten or twelve freshmen have already joined the band, and he urges all others interested to try out at once.

PLAN DRIVEWAY FOR FRAT GROUP

Will Encircle Men's Lodges When Completed

Mr. John Rollow announced Tuesday afternoon that preparations are being made for the construction of the road which will eventually circle the Fraternity Quadrangle. The road will join the asphalt drive which runs from the entrance on University Place to the Publications office. It will curve in front of the Kappa Sigma house, pass its side and continue on around the Kappa Alpha and Sigma Nu houses.

With the construction of the Alpha Tau Omega house it will be continued to University Place, thus forming a circle around the fraternity houses.

The road, to begin with, will be gravel. Work will probably begin shortly after the completion of the work in Science Building.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT REORGANIZES CHOIR

Prof. Tutthill, head of the Department of Music, has made no definite plans as yet for the choir. He estimates the enrollment already at about thirty-five, but is still on the lookout for any new candidates—especially tenors and altos.

All students who are interested are urged to enroll immediately.

Chesterfield Wins

...for tobacco cut right to smoke right

There's a right way to carve a chicken or slice a ham. And there's a right way to cut tobacco.

When the tobacco in your cigarette is cut the way it is in Chesterfield... right width and right length... it burns even and smooth... it smokes better.
