Dr. Robert G. Lee To Be Vesper Speaker

SENIORS WILL BE SERVICE SPONSOR

World Peace Topic; Howie To Preside

Dr. Robert G. Lee, D.D., LL.D., will speak at the Senior Class Vesper Service at 5 P.M. Sunday in Hardie Auditorium. This is the annual Armistice Day Service under the auspices of the Christian Union Cabinet, and the theme of World Peace will be carried out through the program.

Dr. Lee is quite prominent in the city, having been pastor of the Bellevue Baptist Church, which has a membership of 4,000, for the past nine years. Also, he is much in demand as a speaker at Bible conferences all over the South and East. This year, he spoke at the Ocean Grove, New Jersey, conference. His subject on Sunday will be "Undeniable Contracts."

The Reverend Samuel E. Howie, alumni secretary and director of public relations at Southwestern, will preside.

There are four Vesper services during the college year, with each class in charge of one. This, the first, is under the direction of the senior class. Alfred Page is chairman of the committee in charge. The other members are Dunlap Cannon, Virginia Hoshall, Kalford Ratcliff, Katrina McCall, and Charles Barton.

Decorations will carry out the Armistice Day idea. The ushers, who will be dressed in robes, are: H. Cain, W. Butler, J. Merrin, L. Watson, C. Taylor, J. Watts, D. Johnston, H. Davis.

The Student Service Club will lend its aid with the attendance. Professor Burnet C. Tuthill will direct the music.

POOR PROF. CASPARI; ROARED AT, SALUTED, THEN NO CHICKEN

Transport yourselves in your imagination to a Lions' Club luncheon in a small city in northern Arkansas, about a year ago. We see an appetizing looking plate of "cats" before each place, and the guests start tramping in. But wait! Aren't those two faces, those awkward, abashed looking young men, familiar? Of course! They are our own Professors Lee and Caspari, visiting America, Lee for the first time in several years, and Caspari for the first time in his life. As guests of honor, they proceed to the raised dais at the head of the room, where Professor Caspari, ignorant of Lions' Club ways, although wondering where the "Lions" are, starts to sit down to what looked to him like a very delicious piece of chicken. He is frustrated in his purpose, however, by the voice of the chairman, which boomed forth, "Face the flag" (which, incidentally happened to be right by the young visitor). So he stood there in bewilderment, thinking the whole crowd was staring at him while they repeated the oath of allegiance to the flag.

Well, that is over, and again our

DR. R. G. LEE

TUTHILL'S WORKS WILL BE PLAYED

Columbia Broadcast From Cincinnati

On Saturday, November 7th, between 10 and 11 in the morning, Professor Tuthill's Sonata for clarinet and piano will be broadcast from the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music over the Columbia chain and may be heard in Memphis over WREC. It will be performed by Miss Miriam Otto, pianist who has often played the number with the composer, and Emil Schmachtenberg, clarinetist, who had part of his training under Mr. Tuthill. The sonata is scheduled toward the end of the period.

Last Friday in Rochester, New York, Professor Tuthill's latest orchestral composition had a private performance by the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra under the direction of Dr. Howard Hanson and before the students of the Eastman School of Music. A record of the performance was made, a copy of which will be sent to Mr. Tuthill in the near future. The work is a symphonic poem, "Laurentia," based on themes which occurred to the composer when he visited Canada in 1929 and spent sometime in Murray Bay on the St. Lawrence River and among the foothills of the Laurentian mountains. The score was completed last summer.

A. T. O. PLEDGES

The ATO fraternity announces the pledging of Cecil Garrison, of Searcy, Ark.; Clois Neal, of El Paso, Ark.; and Gaylon Smith, of Austin, Ark.

SCHOLARSHIP ESTABLISHED

S. T. A. B. Inter-sorority Group Donates $50

S. T. A. B. inter-sorority today presented Mrs. M. H. Townsend with a check for fifty dollars to be used next semester on a scholarship for an upperclasswoman with a high scholastic average who would not otherwise be able to continue school. The selection of the recipient will be made by a committee composed of Mrs. Townsend as chairman, and Dr. A. T. Johnson, Dr. W. R. Atkinson, and Dr. M. L. McQueen. The presentation was made by the officers of the organization: Virginia Hoshall, president; Virginia Buchman, vice-president; and Rose Lynn Barnard, secretary-treasurer.

This sorority is a social group designated to promote friendship and to more closely unite the sororities on the campus. The organization is limited to thirteen members, twelve brunets and one blonde. Each Friday they appear in white with the red S. T. A. B. emblem at the waist. Three additional girls remain to be brought out during the remainder of the year to complete the membership of thirteen. Other members are: Betty Wells, the blonde of the group, Eleanor Trezevant, Sally Harding, Nell Thompson, Ann Maury, Bess Brazell, and Helen Young.

REPORTS DUE SOON

The grades for eight weeks will be posted on Tuesday, November 17, in the office. Reports will be issued the following Saturday.

Wolves In Preview

Loyola University's football team will use Fargason Field to work out this afternoon. Tomorrow the Wolves go to Oxford to meet the Ole Miss Rebels.

PLAYERS TO GIVE CYCLE PLAY ON DECEMBER 7, 8, 9

Fifteenth Century Drama Is Opus

NEW STAGE, PROPS

Cast Picked; Headed By Frazier, Steuerer

The cast for the December production of the Southwestern Players was chosen this week.

The play to be presented is "The Second Shepherd's Play." This is a 15th century Guild play of the Wakefield Cycle. Professor C. P. Lee has changed the dialect to modern English. The setting has been changed from medieval to the modern South, with negroes and sharecroppers replacing characters typical of the middle ages.

The object of the play is to show that a 15th century Guild play, itself only the medieval conception of a Biblical story, can be applied to 20th century times.

Costumes will be modern, that is, contemporary, and the stage, representing Bethlehem, will be medieval, just as it appeared when presented at Wakefield in the 15th century.

Bright and unusual colors will be used in the costumes, which will be made by the students from material they have cut and dyed. New stage effects will be obtained from more effective props than have been used in the past and a larger stage, which the students will build. Work will begin Monday; rehearsals will also begin Monday.

The play is to be presented on the nights of December 7, 8, and 9, in Hardie Auditorium.

Cast

First Shepherd: Frank Campbell, Paul Freeman, John Spence.

Second Shepherd: Sam Mays, Bob Montgomery.

Third Shepherd: Herbert Bingham, Ben Lewis.

Mak: Steve Frazier.

Gyll: Dorothy Steuerer.

Mary: Marjorie DeVall.

Angel: Martha Moore.

The Reader: George Jackson.

Definite choice of shepherds will be made later.

JOURNAL OUT IN DECEMBER

Frank Goodlett Will Edit Magazine

The first issue of the 1936-37 volume of the Southwestern Journal, literary publication of the college, will make its appearance in December, according to an announcement made by Editor Frank Goodlett Tuesday.

The Journal, this year, will consist entirely of the work of members of the college. This rule was passed by the Publications Board last spring when it voted to revive the Journal.

All contributions are welcome. Anyone wishing to submit short stories, essays, poetry, or any work of a literary nature should turn it in either to Frank Goodlett or to Ward Archer, assistant editor.

All work to be considered for the Christmas issue must be in the hands of the editors before December 1.

A second issue will be published in May.

Lynx Try Comeback; Meet Panthers Here

Team To Tackle Chicken

A football team is no stronger than its stomach—or words to that effect.

That's why Dr. Nick, M. C. (Master Chef), proprietor of the friendly Southwestern Grill, is treating all the Lynx who succeed in making touchdowns to a spring chicken dinner. Several of the backfield men didn't hear the "dinner" part of the statement and misconstrued the whole benevolent gesture. They made so many touchdowns that the good chef had to dig up several dilapidated old hens to supply the demand.

SMITH, SASSER HANDICAPPED

Birmingham-Southern Has Strong Team

Southwestern's football machine is preparing to move again toward its most successful season tomorrow at 2 P. M., when they play the Panthers of Birmingham-Southern at Crump Stadium. After being temporarily stalled last week by Howard, the Lynx are in better shape for the Panther game.

Coach Propst & Co. have been busy strengthening weaknesses which glared in the Bulldog game. The line was drilled in giving the passer more protection by blocking opposing linemen longer. The Panther line is on a par with Howard's and "Heartthrob" Morton or Will Rhea Winfrey, who will do the passing for the Lynx, will need longer to aim their shots if they are to be effective.

The coaches have been drilling reserves for the past two days in order that substitutions will not necessarily weaken the team. Will Rhea Winfrey is being groomed to help out Morton. Winfrey can kick, run and pass above the average and when in the game, should do plenty of triple-threatening. Howard McKenzie and Clois Neal, who is insulted by those who think he resembles Morton, were working well at the halfbacks and may get the starting call.

In the line Arnold Hebert at guard and Mark Hammond on end cavorted in great style during drill sessions. "Uz" Hammond and Davis looked good against Howard in spite of the 6-0 score. Morton to Hammond should be a scoring threat tomorrow continually.

Gaylon Smith and Jimmy (Morton-aint-got-a-chance) Sasser are still handicapped with bad propellers.

The Panthers boast a strong line with a well balanced backfield. Last week they defeated Spring Hill 20-0. Perry, who can pass run and kick, is the Panthers' best man. Haynes is also a nifty runner who is eel-hipped. In the line for the Panthers, Sparks, an end, is a glue-fingered pass receiver. Bridges is slated to give the Lynx trouble with their line plays.

Coach Shorty (man-of-ideas) Propst has invented an ingenious novelty as a between-the-halves attraction. He has issued an invitation to all the players on the Lynx's first team, that of 1875, to assemble at Crump Stadium to run a few plays in the style of the "good ole days"—that is if the huskies can leave their crutches long enough. The slightly aged gridders will arrive in appropriate conveyance including all the old paraphernalia connected with the father time of pigskin. The best play in the toothless Lynx repertoire will be the well known flying wedge.

Marjorie DeVall, Tri-Delta, and Helen Ensley, Chi O, will sponsor the game for the rejuvenated Lynx.

KING NEW HEAD OF SONGSTERS

Extensive Plans Being Made For Year

David King was elected president of the Southwestern Singers Wednesday afternoon. Ruth Johnston was chosen vice-president; Jane Alvis, secretary-treasurer, and Herbert Bingham, business manager.

Plans for the rest of the year are being made. Rehearsals are already under way for the radio programs, vesper services, and trips to other neighboring cities will be taken later on.

Special music is being prepared for the dramatic performance which will be given in December by the Southwestern Players.

KAPPA DELTA TO ENTERTAIN AT TEA DANCE

5:00 Until 8:00 At Sorority's Lodge

FOLLOWS THE GAME

Marshall's Orchestra Will Furnish Music

Members of Kappa Delta will entertain the pledges tomorrow afternoon with a tea dance from 5 until 8 o'clock in the sorority lodge. Music will be furnished by Billy Marshall and his orchestra. There will be an active and a pledge lead-out. Refreshments in the form of punch and sandwiches will be served during a short intermission.

Block bids have been extended to all fraternities on the campus and all non-fraternity men are cordially invited to attend.

Pledges to be honored and their escorts include: Bertha Keenan, president, with Levon Self; Ann Spence, vice-president, with escort; Elizabeth Mullins, secretary, with Pyne Tucker; Priscilla Shumaker, treasurer, with David King; Elizabeth Day with Bruce Crill; Ruth Gaskill with Walter Finney; Marion Keisker with Randall McInnes.

Active members and their escorts are: Virginia Hoshall, president, with Oscar McDaniel; Bess Brazell with Bedford Otey; Gwen Robison with Dewitt Braddock; Betty Ann Lea with Alfred Page; Sara Carter with Shelton Henderson; Jane Bray with Neil Tapp.

Among the alumnae planning to attend are: Olive Black with Tom Cranwell; Jayne Davis with Bert Coeurs; Martha Shaeffer with Tom Shaw; Jane Adams with Arthur Samon; Dorothy Schoolfield with Al Campbell; Kathryn Bell, Margaret Tucker, and Margaret MacNicol with escorts.

Specially invited guests are: Hazel Jane Ward, Chi Omega; Virginia Mangrum, AOPi; Dorothy Steuerer, Zeta Tau Alpha; Ruth Johnston, Tri-Delta; Mary Kathryn Ellis, Isabel Gaskill, Maxine Alcott and Stacie Shelby.

Chaperons will be: Mr. and Mrs. George Graham; Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Baker; Dr. and Mrs. A. T. Johnson.

COMMUNITY FUND DRIVE BEGINS TUES.

The Community Fund drive for funds from students of Southwestern will start on the campus next Tuesday, November 10th. Joe Bell is chairman and is in charge of all solicitations. The committee is composed of Sara Gracey, Herbert Cain, Bob Montgomery, and John Watts. The Ministerial Club is sponsoring this movement, and the Service Club and YWCA are assisting. All students are urged to give liberally to this most worthy cause. Money obtained goes to aid the destitute and physically disabled of the city.

Let's Go, Lynx-Cats!

The cheering at the last few games has been so poor and weak that it has been the object of pointed comments not only among the students on the campus but also among the townpeople. Its poor quality has been painfully prominent, and the contrast between the Southwestern cheering section and our opponents' has been not merely painful but positively excruciating.

Now, of all times, we should get in back of our team and show them, as well as the spectators, that we are behind them and are supporting them with all we have. Come out to the game, and when you come, cheer!

Alma Mater

Other colleges have larger enrollments than Southwestern has. Other colleges have stadiums. Others have more school spirit. Some may have many things that we lack, though we doubt that the number is very great. But there is not one that has as beautiful, as compelling an Alma Mater as our college boasts.

One of the most lasting memories of our school years, we believe, will be the halves of the football game, where we stood erect and listened to the full glorious tones of our school anthem rising and flowing over the rims of the stadium. Something hymn-like, something martial, something unconquerable and inexplicably characteristic of Southwestern is contained in this melodious explanation of the love which student and alumnus bear for the college.

No student is unfamiliar with its tune. All too many are missing the opportunity of familiarizing themselves with its lyrics. That is their own tragedy.

ON OTHER CAMPUSES

"Stuff is a beautiful word," writes Henry Rago in the DePaulian, "because it means everything and nothing. Stuff is what elf-wings are made of, and cobwebs, and moonlight when it tangles in a baby's hair. Stuff is what makes a man stand up in the ring for fifteen rounds when his eyes are full of blood. Stuff is what is in the Encyclopaedia Britannica, what is in the rings of Saturn, and what causes a comb to pick small pieces of paper when you get through combing your hair." Yes, this word certainly has the stuff.

MERRIN MAKES ANNUAL PLANS

Subscription Installment Is Due Nov. 15th

According to James Merrin, editor of the annual, the work to produce a Southwestern annual has made rapid progress in the three weeks since the student body voted to have one. Merrin and David Gibson, the business manager, have selected their staff and have representatives from each fraternity, sorority, and class to enlist subscriptions from the individuals within these organizations. The subscription fee is $3.00 and may be paid in two installments, $1.50 by the fifteenth of November and $1.50 between then and the fifteenth of January. Merrin promises that the annual will be larger and more representative of all phases of campus activity than last year's Yearbook. The plans for the annual include "an attractive binding, a decorative art scheme, snapshot, write-ups of classes and organizations, and a large athletic supplement."

AT WARNER THEATER

Very much air-minded is this young lady, who is al lset for the big Trans-continental Sky Trip to be made by sixteen of the prettiest girls chosen from Warner Bros. musical film, "Gold Diggers of 1937." The American Airline's "Gold Diggers Special" will arrive in Memphis on Thursday, Nov. 17th, at 11 o'clock in the morning. The girls will appear in person at the Warner Theater.

Mr. Landon: "And I thought I heard the voice of the people calling me."

Friend: "It must have been yourself talking out loud."

Courses in playing house, swinging, climbing, riding kiddie-kars, and blockbuilding are offered in the University of New Mexico's emergency nursery class this fall.

Stage and Mike

The Southwestern Players again sent their voices over the ether to a waiting audience in the Tri-states. This time it was Kyd's Spanish Tragedy, in a cut version by Thomas McLemore. Steve Frazier played the lead as Balthasar, with the feminine lead, Bellimperia, being taken by Marjorie DeVal. Bob Foley, Sam Mays, Thomas McLemore, Herbert Bingham, Ben Lewis, Randall MacInnes, John Quanty, and Polly Jane Cohen gave adequate support.

The Players improve every week, but there still remain several glaring faults. To begin with, the scene changes are not well enough marked. Then the characters, in many cases, attempt to "act" their lines instead of allowing them to come out naturally. Finally, some of the actors tend to make all of the roles that they play sound exactly the same. This either shows a lack of training or a lack of ability. Whichever one (or possibly both) it is, it should be severely corrected before the Players take to the air again.

NITISTS DISCUSS PUBLIC AFFAIRS

Paper Read On American Situation

The Nitist-International Relations Club met in the Public Affairs reading room last night to hear and discuss a paper by J. B. Horton on "America's Political Possibilities." Mr. Horton presented the contemporary situation in America, and defended his views against the criticism of the assembled group of nearly 20 students and professors.

The club decided to deal with international political and economic topics for the rest of the year. It will receive a grant of literature from the Carnegie Foundation bi-weekly. This literature will be kept in a special library in the Public Affairs reading room. It will consist of discussions of important topics in international life by noted authors, and also a bi-weekly digest of the news events of the preceding two-week period. This information will be available immediately.

JOURNALISTS EARN MONEY

Madison, Wis.—(ACP)—Journalism students at the University of Wisconsin go professional before they graduate—especially those enrolled in the feature writing course.

With a record of 85 articles sold during the past school year—equivalent to $1,500 in returns—these writers have eclipsed former "tops" of 50 in one year. In 1929 students received checks of $100 and more, but now checks average $10 to $15.

OF RICH, RIPE-BODIED TOBACCO — "IT'S TOASTED"

The Seniors

(This is the third in a series of articles by John Quanthy depicting intimate sidelights in the lives of senior football men.)

The one man that could make Jimmy Durante look like Robert Taylor if he stood up beside him plays center on the Lynx team. Cy Williams is the nasicorned Nithinim of the pig-skin god.

Cy hails from Beebe, Ark., the heart of the strawberry country. He played four years on the famous Beebe Badger team which he captained his junior year.

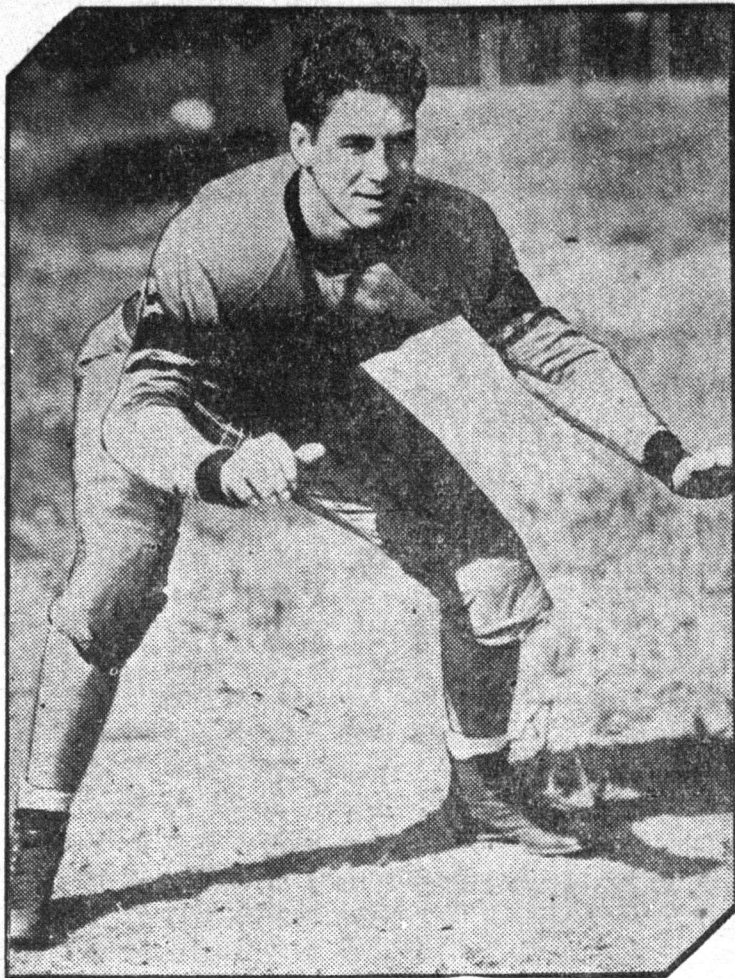

Cautiously we asked, "Do you like the country girls better'n those here at Southwestern?" We felt that he was certainly qualified to answer that. "I ain't sayin' nuthin' about women—an' Beebe ain't in the country." Well, that set us back in our place. Beebe, incidentally, is a town of about 3,000 people which, Cy says, calls out the band when he goes home. But, "I ain't been home in several hog-killin's," he continued.

But we weren't satisfied to leave out the feminine element—for what's a story without a girl in it? We chased down Gaylon Smith and Clois Neal, both of whom come from the same "country" as did Cy. Yes, Cy, they said, travels nine miles, when he's home, that is, to visit Miss Lula Mae Copeland, an Ark. belle of 24 summers who graces the little community of Letonia, Ark., with her presence. The romance has been going on for six or seven years and Cy's two friends predict big social events in Bebe in a year or two more.

Cy, before he came to Southwestern, peddled milk six days a week and was proprietor of a cleaning establishment on Saturday. "I suppose you cleaned up in your business on Saturdays," we put slyly. But Cy evidently ignored our jocosity and explained that, "I got it all." Later, for two years Cy worked for the government in Norfolk, Va., making $175 a month. "Well, why in the heck did you quit?" we wanted to know. "Aw heck, the depression hit about that time, so I came to college. He was introduced to the Lynx by the late Coach Haygood.

Mr. Williams is completely serious in anything he starts to do. An incident in one of his classes shows his "horse sense." It was while half the class was gently resting in the arms of Morpheus having rosette visions of A's that the prof. decided to bring the class back to normalcy. "What would you do, Mr. Williams," he thundered, "if God appeared to you saying that tomorrow Memphis would be destroyed?" "Tomorrow I wouldn't be in Memphis," said Cy seriously.

Cy likes Dick Powell and Bob Burns; but he can't stand Robert Taylor. Lum an' Abner, too, are his buddies, for these gentlemen, of course, come from Cy's stomping grounds. Ginger Rogers is the girl in Hollywood who can make him wistful. If you take him out to lunch you can please him by ordering strawberry short cake.

Cy doesn't remember any particular incident in his football career except that once he was hit so hard that he swallowed his tobacco. "It's the sickest I've ever been in my life," he remembers. He has never chewed tobacco again.

After graduation in June—he hopes—Cy plans to do some coaching (if he can't find something better). But football is Cy's business; and he knows his business well.

NEW MEMBERS ENLIST IN BAND

New Marches To Be Played At Next Game

Both instrumentation and repertoire of the Southwestern band have been materially increased in the past few weeks. At present the band numbers fifty, and there are twelve men learning instruments under the tutelage of Professor Tuthill. However, due to lack of uniforms, only forty men make up the marching personnel of the band.

Several new marches have been added to the band-books. Among them are: Washington and Lee Swing; Old Grey Mare; Hail, Hail the Gang's All Here; Glory of the Gridiron; Ramblin' Wreck from Georgia Tech; and Eyes of Texas. All of these tunes will be played at the game Saturday.

Last Friday morning the Southwestern band furnished the music for the opening of the Chevrolet Dealer's Convention at the Municipal Auditorium. To show their appreciation for the band's aid the Chevrolet Dealers have ordered a new Sousaphone to be added to the stock of college-owned instruments.

DEBATING FRAT HAS SECOND MEETING

The Southwestern Debating Society held its second meeting of the year Tuesday afternoon in Palmer Hall. The members discussed the forming of a tentative schedule of debates among the members themselves. These are to be a preliminary to the regular debating season which will start after the end of the semester.

Tau Kappa Alpha, national debating fraternity which will be in charge of the debating season, has received a request for a debate from the University of California. It is possible that some agreement may be reached and the western college's team be brought to the Southwestern platform.

Intramural News

The Kappa Sigs stretched their lead in the intramural race by a considerable margin by winning the horse-shoe tournament. They annexed a score of 85 points while their nearest competitors, the KA's could garner but 30. Thus far the KA's men have 345 points, more than twice the score of the runners-up KA's. They have taken championships in all three of the tournaments played this season.

Yesterday the PIKA's and the KS's tangled in a sport new to the competitive intramural field, though not new to the campus. The innovation is touchfootball, six-man style, after the fashion of the Arkansas high schools. The game is played on a field considerably shorter than the regular one, and there are certain other rules which are designed to speed up the game. It makes an interesting sport, and should attract a good deal of spectator interest.

GIRL ATHLETES TO HAVE NEW SYSTEM

The Girls' Athletic Association has instituted a new point system. As usual, the group having the greatest number of points will win the sorority or class trophy, but only girls holding enough points, individually, are eligible to count for the group. Each new student on the campus must have at least 50 points by next spring, and each of the upperclassmen must have at least 25 points. Hours of instruction are counted as two points each, and practice hours count as one.

PURE...and of finer texture than most anything that touches your lips...

We all agree on this... cigarette paper is important. For Chesterfield we use the best paper that we can buy. It is called Champagne Cigarette Paper. It is made from the soft, silky fibre of the flax plant. It is washed over and over in clear, sparkling water.

A lot of the pleasure you get in smoking Chesterfields is due to our using the right kind of cigarette paper. Chesterfield paper is pure, and it burns without taste or odor.

Chesterfield

They're Milder and They Satisfy

Remember this... two things make the smoking quality of a cigarette—the tobaccos and the paper. The Champagne cigarette paper on Chesterfields is tested over and over for purity, for the right burning quality. Another reason why Chesterfield wins.
